'Undesirables' demand apology from Lalonde

Residents in Alexandria's geared-to-income housing are demanding an apology from Reeve Bruno Lalonde.

The reeve referred to inhabitants of public housing as "undesirables" at a recent council meeting and suggested the town not support any more geared-to-income housing.

Denise Brunet termed the reeve's outburst "a blow below the belt" while Veronica Lajoie called the comment "a dirty remark."

Reeve Lalonde made the remark about inhabitants of the town's 15-unit provincially subsidized family housing project after some bad personal experiences.

He claims people have moved out of his private apartment and into the subsidized housing without paying their back rent and giving proper notice.

He also says some people from the housing project don't pay their bills to area merchants.

"They are protected," the reeve said. "They don't have to pay bills. They don't have to pay rents and they don't give a damn about Alexandria's merchants," he said.

"I say the per cent desirable are less than the per cent undesirable."

Ms. Brunet, manager of the town's Studio 8 shop, was outraged.

"I am a merchant of Alexandria. What is he talking about!" she snapped.

She said the reeve had inflicted "a blow below the belt" by slurring all residents in the building.

"Just because one bad apple is in the barrel, he shouldn't condemn all of us," the single parent of two children said.

She said the geared-to-income housing has allowed her to carve out a living for her family.

"If it hadn't been for this place, God only knows what would have happened to me."

Veronica Lajoie said Reeve Lalonde's "dirty remark" showed lack of compassion.

"It's like saying we're good for nothing," the widow said. "It's not my fault my husband is dead."

She said she still has three children at home to support.

"He doesn't have to put us all down. I don't owe him anything. Let him come and look at my cheque at the end of the month after I've paid my bills and he'll find I don't have a cent left."

Reeve Lalonde is also critical of provincial policy which allows someone to qualify for public housing after living in Ontario for only 12 months.

Mrs. Lajoie said she agreed with the reeve on this point and objected to "people from Quebec moving in when there are so many of our own people in town who need the housing."

Rita Filion, who shares an apartment with her 17-year-old daughter noted that "some people are poor but it's not because they want to be poor." She said she was "not very happy" with the reeve's general remark.

She noted that sometime people need help and housing is a necessity of life.

"When you're poor and you have to live in a dump, it doesn't help much," she said.

Ann Lessard said some residents feel "a public apology" is in order.

"I don't see why, because of a few people, everyone has to take criticism like that."

Georgette MacMillan noted that during harsh economic times "a lot of people have reason for not being able to pay bills" and it "isn't fair" to make public statements such as those uttered by the reeve.

She questioned why he did not settle his business problems privately with the people directly involved.

William Hulls, manager of the Cornwall and District Housing Authority which administers the Alexandria facility, said he suspects the incident of bad debts among residents in public housing is no greater than in society as a whole.

His department supervises about 1,300 units, of which approximately 400 are family units while the rest are senior citizens units.

About 130 units are in the private sector, where both the resident and the Housing Authority each pay a portion of the rent.

He said the number of tenants in arrears is "less than three per cent."

He noted that Alexandria residents will contribute about $25,000 in rent this year and the building will contribute about $7,000 in property taxes for Alexandria.

He confirmed that residency requirements are only 12 months and that municipal residents don't necessarily get first choice at units.

He says this allows the province to move people around to where they can find employment, noting that this has sometimes resulted in Alexandria's favor.

"In the last two to three years, we have been able to move people from Alexandria to Cornwall," he noted.

One person was moved "so that he was able to take a job." A woman was moved so that she could take manpower retraining and "she'll be able to get back into the workforce."

Lochiel may face $100,000 lawsuit

Lochiel Township has until April 29 to change its position on the Gateway House alcoholic rehabilitation centre or face a $100,000 lawsuit.

Gateway House President Don Riopelle says he is writing one more letter to council requesting the necessary re-zoning of land on Laggan Road to accommodate the $660,000 project.

Council originally backed the scheme, but then backed away after meeting with resistance from neighbors.

Based on council's approval in principle, however, Gateway House invested about $100,000 in the property, architect's fees, legal fees, etc.

"We'll give them until the 29th of the month to answer our letter and then we'll sue for $100,000," Mr. Riopelle said.

He said the non-profit, charitable institution is disturbed about the way it was handled by council and was surprised at how fiercely some people opposed having an alcoholic treatment centre in the area.

"I say to myself, what kind of an area is this?"

He suggested some people were less than charitable towards people in need of help. He said if people don't want to have alcoholics in their area, they can at least re-imburse Gateway House for the investment it made in good faith based on council's original support.

"Let the good, Christian hand dig into its pocket," he commented.

Mr. Riopelle said the letter will be sent this week, following legal advice that the organization has an excellent chance of winning a lawsuit.

He said legal precedents tend to support the Gateway House position, citing a recent case in Toronto where a developer sued after making an investment based on an approval in principle.

"The lawyer checked the precedents and somebody in Toronto just won a bundle," he said.

Mr. Riopelle said he was heartened by expressions of support from some members of the Glengarry community.

Although he did not mention names, he said people have offered to support the treatment centre.

"We have found that there are a lot of people who have come out of the woodwork to support it, but I doubt that it's enough."

The proposed three-storey, 20-unit building will be built elsewhere if council does not reverse its stand, Mr. Riopelle said.

Rather than appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board for the re-zoning, Gateway House will launch the lawsuit, he said.

Green Valley staying pat

Charlottenburgh quickly reinstated the Alexandria Fire Department on Friday after terminating the fire protection agreement with the Department earlier in the week.

Reeve Ewen MacDonald confirmed on Friday that the town department was back in charge of the northern sector of the township and that a special meeting would be held on Tuesday night to discuss the issue. The Township's Fire Committee, Green Valley homeowners and representatives of the Alexandria Fire Department were invited to attend.

It was a group of unhappy Green Valley homeowners, upset with the termination of the original agreement, which prompted the reinstatement of the town department.

"We would be getting the short end of the stick both ways," said Jacques Trottier, an insurance agent and Green Valley homeowner." The insurance rates would almost double and the fire protection would not be as good."

A clocking of the two fire departments concerned, Alexandria and Williamstown, based on a steady 55 mph speed, shows that the Williamstown Department could respond more quickly to a fire in Glen Roy but would take almost double the time to reach a blaze in Green Valley.

Mr. Trottier said that because of this increased distance Green Valley would be classified as "unprotected" by insurance companies and rates would increase drastically. His own insurance rates would jump from $344 to $574 and he quoted three other homeowners whose house premiums would more than double.

Insurance companies have three classifications for fire protection, protected, unprotected and houses within 1,000 feet of a fire hydrant. A home is considered "protected" if it is within five miles of the department offering protection. Should the move to have Williamstown protect the village stand, the homeowners would be considered "unprotected" because of the distance.

Charlottenburgh had opted to terminate the agreement which saw Alexandria protect the area from the northern boundary of the township south to Glen Roy Road to save on money. The committee felt the Williamstown department could adequately protect the area.

In 1981 the Alexandria department made three calls to the township at a cost of $3,684.

Queen invites local couple

An enviable invitation has been received by local residents, Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Bush of Fassifern.

It reads as follows:

By gracious permission of Her Majesty The Queen, The Directors of Horse Drawn Carriages Limited invite Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Bush to a press conference at the Royal Mews, Buckingham Palace, on Wednesday, 28th April, 1982, at 11 a.m. to be given by His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh to launch his book Competition Carriage Driving.

Oakley is a director of the Carriage Association of North America.

Grass fires keep men hopping

Alexandria Fire Department spent Saturday afternoon hopping from grass fire to grass fire throughout the county.

With a total of seven grass fires throughout the day, a department spokesman called it "the worst day ever" for these types of calls.

As the winds picked up in the latter part of the afternoon so did the action around the Kenyon Street fire station.

At 3 p.m. the crew was summoned to the home of Frank Collard on the Glen Roy Road in Charlottenburgh Township; 17 minutes later a call came from Rheal Paquette, Highway 43 in Kenyon Township where a grass fire spread east toward the home of Donald A. MacPherson. Eight minutes later the fire department was called to Armand Paquette's in the 12th Concession of Lochiel Township and one hour later the men were alerted that a barn owned by Albert Seguin in the Seventh Concession of Lancaster Township was ablaze after family members had reportedly been burning grass in the area. Ninety tons of hay was lost in this fire.

Half an hour following the barn fire alarm the department was summoned to the home of Allen Ross in the Fourth Concession of Kenyon Township.

The department and its three trucks were dispatched to different fire scenes during the afternoon in order to protect the various parts of the county. When one fire was under control the truck was sent to another scene to help.

The seventh call to the fire department came on Saturday morning but was cancelled before the men reached the location.

The worst grass fire occurred on Monday in the Glen Sandfield area, where a fire originating on the property owned by S. E. McCracken spread across some 50 acres and towards the home of Archibald MacDonald. The department was on the scene for some five hours, from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

On Sunday evening a fire, thought to have been caused by a discarded match or cigarette, spread through 25 acres of bush and grassland on Pine Road in Kenyon Township. The department fought this fire for three hours, between 6 and 9 p.m.

Lancaster Fire Department Chief Roger Menard said his department was involved in three fires including the fire which claimed Albert Seguin's barn. Two small grass fires in North Lancaster were also handled by the department over the weekend.

Of the four townships in the county, only Charlottenburgh does not have a bylaw holding the resident who starts the outdoor fire, responsible for the costs incurred for protection services.

Marcel Lapierre, clerk of Charlottenburgh Township, said the council has given instructions to prepare a bylaw and it should be ready in the near future.

The Alexandria bill for the Monday afternoon fire in Glen Sandfield is $1,367 and the fire on Pine Road on Sunday night will cost the Township of Kenyon $1079. Fire calls made by the Alexandria Department on Saturday ranged between $352 and $571.

Starting his own practice

Dr. Brian MacNaughton is opening his own veterinary practice and will operate from his residence in the Third Concession of Lancaster.

He had been working with Dr. Jim Algire of Martintown for the past two years.

A 1980 grad of the University of Guelph, Brian is married to the former Yvette Lalonde and they have two children, Becky and Jennifer.

Host club meeting

On Saturday, April 10, MacGregor Bros. of Gregorhill Farm, Dalhousie Station, kindly hosted a very good gathering of club members and neighbors at the annual barn meeting of the Glengarry - Prescott Ayrshire Club.

The president welcomed everyone and opened the program with a judging competition.

Sydney Mode gave the official placing on a class of two-year-olds, while Bobbie Ness gave the official placing on a mature class of cows.

In the Junior or 4-H class the winners were Wayne Sangster, A Cumming, Scott Fourney, Ian Vallance and Brad Rickerd. They all received cash awards.

The guest speaker was introduced by Bruce Munro of Munro Feed and Seed, Jay Johnston of Ralston Purina is territory manager and spoke on butterfat problems. He showed slides and gave a most interesting talk. John Fourney thanked the speaker.

A drawing took place for several donations that were received. Lunch was served by the ladies and heartily enjoyed by all.

Laggan School open

Parents and members of the Laggan School Community will have an opportunity to visit Laggan School on Wednesday and Thursday of this week when a variety of activities will be taking place.

Highlighting the activities will be a geography curriculum and show the development of topics from kindergarten through Grade 8. Each class will be contributing to a display that will also include demonstrations of audio visual material and teaching aids used in the program.

Girls from GDHS take top honors

Two senior students from Glengarry District High School excelled in an SD&G competition for shorthand, accounting and typewriting which was held recently.

Barbara Haverstock placed first in the shorthand and typing competition while Lori Trottier came second in the shorthand event. The two girls combined to bring Glengarry District the senior team trophy.

The Novice Typing team consisting of Ann McPherson and Elizabeth Mac Donald placed third in the team category.

The Ontario Business Education Association sponsors the contest program to enable students to measure themselves against the best of their peers in their district as well as across Ontario.

"These competitions foster a spirit of challenge and the ability to work under pressure while being recognized for uncommon excellence in business education subjects," said Carol McIntyre, GDHS office procedures instructor.

The ten students from Glengarry District who took part in the three competitions will be given Association certificates. The trophies will be presented to Barbara and Lori at the next meeting of the SD&G Secondary School Board.

Char-Lan breaks ground

After several years of promises, Char-Lan finally got its expansion project off the ground on Monday as school board officials, contractors, Char-Lan staff and entire body of students witnessed the ground-breaking for the new addition.

The expansion will provide a new double gym and an extension to two classrooms which will provide a computer studies and commercial room.

The addition will allow the existing cafeteria to be relocated to the current gym and the existing library will take over space which had previously been the cafeteria.

The theatre arts room will be altered to conform with more educational requirements, the music room will be renovated as will the guidance area and there will be a new staff lounge and administration area.

Jack Entwistle of Cornwall has been awarded the contract and construction is expected to begin this week for completion by September 4.

The actual cost of expansion will be $1,483,126 and of this, $1,444, 618 is approved. Grants cover 85.9 per cent of the approved cost so this leaves $243,000 for the local taxpayers.

"I'm more than surprised this was finally brought off," said Char-Lan High School Principal Ron McCabe on Monday at the completion of groundbreaking ceremonies for the addition to the school.

"The building project has been a priority for about 10 years now and it's great to see it going ahead.

"Credit goes to the school committee and school community for keeping this project in front of the board. If we did not get these facilities the school would deteriorate because students from the area would leave to go to a school where the programs were offered.

"Economically there were other solutions. As far back as 1954 there was talk of sending the students to Glengarry District High School or Cornwall. The people of the community were anxious to keep the students in their midst, however.

"The School Board members have been concerned about us all along though. The board used some of its own money to renovate labs and the home economics room two years ago.

"Of course the fact that we were linked with GDHS did not harm us."

"I'm glad to see this finally started," said Board Chairman Mahlon Zeran, "we had figured on this six years ago."

"There is a collection of good buildings here, we shouldn't have to spend much in the next 20 years in this location."

"In 1980 Char-Lan and GDHS were ranked as priority. In 1981 GDHS became the priority and here we are now with Char-Lan gone to tender earlier because of the architectural plans."

"There seems to be a new spirit among the students" commented Committee Chairman Art Buckland.

"Because the children all stay for lunch the double gym will be well used and now there will be space for fans to watch the basketball games and activities.

"The parents and school committee played a big part in keeping the Char-Lan problem before the school board so they really feel good that things are happening."

McDonald's Electric draw went to Cris Campbell, Olive Shields, Diane Derouin and Marie Boyle, with the runners-up being Jean Campbell, Elaine Villeneuve, Elizabeth Stewart and Crystal Archer. The past president Noble Villeneuve mentioned that the double Ladies' Team entry won the centre play-down for this area, going on to Richmond. A mixed team also won the Lancaster Bonspiel. The first mixed draw was won by Bill and Cathy Kippen with Werner and Dora Bill. Runners-up were Jim and Lyn Bancroft, with Glen and Heather Marjerrison. Prizes for these were donated by the Bank of Nova Scotia, Maxville. The second mixed draw winners were Jim and Lyn Bancroft, with Ken and Alma McDonald. Runners-up were Al and Sylvia Douglas, with Gary and Cathy Howes. Prizes were donated by Master Feeds, Maxville. Stuart McKay presented the men's prizes to the following: Turkey draw winners Jim Bancroft, Pete Zeran, Jim Zeran and John Dunlop. Punners-up were Dunc McDonald, Stuart McKay, Andre Currier and Elie Martin. Molson draw winners were Pete Zeran, Jim Zeran, John Dunlop and Jim Bancroft. Runners-up Bill Kippen, Rene Lalonde, Dougie MacMillan and Hubert Sabourin. Labatt's draw winners: Jim Zeran, John Dunlop, Jim Bancroft, Pete Zeran, with runners-up Bruno Besner, Don Culkin, Rene D'Aoust and Elie Martin. The MacLeod Memorial draw was won by Marvin Waldroff, Robin McIntyre, Martin Prendergast and Jim Wert. Runners-up were Stuart McKay, Bob Dewar, Ross Graham and Bill Kippen.

NEW EXECUTIVE FOR CURLING CLUB FOR 82-83

The new executive for the Club for the next season is: Past-President, Duncan McDonald; President, Jim Bancroft; First Vice, Don Culkin; Second Vice, Cathy Kippen; Secretary, Cris Campbell, and Treasurer Rene Lalonde. The directors are Wayne Armstrong, Stuart McKay, Al Douglas, Jean Campbell, Ken McDonald, Marvin Waldroff, and Robert Banks. Duncan McDonald thanked the following people for their share in making the past year so successful: Bill and Cathy Kippen and Irma Marshall for kitchen convening; Rene Lalonde for obtaining permits; Ubald Cardinal, the ice-man; Adams Liquor Company; Secretary Cris Campbell, and treasurer Jean MacCuaig. He welcomed the new president Jim Bancroft who thanked him for his introduction. There was a round of applause for the good work of the outgoing president during 1981-82, and the evening went on with dancing to the music of Tony's Disco.

GAMES ASSOCIATION CONTINUES PLANS

On April 21 the Glengarry Highland Games Association held a regular meeting with President James Campbell in the chair making plans for the 35th annual Highland Games which will be on July 31 this year.

The new brochures have been printed and are ready for distribution, and grandstand tickets, at $3 each, went on sale two weeks ago. Mrs. Cheryl Munro has been treasurer, replacing Brian Arkinstall. There was considerable discussion on who should open the games, and inquiries are being made. The Pre-Games Concert will have the same format as last year without a big name star as it is the bands and dancers the public come to see. All concessions for food have already been booked—others are negotiable. Members of the Pipers' Society have not paid their usual spring visit as yet, and there was some anxiety over the possibility of Oshawa or Brampton having a Games on the same day as Maxville. Complaints were heard about the inexcusably sloppy play-offs of the bands at the end of the day, last year, and an effort is to be made to see that this does not happen again. A return to the original march-off one by one was preferred. Also an effort is to be made to obtain a dignified period of silence during the official opening of the games at 1 p.m. All too often the guest speaker has been drowned out by bands and individual pipers practising in the surrounding area. Chairman Angus MacDonell expressed a brief word of congratulations, reviewing his twenty years with the Association, and his expectation that all problems will be solved.

Martintown Rumor Mill

by Art Buckland

Ray Howes, progressive farmer in M'town, told his comely wife Linda recently, "I'll be back at 4:30 dear. I'm just going in to town to have the ailment in my hand fixed up."

He did return home at 4:30, but it was three days later, after a stint in hospital.

The new Martintown Recreation Centre opened in the old separate school last Saturday. The facility is beautiful. Who would have imagined such a hall in Martintown five years ago? Even at the last Santa Claus parade, the hall did not resemble its present finished state. Art Benton, township recreation representative, declared, "The changes in just the last two weeks have been formidable."

The official opening was a grand affair. A fine example of use of our lost dollars from gambling on the lottery, and of provincial funding combining for area benefit.

A representative from Toronto exclaimed that he was proud to have been able to provide funds for the project. He added that more funds might be available. Then he looked over the official party; such formidable and influential individuals as MPP Osie Villeneuve, Reeve Ewen McDonald, Councillor Donald Kannon, sports director, Brent Daigle, recreation director, John Flaro, bartender Donald Ross; MC Keith Clingen, and concluded his speech by saying "That more funds might be available for further projects, perhaps the most important program for this group might be . . . fitness."

Congratulations to the hard-working committee members.

The Martintown Grand Hotel is sold. Mr. Chisholm from Cornwall has bought it.

Happy Birthday to Alex McLellan, former township post office chief. This great nonagenarian is 92. A felicitous birthday to all other April babies.

Congratulations to Darrell Aubin, getting hitched to a Van Bergen girl from Quebec. The wedding is May 7 in Dundee—the capital of the Glengarry front on Sundays.

I received a short note from Ottawa last week. Following is an excerpt:

Sorry we could not get down to see you but you know what single parents are like sometimes. God bless all your readers.

Love, Liz.

I enjoyed the recent high school Drama Festival. Some fine acting. Particularly compelling was Clive Marin's Osnabruck production. Disappointed that more schools were not represented.

St. William's Church in Martintown is holding its annual Spring Bazaar on Thursday, May 6, from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. A bean supper and sale of Nearly New clothing are other features.

CO-OP

Weed out wasted corn yields

There's no market for weeds or wasted yields. And, your local CO-OP has a wide range of hard working herbicides designed to turn these profit losing weeds into profitable corn yields.

Your CO-OP staff has a whole warehouse of knowledge to go along with these corn herbicides. Talk to your CO-OP salesman about your corn herbicide requirements.

You will be glad you did.

Lasso
As a pre-emergence or early post-emergence spray for corn. Controls annual grasses. Good crop tolerance; no carryover.

Surfactant Oil Concentrate
Apply with Atrazine for early post-emergence weed control. Extends period of application and increases efficiency of herbicides.

Primextra
The all-in-one grass and weed killer in a convenient, pre-mixed liquid form. Suitable for water or liquid fertilizer mixing.

Dual—Ciba-Geigy
Apply pre-plant incorporated or pre-emergent, in water of liquid fertilizer solutions or tank mixed with Atrazine formulations. Controls a wide range of grasses.

Bladex WP or Liquid
Pre-emergence or early post-emergence spray with low residue. Particularly effective on grasses and safe for reseeding on crops.

Sutan +
Controls grasses in corn. Combines with atrazine to control broadleaf weeds as well. Gives good crop tolerance on wide range of soils.

Banvel
Effective weed control on triazine-resistant broadleaves. Apply Banvel in combination with Lasso, Bladex, Atrazine or Dual—Ciba-Geigy.

CO-OP Atrazine Liquid & WP
The "original" corn herbicide combines well with other herbicides for pre-plant, pre-emergent and post-emergent application. Brand name quality at a low price.

Jrs. rebound

Glengarry Jrs. rebounded from an opening game loss in the Glengarry News Cup final to take a 3-1 lead in the series and could claim the cup this evening in the fifth game of the series.

Following an 8-5 loss to Glen Nevis last Sunday the Jrs. regrouped to win a tight 6-4 decision on Wednesday and two convincing decisions over the weekend, 6-0 on Friday evening and 6-1 on Sunday night.

Frank Morris, who has led the Jrs. offensively throughout the series, netted the hat trick on Sunday while singles were scored by Bruce Benton, Robert Hope and Donald Wightman. Ian Sandilands responded for Glen Nevis with a first period marker.

The two teams were tied 1-1 after the opening frame but the Jrs. opened up a 3-1 lead after two periods and added three unanswered goals in the third.

On Friday night Rick Woods collected the shutout while Morris collected his first hat trick of the final series. Ed DeWitt, Don Wightman and John MacSweyn had the other goals for the Glengarry Jrs., who scored three in the first period and three more in the second stanza.

Perhaps the turning point in the series was on Wednesday evening when the Jrs. rebounded from the short end of a 4-3 score to net two late goals and win the game 5-4, deadlocking the series.

Frank Morris tied the score 4-4 with less than five minutes remaining on an unassisted goal and Steve Durocher collected the game winner with 2:33 left on the clock.

Glen Nevis held a 2-1 lead after the first period on goals by Robert MacDonald and Jocelyn Ranger. Lindsay McCulloch put the Jrs. on the board.

Frank Morris scored the only second-period goal to tie the score 2-2 heading into the third period.

Murray MacDonald opened up a 3-2 lead for Glen Nevis at the three-minute mark of the third period but Ed DeWitt drew the Jrs. even at the 7:25 point with a powerplay goal.

Jocelyn Ranger retained the lone-goal Glen Nevis lead at the 11:44 mark setting the stage for late-game heroics by the Jrs.

The sixth and seventh games of the News Cup final series will be played on Saturday, May 1, 8 p.m. and Sunday, May 2, 7:30 p.m., if necessary.

Lapierre wins in pool

Hubert Lapierre won the "A" side of the pool tournament and Ian McCormick won the cribbage competition at the Glengarry Golf Club's Annual Spring Cribbage and Pool Tournament held over the weekend.

Archie Michaud was runner-up for the "A" pool title while Bruno Depratto won the consolation championship by defeating Daniel Wathier.

Peter Kolada was the runner-up in the crib final, Ron Allison took the "B" title and Bob Lemieux was the "B" runner-up.

The event attracted a total of 32 participants and marked the seventh year for the pool tournament and third year for the cribbage competition.

Correction

An error was made in the Glengarry Golf and Country Club Ltd. advertisement in the April 21 issue, outlining the membership fee schedule for 1982.

The advertisement stated that shares are available at $100 each plus an Initiation Fee of $200 and that these shares "must" be purchased for $150 down payment with three further payments.

The shares "may" be purchased for $150 down payment with three further payments of $50.

Gaels take home elusive title

For the past two years the Glengarry District High School girls' gymnastic team has been a close second for the Eastern Ontario (EOSSA) championship but last Friday they were No. 1. The Gaels won the EOSSA competition hosted by North Dundas for the first time in the school's history.

The EOSSA crown was handed to the Glengarry team last year in Kingston but as they headed out the door back to Alexandria they were informed that a recount of the point totals had them in second place. This year their margin of victory insured a recount would be futile.

The 14-member Glengarry squad accumulated 240.1 points while the runner-up and host team, North Dundas District High School, collected 199.75 points and Regiopolis Notre Dame (Kingston) placed third with 190.7 points.

The NDDHS team is coached by former GDHS instructor Fran Kelly.

Other schools participating in the event were: General Vanier Secondary School, Cornwall Collegiate Vocational School, St. Lawrence High School, Hawkesbury District High School, Kingston Collegiate, Plantagenet High School, Smiths Falls District, Thousand Islands and Gananoque High School.

Although Glengarry District failed to win any gold medals, two girls finished second and qualified for the OFSAA meet to be held this weekend in Lindsay, Ontario.

Lori Preston placed second in the senior vault and Kim Menard qualified in the senior parallel bars event.

In the all-round best individual tabulations Glengarry only placed two girls in the top six of the three age divisions. This result was more a reflection of the team's depth. In order to qualify for the best individual competition the participant had to be entered in four events and Coach Fraser said not many of the girls were in four events.

Glengarry's Suzanne Dorie placed fifth over-all in the junior division and Briony Peachy placed third in the intermediate class.

The EOSSA win comes on the heels of the team's convincing team win in the SD&G meet which they hosted earlier this Spring.

Tourney on weekend

Some of the best hockey played within the confines of the Glengarry Sports Palace should be featured this weekend in the First Annual Labatt's Alexandria Men's Intermediate Hockey tournament of champions.

Tournament organizer Jacques Clermont reports that amongst the 24 teams attending the competition, 10 have won intermediate championships in their area. Hockey league champs from Montreal West, Vaudreuil, Lachine, Williamstown, Maxville, Clarence Creek, St. Jerome, Hull, Gatineau, Morrisburg and Ottawa South will be in attendance.

The teams include five from the Alexandria area, six from Cornwall, three from Ottawa, two from Hawkesbury and clubs from Valleyfield, Ste. Justine, Vaudreuil, Dorion, Quyon, Lachute, Casselman and Shawville.

One of the top local entries will be the Alexandria Ottawa Hotel team composed of former Alexandria Jr. "B" players such as Frank St. Pierre, Luc Poirier, Leo Seguin, Yvan Desautels, Brian Wensink, Roch Lajoie and Robert Boisvenue, only to name a few.

Former Glens' star Donnie Morris will lineup with the Ottawa Jokers, a team which has had success in other local intermediate tournaments. Andre Leduc Sport of Hawkesbury has Dan Daoust, Yvan Joly and Francois James of the Nova Scotia Voyageurs on its roster while the second team from Hawkesbury, Club Cafe, will be bolstered with the Leroux brothers who played in Europe last season.

The tournament action will get underway on Thursday night at 7 p.m. with action until 11:30 p.m. Play will continue on Friday night and all day Saturday and Sunday with finals slated for 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. for the "B" and "A" finals, respectively.

BG will play here

Town ball fans will now be able to watch some of the best hard ball played in the area.

Alexandria's entry in the Cornwall Sportsman's League, the Bonnie Glen team, will be playing their home games at the Alexandria Island Park ball diamond this summer. The town team has competed successfully in the Cornwall league for the past three years while being forced to play their home games in Cornwall.

The schedule, which is not yet finalized, will see each of the seven clubs in the league play 24 games. Games will be played in Cornwall on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday in Berwick, Wednesday and Friday nights in Alexandria.

Teams entered in the league are Seaway Motor Inn, UAP, Burger King, Fifth Wheel, Fat Alberts, Berwick and Bonnie Glen.

Awards night

Alexandria Minor Hockey Association will hold their annual awards night on Friday, May 7 at the Glengarry Sports Palace, commencing at 7 p.m. All players, coaches and parents are encouraged to attend.

The Association will then hold their annual meeting on Tuesday evening, May 11 in the Glengarry Sports Palace Boardroom, 7 p.m.

Skating Club concludes sixth successful year

by Claudette Francoeur

The Alexandria Figure Skating Club concluded its sixth year on Sunday with a Canadian Figure Skating Association (CFSA) test day.

A total of 32 skaters sacrificed the splendid weather in order to put forth their last effort on the Sports Palace ice surface.

Following is a list of the candidates who succeeded:

Preliminary Dances: Dutch, Lynne Martin, Jenny Marr, Lynne Emond, Chantal Massie, Josee Landriault. Canasta, Nathalie Taillefer. Swing, Melanie Roy, Hilary Wilson.

Junior Bronze Dances: Ten-Fox, Jennifer Rose, Chantal Ravary. Fiesta, Julie Ann Poirier. Willow, Charlene Ryan, Lison Lanthier.

Senior Bronze Dances: European, Lison Lanthier, Lucie Lajoie. Fourteenstep, Lucie Lajoie.

Junior Silver Dances: Tango, Natalie St. Denis. Rocker Foxtrot, Nathalie Hebert.

Preliminary Freestyles: Melanie Roy, Chantal Lobb, Claudine Nadeau, Nathalie Larocque.

Junior Bronze Freestyles: Julie Ann Poirier, Charlene Ryan, Blair Fraser.

Preliminary Figures: Nathalie Taillefer, Melanie Roy, Shelly Hall, Lynne Emond, Chantal Massie.

First Figures: Julie Larocque, Lison Lanthier.

Second Figures: Natalie St. Denis.

Even though the season has ended for the skaters the executive is already working in order to prepare for their seventh campaign. The annual meeting of the club will be held on May 26 at the Glengarry Sports Palace. Everyone is invited to attend.

The registrations for next season's private lessons will take place on Monday, June 14 at the Sports Palace and for group lessons sometime in September. Further information on both registration dates will be forthcoming.

During the last private lesson session held recently, club members honored Micheline Berard for her dedication as an instructor with the club for the past four years. She is now retiring from teaching.

Ginette Hebert was also honored with the presentation of a souvenir gift by Club President Cecile Gauthier on Sunday in recognition of her great contribution and self-devotion for the success of the club during the past four years. The Hebert family will soon be moving to Drummondville and we wish them the best of luck in their new community.

Thank you to all the members of the actual committee, all the persons who worked on previous committees and everyone who contributed in one way or another to the progress and success of the club during the past six seasons. Congratulations to all the skaters for their excellent work and constant effort and see you all again next September.

Rebels honor individual players

Charlottenburgh Jr. "B" Rebels capped off the 1981-82 hockey season with a dance and awards presentation at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre held recently.

Claude Halle won the MVP for the season trophy while Gilles Lascelle won the equivalent honor for his play during the playoffs. Most Improved Player award went to Mike Wert.

The Most Effective and Dedicated Player award was a tie between Kevin Primeau and Don Wightman and the Sportsman award was a tie between Guy Lamarche and Chris Eamon.

Dwayne Spink who finished the year as the Rebels' third scorer and was voted to the South East Division all-star squad was selected Rookie-of-the-Year.

A former member of the Memorial Cup Champion Cornwall Royals, Marc Lalonde, won the Top Defenceman award. The Top Affiliated Midget Player was taken by Murray MacDonald and the Top Scorer award went to Dave Fontaine who recorded 32 goals and 30 assists during the course of the season, good for fifth spot in the league's individual scoring standings.

Reviewing the season, the Rebels ended up in fourth spot with a record of 17 wins, 16 losses and two ties for 36 points. In the playoffs the Rebels bowed to the Metcalfe Jets four straight but were only outscored by seven goals (two empty net goals) during the four-game series, and outshot their opposition, 141-126.

Next season the Rebels will lose only two players to age restrictions and No. 1 goaltender Robbie Lalonde will be leaving for college in North Bay. Defenceman Marc Lalonde intends on enrolling at Concordia University in Montreal.

Manager Stewart Fourney said he is very optimistic about next season with graduating Char-Lan Midgets such as Murray MacDonald, Ellery Lafave, Brendan MacDonald and Roddie McKenzie who all played several games with the "B" club throughout this past season.

"The Rebels owners and management would like to thank their coach Wendell Lafave who did an excellent job this season, along with their fans and sponsors for support throughout the season," said Mr. Fourney.

Craig skips winner

by Janet Marr

Warm, sunny weather prevailed for the barbecue marking the close of the curling season at the Alexandria club.

Art Craig and his team of Germaine Lalonde, Jerome Masterson and Ann Patenaude were the two-game winners in this final event which was organized by Peggy Hay and Dougall MacGillivray.

Runners-up in the bonspiel were Larry Hay, skip, Claudette Larocque, Ross MacGillivray and Viola McRae.

One-game high was taken by Stanley Fraser's team of Madeleine Roman, Don Culkin and Paul Bruni, with runner-up spot to Chris Jourdeuil, skip, Marie Laure Menard, Bruce Marr and Annette Smith.

Consolation prize, second runner-up for two-game high, was won by Laszlo Roman skipping the team of Sheila Pickett, Mel Roy and Janice MacDonald.

The 24-team event was sponsored by Labatts whose representative is Mike Masterson.

The highlight of the evening was the barbecued steak, cooked by Phil Lloyd, Duncan Macdonell and Al Pickett. Bonnie MacDonald, Annette Smith and Bev Craig supervised kitchen arrangements.

Last week saw the final games of three draws at the club.

In mixed curling, Kaye Hay and his team of Germaine Lalonde, David MacMillan and Cookie Ewaschuk captured the Town of Alexandria business peoples trophy.

The Menard Construction trophy, for ladies, was won by Joan Ryan, skip, Peggy Hay, Janet Marr and Sandra MacDonald.

Hugh Allan McDonald skipping the team of Ken Brown, Brian Clinton and Gord Rice took the London Winery trophy.

In junior curling, the Al Malcomson trophy was won by Blair Watts, skip, Martin Nadeau, Caroly Vanstokkom and Helen Rigby.

Trophies for the winners of draws and bonspiels during the year will be presented following the trophy night dinner, May 1.

At a recent meeting of the ladies, the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the 1982-83 curling year.

Karen MacLeod will become president, replacing Peggy Hay, who held the post this year.

Serving with Karen will be Paula Harden, first vice-president; Betty Campbell, second vice-president; Sheila Pickett, secretary; Germaine Lalonde, treasurer; Joan Ryan, kitchen manager; Cookie Ewaschuk, posters and Janet Marr, publicity.

Janet Graham, Paula Harden and Norma Watts will serve on the bonspiel committee. Ann Marie McPherson and Ann Williamson will be in charge of decorations. Norma Watts is the club rep. to LCA, with Betty Campbell as alternate, and Bernice McDonald is EOLCA rep.

Peggy Hay thanked the ladies for their co-operation and hard work during the year. Karen MacLeod wished Peggy well and said she was looking forward to a good year in the coming season.

Harrington tops, Sandilands places

by Angus H. McDonell

Old Chelsea's Dave Harrington with a prestigious Highland Games background, continued his winning ways in Scottish Games' heavy events a week ago at the Jacksonville, Fla., Highland Games.

Accompanied by Glengarry's aspiring caber and weights tosser, Ian (Williamstown) Sandilands, they flew to Orlando and were two-day social guests of U.S. colleagues before driving the short distance to Jacksonville.

Dave Harrington rolled up a winning total point score by virtue of finishing first in the caber toss, 28 lb. and 56 lb. hammer throw (for both distance and over the bar) and the stone throw event. He was runner-up in the sheaf toss.

Ian Sandilands, out of practise and competition all winter, was fifth in the caber toss event combining distance and accuracy, and fourth in the sheaf toss. Harrington will now prepare for the Tennessee Games in mid-May.

The Glengarry Club plans its annual Spring meet in the latter part of May, a date suitable to accommodate Syracuse's John MacDonald and Stuart Watson, an interested competitor from Cobourg.

Want ladies' hockey

Two Green Valley women are trying to get women's ice hockey organized in the Alexandria area for next Fall.

Denise Lemieux and Line Crevier, who both played organized hockey in Cornwall over the past winter, will hold an organizational meeting for Monday, May 3, 7:30 p.m. at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Mrs. Lemieux said that they have no concrete plans for a league or any set ice time, but at this time just want to see how many people are interested. Thus far 15 players have expressed an interest in playing and everyone is invited to attend the meeting.

For more information contact Denise (525-3858) or Line (525-2075).

FOCUS

by Anne McRae

That whirling dervish pirouetting across the front pages of every Canadian daily newspaper last week was none other than our Prime Minister (the right honorable). He was celebrating, in his own inimitable fashion, the patriation of our Constitution.

A pirouette is a particularly apt dance step for Prime Minister Trudeau to perform requiring, as it does, no partners. He who pirouettes, pirouettes alone—in the spotlight, centre stage, the star attraction.

The rest of us, alas, dance to the tune of an economy in crisis. This slow waltz into hardship for over 1,000,000 Canadians is beginning to take its toll.

A case in point. Two weeks ago friends travelling from the Ottawa area picked up a young hitch-hicker. He was cold, thin, young and poor. His destination? Highway 401.

When questioned further the young boy admitted he didn't know where to go after that, not even in what direction.

"I'm just going anywhere I can to find a job," he said.

Seventeen years old, no money, no prospects, no future—just that slow waltz into numbing poverty.

Perhaps, we might like to pontificate and say this kid was none too bright, didn't know what he was doing, is only one among many.

Not so. Morning drives to work now consist of vistas of woods and streams interspersed with hitch-hicker upon hitch-hicker, all poorly clad against cold, all looking hungry. That boy is not the only one to take the road—any road—looking for something better than the nothing he left behind.

The unemployment rate in Canada including the so-called hidden unemployed, is now 13%. What you could buy for $1 in 1968 in Canada now costs $2.83. Canada, in 1968, was the second richest per capita country in the world and has slipped to 13th or 14th place.

If this sounds grim to us, it must sound even more grim to those who have been unemployed so long their benefits have run out and they are left with welfare. Then, reduced to welfare, they become what local politicians call "undesirables".

I suppose kids like the boy on the road could also be called "undesirable" in the sense that it is not desirable for those of us who are comfortable to admit that the system we support is failing over 1,000,000 of our fellow Canadians. The soup kitchens in Vancouver are full of "undesirables" who cannot, simply, cannot find work. Most of them are young. Most of them are probably by now convinced that they are superfluous.

And who's going to tell them any different? Their leaders?

The latest reasoning (arrived at in an economic conference with French President Francois Mitterand) from the leaders is that what is needed is a change in the psychology of the marketplace. Mr. Trudeau says that inflation could be cured if Canadians would curb their expectations that everything was going to increase in value.

"The reasoning now", says columnist Ian Mulgrew, "is that the answer to our unemployment and inflation lies within us rather than without. Governments should not be blamed for their bad policies—it's the way people think that is at fault."

Tell that to the kid heading for the highway.

It's all just more fancy footwork.

Dies suddenly

The Glen Roy community was shocked and saddened to hear of the sudden passing of Angus A. McDonald at Hotel Dieu Hospital on Saturday, April 24. He was 76.

Angus was born on March 10, 1906 at the family farm, Eighth Con. of Charlottenburgh and he spent his entire life farming there.

He was a son of the late Dan A. (Big Angus) McDonald and his late wife Janet Kennedy.

Mr. McDonald never married but his quiet, pleasant manner won him a wide circle of friends.

To mourn his passing he leaves three brothers, John James, Hugh Bernard and Archie, all of Glen Roy and two sisters, Ann McDonald of Montreal and Theresa, Mrs. Ranald Hay of Dalkeith.

He was predeceased by one brother Alex and by one sister Mary Elizabeth, Sister St. Raphael.

His funeral was held at St. Raphael's Church at 11 a.m. on Monday, April 26. Reverend Gary Ostler officiated.

Pallbearers were Bruce Sova, Ewen Cameron, Ewen MacDonald, Cuthbert MacDonald, a nephew Billy McDonald, and Lawrence Legroulx.

Burial was in the family plot in St. Raphael's cemetery.

MISS APPLE HILL CONTEST

On Friday, July 2, 1982, an event to look forward to during the Centennial Celebration is the Miss Apple Hill Pageant. Contestants will be judged that day and winners get to reign on the two remaining days of the festival. Miss Apple Hill and runners up will be featured in the parade on the centennial float.

Paul Lauzon, animator of this project has done the ground work and prepared a set of rules for hopeful contestants.

Contestants must be single and between 17 and 23 years of age. They must have an Apple Hill address or belong to an Apple Hill or Monkland church. They will be required to sell pens; model clothes, some of which will be provided by Jennifer Lynn's of Cornwall; give a talent display; answer questions and take part in a group display. They will be judged on appearance, poise, talent and personality. Judges will be Keith Clingen of CJSS, Brooke McNabb of CJOH and Mrs. Joan MacDonald, a teacher at Char-Lan.

Alexandria Drug Mart will be supplying make-up for contestants and Roy's Florist, the flowers for the pageant.

Other prizes are a watch from CJSS, a K-Mart kettle, a gift certificate from Woolco, five dinners for two from St. Hubert Bar-B-Q and a three-piece luggage set courtesy of Bernie Barker Fuels and Jamieson Campbell Feed Store, both of Monkland.

All those interested in participating or who would like more information can contact Paul Lauzon at 528-4461 or Patricia Quail at 932-7181. Registration deadline is May 31.

FIRST BRIDE OF SEASON HONORED

Young Jill Benton, daughter of Myles and Edna, was feted at a miscellaneous shower at the Apple Hill Activity Centre last Wednesday, April 21. Her future marriage to John Hugh Munro, son of Gordon and Lillian, will be celebrated on Saturday, May 29.

The evening grouped relatives, friends of both families and Jill's personal friends from Maxville Manor, where she is employed. Jill is the first of future brides of the season to be held in such esteem. The whole group offered congratulations and wished her and John much happiness.

Lancaster News

by Joyce Lalonde

On Sunday, April 25, Reverend Sylvester Theoret officiated at the baptism of Lisa Rose infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michel Menard at St. Joseph's R.C. Church. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Forgues.

Mrs. Anne MacLeod has returned home after spending an enjoyable vacation in Scotland where she toured points of interest there and in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kelsey have returned to their home here after spending the winter months in Texas.

Winners of an open euchre sponsored by the Lancaster Jolly 50's were: Cecile Legroulx, Sylvia Ricard, Laura Seguin, Emery Brodeur, Anthony Wetering, William MacMath and Hector Leblanc. Door prize winner was Therese Welcher and special prizes were won by Yvonne Leblanc and Therese Welcher. The club's birthday party started with a pot luck dinner with 41 persons in attendance. A large variety of delicious food was available. Card games were played and winners were: Ella Pain and Charlie Pilon. Door prizes went to Olive Fitzhugh and George Heath. During the refreshment portion gifts were presented to birthday celebrants, Dorothy Roy and Rena Upton. A delicious birthday cake, made by Mrs. J. B. White, was served.

On Saturday, April 24, many relatives and friends gathered to offer congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Urquhart who are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. Out-of-town well wishers were from Chambly, P.Q., Manotick, Alexandria and other places in the area.

Winners of an open euchre sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to Branch 544 Canadian Legion were Mary Pyke, Germain White, Anne McDonell, Paul Seguin, Hector Leblanc and Bertyl White. Door prize winner was Anne McDonell and special prizes were won by Florence Carriere and Ann McDonell.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pattingale spent several days in Park Hill recently.

Several area residents attended a bridal shower at St. Francis de Sales Church Hall, Cornwall, given in honor of Miss Jeanne Peterson who will be married this summer. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Pat Hall and Mrs. Sue Bergeron.

MERCIER—MORRIS

Residing in Kipling

A beautiful early spring ceremony took place at St. Finnan's Cathedral on Saturday, March 27 at 4 p.m., when Ann Ida Morris and Constable Joseph Paul Mercier exchanged marriage vows.

Ann Ida is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morris of RR4 Alexandria and Joseph Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mercier of Calgary, Alberta.

Msgr. D. B. McDougald officiated at the double ring ceremony and Frankie Morris, brother of the bride and Kevin McCormick were servers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional style imported nylon chiffon silk Venice lace gown. It featured a Queen Anne neckline, highlighted with crystal pleating to form a delicate ruffle. This effect also accented the cuffs of the bishop sleeves. Venice lace appliques highlighted the bodice, sleeves and cuffs. From the empire waist, the long A-line skirt flowed into a chapel train.

Her Venice lace cap, embedded with seeded pearls, held a long flowing veil in place.

The bridal bouquet was composed of red roses and white stephanotis.

Mary Harrison, sister of the bride, was matron of honor; Maureen Morris, another sister, Chantal Whelan and Donna McGillis were bridesmaids and Nadioma Morris Thompson was junior bridesmaid. They all wore identical gowns of Romanie blue nylon chiffon and Venice lace featuring empire waists and long A-line skirts.

The matron of honor carried miniature red roses, white carnations and baby's breath and the bridesmaids carried sweetheart roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Dan Mercier of Calgary was best man; the groom's brothers Tom and Robert Mercier of Calgary and Constable Michael MacDonald RCMP of Toronto, were ushers. Six mountie friends Glen Rees, Paul Ariss, Derek Dhillon, Eric Howard, Dennis O'Byrne and Len Klemke formed an honor guard as the couple left the church.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

For their wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, the bride wore a dark blue chiffon dress, sailor style, a sailor hat and white accessories.

The couple will reside in Kipling, Sask.

Out of town guests came from Calgary, Edmonton, Winnipeg, the Northwest Territories, Peterborough, Toronto, Kingston, Syracuse, Montreal, Ottawa, London, and Hamilton.

Metivier new director

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Roman Catholic Separate School Board has announced the appointment of Gilles Metivier as Director of Education and Secretary of the Board effective July 1, 1982.

A native of Vanier, Ontario, Mr. Metivier is the husband of the former Mary Jean Haviland and the proud father of two sons, Eric and Kurt.

GILLES METIVIER

Mr. Metivier obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree from Ottawa University and obtained his Master of Education degree in Counselling in 1969.

His professional qualifications include teaching qualifications for both elementary and secondary grades as well as a Type "A" Principal's Certificate. He obtained his Supervisory Officer's Certificate from the Ontario Ministry of Education in 1975. He also holds qualifications in French as a second language and a Specialist Guidance Certificate.

Furthermore, he was awarded two certificates by the U.S.A. National Association of Secondary School Principals and, in 1972, Mr. Metivier was the happy recipient of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation award of merit for Distinct Professional Achievement.

He began his professional career at the former St. Mary's School in Eamer's Corner as a teaching principal. He held the principalship at Ecole Ste. Therese, and St. Lawrence High School in Cornwall.

Mr. Metivier was recognized as an innovator and a leader since he was the founding principal of the following institutions: Ecole Senior Notre-Dame, Cornwall, Tagwi Secondary School in Avonmore and the SD&G Alternative School. His career as a teacher and vice-principal include positions held at Ecole Ste. Marie, Cornwall, the former College Classique de Cornwall, Rhine School in Germany, General Vanier Secondary School in Cornwall and Ministry of Education Guidance Course.

Mr. Metivier is presently employed in the capacity of Assistant to the Superintendent with the SD&G County Board of Education.

Through the years, Mr. Metivier has keenly sought opportunities to meet and work with people of different backgrounds and expertise. In 20 years, his travels have taken him to over 40 countries on all but one continent.

In the past decade, he has developed a special interest in the area of intellectual exceptionalities, an area related to learning experience with a non-traditional method of delivery. It places learning in high profile.

In recent years, Mr. Metivier has worked very closely with Ministry of Education Officials across the province and has been instrumental in helping other school boards set up alternative education. He is presently involved in the development of the proposed compulsory Life Skills-Management guideline to be introduced in all Ontario High Schools in 1983.

Over the years, Mr. Metivier has served the community as both a citizen and a professional and has held key positions in a number of local boards and associations.

Mr. Metivier's qualifications, skills, leadership ability, expertise and broad experience, including experience as a former trustee and chairman of this board, were all aspects considered in his appointment as Director of Education for this system.

Approaching marriage

HAY—LAFAVE

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hay of Lochiel are pleased to announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret (Peggy) Ann to Gordon Lafave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lafave of Long Sault. The wedding will take place on Saturday, May 15, 1982, at Kirk Hill United Church, at 4 p.m.

PEOPLE on the MOVE

Ardie and Debbie MacDonald and son Jason of Edmonton are visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. MacDonald, Glen Nevis.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn MacDonald, Green Valley, visited on Sunday with Valerie and Donnie Simpson in Kingston and attended Donnie's father's wake, the late Robin Simpson.

Visitors with Gavin and Barbara McDonald on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McDonald of Ottawa and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McDonald of Dorion, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan O'Halloran of Ottawa spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. MacDonald, Glen Nevis.

Sister Maejanet McDonell of Our Lady's Missionaries, Aratuba Brazil, and four other missionary sisters, Sister Lucy Lee and Sister Norma Samar from the Philippines; Sister Maureen Condon and Sister Rosemary Williamson of Toronto, were all guests at the annual banquet of St. Raphael's Parish Council of the CWL on Monday evening, April 26 at Iona Auditorium.

MARTINTOWN NEWS

by Sylvia Thomson

SPRING AGAIN

April hasn't really brought warm spring weather but May will bring forth "its good-to-be-alive" feeling that the warm sun and breeze brings each year. A few more days of warm, dry weather and the countryside will be buzzing with the sound of tractors. Once again farmers will renew their faith in God and look forward to a bountiful harvest.

DEDICATION SERVICE

Reverend Clifford Evans performed a dedication service for Sarah Christie Kinloch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinloch on Sunday, April 25 at St. Andrew's United Church. Sarah was born premature, weighing 3 pounds, two ounces and spent six weeks in the Ottawa Children's Hospital. Now she's a healthy, beautiful child. Miracles do happen!

Godparents were Ingrid and Bill Glover. Guests in attendance for the service were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glover, Williamstown, Ruth and Franz Vinzenz, Manotick, Gwen and Allen De Gray, Cornwall, Joyce and Ann Irvine and Ivor Howells, Williamstown.

COUNTY HONORS 4-H MEMBER

4-H Bread Winners Achievement night was held in the Glengarry District High School on Thursday evening.

The Martintown Dough Do's Club Exhibit "Bread Making Equipment from Pioneer Times to the Present" displayed the largest loaf of bread ever seen. This loaf was capably made and baked by the club's assistant leader, Jan Buckland. Sandra Murray gave the commentary on the exhibit.

Karen Lauzon received provincial honors for completing 12 clubs and county honors went to Sandra Murray and Alison Tyo for the completion of six clubs.

Appreciation from the Women's Institute is extended to Gertie Huizinga, leader and Jan Buckland, assistant leader for their valuable time and leadership for this club.

Sixteen girls completed the club and 4-H teaspoons were presented to: Andrea Buckland, Karen Lauzon, Alison Tyo, Sandra Murray, Tonya Wheeler, Lorie Evrall, Rosemary Van Rooi, Paula Wheeler, Annette Huizinga, Julia Ann Tyo, Sherry Thompson, Leslie Evrall, Judy Van Loon, Trudy Buckland, Monique Beaudin and Tracy Van Loon.

The Martintown WI is pleased to sponsor the 4-H clubs and is looking forward for two leaders for the fall club "More Outdoor Living." Some of the projects the members will learn are: identifying animal tracks, trees and wild edibles; leaf printing and old fashioned fruit drying; making fruit leathers and shisk-kabobs,; making and flying a kite and planning outings. Doesn't that sound like fun?

FLOWER SHOW PLANNED

The Martintown Horticulture Society held a meeting in the Presbyterian Church hall with Gordon Winter, assistant District Director, District No. 1, as guest speaker.

The decision was made that membership must be paid before April 30 of the current year.

A bus trip has been planned to the Botanical Gardens sometime in July and will be announced later.

August 12 was the date chosen for the annual flower show.

LADIES FITNESS CLASS

On Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9:30 p.m., a ladies fitness class has been organized in the Community Centre. Interested women 18 years and over please contact Betty Wallis, 528-4673 or Virginia Winn, 528-4379.

LOCAL KINSMEN MUSIC FESTIVAL RESULTS

Mary Barkway, public school music teacher was more than pleased with the performance of her students at the Music Festival held this past week. The Choir from Grade 3 took first and combined Grades 3 to 8 placed second.

Triple trio placed second and consisted of: Diane Aubin, Tammy Ingram, Leslie Evrall, Bev Ivens, Shelley Hall, Rosemary Kristiansen, Julie Tyo, Kim Boyer and Sherry Thomson.

Firsts went to Muriel Aitkin in Girls Solo, 9 years and to Lisa Thompson in Girls Solo, 10 years. Diane Aubin placed second and third placings went to Shannon Aubin, Stacey Laroche and Wendy Ross. Congratulations to all our talented music students.

HONORABLE MENTION TO SECRETARY

Doug Anderson, Public School Principal, submitted Beverley Runions' name to CFRA Ottawa Radio Station, as secretary of the week. Five finalists were announced and runner up was awarded to our public school secretary. Out of 350 entries, we are pleased that Beverley was chosen and recognized such a distance from the Ottawa area. Congratulations to such an efficient and capable secretary!

AREA PERSONALS

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Murray from Brockville, Ontario, were their daughter, Elizabeth Brouwer and granddaughters Marcie and Debbie Keyes from Corpus Christi, Texas.

Miss Marion West, Ottawa, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie West.

Mrs. Harvey McMillan, Mrs. Stuart Blackadder and Mrs. Alpin McGregor Sr. attended the annual meeting of the Synodical Society of Quebec and Eastern Ontario held in Brockville, Ontario. The guest speaker was Rev. Amiya Chhatriya of Sambilpur, India.

Mrs. Bruce McCuaig, London, Ont., is visiting her newborn grandson, Ian Raymond McCuaig and son and daughter-in-law, Don and Karen McCuaig.

Donald Thomson attended an Ontario Federation of Agriculture Directors meeting last week in Toronto.

TRI COUNTY COMPETITION

The Martintown Jr. Floor Hockey Team will travel to Winchester Public School on Friday, April 30 for the Tri County Competition. Good luck!

COMMUNITY SENIORS GROUP

On Monday, May 3, 1982, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., local talent will present an evening of entertainment for Senior Citizens at the Martintown Community Centre. A Committee has been formed to organize a Seniors Group and is asking for your support. A general meeting will be held on May 10 to elect a social committee to choose a name and plan future activities. For more information please telephone: 528-4440 or 528-4372.

39ers LEARN ABOUT "HOME CARE"

The 39ers met for their April meeting at the hall in the Church on the Hill on Wednesday, April 21 with 45 members and guests present.

The order of the day was a real smorgasbord, with both hot and cold dishes, and varied sweets. The birthday cake (candles and all) completed the menu.

A brief business meeting opened with the regular procedure, and Donald Smith gave a good program of possible trips to consider. There is to be a trip to Ottawa to the museum on May 28.

Notice was given of the Arts and Crafts Fair in Williamstown, April 24, 25.

The craft convener gave out wool and Phentex for members to knit into items for the bazaar, and some fabric pieces were taken by sewers to work on. Mrs. Vi Kemp reported that the lovely quilted coverlet has been sold already.

Mrs. Enid MacDonald came to talk to us about services available to the seniors, that perhaps some may not be aware of, and of the work being done in this area. She told the group how to get in touch with a professional homemaker, for handicapped persons, post operative patients, elderly folk, etc., wherever they were truly needed. Mrs. MacDonald paid a sincere tribute to Mrs. Neil Blair, who was the founder of this branch of homemakers group.

There are 15 homemakers on staff now, and about seven working at present. There is a 15-week course to learn about this job, which may sometimes mean caring for an invalid, bathing, feeding the person, and even daily therapeutic exercises, on doctor's or VON's requests, of course. They may instruct her how and when to do the therapy thus freeing a VON for other duty. She must travel through all kinds of road conditions, winter and summer, cook change the baby, make formulas and give medication in some cases, like cough medicine, eye or nose drops, etc. (again under doctor's orders). These dedicated women do all this and more, and many do not know that they are there. Now this group is aware of available help. You can get home care, instead of going to hospital or a nursing home, and find that it is cheaper to stay in your own home. They gave service to 50,000 people last year Canadawide.

This service is provided by the Red Cross, and they have many other irons in the fire. There are blood clinics they operate, aid to fire and disaster victims, to name just a few. We are indeed fortunate to have all this available at a reasonable cost, or free in some cases, i.e. fire victims aid. Our speaker spoke well and clearly, answering any and all questions willingly, thus making the afternoon a wonderful learning session.

Bingo and cards pleasantly filled up the rest of the afternoon.

We wish to extend sincere sympathy to Douglas MacMillan, now of Vernon, in the recent passing of his wife Ann, in hospital in Ottawa. She was a long-time resident in the village, very active in the church and choir, and women's groups. She still supported the UCW here. Several of the area folk attended the funeral on Monday afternoon. Our condolences to the other family members in this time of sorrow.

CORRECTION

It was the McCrimmon Women's Institute who hosted the birthday party at the Community Nursing Home last week. Glen Sandfield ladies attend this group as members, as there is none in the village.

Recent visitors with Noel and Annie Ladouceur from Vermont were Mose and Margaret Cameron, Bill and Doris D'Voide, Steve and Gloria Simpson and Elizabeth Brown.

Gabriel Ladouceur of Green Valley spent the weekend with his grandparents, Noel and Annie Ladouceur.

Mrs. Flora Chisholm and daughter Elizabeth accompanied by George and Anne Robinson of Montreal were in Ottawa on Saturday, visiting Wesley Chisholm, a patient in the General Hospital. We hope he will soon be home and feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moyer and their granddaughter Shannon Wilson of Ottawa visited with her mother Mrs. D. H. MacIntosh on Saturday.

The Ladies Aid held their first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Evelyn MacQueen with a good attendance. They discussed plans for a ham supper to be held on the 29th of May in the Institute Hall.

On Saturday afternoon the Sunday School went by bus to Tagwi High School to attend a Sunday School Rally, where the Rev. Glen Davis was the speaker. Kenyon Sunday School did not have the largest turnout from one church, but they must have come close, because the turnout was about 85 per cent of the school. The rally was enjoyed by all.

The end of the month of April is fast approaching, and the canvassers for the Cancer Society are reminded to have their books in as soon as possible.

Funds contributed to the Canadian Cancer Society and allocated to research are used to pay the salaries of full-time scientists, laboratory technicians and assistants and to buy essential materials and equipment for cancer research laboratories.

Through its services to patients, the Canadian Cancer Society helps to soften the impact of cancer for patients and their families. This work, encompassing a range of services from dressings to lodge facilities, relies on public support. Your generous donation to the Society at campaign time will assist these programs. Give generously when the canvasser calls on you.

Well, spring seems to be here, with sunshine and lovely warm weather. Another sign is the blooming of the hepaticas. These pretty, little flowers look like little white stars growing under the trees, and are one of the first growing harbingers of spring. The leaves of the dog-tooth violets are also up, but of course, the flowers come a little later. This is the time of year when each turn in the road can bring a breathtaking view of the beauties of nature. Please don't rush out to pick them though. They are so pretty where they are. Let's just enjoy them!

Contribute $1,000

Glengarry Jr. Farmers raised $1,000 for the local chapter of the diabetic association by canvassing the county and helped the Cornwall and District Association surpass their goal of $10,000.

The canvassing was one of the group's community betterment projects and was carried out during the month of March—Diabetic Month.

Five delegates from the Glengarry Jr. Farmers attended the Jr. Farmer March conference in Hamilton. The following members stayed at the Hamilton Convention Centre: Anne Vogel, Ian Vallance, Martin Lang, Ewen MacDonald and Wayne MacSweyn.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 4 at Laggan Public School.

Golf Club celebrates 20th anniversary

by Eugene Macdonald

The Glengarry Golf and Country Club has reached maturity, has survived its first 20 years to become an enjoyable part of the local sports scene.

The first two decades have been years of steady, if slow progress and the club directors have asked me to provide a pen picture of those formative years. My memory has been jogged by perusal of the files of the Glengarry News which carry many references to the club's activities since its inception in 1961.

Actually, the Glengarry golf course was conceived in 1960 when the Rambling Reporter of the News first threw out the suggestion that Alexandria should have its very own course.

He had been golfing with friends on a Sunday at Hawkesbury. Golfers were none too plentiful on the course that day in May and your Rambling Reporter was struck by the fact at least 10 of the players were Alexandrians, with a Maxville couple thrown in. The thought struck home—right here are enough players to form the nucleus of an active club in Alexandria.

The idea was given public utterance in a News' editorial that same week and there were encouraging reactions from several interested golfers.

THE SEARCH FOR A SITE

Brother Ronnie was the golfer in our family and we played around with the idea to the extent that we spent several hours through the summer looking over likely sites in the Alexandria area. The acreage immediately south of Main Street was found inviting, as was the then Graham property on the southwest perimeter of town. Other acres were looked at but none boasted water and that seemed available only on the McCormick property, just east of town. It was a hot August day and the lagoon above the McCormick dam had a ripe smell of sewage and we surveyed the still waters.

Unviting was the smell, but that could be dealt with and two would-be golfers left the scene enamored with the site.

A complicating factor—the land was in two sections, each owned separately by one of two brothers, Frank and Stuart McCormick. Both were known for their pride of possession and there was little prospect both would agree to sale of their acreages.

Weeks went by without further progress but almost overnight what had been an impossible dream became a real possibility. Frank McCormick was quick with the assent and it remained only to win the support of Stuart.

I was heading for a newspaper convention in Vancouver when I spied Stuart waiting for the same train on the CNR station platform. He liked the idea and as I headed west I was impatiently wishing I were home to take the next step.

THE LAND IS OURS

That came in 1961 when the May 25th issue of the News boasted the headline "Plan Golf Course in Alexandria". The news reports told of a 90-day option on some 50 acres of land owned by Frank and Stuart McCormick on the McCormick Road, just east of the town limits. An immediate start on a canvass for members was promised and "the aim is playable fairways by midsummer".

The news report went on to tell of the long tree-shaded lane leading up to the picturesque home of Stuart destined to become the golf club's quarters. A golf pro had been brought in to look at the property and he had found it an ideal natural setting with its Garry river winding through tree-studded acres.

ENTER BEN KERR

The pro was Allistair Kerr from Hawkesbury, and his father, Ben Kerr, was destined to play an important part in the young club's progress. An old-country Scot complete with bur-r, Ben had been pro at several Canadian clubs and helped in their design. This young 80-year-old was to spend his declining years supervising upkeep and improvement of the course, and instructing divot diggers in the fine points of golfing. Ben spent his 84th year with us before retiring to Ottawa. His contribution to a young Glengarry Golf course in its formative years is a treasured memory among local golfers.

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

The opening news report also told of the formation of a seven member provisional committee on May 22nd. It was to apply for a charter and organize a canvass for charter members at $100 a share. The goal was 100 members with a possible 150 by season's end. Members of that provisional committee were Eugene and Ronald Macdonald, Dr. Bernard Villeneuve, Arthur Contant, Lloyd McHugh, Bruno Lemieux and Hugh A. McDonald.

Just one week later the News reported the long grass on the proposed golf course "is being cut today and the directors are inviting all interested in golf to visit the course on Saturday".

In his spare time the News editor was also collecting memberships and he could boast 18 members already signed up including Angus H. McDonell, Anthony McMenamin, Dr. Don Gamble, Maxville, Dr. H. K. Abbey, Lancaster, Jean V. Guindon, Apple Hill, Major W. A. Morrison, Paul E. Viau, Hubert Contant, Frank McLeister, Alex McDonald.

One week later, he could report 75 charter members signed. A golf pro had been brought in to lay out the fairways and temporary greens and a tractor and gang mowers were being secured. Bruno Lemieux was in charge of ground improvements and Ray Jette was assisting him in removing the old fences lining the long laneway and in cutting the grass. Part of the tract was already set for practising drives and Menard's dragline moved in to clear the silt out of the Garry river and re-shape its banks.

GOLF PRO

Before Allistair Kerr could lay out the course as it now is, Hugh Allan McDonald was out with his chain-saw to cut a way through the tangle of thorn-apple trees and brush that blocked what was to become the first fairway. A bulldozer was later brought in to complete the job of trimming young trees and brush before the grass could be sown on what has long been our hole No. 1.

READY FOR PLAY

By June 22nd, five holes had been laid out on areas of the acreage that were relatively free of trees and brush. Temporary tees were promised with greens of the same order and bridges crossing the Garry were to be complete by July 1st.

Primitive by today's standards, it was; but 30 golfers trod those fairways on June's last Saturday and officials could boast of 101 charter members. Gabe Aubry had applied for a charter in the name of the Glengarry Golf and Country Club, a name that had previously been used by an embryo Cornwall golf group that had later surrendered its charter.

TEMPORARY LAY-OUT

By early July flags were flying on five temporary greens but these fairways were laid out strictly on a protem plan, subject to revision when trees and brush had been cleared and fairway grass was green. Our present No. 1 hole was being cleared of thorn-apple trees so golfers teed off in the general area where tee 5 is now laid out. They headed for the southwest corner of the grounds where a very temporary green boasted its flag. Tee No. 2 was nearby and the goal was the first crossing of the Garry, to a green positioned where it is now. No. 3 tee was reached across the lane, in the vicinity of the present green 5. It ran northwest across lane and river and No. 4 tee was in its present place. That fairway also crossed the river to reach No. 5 tea up in the southeast corner of the property.

Play stopped and what is now No. 6 green for the present fairway 8 was completely unplayable. Frank McCormick had plowed the field shortly before we bought it and it had to be re-worked and planted in grass before being incorporated in the course in 1962. That elevated ladies' tee on No. 8 is built on the myriad of stones volunteers picked from the fairway on many a mosquito-infested evening through that summer of '61 under the non-compromising gaze of old Ben Kerr who insisted no stone should be left unpicked to take a chip out of a golf club.

FIRST YEAR FEE—$20

The Glengarry Golf and Country Club's organizational meeting was held July 3rd, 1961, at the Legion clubrooms and drew some 40 of the 105 members. With only five holes in play fees for this year were set at $20 with $5 fees for wife and children of student status. Green fees would be $1 as soon as limited clubroom facilities were available.

It was decided purchase of the property should be completed as soon as possible. Trustees to complete the deals were Gene Macdonald, Lloyd McHugh and Arthur Contant.

The first slate of officers:

Hon. Presidents—Bishop Rosaire Brodeur, Rev. C. H. Dawes, Magistrate Leopold Lalonde
President—Eugene Macdonald

WE HAVE A HOME

On July 20th, golfers took over one room of the Stuart McCormick home and it was quickly transformed into a 19th hole and pro shop where golf clubs could be rented or purchased, as well as balls, tees and other supplies. The club had been fortunate enough to buy 25 sets of clubs at a low price from Hawkesbury Pro Allistair Kerr and these were both rented and sold before new clubs became available. By now six fairways were in use and Frank McCormick was completing the second bridge over the Garry—one that still carries traffic 20 years later.

By August 3rd, after two weeks of play, 92 green fees had been collected, many from people holidaying in the area.

At a meeting September 14th, directors decided a complete nine hole course would be ready for play next spring, with temporary greens. Work was to start at once on clearing and seeding the three remaining fairways. The club charter was received in November with charter directors the same seven named originally. Authorized capital is $40,000 divided into 400 shares with a value of $100 each.

COMES BEN KERR

One of Canada's top professional golfers of an earlier day, Ben Kerr, of Ottawa arrived in town June 1st, 1962, to fill a key role at the golf course. He was to supervise construction and give lessons to beginners.

Fees for 1962 were set at $35 for charter members, wives $10 and school-age children $5.

One of Mr. Kerr's first goals was to interest town and district ladies in the sport and he was free with lessons and equipment.

A dozen ladies discussed organization of a ladies' group June 20th when improvements to the clubrooms were also planned. Volunteers did some painting and there were donations of furniture, mirrors and other items. An "At Home" was held on Sunday, July 1st when the first club tournament was played—a two-ball mixed foursome.

FIRST COMPETITION

The first competition was held on July 5th, 1962 when 52 golfers were out. Winners in mixed play were Bob Braid and Janet Kennedy, low gross; Pat Quackenbush and Mrs. Lyall Costello, low net.

An excess of men played in a separate event with winners—low gross, Wilfred McLeister and Jack Allan; low net, a tie—Bruno Lemieux and Ron Bradette; Robert Macdonald and Gilles Bradette. Hidden hole was won by Leopold Seguin and Mrs. Archie MacDonald.

NINE HOLES IN PLAY

All nine holes were in play August 18th and 19th when the first men's competition was played. Saturday winners were: low gross, Bruno Lemieux; low net, Ron Macdonald; Sunday winners, low gross, Emile Hurtubise of Hull, Que.; low net, four ties—Bud Mutchler, H. D. MacCuaig, Guy Lalonde, Jean Ranger. Hidden hole—John Kennedy. Mrs. Ron Bradette won a ladies' competition on Wednesday.

The first junior championship was played September 20th when Kevin Weir won the honors with a 45 score; Jim Nyman was second.

Conrad Lajoie was again grounds foreman as the 1963 season opened. He has overseen the blasting of several large rocks in the previous fall.

Club officers elected in May included a new slate of directors—Eugene Macdonald, Val J. Chisholm, Lloyd McHugh, Dr. Bernard Villeneuve, Louis Shepherd, Leopold Seguin and J. P. Touchette. Officers were: President—Eugene Macdonald; Vice President—Val J. Chisholm: Treasurer—Leopold Seguin. An advisory committee was made up of: Hugh A. MacCuaig, Ron Macdonald, Omer Poirier, C. W. Mutchler and Bruno Massie. Ron Macdonald was Club Captain.

A COMPLETE COURSE

Highlight of the year was the decision in late August to complete a nine-hole golf course boasting permanent greens and a watering system for the greens. A permanent No. 2 green had been started under the supervision of Ben Kerr. When difficulties arose, Ron Ross of Blue Grass Turf Farms at Stouffville, Ont., was called in. His advice was to build all nine greens at once and his firm contracted to do the complete job, including a water system. Location of the nine permanent greens was to be decided on Friday with a start on construction Monday. Mr. Ross promised all work would be completed by early October.

Testimony to his excellent work can be seen in the fact not one green has had to have major repairs over the span of 18 years.

Mr. Ross was well-liked by club members and it was with real regret the members learned a year later of his death in the crash of his airplane.

A year of real progress was 1963. In addition to the new greens, permanent tees were also laid down and a three-phase transformer was installed to serve the pumping station and water lines.

To help meet the heavy expenditures, 15 shares were sold, largely to present members. More than 200 shares have now been sold.

The first men's club championship was played September 5th, 1963. Gerry Goddard edged Vince Barker in the final.

Clifford MacCuaig won the junior championship and the ladies' honors went to Mrs. C. W. Mutchler.

NEW PRESIDENT

New president of the golf club in 1964 was Lloyd McHugh, who took over from Eugene Macdonald. Other officers were: Secretary—Mrs. Phyllis Mosher: Treasurer—Ron Macdonald: Captain—C. W. Mutchler. The directors were: Lloyd McHugh, Louis Shepherd, J. P. Touchette, Ron Macdonald, Omer Poirier and C. W. Mutchler.

Mrs. Herman Parsons succeeded Mrs. John Chisholm as ladies president.

And so those hectic early years gave way to summers of slower progress. Ron Macdonald was president in 1967 when Dan Walker of Montreal, was hired as club pro. A new course record of 33 was set by Walker during his one year stay. A Hawkesbury golfer, A. W. Flood of Grenville, scored the first hole-in-one on the 7th hole, September 18.

Tragedy struck in that centennial year when Doug Bergmame, 36 of Pointe Claire, died of a heart attack after completing nine holes. He was the son of that dynamic member Leonard Bergmame, who played such a big part in the club's development over its early years.

THE NEW CLUBHOUSE

Lloyd McHugh had taken over as president from Bud Mutchler when in 1971, he instituted plans for a modern new clubhouse. Built on the site of the original clubrooms, the new quarters were erected by Remi Poirier at a cost of 31,900. The 60x50 ft. building was of laminated truss construction with large windows and field stone finish.

Some 150 golfers were on hand to see Lochiel Reeve Gerard Massie cut the ribbon to mark the early May opening of the clubhouse.

Another step forward came in 1973 under the presidency of Cliff Rae when first steps were taken to purchase another 72 acres of land for future extension to 18 holes. A new No. 1 green is being finished on this land this year of 1982.

The club's oldest golfer, Cecil Shennett of Lancaster scored the first hole-in-one on No. 4 hole in July '73 and one of our most promising younger players, David Amelotte scored an ace on No. 7 in 1974.

PARTIES WERE FUN

Good golfing has been enjoyed in full measure over the first 20 years of the Glengarry Club and its earliest years were notable too, for the parties and sing-songs which made the rafters ring in the old clubhouse. Every Saturday night of the summer featured a night of music and dance in those confined quarters. Those fun nights contributed much to the success of our club and the club owes much to such talented musicians as Mrs. Vachon and Herman Parsons, on the violin, Alice and Roma Amelotte, Ron Macdonald and his guitar, not to forget Rene Amelotte and his mouth organ.

Who's to forget those special Games' nights when a champion pipe band made music on the club lawn, behind the kilted Angus H.

Glengarry's biggest bootlegger was the name attributed to our club by the O.P.P., but they were good sports enough to leave us alone in our money raising efforts. Now we are respectable, licensed and supervised, and something seems missing. The spirit is still there, though, and we can count on a new crop of golfers to maintain progress of the Glengarry Golf and Country Club.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Criminal's holiday in Florida makes mockery of justice

Canada's legal system is already under heavy fire for its cavalier treatment of convicted criminals. And for good reason.

Last week, it was learned that the National Parole Board allowed a man convicted of conspiring to rig federal government dredging contracts to take a winter vacation in Florida and the Carribean while he was on parole.

Another man, convicted in connection with the same incident, was given parole after serving only 10 months or one-sixth of his five-year jail sentence.

Toronto businessman Sydney Cooper, convicted in 1979 of defrauding the federal government of $4.2 million by rigging bids on dredging contracts, was allowed to fly south during the Christmas holidays—a treatment which NDP justice critic Svend Robinson said displayed the administration's attitude towards those with social status.

Robinson tabled a motion in the Commons condemning such treatment of criminals. It read:

"That this House condemns the National Parole Board and the solicitor-general for this vivid illustration that there exists one law for the rich, powerful friends of the Liberal government and another law for the poor."

Nobody disputes that rehabilitation should be the primary goal of the prison system, but rehabilitation can only be hampered when society gives the impression that crime does pay. Millions of dollars were stolen from the Canadian people as a result of the dredging contract rigging. It should not appear that you can get away with such multi-million dollar rip-offs if you spend only a few months in jail.

Those who steal for need, it seems, are treated much more severely than those who steal for greed. B.R.

Calling recession a 'success' demonstrates twisted logic

A comment by Employment Minister Lloyd Axworthy that his new UIC "time-sharing" plan is a "roaring success" demonstrates just how warped federal government thinking has become.

Under the program, employees agree to work a shorter week to prevent layoffs. Special Unemployment Insurance Commission benefits are given for days not worked.

You can bet that this new "success" program will result in even higher UIC premiums for those left working.

How can anyone in his right mind use a word like "success" to describe a program dependent on unemployment?

The more people who become subject to lay-offs, the bigger the "success" of Mr. Axworthy's program.

The very existence of the program, let alone its phenomenal growth, is as convincing an indication as you could ever find that our leaders in Ottawa are totally incapable of restoring the economic health of this nation.

They institutionalize unemployment with "poverty-sharing" programs and call it a "success."

Thanks to Ottawa, Unemployment Insurance has become the fastest growing industry in Canada.

Who can fail to wince at a logic which argues that the more people you have in the soup line the greater "success" you have achieved.

Mr. Axworthy, your public relations and the policies of your government are a "roaring failure." B.R.

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

"How come a tenant has to give two months notice in the senior citizens housing units?" the administrator from St. Joseph's Villa asked at the recent information day sponsored by the Cornwall and Area Housing Authority.

"A great majority of our clients come from the senior citizens housing units and their names have been on my waiting list for perhaps months. When I have a bed ready for them, why do they have two months notice to contend with?" the administrator queried.

Because two months notice is the law, the reason told by housing officials who had made themselves available for the day, just to clear up such matters.

While the law is made to protect the greatest number of people, it can sometimes be an inconvenience, we learned.

One tenant might be ready to leave his or her senior citizen's apartment unit immediately. Relatives might come in to expedite matters and remove all the tenants belongings right away. This facilitates matters for the Housing Authority who can proceed at once to clean the apartment and receive another tenant who has been on a waiting list.

However, there is another type of tenant who may move out and still maintain the right to leave all furniture and belongings in the apartment until such time as a family member might come from a distance to move things out and dispose of them, using the full two months leeway, as provided by the law.

At one time an applicant for a senior citizen's housing unit or assisted rental housing had to prove residency in a certain locality to qualify.

This was changed for various reasons. If a senior citizen was living alone in her apartment in Alexandria while members of her family were working in Toronto for example, it might be better for her to apply for a transfer and move to a Toronto unit to be near her loved ones. Similarly if a young mother was in a rent-geared-to-income housing unit far from other relatives, it might be to her benefit to transfer to another town where she could have the moral support available.

Glengarry County has three buildings under the Ontario Housing Corporation. These are two senior citizen projects, one of 20 and one of 30 units and one project housing 15 families.

To qualify for admittance, applicants are graded on a point system.

Senior citizen housing is available to persons 60 years of age or older who are capable of looking after their own daily needs and should not be confused with homes for the aged where bed care and food services are provided.

In the family units, geared-to-income rents run from 16.7 to 25 per cent of a family's gross income. Verification of income must be provided when a family applies for assisted housing.

Generally, rents are established for a one-year period and are based on an annual review of gross income.

A lease may be terminated in accordance with the Landlord and Tenant Act if a tenant fails to adhere to terms of the lease. Non-payment of rent for example would be a lease infraction or a lease may be terminated when a tenant ceases to meet the qualifications required for occupancy. For example, once children are grown, a parent no longer qualifies for this type of housing.

Rental housing is allocated on the basis of greatest need and priority is given to those who require assistance the most.

The assisted rental program is designed primarily for couples or single parents with at least one dependent child.

The total operating loss is shared equally by the federal and provincial governments and not by the individual municipality.

In the Alexandria family housing project last year the rent revenue was $24,500 and net loss was $10,170 which is paid by the Provincial and Federal Governments. Of this amount Alexandria derived $7,000 in taxes.

From the Lochiel Street program the rent revenue was $24,500. The net loss of $10,170 included $7,000 in taxes for Alexandria.

Complete figures from the Kenyon Street project are not available. Revenue was $46,600 and taxes were $10,300.

Perspective

by Bob Roth

Lalonde's remarks unfair

The trouble with many generalizations—blacks are lazy, Indians are drunks, welfare people are bums—is that they often rely on specific cases which are not necessarily representative of the group under discussion.

Such is the case with remarks made at the last council meeting by Alexandria Reeve Bruno Lalonde.

According to Reeve Lalonde Alexandria should not accept more geared-to-income housing because it attracts "undesirables."

People on family benefits "are protected. They don't have to pay bills. They don't have to pay rent and they don't give a damn about Alexandria's merchants," the reeve said.

And that comment stands for the majority of welfare recipients, he indicated.

"I say the per cent desirable are less than the per cent undesirable," the reeve bluntly proclaimed.

Indeed.

On wonders what statistics the reeve has with which to back up his rather dramatic assertion.

The reeve's remarks followed some bad personal experience, one where a tenant moved out of the reeve's apartment owing money and not giving the proper two months notice and another involving a bad debt.

I don't blame the reeve for being angry. What I do object to is his sweeping conclusion that the bulk of people on social assistance are the next thing to shiftless bums.

Dishonesty and irresponsibility are not unique to one particular class. What about the used car salesman who turns the odometer back? What about the civil servant who pads his expense account? What about the contractors who "fix" bids as was done in the Hamilton Harbor scandal?

Too often our viewpoint on situations is clouded by our own middle-class perspective—that is, we are more charitable to people from our own class than those in a lower class even though the behavior of people in both classes is identical. Hence:

Poor people have "debts."

Middle-class people have "outstanding accounts."

Poor people "welch."

Middle-class people have a "cash-flow problem."

Poor people "waste" money.

Middle-class people have "bad investments."

Poor people "don't know how to manage their finances."

Middle-class people are "victimized by government policy."

The point is, dishonesty and irresponsibility are found in all classes of society. The poor are not inherently evil. Comments such as those by the reeve only increase prejudice—prejudice that is often one reason the poor are unable to get ahead.

Perhaps Reeve Lalonde should have taken another example. In the interests of privacy, I will not name the couple involved, but they have resided in subsidized housing for years. The husband found himself unable to work. On their meagre subsidized income they had to raise their eight children. Here is how they turned out.

Child A: Became a teacher after graduating from St. Lawrence College in Early Childhood Education.

Child B: Graduated with a BA from Laurentian University in Sudbury and is now a bilingual teacher in Northern Ontario.

Child C: Graduated from St. Lawrence College in Graphic Arts and is working in Oakville.

Child D: Enrolled in final year leading to his degree in accounting at University of Western Ontario.

Child E: Enrolled at St. Lawrence College in office administration.

Child F: Worked with Katimavik, a volunteer organization assisting people throughout Canada and is now working in Calgary.

Children G and H: Both enrolled at Glengarry District High School.

These children are Canada's future. Collectively they will contribute hundreds of years of talent to our country.

One can only speculate what their fate would have been had we not had a family benefits program and geared-to-income housing during their time of need.

They'll Do It Every Time

About that monument

Maxville, Ontario
April 19, 1982

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

In regard to Mrs. Lusia Jasiewicz's letter of April 12, 1982, I commend Mrs. Jasiewicz for her concern about a monument to those who gave their lives in past wars, but I would like to clarify a few things which I feel she has misunderstood.

First of all, it was in July 1981 that a group of veterans approached the council of the Village of Maxville about erecting a war memorial in the village. They were given the blessing of the council and two of its members, Donald Benton and Larry Baker, were appointed as council representatives in this endeavor.

The first meeting of this group took place on August 20, 1981, and a committee was formed—moved by J. Rolland and seconded by A. Durocher, that they be known as The Veterans' Memorial Association. The chairman to be Rev. McColl, secretary Alex MacLean and Treasurer, E. Scott.

Various meetings were held during the months of August and September and the proposed site was to be a piece of land behind the Masonic Lodge, beside the post office.

However, in October, 1981, a meeting was held at the Maxville Manor with executive present and acting secretary L. Baker. It was then moved by Mr. Kitely and seconded by Mr. Franklin that the meeting be opened and a motion was made by Mr. Rolland and seconded by Mr. Franklin that The Veterans Memorial Association be dissolved and that the Chairman Rev. McColl and the treasurer E. Scott give up their respective chairs and were requested to leave the room while a membership vote was taken. The vote was in favor of dissolving the Veterans' Memorial Association.

Sometime later a new group was formed, calling themselves the Maxville War Veterans' Club. Their first objective was to erect a War Memorial in the village of Maxville. This new group then, also, went to the council to make known their "demands"—primarily that they wanted town property sold to them for the above mentioned purpose—which the council was unable to do.

However, a motion was passed by all the members of council that a memorial should indeed, be erected in the village and I, myself, proposed that they be allowed a space for such a memorial at the front of the Medical Centre or inside the enclosed fence at the Sports Complex as the Masonic Lodge had now withdrawn their offer of their land.

However, it was decided that any cost in the erection of this memorial should be the responsibility of the club. For this reason these two location sites were rejected.

Therefore, I do not understand why Mrs. Jasiewicz feels that "the wishes and the hopes of so many were thwarted by a small group of administrators," when, in fact, these same administrators were so eager to help when the original committee was formed.

Yours truly,
Lawrence Baker.

Letters policy

The News prints letters to the editor providing they are not libelous and carry the signatures, addresses and phone numbers of the writers. This is necessary to ensure letters are authentic. Pen names are not permitted. Letters should be no more than two type-writtern pages, double spaced or the equivalent in handwriting. All letters are subject to editing.

Lalonde wrapped by "Undesirable"

Further to your article of Wednesday, April 21, 1982 in the Glengarry News.

I am sorry to hear you feel that the town should not apply for any more geared-to-income housing projects, because they attract undesirables to the town.

I am one of those "undesirables" as you so call us and I feel that I am a worthwhile citizen and deserve to be treated with the same respect and integrity of anyone else in this town.

Regardless of my financial status, I am also sorry to hear that you have been burned, as you say, by some people on family benefits, because there are no recourses to collect bills!

If you were to do some research and by reading your article I gather you have not, and provide statistical evidence to back your statements, you would find that indeed the majority of people (99 per cent according to some provincial and federal statistics) on so-called assistance do not choose to be recipients.

They need help because of a lack of an education a vocational opportunity and training, or ill health and a number of other legitimate reasons.

I am glad to see that your colleagues are more sensible than you, as they see and support the need for subsidized housing in this community.

I am grateful that you have only managed to get yourself elected, to represent and "serve" an area of 3,500 people, people who have trusted and voted for you.

Since you only serve this area, your attitudes and narrow-minded opinions and feelings are insignificant.

I am also grateful that subsidized housing is a provincial project. Your ignorance and your opinion would benefit no one if you were a more prominent political figure.

We may be undesirables in your eyes, but we have the right to live in this town as much as you. The sun rises for everyone.

One of those undesirables, Rita Filion

On Wednesday night, H. R. Macdonald had the misfortune to have the dwelling house on his farm 1-4th Lochiel, destroyed by fire. The occupant, Louis Brunet, lost all his furniture, etc.—The License Commissioners, Messrs. R. R. Sangster, Lancaster; P. D. McDonald, Bridge End, and A. McNeil, Glen Sandfield, met here on Wednesday to award licenses for the county. There are to be 24 licensed houses in the county; four in Alexandria; two in Lancaster Village; three in Lancaster Township; five in Lochiel; four in Kenyon, and six in Charlottenburgh.—Our tennis enthusiasts met in the Union Bank building on Monday when the following officers were appointed: president, D. J. MacPherson; vice-pres., A. G. F. Macdonald; sec'y-treas., G. A. Campbell; ladies' committee, Misses Julia McMillan, A. McDonald and L. McDougall; ground committee, G. H. Moles, R. A. F. Blair and W. J. O'Brien.—Willie McDonell, James McGregor, William and Allan Calder left Lancaster for the West on Monday. The Calder boys are bound for Nelson, BC, while the others go to Sault Ste. Marie.

Leery of "Made in Canada" constitution says reader

RR3 Dalkeith,
April 20, 1982

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

It is with mixed feelings that I welcome our "Made in Canada" Constitution. Ever since Mr. Trudeau said that common law would no longer apply (to rights at least) I have been leery.

Under the heading of "Other Rights" it states that the right of property is guaranteed at the Federal level under the 1960 Canadian Bill of Rights the which has been honored more in the breach than the spirit. At the provincial level there is also "protection."

I see no obstacle to either of these safeguards being removed without touching the "Constitution Act 1982." It could be done the same way that our civil detention camps are set up (your recent editorial), or a bill passed in Parliament or the Provincial Legislature.

Now is the time for us to write—not phone—our elected representatives and have the change made in our brand new untried constitution. If we do not then we had better have some good explanations to give to our children and grandchildren. Mr. Ethier please take note.

Yours truly,
S. E. McCracken.

Cards of Thanks

WYLIE—We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the kindness, thoughtfulness and generosity of our relatives, friends and neighbors after the loss of our home. Special thanks to David and Lois Dumouchel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickerd and to Mrs. Kitty Ewaschuk and Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Guy Larocque. Thanks to all who organized and attended the shower. Also a special thanks to my friends and co-workers at the Community Nursing Home. Thanking you all sincerely,
—Wman and Elaine Wylie and family. 17-1p

FRAPPIER - QUESNEL — We would like to thank everybody who attended our mixed party. Special thanks to those who organized that evening. It will always be remembered.
—Maurice and Claudette. 17-1p

ROY—Many thanks to friends and relatives who sent cards, gifts and flowers and who visited me while I was a patient in Hotel Dieu Hospital. Sincere thanks to Dr. Nadeau of Alexandria and to Dr. MacLean and to the nurses of Cornwall for their care.
—Carmen Roy,
North Lancaster. 17-1p

BEV Lemieux and Luc Poirier wish to thank all their friends, relatives and neighbors who attended the party in their honor and contributed in making it such a wonderful success. 17-1p

Cards of Thanks

RYAN—The family of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan (nee Harkin) express sincere thanks to all their relations and friends for the masses, floral tributes and cards; donations to the Heart and Cancer fund, during their recent bereavement. Special thanks to Father Joseph (Al) MacDonald of Toronto. Please accept this as a personal thanks to all. 17-1c MacISAAC—I would like to thank all those who remembered me with cards and visits while I was a patient in Cornwall General Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Shah, Dr. Miller and Dr. Rao and the nurses on first floor north, who were all so kind and considerate.

—Archie MacIsaac. 17-1p

SAUVE—I would like to thank all my friends and relatives who attended a baby shower for me on April 18 and for all the beautiful gifts. I would also like to thank everyone involved in organizing the shower and lunch.
—Gertrude Sauve. 17-1p

In Memoriam

LaPIERRE—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Leonard LaPierre, who passed away April 27, 1981.
My blessings are so many,
My troubles are so few
How can I feel discouraged
When I know that I have you.
I have the sweet assurance
That I'll never stand alone, if I but keep remembering,
That I am yours and yours alone.
So in this world of trouble
With darkness all around
Take my hand and lead me Leonard,
Until I stand on higher ground.
Then help me to endure the storms
That keep raging deep inside me
And make me more aware each day,
That no evil can betide me.
If I remain undaunted
Though the billows sweep and roll
Knowing I have your assurance,
There's a haven for my soul.
For anything and everything
Can somehow be endured
That I know your presence is beside me
And lovingly assured.
I also wish to thank my family and friends who have made a difficult year worth carrying on. Without their love and help and so many acts of kindness in so many ways I feel I am truly blessed. My prayers are with them and I shall always cherish their friendship. With humble thanks, to all,
Evelyn and Roger LaPierre. 17-1p

MacMASTER—A token of remembrance of a dear brother-in-law, Donald D. MacMaster, who entered into rest April 29, 1981.
"Silent Memories."
—Katie and Mag's. 17-1p

MacMASTER—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Donald Duncan MacMaster, who passed away April 29, 1981.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife Annie, daughter Greta, son-in-law Duncan Bradley and the grandchildren, Don, Janet, Sally, Sofi, Jayne, Kevin and Katie Asselin, great grandchild. 17-1p

GDHS Newsline

by Todd Hambleton
Intended for last week's issue

It was a busy week for the Senior Band. Last Tuesday night they performed in Vankleek Hill in conjunction with Education Week. Channel 57, the PBS Television station in Plattsburgh, was also on hand to tape the concert. It will be televised sometime in May. Two days later, they took part in the Kiwanis Music Festival in Cornwall and placed second behind North Dundas. On Wednesday, the band will participate in the Ottawa Music Festival.

SCIENCE FAIR WINNERS

Science Fair winners from GDHS were, at the intermediate level, Anna Akkerman, 1st place; Cindy Ladouceur, 2nd place. In the senior level, John Ferguson placed second and Dominic Besner took second prize in the poster contest.

TO ATTEND CONTEST

A number of local students will attend the OBEA Accounting contest in Cornwall on Wednesday. They will compete against students from other area high schools for the right to participate in the Ontario finals in Toronto.

School band visits G. D. H. S.

Tagwiscope

by Christine Lalonde and
Angela Dusomos

A school committee meeting was held on Thursday, April 15. The guest speaker was Lorne Lawson, superintendent of the Special Education program. He outlined Bill 82 and discussed the implementation in SD&G schools.

COMPUTER COURSE

From Tuesday, April 20 to Thursday, April 22, a group of 15 teachers in SD&G Secondary Schools took a Micro Computer Course at Tagwi. Tagwi has just recently received nine new Micro Computers. We have approximately 200 students registered for computers for the year 1982-83.

REPORT CARDS

Report cards were issued on Wednesday, April 21. No parent-teacher interviews will be held but if there are any concerns please call Student Services (346-2122).

UPCOMING EVENTS

There will be a Blood Donor Clinic held at Tagwi on May 4. We wish to welcome everyone to join us. We need your support to make this event work. Give the gift of life to someone desperately in need. The Clinic will be open from 1-4:30 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. The Haliburton and Tagwi Concert Bands will perform on the night of the Blood Donor Clinic. The Haliburton Concert Band is visiting Tagwi on a Band Exchange from May 2 through May 5.

Last year 80 per cent of our blood donors were students. We hope that more parents will become involved in this event. If the number of parents equals that of the number of students of last year, we will easily reach our desired number of units.

Plan to come to our Blood Donor Clinic on May 4 and give the gift of life. Thank you in advance for any support that you give.

TAGWI-THON

Friday, April 30. Tagwi will hold a Tagwi-thon. This will include a combination of a dance-a-thon and a rock-a-thon. Students will be going around their neighborhood looking for sponsors. The funds raised are for worthwhile causes. Fifty per cent goes to the CNIB, 25 per cent to the Junior Band for uniforms and 25 per cent to the Student Council for other school events.

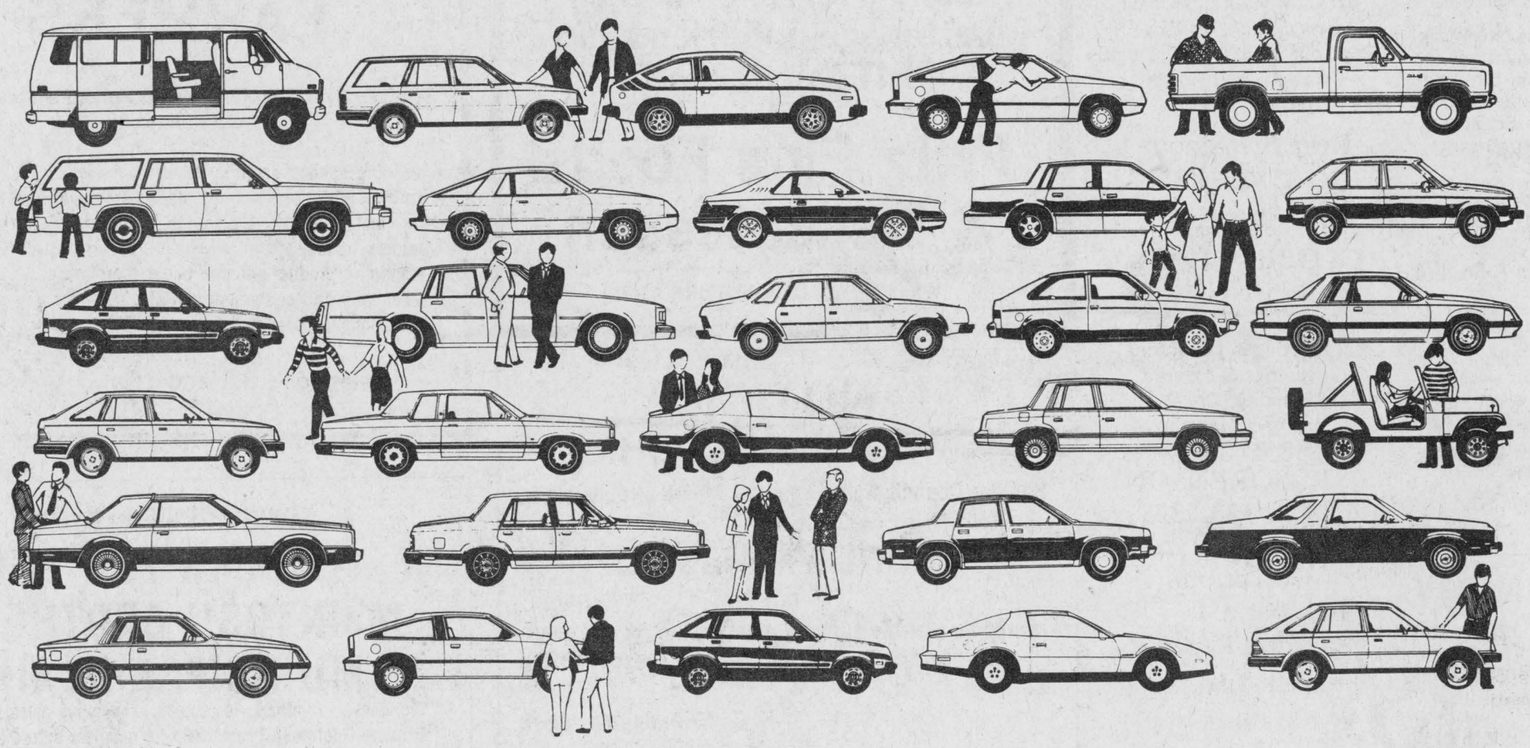
Take everything into consideration before you buy a new car.



You'll choose North American!

We firmly believe that buying a North American vehicle is your best choice — for a number of good reasons. It boosts the Canadian Economy. It puts Canadians to work. And it places you behind the wheel of a winner. The new North American cars and light trucks are the most thoroughly thought-out and carefully manufactured vehicles that our industry has ever produced.

We at Stelco work closely with the automakers, producing a wide range of steels and steel products for their use. As one of the suppliers to the automobile manufacturers, we know just how quality conscious they are. To meet the stringent requirements of today's cars we have increased the performance levels of every facet of our operations . . . from basic research on new high strength steels to the quality control that we apply to our finished products.

So check these features when you select your new car

□ Check fuel economy.
New, finely engineered, extremely efficient engines, weight reduction and aerodynamics squeeze more kilometres than ever out of every litre of gas. For example, a recent survey shows just how well the new North American cars rate.

Subcompacts and Compacts
(Automatic transmission models, excluding diesels, combined urban and highway driving).

North American:	25.7 to 41.5 mpg
Foreign:	25.5 to 42.1 mpg

□ Check styling.
North American auto design is again setting the standard for the world. A wide array of new designs are being regularly introduced to meet every need and taste. Check options; North American manufacturers enable you to order precisely the vehicle you want.

□ Check quality — fit and finish.
The quality of North American cars has improved dramatically in recent years, in durability, for example, through the wider use of galvanized steel. Consider also, statistics gathered between 1966 and 1979 reveal that North American cars experienced a significantly lower percentage of factory call-backs than foreign-built cars sold on this continent.

Sources: Transport Canada, United Auto Workers, Ontario Government, Highway Loss Data Institute, Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, Motor Vehicle Manufacturers' Association, U.S. Department of Transportation.

□ Check prices.
There has never been a better time to buy. North American manufacturers are going all out to price their cars attractively.

□ Check costs.
In the long run you'll find that North American cars are more economical to own. For example, U.S. insurance experience has resulted in higher premiums for imports; a similar situation is anticipated in Canada. Consider planned maintenance costs; they average about 30 percent less for North American cars than for imports.

□ Check safety.
Fatality rates prove you're safer in a North American car than in most imports.

Consider these facts too

When an imported automobile is bought here there are far-reaching economic consequences for all of Canada.

□ Reduced employment.
Right now over 27 000 automotive workers are unemployed across Canada. A significantly high proportion of these lost jobs can be attributed to the importation of foreign cars. Substantial numbers of jobs are also being lost by the hundreds of thousands of Canadian workers in the companies that supply the North American automotive industry. In all, one in every seven Canadian manufacturing jobs is automotive-related.

□ Reduced tax revenue.
Foreign cars contribute less tax revenue to our country. In addition, loss of production means lower earnings, resulting in reduced personal and corporate taxes. Canada is losing millions of tax dollars which must be made up by Canadian taxpayers.

The automotive industry is the engine that drives our economy. Thousands of businesses supplying parts and materials and hundreds of thousands of jobs are in jeopardy. For example, at Stelco we employ 23 000 people and over 20 percent of our steel products are sold directly to the Automotive Industry.
