Internal strife resulting in GAMR resignations

Board blamed for rifts between staff, management

By Lesley Cadham
News* editor

Serious internal problems are to blame for the resignation of at least one employee and a board member from the Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded (GAMR).

The Glengarry News learned that two of five team leaders, who oversee the operation of group homes for the mentally handicapped, have already left GAMR and a third is scheduled to leave tomorrow (Thursday). Mr. Currie was to have resigned his membership by today (Wednesday).

The board of directors interferes too much in GAMR operations, former team leader Shelley McLeod and board member Brock Currie have charged.

Mrs. McLeod, a team leader who had worked for GAMR for three years, said Monday that there was a multitude of reasons leading to her resignation. Basically, she said, she had seen a lot of injustices imposed by the board during her employment and felt she could do something to solve the problems if she was not working for the association.

She mentioned that several part-time staff had also resigned, but said she wasn't sure of their reasons. But she believes that the other team leaders left because they were tired of a political struggle between the board of directors and the staff.

Several other employees contacted by The News either refused to comment or did not want to be identified.

GAMR President Kitty Ewaschuk, contacted Monday, said she did not find it strange that three of five team leaders had resigned within the past few weeks. She said it was her understanding that Mrs. McLeod had left because she had gotten married and another leader was "burned out."

She did not say why the third leader had resigned. Some part-time staff were leaving to go back to school, she said.

She also said she preferred not to comment further without giving the executive board, including herself and three other members, a chance to provide input. The meeting could not be arranged before press time.

Mrs. McLeod indicated that though she felt there had been problems regarding the board's operation of GAMR in past years, it was not until the resignation of Executive Director Terry Brouillet that she felt like throwing in the towel.

Mr. Brouillet tendered his resignation in late May, providing GAMR with two month's notice to allow it to find a replacement. He was scheduled to leave July 22, but according to Mrs. Ewaschuk, he was asked to leave June 3 "because of several problems."

Sources say that Mr. Brouillet was asked to outline his reasons for leaving and upon delivering the document was asked to clear out his office within 24 hours.

GAMR accountant Ruth Deer was appointed interim executive director, a position she had held for nine weeks following the resignation of Executive Director Sheila Mayes in 1986.

The News received several statements that Mr. Brouillet was like a "breath of fresh air"; an asset to GAMR. They felt he had resigned because of undue pressure by the board; he stood up to board members and tried to change things.

Mrs. McLeod said, "He was the best thing that ever happened to the association . . . he stood up to the board, where everybody else did what they were told. We finally had somebody we could rely on." (When he left) "I figured there it goes. We'll never get anything done now."

GAMR board member Don Collin said Monday that Mr. Brouillet had not been forced into resigning; he submitted his resignation for his own reasons.

"You know how the rumor mill gets going," he said. "You have to take a cool look at everything." He added, there had not been a board meeting since the team leaders' resignations and he prefered to reserve comment until after the board had discussed the matters.

Mr. Brouillet, contacted at his home Thursday, said "I don't want to comment because I don't feel the differences

Put French services to a vote: Council

Voters in Charlottenburgh township will have the opportunity to make known their views on the controversial recommendations of the Task Force on the Municipal Services in French during the November municipal election, if the Ministry of Municipal Affairs allows a decision taken by council Aug. 9 to stand.

A resolution, proposed by Deputy-Reeve Bob Roth and passed unanimously by council, asks that ballots in the forthcoming election contain the question, "Do you favor the Township of Charlottenburgh devoting more time and money to the implementation of French language services in the municipality?"

Councillor Carol-Ann Ross requested copies of the resolution be sent to the more than 800 municipalities in Ontario and to local members of parliament.

Clerk-Treasurer Marcel Lapierre replied that he would do all in his power to see whether the ministry would allow such an addition to the ballots.

Saying, "Politicians have talked about it long enough; it is time for the people to decide," Mr. Roth asked that a covering letter be sent requesting that other municipalities follow Charlottenburgh's lead.

"Not one day has passed without someone phoning to encourage me on the stand I have taken on this issue," said Councillor Ross, who attacked the French Language Services report at a council meeting held July 25.

A friendly welcome

Dleifneerg welcomed people to the 11th annual Greenfield Lawn Social, Saturday night. Despite an early evening shower, the mascot wasn't discouraged as a large number of people attended the event. Lancaster Village superintendent "fed up"

Lancaster Village roads superintendent Jacques Lapierre dropped a bombshell on council at an Aug. 3 meeting when he announced his retirement at the end of August.

"I just want to advise council I'm quitting. I'm fed up," Mr. Lapierrre said.

Mr. Lapierre would not discuss further reasons for his decision. He is currently on vacation and could not be reached for comment.

Councillor Jennifer Charbonneau asked Mr. Lapierre to reconsider his decision after a couple of weeks.

Reeve Milton MacDonald said, "We've had a satisfactory relationship with Mr. Lapierre and maybe after a couple of weeks to think about it, he'll change his mind. We are disappointed if he leaves, but maybe we can convince him to finish the year with this council."

Mr. Lapierre has been employed as the village's roads superintendent the past 14 years.

Thunderstorms lash Glengarry, cause damage, power outages

Severe thunder and lightning storms throughout the weekend were responsible for a series of power-outages throughout the county, and at least one property fire which destroyed a barn.

No injuries were reported when the Apple Hill Fire Department was called in to put out a house blaze on Kenyon's fourth concession, Sunday.

The department received the call at 10 p.m. and sent three trucks and 15 men to the house of George Zucchini, where they remained for two hours.

By the time they arrived, the house had burned to the ground.

Damage to the building is estimated at $20,000. It is not yet known what caused the blaze, although lightning is suspected.

Lightning was confirmed to be the cause of a fire that completely destroyed a Brodie Road barn.

The abandoned barn was owned by Richard Kerr and had no valuable contents. When a wind shift occurred, nearby grass ignited, but was soon extinguished by a downpour of rain. Fire officials were not called in.

Stuart MacDonald, foreman at Vankleek Hill Hydro reported storm damage was blamed for a 3 1/2-hour power interruption in Cornwall Township, Saturday. Downed lines cut off power from 6:30 to 10 in the evening.

The Town of Alexandria called in Ontario Hydro to replace broken "cap insulators" at the town's power station, Saturday. Although Mr. MacDonald wasn't sure if any storms were to blame, he did say that Alexandrians were not without power for much more than half an hour. Power for the town was diverted from another line.

Storm activity was also blamed for blackouts in Eamer's Corners and St. Andrews on Sunday.

Mr. MacDonald also reported that Hydro received several scattered calls throughout Glengarry to solve isolated cases of storms interfering with individual power supplies.

George Hambleton, weather oberserver, reported that 30 mm of rain fell on Glengarry this weekend, which he considers a good rainfall, but not heavy. He also noted hail was experienced in Cornwall and vicinity.

Also in that area, high winds blew over picnic tables and chairs.

Feed price hikes pinch farmers

by Janet Clermont
Staff writer

The price tag on Glengarry crops is "changing rapidly" as the value of small grains, soybeans and corn are on the rise due to a nation-wide drought, a local supplier said recently.

Jim MacEwen of MacEwen Grain Inc. in Maxville said the increase in crop prices across North America is a result of the drought in the United States and Western Canada.

"It's called supply and demand. When there is less to go around prices will go up. A farmer will sell to the highest bidder and if you're hungry for grain you'll pay the price," he said.

Bruce Munro of Munro Farm and Feed Supply in Lancaster, said last week, that crop prices have been fluctuating and escalating during the harvesting season.

The cost of eastern barley hit a high of $140 per tonne this month compared to a low of $65 last year. Soybean prices took a jump from a low

Continental drought means scarce supply of $270 in September 1987 to a high of $404 this month. Mr. Munro added that he purchased one tonne of corn in July for $185 after paying $102 per tonne in January.

But despite the drought, local Agriculture Representative Glen Smith said the crops in Glengarry are "looking very good".

However, he added that crops located in the south end of Glengarry are beginning to suffer from the lack of rain.

"The south of the county is much dryer than the north end. The Bainsville and Lancaster area seems to be missing all the rain."

Mr. Smith reported last week that the quality of the first cut of hay was above normal although the quantity harvested was less.

But the second cut was affected by the damp weather and had "a lot of rain damage. The longer the hay lays out in the field the worse the quality".

The drought also had a slight effect on the quality of small grains resulting in a shorter straw.

"It looks reasonably good though. The damp weather should be a bonus for small grains."

Mr. Smith said the corn crops have endured a great deal this spring but are healthy despite the drought.

Jim Sangster, a Bainsville farmer who harvests corn said last week, "The dry weather is hurting us a bit but it's not that bad."

Mr. Sangster said he will know the full effect of the dry weather when he harvests his corn in the beginning of October.

And Ron McRae of Bainsville said recently, his 215 acres of grain corn is doing "pretty well," but added, "It is suffering from lack of moisture. We missed the showers that have been going around the area."

Despite this, Mr. McRae said his crops are above normal quality and quantity.

Peace train gives students cause for renewed optimism

By Janet Clermont

The hope for peace will live on in the hearts of three Ecole Secondaire Régionale Glengarry (ESRG) students after an international exchange between Canadian and Soviet youths.

A group of 15 Soviet and 10 Canadian youths, between the ages of 13 to 17, boarded a "peace train" in June and travelled across Canada spreading a message of peace.

Two ESRG students who boarded the train; Lucie Tardif and Simon Nadeau, were interviewed by The News Wednesday, and both agreed the trip had changed their lives. The third student, Kim Andre Vu, of Alexandria was not available for an interview.

"It was a real eye-opener. I heard about the peace movement but now I'm more conscious that something can be done to promote peace... and it's up to the young people," said Lucie, 17.

She added that the peace train was "just the beginning, and is hoping to start a peace group here in Glengarry.

"I don't know how just yet but I'm sure we could do it," she said.

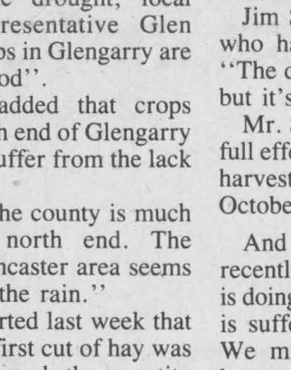
The group left Montreal June 30 bound for Vancouver. The train stopped briefly in Alexandria where the youths were greeted by Mayor J. P. Touchette, along with several teachers and students, before heading to Ottawa. The following day, the group arrived in Toronto where they were met by Ontario Premier David Peterson and the Catholic School Board. The youths then boarded a plane to Calgary and Vancouver.

The group arrived back in Montreal July 8 and returned home the next day. During the entire trip the youths were inseparable.

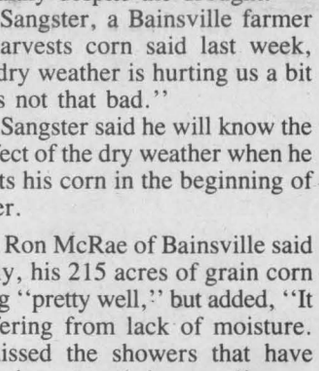
"We did everything together. It was one good time after another, " said Simon, 18.

And although some of the Soviet youths could not speak English or French, the students managed to communicate through a translator or hand gestures.

The memories of sitting up all night singing and talking or the intense discussions on the threat of nuclear war, will never fade.



Lucie Tardif



Simon Nadeau

"A lot of tears were shed the day they left. I'll probably never see any of them again," said Lucie.

According to the organizer of the exchange, Dr. Frans Manouvrier of Alexandria, the youths "hit it off right away."

"A lot of friendships were formed... And it was hard to tell which ones were the Soviets. People would ask them which ones were Canadians," said Dr. Manouvrier.

And although the exchange is over, the participants will continue to spread a message of peace.

"I'm not finished talking about it. I talk to my friends and family about it... I'm going to try and get involved in local peace projects," said Simon.

Simon said he learned a great deal during the exchange about Soviets and their culture.

"I learned that they are not all that different from us. We all have the same hopes and fears. I also learned that the world situation is getting bad. It's time to do something about nuclear arms before it's too late."

Dr. Manouvrier said his quest to promote world-wide peace is far from over.

"It's too early to say what the next step will be but I ask that all of the people do their best to keep the peace," said Dr. Manouvrier.

Fly-in breakfast

CJOH Sportscaster Danny Seguin with MP Don Boudria, MPP Noble Villeneuve, tri-counties Warden George Cuerrier of Maxville and Glengarry News Publisher Joe Banks will be the starring cooks at the Alexandria Flying Club breakfast on Sunday, Aug. 21.

The occasion is the 16th annual fly-in breakfast at the Alexandria Airport, served from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. More than 1,700 people are expected for pancakes, eggs and sausages, one of the best breakfasts available anywhere. For pilots, aviation gas will also be on sale.

Organizers of the event are Marielle Carriere, Carol Baxter, Helene Vachon, Diane Ouellette and Murielle Giroux. Members of 379 Glengarry Air Cadet Squadron, who are co-sponsored by the Alexandria Flying Club, will be parking and guarding aircraft and helping with food service and clean-up. Two members of the squadron, Flight Sergeant Lyle McDonell and Cpl. David Park are graduates of the prestigious 'Blue Beret' program at Oshkosh where they were trained in handling aircraft at the civilian air show there.

During recent flying club elections Doug Baxter was chosen new president. Other executives are Pierre Giroux, vice-president; Helene Vachon, secretary and Reg Page, treasurer. Club directors are Paul Roy, Norm Carriere, Ron Munroe and Past-President Jerry Adams.

Alexandria was indirectly part of the national story in the Ottawa Citizen's report on Champlain's astrolabe relating that Edward Lee was a 14-year-old Cobden farm boy when he found in a field the astrolabe Champlain lost while camping on the Ottawa River shore during an exploration expedition in 1613.

This historic discovery by Edward Lee in 1867 was confirmed by his nephew Dr. Dominic Dolan, 95, a retired country physician. That is none other than Alexandria and Glengarry's country doctor, D. J. (Dominic John) Dolan who spent his practising lifetime from the mid 1920s until retirement here and resided with his family in the residence now occupied by the Stanley Frasers.

In his confirmation Dr. Dolan told the Citizen reporter that he vividly recalls his uncle, Edward Lee, telling him this historic story when he was a 12-year-old school boy spending the summer at the Lee's Cobden farm a short distance northwest of Renfrew.

The Glengarry News caught wind of the Laurette (Lauzon, Jette) Cooke's retirement as postmaster of the Stittsville post office, recently. Mrs. Cooke, a once-resident of Alexandria retired July 28 after 32 years with Canada Post. Her career began when she was hired to work part-time at the Alexandria post office. She was later transferred to Delta and Stittsville. And last summer, Mrs. Cooke had the opportunity to come home when she filled in for Postmaster Hubert Dubois, who was away on sick leave. She was also responsible for 13 other post offices as part of her job in Stittsville. Mrs. Cooke worked at The Hub in 1949 and her father owned the old Lauzon Bakery on Main Street.

Guides camp construction progressing well

Construction of a $113,000 camping facility for Les Guides Catholiques of the Alexandria-Cornwall Diocese is well into its 10th week as volunteers began erecting the second storey of the new building, 2 weeks ago.

The group has approached five municipalities in the diocese to ask for funds. Lochiel Township recently donated $700 to the project which is designed to upgrade the present camping facilities for the francophone girl guides and boy scouts.

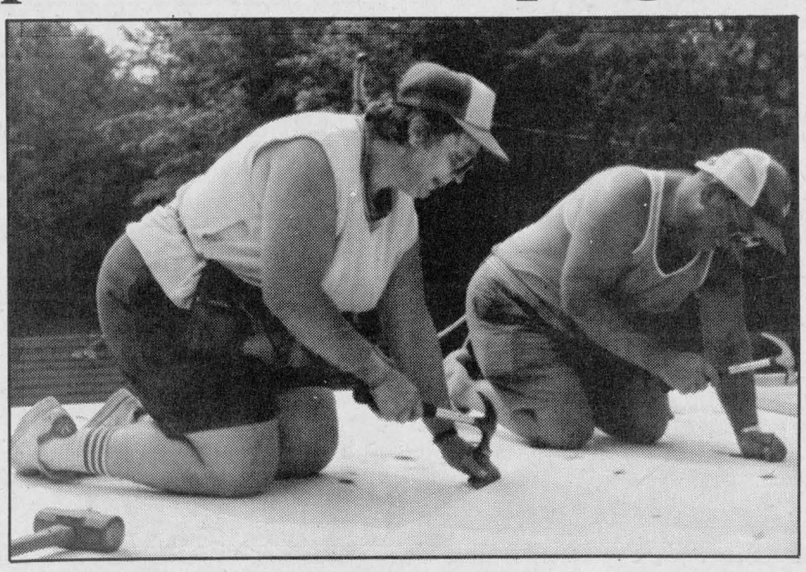
Other municipalities contacted were: Lancaster Township, the Town of Alexandria, Charlottenburgh Township and the City of Cornwall. However, no decision was reached among these municipalities.

The group is planning to appeal for funds from Maxville, Kenyon, Roxborough and Finch Townships. The girl guides are hoping the townships will donate a total of $15,000.

District Commissioner Agathe Brunet said, "I want to stress that without the municipalities support we wouldn't be able to finish the project."

Phase 1, of the project, which is expected to be complete by September, will include the installation of washrooms and showers, the expansion of a heating and alarm system and landscaping. Hiking and cross-country ski trails will be set up as part of Phase 2. In addition, a storage shed, fireplace and bonfire site will be constructed. Phase 3 of the project will be the cleaning of the lakeshore and creation of a beach area.

Ms. Brunet said the project is designed to create a sense of social belonging. She said there were no adequate camping grounds for francophone girl guides.



Volunteer workers were busy Thursday morning erecting the second storey of a new camping facility for Les guides Catholique of the Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall at Loch Garry. District Commissioner Agathe Brunet and Father Romeo Major, the group's spiritual animator began working on the construction of the $113,000 project in May.

The guides have obtained a $37,000 grant from the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation and Employment Canada which donated the wages for three laborers. So far, the guides have obtained $10,000 through fundraising.

A total of 28 volunteers from La Garde de la Nativité in Cornwall has been helping the guides construct the building.

"We need more volunteer people to come and help. We also need an electrician and a plumber."

The camp will be open year' round for young people. Priority will be given to the guides and scouts, research teams and exploration groups.

Father Romeo Major, the groups' spiritual animator from Cornwall, said he has been working on the project since 1966.

"This is the first year we get something reasonable. I'm very happy with the project and we want parents to get involved too because it's for their children."

New volunteer co-ordinator appointed at Maxville Manor

Maxville Manor has appointed Phyllis Burtenshaw to the position of Co-ordinator of Volunteers, along with her recently announced appointment to the Outreach Services operation.

Mrs. Burtenshaw has extensive experience in the long term care field and will be responsible for the total management of volunteer services for the Manor and its network of Outreach Services. Anyone interested in volunteering their time in any of these areas is asked to call Mrs. Burtenshaw at 527-2170.

Also announced Aug. 9 is the appointment of Bernadina Murray to the position of Co-ordinator of Social Services.

Miss Murray is a native of Apple Hill and brings excellent qualifications to this role. Her responsibilities will include directing all recreational activities at the Manor along with providing counselling services for families and residents.

Any community groups scheduling meetings or events at the Manor are asked to call Miss Murray at 527-2170.

Hydro inspection fees on the rise

Ontario Hydro's electrical inspection fees will be increased by 10 per cent starting October 1, 1988. The increase is the first in three years.

The new fees affect inspections for all residential, commercial and industrial installations. The cost to inspect a typical single family residence will go up about $6 to $78 under the new fee structure.

"Inspections are required under the Electrical Safety Code for all work on electrical installations," Dicker said. "Inspection is necessary to ensure the safety of the public and the proper operation of electrical equipment."

"EVERY WOMAN HAS THE RIGHT TO CONTROL HER OWN BODY"

Sounds sensible, doesn't it?

Not when it is used to defend abortion because common sense and modern science both recognize that in pregnancy there are two bodies and two lives.

WOMAN, by dictionary definition, means "female human being." Since sex is determined at conception and over half of those aborted are "female human beings" then, obviously, not EVERY WOMAN has the right to control her own body.

RIGHTS of individuals, because of the interrelation of all life, are limited when they infringe on the rights of others. Apart from abortion, when else may a woman, in pursuit of a career, diploma, life style or personal interest, have the legal right to kill an innocent, defenseless human being?

CONTROL, which involves responsibility and restraint, should be exercised before exposing one's body to the possibility of pregnancy. Abortion seeks to replace self-control by demanding instead, the right to control the body of someone else.

HER OWN BODY does not describe a pregnant body, since science shows us that in pregnancy there are two different heart-beats, two different brainwave patterns,two different blood types and even two different sexes.

Authority may take on new territory

A report from an interministerial committee of the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR) has recommended that Southern Ontario's 33 conservation authorities be reduced to 1[illegible] via amalgamation within the next 1 1/2 years.

The report, released by the committee in June, specifically targets the [illegible]sin Region Conservation Authority (RRCA) and the South Nation Conservation Authority (SNCA) as two jurisdictions to be merged by MNR Minister Vincent Kerrio's January 1, 1990 deadline.

The report also suggests that the number of member municipalities and municipal representatives be reduced by 600 province-wide. Mike Lalonde of the RRCA says that will occur with the local authority as well.

"You could see Glengarry getting one representative . . . and then rotating that representative from Lochiel, Kenyon, Lancaster and Charlottenburgh," said Mr. Lalonde in an interview with The News in July. He says that the authority's present 14-member board is suitable, and some members are worried about a change. But he says in a case like the SNCA, with 36 municipal members, a cut-down on the number of representatives could be healthy for the authority.

At a meeting on Thursday, the RRCA was presented with three possible options the authority could take on the issue: keep the RRCA as it is now; follow the report's recommendations; or present their own option to the provincial government.

"They were discussed pretty thoroughly," commented authority chairman Charles Sangster, yesterday (Tuesday).

The third option the group has come up with is that the RRCA would increase its territory by fifty per cent to include the area along the St. Lawrence River from Ingleside to Cardinal, Ottawa to the Quebec border and the northern portion of Lochiel Township. None of these areas are covered by any conservation authority. Mr. Sangster said that one of the recommendations of the MNR report is to include all areas not now covered by an authority in one.

Mr. Sangster, who has been chairman of the RRCA for three years, said no decision concerning their choice has been made, and that the group has until the end of the year to decide.

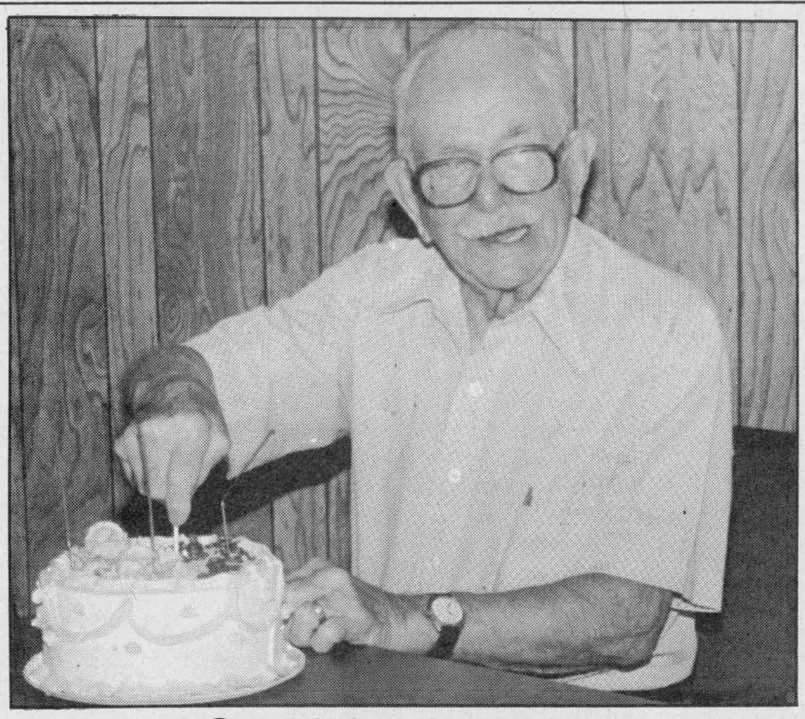
He also stressed that whatever decision the organization comes to, it will merely be a suggestion to the province.

"A vote doesn't mean anything will go our way," stated the Lancaster deputy-reeve.

Though the ministry has not yet done any studies on the cost of the transition, Mr. Lalonde expects some costs will be incurred with the construction of new offices and other items concerned with the physical relocation of the authority.

The provincial report also holds that job losses are expected to occur in some areas, but the amalgamation of the RRCA and the SNCA will actually be creating jobs, says Mr. Lalonde. Because the authorities' staffs will be under the ideal size set out by the minister, 10 to 11 permanent technical and administrative jobs would be created.

There will be a public review of the proposal, and input is expected from other conservation authorities, interest groups and municipalities.



Special celebration

Last Thursday was a special day for Maxville resident Stanley G. McDonald. Mr. McDonald celebrated his 94th birthday with some of his friends at Highland Motor Sales in Maxville. It didn't take Stanley long to cut the birthday cake during the celebration.

Guindon to sit on PC policy committee

A former Cornwall riding MPP has been appointed to sit on the new Policy Coordinating Committee of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Party.

Luc Guindon, who held the seat from 1985 before being defeated by Liberal John Cleary in 1987, served as the PC's critic for Francophone and Intergovernmental Affairs. He will join 15 other Conservative MPPs and candidates on the committee which will make policy recommendations to the provincial caucus.

Mr. Guindon, in a telephone interview with The News on Monday, said he is no longer considering running for the Conservative nomination in Stormont-Dundas.

"I did consider it for a while, but that's long gone," stated Mr. Guindon, now a Cornwall businessman.

Internal strife at GAMR causes resignations

should be discussed in the newspaper at this point. I'm optimistic that things do change, maybe not next week or as quickly as we want. I had a lot to say while I was there and I made no bones about it. I hope my comments will be looked at."

He also said he was concerned that the people who would lose out from the publicity would be the clients; the most innocent party.

Resigning board member Brock Currie told The News Monday he was resigning for "personal reasons and because many board members are good people but terribly difficult to work with. I found it discouraging."

He said he is concerned about the number of resignations and feels the board has a lot to do with it.

"The board interferes far too much," he said. Mr. Currie has been on the board for the last year and has also served terms during the last 13 years.

Mrs. McLeod said she believes the board doesn't trust GAMR staff; so it is trying to do the jobs of the residential director, team leaders and executive director.

She also charged that the association is run like a private club; the board brings in members and staff of its choice.

Another major complaint had to do with re-vamping schedules for the team leaders. The schedules prior to the hiring of Mr. Brouillet in late 1986 included shift work and two 12-hour work days on weekends; counsellors (team leaders did not yet exist) sometimes had to work six days straight, she said.

Mr. Brouillet created five positions - team leaders - and put the leaders on a schedule which was different from that of the counsellors. It meant team leaders worked only 10-hour shifts and not more than three days in a row, with two consecutive days off.

But Mrs. McLeod was concerned that recently proposed changes within a team leader's job description and schedule would mean a loss of responsibility and a return to the gruelling 12-hour weekend shifts, said Mrs. McLeod.

The News has not yet been able to determine whether the changes actually occurred.

Other complaints included:

- The board changes policies and procedures regularly so that employees are never sure what their job descriptions were.
- Part-time staff were told they could not work more than 24 hours a week but this means GAMR must bring in more new counsellors with whom the group home residents are not familiar.
- The programs are being affected by conflict between the board and the staff.

The News learned that Ministry of Community and Social Services representative Jean Marc Lanoue had visited GAMR Friday (Aug. 12) but was unable to confirm the reasons or results of the visit.

But Mr. Lanoue's superior, Community Services Manager Frank O'Brien spoke with The News, Monday and when told of the resignations, said he did not feel it was a normal occurance.

He said he would check into the situation but added that the ministry, which provides annual funds for GAMR only has jurisdiction in certain areas of operations.

For example, the ministry does not have authority over the hiring of employees other than the residential director. And it does not generally step into a situation unless there is evidence that the programs funded by the ministry are suffering or that the funds are being used improperly.

Eastern Ontario Health Unit admits to inspection foul-up

Following a lengthy discussion about problems with septic systems in the Bayview Estates subdivision, an official with the Eastern Ontario Health Unit admitted to Charlottenburgh council that there had been a 'foul-up' in the Unit's "final inspection" of the houses in question.

Gerry Dupuis told council during a regular meeting held Aug. 9, that certificates of approval for five houses in the subdivision had been revoked when it was found that lot grading plans had not been followed in compliance with hydrogeological reports. Mr. Dupuis said that he was worried there were more systems yet to be installed which would have the same difficulties.

Paul Stanton, Charlottenburgh's Planner and Building Inspector, who is one of the five homeowners affected, said that all five houses were built this year and had not been "finally graded."

Mr. Stanton claimed it was the way the Health Unit handled the matter that has brought about complaints. He said that he was phoned by a Health Unit secretary who told him his certificate had been revoked, without giving him any reasons why, or without being able to provide him with additional information.

"A contractor puts faith in the specs from the health department," stressed Councillor Larry Gordon, adding that the inspection department of the Health Unit "had to bear the blame for this."

"We straightened out the foul-up as soon as it was brought to our attention," claimed Mr. Dupuis. He added that the Heath Unit will not accept the cost to residents who have agreed to proceed with work which will regain them their certificates of approval.

Councillor Carol-Ann Ross said the residents concerned should be informed of their rights to ask the Health Unit for restitution for the work they must now do because of the "foul-up."

Two detours diverting local traffic

Local motorists should beware of two additional detours in the county.

Vehicles travelling Hwy. 34 from Alexandria to Hawkesbury may want to leave a little earlier than planned as construction of a municipal culvert is forcing vehicles to travel an extra 24 km.

The Ministry of Transportation has closed the overpass which crosses Hwy. 417 to replace a damaged culvert at the Hwy. 34 junction. The $140,000 project began Aug. 8 and will continue until the beginning of September.

Eastbound traffic can still exit at the Alexandria ramp.

Westbound traffic must exit at the Barb Rd. ramp to reach Hwy. 34 and detour north onto Prescott's Cty. Rd. 10 which will take motorists in a westbound direction. Motorists then turn south onto Cty. Rd. 12 into Dalkeith then west onto Hwy. 34.

Motorists travelling north on Hwy. 34 from Alexandria will detour on Cty. Rd. 24 in Laggan. Once in Dalkeith, vehicles must turn north on Cty. Rd. 23 then west on Prescott's Cty. Rd. 10 to arrive in Vankleek Hill.

And motorists travelling to North Lancaster from Hwy. 34 may want to take an alternative route while the SD&G County Roads Department repairs a damaged culvert on Cty. Rd. 18.

The roads department has closed a section of Cty. Rd. 18. The $50,000 project began early last week and will continue for an additional two weeks.

Motorists can follow a five km detour into North Lancaster however, there are less time consuming routes for vehicles travelling from Alexandria or Lancaster.

To avoid a detour, vehicles southbound on Hwy. 34 from Alexandria can turn east on Cty. Rd. 25 and turn south onto the Glen Norman side road which arrives in North Lancaster. A driver travelling north from Lancaster on Hwy. 34 can turn east on Cty. Rd. 17 and then north on Westley's side road to arrive in North Lancaster.

The five km detour on Cty. Rd. 18, forces eastbound vehicles to turn north on Pine Hill side road, then east on Conc. 7 and then south onto the Glen Norman side road to reach North Lancaster. Motorists that are westbound on Cty. Rd. 18 are also forced to take the detour.

Town of Alexandria
Council Briefs

The regular meeting of Alexandria town council was held at the town office on Wednesday, Aug. 9. Councillors Jim Baker and Jacques Joly were absent. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

Scheduled next meeting

Council has scheduled the next regular meeting to take place Sept. 6 at 7:30 p.m.

If a matter arises which cannot wait until that date, the mayor will reschedule the meeting.

Slow down, drivers

Council instructed the town's road superintendent to check into a request for a stop sign from residents of the Front Street and East Boundary Road area.

Council recently received a petition from 22 residents and a covering letter from Dr. Ghislain Marleau, requesting a stop sign for the corner of those streets.

"We all have children and we all witness cars driving down easily at 80 km an hour . . . I am sure that just putting up a sign with a speed limit will not be effective . . ." stated the petition.

The group also sent a similar request to Lochiel Township for a stop sign at East Boundary Road and River Road.

Council asked Road Superintendent Jean Guy Levert to find out what Lochiel had decided and report back at the next meeting.

Signs on the move

Council has solved the problem of signs which have been disappearing from the area around Mill Pond.

A new bylaw passed Aug. 9 means it will no longer be necessary for the town to post signs warning boaters that boats propelled by motors over 9.9 h.p. are prohibited on the lake. The signs were being stolen or defaced almost as soon as they were erected.

The old bylaw, passed in 1986, specifically stated signs must be posted at various points of launching. That requirement is not included in the new version, compiled by the Alexandria Police Department.

The fine for driving a boat with a motor higher than 9.9 h.p. is from $50 to $500. The law does not apply to police officers, firefighters or emergency health care workers carrying out their duties.

No shopping on Sunday

Ontario Progressive Conservative Party Leader Andrew Brandt has written to council urging it provide opinions on the Sunday Shopping issue.

Though council did not resolve to provide an opinion, Mayor J. P. Touchette stated that council's position not to endorse Sunday shopping was already known. He qualified the statement Thursday, saying that he had called Cornwall Mayor Brian Lynch's office to let him know that Alexandria supported the movement against Sunday openings.

Mr. Lynch was supposed to pass the message along at a meeting in Ottawa.

In a July 29 letter addressed to Clerk/Treasurer Leo Poirier, Mr. Brandt wrote, "I would urge you to exercise your democratic right and make your views known to the Sunday Shopping committee. Your input is critical if we are to convince the present government that doing away with a common pause day is not what Ontarians want."

An all-party committee of the legislature, travelling across Canada to obtain public opinion on the issue, will be at the Delta Hotel in Ottawa on Monday, Aug. 22 at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Donation to orphanage

Council has donated $50 to Child Haven International, a Maxville-based group which operates homes for orphans in India.

The organization had asked members of council to attend a benefit dinner to be held Sept. 21. Donations will be accepted in lieu of a set admission fee.

Thanks, council

Eugene Ducharme, owner of Ducharme taxi, delivered laurels to council recently.

In a letter, he expressed his appreciation for the town's new bylaw which states that taxi companies must produce a vehicle safety certification before their licences can be renewed.

Reconsider sale of commercial licences: Séguin

Alexandria town Councillor and avid fisherman, Fern Séguin, has gone to bat for Ontario's sports anglers by letting the province know he is against licensing commercial fishermen to catch and sell perch.

In a letter to Minister of Natural Resources Vincent Kerrio, Mr. Séguin stated, "We must maintain our position on this issue until our local MNR (Ministry of Natural Resources) has given us an acceptable reason as to the behavior of the perch whose population appears to be decreasing gradually to the point where an average angler can hardly make a reasonable catch anymore.

"It does not make any sense...to implement a new policy, that is to license commercial anglers and commercial netters to catch and sell the fish..."

The ministry recently announced plans to ban sales of perch by sports fishermen and to offer commercial licences to local fishermen to allow them to legally sell to stores and restaurants.

Net fishermen would be permited to take 2,000 kg each of (live weight) perch annually and a limit has not been imposed on anglers.

Mr. Séguin, who said he has fished for about 40 years, suggested that the ministry ban commercial perch fishing and impose a daily quota on sport fishermen of 35 perch. He also suggested closing perch fishing for two to three weeks during spawning season.

MNR should also consider allocating funds to conduct an "extensive study or survey in Lake St. Francis to clarify and settle this issue once and for all."

Mr. Séguin said he believes the perch population is declining, regardless of previous statements by MNR that it is not.

He wants to protect and preserve the perch for local sport fishermen, but is concerned that the ministry is planning to sell commercial licences only to generate revenue.

"The big dollar sign always calls the shot," he stated.

The town of Alexandria passed a resolution, May 3, to voice opposition to MNR's proposal to license commercial fishermen and have since received supporting resolutions from several other municipalities, SD&G Counties Council and the Raisin Region Conservation Authority.

In his report to the MNR, Mr. Séguin stated he felt the resolutions provided an accurate reflection of the people's wishes; "the best public participation and input you will ever get," he wrote.

Mr. Séguin also documented that he was concerned about pollution entering Lake St. Francis from municipal drains. Insecticides and fertilizers can harm the fish, he believes. In addition, the fertilizers could be responsible for the massive amounts of weeds in the lake.

During the Aug. 9 council meeting, Councillor Archie McDougall said he was shocked to find out that a native who lives on Cornwall Island won't eat fish reeled in from that area of the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Séguin said yesterday (Tuesday), "The future looks grim for the next generation. We're going to have to clean up our act pretty soon."

Correction

In the Aug. 10 edition of The Glengarry News, in an article on page 1 entitled "Lancaster Township reverses decision on pool donation," the amount donated by the township was inadvertently omitted.

It agreed to donate $500 to the foundation.

The story also stated the foundation is asking five Glengarry municipalities to cover 25 per cent of the $15,000. In fact, it is asking Kenyon, Lochiel and Lancaster townships and Alexandria - four - to contribute.

The News regrets any confusion caused by the error.

OPP seek thieves who took silverware, sound equipment

Alexandria police and Lancaster/Maxville OPP are investigating two break and enters which occurred last week.

Maxville OPP are searching for individuals who broke into a home on Conc. 1 in Kenyon Township and stole a silver cutlery service and a walnut case. Included in the case was a souvenir spoon with a Newfoundland crest on the handle.

The incident occurred sometime between Aug. 7 to 14.

Anyone with information regarding this theft is asked to call the Maxville detachment.

On Aug. 7, an offender broke into an Alexandria home located on Derby Street and stole a cassette receiver, an equalizer, a speaker and clock radio.

The victim was Luc Desjardin

Police briefs

Collides with car

A St. Andrews man was taken to the Glengarry Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning after the motorcycle he was driving collided with an oncoming car on Main Street.

Ronald Fournier, 35, was treated and released.

Mr. Fournier was charged with improper passing after he attempted to pass a vehicle making a left-hand turn in front of him and collided with an oncoming vehicle also turning left.

Mr. Fournier was southbound on a 1981 Honda at the time of the accident.

The driver of the other vehicle, a 1981 4-door Honda, was Lionel Leger, 40, of Alexandria.

Damage to both vehicles was extensive.

Stolen bicycle

Police are searching for a black BMX bicycle stolen from Island Park sometime last month.

The owner of the bicycle is Jacob Jeaurond, 10, of Alexandria.

Editorials/Opinion

A great choice — a logical decision

The higher-ups at Canada Post have finally done something we can applaud. And believe us, that's difficult these days considering all of the complaints of erratic delivery we're getting.

Anne Germain, who has been acting postmistress for the Alexandria Post Office for the past few months, has been appointed to the position permanently, effective July 27. Mrs. Germain replaces former postmaster Hubert Dubois, who has been on sick leave since June of 1987.

Nothing could have made the management at this newspaper more pleased.

In the short time Mrs. Germain has been working in town, she has made herself many friends. Not only is she a friendly person, but she, at least from our point of view, takes each complaint seriously, immediately addresses it, contacts the authorities and quickly advises us of what can be done or is being done.

Of course, those who have problems with delivery including us know those problems do not originate with the town office. The workers here are the friendliest, most diligent people Canada Post has. But in a corporation the size of the post office, sterling performances can quickly become irrelevant once the mail leaves the local office — and enters the notorious terminals in Ottawa or Toronto. There, mail processing slows down, becomes erratic or simply folds up.

And when a complainant has to deal with the layers of officials Canada Post employs, cutting through the red tape and getting to the root of the problem is often as important as solving the problem itself. Anne Germain has become a pipeline of sorts for our complaints, whether it has to do with ordering new tags for our mail bags or looking into a problem from one of our subscribers about delivery, she has never failed to help.

In a rural area, Canada Post should realize that personal service is extremely important to a community's citizens, far more important than it is for residents in larger centres whose closest tie to the post office is their mailman.

Here, and elsewhere in Canada where communities use centralized delivery services, the postmaster's role is a vital one.

We applaud Canada Post's decision to appoint Mrs. Germain full-time, and look forward to more of these kinds of decisions, decisions based more on logic and rural sensitivities, and less on what's best for the huge city-centred terminals.

Peacekeeping Canada rises to the challenge

Canada's armed force is no stranger to peacekeeping. From its first mission as an intermediary during the Suez crisis in 1956, or more recently in Cyprus, this country has never turned down such honorable — and thankless — roles. But with Operation Vagabond, the assignment to stop the fighting in the eight-year war between Iran and Iraq, Canadians have reason to mark the forces' presence with pride — and a measure of hope.

The over 500 communications and peacekeeping troops are moving into a volatile part of the world which has seen little more than the misery of full-scale conventional warfare for eight years. It's a place where life is a cheap commodity, where religious fanaticism drives diplomacy. It's a place which has known the horrors of chemical warfare, a measure suffered by both soldiers and civilians, and of course, human loss and suffering affecting well over one million souls.

In such a land, peacekeeping efforts by the United Nations could be a frail effort at best or an exercise in futility at worst. Into this cauldron, Canada is sending about a third of the 1,500 soldiers involved in the mission, the largest contingent of any country. It is a risk of significance for the men and women involved.

For quite apart from the inherent dangers associated with providing a buffer between two bitter enemies, the Canadians will have to contend with the view many Iranians possess nine years after our embassy in Tehran hid six Americans, and assisted in their escape from the country.

Canada was hated by both the government and the people of Iran, and the incident resulted in the closing of our embassy there. Relations between the two countries have since improved, but with a strong Canadian presence the temptation of reprisal, even after all these years, still exists.

So far 78 Canadians have been killed working for peace in over 30 years of peacekeeping missions, out of nearly 80,000 who have served. That's a pretty good record, but by no means an umblemished one. That Canada once again feels compelled to step into the breach speaks volumes about the excellence of our foreign policy and the courage of the people of the Canadian Armed Forces.

The Oilers, the Kings and the truth of it all

AFTER THOUGHTS
Joe Banks

We're a chins-up lot, we Canadians. We can take the heat and the cold. The increasing taxes, the prospect of higher mortgage rates, climbing inflation — it all rolls off our backs like water down a Coppertone-soaked back.

John Turner uses the Senate to block the free trade deal? No problem, Canadians say. He'll get his. Acid rain? Depleted ozone layer? "Die off" of our trees? We'll correct the problem. We'll beat it. Just take it in stride.

Trade Wayne Gretzky to the Los Angeles Kings, however, and you're talking anarchy. You're talking war. You're talking about our game, the one that spawned the greatest hockey players in history. And when you talk about trading Wayne Gretzky to the Los Angeles Kings, you'd better check your insurance policies and tape up your car windows.

For the wrath is descending.

The guy in the line at the bank on Friday said he didn't know who to hit first — Wayne or Peter. I asked him if he meant with his fist or through the mob. He said both, and the order didn't matter.

Our resident Glengarry sports historian, archivist and veteran correspondent Angus H. had few kind words about Gretzky. As he had been known to do on more than one occasion, the wise sage felt no obligation to be diplomatic in his criticism of all parties concerned. Rage was his spokesman.

The controversy in Glengarry and elsewhere of The Greatest Trade has yet to die down. Edmontonians, resisting the urge to burn Peter Pocklington in effigy, if not in person, are demanding the team be turned over to the city. The mayor's considering it, maintaining the team is too important to be left to the greedy whims of the meat handlers in the Oilers' front office. It is, after all, the City of Champions, and allowing the One who made it to depart without a yell would not suffice.

They're toying with our boy, those faceless powers who move in shadows through the bill-lined alleys of the National Hockey league. They're taking a national treasure of talent, one unrivalled in the annals of Canadian hockeydom, and pushing him off to, or sentencing him to, the death camp known as Los Angeles, there to rot beneath the palms and in the uniform of a, gasp, King.

Oh woe, Wayne, what have you done? Yep, we know Bobby Orr spent all of his NHL career in American team's uniform. Well, I suppose you're right about Pete Rose playing for the Expos, a Canadian team, himself an American legend. But Wayne, you are greater, greater than them all, some say. You belong to Canada, and cannot leave.

In truth, he can. And is. There's this little matter, some call it an annoyance really, called money. The knees of even superstars can grow weak when it is offered to them by the tandem load. And, of course because the Gretzkys will require a double income to raise their family, wife Janet can do little more than ply her trade where she will best be able to bring in the extra few greenbacks required to make ends meet.

You see, the guy who said that every man has a price wasn't kidding. Peter Pocklington had his price — roughly the same as the Gross National Product of two-thirds of the Third World countries on Earth. He got it. The Los Angeles Kings had their price — and paid it gladly. In Los Angeles, the city whose earthquakes are caused by the groaning of bank vaults and the thrashing of diamond chokers in unison, prices are always paid gladly, no matter what the price.

And finally, Wayne Gretzky and his wife got their price, a chance to be multi-millionaires instead of simply millionaires. Why be, after all, simple when you can be multi? Simple millionaires don't get invited to movie stars' homes; there are too many in LA. Multi-millionaires get the nod, we hear, to park their Rolls in the driveways of the rich and famous any day, any week.

But we know deep down inside Wayne won't like it. Not one bit. In mid-February, while Edmontonians freeze to the sidewalks like popsicle sticks, Wayne will think of them while driving to the rink in 80 degree F weather. We know he'll weep for his native land, as he stems the tears caused by the LA fog.

No-one can deny Wayne Gretzky is a great Canadian. But like many of those great Canadians, he could not resist the overwhelming pull of a place that is the epitome of shameless wealth and boundless fame. If he resents Canadians' view that he is theirs, he should forgive them. After all, he is but a product of the Canadian way of life; the Canadian game.

For it all, I, a Canadian sad to see him go, have but a single question.

Where's Harold Ballard and his cash when you need him?

Beer garden draws protest from directors

To the editor:

Hurray for Lesley Cadham for her accolade to the Williamstown Fair. She deserves a lifetime pass to park on the fairgrounds.

The rumor Miss Cadham "picked up" was not a rumor at all but a roar of protest from residents of this area who were concerned enough about the beer garden to write and say so.

Temperance crusaders? Not at all. These were members of the community, directors and patrons of the fair who made their donations reluctantly this year, if at all, because of the beer garden.

The aim here, Miss Cadham, is to see that the fair is kept agricultural in theme, family-like in atmosphere and unique among fairs. How can we do this if we copy other fairs?

"A cool place to sit down in the shade and chat with a friend" — an excellent idea. Perhaps the fair board will provide extra tents for that next year so people can watch the stage performance more comfortably.

Columnists and editors have changed frequently at The News office these past few years but we hope that the fair will be, as it has been, continuous year after year with no drastic changes.

If a marginal vote by a few directors can put a beer garden on the grounds, perhaps next year's vote, by all the directors, will see it out.

Laurels for Fern

EYE ON ALEXANDRIA
Lesley Cadham

Alexandria town Councillor Fern Séguin recently proved to council that he is channelling his energies into a project which is dear to his heart.

Mr. Séguin isn't pleased with the Ministry of Natural Resources' plan to sell commercial licences to fishermen who will be permitted to reel in an unlimited number of perch and to others who will be allowed to net 2,000 kg. of perch annually. And he's not afraid to make his feelings known in a report to the Honorable Vincent Kerrio, Minister of Natural Resources.

The "watchdog" as he has occasionally called himself, has appealed to the ministry to reconsider selling any commercial licences. And he wants the ministry to limit sport fishermen to a perch catch of 35 per day and close perch fishing during spawning season.

His appeal has been supported by eight municipalities, the three United Counties and the local conservation authority, all of which he estimates accounts for about 75 per cent of the population under the jurisdiction of the local ministry office.

I tip my hat to the councillor, who this year has become involved in two very important environmental issues.

The first, that of perch management, was an issue he chose to sink his hook into, because as many readers may know, he is the most avid of avid fishermen.

And he is looking into the second issue, that of waste management, because he was appointed council's representative on the waste managment public liaison committee this year.

Mr. Séguin is renowned for speaking out on issues he feels are too important to be swept under the rug and perhaps this is just the type of man Ontario fishermen and waste-conscious environmentalists need on their side.

A loud voice is needed to help solve these problems because they've been pushed aside for too long, and I wouldn't be surprised if his voice is one that will eventually be heard.

Finding us on the map

WORD SKETCH
Sybil Carello

Someday when emotions simmer down, we may thank Peter Pocklington for proving to the rest of the world that Canadians are not a predictable, colorless people.

Things do happen way up here in the land of the midnight sun. Exciting things. Involving exciting people. Just because we don't have the benefit of the Big Apple or the Big Easy, doesn't mean we can't make news a la LaLa style.

We can. We did. Last week's Dynasty-like scenarios which shook the sports world put us in the race, sprinkled us with glitz.

Wayne Gretzky, The Great One, was sold. Just four weeks after wedding actress, Janet Jones, (better known for a semi-nude layout in Playboy) he was unceremoniously yanked aside, told he was too old, then ruthlessly sold for $15 million by a man who, among other things, heads up a meat-packing plant.

This caused Paul Coffey, former Oiler, current Pittsburgh Penguin and an usher at the recent Jones-Gretzky nuptials to say rather astutely, that his friend was "just a piece of meat" traded by Pocklington to shore up his unsteady financial empire.

Immediately after trading The Great One to the Los Angeles Kings, Pocklington said it was a little like selling his own son.

And what of the $15 million dollar exchange, Peter? "It will allow me to buy another company or two," he said.

Yipes! This man hasn't been watching Dallas reruns for nothing. Earlier, he had used Gretzky's contract as part of the collateral on a $31 million loan from the Alberta government. It was said his debts were in dire need of restructuring.

Earlier still, not content to simply dazzle everyone with his entrepreneurial acumen, he launched an expensive campaign for leadership of the Progressive Conservative party, then dazedly stood by and watched as his empire teetered on the verge of collapse.

Some say the Edmonton Oiler saved his (skin) during this time, providing much needed cash flow from each game.

Not that this gave Pocklington pause for pity. In an earlier interview, he set aside Donald Trump's best-selling, Art of the Deal, long enough to say that Gretzky's ego was the size of Manhatten.

Asked by Pocklington to read a (softened) prepared speech, written by Jeff Goodman, a speech writer for former prime minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau, Gretzky allegedly threw it on the floor and said, "No bleeping way!"

And then, The Great One cried. Not crocodile tears as Pocklington charged, but real, genuine tears.

"If Wayne totally wanted to stay and if Peter totally didn't want to trade him they would have found a way," said Glen Sather, Edmonton Oiler's general manager.

"He wuldn't let Edmonton fans, Canada and most important, his teammates down without good reason," said the new Mrs. Great One, as she drove away in her chocolate and cream-colored Rolls Royce, a wedding gift from Mr. Great One.

Now I'm totally confused. Maybe Canada should have done what Brazil once did with a sports great of theirs, and declare The Great One a national treasure.

But then, without all this media hooplah, how would our trendmonger friends, south of the border, ever find us on the map?

No harmony until separation

To the editor:

The television and press coverage relating to the Language Bill C-72 which was passed July 7, made me aware that something more important that language was at issue here. Mr. Mulroney cut short his holiday to personally attend the proceedings and lend his support to his party. At least, that is what I thought his intentions were.

It turned out that Mulroney was present, not so much to support the bill in question, but to intimidate the backbenchers who opposed the bill. I may be politically naive, but I always thought that governments ruled by consensus. One would hardly expect 100 per cent agreement on any issue, and yet that idea seems to be precisely what Mulroney had in mind. To acquire that unanimity, our Prime Minister has adopted punitive measures against the backbenchers mentioned earlier, going so far as to publicly announce the firing of Dan McKenzie, M.P. for Winnipeg-Assiniboine.

This tactic of punishing someone who is probably reflecting the views of his constituents is petty, small minded, and above all, says that the party is more important than the country. That sort of authority is an acceptable approach in a country run by a dictator. Have we now come to this? The people of Canada condemned Trudeau for unilateral decision making, and in time, he was ousted on that account. He will be remembered for his Metric Conversion program, the Capital Punishment decision, the National Energy program, and the original Language Act which started the whole linguistic war. We now have Mulroney authoring the following gems: The Meech Lake Accord, which may fall apart, we are told, if it is scrutinized too long or too often; the Free Trade Bill, which is so good that they are invoking closure to shut off further discussion... either that, or Chuckles Crosby is running out of tasteless "one-liners". And finally, the present Language Bill, which will accommodate no one except the Francophones of this country.

What I find astonishing is the spectacle of the Opposition Parties spewing invective at the backbenchers who have opposed the language bill. It is incredible what some politicians will do to secure the Quebec vote. The word prostitution comes to mind. I served this country for 16 years, and I felt a certain amount of pride for having done so. Wearing an army uniform gave one a feeling of belonging... I no longer have that feeling. The high-water mark of hypocrisy was reached at the conclusion of the voting when Mulroney said that he believed in a bilingual nation, or words to that effect. He never once referred to Quebec's Bill 101.

You may be sure that once the Language Act (C-72) is ratified, it will apply to all of Canada, except Quebec. Our Secretary of State, Lucien Bouchard, has promised Quebec that C-72 will not affect Bill 101, and that he will confer with that province on any matters relating to language. Apparently the punitive action taken by Mulroney is a clear signal that no such opportunity will be offered to the provinces outside Quebec.

In some of my letters to the papers, I have suggested that separation of Canada from Quebec offers the only lasting solution to the language problem in Canada. After the events concerning Bill C-72, I am more convinced than ever that there will be no harmony where language is concerned until such separation takes place. The tragic part of this whole affair is that it was being engineered by the Quebec M.N.A.'s in our federal government, aided and abetted by our esteemed Prime Minister, whose reputation for honesty and fair dealing are perhaps summed up in the dubious sobriquet, "Lyin' Brian."

A cheap lack of integrity

To the editor:

Wayne Gretzky's hometown, Brantford, was my adopted hometown for 31 years. I was born and educated in Alexandria.

At close range, it was my privilege to follow Wayne Gretzky's hockey career from his childhood years until today. We in Brantford heard of the problems the Gretzky parents were experiencing, over parents in the local neighborhood complaining over too much ice time being allocated to Wayne. Walter Gretzky therefore took his son to U.S. border cities for ice time. The Brantford negative animosities, the gossips in the local sports arena assuredly made the lives of the senior Gretzkys very unpleasant. Father Walter Gretzky tenaciously persevered because he knew of Wayne's potential. How I have admired Walter Gretzky's ability to mold and coach his own son to greatness.

When McClelland and Stewart published Walter Gretzky's book I became the recipient of a personalized copy handed to me by Walter Gretzky himself as I stood in line, for an autographed copy, in Stedman's Bookstore in Brantford in 1984. He very kindly autographed the book "To Suzanne, Best Wishes Always from Walter Gretzky." I cherish that book in my personal home library for the integrity it contains.

I feel that it is nothing short of a blatant disgrace that Wayne Gretzky should be traded to the L.A. Kings by an opportunist dollar monger such as Peter Pocklington. What a hall of a cheap lack of integrity on a businessman's part — and the nerve of Pocklington was to display it toughly on TV. However, at Wayne Gretzky's press interview he did score one dead-on with tears of truth — this Pocklington was totally unprepared for, and overwhelmed by it. The Wayne Gretzky commodity was human after all! A man with emotional ties, plus needs for the Edmonton team and his Canadian quality way of life.

How sad it all is. Had Wayne Gretzky been a skier, famous golfer, musician or artist his "oneness" would have prevented this team sport Pocklington trade indignity. Let us wish Wayne Gretzky the best!

"To everything there is a season."

Sincerely,
Suzanne Blackburn

Lancaster Village
Council Briefs

The regular meeting of Lancaster Village Council was held at the village office Wednesday, Aug. 3. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

To hire chief building inspector

Council is looking into the possibility of hiring a chief building official, to ensure the compliance of building permits and other related duties.

One of the areas a chief building official would be responsible for is making sure there are fences constructed around swimming pools.

"We have not had any formal complaints, but I have been told on the street some pools don't have fences around them. We need someone to check up to see if there are fences around the pools," said Councillor Ron Sinnott.

Clerk-Treasurer Virginia Sinnott currently issues building permits, but said, "I'm not a building official and we need someone who knows what's involved."

Mrs. Sinnott will continue to issue building permits. Council will discuss the job description of the chief building official at a future council meeting. The salaried position will be advertised in the near future in The Glengarry News.

Request for widening of culvert

Council received a letter from John and Thérèse Godden of North Beach Street, requesting the culvert for their driveway be widened.

In the letter, the Goddens said they are prepared to pay the construction costs. Roads Superintendent Jacques Lapierre and Councillor Ron Sinnott will meet with the couple to discuss their request.

Recreation Committee receives grant

Lancaster Village recreation committee has received a $6,000 grant from the Ministry of Recreation and Tourism.

Council applied for the grant last spring and it will be spent on recreation and facilities in the village.

Keep watch on stray dogs and cats

Council received a letter from Dr. Robert Bourdeau of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, asking area municipalities to control the problem of stray dogs and cats.

The letter states there have been complaints from people receiving bites from stray dogs and people should be concerned over the hazards of rabies.

Fun day to be held

Lancaster Recreation Committee and Lancaster Legion are co-sponsoring their annual Kids Fun Day, Aug. 21, at the Smithsfield Recreation Centre.

Activities will be held for children and adults throughout the day. All persons taking part in the activities are asked to register at noon at the Smithsfield Centre.

Rev. Evans will bid farewell to Glengarry

Rev. Clifford Evans is going to miss Glengarry.

The minister of the St. Andrew's United Church in Williamstown and Martintown recently announced plans to retire at the end of August.

"I've been in Glengarry for the past six years and I've made a lot of friends. I'm going to miss Glengarry very much."

The Reverend and wife Christine will take up residence in Almonte. Rev. Norma Beatrice Baumet from Saskatchewan will replace Rev. Evans.

Rev. Evans entered the Methodist ministry in Great Britain in 1948 and moved to Montreal in 1959 where he worked as an assistant minister at the Queen Mary Road United Church. Three years later, he became the minister of the City View United Church in Montreal.

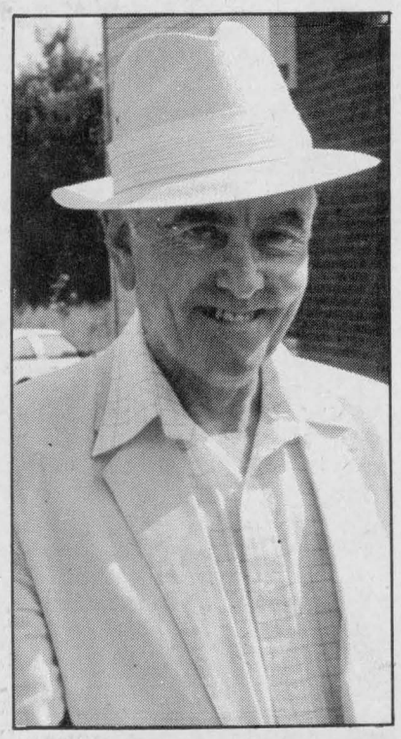
In 1975, Rev. Evans said he "needed a change" and enroled in a library science course at the University of Western Ontario in London. Upon graduating, he was employed at the Ontario National Science Library and the Library of Agriculture for a total of four years.

In 1982 he returned to the ministry and took up residence in Williamstown.

"I decided to come back because library work was computer intensive and pastoral work was people intensive and I like working with people."

While in Glengarry, Rev. Evans participated in many community events and was an active member of several organizations.

The minister was involved in the organization of the Williamstown and



Rev. Clifford Evans

St. Andrew's United Church bicentennial celebrations. Rev. Evans was also asked to preach at the St. Raphael's Ruins during its bicentennial.

He was a member of the Glengarry Christian Council, the Chaplain of the Char-Lan District High School in Williamstown, a member of a committee designed to direct the future of the St. Raphael's Ruins and the Chairman of the Presbytery Committee for Archives.

A farewell party is being held at the church hall in Williamstown Aug. 28 from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Horizons grant

A $14,588 New Horizons grant has been awarded to a Dalkeith senior citizens' group.

"The Concession Researchers" from Dalkeith, of which Miss Madeleine McCrimmon is the president, will receive a $14,588 grant as a contribution to record the history and publish a book on the northern part of Glengarry and adjoining Caledonia Township, Prescott.

The seniors will research and collect data on the development of the area.

Township of Lancaster
Council Briefs

The regular meeting of Lancaster Township council was held at the township office in North Lancaster on Wednesday, Aug. 3. Deputy-Reeve Charlie Sangster was absent. The following are items dealt with by council.

No more paving

Council briefly discussed a letter from MPP Noble Villeneuve to a group of residents requesting support for the paving of a road in Conc. 8.

The SD&G and East Grenville MPP stated that he had been in contact with the township and although he supports the group, he was advised that there were no additional funds available for paving this year.

The road is located off Cty. Rd. 23 near the Dalhousie Mills Church and is a quarter of a mile long.

Clerk-Treasurer Mike Samson said a few families living on the road have signed a petition asking that the road be paved, but added that he had never seen the document.

$6,000 grant

Council received a $6,000 recreation grant from the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation for 1988.

The funds are distributed by council every year to various recreation groups including minor hockey and baseball.

The township receives an annual recreation grant from the ministry.

Bacterial counts prove lake safe for swimmers

Almost a year after the beach was closed due to pollution, recent bacterial counts taken by the Eastern Ontario Health Unit indicate swimming in Alexandria Lake these days is safe.

Alexandria Lake was closed for a few weeks last August because of high levels of bacteria. The readings were eight times higher than permissible.

Readings from water samples taken during the past few weeks have been in the high normal to borderline range, Dr. Robert Bourdeau said Monday.

The readings ranged from 97 to 102 which means "there is no reason why people can't swim in the lake."

The tolerable count for fecal-coliforms bacteria (human or animal waste) is 100.

"We are monitoring the situation and the counts are within the safety limits. We haven't had one high count all summer."

The heath unit is planning to take additional samples next week. The bacterial level has been monitored since the beginning of June.

High counts of bacteria levels are caused by summer's heat resulting in an increasing number of bathers. In addition, heavy rainfalls wash a lot of contamination into the water from shore.

Charlottenburgh Twp.

Council Briefs

A regular meeting of Charlottenburgh council was held Aug. 9 in Williamstown. The following items were among those dealt with by council.

To lease Zamboni

After a lengthy discussion, council agreed with the recommendations of its administration that the municipality enter into a short term lease with the Frank J. Zamboni Company for the lease of a 520 ice-resurfacer.

The lease will run from Oct. to Dec. 1988 and will cost $2,200 per month, plus tax. In January, 1989, the township could purchase the Zamboni at a cost of $44,930 (tax included), less 80 per cent of rental cost.

Previous attempts to receive funding under the Wintario Development Program were unsuccessful. The municipality, however, has been invited to apply for financial aid for a new ice resurfacer under the 1989-90 Capital Conservation Grant Program where it will receive "a high priority in the regional priorization process" according to Regional Recreation Manager, Juliette LeGal.

OPP lauded for help

Councillor Larry Gordon told his colleagues that members of the Ontario Provincial Police deserve "a good pat on the back" for their participation at the recent Williamstown Fair.

"The OPP locally seem to be more a part of the community here than in other areas," said Mr. Gordon. "They care enough to get involved."

Cleary invited to meeting

Council instructed its staff to invite MPP John Cleary to the municipal offices on Aug. 29, when the next regular meeting takes place.

"I think it's time to bring our representative to the table and have an open discussion," said Councillor Carol-Ann Ross.

Items which the municipality wants to discuss are concerns over lack of road funding, and bilingualism at the municipal level.

Difficulties for volunteers

New regulations from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications (MTC) which say that in 1989 anyone driving air brake trucks will have to have a special licence, led to a discussion amongst councillors on the difficulties faced by volunteer firemen because of increased government rules and regulations.

According to Councillor Ross, the province wants a central dispatch and is gearing volunteers toward this day by making "difficulties for them."

Saying that the average volunteer fireman is "your average town volunteer, involved in community affairs," Councillor Larry Gordon complained that the province wants them to become "professionals."

Signing up for signs

Councillor Gordon took some good-natured ribbing when he reported that the sign at the Boundary and Glen Roads intersection is back up again and "looks nice and straight."

Mr. Gordon said that it has been moved over four or five feet and is no longer a threat to motorist visibility as it was last month before vandals cut away half of the sign with a chainsaw.

Mr. Gordon had described the vandalism at that time as "appropriate action," saying that he had tried in vain to get some solution to the problem months ago from the Ministry of Transport and Communications.

"No, I did not cut it myself," said Mr. Gordon, following gibes from his colleagues.

No response from Catholic board

Clerk-Treasurer Marcel Lapierre confirmed he had not yet received a response from the SD&G Catholic School Board on the firing of a unilingual English school bus driver who appeared before council July 25.

Councillor Carol-Ann Ross said that she would not let the matter drop.

Art gallery seeking photo entries for competition

The Cornwall Regional Art Gallery is calling for entries to a juried competition titled "Let's See Cornwall and the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties."

The competition is open to all residents of Cornwall and S.D.&G. The photographs will be judged by a panel of impartial professionals who will grant awards in each of the following categories: People, nature, man-made and abstract. The photographs chosen will be included in a Photography Exhibition at the Gallery, opening Nov. 3, 1988. Deadline for entries is 4 p.m., Sept. 30.

For more information contact the Gallery at 938-7387 Monday to Saturday 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

MacDonell to be honored at dinner

Maxville-based Child Haven will be honoring one of its first volunteers at an invitation-only dinner to be held on Sept. 21.

Angus R. MacDonell, an area educator for many years, first became involved in Child Haven as part of the organization's "India Projects." He went to the Asian country in 1985 to aid the group in Bhopal, where that year a large chemical explosion took place, poisoning thousands of Indians in the immediate area.

He continued his work in the country, helping found a Child Haven location in the western portion of India.

Mr. MacDonell has a long list of achievements to his credit.

He taught in public schools throughout Glengarry, serving as industrial Arts Teacher at Alexandria High School and as technical director at Glengarry District High School.

The 84-year-old also played a major part in the foundation of an association for the mentally retarded in the area. He also helped found the Harmony Glen School in Alexandria, now the T. R. Leger School for Alternative Studies.

A veteran of WW II, he served with the aircraft inspection branch of the Royal Canadian Air Force. He also served as a member of the executive of the Canadian Legion.

He has also served as a member of the Alexandria Parks and Recreation Committee, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the Glengarry Advisory Board.

The meeting will also serve to gather friends of Child Haven in the area and to raise money for the group's India projects.

The Candlestick Restaurant has been donated by the owners for the event.

Lochiel Township

Council Briefs

The regular meeting of Lochiel Township council was held at the township office Tuesday, August 9. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

Vandals at disposal site

The township's pump house and waste disposal site have been the target of a group of vandals over the past month.

It was reported by Clerk-Treasurer Rheal Charbonneau that the offenders broke into the pump house through a vent last week and stole a chlorine tester valued at about $30.

And last month, vandals broke glass and desegregated garbage at the township's dump.

It is not known whether the incidents are related.

The township has notified the Lancaster OPP.

New time for meetings

Council meetings have been moved to a new time of 7:30 p.m.

Reeve Ron MacDonell said the change was made because some councillors felt 7 p.m. was too early.

Ready to be paved

Roads Superintendent Gilles Chenier reported that Sandfield Street in Alexandria is ready to be paved.

The total cost of the project, $100,000, has been divided equally between Lochiel township and the town of Alexandria.

The township received a $50,000 provincial grant for the reconstruction of the boundary road.

GREEN VALLEY

Parties, parties all over

With all these parties going on, I wonder how those involved in organizing them are able to do them between showers. When I was a little girl, my mother used to sing: Rain, rain go away, little children want to play. But these days, we could sing the same chorus, and say, rain, rain go away, there's lots of parties on the way, and let the sunshine come our way.

Party

Paul Emile and Hortense (Lauzon) Charbonneau of Green Valley, had a real surprise on Tuesday evening, when their daughter Manon and Brent Vachon of North Lancaster, gave a party for her parents at their home. They were 30 years married on Aug. 9. Guests included their close friends and children only. Money was received by Paul Emile and Hortense for them to have a weekend for a vacation paid by the group. The weather was so nice, that they had this party outdoors until the little hours of the morning. It's a party that will long be remembered. They have four children, Manon, married to Brent Vachon, North Lancaster, Martine, married to Denis Lefebvre, Dalkeith, Patrice, overseas in the army, and Jean Pierre at home. We friends, neighbors and relatives, and parishioners of Ste. Marie, wish you both a long life together.

P.S. Hortense was the daughter of Willie and Maria Lauzon of Glen Norman (grocery store) and Paul Emile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Charbonneau of Green Valley.

Congratulations

Jocelyne Brunet of the 9th of Lancaster and just a few neighbors from me, has just been awarded the Heart of Gold (award).

Felicitations also to your husband Rémi, for being such a good help in everything. These wishes come from your friends, neighbors and relatives. The best of luck.

Anniversary-birthday

Raymond and Cécile Campeau of RR3 Alexandria, formerly of Green Valley, will be celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary on Aug. 24, and for Cécile, she'll be having her birthday on Aug. 20.

Birth

Ronald and Ginette Aubin (Lacombe) had a baby boy born Aug. 9, weighing 5 lbs. 8 ounces at Ottawa General Hospital. A brother for Stephane and Roch. Their little brother will be named Mathieu.

Sympathy

To the family of Mrs. Dollard Quesnel, 1st Kenyon, who lost her sister Antoinette Cadieux last weekend, we extend to you dear Thérèse our deepest condolences.

Final vows

Sister Louise Seguin, daughter of Noella Lanthier of Dalkeith and the late Hector Seguin, took her final vows with the Sisters of Charity in Ottawa, Aug. 6, 1988.

Canadian Forces pilot

Second Lieutenant Werner Liedtke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Liedtke of Green Valley, received his Canadian Forces commissioning scroll from Lieutenant General L. A. Ashley, CMM, CD on May 7 at Collège militaire royal de Saint-Jean, Que. Second Lieutenant Liedtke, 25, has completed a four-year academic and military training program at the college. He graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Administration and will now begin his career as a pilot at CFB Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Friends and neighbors would like to extend their sympathy also to Perle Vaillancourt (Cuierrier) formerly of Glen Robertson and now living in Cornwall for the loss of her husband Lionel Vaillancourt, who died last week. These condolences come from friends, neighbors and relatives from the area.

Anniversary

Yvon and Denise Lacombe of Green Valley will be celebrating their 15th wedding anniversary Aug. 17. Best wishes from the family.

On a trip

Réjeanne Lajoie of Green Valley is among the group that is vacationing at Aux l'Iles de Madeleine for eight days.

Among the invited guests at the Theoret/Lefebvre wedding ceremony on the weekend was the Vietnamese family the parish had adopted 10 years ago. Mrs. Theoret was a member of the committee at the time, and they stayed very close friends of the family. While here they paid a visit with Deanna, Gaby Poirier and family before returning to Montreal, where both work in a restaurant, and they have two children, a girl (10 years) and a boy, six years old. Come and visit us often Tran and Dieu, you are always welcome in the parish and with friends.

On a tour

Birget Degen of RR2 Alexandria, daughter of Adolf and Ingrid Degen, was one of the lucky students of the GDHS band to be chosen to go on a trip to the foreign countries from July 3 to July 26.

Birget was chosen by her teacher, Pierre Vaillancourt, who sent her notes to Mr. Wright the organizer of this trip, and she was accepted.

There were 18 students of Canada, 97 in all and four chaperons, which consisted of three band directors of the U.S.A. and one from Toronto.

Birget and the other students performed every second night in a concert that lasted two hours. They were under the direction of Professor Hansen of Utah University in the States.

Among the places that Birget and the group visited and played; New York, Austria, and the group went sightseeing in Paris.

Birget comments if she had the chance to go back she would. She said everything was amazing from the start to the end. Some were homesick but she wasn't. She said food was very expensive in Paris — example — a can of Coke cost $2.50. In London the prices were very reasonable. The weather was the same as ours; humidity was still higher.

Home from Germany

Peter Degen is home for a few weeks, and will be returning to Germany at the end of August, where he will continue his studies.

Glengarry Agriculture

Glengarry cattlemen big winners at the Williamstown Fair

Glengarry Cattlemen Robert D. MacDonald and Glengarry Farms Inc.'s Ian Cumming walked away from judging competitions at the Williamstown Fair on August 6 with a number of awards.

Mr. MacDonald's cow also placed first in the ''class 5'' division for female senior yearlings.

Glensprings Farm of Martintown took Reserve Premier Breeder status.

Cherry Crest Holsteins, also of Martintown, were the premier exhibitors at the competition, easing out Reserve Premier Exhibitor Robert D. MacDonald.

The high composite B.C.A. prize went to Willola Lancer Freckles from Glensprings Farms.

There were also prizes for 12 individual classes.

Class 1, the Glengarry Holstein Club Special for the best female intermediate calf was taken by Ray Howes' Mapleley Margo of Dalkeith.

Mary and John MacLeod of McCrimmon had their female senior calf MacGirls V. Sir take class 2 honors.

Frank or Filida of Ted Vanderburg's farm in Bainsville captured the Glengarry Holstein Club Special award for a female summer yearling.

John and Stephen McIntosh of Martintown had their female junior yearling Glenmoy Etta Ebony ET take home the class 4 prize.

Sixth class honors went to Cherry Crest Hosteins' Hawlea Lancer Mame from Martintown.

Denlorn Edith X took top spot in class 7 for best 3-year-old female. She is owned by Lawrence St. Denis. of Bainsville.

Peter VanDeLigt's Ligtlea Mattador Amanda from Lancaster won the eighth class for four-year-old.

Ninth class was taken by Carmin Howes' Lachill Marleen. The Lochiel cow was the best five-year-old female.

Kirklea Senator Eileen was judged best mature cow at the competition. The class 10 winner is owned by Robert D. MacDonald.

Class 11 was for the best udder on a cow. The nicest set of teats belongs to John and Mary MacLeod's MacGirls Grace Majesty.

The final class, number 12, judges a group of four animals, each of which had to be exhibited in one of the classes for the single animals. Again, Lochiel's Carmin Howes took first place.

The presiding judge for all portions of the event was Jeff Nurse from Georgetown, Ontario.

On the Ayrshire circuit, it was competition between cattlemen in both Prescott and Glengarry.

Glengarry Farms Inc., who showed the Grand Champion Female, also placed first in three classes: three-year-old female, four-year-old female and the mature cow competition.

Glen-Malcolm HC Penny from Glen Malcolm Farms Inc. took second spot in the calf competition.

Glengarry Farms Inc.'s Glengarry Choice Sherry took second place in the female junior yearling competition.

Glengary Star Rose and Glengarry Jades Isabel, both from Glengarry Farms Inc., took first and third spots in the four year old competition.

The five-year-old female third prize went to Glen Malcolm O Michelle from Glen Malcolm Farms.

Glengarry Farms also took best under prize for Glengarry Jades Isabel.

Mode Brothers of Vankleek Hill took Reserve Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor awards.

Howes' calf noses out competition

Glengarry's 4-H'ers in the calf, beef and horse clubs had a chance to strut their stuff at the Williamstown Fair, Aug. 6.

The calf portion of the show was dominated by Dalkeith's Mitzi Howes and her heifer Valleyvu Majesty Jo Anne. The cow captured Grand Champion 4—H Holstein Heifer honors while Miss Howes was judged Grand Champion 4—H Dairy Showman.

Miss Howes' calf nosed out that of Katie MacLeod of McCrimmon for the Grand Champion Heifer prize; Miss MacLeod's heifer was named Reserve Grand Champion.

In the yearling divisions Rodney MacLeod's Gillvreen Marlin Holly of Kirk Hill took top spot in the All-County Junior Yearlings; Peter VanderBurg's yearling Frankor Filida won the All-County Summer Yearlings division.

Glengarry Mel Little Kate, shown by Dean MacIntosh, won the Kenyon/Lancaster Senior Heifers division, while Mitzi Howes' calf topped the Charlottenburgh/Lochiel competition.

Kenyon Township's best Junior heifer Shawnrey Starbuck Charlotte, was shown by McCrimmon's Shawn MacLeod, while the same honors for Lancaster/Lochiel go to Gilbert Dorie's heifer Glenrapha Holly.

Kenyon/Lancaster senior showmanship champion is Bainsville's Peter VanderBurg; Lochiel honors go to Mitzi Howes.

Gilbert Dorie is top in Junior Showmanship in Kenyon/Lancaster, while Christie Howes won the Junior Showmanship award for Charlottenburgh/Lochiel.

The best All County First Year Member honors in Division 1 go to Carol MacLeod of Dalkeith, while the best in Division 2 was Jane McCuaig of Lancaster.

The Reserve Grand Champion 4-H Dairy Showman is Rodney MacLeod of Kirk Hill.

Dalkeith's Flora-Ann Fraser is Glengarry's Champion 4-H Beef Showman, while her Aberdeen Angus heifer Burkholme's TipTop 6W was judged Grand Champion 4-H Beef Heifer.

Reserve Grand Champion 4-H Beef Heifer is Sylvain Theoret's White Western Miss July. Mr. Theoret is also Reserve Grand Champion 4-H Beef Showman.

4—H horse show

Three classes of 4—H horsemen competed at Williamstown for top honors in their division.

Dalkeith's Brenda Noble placed fourth in Junior Class for first year members. Miss Noble placed against other competitors from Cornwall and Prescott.

The intermediate class was taken by Christopher Laing of Williamstown. Mr. Laing also earned the title of Grand Champion Horse Showman at the fair.

In the senior division, Kirk Hill's Allison MacGillivray took top spot.

Vickie Sauvé of St. Anne-de-Prescott, in the Junior division, received Reserve Grand Champion Horse Showman honors.

Annual Optimist barbecue was a finger-licking good event

NORTH LANCASTER
Diane Roy
347-3553

The pork was excellent, the chicken, finger-licking good, the trimmings fresh and tempting, the weather perfect as the threatening clouds moved south and the atmosphere most friendly and jovial at the annual Optimist barbecue held on the property grounds of Marcel and Rita Bourbonnais, last Saturday evening Aug. 13.

Nearly 80 guests gathered at this summer event organized to officially introduce and ''initiate'' the year's recent recruits in the popular North Lancaster Optimist Club which now boasts of over 50 members.

Optimist president Yvan Desautels, ''humble'' and capable master of ceremonies prosented and congratulated the four newest members with their sponsors. They are Pierre David, sponsored by Guy Bergeron, Michel Depratto sponsored by Maurice Desautels, Gilles Sauvé supported by Jean-Luc Desautels and Jacques Larocque brought in by Bruce Chisholm. All four came through the four different stages of the humorous initiation with flying colors. They were later presented with the Optimist pins by their wives and girlfriends and with their membership certificates by incoming president Maurice Desautels.

Compliments to the chefs Paul-Emile Campeau and his wife Cécile, masters in the art of barbecuing, to Pierre and Thérèse Bourbonnais for the ideal location organization, to Bev and Luc Poirier for the delicious salads and desserts, to André Théorêt, professional at the corn caldron, to Jean and Lise Major for the lively music entertainment and to all the devoted optimists for a most enjoyable evening.

Northern travellers

Omer and Florence Claude are on the move these days. Two weeks ago they were in Quebec City visiting their daughter Denise and husband Jean-Yves Legros and grandchildren Claude and Isabelle and last week they travelled to James Bay to visit their other daughter Jacqueline Claude who is a flight information specialist in Northern Quebec. They were provileged to fly over Hudson Bay and to visit Innukjvak, land of the Inuits. Mr. Claude lived his thrill of a lifetime when he was asked to co-pilot the 747 aircraft for half an hour upon their return to James Bay.

resort area of Lake George, N.Y. They were delighted by such area attractions as Thre Great Escape and Gas Light Village where the boys were especially thrilled by sky divers.

Military graduates

Last Tuesday, Jacques Renaud and son David drove to Petawawa to be present for his older son's basic military course graduation on Wednesday, August 10. Martin gained much from this summer experience and intends to go back next year.

Joann Glaude returned last Friday night after 14 weeks of strenuous and intense military training in Petawawa. Upon her graduation on Aug. 12, Joann received a Reserve Entry Scheme officer's course diploma, qualifying her as a second lieutenant. She says she will gladly return next summer to obtain first lieutenant qualifications. Congratulations and best of luck in your military achievements!

Mini-baseball tournament

The Alexandria junior boys baseball team coached by Robert Boisvenue met our North Lancaster mixed team coached by Sylvie Rozon for a two-game tournament at the village ball park last Wednesday evneing, Aug. 10.

Though the Alexandria visitors came out victorious in both counts, the young players with their coaches all agreed they had a great time and acquired good playing experience. Keep up the good sport spirit!

Special dates

Fond birthday wishes to my mom Lucille Poirier of Alexandria who is too young to brag about her age on Saturday, Aug. 20. Happiness to Sophie Bourbonnais who will be six years old on Saturday and to Eric Renaud who will be 10 on Sunday, Aug. 21 while his mother Nicole Renaud will celebrate on Aug. 28.

Happy first wedding anniversary to Pierre and Pauline Quenneville on Aug. 21 and many happy returns to Pierre on his 25th birthday on Aug. 22.

Notice

Hoping to take a few days off on a well-deserved holiday, I doubt that our village's column will appear in next week's issue. Taking the possibility into consideration, please be reminded of the famous Glen Nevis parish harvest supper to be held at Ste. Thérèse school in North Lancaster on Sunday, Aug. 28 from 4 to 8 p.m. Father Witold and his parishioners extend a warm welcome to their faithful surrounding clientele of friends, relatives, visitors and tourists for this fall premiere of delicious homemade country suppers. Don't miss it!

Surprise party

On Aug. 9, Brent and Manon Vahcon hosted a surprise party at their home to honor Manon's parents Paul-Emile and Hortense Charbonneau on their 30th wedding anniversary. Family members, close friends and co-workers joyfully gathered to celebrate the occasion which will be long remembered by the Charbonneaus of Green Valley. Best wishes of continued health and happiness to the anniversary couple.

Near fire

Last Saturday evening while Normand and Bernadette Campeau and sons were away at a wedding, their next door neighbor Brent Vachon heard a smoke alarm and went outside to check the surroundings. Smelling smoke from the Campeau's place, he managed to enter the house to discover that a burner had accidentally been left on, charring a presto cooker and oven mitts. A copy of The Glengarry News left on the nearby counter had started to get brown. One can imagine the conflagration if Brent had not handled the hot situation in time.

And of all coincidences: Young Patrick Campeau had just replaced the batteries in the fire alarm of his parents' house that same morning. What a close call, but bravo to Brent and Patrick!

Our deepest sympathies are extended to the family and friends of Heinrich Schwarz, Father McRae, and also Victor Lezinski who were unexpectedly called during the last two weeks. Our many prayers are with you in your time of loss.

I would like to thank, on behalf of Monseignor McDougald all who worked and/or participated in support of our annual Galarama. A special thanks to Mae Levert and Therese (Cuthbert) MacDonald who were the chief organizers of this very successful event in its 11th year. There is a wrap-up meeting scheduled Aug. 25 for all who were involved and will take place in the parish center.

Many thanks also go out to the many who came out to support Mount Carmel House by attending their annual concert held in the ruins on Aug. 7. Special thanks to all those who volunteered their time and talents. Mount Carmel Auxiliary will be

Last week, Rosaire and Barbara Campeau with sons Marc and Alain enjoyed three days in the beautiful holding a meeting at Shalom House on Wednesday, Sept. 7.

A belated happy birthday to Monseignor McDougald who celebrated on Aug. 3. Happy anniversary to Diana and Gerrit Sturkenboom also on Aug. 3 who celebrated 25 years of marriage. A beautiful party was organized by their four children and was held at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Center on Aug. 6.

Congratulations to Helen McKenzie and Marcel Lacombe and also to Judith McGregor and Carter MacDonald on their celebrations of marriage which both took place on Aug. 13. Father Gary Ostler was the officiating priest in absence of Monsignor McDougald.

Well I guess we finally got a break in the weather from the big three ''H's''. While getting my mail this week, I overheard one gentleman saying that we haven't seen hot weather of this sort for at least 30 years. I guess it must mean we've come full circle. My question is ''what are we in for this winter?''

McCrimmon WI enjoyed an afternoon visit to Picnic Grove WI on Hamilton Island. Their hostess, Mrs. Wendy Rozon, kindly offered her spacious cottage-deck by the water for the meeting and the view was delightful. Each of the guests were warmly welcomed individually, and the grandmothers received beautiful handmade corsages.

It was a perfect day, one McCrimmon WI ladies will long remember.

Several area ladies attended the Christian Women's Club meeting Monday at the Villa Mont Joie, in Lachute. There was a good turnout, in spite of the heat. The hat parade was great fun and about 20 ladies participated. The prettiest hat was a wide-brimmed white straw, trimmed with exquisite flowers and white ribbon. The most original was a tinsel covered hat and the funniest was a newspaper hat trimmed with gold stickers. Honorable mention went to a charming little creation featuring a blue gingham-clad doll, with yellow braids. Music was provided by gifted pianist Lois Thompson and accomplished soloist Karen Gibson of Dorval.

The guest speaker, Elaine Jordan from Dollard des Ormeaux, was both interesting and sincere, as she told of the special way she became a Christian, and how the Bible played a large part in this wonderful happening in her life.

The Glen Sandfield United Church Women led in a morning worship service Thursday, August 11, at the Alexandria Nursing Home.

Poems, scripture, prayer and favorite hymns made up the format. Mrs. Bessie MacLennan accompanied the singing. Nan Campbell and Lorna Chapman sang Sweet Hour of Prayer. Mrs. Chapman sang a solo, Teach us Thy Way. Violin music, played by Isobel MacLennan, was much enjoyed. Readers for the worship, were Nan Campbell, Lorna Chapman, Bessie MacLennan and Margo MacRae. This was the first worship program the Glen Sandfield UCW has done at the Nursing Home in Alexandria. It appeared to be very well received by the residents.

Marjorie McCaskill and Heather McCaskill were among those who were recently on a 12-day bus tour to Maine, Vermont and the Maritimes. They enjoyed a charming performance of Anne of Green Gables in Charlottetown.

One evening Heather and two girl friends Joan and Ann attended a production of Are You Lonesome Tonight, which dealt with the life of the late Elvis Presley, and thoroughly enjoyed it. At a special lobster supper, they were among 1,000 guests present. They toured many historic sites, and cities, and visited some beautiful scenic areas.

My most sincere apologies go to Cecil Massia for this information not making the paper when she gave it to me two weeks ago. Although it was sent in it did not appear. I do not have all the details and I only remember a bit. Joe and Cecil Massia spent two weeks with their son and his wife in Balmertown, Ontario. Apparently their son works in a gold mine there.

Maurice Marleau and his new bride, Louise have settled nicely in their apartment in Alexandria. They were very pleased with the way everything worked out on their wedding day, and at their reception. They'd like to thank everyone for making the day so special.

With the soccer season coming to an end, I'd like to mention our very own Apple Hill Sprites. Even though they didn't make the playoffs I think our team of young players are winners just the same. We'll see you guys next season!

Now to get caught up on my birthday list. Belated greetings to Louise Besner, whose birthday was on Aug. 5. My niece, Donna Lauzon, had her big day on Aug. 6. Very special wishes to my in-laws — Babe and Teresa Marleau, whose anniversary was August 9. Best wishes and many more to come!

Cassie Welsh's birthday is today, Wednesday, and I wish her the very best for today and all year. My dad, Alex Lauzon has another birthday on Friday, Aug. 19. I won't mention his age because I value my life! Happy birthday Dad, and last but not least, happy anniversary to my brother David and his wife Diane on their 16th anniversary.

What a great surprise I had one day last week when I opened the front door at the same time as Sean O'Farrell was biking past our house. The distance from Sean's house to Apple Hill is a little over a mile. Keep up the good work Sean!

Kids enjoy ball

The Maxville Minor Softball League wrapped up a successful season and crowned its divisional champions at the Maxville and District Sports Complex Saturday.

In the seven to 10 age division, Ubald's Backhoe captured first place and then won the championship following a 12-8 win over Rolland's Plumbing.

In the senior division, McDonald's Electric won the league crown following a 6-4 win over the Bank of Nova Scotia. The Bank of Nova Scotia walked off with the first-place title.

Approximately 130 youngsters participated in the league this summer, an increase of 20 per cent from last year's registration. Every youth received a participation trophy after the final game, Saturday.

"We had a very successful year and I'd like to thank all our sponsors on behalf of the coaches," said League President Richard Scott.

The Maxville Minor Softball League wrapped up its season with a tournament, Saturday. Championship titles were decided in the age divisions. Approximately 130 youths took part in the league this summer. This youngster holds on to his batting helmet as he beats the throw at first base.

Clubs qualify for final series

Glen Sandfield and Alexandria have both earned berths in the Sprites Division final in the Glengarry Soccer League.

Glen Sandfield eliminated Laggan following a 2-2 draw Friday night, in a contest played at Lochiel. Scoring for Glen Sandfield, who won the four-point series 4-2, were Jeff Poll and Jason Nixon, while Jeremy Dubeau scored both goals for Laggan.

Two playoff games were played Aug. 10. Laggan and Glen Sandfield played to a 3-3 draw. Scoring for Laggan were Jeremy Dubeau, Kurt MacSweyn and Dean MacGillivray. Glen Sandfield's goals were scored by Murray MacLeod, Craig Calvank and Jamie McDermid.

Alexandria moved into the final after a 7-0 win over Glen Norman to win the four-point semi-final 4-0. Jason Poirier led the winners with four goals, while Chancey Lajoie chipped in with a hat trick. Gabriel Ladouceur recorded the shutout between the pipes.

The opening games of the semi-finals were played Aug. 8. Eric Lavigne's five goals sparked Alexandria to a 9-2 win over Glen Norman. Jason Poirier scored three times, while Robin Gauthier added a single marker. Stewart Rutherford and Nick Moffat tallied for Glen Norman.

Craig Calvank's pair of goals sparked Glen Sandfield in a 3-1 win over Laggan. Jason Nixon rounded out the scoring, while Mark Laferriere replied for Laggan.

Intermediate Girls

Amber MacLeod scored the only goal to lift Alexandria A to a 1-0 squeaker over Laggan, Saturday night. Nicole Lauzon earned the shutout between the pipes.

In a scheduled Friday night contest, Greenfield won 2-0 by default over Alexandria B.

In a game played Aug. 11, Laggan and Alexandria A battled to a 1-1 draw. Carol MacLeod tallied for Laggan, while Jenny Lowe scored for Alexandria.

Alyson Graham scored all of her team's goals as Laggan blanked Alexandria A Aug. 9 in the first of two games. In the other contest, Melanie Vaillancourt's two goals sparked Alexandria B in a 3-1 win over Greenfield. Natalie Lajoie rounded out the scoring, while Louise Villeneuve scored for Greenfield.

Junior Girls

In the only game played last Thursday night, Laggan won by default over Alexandria.

Bantams

Kevin Villeneuve's five-goal performance paced Greenfield in an easy 10-1 win over Glen Sandfield last Thursday night. Jeff MacLean added a pair, while singles went to Richard Paquette, Kallidus Cappuccino and Bobby MacLeod. Jason Boyer replied for Glen Sandfield.

In a game played Aug. 8, Laggan beat Greenfield 5-1. Hughie MacLeod led the winners with a pair, while Innes Fraser, Shawn McPhail and Scott McIntosh rounded out the scoring. Jeff MacLean scored the lone Greenfield goal.

Peewees

Alexandria beat Glen Norman 6-1 last Thursday night. Goal scorers were not available at press time.

In an Aug. 9 contest, Alexandria posted a 3-0 win over Glen Sandfield. Liam Kemp scored all of the goals, while Nygel Pelletier earned the shutout.

Senior ladies

Jenny Taggart's two goals led Dunvegan to a 3-1 victory over Maxville, Saturday night. Tracy McNichol rounded out the scoring, while Verna Schwartz replied for Maxville.

Sullivan, Grant to be inducted into sports hall

By Angus H. McDonell

One hundred years ago lacrosse was the summer sport entertainment in Glengarry. In fact it was Canada's national game until erosion by baseball, football and golf in recent years created a decline in popularity.

Founding French settlers in Quebec are credited by legend with naming the Indian game lacrosse. Watching the Indians play their game the first impression was relative to the Redman's skill in handling the ball with a curved end stick laced with leather webbing. To the French immigrants, especially in what became Montreal, those long handled sticks the Indians used in their game resembled a crosier, a ceremonial staff carried by a bishop or abbot. Hence the Indian game of bag-it-away became lacrosse.

French and English young descendants of the early settlers became adapted to the game and by competing with the Indians eventually drafted rules as to the number of players per team, field area, goals with nets, playing time, etc., etc.

Obviously Glengarry and Cornwall-St. Andrews and Harrison's Corners being neighbors of Cornwall Island, St. Regis and Fort Covington (N.Y.) Indians, the game, as we have already stated, 100 years ago was Glengarry's summer entertainment.

Alexandria and Maxville competed in north Glengarry due to the reasonable horse and buggy travel distance. Down in the front, for the same reason, teams represented South Lancaster, Williamstown, Martintown and Summerstown.

Gerry Sullivan and Centennial Grant to be inducted into sports hall.

Ferry service from South Lancaster to Valleyfield and Cornwall brought Valleyfield in the Glengarry lacrosse circuit. However, the major expansion was due to the Canada Atlantic (now Via) linking Ottawa, Alexandria to the Grand Trunk at Coteau Junction that provided Cornwall-Ottawa train service thus the Cornwall Lacrosse Club joined Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto in the National Lacrosse Union.

Cornwall was now in Canada's top pro lacrosse league and to strengthen their team recruited the best available players. Two Glengarrians were among those selected. They were Jeremiah "Jerry" Sullivan, Williamstown, and Wm. "Centennial" Grant, South Lancaster. And that brings us to the theme of our story.

Among the many legends of the Cornwall Lacrosse Club was the contribution by "Jerry" Sullivan and "Centennial" Grant especially in 1881 when Cornwall won their 10 scheduled lacrosse games completing the undefeated season by winning the three playoff games. They were rated World Champions.

To be a star in lacrosse required unlimited stamina, be fleetfooted and rugged to take and give the rough play that often prevailed. Both Glengarrians were endowed with such physical requirements and some to spare.

This writer recalls Williamstown's venerable sportsman, Wellie (Wellington) Barrett, relating that Jerry Sullivan, in his early 20s, a tinsmith spending most of the week roofing a new barn then Saturday by horse and buggy to play lacrosse in Cornwall. Truly an example of physical fitness.

Jerry Sullivan married Theresa MacPherson and they were the proud parents of six sons who were all noted hockey (pro and semi-pro) and

Lalonde takes over rookie points lead

By Peter Conway
Sports editor

It has been a learning experience for Marc Lalonde this summer as a modified driver at Cornwall Motor Speedway.

After winning his qualifying heat Sunday night, Lalonde, a rookie driver, was running fourth in the feature race before disaster struck.

While trying to avoid another vehicle, Lalonde spun and was hit by another driver, forcing him out of the race. Despite the mishap, it wasn't a lost night for the Alexandria driver as he picked up 17 points to pass Stephane Lafrance as the top rookie driver in the Player's Challenge Series.

Lafrance, who has led most of the season in the points race among rookie drivers, watched helplessly from the sidelines and did not race because of mechanical problems to his vehicle.

After starting in 14th position, Kingston's Pat O'Brien took the checkered flag in the modified feature, followed by Kingston's Mark Hitchcock. Alexandria's Laurent Ladouceur finished in third place after starting the race in 11th position.

Alexandria's Ovide Doiron retired early from the feature race after front suspension problems with his vehicle. Ron Valade, another Alexandria driver, finished 11th in the 17-car field.

In the Player's Professional Series, Pat O'Brien leads the pack with 445 points, followed by Laurent Ladouceur with 349 and Ovide Doiron with 334 points. Rounding out

FROM THE SIDELINES

Glengarrians generous

The recent Heart and Stroke Open proved once again that Glengarrians are indeed generous when it comes to supporting fundraising events.

Though it was only the local chapter's third golf tournament, almost $9,000 has been raised for heart and stroke research since its inception. A lot of Canadians do not realize that the No. 1 killer in this country is heart and stoke disease.

Most of us have been touched at one time or another by a friend or relative who has died because of a heart attack or stroke.

A lot of us possess the attitude that we'll never suffer a heart attack. But, before you know it, someone you know is lying in a hospital bed because of a heart attack.

As co-chairman of the Glengarry Heart and Stroke Open, I was extremely pleased with the increased number of participants this year.

Hopefully, next year's fourth edition will be even more successful. And if the tournament raises 50 cents or $1 more than this year, organizers will be pleased.

Though myself and Wally Hope Jr. have been co-chairmen for three years, there are a number of people who have played major roles in contributing to the tournament's success.

Without these people and their support, it would become an even more difficult task organizing the event. The committee members deserve a lot of credit for their work and effort in making the tournament a success, but most of all, fun and enjoyable for all the participants.

I enjoy being a part of the Glengarry Heart and Stoke Golf Open. Speaking for the rest of the committee, we try to make the tournament an enjoyable outing for everyone.

There may have been a few snags during the day, but I hope everyone enjoyed themselves.

To all the businesses, corporate sponsors and participants, the organizing committee thanks you for co-operation. And we look forward to having you back at next year's tournament.

Hockey big winner

Well it's been a week since Wayne Gretzky was sent off to Tinsel Town to continue his hockey career with the Los Angeles Kings.

There are probably a lot of people sitting at home or in a bar in disbelief knowing The Great One won't be leading the Edmonton Oilers to another Stanley Cup next spring.

Ah, but don't worry. The Oilers, with this blockbuster trade, have taken care of themselves for at least the next 10 years, give or take a couple.

The Oilers get youth in proven scorer Jimmy Carson and Los Angeles first-round pick Martin Gelinas. But the rest of the package the Kings' first-round picks in the nex five years. Throw in more than $10 million bucks cash and can anyone honestly blame Edmonton brass for making the deal?

Lost in all the glitter are the other two acquisitions dealt off to Los Angeles. While Mike Krushelnyski and Marty McSorley can't be mentioned in the same breath as a Wayne Gretzky, these two individuals will contribute as members of the Kings. McSorley, although known as an enforcer, proved his versatility last spring when he left his forward position to take up the slack on the Oilers' blueline. Though he's just an average player, Krushelnyski can score and should boost the Los Angeles scoring attack.

Make no mistake about this trade which ranks as the biggest ever in the National Hockey League. THE TRADE was strictly a business transaction.

Oilers' owner Peter Pocklington is almost broke and strapped for cash. What better way to secure instant cash flow than dealing your greatest asset?

While Peter Pocklington has eased his financial burden with the deal, the Oilers have picked up young talent and will still be a contender to repeat as Stanley Cup champions next spring.

Gretzky faces the biggest challenge in his illustrious career. He leaves a Stanley Cup champion and now faces enormous pressure to bring a Stanley Cup to L.A.

Canada also loses a national symbol in Wayne Gretzky. But with free trade on its way, we may have lost him anyway.

Los Angeles has never been a hockey town.

Now with Wayne and wife Janet likely to reside in a posh Beverly Hills mansion, he gives the Kings some much-needed identity in a city where its other sports franchises dominate the headlines in newspapers.

L.A. sports fans love their baseball Dodgers and basketball Lakers. Throw in the football Rams and transplanted Raiders and the Kings find themselves left out in the cold. Oops, I mean on the beach.

If there is one person that can draw fans to the Los Angeles Forum for pro hockey while it's 90 degrees outdoors, its The Great One.

It's sad that Wayne Gretsky won't be finishing his career in Edmonton. For most of us, we'll remember him long after he's hung up the blades as an Edmonton Oiler.

Hockey, like all pro sports is a business. And that's how we must put this trade into perspective.

The trade has proven there are no untouchables in the game of hockey, or any pro sport. Babe Ruth was sold to the New York Yankees from the Boston Red Sox during his baseball career. It was only a few short years ago that the Montreal Expos unloaded Gary Carter, a so-called "untouchable."

The game of hockey will be better off with Wayne Gretzky in Tinsel Town. The Kings will be a more competitive hockey club and while they aren't a Stanley Cup contender overnight, let's just say the NHL wars should provide a few surprises this season.

Like I said earlier, the deal was strictly business. Let's not mourn over Wayne's departure from Edmonton to L.A. The NHL will survive.

Needs players

Jamie MacMaster would like to organize an old timer's soccer team in Maxville. He's not sure if there's enough interest in the village and surrounding area.

Gibbs one win from title

By Jeff Lowe

Mike Gibbs is one win away from capturing the A championship in the Alexandria Ladies Ball Hockey League.

Mike Gibbs leads the best-of-five series 2-0, following a 4-2 win over GTL last Thursday night at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Debbie Nadon paced the attack for the winners with a pair of goals, while Corkie Robinson and Viola MacRae rounded out the scoring.

Scoring markers for GTL were Sue Delage and Lise Deschaies. In the opening game of the series, Mike Gibbs blanked GTL 2-0.

Corkie Robinson and Debbie Nadon were the goal scorers for Mike Gibbs, while Debbie Fourney added an assist. Martine Theoret was between the pipes for the shutout.

The B final between Bob's Hotel and Tapis Richard is even at 1-1. Bob's Hotel drew even in the series with a 2-1 victory, Thursday night. Donna MacGregor and Robin Roek scored for Bob's, while Anne MacPherson set up Sue MacIntosh for Tapis Richard's lone goal. Tracy MacArthur set up one goal for Bob's Hotel.

The first game of the series saw Tapis Richard squeak past Bob's Hotel 2-1. Helen MacDonald and Sue MacIntosh scored for Tapis Richard. MacIntosh and Brenda Golden also drew assists.

Home Hardware has yet to taste defeat in the Alexandria Youth T-Ball League this season. Standing in the back row, from the left are Coach Alain Lamarche and Coach Fernande Menard. In the second row are Mathieu Viau, Michel Leo Quesnel, Jocelyn Lamarche, Jasmin Carriere, Denis Levert, Simon Menard and Claude Seguin. Standing in the front row are Claude Quesnel, Michelle Joanette, Nathalie Dicaire, Sophie Boisvenue, Joé Leroux, Alexandre Menard, Ghyslain Laferriere and Melissa MacDonald.

Boasts perfect mark

Home Hardware continues to sport a perfect record in the Alexandria Youth T-ball League.

In league action last Thursday night, Home Hardware posted a 28-15 victory over MJTT Specialties.

Three other games were played in the eight-team loop. Royal Bank dropped a 21-15 decision to Tapis Richard, while Sultan Drugs dumped IGA 26-21 and Stedman's came away with a 22-17 victory over Remax.

The league closes out its seson with a tournament at the Lions and GTL ball fields, Sunday. Trophy presentations will be held following the final game.

lacrosse players. Apart from athletic heredity Jerry Sullivan stressed his own exemplary discipline to his sons with the result that except the NHL playing brothers, Ellis, Paddy, Alex, Bill, Bernie and John rated with the best family of brothers in Canadian hockey history. Paddy and Alex are already enshrined in the Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame and on Wednesday, Sept. 7, Char-Lan Recreation Centre, Jerry Sullivan's niche will be added and in time the rest to follow.

William Grant, popularly known throughout his life of four score and 10 as "Bill Centennial" was born in South Lancaster in 1856. He died in 1946 and was buried in the MacLennan plot, old cemetery, South Lancaster.

From school he was employed at the "Old Tannery," South Lancaster, operated by "Red" Peter MacDonald, grandfather of A. D. D. "Buster" MacDonald, Cornwall, formerly of South Lancaster. He never married and lost his sight some years before he died.

Working in the tannery, a pioneer Glengarry industry, Bill Grant became a typical physical six-foot athlete tipping the scales about 180.

Like his counterpart, Jerry Sullivan, top playing condition was a must with the result he gradually progressed from a Lancaster area journeyman lacrosse player to a leader with the Cornwall World Champions and the ranks of Canada's all time greats in the late 1800s.

An achievement that deserves sport heritage recognition in the Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame by enshrinement that will be unveiled at the forthcoming induction dinner ceremony.

Brown wins

Glen Norman's Bobby Brown continued his dominance in the junior division while competing at the Provincial Championships for the Physically Disabled over the weekend in Toronto.

Competing as a blind athlete, the 12-year-old walked off with four first-place ribbons in as many events. His winning mark in the discus event was 15.32 metres, while his top throw in the shotput was 6.42 metres.

His winning toss in the javelin event was 11.75 metres and he capped off his successful weekend with a time of 19.16 seconds to win the 100 metre race.

Competitive camps for Junior B's

By Peter Conway
Sports editor

It may not seem like hockey weather with the sweltering temperatures outside, but the Alexandria Glens and Char-Lan Rebels will be sweating it out on the ice in about four weeks.

The two local Junior B clubs will be staging their respective training camps in preparation for the 1988-89 Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League campaign.

The Alexandria Glens are coming off a banner year. Glens are the defending Rideau—St. Lawrence Division champion, before bowing to Renfrew Timberwolves in the league championship last spring.

Though Char-Lan was swept by rival Alexandria in the St. Lawrence Division final, the Rebels were pennant winners in the regular season.

The Glens open training camp Sept. 16 with three on-ice sessions throughout the weekend. The camp continues with a session, Sept. 21, and three sessions the weekend of Sept. 23.

Glens' Coach Peter DeRooy enters his second camp expecting a mixture of veterans and rookies to compete for jobs.

"It will be a wide open camp like it was last year. The players will have to earn a position," DeRooy says.

Some of the veterans the Glens' mentor expects to return for another season include Glen Campbell, Andy Meth, Luc Decoeur, Andrew McCormick, Andre Lapensee and Mike Sauvé, should he fail in his bid to earn a spot at the Ontario Hockey League's Windsor Spitfires training camp.

DeRooy feels local midget skaters will have an opportunity to make the Glens' roster.

"Guys like Marc Sauvé, Luc Francoeur had good camps last year and they both played well when we brought them up during the season. Alex Maclaren and Daniel Levert are two other midgets that could earn positions," DeRooy says.

The Glens' coach expects about 60 skaters to attend training camp. The biggest hole to fill is expected to be between the pipes following the graduation of over-aged goaler Daniel Brunet last season.

"Pierre Cholette has to be considered our No. 1 goaler heading into the camp because he proved in the playoffs last year he could play in this league. I'm told he's going to attend the Ottawa Senators' training camp and if he doesn't come back, it will leave the goaltending position wide open," he says.

Rebels a veteran club

The Char-Lan Rebels welcome the return of Ken MacDonald behind the bench this season. MacDonald guided the club to the league championship three years ago and he succeeds Dave Hanson, who stepped down as coach last spring.

MacDonald and the Rebels expect to open training camp, Friday, Sept. 16, at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre.

After winning the divisional pennant a year ago, the Rebels should be in the hunt again this season. With the exception of graduates Herbie Seguin and Mike Jodoin, the remainder of last year's roster is eligible to return.

Rebels' Manager John Chafee expects about 45 players to attend the camp, which includes over-aged skaters Roddie MacKenzie, Kevin Poapst and Larry Delgreco.

"It should be a competitive camp and there won't be many spots open. With some of the young midgets coming up it will make the veterans work hard to keep their spot on the club," Chafee says.

Some of the Char-Lan Minor Hockey Association midget products hoping to make the jump to Junior B include Trevor Bowles, Wally MacDonald, Wesley Jurchuk, Billy Millett, Blake McDonell and Darcy O'Connell.

The biggest battle for jobs appears to be at the goaltending position. Incumbent Kevin Buchan returns and will face stiff competition from Scott Pickup, a returnee from last year, and Kevin Cameron, who teamed up with Buchan two years ago.

The Rebels and Alexandria Glens will meet in a home-and-home exhibition two-game set. The Rebels travel to Alexandria on Sept. 23 and then host the Glens, Oct. 1, at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre.

The Rebels are expected to meet a team of graduate Rebels, Sept. 24, in their annual contest.

Lalonde top rookie

the top 12 drivers are Dave Heaslip, 333, Marcel Lafrance, 283, Roger Lalonde, 228, Marc Lalonde, 224, Stephane Lafrance and Bill Munro with 219 each, Mark Hitchcock, 214, Danny O'Brien, 210 and Ron Valade with 208 points.

In the Semi-pro class, Massena's Kevin Fetterley won his sixth feature race of the season, taking the checkered flag ahead of Brockville's Paul Pekkonen. Third place went to Guy Brisson, while Mario St. Pierre finished in fourth position.

John Steele of Brockville won the feature race in the Duke Stock class, finishing ahead of Akwesasne's Ray Mitchell and Barry Herne of Hogansburg, N.Y.

Two drivers will be moving up classes in the near future. Jean Larocque, of Hawkesbury, will be leaving the Semi-pro class and moving up to the modified class.

Larocque started the season in the Duke Stock class and has enjoyed success in both classes to move up the ladder. He recently purchased a vehicle to compete in the modified class.

After a successful season to date in the Duke Stock class, John Steele has been told by track officials to move up to the Semi-pro class.

In the Riverview Dodge Series for Semi-pro drivers, Guy Brisson leads the field with 356 points. The next five drivers are Sylvain Latulippe, 315, Kevin Fetterley, 307, Robert Levac, 284, Jim Malloy, 264 and Steven Nuttal with 243 points.

This Sunday's racing program will have an added attraction for modified drivers. A special 12-lap race will be run for 10 drivers who haven't won a feature race this season.

Finalists determined for minor soccer

Coca-Cola and Munro Feeds will meet in the "A" finals of the Char-Lan Minor Soccer season this Thursday at 7 p.m. The teams earned berths in the Bantam finals following wins on Aug. 11.

Greg Deschamps and Chris Petry scored to edge Coke past Rob McIntosh, 2-1. Innes Fraser scored for Rob McIntosh.

A closely fought contest between Munro Feeds and Glendale Greens ended in a 1-1 draw at the end of regulation time. Following a five-player shoot-out, Munro emerged victorious 4-3. Joshua Harrington had two goals for Munro, with one each coming from David McDonald and Jeff Robertson. Dean Poirier had two for Glendale and Daniel Blacker, one.

In the Mosquito Division, A finalists will be Emard Lumber and Char-Lan All Stars.

Emard outplayed Glendale to the tune of 4-1. Scoring for the victors were Spencer Roberts, Nicolas Parise, Jason McCallum and Derek Abrams. Scott Giroux replied for Glendale.

Gary Benson had three goals for the All-Stars, and Aiden Lightfoot, two, as their team downed Char-Lan No. 1, 5-2. Perry Calfacacos had both his team's goals.

Ryan Gillespie's two goals and Lee Klazinga's one, led Camco to the "A" side in the Sprite finals. Camco blanked Char-Lan Soccerfest White, 3-0.

Bolger Steel will be the other Sprite finalist. Mike Belmore had both goals for Bolger in the team's shut-out of Laframboise.

Last week's victors in the Tyke division were Wasco with Nicholas Currie booting in five goals in its 5-0 decision over Soccerfest Blue, and Soccerfest Red which defeated Rozon Insurance, 8-2. Scoring for the Reds were Andrew Jarvo with three, Clayton Delaney and Derek Wagar with two goals each and Joseph Sugden with one. Katie Cumming scored twice for Rozon.

Clubs qualify for final in minor soccer

in an Aug. 10 contest. Wendy Hay and Micheline Paquette scored for Glen Sandfield, while Lori Bedette scored for Maxville.

In an Aug. 8 contest, Greenfield and Dunvegan played to a 1-1 draw. Robin Masterson tallied for Greenfield, while Sandy Gondermann scored for Dunvegan.

Senior men

Pine Grove and Alexandria battled to a 3-3 draw, Saturday night as both clubs vied for the final playoff position in the senior men's division.

Darrell Hay sparked Pine Grove with a pair of markers, while Craig MacSweyn rounded out the scoring.

Alan Barton and Brent McDougall scored goals for Alexandria. The third Alexandria goal came when Pine Grove scored on themselves.

The Glengarry Stars won 2-0 by default over Glen Sandfield, Friday night.

In a game played the previous night, Glen Nevis and Greenfield battled to a 1-1 draw. Andy McRae scored for Glen Nevis, while Donnie Morris replied for Greenfield.

Greenfield won a 2-0 decision by default over Martintown in a scheduled game Aug. 10. In an Aug. 9 contest, the Glengarry Stars posted a 4-1 decision over Alexandria. Richard Daniels led the scoring attack for the Stars with a pair of markers, while Lyndon MacNaughton and Rob Starkauskas added singles. Jay Major replied for Alexandria.

Lucien Koggel's four goals sparked Glen Nevis in a 7-1 romp over Glen Sandfield Aug. 8. Findlay McLeod, Andy McRae and Joey McRae completed the Glen Nevis scoring.

Glen Sandfield's lone goal was scored by Millan MacPherson.

John Baxter sets new records

Maxville's John Baxter set three world records in the provincial championships for the Physically Disabled in Toronto over the weekend.

Competing in the powerlifting event at York University, Baxter eclipsed two of his own world records. He set a new mark in the deadlift with a total of 584 pounds, shattering the old mark at 578 pounds.

His second record came in the squat with a lift of 606 pounds compared to the old record of 584 pounds. His total in the benchpress was 286 pounds.

Baxter's combined total in the three events was also a new record at 1,476 pounds and gives him a Class II rating. He now qualifies for the Canadian Masters Championship for able bodied persons.

Roy's, Greenfield post wins

Roy's Express and Greenfield Wings have opened 1-0 leads in their respective best-of-five playoff series in the Alexandria Ball Hockey League.

In games played Aug. 9 at the Glengarry Sports Palace, defending league-champion Roy's blanked Chez Paul, 5-0, in the first game of the A final, while Greenfield posted a 6-2 win over Mike Gibbs in a B final

Posts lopsided victory

Peggy Lafave and Jackie Prieur each knocked in three RBIs to spark Roy's Garage to a convincing 15-0 victory over Alexandria Builder's Supply last Wednesday night in the Alexandria Ladies Softball League.

Roy's Garage scored four times in the first inning and blew the game open with seven runs in the third inning.

Naomi MacKenzie and Line Brabant provided the offence with four ribbies each as BMR posted an 18-12 win over Caisse Populaire.

Knocking home two runs each for Caisse Populaire were Roxanne Lauzon, Sue Delage and Carole Deguire.

Two games were played Aug. 9. In the nightcap, Gareau's Sunoco scored four runs in the fifth inning to squeak past Sultan Drugs 11-10.

Diane Lalonde led the offensive attack for the winners with four ribbies, while Linda Van Den Oetelaar had a pair.

Jane Paquette and Martine Theoret had three RBIs each for Sultan Drugs, while Johanne Larocque scored three times.

In the opening game, Heather Fournier's three RBIs paced King Edward Hotel to an easy 16-0 win over Lalonde's General Store.

Vivian Villeneuve and Sylvie Rozon each knocked home a pair of runs for the winners, while Margery McIntosh crossed the plate three times.

Obituaries

Mary (McLaughlin) McCormick

Mary McCormick, formerly of Alexandria, died on July 24, 1988 at Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall. She was 74 years old.

Wife of the late Hugh Andrew McCormick, she was predeceased by her parents George P. McLaughlin and Mary Williamson.

Born and raised in Alexandria, she later moved to Montreal before making her final residence in Cornwall.

She leaves behind four sons: Ian of St. Bruno, Que., Kevin of Fergus, Ont., Gary of Barrhead, Alta. and Peter of Edmonton.

She is also survived by three brothers: John Joseph (Jack) McLaughlin of Green Valley, James Robert of Cornwall and Duncan of Kirkland, Que.

She was also predeceased by sisters Margaret, Dorothy and Isabell, and brother George McLaughlin.

The funeral was from the Wilson Funeral Home in Cornwall to St. Peter's Church and St. Finnan's Cemetery on July 27, 1988. Rev. Kelvin Maloney of Blessed Sacrament officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Gordon Bryan. Rev. Bernard Cameron of St. Finnan's of Alexandria officiated at the committal service at the graveside.

Pallbearers were Dan Williamson, James Devine, Brian McLaughlin, Ronald McLaughlin, Michael McLaughlin and Stewart McLaughlin.

Margaret Ann McRae

Margaret Ann McRae died at Glengarry Memorial Hospital in Alexandria on Aug. 10, 1988. She was 83 years old.

Born in the Glen Roy area, she was predeceased by her parents Donald John McRae and Margaret Sybella McRae. She never married.

She moved to the Kirk Hill area with her parents and later worked for the National Trust Company in Montreal. She retired back to Kirk Hill and for the past three years has been a resident of Maxville Manor.

She was predeceased by sister Sybella, brother Archie, and nephew Donald Malcolm McRae.

She is survived by sister-in-law Marjory I. McRae and many friends and relatives.

Funeral service was at the Munro and Morris Funeral Home in Alexandria on August 13, and was conducted by Rev. Karen Hincke.

Pallbearers were Murray Howes, Billy Franklin, Edgar Fourney, Stephen Palfrey, Darrell MacLeod and Stanley MacLeod.

Interment was at the McLaughlin cemetery in Vankleek Hill.

Louise St. Laurent

A Glen Robertson resident for most of her life, Louise St. Laurent died at Glengarry Memorial Hospital on August 5, 1988. She was 92 years old.

Widowed by her husband Romeo Wallace St. Laurent, she was predeceased by her parents Napoleon Poirier and Emma Mainville.

A native resident of Glen Robertson, she later moved to the Community Nursing Home in Alexandria.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Guarda of Montreal.

Also left behind to mourn her passing are brother Joe Poirier of Alexandria and sister Jeanne Spedding of Montreal.

She is also survived by three grandchildren, Ronald, Johanne and Leonard.

Funeral was on August 8, 1988 from the Co-Operative Funeral Home in Alexandria to St. Finnan's Cathedral, officiated by Father Cameron. Interment was at the Glen Robertson Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Ernest Lalonde, Joseph Bedard, Leonard Guarda, Bernie Brunette, Daniel Bedard and Ronnie Guarda.

Napoléon Paul Legault

Napoléon Paul Legault died at the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall on August 1, 1988. He was 79 years old.

Son of the late Napoléon Legault and the late Constance Leblanc, he was predeceased by his wife Blanche Joyal.

Born and raised in Ste. Anne de Prescott, he later moved to and made his final residence at 9 Catherine Street in Alexandria.

Left to mourn his passing are a son and a daughter: Leo Legault of Brassard, Que., and Françoise (Mrs. John Palinsky) of St. Catherine, Que.

Mr. Legault is also survived by three brothers, Edgar of Gananoque, Ont., Leo of Ville Lasalle, Que., and Elzar of Montreal. Also left behind is a sister Blanche (Mrs. Bruno Pigeon) of Alexandria.

Funeral was on Wednesday, August 3, 1988 from the Co-Operative Funeral Home in Alexandria to St. Martin of Tours Church in Glen Robertson. The service was officiated by Father Les Leblanc and assisted by Father Lefebvre.

Interment was at the Glen Robertson Parish cemetery.

Pallbearers were Henri Menard, Father Donat Leblanc, Leo Legault, John Palamachuck, Norman Lalonde and Bob Lawrie.

Lucia Levac

Lucia Levac died on July 26, 1988 at Cornwall General Hospital. She was 90 years old.

Born in Glen Nevis, she later farmed on the 6th concession of Lancaster. She later moved to Green Valley and made her final residence in the Community Nursing Home in Alexandria.

She was predeceased by her parents Fabien Sauvé and Sophie André St. Amand and by her husband Jean Baptiste Levac, who she married in 1915. Sons Lucien and Rolland also predeceased her.

She leaves to mourn her death, son Lionel (wife Marie Rose) and daughter Pauline (Mrs. Joseph Doris Joanette) of Green Valley and daughter-in-law Germaine Levac of Dalhousie.

She is also survived by sister Jeanette (Mrs. Edward Kelly) of Brockville, 19 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren.

The funeral was at St. Raphael's Church on Thursday and was officiated by Msgr. D. B. McDougald.

Pallbearers were Yvon Joanette, Leo Beriault, Robert Martin, Marcel Levac, Roger Levac and Raymond Aubin.

Barbara MacDonald

A former Kenyon Township resident, Barbara MacDonald died suddenly at her Fort Lauderdale, Florida home on July 24, 1988. She was 84 years old.

Daughter of the late Archibald McPhee and the late Flora MacPherson, she was predeceased by her husband Angus Edward (Danny John) MacDonald of the Eigg Road. Mrs. MacDonald had been educated locally and taught for a time in Ontario schools. She married Angus Edward in St. Finnan's Cathedral; the wedding was officiated by Father Duncan McPhee.

Mrs. MacDonald and her husband were active members of their Florida community, and often entertained visiting Glengarrians. They were also two of the founders of St. Henry's Church in nearby Pompano.

She was predeceased by two sons, David and Allan and by nine brothers and sisters.

Left to mourn her passing are her three sons and two daughters: Edward "Ned" of Seattle, Washington, Norman of Fort Lauderdale, Steven of San Francisco, California, Barbara Ann McGunn also of San Francisco, and Mary Gilsenan of Moorestown, New Jersey.

She also leaves behind brother-in-law John Lawrence MacDonald of Cornwall, 16 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in Pompano.

Father James Reynolds of St. Henry's officiated.

Elizabeth Boyd

Elizabeth (Betty) Boyd died at her home in Gore Bay, Ont. on July 20, 1988.

Born in McCrimmon, daughter of the late Dan Campbell and his wife Margaret MacLeod, she was predeceased by her husband George Boyd.

She attended the local primary school and Vankleek Hill Collegiate Institute and obtained her teaching certificate from Ottawa Normal School. She moved on to Manitoulin Island where she taught for many years, retiring in 1971 from Manitoulin Secondary School.

She was a member of the Teachers Federation, the Eastern Star, Anglican Church Women and was an active volunteer in many community activities.

She was also predeceased by a sister, Ethel, (Mrs. Alex MacLeod).

Left to mourn her passing are three sons and one daughter: Clifford (wife Elizabeth) of Sault Ste. Marie, Michael, (wife Sharon) of Edmonton, Donald (wife Dawn) also of Edmonton and Patricia (Mrs. Larry Peterson).

She also leaves behind grandchildren Stephen, Terri, Douglas, Christine, Jennifer, Dana, Lisa, Caroline, Duncan and Zachary.

She is also survived by great grandchildren Billy, Melissa, Matthew and Stephanie.

Also mourning her loss are sisters Florence (Mrs. R. B. Cameron) of New Glasgow, N.S., and Eilien (Mrs. Archie MacGillivray) of Kirk Hill, and brothers Donald (wife Freda) of Kelowna, B.C., Murray, Robert (wife Lois) of Laggan and Will (wife Ruth) of St. Catharines.

Funeral services were held at All Saints Anglican Church in Gore Bay, Ont. on July 22, 1988 with Father Tom Cunningham officiating. Josephine Griffin, family friend, sang "How Great Thou Art" and "Amazing Grace."

Interment was at Gordon Cemetery where Pipe Major Sam Laderoute played "Going Home."

GLEN NORMAN
Mary Lacelle
525-1372, 525-4998

Allan and Helena McCuaig with three of their daughters, Lynn, Jennifer and Jeanna, returned from a Northern excursion on Friday, August 5.

They were accompanied by Kim Menard of Martintown. The highlight of the trip, which included camping in North Bay and Cochrane, was a 4 1/2 hour train ride on the Polar Bear Express to Moosonee and Moose Factory. They found that even the James Bay area was hit by a heat wave.

Congratulations to Carter MacDonald and his bride Judith MacGregor who married on Saturday.

Weekend guests of Jim and Benji Harris of Barrie (formerly of North Lancaster) were Elaine and Brian Miller of Ottawa.

Catherine Najarian of Washington, a band exchange student, enjoyed her visit here so much earlier this year, that she came back to spend a week with the Barry MacDonald family.

Mary Lacelle attended the baby shower for Elaine (Willard) Perkins on Wednesday evening at the Alexandria Legion Hall. There was a lovely turnout and an abundance of beautiful gifts for the baby to be.

Michael Lacelle and Liane Ward enjoyed a lovely holiday at Youngs Point near Peterborough at a summer resort by the lake.

Happy belated birthday to Sandra Chadwick August 11 and to Claude Willard August 12.

Henry and Thelma Johnson had a lovely visit on Sunday from niece Joyce and her husband Leo Van Gelder of St. Bruno, Que. as well as a cousin of Henry, Derek and his wife Janet Haris and daughter Mea of Heswall, England. This was a very special occasion indeed, as this was the first time the cousins had met.

* * *

Miss Bonnie Van Geldon, a canine sweetheart, is back with her family Joyce and Leo in St. Bruno, Que. after spending four days with Aunt Thelma and Uncle Henry in the little country hamlet of Glen Norman among any doggy's delight; trees, trees and more trees.

* * *

A very happy birthday to my nephew and godchild Brian Bergeron on Aug. 10 and to my cousin Sonny Willard on Aug. 11.

WILLIAMSTOWN
Sue Harrington
347-2279

Call it post fair stupor, blame it on the heat, tell me I'm over the hill, but take note that I erred dreadfully last week when I said that Heather Pasco was Williamstown's first dairy princess. Why even within my living memory there were two others, Jill Pemberton and ? MacDonald. What could I have been thinking of?

My apologies to all three princesses and to any others whom I might have overlooked. Royal families use your prerogative and give me a call to tell of other Williamstown highnesses in years back.

Not the tower! Please!

Under the (be) heading of Williamstown Fair postscripts goes a big hurrah to Chris Laing whose western riding won him a fistful of ribbons and a champion's title. Yahoo!

I must also mention the great job done by Marjorie Quenneville and May Fitzpatrick in the office. The ladies gave new meaning to the word ''express'' this year as some of us received prize cheques as early as the Saturday morning of the fair. Well done!

Finally to President Garnet MacDougall and his directors and to Secretary-Treasurer Joan P. MacDonald, a word of thanks on behalf of all who enjoyed the fair. Your many hours of work were greatly appreciated.

* * *

And now I have a special birthday wish for a special lady. Annette MacDonald will be celebrating her 90th birthday with an ''At home'' party on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. Family and friends are most welcome to attend and to bring ''best wishes'' only.

In spite of the heat, the card players were out at the monthly euchre sponsored by the Glengarry Community Club on Aug. 8.

Eileen Johnson, Joyce Lalonde and Beatrice Fontaine were ladies' winners, while Art Ostrander, Louis Thomas and Alex McDermid were the lucky men.

Irene Locey went home with the door prize.

Florence Harkin won three times on the 50/50 with Ethel Clark, Mr. Locey, Mrs. Giroux, Dorothy Croll and Alex McDermid claiming more modest prizes.

Sympathy is extended to Charlie and Reta Heath and family on the passing of Charlie's brother, George, after a lengthy illness.

The ninth annual Green Thumbs' Flower Show will be held this Saturday at St. Mary's Centre. Entries will be accepted from 9 to 10:30 a.m. with judging from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Public viewing will begin at 2:30 with the presentation of awards slated for 3 p.m.

Entry tags for exhibitors are available at Alex MacDonald's Groceries. Participation from all members will make a really great show, so get picking!

Thursday night is the big one for members of Char-Lan Minor Soccer. Consolation finals in all divisions will be played at 6 p.m., with ''A'' finals slated for 7 p.m.

Presentation of awards will follow the games, beginning around 8:15 at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre.

See that your child attends. It would be terrible to lose by default in the finals.

Bridge Club play saw Audrey Blair and Dawson Pratt at the top last week. In second was San Francisco's John MacDonald who teamed up with Garry O'Connell and third place was claimed by Daisy and Ernie Pelley.

Speaking of clubs, Ken McDonald used his to swing his way to the 'A' club championships at Summerheights on the weekend. Congratulations!

Congratulations, too, to Kerry and Kathy McKay on the birth of their daughter, a little sister for Travis.

A vernissage was held on Sunday at the Nor'Westers and Loyalist Museum to kick off an exhibition of paintings by Cornwall artist Joan Levy-Earle. Unfortunately, I didn't hear about this until after the fact, but I will try to visit the exhibit in the near future and give you a professional art critic's ramblings.

In the meantime, go have a gander!

Williamstown's population took a temporary leap on Saturday, as 35 members of the Billings Estate Museum Society from Ottawa, visited spots of historical interest throughout the village.

Another bus load,this time 45 ''friends of the National Gallery'', is expected in town on Wednesday.

Bill Dean is becoming quite an accomplished tour guide.

Happy Birthday to Johanna-Banana who turned an old and wordly-wise 14 yesterday!

There has apparently been no response to my earlier plea for a Girl Guide Leader for Williamstown, beginning in September. Carolyn Laing, guider for the past 11 years is definitely retiring and Donna McDonald, her assistant for 8 years is as well.

Both of these ladies have gone above and beyond the call of duty, continuing as leaders long after their own daughters had graduated from the movement.

If you would like to see Guides continue in Williamstown and are willing to donate your talents, please call Carolyn at 347-3992.

Judging from the lack of sewing entries at the Williamstown Fair, the current 4-H sewing course is just what is needed to encourage our girls. The South Glengarry Club has been meeting at the home of leader Anne Donkers and at the Martintown Commnity Centre.

President of the Club is Ursula Vogel, Vice-President is Carla Wood and Karen Runions is Secretary.

Achievement night will be held Aug. 31.

Aug. 28 will be the last Sunday that Rev. Evans will be preaching at St. Andrew's as our minister. The service will be held at 10:30 a.m. and the congregation from Martintown will worship with the Williamstown congregation at this time.

Following the service, a luncheon will be served in Irvine Hall and everyone is invited to attend this official farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Evans.

Also, don't forget the community gathering for the Evans' on Friday, Aug. 26 at the Martintown Community Centre at 8 p.m.

Next week, for the first time in almost three years, I am taking a holiday from writing this column. I hope that I will return for the Aug. 31 issue, refreshed and errorless.

Please continue to call with your news during the interim. Talking to you is the fun part; it's the writing that's the work!

To hold 'Kids Fun Day'

LANCASTER
Janice Montreuil
347-7464, 347-2420

Well, here we are again, folks. I'd just like to tell all the harried mums out there only another 21 days to go and the little darlings will be back in class. Isn't that amazing! I cannot understand where the summer has gone. I've noticed birds lining up on wires for the last few days, too. My neighbor told me they start forming up the middle of August. I hope this is not a sign of cold things to come brrr!

A reminder to those members of the United Church Congregations in our area. Service of Worship for August 21 will be held in Knox Church, Lancaster at 10:30 a.m. led by Eric Urquhart. Aug. 28 services will be held at St. Andrew's Church, Bainsville at 10:30 a.m. also led by Eric Urquhart.

Teens are reminded about the 'Rock til One O'Clock' dance on Aug. 20 at 8 p.m. at the Legion Hall in Lancaster sponsored by the Lancaster Squadron Air Cadets. Age 12 and up are invited to come and live it up. There is a small fee charged.

The annual 'Kids Fun Day' takes place Sunday, Aug. 21 from 12:30 p.m. at Smithsfield Recreation Field with free hot dogs and drinks for all children. This is a family day, there are even adult events at 3 p.m. Prizes are given for the kids events. Come and bring the whole family. Free admission.

The Williamstown Fair treated my family right. In the horsey events, Ralph and Wendy Bourdon picked up two firsts, two seconds and two fifths all on Sheena. The kids were happy but the horse was exhausted! Little Andrea Carriere took first place in the Lead Line Game while five-year-old Stephanie Bourdon, her first time out, took second place in the same event. If she is anything like my Wendy was, parents Donald and Linda will have no peace until they buy a pony. Mind you Wendy had to wait until she got married — Ralph gave her Sheena as a wedding gift.

The Picnic Grove Women's Institute held their August meeting last Tuesday at Wendy Rozon's cottage on Hamilton Island. Their motto was ''It's not the years in your life but the life in your years that count.'' Each lady had to say what she remembered best about her grandmother. Your correspondent was invited to speak about Tole and Decorative Painting and to show some of her collection. It was a most enjoyable event and I would like to thank the ladies for inviting me.

Millie Pidgeon of South Lancaster was a busy lady last week. Her daughter, Debra and son-in-law Gary Rutkowski and their children, Tanya and Ashley all of Barrie, Ont. as well as other daughter, Eleanor Alguire of Long Sault, came to visit for a few days. At the same time, Millie participated in the annual craft day at the Williamstown Fair.

Welcome to Sara Apperley of adel, Leeds (Yorkshire), England who is visiting for three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Wilcock of Lancaster and niece, Sally Blacker of Williamstown.

SCOTT—MAINVILLE

Eldred and Murdena Scott of Maxville, Ont. are pleased to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Alyson Dawn to Daniel Christian, son of Rodolphe and Monique Mainville of Strathmore, Ont. The marriage will take place on September 10, 1988 at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Maxville.

Auld Lang Syne

NINETY YEARS AGO
Friday, August 12th, 1898

•Glen Robertson is to have a resident doctor, Dr. G.W. Kirk, the popular physician and surgeon who for the past few years has practised at Dalhousie Mills, has removed to Glen Robertson.

•Miss Irvine, who for some time past has been in charge of the C.A.R. restaurant here, left on Thursday for Carleton Place. Her successor here is Miss Easten of Ottawa.

Historical society releases annual Glengarry volume

The annual compendium of Glengarry history has been released by the Glengarry Historical Society.

"Glengarry Life" is a 31-page volume written by various members of the Society, now in its 29th year. It contains short essays on historical people, places and events in Glengarry.

Some of the subjects in this issue are the Glengarry connection with the Hudson's Bay Company and the Nor'Westers Trading Company, Bethune-Thompson House in Williamstown and a personality sketch of "Big Rory" (Colonel R. R. McLennan).

The idea for the annual volume, says corresponding secretary of the Society Harriet MacKinnon, came from Velma Franklin who published the first volume. Mrs. Franklin is now curator of the Glengarry Museum in Dunvegan.

"Glenarry Life" is free with a membership with the Glengarry Historical Society.

Corporation of the Township of Kenyon

SALE OF LAND BY PUBLIC TENDER

Municipal Tax Sales Act, 1984

TAKE NOTICE that tenders are invited for the purchase of the land(s) described below and will be received until 3:00 p.m. local time on August 30th, 1988 at Clerk's Office, Greenfield, Ont.

The tenders will then be opened in public on the same day at 7:30 p.m.

Description: Part of Lot 1, Con. 9 described as Firstly and Secondly in Instrument No. 18981 registered in the Land Registry Office of the County of Glengarry, Township of Kenyon.

Minimum Tender Amount: $2,500.84.

Please refer to TR files 86-06 and 86-07.

NOTE: The property herein described comprises 0.11 acres and is not large enough for a building lot.

Tenders must be submitted in the prescribed form and must be accompanied by a deposit in the form of a money order or of a bank draft or cheque certified by a bank, trust company or Province of Ontario Savings Office payable to the municipality (or board) and representing at least 20 per cent of the tender amount.

The municipality makes no representation ragarding the title to or any other matters relating to the land to be sold. Responsibility for ascertaining these matters rests with the potential purchasers.

This sale is governed by the Municipal Tax Sales Act, 1984, being chapter 48 of the Statutes of Ontario 1984 and the Municipal Tax Sales Rules made under that Act. The successful purchaser will be required to pay the amount tendered plus accumulated taxes and the relevant land transfer tax.

MAKING THE WISEST USE OF YOUR ELECTRICITY.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO.

Fix those dripping taps
A simple washer will eliminate an annoying drip – and save money. At only one drop a second, you can waste many gallons of hot water a month . . . right down the drain.

Save laundry for a full load
Don't use the washer and dryer for a few items – wait until you have a full load. Small items waste hot water and electricity on the dryer.

Use a "low flow" shower head
You can still enjoy a nice hot shower like always – but you save hot water. Most hardware stores stock them.

Insulate and weatherstrip
Keep the heat inside . . . where it belongs. Make sure your home is adequately insulated and that all windows and doors have good, efficient weatherstripping.

Set back your thermostat
Don't use more heat than you need. And at night, when you retire, or when you're away from home for a while, set back the thermostat a few degrees. You'll sleep just as well and you'll save money.

HERE'S WHAT WE CAN DO FOR YOU.

We can survey your home's energy efficiency
Call and ask one of our energy advisors to do a survey of your house.

It's a free service to our customers. They'll look at your insulation, appliances and heating system and give you a full report on how well your home is doing and what it needs to save you money. Simply give us a call and make an appointment at your convenience

Area couple celebrates 40th date

MAXVILLE
Gordon Winter
527-2888

The pink balloons flying at 16 Catherine St. were to welcome a baby girl born in Hamilton on Aug. 5. She is the first girl in two generations of five boys and a granddaughter for Shirley MacRae Cutten and a great grand niece for Anne Bruce.

* * *

Two of our newer residents, Chris and George Chase who moved here from New Glasgow, N.S., are celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary on Aug. 20. We extend best wishes to them and their daughter Beth and Don Williamson invite their friends and neighbors to an open house at 61 Mechanic St. W., from 2:30 to 5 p.m. to join the Chases in the celebration of their anniversary.

A visit with Etta and John Urquhart, both in their mid 80's, can be most enlightening when one is interested in the "olden days."

Recently, Mr. Urquhart phoned me to come to view two old books he had. One was the account book for the grist and sawmill that belonged to his grandfather Alex and which was located on the Scotch River just west of Arkinstalls' Corners. It is dated from 1876.

The other was the minute book for the tin school house about one km south of St. Isidore. It is dated from 1869 with the minutes alternating annually in French and English, depending on the secretary of the school section which went as far south at the present Hwy. 417.

One of the first years, the teacher was paid $120 for the year and she did not get paid until the end of the year.

Donald Cumming spent a week in Kamploops, B.C., visiting his two nursing daughters, Glenda and Norma.

We also take this opportunity to congratulate Mr. Cumming in being chosen to fill the position of reeve of Roxborough, left vacant by the resignation of John McIntyre. While a resident of Maxville, Mr. Cumming farms in Roxborough Township.

Visiting Fay and Bill Wright for a week were their older son Bill and his wife Cindy and children Billy and Carey from Thunder Bay. The little fellow is the fourth Bill Wright in four generations.

The former Percy McBain home north of the village is advertised for sale to be moved or demolished. On the farm of Bill Kippen now, it was originally the home of the Robertsons at the time when Maxville was named. This farm supplied lots for the north last quarter of the village and obviously the Robertsons did not help supply the name "Mac" to the village's name.

Margaret and Bruce Allnutt were very pleased to have their son Peter home for a weekend from Montreal.

Other visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Allnutt were the Rev. Howard and Janice Hawes, Cartierville, Mildred Allnutt, Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Allnutt, Knowlton, Que., a grandson.

The former Romeo Cuillerier residence which has been vacant and in a state of disrepair was demolished in one day last week. Antoine Deschamps lived there many years ago when the stockyard along the CNR tracks was a very busy place every Tuesday.

Lorna Munro, a missionary home on furlough from the far east, has been a guest of her sister Alma Runions and her family.

Patsy MacKinnon and Cathryn spent a few days in Toronto last week. Thelma Bender and Ruby MacGregor accomapnied them.

Verna MacGregor and Margaret Mutch had a holiday tour last week to Quebec City and the Saguenay River regions.

Duncan MacDougall accompanied his sister-in-law Margaret MacDougall of Stittsville and Margaret's sister, Betty MacRae, St. John, N.B., on a motor trip through Algonquin Park, to Goderich and back through Burlington and Toronto.

Set aside Aug. 28 as Memorial Sunday for our local cemetery. A service willl be held in Maxville United Church at 2:30 p.m. with the Rev. Gary Van Bruchem in charge. Memorial flowers may be left on the graves of loved ones on Saturday or before or after the service.

We bid farewell to the Brady family who are moving to the Lanark area next week. To Mr. Brady, the former bank manager, we wish much improved health and to Phillip, we extend sincere thanks for being the best paper boy for two daily papers. We couldn't have hoped for better service, Phillip.

* * *

Sympathy is extended to Catherine Hartrick in the death of her husband, Roger, in an Ottawa hospital last Wednesday.

Cathy and Art Cassell, Phillip and Jimmy were away for a week camping and working in some visiting at the same time.

Best wishes are extended to Bernard Seguin, son of Rita and the late George on his marriage to Lynn Quenneville Saturday.

The same wishes go to Carolyn Smith, daughter of Evelyn and Garry who will be married on the same day to Larry Harrison of this village and a teacher in Alexandria.

Also we extend best wishes to the bride and groom of a third wedding on Saturday. Ricky Besner of the village, son of Lorraine and Ernest, will be married to Joyce Vanier.

One of Maxville's friendliest visitors is home on vacation. Brian Campbell and his wife and young daughter are home from Calgary and are visiting his mother Annie Campbell and other family members.

* * *

You can't tell by looking at him now by his activities, but Stanley McDonald celebrated another birthday last week — his 94th. Very best wishes are extended to this well known gentleman.

Mortorists travelling on Highway 34 to Vankleek Hill may find the overpass at 417 closed, as well as the exit off 417 at 34 for the next while. A suggestion would be to go to Vankleek Hill by Dunvegan and St. Bernardin and then by the Ridge Rd. into the town.

Chartered broker

Evelyn (Lyn) Scullion (nee Nicholson), daughter of Beatrice Beaudry (nee Sandfield Macdonald), formerly of Alexandria, recently passed the examinations for the "Chartered Insurance Broker" designation. She recently left her position of assistant vice-president and marketing coordinator for a large national insurance broker and is currently commercial lines manager at Campbell Moore Insurance Broker in Ottawa.

ST. ELMO
W MacKinnon
527-2348

Mrs. Alex R. McKinnon, St. Elmo east, Mrs. Brian McKinnon and daughter Catherine of Maxville were in Toronto for a few days last week and visited with relatives and friends in the Toronto area.

* * *

Mrs. Martha Upton of Cornwall visited last weekend Aug. 6-7 with her sister Mrs. John Billinghurst and John Billinghurst, St. Elmo west and on Sunday afternoon attended the memorial service in Gordon Church, St. Elmo.

* * *

Congratulations and best wishes to the Rev. Jacob Vanderwal and Willie-Marie Vanderwal of Sandringham Road who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Aug. 21 at an "open house" for friends in the Moose Creek community hall from 2 to 5 p.m.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Chamberlain of Ottawa visited with her father Dr. Wallace MacKinnon, St. Elmo last Wednesday evening.

John and Margaret Billinghurst, St. Elmo west, are in Toronto for a few days this week visiting friends and are attending some of the events of the Toronto Exhibition.

Farewell party to be held soon for retiring minister

MARTINTOWN
Lorne MacDonald
528-4378

Hearty congratulations go out this week to Marguerite and Gordie Littlejohn on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. The happy couple were wed on August 12th, 1938 at the United Church manse here in Martintown (now Alguire's home). Family gathered at the couple's home in Cornwall to celebrate. Marguerite is the former Marguerite Nicholson of Martitown, and Gordie hails from the Maxville area. Best wishes for many more to come!

Visitors to our area

There were a number of visitors to our area recently. A huge contingent attended the birthday celebration for Stennetta Lagroix, they included; Mr. and Mrs. James Howe, Jimmie, his friend Cathy Colesyke, Brian and Glenn all of Sudbury; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lagroix, Kathyrn, her friend Rob Michele, Laurie, Melanie, and Paul, all of Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Calvert, MaryLynn and Jennifer of Oshawa; Irma Ann Hegarty, Leanne, her friend Frank, and David of Etobicoke; Gail Lagroix of Toronto, Don Jones and Christena, Shannon and Kimberly of Calgary, Don's mother Wilma Jones of Montreal; Howard MacCulloch of Montreal; Dot Sistee of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. John Forbes and family of Ottawa; Bob and Anita Allinotte of Navan; Don Allinotte of Limoges. Eddy and Judy Allinotte, daughter Tracy of Sudbury. Many local relatives and friends were in attendance as well. Congratulations Stennetta.

Misses Isabel and Helen McRae of Edmonton are visiting cousins Mrs. Linden Clark and Mrs. william Aitken and family for two weeks and then are travelling to the McRae family reunion in West Virginia. We hope you enjoy your visit to the area.

Flower show

The Martintown and District Horticultural Society is holding its annual flower show on Thursday, August 18th from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. at the Martintown recreation centre. Everyone is most welcome.

Winners

Winners of the last euchre sponsored by the Martintown Goodtimers were ladies first Rita Seguin, Maxville; second Joyce Irvine, Williamstown; third Charlotte Robertson, Long Sault. Gents, first Joe O'Keefe, Bonville; second Alex MacDermid, Cornwall; third Louis Thomas, Cornwall; door prize, Rita Parette, Cornwall. Special draw, Sadie O'Keefe, Bonville; Alex MacDermid, Cornwall and Clare Markell, Lunenburg.

Get well

Get well wishes go out this week to Helen McMillan who underwent surgery recently. Hope you're up and about real soon.

Don't forget about the farewell evening which will be held for Rev. and Mrs. Evans on Aug. 26 at the Martintown Community Centre from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. The organizers ask that no gifts be brought as proceeds from the door will be presented. Everyone is welcome.

Also on Sunday, August 28 is Rev. Evans final Sunday; there will be only one service held that day, at 10:30 a.m. in Williamstown. Please plan to attend.
