To contest reeve's job

A reeveship struggle will accompany the mayorality race in Alexandria with Councillor Bruno Lalonde challenging incumbent Reeve Rheal Lefebvre.

Bruno Massie reported to The News last week that he is seriously considering contesting Mayor J. P. Touchette in the main bout on the November 10 card.

Mr. Lalonde will be running for his fourth term in office, his first three terms as a councillor.

Reeve Rheal Lefebvre will be running for his second term.

Mr. Lalonde said he would like to see Alexandria get more out of the United Counties, particularly in industry and tourism.

Mr. Lefebvre said he would be running on his past term's record.

Deputy Reeve Yolande Viau, who took over the position following the death of Florence Villeneuve on August 18, 1979 said she would run for her third term in council and, "do the best I can".

Of the remaining five councillors only one has made a decision to run. Raymond Jette will vy for a fourth term on council.

Fern Seguin, John Cormier, Archie McDougall and Lionel Leroux expressed indecision but stated there was a possibility.

Reform Team calls meeting

Two more citizen associations have thrown their support behind the Reform Team which plans to challenge incumbent trustees of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education.

The Association for the Preservation of Bilingualism in Glengarry (APBG) and the Association of Catholic Parents (ACP) are co-sponsoring a public meeting tomorrow (Thursday) with the Parents for Educational Progress to attract candidates and workers for the upcoming election campaign.

The meeting will be held at Cornwall's General Vanier Secondary School, 1,500 Cumberland Street at 8 p.m.

The groups hope to draw interested citizens from throughout the United Counties and set up campaign committees.

Citizens interested in helping the Reform Team, either as candidates or campaign workers, do not have to belong to any of the three organizing groups, a joint press release notes.

Prospective candidates would be expected to agree in principle with the majority of the Reform Team's aims, however. These are as follows:

—A structured and more fundamental approach to teaching.

—New trustees on board acting in a more democratic fashion.

—An administration controlled by the trustees instead of vice-versa.

—A director of education holding only one position.

—Keeping small schools open.

—Smaller classroom sizes.

—More teaching and less clerical work for teachers.

"At the meeting, the formation of the Reform Team is likely to be the high interest topic and it is expected that all of the prospective team members will be discused," the release says.

"High on the list of concerns is the board of education administrators' dominance over many of the elected trustees and the poor channels of communication between the parents and the board."

The Reform Team says there are also a few incumbent trustees who have done a good job and will not be opposed.

The group is hoping to have some of these trustees as guest speakers at tomorrow's meeting.

Picketers clash with managers

The Consoltex strike in Alexandria has reached its fourth week with no end in sight.

A union spokesman said no talks are scheduled with management and the two sides are still holding to their original positions.

Violence flared last week when management-driven cars tried to pass through the line of workers picketing the plant.

About 30 management personnel entered the building last Tuesday but were met by a re-in forced picket line when they attempted to leave later in the afternoon.

During the incident, a car and striker came into collision, police report.

Richard Rochon, 27, of RR5 Alexandria, was treated at Glengarry Memorial Hospital and released.

A union spokesman said another individual was hit by a car but no injuries were reported.

Strikers reportedly threw stones at the cars, two of which were damaged.

Four members of the Alexandria Police Force escorted the cars out of the plant.

Later in the evening, police received reports that windows had been broken at the plant.

At about 11:15, a patio door at the rear of Brian Clinton's home in Alexandria was damaged when a stone was thrown at it. Mr. Clinton is a member of the plant's management.

During the evening, police noticed tires on one of their own cruisers going flat. They discovered three nails in the front tires.

At 4:30 p.m. the following day, Plant Manager Denis Hebert reported to police that the Consoltex delivery van, parked at the loading dock, had been vandalized.

The air was out of the tires and the brake hose had been cut, the police report notes.

Two vapour lights on top of the building were also broken.

At 8:05, a security guard obtained by Consoltex from Group Security, reported that someone broke a window to the main office.

Ray Bissonnette, president of Local 1664 of the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, said the violence was unfortunate but could have been prevented had the management not tried to run their vehicles through the picket line.

He said the union is willing to sit down at the negotiating table at any time.

"Our door has never been closed."

Mr. Hebert was unavailable for comment.

The union, which represents about 150 employees, is seeking a 75-cent an hour increase in each year of a proposed two-year contract. An extra 50 cents per hour is being sought for tradesmen.

The company has offered 55 cents the first year and 50 cents the second and has agreed to pay only a couple of the tradesmen the 50-cent increase. It has offered 25 cents to the rest.

The union also wants the company to assume full cost of a new drug plan.

Under the old contract, unskilled workers earned between $5.12 and $5.92 per hour, while the top tradesman earned $6.67.

Cleroux remanded until October 16

Suspended Alexandria Police Chief Sylvio Cleroux was remanded in Alexandria court Thursday.

He will enter a plea on October 16.

Chief Cleroux is charged on two counts of intent to falsify time sheets.

The charges relate to summer help and cover the time periods June 9 to 13 and June 16 to 28.

FLAC files charge over new staffer

The French Language Advisory Board has again filed a complaint with Ontario's Languages of Instruction Commission against Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education.

FLAC Chairman Albert Morin has charged that the board did not consult the committee in choosing a replacement for Superintendent Jean-Paul Scott who recently obtained employment elsewhere.

Mr. Morin is particularly upset that the board opted not to hire two candidates which FLAC endorses.

In hiring a person from Northern Ontario, the Board passed over Jeannine Seguin, a former principal at La Citadelle and now responsible for French language programs for the board, and Marcel Masse, a former FLAC chairman who is superintendent for the Prescott-Russell School Board.

Mr. Morin charged the board rejected these two applicants because they were "too French".

Board Chairman Sandra Enns denied the charge noting that the person selected has been vice-principal and principal for seven years in two homogenous French language high schools.

The new superintendent would be dealing with the board's French language schools and Mrs. Enns said he now occupies a post similar to that which he would hold here.

Trustee Enns said Trustee Morin was on the selection com-

Ontario housing grants

Lochiel sets new rules

Lochiel Township has decided to set a new regulation for awarding grants under the provincially-funded Ontario Home Renewal Program

A person's assets as well as his income will be a factor when determining whether a person qualifies for the special funds, reports Gerard Massie who administers the program for the township.

Under the OHRP, low income people can apply for funds to make structural improvements to their homes. The money must be used for major repairs such as plumbing and wiring, not for cosmetic purposes.

Funds are given to municipalities which divide up the money to people who apply.

Loans of up to $7,500 may be made to eligible owner-occupants and a portion of the loan may be forgiven depending on the recipient's income.

Interest rates range from zero to eight per cent depending on income.

To qualify, the person's maximum income must be no more than $12,500. Housing Minister Claude Bennett suggested recently that the ceiling should be raised to $15,500.

Lochiel Township received some criticism, recently when it rejected applications from five area farmers although they claimed income below the ceiling.

Mr. Massie said council decided to make a person's assets a factor because of the difficulty of judging the earnings of a self-employed person.

Under the provincial regulations, when judging an application for an employee, the gross income is taken. When judging the income of a self-employed person, the income after expenses is taken, Mr. Massie said.

Although a farmer's income in a given year might be under the ceiling, he can claim deductions that another person cannot.

Council might not think it appropriate, for example, to give someone a grant when he might own a property worth $100,000 even though his income was low for that year, Mr. Massie explained.

The funds are really meant for those at the very bottom of the economic ladder and council felt it had to make assets a consideration when making awards, he said.

He said the policy does not necessarily discriminate against farmers and some farmers have received funds under the program.

Farmers with very high assets—even if they do have a low income shown on their tax return—would not be recognized at this time," Mr. Massie said.

He said there are more applications than money available and council must determine those who are most in need.

He said a provincial official from Toronto told him council did have the flexibility under the law to exercise such discretion.

Running for board

Cameron McCormick and Mike Gibbs have announced their plans to seek trustees' posts on Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Roman Catholic Separate School Board.

Incumbent Trustee Terry Wheeler has also announced he will seek re-election in the Cornwall Township-Osnabruck Township riding.

Mr. McCormick will run in the riding covered by the Town of Alexandria, Township of Kenyon and Village of Maxville.

Mr. Gibbs will run in Lochiel Township.

Drug Mart altered after big facelift

Following a summer of sawdust and construction commotion the Alexandria Drug Mart has taken on an entirely different appearance. The transformation includes a 26x32 foot addition onto the back of the store, a large parking lot at the rear of the property, a checking and receiving area in the basement and an expanded dispensary.

The new look is newsworthy considering the drug store is an independent store owned by Sam Sultan. Most stores found in a community this size are chain stores while independent stores are usually found in small centres.

"Independent stores are more tuned into local needs as opposed to chain stores when policy is dictated by head office", Sam feels.

The project began last May and has been progressing steadily, completion is slated for a month's time. The cost was described as "substantial" by the owner.

Mr. Sultan purchased the store from Frank McLeister in 1973—a store which has been operating in some capacity in the town for almost a century. Frank is still found behind the shelves of the dispensary practising pharmacy much to the satisfaction of many local customers.

The parking lot intended for customers will be located directly behind the store. A garage located there on property purchased from Art Maclaren has been demolished to make way. The lot will extend east as far as Dominion Street and south to the Garry River.

Although the store has not increased its line of goods yet there is a possibility it may in the future, but the driving force behind the expansion is the increased shopping area for customers. It also improves working conditions for the employees.

It has been a trying summer for Alexandria Drug Mart's staff and customers but, "They have been very understanding", says Mr. Sultan, "and I thank them for it".

WORKING OUT OF NEW DISPENSARY—Alexandria druggists Frank McLeister and Sam Sultan are responsible for the health of many as they dispense countless prescriptions each week. The newly renovated store adds to the convenience of their responsible work.

Laggan gets fence for school children

Laggan Public School will be getting a fence this Fall.

Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education last week allocated $2,500 for the job.

The decision was made against the wishes of Director of Education Rosaire Leger and Controller of Plant David Petepiece who recommended the fence be erected next Spring.

They said there was no money in the 1980 budget for such a project and argued the playing field would not be used that much between now and Spring.

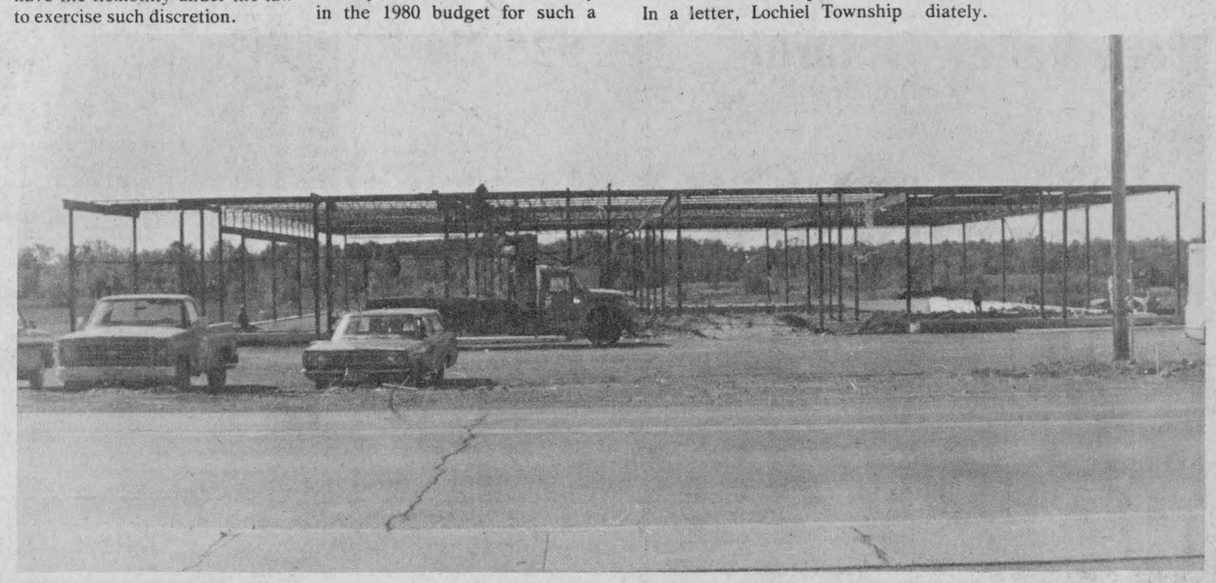
Williamsburg Township Trustee Harry Gatward, however, said the board should not wait until a child is killed.

He noted the board has money for many other projects and said a temporary snow fence suggested by Mr. Leger and Mr. Petepiece would not be much help.

In a letter, Lochiel Township noted that any ball missing the net rolls out into the county road and children dash after the ball in their excitement.

Superintendent Lorne Lawson said many people have used the field in the last 10 to 15 years and that no concern has been expressed in the past.

Trustees Sam McLeod and Fraser Campbell argued the board should take action immediately.



NEW STORE TAKES SHAPE—People passing the building site of the new IGA store located on Main Street South in Alexandria can now appreciate the dimensions of the structure with the erection of the steel framing which began last week. Construction of the 20,000 square foot building began in early August and owner Marc Lalonde hopes to be in his new store by early December.

Council Briefs

Industrial lot sold

Alexandria Council passed a by-law last night authorizing the sale of a lot in the industrial park to Glengarry Glass Limited.

The lot, which is adjacent to the existing building, will be used to erect another structure next year, Mayor J. P. Touchette said.

The mayor said the new building would probably create another 20 jobs in town.

Sale price of the lot was $5,000.

Postcards have arrived

Alexandria's parks and recreation program was a success again this year, Councillor Fern Seguin reports.

Councillor Seguin told council that 275 children registered in the swimming program, 45 in the arts and crafts program while another 50 participated in the seven special events held during the summer.

About $12,000 was spent on lights for the ball field and soccer field, he said.

Other work included painting and repairing of all buildings and landscaping.

Park program a success

Alexandria now has 7,000 postcards ready for distribution.

Mayor J. P. Touchette officially presented samples of the cards at council yesterday.

The front of the card is a color photo of the town's entrance sign with the flowers in full bloom.

The rear of the card contains information about the municipality, such as the number of schools, hospital facilities and services.

The cards will be sold to retailers at cost.

English and French versions of the cards are available.

OFFICIALLY CHANGED HANDS—Lancaster Township representatives were out to officially open Dick's Place in North Lancaster on Saturday afternoon. Man badly burned after hitting wire

Lee Taillefer is progressing satisfactorily at Ottawa General Hospital following a recent accident.

Taillefer, a former Alexandria resident, is presently a hydro lineman worker stationed at Winchester. He received serious electrical and thermal burns to his right arm and both legs when he came in contact with a live wire. He had climbed onto the nine foot high structure on the distribution station in Russell to replace the reclosures. He inadvertently came in contact with a live conductor and the sudden current hurled him off the building.

A hydro helicopter, working on a nearby tower line, rushed him to the Ottawa General Hospital. Area line foreman Jack Alexander said Taillefer was at the hospital by the time the ambulance had arrived at the scene of the accident.

On Thursday, Lee underwent skin graft surgery on his right arm.

Lee is the son of Andrea Taillefer of Alexandria and the late Lucien Taillefer and is married to Isabel McLeod formerly of Glen Nevis.

Vehicle scratched

An automobile parked at the Glengarry Sports Palace was scratched with an object on Friday evening resulting in an estimated $200 worth of damage.

Alexandria Police report that a blue 1979 Camaro, owned by Gerard Gareau 20 of RR2 Alexandria, was scratched from front to back on the left side of the automobile.

Mr. Gareau noticed the damage when he came out of the arena to go home.

Teachers hired

Public complaints succeeded in obtaining additional staff at several French language schools.

Two weeks ago, parent groups told trustees of the SD&G separate school board they had gone too far with staff cutbacks at certain schools. So after reviewing the budget and staffing allocations, the board authorized that extra teachers be hired.

The extra staff will be divided among seven schools. Nativity and Immaculate Conception will each receive one additional teacher, while half-time teachers have been granted at St. Gabriel's; St. Joseph's, Lancaster; Perpetuel Seocurs, Alexandria; St. Bernard's, Maxville and the Crysler school.

mittee but withdrew voluntarily.

The board first advertised the post inAugust and received five applications. Only two candidates met the board's requirements, Mrs. Seguin and Mr. Masse. Both were granted interviews.

Mrs. Enns and Director of Education Rosaire Leger opted to re-advertise the post to obtain more applications, a move Trustee Morin says was unethical.

He quit the selection committee in protest, Mrs. Enns noted.

"On the one hand, FLAC complains it didn't have input," Mrs. Enns said, "but it was by choice it had no input."

The board cannot hire its preferred choice until the Languages of Instruction Committee has reported on the matter.

PUBLIC SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETS

The School Committee at the Maxville Public School circulates an informative little newsletter, which is a very good way of keeping parents in touch with what is going on at the school. This active group has had one meeting already this fall, and the second is planned for Monday, October 6 at 8 p.m. in the library. —A good attendance of parents is essential as an active committee needs enthusiastic people with ideas. In an effort to encourage greater attendance at these monthly meetings an award will be given to the class which has the greatest representation at each meeting. On the agenda for the October 6 meeting, is the election of officers, a discussion of plans for Hot Dog Days, and a system of distributing juice to the children.

ART CLASSES RESUME

The afternoon art classes that village painters have enjoyed for several years will be resuming shortly, but on a different day. Teaching this year is Mrs. Pat Flaherty of Moose Creek, and the classes will be on Saturday afternoons from one to four, at St. Bernard's Separate School. Registraiton and the first class will be on Saturday, October 4.

LIBRARY AT NEW LOCATION

Another exciting change on Main Street—the Maxville Public Library has up and moved, from its quarters in the McDermid drug store directly across the street to the former Jamieson store. The main feature of the new location will be a much larger selection of books, using almost double the space of the old location. The library has been closed for several days until transfer is accomplished, but will re-open the evening of Wednesday, October 1, with librarians Nicole Dewar and Murdena Scott welcoming patrons. The hours remain the same—two to four Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons, and seven to nine Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings.

HUGHES—ST. LOUIS

Wed in Maxville

An early June wedding took place at Maxville when Mona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver St. Louis and Dale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hughes exchanged vows.

Father Denis Lefebvre officiated.

The bride's white train length gown featured long sleeves. A waist length veil, held by a crown completed her attire. She carried a cascade bouquet of daisies and yellow roses.

Lucienne Lavigne was maid of honor; Joscelyn St. Louis, the bride's niece, and Mary Hughes, the groom's sister were bridesmaids; Rachelle and Linda St. Louis of Calgary were flower girls. The attendants all wore daisies and roses

Best man Richard Derouchie, ushers Raymond St. Louis and Dwayne Hughes; and ringbearer Peter Hughes completed the wedding party.

The reception was held at Maxville Sportsplex. The couple are residing in Maxville.

Evening is special

On September 24, the Maxville Women's Institute hosted a special evening in the United Church Hall. Member branches of Avonmore, Moose Creek, Dunvegan, and friends were invited to hear Miss Ada Adams of Madoc, a retired teacher and world traveller speak on her trip to Hamburg, Germany, as a delegate to the 16th Triennial Conference of the Associated Countrywomen of The World. The A.C.W.W. has eight million members in sixty-eight countries, and it is the only women's international organization of its kind in the world. It all started back in 1897 in the small town of Stoney Creek, Ontario, because Adelaide Hoodless of that town was roused to action when her baby died from contaminated milk. The visiting delegates number 1100, and this number rose to 2,000 when members from the surrounding districts came in by the day. The theme of the 13-day conference was "Forward Together". Miss Adams said that each country was allowed three minutes to bring greetings and it was a never-to-be-forgotten experience to listen to women of all shades of skin expressing the same beliefs and hopes of peace and friendship, and teaching each other the art of living in harmony. Miss Adams is an accomplished speaker and photographer, and with excellent slides and a sparkling commentary she took her audience on a delightful trip through the highlights of the conference, and along on the many bus tours around the city of Hamburg and the surrounding countryside, visiting farms and enjoying the hospitality of the German people. After a short business meeting and a solo by Irma Marshall accompanied by Catherine McEwen, refreshments were served and all enjoyed an hour of visiting.

Class held

The Glengarry School of Piping and Drumming held registration and the first lesson of the fall term on Saturday. Over sixty students enrolled. The executive and instructors were pleased to enroll several new pupils and welcome back many former students. However, there is yet room in both the 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. classes for beginners. All those planning to take lessons are urged to attend promptly so that arrangement of classes can be completed.

Point Blank

by Brian Filion

A week after sending a certified cheque to the Montreal Expos Baseball Organization for World Series tickets, I began to become apprehensive when no correspondence followed. The talk on the street was that the organization was out of tickets, not publicizing the fact but continuing to collect money for tickets with the intention of holding onto the grand sum and thus making a considerable amount of interest on money collected over a period of time. "What a dirty way to take advantage of Expos' pennant fever!" I thought.

I proceeded to phone a friend who had also subscribed for tickets and aroused his suspicions. We agreed that a phone call should be made. The resulting phone call to the Expos' ticket office clarified the situation somewhat and dismissed some of my concerns.

The Expos' tickets were sent out on Wednesday evening and delivered to subscribers by courier, said the lady; but here it is Monday and still no sign of my tickets.

The story about the delayed refunds is just that, because ticket holders in Quebec can get an immediate cash refund at their local branch of the Bank of Montreal, but how out-of-province residents get refunds was not explained.

The sell-out statement was a myth for there were still decent tickets left on Saturday which went on sale at the Olympic Stadium box office.

This confusion over World Series tickets is rubbish. For a professional organization, the officials certainly are practising poor public relations keeping their fans in the dark about the availability of the precious commodity.

Ignoring the head office confusion, we hope the Expos can clinch the National League East division pennant this weekend thus giving us an opportunity to watch a World Series game in person—the games we skipped school to watch on television and regarded with such awe. It's the chance of a lifetime for local ball fans!

But where are those tickets?

WHO NEEDS US?

As more natives of Montreal and Toronto become restless with the calibre of football in their cities we calculate that it will be only a matter of time before these cities, led by Montreal, will attempt to secure themselves an NFL franchise. That move I would fully support but after reading about the hassles that the Major Baseball League is going through to organize the World Series I think the prospects are slim.

The Globe and Mail revealed last week that it is costing the major leagues $100,000 to print a special advance edition of the World Series program for the Montreal Expos.

The original cover had a baseball player superimposed on an American flag so they had a different cover made with both an American and Canadian flag that will be used if Montreal makes it. In addition half of the book must be in French, therefore 50 per cent of the stories are being translated at this time.

There are 75,000 programs printed at the above cost.

Minor problems you say, but who needs them when you have a half dozen American cities crying for a franchise? Besides, "It's too cold up there in Canada," they say.

B.J. CRACKS GEE GEES

B.J. Danaher, 19, of Bainsville, has cracked the Ottawa University Gee Gee football squad which is no small accomplishment considering the club is ranked amongst the top in the country. Coach Cam Innes presently has an undefeated team laden with players in their last year of eligibility, making little room for rookies.

B.J. played for the GDHS Gaels last year, running out of the fullback position and doubling as a defensive linebacker. Although B.J. has not played every game thus far he is making inroads for his future years at the U. of O.

B.J. lines up at a new position this Fall, offensive guard.

Glens record fifth victory

Glens collected their fifth exhibition victory in as many games on Sunday evening routing the Clarence Township Beavers, 10-2.

Leo Seguin led the scoring parade with four goals while rookie Grant Crack recorded a hat trick. Robert MacDonald, Frank Morris and Kennedy MacDonald chipped in with singles.

Friday, September 26
Glens 8, Navan Grads 3

A penalty-filled hockey affair saw the Glens overcome a 2-1 deficit at the end of the second period and come on to beat Navan, 8-3. The time keeper recorded 90 minutes in penalties including two fighting majors, and as a result game misconducts to Andre Cholette and Ronnie Besner.

Frank St. Pierre tied the game, 2-2 early in the third period and the Glens went on to score four more unanswered tallies before Navan replied. The Glens added numbers seven and eight in the dying minutes of the exhibition contest.

Luc Poirier led the team's scoring with two goals and three assists and Leo Seguin chalked up four assists.

Other goal scorers were Andre Cholette, John MacSweyn, Ed Williams, Bruce Wensink and Grant Crack.

Wednesday, September 24
Glens 11, St. Isidore 4

Glens Jr. "B" hockey club will be a hockey club to be reckoned with this season if Wednesday's exhibition game in Hawkesbury was any indication of the club's potential. The Glens out-gunned the defending Ottawa Valley Jr. B champions, 11-4.

Andre Cholette led the scoring attack with a hat trick and Brian Wensink added a pair. Singles were netted by Robert McDonald, Kennedy MacDonald, Bruce Wensink, Leo Seguin and Frank St. Pierre.

The Glens' next home exhibition game is scheduled for Friday, October 3 against the St. Isidore Eagles.

Gaels' tennis players amongst EOSSA best

Two members of the GDHS Gaels' tennis team were amongst the top competitors in their respective age categories at the EOSSA meet held in Brockville on Thursday.

Yves Poirier reached the finals in the junior boys' category and Tony White was eliminated in the semi-final round in the seniors' class.

A victory in the final match for Yves would have gained him a berth in the All-Ontario High School tournament. The loss came against a Cornwall opponent whom Yves had defeated in the SD&G tournament earlier in the week.

Tony's play was not to be overlooked reaching the semi finals, competing in a field of 20 other competitors.

The Gaels' tennis contingent, led by Coach Stanley Fraser was composed of ten players.

This marks the third year that a tennis team has been formed at the school.

Cabers plan meet

by Doug Fales

Members of the Cabers of Glengarry Club are planning their annual Fall display of brawn and skill in performing Scottish Games heavy events on October 12 at 1 p.m. The old High School grounds on Centre Street in Alexandria will be the location of the meet.

There will be the usual vanguard of Ron MacDonell, Rod McLeod, John MacDonald, Robin Thompson, Lloyd Kennedy—veteran coach and former caber champion; Dr. J. A. H. Senecal and Doug Fales.

Caber tossing, weight throws, sheaf tossing, stone and perhaps Robin Thompson's own specialty (will he get it patented?)...the anvil lift. The idea is to grasp it on end by the horn with one hand and lift it clear off the ground.

A workshop and discussion period will follow the senior competition.

The event will mark the closing of this Scottish Games season and has been a farewell for the athletes each year since 1977.

There is a possibility that Dave Herrington, Canadian heavy events champion, may be present. Dave is from Old Chelsea, Que., near Ottawa.

Fourth crown won

by Daniel Brunet

For the fourth consecutive season Caisse Populaire has captured the Alexandria Ladies Fastball League playoff title, beating out Jette's Hillbillies in three straight games.

Elaine Oetelaar allowed 12 hits, two walks and was credited with the win. Viola MacRae gave up two hits, four walks and struck out two batters and was tagged with the loss. Melba Murray in relief for MacRae in the third inning allowed three hits, three walks and fanned one batter.

Caisse Populaire members are: Louise Laferriere, Susanne Decoste, Denise Seguin, Helene Menard, Lise Paquette, Helene Gravel, Elaine Oetelaar, Louise Secours, Kathy Lowe, Colette Poirier, Debbie Oetelaar, Reine Bergeron and Coach Theo Oetelaar.

SD&G football showdown set for Friday

Friday's two games in the SD&G high school football league proved that Glengarry District High School and Cornwall Collegiate Vocational School Golden Raiders are the football powers. Gaels trudged over a helpless St. Lawrence Saints team, 27-0 and the Raiders piled up a 37-0 score over Tagwi.

Gaels' first possession of the football was an indication of the disparity between the two clubs' ability—the Gaels were too strong! Following the kick-off they marched downfield, chalking up a series of firstdowns. Quarterback David Shroeter stuck with the bread and butter plays, handing off to fullbacks Kennedy MacDonald and Gilles Bissonnette who picked up six to ten-yard gains consistently. The offensive line blew an inexperienced Saints line right back on their heels and the fullbacks took on the linebackers with a full head of steam.

The opening drive culminated with Grant Oke barrelling over from the one-yard line. The convert was good and the Gaels took an early 7-0 lead.

St. Lawrence's only deep penetration into Gael country came midway through the first quarter when Scott Nicholls, held onto the ball on a quaterback keeper and reached Glengarry's ten yard line. On the following play a Saints' fullback fumbled the ball and Gaels linebacker James Villeneuve was there to jump on it.

A second costly fumble late in the second quarter gave the Gaels possession around midfield. Methodically the Gaels ran the ball down to the Saints' 18-yard line. Schroeter then attempted to mix in a passing play, but a duck to offensive end Stewart MacDonald was picked off.

The Gaels' defence bottled the blue shirts in their own zone and the Gaels took over on the St. Lawrence 40-yard line. This time Schroeter mixed in some outside running to halfbacks Luc LeBlanc and Frank Morris, setting up a 25-year field goal for John Wood (who batted 1.000 with his place kicking for the afternoon, hitting for two field goals and three converts on as many attempts). The half ended with the Gaels up 10-0, and the Saints yet to show any sign of an offense.

Gaels' running attack looked even more awesome in the second half, particularly Gilles Bissonette who appeared to savour the muddy field conditions. He ran with reckless abandon over, around and through would-be tacklers. He totalled 168 yards for the afternoon.

It was the running of No. 20, Bissonnette, which resulted in the Gaels' second t.d. Grant Oke capped a 60-yard drive with a three-yard lunge for his second t.d. of the afternoon, Gaels 17, Saints 0.

On their next possession Glengarry started from their own 40-yard stripe and this time right fullback, Kennedy MacDonald, was the big driving force in a sustained drive which came to a halt on the St. Lawrence 13-yard line. Wood was true with a soccer style boot for another three points.

The last dismal quarter began with a St. Lawrence fumble on their own 12-yard line, Mike Marelic pounced on a mishandled pigskin. Gaels failed to capitalize on this opportunity as Schroeter was intercepted on the four-yard line. Three plays later they took a Saints third-down punt on the 38 and marched on for their third touchdown of the day. Gilles Bissonnette charged over from six yards out.

The two football powers will meet this Friday at 2 p.m. with the Gaels travelling to CCVS for a 2 p.m. start.

The Gaels are healthy and returning to the team are linebacker John Marelic and middle guard Jean Seguin, two big tough football players who missed the first league games because of injury.

Head Coach J. Y. Jeaurond is in the midst of preparations for the traditional battle with CCVS and promises a more diversified offensive attack, including more passing plays.

Friday's match saw the Gaels record 301 yards in total offence and all were gained along the ground.

How good are the Gaels? Friday's game will tell all.

Some Noteworthy Stats:

Gilles Bissonnette carried 28 times, gained 168 yards, averaging six yards a carry. Kennedy MacDonald carried 18 times for 94 yards, averaging 5.2 yards per carry.

Leading the No. 1 ranked defence in the United Counties were Grant Oke and James Villeneuve with five tackles each; followed by Dale Boisvenue and Nick Mosky with four apiece. Punter Marc Titley hit four for a 37.5 yard average.

Legionnaires atop league

The Legionnaires (formerly Cathy's Bar-B-Q) are in first place in the Glengarry Touch Football League, by virtue of four consecutive victories over the past three weeks. Their latest win was on Sunday, when they defeated Hope's Auto Parts (formerly Williamstown), 28-7. Jim McCormick scored two touchdowns for the Legion team, while Doug Dumouchel and Paul Masson scored one t.d. each. Ian Sandilands talied the lone touchdown for Hope's.

In the other match on Sunday, Lochiel were behind 12-6 in the second half but they roared back with two touchdowns in the final ten minutes to gain the victory. Andre Chenier had two touchdowns for Lochiel and a single t.d. went to Theo Oetelaar. Glenn MacDonell and Pat MacDonell scored six points each for the Loch Garry Lakers.

Next Sunday, the Legionnaires meet Lochiel at 11 a.m., in a game that could decide the winner of the league title, with two games each remaining in the regular schedule. At 1 p.m. Hope's and Loch Garry meet in a battle for the last play-off position.

Rebels roster ready

Charlottenburgh Jr. B. Rebels opened training camp last week with 42 hopefuls in attendance but after four practises the roster has been cut to 24 players as the team prepares for their exhibition schedule.

Returning to the club are the majority of last year's team excluding only seven players, two of whom have joined the Jr. A Cornwall Royals and one on a scholarship at an American college. Marc Lalonde and Dean Bourgon are with the Jr. A club and Goaltender Guy Vallee accepted a scholarship offer.

The Rebel coaching staff is keen on several rookies including 15-year-old Scott Benton and Mark Cooper.

Fans can catch an early glimpse of the squad when they play their first exhibition game on Saturday evening, 8 p.m. at the Williamstown Arena. The Rebels will take on their Glengarry counter part, the Alexandria Glens. A dance will be held upstairs following the game.

Caring -the extendicare way

With more and more of our elderly citizens moving to 'nursing homes' these days, it behooves us to pay some attention to just what kind of facilities are being provided for their comfort, safety and happiness.

Unfortunately, the record to date isn't good.

Last July, 25 elderly residents died in a fire at a Mississauga nursing home run by Extendicare Ltd., Canada's largest nursing home chain.

Extendicare had rejected a 1978 recommendation that its fire alarm should be hooked up to a private security company at a cost of $94 every three months, an inquest was told last week in Toronto.

After a fire at the same home in 1978 the nursing home supervisor, Mona McGee, sent a written recommendation to her supervisors, recommending a hookup with Chubb Security Systems, at an initial cost of $280 and then $94.40 every three months to monitor the home's fire alarm system. Her recommendation followed a memo sent after it was shown during a previous fire that the fire department took six minutes to reach the nursing home.

Six minutes can make a lot of difference in saving someone's life.

However, Mrs. McGee's superiors, after at least a little discussion we hope, decided to install louder fire bells. Are we to suppose that louder fire bells would aid the elderly residents in moving faster? Perhaps—if the elderly residents were capable of moving faster.

At any rate, the louder fire bells were installed and on July 14, 25 elderly people died in a fire at the home. "So much for that theory," we could imagine Extendicare bigwigs saying.

Now, Extendicare is Canada's largest nursing home chain, with 26 homes from Ottawa to Regina, assets of $100 million and net earnings last year of $4 million.

That is why it is difficult to argue that Extendicare couldn't afford $94.40 every three months to keep some people alive.

Extendicare Ltd. just decided to say no to the fire alarm hookup, although 16 out of 19 of its Ontario homes already have such hookups, an Extendicare employee said at the inquest.

Also testifying at the inquest was Donald Sherman, vice-president in charge of health services for Extendicare, who said that he was not involved in the decision to turn down the hookup and that he fully agreed with Mrs. McGee's recommendation. Later, assistant Crown attorney, Paul Taylor said in an interview that no more witnesses from Extendicare would testify.

So, we'll never know, will we, who actually decided that a little over $30 a month was too much to pay for the lives of some 25 elderly people.

It does indeed behoove us to ponder a bit about just what kind of twilight zone we are giving to our elderly.

Not all nursing homes are like Extendicare's Mississauga example, we hope.

One such home is one too many, as it proved to be for those 25 that died there.

Gold for Glen Nevis

On Sunday, Sept. 14, St. Margaret of Scotland Parish Council of the Catholic Women's League celebrated its golden jubilee.

Activities got under way with mass, celebrated by Father Witold Mazurkiewicz. The choir, under the direction of Helena McCuaig, rendered several appropriate hymns, Debbie Decoeur was organist.

Mrs. Theresa Quinn, Diocesan President brought greetings and a gift from the Diocesan Council. She presented a 50 year pin to Violet Macdonald, a member of the original executive.

Recipients of 25-year pins were Mrs. Rita Cuillerier, Mrs. Donalda Maville, Mrs. Isabel McDonald, Mrs. Catherine MacDonald, Mrs. Bessie McDonell, Mrs. Mary Jane McDonell, Mrs. Katharine McDonell, Mrs. Lucille McDonell, Mrs. Blanche McDonald, Mrs. Annabelle MacDonald, Mrs. Geraldine McDonald, Mrs. Janet MacDonald, Mrs. Mary McLeod, Mrs. Agnes McLeod, Mrs. Mary Tellier and Mrs. Jennie O'Shea.

A plaque, donated by the CWL in memory of Monsignor D. R. Macdonald was placed on the pulpit by Mrs. Bessie McDonell. Her mother, Mrs. Rod A. McLeod was the first president 50 years ago.

A letter of congratulations was read from His Excellency Bishop LaRocque.

Father Roch Bougie, Diocesan Director of Catholic Women's League gave an inspiring talk.

A buffet luncheon was served at the rectory.

Both rectory and church were tastefully decorated with various fall flowers.

Visitors who signed the guest book included representatives of several parish councils; former UCW members and even some guests from Poland.

Mrs. Wallie McRae, president thanked everyone for their co-operation and whole-hearted generosity in making the day such a memorable one.

Souvenir Cook-Books are on hand at Glen Nevis; Mrs. Main's in Alexandria and Highland Heritage in Lancaster.

Family planning explained

"The Billings method of family planning, a natural method of achieving or avoiding pregnancy is harmless, reliable and morally acceptable," Betty Villeneuve told the members of St. Raphael's Parish at a September meeting sponsored by the parish unit of the Catholic Women's League.

"This method is really a family planning method, not just a contraceptive technique," Mrs. Villeneuve said. "This method has proven to be so simple to use that it has been introduced into many countries of the Third World where the women have very little education."

"The method does not require pill-taking of any kind and is able to be used successfully by any woman who wished to do so. Based on sound scientific knowledge, this method enables all pregnancies to be planned."

Mrs. Villenuve instructs couples in the knowledge of this method at meetings held each month at Hotel Dieu, Cornwall and informed that interested persons could contact her.

Reverend Gary Ostler enlarged on the moral responsibility of couples in regard to marriage and families "It is an obligation of all Catholics not only women of child-bearing age to know what their church is teaching in this regard," he said.

A question period followed. The predominant question was: "How come we are only learning about this method now, when we hear it was introduced in Canada eight years ago?"

The meeting chaired by President Therese Major was the first of a series planned by the women to study the role of the Christian family and was attended by 82 people of both sexes from the parish, from high school age upwards.

The CWL members have decided to revise their program this year and meetings will include all the men and women and high school students of the parish. The organization's role will be to plan meetings dealing with family problems and to encourage the entire parish to attend.

Martintown Rumor Mill

by Art Buckland

"Oh, Mother, there is a worm in the toilet," declared the daughter.

The panic bell rang. Mother concluded that four-year-old Harry was inflicted. He is always playing in the dirt; he always has dirty hands and face; he is such a devil to get to wash up at mealtime. Yes, of course, she thought, Harry has worms.

"Medicine," stated father, "that is one thing we have a lot of, worming pills. Up there above the sink."

"I do not think so, you old goat, but I will check, nevertheless," said mother.

"Here is some deworming powder, but it is for foals," declared mother, reaching up onto the top shelf while balancing precariously on the kitchen stool.

"That will suffice," replied father, without looking up from his news.

"Might do for any husband of mine, but not for any son of mine. That is to say I regard you as half a horse."

"Here's feline dewormer but no human tablets."

Dad shouted out from behind the want ads, "Just give him four times the cat dosage."

"Pay no attention to him children. I do not see any such medicine in here. Dad will have to drive us to the Glen Falloch drugstore to get the pills. Come on, father, you old lump."

"Wait until tomorrow. What is one more worm in the family?" complained father.

"Takes one to know one. We are going now, not tomorrow!"

"Just tarry a bit whilst I finish reading sports".

When they left is for the reader to decide, but they did return shortly.

"The instructions say one dose should cure the problem," mother said.

"Well now, I do not know about young boys, but Dr. Jim says just one dose of medicine for animals won't cure anything,"

"Now Harry, I want you to take this pill. It is going to make you all better," encouraged mother.

"No, mummy, I don't want to."

After several futile attempts to cajole young Harry into swallowing the medicine, including goat's milk chaser, and peanut butter coating, new measures were called for. That is, physical force.

The whole family pinned young Harold immobile while mother tried to force the red tablet down his gullet. He squirmed, wiggled, jiggled and squealed. Still no luck. The pill could be forced into his mouth, but he would eject it with his tongue.

The family let up for a brief respite. "Mummy," he sobbed, "I think you made a mistake."

"Out of the mouths of babes sometimes comes wisdom," stated father.

"Nonsense, it's into the mouth of this babe with this pill. I'm going to make you better if it kills you, and me."

The pill eventually disappeared into his nether region after minutes of frantic struggle.

One week later, out in the garden during the tomato harvest, the daughter exclaimed, "Look mother, there is another worm just like the one I saw in the toilet."

Mother cried in anguish, "Do you mean that we put Harry through all that agony because of a hardback centipede. Oh no!".

St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Martintown will have their harvest supper in the hall on Wednesday, October 8 from 4:30 to 7.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Aubin of Martintown and David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cumming of RR1 Williamstown.

Clare MacLeod was organist and soloists were June Prosser and Susan Aubin.

The bride was beautiful in a white gown of nylon chiffon over satin. Her waist length veil was held by a lace Juliette cap. Golden roses, peach and white carnations, ivy and baby's breath made up the bridal bouquet.

The bride's three sisters were her attendants. June Prosser was maid of honor and Susan and Shannon were bridesmaids. They were all attired in shades of peach.

Bruce Dubeau was groomsman and Bob Cumming was usher.

The reception was held at Williamstown Recreation Centre. The Nowickyj Band entertained and Bruce Dubeau was M.C.

Big event in Salem

After a recess of two months, Salem United Church Women, Summerstown, met recently to discuss current business and to plan for the second annual "Big Event" to be held November 1.

The president, Mrs. Mabel MacLean, welcomed all present. Mrs. Libby Vipond gave a thought provoking report on a Summer Event which she attended in Kemptville. Mrs. Muriel Firth spoke on stewardship and how we could all be better stewards by living a simpler life style.

Mrs. Betty Linnett and Mrs. Lorna MacLean, conveners of the "Big Event" were very busy during the summer preparing for the day. An attractive brouchure has been printed publicizing the event. The menu has been determined and arrangements are progressing well. Members and friends of the UCW were reminded to start collecting, pickling, potting and preparing now for the "Big Event."

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Mabel MacLean.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 14.

Flora show a success

A meeting of the Martintown and District Horticulture Society was held September 17 in Martintown Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Onagh Ross, president, opened the meeting by introducing two new members—Mrs. Lena Bussell and Mrs. Theresa Kennedy from Chapel Road.

The annual meeting will be held at the Presbyterian Church Hall on November 18 in the form of a pot luck dinner. Let's have a good turnout at 7 for this yummy function.

An ice sculpture contest is planned this year for the Junior Members on February 2. More particulars will follow. The children can be thinking about it now.

Mrs. Harvey MacMillan and Mrs. Campbell Murray showed some very beautiful slides of flowers—particularly wild flowers, taken by Mr. Graham Warren entitled "Flora".

A social hour followed the meeting.

Tough new laws will deter trespassing.
How we're helping to protect you and your property.

For nearly 150 years Ontario has had a law making it an offence to enter property where entry is prohibited. But now new legislation—The Trespass to Property Act—has toughened up the law to protect your rights.

Trespassers can now be fined up to $1,000. In addition, they can be ordered to pay for damages they have caused.

An important part of the legislation designates premises where entry is prohibited without notice. These include your gardens, orchards, vineyards, land under cultivation, woodlots and fenced land.

Where notice must be given to prohibit entry, you may use red markings on gates, trees or fences. Yellow markings may be used to caution that only certain activities may be permissible. It is the responsibility of the visitor to find out what you permit.

LAND USED FOR RECREATION
In the past, there was a great deal of confusion regarding your responsibility to people you allow on your land. Consequently many farmers and rural landholders would not allow recreational activities on their properties.

Now another new act—The Occupiers' Liability Act—reduces your responsibility. In a nutshell, the law assumes that those who take their recreation on most rural land without paying a fee will take care for their own safety.

A special system has been devised to allow you to easily indicate which activities you will allow on your property. A sign naming or graphically representing an activity (for example, hiking) indicates that the activity is permitted. The same kind of sign with an oblique stroke through it means that you prohibit the activity.

These new laws are part of a continuing program to streamline our legislation. By clarifying your rights, they afford you greater protection from trespass and also reduce your liability when you make land available for recreational purposes.

Glengarry Pipe Band has new slate

by Eleanor C. MacMillan

The annual Potluck Supper Saturday, September 27, of the Glengarry Pipe Band was followed by the election of officers for the organization.

Band members were present in full force.

Attendance by members of the community and of parents and pupils of the school was disappointing. However, the supper was a gourmet's delight, enjoyed by all present. A buffet table was covered with colorful salads and hot casserole favorites. Desert was a variety of scrumptuous cakes to entire the calorie counters.

The election of officers followed a short speech by the now "Past President" J. Ivan Cameron (who chose to withold his name from renomination. He reminisced a bit about his early days with the Pipe Band when he was a playing member. Much gratitude is owed to Mr. Cameron for the services he has rendered during his office as President.

Arnold Munro, heading the nominating committee, then chaired the meeting and presented the proposed slate of officers for the coming year. It was decided to change the year end of the Glengarry Pipe Band to more closely follow the school year. Summer activities and Trips would culminate their year.

David Danskin, although lost as Pipe Major of the Band was elected, to the position of President.

Harold MacMillan, formerly in attendance at the Executive meetings as a representative of the school of Piping and Drumming was elected as Vice President (in absentia).

Douglas N. Macleod, former treasurer, who carried out his duties with expertise, declined renomination. Donald Alec MacMillan, yours truly, will endeavour to maintain the efficiency of former secretary Verna MacGregor.

The position of Public Relations Officer was incorporated at this election to a dual office, Secretary and P.R.O., for the present term. I will endeavour to keep you informed.

Quartermaster Julia Danskin was returned to office. What a difficult position, when a size 40 jacket is left to fit a size 12 band member!

Roger Martin was voted in as Pipe Major of the band. Having filled in for David Danskins, former Pipe Major, who resigned in early summer, he qualified admirably for the position.

Band representatives: Piping, Erin Blair and Andrew Buchan; drumming, Frances Martin and Bill Gowland.

Grants Chairman - Robert MacDonell (re-elected) Mr. MacDonell has spent much time and effort in this position last term and has seen these efforts bear fruit.

Piping and Entertainment - John T. MacKenzie, our expert in the extravaganzas (re-elected).

Directors (3-year positions) Arnold Munro, Robert MacDonell and Ernest Beauchesne. Mr. Beauchesne, father of piper Denis and Bass Drummer, Suzanne was elected to fill the position left open by resigning Archie MacLennan.

The faculty of instructors from the school of Piping and Druming are automatically members of the Executive: Chief Instructor Pipe Major J. T. MacKenzie, Pipe Major David Danskin, Pipe Major Roger Martin, Drum Sergeant John Kerr and Neil Birkett.

Two representatives from the school of Piping and Drumming are to be appointed.

Auxiliary - Charlotte Kennedy with assistant Marjorie Stewart. Agnes MacKenzie felt it was time someone else held this position. Many thanks Agnes and committee, for a job well done.

The group dispersed to participate at the ongoing events in the community. Many left to attend the 25th wedding anniversary of a former director and his wife the John Archie MacLennan's. Best wishes are extended.

Kingston , Ottawa get grants from Arthritis Society

Doctor Ajay Varma, president and medical adivisor of the Glengarry Branch announced today that the Canadian Arthritis Society has allocated $315,000 in grants to Eastern Ontario Rheumatic Disease Units in Kingston and Ottawa to further research and teaching in the medical schools at Ottawa University and Queen's University, Kingston.

A large referral area in Eastern Ontario is served by the two rheumatic disease units which, in conjunction with the home physiotherapy service of the Arthritis Society, represent the main thrust of the Society's three-fold program of research, education and patient care.

Doctor Varma in discussing the awards, pointed out that arthritis research is paying off. Many patients have been returned to active satisfying lifestyles and new knowledge generated by research over the past 30 years since the Society was chartered, has made it possible for family doctors to treat most of their patients out of hospital so that only the most complicated cases need specialist care by rheumatologists in or out of hospital.

Magazine article features retired implement dealer

Massey Ferguson Profile, the Newspaper for Massey Ferguson dealers recently carried an article of local interest. Pictured here is Marie Laure Menard, believed to be the only woman dealer in Canada. She has owned and operated Menard Farm Supplies in Green Valley from 1968 to 1978. The story follows: Following her husband's death in 1968, Marie Laure Menard of Green Valley, Ontario, challenged herself and the MF dealership she took over.

"I was going to reach for the same goals that my husband wanted for the dealership," she remembers. Goals that meant customer satisfaction and business expansion.

Marie met that challenge.

MARIE LAURE MENARD

Today, Menard Farm Supplies, Ltd., continues strong after more than a decade under Marie's capable leadership.

"My husband Aime Menard and my brother Laurent Crevier started the operation in 1962. I began working there the day we opened, even though I didn't know the size of a bolt," she muses. "But I was eager to learn."

Menard bought out Crevier's share in 1964, managing the facility until his death in 1968. Marie then assumed ownership and management.

NO SPECIAL TREATMENT

"The biggest challenge was accomplishing what I wanted to do each day," she says. "I wanted to increase sales and continue serving customers without getting any favors because of being a woman."

In 1975 her nephew Andre (Andy) Seguin joined her in partnership. In the fall of 1978 she sold the dealership to him.

"I knew Andy would do a good job as a dealer," she states. "He started working here when he was 12, back when we first started the business. He would always work with my husband. Aime would say, 'Andy, come on, let's go sell a tractor.' And that's the best training you can get—on the job."

FACILITIES EXPANDED

Andy continues in the family tradition, expanding the parts and service areas. A 30'x48' addition was added to their service garage to accommodate the big combines and tractors. The parts stockroom increased with a 9'x30' addition, and a 9'x9' office was also added. An open-house is planned in the future to show off the expanded facility.

Marie continues working at the dealership in the office and parts department. She likes it that way.

"The implement business has been my whole life since 1962," Marie reflects. "I'm very happy, and I think the dealership has attained the goals my husband set when we started."

Clergy Comments

from Glengarry Christian Council

by Rev. Gary Ostler
p.p., St. Raphael's

A diocesan retreat house is a place where people can come, rest, and discover the Lord Jesus Christ. It is by necessity a place of quiet, a place of peace! And so the name, Shalom House, the House of Peace. Nestled in a secluded setting adjacent to Iona Academy at St. Raphael's West, the retreat house offers a climate of peace in our fast and busy world.

Shalom House is celebrating this month its fifth anniversary! Is there a need? Villa Fatima, a few years ago, served a purpose and with so many of our institutions, closed its doors because of a lack of support. Maybe it fell to the climate of the times. Today, however, the need to take time has become a necessity. And the demand for a retreat has confirmed this trend. Jesus, during his public ministry, tried desperately to get away in order to pray. He sought peace and time to be with His Father. Today's Christians are no different. If we are to be His disciples, we too must be ready to take time for prayer: no phone, no door bell, no visitors and distractions, no TV, no radio, no newspapers...sounds great!

During this past school year, some 2,425 persons did come and seek time in the Lord at Shalom House. There are many different kinds of retreat time. Over the last few years, many of our formats have changed. Some of the movements in our church have used the retreat house as its home, in particular, the Cursillo movement, first in English and now in French and "Engaged Encounter", a movement designed to provide a weekend experience for people contemplating marriage.

In this year of the family, the need to prepare our marriages is paramount. In the Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall, it is mandatory to have a marriage preparation experience. The Glengarry English Deanery provides such an experience two or three times during the year. In French, the "Service de preparation au mariage" also conducts retreat experiences for the engaged couples.

The retreat house provides opportunities for anyone not part of a group to come and make a retreat. These weekends are called "open retreats" and generally provide the opportunity for all to come and deepen their faith. Individuals oftentimes also want to spend a few days in quiet and so they come and make use of the grounds and chapel and take time to be by themselves and the Lord.

In this diocese, all Grade 8 students within the English Catholic schools have the opportunity to make a retreat which lasts two days. They have been part of the retreat house since its foundation, and provide for the young adult emerging into high school a chance to reflect on his or her faith. Also, a number of Grade 8 classes from the French section of the Catholic school boards come and make a similar experience of retreat.

Other groups making use of the facility include staffs from schools who get together, discussing a theme and praying together; parish councils who come with their parish priest and take time to look at their roles and leadership within their Christian communities; women's groups including the C.W.L., F.F.C.F., and Daughters of Isabella; an ecumenical dimension groups from the United Church and retreats for members of the Cornwall and Glengarry Chirstian Councils.

During this past year, retreats were organized for the priests of the diocese and also for the religious orders. Youth groups from various parishes, ladies guilds from Catholic and Protestant parishes alike have come to the retreat house. Youth movements include "R33" in French and the COR movement in English.

Over 86 per cent of all those who made a retreat last year came from the two counties of Stormont and Glengarry which make up the Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall. Among those coming from outside the diocese, we find people from the Ottawa and Kingston areas, including Massena and Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The retreat house has a board of directors which includes representatives of five councils of the Knights of Columbus, representatives of the five deaneries of the diocese, and lay persons from both Stormont and Glengarry. The retreat house has 19 double rooms for a sleeping capacity of 38 persons. An excellent working relationship exists with Iona Academy, the principal and staff, creating a climate that honors the name "Shalom". The sisters of the Sacred Heart form the nucleus of the staff and they reside at nearby Iona Convent.

Whether a retreat experience takes place in the context of a group or whether it is done in a lone setting, the important thing is that it is serving a pressing need in our society today. If vandalism and a general lack of respect for the laws of society continue to plague us, maybe then it is time to re-discover the "laws" of God and the will of the Father. Shalom!

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

New service will be welcomed

The Family Counselling Centre in Cornwall and the United Counties is continually expanding its list of services to the public. The latest is a new program called the Parent Relief Program.

Before you smirk, "It's about time," understand, this is a serious matter. There are parents in dire need of this type of assistance; those who have handicapped children.

Parents or guardians, who care for physically or mentally handicapped children at home, will qualify for the assistance. It is not entirely free, but at least, qualified people will be available to give parents evening or weekend relief from the strenuous and often nerve-shattering task of continuously supervising the handicapped.

In-home and out-of-home service will be provided. The latter means the child will be taken out of the home for short periods of time to relieve stress in the family and allow other members to engage in normal family activities. For the in-home service, trained baby-sitters and companions will come into the home.

What a help this will be to the parents who have had to change the whole pattern of their lives in dedication to a particular child.

The project, which is funded by the Children's Division of the Ministry of Community and Social Services, is in its infancy. It will need volunteers and people who are also able to assist in an advisory capacity.

But just knowing such a program is being adopted will be good news for the families who have such need of this service. Those who have never had to experience this type of care can also rejoice for the benefits it will bring our neighbors who need it. We might even offer to help.

Government muddies the waters

Legislation, it seems, is like knowledge. A little bit of it can be a dangerous thing.

The recent amendment to the Highway Traffic Act regarding windows on cars is a good case in point.

The Act states: "No person shall drive on a highway a motor vehicle on which the surface of the windshield or of any window to the direct left or right of the driver's seat has been coated with any colored spray or other colored or reflective material that substantially obscures the interior of the motor vehicle when viewed from outside the motor vehicle."

The problem with this legislation is that neither the police nor the public are certain of what "substantially obscures" really means.

Mac Makarchuck, an NDP member of the provincial legislature is leading the fight against this vague legislation. He points out that the law has caused great financial hardship to legitimate business enterprises engaged in the glass-tinting business.

He cites one case where a businessperson, whose glass-tinting proposal was given the "green light" by the government, suffered a loss in less than two months of over $100,000 in gross sales due to the government's sloppy legislation.

In fact, this businesswoman had a number of her customers hauled into court for having tinted windshields but has yet to see one of the drivers convicted of the charge.

Since the Act is so open to interpretation, the law is being administered differently in different police jurisdictions. The Toronto police, for example, are not giving the woman problems, but the Hamilton-Wenworth police are.

This businesswoman has been unable to obtain a "standard" from the government which is acceptable in law. She has gone so far as to present samples of tinting film to the Ministry of Industry and Tourism, asking that the ministry determine what is not "substantially obscuring".

In the true spirit of bureaucratic indecision, the ministry officials would not make a commitment.

Instead of chasing motorists all over the province and making on-the-spot determinations of what "substantially obscures" means, the government should set standards and control the tinted glass situation at the manufacturing level.

A person wishing to produce the material should be required to submit his or her proposal before the government and get approval. Law enforcement agencies could then concentrate on regulating a relative handful of manufacturers instead of hundreds of thousands of drivers. Also, legitimate business people would not have to suffer sales losses because their customers would be assured the product conformed to the law.

It's an easy enough solution—no doubt the reason it was overlooked by our government.

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

If you heard Pipe-Major John MacKenzie was blowing his "delrin" what would you guess he was doing?

According to a newspaper clipping from Dupont Magazine sent by John Lacombe, delrin is a plastic material, acetal homopolymer to be exact, now used to make chanters, or the "melody pipe" of the bagpipes.

It is supposed to produce the same tone as the material originally used for the blowpipe and drones—African blackwood, the export of which has been curtailed, restricting the manufacture of this necessary part of the pipes.

This might have been a relief to those who do not appreciate this historic soundpiece which one writer describes as "a clarinet with a strangled hernia."

The humorist H. Allen Smith wasn't brought up in Scotland either, evidently. He describes the pipes as "the most hideous noise ever contrived by the human race".

Back in our school days horrid little boys used to horrify little girls by offering to play the bagpipes—this was stepping on a cat's tail.

A couple of years ago a set of pipes was stolen from a locker in Montreal. A few weeks later the set was mailed back to the owner. It was surmised the hot item was returned by the spouse of the thief.

While a great many countries lay claim to the bagpipes, their origin has been traced to ancient Persia, Babylon and Greece. The emperor Nero was supposed to have played the pipes in Rome in 100 B. C. The Roman armies brought them to Britain. Whether or not they conveyed them to entertain themselves or to terrify the enemy is a matter of conjecture.

In Italy during World War II the commanding officer of the Cape Breton Highlanders when pinned down by enemy fire is said to have radioed for help in the spirit of those ancient Romans: "Send us half a dozen tanks...or one piper."

Many a tale about the pipes has made the circuit of the globe because so have the pipes.

While Scotland seems to have been the country which deserved credit (or blame) for carrying on the tradition of this musical device, there are pipe bands now in almost every country.

We've noticed that the members of the bands at the Highland Games seem to be composed of younger musicians each year.

Whether this is due to greater interest in the instrument or greater availability of instructors now than there used to be, we can only guess.

There will likely be a further increase in the number of pipers. I hear there is now a mechanism available which will allow students to practise with only themselves hearing the sound. Hurray for the apartment dwellers!

I remember bagpipe strains one summer back in my teens when June (Macdonald) Baker and myself were taking a course in Toronto. We had a softball game on Saturday and I had sprained my ankle. By Sunday morning the pain was severe and it was going to be really excruciating to walk the three blocks to the doctor's office. June came along with me in case I needed someone to lean on.

We had just started out when a pipe band came down the street on a church parade. June and myself had to follow them of course, all the way to their destination. It wasn't until the music stopped we realized we had gone about eight blocks out of our way. All of a sudden the pain in my ankle which I had forgotten about completely, was unbearable again.

Oh well, that's what comes of growing up in Glengarry.

Reform team the answer

The announcement that a reform team will run against the old guard at SD&G County Board of Education comes as great news to those who have watched one of our most important institutions being drawn further and further from the control of the public.

The past term has been one noted for its citizen uprisings. The small school closings, the Glengarry District High School debate, the overbearing administration—all are issues which the board has handled with singular arrogance.

We have been treated to public information meetings where the public was not allowed to ask questions. We have seen a local, rural high school deteriorate to the point where students are eating their lunches on the hallway floor because the cafeteria is overcrowded. And we have seen trustees completely surrender their responsibility to the hired help.

In short, democracy—government by the people, for the people—is in a state of shambles at the SD&G board.

The creation of large regional school boards was bound to result in such a loss of control. Under the existing set-up, a group of ratepayers can, at best, control only the trustee from their riding. The other trustees can vote any way they wish knowing that an angry group of ratepayers from a far-away community cannot touch them at the polls.

This system is called divide and conquer.

What the Reform Team hopes to do is fight fire with fire. They plan to tackle the regional bureaucracy with a regional grass roots citizens' effort.

The undertaking is one of the most ambitious election campaigns ever attempted in this area. It's difficult enough to organize a campaign in a single riding. Co-ordinating a region-wide campaign will require sound leadership, a firm bank account and a cast of thousands (well, at least hundreds).

The movement is off to a good start in that it has obtained the support of three active school groups, the Parents for Educational Progress (PEP), the Association for the Preservation of Bilingualism in Glengarry (APBG) and the Association of Catholic Parents (ACP).

People wishing to back the Reform Team need not necessarily belong to any of these groups. They need only subscribe to the majority of some broad policy guidelines such as:

—A structured and more fundamental approach to teaching.

—Trustees acting in a more democratic fashion.

—The administration should be controlled by the elected trustees and not vice-versa.

—The director of education should only hold down one job, namely that of director.

—Small schools should be kept open to ensure the viability of the communities they serve.

—Smaller classroom sizes.

—More teaching and less clerical work for teachers.

Those are goals which most ratepayers would share. Consequently, the Reform Team hopes it can generate widespread grass roots involvement.

Tomorrow (Thursday), a public meeting is being held at General Vanier Secondary School in Cornwall at 8 p.m. for all people interested in helping with the Reform Team campaign. They are seeking candidates and they are also seeking people to work on campaign committees throughout the United Counties.

A fund-raising committee will be needed, an advertising committee, etc. People will also be needed for such tasks as door knocking and telephone soliciting. No matter what your interest, no matter how much, or little, time you have, your services are being requested.

We've all griped about rising school taxes and the declining quality of education. This is the year to do something about it. It's time to put up or shut up. Events don't happen by themselves. People make them happen by becoming involved.

The last meeting of the U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Kronwald and was well attended. Mrs. Arnold Mac Rae opened with the call to worship taken from First Peter, verse eight. For the beauty of the Earth was sung followed by the scripture Psalm 15, read by Mrs. Ron MacLachlan. Social Responsibility in God's world, read by the president, closed devotion.

Mrs. MacRae introduced our guest speaker for the day, Mary Michels, Ontario Home Economist. Her theme for the day wa Energy Saving. After filling in a questionnaire and discussing each section's answer we went into the dining area to see some slides on the subject. During light refreshments, we enjoyed a lively discussion. Everything was completely informal and we all learned something, especially during the part where our guest "exploded" some well loved myths about electricity versus microwave.

Please note the Harvest Sale, coming October 4, by the 39's at the Church on the Hill.

Mary Michels will be conducting a two-day seminar on "Indoor Gardening" on October 2 and October 3 at the Church on the Hill. Each session runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Bring your own lunch.

Miss Christina MacKenzie accompanied Mrs. Arnold MacRae to see Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith in Packenham recently. On their way back they stopped in to visit the R. Tate MacKenzie Museum near Almonte. They visited with Mrs. Merium James at Carleton Lodge in Nepean and stopped again to see Mr. and Mrs. Fergie MacLeod in Kemptville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCracken recently returned from a visit to Rio and Copacabana, Brazil, where they delight in telling of the remarkable friendliness of the people there. Every time they go, they make new friends to enjoy.

Mrs. McCracken is scheduled to sing two upcoming concerts in Colorado Springs.

It was attended by her grandmother Mrs. Libby MacLennan; Mr. and Mrs. Grant MacLennan; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Maclennan, Earl and Erwin; Mr. and Mrs. Ron MacLachlan; Kevin, Gwen and Arnest Vanek and Gary of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Murray MacLachlan, Cheri and Haley also of Ottawa, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken MacLennan, Cote St. Paul.

Studied in France

by Lucille Champagne

This summer I was greatly privileged to participate in a 10-week session in Southern France, with 40 other members of l'Arche communities from France, Haiti, Canada, India and Honduras.

The session was divided into major themes: The Cry of the Marginal Person" (two weeks), "Stages of Human Growth" (Three weeks), Professional Experience in a Community or Institution (one week), "The Great Covenants between God and Man" (1 week), then the final three weeks centred on "Our World Today—The struggles and the Hopes".

Each speaker was of a high quality and had the ability to broaden our perspective due to their wide range of backgrounds. They came from France, Switzerland, Northern Ireland, England, Russia, Vietnam, Canada, Lebanon. They were people involved in the world of politics, education, medicine, art, social services, religion, family life, spirituality, work, leisure, psychology, media, l'Arche itself. Jean Vanier was present as a resource person for the 10 weeks.

The whole time was a journey outward and inward. We heard of the hard reality of our world of hunger, poverty, despair and war. At the same time, each one had "Hope" in working energetically to hear the cry towards change and to work for change. And each one was realistic about HOW change happens in us and in the world—SLOWLY, DAY BY DAY, STONE BY STONE, the New Society is born. No shortcuts, no big brave deeds apart from the growing conviction of the truth, of our world, of ourselves, and then the growing commitment to change and grow.

L'Arche is a movement where colleagues of Jean Vanier and other people inspired by his work and life create homes where the mentally handicapped and the assistants live together as a family unit. Individual communities are joined to the International Federation of l'Arche.

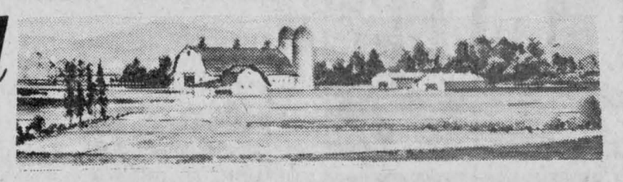
Agricultural News

by Glen J. Smith,
Agricultural Representative
Glengarry County



The Government of Ontario has enacted two new laws—the Occupier's Liability Act and the Trespass to Property Act. The new laws are of particular interest to farmers and to people who use rural land for recreational purposes.

Under the Trespass to Property Act, every person who is not acting under a right or authority conferred by law and is without the express permission of the occupier, the proof of which rests on the person entering onto the property, enters on premises when entry is prohibited under this Act, engages in an activity on the premises when the activity is prohibited by signs or notification, or does not leave the premises immediately after he is directed to do so by the occupier of the premises or a person authorized by the occupier, is guilty of an offence and on conviction is liable to a fine of not more than $1,000.

Entry on premises may be prohibited by notice to that effect and entry is prohibited without any notice on premises-

a) that is a garden, field or other land that is under cultivation including a lawn, orchard, vineyard and premises on which trees have been planted and have not attained an average height of more that two metres and woodlots on land used primarily for agricultural purposes; or

b) that is enclosed in a manner that indicates the occupier's intention to keep persons off the premises or keep animals on the premises.

A police officer or occupier of the premises may arrest, without warrant, any person he believes on reasonable and probable grounds to be on the premises without permission. When the occupier of the premises makes an arrest under this Act he shall promptly call for the assistance of a police officer and give the person arrested into the custody of this officer.

Under the Occupier's Liability Act the landowner is not responsible for injury to persons who enter onto their property but the landowner should not create a danger with the deliberate intent of doing harm or damage to the person on his property.

These Acts have been initiated to protect landowners property and rights. Although they are very direct as to the action to be taken after someone enters onto your property without consent, it is not to say that we should not use common sense and attempt to resolve the situation without dispute.

Further information regarding these Acts can be obtained from the Agricultural Office.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF VETERINARY SERVICES LABORATORY

An extension to the Veterinary Services Laboratory at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology has been completed and members of the public are cordially invited to attend an official opening on Thursday, October 16, at 2:30 p.m. The Honorable Douglas J. Wiseman, Minister of Government Services, will be on hand to officiate.

MANURE ANALYSIS SERVICE AVAILABLE

With the costs of commercial fertilizer continuing to climb, it is becoming more important to make better use of our livestock manure. Manure is a good source of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and organic matter. In some cases, manure can provide all the nutrients required by the crop but without a soil analysis to determine the soils requirements and a manure analysis to determine the value of the manure, nutrients can be applied at a level higher than required or less than required.

Manure can be analysed for nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, calcium, magnesium and per cent dry matter at a cost of $13 and for an additional $3 it can be analysed for boron, copper, manganese and zinc.

The Glengarry Soil and Crop Association have manure sampling kits available at the cost of $1.50 each. These can be obtained from the Agricultural Office.

Manure samples should not be sent in the mail as they should not be in transit for more than two days. These samples can be sent by courier and arrangements for courier service can be made through this office.

If the sample must be stored before shipping, keep it in the refrigerator or frozen.

Since manure is a good source of nitrogen, the most practical application should be on crops which require this nutrient such as corn, barley, wheat and forage grasses. As nitrogen leaches through the soil, it should, therefore, not be applied in the fall of the year. To get the most value from your fertilizer, it should be applied in the spring and worked in.

For an accurate manure analysis, a representative sample should be taken early enough that the results will be available at cropping time to make adjustments to the fertilizer program.

It is important to note that manure analysis is only important if the soil has been analysed to determine its requirements.

OTTAWA WINTER FAIR

The Ottawa Winter Fair will be held at Lansdowne Park on October 9, 10, 11 and 12.

The livestock classes have been well attended but entries for the Seed and Farm Produce Section have not been satisfactory. There are also a number of Specials offered for these classes.

If you are interested in sending entries for any of these classes, we will take them for you, if they are in this office before 9 a.m. on Wednesday, October 8. A $1 entry fee must be included.

Massey-Ferguson 184-4 W.D. tractor

A GREAT GOER IN ANY KIND OF GOING.

Massey-Ferguson's 184-4 auxiliary 4-wheel drive tractor combines the best of two worlds: small tractor maneuverability with big tractor traction.
The size and easy handling of this tractor make it ideal for working in and around buildings or other close quarters. Add the MF 236 Quick-Attach Loader, and you've got a great tractor-loader team. Power and reliability of the 62 hp* Perkins diesel engine, coupled with 4-wheel drive, gives you the muscle and traction you want in the field. Field installed ROPS cab available for added protection and year-around comfort.
Visit us soon and find out all the features this great goer has to offer.
