Taxes up about $20

An average Alexandria home assessed at about $3,000 will cost approximately $20 more this year in municipal taxes.

Although the town tax rate actually decreased by a fraction of a mill, school taxes shot up 8.07 mills for public schools, 6.76 mills for separate schools and .4 mills for secondary schools.

The town's budget stands at $166,443 for 1981 compared to $157,211 last year.

Reeve Bruno Lalonde wondered why school taxes were rising at a time when enrolments are dropping and schools being closed.

He suggested that school boards begin sending out their own tax bills.

Mayor J. P. Touchette agreed that having to collect taxes for the schools gives the impression that town taxes are increasing and "puts us in a bad light."

The 1981 mill rates, followed by the 1980 rates in brackets, are as follows:

Residential—General purposes 59.50 (59.61), county 16.24 (17.79), P.S. 58.26 (50.19), S.S. 53.27 (46.51), secondary school 46.33 (45.93).

Commercial—General purposes 70 (70.13), county 19.10 (20.93), P.S. 69.13 (59.05), S.S. 62.67 (54.72), secondary school 54.51 (54.03).

The total residential mill rate for a public school supporter in 1981 is 180.33 and for a separate school supporter 175.

The total commercial mill rate for a public school supporter is 212.74 and for a separate school supporter 206.28.

Chief not back, no word on OPP

Mayor J. P. Touchette confirmed yesterday that the Ontario Provincial Police Commission is non-committal on whether the province should take over policing of the town.

Mayor Touchette, who is also chairman of the town police commission, went to Toronto last week to confer with OPC officials.

While no decision was given, the mayor said he was very pleased with the reception the town delegation received.

"We didn't get a 'no' and I'm very optimistic," he said.

He said the Ontario Provincial Police force is suffering a manpower shortage and a takeover may not be possible immediately.

"I think when they can, they will, that we're high on their priority list," Mayor Touchette said.

"They have to hire more men for all of Ontario and I think that may be part of their overall program."

He said he has no idea when the OPC will make a ruling.

Meanwhile, as far as the local police commission is concerned, Police Chief Sylvio Cleroux is back under suspension following the crown's decision to appeal his acquittal on charges of falsifying employment records.

Mayor Touchette said he is awaiting confirmation from the OPC that this is the correct procedure for the town commission to take.

Agricrew program offering students

For a third year, the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food will be sponsoring the Agricrew program in this area and across the province.

The four-member crews are available to farmers and agricultural groups during the summer for a number of jobs, including; harvesting, cleaning, painting, doing general repairs, picking up stones and any other unfinished jobs around the farm.

Three crews, working out of Plantagenet, will be available to farmers in Glengarry, Stormont and Prescott-Russell between June 22 and August 14. Each crew consists of a foreman and three members, all of 15 years of age.

With a simple working agreement, Agricrew provides a farmer with the four workers for $90 per eight-hour workday up to five days. The ministry takes care of Unemployment Insurance and Workmen's Compensation and the crew provides its own lunch and transportation.

The ministry says to assure that a crew is available when needed, farmers should register as soon as possible.

For further information, contact Helene Keurentjes, Agricrew Coordinator, Office of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Plantagenet, telephone 673-5115.

Celebrating

This year's Saint Jean Baptiste celebration in Alexandria will take place on the weekend before the June 24 feast day.

Le Centre Culturel "Les Trois P'tits points" is now organizing activities for the Saint-Jean-Baptiste celebration. They will be collaborating with the Richelieu Club, the Scouts of Alexandria and the personnel of Sgt. Pepper's Pub.

Canoe races for all ages, a small parade starring Saint-Jean-Baptiste, clowns, decorated bikes, jugglers, musicians, folk dancers, an exhibition of paintings and sculptures are some of the activities planned.

Local merchants will also be participating by holding outdoor sales. French singers will be performing at the Sgt. Pepper's Pub.

On Saturday, June 20 the folk troop, "Les Tournesols," made up of dancers, singers and musicians will perform at the Glengarry Sports Palace at 8 p.m.

Those responsible for this celebration hope that the population of Alexandria will participate actively.

Anyone interested in participating in the canoe races, please call Maurice Sauve at 525-2940 or 525-1925.

Authority invites members

The Towns of Hawkesbury and Vankleek Hill and the Townships of East and West Hawkesbury are being invited to join the Raisin Region Conservation Authority.

Authority chairman Ken MacLennan confirmed this week that an information meeting is now being planned and officials from the municipalities will be invited to discuss the advantages of becoming members in the conservation organization.

Kenyon and Lochiel Townships will also be offered the opportunity of including a greater portion of their territories within the Authority's jurisdiction.

Although both of these townships are already represented on the Raisin Region Authority, some of their territory resides outside the Authority's boundaries.

"The major role the Authority plays is assisting municipalities in the management of water and other related resources," Mr. MacLennan explained.

Mr. MacLennan, who is also reeve of Lochiel Township, pointed out that the Raisin Region Conservation Authority has developed a great deal of knowledge in water management due to major projects it has initiated over the past few years.

He cited the Fly Creek Flood Control Project in Cornwall as one example where the Authority's efforts will result in flood control affecting a major portion of the city.

Channelization of the Main Branch of the Raisin River is an example of how the Authority can help with flooding in farm areas, he pointed out.

Another major project is the Garry River Water Management Project. The Authority plans to reconstruct three dams to ensure adequate water supply for the Town of Alexandria.

"We have acquired a large amount of experience in these fields and we are interested in sharing this experience with our neighboring municipalities if they are interested in making use of it," Mr. MacLennan said.

A major benefit to municipalities who join the Conservation Authority is access to substantial provincial funding, he explained.

"This year, for example, all our water management projects are subsidized 85 per cent by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

"When you get into projects like flood control or water quality improvement, it can get very expensive. Most municipalities just cannot afford to put such a burden on their taxpayers. This is where the Conservation Authority can be used as a vehicle to make these necessary projects affordable."

No date for the information meeting has been set yet, Mr. MacLennan said, but he emphasized that the gathering would have "no strings attached".

"We just intend to provide information and answer questions. It's totally up to the municipalities to decide if they want to join."

He said the Authority decided to approach its neighboring municipalities at this point because the conservation organization has

Tagwi calls for meeting

The Tagwi School Committee will be holding a public meeting next Monday night to discuss 101 Ministry of Education policy suggestions, which include the elimination of Grade 13 and increased preparation of students for the job market.

At the 8 p.m., June 1 meeting, the committee will discuss the recommendations of the Secondary Education Review Project (SERP) to the ministry and according to principal Doug Murray, welcome parents' reaction to the recommendations, whether they can attend the meeting or not.

Copies of the SERP proposals have been sent around to parents of students at Tagwi and those unable to attend the meeting but wishing to make comments on the proposals are invited to send their recommendations to Mr. Murray.

Recommendations from the Tagwi school committee will be forwarded to the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education.

Firm gets $60,000

Menard Construction of Green Valley is getting a $60,000 incentive loan from the provincial government.

The loan, made through the Eastern Ontario Development Corporation, is for the expansion of Menard's new quarrying operation on the Pine Hill side road southeast of Green Valley and to help the company start production of agricultural lime.

Ronald Menard says he hopes his company will be able to start lime production at the one-year-old quarry on the Pine Hill side road sometime in the fall.

However, Mr. Menard says high interest rates cast some doubts as to whether the project will ever get off the ground, and receipt of the government loan is dependant upon completion of the project for which the loan was slated.

Games for disabled

Youth wins athletic award

by Brian Filion

Glenn Whitford has been looking up to people for most of his life; he has been confined to a wheelchair since childhood, crippled with cerebral palsy.

However, last weekend Glenn was figuratively on top of the world, looking down; he won the award as the best cerebral palsy junior athlete in Eastern Ontario at the regional disabled games held in Belleville. It was the 15-year-old's first athletic trophy.

"Before he left class on Thursday we told him teasingly not to come back without a trophy," said John Milnes, Glenn's teacher at the Williamstown Public School, "and he wheeled in this morning (Wednesday) with his medal and plaque and a smile."

Glenn is the son of Maynard Whitford of Martintown and fifth in line of the six-member family. Their mother Jean passed away last year. It was Debbie, 17, Glenn's sister, who provided support and assistance to Glenn over the weekend in Belleville.

I was introduced to the champ on Wednesday and a modest shimmer of victory and pride still radiated.

Mr. Milnes allowed him to show his trophy to the other classes. The teacher and his classmates appear as happy over the performance as Glenn himself.

In copping the title, Glenn won two first-place ribbons and three second-place finishes in the five events he entered. The first place came in the 60-meter wheelchair race and the precision throw, the seconds were in the shot put, discus and club throw. The high standing meant qualification for the All-Ontario games which will be held in Burlington from July 9-12.

In order to prepare for the provincials, Glenn has been working out with the other athletes of the Cornwall Sports for the Disabled Club of which he is a member. The athletes practise three nights a week, a total of five hours a week, in addition to training on their own.

Glenn only developed a recent interest in athletics and the interest appears to have changed his attitude in school and life.

The success story has several supporting characters which include Glenn's father, classmates, teacher, brothers and sisters, and the club.

The Cornwall Sports for the Disabled Club is a volunteer organization which brings the disabled athletes together for basketball during the winter and track and field events in the spring and summer. The club is run by a dedicated individual named Doris Turner.

It was last Fall when Glenn entered Mr. Milnes class and was asked to participate in the physical education portion of the curriculum. His first physical task was to walk along a table. He fell flat on his face, recalls Mr. Milnes. But since that time he has progressed.

With the encouragement of his family, Glenn got involved in physiotherapy at the Cornwall General Hospital in order to retain his muscle tone and has reached the point where the use of a walking frame is being considered.

Beyond the general fitness, Glenn began to experiment with sporting skills when two classmates, Kevin Cholette of Williamstown and Robert Taillon of Lancaster, took up the challenge of coaching their buddy in basketball. Glenn's skill with the ball earned him a try-out with the Cornwall Wheelers, (the disabled basketball team), where he eventually secured a position as guard. The basketball season has now ended and he has taken on the track and field events with enthusiasm and success.

Success can be attributed to his strong upper body but Glenn has also had to work hard. At noon hours he practises to stay in shape by racing his chair around the school, reports Mr. Milnes.

"I will be in the teacher's room at lunch hours and all of a sudden I will see him whizz past the window", said Mr. Milnes. "He has become self motivated, and is always giving his best effort, and that is the reason for his success".

Mrs. Turner who accompanied the group to Cornwall said she has noticed a change in Glenn since his arrival with the club in February and noted that family encouragement has really helped.

Glenn's success and interest in athletics appears to have been translated into a better effort on the academic side of the coin.

"I think the interest in athletics has helped Glenn academically. He is now reaching for higher success, like hard work attained success for him in athletics," said Mr. Milnes.

A peak through Glenn's work binder is evidence of the youth's progress during the school year.

"He really likes school here", assures his sister Debbie.

Next year Glenn will be attending Glengarry District High School on a part-time basis.

Glenn has come from the wheelchair student to the pride of his school. There were a lot of helpers along the way, but as his teacher puts it, the success was the result of Glenn's own attitude.

Auxiliary planning festival

The Auxiliary of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital will mark its 15th anniversary at the annual "Courtyard Festival" which will be held on Saturday, June 6 from 2-4 p.m.

The festival will be held in the hospital's courtyard and will feature a bake sale, handicrafts, and this'n' that table, garden centre, dried floral arrangements, palm reading and buffet luncheon.

In addition to the door prizes, there will be a raffle. Prizes in the raffle will include the following: a handmade afghan, a weekend for two at Hotel L'Esterol (Laurentians), courtesy of Alexandria Travel, dinner for two at Priest's Mill, a $50 grocery voucher from IGA and a clock from Desrosiers and Hope Jewellers.

Admission to the festiv.. is $1.50 and all proceeds go toward the purchase of equipment for the hospital.

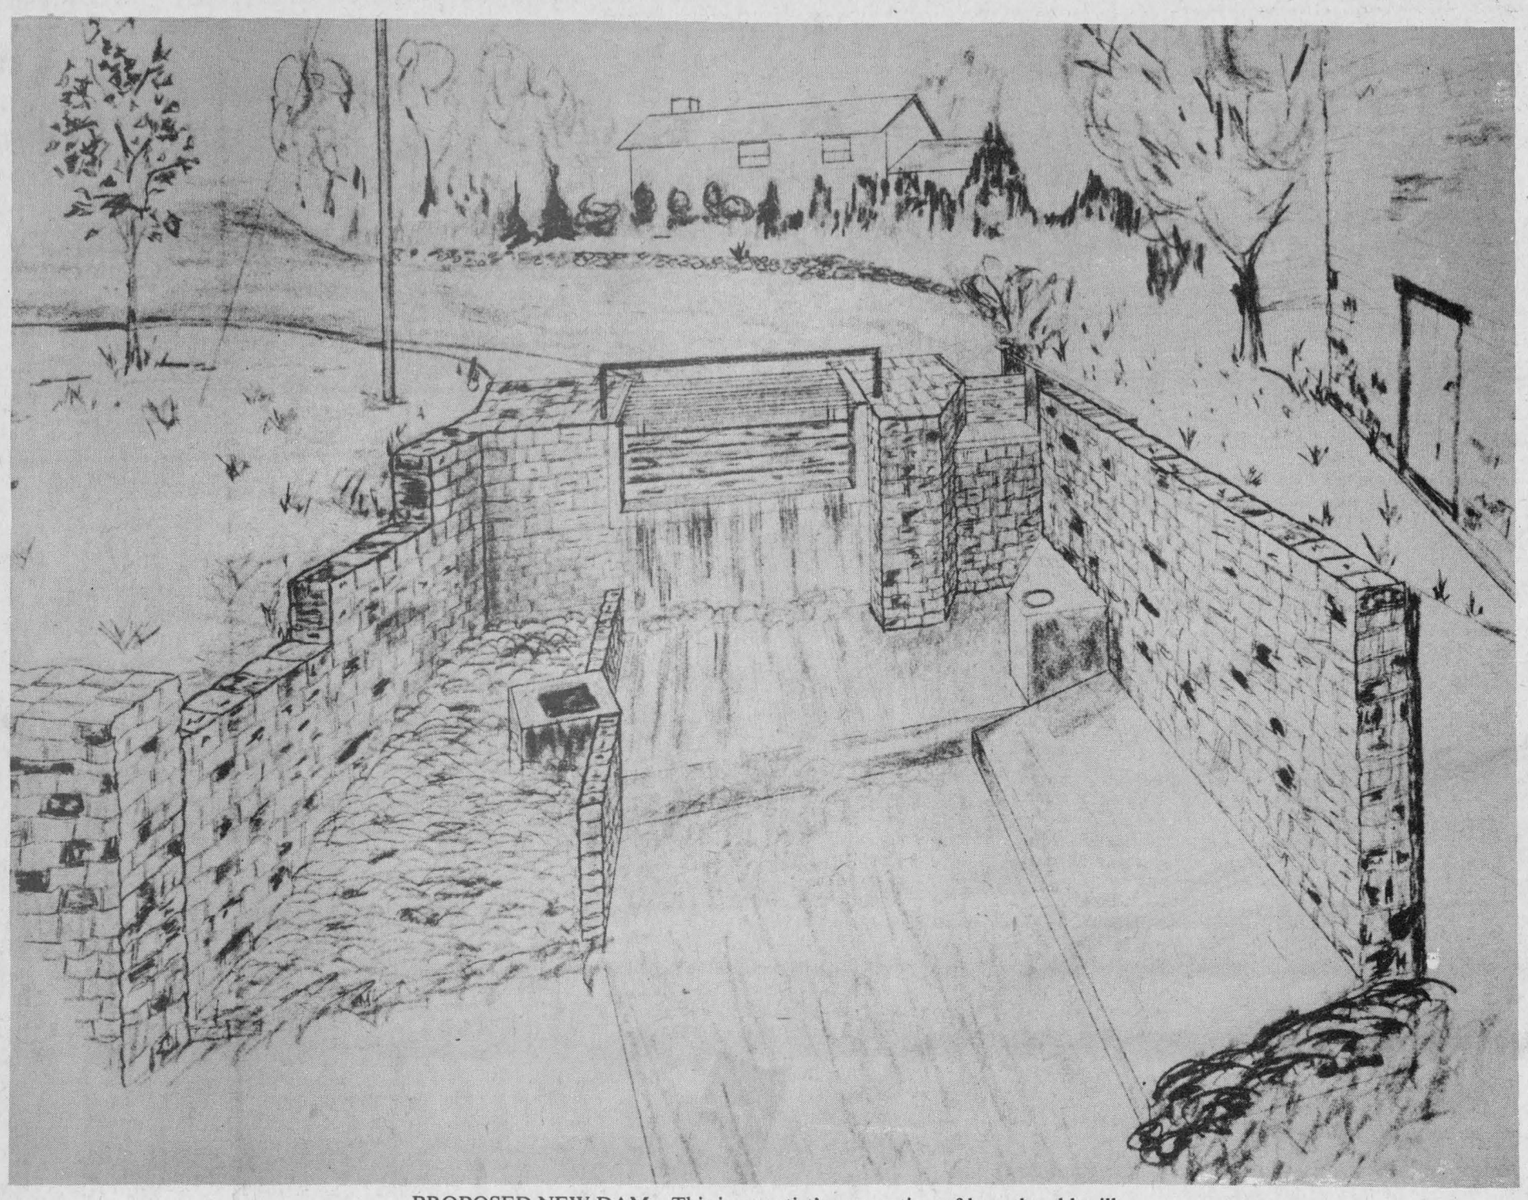
OPP to fine illegal parkers

People parking in the new No Parking zones at the intersections of Main Street and various side streets in the village of Lancaster may soon find themselves faced with $28 fines and the loss of two demerit points.

To date, officers from the Lancaster detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police have been issuing warnings to persons parking in the zones, but henceforth, according to Lancaster OPP, people parking in the zones are liable to be charged.

The zones were created in late April when the Ministry of Transportation and Communications installed No Parking signs at the various intersections. The signs were installed so that now motorists approaching Main from the various side streets would have a better view of any oncoming traffic on Main.

Lancaster OPP are asking for co-operation by all citizens in this matter.



PROPOSED NEW DAM—This is an artist's conception of how the old mill dam will look following reconstruction by the Raisin Region Conservation Authority. Work is expected to begin in July or August and finish in the Fall.

Alexandria man, 20 dies in car crash

A young Alexandria man died last week after the car in which he was a passenger ran off the Curry Hill Road north of Highway 401.

Ontario Provincial Police at Lancaster report that Alexander Tyo, 20, of Lochiel Street in Alexandria was pronounced dead on arrival at Hotel Dieu Hospital after an 11:20 p.m. accident on County Road 20, in Lancaster Township, about three kilometres north of Highway 401.

Dale Jarvo, 20, of Martintown, who was driving the car at the time of the accident, was also taken to Hotel Dieu, suffering from major injuries.

Train hits cycle

A young Williamstown motorcyclist survived a collision with a freight train just west of that village last week.

Marvin Munro, 18, who had after the accident been placed in the intensive care unit at Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall, has been taken out of the unit and is expected to be released from the hospital on Thursday.

Mr. Munro and the train collided at the crossing just west of Williamstown while on his way home from his job at the Kraft Ltd. cheese factory south of the town, at about 4:30 p.m. last Wednesday.

The three-week-old 1981 Yamaha that the young man was driving received about $2,800 damage in the crash. The train received about $300 damage.

just started preparing a watershed plan which will develop long-range, over-all strategies for water management in the entire area under the Authority's jurisdiction.

"This is the best time for new members to join because they can get in on the ground floor and take advantage of this study," Mr. MacLennan said.

Although the Conservation Authority is heavily subsidized by the province, control stays at the local level, he pointed out.

Of the current 14-member board of directors, 11 are appointed by the member municipalities. The other three are appointed by the province.

The Authority, which was formed in 1963, covers 579 square miles and has membership from the City of Cornwall, Town of Alexandria, Village of Lancaster and the Townships of Lochiel, Kenyon, Lancaster, Charlottenburgh, Cornwall, Osnabruck and Roxborough.

Nudity rapped

The resolution to ban nudity in public places in the province of Ontario submitted by the Alexandria Council 1919 of the Knights of Columbus, was unanimously accepted by the delegates at the 78th K of C convention held recently in Toronto.

Attending the convention, which was held at the Royal York in Toronto on May 9 and 10 were Mike Gibbs, District Deputy of District 62; Duncan Morris, Grand Knight; and Herve Wathier, both of Council 1919; Gilbert Renaud and Gerald Vachon, both of Council 7229 Cornwall and Mike Redmond GK and Richard De Blosky both of Council 5068, Glen Walter.

News from Maxville

by Velma Franklin

Ronald Villeneuve of Dalhousie spent the weekend at home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Osie F. Villeneuve.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Rod F. McRae were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lafleur and their daughter Mrs. T. A. Hurry, of Ottawa.

WEEKEND CHURCH SERVICES

The service this Sunday at St. Michael's Anglican Church will be Holy Eucharist at 10 a.m. Rev. E. N. McColl will be conducting the 3 p.m. service at the Maxville Manor and the induction of Fr. Bryan Beveridge will be held at St. Peter's, Ingleside on Sunday afternoon.

ATTENDS TRAPPERS RENDEZVOUS

Angus MacRae recently spent three days in the States, attending the 44th annual rendezvous of the Pennsylvania Trappers' Association, held in Lebanon, Pa. The weekend was highlighted by special shows, booths, and demonstrations, many of which were extremely interesting. There was a talk on "The Ecology of the Black Bear," and black powder and muzzle loader shooting demonstration, the award for the Trapper of the Year, an interdenominational church service by the Rev. Roy Johnson, the trapper preacher of Philadelphia, NY and a fashion show of fur coats and garments.

HONORED GUESTS

Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Gamble were special guests last Saturday at a social gathering sponsored by the Vankleek Hill Curling Club. They were introduced to the members by Murray Allen and given a souvenir of the club.

FIREMEN'S POSTER CONTEST CREATES GREAT INTEREST

There was a great response to the Maxville Volunteer Firemen's poster contest—220 entries came in from the three village schools. Local businessmen generously provided enough prize money for 21 winners and the Lions' successful breakfast was decorated with all the entries. Grades 7 and 8 were open class in both schools—Senior and Separate, and the winners here were Gisele Cappuccino, Kent Campbell, and Robert MacCaskill. For Grades 4, 5 and 6 in the Separate School it was Lyne Villeneuve, Shawn Robinson, Yvon Leroux, and Peter Vanderwielen. In the Public School grades 4, 5 and 6 winners were Terry Findlay, Veronica Jones, Troy Campbell, and Roland Spuehler. Same school, grades 1, 2 and 3—David Rolland, Vanessa Camille Rae, Ursula Sweitzer, Bobby MacLeod and Lembit. In St. Bernard's, Grades 1, 2 and 3 Denise Charbonneau, Danielle Villeneuve, Christopher Leroux, Angela Lacroix and Carolina Villeneuve, all earned prizes. The Firemen were going to visit these schools on Wednesday and present all the prize money.

CALLING ALL WOMEN

The UCW of the Maxville United Church are having a special guest at its next meeting which will be in the church hall on Tuesday, June 2 at 8 p.m. Miss Elizabeth MacLennan, a Cornwall lawyer, will be speaking on legal topics of interest to women, and everyone in the community is welcome to this meeting.

APPLE HILL CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE WILL MEET

The Apple Hill Centennial Committee is holding its next meeting on Wednesday, June 3 at 8 p.m. in St. Anthony's Parish Hall, and the members are hoping for an especially good turnout in view of the planning that has to be done.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY ENJOYS TULIP DISPLAYS

Last week the Maxville Horticultural Society arranged the planting of two flowering crab apple trees at the south side of the Manor—one in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the Ontario Horticultural Association and the other for the Year of the Disabled. On Friday the residents were taken on a bus tour of Ottawa and Hull. They all enjoyed lunch at the Corkscrew restaurant and had the services of Mr. Spense as tour guide for the sights and the beautiful tulip displays.

FINAL EUCHRE COMING UP

For the card players in the village—St. Bernard's Separate School will be holding its final euchre of the season at the school on Monday, June 1 at 8 p.m. The Young at Hearts had theirs last week with the winning ladies being Jean Chisholm, Mrs. Joe Paquette, and Mrs. Gertrude Lapierre. For the men it was Lawrence MacKinnon, Oliver Hamelin and Rod Chisholm. At the next meeting, on Tuesday, June 2, bingo will be played. All are welcome.

RESERVE JUNE 6 FOR BIG ANNUAL LIONS' CLUB DANCE

The Maxville and District Lions Club is getting ready for its big annual dance of the year—on Saturday, June 6 at the Sports Complex. This is "Opus Two" and they offer the top hits of the day, standards of the past, great vocalists, a tight brass line, three female trumpeters, and a solid rhythm section—certainly music to everybody's taste, and this should be a great evening.

ANY IDEAS FOR FUND-RAISING?

The Maxville and District Community Association is looking for new members and some new ideas about fund-raising. Their next meeting is on Wednesday, June 3 at the Sports Complex and they will be planning for summer activities—this is a good way to get actively involved with your community.

PROUD LOSERS

Eight "Proud Glengarrians" from the Maxville Branch 598 of Canadian Calorie Counters recently attended the annual convention held in Cobourg, for District Five, which has a total membership of 1,400. Their group included four brilliant stars and two new stars. Of the 1,400 members, almost three hundred made it to the convention, and they were all very proud of the fact that the total weight loss for this district was a bit over 4,000 pounds, which certainly means a good number of healthier people. Best record was 84 and a half pounds, lost by a young mother over a period of 14 months.

FOR SALE

Two old landmarks are presently for sale in the village—the former Wilfred Doth butcher shop on Main Street and for the first time in a generation the old MacMillan store a short distance north of the CN crossing on Main Street.

A GALA EVENT

The Sandringham Social Club hosted a very lively and enjoyable birthday party at the Maxville Manor last week for the 13 residents celebrating in the month of May. Administrator Craig Munroe was their MC. The program began with a pipers' trio—Jane and David MacPherson of Kirk Hill, and Ken MacKinnon of Cornwall, followed by the second piping trio when the two MacPherson children were joined by their mother Ruth Anne. Anna Marie Vallee danced Flora MacDonald's Fancy, and Darla and Deanna Wright and Wendy Fusee did a tap dance. Mrs. Ruth Anne MacPherson played the accordion, accompanied by John McDermid at the piano. Carrie Fusee, Jennifer Robertson and Anna Marie Vallee tap danced, then the orchestra came on—Ken MacKinnon, Ralph McIntosh, Cecil McDiarmid, John McDermid, Ruth Anne MacPherson and Craig Munroe. There was great step dancing by Violet and Cecil McDiarmid. Carolee MacIntosh sang a solo for her aunt Marjory Wall, and the orchestra played a special piece for their old neighbor D'Assise Bray who would be 88 the next day. Lorna MacGregor and Vivian Valle distributed gifts.

Women hear of work in India

The May meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Martintown, was held at the home of Mrs. Ian Kennedy. Miss Emily MacInnes presided and offered a prayer for world peace and a cessation of terrorism.

A visitor, Mrs. Richard Morrison, the former Winnie McPhadden, of Missoula, Montana was welcomed.

After a hymn, Mrs. Ray Markell read the scripture lesson. Following the missionary theme, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Alpin MacGregor reviewed the work of Miss Elinor Knott and Miss Mary Nichol in India. Mrs. Robert McKillop led in the prayer of St. Francis of Assisi. A tape recording of an interview with Miss Pauline Brown of India was enjoyed.

Members reported 28 visits and 30 cards to sick and shut-ins. The minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report given. The offering was dedicated by Mrs. Aina Hald. Plans were made for the Presbyterial to be held in Vankleek Hill. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

A social hour followed.

Drooping flag noted

Picnic Grove Women's Institute met recently at the home of Carol Edwards with 17 members answering the roll call "For any itme bought for a value of over $100, how much comparison shopping did you do?"

From personal experiences, three main guidelines to shopping were set down. It's well worth while to do comparison shopping especially for large items; check grocery tapes carefully because check-outs do make mistakes; and take advantage of sales but check goods carefully before buying.

Interesting reports were heard from delegates to Waterloo convention and to District Annual at Maxville.

Members decided to write to Charlottenburgh Township clerk requesting that the township fly the flag properly not as if it was at half-mast permanently.

Next meeting will be held at Mary Alguire's on June 9.

Early soccer play features upsets

Early soccer action in the Glengarry Senior League was marked by some surprising results as both of last year's top two clubs, Greenfield and the Stars, dropped their opening encounters. Stars were shutout by Pine Grove, 2-0, on Thursday evening and Greenfield lost by an identical score to Dunvegan on Friday evening.

Meanwhile Glen Sandfield and Glen Nevis recorded back-to-back wins and lead the league with four points each. Pine Grove is the third undefeated club having won its only game to date. Lochiel dropped its first two games while Alexandria and Dunvegan split in the first week of play.

MONDAY, MAY 25
GLEN NEVIS 4, LOCHIEL 1

Ian Sandilands gave Glen Nevis a 1-0 lead with a goal in the first half and then his club went on to outscore Lochiel 3-1 in the second half.

Darrell Hay notched Lochiel's only marker on a penalty shot to give a 3-1 score. David Hansen, Randy McDonell and Reg Lake notched the other Glen Nevis goals.

SATURDAY, MAY 23
GLEN SANDFIELD 3, ALEXANDRIA 0

Glen Sandfield chalked up its second victory against no defeats in early season play by shooting down the fledgling Alexandria Drillers, 3-0.

Gordie MacPherson scored one goal in the opening half and then newcomers to the league, Gary Myers and Roger Jeaurond, added singles in the second half to clinch the win. Irwin MacLennan earned the shutout.

FRIDAY, MAY 22
DUNVEGAN 2, GREENFIELD 0

Dunvegan took advantage of a short staffed Greenfield club to record its first victory of the season. Greenfield played the game two men short.

Donald Dashney booted in the first marker of the game and Gordie Cross added a second half marker for the winners. Danny O'Flaherty recorded the shutout.

THURSDAY, MAY 21
PINE GROVE 2, STARS 0

Pine Grove won its season opener by downing last year's champs, the Glengarry Stars, 2-0.

Stephen MacMaster converted a break-away opportunity to give Pine Grove a 1-0 half-time lead and Roy MacMaster added to the lead, scoring on a penalty shot in the second half.

John MacSweyn earned the shutout for Pine Grove.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20
ALEXANDRIA 6, LOCHIEL 2

Alexandria Drillers struck for four second half goals to down Lochiel in convincing fashion.

Robert MacDonald and Hughie Grant, former Lochiel players, put the Drillers up 2-0 before Glen Hay responded for the Loks, giving a 2-1 half-time score.

Alexandria built up a 5-1 lead on two goals by Bert Massia and one by Ken Barton before Glen Hay beat goaltender Jerome Poirier for his second of the evening. Kevin Massia rounded out the scoring with only minutes remaining when he drilled a ball past Lochiel netminder Scott Hay.

TUESDAY, MAY 19
GLEN NEVIS 2, DUNVEGAN 1

Glen Nevis opened their 1981 schedule on the right foot with a 2-1 victory over the Pioneers. Joey McRae scored the winner with five minutes remaining in the contest.

Glen Nevis scored the only goal of the first half when Ewen McLeod booted in a ball. Glen Campbell tied the match early in the second half.

IN THE THICK OF THINGS—Roger Leger (left) and Jean Larocque (right) pose with race driver Bobby Unser on Saturday prior to the Indy "500" car race in Indianapolis. The two individuals and the photographer managed to make their way into the garage area and met the celebrity.

Indy visitors meet Unser

Three local race enthusiasts had an experience over the weekend which will be the envy of car mechanics and drivers in the area.

Jean Larocque and Roger Leger of Alexandria and Gilles Robert of Hawkesbury found a way into the garage area of the Indianapolis Race Track and met premier driver and disputed 1981 Indy "500" winner, Bobby Unser.

The threesome headed through a gateway on Saturday, the day prior to the race, and simply asked Unser for his photo.

He obliged, reports Mr. Larocque, describing him as a "nice guy."

"We had more trouble getting out of the area than getting in," recalls Mr. Larocque who said the men were stopped on their way out and asked how they got in initially.

The area is not open to the general public.

The next day Bobby Unser rode to his third Indy "500" title from the No. 1 pole position and every reporter from a major paper in the U.S. was focusing on the 47-year-old champion.

The photo of the two locals with Mr. Unser will surely be a conversation piece for some time to come. The controversy following the race will make it that much more valuable.

Immediately after the race a protest was filed by the second-place finisher, Mario Andretti, and on Monday the title was awarded to Andretti. Unser has appealed the decision.

It was the first occasion that any of the men had attended the major sporting event. They left Thursday evening on their 15-hour, 850-mile trek and returned Monday.

"The masses of people and carnival type atmosphere surrounding the race was something to see," said Mr. Larocque.

There were an estimated 350,000 people attending the race.

The men were situated where they could watch the first one-mile stretch of the two-and-a-half mile track. They did not see the Danny Ongais crash but did see some of the action when a methanol fire broke out in Rick Mear's pit during a fuel stop.

Minor soccer back

After several years absence, the Char-Lan Minor Soccer Association has reorganized and is in the midst of preparations for the upcoming season.

A new executive was recently formed and 75 boys and girls have registered to play this summer.

Presiding over the new executive will be Cy Page, assisted by David Leeds, vice-president; John R. MacDonald, secretary treasurer; Jamie MacCulloch, coach co-ordinator; Don MacDonald, referees co-ordinator; Don Kannon, ways and means; and Don Laplante, convener.

The executive has announced that there will be two age divisions, Tykes and Mosquitos. The Tyke division will consist of boys and girls up to 10 years of age and the Mosquitos will be girls and boys over the age of 10 years.

The three Tyke teams will be called the Wolves, Spurs and Drillers, coached by Don Laplante, John R. MacDonald and Brian Golding, respectively.

The four Mosquito teams will be known as the Rangers, Blizzards, Wanderers and Boomers, coached by Jamie MacCulloch, David Leeds, Don Kannon and Cy Page, respectively.

The coaches will be contacting their players in the near future, reports Mr. MacDonald, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

The opening games will be held at the St. Raphael's soccer field for the Tyke division and the Lancaster Village field for the Mosquitos division. Games will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 6:30 to 7:30 or 7:30 to 8:30.

Boys and girls interested in playing are asked to register at the Char-Lan arena prior to June 16, 1981. Further information can be obtained from Cy Page (931-1289) or John R. MacDonald (347-2329).

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Char-Lan arena on Monday, June 8 at 7:30 p.m. The coaches, referees, parents and interested persons are invited to attend this meeting.

CMA event attracts provincial field

The Canadian Motorcycle Association (CMA) motocross race at Gartree Park near Long Sault on Sunday attracted 60 riders from throughout the province. Even with the tough field of competitors on hand, five Cornwall riders managed to place in the competition while Glengarry riders were shutout.
riders were shut out.
riders swept the top four positions. Tom Irwin rode to a first-place finish and was followed across the line by Carl Kingston, John Villeneuve and Jimmy Huvgen. Tom Irwin also collected a second in the 250 cc Senior event and Bob Cameron collected a second in the School Boy competition.

There were a total of seven races throughout the day.

The next meet at Gartree Park will be an Eastern Ontario Motocross (EOM) competition on Sunday, June 7. The last EOM competition at Gartree attracted over 100 competitors. The next CMA race will be on Sunday, June 21.

Avonmore race results

The Roxborough Harness Horseman's Association held its first races of the season on Sunday, May 10 at the Avonmore Fair Grounds. It was the start of a series which will run through until October, each Sunday at 1:30 p.m., weather permitting.

The races are designed for hobby race men (farmer class), as well as the more serious racers who wish to use the competition for conditioning of experienced horses, colts or horses that are over age for the major tracks.

"We are quite proud of the track and its facilities and invite the general public to come out and cheer on their favorite," said Lyle Blue, president of the association.

There is no admission charge to the grounds.

Following are the race results from Sunday, May 24.

In the first race Scottish Victor with Basil Alguire driving took a second and third place while Boehm's Duke with R. Savoy aboard managed one first and a third. Roger Rick driven by Russ Hannah got one first and one second.

Charlot's Jet with Steve Ingram on board took two second-place positions in the second race while Thunder Oka with David Colisimo came in second and fourth.

Scottish Flossy with Rex Alguire took two firsts and Elmaview Debbie with Ray Seguin riding held down a fourth and a third place.

In the third race Smog Girl driven by basil Alguire ran only one heat and took a second. Fiery Footstep driven by a first time jockey came in first and third.

Baggy Maggy and Dan McCourt, both the eldest of the contestants had a fourth and a third place.

Thunder Debby driven by David Colosimo had a first and second showing.

Best race time was two minutes and 10 seconds.

Thunder Oka, Baggy Maggy, and Scottish Victory were the chance draw prize winners.

Vanderwielen runs to EOSSA records

A 16-year-old Tagwi High School student broke three records while capturing three first-place ribbons at the Eastern Ontario High School meet held at Queen's University in Kingston on Thursday.

Linda Vanderwielen of RR1 Maxville stroked a section from the record books and replaced it with her name by winning all three junior girls track events which she was entered in. She recorded her personal best times in the 400, 800 and 1500-metre to win the events.

Linda ran the 400-metre event in 57.56 seconds, shaving 1.15 seconds off the previous mark, the 800 metres in two minutes and 15.74 seconds, six seconds off the old mark, and the 1500 metres in four minutes and 42.94 seconds, peeling an astounding nine seconds off the old mark. Remarkably, two other area girls also managed to break the 1500-metre record and place second and third behind Vanderwielen. Christine Whiteside of Vankleek Hill High School placed second and Cecilia Cornelissen of Char-Lan placed third with a time of four minutes and 51.74 seconds eight seconds under the previous record. Cecilia also collected a second-place ribbon in the 3000-metre event, running in 11 minutes and 8.15 seconds.

Kennedy MacDonald's individual performance led the Glengarry District High School Gaels contingent with two firsts in two field events. Kennedy earned red ribbons in the discus and shot put in the junior boys category.

From the three area schools, Tagwi, Char-Lan and Glengarry, a total of 12 athletes qualified to participate in the Regional Track and Field Meet which will also be held in Kingston on Friday. In order to qualify the competitors had to place in the top four of an event.

There were a total of 31 schools at the meet with seven schools absent as a result of the Leeds-Grenville teachers' strike.

Glengarry District High School Gaels placed eighth amongst the schools with a total of 71 points, 40 more points than the team managed to compile last year. Accompanying MacDonald to the regionals will be Irvine Simpson who won seconds in the junior boys steeplechase and 3000-metre races, Elaine MacDonald, second in the senior girls discus; Donna Clark, fourth in the junior girls 100 and 200-metre races; Madeleine Huot, third in the 3000-metre senior girls race and Michel Campeau, third in the junior boys discus.

A total of four students will be attending the regional meet from Tagwi. Other than Vanderwielen there were three senior boys who qualified. Paul Hurtubise placed second in the 3000-metre race, Claude Jodoin came fourth in the pole vault and Norm Ouellette fourth in the 400-metre race. Hurtubise also collected a fifth in the 1500-metre event.

Two Char-Lan athletes, Cecilia Cornelissen and Jim Bentley, qualified for the upcoming regional meet. Jim Bentley placed third in the 1500-metre junior boys event with a time of four minutes and 21.18 seconds to qualify. Jim also collected sixth in the 800-metre event.

Other Char-Lan athletes who just fell short of qualifying were Linda Collette, fifth in the midget girls 800-metre race, George Lang, fifth in the midget boys 400-metre race, Andre Pilon, fifth in the midget boys shot put and Bruce McRae, sixth in the senior boys 800-metre race.

The top placings in the regional meet qualify for the All-Ontario meet which will be held in Thunder Bay on Saturday, June 6.

Canoe race scheduled

The Second Annual Alexandria Canoe Race on Alexandria Lake will be held on Saturday, June 20.

In order to prepare for the races a number of local canoeists have registered for the Colonel By Triathlon on Sunday. The event includes three miles of canoeing, seven miles of cycling and three miles of running.

Maurice Sauve, organizer of the event, said he expects a tough field of competitors for this year's races.

A number of places have been reserved for Glengarry teams and teams interested should contact Mr. Sauve. Four Glengarry teams competed last spring.

Club hosts tourney

Alexandria Tennis Club will kick-off its 1981 season with a mini doubles tournament on Tuesday evening at 6:30 p.m. at the Island Park courts.

"The tournament will begin at 6:30 p.m. and is open to everyone," reports tournament organizer Maurice Sauve.

The club plans two, or possibly three, major tournaments throughout the season and is looking for help in administering the competitions, he added.

Top ball clubs tie

Two of the top clubs in the Alexandria Men's Fastball League met on Sunday night and came away with the game tied. Alexandria Building Supplies and Menard Farm Supplies deadlocked, 6-6.

Bruno Lauzon and Michel Menard led ABS with two hits apiece while Jacques Trottier paced Menard's with three hits.

In the second game of the evening Giroux Sport whitewashed Leduc Auto Glass, 22-0. Jean Luc Desautels notched the win, his second of the season against one loss, while Martin Crevier took the loss.

Daniel Lauzon, J.L. Desautels and Andre Chenier led Giroux's with a grand slam.

THURSDAY, MAY 21

Gaetan's Chippers blasted Apple Hill 14-0 in the opener behind the shutout pitching of Bob Latreille. Dale Bissonnette (0-2) suffered the loss.

Victor Denobriga and Bob Latreille led the hitting parade with two hits apiece.

In the second contest Giroux Sport crushed Glengarry Motor Sales, 15-3. Jean Luc Desautels recorded his first win of the season and Armand Duperron his first loss.

MONDAY, MAY 18

ABS doubled Glengarry Motor Sales, 4-2, with Richard Cholette hurling the win and Mario Chevrier the loss.

Richard Lefebvre led the ABS hitting attack with two hits.

Menard Building Supplies bombed Leduc Auto Glass, 26-3 in the nightcap. Donald Henri pitched the victory and Richard Lalonde the loss. Bob Leroux led Menard's hitting attack with three while teammates Leo Seguin and Mike Owens stroked two apiece.

Lassies edge Shoe in hitter's battle

In Alexandria Ladies' Softball action on Wednesday evening the Laggan Lassies squeaked out a victory, 28-27, in a real offensive struggle over Brown Shoe.

Laggan's Phoebe Hay and Linda Kennedy led their clubs with four runs apiece.

Alice Calvank was the winning pitcher and Suzanne Lacombe suffered her first loss of the season.

In the first game of the evening King Edward Hotel and Sultan Drugs deadlocked, 9-9.

King Edward was led by two-run performances from Colleen MacDonald and Heather Fournier. Jackie Theoret crossed home plate twice for Sultan's.

On Tuesday evening Roy's Garage held on to win a nail biter, 9-8, over Jette's Hillbillies.

Carole Deguire won her first game of the season and Melba Murray dropped her first decision. The top scorers were Lynn Gallant, Rena Seguin and Carole Deguire from the Roy's team.

In the opening game Caisse Populaire won 13-10 over Glengarry Glass behind the pitching and hitting performance of Janet Vallance.

Vallance scored three runs and pitched the victory. Teammates Suzanne Decoste, Louise Laferriere and Debbie Oetelaar each scored two runs for the winners.

SAY IT WITH FOOD

It's nice to be remembered by someone at birthdays, graduations... or for no special reason at all.

A practical gift for your loved one would be a gift certificate from IGA. What a lovely surprise it is to receive a heartfelt message suggesting a treat to something that isn't ordinarily in the family food budget; perhaps a special cut of meat, seafood or favourite exotic fruit or vegetable.

IGA gift certificates can be obtained in any denomination from your local IGA. Gift certificates are redeemable at all IGA stores throughout Canada, so remember those who live out of town.

At this time, all of us at IGA wish to congratulate graduating students across Canada.

Mrs. Green is available to talk shopping to consumer groups.

FOCUS

by Anne McRae

"Those that can, do"

David Lewis, Canada's former NDP chieftan, died last week at the age of 71 after fighting a long, secret battle with leukemia. Mr. Lewis' politics were obviously not to everyone's taste, but all must admit, I think, that Mr. Lewis was a man of conscience, of compassion and of courage. He was a 'doer', And as he said about his party "...we are good for the world because we are moderates, because we have in us an anger about the inequalities and injustices of our society, because we refuse to accept the notion that the poor will always be with us, because we honestly believe that we are our brothers' keepers." David Lewis gave us as his gift his undying belief in a better Canada.

All this may sound like lofty sentiments to those of us who inhabit this valley of shadows known as the Canadian economy but let us take a closer look at the fighting spirit we humans are supposed to possess. (We shall exclude Parliament as the latest accomplishment of that august body was a debate on the word "silly".)

I suggest that we take a look at our own area. Is it healthy? Can we see signs of adaptation and innovation? One would, I think, have to say that the merchants and proprietors of our locality are indeed adapting and changing their community to suit the needs of area residents.

When I see the number of new stores and the renovations and the additions to older establishments, I have to say that despite the doom and gloom abroad in our land, this area is showing a remarkable tendency to be tough, to gamble and to work—hard. I am not suggesting that the picture is completely rosy; what I am suggesting is that when times get tough, some people get tougher. Bravo!

There is a tendency for human beings to act like aggrieved turtles when things get rough. Heads are pulled in and shells become hide-aways. That is perhaps one path to security, until someone cracks open that shell. Admittedly, things are rough in Canada right now. The litany of high interest rates, inflation, unemployment and poverty goes on.

However, by taking a chance and by working hard, it seems that much can be accomplished. Look at your area. Look at the variety of shops, stores, entertainment, restaurants, societies, clubs and teams. So, it's not paradise, but it's certainly showing signs of life. We have innovators in our area in all fields. In their own way these people are fighters.

Those who can, do. Those who think they can't, do nothing. David Lewis replied when asked once if he was frustrated that the NDP had failed to win office in Ottawa, that the party, through its pressure on governments, had accomplished so much for the elderly, for the sick and for families that he could not feel frustrated. Most of us will never wield the influence that Mr. Lewis did, but we can choose to make our own lives worthwhile.

We too have legacies to leave to future generations. Make sure they're legacies you can be proud of, even if you have to struggle, even if you have to struggle just a little.

Banquet ends curling season

by Mary J. McCuaig

The Lancaster Curling Club held its annual banquet and awards night recently to close off the curling season. There was a capacity crowd to enjoy the excellent catering of the Lancaster Inn, supervised by Ian MacIntosh.

After the banquet, the trophies were presented by Lil Enberg and Coleman MacDonald. Some of the winners were as follows:

Rozon Trophy, Skip, Gwelda MacRae, third, Marjorie Leroux, second, Rosemarie Cseff, lead, Diane Bowles.

President's trophy, Skip, Gwelda MacRae, third, Connie Sandilands, second, Diane Bowles, lead, Janet Howells.

Barrett trophy, Skip, Amy Ward, third, Hilda Flaro, second, Irene Smith, lead, Sharon MacRae.

Lancaster Lumber and Fuel Last Chance Bonspiel, two-game high, Skip, Carol Edwards, third, Mac Edwards, second, Elsie Groetelaars, lead, Louis Groetelaars.

One-game high, Skip, Connie Sandilands, third, John Sandilands, second, Janet Howells, lead, Francis Chretien.

Corby's trophy, Skip, Coleman MacDonald, third, Amy Ward, second, Fern Delorme, lead, Janet Howells.

Cloverleaf Mixed, Skip, Coleman MacDonald, third, Cheryl Wightman, second, Paul Syrduk, lead, Charlene Syrduk.

Lancaster Pizzeria, Skip, Gary McArthur, third, Mary McCuaig, second, Gordon Hodgins, lead, Shelagh Leads.

Sun Life trophy, Skip, Gary McArthur, third, Audrey Blair, second, Bob Bergland, lead, Sharon MacRae.

Throughout the curling season, the Club sold tickets for a color TV. The winner of the TV was George David of St. Lambert, Que., and was sold to him by Connie Sandilands. The $50 second prize was won by Terry Wheeler of St. Andrews West and the $25 third prize was won by Ethel Golding of Glen Robertson. A beautiful potted plant was won by Cheryl Snider for selling the most tickets for this draw. Connie Sandilands won a potted plant for selling the winning ticket.

The Junior Curling results were as follows:

Kraft Foods trophy, Skip, Heather Westley, third, Brian Ward, second, Jane Leeds, lead, Heather Viscount.

Ward trophy, Skip, Shawn White, third, Brian Ward, second, Monique Lefebvre, lead, Gilles Bourdeau.

The Lancaster Curling Club had a very eventful year and seemed to be throughly enjoyed by all. The general meeting will be held in June to close off the year. See you next season!

Lancaster News

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Dubeau recently spent the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Gaetan Gelineau, Mr. Gelineau and family at Shawinigan, Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lutz have returned to their home in South Lancaster after spending the winter months in Florida.

Miss Alice Bellis has returned home after spending some time in Montreal.

Recent guests of Mrs. Rena Upton were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dixon and Dave Dixon all of Sarnia. Mrs. Upton spent the holiday weekend in Alexandria with her son, Stuart, Mrs. Upton, Rae and Tena.

On Sunday, May 31, The Crusaders, a choral group from Vankleek Hill will be conducting the service of worship for the St. Lawrence Pastoral Charge which will be held in Knox United Church, Lancaster, starting at 10:30 a.m. Everyone welcome.

On Tuesday, May 19 45 members and seven guests of the Lancaster Jolly 50's Senior Citizens Club enjoyed a bus trip to Ottawa where they visited Rideau Hall and the Mint. They also enjoyed a guided tour of the city of Ottawa. The club will be holding an open euchre on Monday, June 1 in Knox Church Hall starting at 8 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Mexico was the theme at a ceremony of the first Lancaster Brownie Pack when, Tina Lalonde, Julie Hallberg and Carolyn Chadwick flew up to Guides. A highlight of the evening was a "Pinata" shaped like a bird which the girls broke with great enthusiasm. District Commissioner Mrs. Mary Lambert was in attendance. Weather permitting, the girls will be going on a hike on Saturday, May 30. Other plans made by the pack are for a camping weekend on July 3, 4 and 5 at the campsite at Milles Roches and a bake sale, when a suitable date can be set. The pack was happy to enroll Tara McHugh as a new Brownie at a recent meeting. Thanks were extended to all parents for their help providing refreshments and transportation when necessary. The last meeting of the season will be held on June 16.

Knox UCW plans variety of events

(Intended for last week)

Members of Knox UCW held its May meeting in the church hall with Mrs. Albert Seguin presiding. She opened the proceedings with two poems, "A Mother's Love" and "The Fairest."

Mrs. Norma McLaren was in charge of the devotional portion which opened with the hymn "This is my Father's World" and told the meaning of the word, May. During this month farmers of olden times sought the help of the church to assure them of good crops. We of modern times should continue to call on God through the church for assistance in good times and bad. This portion closed with a mother's day verse and prayer.

The correspondence contained information regarding the summer event at Lennoxville, Que. on August 7, 8 and 9, and a quilt and rug exhibition and sale October 9 and October 10 at Kemptville.

It was decided to re-open the rummage sale as soon as it can be reorganized on a monthly basis.

Mrs. Seguin reported on cards and visits to sick and shut-ins.

Plans were made to hold a bake sale on June 20.

Please give generously.

PEOPLE on the MOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beaudette and Florence of Oakville returned home after flying out to visit their son, Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Beaudette of Quesnel B.C. While there, they attended the christening of their little daughter Aynsley Ann. They also visited in Vancouver and Prince George.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Taillefer last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saddler MacDonell from Mission B.C. Also visiting was Mrs. Jacques Laferriere from North Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Pearl and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Pearl and children, Andrea and Colleen from Montreal spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Watt and Margaret McKinnon.

Angus R. MacDonell of 30 Bishop St. returned recently from a trip to California. He visited there with Rosemary and Brian Daniels and sons of Fullerton and with them toured the points of interest in the Los Angeles area. He also visited Las Vegas which attracts about 12 million visitors annually to its plush casinos and top notch shows. A three day coastal tour from Los Angeles to San Francisco included the fabulous Hearst Castle. San Francisco and the Napa Wine Valley have much to offer the tourist in architecture and various attractions.

Engagement announced

MacKAY—LEVAC

Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacKay wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Helen Anne to Ronald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Levac of RR#2, Green Valley. The marriage will take place at 4 p.m. on July 11 at St. Finnan's Cathedral.

FORMAL SUPPORT—Seen here, Alice the penguin lends moral support to the Fellowes High School band. The Pembroke band was visiting with Char-Lan High School band members as part of a band exchange and gave a performance at Char-Lan. The band, conducted by Kasiemir Samuylo, performed a number of tunes ranging from dixieland to Tchaikhovsky.

Women plan 'big event'

Mrs. Frank Firth was hostess to the United Church Women of Salem Church at her home in Cornwall on May 12 at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Libby Vipond, president, opened the meeting with a verse "Honor of Mother" by K. Dugas Wigan. All repeated the purpose of the UCW in unison.

Mrs. Walter McLean, secretary, read the minutes of the April meeting which were approved as read.

Plans were made to get the hall painted before the end of June and to hang new curtains. Discussion was brought up concerning the "Big Event" which will be held on Saturday, November 7.

An exhibition of quilts will be held from October 8 to 10 in St. John's Church at Kemptville.

Leadership Day will be held May 19 in Prescott under the convenership of Edith Jenkins and Irene Judge.

The Presbyterial executive meeting will be held on June 9 in Avonmore. Jean Collins will speak on her trip to Africa.

Mrs. Violet Greer will be hostess for the June meeting.

It was moved by Mrs. Margaret McMath and seconded by Mrs. Elizabeth Radley that the UCW send a donation to Camp Kagama and Rideau Hill Camp.

Mrs. Jean McGee, treasurer, gave her report and took the offering which was dedicated with prayer.

Happy Birthday wishes were expressed to Mrs. Frank Firth.

Mrs. Walter McLean opened her worship service by all reading "Thank you oh Lord for time that is now." Scripture reading from Genesis Chapter 12, verses 1-9. Her topic was "Challenge of Change."

Mrs. Vipond gave a reading "The Golden Clasp" and a verse on "love." All repeated the Mizpah benediction and Mrs. Vipond thanked Mrs. Firth for her hospitality. A social hour followed.

Guides plan Spring fair

by Mary Lambert

Once again we are coming to the end of another year of Guiding. Highland District, with 13 operating units and over 200 girls and leaders is the largest district in the Eastern Division. We are very fortunate to have so many dedicated and hard working leaders who are willing to give their time and themselves to the girls of Glengarry County.

Most of the girls will be going to camps of some kind during the summer—weekend, back yard and division camp. We hope that the weather is good to them and that they will benefit from the sharing experience that camping gives.

Our big event, the "Spring Fair" will be taking place this Saturday, May 30 at Knights of Columbus Hall, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Did you miss it last year? There's something for everyone: baking, plants, books, white elephant, including a section for children, handicrafts, tea room, hot dogs and a 10-cent bran tub for the little ones. Please try to attend. You will not only find many bargains, but will be supporting your local Guides and Brownies as well.

Leaders and parents are reminded to bring their contributions to the hall by 9 a.m. please.

UCW has busy schedule

St. Andrew's UCW, Dalhousie Mills, held its monthly meeting May 12 in the church hall. The President Barbara Preston led the opening prayer, followed by a worship service conducted by Esther McNaughton.

A reading "Different steps of the stairway to heaven," and a poem "The stewardship of giving and living" were read by Esther.

The monthly offering and fellowship of the least coin were dedicated.

As one member had celebrated a birthday, our friendship fund received a little boost as well. A prayer asking for wisdom, patience and love to help us find the right words at the right time closed this portion of the meeting.

The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting after approval of these, plans were finalized for our May 23rd.

Some dates to remember were announced by the president. Seaway Valley Presbyterial UCW executive meeting will be in Avonmore United Church June 9 from 9:30 a.m.-3 p.m. and a display and sale of work will be held in Kemptville October 9 and 10.

Camp Kagama is building another cabin and would appreciate financial support.

Several lovely knitted and crocheted bazaar articles were displayed by Madge Cudzilo and Mary Buckler. The meeting closed with prayer and a social half hour followed.

Nurses' Week success

During Nurses' Week May 4-9, Deanna Poirier and Gisele Martin spoke to students at St. Mary's School, Green Valley and Ecole Rouleau in Alexandria. Eileen McGillis and Vicki Crate spoke to students at Laggan and Alexander School concerning the profession of nursing.

We nurses would like to thank all the students and teachers for their interest and participation in our presentation.

We received many responses to our contest for the best composition on the role of the nurse in society. We are pleased to announce the winners:

Green Valley School, Chantal Leroux, Grade 7; Ecole Rouleau, Joelle Nadeau, Grade 6; Alexander School, Cathy MacDonald, Grade 7 and Laggan School, Alexander Palmer, Grade 5.

Photo albums were presented to each winner.

Auxiliary plans party

The Auxiliary of Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall plans its champagne and strawberries garden party on June 14, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Cornwall Civic Complex in salon B as well as on the patio.

Doctor and Mrs. Denis Deslauriers, hosts for this event, look forward to meeting everyone at this "meet your friends gathering" with proceeds being used to purchase surgical and medical equipment for the hospital.

Carole Bristow and Yollande Vallee are the co-conveners for this event. Price per ticket is $7.50 per person. Contact Lise Beriault, 933-7309 or Pauline Lemire, 931-1647.

Char-Lan to entertain

The Grade 12 dramatic arts class at Char-Lan High School is very busy as the month of June approaches. The group is preparing for their presentation of "That's Drama '81."

The production will consist of a variety of plays and skits and other odds and ends. It will all take place on Thursday, June 4 at 8 p.m. in the Char-Lan High School auditorium.

Everyone is welcome to come out and enjoy an evening of entertainment.

By Art Buckland

Halcyon Days.

What a complete day it was!

This was traditionally in high school days of yore, the season of the cadet inspection and the cadet dance (the social highlight of the high school year).

Good weather always prevailed in late May. You may remember those warm lazy afternoons when you could easily doze off during two o'clock classes on the sunny side of the school. I can only recall, in my eight years of high school, just once did rain force us to hold inspection in the armouries.

The inspections had all the glory and excitement attached to a production which required months of preparation and involved the whole school. No one who took part will every forget, I would wager a whiskey, the things associated with cadet inspection: the winter long daily noonhour practices, the weeding out of students with two or more left feet, the mass calisthenics, the signals displays of Morse code, the sore rifle shoulders, Art Vogt's Bugle band, the color party and first aid troops (for fainters), the calluses from marching through the streets of town, the marchpast in front of the reviewing stand and the athletic grounds, the platoon by platoon inspection by a real army colonel, the sunburned noses, commands of our own commanding officers, Lt. Colonels Kenny MacLennan, David Hickey, Lionel Chevrier, the announcements of the awards to the 5-600 strong cadet corps of boys and girls: best company, best officer, best cadet, and the anticipation of the big dance that evening.

After that exciting day in the sun, we went home and prepared for the great cadet dance. I now wonder how the young ladies, for they paraded also, were able to have their complexion and hair just so for the formal that night. I am reminded of teenage hypersensitiveness about a hair out of place by our own two contemporary high school daughters.

And then the dance at night. Ahh, yes the cadet dance. Gord Higgins was the perennial mastermind and organizer of the cadets and there was never any question about what he wanted us to do. But when it came to the dance we had a question. Who would Mr. H. escort to the dance?

In those halcyon days grade nine boys had not yet discovered girls, but they did serve a purpose at the dance. She worked in the coatcheck room, some served as security, some served at the bar. The bartenders, so called, were responsible for serving the drinks cokes, gingerales, orange, pepsi from Hawkes' Parisien or Denton's bottling works. Yes, we had it all. The booze was kept in a cooler filled with winter cut canal ice.

The workers were all in uniform and all envious of the officers in their dress uniforms (khaki light tunics, Sam Browns—ceremonial swordbelts, and MacDonell kilts and white spats).

For their night's work, the boys were allowed a coke, and were happy. After the dance country boys had to hitchhike home using a midnight thumb.

And all those things which helped to make it a perfect night: the reception line, the corsage on your date's formal gown, the dance card with ten dances to find a partner for, slipping outside for a puff and ?, the big band sounds of Jimmy Thompson, or Vince D'Alessio, nodding to Principal McDowell and his wife on the same level as you for this once, the threat of a check to see "if your are regimental", the last dance, the anticipation of the house party after.

Do high school students have such an exciting school event in the 1980's?

Recital time is here again. Following are the dates for area recitals for the MacCulloch Dancers: Glengarry District High School in Alexandria, May 27; in Avonmore on May 28; in Martintown on May 28; in Maxville on May 31; in Vankleek Hill on June 2.

SOME RIDDLES

A. Name an organized game in which the defensive team always has possession of the ball, the offensive team can score without ever having touched the ball, and the game itself has no time limit. (No. Catherine, it's not what you are thinking.)

B. Translation is always a problem and it makes an interesting challenge to go from English to Chinese (the language we will all have to learn eventually) and then back to English again. Can you figure out the original titles of these works of literature?

1. Two Silences 2. Goodbye Weapons 3. The Deserted Land 4. The Watcher in a Wheat Field 5. The Importance of Sincerity.

C. Over 60 words in the English language begin with the letters fl and have the connotation "light" or fluffy. Try these: 1. Light foolish talk 2. Bit of white winter stuff 3. Light tart, custard filling 4. Light, insubstantial.

The annual general meeting of the area chapter of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will be held at St. Lawrence College on Wednesday, June 3, 8 p.m. Everyone is welcome. A film and tour of the new resource centre will be part of the program for the evening.

Around the United Counties, annual dance recitals are being held. Here are the dates for the MacCulloch Dancers: Alexandria, May 27; Avonmore, May 28; Martintown, May 31; Maxville, June 1 and Vankleek Hill, June 2.

COUNTRY SCHOLARS

Congratulations to the Honor Roll students from Martintown area: Marion Sutcliffe, Susan Aubin, Steven and Paul Richer, Trudy Lapointe, Shelley Benton, Andrea Buckland, Shannon Kennedy, Lynn Lalonde, Rosemari Van Rooi, Nicole Parette, Karen Kennedy, Shelley Poapst, Steven King and Darrin Laplante.

ANSWERS TO THE RIDDLES

A. Baseball. B. 1. The Two Solitudes. 2. Farewell to Arms. 3. Eliot's "The Wasteland." 4. Salinger's The Catcher in the Rye. 5. Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest. C. 1. Flapdoodle 2. Flake 3. Flan 4. Flimsy.

Student funding decreased

Success is killing Ontario's community colleges, according to St. Lawrence College's board of governor's chairman, Joan Wills.

Per student funding has actually decreased for the second year in a row, and there is no end in sight, she said.

"The province is ignoring the fact that there is a major shift in enrolment from the universities towards colleges," Wills said.

Universities and colleges received the same funding increase for 1981-82 of 10.1 per cent, although colleges grew an average of 10 per cent, as compared to a 3.1 per cent increase in university enrolment.

This 10.1 per cent increase to colleges and universities announced in January by Bette Stephenson, minister of colleges and universities, took inflation into account, but made no allowances for the fact that significantly more students are choosing college over university, Wills said.

College president, W. W. Cruden, says it is difficult to understand how the minister expects colleges to accommodate more students without spending more.

"St. Lawrence has been slashing supply and support services budgets to scrape together money to direct into high enrolment areas," he said. He added that the college has been forced to significantly reduce services to special interest groups, such as senior citizens. Part-time general interest courses have also been cut significantly.

At St. Lawrence, as at other colleges, student demand is greatest for "high tech" programs, such as data processing and technology. However, the capital costs of starting new programs and up-dating current equipment in these fields are staggering, Cruden noted.

"The Davis government's new multi-million dollar BILD program promises to provide some aid to the colleges in mounting new "high tech" programs," Cruden said. "However, if we cannot find a way to cope with our enrolment growth, we are going to lose this opportunity."

The 22 Ontario colleges have repeatedly asked the minister of colleges and universities for a policy clarification on the enrolment growth issue. "What we want is a clear statement to the colleges either not to grow, in spite of student demand, or recognition that this growth is legitimate—with a corresponding increase in funding," Cruden said.

He added that it is ironic that the most successful educational sector is being penalized for its very success, just at a time when the demand for more skilled personnel in the province is higher than ever.

"There is literally no more blood in the stone at St. Lawrence College," Cruden said. "We have wrung all we can out of service areas. If we don't get an answer on this growth issue by early 1982, we will have to cut more heavily into our full-time programming." A decision to cut programs is a last resort, he added, because fewer students means less revenue.

"It's a 'catch 22' situation," he said.

Contract awarded

A $478,500 contract has been awarded to Rahm Construction Ltd. of Ottawa for the provision of a new French Language College of Agricultural Technology for the Ministry of Agriculture and Food in Alfred.

Rahm Construction Limited submitted the lowest of six bids, the high being $532,500.

The college, to offer courses of instruction in the French language, will be established in the Champlain Boys Training School in Alfred.

Operated by the Ministry of Community and Social Services, the school is being phased out of use in conjunction with a reorganization of ministry programs.

Renovations will be completed throughout three floors to provide modern facilities for approximately 150 students. These facilities will include laboratories, classrooms and a library.

Existing heating and ventilation systems will also be modified as part of the project to conform with government energy conservation standards.

It is expected that work on the contract will begin immediately. Facilities required by students for the Fall school term will be completed by September, 1981. The remaining facilities will be completed by the late Fall 1981.

Use Roundup® to control small patches of milkweed and Canada thistle before they become big problems.

Once milkweed and Canada thistle enter your beans or grain crops, they can develop into a serious problem in almost no time at all. But you can control these tough weeds – right in the crop – with a spot treatment of Roundup® herbicide by Monsanto.

Just spray Roundup in the infested areas when the weeds have reached the proper stage of growth.* Roundup knocks out the weeds right down to the roots – so they won't grow back. And with Roundup, there's no carryover to next year's crop.

So when milkweed and Canada thistle invade your crops, reach for Roundup ... and control them before they spread into a serious problem.

*More than one treatment may be necessary because all milkweed plants do not reach the proper stage of growth at the same time. Also, crop in the treated area will be destroyed.

Nothing works like Roundup.

To honor WW II veterans

When the 1st Battalion SD&G Highlanders holds its 34th annual reunion at the Cornwall Armouries on June 6 and 7, two local veterans will be honored for their unique service to the regiment during World War II.

Robert "Bob" McLennan of Alexandria, now living at 1400 Newark St., Cornwall, and Peter Alec MacLean of St. Elmo, presently farming at RR2 Maxville, joined the regiment in Cornwall in June 1940 and were posted to No. 16 Platoon of "Dog" Company.

Following the long training period in Canada and England they landed with the regiment at Bernieres-sur-Mer on "D" Day, June 6, 1944. At the end of hostilities on May 5, 1945, only three men of "D" Company had served continuously as infantrymen since "D" Day, the regiment having suffered about 1,300 casualties of which 286 were fatal. The third man was also a Cornwall native—the late John Labonte.

As a corporal, "Bob" served as an infantry section leader with Peter Alec his Bren gunner and on July 9 had the distinction of being the first Canadian soldier to reach the centre of Caen.

The Military Medal was awarded to Corporal McLennan for exceptional gallantry in action during the very heavy fighting in August, south of Caen which led to the closing of the Falaise Gap and to Peter Alec for bravery at the crossing of the Ems River at Leer, Germany, a few days before the war ended. Their medals were presented to them by Governor-General Alexander at Cornwall during Old Home Week celebrations in 1946.

Although they fought in all subsequent battles in which the regiment took part, their luck held and both emerged unscathed at wars end. It had been a long, bitter journey from the Coast of Normandy to Emden in Northern Germany but they had seen it all and remain close friends to this day.

And so they will sit at the head table during the dinner on Saturday evening and take the salute of their old comrades at noon on Sunday.

The "Glens" have held a reunion every year since 1947 on the weekend nearest the anniversary of "D" Day, alternating between Cornwall, Peterborough, Kingston and Brockville, centres from which the 1st Battalion was formed. It is expected that about 400 members and wives will attend.

On Saturday, registration takes place between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. with a reception and a wine and cheese party for the ladies. There will be a dinner in the evening followed by a flag lowering ceremony at dusk performed by the members of the Regiment. The Brigadoons orchestra will provide music for dancing with the MacCulloch dancers entertaining during intermissions.

At noon on Sunday, the veterans, together with a color party and pipe band of the regiment, will parade from the armouries to the Joe St. Denis Sports field for a memorial service to which the public is invited.

Then it is back to the armouries for lunch and farewells. Peterborough will host the reunion next year.

Kenyon Junior Calf Club meets

What special qualities would you look for when judging cattle?

Members of the Kenyon Junior Calf Club learned how to distinguish a sharp clean-cut long cow from a low-set short cow as we judged a class of mature dairy cattle.

At the May 5 meeting held at the farm of Andre Villeneuve, we discussed our lesson which concerned milk recording in Ontario.

The club members judged a class of grain. When judging grain you look for size, uniformity and plumpness.

We also identified seeds.

The club will meet next at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food Boardroom in Alexandria to work on the club project. The project concerns dairy cattle diseases and their prevention.

Our next barn meeting will be held at the farm of Robert MacIntosh, Apple Hill, on June 3.

Alexander School

This has been a busy month around the school. Education Week activities finished with a flourish as parents and friends joined us for mass and open house on Friday of that week.

Monsignor D. B. McDougald drew the name of Miss Gisele Hamel as the lucky winner of the portable television which was raffled by our CPTA. Proceeds will be used to help pay for educational field trips and we are grateful to all who supported us by purchasing tickets.

Classes were visited by two local nurses during Nursing Week and their topic was most interesting and educational. A contest for grades five to eight was conducted and judged by the nurses. Students answered the question "What is the role of the nurse in present day society?" and the winner was Kathy McDonald who received a photo album for her efforts.

Three experienced and knowledgeable former teachers Angus R. MacDonell, Gertie McDonald and Inez McPherson had a formidable task in choosing the winner of our Public Speaking Contest. Connie VanderByl was the winner for grades seven and eight with Paula Fouhy as runner-up and Janice Lee MacDonald edged out Brenda Cameron for grades five and six. Janice Lee and Connie will advance to the regional contest sponsored by PEP. Congratulations not only to the winners but to all who entered.

Hugh Duncan MacDermid tug-o-war great

by Angus H. McDonell

The uninitiated sport fan, especially of track and field, would be amazed to see for the first time nine big, husky men pulling on a rope while nine more were holding firmly on the other end. Each group trying desperately to pull their opponents across a ground marker. This team sport is tug-of-war. It still is one of the highlights at some Highland Games notably, for instance, at Fergus, Ontario. However, contrary to a general opinion, the origin was not in Scotland, France, Germany or Italy centuries ago like tossing the caber, the 56 and similar competitions.

There was a time when tug-of-war was a major even at sport meets in many world countries. This was in that long ago era of sailing ships. The sailors who were masters of handling the bulky ropes that positioned the sails were men of muscle and might.

The theme of many a legend of the seas would tell of how certain crews with an abundance of brawn and skill could navigate safely through ocean storms and bring their ships safely to any port. History records that while those ships were docked for loading and unloading, the exploits of those crews possessing lofty reputations of brawn and strength were frequently the topic of tavern conversation. Somehow those men of might had to complete in a sporting way to declare superiority. A game was devised matching a group of sailors from one crew to pull by a ship rope across a given marker a similar group from another country ship. Hence the origin of tug-of-war. And the popularity of the team sport in many world countries.

When steam engines gradually brought about the demise of sailing ships the interest in tug-of-war competition faded. But not in Scotland. Possibly Glasgow's world famed ship building industry had something to do with the survival of this team sport in Scotland. However, the most likely reason is that the tug-of-war tradition of brawn and strength is also the basic fundamental of tossing the caber, the weights and such events at Highland Games' sport programs.

When our ancestors began settling in Glengarry, especially the Loyalists from the Mohawk Valley, now upper New York State, with Reverend John Bethune prominent among the leaders, and a bit later, 1803, the emigration from Scotland of the Glengarry Fencibles headed by Father Alexander Macdonell along with their meagre pioneer possessions and courage they proudly carried their sport heritage with music and song.

This Scottish athletic legacy rose to international heights on May 24, 1865, in Toronto, when Charlottenburgh's native son, R. R. "Big Rory" MacLennan, won the hammer throw world championship. From that day onward, Glengarry in general and Charlottenburgh in particular have been in the forefront of competitions in the realm of sport.

Hockey and lacrosse honors, generally speaking, were shared by Williamstown, Lancaster, Alexandria and Maxville. However, Martintown is and will be known for all time as the home of Glengarry's undisputed tug-of-war champions.

This once popular team sport in various world countries was introduced to fans in the Martintown area about the turn of the century. The Martintown Sons of Scotland organization, according to a legendary source, pioneered the first tug-of-war pulls in that area of Charlottenburgh.

Following World War One, the returning veterans joined a budding young generation of big, husky young six footers ready to fill the tug-of-war war boots of their stalwart predecessors.

Those Martintown teams scaled the heights of glory in the 1920s as they met and defeated challengers not only from neighbouring communities but also Ottawa and Montreal. They won the Eastern Canada championship by defeating the Montreal police team.

Similar to such team sports as hockey and football, tug-of-war, too, always had an outstanding member classed as the leader in and out of competition. This distinguished honor of leadership, strength and sportsmanship many years ago was justifiably awarded to the subject of this writing, Martintown's - Hugh Duncan MacDermid.

Hugh Duncan MacDermid was born December 22, 1882, a son of Duncan MacDermid and his wife Catharine. Their pioneer farm home was in the 9th concession of Charlottenburgh, Indian Lands. The homestead was cleared by Hugh's great grandfather, Duncan MacDermid of Perthshire, Scotland. The farm was a Crown grant to Duncan MacDermid, a veteran of the American Revolutionary War.

Following his elementary education in the 10th concession public school, this blossoming young Martintown athlete attended Cornwall Commercial College. And like many, many more Glengarrians of that era a young man either continued his education, sought employment somewhere in Canada's blooming commerce or remained on the farm home to continue the work of his father and ancestors. Hugh Duncan MacDermid chose the latter. By this time the farm comprised of lots 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11. He was destined to become a successful farmer, athlete and in later years resided in Martintown where he operated a lumber business.

Again similar to many Glengarry young men with tandem first names and some distinguished characteristic, Hugh Duncan, due to his height and weight, 6-2 and upwards of 225, became - "Big Hughie D".

Martintown, in 1904, iced possibly the best county hockey team of that time. This was prior to the domination by Alexandria, Lower Ottawa Valley champions and Williamstown who won top honors in the Cornwall and District playdowns. Big Hughie D., aged 22, was Martintown's outstanding player. He played on the point (defence, right in front of the goalkeeper in seven man hockey) and was noted as a rushing defenseman. In those night games of coal-oil lighting, Hughie D. rated among the leading goal scorers due to his unique "shovel shot". He developed the trait of flipping the puck over the shoulders of the rover, cover-point and point positions. Hence an opposing goalkeeper, obviously, would lose sight of the puck thus a difficult shot to handle. (In the NHL Carson Cooper was known as "Shovel Shot" Cooper.)

Playing with Hughie D. on this champion Martintown team were: Wm. Conliffe, Dave McDougall, Tanny McMartin, Archie Adams, Leslie Murray, Jack McPhadden, Sr., and Allister Blackwood. The team was coached by George Burwash and the manager was Samuel Murray.

"Big Hughie D" excelled in track and field competitions. Those were the days of tall, heavy, sturdy men. Classic examples of brawn, muscle and might in tug-of-war, tossing the caber and the "56". The era of Dan and Steve "Sam the Widow" (McDonells), Bob Sterling and Lawrence MacCulloch. They and their colleagues were dedicated to upholding the heritage of their internationally known Glengarry predecessors, "Big Rory" MacLennan, Alexander (Big Sandy Black Archie) MacDonald and "Big Alex MacIsaac" MacDonald.

Having been a star in hockey, the caber and weights, it is not surprising that "Big Hughie D" became a legendary member and leader of Martintown tug-of-war champions for a period of some 40 years. During that span their victories of the 1920s are the most notable.

A pull featuring the Martintown team was always the main program attraction at a Glengarry church picnic, lawn social, July 1 celebration and fall fairs. Those matches included Stormont communities like St. Andrews and Cornwall. Thrilling draws with the Cornwall Island and St. Regis Indians are a part of our sport history.

The prowess of "Big Hughie D" and his mighty men of Martintown became known and respected beyond the boundaries of the Glens. This prompted a challenge from the Ottawa Division of the RCMP. It was readily accepted.

Following the completion of date, place and travel arrangements the Martintown team met the Ottawa Mounties and were the victors. There is an authentic legend that the RCMP team and members in general were quite humiliated as a result of their loss to the Farmers From Glengarry.

The challenge and acceptance of competing at the Ormstown Spring Fair, 1924, against the Montreal City Police team and to be emblematic of the Eastern Canada championship was the glory climax of Martintown's reign with the rope.

The Martintown team and many of their faithful fans formed a motorcade in their drive to Ormstown. At that time there was no Msgr. Langlois bridge. Cars and passengers were ferried across the St. Lawrence from Coteau du Lac to the Valleyfield side. Martintown's Alex Lagroix, quite an athlete in his own way, despite being on the shady side of four-score years, vividly recalls that the first two cars conveying the team boarded the ferry but the third had to wait an hour. The team members in the first two cars proceeded to Ormstown. They, as you would expect, stopped at the hotel to wait for the third car. Big Hughie D., to flex their muscles and entertain bystanders challenged Dan Sam the Widow, anchor man, and Lawrence MacCulloch, 6-4 and 260, to see which one of the three could lift the front end of a model "T" Ford the highest. The fans looked on in awe at the demonstration of strength by the three Men from Glengarry. Today, that would be called hockey intimidation. The lift ended in a draw as the rear of the Ford would hit the pavement.

Following the elimination pulls the finalists were, as the large crowd anticipated, Montreal Police vs Martintown.

The arranged setting of the pull was professional in detail. The rope was laid out on the infield in front of the grandstand. Filled with spectators and overflowing on the field. Then the skirl of the bagpipes. Pipe-Major Angus D. "Katie" McDonald, Alexandria, in full kilt dress that he wore so proudly, led both teams in single file to their respective positions. Then one final word of advice by "Big Hughie D". The struggle for supremacy taxed the strength of both teams. This was one of the toughest contests ever endured by the Martintown team. Victors in the first and once again to make the result two straight pulls and Martintown was declared tug-of-war champions of Eastern Canada.

Needless to say Martintown and Charlottenbugh celebrated the victory shared by Glengarry long past the weekend.

In addition to "Big Hughie D", "Danny Sam" and Lawrence MacCulloch the following other team members were: Bob Sterling, Callum MacDermid, Steve "Sam the Widow" (McDonell), Sandy Fraser, Charlie MacGregor, Albert and Dan Laflamme, John McIntosh, Bertram, Craik and Allister Urquhart, Robert Ingram and Ernie Mason.

The depression years of the 1930s followed by World War Two dampened the enthusiasm of sport activities including tug-of-war. However, in the late 1940s Martintown once again ruled supreme in the ancient game of sailing ship sailors, or tug-of-war. Clifford MacDermid coached the Martintown 1946 new and post war championship team. The winning attitude, so important with champions, was instilled by none other than that veteran of veterans, including Glengarry's All Star tug-of-war team, still a power of strength at age 62 - "Big Hughie D" MacDermid.

On September 17, 1974, Hugh Duncan MacDermid joined his athletic colleagues up there in the Valhalla of sportsmen. In the Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame recorded for posterity among our county's all-time great athletes and sportsmen with be - "Big Hughie D".

EDITORIAL
IT'S OUR OPINION

The Glengarry News
ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1981

Taxpayers get just reward

They were warned during the election campaign but they didn't listen.

Give Bill Davis a majority government and he'll run rough-shod over you, the opposition parties warned Ontario electors.

No sooner has the election dust settled than the Tories have decided to "keep the promise" by rewarding their ballot box benefactors with a slap in the face.

Income tax will increase about $100.

OHIP premiums will rise 15 per cent to $552 a year for a family and $276 for a single person.

Provincial tax on gasoline has been increased a cent a litre and is being hitched to the price of gas permanently. This means that the tax will increase automatically as the price goes up. (Like the bankers, the government has learned how to profit from inflation.)

Taxes are up on alcohol and cigarettes will rise too.

In all, for a family of four earning a combined income of $20,000 the Conservative budget should relieve you of about $222 of your heavy dollars.

Not only were large corporations untouched, the Tories ensured that the captains of commerce could celebrate in style. Taxes on expensive cigars were cut.

Ordinarily, we might indulge in a fit of righteous indignation over the new budget, but we believe the electorate had it coming.

Despite popular misconception, majority governments are not good. We have obtained some of our best legislation from minority governments where those in power were kept honest and accountable by a strong opposition.

Ontario voters made a mistake giving Bill Davis unlimited rein.

Now he's putting the spurs to us.

Small business raps interest

Roger Worth, public affairs director of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, has joined the resounding chorus of boos greeting our phenomenal rise in interest rates.

While politicians spout economic theory, Worth has compiled some statistics to show our ivory tower leaders what they are doing to the average homeowner.

In 1976, Worth notes, at least 25,000 mortgages were written and are due for renewal this year.

The interest rates in 1976 were 10 to 12 per cent. At last glance they were 18 per cent and rising.

"That means a quarter of a million Canadian families will be paying an extra six to eight per cent for the money needed to finance their dwellings.

"In real terms, such home-owning families will end up paying an additional $2,600-$3,400 per year on a relatively small $50,000 mortgage.

"That means a whopping $216 to $283 per month increase in payments."

In addition, there are thousands of shorter term mortgages which will also be coming due.

Many people are going to lose their homes, pure and simple.

Does anybody in charge give a darn?

Butter, not guns, the answer

"National security" has been a catchphrase of militarists since the day the club was invented, and while there is no doubt that it is often necessary to bargain from a position of strength, it is equally true that compassion often wins over many allies.

Despite the ideological struggles going on in the world today, there is no denying that the major causes of conflict are hunger and poverty.

As the United Church recently pointed out "hunger is a primary stimulant of the revolutionary discontent that could lead to total war in our time.

"The external aid programs of our government may be, in the long run, far more important for our national security than anything that can be done by our Department of National Defence.

"Democracy's greatest enemy is not communism or any other ideology—it is the dehumanizing poverty and hunger of so many of the world's people."

There is no point talking ideology to someone with an aching belly. As Bertrand Russell once asked rhetorically:

"If one man offers you democracy and another offers you a bag of grain, at what stage of starvation will you prefer grain to the vote?"

From under the Williamstown Bridge

by Helen Sloan

We have all heard at one time or another a wife say that she looked forward to her husband's retirement, the day she would have the old dear all to herself.

Sometimes this turns out beautifully for both—no pressures, new hobbies, sleeping in and occasional travel. Oftentimes however the wife is terribly dismayed. Her expectations are not exactly fulfilled. Her routine is totally disrupted and this takes some getting used to.

I got a taste of this last week. It was not exactly retirement Gary was on. He had pulled a muscle in his back so he was housebound and practically immobile for a few days.

At first I thought it would be nice to have him home with me and our two pre-schoolers. It didn't take me long to realize this was more than I bargained for. I'm not sure if I'm alone in my theory but I sense no one is more helpless than an ailing man.

There were times I was sure the pain in his back was less severe than the one he was giving me in the neck. Add to this the fact our ten-month-old baby, Megan had fallen down three steps in her walker on Sunday and split her lip, requiring six stitches. Although she was well on the mend she was especially demanding also.

I was so afraid she would hit her sore mouth on something I carried her quite constantly for a couple of days and ran to her crib each time she made a sound.

Naturally, by Tuesday she thought she was Roy Rogers and I was Trigger and there was no convincing her otherwise. All mothers know it is so easy to spoil a baby. Determined I would not let this happen to Gary too I busily went about my business with only an occasional sympathetic glance in his direction.

On Monday, Victoria Day, he was relatively quiet. The remedy for the day seemed to be heat and rest.

On Tuesday it was heat and restlessness.

By Wednesday I took him to the doctor who prescribed some pills to relax the muscle.

On Thursday he could still hardly move but calmly announced he would go nuts if he had to sit around another day. He felt if I got him some flowers he could plant them.

Convincing myself he was certainly worth the bother I went down to a local greenhouse between loads of washing when Megan was sleeping. I bought $8.50 worth of pansies, petunias and a very pretty variety of marigolds called dainty mariettas.

I jokingly told the salesman Gary could enjoy spending the day with dainty marietta and leave me get my work done. I still hadn't written "From Under the Williamstown Bridge" yet and this lay heavy on my mind. If I thought gardening was the answer I was very wrong. I found out all too soon his spirit was very willing but his body was weak.

I had to gather the ground for the hanging pots, mix the sheep manure and rototill the flower bed. I wasn't directly asked to do this but when I heard him thinking out loud of what young fella around town he might get to help him, guilt set in. What's a wife for?

To heck with the housework. To heck with baking those cookies. We don't need them anyway. To heck with my column. Oh no, I can't. I just have to get busy. If only I could think of something to write.

After we finished with the flowers Gary wondered if the garden would be ready for the strawberry plants we purchased last month. Cheerfully (or so he thought) I put on my rubber boots, drove the roto tiller to the garden and began to dig up the soil. Fortunately it was much too wet to work. Sadly I told him this and at his suggestion I reluctantly turned off the machine. Ha! Ha!

After this ordeal he decided I should apply more A535 to his back. Boy that stuff surely doesn't work like on the T.V. commercial—you know, the one where the guy makes his sore muscles bulge to music.

After such an exhausting morning, sleep overtook him. "At least" I thought. "I'll finish hanging out that last load of washing and write my column. I'll get if off in the mail before he wakes up and reads it."

Oh I suppose I shouldn't be teasing. It could be worse.

Perspective

Babies backed

The baby formula industry took a sound beating last week and I for one was glad to see it.

In an overwhelming 93-3 vote, the World Health Organization voted to encourage women around the world, especially in poor countries, to breast-feed their children rather than giving them manufactured substitutes.

In a move which will do irreparable damage to its overseas image, the United States voted against the resolution, opting to back the powerful baby formula lobby.

Only Chad and Bangladesh joined the U.S. in opposing the WHO code.

Proponents of the code note that the high-powered sales tactics of formula producers discourage breast-feeding although the latter is universally regarded as the healthiest infant nourishment.

In order to swell profits, baby formula manufacturers are promoting their product in Third World countries where its use is dangerous and often fatal to children.

Polluted water and poor health conditions turn the otherwise safe product into a killer.

For years now, church and other volunteer groups have been mounting a boycott against the formula manufacturers with Nestle being the main target.

Nestle was very vocal in its opposition to the WHO code and lobbied against its passage.

The new code urges a global ban on promotion and advertising of baby formula, on distribution of free product samples and on gifts for promoting the use of formula as a substitute for breastfeeding.

Unfortunately, there are no teeth in the code and it is not binding on anyone. Public pressure will still be needed to convince corporations that human life is more important than profits.

The whole world now knows where the U.S. stands—right behind its corporate interests. It's image in many Third World countries as an "economic imperialist" will only be enhanced and be very useful propaganda for groups attacking American interests in those countries. Few anti-U.S. elements will miss the opportunity of pointing out that the Americans will do anything for a buck, even kill babies.

The American stance was so shocking that two senior officials of the U.S. Agency for International Development resigned their posts in protest.

"A 'no' vote on this code will signal the world that the United States does not care if our firms behave irresponsibly overseas," Dr. Eugene Babb appropriately noted.

UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, which worked with WHO in framing the code, has pointed out that "it is likely that at least one million children in the developing world die each year from inadequate artificial feeding."

So condemning is the evidence that even the United States' Western allies voted in favor of the WHO code.

Although the administration in Washington seems pre-occupied with what it believes is a decline in U.S. military strength, it is not lack of arms that has been the fundamental weakener of America's position in the world. It is the decline in moral strength.

If you adopt a foreign policy that is totally self-serving you will soon find yourself very alone.

Funeral held in Pointe Claire

Following a very brief illness, the death occurred on May 12 at the Lakeshore General Hospital, Pointe Claire of Annie Emma Wyatt of Ste. Anne de Bellevue. She was 69. News of her death came as a shock to her large circle of friends throughout the area.

She was born on March 28, 1912 at the Second Concession of Roxborough Township, a daughter of the late James Marjerrison and his late wife the former Emma MacArthur. She was educated at the Avonmore Public School and later attended the area high school.

She was employed in Montreal for a time before her marriage to Reginald Wyatt. They later made their home in Ste. Anne de Bellevue. She was predeceased by her husband in the fall of 1964.

Left to mourn the passing of a loving, kind and devoted mother are one son James, of Pointe Claire; two daughters, Mrs. B. Lovegrove (June) of Dollard Des Ormeaux; Mrs. T. Weir (Elizabeth) of Ottawa and eight grandchildren. One sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Clingen of Alexandria and one brother John McNeil (Neil) Marjerrison of Monkland, also survive, as well as several nieces and nephews.

The very largely attended funeral was held from the D. A. Collins Funeral Home, Pointe Claire to St. George's Anglican Church at Ste. Anne de Bellevue on Thursday, May 14 at 11 a.m. The rector the Rev. Mr. MacLean officiated.

Interment was in Rideau Memorial Gardens Cemetery at Pointe Claire.

Relatives attended from Alexandria, Brockville, Cornwall, Monkland, Montreal, Pointe Claire, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Ottawa, London and Winnipeg, and other area points.

Reunion planned

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

Your publishing of this "Rootsy" kind of letter could be a great help in locating some Roses in my family tree.

In 1797 the first Rose of my line arrived in Northlake, P.E.I. His brother, Sampson, with his wife, joined him a few years later. Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Rose raised seven sons and five daughters. Since their sons and daughters were equally prolific, hundreds of their descendants live today in P.E.I., while others are scattered across Canada and the U.S.A.

My grandfather (Sampson's grandson) moved to Vancouver in the early 1900's and never went back. Other Roses and Rose relatives took part in Prairie harvest excursions, and some stayed and presumably married and raised families.

As a result of a recent surge of interest in "who we are and where we came from", the Roses are holding a reunion in P.E.I. August 7 and 8. Any Rose desdendants (whatever their names) are welcome. More details are available by contacting Mark Rose, MP, House of Commons, Ottawa, Ont. K1A 0A6.

John M. Arkinstall passed away

After a lengthy stay in hospital, John Malcolm Arkinstall quietly passed away at Glengarry Memorial on May 9 in his 79th year.

He was born July 14, 1902 at the family farm near Dunvegan.

He was a son of the late William Arkinstall and his wife the former Catherine Campbell. He farmed for his entire life in the Dunvegan area.

In 1927, he married the former Pearl Stewart who predeceased him in 1954. In 1957 he married Anna Mary MacNeil who survives. He leaves to mourn, besides his wife, two sons, Stewart and Douglas of Dunvegan a daughter Betty of Calgary and four grandchildren Andrew, Allison, Cathy and Susan Arkinstall of Dunvegan. Also surviving is one sister Anna, Mrs. Carl Lorimer of Beaton, Ontario.

The funeral was held at the Munro Funeral Home, Maxville on May 12, 1981 at 2 p.m. Interment was in the Maxville cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Brian Arkinstall, Ian Stewart, Archie Campbell, Arthur Campbell, Simon Bertrand and Ralph Clim.

Relatives and friends were present from Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Newmarket, Manotick and surrounding area.

Farming counts for a lot of the picture.

June 3 is Census Day, and it's a day that really counts for farming.

Census information is vital to the growth of agriculture. It helps us build markets here and abroad. It lets us plan new programs for the improvement of Canadian farming. It even shows farmers how their farms compare with others in the area.

It's not difficult. Every farmer will receive a Census of Agriculture and a Census of Population questionnaire to fill in on June 3. These will be picked up shortly after Census Day. If you do not receive your questionnaires by June 1, or if you have any problems completing them, just call the Operator and ask for Zenith 0-1981.

It's between you and us. A census is so important to Canada's future that, by law, you must participate. This same law guarantees that the information you supply is kept completely confidential. Census employees — and only census employees — have access to it.

It's your future. Remember, the Census of Agriculture helps us paint the future of farming in Canada. And we need your help to make the picture perfect.

Cards of thanks

ARKINSTALL—We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown us during our recent sad bereavement of a dear husband and father, John Arkinstall. Many thanks for the beautiful floral tributes, charitable donations, cards and letters of sympathy, and baking. A special sincere thanks to Dr. Nadeau, nurses and staff of Glengarry Memorial Hospital who made his long stay in hospital comfortable. These acts of kindness will always be remembered.
—Anna, Mary, Stewart, Douglas and Betty Arkinstall. 21-1p

RICHELIEU Club — The Club wishes to thank Alexandria and surrounding parishes and their pastors, the business people who responded to our needs, the volunteer workers and the public for their generosity in our Annual Bread Blitz. 21-1p

MacDONELL — Thanks to our family and friends for visits, cards, while in hospital. Greatly appreciated.
—Colbourne. 21-1p

CARRIERE—The family of the late Florida Carriere wishes to thank everyone for their sympathy, and special thanks to those who contributed with flowers, food and mass offerings. Thanks to the nurses and Dr. Nadeau of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital for their kindness. Also thanks to the Morris and Munro Funeral Home director. 21-1p

RENAUD—We want to thank our friends and relatives for cards, gifts and get-well messages while our son Daniel was in hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Keon and nurses in ICU at Ottawa Civic, also Dr. Vlad and nurses in ICU and 4th floor west at Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario. Also Mrs. Francine Richer, principal of Perpetuel Secours, and his teacher, Mrs. Monique Lefebvre, and Sisters of the Precious Blood.
—Denise and Roland Renaud. 21-1p

Cards of thanks

LACOMBE—I wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to all those who were so kind to us in the loss of my dear devoted husband, Real Lacombe. Our appreciation for all those who sent floral tributes, mass cards, also sympathy cards, letters and donations to the heart fund. Special thanks to Dr. Cheung, and Aime Marcoux Funeral Home, also to those who attended Libera and funeral mass at Glen Nevis church. Special thanks to Father Witold Mazurkiewicz.
—Isabelle Lacombe 21-1p

BOWEN—I sincerely wish to thank my family and friends for their visits, flowers, gifts and cards while I was a patient in Glengarry Memorial and Hotel Dieu hospitals. Special thanks to Dr. Roman, Dr. Lalonde, nurses and staff who took care of me.
—Elaine Bowen. 21-1p

CHISHOLM—We would like to thank our family, relatives and friends for making our 25th anniversary such a happy one.
—Leonard and Doris 21-1p

MacGILLIVRAY — Grateful thanks to the many who attended our Golden Wedding reception and made it such a happy occasion, also to the many more who sent cards and gifts. Special thanks to the ladies of St. Columba Ladies Aid, who looked after everything in their usual cheerful efficient fashion, and to Pipe Major Mackenzie, who provided the proper type of music in his own expert way. And last but by no means least, deep gratitude to the good Lord who allowed us 50 years of happy married life.
—Amanda and Grant. 21-1p

MacGILLIVRAY — A sincere thank you to all relatives and friends who called at the Morris Funeral Home, to those who sent floral tributes; to those who made donations to the Heart and Cancer Funds; and to the people who sent food to my home, at the time of the death of my husband, Callum. I am grateful to relatives and friends for telephone calls and messages of sympathy received. The thoughtfulness and kindness shown to me is appreciated.
—Lizzie MacGillivray. 21-1p

MONTGOMERY—It is with our deepest gratitude that we thank all our relatives, friends and neighbors for all their kindness shown to us in our recent loss of a dear mother and grandmother, Mary Alice Montgomery. We extend our sincere appreciation for flowers, donations to the Cancer Society, comforting messages and food. Special thanks to Reverend Frank Bailey for his comforting words, to Morris and Munro Funeral Home and all who helped us in any way. Your kindness will always be remembered.
—The family of Mary Alice Montgomery. 21-1c

MacLEAN—Grateful thanks to my family, relatives and friends who visited and sent flowers and cards while I was a patient in Hotel Dieu Hospital. Special thanks to Doctors Nadeau, McLean and MacPhee, nurses and staff on third floor south.
Elsie MacLean. 21-1p

A sincere thanks to all who contributed in any way to the success of our recent supper, either by their attendance, donations of food and money or in working so willingly.
—St. Andrew's United Church Women,
Dalhousie Mills. 21-1p

—Wellington Desjardins Jr. 21-1p

GRANT—I would like to thank friends and neighbors for the wonderful shower that they held for me at the Alexandria Church on the Hill. The beautiful gifts and fond memories will be with Gary and myself for years to come. Special thanks to Denise and Lynn Gallant, Carol Baxter and Edna Baker for their help in making the evening so enjoyable. Warmest thanks.
—Christine Swanson (Grant). 21-1p

In Memoriam

CHOLETTE—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Guy, who passed away accidently May 30, 1975.
He loved life while he was with us
A cheerful word, a sparkling eye,
We never knew how much we'd miss him,
And we never had time to say goodbye.
—Always remembered by Wildy and Lucia Cholette and family. 21-1p

MacCUAIG—In loving memory of my dear dad Dan MacCuaig who passed away June 2, 1951.
I miss you because I loved you,
You were dearer to me than gold.
No one can ever replace you,
Your memory will never grow old.
—Always remembered by daughter, Mary Belle Pidgeon, Lancaster. 21-1p

In Memoriam

FLETCHER—In loving memory of a dear wife and wonderful mother, Lena M. Fletcher, who was called home to God's care on May 30, 1977.
Four years have passed,
Since we saw you last,
Our memories are so clear,
Because it makes us still so near.
Our love for you will never waver
For now you are with our saviour,
How sweet the memory still,
That the world can never fill.
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by your husband Donald A., sons William D. and Neil C., Harold E. and family and daughter Donna J. Larmour and family. 21-1p

BLANCHETTE—In memory of Felix Blanchette who died on May 26, 1979.
He is gone, but not forgotten
And, as dawns another year
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us
Many think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.
—Ester and children. 21-1p

Clergy Comments from Glengarry Christian Council

"Don't bother me—I'm stagnating"

by Rev. Kerry McIntyre, minister, Knox Presbyterian Church, Moose Creek

"Don't bother me! I don't concern myself about the religious life of the person next to me at church. That's his business. I'm stagnating."

"Don't bother me! I don't want to recognize the people in the community who are un-churched and who need to hear the gospel. That's the minister's work, or an evangelist's job. I'm stagnating."

"Don't bother me! I don't want to go to the hymn sing at that other denomination's church. I don't even take time to go to events sponsored by other organizations in my own denomination. I'm stagnating."

These are the protests that often seem to be heard by ministers as they attempt to develop or invigorate the life and worship of a church. Such comments come, not just from the laity, but often from other ministers as well.

But what is the Christian life and witness all about? William Temple suggested the line of Christian penetration should run from the pulpit to the pew to the pavement. Or as Ernest Campbell offered, the layperson is to be the salt of the earth, not the salt of the salt. There is an increasing need that the laity of the church assume the vital and demanding job of penetrating the world in the name of the risen and coming Christ. The portfolio of the layperson calls for the Christifying of the home, the boards of industry, the arts, the professions, the business community and government.

But while the "priesthood of all believers" is more urgently needed in our society as a leavening influence than ever, I've observed a serious reluctance on the part of both laity and clergy to accept this outward looking attitude and outward looking ministry. Clergy, for their part, are still suspicious and often threatened by an active, capable laity, who, for their part, are hesitant to tackle "ministries" that they have never before thought to be within their domain.

A greater obstacle, however, is that we have become shackled to a self-centred approach to faith itself that loudly declares, "Don't bother me—I'm stagnating." Our churches and congregations are enslaved to the three "isms" of stagnating inwardness: individualism, isolationism, and congregationalism.

The first, individualism, has been given much attention recently. Ours is called the "me-generation," and our religious life has also been affected. Faith becomes a matter of self-fulfillment. Slogans such as "It's just you and me, Jesus" become bantered about. Salvation becomes only a personal experience. But the Christ who sacrificed himself on Calvary died for the redemption of a fallen world; the convenant of grace is to a new people; and Cyprian's adage still holds true, that he cannot have God for his father who has not the church for his mother.

Before our laity will be able to bring a penetrating influence to bear in our society, there needs to be an overcoming of this trend to individualism. The fellowship, the "Koinonea" must be re-invigorated with life and meaning. The corporateness of faith and salvation must be regained, for a revitalized church and a profoundly active laity depends not on three or four keen individuals, but upon the church community, ministering in its wholeness.

Secondly, we have isolationism. A revived Christian laity is a contradiction in terms with a Christianity which retreats into itself. Too often our congregations envisage themselves as closed social clubs. True, visitors are allowed in, and perhaps token memberships are extended occasionally. But there are unwritten rules as to who comprises the real shareholders and management.

This isolationism, stemming perhaps from a genuine fear of the newcomer and of change, is hindering the task of Christian evangelism, especially at a time when the church could be making great headway. The Washington based Alban Institute suggests that the post-war baby boom babies are now at that stage of life when they begin to re-affiliate with the church. The Institute suggests that the age of return to church involvement for those who have dropped out of active participation is between 21 and 34 years of age, and that the trend of returning by these people will be peaking around 1985. A large portion of these must be gained for Jesus Christ now, or they may be forever lost. To these people who are looking for meaning in their lives, an outward looking church, rather than an isolationist church will be able to provide an effective Christian witness.

Thirdly, and perhaps, most sadly, we have congregationalism. If our church is not to stagnate, and if our laity is to become the "Priesthood of all believers", then we must regain a sense of the fellowship of the saints. The Church does not exist only within the four walls of our own church buildings. Christ does not belong only to this Presbyterian congregation, or to that Catholic parish. But sadly, even within denominations, as well as ecumenically, there is a decreasing amount of intercommunion. We will only be the church, "you in your small corner and I in mine". We need desperately to recapture a vision of belonging to the "one, holy, catholic, and apostolic" church and the Jesus Christ as our loyalty, instead of only to a congregation.

So my plea is to be bothered—so that we do not stagnate. My plea is to exercise an outward looking attitude and outward reaching ministry. For a church to say, "the parish is my world" is to die. But to say with Wesley, "the world is my parish" is to live.

Alex Quesnel died

Alexander Quesnel died suddenly at his home at 80 Margaret St., Alexandria on Monday, May 18, at the age of 78.

He was born at Green Valley, a son of the late Honore Quesnel and his wife, the late Elisa Quenneville. He farmed in the Green Valley area for most of his life. On retiring, he came to live in Alexandria.

He is survived by his wife, the former Rose Major, three sons, Lionel and Guy of Green Valley and Gilles of Gatineau and four daughters, Mrs. Lorraine Decoste of Ottawa, Mrs. Leona Lavoie of Montreal, Odette, Mrs. Charles Guindon, of Hallandale, Fla., and Marielle, Mrs. Gerald Leduc of Rigaud.

Two brothers and two sisters also survive. They are: Simon of Montreal; Olivier, of Cornwall; Rose, Mrs. Jean St. Pierre of Wendover and Noella Quesnel of Alexandria.

His funeral was held on Thursday, May 21 at St. Finnan's. Rev. Gerald Poirier officiated.

Pallbearers were: Alain, Richard and Yves Quesnel, Yvon Lavoie, Donald Russell and Andre Labelle.

Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Greenfield

by Mary Couture

Visitors with Ella and Gerry Villeneuve were Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Villeneuve and family of Ottawa and Judy O'Brien from Chateauguay.

Mrs. F. Phillips and Benedict spent last weekend visiting in Montreal and Plattsburg, NY.

Friends and neighbors were saddened by Richard Bellefeuille's death. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Good wishes to Edith St. Denis in hospital.

Our parish is having a fund-raising event, an auction sale which will be held on Saturday, June 13 from 10 a.m. on.

Don't forget that the last euchre and pot luck supper will be held on June 8. All are welcome.

That's Life
When you're looking for ways to protect your family, think of permanent life insurance. It's one of the most unselfish things you'll ever buy. You don't buy it just for yourself. You buy it because there are others who need you as much as you need them. That's life.

So when you're looking for life insurance . . think of me.

Five components to a happy life

The McCrimmon WI regular monthly meeting was held in Lochiel hall. Following the opening exercises with Mrs. Gretta MacDonald in the chair, the roll call was responded to by each member displaying her craft work. Shown were: beautiful pieces of macrame; needlepoint, crewel, cushions, wicker trays, hooked rugs, wall hangings, framed pictures, several beautiful quilts and a wide range of knitted articles.

Miss Marion Urquhart reported on the 33rd annual officers FWIO convention held in Waterloo, Ontario, which she had attended as our delegate.

She commented on the excellent accommodation provided. Included in the 555 delegates in attendance were five from Glengarry. The incoming president Mrs. Hiepleh, chose her address theme from t Mary Stewart Collect, "The reat Human Heart Commor us All." The message was ssed too that every member ery WI branch should be a blic relations officer.

Leonora Mallan showed two interesting s on quilting and quilts, an Mrs. Wilson commented on t motto "Since woman's work never done, let's do our best make it fun."

To the busy sewife, life seems a constan utine doing things that soon we undone—wiping up dust at soon is replaced, washing shes (if you don't happen to ve a dishwasher), which in few hours must again be dirti laundering clothes which in day will become soiled aga

Many wives an others appreciate to the the poor mother whose idea heaven was an abode of bliss in which there was no more housework. While we live in this work-a-day world, these tasks must be fulfilled so the only thing for us to do is to make them as easy as we can. Therefore, in thinking of our motto today, let's make our work as easy as we can and have fun and be happy doing it.

Let us ask ourselves, "What is a happy life?" There are five components to a happy life. Health, work, interest, friendships and the pursuit of an ideal which you may never quite reach. The wonderful thing is, though we may not reach our rainbow's end, we attain our ideal in little pieces of trying. Happiness should not be looked upon as a reward for a good life but as the natural effect of it. Happiness is for all ages. It grows upon us until at last we have it. It is achieved in individuals, not by flights to the moon or Mars but by work done so well that we can lift our eyes with assurance and look the universe in the eye. Of this be sure—you do not find the happy life, you make it. My advice to you all is to follow carefully your WI Mary Stewart Collect, especially the line, "Make me grow calm, serene and gentle." By being calm, your never ending work will fall into place, your manner will become serene and your gentleness will endear you to all people. Your reward will be a happy life.

The president reminded the members of the Hospital Auxiliary Tea and Sale being held June 6, and urged all to contribute and attend.

There was an exchange of plants, following which, tea was served by the committee. The meeting closed with "The Queen."

St. Andrew's Unied Church women met

The St. Andrew's United Church Women, Bainsville, met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd McRae with our President Mrs. Calvin Carr reading a poem "Duty" by Patience Strong. Ten members answered the roll call.

The worship was in charge of Mrs. Muriel Robertson and included a very impressive reading "One More Step and You are There."

The guest speaker, Mrs. Erma Davison, was unable to attend so we are inviting her to come to a future meeting.

On May 31, there is to be a joint service in Knox, Lancaster, with a choral group from Vleek Hill entertaining.

Our June meeting i be held in the church hall a a noon luncheon. Plans were ade for same.

Two bake sales to held in Lancaster were planne one on July 4 and another A st 14.

There was some dission on the Lennoxville confnce in August and it is to be hd some members will be able attend.

A letter was read infing us of the good derived r the underprivileged in Pue Rico from the Campbell Soulabels sent in and all were ed to respond to this cause. Cards were signed and sent to our sick and shut-ins. Unfortunately, there are quite a few of these right now.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Harold Fourney and she had an interesting topic taken from The War Cry—a Salvation Army bulletin. We were asked questions concerning same and had to rate ourselves, which was quite amusing and interesting to each other. The program closed with a poem "This Then is Kindness."

Mrs. Carr closed the meeting with the Lord's Prayer and supper blessing.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mac Roy.

Family Counselling Cerre of Cornwall and United Cnties can help

If you have problems with alcoholism, the Family Counselling Centre of Cornwall and the United Counties can help.

The Centre, located at 103 Pitt Street in Cornwall, offers an intensive service to alcoholics and those affected by them.

The Centre uses different methods in counselling, depending on the basic personalities of each family member and the degree of disturbance. Certain families may be helped more adequately through regular individual counselling sessions; other families may respond better counselled as a whole family unit, either in the office or in their own home. Just as there is not one cause of alcoholism, there is no single treatment effective for everyone. The most successful treatment for an alcoholic, who is still a member of a family, however, does seem to be the treatment of the whole family.

If a problem drinker can also be counselled while still employed, drinking can be controlled. Contrary to popular belief surveys have indicated that over 50 per cent of the alcoholics in Ontario are employed. Rehabilitation rates amongst employed alcoholics are much higher than amongst those who wait until they lose their jobs before seeking help.

Employers and unions recognize the value of counselling, therefore, many referrals come from these sources. Often, however, a worker will refer nself or herself because he or has been suspended from job. Family Counselling Cen will consult with the alcoholi employer and union, with his her permission; often the tual co-operation will result im-proved job performance a the retention of the employme

During the treatment pr ss, the Centre may, when necery, avail itself of other comnity services including Alcoholic n-onymous, Al-Anon, Addictio e-search Foundation, clergy, d-ical and psychiatric facilitie as each may have their own spal role to play at various stage of the counselling program.

With appropriate and shd therapy for all family mem s and the co-operation of emp-ers, more effective and las help is being provided for problem drinker and the fam

Experts have indicated that rehabilitation of the alcoholic possible. Time and effort needed in order to have t alcoholic find and regain his her dignity. Family Counsellin Centre has given time and effo to the rehabilitation of th problem drinker and will continu to do so as a community service

This service is available to the residents of Cornwall and United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. The Executive Director, Miss Margaret Conliffe and Miss June Caillier, Senior social worker have taken specialized courses sponsored by the Addiction Research Foundation and other educational institutions.

The annual meeting for the Family Counselling Centre of Cornwall and United Counties will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, St. Joseph's Villa Auditorium.

Margaret Kennedy dies in Ottawa

After a lingering period of illness, the death occurred at Ottawa Civic Hospital of Margaret Hamilton, beloved wife of Austin Kennedy.

While living in Glengarry, where she was brought up by an aunt Martha McGregor and her husband William, Peg made many close friends to whom she endeared herself by her many acts of kindness. After her marriage, she resided in Ottawa.

She is survived by her husband, Austin, and one son Bill. Two brothers, living in British Columbia, also survive.

Funeral services were held in Ottawa where she was interred.

Let's run around together. PARTICIPACTION The Canadian movement for personal fitness.

Feeding the Dairy Cow

by Anna Akkermans

A cow uses feed for three reasons. First, to meet her requirements for body maintenance; secondly, for milk production and finally, for body fat.

Keeping this in mind a dairy cow needs a suitable food ration at each stage of her cycle, to keep her healthy, and to have a high milk production.

Ex. (a) Dry Cow (not milking) about two months before and up to calving): At this stage the cow should be fed to increase body weight and to build up a reserve of minerals, in order to keep her from losing too much weight when she has calved.

This requires the use of good roughages (hay, corn silage, etc.) and grain mixtures that are more than just fattening feeds.

(b) Milking cow: At this time the cow should be given a good amount of quality roughages along with a suitable amount of grains and by-products in order to get the highest peak possible in her lactation, therefore having an all around higher milk production.

These are just a few of the pointers that were taken up on Feeding the Dairy Cow, at our last meeting which was held on May 20 at farm of Corey Van Loon.

At another part of the meeting the members were asked to judge a class of dairy cows.

They were also tested on the reasons they gave for placing the cows in the order that they thought right.

The next meeting will be on June 22 at the farm of William Akkermans, RR5 Alexandria.

Consumers penalized

"Once again the consumer in Ontario is penalized for being thrifty," says Marie Bright, co-ordinator for Ontario Region of the National Farmers Union.

Commencing on the provincial budget, she said, "Frank Miller's logic for the Ontario fiscal budget is just what one might expect from a Conservative majority government in this province."

When a government gives the illusion of governing for the people and then turns around and knifes them in the back such as Miller has done with agriculture, with his supposedly financial aid to farmers by removing the tax from agriculture land and re-taxing farm buildings and residences to the hilt, it is nothing more than an illusion. "To the public it does look like the government is trying to ease the burden of bankrupt riddled farmers," Mrs. Bright continued.

More tax on gas and diesel fuel will only cripple agriculture in this province a little quicker and consumers will have to rely on more imported food products, she said.

"Health care, an essential of all classes of people from all walks of life in Ontario is increased again—to whose benefit? Can the working man afford this?"

She said "The government meanwhile leaves a tax level on the muntinationals supposedly to encourage more industry to this province for the benefit of the people. Interestingly enough this philosophy hasn't gained jobs for the people in Ontario in the past. We question—what makes it different now?

"Once again the working citizens of our society are taxed to death so the multinationals may survive to take their profits to some other country rather than building Ontario.

"The citizens of Ontario really should question whether they are in control of their province or in reality do the wealthy make the rules under which we are governed."

Prost interest

At an emergency meeting of the Stormont Cattlemen's Association on May 12, the following telegrams were sent to the Hon. E. Whalen, Federal Minister of Agriculture and the Hon. Lorne Henderson, Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Food.

"The Stormont Cattlemen's Association wishes to express their deep concern over the future of the cattle business. High interest rates with low finished beef prices will result in cow-calf operators having a larger financial loss in 1981. Unless action is taken to alleviate these problems, it is estimated that many beef producers in Stormont Countill will close down or reduce their operations".

Hose Club rids again

The second monthly meeting of the year for the Stormont 4-H Horse Club was held at the farm of Mr. Frank Dupuis, May 12, with 17 members present.

The events started when five ponies were groomed and haltered, were lined out on the grounds and each member took his turn showing in a meek lead-line show.

Next the leaders demonstrated how to measure horses to determine height and weight.

Then everyone went inside and Elizabeth Whitten, president of the club, called the meeting to order and the club officers gave their monthly reports.

Afterwards everyone feasted on cookies and chocolate milk.

The next meeting will be held at the farm of Frank Dupuis on June 7 at 7 p.m.

Held second 4-H meeting

The Strathmore 4-H Calf Club held its second 4-H meeting on Thursday, May 14, at the Norman Hedge residence.

The meeting opened with the 4-H pledge. Some ideas for the club float and exhibit entries for the 1981 4-H season were discussed.

Club leader Larry Jackson went over the parts of a Holstein dairy cow. As the meeting proceeded, the group judged a mature class of Holstein dairy cattle.

Five people escape as car flips over

Five lucky Cornwall youths walked away from an accident in which the car they were riding in flipped and landed roof down in the ditch on Summerstown Road south of Highway 401, last Sunday night.

The 1973 Oldsmobile, driven by 17-year-old Danny Zmuda, ran off a curve in the Summerstown Road about 2.5 kilometres south of Highway 401 at about 8:55 p.m., May 23. The car flipped after hitting a tree stump by the side of the road.

Ontario Provincial Police at Lancaster report that while the car suffered $7,000 damage the young driver and his four passengers, aged 15 to 17 years, walked away with "minimal" injuries.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER —As well as providing napkins and other accessories for a pancake breakfast at Precious Blood Parish in Glen Walter recently, the Aunt Jemima Pancake people supplied an Aunt Jemima to help serve the pancakes...a white Aunt Jemima. Seen here, at the event which was in support of the Mount Carmel House Treatment Centre for alcoholics, are (L to R): Angus R. MacDonell, of Alexandria, who donated a handmade grandfather clock that is being raffled off to support the Centre; Bishop Rosario Brodeur, formerly of the Diocese of Alexandria; Aunt Jemima; Alf Lee, Director of the Centre; Father Leo MacDonell, pastor of Precious Blood parish; and an unidentified nun assisting Bishop Brodeur.

Policy under review

A trustee of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Separate School Board has raised the possibility that the board's ban on hiring close relatives may be illegal or discriminatory.

According to Trustee Pierre Landry, the ban "seems to go against the Ontario Human Rights Act."

Mr. Landry brought the matter up at last week's board meeting, pointing out that the board's policy states that no close relatives, "by blood or marriage, be engaged or employed." The human rights act, he says, prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnic and family origin and, as far as Mr. Landry is concerned, "blood refers to one's ancestors and family background."

"I feel this is discriminatory, especially if the person in question is related but doesn't live under the same roof," he said.

Mr. Landry suggests that the policy be amended to include the words "living under the same roof."

Lifelong resident dies

A life-long resident of the Dalkeith and Alexandria areas, Callum MacGillivray, aged 82 years, passed away suddenly on Tuesday, May 19 at Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall.

He was the son of the late Donald MacGillivray and his wife Hannah MacMillan.

Callum is survived by his wife, the former Elizabeth Bethune, his sister, Mrs. Anna Brodie, three nephews, Ray, Eldred and Winston Brodie, all of Cornwall; and a niece, Mildred, Mrs. Doug Collins of Kingston.

The funeral service was held on Friday, May 22 at 2 p.m. at the Munro Funeral Home, Alexandria. Rev. J. Slade officiated. On Thursday evening, a Masonic service was held at the funeral home.

The pallbearers were: Ray and Winston Brodie, Lynus MacPherson, Donald MacGillivray, Louis Carriere and Clarence Bethune.

Interment was at Kirk Hill United Church cemetery.

Glen Sandfield

by Margo MacRae

Our sincere sympathies to Mrs. Callum MacGillivray on the death of her husband.

Mr. Douglas MacRae of Maitland Ontario attended the services for Mr. MacGillivray and visited with Mrs. Arthur MacMillan while in the area. He returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bethune of Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. MacRae will be moving to Brockville in June.

During the holiday weekend Mr. and Mrs. G.Sandford visited in Toronto with their new granddaughter Leeann Crystal whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sandford. Mr. Peter Sandford, another son of Mr. G. Sandford will be taking his young family to Bermuda where he has been hired by Bermuda Hydro.

Our sincere sympathies to Mrs. A.K. MacLennan on the death of her brother, Mr. John MacCuaig. His burial took place at Cote St. George cemetery on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Grant MacLennan invited family and friends to their home for dinner following the service.

A CHANCE TO GROW

The Year of the Disabled is a chance for those of us who consider ourselves able bodied to grow in sensitivity. The TABS (Temporarily Able Bodied Persons) must remember that at a few or many points of a lifetime everyone becomes dependent on others. A good exercise for growth would be to handicap oneself in one or many ways for part of several days. Imagine the loneliness of not being able to watch TV or listen to all the music in the world, or window shop, etc. etc.

Mrs. Gwen Vanek and son Gary of Ottawa spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd MacLennan.

Murray MacLachlan of Manotick visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald MacLachlan on the weekend.

ANNUAL HAM SUPPER

Once again you are reminded that the Kenyon Ladies Aid will hold its annual ham supper on Saturday, May 30, from 4:30 to 7:30. Give mother a holiday from the kitchen. Bring her to the supper.

SPRING CONCERT, GLENGARRY SCHOOL OF PIPING AND DRUMMING

Please make a note of the place of the concert. Last week we had made a mistake in the location. The spring concert will be held at the Maxville Sportsplex on June 4 at 8:30 p.m. A lunch will be served and admission is free.

MacRae and Kathryn Kennedy spent the weekend of the 23rd of May with his mother Mrs. Betty Kennedy, and attended the sale of household goods at the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swan.

Mrs. Anne (McPhee) MacRae of Vankleek Hill, is now a resident of Maxville Manor. Many of the older residents in this area will remember Anne MacRae when she taught at Stewart's Glen School, in the circa late 30s and early 40s.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hartrick attended the convocation at Queen's University, Kingston, on Saturday to see their daughter Janice receive her Bachelor of Nursing Science with first class honors. Janice has started to work this week at Sudbury Memorial Hospital. We wish her good luck and much happiness in her chosen occupation.

Betty Kennedy spent a few days visiting her cousin Isabel Goodfellow in Ottawa.

Now that spring has really arrived (I hope no more heavy frost), the many different fragrances floating on the breeze are sometimes hard to identify. It really is fun trying to follow them to their source. One that really intrigued me was a spicy sweet, but not too sweet, smell that I tracked to the black currant bushes. I never had black currants before, and really wish I could bottle the fragrance, for it is truly a delightful spring scent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis of Rochester, NY, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Chisholm and family on the weekend. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson of Montreal visited with them.

Quite a few people from here attended the golden anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Grant MacGillivray of Kirk Hill. We extend best wishes to them.

Mrs. Isabel MacLeod entertained the Ladies Aid last Thursday evening with a very good attendance.

Pork producers planning demonstration in Ottawa

Glengarry Pork Producers will be among an Eastern Ontario contingent planning a demonstration on Parliament Hill in Ottawa, Monday.

The producers will stage the demonstration from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. to inform consumers about the plight of pork farmers and to demand immediate action from Federal Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan.

Glengarry producer Robert Irwin told The News yesterday "the price of pork is far below cost of production" and many farmers favor a supply management marketing system.

Similar systems exist for other farm products such as milk, where quotas are fixed and prices established.

Mr. Irwin noted that the Glengarry association will meet Monday evening after the demonstration to vote on the supply management issue.

The meeting will be held at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in Alexandria.

Mr. Irwin said the low price of pork is causing the industry to lose young farmers and welcomed people to support the protest.

People seeking more information or transportation to the demonstration may call Henry Vander Byl, 525-2186, Marcel Leroux, 527-2079 or Mr. Irwin, 678-2232.

Participants are urged to bring a lunch.

Glengarry District High School hit by vandals twice during past week

Glengarry District High School in Alexandria was hit by vandals twice last week.

Alexandria Police report that someone forced the lock of the door of a portable at GDHS on May 20, but apparently nothing was taken from the classroom and apart from the door there was no apparent damage.

The following day, a police officer apprehended four youths now charged with cutting a hose which was part of a lawn sprinkler system at the high school.

Recently, a couple of 10-speed bicycles were stolen in town. On May 19 someone stole a bike belonging to Marc Roy from his home on St. George Street and on May 24 the theft of a bike belonging to Andree Gauthier of Sandfield Street was reported.

Alexandria Police indicate this type of theft becomes all too common during the summer months and warn bicycle owners to make sure that their bikes are secured.

Model airplane group putting on show at Conservation Area

The Cornwall Aero Modellers will put on a free demonstration of model aircraft flying at Gray's Creek Conservation Area Sunday, June 7.

Models from various areas, including Kingston, Ottawa, Quebec and New York State, will participate.

There will also be a demonstration of a radio controlled model helicopter.

Demonstrations take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The entrance to the conservation area, owned by the Raisin Region Conservation Authority, is located in Charlottenburgh Township on Boundary Road just north of Highway 2.

This is the Third Annual Radio Control Model Airplane Fun Fly organized by the aero modellers.

Lyall Costello dies suddenly in Ottawa, is mourned by many here

Lyall Thomas Costello died suddenly at his residence in Ottawa on Saturday, May 23 at the age of 59.

Lyall came to Alexandria in 1952 and spent about 20 years here during which time he was an active and involved citizen of the town. He was owner and operator of Western Tire at 25 Main St. until December 1967 when fire forced him to move to Main St. North.

He served on town council, was a member of Alexandria Lions Club and also served a term as president, was a dedicated parishioner of St. Finnan's, and a member of the golf and curling clubs. During these involvements he met and made many friends who deeply regret his passing.

Left to mourn are his wife, the former Theresa Gore, one son, Mike of Ottawa and two daughters Anne Marie of Smiths Falls and Helen of London. One brother and two sisters also survive. They are Pat of London; Dorothy, Mrs. Ambrose Mewett of Hudson Heights, Que., and Lois, Mrs. Barry Yates of Calgary.

His funeral was held on Tuesday, May 26 at Holy Cross Church, Ottawa, at 11 a.m.

Interment was in Indian Hill Cemetery, Pakenham.

Flying courses being offered

Flying courses will soon be offered in Alexandria by the Alexandria Flying Club, in conjunction with Cornwall Aviation Ltd.

The courses, which will lead to private or commercial licences to fly either single or double-engined aircraft, will be starting about June 1. The courses will be offered at the Alexandria Airport, on Power Dam Road.

A minimum of 35 hours air time is required to gain a flying licence.

All interested parties are requested to call Ron Munro at 525-2773 for further information.

Funding sought for pool

The proposed pool in the park lake project is awaiting approval from Wintario officials before a feasibility study will be performed.

Alexandria Park and Recreation Committee met recently and reviewed the terms of reference which had been drawn up by a study team. The terms and background of the present swimming facility were forwarded to the ministry.

The town hopes to get half of the cost of the study and construction of the pool from Wintario, said committee chairman Jean Larocque.

Word on approval of the feasibility study was expected later this week.

If the project was to be approved by Wintario following the study, building of the pool would start next spring.
