Excellent Grade 13 Results Reviewed At High School Commencement Exercises

Ninety-two percent of Grade 13 passed last year and six other students achieved an over 75 percent standing in addition to our Ontario Scholar, recalled Lorne F. Lawson, principal of Glengarry District High School as he addressed graduates and their families at Commencement Exercises, Friday night at the Bonnie Glen Pavilion.

Mr. Lawson was presenting the Ontario Scholarship to Jim Nyman and he observed that this is the highest academic award in the high school system. Jim is one of only four who have been so honored in Glengarry County. The principal expressed some misgivings concerning the discontinuing of departmental Grade 13 exams. "They represented a worthwhile accomplishment. We will need to find a suitable replacement to safeguard the standards in our schools," he continued.

He took the opportunity of discussing with parents and students a matter close to the hearts of many educationists in today's world: "Generally we have good results, but I am concerned about those students who are not graduating."

He admonished young people for expecting too much from parents and community and Mr. Lawson was concerned over the fact too many students are spending too much time downtown and too often are going "down East".

Referring to the proposed new county boards planned by the department of education Mr. Lawson felt our school would not likely be better off. "We now have a very diligent and progressive school board", he observed.

Speaking in French, Executive Assistant Rene Gauthier expressed his pleasure in seeing so great a number of graduates being presented with diplomas. At the same time he deplored the fact there could have been many more.

Too many are not adequately prepared in our primary schools for receiving an education, he felt. "A 1907 attitude is being maintained in one or two-room schools while teaching in 1967. Our people must get rid of the small schools as soon as possible", he concluded.

Miss Elizabeth Brunet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brunet, Alexandria, was valedictorian. She declared that the future would bring success and happiness to the graduates in their careers if they work towards the highest end and render worthwhile service to mankind.

Miss Louise Legault, who shared the valedictory honors, gave her address in French and thanked teachers, parents and friends for their support.

Board Chairman Arcade Trottier welcomed the assembly. Rev. Russell Ferguson of Dunvegan gave the invocation and Rev. Rejean Lebrun gave the closing prayer. Members of the board and school staff made the presentation of diplomas and prizes to:

Minor Mishaps On Slushy Roads

Heavy wet snow which set in Friday afternoon made for slushy, slippery roads over the weekend and was a factor in many traffic accidents on area roads. There were no fatalities and injuries were minor.

A six-car pile-up on Highway 401 at 8 p.m. Friday night near Boundary Road, Cornwall, held up traffic but involved no serious injuries.

Three cars were involved in another crash near Green Valley on Highway 34 at 1.28 p.m. The car of Duncan McDougall, 66, of Green Valley, received damage estimated by police at $300. There was no damage to the car of Wildy Cholette, 46, of RR1 Lancaster.

Driver of the other vehicle was Denis Roy, 21, of Green Valley. His car received $300 damage.

Police said no one was injured in the accident but Cholette received a bruised leg while standing near the tow truck. Const. Robert Decaire investigated.

Another accident on Highway 401, three miles east of Lancaster at 1 a.m., was investigated by Constables Terry Seguin and Ralph Picard of Lancaster detachment, OPP.

One car was involved, police said. Driver was Gordon MacDonald, 19, of Cornwall. Damage to the car was $1,200.

MacDonald and his passenger, Gail Gebbie of Alexandria, were both admitted to Hotel Dieu Hospital. They suffered contusions and lacerations but have since left hospital.

While en route to the Aubin accident, Const. Seguin also investigated a similar mishap on County Road 10 which resulted in $125 damage to a late model vehicle owned and driven by Jean-Paul Paradis, 46, of Montreal.

Very Good Year Reviewed By Games' Committee

Another good year, probably the most successful yet at the box-office was reviewed at the recent annual meeting of the Glengarry Highland Games Committee held at Maxville.

The same slate of officers was returned with Reeve Hugh Smith as president; Angus H. McDonell, chairman; Walter Blaney, 1st vice-president; Rod MacLennan, 2nd vice-president; John Jamieson, secretary and Mrs. Rod MacLennan, treasurer.

A delegation from the Montreal Caledonian Games organization was present to ask assistance in organizing their Games. They are moving from Lachine to Ormstown where they will join forces with the local Agricultural Society in sponsoring Games on June 29th.

Chairman Angus H. McDonell will act as honorary chairman of these first Games at Ormstown and other Maxville officers will help in organization.

Maxville Manor Now Underway

Construction of Maxville Manor, the new 91-bed home for the aged, is to start today. Contractor Noel Couture of Cornwall, has had equipment on the site for some two weeks awaiting receipt of final approvals for financing and plans.

These arrived this week, reports Mrs. Verna MacGregor, board secretary, and Mr. Couture has been authorized to make an immediate start on construction.

Some 50 canvassers have been out for the past week and Mrs. MacGregor reports very encouraging early results in the drive for $100,000 in public subscriptions.

Total cost of the building and equipment will be in excess of $900,000 and a federal loan of $400,000 has been approved to meet part of the cost.

Delay In Arrival Of New Condenser For Ice-Making Holds Up Opening

Ice-making at Glengarry Gardens is still awaiting arrival of a new condenser for the ice-making machine. Meanwhile Alexandria's new recreation director, John Chornabay, arrived Monday to take over his new duties as arena manager.

He has since been busy at the arena supervising minor repairs to equipment and getting the Gardens readied for the season ahead.

The new unit for the ice-making equipment is an air-cooled ammonia condenser which will replace the present water-cooled condenser. According to Arena Committee Chairman Duncan Macdonell the new ice-making method should provide a saving of $1,000 a year on water consumption. It should also give greater efficiency in operation of the plant.

The unit was ordered more than two weeks ago and should have arrived this week. Efforts to trace it indicate the condenser has been shipped from the U.S. plant but has not yet reached Customs.

Ice should be ready a week after the new condenser arrives and that should be any day now, according to Mr. Macdonell.

NOW AN R.N.—Miss Helen St. Denis of Greenfield, is among area nurses who qualified recently for their RN degree. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene St. Denis, Greenfield, she is a graduate of Glengarry District High School and Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, where she is now a member of the nursing staff.

A native of Alexandria, Alfred Lauzon died suddenly Wednesday, Nov. 15th in Cornwall. He was 71 and resided at 129 Cornwallis Ave. in that city.

Enlarging Counties Health Unit To Include Prescott And Russell Counties

The final session of the 1967 county council was held Tuesday in the courtroom of the County Building, Cornwall, with the chamber decked with centennial flags, a tribute to Canada's first century.

Several by-laws were passed by the councillors, including a by-law authorizing a debenture issue for a grant to Cornwall General Hospital. This debenture which amounts to $285,000 is authorized, but may not actually be issued for some time.

The Counties will enter into an agreement combining Health Unit services in the United Counties and the City of Cornwall and those in the counties of Prescott and Russell into a District Health Unit.

A by-law authorized an agreement with the provincial department of health to provide a subsidized ambulance service for those needing further medical attention.

The committee of management for Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge was authorized to proceed with the remodelling of the present nurses' quarters there into suitable small apartments for married couples who may be residents of the Lodge.

The education committee appointed members to district high school boards in the counties: G. G. Aubry, a member of Glengarry District High School for the next three years; B. H. McQuaig was appointed to Osnabruck District High School Board; J. Frank Casselman to North Dundas District and J. P. Shaver to South Dundas District High School; Earl MacNeil to Maxville and District board. The appointments, other than Mr. Aubry's, are for the year 1968.

Council passed resolutions of condolence to the families of former members T. R. Parker of Morrisburg, and D. S. McIntosh of Martintown, and observed one minute of silence. Resolutions of appreciation were made to Rev. Kenneth McDonald of Martintown, who delivered the invocation, and J. L. C. Lecours, reeve of L'Orignal, Ont., who provided the flags to decorate the chamber and council tables.

Since Tuesday's session concludes the 1967 term, Warden Archibald MacDonell expressed his appreciation to councillors and members of the Counties' staff for co-operation received during his term as warden. During the lunch hour, Mr. MacDonell was presented with an inscribed gold watch as a mark of appreciation for his services to the counties.

Area Man Among Top Cheesemakers

Gerald McBain, head cheesemaker at Hawkesbury Dairy Cheese Factory, Greenlane, Ont., had an average score of 93.54% on all cheese made from June to September, 1967.

This is an enviable record since all the cheese plants in Eastern Ontario are eligible and Mr. McBain's record has placed him in second position.

Mr. McBain is from Apple Hill, and has been in charge of the Greenlane plant for 14 years under the direction of its owner, John Fraser of Vankleek Hill.

The cheese plant dates back prior to 1890, and is one of the oldest in Eastern Ontario (continuous operation for 77 years). It has been completely rebuilt and renovated using most modern stainless steel equipment available for a cheese operation. It was acquired by Fraser's in 1948.

A native of Glengarry, Mrs. Catherine Owen of Albuquerque, New Mexico, marks her 94th birthday on Friday, Nov. 24th. Mrs. Owen is the former Catherine MacGillivray a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. D. MacGillivray of Alexandria.

Despite her advanced years, Mrs. Owen is still very active about her home and retains all her faculties.

D. E. Kennedy Died At 72

A resident of the Apple Hill district, Donald Ewen Kennedy died suddenly at his home on Wednesday, November 8., at the age of 72. He was the eldest son of the late Allan A. Kennedy and his wife, Christine MacDonell.

In ill health, for the past six years, Mr. Kennedy was confined to his home most of the time. Prior to his retirement, he was engaged in farming. He was very active in the Holstein Club and took a keen interest in promotion of the 4-H Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Jean McDonell of Greenfield; two sons, Ewen at home and Hubert of Ottawa; one daughter, Sheila of Ottawa, two grandchildren, Shannon and Karen Kennedy. Also surviving are four sisters, Sister Mary Eusibea, Trenton; Sister Kennedy, Ottawa; Mrs. A. B. Mahony, (Irene) Smiths Falls; Mrs. C. J. Macdonell, Green Valley and two brothers, Alex, Apple Hill and Jay of Ottawa.

The funeral, largely attended, took place on Saturday at 10 a.m. from the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home to St. Raphael's Church where requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. M. J. O'Brien. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

The pallbearers were six nephews of the deceased, Stuart Kennedy, Edward Macdonell, Bernard Daniels, Ralph McDonell, Ronald Kennedy and Peter McDonell.

Nor'Wester Museum Closes After Successful Season

The Nor'Wester Museum at Williamstown has been closed down for the winter after a most successful opening season. Some 700 people visited the museum, housed in the old Public School building at Williamstown, since the official opening on Sept. 5th.

That day the museum started off with a re-enactment of the arrival of the voyageurs from the head of the lakes, an address by former Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Hon. Keiller McKay, flag raising ceremonies, unveiling of a plaque and a dinner of buffalo meat.

The opening proved to be a major success, followed soon after by another busy weekend during the annual Williamstown Fair. Miss A. L. Dunlop and Miss Christie Grant had plenty of guests at the museum, from as far away as Mexico City, the British West Indies and virtually all parts of Canada and the United States.

Glengarry Historical Society board member Ian McMartin reviewed a few of the efforts made to date by the Society and the committee in charge of organizing exhibits. The greatest volunteer effort went into preparation of the building for public view in the week before the opening, after the contractor completed the restoration of the structure.

Mrs. Duncan Grant, who was organizer on behalf of the Society for the opening day ceremonies, praised the efforts of those who arranged the exhibits just in time for opening day. The museum is divided into two sections, the downstairs portion of the old school being designated the Loyalist Room.

It is dominated by a replica of the Loyalist flag of the time of George III. Paintings of Bishop Alexander Macdonell and other Glengarry notables adorn the walls, some of them gifts to the museum, some on loan. Miles MacDonell's portable chest for papers is here; Col. Fraser of Fraserfield's sword. Maps of the county and adjoining areas, marked in many cases with the names of property owners of a century or more ago, are prominently displayed.

Upstairs, the old school rooms have been converted into a single large hall, and the Nor'Wester flag hangs on the wall. Largest exhibit, filling almost the whole south end of the room is the birch bark canoe the 1967 voyageurs brought from the north west, an exact replica of those used to transport trade goods across the interior of Canada.

A large map will eventually be used to illustrate the routes followed by such famous explorers as David Thompson, who lived at Williamstown for years, several MacDonalds and MacDonells and many others.

An especially interesting case contains relics which have been recovered from places where trade canoes were wrecked and lost in the early days. Recent development of skin diving techniques have made this possible.

Another section contains examples of Indian craft work. Simon Fraser's snuff box is here, carefully kept under a large bell jar. An exhibit of Eskimo relics has just been returned to the government department at Ottawa after being on display during the season.

The Society has plenty of plans for the museum and is delighted with response to the museum both locally and from far afield, Mr. McMartin said. There are plans for the future ranging all the way from new exhibits, an Indian days program for an early summer weekend to mark the season's reopening, and perhaps most important in some ways, further work on the interior of the building.

The committee wants to paint the building. It wants to arrange and build up more exhibits. With this in mind it is interested in any further material with North West associations.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Book Week Unmarked Here

Young Canada Book Week was marked in many centres across the country during the period November 15-22. It is a week devoted to the cause of creating an interest in good books among the younger generation, and a special effort to bring children and books together.

That would be difficult in Alexandria which boasts no public library and where most citizens appear almost totally unconcerned with the lack.

There may have been special emphasis on good reading this week at Glengarry District High School which has a fairly extensive library, due to be materially enlarged with completion of the school addition. A travelling bookmobile this year is also making more books available to the students and there should be little excuse for graduates of the school not being well read.

It seems unfortunate that the school library is not made available to the general public as is the case in other centres. At Maxville, we note, the High School library is open to the public each Tuesday night and it may be the intention of local school authorities to similarly make the expanded library a community facility when the new wing is occupied.

A school library, however, would not entirely meet the need served by a good public library. Those in the community who are conscious of our lack should continue working toward the goal no matter the paucity of encouragement encountered. We should not be satisfied with the pocket-book and magazine racks that offer such poor fare but are the only source of reading material for public consumption here.

The benefits to be derived from good reading are manifold and, once enjoyed, this pleasure will continue throughout life. Needed, however, is cultivation of the idea of good reading among the youths of the land. This was being promoted during Young Canada Book Week in communities across the land fortunate enough to boast a live public library. Alexandria was not one of them.

Will We Ever Get Out Of Debt?

A story datelined New York throws a good deal of light on the reasons for some of our personal financial troubles, writes the editor of the Wingham News-Record. Although the statistics apply to residents of the United States he suggests it is likely that the figures for Canada would show a remarkable resemblance.

The article says: "The rush to buy now and pay later piled up debts averaging $6,840 for every man, woman and child in the United States last year. This year it is running even higher.

"The only thing increasing faster than personal debt is personal bankruptcy. It has tripled in the last ten years."

The article proceeds to enumerate the ways in which the time-payment spender is being taken "into camp" by the astute credit manager who offers interest on deferred payments at a soothing 1½% per month — which is, of course, a staggering 18% in a year.

When a buyer is dealing with some of the large corporations he faces an exercise in patience to get across the point that he wants to pay cash for his purchase. The fact is that the credit division of the company may be more profitable than the sales department.

The worrisome part of the whole credit-buying situation is that it has long since created the very conditions which led to the Great Depression of the Dirty Thirties. When one segment of this extended-credit shelf breaks off it is liable to bring down an avalanche of bankruptcies which could spell ruin for the entire economy.

Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp last week warned the Commons that tax increases are in store for Canadians. He didn't specify who would be asked to take on the extra load, but the assumption is that every one of us will feel the bite through increases in personal income tax. His reason was that the economic structure is in such shaky condition that higher taxes must be levied to stabilize the situation.

There is good reason to doubt the validity of his plan. Spiralling inflation is one of the evidences of our insecure financial structure and certainly higher taxes are the most direct and positive method of increasing inflation. After all—if the price of milk goes up you can tell the kids to drink a little less — but there is no way of economizing on taxes. Higher taxes inevitably mean demands for higher profits and higher wages.

We believe Mr. Sharp's proposal would have made a great deal more sense had it lowered the boom on credit buying in many of those areas of the economy where purchases can be classed as non-essential.

Canadians are one jump ahead of Americans where credit buying is concerned. Legislation has at least been passed in this country demanding that simple details and essential information about the cost of credit must be supplied with every contract for deferred payments. However, it is amazing how few purchasers are capable of understanding even the basic facts of an interest-bearing payment plan when they are spelled out for them.

Bigger School Boards--But Better?

Premier John Robarts has announced plans for major surgery on Ontario's 1,654 school boards. More than 1,500 of these will be abolished when and if the proposed legislation takes effect and some 100 county boards will rule Ontario's primary and secondary schools.

The new school units will be established on county boundaries, except in Metro Toronto and a few other large cities. They will be responsible directly to the electorate and will do their own money raising by issuing separate tax bills to the public, instead of requisitioning the funds they need from municipal councils.

The larger units, according to Premier Robarts, will facilitate planning on a broader base. At the same time it will be possible to ensure avoidance of duplication of accommodation, transportation, staffing and the like while "establishing the basis for a sound utilization of the tax dollar".

The new system, he adds, will equalize education costs across the new units. "All of the property in this unit will now support the total educational program, thereby eliminating to an even greater degree inequities within the area . . . it will reduce further financial inequalities between the areas".

Legislation to impose the new school boundaries will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature. It is not clear whether separate schools in Glengarry will lose their local boards. Mr. Robarts said the government was also contemplating the possibility of establishing larger units for separate schools. Education department officials reported the aim of the government is to consolidate separate school units but that they might not permit the same kind of consolidation planned for the public schools.

The fact that Premier Robarts made the announcement of the proposed changes, rather than the Minister of Education, may indicate that this is in the nature of "kite-flying" and that reaction across the province will be assessed carefully. Already there has been criticism and the president of the Ontario Public School Trustees Association, Neil MacEachren of Waterloo, feels trustees would be unable to cope with the responsibilities of a county-level education system. "It's getting hard to handle school affairs even at the township level", he declared.

We are left wondering, too, where men and women are to be found competent and willing to cope with the complex problems a county-wide board of trustees will have to face. No doubt the new board will be paid for its labors but the compensation will have to be on a liberal scale if people capable of budgetting education costs of an entire county are to be inveigled into dealing with all the local objections to change.

Two years ago public school boards were consolidated at the township level. The intent was one central school unit to provide a wider curriculum and special services on a par with city schools. The merger of Lochiel and Alexandria has yet to become a happy marriage as the board bickers over the locale of that larger school. An earlier attempt to consolidate all secondary schools in Glengarry ended in failure as local boards insisted on retaining their schools.

We see local objections, too, for Premier Robarts' plan to equalize education costs across the county. All property is to support the county-wide program, thus further reducing financial inequalities between the various areas. Some may see this equalizing as a downgrading of the quality of teaching or other facilities they now enjoy. The new county board of trustees will have to be a hardy lot if it starts shifting teachers between schools and jumping local mill rates in order to eliminate any present inequities, real or fancied.

We like Premier Robarts' plan to have school boards do their own taxing to meet their spending proclivities. We have our doubts he will be able to staff a board of trustees capable of dealing with education problems right across the county.

Young Opinions . . .

Thoughts Of A Teacher

(by Ruth Humphries, Grade 13)

The school bell has not rung yet—it is still Labour Day weekend.

I walk through the halls, pondering. I picture my future pupils groaning when asked if they are ready to begin a new year. They will enter these long, wide halls, and these halls will seem narrow with locker doors open and books stacked outside classrooms. The teens will push their way about, with excess energy to burn after sitting so long in a boring class. Dear God, please may they enjoy coming to my room—I want to be an inspiring teacher. My fellow teachers smile as they sit at their desks in classrooms preparing a schedule. Lots of vigour—how long will it last?

I cannot walk crisply—my energy is gone. I have so much to learn as a teacher; I am inexperienced. These halls are quiet now, offering me consolation and sympathy. The shiny floors are now scuffed. They, too, met the rush of students. The orange peelings are scattered where some foolish person kicked them. A locker door is partly open with a new book, now dirty, lying in front. I do not want my students to have such little regard for the books of the subject I teach. Study . . . I must go home and study to be able to teach interesting lessons in order to keep them enjoying education. The halls echo the clatter of my footsteps.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

WORK MUST GO ON

Alexandria
Nov. 15/67

The editor,
Glengarry News,

As the annual Christmas Seal campaign is now on. I would like to take this opportunity to make an appeal for its support. For over 4½ decades, I have been intimately associated with the drive to wipe out tuberculosis in this district. The lung clinics carried on over the years have been a large factor in decreasing the deaths from this disease. No doubt there are still undetected cases in our midst and the fight must still be continued.

Research is being carried on to provide the final solution. The funds from sale of Christmas Seals are used to carry on this work. Everyone can help in this effort by buying Christmas Seals.

D. J. Dolan, MD.

BITTERNESS SPOILS

Alexandria, Ont.

The editor,
Glengarry News,

Subject to Mrs. Turcot's letter in last week's paper . . . the lady is plenty mad, and I don't think that anyone, at this point, could or should appease her, except perhaps long enough so that she won't shoot some hunter next year.

However, as there are many good arguments against hunting, and I would agree with most, her flagrant attributes of "sick, neurotic minds-moronic delight in savage butchery, etc.", are exaggerated, and regrettably detract from the many good points outlined in her letter.

Gerry Dextras.

The Weeklies Say

THROWS HANDS IN HORROR

Ever since the federal government has been in the Yukon, it has paid its employees a substantial cost of living bonus. It has supplied them with subsidized housing and stated that it can't get employees unless it does. Yet the same government throws up its hands in horror at the mere mention of subsidizing private enterprise . . . by the simple method of tax incentives.

SAVES OTHERS

Credit unionism among citizens is a good thing. It makes money available for things that would otherwise not be available to the average person. At the same time, it saves others from falling into the hands of loan sharks.—Dawson Creek (BC) Peace River Block News.

WITH OUR

by Ed.

OUR NEW SIGN IS UP

Our office front is almost finished after all this time. Bruce Abrames finally got around to providing what we think is an eye-catching sign over our door and that door now boasts a mail drop.

After 70 or more years at the same stand it could be supposed this newspaper office would be anything but hard to find. But it's surprising what a disguise can do in the way of mystifying even old friends.

Put a complete new face on the building, arrange to have its neighbor reduced to a parking space by fire and people who have been regular visitors through the years will hesitate to try your new door.

All through the summer we've been dashing to the door at regular intervals to inveigle in people who seemed to be potential customers. They've walked by the windows, peering puzzledly at the new front, or timidly tried the door before deciding the News office must be in the next block.

Now there'll be no room for doubt. "The Glengarry News" is up there in 10-inch letters carved to resemble the lettering on our masthead. We think the white lettering looks rather nice and we had the approval, Monday, of no less a connoisseur than Mrs. R. J. Graham who thought the sign both attractive and business like. Not only that—she found our new door fancy and ornate.

The letter-drop is something we hope will be not only ornamental but useful. We like letters to the editor and we never get enough of them. It's just possible there are readers who might air their views but who don't relish the thought of wasting a stamp on the missive. Ergo the letter drop. Now they can write moving letters to the editor and drop 'em in the slot on our door without paying the Postmaster General one cent.

Advertisers are welcome to use the letter-drop, too, if it's late in the day but not past our advertising deadlines.

A timely thought—Take a gander at our new sign next time you're passing and it may be a reminder that Christmas is coming and there's no gift to compare with a year's subscription to The Glengarry News.

ARMOR AGAINST WINTER

Christmas seals arrived in the mails last weekend to remind that Christmas is only one month away. As Dr. Dolan notes in a letter in the adjoining column the seals are as well a reminder that there are still cases of tuberculosis among us.

Our support of the Christmas seals fund is a contribution toward fighting this disease that was once so deadly in Glengarry and which remains a threat.

Christmas will be here sooner than we think and certainly that was the case with winter's onset. A fall of three or four inches of snow before Nov. 15th can be taken in stride if the pesky stuff knows enough not to linger. But when the weekend brings more of the same and it shows every indication it's here to stay then we get the sinking feeling we're in for a record long, hard winter, one calculated to try our patience and endurance.

Your Rambling Reporter is determined not to let early cold and snow get him down, though. He's closing his mind to the long look and he's going to take each day as it comes. If it's cloudy he'll be looking for the silver lining. If the wind is bone chilling he'll try and remember how cosy it is indoors. When the snow is making it an effort to ramble, as was the case over the weekend, he'll recall all those people who keep dreaming of a white Christmas and he'll be happy for those hardy types who can now cavort over the powdery surface in their snarling ski-doos.

To make it short, we're going to don our armor of imperturbability and make the best of what the weatherman dishes out over the next four or five months. It's the only way to survive a winter that sets in so early and with so much malice.

Public health officials say cigarette ads are terrible—you'd almost think they were trying to sell the things instead of scaring people.

Slides Shown At Monthly Meeting Historical Group

The November meeting of the Glengarry Historical Society was held in the board room of the Department of Agriculture office with the president, Mrs. W. A. MacKinnon, in the chair. In order to keep business discussion to a minimum the president briefly commented upon several items that would need to be dealt with at a later date by the executive.

It was reported that owing to the death of her brother, the curator had not been able to make use of a $50.00 centennial grant offered to the Glengarry Museum to assist with the expenses of attending the Ontario Historical Society Museum's Workshop at St. Thomas in mid-October.

A letter from Peter Styrmo, Museum's Advisor, was turned over to J. D. MacLeod, chairman of the Glengarry Museum building committee, for further study. Mr. Styrmo advised that the next major building project should be the replacing of the verandah and the erection of the "Star Inn" sign.

On display was a copy of "The Ancestral Roof", a best seller donated to the Glengarry Museum by its author, a former Glengarrian, Miss Marion MacRae. The society is also indebted to Miss MacRae for her gift of two regency chairs from the home of John MacDonald of Garth at Inverarden, Grey's Creek. These will be displayed when the North West museum reopens in the spring.

A letter from a member was commented on, in which attention was drawn to the fact that today "there remains no visible symbol of the role of the Scot in our history since the cross of St. Andrew was removed from the national flag." He therefore urged that the cross of St. Andrew be flown "alongside our national flag on the 30th of November to commemorate the part taken by Scots in our development as a nation, past, present and future".

The nominating committee appointed to present a slate of officers at the February annual meeting consists of John D. MacLeod, Ian McMartin and Mrs. Clarence MacMillan.

As it is hoped to make the Elementary School History Essay an annual event, J. T. Smith and Brian Black were appointed as nucleus of a committee to decide upon essay title, rules, etc.

The next item on the agenda was the showing of a set of beautiful slides commented upon by Hugh P. MacMillan, organizer of the North West Canoe Brigade that travelled from Grand Portage, Minn., via Fort William down the Ottawa, to Expo, thence to Williamstown for the opening of the North West Museum. Following this Kenneth MacKinnon showed a movie of the opening ceremonies.

A short coffee break was followed by the showing of slides taken by Rev. H. R. Ferguson during the removal of the old driving shed from the Township Hall at Greenfield to its present site at the Glengarry Museum in Dunvegan. Next shown were Glengarry slides taken and commented upon by Mrs. Keith Franklin. With a keen eye for detail, Mrs. Franklin brought to the attention of the audience such things as squared timbers, pine log houses, cedar log houses, solid brick walls, stone walls and stone chimneys apparently built without the use of mortar.

Won Gold Medal In Beef Judging At Royal

John McIntyre, some of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McIntyre, Avonmore, won a gold medal in beef judging at the Junior Farmer Livestock Competition held at the Royal Winter Fair. In addition to being a medal winner, Mr. McIntyre placed fourth in the overall competition. There were over 60 young farmers from across Ontario participating in this annual event.

In addition to judging dairy and beef cattle, swine and sheep, participants spent four days previous to the competition touring various farm enterprises throughout Central Ontario.

The Livestock Judging Competition at the Royal is the climax of young farmer activities throughout the province. Candidates from the various counties are selected by the local Agricultural Representative.

The Weeklies Say

UNREALISTIC TO ASK

Almost every village, town, city or hamlet has its privately-owned athletic club of lodge halls, church buildings or church-owned lands. Many of these are exempted from tax . . . It is unrealistic to ask taxpayers to continue to subsidize churches, clubs and lodges with which they have no connection whatever. —Leduc (Alta.)

TO BE ENCOURAGED

Any reasonable measure which can be implemented and will effectively deter individuals from operating motor vehicles while their ability is impaired or, as in some cases, completely obliterated through alcohol, is to be encouraged and welcomed by the public at large. —Vernon (BC) News

All Are Needed In Building God's Kingdom Mixed Congregation Told

"All religious, ethnic and linguistic groups are needed in the building of God's Kingdom", Rev. Leonard S. Woolfrey declared in concluding his homily at the ecumenical service held Nov. 10th in the Church on the Hill. Clergy and laity of the three local churches took part in the service and made up the large congregation.

Referring to his text "After this I beheld, and, lo, a great crowd which no man could number, of all races, kindreds and tongues who stood before the throne clothed in white robes and palms in their hands," Mr. Woolfrey spoke of the extraction of its symbolism. "Then, isn't it a picture of the kind of world we as Christians are trying to build amidst the ashes and ruins of false philosophies, strange ideologies and pagan materialism?" "Isn't it a picture, shorn of its symbolism of the kind of world that God would have us help him establish here and now?"

"Let us look at the multitude which the seer of Patmos saw in his dream. They were standing before God acknowledging Him as Saviour and Lord. A better community, a better home must begin with God." "We come to God Through Jesus Christ."

"A nation that turns its back on God and goes after the gods of self and materialism is bound to fail," he continued.

This crowd that John saw were clothed in white robes—whiteness for purity. Purity suggests a high regard and reverence for life; it means love and an outgoing concern for the lost and the friendless. It is respect for the opposite sex and faithfulness in marriage. It entails repect for our bodies, for they are temples of the holy spirit.

"The palms in their hands are associated with triumph, for they had overcome their passions, lusts and selfish ideas. We triumph over our moral and spiritual handicaps by the help of God."

He referred to this as the overall picture of the City of God, and related it to the need for a society where each, according to his abilities, will have the opportunity to develop his gifts and thereby make a worthwhile contribution to the world.

The first ecumenical service in Alexandria was held at St. Finnan's Cathedral last January and was followed by a service at the park July 4.

Msgr. Donald Kerr of St. Finnan's Cathedral and Rev. Rheal Bisaillon of Sacred Heart Parish assisted in the service of worship. Msgr. Kerr read from the Old Testament, Isaiah 35, while Father Bisaillon read in English and French from Revelations 8: 9-12 in the New Testament.

Ranald MacDonald, layman of St. Finnan's Parish; Bruce Sova layman of the United Church; and Pierre Rouette, layman of Sacred Heart Parish, participated in the reading of litanies.

A combined choir of the three congregations was led by Mrs. J. A. Wightman with Mrs. D. M. Macleod at the organ. The Centennial hymn was sung as an anthem.

Assisted Service

The youth choir from the Church on the Hill and the Campbell family from Breadalbane, will assist in the service of praise at Glen Sandfield United Church on Sunday, November 26th, at 7.30 p.m.

The 1968 Ford. Quiet. Strong. Beautiful.

The 1968 Ford: the newest expression of the Fords that showed themselves astoundingly strong, wonderfully quiet—test after test, drive after drive. Back in 1965, Ford showed itself even quieter than a Rolls Royce . . . in 1966, Ford showed its quiet strength against the finest European luxury cars . . . in 1967, Ford showed its rugged durability conquering the steep steps of the Los Angeles Coliseum. Now in 1968, the new generation Ford is, more than ever, a great road car.

Every one's a beauty too: the formal, elegant 2-and 4-door LTD'S. The racy convertibles. Luxurious wagons. A spirited new fastback that seats six. And behind the good looks, better ideas: power disc brakes, rear window defogger, 7 position tilt steering wheel, "no headlight" headlights (neatest disappearing trick of the year), AM Radio-StereoSonic tape system and lots more. So many features, in fact that your '68 Ford is almost custom outfitted for you.

Ford's new improved SelectShift transmission (works both manually and automatically) puts three speeds into action, for greater flexibility and livelier performance with Ford's new V-8 engines. V-8's from a brand new 302 CID powerplant . . . all the way up to the rugged 428. For snappy performance plus six-cylinder thrift, there's the 240 cu. in. Big Six.

FORD ...has a better idea.

Attitude To Life Important Valedictorian Tells Char-Lan Grads

"We all have the self-consciousness and the personal power to determine our own way. It all depends on our making the right choices" graduates of Charlottenburgh-Lancaster District High School were reminded in the valedictory delivered by Mary Cooper, at Saturday's Commencement Exercises.

She cautioned that a choice is never a single decision, as it is determined by our attitude to life itself.

A first-year student at Ottawa Teachers College and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper, RR1 Williamstown, the valedictorian concluded her talk with the wish that "God may grant us the serenity to accept all things we cannot change, courage to change all the things we can and wisdom to know the difference".

Adults should not be overly pessimistic over today's youths, stressed Cornwall lawyer Patrick V. Rudden who addressed the large audience. "The young people of today are confused when they discover older persons don't always follow their own advice, thus causing them to think that the adult approach to life is sometimes hypercritical," he said.

He urged the youth not to judge morality and religion from the examples given by some adults, but to study and seek the truth in their own religion themselves.

Mr. Rudden also reviewed some of the problems confronting youth and their desire to have a cause in life.
