MORE CUDDLY THAN COWS—Their 65 head of Holsteins lost in a barn fire in January, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Van den Oetelaar have turned to sheep-raising on their 9th Lancaster farm. With the money collected by neighbors they invested in a flock of sheep and a warm affinity to these symbols of spring has already developed, judging by the picture above. Bill and Aida, with three of their five children, Rodney, Susan and Cathy, posed with their lambs but Rodney's little black sheep sought to steal the picture. Or is she suggesting March will go out like a lamb?

Wheel Fell Off Freight Car At Maxville Crossing

Another unusual railway accident occurred at Maxville last Saturday evening. A heavily-loaded box car in a freight train developed a hot box, at the crossing in the middle of the village—and the red hot, blazing wheel fell right off the car, landing in the middle of the street. Witnesses said it looked like a big ball of fire, but by sheer luck there were no cars or pedestrians close, and no one was injured.

The box car left the rails but was not much damaged. A new wheel was put on and the train went on its way.

The accident happened at six o'clock in the evening and the crossing was blocked until about two a.m., effectively cutting the town in two. Citizens wanting their evening papers at the Post Office had to clamber through the couplings, and hockey players arriving for the tournament at the rink had to park uptown and do the same.

Roadmaster O. J. Lariviere said that in his 26 years on the railway he had never before heard of a wheel actually falling off a boxcar.

Cornwall Boy Accident Victim

A grandson of two Maxville couples, David Scott, 8 of Cornwall, died March 17th in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, from an apparent case of carbon monoxide poisoning. The boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Scott of 238 Sunnyside Ave. His mother is the former Bonnie Campbell.

According to reports of the accident, the boy had partly dug the car out of the snow, had obtained the key and started the engine. Found unconscious in the car he was rushed to hospital but had remained in a coma since the accident occurred on March 13th, until his death four days later.

David's eyes were donated to the Eye Bank of the CNIB.

A Grade 3 student at Sacred Heart School, he is survived by his parents, a brother, Jeffrey and three sisters, Susan, Lynn and Lou, as well as by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Scott, of Maxville.

Service of the Angels was held at 11 a.m. Saturday at St. Columban's Church.

Tires Recovered

Some of the loot taken in the recent break-in at Crevier's BP Service Station, here, has been recovered. Acting Chief Leo Lemieux reports he recovered 10 tires taken in the burglary from a bushlot in the Ste Justine area. They were located through information given him but no arrests have been made.

An adding machine and tools also taken in the burglary have not been recovered.

Three Parties In Race To Fill Model Parliament At GDHS

Election fever was very prevalent around Glengarry District High School last week as candidates campaigned actively for their different parties. A particularly extensive campaign is being waged by the Liberals and Conservatives in an attempt to unseat the NDP who have been in power for the past two years.

Party leaders chosen last week are Dawn Campbell for the Liberals, Jon Houseman for the Conservatives and Murray MacGillis for the NDP.

Instead of being card carrying members, students declared their affiliation with each party by signing their name on the bulletin board under their leader's name. Each party has about 40 declared members.

An official executive has been selected by each party, consisting of a president, vice-president and secretary. In this order for each party they are as follows: Lib.: Glenda MacMillan, Pierre Aubry and Peter Benn; PC: Murray MacDonald, Phillis MacMaster and Susan Conway; NDP: Mike Depratto, Donnie Morris and Bonnie McDonald.

It is up to each executive to form their own policy on national issues. Most of them have very definite ideas on economic nationalism, pollution and unemployment. The NDP have already adopted their complete platform while the other two parties are still working on theirs. The campaign will officially start on Monday when each of the leaders will address the students in a mass assembly in the auditorium.

Each of the 39 classes in the school wil have a representative, with the exception of Grades 12 and 13 who have two per class, amounting to 48 ridings.

The voting will take palce on Thursday, April 1st, at polls in different points in the school.

Plan Opportunity For Youth Program Here To Take Advantage Of Federal Spending

MISS HOLLANDIA—Jozette Wygergangs of Lancaster, was chosen Miss Hollandia, Saturday, in Ottawa, and her prize will be a trip to Holland next Christmas. The pretty Grade 13 student at Glengarry District High School was judged the most beautiful of 30 contestants at the annual spring dance of the Hollandia Club held at the Recreation Centre in Vanier City. An aunt, Mrs. Gerard Smits of Lancaster, had entered the 18-year-old in the competition. Jozette is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wygergangs, 2nd Concession, Lancaster.

A project to promote summer jobs for university and high school students in town and district had its inception Friday night when representatives from the high school met with town council to discuss opportunities for youth.

As a result the Alexandria Opportunity for Youth Committee was established with Archie McDougall of the school staff and Councillor Jacques Joly appointed president and vice-president, respectively, of a striking committee. They will have power to name a committee of seven who will be responsible for organizing the program.

Archie McDougall, John Grant and Harry Main represented the school at the meeting and Mr. McDougall outlined their thoughts on the possibility of taking advantage of the federal government's spending program for summer jobs for youths. He noted the federal government plans to spend 58 million dollars to stimulate jobs and travel for Canada's 1.8 million university and high school students.

Glengarry District High School students might benefit from this program, Mr. McDougall suggested, if there was a sponsoring body formed to study the legislation and relate it to local needs.

The town and district program might involve pollution control, cleaning of streams, lakes and rivers, the town's water supply and recreation facilities. Reforestation, planting of shade trees to replace the dead elms in town and area and reforestation of other town property were types of projects outlined by Mr. McDougall. He felt the present recreation facilities could be improved and the town acreage in the Loch Garry area developed as tent and trailer parks and other tourist facilities.

There was general agreement such a program would be worthwhile and there followed the appointment of Messrs. McDougall and Joly to organize a committee.

Clerk-Treasurer D. O. Collin was asked to obtain all available information from Ottawa and he has since been in contact with the office of the Co-ordinator for Secretary of State Hon. Gerard Pelletier. There is the assurance all available information will be forwarded promptly.

Mr. Collin was told the idea of such a local committee was good but that it would be preferable to form it independent of town council.

Constable Lemieux Acting Chief Of Police Following Friday's Suspension Of Chief

Constable Leo Lemieux has been appointed Acting Chief of Police in Alexandria following the suspension of Chief Sylvio Cleroux by the local Police Commission.

The suspension came at a meeting of the Commission Friday night. No reasons for the action were given but it is expected an official statement will be made later.

Holidaying in Florida, Mayor J. P. Touchette was not present at Friday's meeting when the other two members of the Alexandria Police Commission took the action. They are Judge O. H. Chartrand of Hawkesbury and Austin O'Connor, QC, of Ottawa.

A delegation from the new Progressive Merchants Association met with the Commission to ask for more emphasis on night-time patrolling by the police rather than during daylight hours. They pointed to the recent series of store burglaries here all of which had taken place after the constable had gone off duty.

Members of the Commission pointed out the hours of duty of the police were limited by police union regulations and more night duty might necessitate hiring of another constable. The merchants were assured the problem would be studied.

Representing the merchants were Yvon Levac, Claude Lemay and Eugene Ouellette.

On their long journey the heifers will travel by rail to Vancouver, by boat across the Pacific and again by rail to distribution points.

Glengarry's Beaver Club Had Enjoyable Dinner At Summerstown

The Edgewater Inn Hotel, Summerstown, echoed to the sound of the pipes and the beat of an Indian drum Friday evening, March 19th, as the members of the Glengarry Nor'Westers Beaver Club held their second annual dinner.

The chairman for the evening was Senior Wintering Partner Jim Hill. Mrs. V. F. Crowley, President of the Glengarry Historical Society, gave the pre-dinner Grace and toasts to the Queen, the Mother of Saints, Senior Partners, Comforting Squaws and Glengarry Comrades were offered by Dr. Simon Fraser, Duncan Grant, Bob Simmons, Nick Kaneb and Archibald MacDonell, respectively. Darcy Gordon officiated as piper, leading the guests in procession to their seats and playing selections during the evening.

Host Gerry Rowe and Mrs. Rowe provided an excellent dinner, featuring such appropriate dishes as "Salade du Courrier du Bois", "Ragout du Sauvage", "Tortiere Glengarry" and suckling pig, christened "Plate de Nor'wester Entire" among other delicacies, which were greatly enjoyed by the guests. The majority were in costumes of the past century.

Bob Simmons and Erik Watt were promoted to Senior Wintering Partners, and new Wintering Partners Fern Guindon, Keith Legault and Maurice Burgess were welcomed, as were five Comforting Squaws, Mrs. Claire Guindon, Mrs. Joy Watt, Mrs. Lydia Legault, Mrs. Loretta Burgess and Miss Frances Clark.

Breath Of Scotland Show Enjoyed By Capacity Audience

(by Mrs. Wilfred MacNaughton)

"Never a dull moment—a wonderful performance from start to finish". This seemed to be the concensus of opinion of the large crowd attending the "Breath of Scotland" performance which starred Alec Finlay and the Royal Clansmen at Glengarry District High School.

Although he was suffering a head cold and sinus infection, Alec Finlay gave a great performance. The wee Scot laughed, joked, sang and 'hammed it up" to the delight of the crowd. His portrayal of "The Wee Kirk Elder" was priceless. 'Desert Romance', a hilarious skit, drew much laughter and applause.

The other members of the cast —stars in their own right—complemented and supplemented Finlay's performance. Ronnie Coburn, brimming over with vim, vigor and vitality, was Wee Alec's straight man. Will Starr, the world's greatest Scottish button accordionist, demonstrated his rare ability whether he was playing a lively Scottish air with unbelievable speed, or his own arrangement of 'Taps' which held the audience spellbound by its haunting beauty.

The "Twa Braw Lads"—one a young Cordovox virtuoso, Arthur Spink, the other, Dennis Clancy, with his thrilling tenor voice—were a very popular twosome as they rendered many beautiful, toe-tapping tunes.

A young and attractive husband and wife team, Jock Esplin and Sandra Wright, are in Canada for the first time. Sandra's beautiful dancing and Jock's ability to sing, and to play the five string guitar delighted everyone.

The six men make up "The Royal Clansmen" whose comical songs, jokes and antics in general added another hilarious note to the show.

'Danny Boy', 'Mairi's Wedding; My Ain Folk' were just a few of the songs rendered so beautifully by charming Sheila Paton. And last, simply because somebody has to come last, we salute the very lovely and talented pianist whose contribution added so much to the entertainment all evening, Blanche McInnes.

The versatility of the cast coupled with the real enjoyment they themselves derive from their performance was a rare treat indeed.

During intermission the full Glengarry Pipe Band and eight of the finest dancers from the MacCulloch School of Dancing treated the audience to a magnificent performance. The girls danced to the accompaniment of the full Band—a delight to both ear and eye.

One lovely dance executed so gracefully was christened the 'MacCulloch Medley' by Grant MacGillivray because the choreographer was Mrs. Rae MacCulloch whose tireless work in reviving the art of Scottish dancing in Glengarry is much appreciated.

The "Breath of Scotland" entertainment was sponsored locally by the Glengarry Pipe Band Concert Party. They are to be commended for undertaking such a worthwhile project and also for the amount of time and energy given to its organization. Grant MacGillivray, Morlin Campbell and Mrs. Lynus MacPherson all worked hard to ensure that all would run smoothly as did those women who provided tasty refreshments for a small reception after the concert.

An entertainment of this calibre was a first for Alexandria; let us hope that it is just the first of many such performance by this group and others like them. As Morlin Campbell says, stealing the words from the Scots, 'Haste ye back'.

Love is patient, kind and envies no one. Faith, hope and love, but the greatest of them all is love.

IT'S OUR OPINION

A Cruel Death For Deer

People who might have been moved to protest against the cruelty to dumb animals attributed to seal hunters in the lower St. Lawrence may have dogs running deer in Glengarry. And the deaths of those deer are far more cruel and painful.

Trapped by the deep snow in the bush in this winter of record snowfall the deer are easy prey to marauding dogs and their death is not a quick and easy one. Three deer were fatally mauled in as many days early last week in Kenyon Township and a fourth was injured before it made its escape.

There are more deer in that township because of the adjacency of the Loch Garry Game Preserve but Wildlife Supervisors report a similar toll is being taken right across Eastern Ontario, though perhaps to a lesser extent.

Dogs seem to have a special urge to run at large at this season, Wildlife officials have found. Even small breeds such as spaniels have been known to kill a deer under these conditions.

The carcass of a buck brought down by dogs is not a sight that would appeal to those whose dogs were responsible for the kill. Local Wildlife officers have issued a request to dog owners to control their pets at this season, if only in the interest of the dogs which may pay the death penalty when proven guilty.

Owners are liable, too, of course, but the possibility of penalty should not be needed to activate a sense of responsibility for the welfare of our wildlife.

High Pay For The Drones

Unemployment will still be a problem after Labor Minister Mackasey's reforms of the unemployment insurance act become law, but being out of work will have its attractions when weekly benefits up to $100 a week are available. In fact unemployment promises to become so attractive it may become difficult to find enough workers to fill the available jobs.

The Government goes its merry way redistributing the nation's wealth between the haves and those who have not quite as much. These higher unemployment insurance payments add up to another form of increased taxation on those still in the work force. Given the choice of being paid almost as much, or more, to loaf than many a man can earn at his job, it seems almost inevitable that many now earning will decide to work only long enough to qualify for another well-paid period of leisure.

There will be little incentive to work for even $120 per week when the taxes on those earnings are helping provide almost as much to keep someone else in affluent idleness.

Mr. Mackasey's largesse will have to be met by higher taxes even though he is drawing into the net of contributors to the fund almost every worker except the self-employed. The teachers are among new classes who will be making unemployment insurance contributions for the first time and their unions are protesting vigorously. The property-owner and every other taxpayer should be lending volume to that protest for additional tax money will be needed by school boards to match the payments of teachers into the fund.

Those extra millions that will be financing hundred dollar weekly payments to the unemployed will be coming out of our pockets, either in the form of added burden on property or from the provincial treasury. And the payments coming out of teachers' pay cheques will eventually come out of our pockets, too, when the teachers' unions raise their demands for annual increment to offset this new deduction.

No matter the guise in which governments make payments, whether pensions, grants, baby bonuses or unemployment insurance, the money must be raised by taxation in one form or another. Mr. Mackasey is being overly generous, to the point where he will be discouraging those of us who still prefer work to the dole.

Protests Are Paying Off

We won't know until Finance Minister Benson introduces his budget how much the government has been influenced into discarding its plans for tax reform. Mr. Benson has made the statement, though, that his white paper will never be legislated and this can serve as an object lesson to those people who felt it futile to protest finance department plans for new and heavier taxation.

The Canadian public was vocal in its opposition and it seems the government had little choice but to back down when a Liberal-dominated committee of the Commons joined in criticism of the proposed tax reform.

Mr. Benson later explained that what he said in his Kingston statement was that the plan as originally conceived in the white paper had been shown to have its defects and errors. He made it clear that the government still intends to introduce a tax reform bill next month and that it would reflect the government's original plan as modified by the public and professional objections put forward since the white paper was introduced a year and a half ago.

Until details are announced in the budget we won't know what tax reforms Mr. Benson is still set on, but we would take more comfort from his words if there were fewer socialist thinkers among his finance department advisers. They still have his ear but it is some comfort to know the sustained public protest at least has had some effect on Mr. Benson's plans.

Five Gang Murders In Montreal

Shades of Chicago in the days of Al Capone and the gang wars that brought at least one rub-out a day. Montreal has had five gangland killings in less than a month and there is no intimation any police action is being planned to clean up a sorry situation.

The owner of a West End bar was gunned down as he walked home early one morning last week. One week earlier three victims of a gunman had been found dead in another bar and their killings were linked with that of another man shot down in the street in late February.

Homicide detectives believe all five were victims of the city's loan shark, or shylocking racket. That is big syndicate business, the Mafia at work, and that being the case we can expect only a cursory investigation will be made and these five murders will go into police files as unsolved.

Life is cheap in the Montreal underworld, it seems, and it doesn't pay for the police to get too nosy where the syndicate is involved. Some smart detective work might come up with the killers but that wouldn't sit too well with the powers that be. And then there would be the almost impossible task of winning a conviction in a court where, conceivably, the Mafia bosses were pulling powerful strings.

And so, it seems, law enforcement in the big cities learns to live with the crime syndicates. If the hoods get out of line the rods of the Mafia boss will restore control; if a few hapless victims of the loan sharks or the gambling dens fall behind in their payments they will pay with their lives. They should have known they were flirting with death, appears to be the attitude of the law enforcement agencies. They asked for what they got and their deaths by misadventure constitute no great loss to society.

That probably is the viewpoint of harassed members of the Montreal homicide detail who have been called on to investigate ten violent deaths already this year. Some of those victims of the crime syndicates may have been innocent of any wrong-doing though; there could have been cases of mistaken identity. Even if all the victims had records, the method of their removal remains the law of the jungle and it should have no place in civilized society.

One reads of the powerful hold the crime syndicates maintain in every sizeable U.S. city and one wonders how the Mafia was permitted to gain such mastery. Way back in the '30s the Federal Bureau of Investigation boasted a reputation to be feared. An aging Hoover remains in command long after normal age of retirement and the FBI insignia is badly tarnished. The crime syndicates have flourished while consolidating their hold over the rackets and they are now firmly established in labor unions and even behind the front of legitimate businesses.

The Mafia has wormed its way into an almost unassailable position of power in the United States, it seems, and it probably is no coincidence that the major problem facing U.S. society is crime and violence in the streets. When law enforcement fell prey to the syndicates it left itself open to corruption and neglect of all regulatory power.

Conversant as we are with the U.S. scene, surely we Canadians should be determined to resist the infiltration of organized crime over the border. We should be, but we have not been vigilant enough, for the Mafia already has a firm foothold in Canada.

Murder Incorporated has been flourishing in Montreal for years and Toronto the Good is well acquainted with the hood, too. In recent years the Ontario Government has managed to whitewash two official investigations of corruption reaching into the Attorney-General's office, but there is no doubt in the minds of the citizenry that the crime syndicates have established more than a beachhead in Toronto and other cities. The protection racket is flourishing in Toronto and, just as in Montreal, the police appear unable to come to grips with the evil.

Just as the FBI in the U.S. has lost its reputation, so has our RCMP been bereft of that slogan, "We always get our man". Apparently too mixed up in federal politics for their own good, the Mounties may argue that they lack jurisdiction in Montreal, Toronto and some other provincial administrations. Even where they are in complete control the crime syndicates are flourishing and our pride in our senior police force has been seriously tarnished.

These murders in Montreal evidence the fact the crime syndicates are shooting their way into complete control of the underworld. We have seen the sad results of a similar take-over in the United States. Surely Canadians can mount enough law enforcement to rid our country of so cancerous a growth.

The sudden rise in temperature Sunday and the rainstorm that night caused a record flood Monday morning along the River Delisle. Heavy losses were sustained by farmers and businessmen in the eastern section of the county as bridges, fences, mill dams, etc., were carried away. In the Dalhousie Mills area Mr. Rose sustained a loss of $2,500 to his dam, while Mr. Bertrand's loss is over $3,000. — A deal of some importance has been completed whereby R. H. Campeau was received at Monday's meeting of council, and it was decided to hold nominations on March 29th. — Mal. McDonald, and his brother, Master Archie. — Dr. Willie Ross of Martintown, has left home to seek a practice in Michigan.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN—PARENTS

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

It's time for you adults to stop and look around. What have you provided for the average teenage in what you think of as your innocent little town. The average teenage now, not the hockey star or any other athletic star, but the ordinary person that is not good enough to make a sports team. Right away you'll think, well we've got minor hockey, that's something. Yes, that's something for about one hour on Saturday, until you're sixteen.

What do you have for the teenage too young for the hotel and too old to stay home and watch

Should Assume Our Share Of Blame

(The Ridgetown Dominion)

As we look at the rising problem of unemployment in Canada, we blame government, management, world conditions, but is it possible that we must take some of the blame ourselves?

Union leaders and leaders of groups not calling themselves unions, but equally as strong as any union, in their greed for money and power have stooped to methods of terror and ransom demands, by using their monopoly power to hold members of the community at ransom.

A recent cartoon in the London Telegraph showed a labor leader saying "We shall not relax our efforts, until the lowest paid worker is earning more than the national average wage."

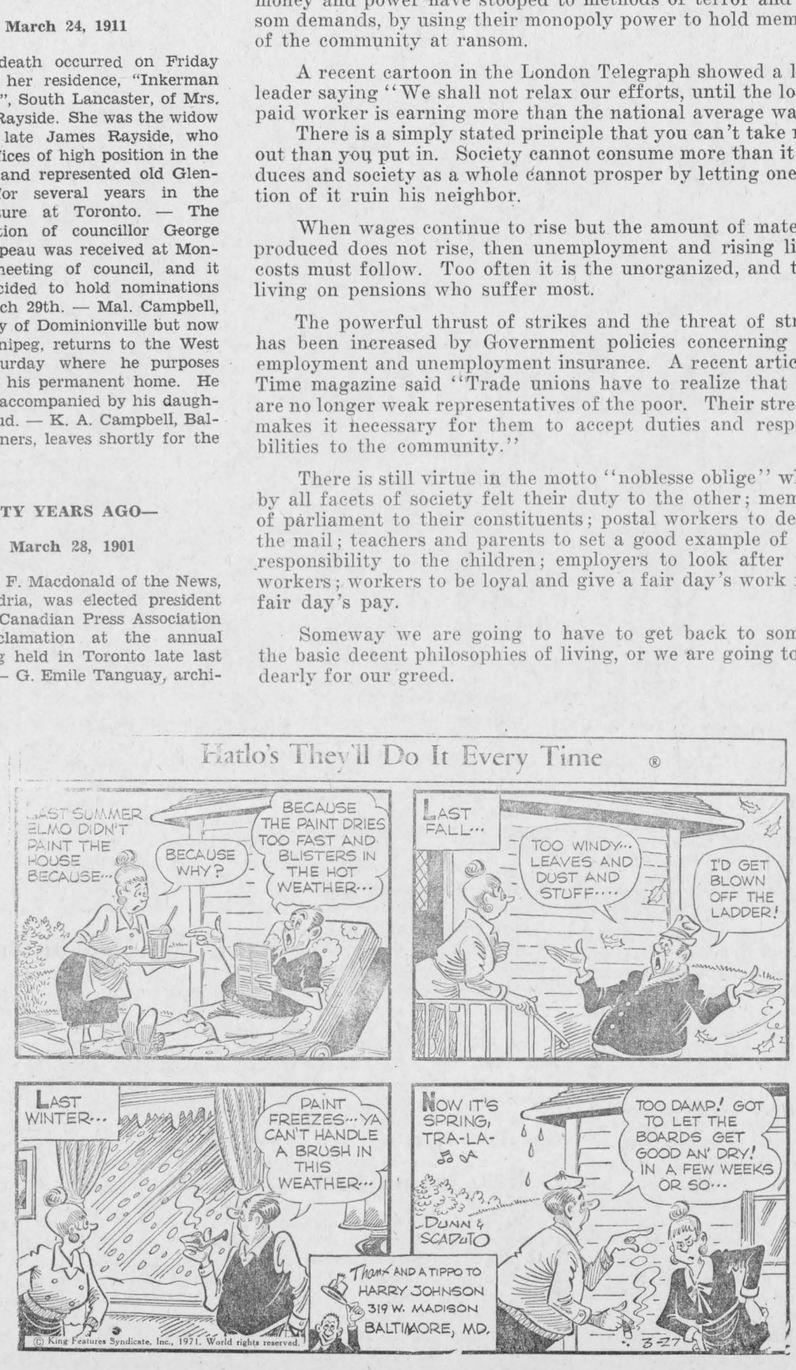
There is a simply stated principle that you can't take more out than you put in. Society cannot consume more than it produces and society as a whole cannot prosper by letting one section of it ruin his neighbor.

When wages continue to rise but the amount of materials produced does not rise, then unemployment and rising living costs must follow. Too often it is the unorganized, and those living on pensions who suffer most.

The powerful thrust of strikes and the threat of strikes has been increased by Government policies concerning full-employment and unemployment insurance. A recent article in Time magazine said "Trade unions have to realize that they are no longer weak representatives of the poor. Their strength makes it necessary for them to accept duties and responsibilities to the community."

There is still virtue in the motto "noblesse oblige" whereby all facets of society felt their duty to the other; members of parliament to their constituents; postal workers to deliver the mail; teachers and parents to set a good example of civic responsibility to the children; employers to look after their workers; workers to be loyal and give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

Someway we are going to have to get back to some of the basic decent philosophies of living, or we are going to pay dearly for our greed.



WITH OUR

by Ed.

Class re-unions are going to be really confusing 25 years from now when everybody has a haircut.

EMPTY GYMS

A third gymnasium is planned for Glengarry District High School. To cost $90,000 it is among five top building projects of the Board of Education tentatively approved by the Dept. of Education for 1971. There is the probability the new gym may not be added for another year or two if the new North Stormont high school gets approval.

A third gym is needed, according to local high school officials, but a letter to the editor in this issue suggests something that may have even greater urgency—availability of the present gyms after school hours for bored teenagers who have nothing to do.

Seems the gyms can't be used for a game of basketball or other sport unless a teacher is present to supervise. And the boys frequently find it impossible to find a teacher with time and inclination to chaperon their play.

"A bored teenager" suggests some of the boys get so frustrated they turn to drugs and he hints our community has "nearly maximum" drug users. That bad news is in line with something we heard just last week — that GDHS has the reputation among other area high schools for being the hardest hit by drugs.

It's to be hoped these reports are exaggerated but it seems we do have a drug problem. A recreation program embracing the senior teens might help and certainly we adults should be "getting off our fat ones" and trying to improve the situation.

A third gym seems like almost a total waste of money if these hundred thousand dollar facilities are to remain unused except during school hours. Surely they should serve in our municipal recreation program and if teachers are unavailable to supervise it should be possible for the recreation director or some other responsible person to do the job of after-school hours supervision.

Not only the gyms should be made available to the community. The school library and perhaps some of the shops should be open after school hours if there is a demand for these facilities.

Our recreation program has little to offer the senior teens and they must be finding this week off from school more than a little boring. The winter break is fine for teachers who can afford to go south. Weather conditions are anything but ideal for youngsters forced to stay home and with nothing to do to satisfy stirrings of spring that may add to their restlessness.

How many of the older teens were frequenting the Drop-In Centre we know not, but even those facilities are no longer being used.

Those empty gyms could be a symbol of adult indifference and we'd better be doing something to reassure our kids we care.

When we went to high school the only Jim was a teacher named Smith; and you didn't try to run over him.

MERCURY-FREE FISH

What happened to those grandiose plans the Quebec Government once had for turning the Soulanges Canal into a recreation area? It was to be an extension of Ontario's St. Lawrence Parks system but from the number of Quebec people heading west each summer weekend to enjoy our parks we judge those plans never got off the ground.

Ten years ago the Quebec Government was asking Ottawa to turn over the unused canal to that province for use as a public fishing preserve. The canal was to be compartmented to provide public fishing for the various types of fish and a hatchery at Cascades would restock the fishing sections as they were depleted by hook and line.

Cascades Island was to be a bird sanctuary and there would be parkland and flowers, picnic grounds and camp sites.

If the canal area is now the property of the province it could be a shortage of money in the Quebec treasury that has held up plans for a decade. Maybe they should be resurrected to provide a 14-mile stretch of fishing for the only mercury-free fish obtainable in eastern Canada.

All of which leads up to the fact your Rambling Reporter heard only last week the recipe for eating mercury-contaminated fish safely.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

The Maxville Lions Club held a very successful and well-attended Carnival last Friday evening.

Mrs. Verna MacGregor spent a short holiday in London, Ont.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Franklin and family were Mr. and Mrs. Lyal Campbell, Graham and Cathy of Hawkesbury.

Dunc. McDonald won the Lions' draw this week.

Mrs. Jane Rainford of Montreal, spent several days visiting Mrs. J. N. Fitzgerald.

The official announcement came at last—when school resumes on March 29th, the girls of Maxville High will be allowed to wear slacks to classes. No jeans and neat, proper dress is still required.

UCW UNIT II MET

The March meeting of Maxville UCW Unit II, was held at the home of Miss Margaret Dingwall on March 2nd. Mrs. W. E. Henderson chaired the meeting. Prayer of intercession was given by Miss Hattie Hughes. Roll was answered by 20 members.

The next meeting will be April 6th with Mrs. Gordon Winter and Group IV in charge.

Two books were recommended in the library reports "The Horsburgh Affair" and "A Woman's Choice". Mrs. Howard McEwen, gave a report on our allocation and also gave the "Observer" report with a series of "Did you know" questions covering Africa, World Day of Prayer, Draft dodgers, bazaars, etc., she reviewed a pamphlet "The Go People" on our 271 missionaries to 22 countries around the world.

Mrs. Hector Runions made several announcements regarding repairs to our manse and motions were made thereto applying. A committee was appointed to bring in a set of three menus and charges for future weddings in our church. Plans for a May tea and bake sale will be discussed at the April meeting. Miss Margaret Dingwall will convene this tea, providing the work on our new kitchen allows for such plans. Ladies were reminded of March 6 Bake Sale at 10 a.m. proceeds of which will go toward the new church kitchen.

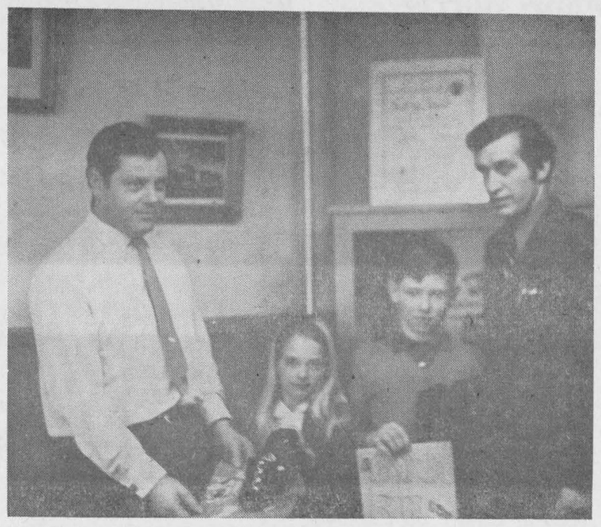
World Day of Prayer will be held in the Anglican Church, Maxville, the theme being "A new People for a New Age", prepared by women of the Carribean in Chinese, Japanese, English and Braille.

A report of the third annual Seaway Valley Presbyterial UCW held Feb. 24th at Spencerville United Church was given by Mrs. Robert MacIntosh.

The worship portion of our meeting under Mrs. Henderson opened with Hymn 252 and she gave a very illuminating review of the "Holy Trinity" using March's emblem "the shamrock" as material comparison. She read from the book of John the priestly prayer.

The title of our study of Latin America was "Don Helder Camara —A One-Man Crusade", the story of a Roman Catholic Bishop and his work with the poor of this country. The poor regard him as "Saint", the industrialist as "aggravator". Questions were circulated by Mrs. Henderson and discussion followed on possible aid for Latin America where socialism and capitalism have failed.

"Operation Hope" — A common market for Latin America was discussed and food for thought was provoked in Don Helder's Camara's definition of "The Children of God" and how they can help. The offering was received and dedicated. A lovely lunch was served by Group III and hostess Miss Margaret Dingwall.



ESSAY WINNERS—Social studies is being made more meaningful to the pupils of St. Raphael's school by visits to the manufacturing plants in the area. Following their tour of the Brown Shoe Factory, a pair of shoes was promised to the boy and girl writing the best essay describing their visit. Presenting the prizes is Ed Phillips, left, superintendent of Brown Shoe; winners: Doreen Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Peters of Lancaster; Brian McDonell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonell, Glen Roy and Carl Rines, St. Raphael's teacher.

TV with a box of crackerjacks? Absolutely nothing.

Don't you think we lower graded athletes would love to mess around sometimes, and we could, too? We have gyms in our high school valued at thousands of dollars just sitting there idle.

For a couple of Friday nights lately some teenagers with nothing to do, tried to get the local gym open. We phoned many teachers but we couldn't find one that would supervise us. After losing hope, here we are still sitting around with nothing to do.

Guess what's next on the program, yes the parent's favorite gossip subject, drugs. It's situations like this that lead kids into taking drugs.

Like I have never touched the stuff and never had any desire to, until then. I was so steamed up I felt like going out and getting stoned. gbf stoned (like when you adults go out on a drunk). I didn't, but not all teenagers are as stubborn as me, some of the ones I was with did, though.

Now don't get me wrong, by all means I am not blaming the teachers, they do quite their share during school hours. But when it comes to doing your share parents, something is missing like a little spunk. If some of you old fogies would get off your fat ones long enough to stop complaining about the situation and acted, we would have a minimum number of drug abusers in this terrific community instead of what is nearly maximum.

Come on adults, instead of talking about the drug situation get something going for your teenagers that have to uphold the great Alexandria reputation of fine people. You know we might lose that!

A bored teenager.

FARMER INDUSTRY LOSING FREEDOM

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

A milk producer myself, I read your editorial on milk which was of interest to me. I also followed the annual meeting of the producers recently held in GDHS, also read letter to the editor, "Not being forced out".

Your editorial gave lots of space to Quigley Cheese Manufacturing Association. I do know Quigley's is in a bad position but so are almost all other small plants operating all over the Province of Ontario. I don't know too much about the rest of the country except for a small part of Quebec. However, being a producer of milk I do know pretty well the opposition the farmer is up against. Some times I do believe that producers are getting a rotten deal too. It is my livelihood and I don't like it too much when someone else makes all the decisions for me. I do agree that the milk industry is in a mess..

To me farming should be a free enterprise activity, should it be producing, processing or even the selling of our product. We should still have the democratic right to do so. Some farmers think that we have the right. During the annual meeting of milk producers we heard speakers such as Dr. McEwen, Orville Guy, Elphege Lefebvre and our local MPP Osie Villeneuve. Mr. Villeneuve spoke briefly on the milk marketing board and stated that there are some forces who claim the OMMB is dictatorial. He stated it is not. I do agree 100% with Mr. Villeneuve. However the reason I have to agree is not that I like to do so. It was the Tory Government of Ontario by passing the Milk Act and all its legal strings that did give the Ontario Milk Commission the power it has now to govern anything insofar as the milk industry is concerned, including the OMMB. The same government gave the farmers five years ago the right to vote for the Ontario Milk Marketing Board. Only one thing was wrong at the time of the vote. Neither the government nor any branch of the Department of Agriculture did in fact try to explain what we were really voting for. Yes, we knew we voted for a milk marketing board, but the final details were not known.

I believe if we had known at that time the legal, dictatorial powers since given to the OMMB the majority would have voted against it. As of today I say it was railroaded down our throats. I knew some milk producers who at that time were representing the milk industry in Toronto and stepped down. When the voting came up in the Alexandria hall, some producers asked for a more detailed explanation and were overruled with the excuse that we didn't have time to discuss it.

Here we are stuck with the OMMB that has legally the dictatorial rights to infringe upon not only the farmers' private enterprise in such matters as charging No. 1 pool 30.9c a cwt. for hauling, while the trucker is getting 19c a hundred. Same racket in pool 2 and if shipped in cans 32c a hundred, trucker gets 25c plus 10c a hundred cut for handling.

Mr. Villeneuve seems to see nothing wrong, nor his government, that the OMMB has legal dictatorial rights to infringe upon farmer-owned factories that are as free an enterprise as the American-owned. Also that the OMMB has the dictatorial rights to tell an individual shareholder in such case as Quigley Cheese Association that their milk will be diverted to some other company-owned plant. I see this government coming up with an ill-fated piece of legislation. Would it tell General Motors to send their raw material to the Ford Company and assemble cars from it at a Ford-owned plant? This will never happen but that is what is going on in the milk business. My milk is diverted to our local big giant processor against my will. However it seems to be legal (dictatorial however as I look upon it). Mr. Lefebvre should realize that farmers and small processors all are short changed.

Orville Guy told the meeting quotas were more favorable for the small plants such as Quigley's because the big plants can't outbid the small ones as would be possible if they would have auctioned the milk. Well, Mr. Guy, you're behind schedule ever since the board came up with that horse. Through the system the OMMB has put upon producers and the small processors by diverting milk without consultation with the producer it is killing off the small manufactures anyway.

Mr. Guy also spoke on milk market sharing quotas. This quota system is aimed for a better price. Looking back to when the board came into being, the first thing happened to me was 20c a hundred cut. Taking into consideration the OMMB fees plus overcharge on trucking may I say to the board that the OMMB has done nothing more than create a wealth of white-collar jobs at the farmers' expense.

Talking about jobs, I now come to Mr. Mercer's letter in the News. Here we have one on the payroll at the farmers' expense. If farmers couldn't keep their figures and information better in line we all would go broke faster than we are now. If he is not able to get better information on the subject he's talking about the OMMB hired the wrong people.

Mr. Giroux's statement is 100% more accurate than Mr. Mercer's. However my information came from a different source than Mr. Giroux's and I didn't get it from the OMMB nor the OMC. How come Mr. Mercer talks about surplus while in Dec. Prime Minister Trudeau and most of his cabinet ministers, including Mr. Olson, met with the NFU board members. When questioned on milk, Mr. Olson admitted that there was a shortage of cheese and that skim milk powder was coming into balance also. What Mr. Mercer did not explain is what happened when he wrote about milk going to Toronto. He states that it shouldn't have any effect on small plants such as Quigley's. Are we to believe, when for instance a farmer who shipped 1,000 pounds a day and had 300 pounds entry quota, that his over production of 700 pounds will be dumped off at a cheese plant?

Mr. Mercer mentioned the pressure due to the improvements made by the processing industry in Quebec. Why did he not mention the pressure here in Ontario against the small Canadian-owned processors, not necessarily farmer-owned? Does not the Ontario Government bear some of that responsibility. The Ontario Government calls it "Equalization of Industrial Opportunity Program", I like to call it "Foreign Aid Program.

A news report in the Winnipeg Free Press states Foreign-owned Canadian companies in Ontario received $15,500,000, most of them American-owned. To mention a few, Kraft Foods of Canada, all-American owned, received 1½ million dollars. Sums ranging from $135,900 to $250,000 to Honeywell Controls, Uniroyal and General Foods; Campbell Soup Co. $150,000. These are outright grants, the only condition to build or expand in slow growth areas and not move for 6 years. Any small cheese plant operation could make use of a half or even ¼ million dollar grant. No dice. You're not a foreign-owned company.

Coming back to the OMMB, could it be an instrument being used as a shield under the watchdog of OMC, by the government, to put the small private processing industry once and for all out of sight? Puppets of government. Yes, Mr. McDougald. I think you're right. A marketing board such as the OMMB should work from the bottom up. But the one we're stuck with gets all the say so from the top down. That is why I have to call it dictatorial. In closing I would like to say we are stuck with the OMMB. However farmers are wakening up and I think that is why farmers outvoted another kind of Gestapo —farmers organization not too long ago.

VIGILANCE NEEDED

Vancouver, BC

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

While citizens reel beneath the continuing assault of internally provoked conflict, we are also intimidated by the very establishment that proclaims freedom and democracy while moving closer and closer to the Big Brother bureaucracy of socialism.

How did it happen? Largely because we forgot that freedom is not free—that the cost is eternal vigilance. We have forgotten that freedom is not a gift of government—but a gift of God; that it does not mean freedom from responsibility but the freedom to stand as a man accountable for his actions.

It does not mean the freedom to push other people around or to elect public officials to do the pushing for us! Freedom is not an abstract or an ideal, but a human right which must operate from the premise of doing what we ought to do because we want to do it, not because we are ordered to do it.

The free man recognizes that his freedoms are restricted by his own nature, temperament, intelligence, abilities and inclinations; that his free will permits him to wallow in the gutter or to reach for the stars. That while justice demands that we yield a measure of our freedom to the State when it can better maintain the good order of society, it cannot be bought at the expense of any man's freedom — by government equalization, government philanthropy or government redistribution.

Freedom means the right to worship as we please; to vote as we please; to dissent and to dissent against the dissenters. It means non-violent freedom of assembly, freedom to travel at home and abroad, to own property and dispose of it as we choose; to work to the extent of our own ability, desire and capability for commensurate rewards, to bargain for goods and services in a free market and to "build a better mousetrap" without arbitrary government interference and limitation of our resourcefulness.

Freedom means the right to handle our own earnings and tools; to select our own friends, partners and associates, to direct the education of our own children and the medication of our own bodies.

Freedom springs from the soil of eternal and unchanging truths which are not subject to human pragmatism. Unfortunately, when man becomes apathetic or indifferent to his heritage of freedom, his enemies move in quickly with the shackles of slavery.

Today, we stand at the crossroads of courage and confidence, cowardice and captivity. One can only wonder which way we will choose.

Patricia Young.

Nine Goals For Donnie Morris In Weekend Series Against Prescott

League-leading scorer Donnie Morris added nine goals in a busy weekend of semi-final play-offs which saw the Glens lose in overtime to Prescott Friday, and grab a convincing 9-0 victory here Sunday afternoon.

Glens now have a 2-1 lead in the series and could sew it up at Prescott Friday night. Should a fifth game be needed it will be played here next Sunday afternoon.

Rene Lefebvre recorded his second shutout of the series Sunday while Donnie Morris was adding five goals to the four he had netted at Prescott Friday night. Bruce Libbos scored twice with one minute of the second period gone and Raymond Poirier got the other two in Glens' 9-0 victory featured by a solid defence the Prescott forwards found difficult to fathom.

In Prescott, Friday night, the home team took their first win of the series in overtime after a hard-fought battle. Glens took a 2-1 lead in the first period on goals by Morris but his third score was the only one for the visitors in the second frame when Prescott grabbed a 4-3 edge. The teams were locked at 5-5 when the final buzzer sounded and a goal at 8.12 of overtime gave the homesters the win.

Donnie got his fourth goal in the final frame and Raymond Poirier got the other.

Hill Rink Top Winner At Annual Moose Bonspiel

Norman MacLeod's Vankleek Hill rink won high two-game honors in the annual Moose Bonspiel of Alexandria Curling Club last weekend. John Kirby skipped the MacLeod entry to its double win and possession of the prized trophy.

A rink skipped by Harry Lane, Hudson, Que., was runner-up.

MRS. S. P. HILLS DIED

Relatives and friends throughout the district were saddened by the announcement of the death of Mrs. Samuel P. Mills, a highly respected resident of the village of Avonmore, who passed away Monday, March 15th, in the Cornwall General Hospital. Mrs. Mills was in her 84th year.

Born at Dickinson's Landing on June 14, 1887, Mrs. Mills was the former Hattie Laura Warner. She was the daughter of the late Silas Warner and his wife Mary Winters.

Following their marriage on Jan. 15, 1908, Mr. and Mrs. Mills took up residence in Avonmore. Mr. Mills passed away on March 17, 1952.

Mrs. Mills was a member of St. Mark's Anglican Church.

She is survived by three daughters—Mrs. John Blair (Dorothy), Avonmore; Mrs. Aurele Derouin (Margaret), Cornwall, and Miss Ella Mills, Avonmore; four sons, James, Earl and Arnold, all of Avonmore, and Howard, Lindsay; 21 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Mrs. Mills was predeceased by two daughters Mary (Mrs. Charles MacGregor) in 1945; and Florence (Mrs. Sidney Hill) in 1969.

Mrs. Mills was the last surviving member of a family of three.

The funeral was held last Thursday afternoon from the funeral home to St. Mark's Anglican Church, Avonmore, where the service was conducted by Father Kent Doe.

Pallbearers were six grandsons: Denis Derouin, Alton Blair, Ronald MacGregor, Wallace MacGregor, Douglas MacGregor and Ronald Mills.

The body was placed in the vault to await spring burial in the family plot in the Martin Cemetery, First Concession of Roxborough.

HAD ST. PATRICK'S BALL

Inclement weather which undoubtedly delayed the appearance of spring flowers failed to have any effect last Friday night on the shamrocks, much in evidence at the St. Patrick's ball in the auditorium of Roxmore Public School at Avonmore. The ball was sponsored by the ambitious Avonmore Sports Committee.

Granted the crowd was substantially smaller than was expected but those who attended chalked it up as being one of the finest projects of its kind held locally in quite some time.

Music was supplied by Russ Hayes and His Orchestara.

The auditorium for the occasion was one of great beauty, decorated with streamers and all the symbols of the Emerald Isle. The design and planning were the creations of Mrs. John E. Miller, whose contribution was deeply appreciated by members of the Sports Committee and those in attendance. A year ago Mrs. Miller's talents were on display at the dance sponsored by the Avonmore Flying Club.

Members of the Committee with the assistance of other ladies operated a lunch counter during the evening.

The committee will sponsor their next euchre party in the school auditorium on Monday, March 29th.

SHOWED WELL IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

The recent Kinsmen Music Festival in Cornwall gave many of the boys and girls from the rural areas an opportunity to participate and to benefit from an experience which for some may launch them on a career.

The Roxmore Public School was well represented in many of the classes. The results justified the efforts expended. Mrs. Iva Bush is music supervisor in the school.

Particularly gratifying was the outstanding performance of Miss Stina Bennett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Bennett. In the final elimination in the girls' vocal solo classes Stina placed first with a mark of 90. She participated in the Concert of the Stars and was awarded a $25 scholarship.

Participants from the Roxmore Public School are set forth below. Only some of the marks were available.

Boys 13 years and under—Barry Crawford, 83 (2nd in his class); Ricky Jacques, 82 (3rd), and Peter Hakvoort, 81 (4th); Boys, 11 years and under—Paul Bomhower and Ian Lang; Girls, 14 years—Sheila Williams and Elaine Leroux, 84 (tied); Girls, 13 years—Lyn Robertson, Karen Ferguson, Cathy Flanagan and Dawn Wert; Girls 12 years—Stina Bennett, Shelley Flanagan and Wendy Lang.

Girls, 10 years—Marion Flanagan; Gwenyth McMillan, Valerie Wert and Doris Veltheim.

Triple Duet, Avonmore 1st, 88—Lyn Robertson, Elaine Leroux, Karen Ferguson, Cathy Flanagan, Lorraine Sayers and Sheila Williams.

Grade Six Choir, unison and descant, Roxmore School, score 81.

LADIES AID HAD MEETING

The March meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore, was held in the church hall. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Neil Bush presided.

Mrs. George D. McElheran had charge of the opening period of worship.

Mrs. Glenn McIntyre, the secretary, read the minutes and correspondence. In addition to the regular "thank you" notes from sick and shut-ins, Mrs. McIntyre read an interesting letter from one of the Korean orphan girls who are supported by the local society through World Vision of Canada.

It was announced the ladies of the congregation are still making quilts. Appreciation was expressed to all those who have kindly assisted in this project.

Under new business plans were made for a home cooking sale to be held in the church hall, Saturday evening. April 14th, at 7.30 o'clock. The sale will be followed by a wig demonstration and a tea.

The Society will help finance a local delegate to the 1971 Presbyterian Congress at the University of Guelph, June 24th to June 27th.

Lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Duncan McMaster and Mrs. Robert Robinson.

Annual Meeting Of Seaway Presbyterial Held At Spencerville

Central United Church in Spencerville was host recently to the annual meeting of Seaway Valley Presbyterial United Church Women. Despite adverse weather conditions which made travelling difficult and in some cases impossible, 186 women registered, from many congregations throughout Seaway Valley. Mrs. W. W. B. Shaw, Presbyterial president, was completely snowbound in Hawkesbury and was unable to attend, as was Mrs. R. A. Cameron, Montreal-Ottawa conference president. In Mrs. Shaw's place Mrs. Clifford Larmour of Morrisburg, past president, presided both morning and afternoon.

The morning session opened with a welcome from Miss Marion Adams of Spencerville. Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Allen VanAllen. Mrs. A. A. Morrison, corresponding secretary, read a telegram of greeting from Mrs. E. C. Knowles, Montreal-Ottawa conference secretary. Through Mrs. Morrison, a suggestion by Mrs. Shaw to have the church year for United Church Women run from September to August was put forward and discussed, and later passed as a recommendation to conference.

Mrs. Larmour as chairman of the nominating committee gave the following report: President, Mrs. Shaw; vice-pres., Mrs. Robert Allum; recording sec'y, Mrs. David Frappier; corresponding sec'y Mrs. Dwight Bennett; treasurer, Mrs. VanAllen; regional vice-presidents, Mrs. Milton Hillis for region 2; Mrs. Morrison for region 3; Mrs. Ross Somerville for region 4.

Chairmen of committees: Mrs. D. J. Cooper, citizenship and social action; Mrs. Alan Hanna, christian and missionary education; Mrs. A. Woodland, finance; Mrs. Larmour, nominations; portfolio secretaries were Mrs. Edwin Forward, community friendship and visiting; Mrs. Keith Brownell, literature communications and publications, with Mrs. Herbert Bockus as assistant; Mrs. Wilbur Garlough for stewardship and vocations; Mrs. Leslie Eamer for supply and welfare; Mrs. L. E. Harris for public relations.

In a short but impressive ceremony, the new executive was installed by the Rev. Sidney Oakwell, minister of Central United Church. Mrs. Brownell, with her assistant Mrs. Bockus, reported briefly on a number of new books available, among them, the new study book by Dr. Bader, "All This and Christian Too"; "Good News for Modern Man" in large print; the study packet on the Americas and several other interesting publications, with their prices.

Mr. Oakwell, a delegate to General Council in January, with directness and humor, gave a brief account of his first experience at General Council. He told of much routine business; of the report on Union, which he felt was the most pressing problem and which should be studied by everyone; of a joint communion service with the Anglicans; of the new hymn book; of the church's stand on abortion. One statement he recalled from a joint evening worship was Don't just do something, stand there!" which gives food for thought. He said the report on Missions was worthy of study, and made him proud to belong to the United Church.

The afternoon session opened with a worship service conducted by Kemptville UCW, with the theme "To be Is To Grow".

Guest speaker at this annual meeting, Dr. Harriet Christie, was introduced by Mrs. Frappier. Dr. Christie reminded us of the great changes that have taken place in the past ten years. She spoke of man's first flight into space, which took place simultaneously with General Council 10 years ago. She recalled the girl who sang "He's got the whole world in his hands", and how this is very much so now. God is making himself known in many ways, and we must recognize these ways. Dr. Christie went on to explain the New Division which has just been approved by General Council, to come into existence in January '72. The New Division of Mission in Canada takes in the present Board of Men, Board of Women, Christian Education, Evangelism and social service and home missions boards. She explained how this new division would be made up, and how there would be constant communication existing between local and national levels. There will be two departments, Christian development, and church in society, with constant interaction between the two. Dr. Christie stated that it was expected and desired that UCW would continue to be strong and virile, to change and adapt.

Pouring the tea and coffee were Mrs. Adrian Van Putten, Mrs. J. B. Bray, Mrs. Donat Levac, Mrs. Henry Blondin, Mrs. Johnny Berry and Mrs. Devoto Truax. At the door were Mrs. Hugh Raymond, Miss Marie McDonald, Mrs. Rod MacDonald and Mrs. Alex Jodoin. Raffle tickets, Miss Theresa McDonald and Mrs. Hubert Champagne. Mrs. Mary Papps and Mrs. John Daniels made the tea and coffee.

Working at the candy table were Ramona Sauve, Bernadette King, Mary Carol Barker and Mary Harrison; at the bazaar booth; Mrs. Adrien Besner, Mrs. W. Ratajczak and Mrs. Wm. Jackson, at the Novelty booth; Miss Hilda Villeneuve and Mrs. Lawrence Besner. Mrs. Bernard Barker, Mrs. Keith Darling and Colleen Marker attended to the bake sale.

The following ladies served at the tables from 2.30 to 4.00 p.m., Mrs. John Guindon and daughter Joanne; Mrs. Jacques Laporte and Mrs. Malcolm McDonald; Mrs. Lawrence O'Connor and daughter Maureen; Mrs. Wilfred Leroux and daughter Elaine; Mrs. Lorne Leblanc and daughter Rejeanne; Mrs. A. St. Patrick's Tea At Apple Hill

The annual St. Patrick's Tea, held on Sunday, March 14, in St. Anthony's Parish Hall, Apple Hill, proved to be another success. In an atmosphere evocative of oncoming spring, enhanced by a verduous setting, a crowd of over 200 people marvelled at the impressive St. Patrick's decorations. Some chatted across elegantly set tables while they sipped their tea and ate from various platters of assorted sandwiches and cakes; others browsed through the bazaar, bake sale, candy and novelty booths. The latter contained some intricately-knitted pieces of needlework.

Conveners for the event were Mrs. Bert Sabourin and Mrs. Octave Gauthier. Mrs. J. B. Bray was in charge of the decorations. Mrs. Harry Lalonde and Mrs. Mar-
