Beef calf income program brings $110,885 to Glengarry

Participation in the Ontario Beef Calf Income Stabilization Program in 1975 will bring a total of $110,885 to 76 cow-calf producers in Glengarry, reports Ag. Rep. J. Y. Humphries.

These farmers voluntarily enrolled a total of 1,536 cows in this program at a premium cost of $7,680, reports Mr. Humphries.

In order to participate in the program in 1976 it will be necessary for these producers to re-enroll their cows during the month of July next, on the basis of cow numbers on hand July 1st, the Ag. Rep. reminds.

In its first year the Calf Income Stabilization Program was joined by 12,100 Ontario cow-calf producers, Hon. William G. Newman, Minister of Agriculture, told the Legislature in mid-December. Some 312,850 beef cows were enrolled in the five-year program.

In 1975, the guarantee price was established at 50 cents per pound, explained Mr. Newman. In effect, this meant that when the weighted average market price of beef stocker calves fell below the 50 cents guarantee price, a payment from the program would be made to absorb the difference. The weighted average market price of Ontario stocker calves during the monitoring period of September, October and November in key sales areas throughout the Province was 29.82 cents per pound.

Under the beef calf program the gross payment per cow to the farmer amounts to $77.19 last year. Since the premium last year for the program was $5 per cow, this amount must be deducted from the gross payment to give a net payment per cow of $72.19 It's of interest to note that the average herd size in the program was 26 cows, so that the average net payment per producer with this size herd will amount to $1,877. For the cow-calf industry in total this will mean a net transfer of about $22.5 million in 1975.

Noting the average herd size and the substantial transfer payment, it suggests two things: first, the vast majority of serious cow-calf producers expressed faith in the program by enrolling and, secondly, the financial aid will assure the continued viability of this important segment of the beef industry in Ontario.

Man run over by snowmobile

Jim Lariviere of the Dalhousie area suffered shoulder and head injuries Friday in a snowmobile accident in the Bridge End area. He was conveyed to Cornwall General Hospital.

The accident occurred when Lariviere fell off a trailer being towed by a snowmobile and was run over by a second snowmobile.

Lancaster Ontario Provincial Police said Mr. Lariviere fell off the trailer being towed by a snowmobile driven by Christopher McDonell of North Lancaster on Mr. McDonell's property as a result of hitting a bump. Police said Mr. Lariviere was then run over by a second snowmobile following the McDonell machine, driven by Donald Allinotte, of R. R. 1, Limoges.

Members able return to duties

After recuperating from heart conditions, both Glengarry representatives are well enough to return to their legislative duties.

Denis Ethier, MP, is home from Florida where he spent some time recuperating from open heart surgery. He expects to resume his duties at Ottawa in mid-January.

Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP, is in Toronto for a few days this week to deal with correspondence and matters pertaining to the Legislature.

Mr. Villeneuve plans to take his seat in the Legislature, which is expected to resume sittings in February, unless it is recalled earlier to consider the teachers' strike in Toronto.

The 69-year-old member suffered a heart attack in his office last Oct. 30.

Although still subject to doctor's advice to moderate his schedule of activities until mid-January, he has been able to attend to local matters and plans to take up his full round of activities in the Legislature and elsewhere when the session resumes, a spokesman said.

Reeve of Lancaster Village in line for warden's chair

W. J. (Bill) Cumming, reeve of Lancaster Village, will serve as Warden of the United Counties Council this year if tradition is followed. Mr. Cumming served as chairman of council's Finance Committee last year and that is the traditional stepping stone to the warden's chair.

This year is noteworthy for the fact that there were no municipal elections anywhere in the United Counties last fall, the first time this has been true. Thus, there will be no new members on counties' council.

Council is not directly elected, but consists of reeves and deputy reeves of all 20 municipalities in the United Counties, other than the City of Cornwall which is separate from the county organization.

The January session of council will get underway January 19 and the appointment of the warden will be the first item of business. His election and installation are the chief activities at this inaugural meeting. In recent years this first day has been followed a week later by two more days of council session.

Town and villages review accomplishments

Town finances in good condition, future looks good

Alexandria's past year has been a prosperous one, noted Mayor Bruno Massie, and the future looks good for the coming season.

Two new industries, a shoe manufacturing plant and sewing machine factory have just opened up giving a boost to local employment, said the mayor. Then the establishment of the Human Resources Centre here should help some of the unemployed who need special help to find jobs.

Settlement of a long controversy over sewage disposal plant improvement was a highlight of the latter part of the past year and Mr. Massie says the preliminary work on the aeration system is done. Prospects are that tenders will be called for the end of January.

Mayor Massie is confident of new developments in connection with the new industrial park area.

Streets and fire department marked progress in Maxville

It was a year of progress in Maxville, reflected Reeve Hubert Quart, as he listed improvements in streets, the fire department and medical centre.

On an eleven-acre purchase of land from George Crites, a new well was drilled so the village now has a 60,000 gallon reserve of water, the reeve explained, and this is also available to surrounding farmers who may run short of supply. A 20'x50' extension to the fire department also provides a training room and meeting room. The labor for this construction was supplied by the fire department while the village provided the material.

The wood siding was replaced with aluminum on the medical centre and lighting at the rear of the building was improved.

$45,000 was spent repairing and resurfacing streets and the old grader was replaced with a modern one at a cost of $13,000. More work is still required on the streets which will probably take a couple of years to finish, Mr. Quart said.

Considerable money was also spent in maintaining the community hall and arena.

The coming year? They will have to wait for guidelines and practice economy. The resignation of Councillor Norman McRae who is moving to Cornwall, was received with regret, added the mayor, and a replacement will be chosen at the council meeting this week.

Lancaster Village looks forward to new projects in 1976

The purchase of the Char-Lan Medical Clinic on an equal share basis with the neighboring townships was the major feat finalized within the past year, Reeve William Cumming of Lancaster Village felt. The former Lan-Char Enterprises charter has been dissolved and all the shareholders have been paid back.

"We hope to have a dentist by next spring; Claude Lalonde of Alexandria, formerly of St. Bernardin, graduates from the University of Toronto this year and we expect he will locate here. By that time the dentist's section of the building will be complete," Mr. Cumming informs. Dr. Con-

Vice-chairma

Henri Giroux of Green was elected vice-chairman Stormont, Dundas and Glen RCSS Board at the meeting in Cornwall on January 6th.

He defeated Yolande Charr and Art Daigneault in the bid f the position.

Mr. Giroux is the trustee representing Lancaster and Lochiel Townships and Lancaster Village.

Gilles Metivier was returned as chairman by acclamation.

1975 quiet year for brigade, two fire calls already this year

Alexandria fire brigade had the quietest year Chief Gerald Charlebois can recall. There were no really big fires in 1975 and most of the calls were to fires in the neighboring townships.

There were 84 calls on our fire brigade in 1975, compared with an average of 130 calls in other years.

The siren was not sounded at 6:15 p.m. Christmas day when Chief Charlebois responded personally to a call to St. Joseph's School. The furnace door had blown open and the reflection of the flames led neighbors to believe the furnace room was ablaze. There was no actual damage.

That was the first call for the brigade since October, Chief Charlebois observes.

The first sounding of the siren in 1976 came at 9 a.m. New Year's day. Some $500 damage was done to the home of Maurice Sauve, welder, who resides at the corner of the 9th Lancaster road and Highway 34. A window curtain had caught fire from the toaster but firemen had no trouble controlling the blaze.

A second call came Saturday at 12:30 p.m. to the home of V. J. Charteer in the 4th Kenyon. According to Chief Charlebois the tractor would not start and a hibachi had been placed under the machine to thaw it out. The family was in town when the flame ignited the machine shed.

The brigade reached the scene in time to prevent spread of the fire to the house, but the shed and tractor were lost as well as other equipment. Loss was estimated at more than $2,000.

Major accidents nil over yuletide

One of the quietest yuletide seasons in my experience is the way Police Chief Cleroux describes the holiday period just passed. There were a few minor accidents not involving injuries, he reports, but no major mishaps, no robberies or break-ins and no impaired drivers.

Members of the OPP at Lancaster and Maxville have similar reports on the Glengarry scene for the yuletide. A few minor incidents occurred but nothing serious. At Lancaster, police said some summer cottagers reported break-ins had occurred but these had happened before the fall.

Fine for UIC Infraction

A 20-year-old man from RR 2, Green Valley was sentenced in court here this week to 14 days in jail with no option of fine for supplying the Unemployment Insurance Commission with false information.

The youth had altered his reason from "quit" to "lay-off" on the separation certificate.

Judge Patrick White presided at the case.

Clerk resigns

Clerk-Treasurer of Charlottenburgh Township for the past 11 years, Reg. Gagne has resigned his post effective Friday, January 9th.

Mr. Gagne is not now prepared to announce his future plans but he told the News he has accepted another position which will be a step up for him.

Charlottenburgh Township council on December 10th hired a new deputy clerk-treasurer after creating the post. He is John Ernie Spivak, a former resident of the township.

Council backs bus run bid

A proposed bus route between Cornwall and Alexandria was outlined to town council at its December 22nd meeting and was endorsed by council.

Andre Desjardins of Martintown, was present to ask for council's support of his application and appearance before the Ontario Highway Transport Board early this year. He outlined a proposed route north from Cornwall to Monkland on Highway 138, east to Alexandria, south to Lancaster and west to Cornwall.

Mr. Desjardins said his proposed service would be helpful to industry and to students wishing to attend St. Lawrence College of Applied Arts and Technology, which is now growing rapidly, as well as being useful to the general public.

Councillors approved the proposal in principle, but councillor Norman Laperle expressed a few reservations until it might be ascertained if a local bus operator from Alexandria was interested in supplying a similar service. Otherwise council indicated its approval of Mr. Desjardins' proposal, and wished him luck with the venture.

At meeting of council on Tuesday, January 9th, Mr. Desjardin's application was endorsed by Alexandria and the owner will now apply to the Transport Ministry for approval.

Plan traffic stop at Monkland

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications has asked that motorists in the vicinity of Monkland and travelling on Highway 43, be aware of a change in traffic control devices at the intersection with highway 138, the change to be made on January 15th, 1976.

A new stop condition will be introduced for eastbound and westbound motorists travelling on Highway 43 requiring that traffic on this highway come to a full stop at the intersection with Highway 138, before proceeding.

The present requirement for traffic on Highway 138 approaching Highway 43 to come to a full stop before proceeding, will remain unchanged.

To produce ladies suits

Ladies' suits will be produced by a new firm, Alexandria Blouse Contractors, that has taken over the former store building immediately south of the Garry Theatre. Ron Lax expects to employ 10 in the plant, as well as another 25 sewers in their homes.

Mr. Lax was associated with his father in Alexandria Blouse and Slax.

Town council decides fee to be collected on all lots sold

Town council will collect a five per cent "dedication fee" on all lots sold for building purposes in future. Still to be decided is at what stage of development the fee will be demanded.

The dedication fee, for provision of park land, has been collected in the past only on parcels of land constituting a housing development. Now it will be applicable on the sale of any building lot.

At its meeting December 22nd, council had the advice of two representatives of the Ontario ministry of housing, Barry Gardiner and John Uliana. Mr. Gardiner declared council is within its rights in asking for the dedication fee from the seller of any lot on which a house is to be built.

"Since the building of a house on a lot implies a need for park land, then the dedication fee should be charged on all lots likely to have houses built on them," Mr. Gardiner said. This is to apply whether there is one lot or a subdivision.

Councillors agreed that this was a good idea, but later Reeve Jean Paul Touchette, after noting his interest in the matter, protested a levy of five per cent on a single lot he had sold. He also protested what he called "inconsistency" as he said at least a few lots have been sold in town without the fee being asked for.

Mayor Bruno Massie wondered if the matter of those lots with no fee paid could be reopened but was speedily informed that the land was registered and town council no longer had control over the private property.

Council decided to apply the fee which is actually an optional payment of cash as applied to a small plot, in the case of a large development, a contribution of a portion of the land itself. Councillors were puzzled though, by the problem of what the five per cent should be levied on. It was pointed out there is an important difference between the value of bare land and the lots after they are brought to various stages of development with roads, water mains or wells, surface drains, sewers, etc.

The problem was complicated as the discussion grew lengthy, by Mayor Bruno Massie's request for a severance on some lots he owns near Massie Drive in the south end of town.

Mr. Massie invited Reeve Touchette to take the mayor's chair while his lots were discussed.

During the discussion, which lasted until nearly midnight, opinion hardened that the five per cent must definitely be levied against all lots. Councillor Bruno Lalonde noted the difficulty of deciding what to charge the five per cent against, and Mr. Touchette said an appraiser's fee would use up most or all of the dedication money. The reeve mentioned the possibility of visiting the registry office and taking an average of similar lots sold in the last few months as a way out of the dilemma.

Mr. Lalonde proposed a resolution which council supported, with three clauses. Council approved the idea that Mr. Massie's lots should be separated as requested; that the dedication fee should be charged; and land division committee be asked at what stage the levy should be made.

Fewer homes built this year

The number of building permits was fewer than last year in Alexandria but the overall cost of permits was higher due to industrial expansion in the town.

The breakdown according to assistant clerk Leo Poirier is as follows: residential renovations: $59,459; carports, garages, etc. $10,450; swimming pools, $2,950; new homes, $117,000; industrial buildings, $216,761 and commercial renovations, $75,200.

Very cold with rain and snow

by George Hambleton

December '75 was 4° cooler than normal. The low was -33°F on the 20th and temperature fell below zero 12 times. The high was 52° on the 14th and 30° or better was recorded on 13 days. However the high for the day on the 19th was only -11°F.

Rain fell on seven occasions for a total of 1.53" and snow seven times for a total of 30". Total rainfall equivalent was over 4½", much above normal.

Freezing rain was recorded three times.

One year ago, average temperature for the month was 11° warmer than the past month when a high of 45° and 30° or more occurred on 16 days. However below 0°F was observed only three times with a low of -14°. Freezing rain occurred once.

He also leaves three brothers and three sisters: Ken, Tommy, Don, Margaret, Patricia and Neala.

A concelebrated Folk Mass was held at St. Mary's Church, Woodstock, on December 22nd. Fathers T. O'Rourke and Charles MacDonald officiated.

Glens win, lose and tie

by Gary Shepherd

Last weekend Roch Lajoie's Glens played a home and home series with the league-leading "Morrisburg Lions." Although his club only picked up a single point in the two outings, Lajoie was very pleased with his club's play. On Friday they dropped a narrow 5-4 decision to the Lions in Maxville and then played to a 7-7 deadlock in Morrisburg on Sunday.

On Friday, Kevin Duval scored three times for John Rice's Lions while Doug McNairn and Chuck Lawlor added singles.

Brian Main, John Charlebois, Robert Lajoie and Brian Reasbeck all had singles for the locals.

In Morrisburg on Sunday, rookie "Luc Poirier" scored his second goal of the game at 18:32 of the final period to give the Glens the tie. Other Glens marksmen were Robert Boisvenue, Norman Laliberte, Robert Lajoie, Paul Seguin and Yvan Desautels.

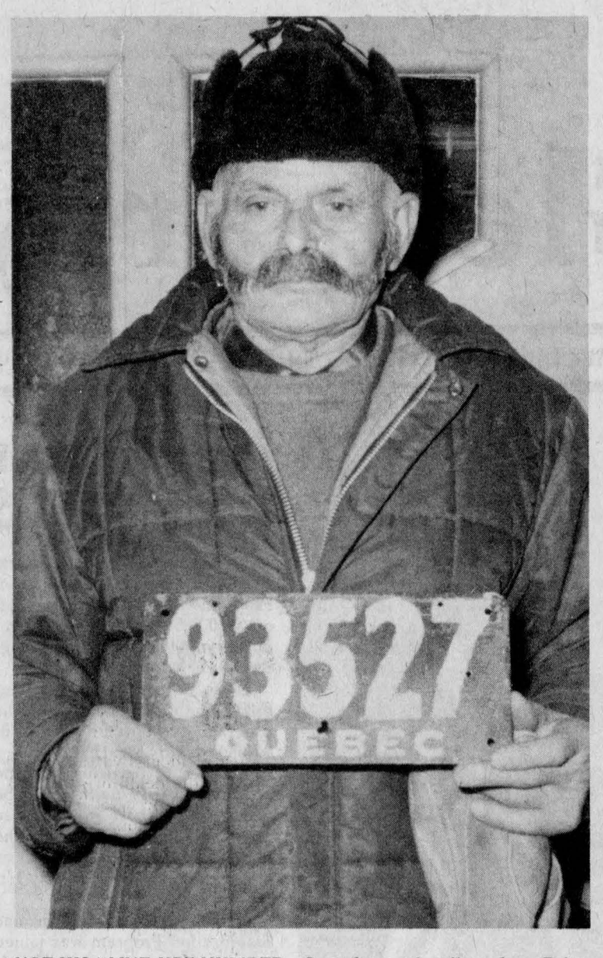
Doug McNairn had three goals for Morrisburg, Hugh Gillard two, and singles went to Brian Moran and Kevin Duval.

Referee Ford McMillan called only five minor penalties in the game with the Lions accounting for four of these.

In one other game during the holidays, the Glens downed the Cardinal Broncos 9-4.

Three familiar faces were in the Glens' lineup on Friday night, Brian Filion was home from university and Brian Reasbeck was visiting his grandparents for Christmas. The other player was Mike McCormick. It is unlikely that McCormick and Reasbeck will see any more action as they have both gone back to work in Western Ontario. It is hoped that Filion will be home for a few more games however.

Next weekend, the Glens play host to the Metcalfe Jets at the Maxville arena. Game time Friday night is 8:30 p.m.



NOT HIS "LINE-UP" NUMBER—One of our subscribers from Pointe Fortune, H. V. McLachlan brought this unusual license plate into our office this week. He tells us the fibreboard plate was on his first car, back in 1921, a McLaughlin Buick, which he ran for 20 years. He would like to know if anyone else around has plates of that year or before.

RENT REVIEW

These are the facts:

Ontario's new Residential Premises Rent Review Act affects most landlords and tenants in the province. The act allows for a review of the amount of rent a landlord may charge.

Landlords and tenants should be aware of their rights and responsibilities under this legislation.

The Ontario Government is in the process of establishing rent review offices in major centres across the province. Review officers will hear disputes on rent increases by both landlords and tenants.

A rent review board is being established to hear appeals by tenants and landlords against the decisions of rent review officers.

What does the act cover?

- apartments • houses • townhouses • duplexes
- triplexes • rooming houses • mobile-home sites
- rent-geared-to-income units

What are the exceptions?

- certain non-profit housing or non-profit co-operatives
- units in a hotel, motel or vacation home which are rented for a seasonal or temporary period not exceeding four months
- buildings that were first occupied as residential premises on or after Jan. 1, 1976.
- commercial premises

How does it work?

If you have entered into or renewed a tenancy agreement which became effective between July 30, and Dec. 31, 1975, inclusive, you should be aware that:

The maximum rent increase for such agreements cannot exceed eight per cent of the rent charged during the last full month prior to Aug. 1, 1975, unless:

(a) the tenant and landlord agree on a higher rate of rent, or

(b) the landlord obtains the necessary approval from a rent review officer.

A landlord may apply to a rent review officer for permission to increase rent more than eight per cent. A tenant may file an application with the landlord requiring him to justify any increase. These applications must be made by Jan. 31, 1976.

Should a landlord and tenant agree on an increase in rent above the eight per cent guideline, they must complete and sign a rent increase agreement no later than Jan. 17, 1976. Copies of these agreements should be kept by both parties. Forms may be obtained by writing Rent Review, Box 580, Postal Station F, Toronto, M4Y 2L8. Or you may wish to use the form published recently in this newspaper.

However, a tenant may cancel such an agreement by completing a statement of revocation within 30 days of the signing of the agreement.

By signing a rent increase agreement the tenant waives the right to appeal the increase during the period July 30, to Dec. 31, 1975. The tenant also waives the right to collect a rebate of rent as provided for in this act, other than the amount of rebate, if any, stated in the rent increase agreement.

Rent increase agreements do not apply for any period after Dec. 31, 1975, and do not constitute a waiver of the tenant's right to appeal the amount of rent charged on or after Jan. 1, 1976.

The rent increase agreements do not relieve the landlord from his obligation to obtain approval from a rent review officer for any rent increase charged on or after Jan. 1, 1976 that is more than eight per cent of the July, 1975 rent.

Where the landlord and tenant do not agree on a rent increase above the eight per cent, the tenant is entitled to a rebate of any rent paid in excess of eight per cent by Feb. 16, 1976. If the landlord fails to make such a rebate the tenant may apply to a rent review officer.

If a tenancy agreement becomes effective or is renewed between Jan. 1, and July 31, 1976, inclusive, you should know:

A landlord who wishes an increase of more than eight per cent must file an application with his rent review office and notify the tenant at least 60 days before the increase is scheduled to become effective. In respect to those rental increases taking effect between Jan. 1, and Feb. 29, 1976, the application must be made by Jan. 31, 1976.

A tenant who wishes to appeal an increase has 60 days in which to file an application with his landlord requiring him to justify the increase.

In case of a hearing, a date will be set by the rent review officer and both landlord and tenant will be notified.

After the hearing the rent review officer will establish the rent, and may order retroactive adjustments.

What is a tenancy agreement?

A tenancy agreement gives a tenant the right to occupy a particular dwelling, or to renew the right to rent a particular dwelling. The agreement can be written, verbal or implied. In other words, even if you don't have a written lease you are covered by the legislation.

For written agreements, the important date is the date the agreement comes into effect, not the date on which the agreement is signed.

Rent review legislation is tied to the dwelling on an annual basis with the July, 1975, rent taken as the base rent.

Who attends hearings?

Tenants, landlords or their representatives should attend rent review hearings. Failure to appear or be represented removes the right to appeal the rent review officer's decision.

The hearings will be informal, and every effort will be made to keep the procedures simple so that individuals may conduct their own cases.

A rent review officer has the power to call witnesses and to order the production of the necessary documents.

Tenants should be aware that, should they appeal their rent increase to a rent review officer, the officer could permit the landlord a greater increase than the one originally demanded.

Where a landlord has been required to justify an existing or proposed rent increase, the rent review officer may adjust the rent to an amount below the original rent level.

Until the rent review mechanism is in place, please do not telephone. You can obtain further information on the Residential Premises Rent Review Act by writing:

Province of Ontario

OPP Say Snowmobile Death Rate Is High

With the advent of early winter snow making conditions ideal for winter sports snowmobile operators across the Province have taken advantage of the situation and have made an early start on the season's death and injury rate attributed directly to snow vehicles.

New snow vehicle legislation has recently been passed by the Ontario Government in an effort to prevent some of the needless slaughter caused by snowmobilers annually.

To acquaint the public with some of the important points of the new legislation, the OPP request all snowmobilers to become acquainted with the following:

Registration

All snowmobiles will have to be registered at the nearest licence issuing office, regardless of whether they have been registered before, unless the owner has already registered the vehicle for 1976. All snow vehicles must be registered within 6 days of purchase or sale. In addition to registration you must have a permit to drive a motorized snow vehicle, unless you are driving it only on property owned or occupied by yourself.

Driving

Generally, you may not drive on the serviced portion (from shoulder to shoulder) of a King's Highway or secondary highway, except to cross, and this you must do only at a 90 degree angle. You must not operate a motorized snow vehicle on a Freeway. You must be 16 years of age or older to drive a motorized snow vehicle along a highway, and you must hold a valid Ontario driver's licence.

Speed Limits

No faster than 15 miles per hour on a highway where speed limit for cars is 30 miles per hour, in parks, conservation areas or exhibition grounds. No faster than 30 miles per hour on highways with limits over 30 miles per hour.

Collisions

Report to police all collisions on or off the highway that result in injury or damage apparently exceeding $100.00.

Identification

You must show your driver's Licence to police or conservation officer, or provide your correct name and address if not carrying your licence. When on someone else's property with your snow vehicle, you must identify yourself to the property owner when asked to do so. Failure to do so to an officer or owner can result in arrest.

Trespassing

Trespassing on land without written permission of the owner can result in a fine up to $500.00.

Owner's Liability

The owner of a snowmobile is jointly liable for someone else using his machine, in the event of damages or penalties for breach of Provincial or Municipal laws, arising out of operation of the vehicle.

Insurance

You must be insured under a motor vehicle liability policy before driving snow vehicle on a highway or public trail.

Safety Helmet

Must be worn by driver and all passengers while on machine or towed conveyance, while on a serviced roadway or public trail.

During the remainder of this winter season the Ontario Provincial Police Snow Vehicle Patrol Officers, will be concentrating on offenders committing snow vehicle violations of excessive speed, careless operation of snow vehicles and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

You can help. If you are planning to become a snow vehicle operator, the Ontario Provincial Police suggest that you join a snowmobile club in your area, preferably one which is a member of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs.

These clubs are safety minded organizations with excellent training programs for all ages of snowmobilers. They can be contacted through the local Chamber of Commerce or Clerk of your Municipality.

"Remember" says Commissioner H.H. Graham, "a motorized snow vehicle is not a toy, it is a powerful machine that can kill and requires respect."

Curtailed Spending Affects Education

Ontario education grants will increase by only eight per cent this year, and capital spending will be reduced by at least $35 million, according to a statement issued recently by Education Minister Thomas Wells.

Mr. Wells told more than 450 school board chairmen and officials that the move is part of a program intended to curtail government spending.

The province, he said, will provide $1.714 billion dollars in grants to school boards, an increase of $151 million over last year.

This means the amount eligible for grant will increase by eight per cent for each elementary and secondary school student, with the boards being allowed to spend an extra $80 per elementary pupil. The extra $80 at the elementary level was initiated last year to improve the quality of programs in the early years of a student's education.

The Minister made it clear any amount spent by boards above the grant limits will have to be raised through local taxes.

With respect to capital expenditures by boards, there will be no capital allocation for school construction undertaken this year. The 1975 capital program for construction will be reduced by $35 to 40 million. This means that many projects that have already received preliminary approval from the Ministry will be delayed until funds are available.

New construction will receive priority only in those areas where it is required because of new housing, whether that housing is constructed by private enterprise or under the Under Housing Action Programs or Ontario Housing Corporation Programs. This, he said, is in keeping with the government's commitment to increase housing starts.

Capital funds will also be available for the replacement of portable classrooms and for renovations or new construction necessitated by health or safety factors.

Mr. Wells told the officials that the need for restraint in spending will be greater than at any time in the past 30 years.

"The quality of education must be maintained and improved", he said, "and the challenge facing the Ministry, the trustees, and the administrators is to accomplish this within the new economic climate that now prevails."

Hydro Announces Price Hike

Ontario Hydro will increase wholesale power rates to its 353 municipal and 102 direct industrial customers by 22 per cent, effective to-day (January 1, 1976,) the Corporation's Board of Directors announced today.

A corresponding increase, adjusted to take account of retail costs will be applied to customers of Hydro's rural system.

The new rates will increase retail rates to residential customers by approximately 13.9 per cent. Percentage increases at the municipal utility retail level will vary substantially because of differing levels of consumption, different effective dates for rate adjustments and rising municipal distribution costs.

In a letter to Energy Minister Dennis Timbrell announcing the 1976 rate increase, Chairman Robert Taylor said the members of the Hydro Board wished to "express their serious concern that the long-term financial integrity of Hydro is being weakened."

Mr. Taylor said the 1976 rate would provide a margin of only $14 million after Hydro covered forecast costs and the statutory debt retirement charge. "For an enterprise of the size and complexity of Ontario Hydro, this is indeed a slim margin."

In accordance with the government's policy directives of last July, Hydro is already making substantial cuts in its 1976 operating budget and the capital construction program has been reduced by $1.2 billion.

Mr. Taylor said Hydro is developing criteria to be used in its review of applications from municipal utilities to increase their retail rates. The objective is to keep these increases at the lowest feasible level and at the same time consistent with the intent of the Federal government's anti-inflation guidelines.

Mr. Taylor said, "Ontario Hydro is doing everything in its power to hold down costs and assist in the anti-inflation battle."

"It's a Matter of Life and Breath"

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

It is the dawn of a new year and the dawn of a new era. Perhaps never before have we faced so great a challenge.

Never before have so many of us had so much, here in Canada. In spite of our everlasting grumbling, we know most of us have never had it so good.

But the leader of our country has announced the day of reckoning has come. Funny, isn't it, how that dramatic declaration shook us up. Even when we knew it all along.

An old proverb goes "He who has begun has the job half done." It must therefore follow that to admit a problem exists is the first step to its solution. Or solutions.

What are we, here in Glengarry going to do about our state of affairs?—a state that encompasses so much more than the economy. This special time of new resolutions should be a good time to reflect and make some decisions, individually and in our organizations.

Perhaps this is the year we should set aside one monthly meeting for group attendance at one of our local council or school board meetings. We elected these people to office, do we ever go to observe how they carry on our business? It might be an eye-opener.

Perhaps this is the year we should really take a look at our school curriculum to see how and what our children are being taught. We really don't get much chance on that stand-in-line and wait-your-turn parent's day.

Perhaps this is the year we should co-operate with some of the programs government does offer us and which we consistently ignore. Take the commission set up to observe violence in the media for instance, how many of our organizations have offered briefs—or for that matter how many of us have offered briefs about anything constructive?

Perhaps this is the year we will really take a stand—on gun control, or pollution or junk foods or inflation—or something.

Perhaps this is our year, women folk of Glengarry, perhaps this is our year.

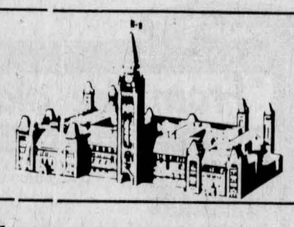
OTTAWA and Small Business



Competitive cooperatives

By KENNETH McDONALD

At a recent meeting with Prime Minister Trudeau, the president of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business remarked that Canada's small business community would gladly trade the whole Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce, together with its palatially housed army of bureaucrats, for some sensible changes in the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Most of Ottawa's commercial costs go to support a small segment of the business community. For example, the main purpose of the Export Development Corporation is to serve as a sales finance company for Canadian branch plants of foreign-owned multi-nationals.

The fiscal and monetary policies which were designed for a market economy collapsed when conglomerates became powerful enough to set and maintain their own prices. Two sets of rules are needed now -- one for the owner managers, the doers and risk-takers, and the other for the bureaucracies of big business, big-labour and big government.

The first set of rules requires new tax policies to encourage entrepreneurship; new government purchasing policies with set-aside provisions for small business; guaranteed loan programs at favorable rates; and tough measures to maintain competition.

Such changes will strengthen and enlarge the competitive sector which employs more than half of all Canadians. By doing so they will increase small business activity and thus provide a more effective check on the private bureaucracies than Ottawa's attempts at regulation.

The pattern has been set by Japan, where the government has established five distinct finance institutions to meet the needs of small and medium enterprises. By joining together in cooperatives -- of which there are already 50,000 -- small firms gain the scale advantages of big business without sacrificing the driving force of their own entrepreneurship.

These cooperatives are similar to the voluntary chains formed in Canada, for example among drug and hardware retailers. But the difference is that the Japanese government encourages the cooperatives with long-term, low interest loans. In other words, the government wants them to compete with big business and makes it possible for them to do so.

It pays. Small business creates new jobs at one tenth the cost of big business. Given the right environment, as in Japan, the small business community fertilizes itself, soaking up the labour force as new enterprises spring up in response to man's urge to be independent.

Education grants in Ontario to be restricted in 1976

Ontario education grants will increase by only eight per cent next year, and capital spending will be reduced by at least $35 million, Education Minister Thomas Wells announced last week.

He told more than 450 school board chairmen and officials that the move was part of a program intended to curtail government spending. Mr. Wells said that the program "is the cornerstone to the successful effort needed to curb the rate of inflation."

The province, he said, will provide $1.714 billion dollars in grants to school boards next year, an increase of $151 million over last year. This means that the amount eligible for grant will increase by eight per cent for each elementary and secondary school student, with the boards being allowed to spend an extra $80 per elementary pupil. The extra $80 at the elementary level was initiated last year to improve the quality of programs in the early years of a student's education.

Any amount spent by boards above the grant limits will have to be raised through local taxes.

Mr. Wells urged the school board officials to join with the province in the fight against inflation by reviewing their operations. He told the officials that the time had come for each of them to sit down and take a tough, hard look at every item in their budgets. "It is not the time to initiate costly new programs nor is it the time to be allocating funds for new projects and activities which may be viewed as being relatively remote from the actual learning process," he said.

The Ministry, he said, will ensure that the additional funds available will be used to maintain and improve the quality of education in the schools and to ensure a maximum equalization of financial resources among school boards.

Mr. Wells said that he was not asking the school boards to do something that the Ministry itself was not prepared to do. Noting that the Ministry spends only four per cent of its budget on Ministry operations, including the operation of the provincial schools for the blind and deaf and the Ontario Teacher Education College, Mr. Wells said that $4 million will be cut from this budget. This will be accomplished by reducing staff and cutting back on programs.

With respect to capital expenditures by boards, there will be no capital allocation for school construction undertaken next year. The 1975 capital program for construction will be reduced by $35-40 million. This means that many projects that have already received preliminary approval from the Ministry will be delayed until funds are available.

New construction will receive priority only in those areas where it is required because of new housing.

Capital funds will also be available for the replacement of portable classrooms and for renovations or new construction necessitated by health or safety factors.

Picnic Grove WI hears talk

The regular meeting of the Picnic Grove WI was held on Dec. 9th, at 2 p.m., at the Picnic Grove WI Hall. Thirteen members answered the roll call. Plans for the 60th anniversary celebration were discussed.

Mrs. Pearl Edgar was guest speaker and spoke on the organization "Amnesty International" which is worldwide human rights movement, founded in 1961, which is independent of any government, political faction or religious creed. It acts on behalf of men and women all over the world who are imprisoned for their beliefs, color, ethnic origin or religion, provided they have neither used nor advocated violence. Today, amnesty remains the only organization of its kind. Over 38,000 individuals are working in groups and national sections in 58 countries. These oppose the use of torture in all cases and violation of fundamental, legal and human rights.

Foster parents group had fall activities

The October meeting of SD&G's Foster Parents Association was held at the home of Cathleen and Kenneth Barber, Brinston, with a house full to overflowing. The group was entertained by members of the Barber family, as follows: Arthur on drums and mouth organ; Kenny and Keven Duval sang and Kenneth Eccelshall gave the reading of a poem about mothers.

Lyle McNab, chairman, welcomed Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Cowan from Ottawa. Rev. Cowan is currently director of "The Family Life Series" sponsored by the Anglican Ottawa Diocese. He shared the leadership of the evening with his wife, Dorothy. Part of the discussion topic centred on "Preparation for Marriage" and among other things, they shared with us how they've recently spent their 33rd wedding anniversary on a cruise ship on the Mediterranean.

Delicious refreshments, served by the hostess, brought a pleasant evening to a close.

Monday, 17th November, found the F.P.A. gathered into a study format at the Ingleside District High School, under the leadership of St. Lawrence College Extension School instructor, Mr. Wayne Gosselin. This is the first in a series of study meetings and Mr. Gosselin dealt with the adolescent age of 14 up to 17, stating these young folk are people with very different needs. He stated that statistically it costs less to be kept in school than on welfare and that the peer group is more important to kids in this age group than are their parents.

On Sunday evening, 30th November, the Foster Parents were the honored guests of the board and staff of the Children's Aid Society, to a sumptuous Christmas supper held at Beach Hall, St. Paul's United Church, Cornwall. An excellent program followed, with Cam Copeland, staff social worker, acting as M.C. Silver salvers and certificates were presented to foster parents with 25, 20, 15 and 10 years of service. Miss Heather Tenger rendered several beautiful solos, accompanied by her father, Derry Tenger, staff social worker. Highlight of the evening was the musical presentation by the nine to 20 Youth Choral Group from St. Francis de Sales Church, with conductor Hubert McAleer. Another feature on the program was Mr. Copeland's ventriloquist teen-aged friend, Patricia. Obviously these two have been through a lot together! Misses Laura Hope, Anita Rivette and Lynn Hurtubise favored with musical selections, both instrumental and song. The evening came to a fitting conclusion when Miss Heather Tenger sang "I Know that my Redeemer Liveth," from the words of Job, Chapter 19 and verse 25.

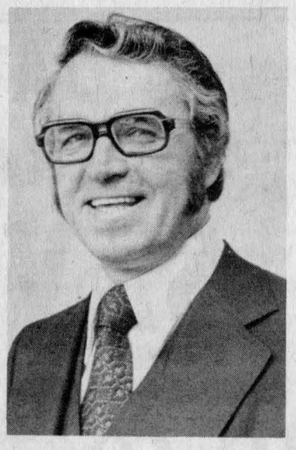
SEASON'S GREETINGS



I wish to thank you very sincerely for your kind and warm wishes for a speedy recovery during my stay in the hospital. Your numerous visits of encouragement, flowers and cards, were for me the sweetest and best aid to recovery.

My doctor has informed me that I may resume my normal occupation by mid-January and it is with a sincere desire to serve that I anticipate this return.

While offering you my wishes of health, joy and happiness during this new year, I must also solicit your kind cooperation in your government's anti-inflation program so that we can proudly say: "We in Glengarry-Prescott-Russell are doing our share in this very serious battle against inflation". Together we will succeed.

May you enjoy good health along with joy and happiness throughout 1976.

Your humble servant,

DENIS ETHIER, M.P.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

May you enjoy the year ahead!

Another year has gone into history and a review of 1975 would include many plus points with others less favorable on the Glengarry scene. Worsening inflation across the country was beginning to have more impact on area residents though the local economy had been fairly buoyant through most of the year.

Farmers had enjoyed one of their better crop years but prospects for 1976 are not too bright for dairymen in face of Ottawa's decision to reduce support of milk products.

Our town continued its slow but steady growth with some housing starts and progress on other amenities. Notable were the occupancy of the hospital addition and the new senior citizens' apartment block. The 70-bed nursing home was nearing completion by year's end and there was the prospect of improvements to the sewage system as council and textile plant came to agreement on cost-sharing.

A new arena was also in prospect after months of organization and fund raising. Construction is to start this week and a heartening aspect of the project is the readiness of neighboring municipalities to share in the cost.

The year 1975 was a notable one for residents of Lancaster Village who saw a start made on a long-planned project, the acquisition of municipal water and sewer services. Also in the books for that village is a 60-bed nursing home.

Glengarry obtained wide promotion in 1975 through the activities of its pipe band and dancers. In addition to appearances on national television there were a tour of the Maritimes and participation in Canada's contribution to the U.S. bicentennial in Washington, D.C. and in last week's Rose Bowl parade. The year also saw the sombre ruins of St. Raphael's Church serving for the first time as a setting for entertainments. That could have been the forerunner of further use as an outdoor theatre.

Our file for 1975 records the usual quota of tragic accidents as well as the roll of those who died by natural causes. The impact of a six-week postal strike was another unpleasant incident we had to cope with but there were compensating bright spots in the year's picture, among them steady employment here.

It is our hope that progress will be made this year in containing the inflationary spiral. May you escape its most harmful effects and have a Happy New Year!

A glimpse of the new society

This new year may provide us with further information on the new society Prime Minister Trudeau has in the plans for Canadians. In a pre-Christmas message Mr. Trudeau had promised that he would speak later about the "new kind of society we will need to create in response to the new economic circumstances in which we are living." Another glimpse of this "new society" was afforded in the prime minister's year-end interview on television.

More than belt-tightening to see us through a bad period is called for. And the answer is not a massive intervention by government into the decision-making power of the unions and the large corporations.

Mr. Trudeau sees the need for a change in our values and priorities. Cooperation is to be the key, and if we cannot bring ourselves to it, the government will do the job for us. There is no other option, the prime minister says; the free-market economy has failed. The anti-inflation controls will allow time to adjust.

Certainly a new approach is needed in labor relations, especially where government is the employer. But in its negative approach to containing inflation the Trudeau government has given us no evidence that it can come up with a solution to labor unrest.

What of the future?

Now that the post office strike is over Canadians have a right to be curious about the future, suggests the editor of The Wingham Advance-Times. The executive of the CUPW says that the workers are unhappy with the settlement, an indication that we may expect a renewal of the warfare at first opportunity. Certainly the public has the right to ask what remedies are planned for a situation that will not tolerate another exercise of the kind we have been through in the past two months.

An entire battery of computers would be incapable of reckoning the total loss to the nation created by the six-week interruption of mail services. Whether rightly or wrongly, the vast majority of Canadians were prepared to support the postmaster-general in waiting out the strikers, but that sort of patience cannot be expected if there is a renewal of hostilities.

This particular dispute has provided ample evidence that labor disagreements should be dealt with by labor management tribunals. Strikes are simply too costly for all concerned. It is equally evident that the sort of arbitration which has been offered so far is not adequate. Labor distrusts boards of arbitration, claiming that they are usually loaded in favor of management. Surely, if labor, management and government are capable of handling their own individual responsibilities intelligently, they should be equally capable of arriving at a form of labor court which would merit the confidence of all three.

The post office strike has done more injury to the cause of organized labor than any other single action in the past 40 years. It has solidly cemented public opinion. Members of parliament, who after all have the power to make laws about union rights, are now keenly aware that the vast majority of Canadians are flatly against unreasonable demands by labor. Those same members all want to be re-elected and they have been provided with a clear signal about where the majority of their electors stand. Unfortunately, that attitude will be applied to responsible unions as well as to those which are used as the tools of overpaid professional organizers.

One message comes through loud and clear. "No more post office strikes."

Buckle up or pay up

The new law compelling Ontario motorists to wear seat belts will no doubt be ignored by a lot of people who never made a habit of buckling up. We doubt the police will be keeping a close check to see that the new rule is being observed.

But perhaps we will be doing the smart thing by giving seat belts a chance to prove their worth. Tests and similar legislation elsewhere are said to show that fewer serious or fatal injuries occur to the wearers of seat belts. In Australia, a drop of 24 per cent occurred in bed occupancy rates at hospitals after seat belt use was made mandatory.

If that drop was related solely to the use of seat belts it adds up to a telling argument in favor of buckling up. Unless, of course, you like a hospital bed and pills to kill the pain of those injuries incurred.

Some motorists won't go round the block without buckling up. Maybe we'd be smart to emulate them.

Social conflict a possibility

(The Ridgetown Dominion)

The cartoon showing a man aged sixty-five remarking "Now that I am old enough to get the pension, the fund is broke" has an underlying truth. The policy of spend now, pay later has so taken over the thinking of people that it is possible that as older people retire, younger people will refuse to carry the burden of underfinanced pension plans and those who have paid into these funds all their lives will have nothing to take out.

Over-consumption could result in the lack of capital for future investment. Price and wage controls are not the answer to inflation according to Arthur J. Smith president of the Conference Board in Canada.

Twenty years ago Canada had the second highest living standard in the world but it is now about seventh and if present trends continue it could drop to 17th.

John Crispo, professor of industrial relations, the University of Toronto says "What Canada needs is a drastic reduction of government deficits, a contraction in the rate of increase of the money supply, and a dramatic and even-handed crackdown on power and its abuse, wherever they occur." He claims that the wage and price control plan simply shifts the blame for the situation to the people and away from government.

Twenty years ago when Canada had the second highest living standard in the world the policy was the elimination of legislative controls, a curtailment of government spending and the growth of personal consumption, and the encouragement of productivity development. Policy-makers do not seem to have any deep public conviction or any cohesive plan to stimulate productivity. And there must be increased productivity if there are to be stable prices, high employment and social development.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

I have been contacted by the Rev. James MacKenzie of Robbins, North Carolina, with a request for copies of sermons by Rev. John Bethune.

They are planning 200th anniversary special services and plan to print a commemorative booklet in which they would like to include a copy of a sermon by Bethune if possible.

Any of your readers having such material or knowing where it could be obtained can contact myself or Rev. James MacKenzie, Box 867, Robbins, N.C., U.S.A., 27325.

Mr. MacKenzie was responsible for having a highway marker erected in honor of John Bethune in North Carolina and again suggested one should be erected in Glengarry where the bulk of Bethune's ministry was carried out.

The Glengarry News,

May I, through the letters column of your publication, make an appeal to all former students and staff of Victoria High School in Victoria, B.C.

In 1976, Victoria High School, the oldest Canadian public high school west of the Great Lakes, will celebrate the 100th anniversary of its establishment. A Committee has been formed to plan suitable centennial celebrations, and we are now attempting to locate all who attended V.H.S., either as a student or a member of the staff.

Celebrations will begin early in the New Year and continue through to the end of the school term.

They'll Do It Every Time

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER

by Ed.

A BRIGHT NEW YEAR

We're well launched into a brand new year after a yuletide season we found thoroughly satisfactory. And one of its most satisfying features for Glengarrians must have been the mix of weather that was never as bad as the forecasters kept threatening. Freezing rain was called for our area several times over the holiday period but invariably it came down in the form of snow. And only that fall on Boxing Day might be considered a storm.

The wind took its chill factor elsewhere and while temperatures were bracing enough it seldom was uncomfortably cold. That almost balmy New Year's eve suggested the possibility we'll know an open winter. We'll go for that, and it can't go too soon.

Two Thursday holidays made for considerable confusion in keeping track of the days, but that will be no problem this year when a Saturday Christmas promises to be little more wearing than the ordinary holiday weekend.

Your Rambling Reporter thoroughly enjoyed the holidays, even though he's happy with the thought they've been and gone. He's got a weighty problem to work on through these first months of 1976, but before he gets too resolute your Rambling Reporter wants to wish each of you a Bright and Happy New Year.

May you get plenty of kicks out of '76.

THAT'S HOCKEY

A year without too many highlights, one might describe the late, unlamented 1975. But it went out with a bang for Canadians fortunate enough to be tuned in on that hockey game in the Montreal Forum New Year's eve.

Les Canadiens were held to a tie by the Central Red Army team of Russia but they dominated the play and helped serve up a brand of hockey that was a joy to behold. Never do we expect to witness another hockey game so fast and furious, and at the same time so free of mayhem. There may come other confrontations between the Canadiens hockey team and the Russians, we hope; but they will lack the thrill of uncertainty that permeated players and fans as these two fine teams battled for supremacy on the Forum ice New Year's eve.

New York Rangers had proved patsies against this same Russian team and there was the fear Canadiens might not measure up either. In the event, the Montreal players were up for this one and they outclassed the Red Army team in everything but finesse around the opposition goal.

After seeing hockey as it should be played in the big time surely fans will no longer be satisfied with the watered down version the NHL serves up. Darned if we can see how it's going to be accomplished but there should be a complete reorganization of professional hockey that would see only the top talent playing in the NHL.

And we'll be happy to see those top teams pitted more often against the Russians and other European squads. That's hockey.

P.S.—If the Canadiens demonstrated how the Russians might be beaten, Buffalo Sabres were apt pupils. They stopped those passing plays cold and completely disrupted their Russian opponents. That was performance.

In Sunday's thriller, it was Buffalo that was rushin'; and the Russians were buffaloed.

SLOPING HAZARDS

If town council has any plans for street rebuilding in 1976 it's to be hoped councillors will keep in mind that sidewalks are meant for pedestrian traffic. They should be constructed for the convenience of the walker rather than the car driver.

We're thinking of those new sidewalks that slope downward to curbside wherever cars or trucks cross them to enter or exit from a laneway. Some have been sloped so steeply as to be a hazard for pedestrians even when snow or freezing rain are not factors. One of the worst such we navigate while rambling with our dog is on

And a happy, healthy New Year to all!

A Burns' night concert is being planned for Tuesday, January 20th, in Cornwall at General Vanier Auditorium. Brigadoons, Optimist Pipe Band, Pipe Major John MacKenzie, MacCulloch dancers and SD&G Highland Dancers will perform. We are attempting to establish in Cornwall an annual Burns' concert of topnotch entertainment.

Desjardins are investigating possible bus routes for country people who wish to travel to and from Cornwall. Phone 528-4811 for more information.

I received a phone call from Jack Hendrie, now living in Ottawa. He received a complimentary write-up in a newspaper for the time he spends entertaining the ill and aged in the Ottawa area. Jack plays a 5-row button accordion and is well known name in Glengarry. Good work, Jack!

Lochiel Recreation is holding a dance at Bide-a-Wee this Saturday, Jan. 10th; originally, the dance was to have been held in November but there was too much ice, no Isabel, not in my glass (though that is also serious), but on the roads to Bide-a-wee Inn. Guy Leroux tried to get there that night on those slippery roads, but he did a couple of bo-diddlees and ended up wearing his Rogers' bass drum as a hat. He'll be there this week alright, together with the rest of the Brigadoons.

Naughty Annette was telling me the other night at the Carnegie Hall South of Dalhousie (not the feed mill Granny, but Chez Paul), as she held me up at the bar, that Greenfield soccer supporters are planning a big dance in May.

Gentleman Gerry Simpson has a hockey dance planned for Jan. 31st (should be a good one) at Ewen's Pub.

I imagine the Irish bricklayers have finished repairing the walls at Molly McGuire's by now, though the walls are still vibrating to the music. The Brigadoons were a spectacular success in Ottawa. After the first night people lined up a half hour before the lads began to play. Such compliments were expressed as, "finest Scottish music I've ever heard," from a seasoned music lover "Fantastic!" cried Wilf Gillis, leader of the Cape Breton Symphony Fiddlers; "I'm more than happy with the job the Brigadoons have done at Molly's," said the good looking manager, Elaine McKay. "I never thought any group could get away with a Scottish set in Molly McGuire's. They had to be talented musicians to do it," exclaimed Gus Kennedy.

Bob Burnie was nominated as the next mayor of Ottawa. Max Keeping of CJOH publicly thanked Brigadoons for their performances at Molly McGuire's. Max Keeping won the red herring award for singing "I'se the Boy" with the Brigadoons during their Scottish set.

I will announce my MOY and WOY winners next week; no Elizabeth these are not free Chinese dinners at the Highland Chef's Hub Restaurant, but Man of the Year and Woman of the Year.

New year was well welcomed by those at the Hub. Great people, great music, great food, great place. Unfortunately the evening was marred by the theft of a family heirloom crockery jug. Ewen has done a fine job of collecting antiques to help create the atmosphere of a Scottish Pub. Please return the jug.

Martintown Mac asks you to smile even in the face of inflation and cold, cold weather.

Don't know whether or not there have been any falls on these sloping sidewalks. If bones have been broken the injured should have no trouble proving the municipality criminally responsible. That could be costly for us taxpayers.

It wouldn't be feasible to rip up all that new pavement that has been laid with so little regard for the pedestrian. Council should give thought, though, to insisting that any new walks constructed in future should be planned for the walker, not the rider.

Ontario RENT REVIEW

IMPORTANT NOTICE

If you have entered into a new lease or tenancy agreement which became effective between July 30 and December 31, 1975, inclusive, you should know about two key provisions contained in Ontario's new Residential Premises Rent Review Act. The maximum rent increase for such agreements cannot exceed eight per cent of the last full month's rent charged prior to August 1, 1975, unless the landlord obtains the approval of a rent review officer or the landlord and tenant agree on a higher rate of rent.

Should a landlord and tenant wish to agree on an increase in rent above the eight per cent guideline, during the period July 30 to December 31, 1975, they must complete a rent increase agreement, substantially in the form below, no later than January 17, 1976. Copies of such agreements should be retained by both parties. The form below, or a copy of it, may be used.

If, after having signed such a rent increase agreement, the tenant wishes to revoke the agreement, the tenant may do so within 30 days of the date of the agreement by completing a statement of revocation similar to the one at the bottom of the form below.

By signing a rent increase agreement, the tenant waives the right to dispute the increase in rent agreed upon during the above period and waives the right to collect a rebate of rent as provided for in the act other than the amount of rebate, if any, stated in the agreement.

Such a rent increase agreement does not apply to the rental rate for any period after December 31, 1975, and does not constitute a waiver of the tenant's right to appeal the amount of rent charged after that date. Nor does it relieve the landlord of his obligation to obtain the approval of a rent review officer to charge rent after that date that is more than eight per cent in excess of the rent charged in the last full month the premises were rented prior to August 1, 1975.

Future advertisements will outline where literature is available on Rent Review, the location of offices as they are opened and where forms will be available. Until the Rent Review mechanism is in place, please do not telephone. For additional copies of this form, write to Rent Review, Box 580, Postal Station F, Toronto, M4Y 2L8.

BRUNET—In loving memory of a dear father Zephir Brunet who passed away January 2, 1975.

SCOTT—In loving memory of W. C. Scott (Ted) who passed away January 5, 1975.

You suffered too much, your pleasures too few,
You never deserved what you went through.
But you stood the test and stood it well,
Just what you suffered no one can tell.
Please God just take a message to him in heaven above,
Tell him how much we miss him
And we send him all our love.

Reeves report 1975 was good year in all of Glengarry

Charlottenburgh

In Charlottenburgh Township, Reeve Adrian Gadbois looks forward to several favorable factors in the new year. The start of the new Transport Canada Training Institute in Cornwall will make an important difference to the area.

Mr. Gadbois noted with satisfaction that Nesels Fast Freight has taken over the former Modernfold plant at Summerstown Station and is now employing about 60 persons in its specialized business of transporting new furniture from factory to retailers. In addition, he expects an engineering firm to start operations in the former Red Rooster plant also at Summerstown Station.

Another favorable development cited by the reeve in the past year was the expansion of the Crane Company plant in the former Edo buildings near Gray's Creek. This industrial building was empty for about three years until it was taken over by the pump manufacturers and changed into an expanding industry.

In real estate, 1975 was a good year, with about as many building permits issued as in 1974, which was a boom year in that field. However, the dollar value was down a little. A new 35-40 unit subdivision on County Road 27 is expected.

Mr. Gadbois said he hopes next year will see the improvement of the Boundary Road and the associated bridge at Grant's Corners. With the upgrading of the South Branch road and the development of the transport institute this will be needed more than ever, he said.

He noted with satisfaction some further improvement at the new arena at Williamstown, the installation of plexiglass, a dehumidifier paid for largely by Cornwall Kiwanis Club and new lining for the boards around the ice area to simplify maintenance.

The Charlottenburgh reeve also mentioned the improvements to the St. Lawrence Sanatorium, especially repairs to the roof and interior decoration.

Kenyon

In Kenyon Township, Reeve Albert Faubert saw the main development in the area as improvement in the drainage of the township.

With the co-operation of the South Nation River Authority, the township has cleared out the channel of the Scotch River, which starts in the township, and the $20,000 program has "been a tremendous improvement," Mr. Faubert commented.

The township has a policy of minimum debt and Mr. Faubert said council hopes to keep the local mill rate among the lowest in the United Counties.

The township is fully equipped, he said, with a new garage in the past six years, trucks, snowplows and two graders, and equipment for most repairs.

The township has a policy of gravel roads and maintains them with an oil coating to keep down dust in summer.

As part of the policy of supporting agriculture, the township will probably continue to mprove drainage locally, especially because of the increasing importance of corn as a local crop.

"You can't get a good corn crop without good drainage," Mr. Faubert said, "and that makes farm drain improvement one of the most important sections of a rural municipality's annual activities."

Lancaster

"We may be the forerunners of regional government in the area," thinks Alex McNaughton, reeve of Lancaster Township.

This year we entered into an agreement with Lancaster Village and Charlottenburgh to assume joint ownership of the Char-Lan medical building in Lancaster and then we joined with the Town of Alexandria and Township of Lochiel to undertake the building of the new arena, library and hall in Alexandria.

"Perhaps it was the previous success of our joint project, with Lancaster Village and Charlottenburgh in the animal control centre that showed us how well we could work with neighboring councils.

"Our farm tile drainage project is possibly the largest in the United Counties. At present we have $600,000 loaned to the farmers at 4% for their tile, that provides a lot of mileage.

"We also have 29 drains underway, at different stages of progress.

"However, I think our biggest accomplishment was the new bridge at Glen Nevis, at a cost of $150,000. We would like to get some new road equipment but government restrictions are pretty tight."

Lochiel

Lochiel Township will be able to look after all its own road services, particularly the winter works, reports Reeve Alex McDonald. The new four bay garage was opened in the fall and a new truck, snow plough and equipment has been ordered to service the township roads. The township has also opened its own gravel pit.

Drains too were a major consideration the past year. There are about 30 currently in some state of progress, with construction started on new ones or branches added to existing ones. This project was a very necessary one in the township, the reeve feels, and will be a big improvement in the farming area.

The decision to join with Alexandria and Lancaster for the new community centre for the area was also of major importance.

The collection of taxes has been good also so things are in pretty good shape, reflects Mr. McDonald and adds, "Each one of us was in a new job this year, myself as reeve, the deputy reeve and three new councillors.

For the coming year he thinks they will have to adopt a wait-and-see attitude, due to the fiscal restraints. A first aid course is going to be offered in the winter months to anyone interested, but beyond that, there are no sizeable plans.

Arnold MacRae re-elected

The annual meeting of the Prescott and Glengarry County Orange Lodges was held on Dec. 6th in the Glen Sandfield Orange hall.

The meeting was opened at 11 a.m. with the County Master, Arnold MacRae, in charge. There were three Grand Lodge officers present: Rt. Wor. Bro. E. Jackson Wildman, Rt. Wor. Bro. Eldon Brownlee and Rt. Wor. Bro. Scott MacLean. They brought informative messages to all present.

The County Master presented his report highlighting on the Orange Social held on July 11th which was certainly a success. He hoped that another such event would be held again next year.

An excellent meal was served at noon by the Glen Sandfield UCW during which time the gathering heard from Rev. E. McColl of Vankleek Hill who is a member on the board of the Orange Children's Home at Rosemere, Que. He commented on the work of the Orange Order for such homes and showing interest for the under privileged children.

The semi-annual meeting will be held in the spring at Barb and the next annual meeting will be at Cassburn.

Fraternity '73 had party

Over 250 members enjoyed a turkey dinner at the Fraternity Hall on December the 14th.

A mass was celebrated at 4 p.m. by Father Raoul Poirier, assisted by Father Denis Vaillancourt. Everybody enjoyed the girls' choir under the direction of Mrs. Jacqueline Fraser. There were dances, songs and music during the evening.

The raffle of a handmade picture frame, donated by Mrs. Eugene Ranger, was won by Mrs. Bruno Levert from Alexandria.

Before Christmas, 30 members in hospital and 26 shut-ins were visited and presented with gifts.
