Three Area Youths Killed In Two Accidents Early Sunday When Cars Struck Trees

A college student at his Lochiel home for the holiday weekend and two Vankleek Hill area youngsters met death in two accidents early Sunday morning. In each instance the car left Highway 34 and struck a tree.

Dead are:

Wayne Hammill, 22, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Hammill of Lochiel, a third-year student at the University of Ottawa.

Carl Barton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Atchison Barton, RR 2 Vankleek Hill.

John Darrell Renwick, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Renwick, also of RR 2 Vankleek Hill.

Hammill was driving south toward Alexandria when his small car left the highway just south of the curve at Guaytown and struck two small trees. The car was demolished and the student's body was found by a passing motorist, Serge Campeau of Pointe Claire, Que., at 4.05 a.m.

The two Vankleek Hill area youths were driving south from Vankleek Hill to their neighboring homes when their car left the highway near the junction of the Aberdeen sideroad, one mile south of Vankleek Hill.

Hawkesbury OPP reported the car careened onto the west shoulder of the highway, demolishing a small roadside mailbox, before hitting a tree and coming to rest on its wheels in a ditch.

Renwick, passenger in the car at the time, was thrown from the vehicle on impact with the tree. His body was found several feet from the wrecked car.

Provincial police were alerted about the accident shortly after 5 a.m. Sunday by a motorist who spotted the wreckage of the car. Police believe the accident happened between 3 a.m. and 5 a.m.

The funeral of Wayne Hammill was held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to St. Alexander's Church and cemetery, Lochiel, and was attended by many sympathizing relatives and friends.

Born at Lochiel, he was the only child of Patrick J. Hammill and his wife, Mary Margaret MacDonell. After graduating from Glengarry District High School here, he attended the University of Ottawa where he was in the third-year Arts course.

Rev. C. F. Gauthier, PP, chanted the funeral mass and the prayers at the graveside were recited by Msgr. Cyrille Contant.

The pallbearers were: Alex Kennedy, Sheldon McDonald, Colin McPhee, Gerald Charbonneau, Roger Sauve and Billy McGillis.

Mary Vale Abbey Glen Nevis, To Be Nursing Home

Mary Vale Abbey at Glen Nevis, a convent and school for almost 50 years, has been sold by the Sisters of Holy Cross and will become a nursing home.

The convent was purchased last week by Frederick and Cecile Megan of Cornwall, who presently operate a nursing home in that city. They plan to operate it under the name of Mary Vale Nursing Home, as a home for special care patients.

Mrs. Megan will be administrator and she expects to house some 48 docile patients from the Ontario Hospital, Brockville. Some area residents may be taken in as well.

The new nursing home will have three qualified nurses on staff and will employ some 20 to 30 area people, reports Mrs. Megan. Alterations were to start this week and it is hoped to have the new nursing home ready for occupancy about November 15th.

Local realtor, Eldege Vaillancourt, handled the deal.

Built about 1912 under the aegis of the then parish priest, the late Msgr. D. R. Macdonad, Mary Vale was conducted by the Sisters of Providence who educated two generations of area residents in addition to many convent boarders. The convent was purchased some 10 years ago by the Holy Cross Order but their plans for its use never came to fruition. Lately it has been used only as a residence for some of their members.

No Progress In Health Dispute

The stalemate continues between the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Health and the public health nurses' association.

The board met last Friday with two representatives of the nurses' association, but following the meeting one of the nurses commented, "We are back to where we started."

The association spokesman said the board continues to refuse voluntary recognition to the association and refuses to negotiate with a representative chosen by the nurses.

County council representatives on the board are said to have indicated the subject may be discussed at a meeting of United Counties council, later this month.

Centennial Plans In Charlottenburgh Call For Special Event Each Month

One special event each month through 1967 is included in plans of Charlottenburgh Township's centennial committee. Duncan Grant is chairman of the township's committee which has been in operation for some time and now is making public a series of projects planned for centennial year.

Observances will be held in every part of the township, it is hoped, and the committee is seeking ideas and suggestions from public bodies and organizations of any kind which might like to participate.

Serving with Mr. Grant of Williamstown, on the committee are: Rev. M. J. O'Brien, St. Raphael's; Mrs. Oliver McGee, Glen Walter; Mrs. Wesley Craig, Summerstown; Mrs. Alex Lagroix and Sam J. McLeod, Martintown; Malcolm MacRae of Williamstown.

Opening event of the year in the township will be a costume ball, featuring dresses and suits in the styles of a century ago. This will be on New Year's Eve and will be the chief event for January.

In February the committee plans to co-operate with the Char-Lan High School Winter Carnival in making the annual carnival a two-day affair. If the weather is as cold as usual the committee hopes the school will provide ice sculptures in keeping with the Centennial theme, and other carnival events will also have a centennial touch. Date set is Feb. 10 and 11.

March will be education month, with the schools featured. A competition among the elementary schools will culminate in a special night of finals at Char-Lan High Auditorium on March 10 for essays and art work. Each school will also be asked to contribute a few items to a program and the art work will be on show.

April will bring a sugaring off party in the style of a century ago. This is to be either in Archibald MacDonell's bush near Summerstown or the McLean bush in the same area. The date is left open as it will depend on the season.

In May there will be an historical pageant at Iona Academy in St. Raphael's. This will feature a re-enactment of the original settlement of St. Raphael's. This will include parts for cadets from Char-Lan High School in colorful uniforms and the script will deal with the settlement of one of the oldest communities in Ontario. This is scheduled for May 12 and 13. The Centennial Caravan will be on display at Alexandria May 7 to 9.

In June a dance recital directed by Mrs. Alex MacCulloch of Glen Roy, will be featured, with special

Nor'Westers' Museum At Williamstown Endorsed By Historical Society

Under consideration for more than a year, the Nor'Westers Museum at Williamstown will be brought into being, members of the Glengarry Historical Society decided at a meeting in Williamstown.

To get the project underway a building and exhibits committee was named, consisting of Ian MacMartin, Duncan Grant and Hugh Douglas. A finance committee is made up of Clarence Fiske, Grant MacGillivray and Archibald MacDonell. Both committees were given power to add to their numbers.

The museum will be set up in the former Public School building at Williamstown which was the home of several prominent fur traders and explorers of the Canadian and American West.

The society also established a committee, under the chairmanship of Hugh Douglas, to try to secure the preservation of the home known as Inverarden, located near Cornwall, which was built by McDonald of Garth, one of the North West Company partners. The home now stands on property owned by Chemcell Ltd. at Gray's Creek.

The society will work with other historical societies and approach the company in the hope that Chemcell Ltd. will make the old home into a guest house, or use it for a similar purpose. At present, it is boarded up and its fate undetermined.

Hugh MacMillan, of Lochiel and Toronto, reported on a canoe expedition, scheduled to conclude in Wiliamstown about mid-August next year, which, he hoped will coincide with the official opening of the new museum. The trip will be made, primarily, by descendants of original Nor'Westers, and has already been assured of considerable financial and other support, Mr. MacMillan reported.

The president of the society, John D. MacLeod of Dunvegan, acted as chairman, and reported that the society has secured the old sheds at the Kenyon Township hall to store some of the larger exhibits at the Glengarry Museum in Dunvegan. The society plans to have the sheds moved on, or about, Oct. 15, and will have them set up on the museum grounds to store and display farm machinery exhibits it has already been offered by donors.

Mr. MacLeod expressed the regret of the Society that the expected guest speaker, Grant Campbell of Carleton Place, was called away suddenly and could not attend the meeting. Mr. Douglas said he plans to work with Mr. Campbell in the interests of preserving Inverarden.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Let The New Council Study It

Town Council is seeking cost estimates on a new fire hall and police station and we understand these are to be considered at the next regular meeting. There is the inference that if these estimates are acceptable council will proceed to erect the new hall on the parking lot, later tearing down the present aged building which is no longer adequate to serve the purpose.

What is considered an acceptable price tag we do not know; but this same council had plans for a $70,000 structure more than a year ago. The increase in building costs in the interim would probably bring the cost over the $100,000 mark today.

We are left wondering if it is ethical for a council to embark on such a spending program in the final weeks of its term of office. Nominations are little more than a month away and it is conceivable that the make-up of council could be materially altered between now and year's end.

It is conceivable, too, that the council elected to administer our affairs over the next two years might find less costly housing for the second fire truck we are soon to acquire. There must be many Alexandria taxpayers who wonder if we can afford an expenditure in the neighborhood of one hundred thousand dollars, primarily to house two fire trucks and provide more comfortable overnight sleeping for the infrequent wino consigned to the cells.

A new fire hall has long been a fond dream of at least some members of council and we are left wondering if council as a whole has given any thought to the possibilities of the old mill, soon to be vacated by the Co-op. Might not that solid, three-storey stone building be readily adapted to an impressive-looking home for the town clerk and all our services?

There should be room in its capacious cellar for the fire trucks, the police office and cells. Council chambers and civic offices might take up the ground floor and there would remain the two top storeys to house other facilities we now lack—a library, rest rooms for area shoppers, a senior citizens' room already incorporated in plans for the new fire hall to name only a few.

This building so tied to our town's early days is reportedly available for but a few thousand dollars. The costs of alteration might be financed from the yearly rental we are now paying in the PUC building.

The alternative we see is an empty, abandoned mill building square in the centre of town. There have been no takers so far and the mill could become a deadening evidence of civic decay if left idle over the years. Our Main Street already has a frightening number of unoccupied business places and thinking citizens must worry as to the future of a town whose heart shows such evidence of failures. Surely it would be better to see that the buildings we now have are occupied before embarking on new civic structures.

One of our problems, the lack of off-street parking, would be improved a bit, too, if the present fire hall were razed and the municipal parking lot gained that much more space.

Perhaps the old mill is totally unsuited for a civic centre. We would like to be certain its potential had been thoroughly studied by competent minds before it was rejected in favor of costly new building.

Aroused Women Might Work Wonders

The cost of living is rising too fast to be funny and the prices of foodstuffs we buy are a major factor. Aroused by an indignant Ottawa area housewife, women across Canada are waging war on the supermarkets and let no one deprecate the depredations an aroused womanhood may do to today's marketing methods.

Mrs. Laurence Wilson of Manotick, started it all by crying for a boycott of supermarket chains. There was an instant response of thousands of housewives in the Ottawa area and according to news reports the movement is spreading to other large cities and towns. The corner grocer and the city market place are to get the bulk of the business and the supermarkets are to get the business, in a different sense, until they smarten up and reduce prices.

We doubt this movement will mean the death knell of the big chains, but if it lasts long enough it may force some changes in favor of cheaper foodstuffs. The millions of dollars now being made by the producers of trading stamps, for example, might be sliced off the prices of almost everything the shopper buys in these big stores.

This in itself would represent a considerable saving, but it won't come to pass until aroused womanhood smartens up enough to see that these prized trading stamps are being paid for by added costs of her foodstuffs. There would be no "free" trading stamps if every shopper was not paying much more than they are worth as gummed paper.

These protesting housewives might learn to resist fancy wrappings that unnecessarily add to costs. By shopping warily they might exert pressure on the manufacturers to deliver goods in standard weights so that comparative shopping would be easier. They might remove some of the frill and luxury items from the store counters by refusing to buy them.

An Ottawa chain store owner suggests the housewife can most effectively cut her food bills by buying cheaper cuts of meat and compensating by a bit more effort in the kitchen. This is undoubtedly a big factor and if the women are really serious about reducing their food budgets they will have to develop a new firmness against the lures of the pre-cooked, ready-for-the-oven, instant foods that have a lot of energy-saving wrapped up in their fancy costs.

The retail price of foodstuffs includes the services and profits of many middlemen and the Consumer Credit and Costs Committee of the Commons is even now investigating food costs, delving into the various levels of handling, advertising, packaging and profits.

Perhaps the aroused housewives can do their most effective work toward lower food prices by creating uproar enough to pressure these Parliamentarians into a more thorough investigation than might normally be expected.

Wise Warning To Parliament

Whether Governor General Vanier meant it or not, his remarks before the twelfth assembly of the Commonwealth parliamentarians will be taken by many as intended for Canadian members of the forthcoming session of Parliament, suggests an editorial in the Canadian Register. Loss of leadership in a nation by the governing body, he observed, is due chiefly to internal pressures generated by the members themselves. A coup d'etat rarely occurs, he said, where a parliament, by its proper functioning, inspires faith and confidence in the people.

These general remarks could be documented by recent history, in the so-called "developing" countries. Their wisdom is patent. But the general added details which could refer to conduct of parliamentarians closer home. Here are some of the kinds of conduct that can destroy a parliament and ultimately a nation: Personal ambitions, partisan obstruction rather than constructiveness, personal conflict rather than reason. The most rabid partisan of Canada's political groupings could easily put names to these short-comings, not excepting his own colleagues.

As is proper, the Governor General avoided more specific applications of his observations. It would be alarmist to affirm that Canada's Parliament has reached the stage of disintegration which he pictures. But it would be dishonest to pretend that Canadian legislators have not given some cause for apprehension.

The most impartial observers have noticed strong personal animosity between the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition. Allegations of "corruption" have been flung from both sides of the Commons, whether in relation to links with crime or to sex and security risks.

Mr. Vanier also referred to "greed" and "cynicism", which would seem more prevalent in certain newer nations where leaders use their positions to feather their nests. But "cynicism" among youthful observers of the political scene is certainly widespread in Canada, as young electors or future electors watch the struggle for power, clothed in the disguise of public service.

As far as "obstruction" is concerned, it is a favorite complaint of governments at Ottawa ever since the balance of electoral support has not swung strongly one way or the other. It does appear however that no matter how valuable or urgent a measure may be, it can no longer obtain passage until each party has milked it for all possible partisan credit. The debate on the laws necessary to face the crisis of a railway strike was no exception to this self-seeking negativism.

The editor,
Gengarry News,

Sunday afternoon, the stock car races are over and the crowd is making its way home on this wonderful day. The traffic was still heavy on Mechanic Street West but that did not bother some of our youths who were using the Queen's Highway to play football. The ball was often out of bounds and was hitting buildings and parked cars. I expected glass to fly from some of the windows that were hit. Then the ball was landing over my fence.

The boys were just going to climb over my newly repaired and painted fence when I stopped them. I got the ball and told the boys I would

FOR WHICH WE GIVE THANKS

Was this Indian Summer we were enjoying over the holiday weekend? We can hope that is still to come, while giving thanks for an almost ideal Thanksgiving serving of summery weather.

If this is Indian Summer, we were thinking out on the golf course, Saturday, perhaps we should be letting the redmen take over the task of furnishing our regular supply of summer weather. Them Indians provided a sun that may not have been ascendant as long, but was almost as warming as we knew it in July. And they threw in a lot of color to boot.

The trees were at their autumn best, at least until that early Sunday storm denuded many. What a riot of color the foliage afforded as a fillip to grass still green as we knew it under May showers.

All Glengarry, and no doubt all the rest of Canada, too, was a riot of eye-catching color over the weekend. A drive through the Laurentian foothills must have lured many thousands of motorists. The same spectacular, in a much more soothing setting, was on display down at the golf course and we had the living greens to set off the livid red and gold and yellow, and all the pastels provided by the frosted leaves.

This was too good to last, we know. The leaves are tumbling down. Nature which provides this glorious colorama also has provision against sunburn for the trees it has denuded.

We can't expect much more of such glorious weather but the memory of this Thanksgiving weekend should linger long enough to warm us at least until freeze-up. If we are not to know another Indian Summer this fall, we can yet give thanks for a memorable weekend.

Many people today have more than ever before, and most of them are enjoying it less.

THE ANIMAL IN MAN

No doubt they have a course in animal husbandry at Kemptville Agricultural School and it may be propinquity that prompted an instructor in English and Public Speaking at KAS to put on paper this essay on The Animal In Man. G. N. Hawn is not necessarily arguing for or against Darwin's Theory when he sends us these thoughts on how often man apes the animal world:

"Man's descent from the animal kingdom has yet to be proven but there seems to be no doubt as to his relationship.

"As a boy he is likely to be a wolf cub, as a man he may become a Lion or an Elk. In adolescence he is liable to eat like a pig and be as awkward as a bull in a china shop. When he first dances with a girl he'll be clumsy as an ox though he thinks he is having a whale of a time. Under certain conditions he may sometimes be referred to as a jackass.

"When a man doesn't agree with a woman he is as stubborn as a mule. If he outwits her he's sly as a fox and when he's hard to catch he's slippery as an eel.

"If a man looks at another woman after he marries he's an old goat. Eventually he becomes as gray as a badger and develops the hide of a rhinoceros, says his wife, who still thinks she's cute as a bunny."

Perhaps we have been so anxious to give our children what we didn't have that we have neglected to give them what we did have.

BUMS IS BUMS

Bums is bums, no matter how far west they may move to try and establish a better reputation.

That's our thought in the aftermath of that fizzle of a World Series that cost us six bucks and provided almost as little entertainment as a late, late show.

When they were in Brooklyn the Dodgers were fondly known by their fandom as "dem bums". When they absconded to greener pastures in California they were really bums to Brooklynites, but for a few years the Hollywood atmosphere seemed to have them acting like ball players.

This four-game series in which they scored but two runs in the opening game—one of them forced in on a walk—shows them up as the bums they always were.

The six measly bucks your Ram—give it to the law enforcement officer. I had to take a lot of verbal abuse and even threats against my life before the officer arrived.

Well I found out that it is perfectly in order to play ball or I suppose any other kind of game on the Queen's Highway.

So I am very sorry that I stopped this most dangerous play, but I was advised that I could keep the football. Being a little too old for the game now, I returned the leather to the boys and "Happy Playing".

OLD PIPE IN USE

Cornwall, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

Leaking pipe lines of oil companies are still causing seepage, which in a case at Scarborough, Ontario, has seeped over a mile underground and is reputed polluting water and killing fish.

In the City of Cornwall, gas mains are frequently found leaking and no doubt a hazard, as well as in towns and villages in our United Counties.

It has been brought to my attention in several of our municipalities that pipe of 1925 vintage was used when installed in 1952 or thereabouts in three of our townships. Section 41, SS 8 of The Assessment Act, permits oil and gas line companies to do just this. It reads as follows:

"A pipe line removed from one location and reinstalled in another location shall, where depreciation is applicable, continue to be depreciated at the foregoing rates as though remaining in its original location."

I feel that more supervision as regards to the quality of pipe line and testing of same by qualified pipe specialists, should be compulsory, in any construction regulations, before being used for such inflammable materials, as gas and oil.

The tendency for leaking oil, is to contaminate a large area where the leak occurs and in lines that cross or parallel rivers where fish abound, it would be disastrous for this alone.

Yours truly,
D. A. Condie,
Cornwall, Ont.

Lacrosse Notes

Alexandria District Minor Lacrosse Peewees and Midgets played their final exhibition games in Glengarry Gardens on a recent Saturday night. A lot of names long familiar in lacrosse history rang out as St. Andrews and St. Regis boys met Ourtown in a duo of clean fought games.

The young generation from St. Regis coached by Fr. Arsenault have inherited all the strategy and polish of their elders according to the performance they displayed as they whipped our Midgets 10-1. The lone goal for Alexandria was scored by Jimmie MacDonald. For St. Regis, Danny (David) George scored six goals while Kenny David and Bruce (Gilbert) Roundpoint each counted a pair. Filling out the St. Regis line-up were: Ernest Mitchell, Steve (Angus) Thomas, Mike and Nelson Jacobs.

Alexandria was minus the services of its regular goalie, Andy McNulty and Glen McPherson took over the netminding. Wearing the Glens colors were: Gary, Stuart and Jimmie MacDonald, Charlie and Danny O'Brien, Glen and Keith McPherson, Lee Taillefer, George Sabourin, Michael Ravary, Lynden Cameron.

The St. Andrew's Peewees wound up with a 13-10 win over Alexandria. Robert (Tony) Wheeler had seven goals and four assists for St. Andrews, while Mike Tyo scored four and Gary Lalonde got two. Robert Lalonde, Ronnie and Kelly Wheeler, Gary Perros and Alan Faubert were the remaining supporters.

Alexandria Peewees also lacked their regular goalie, Michael Costello, so Raymond O'Connell replaced. Blair MacDonald led with six goals, Roch Lajoie had three and J. T. Hay scored a single. Other players were: Gregory MacCulloch, Luc Roy, Barry MacDonald, Michael McCormick.

Following the games, trophies were presented to: Roch Lajoie, Blair MacDonald and Raymond O'Connell for the Peewee team and to Charlie O'Brien, Gary and Jimmie MacDonald of the Midget club.

The winning ticket on the draw for a season pass for two to Expo '67 went to Jack Fanning of Granby, Que.

emphasis on various types of music and dancing associated with Scotland.

Also in June one of the highlights of the season will be a special open air church service for all the people of the township. All the clergy of Charlottenburgh will take a portion of a special service on the grounds of the Church of the Pericious Blood at Glen Walter; on June 11 at 2.30 p.m.

July will bring a giant parade at Williamstown with a program of sports, including lacrosse, a barbecue in the evening and a dance, complete with costumes, floats with vehicles of an earlier era, and a traditional observance of Dominion Day.

In August there will be a flower show at Williamstown Fair grounds on Aug. 5 and 6, followed by a lacrosse tournament at the community sports centre in Martintown for both junior and senior teams on Aug. 20.

The centennial version of Williamstown Fair will be the chief feature of September. There will be a greatly increased parade, with bands, a costume contest, and many other features having to do with centennial year.

On Oct. 11, 1967, there will be a Thanksgiving ball and box social, probably at the Knights of Columbus Hall at Glen Walter.

On Nov. 12 there will be a combined observance of Armistice Day, organized by all the Royal Canadian Legion branches in the township, at the Cenotaph in Williamstown.

On Dec. 15 the final and one of the most ambitious events of the year will be the presentation of a play. The Curse of the Raven, an adaptation of The Shadow of Tradition, a novel written by Carrie Holmes Macgillivray of Macgilli-

Weddings

MacMILLAN—DAWSON

White chrysanthemums and pink gladioli decorated St. John's Presbyterian Church for the marriage of Marcia Jean Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson, Cornwall, to Elbert Rae MacMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus E. MacMillan, Lochiel.

Dr. W. L. MacLellan officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Mildred Dingwall was organist, accompanied by Everett Rush, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white peau de soie, with a scooped neckline short bell shaped sleeves, and an A-line skirt, with Alencon lace outlining the Empire waistline. Matching lace was at the hemline of the chapel train, which fell from the waist. Her mantilla veil, which was waist length, was edged with hand-clipped Alencon lace and was held in place by a small lace headdress. She carried a bouquet of orange delight roses, stephanotis and white heather centered with an orchid.

Miss Heather MacGregor, of Montreal, was maid of honor and the attendants were Mrs. Judy MacLeod, Ottawa, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Carol Coons, Cornwall, and the flower girl Miss Lynda Hill, Montreal, cousin of the bride.

Stuart Upton, Alexandria, was best man. The ushers were James MacMillan and Brian MacMillan, Lochiel, brothers of the bridegroom, and Donald MacDonald of Oakville.

Following the ceremony, Miss Elizabeth MacLennan, Cornwall, and Melville MacLeod, Ottawa, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, piped the bridal party and guests from the church into St. John's Hall where a dinner was served. A reception followed later in the House of Labor.

Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan left on a wedding trip to western Canada, the bride travelling in a gray woollen suit, with hat, shoes, and purse of French turquoise blue and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan will reside in Portage la Prairie, Man.

Guests attended the wedding from Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Kirkland Lake, Oakville, Kirkland, Que., Dalhousie, Lochiel, Alexandria, Lancaster and Vankleek Hill.

LAROCQUE—DIXON

A pretty wedding took place in Glad Tidings Tabernacle, Perth, Ont., Saturday, September 10th at two p.m., uniting in marriage Valerie Faye Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dixon of Perth, to Joseph Leonard Larocque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Larocque, Alexandria, Ont.

Rev. S. S. O'Brien officiated at the double-ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. Wm. Bowler.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original floor-length gown of white peau de soie with A line waist, finished with a lace panel and lily point sleeves. The regal train, bordered with appliqued French lace, fell from the shoulders. Her elbow-length veil of tulle was held with a crown of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a cascade of pink roses and stephanotis. Her only jewellery was a tiny pearl pendant which her grandmother wore on her wedding day.

Miss Sharon Dixon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Sandra Oakley was bridesmaid. The flower girls was Michelle Duffy, cousin of the bride and Jeffrey Leroux, nephew of the groom, was ring-bearer.

Gary Larocque, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Robert Dixon and Sheldon Larocque.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the spacious lawn of the bride's home. For travelling the bride chose a three-piece suit of navy and white with matching accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Larocque have taken up residence in Alexandria.

Out of town guests at the wedding were from Alexandria, Ottawa, Waterloo, Smiths Falls, Carleton Place, Cornwall, Renfrew, Bloomsburg, Penn., Cobourg and Brockville.

FIRE WARNING TO MOTHERS

Two of the most destructive fire hazards in Ontario homes are the careless use and storage of inflammable liquids, and the ignition of cooking fats and oils.

INFLAMMABLE LIQUIDS—Kerosene, paint, gasoline, naphtha and some cleaning fluids give off highly inflammable vapours; they should be used with caution and carefully stored. Keep a carbon dioxide, foam or dry chemical fire extinguisher near their storage area. Oily rags left in cupboards or corners can burst into flames spontaneously. Dispose of them immediately after use.

COOKING-FAT FIRES IN THE KITCHEN—You can reduce the danger of grease fires by keeping your stove clean. Don't let spattered fats build up. Don't leave hot frying-pans unattended. A grease fire can be extinguished with baking soda or smothered with a lid. Keep both handy whenever you're frying.

PROTECT YOUR FAMILY BY TAKING PRECAUTIONS!

Born at Vankleek Hill, 62 years ago, he was a son of John Ladouceur and his wife, Clothilde Duval.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mary Jane Lavigne, one son, Henry Bernard, here, and two daughters: Mrs. Romeo Boisvenue, (Eva), Mrs. Robert Patenaude (Dianne) both of Cornwall. Two brothers and seven sisters also survive.

The funeral was held Monday to St. Gregory's Church and cemetery, Vankleek Hill.

Heavy Loss In Barn Fire At Vankleek Hill

A fire of unknown origin caused an estimated $100,000 damage Friday Sept. 30, as it swept through two barns and several storage areas at the farm of Norman Edwards, three miles east of Vankleek Hill.

The fire quickly razed the barns containing 21,000 bales of hay, 1,500 bushels of oats and milking equipment, and spread to a storage silo holding 300 bushels of corn. Another concrete silo remained untouched.

Also destroyed was a milk shop with a capacity of three tons and an unfinished addition to the horse stables.

Mrs. Miles Edwards, Mr. Edward's father-in-law, Mrs. Billy Anderson and an employee were in the barn when the fire broke out. They were able to evacuate the 30 milk cows remaining in the barn before the fire enveloped the structure.

Firemen from Hawkesbury and East Hawkesbury rushed to the scene, but were unable to save the burning farm buildings because the fire, as one witness described it, spread instantaneously.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

Making like a Rambling Reporter this writer rambled from hither Glens to yon Niagara fruitlands during the Thanksgiving weekend.

There the traditional turkey gave way to a tiered wedding cake as one of St. Catharines' police constables, Charles (St. Andrews) Chisholm, instead of walking the beat walked down the aisle of St. Patrick's Church in the Garden City on Saturday morning with our niece, Lona McDonell in marital custody.

This was a top bracket social occasion especially in the Merriton area and the reception could well have been rated a Glengarry-Stormont night but we will stay in our customary field and let the social editor take over in the next issue. (We might get carried away after seeing Ronnie Stewart scamper on TV and say the bride looked charming in a No. 11 helmet).

The co-pilot and I have had congenial travelling companions on many occasions but last weekend's drive was on a par with any of the past as we had with us Mrs. Dan J. (Aunt Mary) and Miss Elizabeth (Aunt Liz) MacDonald of St. Raphael's who obviously were honored guests at the wedding of their (grand) niece Lona. An 800-mile round trip, plus social festivities, is more than a little tiring, however, these venerable ladies came through it all in fine fettle.

We bucked a strong headwind on Friday that cut down gas mileage; however, in brilliant sunshine the countryside was a forest fire of color. This was especially so as you bend around Brockville and skirt the St. Lawrence approaching the Thousand Islands (Ivy Lea) Bridge.

We had a coffee break here at a roadside park and the autumn haze that hung over the U.S. border water like a backdrop to the larger islands was, to a degree, not unlike a bit of Killarney and Loch Lomond.

The Pine Ridge (Cobourg) Range was also eye-catching but from there along 401 around Toronto and into the Niagara skirting Lake Ontario there have been no real frosts to wave the magic wand that creates the change over from nature's summer dress.

We cut over from the QE at Hamilton and leisurely drove along No. 8 from Stoney Creek to St. Catharines. This route, during Blossom time and Thanksgiving, is one of the more scenic drives in Canada. True, it's only 30 miles, but you weave along the foot of the ridge (Hamilton Mountain) with dipsy doodle hairpin curves keeping you at a medium speed, thus you get a full view of the orchards where pears are still being harvested, the peach trees are resting after their yield while multi rows of grape vines still have countless bushels of grapes to be picked. On the opposite side of the road, in places, the hillside is quite steep and although there are no maples and other hardwoods as in the Gatineau or Laurentians there are miniature quilt patches of comparable hues.

Abruptly you emerge into St. Catharines and Thorold, a beehive of paper mills and industrial plants; however, at the end of 400 miles it is worthy of note that at no point are the town and city dwellers too far from a productive and interesting countryside that is so necessary to enjoy a balanced life.

THANKSGIVING SPORT SALAD

On the local scene the Junior Black Hawks are away to a fine start . . . Tied Hamilton and won over this same Detroit farm team in St. Catharines Sunday 5-2. Willie Terry again paired with George Reed on defence . . . The Laggan youngster, like Reed, in his final Jr. year . . . They are quite a solid pair . . . Willie, a fine skater, is showing play improvement and confidence . . . Willie was the winner of the gentlemanly award last season . . . in Sunday night's game, by contrast, he showed signs of policing duty . . . in a tussle the gloves were off in a flash and a would-be Hamilton battler was grabbed like a bale of hay. Hamilton's No. 11 is Don Giesebrecht . . . shades of Petawawa-Pembroke-Detroit.

Some Toronto writers thought the woeful hitting slump of the Dodgers was more evident than Baltimore power; while on football Ottawa is drawing favorable comment (no doubt with the thought Hamilton papers please copy).

Didya know that a couple of noted football players in California have quite a Brown House—St. Raphael's background . . . 6'2" Frank Robitaille is a second-year player with Compton Jr. College in Los Angeles while his older 6' brother Dan is a teacher-coach at the Santa Clara Jesuit College . . . Dan started his football career with St. Anthony's Long Beach high school then moved up to Santa Clara.

The Emmett (Vancouver-Montreal) Robitaille boys' grandmother is Mrs. Archie (Little Archie) MacDonald, formerly from near the Brown House, while their mother, Ann MacDonald, is a graduate of Iona Academy.

Back to hockey . . . Another Brunet hit the sport scene last Saturday . . . young Antoine (son of Ernie and Mrs. Brunet—Beamsville) played his first minor hockey game in the new arena . . . speaking of arenas more than one ex-Glengarrian asking about the Alexandria rink situation . . . quite disgustedly, too.

No Jr. "B" hockey in either St. Catharines or Hamilton . . . Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings, we were told, have withdrawn support as a result of the CAHA-NHL agreement ending financial aid, July 1st, 1967.

If St. Catharines do not receive solid encouraging support this year, that could be the end of the Jr. "A" Baby Hawks . . . count us among those who think the CAHA has blundered again.

DUNVEGAN

Mr. and Mrs. James D. MacLeod and Garry Hewston, Ottawa, were among visitors here for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. K. K. MacLeod returned to Montreal on Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Embury and Linda, who had been spending a few days here.
