JOE CALLS IT QUITS—Almost 47 years after he started work at the News, J. L. O. "Joe" Sabourin fed his last sheet into the big newspaper press Friday. To mark his retirement co-workers in this office presented him with a plaque and posed Joe at the press where through the years he had turned out so many issues of the News as well as feeding the smaller job presses. Glen Sandfield Mail Will Be Serviced From Dalkeith Office

When Glen Sandfield post office ceases operations at the end of this month mail service for the area will be carried on a new route from Dalkeith. The route will cover the present RR1 Glen Sandfield and Glen Sandfield Village.

Ron MacLachlan, who is at present mail courier on RR1 Glen Sandfield, has received word from Ottawa of his appointment as courier on RR3 Dalkeith, effective Nov. 1st.

The post office department originally intended to serve Glen Sandfield from the post office at Glen Robertson but there were strong representations from area boxholders who argued winter road conditions would favor more dependable service from Dalkeith. A petition was circulated and brought to Ottawa by a delegation of area residents who apparently argued their cause convincingly.

Cars Blocked Road For Fire Truck

The frame home of Clayton McDonald, 1st Charlottenburgh, was destroyed by fire Friday evening, the loss including considerable furniture stored therein.

Lancaster fire brigade responded to the call but was late due to the fact its fire truck had been away for a check-up and had to be loaded with water and hose. It was delayed further when the sideroad leading to the blaze was found almost totally blocked by the cars of people who had flocked to the fire. The frame house was completely destroyed in the blaze.

During the week Lancaster's fire truck had been at Pierreville, Que., receiving a complete overhaul, the brigade had four calls all of them of a minor nature until Friday's fire.

Open Air Rinks On Bishop St. South And On Lake To Supplement Arena Ice

Acting on recommendations of the Park & Recreation Committee town council has approved moving of the open air rink on the playground to the corner of Peel and Bishop Streets. The property is the extension of St. Finnan's Cemetery, not yet in use, and it will be rented at $1 a year from the Episcopal Corporation.

Adequate lighting will be installed and the new rink will be supervised by the Recreation Committee. It was also recommended that a rink be kept cleared on the lake ice in the park area.

Facilities at the arena are already crowded with hockey, broomball and rentals, leaving little ice time for public skating, council was told.

A letter from Mrs. Lyse Beaupre advised council she plans to open soon a Children's store in the Mill Square premises now being vacated by John Proulx.

Council received an invitation from Cornwall General Hospital for all interested in public welfare and related services to meet with Miss Bridget Barkway at Glengarry Memorial Hospital, Monday, Oct. 6th. Miss Barkway is the new social worker who will be working out of the local hospital. The invitation has gone out to all in the county who are interested in welfare.

Tenders let included the canteen at the arena to Brunet brothers and that on the park to Mrs. Yolande Poirier. Both are repeats from this year.

Glenoco Oils won the tender for supply of oil to the arena and Arthur Duggan Fuels was low tenderer for a heating system in the Public Works garage, Main St. South.

Chief of Police Cleroux was authorized to post temporary No Parking signs on the west side of Dominion Street between Catherine and Kenyon. This is to facilitate construction of the new post office.

Telephone Poles In Lochiel Coming Down When Change-Over To Dial Is Effected

The Lochiel landscape will be minus a few thousand telephone poles late this year when the changeover to dial phone service has been completed by the Bell Company. Most of the cable is being buried and the unused poles and wire will come down after the change has been made to dial.

Some 200 of the more than 500 phones effected will go to the Glen Robertson exchange and they will go dial late this month, reports L. M. Holtby, Area Manager at Cornwall. Work is also well advanced on the larger group joining the Alexandria exchange and the switch to dial for these will probably be made by December 1st.

Under the dial system, party lines will be greatly reduced, to a minimum of six services and less than that in most instances.

Bell is spending $300,000 in Lochiel to affect the change-over, Mr. Holtby reports.

The no toll service between Alexandria and Glen Robertson will continue with dial and Lancaster exchange will come into the free zone next May.

The possibility of having a coach's clinic was discussed and we hope to have one in Alexandria. Meanwhile, we would like to hear from anyone who is willing to coach this year, so we can get our league in order. We would also appreciate donations of sets of sweaters or equipment. Some children cannot afford pads, gloves, helmets etc. and donations of second hand equipment would also be welcome.

New Agreement On Police Salaries Is Retroactive To January 1st

Copy of a new agreement now in effect between the local Police Commission and the Alexandria Police Association was studied by town council at its Tuesday meeting.

There are four salary classifications for constables starting with a year-long probationary period at $5,450. This is up $750 from the former starting salary of $4,700.

After one year, the probationer becomes a third-class constable at $5,800; after two years his salary as a second-class constable goes to $6,150. After three years service and successful completion of the prescribed course, rating as first-class constable earns him $6,500.

There are no first-class constables among the present members of the force.

The new salary scales are retroactive to Jan. 1, 1969.

Local police, with other municipal employees are already covered on a share-cost basis for hospital and medical insurance with several added features, such as weekly benefits, extended care and life insurance.

Effective Jan. 1, 1970 the police will be enrolled in Ontario Municipal Employees Retirement System plan with town and employee sharing equally in the cost.

Teachers To Meet To Discuss Education Report

A school holiday will be enjoyed by Ontario students next Wednesday when their teachers will be meeting to discuss the Hall-Dennis report on education in Ontario.

Each secondary school throughout the province will invite teachers in the elementary schools, both public and separate, in its attendance area, to meet at the secondary school to discuss the report.

Students under the jurisdiction of the SD&G County Board of Education will not attend school that day, since all teachers will be participating in the one-day conference, the County Board has announced. Presumably Separate School students will also have a day off if their teachers join in the one-day conference.

The Oct. 8th conference will be conducted by the Ontario Teachers Federation in co-operation with the Department of Education.

Lots Of Raspberries

A second crop of raspberries seems to be plentiful across the county.

Mrs. Duncan MacLean, RR1 Maxville, picked purple raspberries in her garden, Sept. 25th and Homer MacLeod, Dunvegan, sends in a raspberry stem he found while cutting brush.

New Bilingual Schools In Cornwall And North Stormont Recommended

Recommendations for the erection of two new secondary schools were mulled at last week's meeting of the County Board of Education.

The recommendations were made by superintendent of planning and curriculum, M. O. Beauchemin.

Proposed sites were Holy Cross Secondary School and an undecided location in north Stormont.

Mr. Beauchemin recommended that Holy Cross Secondary School — St. Lawrence High School annex — be purchased as Cornwall's fourth secondary school.

He further recommended that the school be of bilingual-bicultural nature to house between 800 to 1,000 students and offer a diversified program in arts and science, business and commerce, science, technology and trades.

Holy Cross Secondary School is located on 27 acres of land which has a going rate of $15,000 per acre, giving a total cost of $405,000.

Mr. Beauchemin said the board now rents the building for $55,000 per year and purchase of the property would be less expensive in the long run.

Statistics revealed Cornwall's three secondary schools had a realistic capacity of 4,350 students with a current enrolment of 4,965.

Temporary facilities now in use by the board include Holy Cross School, two portable classrooms at SLHS and 12 portables at GVSS. Outside students accommodated in city schools number 622, housed at the three secondary schools.

Speaking about a new secondary school in north Stormont, Mr. Beauchemin recommended it be bilingual-bicultural by nature to accommodate between 800 to 1,000 students.

He recommended that Mountain District High School be abandoned and some students be transported to North Dundas District High School to fill vacancies brought about by students from the north Stormont area.

Holy Cross School would be expanded rather than rebuilt and work on both schools would proceed as soon as his recommendations are approved, he suggested.

Chairman Bryson Comrie called a meeting for Oct. 9 to discuss the recommendations further and take a vote.

School Photos Approved By Board

Photographing of groups in schools under the jurisdiction of the County Board of Education was approved at last week's board meeting.

In this recommendation to the board, director of education Harvey Shaw recommended that photographing of individual students be permitted in any secondary school subject to approval by the principal and that no group or individual be photographed more than once during any school year.

The photographs in question are for year books and identification purposes.

IT'S OUR OPINION

How Use The Post Office Building?

Alexandria's new post office building is now under construction and will be occupied early in the new year. With the transfer of postal staff the present office will become vacant and it is to be hoped so fine a building, so centrally located, will not long remain unused.

It should be of vital concern to every citizen that the present post office building continue to serve a useful purpose and present an attractive appearance in the years ahead. It would be a shame, for example, if the building passed into private hands and perhaps was transformed into small apartments, downgrading the entire business area of the town. It could happen here, where there is no municipal plan to restrict types of building each to their zone.

There has already been the suggestion that the building would lend itself to a public library and it is ideally located to foster good reading. No doubt town council will look into the costs involved and the availability of the building at a nominal price. Perhaps a growing town will require more room for its civic services and the building might be adapted to serve as a new town hall. The Ontario Government might wish to centralize its services there, or some other suitable purpose may develop.

No time should be lost in studying the possibilities and the lack of an active Board of Trade makes it incumbent that town council take on this extra task of finding a worthwhile use for the present post office building.

The new government building may or may not be needed and perhaps in time we will become accustomed to turning down Catherine Street for our mail. It is difficult, though, to reconcile a new post office with the preachments on austerity emanating from Ottawa. Perhaps that explains the shroud of secrecy surrounding letting of the contract and the absence of any ceremony in sod turning.

Postmaster-General Kierans will never make the postal service a paying proposition while his department continues to be used to pay off political promises.

Not The Usual Petition

Petitions ordinarily don't carry much weight, probably because those being petitioned are aware of the fact most people will sign a petition when asked, even without knowing what they are putting their names to. A well-organized pressure group can get any needed number of names if it canvasses enough and as a result petitions have lost much of their power to impress.

Lest CNR brass and the Transport Commission look on the plea for better rail service here as just another petition we would point out to them that there was a total lack of pressure in securing those 356 signatures. Those interested in a train service they can depend on between Alexandria and the cities of Montreal and Ottawa were asked for their support and they came forward to sign of their own volition. There are people still dropping into this office to sign on, even after the lists have been closed and the petition sent on its way.

If the CNR is actually embarked on a policy of discouraging passenger traffic on our line, officialdom may look with disdain on a petition carrying only 356 names. If the railway is still interested in rebuilding passenger use of its trains, as its public relations people persist in arguing, we can assure them that all these signatures are potential customers and that there are many more who meant to sign but just did not get around to it. How many times a year each person might use train service, we wouldn't know. That they do value travel by train, even in this age of the auto, we are assured.

The CNR's public relations people should be interested in another facet of this petition signing. Almost everyone who dropped into this office to sign on was certain the petition would do no good. They hold a low opinion of the spirit of service exemplified by railway employees, whether CN or CP, and it would require a totally new approach on the part of CN's passenger division before they could be convinced the railway really wants them to use its travel facilities.

It is probably true that most people today never think of travel by train and the railways are justified in trimming their services to some extent. It is also a fact, in this area at least, that many people do not have cars, or that they prefer travelling to the cities by train. Quite a number are doing that now despite the poor service. If schedules were more convenient and dependable the CNR might regain more traffic from and to Alexandria station.

Railway officials and the Transport Board will not lightly look on this petition we hope. It reflects the opinion of many residents of this area and we expect, of many other Canadians whose travel is now restricted because of poor rail service.

Now Is The Time To Check

Don't give fire a place to start is the reminder Fire Prevention Week brings annually at this time when winter's chill is setting in and heating units warm up for their long months of heavy duty. Stoves and furnaces should be carefully checked and there are other suggestions for stopping fires before they start.

—Your wiring should be checked for overloading and your fixtures for defective connections.

—Cupboards, corners, cellars and sheds should be kept free of paper and other litter that constitutes a fire hazard.

—Chimneys should be cleaned and repairs made when necessary.

—Matches and careless smoking are the worst fire hazards, authorities long ago learned. Matches should be kept beyond the reach of small children and the use of lighters or safety matches is recommended. Hot ashes and coals should not be in contact with wooden floor. Woodwork around stoves, heaters and pipes should be protected. The danger in smoking in bed or falling asleep while holding a cigarette are graphically suggested in the warning that "the ashes that fall to the floor may be your own."

All these, and other, safeguards against fire the householder knows well. But we are apt to grow careless and Fire Prevention Week, next week, is designed to remind us to renew our vigilance against the ever-present enemy.

Alexandria was blessedly free of fires since last Fire Prevention Week and the siren summoned the brigade to blazes outside the town limits more frequently than to local outbreaks. Not one serious fire in twelve months is something to boast of and to strive to emulate in the year ahead.

If we don't give fire a place to start, it seems, it will continue a faithful friend rather than a fearsome foe.

Paying Through The Nose For Medicare

As of Wednesday, Ontario residents are enrolled in medicare or OMSIP as the Robarts' Government prefers to call it. Most of us are automatically qualified for the new medical care plan, but there seems to be some confusion, even in Toronto, as to who are left without protection and the amount of coverage each of us has.

We have heard, for example, that a lot of people who were covered for hospital care under the OHSIP plan, may be left high and dry when they transfer to OMSIP this week. They may be under the impression that their payment of OMSIP automatically covers them for hospital care as well. That is not the case and it will come as a real shock if they are hospitalized and later asked to meet the bill for a hospital bed at more than $50 a day.

We the people are due to pay through the nose for this latest government giveaway. A family will pay $177 yearly for the privilege of free medication and will also be assessed almost as much for hospital care. That 14.75 a month will pay only 90 per cent of the doctor's bill, will not cover drugs or several other extras. The average Ontario head of a family will be paying more than $300 a year for medical and hospital coverage and that is only the first year estimate of medical costs. Hospital rates zoomed ten times in the short span of years we have known hospital insurance. We can expect public administration of medical costs will prove every bit as wasteful and spendthrift.

This is a cheap dollar, mind you, but a family now called on to pay more than $300 a year for medical and hospital care may look back on years and years when their medical bills were seldom half that sum. This is expensive insurance they are going to learn to their cost and it may not ease their pain when they realize these payments are no longer deductible on income tax. They can be happy though, in the knowledge these plans are providing paper work for a whole new army of recruits to government health departments and doctors' offices.

Surely this unhealthy medical care plan should prove the last straw that makes clear to we the people how burdened we are with government plans that provide but a specious security. Perhaps that is what a Conservative Government at Queen's Park is making so apparent to a long-suffering people when it makes us pay through the nose for OMSIP.

The Weeklies Say

EASTERN INFLUENCE

A Western member of the Liberal cabinet disclosed recently that there had been ministerial discussion about the possibility of moving some federal agencies from Ottawa to Western Canada. The concentration of the decision-making process in eastern cities has generated a feeling in the West of being participants but not really belonging. There may also be a suspicion that decisions made in the East but affecting the West are influenced by an eastern point of view.

Maxville, Ont.

The editor,

The Glengarry News,

Through your good offices an open letter to the Regional School Board:

Gentlemen:

A protest against the flood of clerical work with which you are so casually drowning the parents of school-age children.

We have six of these, who bring home a steady stream of briefs, booklets, circulars, questionnaires, inquiries, forms to be filled out, permission slips, library slips, insurance papers—etc., etc., etc. It has become necessary to allow at least one hour every evening for dealing with this deluge of bookwork. One child remarked — "I take in a paper every day—and my teacher gives me another one. We are supposed to come out even, is that it?"

We have visions of rooms full of clerks busy cranking out millions of mimeographs — to keep us busy for many more years. And we would not mind the effort involved if we thought the requested information was of any use whatever. But doubt creeps in.

Thirty-seven times have we filled out a questionnaire giving you —in block letters and black ink— our names, address, ages, phone

The Original Swinging Society

The St. Marys Journal-Argus has some interesting comments about modern trends:

We hear a lot about "swingers" these days. No doubt the term will stay in style a few more months and will then be supplanted by some even more "way out" expression.

But while we still have "swinging" with us it might be well to remember the original swinging society. They were the Apes; and somehow we envy them.

Apes have a low crime rate. They pay no taxes, never go to war, never get into debt.

They have no population explosion nor any threatened food shortage. No one has to spend big dollars to tell them, "Never put bananas in the refrigerator."

They don't need a beautification program because they don't spoil their surroundings. They don't pollute the air, nor the water.

Their government is a model of efficiency and simplicity. True, they don't have Scotch whiskey, vinyl, jet aircraft, ice cubes and pro football, but they have established a balanced equilibrium with their natural environment.

A hundred million years ago an ape-like creature came swinging out of the trees and said: "I'm going to stand on two feet, call myself Man, and build a better world."

Isn't it time we got started?

RAMBLING REPORTER

WHERE YA GO, JOE?

Things aren't quite the same around the News office this week. There's a feeling of something missing and the something missing is our veteran pressman, Joe Sabourin, who printed his last batch of tickets Friday before hanging up his apron for the last time.

Joe has finally called it quits after almost 47 years of work in this plant and he'd probably be stretching it to 50 if his doctor hadn't warned him to take life easier.

He was actually christened J. L. Ovila Sabourin and we're still not too clear how come he got tagged with the name Joe. Maybe it was because there was another Ovila Sabourin on the scene when he came from Montreal to join his father on the News staff. The late George Sabourin served as shop foreman over a long span of years and his son was destined to become a pressman par excellence.

Joe was never more at ease than when feeding a press and he knew all the tricks of the old Campbell newspaper press which had seen long service in producing this paper until its retirement in centennial year. While he was around there was no need of an automatic job press for he could turn out a thousand envelopes or tickets in an hour on the smaller presses.

A fine pressman Joe still is and he'll be hard to replace. What we'll miss most around this office, though, is his perpetual good humor and sociability. Joe must have had his frustrations through the years but darned if we can recall seeing him in a really bad mood.

His friends and co-workers at the News will be missing his cheerful presence and they trust he will enjoy many years of retirement.

A good pressman always strives for a good impression. Our hippie types wouldn't qualify.

WHEN POLIO GOT SALKED

One doesn't have to be more than middle-aged to remember the threat polio was only 10 years ago. Parents of young children were more than a little panicky with the dread picture of their loved ones hit by the crippling disease and adults were not immune.

Our 10 year file reminds that 16 cases had surfaced in this county and there was the tragic story of the John Duncan Bilmer family of nearby Northfield Station. Mrs. Bilmer had died in hospital two days after two of her young sons had been buried and a daughter, only three years old, was in an iron lung, a victim of the same dread disease.

The cities had been hardest hit by polio each year in late summer but now the threat had spread even into Glengarry and there was worry where it would strike next. The vaccine come up with by Dr. Jonathan Salk offered a ray of hope and people flocked to the polio clinics for protection.

It worked wonders and polio is no longer a threat, on this continent at least. We haven't heard of Dr. Salk in years but we hope he and his co-workers were richly rewarded for their research.

The answer to cancer and other present-day threats to health still have to be found. There is room for hope, though, when one recalls how Dr. Salk socked polio a decade ago.

If you're still not wearing seat belts, what's holding you back?

NO ROOM TO RELAX

How you going to keep them down on the farm, after they've seen Paree? Or after they've heard Ontario's deputy minister of agriculture tell a North Bay meeting of Northern Ontario dairymen that two-thirds of the province's 100,000 farmers will have to face economic realities and leave their farms.

By 1980 Ontario's economy will support only 35,000 farmers, according to Mr. Biggs who sees 600 as the minimum acreage necessary to make farming a profitable venture. According to him, economists have concluded that within the next 10 years some 65,000 farmers will have to quit farming.

These are probably the same economists who plan to pack all these "fringe" farmers and thousands of others into three giant city states, Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver. They don't say what will happen to the dream of the good life these people will be carrying into cities that are already too big to be manageable.

These planners in government don't seem to be worrying about the economy of the small town and village, so soon to be left without a trading area. They seem intent only on getting everyone organized, numbered and under the thumb of the tax collector. If the fringe farmer can't afford $300 for medicare and hospitalization he'll get them free when he's on the city welfare rolls.

Seems there's to be no wide open spaces to relax in when socialism has us all fenced in.

Alexandria And Maxville Lost To Prescott Teams On Weekend

By Angus H. McDonell

Vankleek Hill and Hawkesbury high schools moved into a senior and junior, respectively, league standing deadlock with Alexandria on the weekend as the Prescott County teams each won their doubleheader games.

Here in Alexandria the Gaels, despite their flashy new helmets, bowed to the high flying Hawks 26-7. In the other senior game VCI, playing on the "Hill", shutout Maxville 27-0.

On Saturday Hawkesbury duplicated their senior's Friday win by doubling the score 12-6 over Ourtown's junior students. Back again in Vankleek Hill, Maxville lost 18-6.

On the local gridiron Friday, Hawkesbury gradually took over command after the opening kick-off and about half-way through the first quarter Mario Venutti sliced off tackle to his right and galloped for a TD, that was not converted.

In the second canto the Hawks continued to press and after moving deep into the Gaels' end were forced to kick. A point was conceded to give the home forces better field position. Just before half time big No. 20, Mario Venutti, swept around the Gaels' right side, took a bead on the north west corner flag and there was just no stopping this former Cornwall CCVS student as the Hawks went ahead 13-0. A pass play was tried instead of the usual convert kick but Alexandria knocked the ball away from the target receiver.

Following the first sequence of second half scrimmages Gaels' Brian Libbos fired a perfect strike to Ray Poirier who skipped like Vic Washington to the Hawks 35. Nick Tkachenko bulled his way for yards and then Vince St. Pierre picked up more ground to the 15. Libbos called a sound play as he intended to pass to Paul Masson, all alone near the Hawks' goal line but the visitors sensed the manoeuvre, rushed Libbos who obviously hurried his throw that was too high for Masson. On third down the Gaels' effort to kick a single was blocked. The Hawks took over and again moved down field and Venutti duplicated his opening TD play to his right for his and the visitors' third major. The convert was nil and the Gaels held on defensively as Barry MacSweyn almost intercepted a threatening Hawks' pass play.

In the final quarter Brian Libbos sent Rene Claude on a fine ground gaining run but to no avail as on the very next play the Hawks Sandy Oswick intercepted a Gaels' pass attempt. Hawkesbury took over and Richard Morris, a hold over quarterback from last year, called on Marcel Bougie for a run down the east side chalk line and Bougie went all the way; but his TD was called back due to a line penalty. Morris called the same play and Bougie hit pay dirt again and this time it was good for six points while Bernard Lebarge booted the convert to give the Hawks a commanding 26-0 lead with time running out.

The Gaels didn't quit, in fact, they came back with their best effort of the game. Brian Libbos realizing ground plays were more effective especially at this time gave the ball to Rene Claude who dug his way to the Hawks' 40. Then Ray Poirier, you can't call him Peewee any more, took off around the left and was grounded on the Hawks' eight. Libbos again delegated Rene Claude in the huddle to carry the mail on the wide right side and Claude, with some solid blocking, went over for the Gaels' only major. Murray MacDonald was good on the convert. Moments later the minute flag was waved by Yvon Menard with the final score Hawks 26, Gaels 7.

Vankleek Hill recorded their second win of the season on major scores by quarterback Mike Hudson,Bob Smith, Remi Lavigne and Bruno Lalonde.

Maxville held the Hill students defensively quite well, especially by Jon Wensink who was booting like Joe Zuger for 50-60 yards; however, the offence besides not scoring had a tough afternoon losing the ball twice for resulting TDs. VCI's Remi Lavigne was responsible for one of the recoveries that was an intercepted pass and run back for 87 yards.

In the junior game, VCI were also in front all the way, winning 18-6 over Maxville. GDHS juniors like Maxville, travelled a rough road offensively. Hawkesbury tallied an unconverted major in the first quarter. Just before half time GDHS fumbled on their own 15 stripe and the Hawks not only recovered but hit pay dirt on the next play to lead 12-0 at half-time.

Later in the game Morris McCormick got away a lofty boot in hopes of a single and Lady Luck returned the break as the Hawk receiver in the end zone fumbled the ball and Roch Lajoie pounced on the leather. Instead of one point Alexandria came up with six. The convert try was wide. Game over, Hawks 12, GDHS 6.

Three More Weeks For Golfers

Glengarry Golf & Country Club will close its season after the Oct. 18th weekend, it was decided at a directors' meeting last weekend.

Discussion was on improvements to be made to the course this fall. Weather permitting the tees will be resurfaced and enlarged, there will be drainage on No. 2 fairway, new sand traps will be added at some greens and a new bridge will span the Garry.

Trophy night will be Oct. 18th in Alexander Hall and the annual meeting will be held Dec. 5th.

Something new was tried at the local club Sunday, a Calcutta sweepstake for men members who played a best ball handicap round in teams of two. Players and other members bet on each team to win.

Tied for first place were the teams of Gordon Gallant and Ernie Pelley, Gerald Derry and Paul E. Viau. Sharing in the winnings were Gordon Gallant who bet his own entry, Vince Barker and Dr. Dolan on the Derry team.

Second prize went to Cliff Rae and Dr. H. K. Abbey with Mrs. Ronald Macdonald sharing in the win.

Reports To Flyers

Ralph MacSweyn left last week to start the season with the Philadelphia Flyers and will be taking part in some exhibition games this weekend.

A POOR GAMBLE

Why stack the deck against yourself by driving without automobile liability insurance?

The $25 uninsured motor vehicle fee does not protect YOU.

The Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund will pay damages on your behalf, but YOU MUST PAY BACK the full amount to the Fund. You could be obliged to sell everything you own and forfeit part of future earnings to do so.

Automobile liability insurance PROTECTS YOU (and others driving your car with your consent) against the costs of injury, death or damage claims.

Pledged Vows At Williamstown

FRASER—McDONELL

Anna Jean McDonell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan E. McDonell of Williamstown, was united in marriage to Malcolm John Fraser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fraser of Dalkeith at St. Mary's Church, Williamstown, Aug. 16, 1969.

Rev. Bernard Cameron officiated at the ceremony and Brian Lawson, nephew of the bride, served the mass.

Pink and white gladioli and carnations decorated the church. Mrs. Joan MacDonald was organist, and soloists were Brian McDonell and Bruce MocDonell.

Bill Cooper piped the newly married couple from the church.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white crepe A-line, long sleeved gown, the neck insert, hem line and train being trimmed with deep guipure lace. A double French tulle, shoulder-length veil was held in place by a bow of the lace. She carried a presentation bouquet of red roses and white heather. Her only jewelry consisted of diamond earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending the bride were her sister, Rhona and three nieces, Patricia Lawson, Anne McDonell and Kari MacRae. The girls were attired in A-line, empire styled dresses of white bodices with plaid skirts.

Attending the bridegroom were his brothers, Alastair as best man, and Gordon as usher. Huntly and Hubert McDonell, brothers of the bride were also ushers.

Ian McDonell, brother of the bride, was master of ceremonies at the reception held later at the New Parkway Hotel.

For travelling to the British Isles, the bride was in a mauve crinkled crepe coat and dress ensemble with blue patent shoes and purse. She wore a corsage of pink gladioli.

Out of town guests were from Montreal, Toronto, Detroit, Pointe Claire and Perth.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will reside in Cornwall.

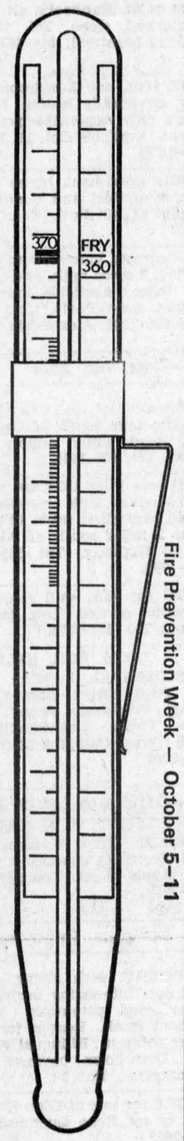
when deep–fat frying



French–fried potatoes, chicken, and many other foods are delicious when prepared in your deep–fat fryer. But, for safety's sake, keep the frying temperature at the proper level by using and watching a cooking thermometer.

The flash point, or temperature at which the vapours from the boiling fat can be ignited by a match flame or spark, is less than 100 degrees above the maximum frying temperature of 400 degrees. And the ignition temperature, at which the hot fat itself can burst into flame, is only about 200 degrees higher than the flash point.

Therefore, it is very important to keep the frying temperature to a controlled, safe level.

Never leave your fryer unattended while warming fat to frying temperature. Because heat from the stove element under the fryer cannot escape rapidly, the temperature of the fat rises quickly. It can increase past the frying level to flash point and ignition stages in the time you might take to answer the door or telephone. If you are interrupted by a call during frying, be sure to turn down the element under your fryer. Don't rely on fryer thermostats – although they help reduce the danger of overheating, they don't always work.

Would you like to enjoy safer deep–fat frying in your home? CIAG has a limited supply of reliable, deep–fat frying thermometers available at cost. To obtain one, please complete the attached coupon and send it with your cheque or money order for $1 (includes 5% sales tax) to CIAG INSURANCE.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

The weekly showing of the Glengarry-Prescott high school football league standing is a carbon copy of the CFL Eastern clubs. Only two points separate four teams in both the senior and junior groups.

The school squads have rounded the quarter pole and after this weekend will head into the stretch leading to the finishing tape.

Alexandria's both teams draw byes this week and regardless of the results they will remain no worse than in second place.

Vankleek Hill play in Williamstown and no doubt will be gunning for their third win and sole possession of first place. Hawkesbury, quite a heavy and experienced crew, are expected to top Maxville thus creating a three team first place huddle in the senior group should Char-Lan stop VCI.

In the junior games on Saturday it appears a certainty that the high flying Hawks will take over first place by handling Maxville in Hawkesbury. Williamstown will host Vankleek Hill and a Char-Lan win would move their juniors into a second place tie with GDHS assuming that the Hawks post their third win in a row.

Although Ourtown's seniors were soundly defeated last Friday this could have been a blessing in disguise. Success is very heady wine and perhaps some of the squad had difficulty wearing those new Gael helmets. If so, they were fitting quite snugly, we thought, when the score was better than two score and only minutes to play. At this point we asked Jim Baker, scorer and our spotter, when was a GDHS team held scoreless at home, "Can't remember this ever happening", replied Jim.

Well it didn't happen as Libbos marched his offence down the field for a converted TD, averting a horse collar on the scoreboard. The Gaels were without Michel Boisvenue, now a Cornwall student with Royals, Lee Taillefer and Roger Jeaurond. They were three big holes to fill out this is not an alibi, the Hawks were hungry and carry a lot of tonnage as lightweights like Danny O'Brien and Jeff Mosher must know.

From here in, with a break from the weatherman, this could be one of the most interesting school football finishes in the league history.

ROYALS TUSSLE TULSA

Ray Miron, a veteran and popular Cornwall sportsman, now on the minor hockey pro executive level, brought his Tulsa Oilers of the Central Pro League to his home town last weekend.

Ray, as you would expect, received the glad hand from his legion of friends but his hockey team received a different reception.

The Friday night game was of more than passing interest to Glens hockey fans. Laggan's Willie Terry was on defence for Tulsa while Ourtown's budding star Michel Boisvenue was at the opposite end with Royals. Then there is another Royal youngster, Gerry Campeau, who if memory serves us correctly, is a descendant of Glen Robertson.

Tulsa doubled the shots on goal over Royals but only eked out a 3-2 win much to the disgust of GM Ray Miron. In fact Ray is quoted by Claude (Stan.-Freeholder) McIntosh as saying he had too many guys with big heads. Oklahoma City blasted Tulsa 7-0 in a second pre-season exhibition game so for once Miron must have been pleased to leave home.

Royals showed improvement while holding Rosemount Nationals 4-4 in Cornwall on Sunday. They have a couple more exhibition games and this time next week should be about ready for their opening game at Water St. arena, Thursday, October 11.

HITHER AN DYON

Burns McPherson, who is playing his swan song year at St.-FX, latched onto a pass and run play last weekend to give Don Loney's team an exhibition win.

The Deprattos and DaPratos have long been prominent figures on our sport scene and Michel Depratto is carrying on this tradition at centre on the GDHS line in an impressive way. This is a key position and Michel handles himself like a veteran.

A left foot booter is startling to see but a south-paw quarterback is even more unusual . . . that's Brian Libbos and like all pivot men he fires a nice pass when not rushed . . . even Sam Etcheverry and Russ Jackson could never throw a ball after being knocked down on the seat of their pants.

Murray MacDonald must be in the lead of convert kickers . . . On the average the school teams in our league miss out on the all important convert point.

Turning from the football field to the grain field, a flock of Canada Geese were southward bound last Satauday morning at the crack of dawn . . . they spotted ducks by a pond in a grain field (the field is an FBI secret) and dropped down for breakfast . . . the ducks baled out and the geese, evidently more fussy were mixing the greens with the grain . . . all the while a local nimrod crept closer and closer . . . finally the geese took off . . . all except four who remained to spend Thanksgiving with ? and his family.
