ADDING 'TRAINS' TO FLEET—"Glengarry" takes to the highways this week on a new fleet of "trains" being added to equipment of Glengarry Transport Limited. Ten units making up five sets as shown above will be in use this week and two new tractors of the freight liner type (above) will bring GTL's fleet over the 280 unit mark. The new train units operate either singly or in tandem and they allow carrying of additional weight because of the extra axles. —Photo by Robert

Bold Saturday Night Burglary Clears Proulx's Men's Wear Of $17,000 In Stock

An inspector from the CIB branch of Ontario Provincial Police was here this week to help investigate a bold Saturday night burglary which cleared much of the merchandise from Proulx's Men's Wear.

John G. Proulx who had opened for business just 10 days previously in his new stand, the former liquor store, estimates his loss at $17,000. Entire racks of men's suits, sport coats, topcoats and trousers were taken, as well as an assortment of shirts, sweaters and other articles. There was no burglary insurance.

Ontario Provincial Police have taken over the investigation but no leads have yet been reported. Some fingerprints have been turned up and the entry is thought to have been made by a well-organized gang.

Using a highly sophisticated burglary tool to force the front door lock, the thieves are thought to have entered the store about 10.30 p.m. and loaded the loot onto a truck in the laneway in rear.

Aime Lalonde, who resides above the store, heard some hammering about that time but thought the proprietor was completing work in his store. For weeks there had been such hammering at night while the store was being readied for occupancy.

Constable Ron McDonell discovered the break-in while on patrol Sunday morning. A cellar door in rear had also been forced from inside to remove the merchandise. The loot included some 200 men's suits, 30 sport coats, 120 pairs of trousers, 15 topcoats and other clothing some of it still in cartons.

"It's a bad blow", Mr. Proulx says of Saturday's break-in, "but they haven't floored me". He is busy this week replacing the stolen merchandise.

Minor Accidents Included Hit-Runs

In addition to the Proulx's store burglary, Alexandria police were called on to investigate a rash of minor traffic accidents over the weekend. They included some six hit and run accidents when parked cars were usually the victims, and as many more minor accidents.

Two of the hit-run cases have been solved, we understand, and there is some information on others to be followed up.

There were no injuries in the series of accidents.

Highland Games Committee Plans More Accommodation For Campers

The Maxville Highland Games Society held their annual meeting in the curling club on Saturday night. Angus H. McDonell returns as chairman, and Rod. MacLennan as president. With two exceptions the entire slate of officers remains the same, filling out the second year of their two-year term. First vice-president is now Walter Blaney, and second vice-president Gary Smith.

A very favorable financial report was heard, and much general business dealt with. The Society's long time secretary, John Jamieson, has resigned, but no replacement has been found yet, so he continues to act in this capacity in the mean time. It was decided to appoint a secretary within two weeks at an extra meeting of the president and the chairmen of all committees. It is urgent that the post be filled since the new season's business is already under way and new stationery with proper executive names must be ordered.

Chairmen of all committees have given their reports on a very successful year, and plans were discussed for the coming season. Last year was the first time camping facilities were offered at the Games, and these were very popular . It was decided to enlarge and improve this accommodation, providing water and lights if possible.

The sports committee would like to start buying some of their own equipment. This is presently rented from area high schools, but as the participation in the sports events has increased every year it is getting harder to round up enough equipment and it would be much simpler if the Games had their own.

The bands committee makes no plans yet — —they meet later in the spring with the Ontario Pipers and Pipe Band Society to decide what, if any, changes there will be in competition.

An early start will be made on the contract which brings to more than a million and a half dollars the amount of work awarded Menard's in the Bancroft area.

CNIB Canvass Starts Monday

The annual canvass for funds for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind gets underway in Glengarry next Monday, reports Angus R. MacDonell, campaign chairman.

He points out that services provided by the CNIB in the United Counties last year cost approximately $33,000. Estimated needs for the coming year will cost $35,-000 so it can be seen that all money raised in the United Counties in this annual canvass is spent for service in the Counties.

Car Dealership Changes Hands

Glengarry Motor Sales was sold this week to Hope & Touchette Development Co. Ltd. who plan to conduct the General Motors agency for Chevrolet and Oldsmobile cars and GMC trucks. The purchase was made from James D. Graham and Ranald MacDonald.

Mr. MacDonald will stay on as sales manager and the present staff will also be retained. Jim Graham has no definite plans for the future but will continue to be associated with the new owners as a car salesman.

The sale included not only the business and property but the house in rear formerly occupied by Mr. Graham.

Airfield Moving Farther East

The local landing strip for aircraft will move farther east on the Power House road, according to plans of Jim Graham and Doug Baxter.

They have leased an area 15 acres long and 200 feet wide about one mile east of the present landing field on Frank McCormick's property. It will provide a landing strip 100 feet wide and with a useful area up to 3,000 feet long. The plot runs along the south side of the Power House road and takes in land on three adjoining farms owned by Omer Poirier, Aime Ouimet and Herve Wathier.

The present strip will continue in use while the new acreage is being made serviceable. It will be occupied probably next summer. The eventual aim is to form a flying club here and we understand the new site lends itself to future expansion as the need arises.

Six aircraft are now based on the local strip, the latest acquisition a two-seater Cessna 140 purchased by Donat Deschamp and Norman Carriere.

New Commission Communications

A new Diocesan Commission on Communications has been set up by Bishop Adolphe Proulx it was announced at the Diocesan meeting of the Catholic Women's League held recently in Alexandria. Headed by Rev. Donald Scott of Cornwall, it will be composed of informed lay people in the field of communications. Its purpose will be the education of people in the use of mass media and will take the form of seminars, group discussions and various means of study.

Foremost of these is to be a new radio program conducted by Father Scott every Saturday morning from 11 a.m. until noon on CJSS. Called "Man Alive", it is designed to arouse Christians to their role in this space age.

The CWL have adopted communications as one of their main studies this year. Miss Alice MacGillis, Diocesan convener, has arranged for a major study session on this topic to be held in St. John Bosco Hall on Nov. 26. The executive director of the National Communications Centre, Miss Bonnie Brennan will be present to conduct a night of education in the field of film and television.

Industrial Committee Met Area Veterinarians To Discuss Large-Animal Clinic Project

A group of area veterinarians met here with members of town council's Industrial Committee last week to familiarize the local men with a project the vets have been working on for some time, the provision of a large animal clinic to serve a wide area of Eastern Ontario and adjoining Quebec.

The Ontario Government would advance an interest-free loan to cover part of the costs involved, committee members were told, but the veterinarians would prefer to see the government build the laboratory and supply personnel. They would undertake to provide medical services for the clinic.

Present large animal clinics are few and hundreds of miles from this area, the committee was told. In the opinion of the local vets, clinic and research facilities should be available for animals in order to reduce deaths, encourage sanitation and preventive care. They feel area farmers and farm organizations should be made familiar with the project so that their support might be forthcoming in urging action on Queen's Park.

A publicity committee is to be organized to inform on the aims and objects of such a clinic.

Veterinarians present at the meeting included Dr. Anicet Brault of Rigaud; Dr. Paul E. Vincent, Plantagenet; Dr. H. K. Abbey, Lancaster, and Dr. D. J. Bennett, Avonmore. Committee members present included Chairman Jean Clement, Mayor Touchette, Reeve Duncan Macdonell, Ranald J. MacDonald, Martin Clement and Clerk-Treasurer D. O. Collin.

Bell's Relay Tower At Maxville To Be Higher, With New Building

The Bell Telephone Company has begun extensive alterations and improvements to their microwave relay station which is at the south-east corner of Maxville village.

The present tower, which is 150 feet high, handles all kinds of communications—about 3,000 telephone calls, the same number of Telex, and several TV stations. This station is one of twelve on the Montreal to Toronto line. Communications are given a boost in the relay control building near the base of the tower and sent on their way, in both directions.

An Ottawa firm, C. A. Johannsen and Sons, has been awarded a $60,000 contract for a new relay control building, which will be twice the size of the old one, and to set up the reinforced concrete bases for the new tower and its six supporting cables. These bases are about 6 feet square and sunk 8 feet into the ground.

The new tower will be 250 feet high, and will have a tapered base. It will probably not be put up until late winter or next spring. This tower and its cables will be erected by a Montreal firm which specializes in this kind of work.

These improvements will double the capacity of this relay station. Similar work is being carried out at the Rigaud station, and an entirely new station is being set up at Williamsburg where there are presently no facilities.

IT'S OUR OPINION

For Which We Give Thanks

The flaming leaves are a colorful reminder that winter is in the wings and that we have already had frost. It came early, on September 19th, according to our area weather observer who also notes how brief our summer has been. Only 115 days, less than four months, have been free of frost in Glengarry in 1969 and that compares with 148 days last summer.

June was unusually cold, as was September, and so we have been robbed of more than a month of summer warmth. A prolonged chill looms ahead and yet there is much to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving weekend. We may have been shortchanged in our usual allotment of warm weather but if this summer was brief it was also bountiful.

That long, wet spring provided hay in embarrassing quantities. The rains kept coming through July and August to keep pastures verdant and grain crops growing. A record acreage of corn has never been heavier and a comparatively dry September provided ideal weather for harvesting.

Traditionally, Thanksgiving is the time for giving thanks for a bounteous harvest and we imagine the men of the soil are suitably grateful. Even the prairie farmer may be giving thanks that some of his wheat surplus is destined for the Russian market to ease the glut.

That cool, wet summer may not have been always up to the expectations of vacationers and the cool nights were not what cottagers ordered. It had its good days, though, and if we resent its brevity we can still give thanks, this Thanksgiving weekend, for memorable fun times under the summer sun.

Wage-Price Spiral Must Be Halted

The present approach to inflation by the American and Canadian governments is about as far from a solution as it is possible to get, writes Professor John Kenneth Galbraith in an article in the Wall Street Journal.

A native of Western Ontario, Professor Galbraith perhaps has had more influence on economics than any individual in recent times, suggests the editor of The Rodney Mercury, "because he writes books people understand." Instead of writing around the subject, Galbraith comes straight out and says that unless there are wage and price restraints inflation will continue until a recession comes about. If something is not done before that, we will suffer what he calls another "grand slam" as in the 1930's.

Professor Galbraith believes all the two federal governments have to do to slow down inflation is to enforce wage and price restrictions on pace-setting industries.

The Rodney editor continues: "he means preventing large, powerful unions in the automobile, steel and other industries from demanding higher wages. Then products they produce — automobiles, refined metals, etc., would not increase in price. Once a halt to the wage-price spiral is called in these pace--setter industries, all smaller unions and industries would have to follow suit.

As it is, strong unions get wage increases for members, resulting in prices of products increasing making it all the more expensive for lesser paid or people on fixed incomes to buy. In time over-production could result, workers could be laid off and something more serious than a recession could ensue.

Prof. Galbraith's straight talk should be heeded in Washington and Ottawa, because it is the real answer to our problems, not higher interest rates, concludes the Rodney editor.

A Recurring Problem At Fires

It happened on the eve of Fire Prevention Week. It has happened before and it will happen again as long as thoughtless car drivers make a practise of rushing pell mell to a fire and parking in the vicinity.

The Lancaster fire truck was slowed in its approach to a farm blaze by a long line of cars parked along the narrow concession road and blocking the flow of traffic. In this instance the farm house might not have been saved even had the road block not been an impediment. Special circumstances slowed the response of the brigade and that time lag may have allowed more cars to add to the traffic tie-up which has become a usual occurrence at fires.

This is a problem, though, that is plaguing all fire brigades. It becomes only more pronounced when the fire truck is followed down a narrow country road or farm lane by its caravan of thrill seekers. Let the truck pull into the lane leading to a blaze and invariably it will be stuck there by cars piling up behind and staying until the fireworks are over.

It may come to pass that the truck's tank must be refilled at a nearby supply of water. Precious minutes may be wasted in opening a path for the firemen through the snarl of cars piled up along the roadside.

It happens at fires in urban areas, too. Hoselines are run over by excited drivers. Cars pull up beside hydrants, interfering with the work of laying hose. Even when drivers pose no parking problems in the fire area they can be a threat to firefighters riding the truck. They tend to tailgate, driving dangerously close to the fire truck. If an accident occurred on the way to a blaze those volunteers on the truck might be more threatened by their following friends and the resulting pile-up.

Fire brigades continue to complain of the problems posed by this penchant of the public for speeding to the scene of the blaze. It is a very human reaction, though, and many no doubt are motivated by a desire to be of help. All fired up by the sound of the siren or the sight of the fire truck they do not realize that they may prove a hindrance due to the fact so many other drivers of cars have been similarly impelled to rush to the scene.

The victim of a fire undoubtedly welcomes those who come to help, perhaps to form a bucket brigade that may control a blaze in its early stages. Those who come merely for the ride and the excitement are but an added trial and they probably are the ones most liable to park indiscriminately and block traffic.

Charges have been laid in some instances as a means of discouraging these fire truck tailgaters. They don't discourage easily but surely drivers going to a fire should be considerate enough when parking to leave open a lane of communication in case of emergency need.

The Waiting Poor

Canada's welfare ministers have just spent two days in Victoria, British Columbia, discussing welfare policies. What emerged at the meeting was in a number of ways very disturbing, suggests an editorial in The Montreal Gazette.

Mr. Munro, the federal minister of Health and Welfare, for example, stated: "Our task is to make the public aware of conditions as they really are, in all their grim dimensions."

But is it? It is hardly the way the 4,000,000 poor in Canada (the figure is the one he quoted) would describe the task facing the welfare ministers. The public is aware of the extent of poverty in Canada: it is also aware that present welfare policies are inadequately structured to deal with it.

It is also disturbing to realize that the welfare ministers had not yet made any of the difficult decisions about reorganizing their welfare systems — decisions which they have all known for a number of years needed to be made.

Mr. Munro felt he had to warn them: "We cannot ride along forever making a patch here and a patch there, and all the time relegating the big decisions back to some committee for yet another study."

The sad thing is that they can go on doing so. Even sadder still is the fact that they probably will.

But they shouldn't. Enough studies have been conducted already to warrant experimental pilot projects testing the possible changes to the welfare system suggested by these studies. Any action which falls short of that minimum beginning — unless strong arguments are provided to substantiate it — has to be interpreted as simply indecisiveness and procrastination.

ON WRONG SIDE

Glen Robertson, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

The Glengarry News is an esteemed Canadian Weekly and would not wittingly be duped into serving the purposes of unscrupulous persons.

And the fair-minded people in the Glen Sandfield-Brodie area know very well that the editorial on poor winter road conditions out of Glen Robertson is an absolute contradiction of facts. The truth is that very often cars must be abandoned on winter roads south of Dalkeith to await special snow removal equipment, while, at this end, they never encounter any serious problems on their frequent trips to Alexandria via Glen Robertson.

The News editorial expressed the hope that local politics would not prevent Dalkeith from taking this mail franchise away from Glen Robertson which had won the right to serve Glen Sandfield by the non-partisan decision of Post Office authorities. The News would have served justice much better by warning that Liberal Party cronies wanted this little "plum" by all

Cold - Getting Colder

The Uxbridge Times-Journal)

Just think: Canada is a frozen wasteland devoid of people. Flourishing cities that once bloomed have withered.

In New York there is no summer, just spring and fall — and a long, long winter. There seems to be a permanent chill in the air. The only heat left is around the equator.

Frosts have been destroying Florida citrus crops during the summer for years and several feet of snow fall in that state every winter. Cotton can no longer be grown except in Central America.

What is all this? Science fiction?

At present it is. However, it could be a glimpse into a dismal future that may be awaiting us in the years ahead.

The facts are incontrovertible: the weather is changing. Summers are not as long as they were. Winters are colder and man himself is responsible for our changing climate.

What's more, if the trend does not reverse, the Western Hemisphere could be engulfed in a virtual ice age within the next 40 years.

According to Dr. Reid Bryson, a noted meteorologist, the earth underwent a warming up period from the 1800's to about 1940. But from then on until the present, the earth has been cooling. Right now, he says, our average yearly temperature is about equivalent to that of the year 1910. The loss of heat is accelerating.

Says Dr. Bryson in fair warning: "If my analysis is correct, man is now changing the climate of the earth." And he is doing it each day with air pollution.

WITH OUR

by Ed.

We'll be in a thankful mood this weekend if the weatherman serves up golfing weather.

SO GREEN ARE OUR GREENS

A tragedy of bad timing we term it. Never all summer have the greens at Glengarry Golf & Country Club been in such superb shape, the fairways so spongy underfoot. And only a few of the faithful are out to enjoy a golf course that is practically in perfect playing condition.

The bad timing is in the lateness of the season and the hint of winter chill in the air. The club is closing only ten days from now and it makes sense when most divot diggers have put away their clubs in disgust because most days are too cold for an enjoyable tour of the fairways.

It was cloudy and a bit coolish Friday, but we braved the threat of rain to ramble around and we were well rewarded. The only fly in the ointment was the absence of fellow golfers. Fairways and greens were so lush we felt it an awful waste of those verdant greens when so few were puttering around.

The turnout was better Saturday, despite the nip in the air, and Sunday's warmer weather brought out most of the regulars and a healthy number of greens fee visitors. The course was as busy in early afternoon as it might be in August and it was nice to know there were visiting golfers getting a gander at our greens at their best.

We've only a hope that the weather this holiday weekend ahead will be as lugubrious as we knew it on the local course last weekend. If the sun even shows its face your Rambling Reporter suggests anyone who likes golf should take time out for at least one round of Glengarry's greenest acres.

So superb are those greens right now they rate a visit.

Sad to think our cities can have no order without law enforcement.

LETTING DONNA DOWN

How write the history of Glengarry in 300 words, or 500 words, or brief enough anyway to serve the purpose of a school history project That is the problem facing the editor of this journal. He was carrying an extra burden of guilt last weekend because he was unable to fill just such a request.

He doesn't know Donna who's in grade 8, up Toronto way; but he hates to let her down. She's doing a history project on her ancestors, some of whom seemingly haled from Glengarry for she hopes ye ed can send her some information on the era of 1783-1812.

It's a hopeless case anyway, from the standpoint of time. Donna notes her project has to be handed in on October 10th and the editor doubts a letter would get through Toronto post office to reach her by that date, even if he had the info ready to mail on Monday.

He hopes she has something else ready to hand in to teacher and in case she reads this column he asked your Rambling Reporter to apologize to Donna. Tell her it is impossible for me to condense that period of Glengarry's history into a size that would be considered acceptable, ye editor suggested.

We can see his point. That period would have to tell something of Sir William Johnson and his colonial empire in New York State's Mohawk Valley; of the coming of the United Empire Loyalists to Glengarry; of Sir John Johnson's settlement at Williamstown and the steady infiltration through the years of emigrants from Scotland who settled at St. Raphael's, in Lancaster Township and north even to Glen Elg, now Kirk Hill.

It wouldn't be complete without mention of Rev. John Bethune, of Bishop Alexander Macdonell who reached north from St. Raphael's to found the Priest's Mills that is now Alexandria. A proper history of that period should tell of the privation those pioneer settlers knew; of the forest clearing, the first log cabins that later gave way to more substantial homes, the primitive roads over which winter sleds carried marketable produce all the way to Montreal.

See what he means, Donna? If you hadn't limited your period to 1812 the story would have had to tell of the Glengarry Fencibles and the many other militiamen who fought at York, at Queenston, Prescott, Crysler's Farm, Chateauguay and wherever this young country was threatened.

It's quite a colorful history to condense to school project size but each year brings more such requests as Donna's to the editor's desk. He hates to let them down and if he can find time this winter

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND DISTRICT SURROUNDING

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brown and Bill Purdy were weekend guests with Mr. and Mrs. Ovila Doth.

Rev. Duncan Ritchie of Vancouver, is visiting Rev. and Mrs. Iver D. MacIver.

Mrs. Harvey Leroy, St. Eugene, came over to spend Sunday afternoon with Mrs. J. N. Fitzgerald.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church starts off the church supper season with their Thanksgiving dinner this Saturday.

Residents of the Athol district were surprised by a visit from a large moose one morning last week. The animal appeared on the farm of William Metcalfe, then ambled across to a neighbor's garden where it ate a cabbage, and finally disappeared into a corn field. The moose probably strayed from the herd which lives in the Alfred Bog under constant supervision of local game wardens—they are strictly protected in this area.

Watch for details, in a later issue of this paper, of the Tea and Fancy Fair to be held November 7th, 1969. Sponsored by the Maxville Manor Auxiliary.

TO RAFFLE OFF GRANDFATHER'S CLOCK

The Auxiliary of Maxville Manor held their general meeting in the auditorium of the Manor last week. There was an excellent attendance and several guests from the residence. Plans were made for the annual Christmas party, and a grandfather's clock has been ordered from Arthur Campbell. This will be raffled off at the party, proceeds going to the Auxiliary. Tickets on this clock are selling very quickly, particularly to anyone who has seen the beautiful example of his work that Mr. Campbell presented to the Manor last spring.

A bazaar and tea will be held on Nov. 7, at the King George Hotel. A quantity of wool has been given out to be knitted into various small items, and additional fancywork will be offered for sale.

The guest speaker was Miss Hill, of the Department of Health and Welfare, Toronto. She showed a very interesting collection of slides illustrating facilities and activities in other Manors in Ontario.

SOCIETY WON CUP

The annual meeting of the Ontario Horticultural Society District No. 1 was held at Vankleek Hill on Saturday, Sept. 27 with a good representation from the six societies.

Mr. Gordon Thom district director presided for the business part of the morning session.

Each society presented a report of accomplishments for the year. Maxville Society having the greatest accomplishments was awarded the Gordon Thom Silver Cup.

Mrs. Hugh Smith, president, accepted on behalf of Maxville Society.

Mr. W. Cavaye, Ottawa, was guest speaker and brought us up to date with the new judging standards.

After a tasty dinner served by the ladies of the church our speaker was Jack MacIntyre, president of Memorial Park, Montreal. He spoke on roses, and the rose garden now being established in Oskiko, Japan, for the World Fair 1970.

His colored slides of the expo rose gardens were very interesting and entertaining.

Mrs. Gochnauer of Ottawa provided an interesting demonstration of the "Art of Miniature Floral Arrangements."

Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilkes, Mrs. Len Hill, Mrs. Roger Guindon, Mrs. Nelson Montgomery, Mrs. Scott, Arnold Scott attended from Maxville Society.

Tea Tymers Met

Karen Brown was hostess, Monday evening, when the Alexandria Tea Tymers met at her home for dinner.

This was a practical meeting. The girls learned by doing and performed duties as guests, waitresses, tidiers and dishwashers as a further step in their present project "The Club Girl Entertains."

The next meeting will be held Monday, October 20th, at the Church on the Hill.

In some instances, scare tactics were used to obtain signatures for the petition you mention. They were promised an incompetent postman-courier if the franchise was served from here.

Met At Museum

The motto for McCrimmon's Women Institute was "We get too soon old and too late smart". This was commented on by Mrs. A. Lasalle. The roll call was a vanished landmark. This meeting was held in the Glengarry Museum and the ladies were welcomed by the curator, Mrs. Mora MacLeod. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Angus MacDonald.

The treasurer report was given by Margaret MacDonald who reported a very successful social evening.

The business consisted of planning the drive for the CNIB Canvass, sending a donation to the Farm Lawn Competition of the OFA to assist in their prize winnig award night to be held in the near future. Planning for the Curator's course in Plantagenet. The Senior Training Course on Accessories for the Home to be held in Alexandria in November. It was announced that Mrs. Morlin Campbell and Mrs. Douglas MacMillan would be leaders for the Jr. 4-H course. The Club Girl entertains.

The topic was Historical Research and Mrs. W. R. MacLeod asked for material for the Tweedsmuir Book.

My Trip to Scotland by Miss Flora Ann MacGillivray was enjoyed by all. An old-fashioned lunch was planned by the lunch committee, consisting of homemade rolls and fresh apple jelly, old-fashioned gingerbread and doughnuts and coffee. Grace was by Mrs. Dan MacLeod, Dunvegan. A tour of the Museum closed the McCrimmon Women's Institute annual visit to the Museum. Miss Margaret MacDonald thanked Miss MacGillivray for her entertaining talk and Mrs. W. R. MacLeod thanked Mrs. Mora MacLeod for a very pleasant afternoon.

Three-Way Tie Could Develop With This Weekend's Football Play

by Angus H. McDonell

The Vankleek Hill students have taken over the lead in the senior section of the Glengarry-Prescott Football League by virtue of last Friday's 17-7 win over Williamstown.

In the second game of the weekly double header, Hawkesbury moved into a tie with Alexandria for second place as they won over Maxville 27-7.

In the junior section only one game was played and Hawkesbury won again over Maxville 44-6. The second game, VCI at Char-Lan, was postponed due to the fact the Hill junior coach, George Leblanc, was unable to attend the game and direct his young students.

This game will be played later.

On Wednesday afternoon, last week, Hawkesbury juniors played the only mid-week game in Maxville, scalping the Indian Lands' juniors 47-18.

There is a typical Ottawa-leadership game in store this Friday, tomorrow, when Vankleek Hill moves into Hawkesbury.

Should VCI win this game they should be comfortably in first place for the remainder of the schedule; however, if the Hawks win at home and Alexandria take care of Char-Lan here, then those first three clubs will be all tied with six points each.

Needless to add there will be great interest in the student gridiron battle in Hawkesbury as Alexandria should be able to win this one at home over Williamstown.

In the junior division Hawkesbury are out in front with a 4-point bulge over Alexandria as they have won four straight games for 8 points.

Alexandria has played one game less and is in second place with 4 points while Char-Lan and VCI share third with 2 points each.

Maxville with a really young squad have yet to win a game; however, they are gaining experience which will show to advantage come another season.

On Tuesday of next week, October 14th, Hawkesbury seniors play a return game at Maxville and this will bring the schedule to the final two double-headers.

This Saturday, Char-Lan will be in Ourtown to meet the junior Gaels whil VCI will follow in line like their seniors and play in Hawkesbury. The junior section also is drawn to a close with two remaining double headers.

Adopt Teachers' Recommendations

Ten recommendations drafted at a meeting of senior French-speaking teachers held Sept. 24 were adopted last week by the French language advisory committee.

They now await approval at tonight's meeting of the United Counties board of education.

Dr. Claude Corbeil chairman hopes to carry two of the recommendations with him to Toronto later this month to confer with officials in the department of education.

One request is that the department be asked to set up a committee to study the problem of providing French-language text-books for all subjects.

The other request urges the establishment of a summer course to train teachers in French-language instruction at the University of Ottawa.

Only a full-year course is now offered by Ontario's three high school teachers' colleges to anyone wishing to teach in a French-culture school.

A recommendation strongly urging school guidance counsellors to consider very carefully any requests from French-speaking students who wish to change to English-language instruction, sparked criticism of guidance counsellors in general from certain committee members.

"There is often a lack of communication between parent and guidance teacher," said trustee G. E. Desjardins. "The parents should be closely involved when the pupil is making a decision."

Marcel Masse suggested special procedures for change should be devised to provide time for the student to "think it over", as is done at General Vanier High School.

Provincial grants to schools also drew some fire during discussion of a proposal that subjects which are taught in both English and French (such as history and l'histoire) be budgeted with extra funds, for buying two sets of textbooks.

Auditor's Report - Village of Lancaster

Village of Lancaster, Financial Statements, December 31, 1968

The Reeve, Members of Council and Ratepayers,

Village of Lancaster.

REVENUE: 2-1, 2-2, 2-3

TAXATION: Revenue from Taxation increased from $49,579.79 in 1967 to $53,360.61 in 1968 an increase of $3,780.82. The Revenue from Taxation has been reduced by the amount of the Residential Property Tax Reduction of $12,425.48 which was received from the Province of Ontario. The amounts were credited directly on the Collectors Roll to the Residential Property Owners. The increase are due to added assessment higher mill rates.

CONTRIBUTIONS FROM OTHER GOVERNMENTS: have increased from $4,277.84 to $5,775.01 in 1968 due to Revenue received from the H.E.P.C. of Ontario in the amount of $4,723.92 an increase of $1,514.80 over 1967.

ONTARIO: This section showed an increase of $11,165.23 over 1967 made up as follows:

	1967	1968	Increase	Decrease
Per Capita	2,695.50	4,900.10	2,204.60
Residential Tax Reduct.	nil	12,425.48	12,425.48
Roadways	9,668.76	5,149.53		4,519.23
General Welfare Assist.	12,872.15	13,926.53	1,054.38
	$25,236.41	36,401.64	15,684.46	4,519.23

The increase is almost entirely due to the Residential Tax Rebate in the amount of $12,425.48 which was received for the first time in 1968. However, as noted above in paragraph 1, this also reduced the Revenue from Taxation by a like amount. The Revenue from Roadways and General Welfare are related to the expenditures in their areas and indicates a substantial reduction in Roadway work in 1968 as compared to 1967.

OTHER REVENUE: This Section shows an increase of $1,654.00 in 1968 over 1967. Taxes written off recovered resulted from charging the School Boards the School Boards share of taxes written off in previous years. Penalties and interest increased by $541.79 as a result of a concerted drive on arrears by $541.79 and picking up charges which had been neglected in 1967.

EXPENDITURES: 2-3

GENERAL GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES issued of $1,200.00 was largely due to Salary and wage increase in 1968 and adjustments in council and audit fee.

PROTECTION TO PERSONS AND PROPERTY increased by $3,447.81 in 1968 over 1967. Fire Fees to the voluntary fire fighters and maintenance costs increased by $692.00 in 1968. The repairs and improvements in the Street Lighting cost the Municipality $2,738.60 in 1968. The two mentioned expenses account for the increase in expenditures in this section.

PUBLIC WORKS increased by $2,740.00 in 1968. This was due largely to contracts entered into in 1967 and completed in 1968. Payments to Cornwall Gravel Co., Ltd., in the amount of $6,050.68 and Mr. Hazel B. Meldrum of $1,868.96 accounted for $7,919.64 of the total expenditure. A new tractor in the amount of $2,596.69 was charged directly against revenue and is included in the total expenditures for Public Works. Charges for lease and rental of lands for Public Works use was also charged. A used truck in the amount of $600.00 from Cloverleaf Motors was also charged.

SOCIAL and FAMILY SERVICES:

Expenditures for Central Welfare Assistance increased in 1968 over 1967 in the amount of $1,143.00. As this expenditure is closely related to Provincial Grants For Welfare the net increase to the Municipality was small.

RECREATION and COMMUNITY SERVICES:

Expenditures in this area remained quite stable in 1968. However no amounts were paid to the Library Board and I would suggest that for 1969 amounts should be set aside and paid over to the Board.

FINANCIAL EXPENSES:

Interest on temporary borrowings decreased by $237.25 in 1968. Temporary borrowing was reduced in 1968 largely as a result of improved collection policies in respect of tax arrears. The $304.20 unclassified was collection charges for tax arrears.

EDUCATION and LOCAL CONTRIBUTIONS:

Expenditures in this area as indicated in the schedule increased sharply by $3,461.00. Whereas the elementary schools decreased the secondary school contributions by the municipality increased by $5,864.00.

REVENUE FUND BALANCE SHEET 2-4

The financial position of the municipality when comparing the Assets and Liabilities is much improved over 1967. Improved collection policies in respect to collection of tax arrears along with the required applications for Grants from the Province of Ontario being filed on time has greatly improved the overall financial position of the Municipality.

Whereas total assets have decreased by $125,956.00 in 1968 over 1967 liabilities had were met when due. Temporary borrowing in 1968 was kept to a minimum and all Bank Loans had been paid off by December 31, 1968. Another factor which contributed to the improvement in the financial position was the Residential Property Tax Reduction in the amount of $12,425.48 from the Province of Ontario which reduced by that amount the taxes collectible on the collectors Roll from residential tax payers.

Department of Highways	2,397.55	3,875.11
	$5,785.36	10,439.07

The reduction is primarily due to the fact that application for the above grants were made when due in 1968.

ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE—OTHER MUNICIPALITIES

	1968	1967
Fire Serv. Township Charlottenburgh	1,073.00	3,787.50
Fire Serv. Township Lancaster	2,217.00	2,175.00
Roads—United Counties	2,100.85
	$5,390.85	5,962.50

TAXES RECEIVABLE:

The most notable improvement in the Financial position of the Municipality was in the area of tax arrears. Improved collection policies and the Residential Property Tax Reduction received from the Province reduced the arrears after deducting the reserve for uncollectible taxes in the amount of $2,543.62 from $18,368.98 in 1967 to $9,710.96. Schedule 2-13 Continuity of Taxes Receivable summarizes the position. It has been noted in analyzing the arrears that a substantial amount of arrears are concentrated on one taxpayer and if this could be collected the arrears position of the municipality would be above average for a rural municipality.

LIABILITIES:

The policies as mentioned above have resulted in the ability of the municipality to meet its obligations as they became due. Bank loans and requisitions from the School Boards have all been paid in 1968. At the end of 1967 bank loans in the amount of $5,000.00 and requisitions in the amount of $11,001.87 were outstanding. The only liabilities outstanding to my knowledge are the accrued charges for Audit Fees and amounts owing to the school boards as a result of additions to the assessment roll during 1968.

Pledged Vows At Kirk Hill

MacINTOSH—MacMASTER

A lovely fall wedding took place in St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Kirk Hill, on Sept. 13th, when Margaret Ann MacMaster of Greenfield, became the bride of Lyle MacIntosh of Dalkeith. Dr. William MacLean of Ottawa, a former minister of St. Columba's Church, officiated at the candlelight ceremony at 4.30 p.m. Miss Brenda MacGillivray was at the organ and Miss Jean Morris was soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. MacMaster of Greenfield, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. MacIntosh of Dalkeith.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white Ligoda in an A-Line style featuring a high collar and wide cuffed sleeves partially made of lace. Her floor-length veil edged in similar lace fell from a dainty floral headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses centered with white orchids and heather.

The bridesmaids were Misses Evelyn and Beth MacMaster, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Kent MacSweyn, a sister of the groom, and Miss Beatrice MacLeod. They were gowned identically in mauve empire lined gowns of peau de soie, featuring short puffed sleeves of lighter mauve lace and rolled collars edged in the same lace.

Raymond MacLeod of Ottawa, was best man and the ushers were George MacLeod of Dalkeith, Kent MacSweyn, Alexandria, and Bevans MacMaster of Ottawa.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the Kirk Hill United Church Hall, where guests were present from Manitoba, Sarnia, Brockville, Montreal, Ottawa, Cooper Cliff and Cornwall.

Mrs. Gerald McDonald presided at her first meeting as President of Alexandria Diocesan Council of the CWL in Alexander School on Sept. 25th. A concelebrated mass preceded the meeting as ten directors present joined with Diocesan Director Father O'Brien.

Congratulations were extended to Miss Mildred Cleary, now 2nd Vice-President of the Ontario Provincial Council representing 75,000 women, and to Mrs. John Fox who has been appointed editor of the Provincial Newsletter. Miss Florence Kennedy is replacing Mrs. Bernard Daley as secretary of the Diocesan slate. All of the Diocesan conveners presided at workshops and presented directives for the coming year, representing a very heavy program.

Mrs. James McDonald, Spiritual convener announced that a Day of Recollection would be held at St. Raphael's on October 25th. Mrs. Hilary Lawson of St. Andrews, convener of Social, Economic and Civic Life, will head the effort to concentrate on the missions and the project for Development and Peace begun last year.

Mrs. John Fox, Social Action convener, recommended a survey committee in each district to assess each parish's most pressing problems, to study the condition and investigate methods of correction.

In the juvenile classes, the school winning the most prizes was the Moose Creek Public School; and the second prize was won by the Moose Creek Separate School. The director for the juvenile classes was Mrs. Chester Valley, whose work proved excellent for the Society.

Mrs. Walton expressed the sincere thanks of the members to Mr. and Mrs. Shorten for coming to us as judges, to the several school teachers for their work with the juveniles who entered so many exhibits, the directors and exhibitors who helped to make the flower show such a success.

Hugh Raymond Died At 84

Friends throughout the district were saddened by the death of Hugh E. Raymond of Apple Hill, who passed away after a lengthy illness at the MacDonell Memorial Hospital, Cornwall, on Saturday, September 27.

Born in Apple Hill 84 years ago last May 29, he was a son of the late John Raymond and his wife Isabelle MacGregor.

As a young man he spent five years in Western Canada on a government project along the Saskatchewan River. Following this he worked for the Northern Electric Co. in Montreal.

On October 13, 1919 he married Helena Thomas of Williamstown, and thereafter took up farming in the 1st Concession of Kenyon Township.

Actively interested in local govment and community affairs, he served for 25 years on the local Separate School Board; was Township assessor in 1925; served on the Kenyon Township Council as councillor and deputy-reeve; was Game and Fisheries Overseer for the Department of Lands and Forests for 10 years. He also served as Building Inspector for the Township of Kenyon.

Keenly interested in sports, he, with other local men, initiated minor hockey in the district, helping many boys in this and surrounding communities play competitive sports.

Retiring from farming, he moved to Apple Hill in the fall of 1964. He is survived by his wife, one son, Bernard of Apple Hill, and two daughters, Mrs. Carman Fraser (Isobel) of Apple Hill, and Mrs. Donald McDonell (Eileen) of Maitland, also five grandchildren, Keith and Carol Darling; Debra, Dale, and Lee Raymond.

The funeral was held on Tuesday, Sept. 30, from the Munro Funeral Home, Maxville to St. Anthony's Parish Church, Apple Hill, where the funeral mass was sung by Rev. Thomas Villeneuve.

The pallbearers were Charles MacDonell, Howard Coleman, John Munro, William Cooper, Cornelius Sloan, and Horace Marjerrison.

Interment was in the family plot in the parish cemetery.

UCW Executive Seaway Valley Presbyterial Met At Cardinal

Mrs. Cilfford Larmour, Morrisburg, president of the Seaway Valley Presbyterial of United Church Women, stressed the Bible verse "for I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you" in her remarks at a recent executive meeting held at the Cardinal United Church. Mrs. Larmour asked for renewed interest and effort in the coming months. "When changes come to our local churches let us work where and how we can harmoniously," she continued.

United Church Women in this corner of Ontario have forwarded $15,885.15 for the first two quarters to the Unified Budget, in addition to $100 conference expenses said Mrs. Allen VanAllen, Kemptville, treasurer. Contributions, as of January 1, 1970, will go through the Missionary and Service treasurer in the local church instead of the Presbyterial treasurer for the Unified Budget. Expense money only and a report showing givings will go to Mrs. Van Allen. Instructions will be forwarded to each group regarding the change.

Mrs. F. W. B. Shaw, Hawkesbury, vice-president, congratulated Mrs. D. J. Cooper, Kemptville; Mrs. Allen Hanna, Jasper; and Mrs. Arthur Woodland, Spencerville, on the well-organized UCW Summer School at St. Anne de Bellevue, attended by 21 full-time delegates and 33 day visitors from the Seaway Valley Presbyterial.

Mrs. Larmour announced that Avonmore and Newington had been changed from Region 2 to Region 3. Monkland, Berwick, North Valley, Van Camp and Mainsville churches have been closed and their UCW's discontinued.

Mrs. Woodland and Mrs. Cooper presented program material available this year. The packet and study book "Choice in Change" contains a great wealth of possibilities for interesting and informative programs.

Fall rallies will be held as follows: Region 1, Hawkesbury, November 4, morning and afternoon, Mrs. Errol Boa, regional vice-president; Region 2, Long Sault, October 28, morning and afternoon, Mrs. L. E. Harris, regional vice-president; Region 3, Winchester, October 29, afternoon and evening, Mrs. Frank Casselman, regional vice-president; Region 4, Shanly, October 22, afternoon and evening, Mrs. Stewart Allen, regional vice-president; Region 5, Algonquin, October 27, afternoon and evening, Mrs. Allen Hanna, regional vice-president.

A conference executive meeting will be held at Ingleside, November 5 and 6 with an open session, Wednesday evening, November 5.

The annual executive meeting will convene January 27, 1970, at 10.30 a.m. in Winchester. The annual presbyterial meeting will be held late in February or March.

Special Services At Avonmore

Special services marking the congregation's 93rd anniversary were held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Sunday. Large congregations, including friends from neighboring churches, attended.

Guest speaker at both morning and evening services was Mr. Davis Robertson, student minister of Knox Presbyterian Church, Moose Creek. A student at Presbyterian College, Montreal, Mr. Robertson is in his final year of theological studies.

In the morning Mr. Robertson used as his theme "The Old Testament Church—The People of God" and in the evening extended the theme to "The New Testament Church — God's Commuinon of Concern". His messages were much appreciated and enjoyed.

At the morning service a men's trio, composed of Allan McIntyre, Burns McIntyre and John Miller, sang "A Little Talk With Jesus" and the choir, directed by Mrs. Neil Bush, sang the anthem "The Lord's My Shepherd".

In the evening the choir sang the anthem "In My Heart" and a girls' quartette, Bonnie Henderson, Mavis MacRae, Brenda McIntyre and Penny Tinkess, sang "If the Christ Should Come to Me".

Rev. Willis E. Sayers, MA, minister of St. Andrew's Church, conducted the service and welcomed visiting friends, including Rev. Henry Funge and members of St. James United Church and Mr. Robertson. Rev. Mr. Funge read the Scripture Lesson.

On Monday evening a congregational social evening was held in the recently re-decorated church hall. Rev. Mr. Sayers conducted a brief period of devotions.

Guest speaker was Rev. Dr. W. L. MacLellan, minister of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Cornwall. Dr. MacLellan gave a very fine illustrated travelogue on Scotland, which he and Mrs. MacLellan visited in August as a part of a European tour. A social hour followed, during which time the ladies of the congregation served lunch.

When the paths of life divide.

Then sorrow came and tears.

To cherish through the years.
When the days are sad and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
I seem to hear you whisper,
"Be brave and carry on".
