Town clerk says Massie 'negligent' in AIB furor

Alexandria Mayor Bruno Massie was "negligent" in not placing letters from the Anti-Inflation Board before council, Town Clerk-Treasurer Don Collin has charged.

Last week Massie criticized the clerk for not filing the proper AIB forms for town employees' pay increases over the past three years. The mayor claimed he instructed Collin to send the forms in.

The Anti-Inflation Board told The News last week that the town is subject to fines of over $10,000 if it does not submit the forms.

At council Tuesday, Collin said the mayor had not instructed him to send in the forms and had, in fact, kept letters from the AIB secret.

"I think you were negligent in not putting those letters before council," Collin said.

Although Massie read the two AIB letters at open council, he afterwards refused to release the documents to The News. He said he wanted to contact his lawyer first.

Massie claimed he asked Collin to make photocopies of an AIB letter for members of council.

Collin said he was never given a copy of the document in question and told Massie he shouldn't have kept it "locked in your safe."

"If you had put those letters before council, I would have had no alternative than to send in the forms," Collin insisted.

He also denied accusations by AIB spokesman A. J. Deneumoustier that he (Collin) "absolutely refused to have anything to do with the AIB."

Collin said he wrote to the AIB December 10, 1976, questioning which forms should be submitted and he has yet to receive a written reply to that letter.

Collin suggested the AIB letters subsequently sent to Massie warning of fines were, in fact, sent to him as mayor and, therefore, should have been presented to council.

"It's a very poor excuse on your part for not completing the forms," Massie countered.

Although no formal motion was passed, councillors indicated they wished the forms to be sent in.

Councillor Archie McDougall urged members to end debate on the subject.

There's a good hockey game on," he said. "Can't we get by this? Let's file the forms and comply with the law."

He said the AIB program was "rotten" but since it was the law, it should be followed.

"We won't blame anybody, but let's get it done," Reeve J. P. Touchette said.

Following the meeting, The News asked Massie for copies of the AIB letters, but he refused both times.

The town has yet to file the proper AIB forms for pay increases given to town employees in 1976, 1977 and 1978.

The town granted 10 per cent wage hikes to employees in 1977 and 1978 and also gave substantial raises in 1976.

Under the Anti-Inflation Act, failure to report increases can result in a $10,000 fine, which must be paid out of general tax revenue.

The AIB administrator can also require employees to return any overpayment and fine the town an amount equivalent to the overpayment.

House fire claims two

A native of the First of Kenyon, Mrs. Monique Laporte, 35, and her nine-year-old daughter Suzanne, died tragically in a fire that destroyed their home in Quebec City on Saturday.

Her husband, Cpl. Michel Laporte, formerly of Alexandria, and two sons, managed to escape from the building unharmed.

The family were sleeping when the couple awoke to the sound of fire about 1:30 a.m. According to Fire Chief Bergeron, Laporte woke his daughter and ran to the basement to rouse his 13-year-old son. The boy, Jean-Luc, escaped through a window and Mr. Laporte went to rescue his other son, 11-year-old Richard.

Mrs. Laporte who had rushed to help her daughter was caught in the flames. A wall of fire prevented her husband from reaching either of them.

The boys ran next door to summon aid but by the time help arrived it was impossible to enter the house.

Mass was offered in the church at Val Cartier on Monday afternoon where relatives from this area were present as well as a capacity crowd of friends from the military base and school where Mrs. Laporte had taught.

Service was also held in St. Mary's Church, Green Valley on Tuesday afternoon where Father Gerald Poirier officiated.

Interment was in Sacred Heart cemetery in Alexandria. Albert Laporte, father-in-law and grandfather of the victims, who died on January 23, was interred at the same time.

The former Monique St. Denis was a graduate of Maria Goretti Academy, Alexandria, where she excelled as a student in English and French courses. She graduated in 1960 from Char-Lan as a Grade 13 Ontario scholar, was valedictorian and winner of the Calvin Smith prize in English. After obtaining her teaching qualification in Ottawa she married Michel Laporte and they lived in Germany for a few years where her husband was posted in military service. On their return

Villeneuve blasts MP Ed Lumley

SD&G MPP Osie Villeneuve bounced back with a vengeance this week to charges he is telling "half truths" about Ontario's dairy industry.

The Conservative member has been complaining that Ontario dairy farmers are not getting the Ontario market in industrial milk, while processing plants are importing 40 million pounds of Quebec milk.

Defending the Canadian Dairy Commission, which allocates provincial quotas, Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley said Villeneuve was telling "half truths" because Quebec also imports Ontario milk.

"It's my understanding that it's almost an offsetting figure," Lumley said at a press conference announcing his decision to seek the federal Liberal nomination again.

In a letter printed in The News this week, Villeneuve says Lumley is confusing fluid milk with industrial milk.

"As to the question of 'offsetting' shipments between Ontario and Quebec, I know that over 100 fluid milk producers in Eastern Ontario are registered as Quebec shippers," the MPP said. "Some of them have enjoyed the fluid milk market in Montreal for three generations or more.

"There are also some 80 to 90 milk producers on the Quebec side of the Ottawa River who are registered in Ontario and deliver fluid milk to a pasteurizing plant in Ottawa.

"These arrangements have existed for years. But they involve fluid milk, not industrial milk. Mr. Lumley is mixing apples and oranges."

In his letter Villeneuve says he has "never tried to mislead people although my views have not always been shared by everyone" and "I deeply resent any implication that I have been less than truthful on any subject."

The MPP says if the dairy commission does not change its quota policy, more Ontario farm-

Chretien to speak at meet

The Stormont-Dundas Liberal Association will be holding its nomination meeting at the Cornwall Civic Complex on Thursday, April 27 at 8 p.m. Members in good standing of the Association 72 hours prior to the meeting date may vote. However, immediate past members may renew membership at the meeting. Membership cards may be obtained from any member of the Board of Directors of the Association.

The Association has also received confirmation today that the guest speaker at the meeting will be the Honorable Jean Chretien, Minister of Finance. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

Motorcyclist badly injured

A 17-year-old youth is improving in Ottawa Civic Hospital after suffering internal injuries in a motorcycle accident in Alexandria Saturday afternoon .

Maurice Sarault of the Third of Kenyon was knocked unconscious when his 1977 Yamaha struck a float at the corner of Main and Kenyon Streets.

Sarault was rushed to Glengarry Memorial, transferred to Cornwall and moved again to the intensive care unit of Ottawa Civic.

While still in a coma, the youth was moving his limbs and opening his eyes Tuesday, signs that his condition is improving.

Sarault was travelling north when his motorcycle struck the side of the float which was eastbound on Kenyon.

The float, driven by Greg MacDonald, 20, of Green Valley is owned by Ray's Body Shop of the Ninth of Lancaster.

The motorcycle is practically a write-off, the chief reports.

The investigation by Constable Raymond Legroulx continues.

Boy in hospital after bike mishap

Paul Richer of R. R. 1, Apple Hill, is still in Hotel Dieu for observation after having been struck by a car Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

OPP report that the 11-year-old boy was driving his bicycle north through Apple Hill when it struck a pothole causing it to swerve in front of a car driven by Margaret Darling, 27, of Apple Hill.

Paul was transported to Hotel Dieu. No bones were broken but he is suffering from shock and considerable bruises.

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richer.

Women make local history by completing canoe race

Two local women stuck a big feather in the cap of female equality Sunday when they became the first all-women canoe team to successfully complete the Raisin River Canoe Race.

Spectators and participants were on hand to cheer and applaud when Valerie Wert, 17, of R.R. 1, Avonmore, and Leah Lovesey, 17, of Maxville, crossed the finish line at Williamstown to make local history.

This is the first time since the race was established five years ago that an all-women team has entered the race. Although first, second and third place awards for the category were offered last year, no one took up the challenge.

Wert and Lovesey earned their first-place plaques the hard way, by successfully braving the watery fury of the Martintown dam, an obstacle which dumped many all-male teams.

Their time was three hours, 29 minutes.

Another surprised winner in the competition was Ann McLaughlin of St. Andrews who hadn't even planned to enter the race.

Marty Would, 25, of Ste. Anne De Bellevue, Que., had counted on entering the mixed category but lost his partner at the last minute. He quickly looked for a substitute and found the 20-year-old McLaughlin.

It turned out to be a happy first meeting for the pair. When the results were all in, the hastily thrown-together team had netted second place in their category, with a time of two hours, 57 minutes.

First-place winners in the mixed category were W. Schneider of Pierrefonds, Que., and Janice Arnott of Lake Dollard, Que., with a time of two hours, 53 minutes.

In third spot were Melba Murray and Don Christie, both of Apple Hill, with a time of three hours and eight minutes.

D. Hollingsworth of Ottawa and B. Meldrum of Chelsea, Quebec, took first place in the men's category, with a time of two hours and five minutes.

In second place were Ottawans Brian and Mike MacMillan with a time of two hours, 16 minutes.

In third spot were G. Woodcock and M. Charron, both of Ottawa, with a time of two hours, 21 minutes.

A safety precaution initiated this year at the Martintown dam proved confusing to some canoeists as well as officials.

Boats were held back and only allowed over the dam one at a time to avoid collisions.

Officials of the Raisin Region Conservation Authority, which sponsors the annual event, hope to work the bugs out of the dam problem next year.

A record-breaking 117 canoes entered the race, 14 more than last year.

Participants came from as far as London, Ontario, while warm, sunny weather brought out thousands of spectators.

Youthful missionary heading for Japan

Scott Campbell of Breadalbane will be going to Japan this summer as a member of the Oriental Missionary Service International Novice Overseas Witness Corps (NOW).

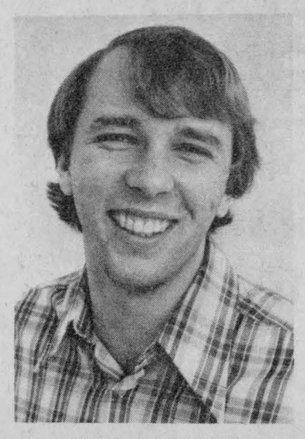
NOW is especially planned to give adults considering missionary service, a short exposure to the spiritual, social and physical needs of the people of other countries.

The 20-year-old youth was responsible for securing his own funds to cover expenses for this venture. He will be assisting a veteran missionary in Japan.

Oriental Missionary Service is a non-denominational faith mission, that specializes in evangelism, the training of a national ministry, and church growth in the nations it serves.

Scott is a 1976 Grade 13 honors graduate from GDHS. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Campbell.

During his five years at GDHS, Scott became both a fine scholar and athlete. He played for the soccer team for four years and was voted most valuable "back" for the 1974-75 season and MVP in 1975-76. He was captain of the volleyball team for four of his five years on the team. Two years were spent playing badminton and for all five of his GDHS years he was a member of the school track team.



SCOTT CAMPBELL

Scott is also a qualified volleyball and soccer referee.

His highest athletic honor was being elected GDHS sportsman of the 1974-75 year.

He served on students' council while in grade nine and won the school public speaking contest that same year. He placed second in the regional finals.

In 1974-75 Scott was voted best actor for his roll of Romeo in the school Shakespearean Festival.

Upon his graduation Scott qualified as an Ontario Scholar.

Following his secondary school graduation, Scott attended Queen's University for two and a

A clashing of cultures

Ellen McRae says she has learned a lot about Canadian culture over the past four months.

She's been living in Indonesia.

Just back from a volunteer exchange in that southeast Asian country, the 21-year-old Glen Nevis woman says she's finding it hard to adjust to Canadian culture again, but for the first time in her life, she believes she's seeing it as it really is.

Our society's emphasis on consumer products and material gain is almost overwhelming her.

"It (the trip) has made a personal change in me as to how I'm going to live my lifestyle," the former Carleton University student said. "In Canada we just don't know how lucky we are. Problems like unemployment and inflation are just a part of life for them (Indonesians). I can't believe how we take it as our right to have had it so good for so long."

McRae spent from January to April in Indonesia as part of an eight-month project sponsored by the Canada World Youth Program.

The private body is funded by the federal Canadian International Development Agency and any Canadian age 17 to 21 can participate.

Under the project, 30 Canadians and 30 Indonesians worked together for four months in each others' respective native lands.

McRae and her sub-group—seven Canadians and seven Indonesians—were stationed in Grand Forks, B.C., for the first four months. They were engaged in various types of volunteer activities including working in a day care centre and a bookshop.

In Indonesia, the team did more physical labor such as fixing roads and building bridges.

McRae worked in a farming village of 2,000 and a fishing village of 500. Both were on the Island of Sumatra.

Firefighters pay rate holds firm for 1978

Alexandria volunteer firefighters are the only town employees who will not receive a pay increase this year.

The men received a substantial hike in their hourly rate in 1977, however.

Increases last year varied, depending on experience. First year firemen increased from $3 to $5 and second year members received $6 from $3.

Members with three to five years service encreased to $7, up from $5. Those with six years or more increased to $9, up from $7.

Officers had their rate changed from $10 to $13.

Remuneration to individual firefighters during 1977 varied depending on the number of years each had been with the department and the number of fires each attended.

Annual earning for 1977 ranged from $105 to over 3,300.

Chief Gerald Charlebois, who responds to all alarms, earned $3,331 and Assistant Chiefs Jim Graham and Maurice Brunet earned $2,324 and $2,081 respectively. Raymond Theoret received $1,443 and Doug Turton earned $1,334.

Earnings for 28 firemen during 1977 totaled $21,306. In 1976, earnings totaled $14,932 for 26 firemen and in 1975, salaries totaled $15,183 for 24 firemen.

The Anti Inflation Board has no control over increases given to volunteer firemen. A spokesman for the AIB said when the controlling body was formed, volunteer salaries like those earned by the firefighters, did come under its jurisdiction, but the rule has changed.

APPOINTED MANAGER

The appointment of Robert Lawlis as manager of Stedmans Alexandria store has been announced by Fred Campbell, general manager of Stedmans.

Mr. Lawlis comes to Stedmans with considerable merchandising experience. He has been a merchandise buyer for one of Ontario's large variety chains, and has managed stores in Petawawa, Georgetown, Smiths Falls, and Lachute.

Fluent in both Canada's official languages, he is a native of Buckingham, Que. and attended St. Michael's High School. He is an avid sportsman, has played junior hockey in Ottawa and now is interested in golf, tennis and other outdoor sports.

Mr. Lawlis is single and looking forward to making his home in Alexandria.

Very shortly the store will hold an open house for all the customers of Stedmans' Alexandria store to meet Mr. Lawlis. Many exciting events have been planned by the new manager.

village was still run under the old tribal system. All three local tribes were headed by women, McRae said, and property was passed down through the women.

McRae, herself, lived with one of the tribe leaders, her husband and four children.

"My (Indonesian) family lived with just the basics and they were happy," McRae noted. She says Canadians expect too much out of life materially.

"There's a lot that I have rejected from our culture after coming back from living there. I've rejected what we consume. I've rejected the need to continually consume when we can be satisfied with so much less."

The former student of Iona Academy and Glengarry District High School notes that "a typical North American consumes 50 times what an Asian does. We talk about overpopulation. We're the overpopulated country in terms of what we consume."

McRae doubts she will return for her third year in journalism at Carleton. She doesn't find the university relevant to her goals anymore.

"I learned more in eight months being on that program than I could ever learn in university."

One of the things she learned is that generosity isn't the sole motivating force behind Canadian foreign aid.

Much of the aid she saw in Indonesia was going towards the construction of roads and power equipment which could then be used by Canadian companies wanting to set up shop.

Such activities, funded by CIDA, were taking place around the site chosen by INCO for its new plant.

"CIDA, as a development agency, is developing countries largely for our benefit. They do good things, but it was very obvious to us that CIDA was quite concerned about developing countries where we could exploit resources."

McRae says she doesn't have any specific plans for the future. Right now she's trying to overcome her "culture shock". She can barely stand to listen to radio and television commercials anymore because of the excessive consumption they advocate.

In the future, however, she hopes to be able to communicate more about what she has learned from living in the Third World.

"I want to be more involved in making Canadians and Americans more aware of what's going on in these countries."

half months. "However I was tired of attending school by then. I had been doing it for so long that I felt a rest was needed," said Scott, "so I took a year off and went to work for Bell Canada."

In 1977 he returned to Carleton University where he is majoring in English and History.

His studies will help in his work in Japan as part of his duties will involve teaching conversational English. Scott will also be required to help in church and prayer meetings and social and sport activities.

When asked if he would consider himself as a "Jesus freak" he replied "I don't think a name has to be placed on the way I think and work. But if one was necessary I would prefer "Jesus Person." The word 'freak' implies someone that has something wrong with them, and I don't think serving Christ has anything wrong related to it."

"Jesus Christ is the single most important factor in my life," said Scott. "And doing what he set out in the Scriptures as the Christian Mission is what I want to do. That is to say, the evangelism of the world."

"My making this trip to Japan is my part in helping to fulfill what Christ taught. Christ is the answer to the present situation of the world."

"The possibility of my becoming a minister is certain in my mind. But I am still open as to what area it will be in. I don't know that I would like to be a minister in the true sense of the word. That is, to work from a particular church. I think I would prefer doing Christ's work through the missionary."

Scott said "I was raised by a family that taught through example and their life with Christ was a strong point in our family living. We are not a family that reserves only one day of the week for the church. It's an "all-week" responsibility for us." The family are members of the Breadalbane Baptist Church.

Scott has a brother, Robin, in Toronto and two sisters, Mrs. Wayne (Wendy) McArthur in Toronto and Mrs. Terry (Gail) Roddick in Breadalbane.

ers will be put out of business.

Lumley said area dairy farmers have urged him not to press for additional quota for those farmers who exhaust their quota before the end of the dairy year.

He said the national dairy system, while not perfect, "is the best in the world. There's no question about it. Our dairy farmers are in better shape than dairy farmers anywhere in the world."

In a recent speech to the provincial legislature, Villeneuve said Ontario farmers could not only produce the 40 million pounds of industrial milk being imported from Quebec, but could produce an additional 40 million pounds which processors claim they need.

Despite the shortage, Ontario farmers are not allowed to produce, the MPP said.

" . . . The farmers run four and five months and they have no place to sell milk, and they are in the dairy industry, and yet there is a demand in my own area not only for that 40 million pounds of milk they have taken in from Quebec, but another 40 million pounds of which they could process and sell every pound in the province of Ontario," Villeneuve told the legislature.

Cancer campaign being conducted

The Glengarry Unit of The Canadian Cancer Society is currently sponsoring its campaign for funds. Volunteers will be calling on residents throughout the area.

The local unit collected $9,588.48 in donations during 1977.

Of the total, $7,253.09 was used for patient services and $2,335.39 was contributed to research.

Services include the transportation of approximately 16 patients to Ottawa or Kingston twice a week for treatment and to follow-up clinics in Cornwall. This service cost the Glengarry Unit $3,111.02 last year.

Six patients receive colostomy dressings costing $1,770.44.

The Glengarry Unit, which includes both Maxville and Charlottenburg branches, gave one patient all the necessary equipment for the taking of oxygen at a cost of $1,304.17. Following her death, her husband gave the equipment back to the unit who in turn donated it to the Glengarry Memorial.

W. Chisholm died at 84

William Chisholm died on Tuesday, April 4, 1978 at the Civic Hospital, Ottawa, following a brief illness. He was eighty-four years of age.

He was born in the Sixth of Kenyon, second son of the late Rory Chisholm and Annie Kippen. He was well and favorably known throughout the Maxville area where he spent his earlier years on the farm home west of Baltic's Corners.

He married Victoria Alguire of Tayside and was a successful farmer in Roxborough for some years. In 1939 they moved to Toronto where he was employed until his retirement in 1950 when they returned to Maxville.

The funeral was in the United Church conducted by Rev. Dr. I. D. MacIver of St. Andrew's Church who presented a comforting message to the bereaved friends. Hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "What a Friend we have in Jesus."

Pallbearers were: Alex MacKinnon, Gregor MacEwen, Donald Cummings, Vernon Campbell, Rudy Phiesien and Peter Alex McLean. Burial will be in the Maxville Cemetery at a later date.

He is survived by a son, Orval, in Toronto; three brothers, Charlie in Ottawa, Dan in Florida, Roddie in Toronto and two sisters, Mrs. Harold Black, Florence, and Mrs. Scott McLennan, Janie, both in Ottawa.

Floral offerings and donations to organizations were tributes of sympathy and respect.

Apple Hill and Dalhousie in Glengarry News Cup finals

Apple Hill defeated Dalhousie 7-4 Sunday, in game one of a best-of-seven Glengarry News Cup finals. The victory was Apple Hill's eleventh game in a row without a defeat.

The last time Apple Hill and Dalhousie met was in regular play Saturday when they tied 5-5. That same day Alexandria defeated Junior C, 11-2. On Friday Dalhousie downed Jr. C, 11-1 followed with a 7-3 victory by Apple Hill over Glen Nevis. Last Wednesday Glen Nevis were downed by Alexandria 6-1. However the game prior to that, between Apple Hill and Jr. C, kept the C squad's hopes alive for a playoff slot when the team skated to a 6-6 draw making them the first team not to be defeated by Apple Hill.

PLAYOFFS

Apple Hill 7 Dalhousie 4

Sandy MacDonell popped in three goals for Apple Hill in the first game of the finals Sunday. Andy MacDonell scored two more and Brian Wensink and Don Blaney recorded one each.

Jean Payette and Bob Currier scored the two Dalhousie goals.

Both teams were to have played last night in game two. Game three is set for this evening (Wednesday) at 8:30 p.m. Remaining games will be played April 28 and 29 at 8:30 p.m. and April 30 at 1:30 p.m. with game seven set for May 1 at 8 p.m.

APPLE HILL 5 DALHOUSIE 5

Dalhousie was the second team to hold Apple Hill to a tie. And at one point it looked as though Dalhousie was going to win the game played Saturday.

Dalhousie entered the final period with a 2-1 lead and moved quickly into a 3-1 lead by 17:36 of the third period.

Apple Hill closed the gap with a second goal at 9:24 then Dalhousie popped in two more and with only 3:12 remaining in regulation time, held a 5-2 lead. However, Apple Hill rallied back and between 3:11 and the final whistle managed to score three more goals to tie the game.

Scoring for Dalhousie were Jean Payette with two and singles from Harvey Primeau, Tommy Ross and Bob Currier.

Apple Hill points came from Sandy MacDonell with a pair and singles came from Richard MacDonell, Brian Wensink and Kelly Kavic.

ALEXANDRIA 11 JUNIOR C 2

Andre Poirier earned a hat trick Saturday for Alexandria and double goals came from Yvan Desautels and Jacques Lajoie. Wally MacDonell, Luc Poirier, Raymond Poirier and Claude Roy each scored singles.

The two Jr. C points came off the sticks of Ewen McCormick and Mike Wray.

DALHOUSIE 11 JUNIOR C 1

Bob Currier scored five goals for Dalhousie Friday. Wendal Lafave and Ian Sandilands each earned doubles and singles came from Artie McCuaig and Harvey Primeau.

Terry Epp scored the lone Junior C goal.

APPLE HILL 7 GLEN NEVIS 2

Allan MacDonell and Kelly Kavic each scored two goals for Apple Hill Friday, with single points coming off the sticks of Ray Boucher, Brian Wensink and Richard Scott.

Gary MacDonald and Garrett McGillis did the scoring for Glen Nevis.

ALEXANDRIA 6 GLEN NEVIS 1

Andre Poirier earned a hat trick last Wednesday for Alexandria and Claude Roy scored two points. Luc Poirier popped in a single goal.

Dalhousie's single was scored by Mike Kelly.

APPLE HILL 6 JUNIOR C 6

The Alexandria Junior C squad and Apple Hill played nip-and-tuck hockey last Wednesday in a game that ended in a draw. But saw the Junior C club come away as the first team of the series not to be defeated by Apple Hill.

Mike Crack and Cameron McCormick scored two each for Jr. C and John McLeod and Mike Sullivan popped in singles.

Apple Hill goalgetters were Brian Wensink with a hat trick, Richard MacDonell with two and Allan MacDonell with a single.

Textile team wins league and tournament Saturday

Consolidated Textiles won the Alexandria Industrial Soft Puck Hockey League play-off championship last week, and captured the Class "A" division, in an eight-team tournament held on Saturday.

In league play-offs, the team lost to a determined CIP Foods team on Monday by a score of 3 to 2. However, it proved to be the better club on Thursday with a 3-1 win over CIP Foods and they took the series three games to one.

The Textile team was victorious again on Saturday as it captured the tournament Class "A" division, with a 2-1 win over Glen Robertson. It tied this contest with only two minutes to go in the third period and then scored the winning goal at 4:16 in the first overtime period. It was the most exciting game in the tournament.

IGA surprised everyone when it won the "B" division with an easy win over a team sponsored by the Alexandria Lions Club.

The results of the tournament were as follows: CIP Foods 6, IGA 1; Cons. Textiles 8, Alex. Lions 0; Glen Robertson 2, Alex. Moulding 0; Betty Bread 3, Roy's Garage 0; IGA 3, Alex. Moulding 0; Alex. Lions 2, Roy's Garage 1; Glen Robertson 4, CIP Foods 1; Cons. Textiles 2, Betty Bread 1; IGA 10, Alex. Lions 0; Cons. Textiles 2, Glen Robertson 1.

Char-Lan Crusades

by Greg Kalil

The past week along with the next several weeks have been and will be good opportunities for Char-Lan's student body to learn new things. They received some valuable tips at the Ottawa and Kinsmen Music Festivals, have a possible math scholar in their midst, will examine the semester system, and will have a chance to discuss young people's problems with a knowledgeable counselor.

VALUABLE EXPERIENCE

Last Thursday at the Ottawa Music Festival the band learned what tough competition is. They placed a downheartening four points short of first. The Kinsmen Festival in Cornwall was not quite so disappointing. The band learned a lot from their conquerors—Glengarry District and La Citadelle.

GOOD MATH STUDENT

There were contests, howe[ver] where Char-Lan received [a very favorable result. Robbie Sova, a grade 11 stu[dent], placed seventh in the Eas[tern] Ontario Junior Math Conte[st]. Congratulations to Robbie!

TO DISCUS[S] SEMESTER

To understa[nd] how more students of Rob[bie]'s calibre can be produced, t[he] School Committee and the S[tu]dents' Council will meet ne[xt] Monday night to discuss t[he] semester system and its effe[cts] on Char-Lan. Anyone interes[ted] in this aspect of the schoo[l] system should find this meet[ing] very informative.

P[RO]BLEMS TO THE FORE

[An]other discussion will be [tak]ing place earlier this week at [Ch]ar-Lan. On Thursday, April 27 at 11:30 a.m. Bishop Eugene [Lap]Rocque will be at Char-Lan to discuss with senior students the problems that concern young people. Anyone wishing to attend this event is welcome.

Church group sets supper date for June

by Mary [Th]ompson

Mrs. Harold [Ba]rney opened the UCW m[eeting] of St. Andrew's Church, [Da]insville, with an appropriate [the]m for the spring season. "[Go]d Cares for Us."

Fourteen members answered the roll call.

Mrs. May McEwen had charge of the worship service and Mrs. H. J. MacCuaig had the program. Dates were chosen for our upcoming suppers. July 8, was chosen for our ham and salad supper and Sept. 16 for our Fall turkey supper.

Our May meeting is to be an evening meeting in the Church Hall and Mr. and Mrs. John Fourney, who have recently visited the Holy Land, are to be guest speakers. Knox and Salem members are invited to attend.

Mrs. MacCuaig closed the meeting with a poem "Think it Over," which was originally written by Carol Baxter of Alexandria. Lunch and a social half hour was enjoyed with hostesses Mrs. Geo. Snider and Mrs. Doug Cameron.

The last four meetings of the Nitty Gritty's 4-H Club sponsored by the Picnic Grove Women's Institute brought to a close a very interesting project.

This was followed by an exchange of books and plants.

Margaret Oetelaar taught her fellow members how to crochet.

Mrs. Hawn, a teacher of ceramics in Quebec Province brought some finished and unfinished ceramics and demonstrated the different steps in ceramics. Mrs. Hawn gave the girls a pattern for a handmade rug.

Babysitting was well demonstrated by Mrs. Susan Henssen and her five-month-old daughter, Sarah.

Miss Mary Michels attended the seventh meeting. All members attended the last meeting to display the beautiful crafts they had made during the course.

Physical fitness was discussed and a skit 'Women's right to Vote' was chosen to be presented at the Achievement Day, Saturday, April 29, at the Glengarry District High School.

Daughters of Isabella hear about Red Cross Society

Wednesday April 19th was the date of the monthly meeting of Notre Dame de Fatima Circle 919.

Regent Annette Desrosiers welcomed the members and thanked them for the lovely flowers received while she was convalescing at home.

Mrs. Claudette Vaillancourt of Glen Norman was an invited guest to the circle. She explained to the circle the meaning and purposes of the Red Cross Society. She said three courses could be given if sufficient funds were raised. She also asked for volunteers to work for the Red Cross.

For more information on the courses, a meeting will be held at Glengarry Memorial Hospital Board Room, May 2 at 8 p.m. Rejeanne Lajoie thanked Mrs. Vaillancourt for her good work with the society.

Father Desrosiers recited prayers for the sick and asked the circle to pray for vocations, that God may send us priests for our diocese. He reminded us that in a few years there will be hardly any priests to take over.

A special "thank you" was received from Rev. Aurelius Maschio of Bombay for donations. He told us that this money was used to provide orphans with food and assist lepers with special medical treatment. He said that our donations brought joy and sunshine to these needy brethen. He also asked for our continuous co-operation to their crusade against suffering and starvation.

Eva Lefebvre gave her report for the month of April. Her committee has undertaken the task of celebrating the birthdays of the month. Eleven residents at the Community Nursing Home received gifts, and also each received "a mini birthday cake" made by Mrs. Edna Dubois. Several gifts were donated to the circle for the occasion.

Many invitations were received by the circle: May 1, The newly formed "Majorettes of Lancaster" are giving a performance in Glengarry District High School with the Alexandria Majorettes.

May 7, Fashion show in Ottawa.

May 14, Daughters of Isabella supper in Rockland. Crowning of a mother will be held also.

WCTU organizes group at meeting

On April 12 the organizing meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in Alexandria United Church Hall. Catherine McLeod is president and Hazel Jamieson is vice-president.

The key point of discussion was the lack of a good alternative to alcohol in this area. Every dance has a bar where a teen who looks old enough can easily obtain liquor. Teens like to be among friends and be part of the crowd which makes peer pressure to drink something many young people cannot handle.

Those attending the meeting were told of impending legislation in Ontario to raise the drinking age from 18 to 20 years and were asked to write Mr. Villeneuve and Mr. Davis stating their support.

Sincere Christian women may join the WCTU by signing the pledge of total abstinence from all alcoholic beverages. Men may become associate members.

The next meeting is on Monday, May 18 at 8:30 p.m. in Lochiel Township Hall.

UCW members attended meeting in Kemptville

"Oil for our lamps" was the theme of the 10th annual meeting of the Seaway Valley Presbyterial of the UCW held on Wednesday in Kemptville. 187 ladies registered for the day which was under the leadership of Lillian Allison. chairperson of the Presbyterial.

Enid Arscott was in charge of music and the theme song, "Give me oil in my lamp" was sung several times during the day. The afternoon worship on the theme was conducted by Muriel Eastwood of Cornwall. The thought was brought out that "having oil in our lamps means living our lives in Christ who gives us strength for anything".

Mary Wall and Mary Loree reminded the group of two important events, "Summer Event" in August and "Festival of Faith" in October.

Mrs. Miriam Woodland brought greetings from M & O Conference UCW and spoke briefly on her experience as president. Rev. Charles Massey brought greetings from Seaway Valley Presbytery.

Guest speaker for the day was Mrs. Anne Squire of Ottawa, an outstanding church worker, educator and curriculum writer. Mrs. Squire used scripture to show the many references to oil and its uses. The chief use was for burning and the group struggled with the question, "Do you feel burned-out or is there still some oil in your lamps?"

We need to keep our oil supply refilled so we can burn at a steady glow. Sources for this oil are in worship, both public and private; in study and in forming a positive image of ourselves as women.

Mrs. Squire feels that religious education needs to uncover the hidden history of women so that women can realize their special importance as daughters of God. She mentioned the many references Jesus made to women and ways he broke the traditions of his day by showing mutual love and respect, by refusing to accept the stereotype of women, by refusing to accept double standards, by teaching both men and women and by challenging laws which were detrimental to women.

The three most important revelations Jesus made were to women: That of Advent (to Mary), of his messiahship (to the woman at the well) and of resurrection (to the women at the tomb).

Mike Saver of Iroquois explained his role as drama coach for a 28-week period in the Presbytery. He is attempting to set up workshops, etc. in the various zones.

During the afternoon the following slate of officers was installed by the president of the Conference UCW, Miriam Woodland: President Lillian Allison, Corresponding Secretary Margaret Casselman, Recording Secretary Elizabeth Beaudette, Treasurer Marion Peterson.

Conveners are: Press and Publicity, Beryl Bruce; Stewardship, Nan Brown; Personal Growth, Alice McLauchlan; Literature, Lorraine Cleary and Edith Jenkins; World Outreach, Betty Linnett; Church in Society, Ann Webber; Nominating, Jean Scott.

Regional Vice-Presidents—Phyllis Noble (I), Ruth Alguire (2), Muriel Milne (3) and Martha Hunter (4).

Mary Stafford of St. Eugene gave a poetic "thank you" to all who took part in this annual meeting and Prescott UCW conducted the closing worship.

Teachers study the development of young

Jean Humphries of Laggan School was one of 300 elementary school women teachers from all over Ontario who spent their weekend (April 21-22) in Toronto learning more about the ways in which young children learn.

A new book on Early Childhood Education which has just been published by the Federation of Women Teachers was given to each delegate. The book explores the complexities which must be considered when planning effective learning for young children.

Dr. Bayne Logan, a professor at the University of Ottawa gave a presentation on children's emotional development and Dr. Janet Russell, a professor at Queen's University outlined how children learn to use language.

Dr. Marcel Kinsbourne from the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children explained the causes of hyperactivity and advised teachers how such behaviour can be managed. There was discussion on the pros and cons of using tranquilizers with children.

The focus of the conference was to look at ways schools can establish the best possible learning programmes for young children. Learning theory and how it should be translated into practice was presented by Virginia Plunkett, a consultant from the Colorado Department of Education, and was the conference theme.

Martintown Rumor Mill

Art Buckland—528-4261

"Take her to starboard," the bowman cried. The stern paddler heeled the canoe over.

"Left, you landlubber!", the bowman shouted. "Rocks ahead!"

Crunch, crack, crrunk.

"I told you that we should have portaged around these rapids," spluttered the bowman.

"Think of our misfortune as a service to others who follow. Now all these rocks are marked with yellow paint from the bottom of our canoe," remarked the stern paddler, pulling seaweed off his canoe hat.

"I don't mind tipping; now that it's over; I don't mind losing my hand-made paddle from Avery's in Martintown, but I hate to lose our survival rations. I just can't bear the thought of losing all that scotsyr."

"Don't worry about it. The women will get us a hot meal after we get hauled out. But tell me Mac, just what is this stuff anyway, this scotsyr?"

"Oh don't remind me," screamed his tormented partner, "it's the best maple syrup from Edgar Runions' bush combined with a gallon of whiskey from old Black Joe's barley malt. It's Glengarry Drambuie or Scotch and syrup or scotsyr."

"Good gracious man, why didn't you say so before." And he disappeared underwater swimming furiously upstream to the spot where they had capsized.

The canoe run was a great success this year. The Martintown public school Grade 8 Student Trip to Quebec City Committee—(now how would you like to wear that on a crest? Even as MPSG8STQC, it's a dazzler) selling food and drink at the Raisin River Conservation booth, did very well.

Alice Lapensee, Rita Poapst, Jan Buckland performed 5 hours of excellent customer servicing, Jalkanens, Lapensee girls, Lynn Lalonde, Andrea Buckland, were also helpful cooks and waitresses. Melva Jalkanen sold $20 worth of cookies to people in the crowd who were hungry but did not want to lose their viewing spot. Jan Buckland sold a hot dog to a monkey in a riverbank tree. Fortunately she got his money first; unfortunately he couldn't catch the hot dog; fortunately he caught the bun; fortunately we had another bun and thus were able to sell that dog again.

Thanks to Bessy, Molly, Elsie, Gertrude for supplying the milk. These are not wives of Glengarry milk producers, but the milk producers themselves; i.e. two Holsteins, a Guernsey and a goat. We would love to thank the Glengarry farmers by name, but if the milk board found out—wow! All those city people with unpasteurized milk in them.

Local paddlers were Don Christie and Melba Murray in one canoe and Billy Murray and Diane Ingram in another. Don Christie told me that they didn't have their wives in front because they wanted someone who would listen to their orders.

Ed and Alice Lapensee's family was also represented. Bruce McCuaig a former winner decided to rest on his laurels this year.

CONTEST WINNERS

My word game is over and books go to the following winners: Mary Lacelle, North Lancaster. Mary said, "This is really unbelievable. I got 130 words before I used the dictionary." Betty MacDonald, Purcell Road, is another winner. Betty had the longest word formed from the letters in "English" and "French" i.e. "screening." Scott Fraser, Cornwall; Joyce Lalonde, Lancaster, all composed over 200 words. Incredible.

Books also go to the following winners: Ralph Westley, Lancaster. Ralph went through the dictionary four pages a night, after chores. Onagh Ross, Martintown, is another winner.

Other nimble word-manipulators are: Mrs. Neil McDonell, Cornwall; Mrs. Robert Crawford, Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Mrs. Hilda Kennedy, Avonmore; and Miss M. C. MacDonell, Williamstown.

I will leave the books for Mary, Betty, Joyce, Hilda and Miss M. C. MacDonell at The News office in Alexandria. If you can't pick them up there, I'll mail them out to you. Congratulations to the winners and to everyone who entered. Thank you for such a response. My best contest yet.

Mrs. Robert Crawford of Charlottetown PEI writes in a letter dated April 12, which only took 10 days to get to me with her contest entry:

"Probably this entry for your contest is too late but will send it along anyway as it was fun working on it! It is just a week since we received our copy of the Glengarry News of March 8, 1978 in which you mentioned this contest! Since that we received the April 8 paper—we had none in between—so are missing a lot as we've had only one or two papers per month since my husband's brother (in Apple Hill) sent us a subscription to the paper at Christmas. I've written to the publisher, however I expect they send the papers but these likely get lost in the mail. We enjoy the 'Martintown Rumor Mill' in each copy we do get!"

SPECIAL DISPLAY

The Martintown UCW is holding a Mother's Day Tea Sale, Quilt Sale and display, in the Martintown public school gymnasium on May 13. A special "Heritage Quilt Display" will be the highlight. Anyone wishing to sell or display a quilt should contact Sylvia Thomson (528-4200). I look forward to seeing this early Canadian craftsmanship on display.

EXHIBITION

Brenda Morris, daughter of Cliff and Audrey Morris of Martintown North is displaying her paintings and photography at the Williamstown library from April 26 to May 6. "Tracks in Time" is the title of her exhibition. Brenda is graduating from St. Lawrence College in Cornwall next month. Youth, beauty and creative talent all rolled into one.

If you hire young people for new summer jobs, Ontario will help you pay their salaries.

Here's how the program works.

If you operate a business or farm and create new jobs between May 1 and October 21, 1978, the Ontario Youth Employment Program will give you a grant of $1.25 per hour (up to a maximum of $50.00 a week) towards the wages of each eligible youth you hire for those jobs.

Employers; Anyone who has carried on a business or operated a farm in Ontario for at least one year prior to May 1 may receive grants for up to 6 new positions per business location for eligible youth employees.

Employees; Employees must be at least 15 but not 25 years old on May 1, 1978. Employees cannot be directly related to the employer. Employees must reside and be eligible to work in Ontario.

Duration; The program is in effect for 25 weeks from May 1 through October 21, 1978. An employer is not required to hire a youth for the full 25-week period.

Terms of Employment; To be eligible for funding, a position created must be in addition to regular and seasonal employment normally provided during the program period. It must provide a minimum of 25 hours of supervised work per week for at least six weeks.

Grant; Approved employers will receive a grant of $1.25 per hour up to a maximum of $50.00 a week (40 hours employment) for each youth hired under the program.

NOTE; Grant funds are limited. If you wish to hire a youth any time during the program's duration, please submit your application as soon as possible. In order to hire under the program you must first receive approval from the Ministry of Treasury. Applications for participation cannot be considered after September 4, 1978.

For more information on the Ontario Youth Employment Program and application forms please write: Ministry of Treasury, Subsidies Branch, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario M7A 2R8 or telephone 1-800-268-7192 (toll free). In Metro Toronto telephone 965-0570.

Ontario Hydro sets conservation objective

Ontario Hydro's target for reducing corporate energy consumption has been set at six per cent for 1978.

Coupled with the results of the 1977 corporate-wide conservation program, if the 1978 goal is reached it will mean an 18.5 per cent reduction of energy consumption.

"By the end of last year we had reduced energy consumption by 115 million kilowatt-hours," says Hal Wright, Hydro's Director of Energy Conservation, "and that figure is almost equal to the amount of electricity supplied to towns the size of Markham or Newmarket."

Hydro's in-house conservation program last year focused on lowering heating and lighting levels and monitoring fuels used in transport and work equipment.

Wright says the 1978 conservation program will continue "good housekeeping" practices, but also move to more concrete means of reducing the amount of energy used.

"Hydro's Orillia area office is being upgraded with insulation and other buildings will be equipped with additional weather stripping and automatic controls for lighting, heating and air-conditioning," said Wright.

He added that the success of the conservation program is reflected by the number of inquiries about the plan from other industries and corporations in Ontario.

"We have undertaken an active campaign to get the consumer to conserve electricity. We would like to see that effort spread further into the industrial sector, and we're trying to set an example," Wright added.

Senior band earns highest mark in competition

The GDHS senior band received the highest marks overall Saturday in the Kinsmen Music Festival, at Cornwall and earned a third place overall on Friday at the Ottawa Music Festival Association.

The Saturday competition included five bands and judgment was based on timing, tuning, syncopation and the overall impression of the band.

The third place win by the senior band on Friday was judged on the same basis as its win in Cornwall. The group earned a combined mark of 161 for two selections of Fiesta Del Rio and Allerseelen.

Adjudicator's remarks following the competition stated that the senior band had "Excellent timing, graceful advance and lovely clarinet tone. The band has a wonderful sense of dynamics and a real sense of excitement. Masterful handling of percussion and a joy to hear."

The GDHS stage band also performed in Cornwall but was not eligible in the competition as three adults were included in the group. However the adjudicator stated that the group had "Excellent syncopation and the piano rhythm was very marked and exciting. A wonderful group. You could, I am certain, sell yourselves anywhere."

"You are a credit to your area, parents and school," concluded the adjudicator.

The GDHS clarinet trio, clarinet quartet and the girls flute duet also had their abilities marked by the adjudicator. They were not entered in the competition.

The clarinet trio received a mark of 81 out of a possible 100. The trio includes Leslie Myers, Carole Duval and Birdeen Grant.

The clarinet quartet received 82 out of a possible 100. Included in this group are Henri Sarault, Carole Duval, Mona Peterson and Leslie Myers.

The girls flute duet of Suzanne Massie and Suzanne Lemieux earned a mark of 80 from the adjudicator.

Tender call for activity center

The Honorable Lorne Henderson, Minister of Government Services, has announced that tenders are now being called for the construction of a Horticultural Activity Centre at the College of Agricultural Technology, Kemptville.

A Ministry of Agriculture and Food project, the new centre will contain two buildings approximately 10,300 square feet in total floor space and provide for educational and service facilities for the use of students and staff of the College. The construction of specially furnished and equipped greenhouses, a laboratory, potting room and various work areas are specified for the project. In addition, the centre includes a prefabricated machine shed for the routine maintenance and storage of vehicles and equipment which service the College. The buildings are designed to meet Ontario Government energy conservation requirements.

Design and contract documents have been prepared by the Ministry of Government Services and associate architects Ellwood and Henderson of Ottawa.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Public pay is public business

Last week, The News carried stories about the salaries of various public servants in town. We did this, not to embarrass anyone in particular, but merely to inform the public of the facts.

Although most people have thanked us for putting the information before them, the odd person has responded with, "How would you like your salary published?" Our response is, "What employer in private business does not know what his employees are making?"

When one accepts a public job, he must recognize that the public is his employer. A public servant is just that—a "servant" of the public. And in any household, the "master" knows what he is paying his servants.

Also, the public has a right to know how its elected people are allocating public funds. Such information is one means of evaluating a councillor's performance between elections. Some taxpayers might wonder, for example, why they are paying for annual 10 per cent raises for town staff when they (the taxpayers), themselves, have been restricted to lesser increases under Anti-Inflation Board guidelines? Is that fair?

To his credit, the town clerk willingly provided all the information The News requested. The same co-operative attitude held true for the Police Commission and the Public Utilities Commission.

Adrian finally makes his move

Without taking sides in the upcoming federal election, we wish to say how much we welcome Adrian Gadbois' decision to seek the Conservative Party nomination for Stormont-Dundas.

We're not saying at this point whether we feel he is the best man for the job, but we do know how long he's been scratching that federal itch of his. Hardly a Charlottenburgh Township Council meeting has passed without Gadbois taking a shot at the Liberal administration in Ottawa. He has been quoted as saying the time had come to put up or shut up. Win or lose, at least he'll get it out of his system.

The reeve is not known for his finely-sanded edges. In fact, his rough-hewn bluntness has almost become his trademark. To Gadbois, there are no sacred cows—the school system, unemployment insurance, capital punishment, bilingualism. He has definite viewpoints on all of these issues and he won't hesitate to tell you about them.

If he does get the nomination, it won't be a dull election.

Smith displays sound leadership

Ontario's opposition leader, Stuart Smith, gets a vote of confidence from us this week. Despite constant prodding by the New Democratic Party, the Liberal leader has acted honorably and responsibly in his attempts to block the 37.5 per cent increase in OHIP premiums.

The New Democrats have been playing procedural games, forcing Smith to support the government on certain votes because the Liberals don't want to spark an election at this time—at least not until the government has been given a chance to respond to Smith's sound alternatives to the increase.

Rather than just rant and rave about the hike, Smith has provided a workable alternative in black and white. He has suggested:

—Limiting the increase to six per cent, which is within AIB guidelines. Revenue gained is $51 million.

—Trimming the fat in Ministry of Health estimates. Smith said the Liberals see at least $50 million worth of padding in this year's budget.

—Forcing the government to implement its own policy of limiting staff pay hikes. Although Provincial Treasurer Darcy McKeough announced a four per cent ceiling on wages, the estimates show that an additional 8.4 per cent has been budgeted for salaries, wages and benefits. Revenue gained by Smith's proposal is $67 million.

—Cutting spending for public relations, consultants and printing by five per cent. Saving is $24 million.

—Increasing corporate income taxes by half a point to 12.5 per cent. This would generate $41 million and harm the corporate sector much less than the OHIP increase which would cost business $122 million.

—Using excess lottery funds for general revenue. Smith notes that $77 million of lottery revenue will remain unallocated at the end of the fiscal year. He proposes taking $38 million out of this fund.

The package would produce $271.7 million in revenue, almost exactly the amount the OHIP increases are expected to bring in.

That's what we call leadership.

It would probably be easy to topple the government over the OHIP issue, but by taking this positive approach, Smith is demonstrating that he is more concerned about serving the public than winning power.

If the governing Conservatives fail to take his advice, he will have every moral right to call a vote of non-confidence, and precipitate an election. If that happens, the record will at least show that he put the public welfare first.

Came home from the CWL dinner to find Number Six Son sewing hems on his jeans.

"It's about time you got here," I was greeted. "Here, you can finish the job."

"Now just hold it right there. Why should I sew your jeans when you are doing such a good job yourself?"

"Because it is a mother's job to sew her kids' clothes!"

"Only if her kids are very young or have both hands amputated at the wrists."

"You used to sew for the other kids in the family. How come I gotta do my own jeans?"

"Because I know better now. You wouldn't want me to raise all you kids and not learn anything would you?"

"I thought you were supposed to be teaching us, not learning from us."

"It's called interchange. You teach something, you learn something."

"Seems to me the older kids were the lucky ones. They didn't have to do their own sewing."

"I doubt if everyone thinks they were the lucky ones. Their wives are probably wishing coals of fire on my head for not teaching them how to sew."

"It's not fair. Why should I have to do things the other boys did not?"

"Because once upon a time I thought men's and women's work was categorized. Now I find we have to do each other's jobs. So I would not be doing a favor to do this for you because you wouldn't learn how to do it yourself. And some day when I'm not around to supervise and your jeans need fixing, you'd be stuck."

"Well I'm stuck now. Both sides are stuck together."

"So, you rip them apart and put a book in the leg. You can't sew through that."

"What happens when a fellow gets a wife, I hope she's kinder than a mother?"

"The wife probably has to put her own hems on. Or she might not even know how, and you could do it for her."

"It sure is unlucky to be the young one in the family. There is just no service at all!

First it was the Central Junior A League as Brockville failed in a die-hard effort to make the play-offs. Son Number One was out of the running early.

Sons Six and Four then packed it up in that order as the Bantams and Midgets wound up in the Can-Am League.

While the Intermediate B and Junior C leagues finished, Sons Two and Five then got into The Glengarry News Cup play so extended the season a little later, to the past weekend, in fact.

And Son Number Three got nicked in the quarter finals of the WHA on Sunday.

There sure were a lot of hockey games to fill in the winter.

They'll Do It Every Time

Perspective

by Bob Roth

Know your rights

One of the weaknesses of our electoral system is that you cannot control politicians very effectively once they're elected. Although the concept of representative democracy assumes that politicians represent the public, we all know this is not always the case. Capital punishment is the most obvious case in point.

While size alone makes public consultation at the federal and provincial levels of government difficult, there is less excuse for ignoring the public will at the local level. Many municipal politicians, however, regard between-term input as an unwelcomed intrusion into their affairs. Their rhetoric about being "public servants" dies down as soon as the ballots are counted, and the attitude of accommodation that was so pronounced during the campaign is eclipsed by a new-found sense of power. They become "public rulers."

Election to public office, however, does not bring with it an instant endowment of genius. It is impossible for a candidate to know what issues will develop between elections and he cannot adequately represent his constituents if he does not make an effort to communicate with them regularly during his term.

Naturally, the best way of getting feed-back is to ensure that the issues are made public through the media. Many councils, however, thoroughly block this avenue by holding an unhealthy number of their meetings behind bolted doors.

The public, too, must become vigilant, and ensure that elected people are doing their jobs properly. Many citizens simply are unaware of the rights and privileges they have as taxpayers. They still work under the assumption, "You can't fight city hall."

One section of the Municipal Act, for example, guarantees citizens the right to walk into the town or township hall at any reasonable hour and ask to look at the books. Section 216 of the Act reads as follows:

"Except as otherwise provided in any Act, any person, at all reasonable hours, may inspect any records, books, accounts and documents in the possession or under the control of the clerk, except inter-departmental correspondence and reports of officials of any department or of solicitors for the corporation made to council, board of control or any committee of council, and the clerk within a reasonable time shall furnish copies of them or extracts therefrom certified under his hand to any applicant on payment at the rate of 10 cents for every 100 words or such other rate as council may fix."

People are also unaware of how easy it is to start a provincial inquiry into the operation of their municipality. All you need is 50 names on a petition. Section 323 of the Act says the province "may issue a commission to inquire into any of the affairs of any municipality or local board thereof and any matter connected therewith and the commissioner has all the powers that may be conferred on a commissioner under The Public Inquiries Act."

A commission may be recommended by the province, itself, "or upon the request in writing of not less than one-third of the members of a council or of not less than 50 ratepayers assessed as owners and resident in the municipality."

These are only some of the rights people have. In the future, I hope to list more. Knowledge is power. And that's one reason politicians like to keep people in the dark as much as they can.

Villeneuve stands firm on milk report

Parliament Buildings,
Toronto, Ontario,
April 20, 1978

The editor:
The Glengarry News:

I read with dismay your headline in the April 12 edition which stated, "Villeneuve telling 'half truths', MP Lumley says," and I felt I must reply.

First, however, some relevant facts about the dairy industry and the quota system. In 1970 there were 443 million lbs. B.F. for industrial milk production in Canada. Ontario's share at that time was 148.8 million lbs. and Quebec's was 196.8 million lbs. In 1977, Ontario's share had shrunk to 116 million lbs. and Quebec's had dropped to 177.6 million lbs.

By February, 1978, there were 2,080 registered milk shippers in the five Eastern Counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell. Of these, 574, or 27 per cent, had no milk sharing quota and had to turn over $7 per cwt. to the Canadian Dairy Commission.

I am well aware that the provinces and the federal government agreed on the amount of industrial milk that was to be processed so there would be no surplus build-up. I fully agree with that principle but the fact remains that there is no surplus situation at the present time. The processors are crying for milk and are paying $9.65 per cwt.

As a matter of interest, one processor has openly stated that he could use another 30 to 40 million pounds a year if he could obtain it, even from Quebec, and even at a higher price than he would pay in Ontario. I might add that he could have sold every pound of the processed product on the domestic market which, in the winter months, he could not supply.

It is my belief that if there is not a revision made in the quota system, we in Ontario will have fewer and fewer producers.

I know some farmers who have tried shipping cream to the creamery in Alexandria for $1.19 per lb. But the producer received only 19c of this, since $1 for every lb. had to be remitted to the Canadian Dairy Commission when the farmer had no quota. Farmers will not—and should not—work 16 hours a day for this kind of treatment.

As to the question of "off-setting" shipments between Ontario and Quebec, I know that over 100 fluid milk producers in Eastern Ontario are registered as Quebec shippers. Some of them have enjoyed the fluid milk market in Montreal for three generations or more.

There are also some 80 to 90 milk producers on the Quebec side of the Ottawa River who are registered in Ontario and deliver fluid milk to a pasteurizing plant in Ottawa. These arrangements have existed for years. But they involve fluid milk, not industrial milk. Mr. Lumley is mixing apples and oranges.

What bothers me most is that in our area the industrial shipper (or Pool #2 shipper) is not getting a fair deal. When he is out of quota—as 574 were—he cannot ship, even when the demand is there. And, as I have demonstrated, the demand is there. Each of the 574 producers could have been accommodated to the tune of 60,000 lbs. by the one processor who was looking for the extra 30 to 40 million lbs. Our farmers are being denied a market that exists right at home!

Now, as to the question of whether I deal in "half truths," I will let my record of 30 years as a public servant answer that. I have never tried to mislead people although my views have not always been shared by everyone. That, however, is the essence of democracy; each is entitled to his own views.

But after all the years I have spent fighting for a better deal for the people I represent—regardless of party—I deeply resent any implication that I have been less than truthful on any subject.

Yours sincerely,
Osie Villeneuve, MPP,
Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry

Villeneuve fan comes through

1031 Winton Crescent,
Bathurst, N.B.
April 17, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

You and the rest of us know very well that Osie Villeneuve is not a liar. Why do you, in glaring headlines brand him as such? This kind of cheap sensationalism has no place in such a respectable newspaper as I had always found The Glengarry News to be.

While we know that you differ with Osie in his political views, it does not justify your calling him a liar whether you are quoting from what an opposing politician said or not. He has done more for his constituents whether they be of his political party or not, than any other member has since confederation.

A public apology, clearly spelled out in The Glengarry News, is the least you can do to remedy such unsavory smearing.

Yours truly,
J. H. St. Louis.

ED NOTE: We do not apologize for publishing the news. When a Member of Parliament makes a public statement on an important issue we feel it is our duty to convey that message to our readers, just as we have communicated Mr. Villeneuve's criticisms of the federal government in the past. In fact, if we were to censor Mr. Lumley's remarks, we would be guilty of committing the very sin of bias that the writer warns us to avoid. We challenge the contention that we "differ with Osie in his political views." We have always given fair coverage to all provincial candidates and do not recall either supporting or opposing Mr. Villeneuve editorially in the last election.

In regard to your Mar. 29th/78 editorial, "It's All Just a Matter of Timing," may we highly commend you for your stand on an issue which should concern every God-conscious person in our respective communities.

We, the priests of the Glengarry English Deanery, applaud your efforts in bringing to mind the subtle, however unintentional, ways in which our Christian heritage is being eroded. Are we making a "god" of sports, recreation, culture, pursuit of pleasure, etc., and forgetting about the God of our fathers?

In themselves these things are good—but when they take precedence over the worship of God, then one wonders.

Deputy Reeve replies

Green Valley, Ont.
April 24/78

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

In reply to your issue of April 12, 1978, on "Deputy Reeve Overreacts":

First I would like to thank The Glengarry News for reconfirming the assertion that the doors of the press are open to all under the principle of freedom of views. It seems that under this "freedom of views" have been amply labeled by "The News" and while freedoms are meant to be exercised, they certainly should not take precedence over publication of news.

While it is probably very fashionable and trendy to create an issue of whether council doors are open to the media or "vice versa," I believe that open doors on the part of council are for the purpose of good public government and should remain so, as long as it is the wish of the people.

If the media feels that news reciting must contain not only news but fake controversy, then let it be so, but not without a touch of regret on my part.

May I further suggest that if the media would care to join council in the aim of bringing municipal government back to the people it was meant to serve, then council's doors and ears will always be open to it.

Some of our decisions are of necessity made behind closed doors for much the same reasons as a jury retires to its private chambers to consider its deliberations.

I would also like to state that I have never been in the past and will not be in the future an advocate of a secret service. I would like to see more people taking an interest and getting out to our meetings. This would make a much better government.

Sincerely yours,
Ewen McDonald

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Today I received a letter from Donald A. McFadgen, president of the Ottawa Piping Club, following an appearance of the Glengarry Pipe Band in Ottawa. I think the message may be of interest to others in the county.

Yours truly,
David Danskin

The message follows:

Dear David:

I am writing on behalf of the Ottawa Piping Club to thank you and the members of the Glengarry Pipe Band for the superb entertainment provided last evening at our April meeting.

Everyone in attendance made an effort to say how well you all played and to mention that the two highlights were the "Drum Solo" and J.T.'s rendition of "Shenandoah".

As I talked to the members of the band and listened to their performance, I could not help but think that maybe our country is not in as bad a shape as we all think. What you and the adults of the Glengarry Pipe Band have done for the youth in your area will stand them in good stead for the rest of their lives. They are our future citizens. I might even go so far as to say—if you want to meet a good Canadian citizen, shake hands with a member of the Glengarry Pipe Band.

With renewed thanks and kindest personal regards.

Yours sincerely,

The week of May 8 to May 12, 1978, has been designated this year as National Week for the Mentally Retarded. As a member of the Canadian Association for the Mentally Retarded, we are joining in a nationwide effort on the behalf of the mentally retarded individuals of all ages and we will be sending out marigold seeds to all the families of this county.

In this concentrated effort, we spotlight the needs of the retarded, the services we are providing and the services still not established in the county of Glengarry. We ask for your help. We will be sending news releases and notices of events. Beyond this, however, the creative, professional contributions of your staff in interpreting our story to your readers will be of inestimable value.

During that week ARC Industries will be having an open house. The public may at that time feel free to drop in and see what the trainees have done and what they are presently doing. At 2 o'clock every afternoon the trainees will be serving tea or coffee.

The Mayor of Alexandria will be signing a proclamation designating the week of May 8 to May 12, 1978, as National Week for the Mentally Retarded and a week before that, the mayor will be planting the first seeds in front of the Town Hall of Alexandria.

The Glengarry News:

Some time ago I read in The Glengarry News of teachers who had settled for last year's contract. They were held up as examples for the rest of us to follow. According to the enclosed article the news release was misleading. We, in the United Counties, have been settling for salaries within the AIB guidelines I feel that we are doing as much for the economy of Canada as the Waterloo teachers.

I enjoy the "Rail Fence" section.

Sincerely,
Helena McCuaig

The article to which the writer makes reference is from the March issue of the Catholic Teacher Reporter. It follows:

Public elementary teachers in Waterloo County, who have declined a negotiated pay increase this year, may in fact get up to 14 percent more because of a cost of living clause.

"Brilliant but misleading" was how deputy-director Doug Knott described a newspaper story stating that elementary school teachers in Waterloo County had decided not to ask for a negotiated increase.

The article quotes Fay Calnek, chief negotiator for the teachers, as saying: "Teachers do not wish to open negotiations for a new agreement because of their concern for the financial circumstances of the board, and the effect any salary increase would have on local taxpayers.

"I believe this is a precedent in the province," she said. "About 95 percent of the elementary teachers supported the plan."

She added that the teachers will continue to receive a cost of living allowance negotiated in the current contract, which expires in August. If approved by local board trustees February 2, the contract will be extended to August 1979.

It is the cost of living allowance which negates the whole idea of altruism by the Waterloo teachers.

OECTA staff assistant Peter Murphy explains: "During the course of 1977-78, the Waterloo teachers are paid a full cost of living allowance, calculated monthly and paid twice yearly in a lump sum, as a percentage of their individual salaries. As of September 1978, the present salary scale will be increased by the percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index from August 1977 to August 1978, and the monthly COLA calculation will also continue.

"For instance, under present economic conditions, with the rate of inflation at nine and one-half per cent, a Waterloo teacher can expect to collect approximately four and a half percent increase in gross salary during 1977-78 and then an additional nine and a half per cent on the grid on September 1, 1978."

April 20, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

May we use your newspaper to assist us in the following project? We are attempting to organize for 1979, a 30-year re-union of students attending Alexandria High School in 1949-50.

In order to determine the amount of interest we would appreciate hearing from students enrolled in all grades that school year.

If you are interested in a re-union, would you please contact either Mrs. Ruth McDonald (MacLeod), 2578 Traverse Dr., Ottawa, Ontario, K1V 8B1, or Mrs. Hortense Charbonneau (Lauzon), P.O. Box 34, Green Valley, Ont.

If there is a favorable response, we will proceed with further plans.

Thank you.

Yours truly,
Ruth McDonald.

SKATE-A-THON WINNERS—The Kenyon-Lochiel Junior Farmers Treasurer John MacPherson, left, presents a $15 cheque to Brent McMeekin, 11, for coming second in the club's fund-raising project. Kirsty MacLeod, 11, and Bonnie MacLeod, 10, were tied for first and receive their $25 cheques from Manson Barton. All made 100 laps at the Laggan rink in one hour. Awards were based on how much money participants obtained through pledges.

Popularity increase noted in red clover seed sales

Red clover accounts for 21% of all legume seed sold in Ontario. Most of the popularity is in Eastern Ontario and the north.

At Kemptville, red clover may outyield alfalfa the first year. By the third production year it must be plowed under. The problem is disease.

Root rots caused by fusarium and crown rots by sclerotinia organisms are the two major problems. Most of the damage occurs in the early spring when plants are weakest and stresses are at their maximum. Potassium and also phosphorus are essential in good root development and resistance to disease. During warmer humid weather powdery mildew also takes its toll. Fortunately recommended varieties give some resistance to mildew.

It's interesting to note that 21% of the seed sold in Ontario is single cut. Double cut varieties are recommended because they produce better aftermath than single cut varieties and it is much easier to match their maturity with our recommended grass species. Under European conditions single cut varieties are favoured north of 60° latitude. That's about 1,000 miles north of Ottawa. Practically all U.S. red clover is double cut. Both types are excellent yielders on the first cut. With reasonable moisture only double cut types will produce both forage on the first cut and seed later in the season. Last year there were 1,162,900 lb. of seed sold in Ont., up 10% over the previous year. Total legume seem usage was down 9%.

Extremes in drainage patterns are not found on most of E. Ontario's low lying land. In these poorly drained conditions use a short term red clover-alsike-timothy misture with the grass as an insurance policy. All experimental evidence at the Kemptville College demonstrates that complex kitchen sink mixtures don't produce as well.

Extremely variable fields may be suited to more complex mixtures where it is not practical to seed individual spots. In theory the best special survives. In practice the earliest competitor survives which may be a poor choice. The solution is to keep it simple to reduce unfavourable competition.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE 10 INCHES* OF INSULATION IN YOUR ATTIC, YOU'RE LOSING HEAT AND WASTING MONEY.
If your home is like 90% of Canadian homes, it's not properly insulated. This chart gives you an idea of how much you could save by bringing your home from the average level of insulation up to today's recommended standards. Of course, as energy costs go up, so will these savings.

	Oil Heat	Gas Heat	Electric Heat
ST. JOHN'S	$209	N/A	$296
FREDERICTON	$204	N/A	$215
MONTREAL	$195	$176	$202
TORONTO	$159	$115	$242

These savings are based on a typical 2-storey pre-war home of 1,100 square feet.
*Based on insulation material with R-3 value per inch (2.54 cm).

NOW HOMES BUILT BEFORE 1946 ARE ELIGIBLE FOR A HOME INSULATION GRANT OF UP TO $350.

If your home was built before 1946, is your principal residence, and is three storeys or less, you're eligible for a taxable grant of ⅔ of the cost of your insulation materials, up to a maximum of $350 (retroactive to materials purchased on or after September 1, 1977).

TEAM PLACED THIRD

The girls' gymnastics team did well at the EOSSA meet in Cornwall last Wednesday. The girls placed third out of 20 other high schools. Special mention should be made of Lucie Poirier, who came first on the team.

HAD SCHOOL DANCE

The school dance held on April 21 went over well, drawing a large crowd. The band was 'Duke of Earl', and they performed in true greaser style. Students who dressed as greasers were given discounts in their admission.

Last Friday, many students, as well as teachers, dressed in greaser style. Hair was greased back or put in pony tails. Boys wore jeans and girls wore skirts with bobby socks. It all contributed to a very interesting day. Rock and roll music from the 1950s was played all day in the cafetorium. At noon hour, all the greasers paraded across the stage in the cafetorium, where they were judged on their costumes. Susan Main came first in the girls' division, with honorable mentions being given to Alma Smits and Marilyn MacMillan. Gerald Gareau, "Chico," won first prize in the boys' division, and Mark Huot and Ricky Patten got honorable mentions. Susan and Gerald then judged the teachers who were dressed as greasers. The winners were Jo-Anne Marjerrison and Les Newman.

SPORTS WEEK

Sports Week was celebrated at GDHS from April 17 to April 21. Every noon hour, competitions were held in various activities. The competitions were open to all students who wished to enter. Four winners were chosen in each contest, a junior girl and boy, and a senior girl and boy. All these students received a medal for their achievements.

In the first contest, entrants had to volley a ball against a wall as many times in a row as possible. The junior winners were Madeleine Huot with 138 times and James Villeneuve with 154 times. The winners in the senior division were Sylvie Charlebois and Andre Chenier. In the football throw, the winners were Linda Hagen, Timmy Danaher, Bonnie Maclaren, and Blake MacKay.

The winners of the rope-climbing contest were Stefani Whelan, Maureen Morris, Richard Chabot, and Jacques Lajoie.

The soccer dribble, which consisted of bouncing a soccer ball around four cones, was won by Sonja Blanchette and Richard Chabot in the junior division, and Patty Everson and Blake MacKay in the senior division.

In the basketball throwing competition, Frances Salazar scored 34 baskets, Brenda Golden got 20 baskets, and the two senior winners, Andre Chenier and Sylvie Charlebois, got 31 and 28 baskets, respectively.

The municipality, its local boards and commissions are by agreement between the Government of Canada and the Government of the Province of Ontario dated January 13, 1976 subject to The Anti-Inflation Act (Canada) and the national guidelines. This legislation limits increases in compensation payments effective October 14, 1975. The Town has not yet filed the appropriate forms required under the provisions of the Act but it believes that no material unrecorded or contingent liability exists as at December 31, 1977.

9. Changes in Basis of Consolidation

In 1977, the municipality retroactively changed its basis of consolidation to include the revenues and expenditures, assets and liabilities of the Alexandria Waterworks System. The effect of this change on the net revenue (deficit) at the beginning of the year is as follows:

Opening accumulated revenue (deficit) - as previously reported	$(143,171)
Accumulated revenue Alexandria Waterworks System	5,003
- as restated	$(138,168)

10. 1977 Budget Figures

The 1977 budget figures on the statement of revenue and expenditure represents the consolidated budget figures of the Town of Alexandria, the Glengarry Planning Board and the Public Utilities Commission Waterworks System only. The budget for the Palais de Sport Glengarry Sports Palace is not included in those figures.

11. Comparative Figures

Certain of the 1976 figures have been reclassified so as to conform with the presentation adopted in the current year.

Latest dairy plan revealed

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan has announced the federal dairy program for 1978-79.

"Most dairy farmers had a good year in 1977-78. With the strong financial support of the federal government and the co-operation of producers and provincial marketing organizations, the coming year should be even better," Mr. Whelan said.

"This year's program will increase the producer's net returns by about 76 cents per hundredweight compared with April 1, 1977. For a producer of 300,000 pounds of industrial milk, that means an additional $2,300."

The increase in farmer returns will mean a five-cent increase in the support price for butter and a two-cent increase in the skim milk powder support price.

"These increases are less than the general rate of inflation and are necessary to maintain producer incomes in the face of rising costs," Mr. Whelan said. "We have kept the direct federal subsidy on industrial milk production at $2.66 per hundredweight. This subsidy keeps retail dairy product prices lower than they would otherwise be.

"As in other years, supply management is the key to the success of this year's dairy program. Individual producers have the responsibility of managing their herds to stay within their individual market sharing quotas."

Announced details of 1978 program

Agriculture and Food Minister Bill Newman has announced that the support price for the 1978 beef calf income stabilization program will be 51.5 cents per pound and the enrolment fee per cow $8.

All cows in the producer's possession as of April 1, 1978 are eligible for enrolment. The closing date for applications is May 31, 1978.

Enrolment forms will be mailed this month to producers who participated in the 1977 program and additional copies will be available from the offices of the agricultural representatives.

The provisions for the 1978 provincial plan are similar to those of 1977 but it appears there will be no federal plan this year.

Last year 14,400 producers enrolled nearly 350,000 cows in the beef calf program and received $12.1 million in stabilization payments. An additional $1.4 million was paid by the federal plan.

In making the announcement, Mr. Newman said, "The Ontario beef calf stabilization program is now entering its fourth year. It was introduced during a period of low beef prices and has proven extremely successful in maintaining the incomes of beef calf operators."

FARM REVIEW & FORECAST

Tractor accidents can be prevented

As the time for planting crops approaches, many farmers are anxious to begin work on the land. But in the planting rush many will forget about safety.

Larry Swinn, public relations co-ordinator for the Farm Safety Association of Ontario, says tractor-related accidents caused 18 fatalities on Ontario farms last year.

According to the statistics compiled by the Association, these tractor-related fatalaties accounted for nearly 40 per cent of the total number of farm fatalaties in 1977.

"These accidents could have been prevented if farmers were more safety conscious."

Tractor rollovers, resulting primarily from unsafe operating practices and lack of common sense, caused the majority of these fatalaties.

"Many accidents occur because farmers rush too much. To get crops planted farmers work overtime, often beyond their physical capabilities."

This creates the potential for injuries.

This season Mr. Swinn suggests farmers slow down and take extra time to do the work. Working the land in a logical manner will put the farmer ahead in the long run.

Before taking the equipment out on the field, Mr. Swinn suggests farmers make sure the tractor is well maintained and in safe working order.

"Equipment breakdowns costs the farmer valuable time. To make up the lost time farmers have to run the tractor faster than ever. This invites accidents."

Lochiel Calf Club

by Bruce MacNaughton

Our second meeting was held April 18 at 8 p.m. at the home of our leader, Robert MacDonald.

Kirsty MacLeod and Colleen Kennedy told us the different parts of the cow's body. We judged and gave the reasons for our placing of a class of four three-year-old cows.

Our lesson for this meeting was "Special Management practices and Disease Prevention in Beef and Dairy Cattle."

After adjourning the meeting we went to the dairy for lunch which was served by Mrs. Campbell MacDonald and Helen MacDonald.

Cornwall Centre Calf Club

The first regular annual meeting of the Cornwall Centre 4-H Calf Club was held April 10 at the home of Campbell Murray.

Our next meeting will be at 7:30 in Campbell Murray's barn; we will be judging cattle.

The chairman for the next meeting will be Brian Seguin and vice-chairman will be Paul MacAlear.

People taking leadership projects this year will be Nora Clancy, Sheila Beaudette, Margaret McDonald, Cindy Maloney and Helen Leitch.

Strathmore Calf Club

by Marvin Massia

The Strathmore 4-H Calf Club held its second meeting at the farm of Orin Montgomery on the 17 of April.

We had two more members join in at the meeting which makes 17 in all.

We had a discussion about the judging of mature dairy cattle which led into trying to judge them ourselves. This is keeping up the 4-H motto "Learn to do by doing."

After the meeting came to an end, our host served refreshments and we thanked him for the use of his barn. The next meeting will be on the 15 of May.

Veterinary Club

by Henry Krol

The second meeting of the Glengarry 4-H Veterinary Club was held at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 13, in the OMAF office in Alexandria.

Dr. R. V. Peters, Medical Health Officer with the Cornwall Health Unit, spoke to us about many fascinating diseases common to animals and man. He held us mesmerized with his fantastic diagrams and descriptions of the effects of various diseases on animals and man.

When he finished, there was a question and answer period then we left, feeling secure in the knowledge that we have a health unit to track down and eliminate most diseases.

Glengarry Horse Club

by Kim Burton

The first regular meeting of the Glengarry 4-H Horse Club was held on Thursday, April 13, at VLN Farms in Lancaster.

The subject of the meeting was showmanship, so we spent most of our time working with the horses. Each member had his chance to lead a horse the proper way and was shown how to stand in front of the judge.

Our next meeting will be about blood diseases and we hope to have an accompanying film.

Paul Emile Rouette dies at 72

A well known resident of Alexandria, Paul Emile Rouette died suddenly of a heart attack last Friday. He was 72.

A son of the late Oscar Rouette and his wife, Rosanna Alarie, he was born in La Pointe du Lac. He married the former Estelle Biron on October 10, 1930 and moved to Alexandria ten years later. He operated a garage on Main Street until 1968 when he sold to the Guindon Co.

The businessman was active on different school board committees for many years and was chairman of the local board before amalgamation. He was a faithful choir member of Sacred Heart Church and was active on the loan committee of the Caisse Populaire.

In addition to his wife, he leaves to mourn his loss, three sons and two daughters. They are: Yves of St. Lambert, Denis of Pincourt, Jean of Lapocatiere, Louise, Mrs. Gerald Bourdon of Pincourt and Micheline, Mrs. Ronald Cholette. He also leaves a daughter-in-law, Francine, who was married to his son Pierre who died in 1968. There are 17 grandchildren.

Also surviving are one brother and four sisters: Jules Rouette of La Pointe du Lac; his twin sister, Sister Paul Irene Rouette of Chute a Blondeau, Francoise and Lucienne of Montreal, and Claire, Mrs. Fernand Guindon of Cornwall.

The funeral was held in Sacred Heart Church on Monday at 11 a.m. A cousin, Father Marcel Dagenais officiated at the service assisted by Fathers Roger Desrosiers, Bernard Guindon, Patrick Breton, Raymond Dumoulin and Kemp.

Pallbearers were: Arthur Trottier, Theodore Desjardins, Jean Marc Viau, Raymond Legault, Marcel Francoeur and Claude Brunet.

Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Sunday Schools to have rally Saturday

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore, will be the scene of the gathering for all the Sunday School children of the Glengarry Presbytery on Sunday, April 30 at 3 o'clock.

The occasion is the annual Sunday School Rally and 103rd birthday party of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

This annual get-together of the children of the Glengarry Sunday Schools began with the centennial celebrations in 1975. This is the first time it is being held outside of Cornwall.

The children and their teachers will meet for a worship service, conducted by the children, in St. Andrew's Church, Avonmore—with lots of good singing and an interesting talk to the children. Then everyone will sit down to the birthday celebration in the church hall, with birthday cake, ice cream, etc.

A beautiful new attendance banner will be awarded to the Sunday School having the highest percentage attendance at the rally. The winners will hold the banner for the year, and it will be awarded each year at the rally.

Alexander School students celebrate education week

The focus for Education Week at the Alexander School was on Wednesday when parents were invited to be with us. Activities began at 12:45 when we joined Father Leo MacDonell in the celebration of the Eucharist at the Cathedral. Parents and friends then gathered in the school gymnasium where they were entertained by the children.

The program consisted of a wide variety of activities including a rythym band, a day in the classroom, a synopsis of the metric system, gymnastics, folk dancing, a play, and some excellent singing. Each of these acts was greeted with the enthusiastic approval of the large audience.

While enjoying a coffee our visitors were invited to tour the school which was well decorated for the occasion.

On Thursday the senior students were treated to a most informative and interesting talk from Mrs. Anna Margaret MacDonald, editor of The Glengarry News, on the many aspects of publishing a newspaper.

The theme of Education Week, "Speak to Me of Yourself," became a reality at the Alexander School during this week.

To hold open house

In an effort to acquaint the community with its local fire department, the Avonmore-Monkland Fire Department is holding an "Open House" next Saturday, April 29, from 1 to 6 p.m.

There will be a program of films. An opportunity will be given to view the new equipment, including a new salvage truck.

The fire hall has been enlarged to accommodate the new equipment. In Avonmore the pumper and salvage truck are located, while tank truck with a capacity of 1,800 gallons is situated in Monkland.

The display next Saturday will include the new telephone and radio system and there will be an explanation of its operation.

Those participating in the open house program will receive their new personalized telephone stickers.

Zetor
Tough tractors. Tender prices.
Compare Zetor looks and performance with any North American or imported tractor on the market. Then compare prices. And there's the story — value for money. The savings are substantial and above all, you'll end up with a tractor that rates with North America's best, in performance, comfort, reliability, economy and looks. Compare for example, the Zetor Crystal 8011* - it looks like a tractor, has all the standard features you'd expect on an 80 hp tractor, including a roomy safety cab and yet there are a few thousand dollars between the recommended retail price of the 8011 and its competitors. And those sort of savings are not to be sniffed at.

Cost of housing convicts being reduced

Ontario Minister of Correctional Services, Frank Drea, referred to his portfolio as "A polite word for 'Ministry of Jails.' Regardless of what we call correctional institutions, they are still jails."

His comment came at the SD&G Progressive Conservative Association election meeting in Finch last Wednesday night, where he was guest speaker.

"We are all concerned with the problem in our society," he stated. "I only get my prisoners after all else has failed. Their friends have given up on them and any other area of help has also given up. It's then that they come to me.

"I don't believe in the traditional methods of correction. More and more people are coming into my jails every day and they are costing the taxpayer a minimum of $40 per day to keep them. It now costs $65,000 per inmate to build a new jail and that's without any frills. That's three-and-a-half times the cost of building a new hospital.

"Keep in mind however, that a jail is exactly what the word implies and it must be secure, which is a big factor in its cost. Also keep in mind that the jails are there to protect you."

"With reference to the high cost of correctional services, and measures he is taking to alleviate them, Drea said, "If I had continued in the usual manner I would have bankrupt the ministry by now."

Drea has instituted a practice of putting prisoners to work in the community where they can be of some help to those they have committed crimes against. "I don't think that those who choose to go against the rules of society should have a free ride.

"Work built this country and convicts in my system are working for the community. They are not taking jobs away from others. What they are doing is clearing brush and roadwork.

"Putting a person in prison and leaving him there to think about what he has done is nonsense. Why should we take non-conformists and give them a place to deep-think? Then, after a given period of time simply open the door for them. That's a system that never did and never will work.

"The work program is our way of having the convict pay you and your community back. With work comes dignity and responsibility. I'm always prepared to give people a chance to assume responsibility.

"We are not perfect and we can't turn back the hands of time. But what we want is for you, the taxpayer, to take a look at what the Ministry of Correctional Services is doing and what we will be doing tomorrow.

"Tomorrow we can make this program work. We can cut out the experiments and all that fancy thinking and get back to the basics."

FRANK DREA

AUDITOR'S REPORT - TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH

The Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh

We have examined the 1977 financial statements of the Corporation of The Township of Charlottenburgh and its local boards, which are listed on the attached index. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh and its local boards as at December 31, 1977, and the results of their operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities.

Lending milk quota will be abolished

Producers will soon be unable to lend milk quota to each other, Ontario Milk Marketing Board Vice-Chairman Grant Smith announced last week.

Smith, who was guest speaker at the annual meeting of region one milk committees in Alexandria, received some opposition to the new policy, however.

Committee members countered that the lending practice was a friendly arrangement between neighbors and should be encouraged.

Smith said the change was being made because some producers are relying on borrowed quotas when they should buy it.

The OMMB also plans to start buying one half of all quota sold unless the quota is sold as part of an on-going farm operation.

The board wants to discourage the trading of quota for profit, Smith explained.

There was also discussion on the so-called "sleeve"—a narrow margin of adjustment amounting to five per cent of total milk—which allows for production fluctuations.

Shippers who ship milk in the quota "sleeve" will have to pay a special levy of 20 cents per hundredweight for extra marketing costs.

The charge will be refunded if the milk does not prove surplus to national needs.

Many passed tests

The annual dance tests were held at the MacCulloch School of Dancing over the weekend, with 185 successful candidates. The dancers were examined in Highland, Step-dancing and National Dances, and will receive the following awards: Primary, bronze, silver and gold medals, Blue Riband, Medallion, British Award and Premier Award plaques, as well as certificates in each of the eight grades of dancing. The adjudicator was Miss Nan Keeling from Renfrew, Scotland. Miss Keeling was especially impressed with the advanced and intricate steps performed by the primary grades and the natural stage appeal of the senior dancers.

Attended conference

Ann Williamson, Alexandria and Karen Gorrell, Morrisburg were among 300 women who attended the second annual PC conference held in Toronto recently. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis attended the president's reception Friday evening.

Guest speaker at Saturday's luncheon was Maureen McTeer. The Hon. Ruben Baetz, Minister of Energy, held a discussion on energy entitled, "A Look at the Future for Solar, Nuclear and Electric Power."

The Hon. Larry Grossman, Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations, topic was "Women and their Finances."

Sunday was the election of officers. President Robin Jeffrey was re-elected.
