Strike settled, Lanthier bakery resumes production Tuesday

Full production will resume at the Georges Lanthier & Son bakery next Tuesday, more than a week following settlement of the 11-week-old strike. Some employees were back at work this week getting the plant cleaned up and ready for normal operations.

The strike by 45 members of the Teamsters' Local 647 ended Saturday after two days of negotiation between management and labor. Union members voted 93 per cent to accept the two-year contract.

The main items in the contract are wage increases of $1 to $1.18 per hour, a five-day, 40-hour week with a guarantee of workers being paid for 40 hours.

Base pay at the plant was $2.02 an hour with highest paid workers receiving $3.50. The new contract gives a base pay of $2.85 now and $3.30 in November.

The new contract is retroactive to Nov. 23, 1973.

General Manager of the bakery, Claude Lanthier expressed his pleasure that agreement had been reached and looked forward to resumption of business as usual.

William Overy, Teamster business agent, called the package "a damn good deal".

Cars damaged in two accidents

A 1970 Javelin belonging to Norman Laperle was a total write-off on Monday when involved in an accident on County Road 21.

Mr. Laperle was stopped at the residence of Alex John Massia while delivering mail when he was struck by a pick-up truck driven by Kenneth Hartrick of Dunvegan. Damage to the truck was about $600.

Neither of the drivers was injured.

An OPP officer from the Lancaster detachment, Cst. Nicholas Deschamps received facial lacerations in an accident on Glen Robertson Road at 3 a.m. Sunday morning.

The police cruiser was eastbound when it collided with a westbound car driven by Marcel Boudrias of Chute a Blondeau who had pulled out to pass another car.

The police cruiser was a total loss.

BIG DAY AT LANCASTER –Veterans from five area Legion branches took part in the Day of Tribute at Lancaster, Saturday, when a plaque commemorating the area dead of World War II and the Korean War was added to the Lancaster war memorial. Some of the Legionnaires marching in the parade are caught by the camera in the top picture. At right the large color party is seen fronting the platform where the plaque stands unveiled. Lt.-Col. George Edgerton is reading the role of the war dead.

Pipeline to traverse southern townships

Rumors that an oil pipeline is to traverse Southern Glengarry became a fact last week when a representative from Betchell Canada Ltd. called on Gordon Ferguson, a farmer in Lancaster Township.

Betchell Canada has been given the contract from Inter-Provincial Pipeline to extend from Sarnia to Montreal, Mr. Ferguson was told. Plans are to cross the southern townships directly north of the Trans Canada Natural Gas Pipeline right-of-way. The survey crew will be working in the area soon and plans are to lay a 30 inch diameter line in 1975.

The gas pipeline was installed in 1958 and has a 60 ft. right-of-way. An easement clause states that a farmer cannot erect any structure or dig with a post-hole digger, etc., in that location. Another pipeline would mean another 60 ft. easement, making a 120 ft. strip.

The Lancaster farmer, who has been installing tile drainage in the area for a great many years, knows from experience the inconvenience and problems a new pipeline can cause to the tile drainage installed by farmers.

Miles of tile have been laid in the area since the first pipeline was put through in 1958. Most underdrains are two to three feet deep and are about 60 ft. apart. The oil line would be placed about four feet deep so would be crossing the farmers' tile every 60 ft.

This causes problems, reports Mr. Ferguson, and quoted an incident to prove it. When the sewage line was laid from Alexandria to the lagoons east of Alexandria, the tile in the Rousin property had to be crossed. His tile were replaced and the ground compacted but within three years they had to be dug up and relaid to grade. Mr. Ferguson feels that if farmers must give this right of way across their property they should have a guarantee from the Company that if a similar situation recurs the Company will have to bear the cost.

Local taxpayers are also bearing the brunt of additional drainage costs if a municipal drain crosses a pipeline, as the drains are usually several feet deep and a protective barrier has to be installed to cover the layer of pipe which crosses about four feet beneath ground level.

Mr. Ferguson feels that farmers concerned should be alerted to the problems that may arise before they sign any contracts.

One minor hurt in accidents

Six minor accidents in town over the past week involved only one injury, of a very minor nature. Daniel Dupelle, 6, rode his bike into the side of the car of Archie O'Connor on Sinclair St., at noon of May 1st. The boy's mother had him treated by her doctor.

A woman driver escaped injury at 4 p.m. May 2nd, when she lost control of her car on Bishop St. Her car ran over the sidewalk struck a car in a driveway, crossed lawns and hit a verandah on the home of Claude Massia and came to rest against the house of Duncan O. McDonald.

Two suffered burns when gas fumes flared on farm

An Alexandria man and a local farmer are both in Glengarry Memorial Hospital suffering from burns suffered in a fire on Saturday night.

Gerald Ouellette of Alexandria, was working at the farm of Gerald Montpetit, McCormick Road, servicing a pipeline milker about 7 p.m., when the accident occurred. The fire is thought to have originated from fumes of gas used to clean the machinery they were working on, as a light explosion occurred when they turned on a motor.

Most severly injured is Mr. Montpetit who has second degree burns over his upper torso and arms while Mr. Ouellette has second degree burns on his arms.

The fire was noticed immediately by Mr. Montpetit's 13-year -old son who was outside at the time. The family summoned the help of neighbours who were able to control the flames, which had ignited in the animal bedding and wall crevices of the stable. until the Alexandria Fire Department arrived on the scene.

About 50 head of cows and 30 calves were also released from the barn by the neighbours and the fire department was able to extinguish the flames which had caught in the stable ceiling. As a result loss was at a minimum.

Lancaster township has plans for heavy drainage program

Glen Nevis bridge is definitely going to be replaced reports Lancaster Township Reeve Alex McNaughton, following the May meeting held last week.

Engineer A. J. Graham of Ottawa is currently working on the plans and work will be in progress this summer.

Drains are the order of the day throughout the Township and work is expected to get underway on more than a dozen this year.

Estimates are already in on three drains - the Goulet Drain Lots 30 and 31 in the Eighth Concession; Lauzon Drain on Lots 22 to 30 in the Seventh and Eighth and Wesley Creek Drain with its several branches - Lots 32 and 30 in the Fourth, 23 to 28 in the Third, 23 and 24 in the Second and parts of Lot 20 and 21 in the First and Lot 23.

Others expected to go through later this summer will be: Remi Campeau, Lots 20 and 21 in the Fourth and Fifth; Dumochel, Lots 23 to 27 in the Sixth; Ferguson, Lots 29 to 38 in the Third and Fourth; MacDonell Creek, Lots eight to 12 in the Third, Fourth and Fifth; Allan MacDonald, Lots 21 to 23 in the Eighth; McIntosh Creek , Lots 23 to 33 in the First, Second and Third; McNaughton, Lots 22 to 26 in the Fourth; Paul Roy, Lots two to four in the First; Szijarto, Lots one to six in the First and Woods Creek extension, Lots 12 to 17 in the Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth.

The township will also be purchasing a new truck and snowplough to service their roads.

A representative of ratepayers from the Seventh of Lancaster was present at the May meeting to request a follow up on the road work begun last year.

Noise charges

Alexandria police laid four charges of unnecessary noise against motorists over the last week and Chief Cleroux declares the campaign will continue. Two charges stemmed from squealing tires and two were for noisy mufflers.

Died Tuesday

A lifelong resident of the area, Noe Faubert of Green Valley, died Tuesday at Cornwall Convalodge. He was 76.

The funeral will be held on Friday from the Aime Marcoux Funeral Home to St. Raphael's. The service will be at 11 a.m.

Died two weeks after sister

The sudden death of Mrs. Harold Shane of Lemieux, Ont., on May 1st, followed by only two weeks the passing of a sister, Sister Aimee de Marie of the Precious Blood at Ottawa, April 14th.

Mrs. Shane was victim of a heart attack while on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Jean Leon, at Dorion, Que.

She was born in Lochiel Township, a daughter of the late Valentine G. Chisholm and Catherine Ann MacDonald. Since her marriage to Harold Shane she had resided at Lemieux, where she was active in her church and the community.

To mourn she leaves her husband, three sons and one daughter: Chisholm Shane of Salmon Arm, B. C.; Edgar of Vancouver; Bill of Montreal and Maude Marie, Mrs. Jean Leon of Dorion.

Two sisters also survive: Misses Janet and Mary Chisholm of Alexandria.

The funeral was held Saturday to the parish church and cemetery in Lemieux with Father Clement offering the mass.

Pallbearers were: Jamie Masterson, Roger Theoret, Junior Dixon, Jerry Lalonde, Jean Leon and Zepherin St. Pierre.

Four of family have died within year

The fourth member of the Kennedy family to succumb to a heart attack within eleven months, Mrs. Irene Mahony died in Smiths Falls on Sunday.

She is survived by one son, Warren of Calgary, and one step-daughter, Marion, Mrs. Fred McKinney, as well as two sisters, Anne, Mrs. Cormic Macdonell, Green Valley, and Sister Eusebia of Tweed.

The funeral was held in Smiths Falls on Wednesday with service at St. Francis de Sales Church at 11 a.m.

Impressive tribute was paid war dead at Lancaster

The residents of Lancaster and the adjoining townships honored their dead of World War II, Saturday, and the day of tribute was an impressive remembrance run off with clock work precision that spoke of thorough organization.

The names of 31 who died in World War II now have joined the dead of World War I on the Lancaster war memorial and another half dozen names of dead servicemen from Charlottenburgh and Lancaster townships will be added later. They were missed in the first list because it had been originally intended to recognize only those from Lancaster and the immediate area.

The day of tribute was almost washed out by rain that fell through Friday but stopped at dawn. Instead, the weatherman served up an unseasonably cold morning with a numbing west wind that swept the unveiling site. Unfavorable weather failed to dampen the event, however, and many hundreds of area residents thronged the streets of Lancaster that morning.

Three fine pipe bands played in the parade that marched from the medical centre down Main street promptly at the scheduled hour of 11 o' clock. The Black Watch band of Montreal, the Glengarry Highlanders and a composite band representing the SD & G Highlanders and Cornwall Legion Branch took part in a parade that also featured an impressive color party and many veterans, members of the various area Legion branches. Members of the Ladies Auxiliary, a detail from the SD & G Highlanders, Char-Lan cadets, sea cadets, scouts and guides fleshed out the parade that marched through the village streets again following the unveiling. Visiting dignitaries were in cars in the parade. which was under command of John D. McLaren and Leonard MacLachlan.

A fly-past by planes from the Summerstown airfield was an opening feature of the unveiling ceremony. Chief organizer of the day of tribute, A. D. D. MacDonald chaired the first part of the program before turning over the mike to Brigadier Fraser J. Fulton, O. B. E.

Captain Lucien Dumais of the Fusiliers de Montreal presented the Dieppe commemorative medal to three recipients after reviewing the origin of the medal. It is being presented to all members of the Canadian forces who were taken prisoner in the Dieppe raid. Receiving the medal were Louis Lapierre of Lancaster; Ken Taylor of the King's Road, and Douglas Lunan, Georgeville, Que.

Maurice Dupras, M.P. Labelle, Que., and chairman of the Commons' committee on Veterans' Affairs, paid a warm tribute to Glengarry's contribution of men to the armed forces in both world wars. With him were Denis Ethier, M.P. Glengarry-Prescott-Russell and Osie F. Villeneuve M.P.P. Glengarry. Many other visiting guests were introduced including several former O. C.'s of the SD & G Highlanders.

Unveiling of the plaque was shared by Lancaster Legion President I. R. Clark and Lt.-Col. George Edgerton of Cornwall, a native of the Lancaster area, who read out the names of the World War II dead. Rev. W. W. Kennedy and Rev. Sylvester J. Theoret offered dedicatory prayers and the Last Post and Reveille were followed by a lament played by the Glengarry band.

A Bainsville resident who lost a son in World War II, John Fisher, took the salute as the parade marched past the war memorial to which the new plaque had been affixed. Mrs. Florence MacDonald of Lancaster, represented the Silver Cross mothers.

Visiting dignitaries, bands, veterans and other participants in the parade were served lunch at four locations in the village. Mrs. Lloyd Fawthrop, president of the local Ladies Auxiliary, headed the women's groups who organized and served the luncheons.

Later the three bands entertained at a band concert enjoyed by a large audience.

PUC payment to engineer was for services rendered

A resolution dated December, 19, 1973, authorizing payment of the sum of $200. to Town Engineer, G. E. Seguin, for special professional services with regard to difficulties at the filtration plant during 1973, was read at the regular meeting of the Public Utilities Commission on Wednesday, May 1st.

Eyebrows raised at the reading of the resolution and Chairman Bruno Massie continued to read it twice more. The Commissioners felt it was straightforward, could readily recall the services in question and appeared confused as to why it was brought up.

It was explained how, at the previous night's town council meeting, Councillor Ranald MacDonald questioned the authenticity of Mr. Seguin's bill, while suggesting the $200. was in fact a bonus to Mr. Seguin from the PUC. Mr. MacDonald had read a letter dated December 21st which was addressed to the PUC from Mr. Seguin. In the letter Mr. Seguin expressed thanks for the payment while in another paragraph thanked the Commission for an enjoyable evening and dinner.

The facts as explained by the PUC members are: The bill was dated December 18th. The Commission was aware that the bill was in the mail as Mr. Seguin was present at the December 19th meeting when the resolution authorizing payment was passed. It was the last meeting of the year and it is customary for the PUC members to go out to dinner together. As Mr. Seguin was present at the meeting, he was invited to join them. There was no connection between the bill and the dinner, the members stated.

When asked by the press, why he did not reply to Councillor MacDonald's demand for an explanation at the town council meeting, Mayor Massie stated "It is not up to me to make interpretations for the Commission". The PUC meetings are open to the public, he added

Deer killed

A deer was killed on the road west of Dunvegan on Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock when it darted out of the ditch into the path of a car. Damage to the car driven by Claude Taillon of Dunvegan, was $350.

CARP box to be relocated

The CARP box for depositing paper to be recycled is being moved from the location in front of the post office to the Mill Square. People are reminded that only newspaper is acceptable, either packed in cardboard cartons or tied in bundles.

Maxville farmer died at 70

A well known resident of the Maxville area, Stanley J. Kippen died on Thursday, May 2nd at Hotel Dieu, Cornwall.

Mr. Kippen was born on July 1st, 1903, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Kippen. He farmed in the Maxville area throughout his lifetime.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, the former Eva Reveler; two sons and two daughters: Clifford of Edmonton; Billy of Maxville; Isabel of Waterdown, Ont. and Natalie of Ottawa.

The funeral was held on Saturday, May 4th, from Munro's Funeral Home to Maxville United Church where Rev. W. Henderson officiated at the service at 2:30 p.m. Burial was in Maxville Cemetery.

Palbearers were: Osie Villeneuve, Archie Munro, Jim Wightman, Glenn MacGregor, Gerald Blair and Douglas MacMillan.

Name committee Mooring fund

A permanent committee to establish a memorial fund in honor of the late Johnny Mooring was named at a meeting in Ottawa April 21st.

Two of the fund's specific goals are the presentation of a trophy for annual competition at Shelburne, Ont. in his memory and the awarding of an annual scholarship for a deserving student of old-time fiddling, age 16 and under, to be selected by the committee.

Duncan A. Macdonell, Alexandria, is chairman; Cliff Britton of Monkland, vice-chairman; Marge Eden is secretary and Malcolm Dewar, treasurer.

Seven directors were named for as many areas covering Montreal & Springhill to Western Ontario. Ray Couture will represent the Fournier -Maxville area and Ron Allison, the Alexandria-Cornwall area. Interested parties should contact their area directors for further information.

An organization meeting for this area was held on Sunday when the following officers were named: Chairman - Ron Allison; Vice-chairman - Rod MacDonald, Alexandria; Secretary - Mrs. Jean MacLeod, Dunvegan; Treasurer - Mrs. Duncan A. Macdonell, Alexandria; Directors - James Nixon, Vankleek Hill; Donnie MacLeod, Dunvegan; Archie O'Connor, Alexandria; Buddy Condie, Bainsville; Joe Eden, Cornwall.

There will be no canvassing but all officers are authorized to accept donations.

Small turnouts for planning meetings here and at Maxville

Attendance was not exactly heavy at the first two of three meetings being held by the Area Planning Board to discuss the draft of the official plan.

At Maxville, last Thursday night, only some 13 were present in addition to five members of the board. At Monday's meeting in the GDHS auditorium some 35 showed enough interest to attend.

At both meetings, Mrs. Wretham of the consulting firm of J. L. Richards and Associates, Ottawa, gave a summary of the plan and answered questions from those present.

Those present were given to understand that Toronto thinking was incorporated in the plan though some items can be changed. Queen's Park will have to approve the final draft, it was pointed out to one questioner, so provisions the government insists on might as well be incorporated now rather than later.

Several area real estate men brought up points they did not like and there was considerable discussion on strip housing along roadsides on which Toronto frowns.

The third meeting is being held tonight, Thursday, at Lancaster.

May see pickets

Construction of the addition to Glengarry Memorial Hospital may be featured by picketting on the part of members of the Cornwall Carpenters union.

A representative of that group visited Hospital Administrator Jerry Adams, Monday and warned that the Union would picket the job unless union carpenters were hired. Mr. Adams referred him to the contractors, whose responsibility it is to hire workers.

Rain, snow heavy in April

The high for April was 81 degrees on the 28th and the low was 17 degrees on the 8th.

Rain fell 15 times and snow three times. Total amounts were rain 3.18 inches and snow 4 1/2 inches. The combined total was way above normal. Six thunder storms were recorded in April and fog occurred once. Freezing rain was recorded once.

The average temperature was normal with daytime highs above, and nightime lows, below normal, notes the report of George Hambleton, Dalhousie Mills.

One year ago temperatures averaged normal also, with the high at 77 degrees and the low 13 degrees. Total precipitation was below normal but the snowfall was greater (10 inches). Normal snowfall is 4 inches. One thunderstorm occurred in April '73 and freezing rain once.

Martintown rumor mill

That diminutive but dynamic woman, Mary Barkway has reason to be proud. Our public school Junior choir came second in the Kiwanis Music Festival, our Senior choir won second place and our school recorder band came second with a lovely rendition of Loch Lomond. Mary's talent as public school music teacher was also instrumental in the following singers gaining first place in their respective classes: Melva Jalkanen, Leila Jalkanen, Andy McCuaig, Alex Tyo and Tammy Grant. Congratulations to all.

Dave Parette is the newly elected vice-president of the Martintown Recreation Committee. Shirley McDonald has resigned. Keep July 27th and 28th free for our Fun Fair.

News is that Rhodes Grant's fine history of Martintown is in the final stages of printing. Onagh told me this in a loud whisper.

There is no news about our OFY grant for park improvement and odd jobs for Martintown citizens.

A St. Lawrence College course in Horsemanship being taught by Mrs. Francis at Holly Hill is already booked up for the horse riding portion.

Scottish and other types of dancing lessons continue at the public school gym on Mondays. There's still time to join. Arthur Buckland says he would not have believed it, but it is possible to dance without two beers under your belt.

A great party ended the Martintown Bowling League season. It all started with a supper in Cornwall and ended in St. Andrews. Area cows could be heard bawling as they waited for their masters to get home for the milking. Danny didn't know whether to do the milking in his $200 party suit or go to early mass first. Gerry Menard is the new president, Fay (Johnston) Menard, Secretary and Maureen Nicholson is the treasurer.

A group of young people working for the federal government in Cornwall with senior citizens discovered that when they brought French Senior Citizens together with English Senior Citizens, the English elderly associated with English citizens and French senior citizens associated with French senior citizens. The young people felt they had failed, when actually they had discovered one of the truths of life.

Clarence told Martintown Mac that he had a piece of advice for all Martintowners: "May you love life as long as you live."

Easter service at Martintown

Special Church Services were held in the Martintown United Church on Good Friday evening and at the Easter Sunday morning service.

On Good Friday a Tenebrae Service was celebrated. The Senior Choir, assisted by the Junior girls and Mrs. Campbell Murray as organist, rendered the hymns of praise.

Eleven readers taking part with suitable scripture were: Ian McMartin, Mrs. Lynden Clark, Doug West, Mrs. Douglas Murray, Hugh McGregor, Elizabeth Murray, Mrs. James Algire, Mrs. Leslie West, Mrs. Kenneth Barton, Mrs. Leslie Robertson and Arthur Buckland.

Special lighting and candles enriched the service with one candle remaining as the only light in the church with the closing of the benediction.

On Sunday the service was led by special Easter music by a junior choir of 21 voices with Mrs. Peter Barkway as director and organist.

The opening anthem "This day of days" was led by Hugh McGregor and Don McCuaig on guitar. "Triumph" was the title of the service by Rev. Edwin J. McDonald. Other anthems rendered by the choir were: "Love has come again", and "The Joyful Eastertide", followed by the benediction.

WMS met at Martintown

The Easter Thankoffering meeting of the W. M. S., was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Harvey MacMillan.

The roll call was answered with a verse of Scripture containing the word Resurrection.

Those taking part in the program were Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. MacDiarmid, Mrs. Blackadder and Mrs. Christie

Mrs. MacMillan introduced the guest speaker, Dr. W. L. MacLellan, St. John's Church, Cornwall, who gave a very inspirational address on Easter and our Mission.

Lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed. The hostess and her helpers were thanked by Mrs. Lloyd Clingen.

Mass rally of Presbyterians in presbytery set for Maxville

There was an air of great expectancy at a meeting in Avonmore Presbyterian Church as members of the Presbytery of Glengarry's Historical Committee met with congregational representatives from district churches to plan for the mass rally of all Presbyterians within the bounds of the Presbytery, to be held at the Maxville Fairgrounds on Sunday June 30th.

The event, one of several being planned for the next 12 months, will be a highlight of the local observances of the Presbyterian Church in Canada's 100th anniversary. The Centennial Year will officially begin at the opening of the 100th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which opens in Kitchener on the first Sunday in June and continues through the 101st General Assembly in Montreal the following June.

Rev. Iver MacIver, clerk of presbytery, and Rev. W. L. MacLellan, chairman of Presbytery's Historical Committee, headed the Committee from Presbytery which met with representatives of the churches in Avonmore, Gravel Hill, Monkland, Finch and Crysler.

Discussion centred on congregational participation in the monster rally celebration in Maxville.

The rally , which will be held afternoon and evening in Maxville, will be highlighted by two services, the first at 4 o'clock and the second at 8 o' clock in the evening. The guest speaker at the earlier service will be Rev. George Malcolm, chairman of the Presbyterian Church in Canada's Board of World Missions. In the evening the Right Rev. Finlay G. Stewart, Kitchener, chairman of the Church's Centennial Committee, will speak.

Other highlights will include a mass choir, young people's folk groups, tours of the historic churches in Maxville and neighboring St. Elmo and displays of Christian literature.

Each congregation is being encouraged and urged to set up an historical display in the main exhibit hall. The scope and size of the exhibit rests with the individual congregational committee. As a part of each exhibit it has been suggested that there will be an emphasis on one of the Church's national or overseas missions.

Preceding the sectional meeting in Avonmore, a similar meeting was held in Maxville. Other meetings are scheduled for Kirk Hill and Cornwall.

Ottawa coach George Brancato to be speaker at dinner

A former player and assistant coach of Ottawa Rough Riders and now the Capital's head coach succeeding Jack Gotta, George Brancato will be the guest speaker at the Alexandria Lions Club annual sportsman's dinner to be held in the GDHS auditorium, Monday, May 27th.

Dinner chairman Lion Duncan Macdonell also announces other prominent sport figures will be supporting head table guests. Among these will be Andy Shaw, chairman of the CFL All-star game, to be played in Ottawa in July.

The Lions will pay their tribute to the 50-year veterans of soccer and their sponsoring committee by having a knowledgeable soccer sportsman, Graham Leggett, also address the dinner guests.

For the first time the manly art of self defense, boxing, will have representation in former Canadian boxer "Pinky" Mitchell. Mitchell is also regarded as an entertaining and humorous speaker.

Alouettes' stalwart lineman Ed. George will be back again and there is a strong possibility that Les Canadiens will be represented by Larry Robinson and Peter Mahovlich.

The trustees of the six trophies, that grow more prestigious each year, are presently nominating the top athletes who will be the 1974 winners. The major balloting is to decide the winner of the Frank Boucher-Lady Byng award going to the minor player showing the most skill and sportsmanship during the past season. President Jim Baker of the Alexandria and District Minor Hockey is soliciting the nominees from the minor coaches to be listed on the final ballot for voting. Frank Boucher will be invited to present this trophy for the third time.

The Glens Hockey Club Junior "B" league champions who were eliminated by Brockville in the ODHA playdowns will head various sport organizations planning to attend in a group. Dinner tickets are $5.00 and can be obtained from members of the Lions Club.

Missionary to speak at Church on Hill

The Rev. Alan Bennett, just recently returned from Zambia after spending three and a half years there working with both church and secondary schools, will give an illustrated address in the United Church in Alexandria, on Sunday, May 12th, at 8:00 P.M.

Curlers trophy night Saturday

Members of Alexandria Curling Club and their guests wil conclude a very successful season, Saturday night, with the presentation of trophies and prizes at the annual trophy night in the clubrooms.

Many new members and excellent ice conditions were factors in making the 1973-74 season enjoyable and successful, reports President P. T. Lloyd.

Jeannette Graham, ladies' match chairman reports 10 ladies' teams curled this winter, an increase of two over last year.

Men's match chairman Ken Brown handled 16 mixed and 14 men's rinks in regular club play. Winning rinks will be reported in next issue.

The annual meeting will be held on June 20th.

Hotel owner died at 74

Dougal Dan MacDonald, well known in the area as the proprietor of the American Hotel in Coteau Landing died unexpectedly in the Royal Edward Hospital in Montreal on Sunday, May 5th. He was 74.

Mr. MacDonald was born in Mabou, near Antigonish, N. S., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacDonald. As a young man he moved to Timmins and worked in that area until coming to Coteau Landing 23 years ago.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Laura, four sons and five daughters: Dougal, St. Zotique, Angus, Patrick and Glen at home; Anna, Mrs. Anthony McKay, Glen Nevis; Florence, Mrs. Evans McKiel, Hamilton; Laura, Mrs. Michel Daoust, St. Zotique; Angie, Mrs. Rene Menard, Lancaster and Miss Mickey MacDonald, Glen Nevis, a student at GDHS. There are 20 grandchildren.

He is also survived by one sister, Sister Mary MacDonald of Mount Vernon, N. S.

The funeral is being held today from Menard Funeral Home in Coteau Landing to St. Marie's Church with service at 10:30 a.m. Burial is in St. Zotique Cemetery.

Lady curlers at Lancaster elected slate

The annual meeting of the ladies division of the Lancaster and District Curling Club was held Thursday evening, April 18th, in the clubrooms.

There were 19 members present.

The President, Mrs. Sony Sandilands, was in the chair, and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Pat Shennett was appointed to record the minutes of the meeting.

Reports were presented by the Treasurer Mrs. Wendy Zeron; the Match Committe Chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Seguin; Social Convenors, Mrs. Carol Edwards and Mrs. Mary Matheson; Kitchen buyer, Mrs. Eileen McLennan; L.C.A. representative, Mrs. Sony Sandilands.

It was decided to give the men's division a donation, to be presented at the annual banquet April 26th.

The president briefed the ladies on the Dedication Service to be held in Lancaster, May 4th, by the local Legion, and outlined our responsibilities for same.

The new slate of officers for 1973-74 was presented:

Past President – Mrs. Pat Shennett
President – Mrs. Sony Sandilands
1st Vice President – Mrs. Joan McDonald
2nd Vice President – Mrs. Audrey Fisher
Secty. – Mrs. Lee Lutz
Treasurer – Mrs. Wendy Zeron
Counter – Mrs. Norma McLaren
Social – Mrs. Carol Edwards, Mrs. Mary Matheson and Mrs. Shirley Green
Match – Mrs. Dorothy Seguin, Mrs. Janet Sweeney, Mrs. Joan McDonald, Mrs. Amy Ward
Publicity – Mrs. Anna MacLachlan and Mrs. Pat Shennett.

Mrs. Lou Smythe and Mrs. Wendy Cassidy volunteered to clean the kitchen.

A Euchre has been planned for June 1st, to be held in the clubrooms.

A committee formed to look after this and other summertime functions consists of Mrs. Eileen McLennan, Carol Edwards, Wendy Zeron, Anna MacLachlan, Miss Claire Bonneville along with the President, Mrs. Sony Sandilands.

Lancaster OPP to present show

The Lancaster Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police will be featuring a display at their Lancaster headquarters all next week in conjunction with Police Week throughout the province.

Items in the exhibit will be a police motorcycle; a bicycle equipped with all safety devices; scuba diving equipment; a breathalizer and radio monitor. An officer will be on duty to explain all the details from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Safety slides will also be shown and students from the area schools are expected to attend in busloads.

Milk shippers to attend mass meeting

A large scale meeting of the milk shippers in Eastern Ontario is being held in the Nepean Sports Plex in Ottawa, on Thursday night, to decide on a course of action to demand government recognition of their current plight.

The meeting is being organized by the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and the Milk Committees. Car pools and busloads from all the Eastern Counties will be taking part to decide what kind of approach is necessary to obtain government action.

According to the Dairy Herd Improvement Association, the average cost of producing 100 lbs. of industrial milk is $10.33; farmers are receiving in the neighbourhood of $8.00.

The farmers want an immediate raise of $1.25 per cwt to help co-exist until formula pricing is obtained similar to the fluid milk producers.

Separate school board budget should hold down tax rate

Separate school supporters received good news last week when the SD & G separate school board budget was released. Board Business Administrator and Treasurer B. Patrick Cooper said : "There will be no increase in taxes this year in the city and tax levies in most other areas throughout the three United Counties will also be down slightly from 1973."

Strangely enough the mill rate has remained stable for the first time in the city while total expenses have risen to $9,575,704 this year from $8,833,000 last year. Mr. Cooper said this apparent discrepancy is explained by an increase in provincial government grants and careful spending.

"We have been very careful in our spending, particularly in areas where grants are not available," he said.

The increase in costs reflects higher salaries and rising cost of supplies and services this year which has been offset somewhat by a decreasing student population.

The enrolment figure this year of 9,701 is 545 less than the 1973 figures of 10,246.

The total expenditures of $9,574,704 will be financed by grants from the provincial government totalling $8,371,455, or about 87 per cent of the total estimated revenues. The remaining 13 per cent, amounting to $1,203,249 will be obtained by local taxes and other revenues.

The current mill rate for Cornwall this year is almost three mills below the 27 mills used in 1969 when the regional board was formed.

The highest item in this year's budget is an amount of $6,070,945 for instructional costs. This includes $3,925,020 for French instruction and $1,887,984 for English instruction.

The amounts and mill rates requested by the school board from the various Glengarry municipalities:

To reside in St Lambert

SHAW – MACKAY

St. Finnan's Cathedral was the setting for a lovely spring wedding on April 6th, 1974, when Mary Ellen MacKay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacKay, Alexandria, became the bride of Michael Robert Scott Shaw of St. Lambert.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Empire waisted, floor-length gown of white crepe, trimmed with lace and matching fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies and yellow roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Norman Taylor of Lake of Two Mountains, and her only bridesmaid was her sister, Isabel. They were gowned in blue and yellow nylon and carried nosegays of yellow, white and blue flowers.

The bestman was Spencer Benoit, uncle of the groom. The ushers were Norman Taylor, Lake of Two Mountains, Que., and Donald MacKay, Fabreville, Que., brother of the bride.

The bridal party was piped in and out of the church by the bride's brother-in-law, Roger Martin who also piped for them at the reception which took place at the Bonnie Glen.

For going away the bride wore a cream and green outfit with a corsage of bronze mums.

The young couple honeymooned in Bermuda and on their return will reside in St. Lambert, Que.

Out-of-town guests attended from St. Lambert, Longeuil, Fabreville, Lake of Two Mountains and Montreal Que; Cornwall and Waterloo, Ont.

No change in band tests at the Games

Reversing a decision reported in last issue, the Pipers and Pipe Band Society of Ontario has notified Games' Secretary John Jamieson that there will be no changes in the format of band competitions at this year's Glengarry Highland Games.

Grade 1 bands will again play a medley of tunes rather than the march, strathspey and reel that had been decided on. Grade II bands will continue to be tested on march, strathspey and reel.

Mr. Jamieson reports several bands that have been absent in recent years hope to be back this Aug. 3rd.

Mrs Phillips died suddenly

A lifetime resident of this area, Mrs. Harvey Phillips of Greenfield, died suddenly on Sunday, May 5th, in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall. Although she had not been enjoying good health, her death was sudden, the result of a heart attack.

Mrs. Phillips was the former Florence Susanne McDonald, the daughter of the late John Walter McDonald and his wife, Bella McRae of Eigg.

She was born on August 6th, 1921 and worked as an employee of the Bell Telephone here, for almost 20 years prior to her marriage.

To mourn her loss she leaves her husband and one son, Benedict; her mother Mrs. McDonald who now resides in Cornwall; seven brothers and two sisters. They are: Donald, Alexandria; Angus J., Dunvegan; Duncan and Allan of Ottawa; Peter of Brockville, and Finley in Weyburn, Sask.; Annabelle, Mrs. Rheal Legault of Cornwall, and Catherine of New York City.

The funeral was held from the Morris Funeral Home on Wednesday to St. Catherine's Church Greenfield where Rev. H.J. Ouimet offered the funeral mass.

MARRIED

ROCHON – AULENBACK

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Aulenback of Alexandria, wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Grace Muriel to Marcel Daniel Rochon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rochon of Alexandria. The marriage took place on May 1, 1974, at Cornwall.

Pledged vows at Avonmore

BOX – KYLE

With a background of candleabra and bouquets of carnations, a pretty spring wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore, when Miss Linda Jean Kyle became the bride of David George Cox. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orland Kyle, Avonmore. The groom's parents were the late Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Cox, formerly of Ottawa.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. W. E. Sayers, M.A., minister of St. Andrew's Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-lingth gown, designed with a full skirt of nylon sheer over taffeta with a lace-fitted bodice and lace sleeves. The headpiece was a band of flowers attached to a three-tiered net veil to the waist, one-tier, finger-tip length and a train all edged in lace. She carried a cascade arrangement of red roses and white carnations.

The bridal attendants were three sisters: Mrs. Helen Smith, matron of honor, Miss Joan Kyle and Miss Audrey Kyle, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Cathy Cox. Miss Janice Cox niece of the groom, was flower girl.

The bridesmaids' gowns were fashioned along princess lines of leaf green crepe with lace covered bodice. The matron of honor and the flower girl wore similar styled burnt orange dresses. They wore single strands of pearls and carried bouquets of carnations and rose buds. The attendants, whose hair styles were cascades of curls, wore bands of flowers to match their gowns.

Best man was James Cox. Ushers were Graham Smith, Steven Cox and Garvin Boyle.

Soloist was Mrs. Lynda Cox accompanied on the console by her husband, Ernest Cox, the groom's brother.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Avonmore Community Centre where members of the Avonmore Community Recreational Association served a dinner for the 135 guests. Among that number were those from Ottawa, Kingston and Nova Scotia, Brantford, Guelph and Waterloo.

Later the happy young couple left on a wedding trip to Montebello, P.Q. For travelling the bride wore a dress of rose and white, topped by a rose jacket.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox have now taken up residence in Ottawa.

Avonmore awards night honors top athletes in several sports

Under the able sponsorship of the Avonmore Community Athletic Association, another very successful Awards Night was held in the Roxmore Public School auditorium last Tuesday night. A capacity gathering was on hand to enjoy the fine banquet and to acclaim the young athletes who were being presented with awards.

Guest speaker was the well known radio personality, Ernie Calcutt, news and sports director of CFRA Radio, Ottawa.

The speaker deplored the increasing violence that is marring the sports scene, especially in the area of hockey.

"It's becoming a real problem", he stated before the large audience. "In the old days players knew how to check and how to board without taking somebody's head off. Now it's organized mayhem and somebody is going to get killed".

He went on to say that two players, playing hockey in the Ontario Hockey Association junior A series, lost eyes this year because of violence in hockey.

"You can be a rough and tough athlete", he added, "but play it clean".

Another topic Mr. Calcutt touched was the qualities required to become a good athlete. The two main ingredients, according to the guest speaker, are motivation and dedication.

Jack Bush, representing the trustees of the village of Avonmore, thanked Mr. Calcutt and little Charles Wert presented him with a gift.

Trophy presentations followed with Sharon Ferguson winning the most valuable player awards in both the junior and senior girls' softball programs. The Best Sport in the juniors was Beth Henderson. Eva McElheran took the Best Sport award in the seniors.

Doris Veltheim won the "Most Valuable" award in the 10 - 13 girls' softball program. Patsy MacMillan was named the Best Sport.

In the adult softball program Jeffrey Johnston was the MVP. Paul Miller was named the Best Sport. Blair Henderson was the MVP in the peewee boys' softball with Uwe Loos being the Best Sport. Denis Delaney was presented with the midget MVP trophy while Jimmy Wert was the Best Sport.

In the girls' 13 and under broomball program Marian Flanagan took home the Most Valuable Player award. Lori McElheran was named the Best Sport. Both trophies were presented by Mrs. Mabel Watkins.

Kathy Flanagan was the MVP for the senior girls and Dawn Wert the Best Sport. Linda Ferguson was named the MVP winner for ladies' broomball, with Carolyn Tinkess receiving the Best Sport award.

Jeff Johnston took home the MVP award for atom hockey players. Gary Bush was named Best Sport. The top defenceman was Michael Wert. Top scorer was Jeff Johnston with 95 goals and 51 assists during the season.

Lyall Bush was the peewee MVP with Robert Billard being named the Best Sport. Blair Henderson was named bantam MVP and Ian Lang, the Best Sport.

The most valuable player in Junior C was Bruce Henderson. Doug Ferguson was named Best Sport. Rookie-of-the-Year was Guy Mainville.

The most valuable player of the senior men's fasball team was Harold McRae. Don Benton was named Best Sport.

Don Blaney took home the senior men's hockey MVP award while Dale Swerdfeger was named Best Sport. The MVP trophy is the Clarke McElheran Memorial Trophy and was presented by Mrs. McElheran. Bob Grant was presented with the Dr. Rae Trophy as the top scorer.

Richard Bennett was named the most valuable player in the boys' soccer program. Michael Delaney was named Best Sport.

Coach Terry McRae accepted the Lionel Baker Trophy for his peewee champions, Byron Henderson was presented with the Royal Canadian Legion, Finch, Trophy for his midget ball champs.

The North Stormont Hockey League Trophy (the Gordon Countryman Memorial) was accepted by Ron Alguire. Avonmore Aces have won the league title for the past two years.

Richard Bennett received the Seaway Soccer League Trophy on behalf of his team.

A number of coaches were presented with small tokens of appreciation by their respective teams.

Among head table guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Crites, Jack Bush, Mrs. Grace McElheran, president of the Avonmore Community Athletic Association; Rev. Kent Doe and Mrs. Garnet Robertson. Mr. Crites is the reeve of the Township of Roxborough.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Garnet Robertson.

Women bowlers had their awards night banquet

The Alexandria Women's Bowling League held their annual banquet and awards night at the Bonnie Glen Pavilion on April 6th.

Three of the top trophies went to Alexandria Moulding under captain Marlene Cholette: the season championship, third place in the play-offs and the high pinfall.

Lefebvre Foodorama, under captain Germaine Lalonde, took two trophies, the play-off championship and the second place season award.

Alexandria Cleaners under captain Gysele Gareau were third in season play, captain Shirley Chabot's Glens Sportswear team were fourth and Glengarry Motor Sales finished fifth under captain Lise Paquette.

In the play-offs Glens Sportswear finished second.

High average awards went to Marlene Cholette with 215; Carmen Leger, 209; and Shirley Chabot, 208; Helene Cleroux received the high single award with 372 and high triple went to Marlene Cholette with 814.

W Lalonde died at 89

A native of St. Bernardin, Wallace Lalonde, who resided at Lochiel St. West, Alexandria, died April 27 at Convalodge, Cornwall, where he had been resident for the past two years. He was 89.

Mr. Lalonde was a son of Alphonse Lalonde and Cloffie Bray of St. Bernardin.

His wife, the former Josephine Lauzon, predeceased him and he leaves one son, George Lalonde of Cornwall.

The funeral was held Tuesday to Sacred Heart Church and Cemetery. Rev. Raymond Dumoulin offered the mass.

Had served as correspondent

A foreign correspondent during much of his life in Germany, Oskar Doderlein of North Lancaster, died suddenly Saturday, April 27, following a heart attack. He had been a resident of Glengarry since 1965. He was 68.

A son of Jacob and Anna Doderlein, he was born at Pforyheim, Germany, Sept. 1905, and entered the newspaper profession following his college education completed in 1925. He served as a foreign correspondent until 1940 when he was called to serve in the Army. Mr. Doderlein returned from a prisoner-of-war camp in 1948 and in 1954 he and his family came to Montreal where his son had preceded them.

In 1959 he purchased his home in the North Lancaster area and made it his permanent residence in 1966.

Surviving are his wife, the former Hilda Ruhl, one son Gunter of Montreal, and two daughters, Hilde of Laval, and Vera in Los Angeles. One brother and three sisters survive in Germany.

The funeral was held Tuesday from the Morris Funeral Home here, to the United Church at Dalhousie Mills. Pastor Lange and Rev. Lloyd Davies conducted the service and burial was in the adjoining cemetery.

Area dairy farmers to get tips from province

A group of area farmers will be first to take part in an Ontario government plan to help dairy farmers improve their feeding, breeding and management programs.

A recently-announced dairy improvement team will include representatives from all agriculture ministry branches involved in dairying. The Ontario Milk Marketing Board, local producer groups and the Eastern Breeders' Inc., Kemptville, will also be on the team.

"Fluctuating butter fat and protein levels have adversely affected the income of certain industrial milk producers," reported William A. Stewart, minister of agriculture and food. "We hope to determine those factors which have contributed to this reduction and then provide the farmers with practical solutions."

The Ontario-wide study will first select a group of farmers in the counties of Grenville, Dundas, Stormont, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell. Consultation, direction and technical assistance will be available to participating producers.

Those selected will produce a minimum of 150,000 pounds of milk per year.

Resource personnel will encourage milk producers to spread out production more evenly over the year to assist in overcoming some of the variations present in the composition of milk.

Greater use of artificial insemination will be encouraged. The team will work towards reducing the incidence of mastitis a disease affecting cattle herds.

Tree farmer wins appeal

Tree farmers in Ontario do not have the sympathy of the tax assessors although they can fit within any definition of a "farm as defined by federal or provincial tax authorities. This information was revealed at the Ontario Professional Foresters Association seminar on "The Great Lakes - St. Lawrence Forest", held at Dorset early in the spring.

A recent appeal in income tax assessment was decided in favour of the tree farmer in the Federal Court of Canada. The owner was upheld in his claim for the right to charge current costs against other income while waiting for income on his crop. The judge said, "It takes time for trees to grow".

Professor D.V. Love of University of Toronto's Faculty of Forestry reported that recent application of assessment procedures have shown that in some municipalities land used for tree farms is not assessed as farm land but as rural-residential with an assessment often exceeding 10 times that of similar lands used for conventional farming. About 40,000 woodlot owners in Ontario may be faced with these increases in taxes.

School taxes will be down though expenditures increase

Taxes should be down but expenditures will be up more than $2 million following a record $22 million budget approved by the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry county board of education.

The school board managed to reduce taxes thanks to the ministry of education which two weeks ago raised its grant ceilings, giving the board an unexpected extra $300,000 to toy with.

In spite of the record $22 million expenditures, director of education Rosaire Leger described the document as "a bare bones budget."

"We were in serious trouble before the new grant regulations came in," he said. "At that point, we were just managing to keep the store open."

Trustee Joe Gunn, chairman of the finance committee, said the budget was "a generous and happy document."

"It's generous for its provisions and happy for the taxpayer who will have less taxes to pay this year."

Although school taxes are down, taxpayers could still see increases in their property tax bills.

As the budget was unanimously approved, one trustee asked if it was an election year budget. School boards and municipal councils in Ontario face an election in early December.

The board will spend $7.6 million (about $840 per student) for the elementary panel and $14.3 million (about $1,000 per student on the secondary panel. Increased spending at the elementary level is $600,000 while secondary panel expenditures will rise by $1.6 million.

As a result, municipalities served by the board will be asked to provide a total $2.4 million for elementary use and $2.7 for secondary education. About half the amounts will come from Cornwall. What is not funded by municipalities will come in the form of grants from the ministry of education.

The decrease in taxes this year also results from a surplus of about $250,000 for each panel last year.

The new budget also means few teachers will be laid off.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

A house by the side of the road

Members of United Counties council are not too enamored of the guidelines being used by the land severance committee. Members of that committee met with council last week to explain their method of granting or denying such severances. Rejection of proposed land deals has angered interested owners of land and no doubt they have been venting their annoyance on their township reeves.

Members of the committee told councillors they have no important guidelines except the rules laid down by the province and these dominate committee decisions if they do not always prevail. Ribbon development along roadways should be prevented, according to Toronto thinking on land use and such restrictions are incorporated in the official plan of the Glengarry Planning Area now getting its first public airing. A perusal of that official plan suggests most of the provisions have been taken in tote from provincial guidelines on land use.

We fail to understand official thinking that would prevent further ribbon development along roadways. 'I think a nice new house in the rural area makes the community look better", declared the reeve of Osnabruck; and we agree with him.

The most eye-catching section of highway 43 is that within a few miles of Alexandria where many comparatively new bungalows line either side of the roadway. A few of the old farm homes are scenic but that cannot be said of the landscape generally and it is the new homes in course of construction or recently occupied that provide a sense of progress.

The same can be said of Highway 34 and probably of most other roads in Glengarry. A few are notable for the substantial old homes that reflect generations of affluent family farms, but generally speaking it is the new bungalows and housing starts that catch the eye as one travels the countryside. Many are so attractive, or so pastorally located, they leave one a bit envious of the occupants.

What is the thinking that would prevent one man and his family from seeking to settle down in what wide open spaces still remain? The poor fellow must purchase an acre of land on which to build and surely that should be enough to take care of his sewage problem.

Land transactions will be carried out wherever possible by registered plans of subdivision, our official plan proposes. That provision seems more suited to the developer than the family man who aspires for more room than the seven-foot clearance most developers think is sufficient space between two homes.

There is a need for town planning and probably for an area plan as well; if only to keep Toronto officialdom from ordering our lives. That benefit is lost, though, if the Glengarry Planning Board adopts as its plan, willy-nilly all the guidelines prepared by the Queen's Park bureaucracy.

Those denizens of the halls of government may dream of open space in the countryside while poring over their paper work in an overgrown city. Perhaps ribbon development leads to unhealthy conditions in the built-up Toronto perimeter.

That is not necessarily the case in rural Glengarry and area planners should not be guided by the wishful thinking of Toronto types. Glengarry's area plan should suit local conditions and we see no cogent argument against ribbon or strip development that has been approved by a competent local building inspector.

What's wrong with a house by the side of a road?

Give the voters a choice

Finance Minister Turner was to bring down his budget on Monday and even as this issue goes to press a new federal election may have been called. The New Democrats were giving every indication last week that they were ready to vote out the Trudeau Liberal government and their first opportunity would have come Tuesday night when they could move an amendment to the budget.

A combined non-confidence vote of NDP and Conservative MP's would defeat the government and a summer election would follow unless the Conservatives were asked to form a government. That is not as likely as is the possibility the New Democrats will have second thoughts and decide to continue support of the government.

An election will probably produce much the same results as we had in 1972. The latest polls indicate party support is almost identical to that shown then by the voters. Nonetheless the Parliamentary cockpit is so surcharged at this point, an election would be preferable to the political infighting that prevents serious consideration of proposed legislation.

That legislation, including Marc Lalonde's attempt to regulate professional football, is put forward by the government with an election in mind, as no doubt the budget was framed. The opposition parties are as intent on making political capital and so legislation has no chance of consideration on its merits.

If we are to have an election the type of stand-off that resulted two years ago might be avoided if Mr. Stanfield's Conservatives offered the voters the choice of a valid alternative to the over-regulation and spending programs of the Trudeau Liberals. The Canadian people would have an opportunity to show what kind of government they preferred if the Stanfield Conservatives would return to their traditional position right of centre.

Mr. Stanfield might find encouraging support if he swung far enough to the right to attract a vast number of Canadian voters now uninterested in an election that offers them no opportunity to show their disgust with the socialist tinged policies that have been put forward by the Trudeau Liberals.

Accommodating to inflation

Canada is riding the inflationary spiral more moderately than most other countries, the federal government maintains. If that is a fact, runaway inflation must be rife in the United States, Britain and most European countries.

Here are the stories atop Page One of one of the dailies one night last week and they leave no doubt that inflation psychology has taken firm hold at senior government levels:

—$500 a year extra for 310,000 public servants;

—Guindon says minimum wage to be hiked;

—15 per cent Hydro hike asked for 1975.

An extra $500 a year will be added to the pay cheques of 310,000 federal public servants who have not negotiated a pay raise since April 1st or who are not currently in negotiations. Treasury Board President Bud Drury said the government was following the lead of private industry to meet inflation. Cost to the treasury will be $180 million this year.

Ontario Labor Minister Fern Guindon reported plans to increase the province's minimum wage, but would not say what the increase would be. The new basic wage would "compare favorably with other provinces", he stated. The present hourly minimum is $2 and British Columbia's will rise to $2.50 an hour in June. The Ontario Federation of Labor has asked for a $3 minimum.

Mr. Guindon said the increases are necessary because of inflation.

Not only is Ontario Hydro asking for a 15 per cent increase in wholesale power rates to the municipal utilities in 1975. It adds that annual increases of 10 to 15 per cent are "anticipated to be necessary" through the five-year period of 1975-79.

No doubt those estimates are based on the fact the purchasing power of the dollar dropped by more than 10 per cent last year and Hydro sees no easing of the inflationary spiral in the foreseeable future.

Our governments at both levels, it seems, are accommodating themselves to that prospect of a steadily cheapening dollar. Inflation is primarily an Ottawa problem but the Trudeau government has continued to feed the spiral by evermore spending of public dollars while refusing any attempt at controlling inflation.

If the Liberals won't even try to control inflation, surely another party should be given the opportunity to do so.

HOW RIGHT HE WAS!

A cold and unpleasant weekend, wasn't it? But better weather's ahead. Don't take our word for it, we checked back on what the Dr. Chase almanac was forecasting in midwinter.

He hit the cold weekend weather right on the head, like: "A cold spell in early May will bring frost but it quickly passes after the 6th and pleasant conditions prevail. It's to be hoped Doc is as accurate in serving up the pleasant conditions.

The almanac was telling it pretty true on March, too, if you remember how this column reported the probs back in February. March was to continue cold and stormy with the last two weeks about winter's worst.

Remember that low of 12 degrees below on the 29th, and all that freezing rain and unwanted snow?

April was to remain cool until mid-month then be pleasantly moderate. Well, the month's last weekend was unusually moderate with a high in the 70's on the Sunday.

We can hope those pleasant conditions prevail for the rest of the month but be prepared for a light touch of frost about June 2nd and a wave of warm showers on the 4th and 5th. By June 20th Quebec and the Maritimes are to know oppressive humidity so we may get a touch of it. There'll be another cold spell in late July and early August and in the last week of August but it seems we're to enjoy some summer. We can hope.

Disgusting weren't they, those hints of snow on Monday. Dr. Chase was unpleasantly accurate in his forecast.

WE'RE A BUNCH OF SUCKERS

We're getting more than a little fed up with those television commercials of the oil companies, that dwell at length on the many millions of dollars they're spending on the search for oil and gas in the Arctic. The way we hear it, Imperial and Texaco, Gulf and the others are investing practically the last penny they possess in a desperate gamble to prevent us from going cold next winter or the winter after that.

That's about the way we hear it in the commercials but we see a different story in the business sections of the newspapers. Their oil profits are embarrassing these same companies as first-quarter financial reports disclose record high profits. Exxon, the world's biggest, showed profits up 39 per cent after stashing $400, million into a reserve fund. Texaco had profits up 123 per cent. First-quarter earnings of the Canadian offshoots of these oil companies increased an average 83.7 per cent.

In the U. S. a committee of the House of Representatives approved a proposal to cut the price of 80% of domestically produced crude oil and impose stiffer price regulations on imported oil. In Canada, Prime Minister Trudeau has said the government will be cracking down on profiteering or undue profits and the oil companies fear they will be one of the targets. Government legislation is vague and replete with loopholes, the opposition parties argue, and it is not expected the Trudeau anti-profits bill will survive.

Not only will the oil companies keep their excess profits. We've already been warned the price of gas and fuel oil will go up another nine cents a gallon in the near future. What earthly excuse is there for more windfall profits when these companies are already embarrassed by affluence?

The companies argue that massive funds are needed to locate new and costly reserves of oil and gas in areas such as the Arctic and under the seas. That's how those TV commercials are pitched, but we're not impressed. Most of the costs of such exploration are probably covered by tax incentives and these cartels are so powerful governments accept their financial reports without checking.

The oil companies are spending millions of those excess profits trying to tell us how much they're needed for exploration. Our fuel bill was doubled last winter and we're hard to convince. The way we see it, we're being taken for a ride.

Those oil company earnings are a reminder a "profit" is not without honor, save in its own country.

NEW USE FOR MILL

St. Eustache sur le Lac, Que.

The editor
The Glengarry News

In reply to your editorial page article in March 28th issue, referring to "What's to do with it?", this is my suggestion.

The old grist mill could very well be sought by the Town of Alexandria and become useful as a museum and library. The latter could contain many books on Canadian history and the museum might feature many old homemade articles that could be recovered in Glengarry and the four outlying counties.

The grist mill machinery could be left in position as a two-century old exhibit. That massive old building could thereby become known for ever more as the Glengarry Museum and Library.

It is also my impression that

Shadow of anarchy looms

(Delhi News-Record)

Streaking is a fad which is inane but harmless. However, striking is something else. In doing so, apparently, the latter is unpleasant, uncomfortable and costly to everyone involved, plus innocent and defenceless bystanders. What is also one of the inexcusable developments is the resort to illegal work stoppages and violence.

Most ordinary citizens bend over backwards in their attempts to comply with the law. But apparently members of unions consider it their privilege and duty to commit illegal acts in support of their demands. And often they are assured that if they will only cease their criminal actions and return to work, all will be forgiven.

At the present time the general public is being subjected to a series of labor stoppages in essential services, some of which include what is euphemistically called wildcat strikes, which of course are illegal. Included in the list of harassment facing our daily way of life, and pocketbooks too, are labor disputes between federal government and St. Lawrence River pilots, airlines firefighters and traffic controllers and last but not least the old familar nemesis of postal workers taking their disputes to the streets for public demonstrations.

Either their federal employer is a poor negotiator or so unfair that normal methods of discussion have been found to be unsatisfactory. In some ways, the unrest and disturbance being inflicted on the general public resembles nothing so much as a state of anarchy. The dictionary definition of this condition is "lack of government; a state of society where there is no law or supreme power; political confusion." Sounds very similar to many of the circumstances of today.

What's all this about no-fault car insurance?

There's a lot of confusion about no-fault car insurance. Even the term "no-fault" means different things to different people.

The Consumers Association of Canada* feels many people don't really understand what's involved. Professor Allen Linden†, Osgoode Hall Law School, York University, agrees. In response to this growing concern about no-fault, CIAG INSURANCE is offering you some information and a chance to voice your opinion.

What does "fault" mean in auto insurance?

The "fault" principle goes back beyond Biblical times. The idea of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, was adapted by English common law to mean the guilty must pay. In auto insurance it means if someone damages your car or injures you by negligent driving he must pay for your loss. Most motorists carry third party liability insurance to pay for losses they cause.

Over the years insurance programs have developed which ignore fault. Workmen's Compensation, for example, pays for loss regardless of who's at fault. In traffic accidents, however, many people still feel the guilty should compensate the innocent.

The fault system theory is that careless drivers must pay for the accidents they cause and its purpose is to encourage drivers to be careful. Insurance premiums are calculated to cover the cost of claims for which drivers in different rating groups are responsible. According to a recent study the average liability claims cost for married males over 24 was less than half that for married males under 20. The liability coverage premiums for each group reflect this difference.

How about no-fault?

No-fault automobile insurance describes the insurance plan that exists when fault law does not apply to auto accidents. Motorists no longer rely on getting payment from another motorist for vehicle damage or injury but must provide their own protection. Each company pays its own policyholder regardless of blame.

Pure no-fault automobile insurance does not exist in North America. The so-called no-fault plans in some states and provinces are only partial no-fault programs.

By the way - don't confuse no-fault insurance with government insurance. Although limited no-fault coverage is part of government automobile insurance plans in western Canada, no-fault benefits have been offered by automobile insurance companies in Ontario for some years. CIAG was first to do so through additional coverage introduced in 1959.

What do we have now?

Motorists insured in Ontario have no-fault benefits broader than those offered in most other provinces and states and also have the right to sue a guilty party for loss.

No-fault death and disability coverage is part of all liability insurance policies issued in Ontario. It provides:

Total disability benefits for:

—an employed person (or unemployed person age 21 to 65 who has worked six of the previous 12 months) - 80 percent of wages up to $70 weekly, for up to 104 weeks, or for life if disability is permanent

—a principal unpaid housekeeper - $35 a week, for up to 12 weeks

Death benefits for:

—head of household - $5,000 (plus $1,000 for each living dependent after the first)

—a spouse - $2,500

—any dependent child - $1,000

Medical and rehabilitation benefits:

—up to $5,000 a person (four-year time limit) and up to $500 funeral expenses

If an injured person receives accident benefits from his insurance company and recovers from the responsible party, recovery is reduced by the benefits received. But future weekly payments are not affected.

What's wrong with our present system?

• The fault principle served well in the early years of the automobile. Now, with masses of vehicles, complex roads and higher speeds, even a split second counts and it's sometimes difficult to decide who's to blame and to what degree.

You might think it's easy: bad drivers cause accidents. Yes, they do. But good drivers cause accidents too. And bad weather and poorly designed roads and unsafe cars cause accidents. When we try to find the cause of an accident, we can't look only at the driver.

• Who is paid? Only the "innocent" can recover the full amount of their losses. Where responsibility is divided, others may recover part of their loss. Where a driver is judged responsible for the accident, he and often his passengers recover nothing from the other party. But they may suffer loss of wages, vehicle damage, serious injury requiring rehabilitation or a change in lifestyle - all from a momentary lapse of judgment. Their recovery is limited to accident benefits provided by their own policy.

• A committee appointed by the Ontario Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations in 1970 to inquire into claims adjusting practices concluded:

"The public simply does not understand the nature of insurance coverage (and auto insurance particularly) nor do they understand the manner in which claims are settled . . . . Most of the complaints which we received had to do with automobile damage claims and we think that much of the problem and public resentment which may exist against insurers results from the adversary system of resolving such disputes."

Ninety percent of accidents involve vehicle damage only and account for 70 percent of total claim payments.

• Consumerism, the law, and competition among insurance companies have not created satisfactory claims service because of a crucial gap in the system. When you are involved in an accident you deal with the other person's company - not the one you chose yourself.

• Many people feel automobile insurance costs too much. But how does it relate to other costs? In major metropolitan areas it can cost twice as much to park a car ($2-$3 per day) as to insure it; 15 hours auto repair time at current rates of $10-$15 costs as much as the average annual insurance premium. People may be more concerned about paying automobile premiums because they feel they have nothing to show for it until they have an accident.

Why are people talking about no-fault?

• The Ontario government has announced its intention to extend the no-fault benefits now in existence.

• People hope that no-fault will reduce or control the rising cost of automobile insurance.

• Publicity in the United States about no-fault plans as the solution to insurance problems has spilled over into Canada and caused confusion. American problems are not quite the same as ours. The U.S. legal system is different. Ontario automobile insurance costs are substantially lower.

1972 average annual premiums

Toronto	$192	Hamilton	$194	Kitchener	$170
Chicago	470	Buffalo	286	Akron	258
Brooklyn	576	Minneapolis	263	Sacramento	284

• Some people believe the government can solve all our automobile insurance problems with a no-fault monopoly.

• Times are changing rapidly - and so are social conditions. To keep pace, institutions are examined and modified more often.

• The Insurance Bureau of Canada has proposed a no-fault plan to pay for vehicle damage and a substantial portion of wage loss and out-of-pocket expenses for personal injury. The plan would maintain the right to sue for additional expenses and for pain and suffering only in cases of severe injury. The proposed coverage would pay medical and rehabilitation expenses up to $20,000 per person, lost earnings up to $250 a week for up to three years, and a death benefit of $1,000 for dependents under 18.

• The Ontario Law Reform Commission has recommended compulsory, no-fault automobile insurance and the abolition of court action to determine blame for traffic accidents. The Commission recommends that all traffic victims be compensated for medical expenses, lost wages and property damage, but not for pain and suffering.

Is no-fault the answer?

• The question of service: Will a change in the law improve insurer attitudes towards claimants? Taking the emphasis off the adversary fault system and having drivers deal entirely with their own insurers could help.

• The question of rights: The fault system permits compensation of the innocent victim not only for actual out-of-pocket expenses, but also for pain and suffering. It denies compensation to the person at fault in the accident. No-fault seeks to rehabilitate all victims regardless of fault and the extra funds are provided by eliminating the right to sue in whole or in part.

While some rights may be lost, no-fault would bring new rights more important than money compensation, like the right to rehabilitation and help in adjusting to the new situation created by an accident. Rather than focusing on the allocation of guilt and innocence, no-fault emphasizes solving the victim's problems.

• The question of responsibility: Advocates of the fault system suggest that when careless drivers must pay for the accidents they cause, they are more careful. No-fault supporters argue that a careless driver does not pay, but his insurance company does. They say because 95% of motorists are insured, merely making them theoretically responsible does not reduce accidents. Nor does an extra premium charge change the attitude of a person who has caused an accident.

• The question of cost: The cost of automobile insurance reflects the amount paid out for claims. No-fault will not reduce the number of accidents or the amount of damage - it's only a change in law.

Only entirely "innocent" traffic victims receive full payment for their injuries under the fault system. Under no-fault, more people will be compensated. If the guilty are also paid, the cost of insurance will rise. The Insurance Bureau of Canada and the Ontario Law Reform Commission recommend reducing or eliminating payment for pain and suffering and other "general damages" to provide funds for out-of-pocket losses of all injured motorists.

Under no-fault proposals, the young, single driver will pay relatively less in premiums and the middle-aged husband and father may pay slightly more. The reasons: the younger, unmarried person usually drives a lower-value car and has lower income. The older driver heals more slowly and because of generally higher income, must receive more and higher benefits. No-fault insurance rates for each rating group are based on the amount of benefits expected to be paid to each group.

Is there a single best answer?

Please consider the following questions, then complete and return the coupon to indicate your views. CIAG will report the response to the Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

• Are you in favor of scrapping entirely the fault approach to vehicle damage claims? In other words, you and another driver would collect for vehicle repairs from your own insurers regardless of who caused the accident. This could avoid the delays that concern most claimants.

Premiums would reflect the benefits paid rather than who was at fault. If you're not satisfied with the service from your company you can change to another.

• Would you favor removing the right to sue for pain and suffering in the case of some or all injuries? Each injured person would be paid out-of-pocket expenses, and trained for other employment if disability prevented his resuming a previous occupation.

I would prefer (for little change in premium):

☐ to keep the present insurance system in Ontario

☐ to have a broader no-fault plan (to be paid for vehicle damage and expenses of most injuries by my own insurer while keeping the right to sue for severe injuries)

☐ to have as complete a no-fault plan as possible (with my out-of-pocket loss paid by my insurance company regardless of who's at fault and giving up all right to sue)

My major concerns about automobile insurance are:

☐ delays in settling claims

☐ other people getting my money because I've never had a claim

☐ having to pay a deductible when I have a claim

☐ poor service from ☐ my agent ☐ my company ☐ my adjuster ☐ another company ☐ another company's adjuster

☐ other _____

☐ I would like to have more information about no-fault car insurance.

AVONMORE

OPEN NEW BRANCH BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA

In a fitting ceremony the Bank of Nova Scotia in Avonmore has moved into its fine new building on Main Street.

George Crites, reeve of the Township of Roxborough, did the honors in cutting the ribbon. He congratulated the officials on their faith in the local community and on its modern facilities. Assisting in the ribbon-cutting ceremony were the manager of the Avonmore Branch, J.E.B. Stewart; E. W. Morris, Finch, and Harold Willis, Maxville, who for many years prior to their retirement were bank managers.

Many local citizens were present for the official opening and they enjoyed the hospitality of the local staff: Mr. Stewart, the manager; Mrs. Grace Robertson, the chief clerk; Miss Ardis McIntyre, the ledger keeper; and Mrs. Darlene McMillan, the teller.

The new bank is situated directly across the street from its familiar location for nearly 70 years. It is on the site occupied by the IOOF Hall prior to its demolition last year.

The new building is free-standing with parking available to the side. The site will be suitably landscaped. Inside, the building provides the bank with 1654 square feet of space and is equipped with new furniture, fixtures and office machines.

Officially the Bank of Nova Scotia has been doing business in Avonmore since 1919 although the history of banking in Avonmore goes back many years earlier than that. The first bank in the community was La Banque Ville Marie. It was a Quebec-based operation which opened a number of branches between 1872 and 1899. Avonmore happened to be the only community in Ontario enjoying for a time the convenience of that operation. However, the result was not good! It was in the year 1899 that the bank folded, or in official terminology it "suspended payment". The results were tragic. Many local families lost substantial investments.

In that same year, Nov. 30th, 1899, the Bank of Ottawa opened its Branch in Avonmore, with J.D. Stewart, as its first manager.

In 1919 the Bank of Ottawa amalgamated with the Bank of Nova Scotia. At that time E.W. Richards was manager and he continued as manager until 1936. More recent managers have included D.C. Hamilton, Mel Cress, E. G. Rawson, H. R. Adams, B. O. Latourell, D. A. Shoemaker, and L. R. Hanley.

With its splendid new facilities the branch will continue to foster the happy relations that have existed in its effort to serve the community over the years.

Bainsville WI had annual

The annual meeting of the Bainsville W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Leroux. Motto - One way to get high blood pressure is to go mountain climbing over mole hills; comment Mrs. McEwen.

St Andrews UCW to hold supper

The April meeting of Bainsville United Church Women met in the church with the President Mrs. H. S. Laws presiding. She opened the meeting with a poem, "One Solitary Life." Mrs. H.J. McCuaig was in charge of the Worship period, the theme being "Easter a Great Reformation." Twelve members answered the Roll Call with scripture Verses containing the word "Bless."

Mrs. J.R. Black read the minutes and Mrs. Robert Robertson gave the Treasurer's report. Correspondence was read by Mrs. M. Gardner. Announcement was made of the Seaway Valley Presbyterial meeting in Kemptville.

It was decided to support our local camp at Camp Kagama. The forthcoming Smorgasbord supper was discussed, which is to be held in St. Andrew's Church Hall 2nd con. Bainsville on Sat. May 25th, 5 p.m. - 8 p.m.

Due to the postal strike, our Easter film was delayed so Mrs. H. Fourney read the Easter message entitled "He is Risen Indeed."

Mrs. J. Kennedy then closed the meeting with prayer.

Return spiritual aspect to scouting, speaker suggests

"What makes a dull, boring Cub-Scout program different from a colorful and exciting one? challenged John Plumadore, Public Relations Officer of the Cornwall District Boy Scouts, as he addressed the Lancaster Scouts, Cubs, Guides, Brownies and their parents at a dinner in Green Valley Pavilion on Friday, April 19th.

"The spirit of the whole program depends on the leader, success depends on the leaders who are imaginative, who are willing to try something new, who apply their programs to the concepts and beliefs of scouting.

"Back in the early twenties, our founder, Lord Baden Powell had the foresight to see the problems of environment—clean water, clean air, the preservation of wildlife and the wilderness and he advised the Scouts to build an awareness of these resources into their program. Today we see the necessity of this and must continue to work for this goal."

"At the Scout conference in Ottawa, one of the speakers commented that there was a decline in the spiritual aspects of scouting, one of the basic fundamentals in its founding. A boy might receive the skills learned in scouting elsewhere, but what makes scouting different is its emphasis on duty to God, country and service to the family, community and country.

He ended his speech with a quote from a former Chief Scout, G. G. George P. Vanier: "May God bless the sacred mission which has been entrusted to us and help us to fulfill it with humility. Each one of us in his own way and place, however humble, must play his part towards the fulfillment of our natural destiny."

It was the first time the Scouts and Cubs joined with the Guides and Brownies for an annual dinner. The Lancaster packs include 19 cubs under Leaders Joseph Reibesteyn and assistants, Ruth Rathwell, Bernice Dubeau and Judith Reibesteyn; 17 Scouts under Troop Leader Rolland Dubeau and assistants William Szijarto and Andre Cousineau; 15 Brownies under Leaders Norma Westley and Darlene Aitken and six Guides under Captain Ruth Chernicki.

Germain Gareau was chairman of the dinner meeting and head table guests included: Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. Terence Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Michel Bourdeau and Rev. Sylvester Theoret. Mrs. Wheeler is the District Girl Guide Commissioner.

McCrimmon WI Annual held

The annual meeting of the McCrimmon Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Lasalle on April 18th, with 23 members and three visitors present. The president, Mrs Lynus MacPherson, welcomed all, and Mrs. P. Lloyd, secretary, read the minutes. Mrs. A. MacRae, treasurer, gave a very interesting bank balance.

In the absence of Mrs. N. Blair, Miss Margaret MacRae, commented on the motto "Resolve to make the Women's Institute enrich your life, not wear it out." Roll Call was paying fees. Full annual reports were given by each department. Mrs. S. Grant, ably installed the slate of officers.

As Mrs. J. D. MacDonald is leaving the area shortly, a presentation of a lovely brooch and earring set was made to her by Mrs. W. R. MacLeod. Mrs. MacDonald has been a valued member for a long time.

There are three 4-H Clubs on gardening. Membership Convenor is Mrs. E. Broomhall. The program meeting is May 7th, at 1:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. J. S. Houseman. Achievement Day is June 8th at Glengarry District High School.

A contest conducted by Mrs. D. Fraser was won by Mrs. V. Crowley. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. L. MacPherson, Mrs. E. Nixon, and Mrs. V. Crowley and Mrs. Lasalle was thanked for her hospitality by Mrs. Lloyd. Prizes were won by Mrs. R. MacGillivray and Mrs. A. MacRae.

The next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. R. Barton on May 16th.

Dr R F Sproul was native of Apple Hill

Dr. Robert F. Sproul, 52, the former president of Cornwall Academy of Medicine, died Sunday at the Cornwall General Hospital after a long illness.

Dr. Sproul was born May 6, 1922 at Apple Hill. He was the son of late Dr. M. J. Sproul and late Lena France.

He completed his early education at the Cornwall Public School and at the Cornwall Collegiate and Vocational School. Later he attended Bishops College at Lennoxville, Que.

In 1941 he joined the Royal Canadian Navy and served overseas on a mine sweeper in North Atlantic. He returned home in 1945.

The late Dr. Sproul attended University of Toronto, where he obtained his BA in 1948 and MD in 1953. He did his internship at Detroit Receiving Hospital and GP Residency at Millard Fillmore Hospital in Buffalo.

He began his practice with his father in 1955. Dr. Sproul was married to the former Joyce Gosselin. They have three children: Anne, 20, Joan, 17 and Robert, 16.

Dr. Sproul was a member of the Cornwall Golf and Country Club, a former captain in the SD&G Medical Corps and a member of St. John's Presbyterian Church.

The funeral was held Tuesday to St. John's Church and Woodlawn Cemetery.

Hydro service depends on early knowledge requirements

Ontario Hydro has appealed to developers and industrial customers to provide the electric utility with earlier notification of planned new developments requiring transformers and other electrical equipment.

Hydro's Vankleek Hill Area Manager, David Venutti, explained that world shortage of critical materials, particularly steel, is causing severe delays in deliveries of electrical equipment. As a result, Hydro and municipal utilities have been hard-pressed to provide service when it is requested and expansion projects -- such as new housing developments -- are being delayed.

He also noted that farmers, particularly those who need extra electrical service and equipment during harvest time, should let Hydro know their requirements as soon as possible. Even then service connection delays with resultant inconvenience may be experienced.

Where once manufacturers were able to supply transformers within a few days of receiving an order, deliveries today may take as long as 40 weeks, said the Hydro official.

"Unless customers can give us substantially more lead time", he said, "we can't provide them with the electrical equipment they need on time."

Manufacture of transformers is being held up both by a steel shortage and a scarcity of the special oil they use. In addition, the oil shortage has reduced the supply of plastics used for electrical insulation with the result that cable and wire can take up to six months to deliver.

Wood poles are also in critically short supply. In some areas, rotten poles are being replaced by putting the stubs of the good end in the ground and lashing shorter poles to them.

To meet the shortage in transformer oils, Ontario Hydro is investigating ways of reconditioning oils salvaged from old transformers so that it can be reused in new transformers.

Hydro is also making a concentrated effort to reclaim or rehabilitate worn-out equipment instead of simply selling or scrapping it.

Various reasons are given for the material shortages -- among them environmental demands that diverted some production to cleanup devices, inflation which created additional stimulus to demand and the excess capacity of 1970 and 1971 that discouraged the expansion that might have met today's shortfall.

No accurate predictions can be made on when the steel shortage will ease, but it is expected it will continue through 1974.

UNFAIR TO FARMERS
Toronto, Ont.

The editor
The Glengarry News

The land speculation tax recently tabled at Queen's Park is cruel legislation which heavily penalizes thousands of rural land owning Ontario residents whom I suspect have no idea that they are being acted against. When the law is passed, these people will find they are subject to a tax of 50% on their lands when sold. The tax will be in addition to any capital gains tax they have to pay the Federal Government. All of this amounts to expropriation of lands with little compensation.

The following is a partial list of properties which are taxable:

1) All lands owned by rural residents, unless the property is smaller than ten acres and is lived on. If it is lived on and greater than ten acres then it becomes taxable.

2) With few exceptions all rural income producing properties which are not a place of residence.

The tax is unfair to farmers, lumbermen and other rural people who have worked all their lives on their lands and have their life savings tied up in this asset. You really have to stretch the imagination far to classify them as land speculators, as the title of the bill suggests.

The government has stated that they intend on driving the price of real estate down by passing the land speculation tax and another tax of 20% if a rural resident sells any of his property to a foreigner. This, of course, will enable the government to buy rural lands at cheap prices. They have also conveniently worded the legislation to read that if land is sold to the Crown instead of private persons, the tax will not be payable. The government will now be in a position to force the farmer or lumberman to sell his land to them.

Land speculation and skyrocketing house prices is strictly a city problem. This being the case, why should the farmer and the rural resident have to suffer because of the situation in the big cities and surrounding areas? It is unfair to harness country people with this legislation. These laws should only cover certain cities and towns and not the whole province.

Yours truly,
M. Lee.

The Glengarry News

An article in the "Piper and Dancer Bulletin" regarding the Glengarry Highland Games describes the settling of the area by veterans of the disbanded Glengarry Fencibles shortly after 1800. I write to inquire who had written the article.

I am tracing a John MacDonald who had been with the Glengarry Fencibles and settled in 1807 in Sussex, New Brunswick. Does anyone have a history in any detail of the men of the regiment and where they settled?

If you can put me in touch with someone with knowledge of the answer to my question, I'll be most grateful to you.

Everyone deserves the opportunity to get the best possible education.

This is what Ontario is doing to see that you get your chance.

The government here in Ontario believes that no one should ever be deprived of a higher education simply for lack of money. And, we're doing something about it... through the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP).

OSAP consists of government-financed loans and grants designed to help qualified Canadian citizens and landed immigrants pay for their higher education. And they are based on need, not on academic achievement. The loans are interest-free until 6 months after graduation, and repayments don't begin until then. The grants don't normally have to be repaid at all.

Already, 2 out of 5 students at Ontario universities and community colleges receive some form of financial assistance from OSAP.

If you would like to know what assistance is available, how to apply for it, and how much you may be qualified to receive, contact the Student Awards Officer at the institution of your choice.

St Raphael's CWL annual mother-daughter dinner

The annual mother-daughter dinner meeting for St. Raphael's C. W. L. was held Wednesday evening at Green Valley Pavilion. The President, Mrs. Marie MacDonald, welcomed the ladies.

Head table guests were President, Mrs. Marie MacDonald, Diocesan Director, Rev. Charles MacDonald, Diocesan President, Mrs. Gertrude MacDonald, George Tyo, E. M. O. Coordinator for The United Counties; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Lorraine MacDonald and Mrs. Diana Sturkenboom, Sec. Treas. Mrs. Kathleen Emberg and Past-President, Mrs. Audrey Chretien.

Following the dinner, the president called on Mrs. Kathleen Emberg for the treasurer's report. Convenors, Mrs. Mae Levert, Mrs. Pat Major, Mrs. Audrey Chretien, Mrs. Dorothy Graham, Mrs. Diana Sturkenboom, Mrs. Lorraine MacDonald and Florence Kennedy all gave excellent reports on the various projects during the past year.

The president read a message from Rev. M. J. O' Brien, parish director, who was unable to be present. Mrs. MacDonald thanked Mrs. Therese Major and Mrs. Mae Levert who had convened the dinner and also thanked all ladies for their co-operation during her first year in office. The next meeting to be on May 8th, when Brownies, Girl Guides and leaders will attend.

Mrs. Gertrude MacDonald brought diocesan greetings and reminded everyone to attend the Convention in Cornwall on May 5th.

Rev. Charles MacDonald spoke on the impact the C. W. L. has as an organization on society and congratulated the St. Raphael's C. W. L. for their large membership and the many young girls present, who are the leaders of tomorrow.

Mrs. Anna Mae Macdonell presented a gift to Mrs. Alice McLaughlin, the corresponding secretary, who is moving from the parish. Mrs. McLaughlin was also the winner of the door prize.

Mrs. Pat Major introduced the guest speaker, George Tyo, E.M.O. for The United Counties and the City of Cornwall. Mr. Tyo gave an interesting talk on first-aid and the golden rule of first-aid. "Just three words you have to remember in any accident" said Mr. Tyo, "Do not panic. If you lose those precious first minutes you may well lose a life." He went on to give a demonstration on artificial respiration and showed a film on "Breath of Life." A question period followed and all were pleased to hear that First Aid courses are to be taught in all schools. Mrs. Colleen Kennedy thanked Mr. Tyo.

RECEIVES AWARD—At the annual Boy Scout and Cub dinner held recently in Green Valley Pavilion Michele Bourdeau was presented with an award as "honorary scouter with the First Lancaster Boy Scouts in recognition of his years of service." Making the presentation is Group Committee Chairman, Germain Gareau.
