Reformatory Terms For Three Convicted In Stolen Car Ring Case

Three men arrested last September as members of a stolen car ring received reformatory sentences totalling 4½ years Tuesday at Cornwall when found guilty on nine charges of possessing stolen auto parts.

Gordon Gadbois, 44, a garage operator in Tyotown received two years less a day definite and one year indeterminate on each of four charges. Jean-Paul Mainville, 22, of St. Telesphore, Que., was given 18 months determinate and nine months indeterminate on three charges. John Terriah, 46, of Summerstown, received a sentence of one year definite and six months indefinite on two charges. The reformatory sentences will run concurrently.

The three men were acquitted on one joint charge of possession of stolen auto parts.

A fourth man arrested in the September raid by provincial police on Terriah's auto body shop — Fred Russell, 26, of St. Zotique, Que. —has chosen trial by judge and jury. He will appear in June.

Police said cars were stolen in the Montreal area and returned to Gadbois' garage where Gadbois, Mainville and a third man dismantled them and sold the parts. Later the operation was moved to Terriah's auto body shop near Summerstown.

Cornwall Lawyer Named Magistrate At Alexandria

Cornwall lawyer M. J. Fitzpatrick has been appointed Magistrate for the county of Glengarry. He will succeed Magistrate J. A. Archambault on the Alexandria bench and Magistrate Archambault will continue to serve in Prescott and Russell.

The appointment is effective January 25th and the new magistrate expects to assume his new duties on February 2nd here.

In announcing the appointment, Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP, declared the move is intended to dispose of all court cases without the lengthy delays which have been prevalent this year. The court work has increased twofold in recent years in the Alexandria court, he added. Mr. Villeneuve pointed out the new Magistrate is perfectly bilingual and has practised law for 17 years in Cornwall.

A native of St. John's, Newfoundland, Mr. Fitzpatrick was educated at St. Mary's University, Halifax and graduated from Osgoode Hall, Toronto. He has practised in Cornwall since 1948, at one time having been associated with Judge Latchford and Hon. Lionel Chevrier, now Canadian High Commissioner in London.

Warden Presents Photographs To Two

An innovation at Monday's opening meeting of Counties Council in Cornwall was the presentation of an enlarged, tinted photograph to ex-warden Lloyd McHugh of Alexandria. Warden Charles E. Blair made the presentation, expressing the regret of members of council in losing the services of so able a member.

Warden Blair then presented another such gift to Mrs. Enid MacDonald, deputy-reeve of Lochiel, in recognition of the fact she's the first of her sex to serve in council.

Charles E. Blair, Moose Creek New Warden Of Counties Council

The United Counties' 116th council began its winter session Monday by electing the reeve of Roxborough Township, Charles E. Blair, warden for 1965.

Three new councillors took their seats. They are Bruno Massie, 37, reeve of Alexandria; Donald Cumming, 40, deputy reeve of Roxborough Township; and Leo Menard 56, deputy reeve of Lancaster Township.

L. C. Kennedy, clerk-treasurer, gave Warden Blair his oath of office.

Then Mrs. Enid MacDonald, deputy reeve of Lochiel Township, and Lynden S. Hough, reeve of Finch Village, led the warden to his chair.

Lloyd C. Davis, reeve of Iroquois, put the golden chain of office around his shoulders.

Rev. Donald Munro, minister of St. James United Church, Maxville, and Knox United Church, Moose Creek, read scriptures and said prayers.

Warden Blair thanked council for placing their confidence in him.

He said the counties planned construction of four bridges in addition to five authorized last year. Also planned, he said, are renovations to the old jury court room in the County Building.

The Ontario Municipal Board and Ontario Department of Welfare, he said, have approved construction of a chapel at Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge for the Aged. He hoped the centennial commission would soon approve it as a centennial project.

The new warden, Charles E. Blair, has been a farmer most of his life.

The reeve of Roxborough Township, he operates a farm about two miles southwest of Moose Creek which his father and grandfather farmed before him.

He has been reeve since 1960. Before that he was deputy reeve for five years and a member of township council from 1950 to 1955.

After being educated in his home district, he worked in Munroe's Store, Monkland, for five years. Then, upon the death of his brother, he returned to work the farm.

He served briefly with the Canadian Army in 1917.

An elder in Knox United Church, Moose Creek, he is married with three children: Stewart, Chesterville; Orval, Trail, BC; and Mrs. Jack Gibson (Thelma), Ottawa. He has 10 grandchildren.

Winchester Area Farmer Killed In Crash With Bus Carrying Lancaster Team

A Winchester Springs farmer was killed shortly after midnight Wednesday when his half-ton pickup truck was in head-on collision with a chartered Colonial Coach bus carrying 22 people, members of the Lancaster Dodgers hockey team and fans, on Highway 31, two miles north of Williamsburg.

Dead is Laurence Shane, 64, father of four children.

Seven persons including bus driver Cecil Aubin, 39, of Harrison's Corners near Long Sault, were treated for minor injuries at Winchester Hospital and released.

Police said the truck, being driven north, and the bus, returning to Lancaster after a hockey game in Ottawa, collided head-on in a heavy snowfall.

The road was slippery and police said they were not able to determine the point of impact. Damage to the bus was estimated at $6,000 to $7,000. The truck was demolished.

The motor of Mr. Shane's light truck was pushed into the front seat. It is believed he died instantly.

Police said bus passengers had high praise for driver Aubin who managed to keep the bus upright after the collision.

Upon impact the huge front window of the bus fell out. The bus swerved to the east ditch, snapped off a high tension line hydro pole and came to rest in the ditch.

Police placed the time of the accident at 12.35 a.m. Coroner Dr. C. R. Marcellus, of Iroquois, has not yet set an inquest date.

Mr. Aubin was treated for cuts.

Others injured were: Miss Nelsa Brebeau, 26, of Lancaster, facial cuts; Miss Susan O'Brien, 17, of 39 Third Street West, Cornwall, right leg cuts; Mrs. Lois McNish, of Lancaster, mouth and leg bruises; Mrs. Carol Coleman, wife of hockey player Jack Coleman; Bruce Radbourne, 26, a hockey player, of Third Street East, Cornwall, abrasions and leg cuts, and Dave Kalil, 30, of 634 Sydney Street, Cornwall, Dodgers' public relations manager.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Hawkesbury Curlers Hard Hit

Area curlers heard with dismay of the destruction by fire, Friday, of the Hawkesbury Curling Rink. That club had undergone major renovations in recent years and was again in the process of having its facilities improved when it was totally destroyed with loss estimated at $100,000.

Hawkesbury was the half-way point in our Centre and as a result its ice was much used in Centre competitions. Good curling ice was invariably provided by the Hawkesbury club and the writer looks back on some thirty years of play in bonspiels at that hospitable rink.

Ice time will be offered the Hawkesbury curlers by other area clubs and it is to be hoped they will find it possible to rebuild for next season.

A Setback For The Conservative Party

Ill-timed and unfortunate for the future of the Conservative Party we see last week's move by a caucus of Quebec party members. Their demand for a national leadership convention obviously is aimed at removing Mr. Diefenbaker from that post.

It comes at a time when party opinion right across the country was crystalizing toward that goal and the reaction will probably be a stiffening of support for the party leader. Mr. Diefenbaker may have been on the verge of bowing out. The demand of the Quebec caucus may but entrench him more firmly in the party's leadership.

The caucus of 12 Conservative MPs from Quebec not only seeks a new leader. It asks a change in direction by the party itself, wants assurance that both the new leader and the party would be prepared to find an accommodation with Quebec.

This is something to be desired. No party can be truly national in scope unless it has adequate support in that province. Under Mr. Diefenbaker the Conservative Party has evidently lost all chances of a rapprochement with Quebec's aspirations. Either he must go or the Quebec members of his party will disassociate themselves and serve in the Commons as Independents.

The Conservative party now faces the dilemma of choosing between its future as a national organization and the leadership of Mr. Diefenbaker. And the danger is that the bludgeoning tactics of the Quebec caucus will be so resented outside that province that misplaced sympathy will swing to support of the present leader.

It is to be hoped some compromise can be reached despite the uncompromising attitude that so marks Mr. Diefenbaker. He is expendable and the national interest demands Quebec participation in the Conservative party councils if we are to continue to know a two-party system of government.

Here Was A Man

As we write these lines the world awaits word of the death of a man who without question has been the outstanding personality of the century. Sir Winston Churchill, at 90, suffered a stroke on Friday and medical bulletins leave little doubt but that death is imminent.

The daily press is no doubt poised for news of his going, its editorial tributes already penned and in type. And what paems in prose they will be, for this man has earned an enviable place in the affections not only of his countrymen but of the peoples of every nation which so depended on his inspired leadership through the grim years of World War II.

Winnie's place in history is assured and no phrases of ours would be adequate to do justice to a personality of his stature. We will but say that the full life Winston Churchill lived, from the Victorian era through three great wars; his many talents, and his great capacity for leadership leave him in our view the most complete man history has known.

If his time among us is now ended, Winston Churchill will leave generations to follow him an example of what all mortal men should aspire to in their brief journey through this vale of tears.

Let's Eradicat eOur Rural Slums

The first county in Ontario, as we like to refer to Glengarry not only from the geographical viewpoint, is the worst off economically according to what we read in a series of articles in Toronto's Globe and Mail. A staff reporter, Barbara Moon, was doing a series on "Ontario's rural slum" and she gave Glengarry and the ten other counties of Eastern Ontario top ranking in her verbal description of depressed farm areas in the province.

"It (Glengarry) seemed like a good place to see what it's like to be forced off the land", Miss Moon wrote, after listing statistics provided by an economic survey of Ontario counties completed by the Department of Geography of the University of Toronto.

If statistics can be trusted those figures supplied her by that survey leave Glengarrians with little to be proud of except the part their forebears played in the early development of Canada. It seems our county has slipped back badly while other areas of the province and the country were knowing progress since before the turn of the century.

Some of those statistics are startling and not a little depressing. Item—Glengarry is lowest among 53 counties and districts of Ontario in disposable income (that's take home pay, we gather). We are told the disposable income of Glengarrians is only half the provincial average, and if ours is only $860 per capita per year it may account for the fact so many are prone to vote for give-away Government.

Incredible we see these figures in a day of high living costs. If they are true a lot of our people must be living off the welfare state; coasting from the cradle to the grave on government handouts. Surely we have not progressed so far down the road to lethargy.

The survey results quoted by Miss Moon make depressing reading. They tell us Glengarry has more homes in need of major repairs than has any other county in the province. Only Manitoulin has a lower average family income, less industrialization, more wage earners making less than $600 a year, fewer adults in their prime working years. Our educational standard is one of the lowest in the province and health statistics are just about as unhealthy.

Glengarry's is largely a farm economy and these statistics point up the depressed state in which dairy farming has floundered through the decades. We have been better off than in the years of depression, but we in Eastern Ontario have not achieved economic success comparable to that known in other areas of Ontario. Of 1649 farms in Glengarry, statistics tell us, three out of four gross less than $5,000 a year. In a five-year period 238 farms have ceased operating and others are up for sale.

This is grim reading, depressing even. It leaves our generation of Glengarrians with little sense of achievement. We had grown up with the awareness that Eastern Ontario was a poor relation to other parts of the province, neglected by the powers that be at Queen's Park. But we had not realized, perhaps, that we were in such a sad state.

These cold statistics may open our eyes and stiffen our spines to the extent we will start fighting for a better lot.

Miss Moon may have served us well in making public these statistics but her story on Glengarry's rural slum we found tainted. Weighed down by the grim picture of Glengarry agriculture she had absorbed from those statistics, Miss Moon came here looking for rural slums and she found them. She writes of Guaytown and the abandoned farms of the Loch Garry area at length, but makes only passing reference to some of the fine farm holdings she was shown. Her story was written to be sensational for Globe and Mail readers and it puts our county in a much worse light than a more objective writer might have described it.

Every section of Ontario has its eyesores, even including the Globe and Mail's home city. The sorest spots she saw in Glengarry are maintained largely by the provincial welfare department and we would gladly transfer these hovels to Toronto.

We resent such sensational, unconstructive stories that play up only our worst features. Glengarry is not as badly off as Miss Moon paints it. But we do have areas requiring rehabilitation and we should be welcoming such programs as ARDA proposes for the Loch Garry area. If the dairying industry is depressed we should be demanding better markets for our milk.

Glengarrians should not be content to remain at the bottom of the economic scale.

AG. REP. WRITES HOPEFULLY OF GLENGARRY

The editor
The Glengarry News,

I note your report and apparent concern re a series of articles recently published by a large metropolitan newspaper entitled "Ontario's Rural Slum".

I have had an opportunity to study these and can only conclude that they serve no useful purpose in their description other than to erode and distort the image of Eastern Ontario and further depress the rural population — if indeed we are depressed. It is apparent that this reporter was seeking only the sensational. While much of her material was factual, publishing only part of the facts or incomplete and unqualified statements can lead only to misunderstanding and misapprehension by the public or embarrassment to those persons responsible for accumulating information on the area.

It is evident this reporter either did not, chose not or was incapable of making a complete analysis of the agricultural economy of Eastern Ontario that could be interpreted and understood by her readers. Gross income per farm like milk production per cow can be a misleading criterion on which to assess an animal's or area's value without further investigation or research. What might be considered an economically desirable level of milk production per cow in one county of this province may not be an economic level in another due to available markets, feed supplies and climate. Similarly, what may be considered a satisfactory gross income on a dairy specialty farm will in all probability be entirely inadequate on a cash crop farm or in a steer feeding type of operation dependent on turning over large numbers of cattle several times per year. Net income and efficiency of operation are the factors that de-

The strike that closed liquor stores in Quebec not only provided a lot of extra work for liquor store staffs along the border It revived a lot of hoary old stories dating back to the days when the USA had Prohibition.

One of the hoariest was that one of liquor-stuffed coffins crossing the border in hearses. Since Quebec went dry we've heard so many

LIMERICKS

"A Lim'rick gets laughs anatomical
Into space that is most economical,
But the best ones I've seen
Are so seldom clean
And the clean ones are so seldom comical."

No, I didn't compose that one. The origin of the style of verse known as Limericks is lost in the mists of antiquity, but the place of their origin was supposed to have been in the town of Limerick in Ireland. Every once in a while one comes across a book of poems that contain a few limericks. But they are aways the same ones! The world has waited a long time for someone to write new ones, so I figure it might as well be me. And here are a few samples.

A nasty old man from Chicoutimi
Said: "Pay me that money that's doutimi."
I said: "I don't owe you —
I don't even know you —
Your face is entirely noutimi."

There was a young lady named

Who got so excessively dirty
She stood in the shower
For over an hour —
From 7.15 - 8.30.

In good Queen Victoria's reign
If a man made a journey to

He just had to go
On a boat that was slow —
Today he can hop on a pleign

There was a young fellow named

Who said: "I have lately been

Enforces prohibission

Arkinstall, Dr. Mary Smith Arkinstall, Mrs. Carl Lorimer and son Billy of Newmarket; Mrs. Duncan MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hiney and son Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Murdie Arkinstall, Brian and Dianne of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Alex J. Marie were in Maxville to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Allan MacDonald held in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday afternoon last.

CWL MET

In 25° below zero weather only six ladies and the director Rev. Sylvester Theoret, turned out to the January meeting of the Maxville CWL on Thursday the 14. Due to the extreme cold the visit of Miss Mildred Cleary who was to be guest speaker, was postponed earlier in the day.

Mrs. Nick Haramis, president, reported on the very generous contribution given by the parishioners which filled five Christmas baskets for less fortunate families. On Dec. 20th the CWL held a very successful euchre party and with the proceeds bought flowers to adorn the Christmas altar.

A financial report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. Ovila Doth revealing a favorable first year for Maxville's CWL A year-end review for 1964 was read by Rev. Father Theoret showing a prosperous year for St. James Parish. Father said "one small act by itself does not amount to much but put many small actions together and you can accomplish great things".

Following the meeting a welcome cup of tea and squares was served by Mrs. Leonard Gutoski.

termine whether the rural housewife purchases an automatic washer at the end of the year.

The sagging barns of Eastern Ontario illustrating her story could as well have been photographed from the Queen Elizabeth Way or any of the country roads adjacent to the so called "Golden Horseshoe" extending from Oshawa to Niagara Falls.

We cannot, however, choose to ignore a complete analysis of facts. The Canada Departments of Agriculture and Forestry as well as the Provinces have under the ARDA program accumulated a great deal of valuable information on the geographic, economic and social advantages and disadvantages of all areas of Canada. It is intended that this information can be used in area planning and the development of future ARDA programs. We can determine from these studies that the problems that beset the rural economy of Eastern Ontario are many and varied. These same studies, however, serve to focus attention on the many natural advantages the area enjoys. It is situated geographically between Ottawa, the highest income per capita area in Canada, and the great metropolitan market of Montreal. It is in the highest rainfall area in the Province (the 1964 figures on precipitation would belie this) and finally the productive potential of the soils is higher than the provincial average. According to the recently published Canadian Soil Capability Inventory which classifies soils in a scale from 1 to 7 according to their potential for crop production, 70.6% of the soils of Glengarry are class 1, 2 or 3. This is considerably higher than many of the so-called high income areas of Western Ontario. Only 51.5% of our total land area is being used for the production of crops or improved pasture. Therefore, it would appear that there is a considerable acreage yet to be incorporated into the crop land area of the County.

Numerous opportunities exist for the development of Agriculture and allied industries in the area. The impending ARDA program may not be the least of these. It would appear up to us, the people, to seek out and grasp opportunity as it arises and mold it to our advantage in insuring that income levels and resulting living standards, educational standards, housing standards and working conditions in this area are second to none.

Young people are the most important resources of any community or nation. Living in a predominantly rural community has much to commend it. Let us plan now for the future progress of the area so that it may continue to attract and bring forth the best in our young folk.

I regret that that city reporter chose to go "slumming" rather than present a constructive series of articles embodying a complete analysis of facts.

"true" stories of hearses being used to outwit the Quebec police we're almost led to believe some undertaker undertook so foolhardy an errand.

Foolhardy it would have been, for had he been caught his hearse could have been seized and that would represent a loss many times more than any profit a load of bootleg liquor might net him.

That the stories are still circulating is pointed up by a letter to the editor in The Lachute Watchman. A funeral director takes space to deny rumors that he has been using his ambulance to transport liquor illegally. The stories have gone so far as to claim he was arrested while using a coffin to carry the booze, he writes.

It makes a good story, this rumor of spirits being carried in a coffin to fool the constabulary. But that's all it is, a good story

A NAME FOR NO. 2

We like the decision of Premier Robarts to rename Highway 401 the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway. We didn't like the ambiguity of the mere numerals and we do approve of the idea of memorializing the names of two of the fathers of Confederation in this super-highway that spans Southern Ontario.

The Freeway will eventually connect Montreal and Windsor and so the inclusion of George Etienne Cartier is a happy thought that may find favor with the Highways Department of Quebec.

Using the names of politicians to designate our Ontario highways may catch on. We're thinking old Highway 2, with all its twists and turns, doesn't get you nowhere anymore. Might it not be renamed the Pearson-Diefenbaker Thruway?

They're not getting nowhere; and they're practically through.

Local Hockey And Broomball Leagues Now In Operation At Gardens

Glengarry Gardens is showing renewed life with intermediate hockey, a house hockey league and broomball in addition to the minor hockey loop activities.

A strong intermediate team of homebrews is now playing in the Long Sault league as witness Sunday's 12-2 victory over Long Sault. Ingleside plays here this Sunday afternoon.

The four-team house hockey loop has teams from Green Valley, Alexandria Merchants, Local Union 304 and Clement's Killers. They play doubleheaders each Monday night at 7 and 8.30 p.m. and this week's openers saw Merchants win 4-1 over the Union team while Green Valley took a close 5-4 decision over the Clement team.

A six-team men's broomball league opens play tonight and will have the ice each Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. Tonight Ray Ouellette's Electric meets Poirier Construction at 7 p.m.; an hour later Greenfield takes on Cote's team and the curtain game has Square C meeting Carnation.

Manager R. J. Graham is also hoping to promote skating for the oldsters on Saturday nights.

Banta mHoopsters Played At Hill

A team of bantam basketballers from Glengarry District High School played a friendly in Vankleek Hill, Saturday, dropping a 37-31 decision to their Collegiate opponents. A return game will be played here later in the season.

M. Denis was top scorer for the homesters with 11, followed by W. Wylie and B. Renwick, 6 each; J. Cumming, M. Titley and C. Lalonde, 4 apiece; and R. Therrien, 2.

Larry Filion scored 10 points for the visitors; Paul Poirier had 7; Neil Macdonald 4; Wayne MacMillan and Tom Laframboise, 3; Rheay Shepherd and Peter Filion, 2 each.

Lancaster Rink Won At Huntingdon

A mixed rink from Lancaster Curling Club took top honors in the recent mixed bonspiel of Huntingdon Curling Club. Don Snider's foursome defeated rinks from Valleyfield, Bonaventure and Riverfield in final day play-offs.

The rink was made up of Mrs. Jean Gardner, Mel Gardner, Violet Snider and Don Snider, skip.

Hawkesbury Curling Rink Completely Destroyed By Fire Friday

Hawkesbury curling rink was completely destroyed by fire, Friday, with loss estimated at well over $100,000. Another $9,000 damage was suffered by three nearby buildings.

Three fire trucks and 35 men fought the fire for more than an hour before bringing it under control. A fourth truck from Canadian International Paper Co. Ltd., aided the department.

The curling rink was insured for $80,000. This will cover the estimated value of the building. Ice-making equipment valued at $30,000 and an undetermined amount of personal belongings stored by members, were also destroyed.

Damage to the residence occupied by Henri Lalonde was estimated at $1,000. About $5,000 damage was caused to the Rod Preece Body Shop, and another $3,000 to Central Dairy Ltd. owned by Monty Parisien.

The fire was reported by James Wardrop, a carpenter who had been working in the building. He was across the street when he noticed the fire and raised the alarm.

Last Shot Win For Lancaster In Curling Here

Lancaster and Hawkesbury double rinks met on Alexandria Curling Club ice, Tuesday night, in Centre playdowns of the Governor-General's competition.

The thrilling finish saw Lancaster on top by a single point as Hawkesbury skip J. Leveille was narrow on a take-out of Len MacLachlan's shot rock.

The MacLachlan rink finished on top with a four-point margin at 9-5 to offset a three-point victory for Hawkesbury's Monty Parisien on the other ice. Parisien's four had earlier finished with a 10-7 victory over Lancaster's Don Snider.

The Lancaster rink was to meet Thurso on Vankleek Hill ice last night in semi-final Centre play. The Thurso club had eliminated Alexandria in play Monday night at Montebello.

The rinks and score:

Lancaster—Lloyd Fawthrop, Lloyd McDonald, Marwood Grant, Len MacLachlan, skip—9.

Hawkesbury—Roland Blain, H. J. Grant, Gerry Savoie, J. Leveille, skip—5.

Lancaster—Mac Edwards, Mel Gardner, Dr. Harry Abbey, Don Snider, skip—7.

Hawkesbury—Bob Campbell, Gerry Tessier, Bernard Perrier, Monty Parisien, skip—10.

Mrs. D. Morrison Died At 57

A gloom was cast over the community on Monday, January 11th when it was learned of the sudden passing of Mrs. Duncan Morrison formerly Pearl Hambleton of Dalkeith. She was in her 58th year.

Mrs. Morrison was the daughter of the late John Hambleton and his wife Estanna Hope.

In June 1930 she married Duncan N. Morrison and since had resided in Dalhousie Mills where in her quiet way she won the esteem of all who knew her.

Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves to mourn: one daughter, Mrs Milton Miree (Ruby) of London, Ont., two sons, Donald and John, at home, and one brother, Earl Hambleton of Alexandria, Virginia, as well as a devoted daughter-in-law Mrs. Donald Morrison and four grandchildren. Two sisters, Mabel and Thelma and a brother Starr predeceased her.

She was the possesser of many beautiful traits of character and loved her church. She shall be missed as a warm welcome was always extended, neighbors, friends and relatives in her home.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon to Dalhousie Mills United Church. Her pastor, Rev. L. S. Woolfrey, was in charge and paid tribute to the fine contribution she and her husband gave to the church. Hymns chosen were Rock of Ages and Abide With Me.

Pallbearers were George Hope, William McCuaig, Adelor Decoeur, Norman McLeod, Harris Bathurst, John McLeod. Ten bearers carried the flowers.

Among the large number who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Miree, London, Ont., and Earl Hambleton, Alexandria, Virginia, as well as friends and relatives from Ottawa, Montreal, Cornwall, Moose Creek, Maxville, Vankleek Hill, Alexandria, Dalkeith and surrounding district.

Burial took place in Dalhousie cemetery.

The former Laura Lalonde of Alexandria, Mrs. Ross died January 9th in the Montreal General Hospital following a lingering illness. She was 56.

The pallbearers were William Ross, H. Jensen and Tom Morris of Montreal; Henry Ladouceur, Harold Stimson and J. A. Sabourin.

Chief mourners were her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Lalonde, her brother, Aime Lalonde of Kingston and a sister, Mrs. Leopold Lalonde (Lucille) of Alexandria.

Relatives and friends were present from Montreal, Sarnia, Kingston, Dorval, Cornwall and area points.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

This weekend sees the opening of Canada's annual recognition and tribute to our young puck chasers, and the gallant group of adult leaders who, despite personal sacrifice, render what is so necessary, the leadership, coaching and financing. Briefly, this is Minor Hockey Week in Canada.

Here in the Glens, Wednesday night, January 27, has been set aside by the Alexandria Minor Hockey Association and the Gardens to hold a repeat program similar to last year. The scheduled games will get underway at 6.30 p.m. and the finals at 10.30. About midway the feature attraction will be a "Sprite" game.

Besides Alexandria, teams in the Association will represent Williamstown, Lancaster, St. Raphael's, Maxville, Green Valley and Glen Robertson.

With the advent of artificial ice in the renewed Community Rink, Maxville minor hockey promoters are celebrating "The Week" in a big way. Not only is there a packed three-day program to open Minor Hockey Week, but also a closing tournament on Saturday, January 30.

Tomorrow evening (Friday) the Midget tournament opens with a two-game curtain raiser. Next day, Saturday, more Midget teams will trek through the Indian Lands to Maxville and an all day series of games. The two surviving clubs meet in the championship final slated for 2 p.m., Sunday.

Besides Midget teams from Maxville and Alexandria, other entries will hail from St. Andrew's, Morrisburg, Hawkesbury, South Mountain, Buckingham, Woodroffe (Ottawa), Renfrew, Perth, Iroquois and Cornwall.

During the course of the week there will be the usual minor activity, then comes the grand finale on Saturday, January 30.

This will be the sixth Annual Squirt Tournament to be held in Maxville. At time of writing, the entries are not complete — more anon.

Next to Maxville's fine minor program effort ranks our Cornwall neighbors. Centered at the Bob Turner Memorial rink will be a bantam series this Saturday and Sunday comprised of teams from Quebec, New York State and Ontario. The final will be played on Sunday and this should draw another bumper crowd as last year's record attendance of 1,300 witnessed Rosemount eliminate Cornwall to win the championship.

Deep concern over the mail service prevailed in Montreal last week. News readers were aware there was no issue December 31. This apparently whetted the reading appetite while waiting for their favorite Weekly of January 7.

With no "News" delivery on Saturday, this failure by the trusty mailman ignited a spark of concern that became a flame of dismay by the middle of last week.

In reply to a 'phone inquiry from Montreal, we advised that the editor and his efficient staff mailed the Montreal consignment on time as scheduled each week. But the phones kept ringing. "Did you get your News yet?" In this dilemma were readers all the way from those two grand old ladies, Mrs. Bessie (Dougall Little Dougall McMillan) Larkin and Mrs. Bessie (Archie Roy) MacDonell, down to Mrs. Donalda (Scott) MacDonald, Dunc (Green Valley) MacKinnon, and our general correspondent, not even the CBC has any better) John Myles Kennedy.

But all is well that ends well. By last Thursday and Friday the delinquent deliveries were made, then on Saturday, in the morning the current issue was on time; the weatherman became more tolerant, and finally that night with the help of Gump Worsley and Ralph Backstrom, Canadiens snapped their three games at home losing slump by defeating Boston 3-2.

MORE PROFIT IN WINTER EGGS

We have a new folder that describes how you can save up to 80% of your extra feed costs this winter by heating your henhouse.

Tests in Iowa and Washington have shown how it costs less than one-fifth as much to heat a hen from the outside, with circulating warm air, than to heat her from the inside, using extra feed.

The facts are all in this folder called "More Profit in Winter Eggs." You can use it to figure how much you can save by warming with heat instead of feed.

Copies FREE while they last.
