The Armouries should be an ideal classroom for Program 5. That's where a lot of farmers learned the mechanics of dancing.

ONE OF CANADA'S AWARD-WINNING WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS

VOL. LXXIV — No. 48 * * * ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1965 * * * SINGLE COPY 10c

WINS AWARD OF MERIT—Georges Lanthier who came here 33 years ago to found the bakery business that is now known as Georges Lanthier & Fils, Ltee, is seen with the Industrial Award of Merit presented to his firm last week by the EODA. His son Marcel received it in his stead at the Ottawa meeting. That the award is well merited is indicated by the fact this local bakery now produces some 90,000 loaves a week, in addition to countless other lines. It employs 125, has 47 trucks on the road and recently extended into the Montebello area of Quebec. Its Eastern Ontario coverage ranges from the border to Cornwall, Winchester and Rockland. Mr. Lanthier last week was re-elected a director of the Bakery Council of Canada, but all his success he attributes to his faithful employees and customers. —Photo by Robert

Glen Robertson To Have Own Exchange When Dial Comes Here Next November

Glen Robertson will have its own dial exchange when that modern service comes to Alexandria next November, L. M. Holtby, area manager of the Bell Telephone Co. told a group of town and area officials last night at a meeting hosted by the Bell in the Legion Hall.

Contracts for erection of the exchange buildings here and at Glen Robertson have been let to Wiseman & Thompson of Chesterville and an immediate start on construction will be made. The buildings are to be completed by May of next year to permit installation of dial equipment before the November change-over.

Bell will spend $539,000 here in 1966, quite a jump from the $30,000 spent on outside plant this year. In addition to the two exchanges there will be installation of distribution cable to provide for expected growth.

The new exchange at Glen Robertson will not change the free-calling privileges between the Glen and Alexandria. It will provide individual and two-party lines for residents of that town and immediate area. At the present time Glen Robertson customers have only multi-party service or pay a premium for private lines connecting with Alexandria. With the change these extra costs will no longer apply.

Other information offered by Mr. Holtby included the new area code numbers for Alexandria, 525, and for Glen Robertson, 524. Lancaster may later be included in area service if enough customers of both exchanges desire it. A later connection with Maxville is also a possibility, he declared.

Questioned on the subject of Bell take-over of Lochiel Telephone, Mr. Holtby could say only that such a move was under discussion.

This could affect statistics shown on several charts portraying Bell growth and future estimates. In 1941 the local exchange had 242 residential and 118 business phones; today it has 1168 and 493, respectively. By 1970 Alexandria may be serving 1330 homes and 550 businesses, exclusive of some 250 on Glen Robertson exchange. Local calls have risen from 6,062 daily in 1960 to 6,845 and by 1970 are expected to average 7,750. The long distance calls were 519 daily in 1960 and 704 this year. By 1970 they should reach the 1000 mark.

"Alexandria is one of our active exchanges," Mr. Holtby declared, "adding 70 to 80 new customers each year." He spoke also of the minor building boom at Green Valley and visualized a day when the three-mile area between might be all built up.

The area manager detailed some of the early history of the Bell since it came here in 1895. He introduced several senior Bell personnel, including Mrs. Tourangeau, chief operator, here, and they answered queries from the floor.

Coffee and a light lunch were later served by members of the Legion's Ladies Auxiliary.

Major Prizes To Martintown Area In Farm Lane Improvement Contest

The benefits of the new Ontario Milk Act were discussed in detail at the annual meeting of the Glengarry Federation of Agriculture held in the High School, here, on Thursday night last. John Vanden Bosch, Chesterville, was guest speaker and his address centred mainly on the future of the dairy industry.

A newly created Ontario Milk Marketing Board will replace the duties of the Ontario Whole Milk Producers League and the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers. This new board, composed of producers appointed by the government, will have the power to fix milk prices paid to producers, eliminating the present system of negotiation and arbitration. Cheese and cream marketing boards will not be affected at the present time. County committees will be set up to advise the overall Milk Marketing Board on questions of policy.

Bankruptcies in various farm enterprises entered into the discussion. The collapse of the giant co-operative Farmers Allied Meat Enterprises (FAME) has been a source of bitter disappointment. Osie Villeneuve, MPP, provided some information on the bankruptcy of four receiving stations in this immediate area. He stated that the majority of farmers shipping to one of these plants voted in favor a few years ago, of releasing the owner of a necessary bond.

The sum of $300 was given in cash prizes to the 14 contestants of a Farmstead Gateway Competition sponsored by the county federation of agriculture. The county winners were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sansom, Martintown, with second place going to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Barton, Jr., Martintown.

Jim Humphries gave some additional information on the adverse weather assistance program and milk marketing. Clark MacCuaig, Lancaster, presided.

The following reports were given: Glengarry Federation of Agriculture, Fraser Campbell; Holstein Breeders, Tom Aitken; Ayrshire Breeders, Wilfred Vallance; Crop Improvement Association, Archie Robertson; St. Lawrence Valley Agri. Society, Archibald MacDonell; Kenyon Agri. Society, Wilfred Vallance; Char-Lan. Junior Farmers, Mary Cooper; Cheese Producers, Malcolm Grant; Concentrated Milk Shippers, Dan J. Hartrick; Farm Women, Mrs. Neil Blair, Mrs. Geo. Kinloch; Glengarry Farmers Co-op, Morlin Campbell.

The following officers were elected for 1966:

President, Clark MacCuaig, Lancaster; 1st Vice President, Geo. Kinloch, Martintown; 2nd Vice President, Tom Aitken, Martintown; Secretary Treasurer, Fraser Campbell.

Prizes Offered For Best-Lighted Homes

Three cash prizes are being offered this year by the Chamber of Commerce to encourage outdoor lighting of Alexandria homes. A team of judges will tour the town Christmas week and decide the winners.

PUC workmen yesterday gave the movement a start by erecting the evergreen and colored lights on Main Street poles.

New Deputy-Reeve In Lancaster Twp.

Councillor John J. McBain yesterday was appointed deputy-reeve of Lancaster Township to fill out the unexpired term of Deputy-Reeve Leo Menard. Mr. Menard has resigned his post because of ill health and the appointment of Councillor McBain was made under Section 150 of the Municipal Board.

Council will later appoint a third councillor to fill the vacancy caused by the move of Mr. McBain.

Township Council last month let the contract for the Robertson bridge over Sutherland Creek on the 2nd Concession to Menard Construction, Green Valley.

Menard has the general contract at $47,690, while prestressed concrete beams will be supplied by Wilson Concrete Products Ltd., Belleville at $19,825. Reinforcing steel at $2,927 will be supplied by J. Harris & Son Ltd., London.

Construction has already started.

Hit By Shotgun Pellets While Target Shooting

Ronald Jeaurond, 20, of RR 2 Alexandria, is recovering in Hotel Dieu from shotgun wounds suffered Sunday afternoon in an accident on the farm of his father, William Jeaurond, three miles east of Alexandria. The youth was hit in the left hip and arm by pellets when the shotgun discharged.

OPP Const. L. A. Millar of the Lancaster detachment said Jeaurond was one of four boys — three brothers and a cousin — shooting at tin cans on his father's farm.

While Ronald was setting up targets, his cousin Rene Jeaurond, 17, of the same address, was holding Ronald's 12-gauge bolt action shotgun. As Ronald walked back to the firing point, the gun discharged at a distance of 30 feet, pellets hitting Ronald in the left hip and arm.

The injured boy was taken first to Glengarry Memorial Hospital at Alexandria for first aid by his older brother Maurice, and then by ambulance to hospital in Cornwall for further treatment.

Tender For Water Main To Menard Co.

Menard Construction Co. of Green Valley, was awarded the tender for installation of a water main connecting the filtration plant with the industrial area off Kenyon St. West at Tuesday's council meeting. Menard's was the only tender received and its price at $52,910 was some $6,000 over estimates.

Work will begin as soon as new approval has been received from the Municipal Board. The contract will be carried out under the winter works program and the 12" line will run along the lake shore crossing above the dam, through Garry Crescent and up Harrison. It will reduce to a 10" pipe before joining the portion already installed on Kenyon St. West.

In a brief discussion on police work Mayor Periard discounted rumors of an early expansion of the local force to five. A meeting of the police commission had been held last week and there had been no mention of adding to the force. There will be no immediate move of the police to the Armouries building it was decided.

Council is to meet in January to plan for conversion and use of the Armouries and Councillor Touchette suggested the citizens might be invited to the meeting to give their ideas on the potential of the building.

John D. Grant, coordinator of the Program 5 course was present and he commended Council on its successful efforts to speed up transfer of the Armouries so that the course could get underway this week. He outlined the course on mechanics of farm machinery and reported 69 applicants would be taking the course in three classes. The Department of Education will pay costs of heating, caretaking, etc. and guarantees to leave the building in good condition.

Mr. Grant was commended by Councillor Touchette for his efforts to procure a course that should be valuable to town and area. The Clerk was also instructed to write Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP, expressing appreciation of his services to speed acquisition of the Armouries.

Extend Deadline For Drought Aid Applications

Farmers who failed to apply for asistance under the Federal-Provincial Drought Relief Program prior to the deadline date of October 15 will now have an opportunity to do so. The province has extended the date for receipt of applications to December 15, 1965. It was found that many persons, who earlier in the season felt that they had adequate feed supplies, encountered poor harvesting weather and lost their corn and grain crops; these persons will now be eligible for assistance.

Application forms can be obtained in the office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Alexandria, or in the offices located in the other Eastern Ontario Counties. The county of Glengarry qualified for 75% assistance; thus, there will be no extension of the assistance offered to those persons who already applied and obtained coupons. However, in some other counties where assistance amounted to only 25% or 50%, farmers can apply for additional assistance up to 75%.

OPP Sergeant To Lancaster

One of three new sergeants joining area detachments of the Ontario Provincial Police, Sergeant H. T. Buttle arrived at Lancaster, yesterday, to take over command of that detachment.

The move is designed to bring the Lancaster detachment up to strength and Sergt. Buttle will have in his command Corporal B. Polnicky and 16 constables.

Married and the father of two children, Sergt. Buttle will be joined by his family later. They are at Haileybury.

Long Sault detachment gets a new inspector. He is G. E. Code, formerly a sergeant with Cobourg detachment.

The list of promotions includes that of Staff Sergeant Jack Trudel to the rank of inspector.

Christmas Holiday From Meters

Area shoppers are to enjoy a Christmas holiday from Alexandria's parking meters, we are informed by Police Chief Marius Dubeau.

The meters will not have to be fed starting Monday and there will be no fines for violations until the new year.

The meter holiday will have no bearing, however, on the drive to keep the east side of Main Street free of cars. Tickets will still be issued for illegal parking or stopping on this side of the street.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Is All This Criticism Justified?

Practically all the local gossip one hears these days has to do with the local police. It has reached such a stage as to seem unhealthy for the future well-being of our town and we are left wondering where the blame lies. Is it disgruntled citizens, stuck with traffic violations, who are at the bottom of all these stories of favoritism by the boys in blue that are so rampant?

Police Chief Dubeau has a firm "no", to any suggestion of misuse of authority. He has orders to keep traffic flowing on our too-narrow Main Street, to stop the bad practices of motorists who create a traffic jam each time they stop at the Post Office to get their mail. Some fifty tickets have been handed out for such infractions of the law against parking or stopping along the east side of Main Street.

If these fines are the basis for all this carping they should be trained not on our police but on the members of council who ordered our minions of the law to enforce by-laws they had passed.

If it is this crackdown on unresponsible car drivers who insist they have a right to block traffic at their convenience; if this is their chief cause for complaint with the police, then we would say a more adult attitude on the part of these citizens is much to be desired. We must face the fact of a too-narrow Main Street through our business section. Many of those who are most audible in their criticism are merchants who would be the first to cry havoc if council made no move to ease the traffic jams.

We see the ban on east side parking, or stopping, essential, especially in the Post Office area where traffic tie-ups can be caused by one solitary car. In many instances that car is owned by a businessman who could have parked elsewhere, or who might have had to walk no more than three blocks for his mail. Car drivers have become spoiled and their attitudes, both mental and physical, might be the better if they learned to leave their cars at home once in a while and see traffic from the pedestrian viewpoint.

Council and the police are on the right track, we think, in their efforts to ease the worsening traffic jam. The move to one-way streets seems to be working well and providing needed parking off Main. The provision of a traffic cop during the five o'clock rush hour at the busy banks' corner is another forward step.

Credit should be due council for at least trying to remedy a difficult traffic problem but instead we hear continuing criticism. Much of the talk is of favoritism being shown, of some cars being ticketed while others get the blind eye treatment. This may or may not be the case but there should be no special privileges for anyone and we are assured none is being shown.

There is criticism, too, of council's all-embracing by-laws against dogs and outdoor fires. This is a sphere in which constructive criticism may be justified. The recent rumor that the police force will be increased to five men leaves grounds for complaint from the tax-paying angle if there is any truth to the story.

Street talk seldom is based on fact and most of this criticism we are hearing of police activities may be but empty rumor kept alive by disgruntled drivers who have been fined. If so it is time to call a halt to harmful gossip. It is not doing our town any good.

If there is fire behind the smoke then it is time for council and the police commission to take a second look at the regulations and the manner in which they are being administered.

An Easterner For Agriculture Minister

Prime Minister Pearson is off for a post-election holiday in the Caribbean and it is questionable how much relaxation he will enjoy. With him went the unfinished business of constructing a new cabinet and this is a complex problem made even more troublesome this time by the election results.

The federal cabinet should be representative of every province, with racial, religious and regional overtones to be taken into consideration. But Liberal party strength is based almost wholly in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Newfoundland. The Prairie Provinces returned only one Liberal member, Veterans Affairs Minister Teillet. Prince Edward Island elected not one.

Canada's Minister of Agriculture is traditionally chosen from the West and Mr. Pearson was hard put last time to come up with one. The only possible appointee, Harry Hays of Calgary, met defeat in last month's voting but there are reports of pressure to have him moved to the Senate where he might retain the Agriculture portfolio.

This does not suit one Glengarry farmer with whom we were discussing the situation. Mr. Hays is not a farmer and it seems clear he is not too highly admired by agricultural officials either East or West. Our farm friend favored Mr. Sauve for the portfolio and he saw little sense in this tradition of a Westerner being chosen. The Wheat Board speaks with a firm voice for Western agriculture, he thought, and it is more than time that Eastern farmers had the top representation in that ministry.

We could not but agree with him. The Western wheat farmers are so organized, their product so important a part of the export picture, they need fear no lack of salesmanship for wheat in the Department of Trade and Commerce. The voting record of the prairie provinces evidences the fact the wheat growers know themselves too powerful to be affected by mere political partisanship.

Then why should the Liberal party, or any other, continue catering to this empty tradition which no longer carries any political weight? Eastern agriculture is much more complex, much more in need of knowledgeable interest at the cabinet level.

From the angle of economics it seems to us Canadian farmers would be much better served by a man possessing an intimate knowledge of the problems facing the farmers in this part of the country. Mr. Hays does not measure up.

Don't Get Into The Rat Race

Second thoughts on industrial promotion are the theme of an editorial in the Renfrew Advance. The editor recalls a talk with a man from Hamilton who sells to industries, dislikes living in the big city and knows well the back country around Renfrew.

"He thinks towns in this part of Ontario are obsessed with the notion of gaining new industry and wrongly so.

"You people don't know how lucky you are to live in an uncrowded area where you can still enjoy the outdoors and escape the mad rush" he said. "Don't get into the rat race."

The Renfrew editor wonders how many area people have that same idea. Almost everybody who wants to work is gainfully employed, he points out. By and large, farms had a bad year "but these come when man is dependent on the weather for crops. Are we really headed for disaster because we don't show booming growth such as cities like Toronto, Ottawa and Cornwall are experiencing", he queries?

Some more of his thinking on the subject:

"Are freight assistance, cheaper hydro power or tax incentives going to bring industry flocking here — will we all really be better off if they do? We do not approve of low wages at all and wages are lower here. But they are getting better while we still retain many of the advantages of not living in "the rat race." We do not approve of maintaining the status quo for large companies nor are we against progress, but is the type of progress we are talking about really progress — will we all live a better life?

"At the zone meeting of EODA last Thursday it was pointed out that we are losing our young people. Some of them, yes. But we are also gaining young people; teachers, plant employees and professionals who have jobs here and who seek a way of life that is different from that of the city.

"We know that residential taxes are high in relation to other communities but we get as good or better value for that dollar than the much larger amounts we pour into federal and provincial governments.

"If the way to a better life for all lies in more plants, more workers, more houses, schools, sewers, streets; in other words, more everything, then we are quite wrong in questioning the value of the race for industrial promotion. Somehow, we can't quite accept that more means better."

The editor of the Advance, Don McCuaig, has a Glengarry background. Perhaps that explains the similarity between his and our thoughts on industrial expansion.

LIKES ARMOURIES IDEA

27 November, 1965

Dear Mr. Editor,

Your editorial of Thursday, 25th November, on the increasing number of road accidents involving young people returning from an evening's entertainment, calls for action by parents, township and county authorities.

As your editorial suggests, the menace of teenagers being served alcoholic beverages illegally by easy-going licencees is widespread in certain localities. Remedies for this sort of thing are not easy to devise or to apply. Some attempt

NOW IT'S KISSING CARIES

Kissing can lead to cavities in one's teeth. Only now we're finding it out, after all the damage has been long done. Our teeth are now few and far between and our necking is even more neglible. In fact we just about quit kissing even kissing cousins way, way back when an earlier breed of scientist scared us with the news there were 40,000 germs in each kiss.

Today's youngsters not only have to take that massive dose of germs into account; they've got to worry about bacteria too, every time they get ideas about smooching.

A University of Miami researcher now warns that if you have a good sound set of choppers but marry somebody with a mouthful of cavities you are imperilling your ivory smile. It's a certain type of bacteria present in the mouth that causes cavities, they've now discovered. If you haven't got the bacteria you won't get caries. Trouble is you can have them transmitted to you in a kiss or by other direct contact.

This will come as disheartening news to the younger set already beset with such problems as no-contact dancing. Girls, we imagine, won't want too thorough an inspection of their teeth as a preliminary to a kiss. And how's a guy to tell what type of bacteria she's wearing behind her lipstick?

When we were young there was only one rule about kissing, as we recall: "Don't kiss and tell"! Now that'll have to be revised to "Tell, or don't kiss"!

THE BELLE-MEAD CHOCOLATES

"Way back in 1912 I took a week off to visit my sister in Boston. The manager of the store where I worked asked me to bring him a box of Belle-Mead Chocolates, which were evidently a very special brand and unobtainable in Canada. During the week I had plenty of opportunities to buy them, but postponed doing so, as there were signs all over town saying, "on sale at all elevated and railway stations."

On the day of my departure I tried to get them a the elevated railway station. They had never heard of them. Before train time at the North Station I tried again. They had had them but were sold out. I got off at Lowell where the train stopped for several minutes, and tried again. They had never heard of them. They had never heard of them. I got off again at Concord, NH, and made a beeline for the newsstand. They had several brands, but no Belle-Mead Chocolates.

But I wasn't licked yet. On the way down from Montreal to Boston the train had stopped for a few minutes at Woodsville, NH. From the window I saw a store across the road from the station with a bunch of bananas in the store window. I ducked across to get some bananas. Yes, the store had Belle-Mead Chocolates. All kinds of them. One, two, and five-pound boxes. So I knew I could get them there — but on the way back to Montreal. So when my train reached Woodsville I rushed across the road from the station. The store was burned to the ground! In the meantime another train, southbound, had pulled up between me and my train. I had to run around the end of it. This was in the month of March, so I had to slosh through a wide puddle of melted snow and water to catch my train, which was already moving off.

I swung aboard just in time, soaked to the knees. But I had pretty well dried out before reaching Montreal. And I never got the Belle-Mead Chocolates. — But I tried, didn't I!

Rambling . . .

local Lions are in the happy position of having paid off two-thirds of a $15,000 pledge which they had expected might take them ten years to meet.

Purring, those tabbies practically are over these first big steps toward their objective. And while they're twisting their tails with a bit of a flaunt they're not too proud to realize from whence came all that loot. They've had wonderful support from the public in their fund raising, especially from those faithfuls who have been bankrolling their 300 club.

The new hospital is an appreciated asset to the town and no doubt the Lions Club will be raising its sights once that $15,000 pledge has been met. Undoubtedly there are other organizations and individuals wishing to help the hospital. The membership shares now being offered for sale offer an opening.

We think a well-organized public canvass sometime next year would find a lot of people with a new admiration for our new hospital service.

AOTS Group Had Supper Meeting

The monthly meeting of the AOTS of Glengarry East pastoral charge was held in the hall of the Church on the Hill, Monday, November 29th, at 7.30 p.m. The members sat down to a delicious supper served by the ladies of the local UCW.

C. Campbell Fraser presided and grace was said by the pastor, Rev. L. S. Woolfrey. Later all engaged in a rousing sing-song with Lloyd MacCuaig at the piano.

A very impressive worship service was conducted by Stanley Fraser. Mr. Woolfrey then introduced the speaker for the evening, Rev. William MacLean, DD, of Kirk Hill Presbyterian Church. Dr. MacLean spoke on the topic "I was a Waterfront Padre". In his address Dr. MacLean gave the group a comprehensive account of his experiences at the Seamen's Mission in Montreal. "The philosophy of the work of waterfront chaplain was like that of Christ who went about doing good" Dr. MacLean said. He was thanked by Harold Stimson.

A short business period followed at which it was decided that a talent show would be presented sometime in January, the proceeds of which would be used to purchase a much needed duplicator for the charge.

R. J. Graham in a few well-chosen words, thanked the ladies for the excellent supper and the meeting closed with Benediction by the minister of the church.

Triple Celebration Held At Toronto

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Mickle entertained at Toronto recently in honor of Judy Jamieson, granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Cheney, formerly of Alexandria. The occasion was a particularly happy one as her mother and father, Phyllis and Jack Jamieson were celebrating their silver wedding anniversary, and Donald Mickle and Cathy, their recent wedding.

Joe Kennedy gave a short talk and Ruth Mickle presented Judy with a Corning Coffee pot. Hamish MacLeod, in his usual jovial manner, addressed Phyllis and Jack, then presented them with a silver water pitcher. Sadie MacNish very aptly spoke and presented Donald and Cathy with a punch bowl set.

The event was a most happy one, and Glengarry friends enjoyed a real good ceiledh.

Concert A Success

A near-capacity house enjoyed the annual St. Andrew's Concert in Alexander Hall, Saturday night.

Ranald MacDonald was MC for the program which featured the Glengarry violins headed by Father McPhail, the Glengarry Highlanders Pipe Band, highland dancing, music and song.

Msgr. D. A. Kerr spoke briefly expressing his thanks to the many talented entertainers who had participated in the fine program.

Avonmore Lady Still Painting On 92nd Birthday

One of Avonmore's best known and most highly respected citizens, Mrs. Thomas Sutherland, is today celebrating her 92nd birthday. The day cannot go unnoticed by her many friends throughout the district who will be showering her with good wishes and congratulatory messages.

For Mrs. Sutherland, Thursday, Dec. 2nd, will perhaps be no different from any other day—except for a larger volume of mail. She will spend the day about her household chores at her home, two miles west of Avonmore, and devoting a part of the day to her paintings.

Mrs. Sutherland for the past 12 or 13 years, has returned to a hobby which was hers as a young girl and that hobby is painting. During the years dozens of beautiful paintings have been completed. Her fame has gone far afield and her work is eagerly sought. Her only difficulty now, she explains, is that she is so busy with other things that her painting has to be set aside.

In the scope of her work Mrs. Sutherland has shown great versatility. While she does not appreciate art in the abstract, the themes of her paintings are centred in landscapes and plant and animal life. She particularly likes original themes, although occasionally she puts on canvass lovely scenes which some friend has taken as a picture on film. In the warm weather she enjoys outdoor sketching.

As a young girl Mrs. Sutherland then Miss Mary McRae, enjoyed art at school. Later she attended Ottawa Ladies College where she received some intruction on the fundamentals of art. However, at that time she did not pursue it as a hobby, discovering it as such as she neared her 80th birthday.

Mrs. Sutherland is a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and a life member of the Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. Sutherland resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McIntosh. Another daughter, Miss Rae Sutherland, lives in San Francisco.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

Does a jinx go along with the Annis Stukus Trophy to the coach of the year?

At last Friday's Grey Cup dinner in the Royal York, Bud Grant, who had been elected by his fellow coaches of the CFL as the recipient of the Stukus award, stood before a battery of mikes, and in acknowledging the honor bestowed upon him, first of all graciously paid tribute to his assistant coaches, then raised a roar of laughter when he asked, "What about the jinx? Even Ralph Sazio voted for me."

Grant told his audience, which must have exceeded 1,100, that the previous winners Jim Trimble, Dave Skrien and Ralph Sazio had been awarded the trophy on the eve of the Grey Cup and the next day lost. To this you had to add the name of the late Steve Owen who was the Coach of the Year in 1962 and then was fired.

Bud Grant, much taller when you are close up in contrast to a TV bench shot, with eyes sparkling and a grin as wide as Winnipeg's Portage Avenue felt confident that his Bombers would retain the Grey Cup for the West.

We will discount the wind, but when the game was over Bud Grant must have been convinced there is something to this jinx after all. Once reasonably close to the Hamilton goal posts Bombers attempted a field goal and all the kicker had to do was get the ball up over the line, and the wind would do the rest. The ball on its way hit the cross bar dead centre and bounced back. Bud Grant gambled on the safeties giving up six points and to add insult to injury that was the exact difference in defeat. Ti-Cats fumbled five times and Bombers recovered them all yet lost the game.

In the final analysis the jinx is just coincidental. A Hamilton team that jelled and didn't look back after they defeated Ottawa in Tigertown on Thanksgiving Day was underrated as the season closed —to the champs go the spoils.

HITHER AND YON
Along the Grey Cup Trail

Headed for Toronto at 11 a.m. last Friday, accompanied by two of the youngest Grey Cup attendants . . . Barbara and Wm. Villeneuve . . . Wm. had completed his Math exam at 10.30.

In our day writing a Math exam in "A" Form, AHS, 1921, Edmonton Eskimos, the first team to come out of the West seeking a Grey Cup, played Argos in Toronto . . . We had to wait until Sunday a.m. Montreal train and buy a Standard from the newsy to learn the score . . . Argos 23; Eskies 0, quite a contrast.

We arrived downtown at 4.05 in a rainy, windswept, muddy York. Barbara and Wm. met by their dad, Dr. Villeneuve and uncle, Gilbert Gormley, next of kin the Howard O'Hara's at Park Plaza — the Bombers' air base . . . There was such a demand for cabs, fares were doubling as in wartime.

Quickest and least expensive route linking King Edward and Royal York was subway. Time less than five minutes, cost 35 cents return. Never saw the King Edward so quiet on Grey Cup eve . . . take Toronto long-haired, excitement-seeking youths, both sexes, out of the Royal York and there wasn't too much whoopla left . . . Met Saskatchewan's sports ambassador Hub Bishop, and then to the Dinner . . . First to greet us were John McCormick and Guy Bougie, two of the Glens' top sportsmen with temporary headquarters on the 11th Concession, lots 162-4, of the Royal York, Hotel, of course, not Township . . . Guy still has quite a flair of meeting those of note . . . Guy chatted briefly with Fred (du Maurier-Front Page Challenge) Davies with the same poise as greeting Donald Gordon at a Montreal St. Andrews ball.

Guest speaker Indian Jack Jacobs not an orator, yet entertaining and knows when to quit. In describing his early quarterback days in Winnipeg he thought the Bombers' theme song was "Good Night Irene" — lauded Fritz Hanson and the countless Winnipeg fans . . . ditto George Trafton.

Dr. Emile Frechette, Ville Matane, Que., tore up his prepared talk, replacing same with top-drawer afterdinner stories.

Queen City's Mayor Phil Givens in welcoming the guests congratulated Toronto's suburb of Hamilton for being in the Grey Cup game . . . Frank Clair among the head table guests and displayed anything but a worried look about being fired . . . betting by sport writers in Toronto is that Clair will have at least one more term in Bytown . . . The same craft regretted the l'affaire Trimble-MacDonald.

A Mr. Coleman, seeing our "NEWS" inquired about Flanagan's Point. We learned through Hub Bishop that this distinguished fan was the Royal Bank's general manager from Montreal, and for some time had a cottage at Flanagan's Point.

Met up with Jim O'Regan, one of Canada's lacrosse greats out of Ottawa, and an admirer of Alexandria's 1913 champions, regretted to learn of Edgar McRae's death . . . Bill Durnan, Les Habs' fine goalie of a past era inquiring about Kirkland Lake's George (Zic McIsaac) McDonald and Benny (OPP Renfrew) MacDonell.

It is not unusual at such as Grey Cup games for an over-zealous fan to take a punch at another . . . near the end of the game at the East end such a fan hit a policeman's horse right on the noggin . . . dobbin just shook his head . . . the mounted cop sat motionless . . . but four of Toronto's finest grabbed the would-be Cassius Clay and tossed him into the paddy wagon.

Returning to the King Edward, a lone piper on the mezzanine floor was playing Lord Lovat's Lament . . . he was soon drowned out by a group of Ti-Cat fans singing to the air of the "Old Grey Mare", an impromptu ballad — "The Old Grey Cup is back where it ought to be, back where it ought to be".

Best quip of the weekend—A Glens' football fan who told us as we were leaving that Alexandria's stoutest Hamilton supporters must be Jimmy Graham and Ranald MacDonald (Glengarry Motor Sales —Imperial Oil) "they have Tigers and Ti-Cats all over the place."

And now with overcoat, muffler snow boots and snow tires we head along with our work the hockey, curling and winter sports beat, but first a memo to Mrs. Olive O'Hara, Maxville, and a Glen's high school representative; your notes of comment re football coverage greatly appreciated . . . golfers and friends —don't forget the Glengarry Golf and Country Club's closing dinner dance this Saturday night at Green Valley Pavilion.

MODERATION IS A MUST

The only hope for the future lies in moderation. Negroes have shown that they possess this quality and there seems to be evidence of similar spirit arising among whites. It has been said that violence begets violence: we can only hope that it is true also that moderation begets moderation.

should be made along the lines you suggest.

Your positive suggestion to use the Armouries for sponsored and supervised programs of entertainment for young people is good. Having in mind those who will seek out this kind of amusement anyway, whether in centres where drinking is one of the incentives, or near at home in a hall where "Drinks for Kicks" is not a feature, should find wide approval among your readers. Your suggestion is a very good one and is certainly worth an honest try.

Yours sincerely,

COMMITTEE FORMED

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

The citizens of Kenyon Township are forced, by a few self-interested people, to vote on Saturday, Dec. 18th, on the question of beer parlours to which women are admitted. A committee has been appointed to promote the negative side of this question, opposing any additional outlets which would increase the sale and drinking of beer with all its detrimental consequences, especially when men and women associate together in such places.

Those appointed are: Fraser Campbell of Maxville as manager; Rev. and Mrs. R. A. McRae of Apple Hill as secretary and treasurer, and Hugh Raymond of Apple Hill as committee man.

The moral and financial support of all the actively interested citizens of Kenyon Township is expected, and also to vote "NO" on Dec. 18th.

R. A. McRae,
Apple Hill, Ont.

CRUTCH OF ALCOHOL NOT NEEDED

Dalkeith, Ont.
November, 1965

Dear Mr. editor,

Would it be too much to assume that it was mere coincidence which brings to the reader of the Glengarry News an editorial on teen-age drinking, at the same time as Mrs. MacMillan's letter for the "Vote No" campaign, and just prior to a vote on liquor lounges for men and women in Lochiel Township? I credit you for not asking for such outlets closer but such an editorial, suggestive as it is, could certainly have an influence on the thinking of the young people.

There is always the old argument that to make these drinking outlets more available is going to reduce the attraction and therefore the consumption. Statistics show that this is just not so. As for the road home being narrower, any teenager having taken the responsibility of driving a car, must also assume the same responsibility for the knowledge that with even one drink, he is lacking in that split-second timing so necessary with today's high-powered cars. The executive of the Glengarry Football Club are to be highly commended for insisting on the closing of the bar at the Green Valley Pavilion at their recent football banquet.

Many organizations spend much time and money on various safety measures and safety checks, mostly having to do with cars, when it is the driver who is responsible for 90 per cent of the accidents. Mrs. MacMillan states that 50 per cent of the accidents are caused by drinking drivers. What of the number that were not reported correctly or were hushed up for political reasons? The actual per cent is likely much more than 50. At least the Canadian Bar Association has recognized the necessity for some honest thinking by discussing the need for the use of the breathalizer test.

To return to the original subject, I cannot believe that our young people of today, whom I admire very much, are not able to get together and have fun without the use of alcohol. Are they different to our own generation that they need this extra "crutch" to a good time? I realize companions mean a great deal. I know my own parents were ever grateful for the wonderful group of young people with whom our family grew up and who went to the dances at that time. There were the MacPhersons, the MacCaskills, the Hays, the MacLeods, the MacDonalds, the MacMillans, the MacGillis', to mention just a few, all of them non-drinkers and many of them non-smokers. I am sure that these and others in the same crowd will all agree that there was not a group anywhere who had a better time than we did.

The vote in Lochiel Township is a matter of individual responsibility—to vote and to influence others on this question. We must always remember that those seeking to promote the sale of alcohol are only interested in financial gain.

Rhoda MacDonald

WHY NOT USE MEDIA?

It is not surprising to see that the opposition parties are against any advertising of the pension plan with taxpayer's money . . . Why not advertise it? It has been a subject of discussion for quite a while and much has been said for or against it in the papers of this country. Now, the time has come when the public should know more about it, and advertising is the best way.

8—In Memoriam

LAVIGNE—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Fred Lavigne, who passed away December 2nd, 1958.
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought the end was near,
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
More each day we miss you, mother,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.
—Always remembered by daughter, Irene Lavigne.

Couple Injured In Two-Car Crash

Real Lacombe, 56, of North Lancaster, was reported in satisfactory condition at Glengarry Memorial Hospital following a two-car accident Saturday night east of North Lancaster.

Mr. Lacombe was taken to hospital with cracked ribs and lacerations. Mrs. Lacombe suffered lacerations to her forehead.

Arden Lasalle, 28, of Laggan, driver of the other car, and his brother Ian, received slight injuries but required no medical attention.

The two cars received $1,400 damage in the two-car collision at the intersection of County Road 18 and County Road 25.

Police said the Lacombe vehicle was turning north from County Road 18 to County Road 25 when it collided with the Lasalle car, westbound on County Road 18.

Estimated damage to the Lacombe vehicle was $900 and to the Lasalle car, $500.

Const. Thomas Hargreaves, of Lancaster detachment, OPP, investigated.

Struck By Runaway Car Started By Tot

A nine-year-old girl was struck by a car occupied by a four-year-old boy in a Thursday evening accident in Martintown.

Police report Robert St. Amour, was left in a parked car when his mother, Mrs. Rene St. Amour of Apple Hill and his grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Ouimet of Alexandria, went to shop.

The child is believed to have moved the gear shift lever into neutral and the vehicle rolled down a slight grade about 60 feet and crashed into the steps of a store.

Joycelyne Amelotte, daughter of Wilfred Amelotte of Martintown, was leaving the store and was hit by the runaway vehicle.

She was treated at Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, for abrasions to her legs and released.

The car was undamaged. The steps of the store received approximately $25 damage.

UNDER THE GUN—Paul Endress, area supervisor of Forestry and Wildlife, is not as happy as he appears above, holding some of the more than 50 rifles and shotguns seized in Glengarry, Stormont and Prescott during the recent open season on deer. Some firearms were reclaimed by the owners, at a price, and these are being shipped to Kemptville where they may later be auctioned if unclaimed. That smile, Paul explains, was ordered by the photographer.
