Board refuses to endorse two-principal system

SD&G County Board of Education last week refused to endorse a two-principal concept for Glengarry District High School because insufficient public input had been obtained.

Trustees were disturbed that a school committee meeting held five days previously to discuss the concept was originally ruled "closed" by school officials.

Under terms of reference set by the board, school committee meetings must be open to the public.

Although the meeting was opened at the last minute, people had been told not to attend because the session was scheduled to be held in camera.

Board Chairman Eugene Legault told The News the board wants the public to have the opportunity to comment on the concept of the French and English wings of the school each having their own principal.

Proponents of the scheme argue that it will provide a more workable administrative set-up, while opponents claim it is one more step in the division of the two language groups.

Director of Education Rosaire Leger told the school committee the board would be ratifying the concept at last week's meeting.

Students and committee members expressed concern that they had not had time to evaluate the proposal

The board refused to rubber stamp the recommendation, however, and instructed the school committee to hold another meeting on the topic and to make it clear the meeting is open to the public.

The meeting has been scheduled for April 30.

School Committee Chairman Sylvio Cleroux said yesterday he is anxious to get input, particularly from Anglophone parents who appear concerned about the issue.

"Even though I'm a Francophone representative, I feel I can still represent the Anglophones and I would appreciate any comments."

A group of concerned parents from throughout the county were scheduled to hold a private meeting last night to discuss the two-principal proposal.

Committee member Hugh Allen MacMillan said he was asked to attend the meeting to provide facts on the proposal.

He said the parents decided to hold the meeting because they had been told that they could not attend the recent school committee meeting at which the topic was discussed.

MacMillan said he did not organize the meeting which he described as "spontaneous" and could not predict what position the parents would take.

Racial split not wanted by students

The Glengarry District High School Students' Council says it wants racial and sexual name-tagging removed from student council elections.

In a brief, scheduled to be discussed at an upcoming school committee meeting, the council recommends that the four executive members "be chosen on their leadership qualities only" with no restrictions on sex or language."

Last year, many students of both language groups protested when students' council candidates were required, for the first time in the school's history, to declare themselves either English-speaking or French-speaking representatives. It was also mandatory that two boys and two girls be elected.

Students of mixed marriages claimed they were being forced "to choose sides."

The change was rushed through by the school administration in about a week, but candidates elected to the students' council pledged to work towards having the system changed back.

The new students' council is also suggesting that the number of ballots cast and voting results should be announced to the student body.

Last year, the ballots were destroyed immediately after the vote and results were not made public.

The students are recommending that a specific date be named annually for the elections and that a well-outlined constitution be drafted.

Election debate is scheduled

The candidates for the upcoming federal election from Glengarry, Prescott, Russell will be meeting on April 30 at 8:30 p.m. in the St. Isidore Community Centre.

Gordon Johnson for the Progressive Conservatives, Denis Ethier for the Liberals and Paul De Brock for the New Democratic Party will be the speakers.

The meeting and debate is being organized by the Glengarry and Prescott Federations of Agriculture. The two groups met April 12 to iron out the details.

COSTLY AFTERNOON—Last Thursday afternoon turned out to cost one Lochiel farmer about $600. He had to call the Alexandria Fire Department after a grass fire he had started got out of control and threatened his buildings. Part of the shed at right was on fire when the truck arrived. Anyone calling the department for a grass fire this summer will have to pay the expenses incurred.

Developers won't get town's help

Alexandria Mayor Jean-Paul Touchette and three of his councillors were outvoted 5-4 at last council meeting concerning the payment of providing sewer facilities to a proposed shopping mall.

The mall, to be built by Marc Lalonde (I.G.A.), Jean Clement (Clement Furniture) and Jean Yves Menard (Menard Fairway) at a cost of about $2 million, will be directly south of the L.C.B.O.

Touchette wanted to have the developers pay for the materials and equipment while the town supplied the manpower. Calling it "a good investment," he said the facilities had been supplied this way before and should be again.

"We've given thousands and thousands of dollars away to strangers, and these are local people."

Councillor Florence Villeneuve asked if the same would be done for all developers. She mentioned Roddie McDougall, who asked the town last year to supply sewer facilities to William Street in the south end. His request was turned down by council.

Councillor Archie McDougall suggested "if we give it to one, we have to give it to all." Mayor Touchette agreed and said that the town should do the same for everyone else with the same request.

Reeve Rheal Lefebvre, also Chairman of the Public Works, said that the developers should have to "pay the whole shot" and that any further request should be treated the same way. "If we charge one, we charge them all," he said. He was referring to the McDougall request.

Touchette asked that a motion be prepared and Lefebvre undertook the task. Lionel Leroux asked that the vote be recorded.

Moved by Rheal Lefebvre, seconded by Florence Villeneuve, "That the extension of sewer facilities from the last manhole on Main Street South to service the proposed shopping mall shall be done by the town at the cost of labor, material and equipment and similar projects be treated the same and this be charged to the property owners."

On the recorded vote, Councillors Lionel Leroux, John Cormier and Yolande Viau voted for the motion along with Reeve Lefebvre and Deputy-Reeve Villeneuve.

Against the motion were Councillors Archie McDougall, Raymond Jette and Bruno Lalonde along with Mayor J. P. Touchette.

Leroux told The News "We treat everybody the same." He said that "if it was industry, then we would pay for it."

When asked if the services would be partially paid for by the town in the future, the Industrial Committee chairman said the motion "wouldn't apply to industry."

Several days after the meeting, J. P. Touchette told The News "this thing was voted down and I don't want to make a big deal of it."

Teachers' spokesman raps ratio policy and charges board 'mismanagement'

Teachers' spokesman John Milnes has called for public hearings to avert a possible strike by SD&G County Board of Education teachers next term.

A major clash between the board and its teachers appears imminent following the board's unilateral decision to increase the pupil-teacher ratio once the current contract expires in August.

The board recently adopted a $38.8 million budget which called for an increase in the elementary ratio to 18.5 students for every teacher compared to the current 18.1. The secondary ratio would increase from 17 to 17.5.

Milnes, who is chief negotiator for the elementary teachers, said in a release this week that his negotiating team has told the board "the pupil-teacher ratio position must be resolved before any other subject can be discussed."

He said many members of the public and some trustees believe teachers are simply upset by the proposed teacher lay-offs and are seeking job protection.

"This is not so. Why the sudden need to axe 70 teachers in this board? Why hasn't a public inquiry been demanded to look into these reduced services to the children?"

"Apparently the board believes it has been giving the children too much; the teachers don't believe this and hope the public will insist that the board accounts for its actions."

Milnes said teachers "do accept that lay-offs will occur because of declining enrolment. However, as the professionals directly involved with the children, teachers cannot accept a bigger cut-back of the teaching body because of the board's mismanagement of public finances."

The board has "little understanding of financial matters," Milnes charged.

He said mismanagement was reflected in the following:

"Twenty per cent ($40,000) overspent on the new administration building, building two new high schools within five years of the crunch of declining enrolment, poor administration control of contracts under tender (roof repairs needed at GVSS), underbudgetting last year for teachers' salaries (two per cent was budgetted in a time when inflation was 9.4 per cent)."

Milnes questioned whether taxpayers are "willing to allow such poor administration to deny the children a reasonable educational opportunity or will they insist that they are not made to suffer by the board's bungling?"

Alexandria's growth is slow

Information supplied recently by United Counties planner Larry Cotton shows that Glengarry County has risen in population by 1,146 people since 1975. Of the seven municipalities only Alexandria and Maxville are growing slower now than they were in 1975.

Alexandria has dropped from an annual growth rate of about 2.3 per cent to about .5 per cent. Since 1976 the population has been dropping.

Maxville has swung from growing about .4 per cent annually to dropping about one per cent annually. In the last four years the village has shrunk about 3.8 per cent.

Charlottenburgh is the county's fastest grower, mainly, says Cotton, because it has become a dormitory for Cornwall. Since 1975 the township has risen in population by 11.5 per cent.

Lancaster Village is the second in growth with a four-year rise of 9.7 per cent. Cotton calls the village a dormitory for Montreal.

Kenyon Township has almost regained its 1961 high of 2,821. It now boasts 2,794 people and has risen in annual growth rate from Rector of St. Finnan's Cathedral in Alexandria from 1951-1965, Reverend John D. McPhail died on Good Friday, April 13, at Hotel Dieu, Cornwall.

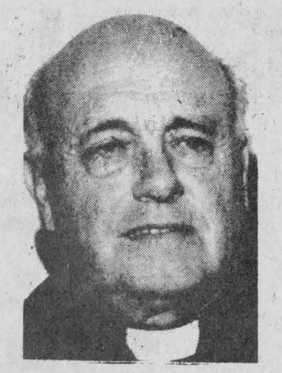
He had collapsed the previous evening at the conclusion of the Holy Thursday celebrations at St. Andrew's Church, St. Andrews West where he had been acting as assistant to Rev. John R. Donihee.

He had served in the Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall for almost 38 years, but had been limited in his abilities since June, 1971, when he suffered a stroke.

He was born in Cornwall Township on October 18, 1907, the son of Roderick McPhail and his wife, Mary Jane Chisholm. He had attended Public School No. 15, St. Andrew's High School, St. Jerome's College in Kitchener, the Seminaire de Philosophie and the Grand Seminaire de Montreal.

Before entering the seminary, Father McPhail had taught for several years. Following his philosophical and theological studies, he was ordained to the priesthood on June 7, 1941, at St. James' Cathedral by Most Rev. Joseph Charbonneau, Archbishop of Montreal.

After ordination, Father McPhail served as an associate pastor for a very short time at St. Finnan's Cathedral, Alexandria, then he went to Our Lady of Grace parish at Dickinson's Landing as administrator until 1944 when he was transferred to St. Columban's. After seven years at St. Columban's, he was named Rector of St. Finnan's Cathedral. In 1965, he became the founding pastor of Blessed Sacrament Parish on Tollgate Road. In 1971 he was forced to retire due to ill health.



REV. JOHN McPHAIL

His congeniality, kindness and humility will be long remembered by his acquaintances and the people he served so well. Father McPhail showed a real pioneer spirit in endeavoring to build the parish of Blessed Sacrament. With his tremendous talent for playing the violin, he succeeded in entertaining people of all walks of life.

He is survived by five sisters, Janet (Mrs. Archibald McDonald), Bernadette (Mrs. Daniel Maloney), Misses Flora, Mae, and Margaret McPhail and also many nieces and nephews.

He was predeceased by two brothers, James and William and one sister, Christina.

St. Andrew's Church was crowded to overflowing when the funeral was held on Monday at 2 p.m. Bishop Eugene LaRocque was chief celebrant of the Mass of

Seniors seeking some aid

The senior citizens of the Glen Robertson area need help to raise money for a new roof on the Glen Recreation Centre, report members of the committee.

The roof has been leaking for some time. The centre is used by the Senior Citizens' Club '65 every week and by the young men and women active in sports.

The concerned citizens are forming committees to organize a fund-raising campaign and have already presented a request to the Lochiel Township council.

The request was received coldly by council and Reeve Ken MacLennan, members report. MacLennan said "There are four centres in the township and if we start giving it (money) to one we have to give it to them all."

He was quick to point out "we haven't even considered it yet," so no final decision has been made.

One of the fund raisers, Bob Rickerd, reminded: "Lochiel gave $25,000 to Alexandria for its arena, why not a little to us?"

MacLennan says that the two centres are completely different as one serves a large community and the other serves a small group of people.

FIRST SALE—Robert Lessard, left, chairman of the Richelieu Bread Blitz, accepts the money from the sale of the first loaf from Alexandria Mayor Jean Paul Touchette. The Richelieu Club president Denis Vaillancourt and his sons Claude and Marc seen here will be supporting the campaign. The blitz, on Sunday, April 29, will tie in with the International Year of the Child and the money will be used to help the poor.

Brenda MacRae wins scholarship

Brenda MacRae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacRae of Lancaster, was one of four Junior Farmer Club members selected to represent the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario on travelling scholarships to the United Kingdom in 1979.

The group will travel to the United Kingdom for a 60-day visit from May 14 to July 12.

This award is sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and is designed to provide the participants with an opportunity to learn more about rural life, farming and youth organizations in the United Kingdom, especially through living as members of host families. With this award they hope to create a close bond between rural young people in Ontario who have participated in the 4-H program and are members of the Junior Farmers' Association, and members of the Young Farmers programs in the United Kingdom.

Brenda graduated from the University of Guelph in 1978 with an Honors Degree in Family Studies and she is presently employed with the Grey-Owen Sound Social and Family Services as a case worker for Welfare Administration in the Meaford area.

Will talk on tourism

Town of Alexandria is holding a one-day hospitality seminar in co-operation with the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism at the Hub Restaurant on Monday, April 23.

The seminar is free of charge with pre-registration and will run from 8:45 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Invitations are being sent to local merchants for the seminar that tries to show how "to improve self confidence, to deal with difficult customers and to know your area better."

A complimentary lunch will be provided if registration is made by April 19. Registration forms can be obtained from the Town of Alexandria office.

Rev. Breton announces his retirement

After serving seven years as pastor of St. Margaret's Church, Glen Nevis, Reverend Patrick Breton has announced his retirement.

A native of Poland, Reverend Witold P. Mazurkiewicz, has been appointed administrator by Bishop Eugene LaRocque. This priest has just come to our diocese having spent the past four years at the parish of Sts. Peter and Paul in North Dakota, in the Diocese of Fargo.

Born August 3, 1922, Father Witold was a member of the Resistance Movement and was a political prisoner of Hitler's prison in Lublin Castle, Poland. He had been arrested as a seminarian and was released from prison on Christmas Eve, 1943. He studied at Lublin Seminary and received his Master's Degree at the University of Lublin. He was ordained on June 29, 1948.

Father Breton was born February 9, 1913 at Thetford Mines, Que. His high school and college educations were completed at the College of Rigaud. In 1941, he began his theological studies at the Grand Seminaire de Sherbrooke and spent his last year of theology at St. Augustine's Seminary in Toronto. Then he was ordained to priesthood at Rigaud College, May 26, 1945, by Most Rev. Rosario Brodeur.

After ordination, Father Patrick Breton served as associate pastor at various parishes throughout the diocese such as Sacred Heart in Alexandria, Nativity and St. John Bosco in Cornwall. During his early years in the priesthood, Father Breton spent a year at St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish studying social services and on his return he became the director of the retreat house in Alexandria for the next two years.

In 1954, he was named pastor of St. James' in Maxville and after two years became pastor of St. Joseph's in Lancaster where he remained for eight years. From Lancaster, he went to Green Valley as pastor and then to Canadian Martyrs in Cornwall. He returned once again to Sacred Heart in Alexandria to become pastor and finally in 1972 he was named pastor of St. Margaret's of Scotland in Glen Nevis where he remained until his retirement which becomes effective April 9, 1979.

Candidates gave talks

by Paul Lacombe

Following a meeting to consider repairs to the Recreation Centre at Glen Robertson, Gordon Johnson, PC candidate, was invited to address the audience.

His first remarks concerned some erroneous reports in some newspapers that he was not a resident of the riding. He owns a second house in Ottawa which is more convenient for his daughters who attend university. Johnson lives in Limoges where he runs a nursing home.

Denis Ethier was there and Johnson addressed him directly, expressing the wish that the campaign would be fair. For his part, Johnson would not consider campaigning at all unless it was on the highest level. Mr. Ethier spoke up, promising to leave his "clubs" at home.

Johnson got down to the unity issue. He criticized the Pepin-Robarts Commission for not holding a hearing within the Glengarry-Prescott-Russell riding. He said they would have found a good example of Canadians of all ethnic origins getting along well together—not without differences, but with tolerance and understanding.

Johnson hopes that the electors of Glengarry-Prescott-Russell will show more independence toward the Liberals whom they have elected continuously over 115 years. He insists that the Liberal Party takes the riding for granted.

Mr. Ethier was also invited to speak. Although he had not yet received the party's nomination, he felt sure that he would be asked to carry the Liberal banner into the campaign. He said that he would "stand on his record."

the Resurrection which was concelebrated by the pastor, Reverend John R. Donihee and five brother priests of the parish, Reverends Ken O'Keefe, C.S.B. of Ottawa; Bernard Cameron, George, Kelvin and Kevin Maloney. The latter acted as Master of Ceremonies. In the sanctuary were Bishop Rosario Brodeur and Monsignor Donald A. Kerr.

Most of the diocesan clergy were in attendance as was Rev. M. D. Dube, pastor of St. Patrick's in Montreal and several clergy members of local congregations. Another long-time friend, Reverend Bruce Ross of Pointe Claire was among the group of Glengarry Strathspey and Reel violinists who joined the mixed choir which was under the direction of Sister Mary MacAlear.

Five cousins served as altar boys: Bobby, Kevin, Kenny, Ronald and Tom Chisholm. The Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus formed an honor guard and pipers Colleen Clancy and Twyla MacDonald played following the funeral.

Pallbearers were five nephews: Alex, Rod, Jim and Archie MacDonald, and John Maloney; John Mesich, George MacDougald and Sylvester MacDonald.

Burial was in St. Andrew's Cemetery.

negative .52 per cent to positive 1.8 per cent.

Lancaster and Lochiel townships have both crossed the line into positive growth again and Lancaster is only eight people away from its 1961 figure of 3,100.

The population of the county as a whole is expected to rise to 19,815 by 1981, to 20,360 by 1986, to 20,905 by 1991 and to 21,450 by 1996.

This information was prepared by Cotton for a Royal Commission on electric power planning. The report shows that the number of households in Glengarry county is rising at a higher annual growth rate than the population.

Alexandria's households increased by 17.4 per cent from 1971 to 1976. Charlottenburgh is right behind with a 17.2 per cent rise and the rest of the municipalities also all show higher increases in households than in people.

Cotton says that this increase is due to smaller family sizes, fewer extended families, higher divorce rates, lower death rates and more single person dwellings.

Says bribe attempted

Prescott-Russell-Glengarry Progressive Conservative candidate Gordon Johnson says he has filed a complaint with the riding's chief electoral officer over a bribe attempt.

Johnson said he received an anonymous phone call about two weeks ago from someone who claimed expenses for Johnson's "opposition" could be reduced if Johnson withdrew from the race.

The caller said the savings would be given to Johnson if he withdrew for "personal or business reasons."

Hydro makes wage offer

Ontario Hydro has offered a contract settlement valued at eight per cent to renew its collective agreement with the Ontario Hydro Employees' Union, CUPE Local 1000.

At a meeting April 1, the union's executive board recommended that members reject the settlement. The union's 15,000 members across Ontario will now vote on the offer. If rejected, Hydro and the employees' union will be in a legal strike/lockout position late in April.

The wage offer includes an increase of eight per cent for all hourly-rated employees. This would bring, for example, the electrician/lineman hourly rate up to $10.67, effective March 29, 1979.

The increase for weekly-salaried employees would vary from six to eight per cent. Other contract improvements include payment of dental fees and increases in shift payments and on-call payments.

The proposed contract would run from April 1, 1979 to March 31, 1980.

The union's last bargaining response called for an 11 per cent increase and further major improvements to employee benefits. Total value of the wage/benefits package sought by the union is about 16 per cent.

Easter week visitors with Mr. and Mrs. John F. Sinclair were Pte. Paul Sinclair RCR, of CFB Gagetown and Pte. Gerald Martin of Camp Borden.

Mrs. Alice Young of Shawville was a recent visitor with Mrs. J. N. Fitzgerald of Peter St.

Miss Leslie Casey of Western University, London, was home for the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Jean Casey.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken F. Higgins and family spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Munro.

RUMMAGE SALE

Everybody busy housecleaning now? Good—and here is what you can do with all the extras that you don't need. The Maxville Brownies are having their annual spring rummage sale on Thursday and Friday, May 3 and 4, at the Community Hall. They need all kinds of clothes, and assorted small articles—kitchenware, patterns, material, and dishes. Drop these off at the Hall.

LIONS AUCTION

And the next day, Saturday, May 5, is the Maxville Lions' Club Spring Auction Sale—the Lions don't want any clothes, etc., but they do need all kinds of large saleable items—furniture, luggage and trunks, antiques, tables, tools, and houseplants. Be generous—the Lions circulate this money all back into our community projects.

LOMBARDO COMING

Every member of the club is working hard getting ready for their biggest event of the year—the visit of Guy Lombardo, on Saturday, May 26, at the Sports Complex. This is really big-time entertainment, and we are lucky that the group comes to Maxville—a thousand guests will just nicely fill the arena.

ANNUAL SPRING CONCERT

Don't forget to go to the Community Hall Friday night for the School of Piping and Drumming's annual Spring Concert at 8:30 p.m. As we said before, it's free—and fine entertainment.

LIONS' WINNER

Dave Munro was the Lions' lucky winner this week—of the second last in this series of draws. You have just this one last chance now.

4-H LEARN OF SIRE ANALYSIS

The Glengarry Senior Calf Club held its first regular meeting on April 11 at the farm of Andre Villeneuve, Maxville. A class of Holstein cows was judged. The lesson was on Sire Analysis. The difference between the type of animal you want—show animal, milking animal, or a combination of both—was discussed in terms of what bull to breed to. Andre gave a run-down of some of his better cows in the barn. Many thanks to Andre and his family for hosting this meeting.

At our next meeting which is to be held at the farm of Carlyle Watts, Lancaster, on May 8, we shall make (or attempt to make!) rope halters.

ARTS AND CRAFTS TO HOLD SHOW

This is also the weekend of the Glengarry Arts and Crafts Ninth show and sale at the Cornwall Civic Complex, Friday and Saturday afternoons. No admission here either, but there will certainly be something there that you will have to take home with you.

THANKOFFERING MEETING

The Afternoon Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held its Thankoffering meeting at the home of Mrs. Rod F. McRae. Following the call to worship there was an In Memoriam service for Mrs. Austin Cameron, and Mrs. Hugh Blair. Mrs. Harold Cameron gave the Scripture reading, and an Easter poem. Mrs. D. G. McNaughton had the meditation on "Something to Shout About." Mrs. Donald Golden led in prayer. Mrs. Rod F. McRae read "What Easter is all About," and followed this with the poem "On Easter Morn." There was a Bible quiz from the Book of John and the story of the writing of "Thy Life was Given for Me" by Frances Ridley Havergal. The Benediction closed the meeting.

TEEN DANCE

Due to a conflict in events—the Teen Dance scheduled for Friday, April 27, has had to be cancelled. There will be one on May 25 at the Sports Complex.

NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibbons and family Tracy and Todd of Montreal, have taken up residence on the St. Elmo East farm formerly owned by Bill Kennedy. Welcome to the community.

LEARNING TO PAINT

The "Young at Heart" Club will hold its regular Monday meeting on April 23 at 8 p.m. in St. Michael's Church Hall. The special guest at this evening meeting will be the "Cameo Lady" Mrs. Carbina of Ingleside who will give a talk and demonstration of her craft, liquid embroidery. Everybody interested is welcome to attend. These instruction sessions are proving very popular with the Senior Citizens. Last Monday their guest speaker was Art Brown of the Benjamin Moore Paint Company, who came through the good offices of Mr. and Mrs. David Baird of the Kolor Korner. Mr. Brown outlined the history of his company, demonstrated a variety of products, illustrating the fashionable new earth colors, and conducted a busy question and answer period.

Maxville Fair to have Trade Fair this year

Spring is here and the Kenyon Agricultural Society has all its plans made for the Spring Fair, June 21 to 24. Friday is Holstein day as usual with the big Eastern Ontario Show. There will be no Dairy Princess Competition in Maxville this year. This has been transferred to Williamstown for the fair early in August.

Saturday is the Ayrshire, Jersey and 4-H Competition. Heavy horses will be showing on Friday and Saturday as usual and the light horses on Saturday and Sunday.

This year the infield in front of the grandstand will be divided in two to accommodate a saddle horse show and a light horse show on Sunday afternoon at the same time.

Since a great many residents of the county now raise beef and sheep, the directors are making an effort to attract new exhibitors in these groups.

Prize money has been raised for the beef classes and where formerly the animals had to be on ROP, they now can be weighed on arrival at the fairgrounds.

Space is available for a larger exhibition of sheep. The sheep and beef shows will be on Sunday afternoon.

The Society has the use of the Sports Complex during the fair and show hall exhibits and crafts will be displayed in the hall in this building, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Another innovation, a "Trade Fair" is planned for the arena itself where there is plenty of room for commercial exhibitors to set up their display.

Exhibitors wanting to rent space here please contact Douglas Clark, Glen Nixon or Wilfred Vallance.

Copies of the fair book are available from Wilfred Vallance, and copies of the ladies' division prize list are available from Mrs. Donalda Vallance.

To facilitate accommodation and bookkeeping, all livestock entries for this year's fair, accompanied by the appropriate entry fee, have to be in to the secretary manager, Wilfred Vallance, by June 1.

CHURCH SUPPER

A reminder that the Spring supper of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will be held on Wednesday, April 25, in the church hall from 4:30 to 8 p.m.

WON PRIZES

The parents' committee of the Maxville Cub Pack are very grateful to the public for the support of their recent raffle. The draw was held on the 10 of April and the winners were Mrs. Donalda Racine of Alexandria, the radio; Mrs. Carol Findlay, Maxville, the calculator; Miss Gladys Roulston, Maxville, the quilted pillow; Miss Melanie Metcalfe of Westhill, the car blanket; and Mrs. Ann Stewart of Dunvegan, the paint tray and roller.

Nuclear advice

Because of the current interest in the nuclear industry, a speaker from Atomic Energy of Canada Limited will be at the 11 a.m. service at Christchurch, Long Sault, next Sunday morning, April 22. He will address the congregation during the service, and afterwards in the hall at an informal hour over coffee. Anyone interested in this topic is welcome to attend.

Bridge results

Results of Alexandria Bridge Club on April 11 were as follows: 1st, Alec Cardinal and Maurice Lemieux. 2nd, Heather Grant and Howard Cunningham; 3rd, Jack Raymond and Ray Lemieux; 4th, Linda MacInnis and Marc Malette; 5th, Leo and Robert Lemieux.

School committee events

The Parents' Committee of St. Bernard's Separate School has just completed one of their major fund-raising projects of the year. This is the Easter Draw—the one time of the year that the pupils are allowed to sell tickets, and in their own behalf as the money is used for a special extracurricular activity at the end of the year.

There are 80 children in the school now, in kindergarten to Grade 7, although next year a pre-kindergarten is planned, and Grade 8 will have returned to the school.

The prizes for the draw were donated by local businessmen, and the winners were from all over the area—Dunvegan, Moose Creek, Green Valley, and Morrisburg. From Cuillerier's Antiques a lovely dish to Florence McManus. Mrs. Emil Socque won the Perm from Helen McGillis, and the Hair Cut by Yvon Leblanc went to Beatrice Dupuis. Mrs. Estelle Besner won Danksin's serving tray, the four quarts of Toyota motor oil went to Brenda Bray, and Barbara Michaud got ten dollars worth of groceries at Quart's M and M. Robert Campbell won a ten dollar certificate for Colbourne's Variety, Mickey McCaskill drives to work with ten dollars' worth of gas from Archie Ouimet's Esso, and Earl Beriault is dining on ten dollars' worth of Clare's Red and White meat. Five dollar certificates were donated by McDonald's Electric, won by Doreen Crites; the Parents' Committee, won by Kenny Urquhart, and Arnold Munro and Keith MacLeod.

On display in the school during the ticket-selling campaign was a large, fat chocolate rabbit. The pupils could buy five cent tickets in a draw for this, and Michelle Paquette won the bunny.

Highland Games plans progressing

President Ian MacLeod, Secretary John Jamieson and other members of the executive met with President George Forgan of of Hamilton, Secretary Charles MacDonald of Goderich and Director Ian Smith of Ottawa who are members of the Pipers' and Pipe Band Society of Ontario. The meeting was held at the Sports Complex in Maxville on Saturday afternoon, April 7.

The upcoming Games on Saturday, August 4 was the subject of discussion and a very cordial and interesting meeting took place.

Two new and very colorful events will be presented, an open bass and open tenor drum contest. This will be held sometime in the late afternoon in the infield.

A good variety of "Massed Band" selections have been promised by the society and Secretary John Jamieson is of the opinion that the Games will be of the usual high calibre. He says inquiries are being received now for grandstand seats. He has also had word from the Sprigs O' Heather Girls' Pipe Band from Moose Jaw, Sask., saying that they hope to be with us this year.

SPORTS in the GLENS

ANGUS H. McDONELL

How exhilarating it is to be back in the Glens! Despite the pleasantness of a southern winter, upon returning to our beloved Glengarry with the Canada geese and April showers, one realizes the truthfulness of that famed poetic expression, "I hope that death will find me, Annan gleann an ro mi og." (In my Bonnie Native Glen.)

The theme of those thoughts became even more convincing when, by coincidence, we were driving home over the hills and through the dales on the King's Road by historic St. Raphael's. We were on our way to the once noted home of hospitality and entertainment founded by a pioneer with a God-given talented Gaelic voice that would rouse the crowds at a St. Andrew's concert, church social and a wedding as he sang Glengarry's Battle Hymn, "Ann an gleann an ro mi og." I am referring, of course, to Duncan Angus MacRae, father of the late distinguished and widely known John D. MacRae and that tradition carried on by grandson "Big Sandy" of the Ottawa Glengarry Club.

Our four-day trek was made all the more pleasant as travelling with us was Mrs. Mary (Marty) Emberg. That is why we were driving on the ancient King's Road heading to the once noted Duncan Angus MacRae home now occupied by Mary's son Jim Emberg and his family.

This memorable home has been renovated to modern status. However, we noted a distinguished tie with pioneer days. Embedded in the fireplace key-stone is the first horseshoe shaped by the original Jim Emberg, young Jim's grandfather, when in the late 1800's he was an apprentice in a Martintown blacksmith shop. What a significant link with more than a half century ago. Not hard to imagine more than a "bit of Gaelic banter" among the forge sparks and anvil ring while Jim Emberg in his Green Valley shop shod a team of Duncan Angus MacRae's horses. No doubt young Jim's thoughtfulness brings a smile of approval to Jim Emberg and Duncan Angus MacRae as they look down from the Valhalla of Glengarrians. Our King's Road entry to the Glens, by a further coincidence, motivated reflections of more pleasant recollections. This time relative to hockey past and present.

Our thoughts were focused on the recent noteworthy amalgamation of the NHL and the WHA. This union will add further interest and prestige to Glengarry's sport history in general and St. Raphael's in particular. Why, you are likely to ask? Well to begin with Glengarry has had ties with the new NHL city of Edmonton ever since Simon Fraser, the Thompsons and a score more Nor'Westers included Edmonton in their history-making explorations of Northwest Canada to the Pacific. And today many Glengarrians are contributors to the industrial and expansion pace that makes Edmonton the fastest growing city in Canada. Now their just reward is the admission of the WHA powerhouse Oilers to the National Hockey League.

A further reference to Edmonton before returning to St. Raphael's. The Oilers we will wager will be in the Stanley Cup playdowns this time next year. But it will not be a first time for Edmonton. About 1921, Ottawa Senators, NHL champs of the East played a two-game total-goal series with Edmonton while on their way to Vancouver for the Stanley Cup finals providing of course that Ottawa won over Edmonton as expected.

An NHL player record was written in the second game, Ottawa won both, has never been and we doubt ever will be equalled. In that game Senators' goalie, Clint Benedict, took a stick swing at an Edmonton forward. Benedict was assessed a two-minute penalty. In those days a goalie served his own penalty. A teenage whirlwind on skates and courage playing his first pro hockey grabbed Benedict's stick and headed for the Ottawa goal. His only other protection was the robust defence of "Buck" Boucher and Eddie Gerard. The two-minute goalie was "King" Clancy. He relieved on defence and the forwards thus setting an all time record of playing every team position during a Stanley Cup playoff game.

Now back to historic St. Raphael's. When the famed Patrick brothers, Lester and Frank, founded the Pacific Coast Hockey League before World War One, they like the WHA promoters but with a lot less money, lured NHA (the then NHL) players to the west coast. Many played professional lacrosse in summer. Among the great forwards to travel West and skillfully wield both lacrosse and hockey sticks was from down St. Raphael's way, a Ranald "Ran" MacDonald. And now, using one of our pet phrases, hockey history has repeated itself. Again from down St. Raphael's way another great forward will be a member of the National Hockey League Blair MacDonald. Edmonton Oilers, the Globe and Mail said, will likely protect in the coming draft goalies Ed Mio and Ken Dryden's brother Dave their sensational young Wayne Gretsky and a graduate from Father O'Brien's open air St. Raphael's rink, Blair MacDonald.

This writer has been one of Blair's most ardent supporters ever since he was a little typical mould of a fitting character in a Tom Sawyer boy's story. That was our initial impression during our first meeting some years ago at a sportsman's breakfast in St. Raphael's hosted by Father O'Brien and his great array of workers. Rough Riders' Moe Racine and I were guests. I can still see a blushing little guy on his way up to the head table for his first award in hockey. I can still see Blair moving up through peewee with authority and the night playing junior "C" when after two strides over the blueline Blair ruffled a Gordie Howe wrist shot scoring a winning St. Raphael's goal.

Next day I met Cornwall Royals president, Bunny Markell at the Cornwallis oasis and urged him to invite to Royals next training camp this promising youngster from the banks of the Beaudette where he learned to skate. (No million dollar arenas in those days.) From that day on, Blair never looked back as he gained the honored distinction of having his name enscribed on the cherished Memorial Cup.

Being of the old guard who has lived with the National Hockey Association becoming the National Hockey League and the fondest memories of hockey greats before and after the first expansion when the Patricks sold their Pacific Coast players to Eastern U.S. clubs, obviously I was hoping Blair would play in the NHL. L.A. Kings drafted Blair but he must have made a better deal with Oilers and the WHA. In retrospect, Blair has come out a winner. He was a member with the best of the WHA players last winter in their series with the Russian team. And now slated to be protected in the draft along with the next Guy Lafleur of the NHL Wayne Gretsky. Blair MacDonald will be highly respected by players and greatly admired by fans in the National Hockey League. What a challenge now faces our minors in the Glens in this luxury era of hockey grants, equipment that costs more than the best cow in the stable when Blair MacDonald and John Wensink had to wait for a patch of ice near the barn to develop their skating legs. Legs, skill, dedication and guts that carried them to the National Hockey League with two of the all-time great cities of hockey history, Edmonton and Boston. Step up to the floodlights fellows, and take a deep bow.

THE GAMBLE NIGHT

In the midst of all the hockey playdowns from the News Cup series to Stanley Cup finals, still another highly entertaining occasion awaits sport fans in the Glens Friday evening, April 27.

The Angus Gray hall in Maxville has recorded a number of memorable events during the Kenyon Agricultural Society's Spring Fairs and the Highland Games. However, when honoring the retiring secretary-manager, Dr. Don Gamble and his capable assistant, Mrs. Gamble on Friday evening April 27, this will be, with apologies to Upper Canada drama fans, "A night to remember."

For the first time, locally, two roasts will be carved and served at a testimonial dinner. The first will be beef of course, and the second the Dean Martin type and the popular "Doc," the victim.

CFRA's widely known Master of the Mike, Ken "The General" Grant is already honing a slicer to razor edge as he prepares to fill the Dean of Martini's role at the head table.

Co-chairmen Brian Arkinstall and Walter Blaney are keeping undercover the "roasters" who are slated to take Gamble off the skewer either rare, medium or you can bet, well done.

As the seating capacity is limited, fans are urged to purchase tickets well in advance. Several outlets are noted in another column. Following the dinner program Sylvester MacDonald and his Clansmen will provide the dance music.

Fastball league to hold meeting

Four of the teams that played in the Alexandria Men's Fastball League last year are not competing this year.

Plants, Greens and Things

by Sheila Olson

Some sixty years ago the African violet was discovered in the "hilly regions of Eastern tropical Africa," and in 1893 it flowered for the first time in Europe, thousands of miles from its native haunts. From the day of its discovery, the 'Saintpaulia' took the horticultural world by storm.

The African violet, East African violet, or Usambara violet, as it is also called, is of course not a violet at all, even though it does come from Africa and its more usual deep purple blooms are of violet form and color. Actually it is a member of the Gesneria family to which belongs also the velvet-leafed gloxinias, the episcias, some of which are scarlet, and the flaegelias, the probable source of a yellow violet through crossbreeding, if such is indeed a possibility.

The "Saintpaulia" was discovered by the Baron Walter von Saint Paul, the Imperial District Captain of Usambara, a province of Tanganyika, and he sent the seeds or more likely plants to his father in Germany, and called them "das violette Usambara."

Crusader News

On Friday, April 6, the first annual Char-Lan talent show was held. A lot of courageous performers got up in front of our student body and gave their best. It seems that a student audience is the most demanding of all audiences and the entertainers involved in the show weren't intimidated by their peers. One of the highlights of the show was a group called the "Cacaphonic Crusaders" which was made up of a number of teacher musicians, Mr. Cotterell, Mr. Bryan, Mr. Johns and Mrs. MacDonald. They played a Dixieland number and a Blues section which brought the house down. I feel that the show was a success and should be held two or three times a year to promote student and teacher participation.

The Badminton Tournament which was to be held April 18 was unexpectedly held last Thursday. With two days to prepare the results were not as we had hoped, particularly when half of the students on the team had exams the same day and couldn't participate, but we won our share of matches nevertheless.

Warning to propane users

A new consumer booklet titled "Propane and Your Recreational Vehicle" has just been released by the ministry of consumer and commercial relations.

Designed primarily for trailer, camper and motorized home owners, the booklet familiarizes consumers with the properties of propane and alerts them to the safety hazards that can be created through its misuse. It also provides safety tips on using and installing propane equipment, transporting and storing cylinders and checking the propane system for leaks.

"Every summer, consumers in Ontario are injured or lose personal property through the improper handling of propane, or careless maintenance of propane equipment," said Herb Jones, director of the ministry's fuels safety branch. "Most of these accidents could be prevented if consumers took a few simple precautions."

Consumers may obtain copies of the booklet free of charge by writing: Consumer Information Centre, Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations, 555 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 2H6. Ref: Frank Emmerson (416) 963-0339.

New owner for Canfarm

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan has officially handed over the ownership and operation of Agriculture Canada's Canfarm program to its new company, Canfarm Co-operative Services.

The changeover, which took place at a ceremony here, involved the signing of official documents by Whelan and Peter Hannam, an Ontario farmer and president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, who is the first president of the new company. Canfarm Co-operative Services has a board of directors composed of representatives from coast to coast, and is a farmer-owned co-operative to serve farmers.

"I offer my personal congratulations to the new company and wish it the very best in the future," Whelan said. "I will support the new company in every way I can."

Whelan noted that he was personally proud at the way farmers and farm organizations—especially the Canadian Federation of Agriculture—rallied to the support of the Canfarm program to ensure its continuation. The program resulted from more than 10 years of research and development by Agriculture Canada.

Several computerized programs are operated by Canfarm, including a farm record-keeping service, a dairy feed formulation program and other farmer services. Some new programs, such as a sow management and beef feedlot service for maximizing feedlot profits, are currently being tested. The service operates on a subscription basis from participating farmers.

"I know that one of the company's first objectives will be to broaden the marketing base through producer organizations with their service personnel and contacts across the country," Mr. Whelan said.

Junior Farmers attend workshop

Four Glengarrians joined 35 other Junior Farmer delegates from across Ontario at the Press Reporter and Treasurers' Workshop at the Four Seasons Hotel in Belleville. Representing Glengarry county were Barbara Howes, Phyllis MacGillivray, Stuart McIntosh and Mary VanLoon.

The workshop, co-sponsored by the Bank of Nova Scotia and organized by the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario, began Friday evening, April 6 with registration. Delegates were then welcomed by David Walker representing the J. F. Association.

Pat Killoran, who was the former Assistant Agricultural Representative in the Alexandria office, gave us a short address on selling ourselves in practical situations we face in life.

A chance for all the delegates to get to know one another was given by participating in an assortment of games and dances.

Saturday's full day began at 7:45 with breakfast and then the delegates met for a short, general meeting.

Treasurers and Press Reporters then split into their perspective groups. The treasurers learned how to organize their books, how to make up a budget and the purpose of auditing their clubs' books.

Press Reporters learned how to write a news report that will be read, and what is involved in putting together a newsletter.

The workshop gave an opportunity for the delegates to ask resource people and speakers questions that will help them in their jobs. All the delegates went back to their counties with ideas and initiative Saturday evening when the workshop was over.

Brucellosis rates change

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan today announced an increase in maximum compensation paid for cattle ordered slaughtered under Agriculture Canada's brucellosis eradication program.

The new rates also apply to cattle slaughtered because of tuberculosis.

Effective March 30, 1979, a farmer receives up to $1,100 for grade dairy cattle and $1,600 for purebred dairy cattle ordered slaughtered. For beef cattle, the rate is $800 for grade animals and $1,100 for purebred cattle.

The rates are up from the previous maximum compensation of $650 for grade cattle and $900 for purebred cattle.

"In the past, compensation rates were the same for dairy and beef cattle," Mr. Whelan said. "But we increased the rate for dairy cattle to more realistically reflect the average market value of that class of cattle. Compensation was also adjusted upwards for beef cattle for the same reason."

There will be no change in the procedure for payment. The farmer receives payment from the slaughter house to which diseased cattle are sent. The new compensation rates make up the difference between the carcass value and the market price up to the new maximum rates.

In the year ending April 1, 1978, Agriculture Canada paid out $6.9 million in brucellosis compensation and $50,000 for cattle ordered slaughtered because of tuberculosis.

As of February 28, 1979, there were 249 herds under quarantine for brucellosis in Canada. Just over one half were in Ontario.

"We are making great strides in bringing brucellosis under control by slaughtering diseased animals," Mr. Whelan said.

"The number of herds under quarantine has dropped by more than 25 per cent in the last three months. However, we must not relax the safeguards until all herds are free of the disease."

Scouts to plant 10,000 seedlings

Norman Jennings, president of Stormont and Glengarry District Council, has announced that 762 Scouts, Cubs, Venturers and Beavers will participate in the national "Trees for Canada" project.

He expects that Stormont-Glengarry Scouts will plant 10,000 trees. Nationally it is expected that almost three million trees will be planted this year. Mr. Jennings stated that the "Trees for Canada" project is designed to give all members of Scouting the opportunity to demonstrate, through action, their concern for Canada.

The project will help beautify Canada and provide a future resource for all Canadians. It will also focus national attention on a common but nevertheless renewable natural resource in an era of concern related to energy. To ensure that the trees will be planted with the maximum chance for survival, Stormont-Glengarry Council has arranged for all participants to receive practical training in conservation and reforestation.

The Department of Natural Resources will assist in this instruction which will be given in Cornwall at Trinity Hall on April 17 and 19. Instruction will also be given at Alexander School in Alexandria on April 19.

Jennings pointed out that "Trees for Canada" is also a fund raising project for Stormont-Glengarry Council. The funds raised will be used to help further Scouting in the community, to develop the Apple Hill camp and meet other local needs. Some of the money raised will be used to support the efforts being expended in the improvement of the Morrison Island campsite.

Each boy participating in the project will be expected to plant a given number of trees. Before the tree planting day, May 5, each Scout will seek pledges from the community. "Each household will only be contacted by one Cub or Scout" said Mr. Jennings. "We hope that people will remember this when they make their pledges."

Best season for waterfowl

April is one of the best months of the year to see waterfowl, according to the Federation of Ontario Naturalists. As they wing their way northward towards breeding grounds in the Arctic or the prairies, many ducks make use of Ontario's fields and rivers for rest and refreshment.

While about 20 species of ducks can be seen in Ontario over the course of spring migration, some are much more common than others. Biologists have grouped ducks into two categories—dabblers and divers. At this time of year, dabblers are often found on flooded fields or shallow marshes, where their tip-up method of feeding allows them to reach the small plants and invertebrates along the bottom. Divers, on the other hand, actually swim under water to capture their prey, and are often conspicuous on large rivers or lakes.

Migratory ducks are congenial fellows, usually flocking together to show off their fine spring plumage and squabble politely over future mates. A closer look at a flooded marsh will often reveal Mallards, with males sporting flashy green headdress and a rich chestnut waistcoat. Sometimes alongside will be Pintails, their elegant necks with distinctive white stripe and long spikey tails presenting one of the most graceful waterfowl profiles. Smaller, less colorful ducks are probably Blue-winged Teal, who show a distinctive white crescent in front of their eyes.

One of the most frequent divers on flood-swollen rivers is the Common Goldeneye. These "whistlers," which produce an audible whistling sound from the wings while flying, show snow white undersides and a dime-sized white spot just below the eye. Another river duck, the Bufflehead, has similar markings but is smaller with a prominent white crest behind the eye. These round little "butterballs" always seem to be in good spirits, splashing and chasing each other in rapid, twisting flight.

If you are just beginning to take an interest in watching birds, ducks are one of the easiest groups to get started on. During April, they are easily seen and relatively tame, and their large size and distinctive markings helps make identification easy. On your way to work, or on trips across the countryside, keep an eye on those flooded fields and swollen rivers—you may be surprised how quickly you can learn our common spring ducks.

FCC has new interest rates

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan today announced a change in the interest rates charged by the Farm Credit Corporation. The interest rate for loans under the Farm Credit Act and the Farm Syndicates Credit Act will be 10¾ per cent.

"These rates are reviewed twice a year and fixed on April 1 and October 1 for the following six months. The rates are based on the yields on government bonds," said Mr. Whelan.

The rate for the period ending on March 31, 1979, was 10 per cent for loans under the Farm Credit Act and 9¾ per cent for loans under the Farm Syndicates Credit Act.

He said that the increase is the result of continued upward pressure on interest rates in the Canadian economy. Today's change is required by the Regulations under the Farm Credit Act.

Rabbit Club meets

The Glengarry 4-H Rabbit Club's first meeting was held on April 3, 1979 at the Char-Lan District High School in Williamstown. Ten members joined and eight were present Tuesday.

This was primarily our organizational meeting, in which we elected officers and planned our next four meetings. Being a new club the original organizational meeting had a low attendance but because word spread that this rabbit club was to be something special, more people came to the first meeting.

Our president is Corey Van Loon, vice-president is Wally Wood, secretary is Kim de Haas and the news reporter is Kim Warwick. Our leaders are John Van Loon and his wife.

After planning our next four meetings we talked about our project and were then shown the parts of the rabbit. Feeding of our rabbits was also discussed.

Our meetings will be held the first Tuesday of every month right up to August and the Williamstown Fair. The next one will be held on the first of May.

Martintown Rumor Mill

Art Buckland—528-4261

St. Andrew's United Church, Martintown, experienced two spiritually uplifting services (Good Friday and Easter Sunday). We had to "dust off" unused pews to accommodate the large crowds gathered to commemorate the death and celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Friday's community service featured not one, not two and no, not three, but four pulpit personages.

Music is always a vital portion of a service. We were well treated on both occasions. Friday, the choir, Mr. Don Hallbert, St. Lawrence, on violin accompanied by organist Allison Murray, and Hugh McGregor, hymn singer and guitarist, all contributed to the high purpose of the service.

On Easter Sunday, the choir's singing including the three junior members, Allison Murray's organ playing, Alan MacGregor's trumpet playing and brother Hugh's hymns again contributed to the occasion.

With four people participating in Friday's service, Mr. Don Hallberg, (St. Lawrence) Miss Alice Fraser (Apple Hill), Rev. Ross McDonald (Martintown Presbyterian) and host Rev. Ed McDonald, traffic to and from the pulpit was heavy, but well co-ordinated. Their sharing of the service was effective and interesting.

One person in the congregation, and it wasn't Mrs. West, was intrigued with the logistics of the four parsons sitting on the three chairs at the front of the church.

Hugh MacGregor, son of June and Gordon of Martintown east, will be heading west this weekend for the Okanagan Valley. He will be teaching for four months in things ecclesiastic.

The Glengarry Arts and Crafts show is this Friday, April 20, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, April 21, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Cornwall Complex. GAC member Mrs. Gerry Elliott sends along this information.

My spring contest concludes next week. Send your thoughts about spring (song, poem, prose, sketch) to me at Glen Falloch, K0C 1S0, or drop them at The News. Books will go to contestants.

Brigadoons head to the North Pole this weekend to entertain the troops and the musk oxen. Sounds like quite a trip.

Eileen Merkley has just published "Cornwall: The Friendly City That Grew." Worth reading. Her book points out that nothing is permanent, former Cornwall landmarks are gone: Central Park, the canal, the river swimming holes and so on.

Susan Clark, Glen Falloch east, was around canvassing faithfully for Cancer Research.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim MacGillivray, Black River Road, have just returned from the South. "Just a month this year," Jim reported.

The good wife reports from her early morning trips to let the dogs out (after I elbow her out of the sack) that partridge are drumming, geese are honking, the roosters are crowing, the horses are whinnying and the old goat keeps snoring.

The rumor that we are selling the farm and taking off on a sailing trip round the world is not true. The truth is that my cousin, transferred to Toronto from Montreal, a popular transfer these days, suddenly needs a storage space for his sailboat, and our place is that temporary harbor.

Lambton County parents seek censorship of two classics because of repeated mild profanity. Can you imagine reading "Who Has Seen the Wind" just to count the 'bad' words?

Alex Fraser's quarterly issue of the "Highland Heritage" newsletter is selling well in the area. The latest issue has Robin Wall's sketch of St. Andrew's in Williamstown on the cover. In addition some of the contents include: A biographical sketch of the Martintown and Williamstown United Church minister, Rev. Ed McDonald, Rena Upton's article on the Williamstown High School, Ewan Ross, on a lost cemetery and a query from Alex re production of local post cards.

Father McPhail has passed away; a great man of a great land.

Land of Hope and Glory, Mother of the Free,
How shall we extol thee, who are born of thee?
Wider still and wider shall thy bounds be set;
God, who made thee mighty, make thee mightier yet.

Ontario assessment team sent to PA

Energy Minister James Auld has advised that a four-man Ontario scientific team has been sent to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to assess the implications for Ontario of the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant incident.

"The team's objectives are two-fold," the Minister said. "First, they are to provide up-to-the-minute information on the procedures being taken to normalize conditions at the plant. Second, the team will observe the precautionary public safety procedures which have been put into effect by the responsible United States' agencies."

The assessment team is composed of representatives of the Ministry of Energy, the Occupational Health and Safety Branch of the Ministry of Labor, and Ontario Hydro.

Mr. Auld said he was reassured that conditions so far in the plant, near Harrisburg, are such that there is no perceived danger to any Ontario residents.

He also stated that, since the incident occurred last Wednesday, close contact has been maintained with U.S. utility authorities, with the responsible Canadian federal Government agencies, and, through them, with the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Slaughter expected down

This year's slaughter of beef cattle could be 12 to 15 per cent below the 1978 level, say Agriculture Canada economists, and could drop a further 10 to 15 per cent in 1980.

Strong consumer demand appears to be responsible for sharp beef price increases so far this year, the economists say. But the price outlook for the remainder of 1979 is uncertain.

The key factor in the beef supply picture is the greatly reduced slaughter of female cattle, caused in part by Canadian farmers rebuilding their herds.

WMS to have memoriams

by Mrs. H. MacMillan

Mrs. Ian Kennedy presided at the WMS Easter Thankoffering meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Martintown, at the home of Mrs. Harvey McMillan.

The meeting opened with an Easter reading and a hymn.

Scripture lessons based on each day's events of Holy Week followed. Readers were Miss Mae Munro, Mrs. Wm. Cooper, Mrs. Duncan Christie, Mrs. Andrew MacLean, Miss Emily MacInnes, Mrs. Stuart Blackadder, Mrs. Alpin MacGregor and Mrs. John Stringer.

The minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report was presented. It was decided to honor the memory of former dedicated members, Dr. and Mrs. Robertson Millar and Mrs. Kenneth McRae, with "In Memoriams." Members reported 37 cards and 37 visits to sick and shut-ins. The text word was "season."

Mrs. Ray Markell, convener of the worship service, presented a meditation, "Chosen Witnesses" discussing the people to whom the Risen Lord appeared.

The offering was received, and dedicated by Mrs. Markell.

Martintown UCW plans coming events

The executive of Martintown UCW met on the afternoon of March 26 at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jean Barton. The president welcomed all present and gave a reading "One Solitary Life."

The main purpose of the meeting was to plan coming events.

The 175th anniversary Cookbook is ready for the printers and should be available in May. Dates for a retreat at St. Anicet May 15-16 and Summer Event in Ottawa Aug. 17-19 were announced but no one had definite plans to attend.

A chicken barbeque is planned for Wednesday, August 1 with details to be made later.

The UCW will place flowers in the church sanctuary for Good Friday and Easter. Mrs. Grace Kinloch reported that the Manse Committee met recently and purchased a new water heater and repaired the TV antenna.

Mrs. Eva MacMillan, stewardship convener, asked for LENTEN folders to be turned in to the unit leaders after Easter. Supply secretary Mrs. Irene West, is prepared to collect men's clothing for Friendship House in Cornwall. Donations of men's clothing can be left at the church during April.

The next meeting will be a general meeting, possibly in June, with details to be announced later.

Expert says alcoholics a safety hazard on the job

Alcoholism is the most costly and destructive public health problem facing this generation, a specialist in alcoholism and drug addiction told nearly 140 representatives from industry today.

Gordon M. Patrick, president of the consulting firm of Gordon Patrick and Associates of Toronto, was speaking at a session on "Alcoholism—Human Error and Safety" at the 62nd Annual Conference of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association of Ontario (IAPA) which began today and runs until Wednesday at the Royal York Hotel.

"Employees who are suffering from the disease we call alcoholism, or a harmful dependence on drugs, will create a significant safety hazard and drain on a company's resources," said Mr. Patrick, adding that many alcoholics in treatment have been on the job at least 10 years before their employers become aware that they have a problem.

A conservative estimate places the number of alcoholics employed in the province at five per cent of the work force, he said.

Urging management and unions to establish alcohol control programs in their firms, he said that up to 80 per cent of the employees who receive early treatment will recover and will prove to be better than average employees.

The potential for success when employers intervene, however, is hampered by a lack of experienced, competent professionals to deal with alcohol and drug misuse, said Mr. Patrick.

"I am concerned about the scarcity of good treatment in this province. Only a small minority of professionals and agencies know any more about alcoholism than the man on the street," he said.

Protection from 'untimely publicity'

A private members' bill currently before the provincial legislature raises a serious question about freedom of the press.

Bill 28, "An Act to protect the Reputation of Innocent Persons from Untimely Publicity," will likely suffer the fate of most private members' bills and fade away. Still, it highlights one of the most controversial issues concerning newspaper people today, namely, whether or not to publish the names of people charged with criminal offences.

The purpose of the bill "is to protect persons who have been charged with an offence from adverse publicity until such time as a court begins to hear evidence in the case or the person enters a plea of guilty to the offence."

The bill notes that it is a principle of law that a charged person "is innocent and so remains until proven guilty in accordance with due process of the law."

It then states that "no person shall publish or broadcast any report in Ontario of an offence committed or alleged to have been committed under the law of Ontario or Canada that contains the name of the person accused of committing the offence, the name of a relative of the accused person, or any other information that is reasonably likely to disclose the identity of the accused person until the trial of the person has commenced and the person has pleaded guilty to the offence or the court has begun to receive evidence in respect of the offence."

The Act is an attempt to rectify an unfairness which exists in our society due to the general public's reaction to people charged with an offence. Although the law says a person is innocent until proven guilty, in the eyes of many people, a person is guilty as soon as his name appears as charged.

Even if a person is found innocent in court, the fact that he or she was charged in the first place, leaves a lasting scar.

For this reason, The News does not print the names of people charged with offences until the matter comes before the courts. We know of other papers which follow a similar policy. We also know that we are in the minority.

Media people react with hostility when the government attempts to place controls on the flow of news—regardless of how noble the government's motives may be. A successful attempt to manage the news creates a precedent which, in turn, is used as justification for further encroachments on freedom of the press.

Bill 28, we feel, goes too far. What it says is that news should be withheld from the public because the public will misinterpret it, i.e. people will not appreciate the fact that a person is innocent until proven guilty.

In other words, we might confuse people with the facts.

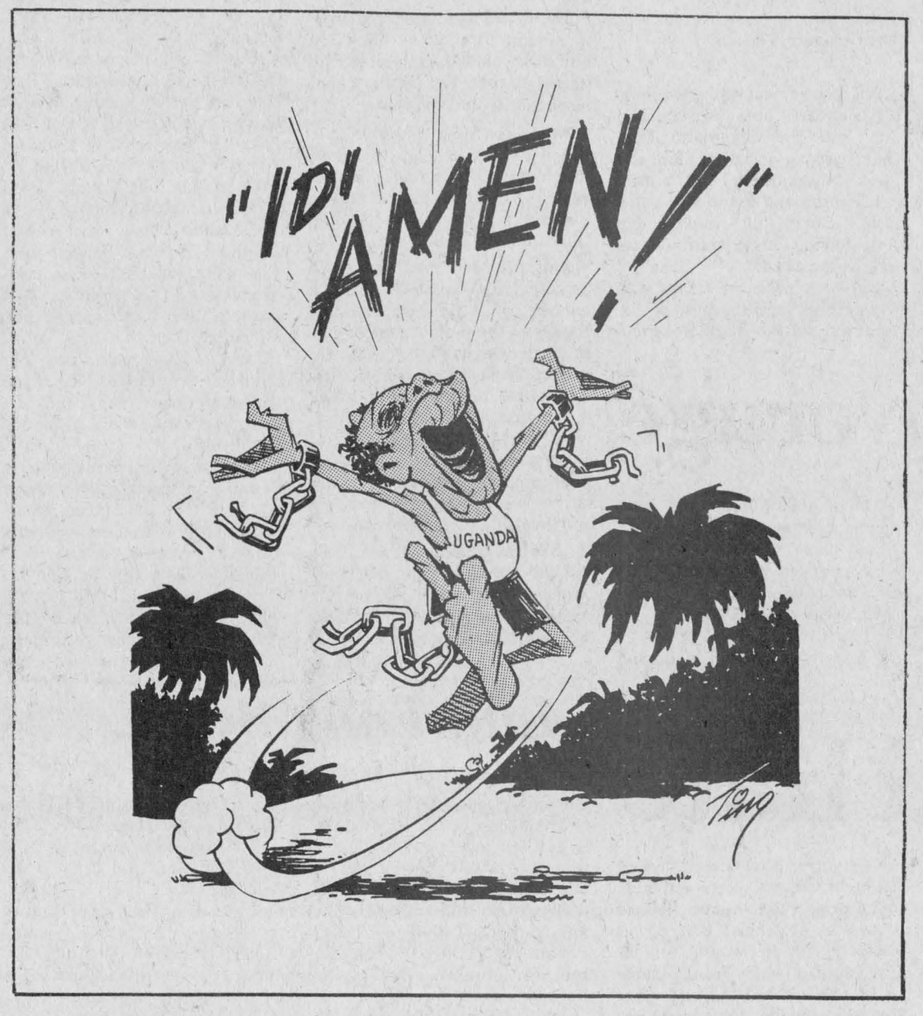
We sympathize with the concerns expressed in Bill 28 and long ago decided, on our own, to follow such guidelines. We cherish the right to make that choice, however, and do not relish the thought of it being legislated.

The bill, itself, will fall well short of attaining the goal it seeks. Since the law would allow press coverage of the trial, the accused person's name would still be published in advance of a verdict.

What is at stake, though is the principle of freedom of press. We simply cannot endorse a law that dictates, if the truth hurts, don't print it.

There's an old saying: You can take a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. Likewise, the media can provide the facts, but it can't make people think.

The real solution to misunderstanding, however, is education, not the suppression of the truth.



The pupil-teacher ratio struggle

Two teachers' spokesmen have predicted a strike next year if SD&G County Board of Education persists in its stated goal of increasing the pupil-teacher ratio.

The board recently struck a budget which assumes an increase in the number of pupils per teacher. This would result in a reduction of teachers and, consequently, savings in teachers' salaries.

The teachers contend that the increase in the ratio will create larger classes and detrimentally affect the quality of education. The teachers say the students are their prime concern.

Teachers' critics, on the other hand, see the move as part of a campaign to retain teaching positions during a time of declining enrolment.

The board cannot help but be cognizant of the prevalent public attitude towards teachers so trustees may be prepared to weather a strike to prove their point.

Elementary teachers' spokesman John Milnes has suggested holding public meetings at which both sides could give their cases and the public could be the judge.

If such events could be prevented from turning into a travelling circus, it could prove worthwhile. It's time the general public took a closer look at what's happening.

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

"Father John McPhail has joined the ceilidh in the sky" was the way one teenager put it when he heard of his death last week. So many will remember the good priest with tenderness, and for many justifiable reasons.

First of all for his devotion to his priesthood and the respect for this calling which his bearing inspired in everything he did. But isn't it strange, and this applies to so many, people are not remembered so much for their particular profession as they are for some other characteristic. And while Father McPhail will always be remembered for his dedication to his religious vocation, it will be for his music and promotion of the arts that he will go down in memory's annals.

It is not easy to mix the altar and the stage and appear untainted in the eyes of those who like to criticize. But Father John had a dignity that carried it off and each somehow complemented the other.

Most of us will picture him on stage, beside his line-up of fellow violinists drawing the bow as they harmonized the old-time tunes.

Difficult it is to explain to the young folk today, the problems of learning music back in the days when travelling was a lengthy process and lessons were a problem. So if a young violinist had to pick up a violin tune, it was by ear, when he heard a melody at a dance or party. When he went home to try it out by himself, he might not always have remembered the exact notes and different violinists had their own versions. So when two or more violinists tried to play together, they had little differences in the "variations" that were not always easy to settle, depending on the temperament of the artist.

Father McPhail read music, and when he got the "boys" together for practises, the arguments were settled. Mind you, he wasn't the only violinist who read music, but he did provide a great leadership in this category.

He loved to encourage the young to play. But, "learn the notes," he would urge. "Don't just depend on your ear."

Violin music wasn't his only pastime. Drama, musicals, art, song and dance—he loved to promote them all, and used to tie them all into concerts.

He would have the great artist, Stuart McCormick doing a whole mural for the back of the stage for a concert play in Alexander Hall. Maybe two murals. The likes of that could not be assessed, moneywise. People came out, night after night to practise for plays, for songs, for dances. For fun. He had a knack of making folks just want to do the like.

This was back when there were not the opportunities for school orchestras and extra-curricular activities to encourage young people.

"Keep up the old songs and music," he would say, over and over. "These are part of our heritage."

I last spoke to him a few months ago. "I heard you went to Scotland last summer" he said. "I'm sure you got the same surprise I did. Here we've been singing the praises of a country that doesn't have half as much to sing about as our own. I hope you'll get back to writing some songs. Remember, there is no better way to promote our history."

You are so right Father McPhail. Like you said, we will all have to remember we have a great country to promote in song and story. Myself included.

Perspective

Students are right on

Two groups deserve commendation this week for their handling of important issues at Glengarry District High School.

School board trustees have earned praise for the highly principled stand they took last Tuesday when they refused to ratify a staff recommendation calling for the establishment of a two-principal system at GDHS.

The trustees refused to discuss the topic because school and board officials sprang the issue on the school committee only days earlier, without prior notice, and then attempted to compound the error by holding the meeting behind closed doors.

Although the meeting was opened due to pressure by the press and dissatisfied committee members, interested people did not attend the gathering because they were told it would be closed to the public.

Committee meetings are supposed to be open to the public and the trustees took a very dim view of this attempt at secrecy. Consequently, they have ordered the holding of another committee meeting—this one to be publicized as open.

The second breath of fresh air to waft its way through the school's corridors is a decision by the students' council to abolish racial and sexual segregation in school elections.

As readers will recall, school officials hastily put through policy changes last year which required students' council candidates to declare themselves either English-speaking or French-speaking representatives. The candidates also had to be chosen on the basis of two boys and two girls.

Many students immediately recognized the detrimental ramifications such racial name-tagging can have on social values and quickly protested this "separate but equal" philosophy.

At the time, school officials noted that the students' council, itself, had gone along with the policy change, although it became evident the idea originated elsewhere.

Now the new students' council has had a chance to examine the change and is recommending a return to the old desegregated system.

In a brief scheduled to be discussed at the next meeting of the committee, the students recommend that student councils "will be chosen on their leadership qualities only (no restrictions on sex or language)."

It is encouraging to see the students avoid the pitfalls that seem to have claimed so many of their parents. The new "wisdom" of the times dictates that only Francophones should represent Francophones and only Anglophones should represent Anglophones, and never the twain shall meet.

What that philosophy does to undermine the Canadian political tradition is obvious. Our predominantly English-speaking country has been admirably served by French-Canadian prime ministers in the past. Now we are being told that we cannot trust members of the opposite language group to represent us. It's nothing short of racism. And while many of the older generation are reluctant to call a spade, a spade, the young people have not hesitated to denounce this segregationist policy for the insidious, divisive element it is.

They want no part of it.

In their courage and integrity of purpose, lies the hope of a nation.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

For those of you who are new to the Glengarry area, like me and don't know the background of the Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded I did a little researching and found out a few facts about this vital active Association. I hope you find it as interesting as I did.

In 1965, a parent of a child who was of school age but could not be admitted to the regular school system came to the Lochiel Township Public School Board for help.

The Board appointed two of its members, Mrs. Louis Shepherd and Mrs. John Grant to meet with Harold Barber, the public school inspector, to find an answer.

Miss Jean McIntosh, PHN, was asked to head a team to survey and find out if there were enough retarded children in the area to warrant a school. The findings indicated a definite "yes."

Angus R. MacDonell was asked to help. He was at the time a teacher of boys' occupational classes in the high school as well as a talented public speaker. He worked tirelessly to set up the various meetings required before the association was formed, travelled many miles to talk to parents of prospective pupils. He later proved he was very good at interesting others in the cause and involving them in the work.

After the initial work was done and the public became aware of the need for a school, the project became a county-wide project and the number of groups, service clubs, and individuals who helped was too great to list.

The first school opened April 1967 in the Masonic Hall. There were 13 pupils. Mrs. Alan McCaskill was in charge of the English section and Mrs. Paul Viau, the French section. Due to heavy financing the school was moved in Sept. 1967 to a former private school, "Marie Goretti."

When the SD&G County Board of Education was formed, some of the smaller schools were closed and the Alexandria Public School was made available to the retarded children. This is the present location. The school is called "Harmony Glen."

There is much more to tell you about this association, such as the workshop, and plans for the future, but I will leave that for our next report.

Right now the association is planning a spring dance to be held April 28 at Sacred Heart Parish Hall, Alexandria. Tickets will be $2, advance sale and $2.50 at the door. Music by Dr. Roman. The monies raised at this event will be put to good use by the association. Why don't you make up a party and come and meet the members of the Glengarry Association. They would love to meet you. If you want tickets for the dance please call 525-1487 or 874-2459.

We are looking for volunteers, boys, girls, young, and old to form a group who will be a friend of the retarded. If you have any spare time please call 874-2459.

The Glengarry Association will be holding their General Meeting April 19 at Glengarry Memorial Hospital Board Room, 8 p.m. Why don't you come along and bring a friend. We need you.

The Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded is at your service. If you have any question or information you feel we can use please call me, or write P.O. Box 39, Alexandria, Ontario, K0C 1A0.

The Glengarry News:

On behalf of the members of the Glengarry Genealogical Society I would like to thank the Glengarry News for publishing a picture of our new home in the March 7, 1979 issue.

This is just another instance of how the Glengarry News tries to keep its readers well informed on interesting local activities.

Maybe this would be a good time to mention that Sunday, May 20 we plan to hold our annual meeting at our new home 11 Oak St., Lancaster.

Everyone will be welcome.

Thank you,

Could breed hate

April 15, 1979

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

So Glengarry is forging ahead. I wonder if all Glengarrians are proud to be the "guinea pigs" for this supposedly "first" in Canada?

When I went to GDHS, the English and French population was the same as it is now and I do not feel deprived in any area. I respected and admired both Mr. Lawson (then principal) and Mr. Gauthier. Being bilingual in today's society is a definite advantage when seeking employment, but I have yet to hear of a firm that divides their employees into a French and English section with separate bosses. Everyone works together.

How is a teenager supposed to be able to get along with his future co-workers? Is he or she going to become friends with only the people of his own language? He would be missing out on a lot if that were the case. I feel that if this system is set up at GDHS, we will be contributing to the language problems of Canada. French can teach English and vice-versa, but if people become segregated because of their language, our knowledge of life and other human beings will be stunted.

Glengarry has always been active in various sports activities and a project like this would lead to serious problems. Before you know it, there would be an English team and a French team, and that would be a shame for our budding athletes. They would not get the opportunity they deserve.

At present, I am working in Ottawa and when asked if there are any bilingual problems in our county, I am proud to say "no." But I fear that such a proposed system in our high school would harm the future citizens of this country. It will be the beginning, however small, of the destruction of the peace and harmony we have always known. I agree that a bilingual person in Canada today is better able to broaden his horizons, but the end result of this escapade will be a cultural hate as bad as the religious one in Ireland.

At a time of political confusion such as in Canada today, we need to stay together, not pull apart. We learn this first of all in our schools later practising it in our daily lives.

Small game season opens in September

Ontario's seasons for small game, such as game birds, rabbits and squirrels, will open in 1979 on the last Saturday in September to coincide with the opening date for waterfowl hunting in many southern parts of the province, Natural Resources Minister James A. C. Auld said recently.

The Minister said that hunting zones are the same as those described in the 1978 hunting summary, with the exception of zones 11 and 12 which have been changed and the addition of number 13 as a new zone. Zone 13 encompasses a 10-mile strip along the Hudson Bay shoreline from the Manitoba border to the Brant River.

Zones 12 and 13 correspond to areas with an extended season for sharp-tailed grouse and ptarmigan.

"The grouse and ptarmigan season in Zone 13 will open on September 11, four days earlier than last year, and will coincide with the opening of the waterfowl season to provide additional hunting opportunities," Mr. Auld said.

Rabbits covered in the open seasons include cottontail, varying (snowshoe) hare and European hare. Squirrels (black or grey, and fox) and game birds (ruffed grouse, spruce-grouse, sharp-tailed grouse, ptarmigan, Hungarian partridge, bob-white quail and pheasant) are also included.

A shortened bob-white quail season—October 24-November 10 as compared to October 18-December 15 in 1978—is planned for Elgin and Middlesex Counties next fall.

"We want to determine whether the shorter season will allow quail in these areas to recover from setbacks which resulted from several harsh winters," Mr. Auld explained.

"There'll also be a shorter season for squirrels in Elgin and Middlesex because their numbers have declined and have remained persistently low over the past few years."

Mr. Auld said that southern Ontario's cottontail population rises and falls periodically and 1978 was one of the low years. He said it's still too early to predict the status of cottontails for 1979-1980 but ruffed grouse and snowshoe hare numbers are expected to remain at moderate population levels.

Hunt success is expected to remain about the same for most species as in the previous hunting season.

Organizer appointed

Nick Van Egmond has accepted the responsibility for organizing the Stormont-Glengarry "Trees for Canada" project. In announcing the appointment, Norman Jennings, president of Stormont-Glengarry Council, Boys Scouts of Canada, stated "that Van Egmond will start preparing for the project right away. He has been assured the full support of the Stormont-Glengarry council."

The "Trees for Canada" project is part of a national effort in which three million trees will be planted this year. Every province will be involved in this national endeavor.

Van Egmond expressed the hope that "all citizens of Stormont-Glengarry will support the Scouts in this project." Preliminary estimations are that over 700 Scouts and Cubs will plant 10,000 trees on several hundred acres.

Consolidated took a two-goal first-period lead on markers by Bruno Lalonde and Leroy Robinson.

Betty got on the scoreboard half-way through the second period on a goal by Richard Chabot.

In the final two minutes of the period, the teams traded goals, Gerald Flaro picking one up for the Textile team and Gaetan Quesnel netting the breadmen's second.

For the rest of the period, textile Doug Meldrum held a determined Betty team until his teammate John Dumouchel made it 4-2 with 10 seconds remaining.

The Consolidated team pulled away in the final period on Bruno Lalonde's goal and one by Mike Willard. Richard Chabot's second goal was the final marker for the breadmen.

Glen Sandfield

by Lorna Chapman

(Intended for last week's issue)

The April UCW meeting was held last Wednesday afternoon at the church. The glorious message of Easter was the theme of Mrs. Della MacDonald's reading after which she led in prayer. "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" and "When I surveyed the Wonderous Cross" were sung, each with two verses sung by the choir members, sopranos Mrs. Arthur MacMillan and Mrs. Della MacDonald, alto Mrs. Lorna Chapman, accompanied by Mrs. Angus MacLennan at the organ.

The members' purpose opened the business portion, followed by the reading of the minutes. Mrs. Angus MacLennan gave the financial report.

Our Thankoffering service will be at 2 p.m., April 25. Mrs. Evelyn McOuat of Montreal, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Margo MacRae will take care of the invitations. Each group will be asked to tell of "something new" in honor of Spring, and why they are especially thankful at this time.

Our grandmothers' tea is tentatively set for June; date to be announced soon.

The May meeting will be on May 9 with Mrs. Roy MacMillan as hostess.

A get-together this summer to work on a quilt top was suggested by Mrs. Sarabel Nixon. It was agreed by all.

A boot and shoe bale goes in the mail in about a month.

There has been a special request for footwear for the Indian communities.

Please allow me to draw your attention to a delightful display now at the Fordham Metro Store, south of Alexandria. It is called Chrystal River City. This American far-West city represents the 1850 scale model production of a real town. It represents two years of work and consists of 36 buildings, 17 wagons, 115 horses and 200 figureens, all hand carved.

It is the work of Henry Dussault of St. Zotique, his children Sylvie and Carmen Dussault and Andre Lecours. There is a wood chopper, a man sawing wood and a chap working the bellows in the blacksmith shop, actually moving. The church has an altar and pews, the saloon has glasses on the little tables, a piano and a banjo on a chair; the store has articles on its shelves. The doors work and the waterwheel would, if it could be set up. Fieldstone, clapboard, logs, rough boards, you name it, the buildings are all different. The sheriff's office has a prisoner behind bars.

Lack of space kept it down to about 24 buildings. It should be there about another week. Don't miss it! It's over the fresh produce section.

ATTENDED MEETING

Several of the area ladies attended the UCW Thankoffering meeting at the Church on the Hill. They enjoyed immensely the music, the fellowship and a most interesting address given by Mrs. Phyllis Noble, the area vice-president.

Bainsville WI ladies will have secret friend

The Annual Meeting for Bainsville WI was held recently at the home of Mrs. Lloyd McRae. Nineteen members and two guests answered the roll call: "My evaluation of the years program." Several members thought more use could be made of standing committees and members' talents could be shown in the form of short demonstrations at meetings.

May is Family Unity Month in Ontario and all families are urged to strengthen their homes and to set aside special times to do meaningful things together as a family.

Mrs. Fred Ager who led the 4-H Homemaking Club invited the ladies to attend Achievement Day on April 28 at GDHS.

The conveners of standing committees and special committees gave their annual reports. Each report was moved and seconded by Mrs. C. T. Upton as correct.

The nominations committee then brought forward the new slate of officers for 1979-80. Mrs. C. T. Upton conducted the installation of the following: Past President Mrs. Fred Ager, President Mrs. J. M. Petrie, Vice-president Mrs. Oliver Legroulx, Secretary-treasurer Mrs. Archie Robertson, District Director Mrs. Robert MacRae, Alternate Mrs. Fred Ager, Public Relations Officers Mrs. Mackie Robertson, Mrs. Graham Thompson, Curator Mrs. Harold Fourney, Resolutions convener Mrs. Adrien Leroux, Directors Mrs. L. McRae, Mrs. A. Leroux, Mrs. H. Fourney.

Conveners of standing committees: Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. Ian MacIntosh; Citizenship and World Affairs, Mrs. Fred Ager; Education and Cultural Activities, Mrs. Robert MacRae; Family and Consumer Affairs, Mrs. James Thompson.

Auditors: Mrs. Ronald McRae and Mrs. Mackie Robertson, Sick Committee, Mrs. J. R. Petrie.

All the ladies present then drew names of other members to be a secret friend for the coming year. On special occasions, holidays and just remembrances of friendship we send notes, cards, a small gift, etc. to our friend who tries to guess who her friend is. At the end of the year it is often a surprise to find out who your friend was.

Mrs. Robert MacRae was asked to explain her daughter Brenda's trip to the United Kingdom next month. Brenda was chosen with several other Junior Farmers to represent Ontario for a two-month stay. She will stay with host farm families in England, Ireland, Scotland or Wales. Congratulations to Brenda.

In Memoriam

GAREAU—In loving memory of a dear wife Yolande Gareau who passed away April 15, 1974.
God knew that she was suffering
That the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed her weary eyelids
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest so fair,
Some day, we know not when,
We will meet our loved ones there.
—Royal Gareau. 16-1c

In Memoriam

GAREAU—In loving memory of a dear mother and mother-in-law Yolande Gareau.
The things we felt so deeply
Are the hardest things to say
They say memories are golden
But we never wanted memories
We only wanted you Mom.
If tears could only bring you back
We filled the ocean for you,
Nothing is the same any more,
Because God broke our family chain.
—Very sadly missed by Robert and Suzanne. 16-1p

GAREAU—In loving memory of a dear grandma Yolande Gareau.
Hello grandma,
I hope God's taking good care of you,
Like you took care of your children,
Please keep an eye on us.
We loved you.
—Sadly missed by Nathalie and Marc. 16-1p

BOURGET—The family of the late Aldina Bourget (Leboeuf) wish to express sincere thanks to their many friends and relatives for floral tributes, mass cards, visits at the funeral parlor, and assistance at the funeral ceremonies. Thanks to the Nursing Home that gave her such good care, also all her friends in Senior Citizens Apartment, not forgetting Dr. Nadeau and Glengarry Memorial Hospital.
—Her sisters. 16-1p

ST. LOUIS—In loving memory of a dear husband Adelard St. Louis who passed away one year ago April 17, 1978.
God knows how much I miss him
Never shall his memory fade,
Many think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies in the heart concealed.
I have lost my soul's companion
And day by day I miss him more,
As I walk through life alone,
May God grant you eternal rest.
—From loving wife, Agnes. 16-1p

LAPORTE—In loving memory of a dear daughter and granddaughter Monique and Suzanne who died accidentally April 22, 1978.
One sad and lonely year has passed
Since our great sorrow fell
The shock that we received that day
We still remember well.
God gave us strength to meet it
And courage to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose them,
No one will ever know.
It's lonely here without them,
We miss them more each day,
For life is not the same to us,
Since they were called away.
They bade no one a last farewell,
Nor even said goodbye,
They were gone before we realized,
And only God knows why.
—Sadly missed by Mom and Dad Mr. and Mrs. Henri St. Denis, also by sisters and brother. 16-1p

GIRARD—In loving memory of our dear parents, Romeo Girard, who passed away April 20, 1977 and Emilie Girard who passed away on May 12, 1977.
Gone, dear parents, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling faces,
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your places.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by the family. 16-1p

Government announces help for the employers

Reintroduction of the Ontario Youth Employment Program for the third year, to run from April 30 to October 21, was announced in the Legislature today by Treasurer Frank Miller.

Designed to help young people gain work experience, the program offers employers in the private sector a wage subsidy of $1.25 an hour.

According to Mr. Miller, this year's program will allow more flexibility in hiring. Businesses and farms may apply for a grant for up to 150 weeks of employment at each business location, regardless of the number of positions created.

"This will provide greater flexibility for the employer and allow him to maximize the benefits of the program since, in previous years, he was restricted to six positions at each business location, even if the positions lasted only six or seven weeks. The practical effect of the new rule is that if employers can create new work for as little as six weeks, which is the minimum, they may apply for up to 25 employees for this period," Mr. Miller said.

To qualify for OYEP a young person must reside in Ontario and be at least 15 years of age, but not yet 25 on or before May 1. Those who turn 15 after May 1, 1979 are not eligible. Nor are those who are related to the employer.

In his statement to the House the Treasurer said he expects that OYEP, budgetted at $26 million, will produce 40,000 jobs. Last year's figures were 34,000 jobs produced, at a cost to the Province of $20 million.

The 1979 Ontario Youth Employment Program will be operated within the Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs under the direction of Minister Tom Wells.

Employers who participated in 1978 will automatically receive 1979 application forms by mail. Employers wishing to participate for the first time may write to: Subsidies Branch, Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs, Queen's Park, Toronto M7A 2R8.

Prospective OYEP employers may phone 1-800-268-7592 (toll free) or, in Metro Toronto 965-0570. In Northern Ontario, calls should be made collect to 965-0570 in Toronto.

A series of 30-second English and French TV commercials, produced in Canada and featuring Peter Ustinov, is being released by UNICEF Canada to mark the International Year of the Child.

The "mini-series" of four English spots will be distributed singly in Canada at two-month intervals during 1979, and will also be aired in the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

Committee changes made

The Cornwall Arts Development Committee held the annual meeting March 30, in the Glen Hall.

While the president, Ronald Sullivan, and vice-president, Frances Martin, remain in office, a number of changes were made in other positions, as follows—recording secretary, Louise Boulay, corresponding secretary, Edith Stiles, treasurer, Wannetta Fortin.

Changes were also made in the chairmen of committees. Lise Davidson still remains chairman for membership, and Sam Brkich, for music. William McLean is now chairman for finance, Doris Matsell, for publicity, Keith Wilson for performing and literary arts, Karen Carriere for visual arts, and Marie Laurin nominating.

Lise Davidson, giving her report on membership for 1978-79, outlined a coming event for May, planned to acquaint the citizens of Cornwall, and district, not only of the function of the CADC, (Cornwall Arts Development Committee), but also the wide scope of arts as represented by its member organizations.

GO SLOW — PROTECT OUR CHILDREN!

by Lorna Chapman

The April UCW meeting was held last Wednesday afternoon at the church. The glorious message of Easter was the theme of Mrs. Della MacDonald's reading after which she led in prayer. "Beneath The Cross of Jesus" and "When I surveyed the Wonderous Cross" were sung, each with two verses sung by the choir members, sopranos Mrs. Arthur MacMillan and Mrs. Della MacDonald, alto Mrs. Lorna Chapman, accompanied by Mrs. Angus MacLennan at the organ.

The members' purpose opened the business portion, followed by the reading of the minutes. Mrs. Angus MacLennan gave the financial report.

Our Thank-Offering service will be at 2 p.m., April 25. Mrs. Evelyn McOuat of Montreal, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Margo MacRae will take care of the invitations. Each group will be asked to tell of "something new" in honor of Spring, and why they are especially thankful at this time.

Our grandmothers' tea is tentatively set for June; a date to be announced soon.

The May meeting will be on May 9 with Mrs. Roy MacMillan as hostess.

A get-together this summer to work on a quilt top was suggested by Mrs. Sarabel Nixon. It was agreed by all.

A boot and shoe bale goes in the mail in about a month.

There has been a special request for footwear for the Indian communities.

Please allow me to draw your attention to a delightful display now at the Fordham Metro Store, south of Alexandria. It is called Chrystal River City. This American far-West city represents the 1850 scale model production of a real town. It represents two years of work and consists of 36 buildings, 17 wagons, 115 horses and 200 figureens all hand carved.

It is the work of Henry Dussault of St. Zotique, his children Sylvie and Carmen Dussault and Andre Lecours. There is a woodchopper, a man sawing wood and a chap working the bellows in the blacksmith shop, actually moving. The church has an altar and pews, the saloon has glasses on the little tables, a piano and a banjo on a chair; the store has articles on its shelves. The doors work, and the waterwheel would, if it could be set up. Fieldstone, clapboard, logs, rough boards, you name it, the buildings are all different. The sheriff's office has a prisoner behind bars.

Lack of space kept it down to about 24 buildings. It should be there about another week. Don't miss it! It's over the fresh produce section.

NDP opposes nuclear plant in vicinity

The New Democratic Party does not favor the creation of a nuclear power plant in Eastern Ontario, Stormont-Dundas candidate Brian Peters had declared.

He said Hydro's admitted reserve of power indicates there may not be a need for another plant.

However, if a site is chosen near a centre such as Prescott, nuclear fuel should not even be considered as a possibility.

"The recent example in Pennsylvania should be sufficient proof that nuclear stations should never be located near population centres."

Peters labelled as "absolutely unacceptable," recent remarks by the chairman of the Royal Commission on Electric Power Planning, which was hearing briefs in Cornwall last week.

"He (the chairman) seems to imply that while 20,000 deaths due to a nuclear accident would be a terrible tragedy, nevertheless the benefits of nuclear power would outweigh even this," Peters said.

The Air Canada pilot also called for "an industrial strategy" for Canada and noted the importance of "maintaining and improving our social services."

The protection of medicare is an important issue in this campaign, Peters said.

"For those who don't remember pre-medicare days, you need only look to the chaos in health care in the United States.

"At the moment, we are looking at small fees over and above OHIP rates. However, this is just the beginning of the wedge and there are many people who will be hurt by these initial payments right now.

"Why should we pay over $100,000 to educate each doctor, pay the highest medical premiums of any of the provinces and still be held to threats of opting out of a system, which, despite doctors' complaints, still pays them enough to put them in the highest-paid professional category?"

Peters has named Marilyn Primeau as campaign manager.

A resident of Cornwall for 19 years, she has been with the Cornwall NDP Association since the 1974 provincial election which saw MPP George Samis elected.
