Angus R. MacDonell of Alexandria, was elected Chairman of the Glengarry County Advisory Committee of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind at its annual meeting held in Alexandria on November 7th.

Corneal tissue used for the transplant was supplied through the Eye Bank which is jointly sponsored by the Banting Institute of the University of Toronto and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Firemen out twice in day

Alexandria firemen had two calls on Saturday, both of a minor nature.

At noon the truck was sent to the McCrimmon area where a grass fire in land owned by ARDA was threatening nearby farmsteads. A cigarette on the roadside is believed to have started the blaze.

At 3.30 p.m. the call was to Robert's Beauty Salon where a drill, used in installation of new wiring, had started a blaze in the wall. There was no damage.

The brigade was also called out at 9 a.m. Wednesday of last week. A mop in a washroom at Alexandria Lanes was smouldering and the smoke prompted an alarm.

Chief Charlebois was out earlier that morning when a post on William Street was ignited by an electrical charge. Another fire in street wiring on Thursday also called him out.

Charter night of the club was November 16th, 1953, but the group may be said to be marking their silver date for the club was started in 1948 as a Kinsmen Club. The change to International Lions was made in 1953 because most of the members were beyond the age limit set by the Kinsmen Club.

Sixteen members of the present club will be recognized at the anniversary dinner. Charter members who are still active will receive a souvenir pin. They include Jean Trottier, Claude Lemay, Jim Humphries, Frank McLeister, Eugene Macdonald and Cam Fraser.

Blood donor clinic to be held here November 30th

Glengarry Red Cross has its next blood donor clinic scheduled for Friday, Nov. 30th, at Glengarry District High School.

The Red Cross campaign for funds will also be held in November from the 23rd to the 30th. Fund Campaign Chairman Norbert Joubert needs zone chairman for Lochiel, Kenyon South and Charlottenburgh North and South. He would appreciate volunteers calling him at 525-2222 or 525-2947.

In this day and age where the cost of living has soared to almost impossible heights there is still one thing, vital to life, which can be given and received free of charge—Blood.

Should you lose it or need it at any time, it is essential to have supplies of your blood group available for immediate use. That is why the Canadian Red Cross Society organizers through its local branches blood donor clinics. Most persons in good health between the ages of 18 and 65 can become regular blood donors up to four times a year, if one so wishes, slightly less than a pint at a time.

Help the Blood Transfusion Service by becoming a blood donor and you could be helping someone to live. Think about it, one pint of blood could save a life—and it could be yours!

No election in Kenyon

There will be no municipal election in Kenyon Township where the incumbent council was returned by acclamation Tuesday. Kenyon was the only Glengarry municipality in which nominations were held this year and the council is returned for a one-year term.

Next year's election will synchronize with school board voting and that will be the case in all municipalities.

Some doubt as to the need for an election in Kenyon remained until 5 p.m. Tuesday. Councillor Hugh McIntyre had been nominated for both councillor and deputy-reeve and he had until that hour Tuesday to register his intention of contesting the deputy post.

Lawrence O'Connor, Apple Hill had been nominated for councillor and it is understood he planned to qualify only if there was a vacant seat as councillor. That did not transpire and the council for 1974 will remain as is:

Reeve—Albert Faubert.

Deputy-Reeve — John Archie MacLennan.

Three trustees for Apple Hill Village were also given acclamations—Bernard Raymond, Rene Lalonde and Real Lefebvre.

Lancaster Village to collect taxes in two instalments

Lancaster Village council plans to collect 1974 taxes in two payments, one in January and the second in July.

At the November meeting council authorized the Clerk to mail out interim tax bills for 1974 in January. The second and final one will go out in July.

Council is suggesting to those in arrears of taxes that payment be made before the closing of the 1973 books, Dec. 31st.

After that date Charles Fitzhugh, tax arrears collector, will add a 10 per cent collection charge on all arrears.

Lions replace two executive members

Jerry Adams and Lorne Lawson will represent the Lions Club on the executive of the new Boys Club being formed by Police Chief Cleroux, it was decided at Monday's Lions Club dinner meeting.

President Jacques Joly announced Ernie Gallant and Rene Roy had been named club directors to replace two members who have left town, Pat Killoran and Bill Upper. Lion Bill was present at the dinner and he was made a farewell presentation by the President.

Plans were furthered for the anniversary Ladies Night dinner on Nov. 25th which will mark the 20th anniversary of the club.

Snowmobile club enjoyed very successful start

Alexandria Snowmobile Club scored a big success, Saturday, when some 600 attended the opening dance at the Bonnie Glen. President Marc Lalonde reports $7,000 was realized on the sale of draw tickets on a snowmobile and the event earned enough to pay more than half of the cost of the $10,000 Ski-Dozer purchased to build snowmobile trails.

Mrs. Shirley Chabot of Alexandria, was the lucky winner and she took a Yamaha as her prize.

Crowned Snowmobile Queen was Miss Aline Bourbonnais of North Lancaster, who sold tickets worth $2300 in the draw. Others in the contest were Doris Sauve, Lise Larocque and Colette Wathier.

The club now has some 200 members and the onset of winter is awaited. The club's Ski-Dozer will then be put to work shaping up some 100 miles of trail radiating out from Alexandria to all parts of the county. Planned are three main trails, Alexandria to Riviere Beaudette and return, by way of Lancaster and St. Raphael's; Alexandria to Ste Justine and return; Alexandria to Dunvegan and Maxville and return. Other shorter trails will also be developed in time.

The club has applied for a grant under the Local Initiatives Program to help finance its trails, some of which may also be used as nature trails in summer.

Funeral held to Maxville

An aged resident of Macdonell Memorial Hospital, Mrs. Isabella Christina MacMaster died there on Saturday, November 3rd. She was the wife of the late Donald Grant MacMaster.

Born in Montreal 84 years ago, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ardley.

She is survived by one son and three daughters, Donald G. MacMaster of Edmonton, Alta.; Mary, Mrs. W. A. McKillican of Palmer, Alaska, Isabel, Mrs. Knut Grotterod of Edmunston, NB, and Miss Gertrude MacMaster of Ottawa.

She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Ethel Leslie of Pointe Claire, Que.

Dr. W. L. MacLellan of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Cornwall, officiated at the funeral service at McArthur Bros. and MacNeil Funeral Home on Monday, November 5th. Burial was in Maxville.

Piped in Toronto

Miss Colleen McCormick, Alexandria, of the Glengarry Pipe Band, was the guest piper at the Ayrshire Show, Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, on Tuesday. Colleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron McCormick, incidently took second place in the Glengarry Junior Piping Contest held last month, so the Pipe-Major didn't have too many doubts about asking her to represent the Band at this annual show. There will be 46 visitors from Scotland at the show, and they are expected to visit Glengarry on Saturday.

AS SERVICEMEN REMEMBERED COMRADES—Remembrance Day services on Sunday at the Glengarry War Memorial drew the largest attendance in many years. The turnout of veterans was also the largest in years. Preceded by the pipe band, the parade is caught as it moved off from the high school grounds the flag bearers followed by members of the Ladies Auxiliary. Similar observances were held at Lancaster, Williamstown and Apple Hill. —Photo by Robert

Gaels Used The Wind To Beat Plantagenet, Championship Play

(by Angus H. McDonell)

Championship hockey and football teams have one basic factor in common. To win in hockey your goalie must be better than average. To win on the gridiron, your kicking must be better than average. The boot was an important part of the difference last Friday here when Gaels defeated Plantagenet 11-2 and won the McArthur Trophy emblematic of the EOSSA "B" championship.

Despite a biting northwest wind one of the largest crowds to ever attend a final school game was on hand. Five student bus loads from Plantagenet with their cheerleaders added to the local fans gave a colorful game back-drop, especially the west bank, a man-made graded grandstand.

Gaels elected to receive and face the wind. Plantagenet has a better than average kicker but on the kick-off there was an indication their booter could be in for an off-color game. Instead of a wind-driven kick that would put Gaels in instant trouble and deep, the ball slithered to their 35 where they found themselves in unbelievable favorable field position.

A sequence later and a contrast in the kick factor, Gaels had to give up the ball and Cleary Morris hoisted the leather lemon that gained some then just hung up there, giving Cleary time to pounce on the ball and recover for Gaels. Both defences yielded little ground and half way through the first quarter Plantagenet were forced to kick on third down but again the lusty boot weapon was defused as Gaels' front four broke through to block the ball and take over.

Make a mistake to a football crew sniffing the championship and they come right back to kill you, Hamilton's old theory, and that is exactly what Gaels did. Quarterback Brian Lawson drew one of his favorite cards from the play book, the reverse that sends Tom Danaher around the left end. The blocking was big time and Tom went all the way in a manner that would swell the hearts of all Irishmen not to mention a few hundred GDHS students, their teachers and fans. Then the other son of Erin, via the Glens, Cleary Morris added the convert and Gaels were leading 7-0.

Plantagenet, stung by this unexpected turnover, displayed effective ground gaining plays for the remainder of the first quarter giving up the ball in the shadow of Gaels' goal line. On the last play and in preference to kicking into the wind from their end zone, Morris conceded a rouge for two points. This was a smart call as Gaels now for the first play in the second quarter were on their own 25 and had the wind.

Plantagenet on the exchanges gradually yielded and at the 10-minute mark Morris was good for a single. Three minutes later, QB Lawson and his offence jogged to the bench while the defence troops took over. Once again they helped the cause by forcing a Plantagenet thrust back over their goal line for a rouge that meant a 10-2 lead for Gaels at the half.

In the third, Plantagenet came up with their best offence of the game highlighted by four successive first downs. Aiming for the big one a pass was dead on to the end zone but Gaels' Rod Ewing stepped in line and collared the ball just like Gene Gaines or Soupy Campbell to snuff out the rally and chalk up the finest defensive play of the game. A converted TD here by Plantagenet would mean only a field goal difference but they changed ends with Gaels holding their 10-2 lead.

The final was a conservative, heady brand of ball control by Gaels. Take no chances on interceptions or fumbles and let Morris with the wind keep the visitors at bay.

The best example was a tremendous punt by Cleary that prompted teacher John Grant beside us to shout, "There goes a 55-yarder". John was right. Forced to give up the ball Morris boomed another that was heading for the curling rink but dropped short for the final point of the championship winner 11-2.

This was a sportsmanship-filled ending to just about the finest school football season this writer has covered in more than 10 years. There will be realignment of the teams come the 1974 schedule due to a school district change and with our spotter Angus R., we will miss our trips north.

To conclude our wrap up this writer is again grateful to convener Bernie (Maxville) Julien, all the coaches and school secretaries who were so cooperative with information especially when resorting to the phone during class hours.

Mrs. Lavigne Died At 66

A resident of Alexandria throughout most of her lifetime, Mrs. Georgiana Lavigne died on Saturday, November 3rd in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall.

She was born 66 years ago, in St. Eugene, the daughter of the late Ferdinand Desjardins and his wife Methilda Desormeau. In 1929 she was married in Lochiel to the late George Lavigne and for the past 20 years had been residing with her son, Archie Lavigne in Alexandria. She had been in failing health for the past few months.

She leaves to mourn her loss two sons and four daughters: Archie Lavigne of Alexandria; George Lavigne, Mrs. Ken Barker, Mrs. Omer Quasquenette and Mrs. John Redman all of Toronto and Mrs. Marcel Ranger of Valleyfield.

She also leaves two brothers and three sisters, Paul and Hector Desjardins, Mrs. Julien Noel and Mrs. Ben Sauve all of Valleyfield and Mrs. Reginald Master of Montreal.

The funeral took place from Morris Funeral Home to Sacred Heart Church on Tuesday, November 6th, where Rev. Raoul Poirier offered the funeral mass. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

Pallbearers were Marcel Ranger, Bernard Menard, Carmel Sabourin, Ubald Taillefer, Arthur Lavigne and Leo Lavigne.

Ontario Hydro Announces Higher Rates In 1974

Faced with rising costs and the resultant need for additional revenue, Ontario Hydro has announced that 1974 rates will be raised for most users of electricity in the province.

Increases in interim rates to municipal utilities, who buy in bulk from Ontario Hydro and in turn supply the majority of Ontario's 2.5 million users, will average 7½ per cent. An average increase in revenue of some 10 per cent is required from retail customers in rural areas, served directly by Ontario Hydro. Rates to a number of industrial plants also served directly by the provincial utility, will be increased to provide an additional 10 per cent in revenue.

Hydro Chairman George Gathercole said, "The new rates are primarily a reflection of strong inflationary forces. Labor rates next year under contract terms will be up substantially while much higher prices for fuel and materials will also push up electricity production costs."

Another factor underlying the new rate structure is the need to provide more capital funds out of current revenue. Over the last few years the proportion from current revenue going toward additional generating and transmission facilities has been declining as a result of higher construction costs and the size of the program. As a result more funds must be generated from revenue in order to reduce the need to borrow capital funds.

"As the rates to most municipal customers are set by their local commissions after taking into account their own distribution costs and the cost of power to them, any rate adjustments will depend on the financial position of each municipal system and other local circumstances," said Mr. Gathercole.

Mr. Gathercole said a number of the 353 local utilities and some industrial customers will obtain relief from the full effects of the increase. For many municipalities the increase will be less than 2 percent.

"This results from the elimination of a charge for standardization of frequency to 60 cycles from 25 cycles which has been in effect for some 25 years. The total cost of this program will be fully amortized by the end of 1973.

"Municipalities in the former Niagara 25-cycle system will have their increases reduced by $3 a kilowatt next year. Those in Hydro's Eastern and Georgian Bay regions will obtain a reduction of 50 cents a kilowatt in 1974."

From Ontario Hydro's retail system which supplies some 660,000 predominantly rural customers, the increase in revenue is required not only to meet the increased charges of wholesale power, but also the higher costs of distributing it over the province's 180,000 square miles of rural area served.

Arts, Crafts Show Set For Avonmore

The new Avonmore Community Centre will be the scene of the first annual Arts, Crafts and Hobbies Festival to be held on Saturday and Sunday afternoons Dec. 1st and 2nd, between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock. The Festival is being sponsored by the Avonmore Community Recreation Association, better known as the community's hard working Sports Committee.

The festival is designed to serve two purposes, to give local residents the opportunity of viewing many interesting exhibits to be placed there by craftsmen and hobbyists from many parts of the district and an opportunity for those craftsmen to share their enthusiasm and productivity with local residents.

At the moment local organizers are pleased with the initial response to the Festival. They have received the fullest cooperation of the Glengarry Craft Guild as well as from individuals interested in their own particular crafts and hobbies.

The festival planning has been shouldered by three ladies: Mrs. Dianne Miller, Mrs. Iva Bush and Mrs. Mavis Wert. The committee will be pleased to hear from anyone interested in setting up a demonstration of any kind.

Mr. Veltheim, whose wood carvings have been eagerly sought after, will be among the exhibitors. He lives in Avonmore.

The ladies will also be sponsoring a bake sale as a part of the festival.

A series of other interesting events are planned for the Avonmore Community Centre for the month of December, including a Christmas Concert with a distinctively international flavor, a series of euchre parties, a New Year's Eve party and night classes sponsored in cooperation with St. Lawrence College of Applied Arts and Technology.

Welcome Cardinals

A local bird watcher advises that a new arrival, a cardinal, visited a local feeding station on Saturday. Put out your sunflower seeds and such, encourage the beautiful cardinals, she suggests.

Bluejays, Yellow Evening Grosbeaks, and now bright red cardinals in Alexandria for the winter; what more could a bird lover ask.

Glens edge Metcalfe for first road victory

(by Gary Shepherd)

Last weekend, Ken McDonald's green, white and gold squad had only one game scheduled, travelling to Metcalfe on Sunday for an afternoon contest with the Jets.

A small crowd of just over 150 fans watched as the visiting Glens edged the hometown Jets 2-1.

Rod Shepherd opened the scoring at 8.32 of the first period with J. T. Hay and Ralph Humphries picking up assists. Less than five minutes later it was Shepherd again as he caught Jets goalie, Dennis Brisson sleeping with a hard slap shot from centre ice.

Both teams ~~were~~ kept off the scoreboard for the balance of the 1st period and throughout the second frame. Then at 39 seconds of the final twenty, Jets' Larry Shields slid one by Dennis Delaney for Metcalfe's only marker.

Delaney was outstanding in the Alexandria net, turning back 28 enemy blasts.

Rookie defencemen Brian Main and Stephen McDonell looked impressive on the Alexandria blue line. Another pleasant surprise for Coach McDonald was the fine penalty killing performance by Tom Ross and Garrett McGillis.

Referee Bob Carkner handed out 15 minor penalties and one misconduct. Alexandria picked up nine of the minors and the ~~mis~~conduct.

Next weekend the Glens travel to Spencerville for a Saturday night contest with the Bruins and on Sunday afternoon play host to the rugged Winchester Hawks at the Community Center. Game time on Sunday is 2.30 p.m.

Ralph MacSweyn traded to Vancouver

The Los Angeles Sharks last week sent defenceman Ralph MacSweyn to the Vancouver Blazers, concluding the World Hockey Association trade that brought Ron Ward to the Sharks.

Gaels On The Warpath

(by Tish Filiatrault)

Our senior Gaels are most certainly worthy of their title as they ran their way into battle against Plantagenet in a sudden death final game on Friday. With skill, determination and a crowd of students whose spirit and enthusiasm were at a peak the team managed to prove themselves No. 1 in the Glengarry-Prescott League and take the trophy into their possession. They were successful in taking the game 10-2. Congratulations should go to the coaches, Jean-Yves Jeaurond and Stanley Fraser, who coached the team to victory.

On Saturday the Gaels' soccer team gave a fine representation of GDHS in Sarnia at the All-Ontario Soccer Tournament. Our team tied the defending champion St. Clair 2-2 and lost a close game to Pickering Secondary School by a score of 3-2, the deciding goal coming as a result of a penalty kick. Scorers for GDHS were Lynn Morrison and Norman Laliberte. Fine work guys!

Last Thursday the undefeated Junior Gaels basketball team won a semi-final game against Rockland by a score of 39-31. High scorers were Mary Morris and Wendy MacSweyn. The girls travel to Plantagenet in the first final game of a two-game total point series. We wish them luck.

On Saturday night, GDHS held their annual school commencement. Diplomas and various awards were given to deserving students. Graduates and parents were welcomed by the principal P. T. Lloyd and impressive valedictory speeches were given by Carol Major and Robert Bellefeuille.

Curling ice ready

Ice at the Alexandria Curling Club is ready for play and Open House is being held this weekend when anyone interested is invited to drop in. Scheduled play will get underway next week.

A new color scheme has been used in painting the "house". Yellow and brown were used to good effect.

Wensink suspended

President Jack Butterfield of the American Hockey League suspended winger John Wensink of Rochester Americans Saturday.

Butterfield said the suspension would remain in effect at least until he has a chance to review a fight in which Wensink was involved during Friday night's game at Rochester with Nova Scotia Voyageurs.

Wensink was accused of knocking out Len Cunning of Nova Scotia with a punch in the second period and continuing to pummel him on the ice.

Cunning was in hospital with a mild concussion and a fractured cheekbone. He was expected to remain in hospital for a week to 10 days.

Vows Exchanged At Apple Hill

On October 20th Wendy Lynn oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steward Crawford of Strathmore and Bill Irwin Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Shields of Maxville were united in marriage. Rev. George Clifford assisted by Mr. George Tomita officiated at the ceremony in Zion United Church, Apple Hill. Soloist was Ramona Sauve and organist was Donald Marjerrison of Ottawa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of imported Chantilly lace in rose point pattern. The high neckline was edged with a petite ruffle and a mock yoke of ruffled lace was centred with tiny white satin bows. The long sleeves ended in shirred cuffs and a deep shirred flounce formed the hem of the skirt designed in demibelle. A Queen Victorian headpiece covered with lace held her chapel length illusion veil which was edged with minute scalloped lace. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and red rose buds edged with heather and maidenhair fern.

Maid of honor was Miss Ramona Sauve of Apple Hill. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth McRae, sister of the groom of Cornwall and Miss Heather Crawford, sister of the bride of Strathmore. The maid of honor wore rose colored figured sheer and the bridesmaids wore blue figured sheer and carried nosegays of blue tipped carnations with matching velvet ribbon in their hair.

Following the ceremony dinner was served in the church hall by the UCW ladies. The same evening a large crowd attended a reception held in their honor at the Bonnie Glen from which the young couple left for their honeymoon trip to Lake Champlain and other points in U.S.A.

Prior to her wedding the bride was honored at a shower, in Strathmore by her relatives, friends and neighbors.

The bride and groom will reside in Maxville.

Group Had Talk On Far East

Mr. Earle Moore was the guest speaker at the November 1st meeting of the Glengarry Historical Society. In addition to being the owners of the Canadiana Village at Rawdon, Que., the Moores are travellers of note.

They have recently returned from a trip to Japan and the Far East and they entertained with some beautiful colored slides and a most interesting commentary.

The Moores found Japan very clean, very organized and very expensive. By contrast, Taiwan is very inexpensive and a veritable paradise for bargain hunters. They even brought home a rickshaw as these vehicles are being phased out in Japan. There was an atmosphere of peace and tranquility in the East which seems to be lacking in our Western Society.

It was a most interesting evening and greatly enjoyed by the members.

The next meeting of the Historical Society will not be until February.

Funeral Of Alfred Renaud Held Today

His death occurred at Convalodge in Cornwall on Monday and the remains rested at the Aime Marcoux Funeral Home in Alexandria.

He was predeceased two years ago by his wife the former Sarah Demars and in addition to his son Yvanhoe he also leaves two sons, Alcide of Sudbury and Jean of Hawkesbury. One sister, Mrs. Jean Crevier also survives.

Remembered

A Remembrance program was staged by the pupils of Martintown Public School on Friday, Mrs. Judy Mason arranged the program that included 14 numbers on the Remembrance theme.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

Let's Have Country-Wide Free Phoning

We welcome the move by Bell Canada to extend our toll-free calling area to include the Maxville and Cornwall exchanges. The larger toll-free zone will depend on the willingness of Alexandria subscribers to pay a higher monthly rate. Those increases will be so moderate for most householders though, we expect a large majority of those canvassed for their views will opt for the wider service.

Individual residence services will go up one dollar monthly and people on two-party lines would pay only 50 cents extra. Business services would be a bit more expensive but the $3.25 monthly increase would be well worthwhile to most commercial enterprises, we expect.

Here at the News we have found it a boon in recent years to have Lochiel, Glen Robertson and Lancaster included in our toll-free calling area. The larger zone makes for more convenient and speedier communication and the two-way vocal traffic has grown noticeably since tolls were removed.

This move by Bell is an answer to our prayer that all Glengarry phone subscribers might eventually be included in a single toll-free zone. Maxville will bring in the Apple Hill and Dunvegan areas while the Cornwall exchange will include Glen Walter, Summerstown and other phones in the front of Charlottenburgh. Only the Martintown exchange is left out of the picture and this may have been an oversight on the part of Ma Bell. Perhaps Area Manager Ken Menard will be able to include Martintown in his plans so that all points in Glengarry will become easily accessible one to the other.

The telephone is a necessity in our job of gathering the news of Glengarry and extension of the toll-free zone can only result in faster, easier communication. We're all for it for business reasons and then the reduction in our long distance calls will confer another benefit. Less often shall we have to listen for that beep-beep and parrot our phone number in reply. Answering, or even listening to, these mechanical voices gives us the willies.

Drive East To The Post Office

Switching the flow of one-way traffic on Catherine Street from westbound to eastbound has eliminated one of the most hazardous entrances to Main Street, that on Catherine that had drivers often entering Main blind to oncoming traffic because of trucks parked near the corner. The change has also raised more flak among motorists than any other traffic move on the local scene over some time.

"Now they've got three one-way streets in a row going in the same direction, that's strictly bush league", was the way one driver put it and we heard a lot of other criticism in the same vein. With St. Paul, Catherine and Kenyon Streets below Main all running one-way east, reaching the business section from Bishop or the McCormick Road will involve use of Gernish or Elgin Streets. These entrances onto Main may be much more satisfactory than was the one on Catherine but traffic on these streets is due to get heavier and both have steep hills that can foul up traffic when streets are icy. The eve of winter may have been a poor time to channel more traffic onto those hills.

From the point of view of the traffic committee of council, or the police, three one-way streets in a row going the same way may make sense, given the need to change the traffic flow on Catherine to eastbound. Kenyon is an extension of Highway 43 and also leads to Glengarry Gardens, St. Paul leads to the Cathedral and the McCormick Road. Neither could be assigned to westbound traffic, one-way, without causing major disruptions in the traffic flow.

Probably the best solution would be two-way traffic on all these streets but this would be feasible only if no parking was allowed on them. One-way streets permit parking on both sides and this is almost a necessity because of our dearth of off-street parking spaces. Until council makes provision for adequate off-street parking, without meters, the problem will remain.

Ottawa Spends Another Billion

The federal government continues to spend like crazy and as a result the costs of government zoom ever upward. Ottawa added up the cost of its new social security programs and other revised spending estimates last week and put another billion dollars on its spending for the current fiscal year.

That billion in supplementary spending brings the forecast expenditure for 1973-74 to a record $20.291 billion. At this stage in last year's estimates the projected spending was $17.830 billion. Included in that billion are the $222 million dollars needed to pay for the increases in family allowances now at $12 monthly for each child and due to go to $20 per child. Another $162 million for Local Initiative Projects is in addition to $528 million already in the main estimates.

Public spending on this scale is made possible because Edgar Benson and his tax reform team created a machine that is generating revenue far in excess of the government's immediate needs. Benson promised to return excess revenues to the taxpayers but much of the initial surplus was used to cover the heavy over-run in unemployment insurance. That fund still has a deficit of $335 million for the current year and those who contribute to it are due to pay higher rates starting in January. Employees will furnish 40 per cent more than at present and employers will cough up another 27 per cent in premiums.

Benson promised a reduction in tax levels if his reforms generated more revenue than expected. The Treasury is being flooded with inflated dollars but the government dreams up ways to get rid of it, even to $20 baby bonuses.

Canada's unemployment insurance fund is the most generous system in the western world and so contributors can expect to pay more and more to keep the benefits flowing. Never, to paraphrase Winston Churchill, have so many owed so much to so few.

A Further Threat To Our Existence

The possibility that this journal and other weekly newspapers across Canada might be forced out of business because of an inability to secure supplies of newsprint seems inconceivable in view of the fact much of the world's stocks of newsprint are produced in this country. And yet it is a fact the News has had to discontinue printing its own paper because the newsprint mills will no longer supply the product in sheets suitable for a flatbed press.

As a result we have been forced to change over to the offset method of printing and our paper is being printed on the offset press of the Winchester Press which uses newsprint in rolls. Even this means of getting our paper printed is threatened by the shortage of newsprint, according to a news report in the Ottawa Journal Friday.

"Weeklies In The Valley Facing Extinction", the report was headed and it told of the difficulties these small papers face in trying to secure adequate supplies of newsprint. A spokesman for one of the Ottawa paper wholesaling companies outlined the problems his company is encountering in supplying paper needs of Eastern Ontario weeklies. "The large companies have told us they will no longer be able to fill our orders after January 1st". He told of area papers having their orders for newsprint cancelled outright. Others have been furnished limited quantities but have been told to look elsewhere for future supplies. "Where are they going to look", queries the paper company executive?

Among papers he mentions, the Winchester Press buys a carload of newsprint a month. "But their allocation is used up after the November shipment". If that is correct the Winchester plant might have newsprint enough to print our paper only to year's end. That is a rather dismal prospect and we hope the newsprint situation will improve in time to permit us to stay in business.

The newsprint shortage is only the beginning of a big company phase-out of small customers, charges the editor of The Perth Courier. "They're telling us they don't need we little guys anymore . . ." as if they considered us nuisances, Mr. Turner declares.

In the House of Commons, Friday, Trade Minister Alastair Gillespie said the government was trying to ensure adequate newsprint supplies for Canadian newspapers but he rejected the idea of export controls on newsprint. Gillespie said officials of his department were meeting with publishers and paper manufacturers to work out arrangements for adequate supplies of newsprint in Canada.

The relatively small amount of newsprint Canada's weekly newspapers consume should be assured before the large dailies on both sides of the border are permitted to stockpile. No doubt local Members of Parliament from across Canada will be using their influence toward that end.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

Thank you very much for your coverage of the ceremonies at the recent opening of the Glen Recreation Centre.

However, we regret that no mention was made of Mr. Henry Giroux of the Catholic School Board, who was an honored guest and one of the speakers, because he, above all, as Mr. Villeneuve put it, "was the one who most deserved to be praised" for his efforts to retain the building for us.

This information was available to the News' staff member who prepared the story. Yet, regardless where the fault lies, someone must apologize for this lack of appreciation and recognition of a good public servant. We know that your durable sense of fairness will allow us the space to make these amends to Mr. Giroux.

(The Smiths Falls Record-News)

If you thought the moneylenders had been driven out of the temple once and for all, may we call your attention to the fact that they are quietly returning—in the wallets of the faithful?

A Roman Catholic church in Buffalo has started accepting credit cards, in lieu of cash donations, as a means of increasing income, and there is every reason to believe it will be successful. A member of the church's finance committee noted that often 50 cents was all that was left in people's pockets on a Sunday after a week of paying bills but, with credit cards, many church members had started making gifts of $15 to $30.

What are the theological implications of this — that you can take it with you, at least as far as the church? Maybe now a rich man will have an easier time passing through the gates of heaven (credit card in sole of shoe) than that camel trying to squirm through the eye of a needle.

Will all credit cards be equally acceptable or will they be condensed by a process of commercial ecumenism to one? (Master-charge? Churchex?)

We noticed the other day that doctors in the Kitchener area were trying to replace the provincial Government health insurance payment program with a credit card system for their patients, leading us to believe that it will soon be possible to walk on a carpet of credit from the cradle to the grave. And maybe an undetermined distance beyond.

HOW A MILKMAN GOT MILKED

What happens to Glengarry milk since the Ontario Milk Marketing Board took over we wouldn't know, though once in a while we hear criticism of the Board's hauling policies.

Writing in another weekly, Columnist H. Gordon Green recently related the strange case of a Walkerton milkman and the impact the OMMB has had on his business.

Bob Walker milks his own fine Holsteins on the edge of Walkerton, in Bruce County. The milk flows to the Walker dairy where it is cooled, pasteurized, homogenized and bottled before being delivered to the doorsteps in Walkerton.

At least that's the way it was until the Milk Marketing Board was given the legal right to buy and sell all the milk produced in the province. Now the picture is a bit distorted.

The Walker Holsteins are still milked twice daily but the people of Walkerton no longer have a chance to buy that milk. In its almighty power and wisdom the Milk Board has decreed that it must all be picked up by one of the duly authorized truckers and taken more than 100 miles to Toronto.

Bob Walker still runs his dairy but the milk he now delivers to his customers is trucked all the way from Barrie, more than 100 miles away. As his contribution Mr. Walker must now pay the Board $296 per month for haulage, plus $90 for what the Board claims is "promotion", plus another $8 labelled "miscellaneous".

The operation that the Milk Board forced upon Mr. Walker, and which the Supreme Court of Canada upheld when he challenged it, now costs him $394 a month. And you wonder why the price of milk is so high, suggests Columnist Green.

He has some good things to say about the cooperative idea for primary producers but Mr. Green concludes: "If anyone will come front and centre and explain to me how being forced to export your milk to Toronto and then import milk to take its place from Barrie can benefit anyone but the bureaucrats and the truckers, I'll return the favor by explaining in detail, Einstein's Theory of Relativity.

Is milk improved by all that hauling about the province? One wonders whey?

90 IS PLENTY

Why are speedometers on most automobiles designed to show speeds up to 120 or 130 miles per hour when it would be absolutely unreasonable for anyone to drive the car that fast on a public highway? U.S. Senator Charles Percy, an Illinois Republican, has brought up the subject and no doubt you've wondered along the same lines.

The senator has done more than raise the question; he has written the Federal Trade Commission and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration urging adoption of regulations to forbid automakers to use speedometers that show higher speeds than 90 miles per hour. He would require a red-lettered warning, "Extreme Hazard," on the speedometer beyond the 90 mph mark.

Percy points out that most automobiles are not designed to be driven at speeds of 100 mph or more, nor are highways designed to accommodate autos travelling at such speeds. Therefore, it is extremely risky for anyone to drive that fast. In addition, almost all states have highway speed limits of 70 mph.

He also believes the listing of excessively high speeds on the speedometer encourages some drivers, particularly some who are young and daring, to try to see how fast the car will go. The result sometimes is tragic.

He says the speedometer change could be required by the FTC and carmakers could make the change with little retooling of their factories involved.

Senator Percy's suggestion makes a lot of sense and Canadian authorities might be thinking along the same lines, the West Vancouver Citizen editorializes.

People who drive over 90 can't be too interested in lasting to join the Over 90 Club.

Farm Tax Rebate Jumps But Gov't. Sets Income Minimum Of $2,000

Owners of farm properties in the Province are urged to acquaint themselves with certain changes in The Ontario Farm Tax Reduction Program for 1973. These changes, and the implementation of the 1973 Program were announced jointly by Honorable William A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food and the Honourable John White, Minister of Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs.

The Program is aimed at relieving the municipal tax burden on lands used actively for farming purposes and farms that will remain in agricultural production in the future. It is not intended to provide relief for lands being held for speculative or development purposes or for properties being kept out of production for other reasons.

The most significant change in the 1973 program is the increase in the rate of Farm Tax Rebate from 25 percent to 50 percent. This increase was announced April 12, 1973 by Honourable John White in his 1973 Budget.

Another important change relates to the method of administering the 1973 program: In previous years Farm Tax Rebates were paid automatically to all registered owners of land assessed as "Farm" and consisting of 11 acres or more. This upon receipt of an application from the property owner.

Application forms will be mailed to all owners of property in Ontario assessed as "Farm", without regard to the size of the property. To qualify for the Farm Tax Rebate, the applicant will be required to complete and return this application form describing the main farming enterprise, certifying that at least 50 percent of the 1973 Municipal Taxes have been paid, and demonstrating that the current farm operations will generate at least $2,000 in annual income.

In previous years, the owners of farm property less than 11 acres in size were required to file such an application and demonstrate an annual income from farm operations of $2,000. In effect, the new regulations extend this requirement to all farm properties. This move is in response to a recommendation contained in an Interim Report by the Ontario Farm Classification Committee.

The Ministers announced plans to appoint a Committee of Appeal which would hear appeals with respect to applications for the Farm Tax Rebate. Property owners who feel they should be eligible for the Farm Tax Rebate by the nature of their operations, but who reside on lands assessed as other than "Farm" should appeal to the local Assessment Review Court. Where property becomes assessed as "Farm" following a successful appeal to the Assessment Review Court, an application for the 1973 Farm Tax Rebate would be eligible, regardless of the deadline for applications established for other property owners.

UIC Contributions To Raise January 1st

Manpower Minister Robert Andras announced new increased unemployment insurance contribution rates last week after disclosing that a deficit of $335 million is expected this year in payments into the employer-employee account.

He also told the Commons the government is taking further steps to tighten administration of the unemployment insurance fund to reduce abuses of benefits.

The new contribution rate for employees is $1.40 for each $100 of insurable earnings, up from $1. The employer's contribution will rise to $1.96 from $1.40. They are effective next Jan. 1.

The minister said the government has decided to increase the contribution rates because the cumulative deficit in the employer-employee account at the end of this year would be $509.6 million. That includes a net cash deficit of $174.5 million carried over from last year.

Shouting over Conservative heckling, Andras said the government is withdrawing a bill designed to cut down abuses of the unemployment insurance fund. New Democrats, who have opposed the bill as discriminatory, welcomed the announcement by thumping their desks.

The minister said legislation is no longer necessary because increasing administrative vigilance is weeding out abusers of the system.

Fund In The Red

The fund wound up with an operating deficit of $410 million last year but a cash surplus of $235.5 million from previous years reduced the deficit to $174.5 million.

Andras said that with the new rates the employer-employee account should break even next year. He expected the current deficit to be wiped out by 1979.

sense of hurt from the unfairness of the story which appeared in the French language "Carillon". Here, the coverage was very distorted and had little semblance to the original English copy from which it was transcribed.

Most distasteful was the caption under the photo of the untying of the ribbon. Our very charming and strikingly chic guest, Mrs. Osie Villeneuve, who jointly performed this ceremonious act with Mrs. Denis Ethier, was not named.

We appreciate the printing of this letter which we hope will correct any false impressions propagated by the local press.
