Area politicians gear up for November vote

While most say they haven't yet made up their mind, several municipal politicians in the area have announced their intentions for the upcoming November 12 elections.

Candidates still have a little more that two months to go before having to offically declare their intentions, but a survey by The Glengarry News indicates some have already decided what they'll do.

The Township of Kenyon will be looking for a deputy-reeve with the announcement of Fred Leroux's retirement.

Speaking to The News Monday evening, Mr. Leroux said he would be bowing out for business reasons.

"I've been selling insurance for 17 years now and I've also been running my dairy farm," Mr. Leroux said. "Nine years ago when I ran for council I had the time to give. It was a tough decision to make. I like politics and I think I've given something to it. I'm going to keep in touch."

Also dropping out of the race is Councillor Laurence O'Connor. Mr. O'Connor, who is retired, plans to move to a new home in Alexandria soon and won't be eligible to run again.

Among those undecided are Councillors Walter Blaney and Gerald Trottier. Reeve Hugh McIntyre could not be reached for comment.

Charlottenburgh could also find itself with a new deputy-reeve as Stuart Buchan said he is considering leaving politics.

Mr. Buchan, who has served for five years, said he is thinking of leaving for personal reasons.

"I haven't decided yet, but I'm pretty sure I won't be running," Mr. Buchan said Monday evening. "I find municipal politics moves too slow. I'd like to see more get done in the term. I'm just down a bit on municipal politics at the time.

Mr. Buchan, who is self-employed, also said council work interferes with his job.

Councillor Bob Roth said he is undecided about running, but added he has received some encouragement to run for the position of reeve or deputy-reeve.

"Changes are needed at the township and I'm debating moving up and doing something about it," he said.

Councillor Ernst Szpivak said he was undecided and neither Councillor Don Kannon nor Reeve Ewen MacDonald could be reached for comment.

There appears to be quite a race shaping up in Roxborough with the retirement of Reeve Garnet Robertson.

Mr. Robertson, a 13-year veteran of council, said Tuesday morning his council duties take him away from his job too much. An employee of an Ottawa-area engineering firm, Mr. Robertson is currently on loan to the Regional Municipality of Ottawa-Carleton and is working on the reconstruction of Regional Road 8.

"I just don't have the time," he said. "I just can't do it anymore. It was a hard decision to make but the job is more important. I'll miss it, there's no doubt about it, but I've got to set my priorities straight."

Deputy-Reeve George Crites admits Mr. Robertson's departure has started him thinking about running for reeve.

"I guess I'll still run, but I'm not certain about the position," Mr. Crites said Tuesday morning. "I may go for the top job (reeve)."

Councillor John McIntyre said he was "75 per cent sure" of running, but admitted he too was looking at other positions on council.

Councillor Ray Alguire said he would run again and Councillor William Williams could not be reached for comment.

In Lancaster Township none of the current council members has made a formal decision about their future.

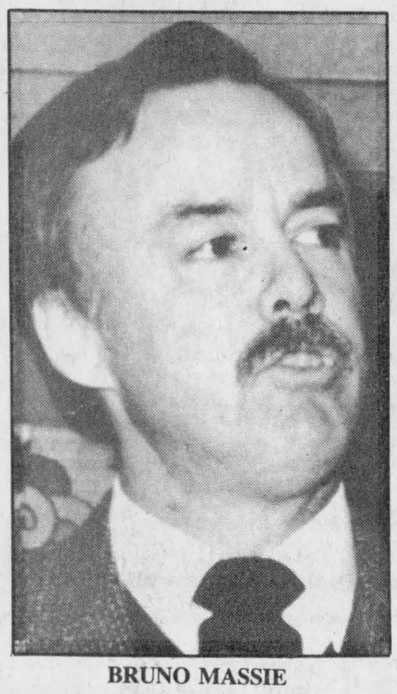
Reeve Paul Legros, Deputy-Reeve Bernie McDonell and Councillors Roger Brazeau and Charles Sangster say they have not made up their minds yet. Only Councillor Maurice Desautels said he "will probably" run again.

Lochiel Reeve Ron MacDonell confirmed Monday he'll be running for another term.

Mr. MacDonell, who has served on council since 1974, said there are more things he wants to accomplish in the township and he gave his decision a great deal of thought.

Deputy-Reeve Lynda Kennedy said she hasn't decided yet and it was a similar case with Councillor Alex McDonald.

Councillor John MacLeod announced he would be stepping down after one term of office. Mr. MacLeod cited personal reasons for his departure.



BRUNO MASSIE

J.P. TOUCHETTE

Massie expected to challenge Touchette

With the Ontario municipal elections still a little more than two months away, the race in Alexandria has already started heating up.

While the majority of those on council say they are undecided about running in the November 12 election, some have thrown their hat into the ring and others have announced they're bowing out.

Mayor J. P. Touchette told The Glengarry News on Monday that he would be running for another term in public office.

"I am definitely running," Mr. Touchette said. "I hope I'm doing my job and I hope to continue doing it in the future. I enjoy my job and I plan to run on my record."

Even at this early date it appears Mr. Touchette will have some competition for his post.

Bruno Massie told The News also on Monday that he is "most likely" running for the job of mayor.

"I haven't decided yet," Mr. Massie said. "But I think I will be."

Mr. Massie is no stranger to municipal politics. In 1968 he ran for mayor and was defeated by Mr. Touchette. From 1972 to 1978 he was mayor, being defeated by Mr. Touchette in 1978 and he also served as reeve from 1970 to 1972.

Alexandria Reeve John Cormier said on Monday he hadn't given the matter too much thought and said he hadn't yet made up his mind.

Others who haven't decided on their political future include Councillors Jacques Joly, J. Y. Baker, Archie McDougall and Jean Larocque.

Those in the running for re-election include Councillors Roger Lemieux and Remi Prud'homme.

The only council member to count himself out of the running so far is Deputy-Reeve Richard Lefebvre.

Mr. Lefebvre told The News on Monday he would be leaving municipal politics for health and business reasons.

"Council takes too much time away from my business (Lefebvre's Foodarama)," he said. "I've got to give up something and I can't give up the store."

Mr. Lefebvre had served three years on council.

Schools open Tuesday, Thursday next week

CORNWALL—Summer's over for thousands of area children who will be heading back to school next week, but not all schools will be opening the same day.

High schools and public elementary schools open their doors Tuesday, September 3, for the morning only, with the regular daily routine resuming the next day. Separate schools will not be opening until two days later, Thursday, Sept. 5.

Separate school teachers will be returning to their schools on Tuesday, but the first two days will be devoted to professional development, Rejean Clement, assistant to the director of education, the SD&G Roman Catholic Separate School Board, said on Tuesday.

On Tuesday school principals will be meeting with their staff and organizing programs for the year. On Wednesday the board's superintendents will also be involved in a professional development program throughout the board's jurisdiction.

Mr. Clement said the separate school board is predicting no significant enrolment changes in Glengarry this year, though precise figures will not be known until after school begins.

There should be a slight increase in the board's English schools, with the French schools basically unchanged, he said.

"But we never know until the students are in school," he said. "We can always be surprised."

Though some enrolment decline is expected in SD&G public elementary and secondary schools, they will likely be modest, according to Ken McLennan, superintendent with the SD&G County Board of Education.

Elementary enrolment projections show a decline of about 150 students to a total of 5,640, with secondary enrolment dropping about 120 to 7,408.

Like Mr. Clement, Mr. McLennan stressed the figures were only projections and no accurate count could be made until after school resumes next week.

MPP undecided but may support Pope for leader

Only one of several contenders expected to seek the leadership of the Ontario Conservatives was out of the starting gate this week, but he may soon have the support of SD&G's Noble Villeneuve.

Former health minister Alan Pope, the 40-year-old MPP from Timmins, confirmed his decision Monday and is expected to formally announce his candidacy on Friday. The bilingual lawyer was first elected to the legislature in 1977 and served as minister of natural resources from 1981 until moving to health in February.

Mr. Villeneuve, who supported Dennis Timbrell last time around before moving to Mr. Miller in the final ballot, said Monday he had not decided who he would support, preferring to "see who the horses are first."

The local MPP did say he would have "no problem supporting Alan (Pope)."

"It's a different ball game now," he said. "I'm looking for a good leader of the opposition who can lead us back to government. I'm looking for someone who realizes there's a farming community out there and that it's in pretty rough shape, financially; someone who favors youth employment programs.

"We need a younger man from the centre of the political spectrum, where the party should be; like we were under Davis.

Residents agree to pay, Lochiel water project now under way

The on-again, off-again project to supply water to several Lochiel Township residents appears to be on again, following a township council meeting August 20.

The residents, who live just outside Alexandria on Lochiel Street East, have been forced to live with little or no water in their homes since August 5. While the homeowners live in Lochiel, they draw their water from the Alexandria Public Utilities Commission (PUC). The one-inch pipe used to make the connection between the homes and the PUC line is too small and that appears to be what's causing water problems for the residents.

Lochiel Township Council had previously agreed to install 300 feet of new larger piping, as long as the residents agreed to foot the bill themselves. Government funding might be available for the project, but that could also mean a six to seven month delay while the authorizing legislation is looked at by the Ontario Municipal Board.

A hitch developed August 16 when Lochiel Clerk-Treasurer Rheal Charbonneau tried to get residents to sign a petition in favor of the project. Some residents thought the project's cost would be divided equally, but apparently the petition stated it would be divided up by lot size or frontage. When the larger lot owners refused to sign, the smaller ones followed suit and the petition returned to the township hall without a signature.

After yet another meeting between homeowners and council members on August 20, it appears everything has been ironed out and Reeve Ron MacDonell told The Glengarry News he hoped work crews would be on the site first thing Monday morning.

"We had a meeting with them Tuesday night and we explained what the cost would be," Mr. MacDonell said Friday. "We told them we could wait for a Ministry of the Environment grant, but that it might have to go to the Ontario Municipal Board and that could take six or seven months. I hope to have the work begin Monday morning and it shouldn't take more than two or three days."

The estimated cost of the project is between $8,000 and $9,000, but there are several steps that can be taken to pare down that figure. The township will use its own men to do the work and the Alexandria PUC will act as project supervisors.

On the question of how the costs will be divided among the homeowners, Mr. MacDonell said the bill would be "divided equally among those (residents) who benefit."

While Mr. MacDonell admits he's "not impressed" with how the entire situation was handled, he said unexpected problems kept cropping up.

"Changes came up after we first put the plan together," he said. "Then the residents found out something they didn't know before and we discovered something we didn't know before. The residents really came together and supported each other in this. They've made it happen. They're the ones who deserve the credit."

One of the residents who's suffered through a dry summer, Shirley Chabot, said each of the residents has agreed to pay a portion of the construction cost.

Four homeowners have chipped in $2,100, one lot owner will give $1,000 and two others have contributed an unspecified amount.

"Now I can sleep nights," Mrs. Chabot said Friday. "I feel a lot better. First they tell you you're going to have water and then something comes up and you're not going to have water. It's been really upsetting for the homeowners. We all seem a lot happier and we can't wait to see water coming out of our taps."

Former MPP, cabinet minister, Fern Guindon passes away at age 68

Funeral services were held Saturday for a prominent former Tory MPP for this area.

Fernand (Fern) Guindon, 68, died last Wednesday evening at the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

Mr. Guindon was a founder of the Guindon-Glenoco company, involved in oil and gas distribution. He was first elected to Queen's Park as MPP for Glengarry in 1957 while a resident of Apple Hill.

In 1963 he was elected to represent the Stormont riding, a position he held until 1974. His son, Luc, is now the Tory member for the riding of Cornwall-Cornwall Township.

Mr. Guindon was born in Fugereville, Quebec, the son of Pascal Guindon and the late Josephine Lalonde.

He was predeceased by brother Jean V. Guindon and is survived by his wife, the former Claire M. Rouette, sons Luc Guindon, Pierre Guindon, Paul Guindon, Dr. Benoit Guindon, and Jean Francois Guindon, brothers Rev. Bernard Guindon of Cornwall, Hubert Guindon of Montreal, sisters Dr. Jeannine Guindon and Mrs. Louis (Ghislaine) Trudeau of Montreal and eight grandchildren.

In addition to his activities with the family business and politics, Mr. Guindon was a member of the Knights of Columbus Council 755 in Cornwall.

The funeral service was held at the Nativity Co-Cathedral on Saturday, August 24. Rev. Bernard Guindon officiated, assisted by Rev. Arcade Guindon, Rev. Roger Guindon, Rev. Normand Gagnon, Bishop Eugene LaRocque, Archbishop Aurele Plourde and former Alexandria-Cornwall Bishop Rosario Brodeur.

Interment followed at the Notre Dame Cemetery and the pallbearers were Jean Louis Brunet, Armand Martin, Henri Quenneville, Laurent Boulerice, Leo Andre and J. C. Lalonde. Honorary pallbearers were Donald McLean, Allan Grossman, Denis Rouette and Donald Morrow.

Board to consider trustee pay hike

CORNWALL—SD&G Board of Education trustees were to vote on a recommendation Tuesday night that, if implemented, would likely give them a four per cent raise in the new year.

The board's Planning and Accountability Committee, headed by Chairman Art Buckland, recommended three annual increases beginning December 1, with the rate determined by the previous October's Consumer Price Index (CPI). The actual increase would be rounded up or down to the nearest one per cent.

The current CPI rate is just under four per cent and is not expected to change substantially before October 30.

Previously, provisions in the province's Education Act strictly limited the amount that trustees could elect to pay themselves, John Beveridge, assistant to the director of eduction, explained Monday. Three years ago the act was amended, leaving boards unfettered in determining trustee salaries, but requiring that increases be determined before an election and only come into effect after the newly elected board has taken office.

The salaries currently allowed are $5,500 for trustees and $8,250 for the chairman. A four per cent increase would bring those salaries to about $5,700 and $8,600, respectively.

In the last two years trustees chose to reduce the salary levels previously approved for themselves, keeping the percentage increase in line with amounts awarded to the board's employees.

The salary level is roughly consistent with other Ontario boards of education with similar enrolment figures.

Boards with enrolment figures close to SD&G's 13,000 paid their trustees between $4,200 and $7,200 a year in 1984, with the local board falling roughly in the middle.

The board's decision on the recommended increase was not known by press time.

Rail service to be interrupted

Track repairs will leave Alexandria residents without rail service for much of September and October. Via Rail will provide bus service in the interim.

From September 17 to 26, October 1 to 10 and October 16 to 24, Via Rail train service from Alexandria to Ottawa and Montreal will be interrupted.

All trains will be replaced by buses, with tickets sold by Via Rail ticket agents.

A spokesman for CN Rail, which is doing the track repairs, said Tuesday the work is being done on the Alexandria subdivision from Coteau Junction, Quebec, to the eastern outskirts of Alexandria.

The work will involve cleaning debris from the track bed and replacing worn railway ties. The spokesman said this work is done whenever a railway inspector deems it necessary.

The clean-up will make the route smoother and faster, said the spokesman.

WATER WORK—Lochiel Street East residents should have a good supply of water in their homes by the end of the week. A drought, caused by a water pipe that was just too small to service all the homes, is expected to be ended with the installation of a much larger pipe. Lochiel Township road workers began work on the project early Monday morning. Here, workers search for the existing pipe buried under Lochiel Street.

SD&G shines at Ottawa Ex

OTTAWA—Thursday was SD&G's turn to shine at Ottawa's Central Canada Exhibition and shine it did.

Local municipal politicians and visitors gathered at the Ex's Heritage Village to boast of their area and to watch homegrown talent entertain on the stage.

The Heritage Village, sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing, gives Ottawa area municipalities a chance to promote themselves and it gives Ottawa residents the opportunity to learn about areas beyond the city limits.

"We've been involved with the Heritage Village since it started," Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette said Thursday. "There don't seem to be too many booths this year but in years gone by our booth gave us a lot of publicity. There must be a thousand people from Alexandria who now live in Ottawa and this gives them a chance to see something of home."

Mr. Touchette said Alexandria takes part in the one-day event for the public relations benefits. The Heritage Village events receive wide publicity and are widely reported in the media.

At a special luncheon in the Civic Centre, Prescott-Russell MPP Jean Poirier praised the Heritage Village concept and all those municipalities that take part in it.

Mr. Poirier, filling in for Municipal Affairs Minister Bernard Grandmaitre, began his remarks by praising former Glengarry MPP Fern Guindon, who died in an Ottawa hospital Wednesday night.

"The quality of the individual person comes before political concerns," he said in calling for a minute's silence in Mr. Guindon's memory. "He was a great man and will be missed by all of us."

Mr. Poirier said the Heritage Village project was "a noble principle" and afforded residents an opportunity to get to know their neighbors outside of Ottawa.

"Heritage Village permits us to meet and know people from all of Eastern Ontario," he said. "It is a beautiful place. We have no need to envy anyone else."

Glengarry entertainment for the event included Sandy's Dance School, the Trottier family from Dunvegan and the MacCulloch Dancers.

HERITAGE CERTIFICATE—Prescott-Russell MPP Jean Poirier, right, presents a certificate of participation to Alexandria Mayor J.P. Touchette Thursday in Ottawa. The certificate thanked the municipality for taking part in the Central Canada Exhibition's Heritage Village SD&G Day.

Three hurt as car hits hydro pole

Three Cornwall residents were sent to hospital Saturday after their car struck a hydro pole.

Lancaster OPP report that Robert Bergeron, 33, had been driving a 1980 Chevrolet west on Highway 2, east of the Fraser Road, when he lost control of the vehicle on a curve and it struck the pole.

The driver, along with passengers Aline Bergeron, 29, and Jenna Bergeron, 5, were taken to Cornwall's Hotel Dieu Hospital for treatment of their injuries.

Damage to the car is estimated at $4,000, with an estimated $300 damage to the pole.

Cst. Joe Dupuis investigated.

Dump open an extra day

by Joanne Stevenson

NORTH LANCASTER — Lancaster Township Council wants its dump open on Thursdays, as well as Tuesdays and Saturdays. During council's August 21 meeting, Councillor Maurice Desautels suggested, "We should think about having the dump open another afternoon, especially in the summer."

The rest of council agreed it would be a good idea for the dump to operate on an extended schedule from May 1 to September 1, starting next year.

Council also approved placing boulders in front of the sandpit to discourage illegal dumping.

GREEN VALLEY SEWER MEETING

Thursday, September 19, has been tentatively set aside for a public meeting with the joint councils of Charlottenburgh and Lancaster Township to discuss the Green Valley sewer project. Officials from the Ministry of the Environment, Graham Engineering and the Eastern Ontario Health Unit are also expected to attend. The engineering firm has submitted a report outlining the possibility of removing the area north of the tracks from participation in the project. This option will be discussed at the meeting.

Lancaster Township Clerk Mike Samson, who is administering the project for the two townships, stresses the date is not definite because he has not been able to contact all the parties involved.

NO FLEA MARKET

Plans to set up a flea market on the site of the Border Drive-In have fallen through.

In a letter, lawyer Paul Syrduk, acting on behalf of the Bank of Montreal, current owners of the property, confirms his client's intention not to follow through with the rezoning request. Council then rescinded the bylaw and cancelled the proposal to allow the flea market.

North Lancaster woman wins talent contest at Ottawa Ex

NORTH LANCASTER — Carole Glaude wowed them at Ottawa's Central Canada Exhibition Sunday and she hopes to do the same thing next month in Tennessee.

Miss Glaude, the 19-year-old daughter of Gilles and Betty Glaude of North Lancaster, won top prize over the weekend at an amateur talent contest sponsored by an Ottawa television station.

Competing in a field of 130 people from across Ontario, Miss Glaude made it to Sunday's finals with a gymnastic mime routine. Her victory at the Ottawa show entitles her to compete at a North American talent show to be held September 28 and 29 in Memphis, Tennessee.

Her victory in Ottawa brought her a prize of $375 plus the trip to Memphis, where the top prize will be $7,500 (American) and an audition with CBS Records.

"I had no idea (I would win)," Miss Glaude said Monday. "I was very shocked. I was not expecting it at all. When I heard my name called out I nearly fainted."

Miss Glaude is a graduate of GDHS-ESRG and plans to take a bilingual secretarial course at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall in the fall. Her ultimate goal is to become a court reporter.

While she'll perform the same routine in Memphis, Miss Glaude said she'll spend the next month trying to improve it.

"The Memphis competition will have people from across North America," she said. "I'll have to work hard trying to improve my routine."

When Miss Glaude makes the trip down south, she'll also bring along her own cheering section. Her parents and grandparents plan to attend the talent show.

PUC urges restraint

Alexandria residents have been asked to cut back on water use for the rest of the summer.

Until October 1 the Alexandria Public Utilities Commission (PUC) is requesting people with even house numbers use outside water between 7 and 9 p.m. only on even days of the month, and people with odd house numbers on odd days of the month.

The program has been going on for about 10 years, PUC General Manager Laurent Poirier said Friday, and cooperation from the public has been good.

"I would say about 95 per cent of the people go by the restrictions, but there will always be a few who won't listen," said Mr. Poirier.

Mr. Poirier said when the request is ignored by too many people the PUC is forced to drop water pressure for the town.

"For a couple of days last week too many people were watering their lawns, so we were forced to decrease the water pressure," he said.

Mr. Poirier said the situation is not as bad as a few years ago. The town is using more water, but the PUC has increased its water pumping efficiency by fixing water leaks.

The PUC receives complaints about the restrictions, but things are usually cleared up quickly.

"People have to realize we're doing this for them," he said. "We like to keep our water at a certain level and the restrictions help us to do that."

Mr. Poirier said recent rainfall will help the problem. People will still be allowed to water their lawns every second day and he doesn't see this as much of an inconvenience for most people.

ONTARIO MARCH OF DIMES

MPP undecided

"I can easily see a relative unknown coming up the middle," added Mr. Villeneuve.

He rejected suggestions the leadership is likely to go to either Larry Grossman or Dennis Timbrell, both of whom were narrowly edged out in the last leadership convention.

"The two of them were losers last time," he said.

"I have no problem with Pope. He has a low profile, but I'll give him a good, hard look."

Two jailed, one fined for impaired

A Cornwall man was sentenced to three months in jail and a Lindsay man received 20 days while another Cornwall man was fined $100 Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after all pleaded guilty to separate charges of impaired driving.

Robert L. Martell, 27, of Cornwall, was charged April 21 in Charlottenburgh Township, his fourth impaired driving offence.

Court was told Mr. Martell was given an Alert roadside breath test on Highway 2. After failing the test, Mr.Martell was taken to Lancaster OPP for a breathalyzer test. His readings were 139 mgs. of alcohol in 100 mls. of blood.

At the time of the incident, Mr. Martell didn't have a driver's license.

Because of the man's employment, Judge Reginald Levesque told the court he would recommend Mr. Martell serve his jail term under the Temporary Absence Program on weekends at Cornwall's P. C. Bergeron House, so he could continue his employment during the week.

John Douglas Collins, 34, of Lindsay, was charged April 28 in Lancaster Township. It was his second impaired driving offence.

Court was told a police officer was on patrol, westbound on Highway 401 and observed a tractor trailer weaving back and forth along the centre line.

During the officer's investigation, Mr. Collins was unsteady on his feet. He was taken to Lancaster OPP for a breathalyzer test and his readings were 242 and 240 mgs. of alcohol in 100 mls. of blood.

Judge Levesque told the man he would recommend he serve the jail sentence under the Temporary Absence Program, so he could continue his employment.

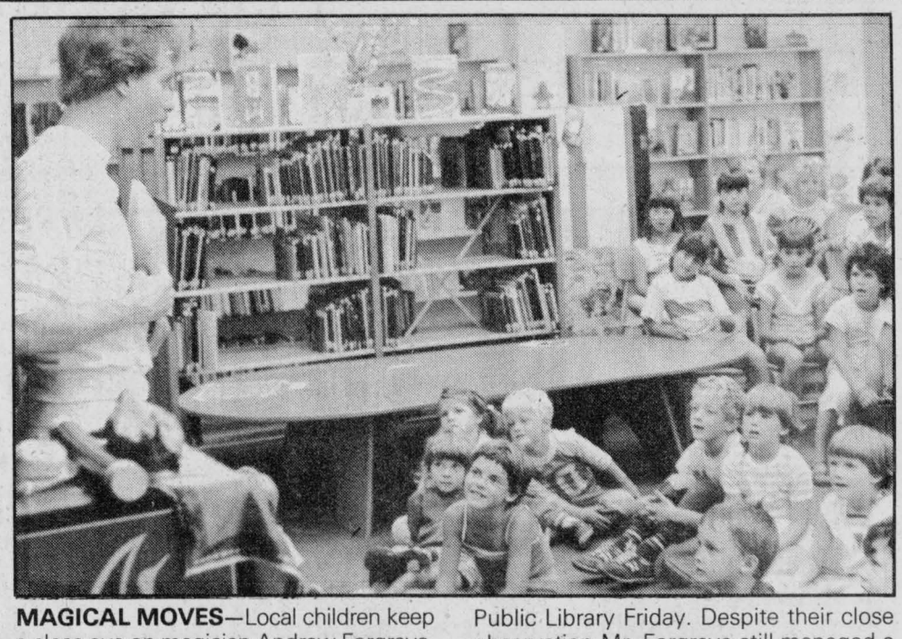
Ernest Gatien, a 46-year-old Cornwall man was charged August 19 in Charlottenburgh Township.

Court was told the accused was eastbound on Highway 2 and was involved in a single-vehicle accident. Mr. Gatien lost control and went off the road into the ditch.

The man was taken to Lancaster OPP for a breathalyzer test and his readings were 130 and 120 mgs. of alcohol in 100 mls. of blood.

Because of the man's limited income, he was fined less than the normal fine for a first offender.

Mr. Gatien was given 90 days to pay the fine and had his license suspended for three months.



MAGICAL MOVES—Local children keep a close eye on magician Andrew Forgrave, who gave a preformance at the Alexandria Public Library Friday. Despite their close observation Mr. Forgrave still managed a few tricks during the hour-long show.

Mayor may raise OPP issue again

Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette may be off to Toronto again this week in an intensifying effort to obtain free OPP policing for the town.

Tentatively approved in January, the question has been on hold through three successive solicitors-general, the Conservative leadership race and the provincial election, finally falling on the desk of the new Liberal in charge, Kenneth Keayes.

Officials in the solicitor-general's ministry, from the deputy minister on down, apparently prefer to leave the matter unsettled until Sept. 15, at least, awaiting any policy changes that could result from a study of OPP policing for towns of less than 5,000 population.

Alexandria has been trying to obtain OPP services free of charge, like many other communities, for more than 10 years, according to Mr. Touchette, but the effort intensified last year when SD&G MPP Noble Villeneuve became involved.

Earlier this year, paving the way for an OPP takeover, the Alexandria Police Commission approved a resolution asking the Ontario Police Commission for approval to abolish the local force.

At one point the mayor was confidently predicting the OPP would be in town by July 1. Most recently he was anticipating a positive response from the ministry by September 1.

In July Mr. Touchette and Mr. Villeneuve met with the deputy minister in charge in an effort to speed up the process. They also enlisted the aid of the new minister of education, Sean Conway, MPP for Renfrew North, all apparently to no avail.

"I shall be pushing the matter hard this week," Mr. Touchette said Monday. "I will be calling Toronto and I may even go back to Toronto this week, if I have to. I will be pushing our interests as hard as I can. This matter has got to come to a head."

"I may have to start tearing them apart," said Mr. Villeneuve. "I don't want to hurt the situation, but this is really incredible. It's a no progress situation. It's crazy. No one wants to touch it."

The Conservative MPP said he would try to speak with the solicitor-general this week in an effort to have the matter resolved.

Most village councils keep mum

Residents of Glengarry's two villages will have to wait a little while longer before they find out for whom they'll be voting in the November 12 municipal election.

In Lancaster Village, only Councillor Vince Leroux has announced his intentions

Mr. Leroux said he is leaving to devote more time to his hardware store.

Reeve Dorothy Perrier and Councillors Ron Sinnott and Jennifer Charbonneau said they hadn't decided as yet. Councillor Janette Abbey could not be reached for comment.

In Maxville Village, Reeve George Currier said he's willing to run for another term.

Mr. Currier, with five years as reeve and six years as councillor, said he feels he's served the people well and will be running on his record.

Councillors William Wright, Bill Campbell and Verna MacGregor were undecided and Councillor Michael Villeneuve couldn't be reached for comment.

Man fined $350 for possession

An Alexandria man was fined $350 Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after pleading guilty to two charges of possession of narcotics.

Pierre Lebrun, of 34 Derby St., was charged January 25 in Alexandria.

Local police raided the residence of Mr. Lebrun and found 20 grams of canabis resin and 19 LSD pills. The value of the drugs found was $215.

Although the accused has a lengthy criminal record for theft and break and enter-related offences, Judge Reginald Levesque told the court Mr. Lebrun's sentence had nothing to do with his previous offences.

"His record is quite lengthy, but not related to this offence," said Judge Levesque. "There's nothing to indicate the trafficking of narcotics because of the small amount found. This is his first conviction on the matter of drugs."

Mr. Lebrun was fined $300 for possession of canabis resin and $50 for possession of LSD. He was given 90 days to pay the fine.

Building to open by year's end

LANCASTER — Lancaster will be getting a big boost in rental space when a new office building opens near the end of the year.

The building which will house Rozon Insurance Brokers Limited on the ground floor, is slated for completion December 1.

The $250,000 building will feature about 18,000 feet of rental space in the basement, with another 14,000 feet available on the second floor, said Lloyd Rozon, company president.

"We're hoping to move in around the beginning of December but we may only move in at the end of the year," said Mr. Rozon.

None of the available space has been rented out yet said Mr. Rozon.

EDITORIALS/OPINION

Dangerous vandals

Vandalism has reached the danger stage in Glengarry. No longer satisfied with smashing windows, scratching cars, defacing municipal signs and throwing rural mail boxes onto public roadways, these wandering idiots are now stooping to removing hazard and detour signs.

Recently, two Cornwall women were injured when their car skidded over the edge of a river bank and smashed into rocks 16 feet below.

The Martintown bridge had been removed by construction crews to make way for a new structure. In the meantime, a temporary crossing takes care of light traffic, but vandals had removed detour signs.

The driver, with no advance warning, proceeded in a natural fashion and, by the time she became aware that the bridge was gone, was unable to stop before going over the edge.

It must have been a terrifying experience. The two women could easily have died in the needless accident. The thoughtless vandals would have been responsible for the deaths of innocent people. As it stands, they are directly responsible for inflicting serious injury.

The best we can say of these vandals is that they must be exceedingly stupid and did not fully comprehend the potential consequences of their games. No one wants to think that they would deliberately attempt to kill whoever was unfortunate enough to drive through Martintown that Sunday afternoon.

Anyone with information concerning who might have moved the detour signs in broad daylight should contact the police immediately so that this kind of lunacy can be brought to a halt.

Poorly considered

Bishop Eugene P. LaRocque is encouraging all Roman Catholic parishes in his Alexandria-Cornwall Diocese to refrain from having any dealings with banks and commercial businesses that do not support separate schools.

In the September diocesan bulletin, Bishop LaRocque quotes a letter he received from one parish council: ''It is our view that the Catholic parishes of this diocese should bank and deal with business enterprises that support the Catholic school system in Ontario, as much as this is possible. The commercial, corporate and industrial sector of society should not be oblivious to the current debate on genuine justice for acquired rights. The taxation base is currently unjust and needs a voice of conscience.''

Commenting on the letter, the bishop said: ''I encourage all to consider the possibilities and to courteously advise those concerned of the reason for the change.''

Separate school funding has always been an emotional, divisive issue and current plans to extend equal funding through to the end of Grade 13 have brought the old divisions to the forefront again.

There are persuasive arguments in favor of equal funding, including longstanding constitutional guarantees and the right of all children to equal educational opportunities. All three political parties in Ontario are in favor of equal funding and the Liberal government, carrying through on a commitment made by the Conservatives, are pledged to making equality a reality, beginning this September.

At the same time, there are many people who in good conscience cannot support the concept. Many of them are themselves Roman Catholics, but remain opposed to the concept of splitting the educational system on religious lines and giving support to adherents of one faith, while not offering the same for others.

Declaring financial war on those who oppose equal funding is hardly the way to win their support. Such a policy suggests matters of principle and conscience carry a price tag. How can we respect people who tailor their beliefs to the shape of a dollar bill? We can only pity those business people who feel forced to gag themselves for fear of losing business.

We should, by 1985, have long passed the pitiful day when a community's shopping dollar was divided along religious lines. It's a form of prejudice that is no longer tolerable in a fair-minded, multifaceted society.

What's the next step? Should businesses controlled by people who favor equal funding for Catholic schools refuse to employ those who disagree? Of course this seems farfetched, but it's not far removed from what is being advocated by Bishop LaRocque.

While the proposed action smacks of blatant prejudice, few would believe that is its intent. Regardless, the idea could not have been adequately considered and should now be discarded. As an effort to garner increased support for equal funding it is more likely to backfire, intensifying opposition.

The debate over equal funding has already degenerated, in some quarters, to the bigoted thinking of earlier generations, fueled in part by the intemperate remarks of Anglican Archbishop Lewis Garnsworthy of Toronto. Bishop LaRocque, to date, has shown himself to be of better ilk. He should not allow that to change.

A new leader from Toronto will mute the rural voice

RAMBLING REPORTER
Eugene Macdonald

Frank Miller sees no future for himself as leader of the Conservative Opposition at Queen's Park after a brief stint in that position and so last week he decided to quit as party leader. He has asked the party brass to arrange a convention by late fall and already there is conjecture as to who will be selected to succeed him.

An automobile dealer from small-town Ontario was unacceptable to the Big Blue Machine which had dominated provincial politics over the last 45 years. That was apparent at the Tory convention that chose him in the face of united opposition from three Toronto candidates. Mr. Miller managed to squeak through despite the big-city opposition but it is widely believed his urban support, lukewarm at best, shared responsibility for his poor showing at the polls with his party's move to extend support for Catholic education.

A big-city man at the controls of the Big Blue Machine will be something of a change from precedent which has seen Tory premiers drawn from such more modest centres as London, Lindsay and Brampton. And it bodes no good for small-town and rural Ontario which has seen its collective influence at Queen's Park lessening in recent years in the face of increasing urbanization across the province.

Toronto and its satellite cities already play a dominant role in decision-making at Queen's Park. Under successive Tory premiers we of Eastern Ontario have often felt neglected and forgotten, even when these leaders had their roots in rural constituencies. Bleak, indeed, appears the outlook if and when our premiers are big-city types.

The provincial bureaucracy is already urban. How will residents of rural Ontario cut through the red tape in a day when political power is also predominantly in the hands of city residents.

Perhaps we should be taking another look at the implications of representation by population.

The Tory choice of a new provincial leader is less earth-shaking in view of the fact a Liberal government is now in office under Premier David Peterson. That can be little consolation for rural Ontarians, though, because of the key role the NDP plays in Peterson's policy-making.

If taxes are inordinately high now, they will inevitably go higher to pay for still more socialist schemes.

Frank Miller may lead two pretenders into retirement

SECOND LOOK
Phil Rutherford

It's easy to sympathize with Frank Miller, the rags to riches millionaire who went on to become premier of Ontario, beating the odds and besting more polished urban opponents; the man who managed to take over one of the most successful political organizations in the world, over the objections of the Conservative Party hierarchy, and went on to tell the touted Big Blue Machine to take a hike and leave things to the boy from Muskoka.

True, Mr. Miller often seemed to be a man of firmly entrenched opinions somewhat to the right of much of society, but he also appeared genuine. He was prone to speaking his mind freely, though his words were not always politically profitable.

He drew substantial support during his campaign for the leadership of the party, particularly from rural and small town Ontario, precisely because he was Frank Miller, a man many could understand and relate to.

Six months later, with 20 seats lost in a general election and government power out of Tory hands for the first time in 42 years, Frank Miller has decided to quit. The man who knew virtually nothing but success has had to concede defeat and leave in the best interests of his party.

Controlled by political manipulators so confident of victory in the election they felt all that had to be done was get rid of their leader's tartan ties and jackets and keep his mouth shut, Frank Miller took on a new image. To too many people he became arrogant and overconfident. Reporters who had enjoyed easy access to the man, were suddenly shoved aside by handlers.

The old Frank Miller entered the campaign with a commanding lead in the polls, seemingly assured of a majority government. The new Frank Miller lost it all.

Recent polls have been even more cruel, leaving him dead last as the public's choice of who would be the best premier, with the support of 12 per cent compared to Liberal Premier David Peterson's 45 per cent.

Like sharks attracted by blood, circling a weakened prey, the younger men defeated by Miller in the last leadership campaign, have been busy further undermining his leadership while steadily promoting themselves. ''Pretenders to the throne,'' he called them. They eliminated what little chance he had to unite his party and come back in another election.

Believing he could not defeat Mr. Peterson under the circumstances, he chose to give way to someone else. He's not a selfish man, nor a self-centred one. Characteristically blunt, he stated publicly his own opinion that he was not the right man to rebuild the Conservative Party.

We don't know if he would have been a good premier. He never had the chance to show his stuff. Now he joins Joe Clark, Robert Nixon, Bob Stanfield and a host of other former political leaders who came so close, but blew it; all of them left with their regrets and wondering what might have been.

There's a lot more to Frank Miller than voters gave him credit for. Left to do it over again, he would choose to be his own man, displaying to Ontario the real Frank Miller, warts and all. That's the Miller that could have won.

The leadership may well fall to either Larry Grossman or Dennis Timbrell, the also rans of January, but they will face the wrath of delegates incensed by their lack of loyalty to Frank Miller.

It's an entirely different ball game now, with the Tories in opposition and all candidates for the leadership free to speak their minds. There will be new faces in the race and delegates who supported Mr. Miller and former Attorney-General Roy McMurtry last time around will be forming new allegiances.

The ''pretenders to the throne'' can take nothing for granted. More than a few would be happy to see them join Frank Miller in early retirement.

Changing his tune again

NOTEBOOK
Bruce Hayes

Brian Mulroney gives me a headache and I don't like it.

I'm not what you'd call a political junkie, at least I'm not as bad as some other people I know, but I do enjoy keeping abreast of what's going on in municipal, provincial and federal politics. Mr. Mulroney has been prime minister for almost a year now and every day he reminds me more and more of a chameleon.

I just can't figure this guy out and it's all starting to hurt my head.

During the months and weeks leading up to last year's September 4 election I put aside my usual dose of cynicism and became caught up in the Brian Mulroney-sunshine-express as it crisscrossed the country.

After so many years with those nasty Liberals, the man from Quebec seemed to be a welcome change, a breath of fresh air.

True, the Liberals had a new leader in John Turner. But, let's face it, nothing went right for the poor guy. He wasn't adequately prepared, he was nervous, he had a funny way of clearing his throat and he kept saying dumb things.

Here was Brian with that great smile, that great wife, those great kids, those great advisors and those great promises. Who could resist? I'll admit I almost jumped out of my chair during that great debate when Brian gave John a great tongue lashing for approving all those Trudeau patronage appointments. Great stuff and great television it was.

So Brian and the boys and girls get sent to Ottawa with one of the largest majorities this country has ever seen. The first little while everything seemed great. Mr. Mulroney appointed former-NDP member Stephen Lewis as our ambassador to the United Nations.

A Tory appointing an ardent NDP'er? Unheard of, I said to myself. Maybe this is going to work out after all.

Well, next thing I know we have Mike Wilson pulling his hair out, saying the country is in worse shape than he was lead to believe and, guess what, the Tories won't be able to make good on all those great promises they made.

Then we have the solicitor-general meeting with a premier who just happens to be under investigation for possession of marijuana. Not exactly the most kosher thing to do.

Then we have bureaucrats leaking government documents indicating massive spending cuts are on the way for certain departments. The Tories reacted by charging the bureaucrat with breach of trust and tossing him out the door. Wasn't it the Tory party that used to love making life miserable for the ruling Liberals with a lot of help from leaked documents?

I guess what's good for the goose isn't good for the gander.

Things became drearier and drearier. Day after day it seemed another relative of a cabinet minister got a cushy job. Then, just as I was convinced Mulroney was just as bad as the rest of them, the guy goes and does something noble.

In a press conference in Vancouver last week he admits he blew it and promises to bring in stricter rules regarding nepotism and conflict of interest guidelines for cabinet ministers.

''We did suffer (because of the controversy),'' he told reporters. ''We asked for it. The issue was raised and now we have to deal with it. I regret that I wasn't able to do it until now.''

Wow. Here we have the leader of the country admitting he screwed up and saying he'll try and fix things. I don't know if I can handle this. Everytime I try and figure out our Prime Minister I find my head starts to pound. Where are the Aspirins?

Too much waste

A total of $901 million was paid out in unemployment insurance benefits during May 1985, 12.5 per cent less than in April, but a tidy sum, nevertheless.

During the first five months of the year more than $5,079 billion, about 6.4 per cent more than in 1984. Those figures were reached in spite of the fact that there were fewer Canadians unemployed than in 1984. It reflects the fact that UIC payouts were 8.2 per cent higher individually than a year earlier.

A nation with that kind of a financial load on its back is bound to have economic difficulties. Of course, some of that money is paid by each of us who contribute to the fund, but a lot of it comes from the public purse. The fund is perpetually in the red.

The biggest problem with unemployment insurance is that it encourages some people to do nothing, until their benefits run out. On the other hand, the system provides a resource for those unfortunate enough to lose their job, and who require an opportunity and time to find new employment.

UIC must continue to play a key role in our economy, but it cannot continue to be milked by both some workers and some politicians without in the end collapsing. It has been much abused, and perhaps when we need it most, it may not be available. —Battlefords News-Optimist

Lancaster Village council discusses ditches

by Joanne Stevenson

LANCASTER — Village councillors are still wrestling with the problem of covered ditches obstructing proper drainage. The topic has sparked debate during three consecutive council meetings. Ditches covered over by three landowners Hugh McClements, Richard Anderson and Ron Flaro have caused council concern. Letters have circulated between the township solicitor, Ken Bergeron, and two of the homeowners and their legal representative, Paul Syrduk. Ron Flaro has yet to reply to any of council's correspondence to him.

Hugh McClements attended council's Aug. 6 meeting and agreed to pay for any repair required. He also named examples of three other landowners who had installed culverts, but had not been contacted by council.

"Other people already have culverts on their property," said Mr. McClements. "I only ask for fairness."

He added the village road superintendent, Jacques Lapierre, had watched him install the culvert and wondered why council waited until the job was completed before objecting.

This statement particularly upset Councillor Janette Abbey. "Why didn't somebody speak up before he finished the work?" she asked.

Council was satisfied with Mr. McClements' willingness to solve the problem.

Mr. Anderson and Mr. Flaro will be invited to appear before council at its September meeting.

RECREATION HALL

Council passed a resolution to accept Alan Beaupré Construction's bid of $30,773 for construction of a recreation hall next to the hockey rink. At the meeting, council had not yet received tenders for revised plumbing and electrical work.

Construction should be starting soon. Members of the Recreation Committee have been lobbying many years for such a facility. Committee member and Councillor Ron Sinnott echoed their feelings of triumph when he exclaimed, "We're going to have a building!"

SIDEWALKS

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications (MTC) has informed council repair and replacement of faulty pieces of pavement will be under way this autumn. Tenders for work on the curbs, gutters and sidewalks have been advertised and will be opened August 21, with the job to be finished by October 15.

OPP MOVING?

Reeve Dorothy Perrier, quoting from a recent newspaper article about the OPP and its expected arrival in Alexandria, expressed concern about the present detachment's maintaining its headquarters in Lancaster. Councillors shared this concern and hoped headquarters would not be relocated to Alexandria.

"It doesn't make sense to move it. The main reason to have it here is to patrol the 401," said Councillor Vince Leroux.

Council passed a motion urging the detachment remain in Lancaster. The motion will be forwarded to SD&G MPP Noble Villeneuve and Ontario Solicitor-General Ken Keayes.

SENIORS HOUSING

Larry Cotton, who is organizing the survey of need for a seniors housing complex in the village, has written council the province should be replying to its request by the end of August.

Janette Abbey felt council should be kept more up to date about the project.

Clerk Ian MacDonald reminded council Mr. Cotton will be attending its September meeting.

Lancaster Township warned about dump site

by Joanne Stevenson

NORTH LANCASTER - Don Munro of the Ontario Ministry of the Environment (MOE) has issued Lancaster Township Council a written warning concerning smoke pollution from the township dump.

Don Lacelle, who lives near the dump, located off the North Lancaster side road, has issued four complaints about domestic waste being burned on the site.

Township Clerk Mike Samson told the ministry that garbage haulers and not the township were responsible for starting fires, in his opinion. He said he had already spoken to the people involved.

Mr. Samson also pointed out that Mr. Lacelle was the only person who complained, despite the fact that other people live closer to the dump.

However, council will be taking steps to make sure the illegal fires are eliminated.

WRECKING YARD

October 2 is the new date set for an Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) hearing regarding a proposal to expand the Seguin wrecking yard.

In June 1984 Ronald and Raynald Seguin requested rezoning of their property and an amendment to the township's official plan to allow the expansion of their business. Despite opposition from neighbors, council passed a resolution granting the changes. Written objections were submitted and the OMB arranged a hearing to settle the matter.

The February hearing was quickly adjourned, however, when hearing chairman Colin Charron determined there were some discrepancies between the names of those notified of the hearing and those who appeared on the list of petitioners.

In an effort to avoid future disputes, Clerk Samson noted, "I'll try to advise all the right people. Some might complain that they received two notices, with names spelled two ways."

GREEN VALLEY SEWER

Council received correspondence from A.J. Graham Engineering of Ottawa regarding a proposed sewage project for Green Valley.

"One of these days, a meeting with the property owners should be arranged," said Clerk Samson. "There's no big hurry because no money will be available until March, at least. Maybe we should set something up after the summer holidays."

TAX BILLS

Mike Samson told council tax bills will be mailed this week. September 30 is the deadline for payment.

PAVING TENDERS

Tenders were received for paving Concession 3 from Curry Hill Road to the Quebec border and Concession 4 from Lancaster Township Public School to the county road.

Beaver Asphalt of Ottawa was awarded the contract with the lowest bid of $148,466. Dibblee Construction and Cornwall Gravel Ltd., both of Cornwall, bid $153,444 and $167,428 respectively.

Television ads are too fast

Vankleek Hill

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Advertising executives are portrayed to us as smart, young and often brilliant types. One begins to suspect that it's just an illusion.

Those of us with less than perfect eyesight or with eyes tired after a long day must now sit with eyes averted through the flashing images that make up the bulk of new wave T/ commercials.

If the brilliant ad execs stopped for even a flash to consider, the population is ageing; increasingly the jazzed up TV drivel that cannot be viewed must surely fail in its purpose. To be effective it must be seen; to be seen it must be viewable.

In pure self-protection and in irritated protest I look off obliquely as soon as the flash flick beat sounds, a conscious turn-off until the rational images resume. I refuse to have my psyche jerked like a marionette.

When enough of the audience learn this simple act and sales are affected, the geniuses will need to think up some new device other than the super sub-liminal. How will they attract the viewing geriatric set again? Only those who wield gray power know that answer. Is there a traitor in our ranks?

Man in court on sexual assault

A 31-year-old Alexandria man, charged with one count of sexual assault and breaching probation, appeared in Alexandria Provincial Court Thursday and was remanded to September 19.

Court was told the alleged offence took place August 10. The man was picked up by Alexandria police on August 16.

Crown Attorney Alan Ain asked Judge Reginald Levesque for a ban on publication of the victims' names. He told the court the victims were two young girls, but he did not mention where they were from.

The accused is free without bail awaiting his next court appearance.

$2,000 stolen

A break-in at a Glen Robertson residence netted thieves more than $2,000 in silverware and jewellery.

Lancaster OPP report that sometime between last Wednesday and Thursday someone entered the Main Street home of Marion Dewar and made off with an estimated $2,200 in goods. Police say entry was gained by smashing a window in a door.

Cst. John Moore is investigating the incident.

Fiddling at the Games

by Malcolm M. Dewar

MAXVILLE — A lesser known element of the Glengarry Highland Games is the fiddling session which takes place in the Angus Gray Centre on Saturday afternoon.

Instituted several years ago, it became for a time a fiddling contest but has now reverted to a program of impromptu performances by those musicians who wish to take part.

There was a steady flow of people through the building and some of the more ardent fiddle fans brought their lawn chairs and settled in for the duration of the program. The honored guest of the day, Flora MacDonald, made an appearance and took a turn around the dance floor. In all, 11 fiddlers entertained the audience with a variety of fiddling styles.

Making a first appearance this year was Barbara McOwen of Boston who is active in Scottish fiddling activities in that area. She exhibited a highly developed skill with her instrument, first in a duet with Ralph Thompson of Montreal (another fine fiddler who has appeared in Maxville before) and later in a solo performance.

A perennial favorite, Donald Angus Fletcher of London, Ontario (formerly of Dunvegan) was on hand again this year. He was accompanied by his two sons, Neil and Harold on piano and guitar respectively. Mr. Fletcher is 90 years of age and still plays the pipes on occasion.

Steve Ellsworth is well known in Ottawa for his fine traditional treatment of Scottish tunes. Although lesser known in this area, he has played in Maxville at least once before, in the old community hall. Steve is a native of Prince Edward Island.

Making his first visit to the area in a number of years was Angus MacKinnon of Toronto. Many will recall Angus' previous appearances as a solo fiddler and with his Scottish country dance band. He was accompanied on the piano by Barbara McOwen.

Other fiddlers who took part, most of whom are members of the various local fiddling groups, were: Donaldson MacLeod, Coral Young, Hugh Allan MacMillan, Cecil McDermid, Gary Cooper and Malcolm Dewar.

Congratulations on 40th

Visitors with Mrs. Barbara McDonald and Gavin were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Weir and daughter Lin of St. Brigide, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weir, Jennifer, Laura and son Wesley of Rougemount, Que., and Miss Shirley Weir of Brossard, Que. Sentenced to community work

A 21-year-old Alexandria man was placed on probation for 18 months and ordered to perform 100 hours of community service work Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after he was found guilty on two charges of theft and one of break and enter.

Beaudoin Brunet, 140 Sandfield St., was charged in three separate incidents in 1984.

On March 21, the accused stole tools from an Alexandria Public Utilities Commission truck. The second incident was on June 28, involving the theft of a chain saw and the third was the theft of a radio, both from Alexandria residences. The value of the merchandise stolen was $1,770.

"I'm impressed by this fellow," said Judge Reginald Levesque. "Even though he committed serious offences, the accused has displayed a lot of character. His motive for the thefts was to pay drug debts and he's turned it around since," he said.

"A positive factor is that he's turned it around alone and he has a positive work record," added Levesque.

Area visitors

Roy Urquhart of Burnaby, British Columbia, is visiting with his cousins, Marion Urquhart of Laggan and Harriet MacKinnon of Alexandria and other Grant and Urquhart relatives in the area.

$800 in damages

A fender-bender in the village of Williamstown Thursday afternoon left an estimated $800 in damage.

Lancaster OPP report that Harold Cholette, 39, of Williamstown had been driving a 1984 Buick east on Mary Street when he attempted to make a right-hand turn into a parking lot.

At the same time, a 1973 GMC truck, driven by 42-year-old Bruce McDonell of Williamstown was backing out of the parking lot and a collision occurred.

Damage to the Cholette vehicle is estimated at $800 and there was no damage to the McDonell vehicle.

Cpl. Gerry Lee investigated.

Bible School a success

LANCASTER — More than 100 people attended a week-long vacation Bible school at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Lancaster recently.

The program is now in its 15th year and is spreading, according to organizer Ella Smith. Sponsored by several area churches, the interdenominational school had 85 children aged three to 12 attending.

There weree also 20 adults and nine teenagers who took part in the program.

"The children sang songs and did arts and crafts and learned from the Bible," said Mrs. Smith. "They really seem to enjoy themselves and most can't wait to come back next year."

One of the ways the children learn about the Bible is by playing a game called Bible Challenge. The children are asked questions from the Bible and given points for a correct answer.

On Friday the students held a concert and there was a picnic which parents were invited to. The youngsters sang songs they had learned at the school and their arts and crafts were on display.

During the course of the week $150 was collected and will be sent to the Blind World Missions.

Club is off to a flying start

by Doug Carson

WILLIAMSTOWN — To some people pigeons are a nuisance, but for 10 area residents the birds have become a passion.

The 10 are members of the Seaway Valley Racing Pigeon Club. The organization is in its first year, but Secretary Jack Bourdeau of Williamstown feels it is off to a flying start.

"This is a sport where a person has to love what they're doing. We can't pick people off the street and ask them to join our club, they have to show an initial interest in racing pigeons," he said. "The members we have are dedicated to racing, so our club has a solid base."

Pigeon racing is a precise and complicated sport and is often misunderstood. The birds are not the common street pigeons often seen sitting perched on buildings.

Racing pigeons are often larger with more colorful markings than common pigeons, but Mr. Bourdeau said someone who is not familiar with pigeons would probably have a hard time telling them apart.

One thing's for certain, you won't find any of his pigeons perched on someone's house.

"These pigeons are bred to fly straight to their loft, whether they're three miles from home or 500 miles from home," he said.

All the birds carry a band around their leg from the Canadian Racing Pigeon Union. The band carries an identification number and the age of the bird. No bird can be entered in a race without one.

The members fly every week from May to September. The preparations for a race begin the day before. The flyers gather at the Boundary Road home of President Serge Malenfant to basket the birds. This involves placing a rubber band around the leg of each bird and placing them in storage baskets.

The baskets are picked up by a carrier and taken to a predetermined site where they are released. The race distance can range from 40 to 500 miles, or even longer.

When a bird reaches its loft, the owner removes the band, drops it into a time clock and punches the clock. The owner receives a printout showing, to the exact second, how long it took the bird to reach home.

"How fast the birds fly depends totally on the weather," said Mr. Bourdeau. "It could be 35 miles an hour, it could be 60 miles an hour."

Following the race, flyers return their clocks to Mr. Bourdeau's house where his wife, Colombe, totals the results on their home computer.

Lofts usually house between 60 and 80 birds. Mr Bourdeau said he doesn't name his pigeons but he can identify each one. Ten to 15 pairs of these might be breeders which are never flown in races and are kept only to produce offspring.

"Every breeder is looking for that one pigeon which will win every race, just like a horse breeder," said Mr. Bourdeau. "Every member also has a top bird, the one they know they can depend on for a good race."

Being a pigeon racer in Canada is an oddity despite the fact that thousands of Canadians are involved in the sport.

"In Europe everybody knows about pigeon racing and it's the national sport of Belgium," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Bourdeau spend as much time as they can working with their birds. Their loft is heated, allowing them to work year-round.

Despite the fact a good pair of breeding pigeons can cost $200, and world class birds can go for $5,000, pigeon racing is a sport anyone can get involved in.

"Some of the members would be more than happy to give a new member some good birds they don't have room for. A loft doesn't have to be anymore elaborate than an orange crate on the side of a house," said Mr. Bourdeau.

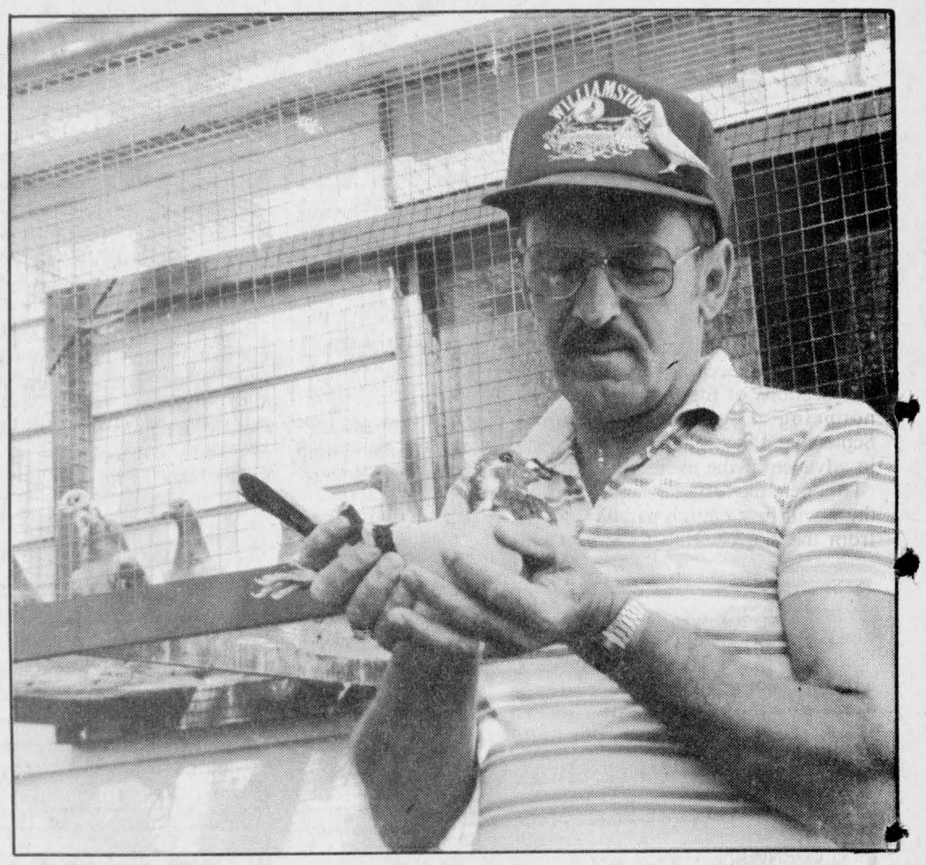
Women are not to be excluded from the sport said Mrs. Bourdeau, noting her best pigeon has had a couple of first place finishes recently.

When the race results are added up and the winner congratulated, Mr. Bourdeau said there is lots of time left to socialize.

"Everybody sticks around and has something to eat and we talk and have a great time," he said. "You would be hard pressed to find nicer people."

NICE HOUSE—These racing pigeons belong to Jacques Bourdeau of Williamstown who is secretary of the Seaway Valley Racing Pigeon Club. These pigeons live in a two storey heated loft that allows Mr. Bourdeau to work with his pigeons year round.

Staff Photo—Doug Carson



PIGEON FANCIER—Jacques Bourdeau of Williamstown holds one of the 80 or so racing pigeons from his loft. The pigeons are all specially bred and can reach speeds of 60 miles an hour and can find their way home over distances of 500 miles.

Youth in exchange program

WILLIAMSTOWN — A Williamstown youth will spend a week exploring one of Canada's national parks as part of a government exchange

Mark Kannon, 17, of Street Road will be one of 40 Ontario students involved in the Ontario Youth National Heritage Exchange, part of the government's International Year of the Youth activities.

"I learned about the exchange at school and applied but I really didn't think I would be picked," he said.

Mark will spend his time at Highland National Park on Cape Breton Island in Nova Scotia. Laura MacKinnon, special projects officer for the parks, said the complete itinerary for Mark's trip has not been planned, but an excursion to view whales in the Atlantic is in the works.

The program has been organized by the National Parks Centennial Citizens Committee. The group hopes to promote interest in heritage conservation in 1985, the 100th anniversary of Canadian national parks.

Mark said the program caught his eye because he enjoys the outdoors and camping. He said he also enjoys public speaking and would like to spread the word about heritage conservation.

Miss MacKinnon said each applicant for the exchange had to submit a 250 word essay as well as two letters of reference.

"We picked the students who showed promise in seeking a career in the heritage conservation field. On the exchange they will be working with conservation professionals and this should give them a head start," she said.

Four hurt in crash

Four people were sent to hospital with minor injuries Sunday afternoon following a two-car collision.

Lancaster OPP report that Ranjit Ghoman, 28, of Toronto, had been driving a 1985 Pontiac off the Highway 401 ramp onto Highway 34 when he was involved in a collision with a 1975 Cadillac, driven by Armand Simard, 60, of L'Orignal. Police say the Simard vehicle had been southbound on Highway 34.

The two drivers were hospitalized, as were passengers Annette Simard and Narinder Kaur.

Damage to the Pontiac is estimated at $18,000, with an estimated $3,000 damage to the Cadillac. Cst. Randy Millar investigated.

Horse killed, truck destroyed in crash

A Dalkeith area man escaped injury early Friday morning when his truck struck and killed a horse and then burst into flames.

Lancaster OPP report that Richard MacLeod, 23, of RR 3, Dalkeith had been driving a 1985 Chevrolet pick-up truck east on the Lochiel Road when he collided with a herd of horses that had strayed onto the road.

Following the collision, in which one mare was killed, the truck burst into flames. The Alexandria Fire Department was called out to extinguish the blaze.

The horse, owned by Frank Alteen, had been a racer at one time and had been used as a brood mare for the last couple of years.

Mr. Alteen told The Glengarry News he had no idea how many horses had been on the road since they were back in the field by the time he reached the scene

He said the horse, called Miss Teen, was valued at $5,000. Damage to the truck is estimated at $15,000.

Cst. Paul Sabourin investigated the incident.

Hay and grain yields good for area farmers

AG REPORT
Glen Smith

Weather appears to be the hottest topic and one of the major concerns at the moment.

The hay and grain yields were exceptionally good and on the most part stored in relatively good condition. The corn and soybean crops appear to be the big question mark.

We receive weather information from three stations in the county from Environment Canada. All three report rain data with two reporting heat unit information. As of the end of July, at the Dalhousie Mills station, there were 1,590 heat units reported, compared to 1,627 reported in 1984 for the same period. At the Glen Gordon station at the end of July, there were 1,662 heat units, compared to 1,627 for the same period in 1984. It would appear that we have a considerable distance to go to receive our 2,600 heat units but with any luck at all, a killing frost is not expected until late September.

If we receive on the average 27 units per day for the month of August, we will have received our heat units required by the end of September. Unfortunately the intermittent weather during the growing season has affected the growth of the corn crop considerably.

According to the heat units received, we are only behind approximately two days. According to the way the cobs are filling, I would estimate that the corn is 10 days to two weeks later than normal in maturing.

The dry conditions in the month of August have certainly helped the harvesting of the grain crop but slowed down the maturity of the corn crop. The rainfall continues to be quite variable throughout the county. Rainfall this past weekend amounted to over two inches in the north end compared to one inch in the south end. It will certainly help to relieve the dry conditions for the corn, soybeans and pasture.

For the four months from April to July 31, we have received 187.9 mm (7.36") at the Glen Gordon station compared to 206.4 mm (8.1") in '84 for the same period. In Dalkeith, they have received to date 279.8 mm (10.9") compared to 353.2 mm (13.9") in '84.

CATTLE RESTRICTED

Because Quebec is designated Brucellosis free and Ontario status is still low incidence, there have been changes in the regulations of moving cattle into Quebec. The problem has caused considerable confusion and chaos for farmers and truckers alike and hopefully the system now will run more smoothly, although the regulations are still restrictive on our producers in Ontario. Ontario is eligible to be declared Brucellosis free and this change in status could occur in the near future which will help to prevent any further confusion. Regulations for moving cattle into Quebec are as follows:

1. All cattle transported from Ontario to Quebec must be accompanied by a permit issued by Agriculture Canada.
2. Calves less than six months, official vaccinates less than 18 months, and Free Listed cattle of any age must be individually identified on the permit with a Veterinary Inspection Branch ear tag, and require no further testing, and are eligible to go to any destination in Quebec. Permit to indicate farm of origin.
3. Steers and spayed heifers do not require individual identification, but must be accompanied by a permit and are eligible to go to any destination in Quebec.
4. Any cattle for immediate slaughter must be accompanied by a permit stating exact number of cattle and showing destination as an abattoir. No individual identification required. Such cattle must move directly to the abattoir without going through an auction market.
5. All breeding cattle not referred to in items (2)-(4) above; i.e., calves more than six months, official vaccinates more than 18 months including feeders, and originating from any herd other than a Free Listed Herd, must have two negative serological tests for Brucellosis at an interval of 90-180 days with the second test within 30 days before entering Quebec.

Freestone peaches best for canning and freezing

by Kathy Simpson, Rural Organization Specialist, Home Economics, SD&G

August is the peak period for peach production in Ontario. This year peaches are ready quite early because of warm spring weather. About 90 per cent of Ontario's peaches are grown in the Niagara region and are shipped in refrigerated trucks to all parts of Ontario.

Here are some handling tips to ensure that you get the best peaches.

Use the first peaches of the season which are semi-freestone for fresh eating. Freestone peaches appear later in larger quantities and can be used for canning, freezing or can be eaten fresh.

Select fully ripe peaches by the creamy yellow background instead of the blush. The blush differs according to the variety and is not a true indicator of ripeness. Peaches should be handled carefully since they bruise quite easily.

Once you get your basket of peaches home they should be sorted. Bruised or over-ripe peaches should be used as soon as possible. Underripe peaches will ripen at room temperature, uncovered and away from direct sunlight.

To remove peach skins, dip peaches in boiling water for 30-60 seconds and immerse in cold water. The skins will slip off easily. To prevent discoloration, dip peaches in ascorbic acid or lemon juice solution.

CLUB CAMP

The Central Canada Exhibition Association is sponsoring the two day CCEA Camp for 200 4-H members in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec. The conference began on Tuesday, August 20 at Kemptville College with educational workshops, followed by a judging competition at Central Canada Exhibition on August 21.

The delegates will have the opportunity to attend public speaking, social recreation, exhibits, press reporter, workshops, design a county banner. The inter-county skit, exhibit and demonstration competition will be held on August 21.

ACTIONWEAR

Actionwear is the new 4-H project being offered in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties this fall. 4-H'ers will learn knit fabric sewing techniques. They will be able to make their own sweat shirts, sweat pants, shorts, shirts or mesh tops.

To participate in Actionwear, members must be 12-21 years old as of July 1, 1985. Each member must complete a record book, sew at least one garment, attend the seven weekly meetings and participate in the Achievement Program.

Leadership workshops will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.—September 10, Church on the Hill Hall, Alexandria; September 11, Finch Community Hall; September 12, Winchester United Church Hall.

For more information about becoming a member or leader, contact Kathy Simpson, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Telephone 933-1581 or Zenith 38300.

Compete in show

Four area girls competed in the riding competition at the Central Canada Exhibition on the weekend.

Ester Speck of Moose Creek, and Paula Siwik, Anona Siwik and Tracy Gibbon of Maxville made up the contingent from Littlebrook Farms of Maxville.

Although none of the riders took home prizes, riding coach Dawn Davies-Hudson said she is happy with the performance of the girls.

"They haven't been riding very long, and the other competitors have been riding since they could walk," said Mrs. Davies-Hudson.

"I was looking more for the girls to achieve personal performance goals than to win awards."

She said the girls had been involved in a unique training program where they all shared the same pony named Caesar's Ghost. Mrs. Davies-Hudson said this helped to lower costs of competing considerably.

The first show Friday night was not the girls' best, said Mrs. Davies-Hudson. She attributed the mediocre performance to opening night jitters.

"It was their first major indoor event but after the first night they did very well," she said. "The experience gained by competing here will help them in the future."

Canada's national soccer squad earning respect

SPORTS

Peter Conway

Canada has never been recognized as a world power in soccer, but we're raising a few eyebrows among our competitors.

Canada's national soccer squad took a giant step towards qualifying for next year's World Cup tournament in Mexico, following a thrilling 1-0 victory over Honduras on the weekend.

The nationally-televised contest, played in Honduras, left the Canucks with a win and draw in the three-country round-robin tournament.

When most Canadians think of the World Cup, teams such as Italy, Brazil or West Germany come to mind. Not too many people would think of a Canadian team knocking heads with traditional soccer powers in the World Cup.

Sunday's game had just about everything—close calls at both ends of the field, tight defence and physical play at times.

To increase the pressure, Canada was playing in front of a jammed stadium and 35,000 partisan Honduras fans.

Canada still has two games left—one at Costa Rica and then Honduras comes here. While Canada isn't assured of a World Cup berth, its chances are a lot brighter following Sunday's victory.

In this country, people get excited when hockey teams play the Soviet Union in the Canada Cup every four years. Sure, hockey has been the most recognizable sport in Canada around the world. But, with Canada's sudden rise in soccer on the national scene, it should be a big boost towards the promotion of the game across the country.

Hopefully, the team can come away the winner in the qualifying round-robin tournament and advance to the World Cup.

Who says hockey is the only sport Canadians play well?

ANOTHER SUCCESS

The second annual Sportsman's three-pitch ball tournament was held Saturday and once again was a huge success for organizers.

Cathy Depratto and Krista Binkert, the principal organizers, deserve a lot of credit for running a first-class event.

While there were winners and losers on the field, the big winner was the Recreation and Leisure Committee for the Developmentally Handicapped of Glengarry. All the proceeds will be used to buy recreational equipment.

As for The Glengarry News team, we had a lot of team spirit, even though we had an early exit from the tournament.

After being unable to defend our title, our player-coach Hoppy Gallant issued harsh warnings that some of our contracts would be terminated if we don't come prepared for next year's tournament.

Well Hoppy, we're sorry we couldn't win the title again this year. Last year we played "Billy Ball" and this year we had a difficult time adapting to your "Hoppy Ball."

Nonetheless, we had a great time and we'll start negotiating our new contracts in the near future.

All of us at The Glengarry News look forward to next year's tournament, even though some players were walking around with a few aches here and there Monday morning.

Anyway, we were all impressed with Hoppy's leadership qualities, especially since he didn't crack any ribs this year. It got expensive paying his salary last year while he was on the disabled list.

BUSY WEEKEND

It will be a busy time on the local sports scene Labor Day weekend.

In Williamstown, the annual Soccerfest Tournament will be held. Teams from the area and from Ottawa and Montreal take part in senior men and women's divisions.

The first annual Gerald McDonald Soccer Tournament will be held at the Father Gauthier Recreation Centre in Lochiel. The three-day tourney concludes with finals on Monday.

Monday's schedule for the finals in each division is: junior girls at 1 p.m., sprites at 2 p.m., peewees at 3 p.m., bantams and intermediate girls at 4 p.m., senior ladies at 6:30 p.m. and the senior men at 7:30 p.m.

If soccer doesn't interest you, why not take in the National Walleye Championships at South Lancaster Saturday and Sunday?

Some of the top anglers from Ontario, Quebec and the United States will be vying for the winning purse of $5,000.

It should be quite a weekend for sports enthusiasts in the area with plenty to do.

Lajoie new coach of Glens

by Peter Conway

The search is over.

The Alexandria Glens will have a new, but familiar face behind the bench when the team opens its 1985-1986 Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League campaign in October.

Alexandria native Roch Lajoie will guide the club this season. Manager Gaetan Giroux had been looking for a replacement for last year's mentor Jean-Yves Jeaurond, who decided not to return as coach this season.

Giroux had been discussing with Lajoie, the possibility of coaching the team this season earlier in the summer, but the 31-year-old former player, who starred with the Glens in the club's early years, was reluctant at first to accept the position.

After thinking over the idea, Lajoie informed Giroux over the weekend he'd accept the post.

"He seemed interested when I talked to him a couple of weeks ago," said Giroux. "We met last week and talked about it (coaching) and he phoned me Sunday night and gave me his answer."

The Glens open training camp September 12 at the Glengarry Sports Palace and Giroux's main objective over the summer was to fill the coaching position.

"I was quite relieved when Roch phoned me and told me he'd take the job," he said.

For Giroux only half the battle is over. He is still looking for an individual to relieve him of his manager's duties.

Although he'll stay on as manager until a replacement can be found, he hasn't had too many inquiries from people interested in the position.

"My main objective was to find a coach and now we'll work on finding a manager," says Giroux.

Quesnel's arm gives ABS lead in series

Guy Quesnel pitched and hit his way to an opening game victory last Thursday night in the Alexandria Men's Fastball League final at Island Park.

Quesnel's arm and bat lifted Alexandria Builder's Supply to a 5-0 shutout win over pennant-winning Highland Motors. Game two in the best-of-seven series will be played Thursday night at Island Park.

Quesnel provided Alexandria Builder's Supply with all the runs the team needed when he belted a two-run homer in the top of the first inning.

Michel Menard also provided the winners with some offence at the plate, going three for three, scoring twice and cracking a solo homer.

The rest of the way it was Quesnel's pitching that dominated the contest. He allowed only four hits, fanned four and gave up no walks.

Alexandria Builder's Supply increased its lead with single runs in the second, sixth and seventh innings.

Third inning sparks Bonnie Glen

Bonnie Glen erupted for eight runs in the third inning last Wednesday night and went on to post a 17-8 win against GTL in an Alexandria Ladies' Softball League game at Island Park.

Heather Fournier paced Bonnie Glen's offence, crossing the plate four times. Barb Taillon scored three times, while Jill Monro, Nicole Villeneuve and Viviane Villeneuve scored twice each.

Five of GTL's eight runs were scored in the first inning. Joanne Wood and Rita Levac scored two runs each for GTL.

In the other contest, Caisse Populaire scored three times in the first inning and four times in the fourth inning in a 7-4 win over Roy's Garage.

Louise St. Pierre, Elaine MacDonald and Linda Menard each scored twice for Caisse Populaire.

Four different players accounted for the Roy's Garage scoring.

Lancaster club hosts Walleye tourney

SOUTH LANCASTER — The South Lancaster Fish and Game Club is staging the Budweiser National Walleye Championship, August 31 and September 1 on Lake St. Francis.

Anglers from Quebec, Ontario and some from as far away as Illinois, will be trying to win a lucrative purse of $5,000 in prize money.

One hundred and fifty teams, made up of two persons, are expected to be entered in the field. To date, 100 teams have registered for the event.

The scoring format sees each team limited to six fish per day at a weigh-in. Each fish released successfully following examination by a biologist, who determines if the fish will survive once it's thrown back into the river, will net bonus points for the team.

After fish are weighed, and should the fish be healthy, the team will be awarded an eight-ounce bonus on its official weigh-in.

Proceeds from the event will go to conservation projects in the area, such as wall-eye rehabilitation and marsh projects.

The 137-member South Lancaster Fish and Game Club has donated $28,000 to date towards the various projects.

An orientation night will be held Friday at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, before the anglers take to the waters Saturday and Sunday.

Award presentations will be held at the Lancaster Inn Sunday afternoon with former Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley handling the master of ceremonies duties.

Saturday night entertainment will be provided by the Lord of the Isles band, while the Cornwall Police Band entertains Sunday afternoon.

A fireworks display will be staged Saturday evening at the Lancaster Inn.

Local sailing school a success

Anyone looking out at the Alexandria Mill Lake earlier this month would have been treated to an unusual sight, a fleet of sailboats.

The sailboats were from the Ontario Sailing Association's (OSA) Mobile Sailing School, which was in town to teach area residents the basics of sailing.

The idea to bring sailing to the area came from Alison Wilson of Maxville. She was motivated by the love for sailing she picked up while living on Montreal's West Island.

"I wanted my children to have the same opportunities to sail as I did," said Mrs. Wilson Monday.

"I heard about the OSA's mobile sailing program and it seemed like a great way to bring sailing to the area," she said.

Along with the help of the Alexandria Recreation Department, Mrs. Wilson set out to raise the $1,700 fee the school charges for a week of instruction.

"The OSA called me every day to see if we were going to get enough students to raise the amount needed," she said. "I didn't think we could charge more than $50 per person.

Despite the fact the full amount of money couldn't be raised, they said they would come anyway," said Mrs. Wilson. "But we didn't know that until only a few days before lessons were to begin."

Mrs. Wilson said she didn't know what type of reaction the program would receive and is very pleased with the turnout.

She is also pleased with the school and its instructors.

"They let the students do a lot of sailing," she said. "The first day there was instruction on sailing and after that they let the students practice."

The school had five Petrel sailboats, which instructor Andrew Hicks said are ideal for training novice sailors. The boats carry up to three people.

Mr. Hicks has been teaching sailing for seven years, with this being his first at the mobile sailing school. The school goes into communities that otherwise would not have a great exposure to the sport.

"That's why most of our students take the beginners course, because they haven't had the opportunity to sail before," he said.

Mr. Hicks said he was impressed with the enthusiasm shown towards sailing, but he doesn't see much hope for a long term commitment to sailing in the area.

"The lake is good to learn on because it is small and teaches the sailors to manoeuvre a lot," he said. "But after a few times out on a lake this small it will quickly become boring."

At the completion of the course the students all received certificates as trained novice sailors.

Mrs. Wilson is hoping word of the program gets around and a similar sailing program can be taught next year.

Trio wins tourney

The team of Leo Lemieux, Rene Amelotte and Norm Laperle were the winners in Sunday's Inter-Club match play at the Glengarry Golf and Country Club.

The team finished at -15 among the 10 teams that participated in the event.

Four teams finished tied for second place at -14. Finishing second was the team of Paul Lemieux, Roma Amelotte and Germaine Lalonde, the team of Richard Bellefeuille, Leo Carroll and Robert Lemieux, the trio of Marc Bellefeuille, Dwayne Macdonell and Gerry Bellefeuille and the team of Emile Hurtubise, Dougal MacGillivray and Roger Lemieux.

Squirts leading championship

Alexandria Giroux Sport Squirts are one win away from capturing the Osnabruck Minor Softball League championship.

So far it hasn't been an easy campaign.

The local club rallied from a 3-1 deficit Thursday night at the Glengarry Sports Palace ball diamond en route to a 4-3 nail-biter win against Chesterville in the best-of-five series.

Trailing 3-1 entering the bottom of the sixth inning, Alexandria scored twice to tie the contest. Pascal Joanette led off with a single and a walk by Eric Lewis followed by a single by Luc Sabourin loaded the bases.

With two out, Daniel Dumont sent the runs home with a double.

The local club scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning. Stephane Seguin singled, went to second on a passed ball and then stole third base.

Seguin crossed the plate with the winning run when the Chesterville shortstop couldn't handle Pascal Joanette's grounder.

Normand Decoste went the distance to earn the victory. He allowed only four hits, fanned eight batters and allowed two earned runs.

Alexandria was to travel to Chesterville last night (Tuesday) for the fourth game.

Apple Hill grabs lead in final series

With two back to back 6-5 wins over Williamstown, Art Benton Mutual Life has taken a 2-0 lead in the best of seven North Stormont Ladies Fastball final.

Mutual earned a berth in the final by sweeping Finch in three straight games. Tuesday in Monkland, Williamsburg scored one run in the first as Sandy Vanmoorsel crossed the plate. Mutual scored four in the bottom half.

S. McIntosh led off with a triple, L. Lant and B. Murray executed two perfect bunt singles, loading the bases for N. Shaver who then pounded out a home run to deep right field. Williamsburg scored four in the third to take a 5-4 lead.

Mutual tied the game in the fifth as S. McIntosh scored after her second triple and Nancy Shaver's sacrifice. Mutual scored the winning run in the bottom of the eighth inning. Nancy Shaver, with a single, moved to third on J. Beckstead's double and touched home on Patty Quail's hit. Nancy Vandenbosch had the mound win over Rossie Vanmoorsel.

Thursday's game was nearly identical to Tuesday's.

T. Vanmoorsel scored the first run in the second. Mutual came right back in the bottom half, chalking up two when Vandenbosch touched home on A. Denneny's triple. Denneny also came home on S. Quail's sacrifice.

Mutual scored four more in the third to take a 6-1 lead. Williamsburg scored three in the fourth, closing the margin to 6-4. D. Patterson's triple and S. Vanmoorsel's single made it 6-5 in the seventh. Winning pitcher L. Lant, with eight strike-outs, set down T. Vanmoorsel on three pitches and got the next two batters to ground out, ending the game.

M. Fawcett was the losing pitcher.

Game four is scheduled for Williamsburg (tonight) Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m.

Roy's wins twilite title

Deguire Plumbing and Roy's Pontiac Buick won their respective divisions in the Men's Twilite League following play last Wednesday at the Glengarry Golf and Country Club.

Deguire Plumbing finished in top spot in the Glen Division with 52 points, while second place went to Atlantic Hotel with 471/2 points. Third place went to Alexandria Moulding with 44 points, while Campeau Lumber finished fourth with 351/2 points.

Diotte Auto Body finished in the ceilar with 17 points.

Roy's Pontiac Buick breezed to the Garry Division title with 561/2 points, while runner-up Hope's Auto Parts finished with 391/2 points.

In third place, with 371/2 points, was IGA, while fourth position went to the Bookies with 361/2 points.

Finishing in fifth position was Tapis Richard with 25 points.

In the individual standing, Bob Ramsbottom finished at -17.

Chez Paul eliminates Garage Prieur

GLEN ROBERTSON—After eliminating Jodoin 10-5 in the third and final game last Monday in the Glen Robertson Softball League, Garage Prieur has moved into the semi-finals against Chez Paul.

Still riding high from the win, Garage Prieur built up an eight-run lead after four innings, only to see Chez Paul storm back with seven runs in the fifth inning, erasing what seemed to be a comfortable lead.

Chez Paul kept the rally going in the sixth inning with five more runs, finally winning the opener 12-8 in a very entertaining match-up.

Last Sunday, helped by an Ian McKay three-run homer in the first inning, Chez Paul eliminated Garage Prieur with an easy 12-3 win.

Stephane Levac recorded his fourth straight win on the mound for Chez Paul, while Gerry Prieur was tagged with the loss.

Chez Paul moves into the final and will play the winner of the Teo-Larocque series. Larocque leads the series 1-0.

Triathlon entrants needed

Participants are needed to take part in the Alexandria Open Triathlon which will be held at Mill Lake on Sunday, September 22.

The event consists of a double-canoe segment, 15 miles of biking to Glen Robertson and back and a two-mile run.

"People can enter this as a fun challenge and the emphasis won't be on winning, but finishing the event," says organizer Maurice Sauve.

Mr. Sauve will be assisting Maurice Deguire and Lee Taillefer in organizing the event. Trophies, medals and prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Final registration for the triathlon is September 15 and further information can be obtained by phoning Maurice Deguire at 525-4319 or Maurice Sauve at 525-2940.

In Memoriam

LAPINE—In fond and loving memory of a dear son, brother and uncle, Richard, who passed away August 28, 1978.
When family ties are broken
And loved ones have to part
It leaves a wound that never heals
And also broken hearts.
A smile for all, a heart of gold
Never selfish, always kind,
These are the memories you left behind.
The day is remembered, and quietly kept,
No words are needed, we shall never forget.
—Deeply missed and lovingly remembered, Mom, Edna, Debbie. 35-1p

In Memoriam

SNIDER—In memory of our dear friend Howard, who passed away August 26, 1983.
We cannot bring the old days back
Nor live again the past.
But we have wonderful memories
That will forever last.
—Always remembered by Gordon Pidgeon, Mary Pidgeon and all the family. 35-1p

O'CONNELL—In loving memory of our dear granddaughter Brigitte who passed away August 31, 1977.
We loved her, Oh! no one can tell
How much we loved her, and how well.
God loved her too, and thought it best
To take her home with Him to rest.
—Lovingly remembered by Pa'pere and Ma'mere O'Connell.35-1p

SNIDER—In loving memory of Howard Snider who passed away August 26, 1983.
I loved you more dearly
Than words or deeds could show.
And what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
—Sadly missed and always will be remembered by Florence. 35-1p

LEDUC—In loving memory of Richard Junior who passed away April 27, 1978.
Fond are the ties that are broken,
Dear is the one that is gone,
In memory we shall keep him
As long as the years roll on.
As we loved him, so we miss him,
In our memory he is dear,
Loved, remembered, longed for always,
Bringing many a silent tear.
"In silence we remember."
—Sadly missed by Mom and Dad and sisters. 35-1p

MONTGOMERY—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother who passed away August 31, 1971.
Fourteen years have passed and gone
Since the one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.
—Ever remembered, Mabel Roger and family. 35-1p

O'CONNELL—In loving memory of a dear doughter, Brigitte, who passed away August 31, 1977.
In tears we saw you sinking
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay,
But, when we saw you sleeping,
So peacefully free from pain,
We could not wish you back with us,
To suffer that again.
—Sadly missed by mom, dad, Wayne and Maureen. 35-1p

Friends of the Martintown Mill organize to save structure

by Doug Carson

MARTINTOWN—Thirteen Martintown-area people have taken on the task of restoring the 139-year-old Martintown grist mill.

On Monday, August 12, the first meeting of the Friends of the Martintown Mill took place at the Raisin Region Conservation Authority (RRCA) offices in Martintown.

The group will try to save the mill, which has been in danger of collapse for the last few years. The building is owned by the RRCA and in the early 1980s the building underwent some stabilization work.

Garth Campbell of Martintown was elected chairman of the group for a one-year term. The committee set itself four goals dealing with the restoration of the mill.

The first two goals involve raising money from government and private sources. The third goal will be to determine what is to be done with the mill after restoration and the final step will be to decide how the restoration work is to be carried out.

One suggestion for the mill's future would be to use it to house the Glengarry Sports Hall of fame, which is being planned for a Maxville site.

A sub-committee was formed to investigate the possibility, and the Friends of the Martintown Mill passed a motion to send a letter to the Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame committee urging it to consider the mill as a site for the hall.

When contacted Tuesday, August 13, Hall of Fame Committee Chairman Angus H. McDonell said at the present time Maxville is the only location being considered for the Hall of Fame building.

"The founding of the Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame, in principle was to enshrine the founders and the builders of the Glengarry Highland Games, as well as the great athletes of this county," said Mr. McDonell.

"We had the understanding when we proceeded with selecting the site at the Kenyon Agricultural Society Fairgrounds," site of the Highland Games, he said.

Other sub-committees were established to look into obtaining additional land around the mill and to examine the possibility of making the group a charitable foundation, enabling it to accept tax deductable financial contributions.

Jay Currier, general manager of the RRCA, told the meeting funding was almost in place for the RRCA to authorize a study to determine repair costs for the mill. Half of the cost of the survey will come from the Ontario Heritage Foundation, with the remaining coming from the Township of Charlottenburgh and nine municipalities.

Mr. Currier said the engineer's report on the cost of repairing the mill may be completed by the end of October.

Mr. Campbell said he was pleased with the first meeting of the Friends of the Martintown Mill.

"We accomplished basically what we wanted to here tonight," he said. "I think we have a pretty solid base of support laid out."

The next meeting will take place September 16 at the RRCA offices at 7:30 p.m.

No milk quota reduction

The Ontario Milk Marketing Board (OMMB) gave dairy farmers some good news earlier this month.

The board announced there would be no reduction of the industrial milk quotas, thanks in part to a recently announced reduction in Canada's national market sharing quota of 1.6 per cent.

The board's director for this area, Grant Cameron, said some farmers had expected the quota to be cut August 1, the beginning of the new dairy year.

"Most people expected quite a reduction," Mr. Cameron said Monday. "There were rumors that domestic consumption of milk had been declining, but it recovered about March or April. The utilization of milk is now better than was projected."

The board also announced other changes to levy rates and structures.

The within-quota levy, applied to milk shipments made within a producer's market-sharing quota, has been divided into two separate components and rates, one for skim milk surplus and one for quota designated for export.

The first rate applies to shipments not exceeding 96 per cent of the producer's quota. The second rate will apply to shipments made between 96 and 100 per cent of quota. The new rates are $5.14 per hectolitre and $29.73 per hectolitre, respectively.

Mr. Cameron said the change in levy rates, from $5.75 to $5.13, was "really significant.

"As a dairy producer I look upon that as important," he said.

Mr. Cameron said the provincial dairy industry is healthy in general, but it has found itself in the unusual position of battling an image problem. Recent concern over cholesterol and the possible connection with milk consumption, has caused some people to drink less or cut milk out altogether.

"There is some concern over the decline in fluid milk consumption," Mr. Cameron said. "It's not a question of money, it's a question of health. We're spending a lot of money on advertising and we're trying everything we can think of to battle this."

Fluid milk consumption from January to the present has been lower, compared to the same time period last year, a situation Mr. Cameron said which can be found in other provinces as well.

Area visitors

Recent visitors with Kathleen Emberg were her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John J. McDonald of Portland, Maine. The McDonalds, through The Glengarry News, met many Glengarry relatives a few years ago.

Since that time, a visit to Glengarry during the Highland Games in Maxville has become an annual event.

This past week, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith III, from Florissant, Colorado, were visitors to Glengarry.

Mildred Smith and Kathleen Emberg met for the first time since making a chance discovery of their relationship, brought about by their mutual interest in genealogy.

Together they visited Mary Smith at Concession 4 of Kenyon, the birthplace of Mildred's great-grandmother, Barbara Smith. While visiting St. Andrew's cemetery in Williamstown, they also found the gravestone of their pioneer Loyalist ancestor, Peter Smith, along with several of his descendants.
