McLeister Store Purchased By Lucien Chenier

McLeister's stationery store has changed hands and the new owner, Lucien Chenier, opened Tuesday under the name of Papeterie Alexandria Stationery Store.

Mr. Chenier has operated Salon Capri for the past seven years and he is now quitting the hairdressing business to handle stationery, office supplies and equipment. The lines of drugs and cosmetics handled by the store previously are being discontinued and Mr. Chenier expects to specialize in office supplies and equipment.

The business has been purchased from the estate of Wilfred McLeister and Mr. Chenier is now in process of purchasing the building from the family. It was built 50 years ago by the late John McLeister and had since been operated by him and his sons as a drug and stationery store until Frank McLeister moved to the Ostrom site to operate his Rexall drug store.

Board Of Education Delays Move To Change SLHS To French Culture School

A motion to accept in principle and implement as soon as possible French language instruction in Grade 9 at St. Lawrence High School, was defeated by an eight to five vote at last night's meeting of the United Counties Board of Education.

However, a motion was endorsed directing administrative staff to proceed with registrations in September as set down in the report which earmarks SLHS as a French culture school for bilingual students, General Vanier Secondary School as a bilingual - bicultural school, and Cornwall Collegiate Vocational School as an English-culture school.

Voting against instituting the program immediately were Boyd P. Brady, Lorne Mellan, George Shaw, S. J. MacLeod, W. Lorne Thompson, Fraser Campbell, Lloyd Markell and Douglas Barclay.

Voting in favor were Jean Guindon, Jean-Guy Gauthier, G. E. Desjardins, Albert Morin and Arcade Trottier.

Dr. Claude Corbeil spoke on behalf of the French language advisory committee which recommended designation of the three secondary schools and that all students now attending these schools continue and complete their education if they desire.

He also recommended that students entering SLHS in Grade 9 for the 1969-70 term, have a minimum of four subjects taught in the English language: mathematics, science, technical subjects and English. And as many of the remaining subjects as possible should be taught in the French language.

"It would be better to make a survey of rural schools to ascertain the needs there and establish a blanket policy rather than make one for Cornwall now and another for the counties at a later date," said Trustee Fraser Campbell.

Chairman Bryson Comrie recommended a survey be taken that would indicate if students in Cornwall and the Three United Counties elect French language instruction.

Administrative representatives said it was more than a survey, it was registration and parents would have to honor registration.

"I'm in sympathy with French speaking people for wanting French - language instruction." said trustee S. J. MacLeod. "However, I am against setting aside a school for French speaking students only. French - speaking people seem to be afraid they will lose their culture and be absorbed in the English - speaking culture if they do not stand alone.

"What I would like to see is not English or French culture, but a Canadian culture. Let's be Canadians firsts and foremost. By all means respect each other's cultures and religions, but let's be Canadians first. I am in favor of having bilingualism in all secondary schools in Cornwall, but against setting aside one school for French speaking students only."

"You would have a different line of thinking if you were of French descent," said trustee Albert Morin.

"If you want to grow up as secondary Frenchmen, go ahead," answered Mr. MacLeod. "But if you want to grow up a first class Canadian citizen think twice."

"It is my duty to state there is no Canadian culture," said Dr. Corbeil. Culture in Canada is either French or English. And French culture is in danger of being lost because there are more French Canadians assimilated than is known. Culture is gained at school, not in the home. We are only asking to live. And, we only ask students at SLHS to be bilingual.

"French speaking students graduating from Grade 13 now are assimilated. All French speaking people in Ontario should know the English Language. but at the same time retain their culture."

"We have an obligation to these people," said director of education, Harvey D. Shaw. "Legislation has been passed and we are going to create only more problems if we wait."

Mr. Comrie asked for a motion that would indicate some direction for the administration to take.

"It must be made so we can get our administrative staff on the road with the project and not leave them up a tree," he said.

The motion put forward by Milton Matheson was unanimously approved to proceed with registration according to the projected distribution of Grade 9 French and English students at the designated schools.

The meeting adjourned at 2 a.m.

Carnation Plant Adds New Employees Now On Three Shifts Seven Days In Week

Some 10 new employees have been added at the local Carnation plant and there have been several job promotions with the recent move to three shifts daily. seven days a week. There are now 125 on the payroll, reports Assistant Superintendent Ron Bradette.

The plant's three major products are in big demand and this year's production will be much higher, according to Mr. Bradette. It will include 12 million pounds of powdered milk, six million pounds of Coffee-Mate and up to three million pounds of Instant Breakfast.

Coffee-Mate is now being exported to the United Kingdom and the Scandinavian countries. Labels in several languages are being affixed to the jars.

Installation of equipment for Coffee-Mate is now complete and liquid ingredients are now being used rather than the crystal form. Heated tank loads of corn syrup and vegetable oil arrive daily from Illinois and Indiana when the local plant is on Coffee-Mate production.

Larger Farm Units Foreseen By Speaker At Farmers' Night Meeting

Take lessons from history but don't dwell on the past or you will be left behind. That was the general theme of a talk delivered by Lloyd McRae of Bainsville at Monday's farmers' night meeting of Alexandria Lions Club. Mr. McRae was critical of too great a percentage of our population which has been "bound by tradition, conservative-minded".

This conservatism has been carried on in our agriculture, Mr. McRae suggested in comparing farming here and in Western Ontario. They threw tradition to the wind, drained their land, grew profitable crops and developed good markets for their purebred stock. Most important, they made education possible for their young, the speaker declared.

We are doing these things now, but we are 20 years behind, he added. If we are going to improve the standard of living of our farmers we have to educate them especially our young people, suggested Mr. McRae. He paid tribute to the Lions Club for its policy through the years of providing scholarships to Kemptville.

We must also operate units large and efficient enough to provide a decent standard of living plus interest on the farmer's investment.

Mr. McRae noted the Special Committee on Farm Income in Ontario recommends that a dairy farm should milk 60 cows producing 11,000 lbs. of milk on 260 acres of land, with the help of one man. The same net income might be derived by one man with 50 sows and 95 acres of corn, he suggested; or you could operate a beef feed lot running 200 steers with 135 acres of corn.

Ten years ago there were some 100,000 farms in Ontario and now there are 70,000. Mr. McRae expects that number to drop to some 30,000 within a few years and he sees production easier to manage then because only the better managers will be left in the business. They will have perhaps $250,000 invested, at least half of that capital rented or borrowed money. It will be essential that the farmer be an extremely good business manager and he will specialize. Mr. McRae sees the day of mixed farming over because of the inefficient use of equipment. Cost of money will possibly be the greatest detriment to investing in farming.

Farmers will one day become organized to the point of controlling production and setting prices, Mr. McRae suggested. The future is ours and we must become more aggressive and in most cases more efficient. In conclusion he paid warm tribute to Glengarry's ag. rep. who has been helping us with our problems over the past 20 years".

Mr. Humphries introduced the speaker as one whose family had made a significant contribution to agriculture in Glengarry and Frank McLeister expressed the thanks of Lions and guests to Mr. McRae.

Winners of special prizes included Hubert Hay, Lochiel, Robert MacRae, Lancaster, Cecil MacRae, Dunvegan and Harry Franklin, Laggan.

Lion President Frank Sleipenbeek was in the chair and the appreciation of the farmer guests was expressed by Cecil MacRae.

The trio plan to use the house themselves and may also make it available to other area people heading for a holiday in the sun. Mr. Touchette is leaving March 1st. for a two-week stay and the Hopes will take over at mid-month for a two-week holiday.

Along on the trip with them was Lawyer Paul Rouleau of Cornwall, to tie up the legal end of the deal.

Assessment Crew Starts Survey Here Next Week

A four-man crew from the United Counties Assessment office will be in Alexandria next week to start re-assessing all properties in town. The new assessment will be at estimated current market value and it will be used for 1970 taxation.

According to Assessment Commissioner B. G. Eastwood it will require going through every property and completing a new assessment roll in which all properties are at the same level. Alexandria will be the first United Counties municipality re-assessed under the new plan and others will get similar treatment when time permits.

Later Mr. Eastwood plans to hold a series of Open House sessions in Alexandria when ratepayers will be invited to have individual assessments explained to them. A general estimate of how tax rates may be affected next year will also be given.

International Commission Approves Water Diversion To Raisin River

The International Joint Commission has formally approved an application by the Raisin Region Conservation Authority, to divert water from the St. Lawrence River to the Raisin River watershed.

The approval was announced at a meeting of the authority at the County Court building Cornwall, Thursday night of last week and follows a public hearing, which was held Nov. 19.

At the meeting all supporters and objectors to the diversion project were given the opportunity to express their opinions before the IJC.

At the hearing, the Power Authority of the State of New York opposed any diversion of water from the St. Lawrence River on the grounds that it would decrease hydro-electric generation.

The Commission's International St. Lawrence River Board of Control testified at the hearing, that the proposed diversion of water would have no measurable effect on hydro-electric power generation for New York State.

Counsel for the United States then stated that it would not oppose the diversion if assured that the Power Authority of the State of New York would not, as a result of the diversion, suffer a power loss.

In an application to the IJC, in 1967, and again at the hearing, The Authority requested approval of its plans to divert approximately 25 cubic feet per second of water from Lake St. Lawrence in the St. Lawrence River, into the Raisin River waterhead for a period of 100 days.

Residents along the Raisin River have claimed that in summer the river which they say resembles a stream or swamp, has a stench and attracts insects.

The diversion of water from the St. Lawrence River would augment the natural low summer flows in the Raisin River, thereby providing a reliable source of water for farms and villages.

It would also provide an improved environment for fish and wildlife and an increase in the recreational and aesthetic values of the Raisin River.

Our Pipe Band In Scotland

Fram Aug. 16th till the 20th, the Glengarry Pipe Band will be based in the historic city of Dundee, spending five nights there.

"Based there" because the members will live in Dundee, but will see quite a bit of the surrounding country as they have five performances scheduled during that time. The only free day is the 16th, the day they arrive. From that time on, they earn their way.

On Sunday, Aug. 17th, there are two performances in Dundee, on Monday they play at Montrose, on Tuesday at Aberfeldy, and on Wednesday Pitlochry. Besides enabling them to see a very interesting part of Scotland, this will keep them in practice for their final performance. This will be to play before the presentation of prizes at the Festival Brass Band Competition, in Princes Street Garden, Edinburgh, on Saturday, Aug. 30th. They will be the only Pipe Band to play, and this is regarded as a special honour to the "Visitors". That same evening the Band will atend the Edinburgh Tatto, but as spectators this time.

After the five days in Dundee, the Band goes further North to Aberden, where they will spend four days. During this time, they only have two performances to put on, so it will be a bit of a rest. On Saturday, the 23rd, they play at Kingussie, which is quite a trip from Aberdeen and which should be very interesting from a scenic point of view, and on Sunday the 24th, they play in Aberdeen. The stay in this city should give some time for sight-seeing, and resisting and maybe catching up on laundry. Then. on Monday, it's off again, still further North, to Inverness, where they will be really getting up in the Highlands.

Liquor Vote In Kenyon Saturday

Residents of Kenyon Township have a date at the polls, Saturday, to vote on two questions under the Ontario Liquor Control Act.

Three years ago a favorable vote was recorded in the township on the question of a public house licence for sale of beer in beverage rooms for ladies and escorts. This did not permit men alone being served and one of the questions to be decided Saturday is for sale of beer to men only.

The second question covers sale of liquor under a lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises.

As in the case of all votes under the Liquor Act, 60 per cent is required for a change.

IT'S OUR OPINION

New Life For The Raisin

The big hurdle in the plans for a controlled flow of water in the Raisin River was cleared last week when the International Joint Commission formally approved the move to divert water from Lake St. Lawrence. Ontario Hydro had already given its approval and the International Commission now has followed suit after the Power Authority of the State of New York waived its previous objection to the move.

Now the Raisin Region Conservation Authority apparently is free to prepare the stream bed for its transfusion of cool, clear summer water from Lake St. Lawrence. Both branches of the river will require a clearing out of the weeds and other debris now choking the channel and weirs will have to be built at strategic spots to control the flow.

This work probably will have to wait until midsummer when the normal flow is almost non-existent but there is the prospect that by next year the Raisin River will be rejuvenated along its entire length.

The diversion of a mere 25 cubic feet of water per second into the headwaters of the Raisin from Lake St. Lawrence promises incalculable benefits for the front half of Charlottenburgh Township and there will be drainage benefits over a still wider area. A reliable summer flow in the river promises much for St. Andrews, Martintown and Williamstown and should prove a boost for land values along the Raisin right to South Lancaster. New homes and cottages may one day line its banks as the recreational facilities for fishing, swimming and boating are developed.

Until international approval for the water diversion was obtained the Raisin Region Conservation Authority could do little but plan and promote. Now it is called on to act and it is to be hoped there will be a minimum of red tape at Queen's Park to be unsnarled and that the needed financing will be made available by Toronto and the municipal councils involved.

A controlled flow of water in the Raisin River was but a dream a decade ago. Now it is in the realm of reality and it promises to transform and revivify a large section of Glengarry. The local Authority should have strong moral support in its endeavours.

Vertical Takeoff Or More Speed

The weighty problem of locating a politically palatable site for Montreal's new jumbo jet airport is now being debated by Ottawa and Quebec City. The huge air terminus might never have been needed if there had been restrictions on the size of aircraft.

Aeronautical engineers are busy solving the wrong design problem in the aviation industry, suggests Jim Young, editor of Design Engineering.

Suppose ,says Young, three or four of the world's largest passenger bus manufacturers announced they were well on the way with programs for developing mammoth passenger buses—buses to be seventy-five feet wide, two hundred feet long and capable of carrying about six hundred passengers in their first-class and tourist accommodations.

And suppose all of the top bus lines in the world had ordered these new vehicles, the first of which were expected to go into service this year.

Comments Editor Young: "A spokesman for one of the manufacturers would state that the new buses would be faster and would do much to lower the cost per passenger mile. As to disadvantages in these new vehicles, he would admit to a few minor problems—the buses would be a little noisier, their stopping distances would be a little longer, they would take a little more time for loading and off-loading, they might cause a little more congestion at passenger terminals, frequency of service would be lowered, and most of the world's highways would have to be widened. Terminals would have to be expanded, property would have to be expropriated, but all such little things should not be allowed to stand in the way of progress."

This fantasy, Young quickly points out, is not true and could never happen. "But substitute the word 'aircraft' for 'bus', he says, "and it is true — and it is happening. This is the mess we get into when we ask engineers to solve the wrong problems.

"Aircraft passengers see the problem as one of the faster point-to-point service and see little advantage to jumbo jets or supersonic transports.

"But then passengers never have been considered by the airlines, any more than people who live near airports. Prestige has always been all important, and apparently prestige means 'bigger, faster, noisier.' "

Muses Editor Young: "What if all that money and effort had gone into the development of VTOL (vertical takeoff and landing) aircraft?"

We Look Better From A Distance

How is it man can learn to go to the moon but not to live at peace with his neighbor? This is a question each of us might well be pondering in the next few days which are designated Brotherhood Week.

That Apollo flight that orbitted the moon at Christmas also demonstrated how small is our earth in relation to the vastness of the universe. The cameras on Apollo showed our world to be a tiny sphere floating in a sea of space. The enchantment distance lends suggested it a peaceful place, a paradise, perhaps, shared in amity and understanding by those who lived thereon.

If there are men on Mars perhaps their Unidentified Flying Objects have given them this impression of earth, a lush Eden of fertile land washed by fish-spawning waters. They may see its peoples as happy, friendly, neighborly, sharing the bounties of nature and science so evident on all sides.

Alas, how distorted a picture that would be. The marvel of television that made possible that moon-picture of earth also brings to our living room screen all the evidences of man's unhumanity to man. The horrors of war in Viet Nam, the fratricide of Biafra, the rioting in our cities, student protests, crime in our streets, are a daily reminder that man has not learned to live at peace with himself and his neighbor.

Once these tragedies were so remote we could shrug them off. Now they are as close as our television set, disturbing our sense of well-being, providing our young with the picture of a generation that has fallen far short of their fresh sense of idealism.

Earlier generations may have done no better in fostering the brotherhood of man but that is a negative argument. We are on stage now and the floodlights are magnifying our sins of omission, showing up our prejudices, our self-interest, whether individual or national, our apathy, for the cruel, narrow, selfish characteristics they are.

We are not as bad as the picture shows us, perhaps; not as totally lost to a sense of sharing and neighborliness and brotherhood as the mass media paint us. Our charity is organized on the grand scale now, or government-oriented. If we are our brother's keeper it is seldom a personal thing and we are encouraged to remain aloof, let the organization man take over in ministering to the have-nots in our community, the nation, the world.

This large-scale approach to what was once christian charity may tax us beyond endurance but it leaves us with no sense of personal involvement and it probably dams any individual inclination to further sharing our good fortune.

During Brotherhood Week, Feb. 16-23, we might recall that moon-shot of earth and see the common interests, problems and destiny we share with all other living men on this mortal sphere. That long-range picture looks so good we should be working to improve the close-up shots that too often do not depict good neighborliness.

Trying All Angles

(The Dutton Advance)

A further example of the extent to which large retailers are going to get rural trade and to compete with merchants in smaller centres occurred at Winnipeg prior to Christmas.

Eatons offered residents of four towns from over 100 miles away a 25 per cent reduction in chartered bus fare to Winnipeg and special treatment while they were in the city for the one-day excursion. Response from a fourth town, which required shoppers to stay overnight in the city, was less enthusiastic than from the other three.

One day was set apart for each town. The bus bringing the passengers was met by store personnel. Shopping bags, coffee and doughnuts were provided and parcels were delivered to the bus.

In his talk here last week, Dr. E. G. Pleva of London pointed out something of which all businessmen in small places should be and no doubt are aware — that you can't dictate to people where they are to shop or where they should go for services. Dr. Pleva also stated something worthy of serious thought when he advised that in order to meet competition, businessmen in smaller communities should get together to consider ways of attracting buyers to their establishments.

We could have added that a couple of ways in which this could be done would be to advertise regularly in their home town paper and to put just a little extra effort into serving customers when they do enter their doors.

A representative of the Hydro Electric Power Commission met with a committee of council here, Wednesday, to discuss possibilities of bringing Hydro Electric to Alexandria. TAX IS REPUGNANT

72 Byron Street,
Trenton, Ontario

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

One of the feature writers of a well known daily paper, commenting on the Estate Tax, made the statement that, in his opinion, the Tax should even be more punitive.

Such a tax is punitive indeed, but what does it penalize—Thrift, industry and responsibility. On the other hand, it puts a premium on irresponsibility, extravagance and waste. This type of thinking, as Winston Churchill pointed out, is the Gospel of ignorance, the Creed of Envy and the Philosophy of Failure.

An Income Tax is a just tax. The Estate Tax, as set up now, striking as it does, despite government protestations to the contrary, at Small Holdings, Small Industries and in particular, farmers, is repugnant to free men in a free society. It would be acceptable only to those who would think as slaves.

W. A. L. McDonald.

LET'S HAVE A BREATHER

Alexandria

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

Your editorial "Still Higher Cost of Education?" was most appropriate and timely. We have spiralling costs of education on one hand and increasing student dissatisfaction and protesting on the other.

Now that the Regional Board of Education has been elected and seven superintendents appointed, I would suggest that we stop here for a breather. Let us take time to adapt ourselves to this new venture and to assess the work of the present administration.

To you, members of the Board of Education, I say — let us be spared from another application of Parkinson's Law — that is, a committee to help another one — an assistant to the assistant to the assistant and so on. Then a battery of supervisors to implement changing policies, each supervisor with an office and secretary and all housed in a huge bureaucratic administrative complex.

We seem so susceptible to the influence of American educators, so anxious to experiment with their fads and fancies. It is hoped that the new administration will refrain from costly innovations the merits of which remain to be proven. In the operation of Parkinson's Law, subtle manipulation is frequently used to create jobs and

Extra Curricular Activities At GDHS

(by Pat McDonald, 12D)

For the second year in a row, Glengarry District High School will attempt to provide students with the occasion to leave school work behind for a while and enjoy some extra-curricular activities which might be of interest to them. For about one hour and twenty minutes each cycle, the individual will be free to engross himself in some activity such as chess, drama, folk dancing, photography, curling, to mention only a few.

One might wonder just what benefits this will bring to the student body. Ask anyone who participates and I think he will answer without much difficulty. The mere fact that these events are completely disconnected from school work in general, the mere fact that they are a change from the usual monotonous trudge of daily routine will satisfy him. There, the individual will be allowed to pursue only that which he desires. Ask anyone who does not participate, certainly because an activity of interest to him is not available, and he will surely admit that this time is helpful for completing projects, making use of the library, or finishing supplementary reading.

Any lack of success last year was due to the fact that it was merely a first trial and that our facilities were limited because of cramped quarters. Such a program has been successful in other district high schools. However, to ensure a favorable outcome here, maximum student participation and co-operation is essential. Students should remember that this is being done particularly for the student body.

Let us hope that everyone will endeavor to make this program a success. Perhaps then it might become part of the regular time table as in other schools.

WITH OUR

by Ed.

A LOT OF BULL

Glengarry exports most of its young people to the big cities because of the limited opportunities for gainful employment here.

Another of our chief exports through the years has been purebred, registered Holsteins and Ayrshires. We were reminded of this by a press release from the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Canada which tells of seven Ayrshire bulls which have recently qualified for Approved Type ratings by siring daughters with a high standard of type according to classification ratings.

None of the seven bulls listed belongs to a Glengarry herd but five of the seven were bred by Cumming Brothers of Lancaster and carry the "Glengarry" designation that identifies this top Ayrshire herd.

Glengarry Stella's Carlson, Excellent, is now owned by Laurent Bousquet, Granby, Que.. Glengarry Ruthie's Captain is in the herd of Chagnon et freres, Coaticook, Que.; Glengarry Grace's Captain, Very Good, is now owned by Allan H. Wilson, Franklin Centre, Que., and Glengarry Lucky Bruce is in the herd of Clark Brothers, Norval, Ont. The fifth is now a U.S. bull. Glengarry Lloyd Royal is owned by American Breeders Service, DeForest, Wisconsin, and his semen has been distributed mainly in Alberta, Manitoba, Central Ontario and the Eastern Townships of Quebec.

The Approved rating plan was adopted five years ago by the Association and only 47 bulls to date have qualified. The fact that five of these last seven were bred by Cumming Brothers speaks volumes for the blood lines in this Glengarry herd.

Glengarry bred sires and dams get around and through the years must have made quite a contribution to both the Ayrshire and Holstein breeds, not only in North America.

Glengarry's sons and daughters get around too, but it's just as well they're not quite so prolific as are Cumming Brothers' sires.

Seems if the sire is a Cumming his daughters are going all out to have him approved.

PYJAMA GAME

President Eisenhower's partiality for golf did a lot to popularize that game and maybe the interest in Judo around here stems from the fact Prime Minister Trudeau has earned a black belt.

Nearly a hundred turned out for the Judo clinic last week and maybe there'd have been even more men in the crowd if they'd known the girls were going in for Judo, too. Not even the prospect of practising some holds on a young heifer could tempt your Rambling Reporter to mix it on the mat. He's more than a little out of shape and that extra winter weight might make for some heavy landings.

And wouldn't he look silly being tossed for a fall by some slip of a lass. The way he's built a go at Judo with a Judy LaMarche type might make more sense.

He's left wondering, though, what's the attraction in Judo for these young femmes. Are they dreaming of some day having a bout with our kissing PM; or are our streets getting so dangerous they're thinking in terms of self-protection? Perish the thought.

We'll stick with golf and we'd rather see the girls go in for knitting. If enough of them get the Judo bug it won't be safe to shake hands with a dame lest she toss you for a loop. As if any guy wants to shake hands with them, anyway.

Can't see so many people taking up Judo now. While we're looking hopefully for spring they're heading for another fall.

UNWANTED PAPERS

Count as among the admirers of that doughty breed of young businessman — the newspaper boys. Theirs can be an unpleasant task through winter's cold and storm and they must have a special welcome waiting for spring.

Good boys they are, but with one bad habit we would like to see eradicated, we were thinking Sunday when we waded through the litter of paper in front of our office. Those boys who deliver the daily papers should be cleaning up their mess rather than leaving it for the four winds to scatter.

Seems the daily quota of papers comes wrapped in old newsprint. So anxious are the boys to get out on their routes they tear open those packets of papers and off they go leaving the torn wrappings to litter the Mill Square area.

The town fathers have provided to promote an idea. Let the members of the Board of Education be on their guard!

Education is of prime importance and we all want the best for our children. If we are concerned, is it fair to saddle them and their future with an impossible debt?

True, we live in the Jet Age — but few can afford to join the Jet set.

It is fashionable to protest but of all the groups that are protesting these days, you, the taxpayer, is perhaps the only one who has a right to protest — after all, you pay the taxes, the money comes from your pocket!

May I offer a suggestion — perhaps the taxpayers should have a union, just like any other group. The Union of Taxpayers would act as a deterrent to the accelerated escalating costs of education.

Taxpayers, let the others know that you care by writing in to the editors of all your local papers.

Junior Glens Host Ottawa Police Team Here Friday Night

(Special)—Alexandria Glens will play host to the much travelled Ottawa Police Department Hockey Club, Friday night in the Glengarry Gardens. The Glens, coached by Don Prentiss, will ice a young and much improved team which is just beginning to look like a hockey club.

The Glens, in their first year of operation, iced a team with an average age of 17. This was done with an eye to the future, as the 1969-70 edition will see all but three of their members returning for action. It would not be fair to measure this season's success by the number of games that the Glens won or lost; but rather by the improvement and the spirit that this club now displays.

No one connected with the Glen's organization has even asked anyone to feel sorry for him; they have too much pride for that. All they have ever asked was for the support of their fans; for this and this alone, they have given their best.

The Glen's line-up boasts many local youngsters and who knows if a future Ralph MacSweyn or a Willie Terry might be on his way. Team captain and defenceman, Bruce MacCuaig, is an 18-year-old youngster from Alexandria with much promise as are assistant captains. center, Peter Filion, 18, and Mike Boisvenue, a 17-year-old defenceman. Two of the Glen's four imports are Denzil Coughlin, a center and goaler, James Beattie; both are 18 and both hail from Ingleside. This is one of the few clubs in the league that has four 16-year-olds in its line-up: Doug Cowan, a forward from Vankleek Hill, Michael Kelly, a defenceman, Luc Desjardins, forward, and Kevin McCormick in goal.

Six 17 year-olds will carry the load next year, forwards Ian Humphries, Andre Poirier, Jean Louis Menard, Lee Taillefer, Hawkesbury's Guy Theriault and defenceman Wilfred Lalonde.

Lost to the team at the end of this season, will be import Brien Tremblay, a defenceman; Wendell Lefebvre and Gilles Lauzon, both forwards.

The Ottawa Police Department boasts a very successful hockey club. This same club will be heading for Washington DC, to compete in the North American Police Team Championships at the end of the month. The team's General Manager, D. Black, has informed us that they take every hockey game they play very seriously and expect the opposition to do the same.

The Atom' will also play before the game starts and between periods. There will also be a door prize and many other prizes.

All things considered, Friday evening should shape up as an extremely entertaining one, an evening fit to close out the hockey season.

Keen Competition In Curling Spiel

The local curling lanes are busy this week and some keen curling is on view as some 40 outside rinks participate in the Alexandria club's annual men's bonspiel. Play got underway last Friday night and continues each night until Saturday when the high-scoring eight rinks return for final playdowns.

An Ormstown rink skipped by Theo Dandurand is top scorer at 22 points as of Tuesday night, but there are three more nights of play and other good scores undoubtedly will be counted before Saturday.

As of Tuesday the top rinks were:

Theo Dandurand, Ormstown	22
G. Raiche, Valleyfield	20½
Henri Bender, Alexandria	19
James Campbell, Maxville	17½
Jack Kirby, Vankleek Hill	16½
Roger Roy, Alexandria	16½
Marwood Grant, Lancaster	16

EXHIBITION

A big crowd accompanied Hubert Lajoie's Atom team from Chateauguay on Saturday and reportedly were well pleased with the hospitality of our fair town, as the ladies treated them to lunch at the Legion and extended the glad hand throughout the afternoon. The co-operation of the Legion when we have out-of-towners for our sports events is noteworthy and contributes to good public relations with our visitors, as it supplements the facilities of our Community Centre. Our own supporters were out in worthwhile numbers so this type of player exchange seems to be popular.

Four goals were chalked up for Chateauguay by Dooley, Lacasse, Casborne and O'Connor while our wee lads graciously returned none.

St. Raphael's goalie Billie Jacobs was the star of Saturday night's game in the St. Raphael's-Alexandria bout, with a shut-out to his credit. Singles for the victors were scored by Wallace MacDonell, Jim MacDonald, Kevin MacGillis, Ian MacLeod and Stewart MacDonald. Alexandria put up a good fight but their team is lacking players due to their entry in the Junior B league.

The Lochiel - Lancaster contest was a more interesting display as Lancaster led off with two goals which were answered by four straight from Lochiel. Lancaster came back with another three goals only to be evened up by Lochiel at 17:15 in the third period. One minute later Lancaster notched the victorious marker. Dave Liddle had a hat trick while Gordon MacDonald, Bruce Mac Lennan and Brian Werely scored one each for Lancaster. Lochiel's Raymond Pairier netted two and singles were scored by D. A. MacMillan, Paul Poirier and Donnie Morris. Eight three minute penalties were assessed by referee Jean Yves Jeaurond.

The competition is increasing each week. Be on hand to lend your support to our teenagers.

Brazilian Boy 'Adopted' By Area Foster Parent

Ronald Lajoie of Green Valley, now attending Ottawa Teachers College, has financially "adopted" Dejalman Barmos, an 11-year-old Brazilian boy, reports the Foster Parents Plan (Canada). Mr. Lajoie is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lajoie, Green Valley.

The sponsoring means new hope and a chance in life for the child, who otherwise appeared doomed to a life of helpless poverty in one of the world's depressed areas.

More than 10,000 children in nine underdeveloped countries now are being cared for through Foster Parents Plan by individuals and groups in Canada. They contribute $17 monthly to the child's support and exchange letters each month, with translations both ways supplied by the Plan.

Canadians who are Foster Parents include the Pearsons, the Diefenbakers. the Stanfields, and many other well-known persons. They also include many ordinary people with love in their hearts and a need to share it with others less fortunate.

A Toronto couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sammon, applied for a 10-year-old Greek boy because their own 10-year-old died tragically in an accident. "We want to get to know him through letters and give him the chance our own son never had," said the father.

Many individuals and groups, such as schools and employee groups, undertook to sponsor children as Centennial projects. A Vancouver woman wrote: "How can we celebrate Canada's birthday and ignore the countries where food means a crust of bread?"

Dean Martin, a Foster Parent, looked at pictures of children in Colombia scraping through garbage for something to eat and said: "These kids will grow up and live in the same world as our children. Why should they love us"

To Foster Parents, the magic word is love. When Paul S. Lindsay of Montreal visited Greece, he was almost overcome by the warmth of the welcome from the family he had been helping for several years.

Mr. Lindsay, who admitted he had gone to Greece partly to see how his dollars were spent, was so impressed by the operations of Plan that (a) he adopted another child before leaving Greece, and (b) on his return accepted a voluntary post on Plan's board of directors.

The close relationship between the child and the Foster Parent develops right from the beginning. The new "parent" gets a picture of the child and a case history, giving all details about the child and the family. Through monthly letters, they continue to know each other better.

From the $17 monthly contribution, the child receives $8 cash support plus clothing, medicines, school fees, etc. There is a full-time director and trained social workers to look after the welfare of the children in each of the nine countries where Plan operates — Korea, Hong Kong, Viet Nam, Greece, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil and the Philippines.

The Plan's purpose is to provide life-giving care while the child grows up and learns to become self-supporting. Every child must go to school.

Children of all faiths are assisted because the Plan is a non-sectarian, non-profit, non-propaganada, independent, government-approved organization. Over 100,000 children have been graduated in the 30 years it has been operating.

Jack K. Mitchell of Montreal, the Plan's Canadian Information Director, said that thousands more children are in desperate need, and may be chosen by age, sex and country. Information can be obtained by writing Foster Parents' Plan, P.O. Box 65, Station "B", Montreal.

DEJALMA BARROS 11

Dejalma and his family exist in the squalid favela which is located in the hills of Niteroi, about a 25 minute ride from Rio de Janeiro. The child's mother is dead and he now has a step-mother and two half-brothers. As an odd-job welder father earns about $33.00 a month, when work is available. Mother is expecting another child and cannot work outside the home; for all her condition she still does outside laundry, earning about $7.50 a month. She is good to the children and wants to help them all. Dejalma has two sisters, Dejanira (12) and Debora (6) and brothers, Dario (4) and Daniel (2).

This child never enjoys milk, meat or vegetables at home. At times, the school gives a little snack of milk when they have it from outside aid. The meager meals are based on coffee, bread, beans, rice, cornmeal. This is far from sufficient to prevent malnutrition. Worn clothing is given by others and Dejalma has little that is not worn almost beyond repair. Monthly expenses include: bus fares $1.50, rent $11.50, electricity and gas $4.00. The family owe 5 months back rent. Plan aid is vital to this child and his family.

Home for Dejalma is a crude brick dwelling crowded amid dilapidated shacks. Light bulbs dangle from the ceiling. Water must be carried in large cans from an outdoor faucet. The impoverished furnishings consist of closets, chest, cabinet, radio and several beds with worn mattresses and only 1 blanket for all the family. Dejalma sleeps on the ground. The child is a good student with excellent grades and praise from his teacher. He is in the 3rd grade and is bright and well-mannered. Dejalma needs a helping hand for more normal growth but will also "grow" through your friendship.

The February meeting of the Catholic Women's League, was held in the home of Mrs. Maurice Villeneuve with an attendance of 15 members. Owing to the absence of the president, Mrs. Daniel McDonald, the meeting was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. Hubert Delaney.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Fred Scott. The correspondence included a letter of thanks from the Sisters of the Precious Blood of Alexandria for the lovely gift they received from the Society at Chrismas time.

Plans were made for the collecting and sending of clothing to the Biafra Field in Africa where the need is so great at this present time. The members were asked to collect coupons to purchase tables for the Church Hall.

Mrs. Wilfred Montcalm gave a very interesting and informative address on Education referring particularly to Sports for the younger people of our community. The members are planning to attend the World Day of Prayer Service to be held in the Presbyterian Church, on Friday, March 7th.

The conveners for the program were Mrs. Fernand Sabourin, Mrs. Fernand Prevost and Mrs. Maurice Villeneuve and their part in the meeting was entertaining. A questionnaire on the Royal Family was won by Mrs. Alcide Lafrance. A peanut contest was conducted by Mrs. Villeneuve and Miss Elaine Villeneuve and was won by Mrs. Gerald Emburg; a lucky cup of tea was won by Mrs. Hubert Delaney as the lunch was being served one cup was especially marked for this contest.

WI Had Meeting At Lancaster

Miss Bessie Cumming, president of the organization, was in charge of the regular meeting of St. Lawrence Women's Institute held at Lancaster.

One of the features of the meeting was an invitation from Bainsville Institute to meet with them to see slides taken by Graham Copas during a recent trip to Britain and Sweden. Mr. Copas will also talk to the Institute members on banking.

Miss Cumming commented on the motto "Understanding is the Pathway to Tolerance."

A number of items were read as part of the program. Mrs. Harry McLeod had one on the possibility of certain types of glazed pottery causing lead poisoning. Mrs. Dorothy Haight read an item on "February Heart Quiz" and Mrs. Raoul Leclerc an article on Louis Hebert. Mrs. Ernest McPherson reported on the "Pennies for Friendship" campaign for the Associated Country Women of the World. Summary day for the baking with yeast project was to be Feb. 10 at the Church on the Hill, Alexandria, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Cable was auctioneer for a table of home baked articles, which realized seven dollars for the Institute.

Bingo winers were Mrs. James Sinnott, Mrs. Dorothy Haight, Miss Elaine Hutt. Mrs. Raoul Leclerc, Mrs. Emile Leroux, Mrs. Ernest McPherson, Mrs. Alex Lalonde and Mrs. Alex MacDonald.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Cumming.

Picnic Grove WCTU Meeting

At the Picnic Grove WCTU meeting at the home of Mrs. Athol McDonald, on Thursday, the president, Mrs. W. H. McWhinnie, presided and led in repeating its pledge in unision. Mrs. George Hibbard who conducted the devotional period stressed the necessity for the Christian to have belief and faith in God and Jesus Christ and to express them through loving service to others who need help and comfort. Mrs. McDonald read the poem "I shall not pass this way again" and Mrs. Hibbard closed this inspirational service with prayer.

"What a friend we have in Jesus" was sung and the minutes of the December meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. A. McDonald. The roll was called and answered with items on temperance.

Mrs. McGregor gave her report on the Temperance Study course for the county: The poster contest was discussed and it is hoped that its may be carried on again this year under Mrs. J. Fortier's superivision. February is the month when the memory of the founder of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union, Miss Frances E. Willard, is honored and a sketch of her life was given by Mrs. McGregor. From her youth on, her life was spent in dedicated service to her Lord and to all who needed the help she could give, in addition to her fight against the liquor traffic and the evils caused by it. She was instrumental in securing many reforms educationally and concerning women and children. Hers was the first picture of a woman to hang in the United States Hall of Fame.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the presentation of a County Life Membership and pin by Mrs. J. U. Tanner, on behalf of the union, to Mrs. Alpin McGregor in appreciation of the outstanding service she has given, not only in this union but in the countise as well. Mrs. McGregor made a very suitable reply expressing her thanks for the gift. A number of items were brought up and discussed. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unision.

A very pleasant social time was enjoyed when a delicious lunch was served by the hostess who received the thanks of all present for her hospitality.

"A vain man can never be utterly ruthless; he wants to win applause and therefore he accommodates himself to others." — Goethe.

The Weeklies Say

APPRECIATE OFFICIALS

Public officials do not offer their services without considerable sacrifice of time from their work, often loss of income and giving up things they might prefer to be doing. These men . . . deserve our thanks rather than criticism and abuse. —Humboldt (Sask.) Journat.

WINNING — NO MIRACLE

Year after year, Canada stubbornly sends off its entry for international hockey glory knowing full well it will take a miracle but flatly refusing to admit it. And then, to top if off, waxing indignant as if the failure of the miracle to materialize is a personal affront. —Swift Current (Sask.) Sun.

ESSENTIAL ORNAMENT

Snow is a stomp-stomp at the door, the scrape of a shovel, the clink of tire chains, the shear of a plow. It is the slush of city traffic, the ringing laughter of a sleighborn hayride, the swish of skis. It is snow forts, snowmen, snowballs, a prodigious and inexhaustable toy. —West Vancouver (B.C.) TO THE RATEPAYERS OF THE Town of Alexandria

Dear Ratepayer:

The United Counties Assessment Department will be conducting a re-assessment program in the Town of Alexandria during the year 1969.

It is our intention to assess all properties at their "Estimated Current Market Value". This will entail inspecting every property and the preparation of a detailed analysis of the conditions of the sale regarding those properties which have been transferred during the past two years.

The purpose of this re-assessment program is to ensure a "Fair" and "Equitable" tax base, and in this regard I request the co-operation of every property owner, when the assessor makes his inspection.

Yours very truly,
B. G. EASTWOOD, M.I.M.A.,
Assessment Commissioner.

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK, FEBRUARY 9TH TO 15TH.

How much home are you missing through outdated wiring?

When this house was built it was hard to imagine all the wonderful ways in which electricity would be serving us today. That's why the wiring in so many older homes just isn't adequate for today's needs.

There are many signs. Fuses blowing. Lights dimming. Appliances performing sluggishly. Cluttered extension cords. Not enough outlets.

So, if you're planning to modernize your home, think first of the wiring. Have a qualified electrical contractor check it. You'll be surprised at how easily and inexpensively it can be updated. Or just ask your Hydro.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

Just about the brightest feature of the local minor hockey season, to our way of thinking, was last week's comprehensive News reporting of recent games played and in particular the photo of Ourtown's (and district) all-star sprites, winners of the Maxville tournament January 25th.

Many times the News editor and this writer have been chided for lack of hockey results. Many times the reply was the same. Bring in or phone the results and if there is available space then you get in ink.

We were particularly refreshed with the all-star sprites win. Not so long ago all-star sprites won their share and developed into a pee wee team that gave Alexandria top publicity as well as high class hockey entertainment.

The all-star progress suddenly was frowned upon and apart from recreational play Ourtown dropped back into the old time rut.

Now let us hope this new edition of sprites keep rolling along and put us back on the hockey map where Alexandria so rightfully belongs.

Another interesting number of the past weekend program was the atom all-star fixture on Saturday. It was like a breath of Spring air to drive along Bishop street and see so many cars cluttering up parking space on the Legion lot and in front of the rink. Especially so when you spotted the bus with Quebec licence plates.

This, you realized, was the vehicle that brought Hubert Lajoie and his Chateauguay atoms to meet our fledgelings in an exhibition game.

The highlight of this interesting and at times amusing game. in our books, was wrapped up in one play. We don't know the names of the three players involved, not even their numbers, but we think these three exhibited skill that would be a credit to much older players. The sequence resulted from an Alexandria attack. One of Ourtown's players, could be a centreman, sensed a rebound. That is exactly what happened. An Alexandria right wing shot was stopped and the puck bounced out a few feet. Then the visiting goalie lunged forward to smother the loose puck at the same moment our player tried to push the puck forward under the falling goalie. The goalie was first and grabbed the puck. Then the next split second Ourtown's winger came roaring in from his right and could have collided and caused an injury to the two mentioned players down on the ice just outside the goal crease; however, this tiny mite leaped over both players clearing the human hurdle by inches. There folks was a display of instinct and hockey know how by three little fellows who if they are kept on the all-star trail will develop along with their pals to be real hockey players.

HITHER AND YON

The sound of the pibroch has already hit the Glens despite the still wintry weather . . . the Glengarry Club of Ottawa, headed by veteran sportsman Jack (Lochiel-Ottawa) McGillis, has plans to assist the pipe band get off the ground and on to Scotland come next August . . . the Ottawa club will host a Glengarry party, Mar. 8th, at Trafalgar House, 110 Argyle Avenue . . . in appreciation of this friendly effort members of the band are slated to take part in the program . . . another helping hand will be by local sportsmen sponsoring a Bonnie Glen dance, May 16. More of both anon.

Bob MacInnes skipped his Trenton rink with some success before bowing in recent London bonspiel to declare the club representing Ontario in the Briar championship at Oshawa . . . Bob is a son of Peter and Mrs. MacInnes of Kirkland Lake . . . Peter hails from near Greenfield while Bob's mother was a lass from McCrimmon.

It seems that 10 years ago Quebec's winter carnival committee didn't want any part of a pee wee hockey tournament thinking it couldn't be worthwhile . . . now it has grown to international status with 107 teams registered this year . . . how would you like to be chairman of the billeting committee and care for upwards of 2,000 little hockey players.

Brian (Lancaster) Gilmour's current McGill hockey Redmen may not be a replica of the Nels Crutchfield. Farmer, Powers, era but coach Brian did command a unique Gazette story this week showing him with a husband-wife McGill defense, Brian and Bea Barge. Both are Ph.D. students and Bea Barge plays defense with the college ladies intercollegiate team while husband Brian Barge out of U. of Saskatchewan, is Gilmour's star defenseman with the Redmen.

That was an informative and interesting between periods film shown recently of the routine work of minor NHL officials behind the Forum stage and two important figures from Ourtown. Gerald and Bob Marcoux.

Last week's sports quip: Red (Montreal Star) Fisher tells in race track chatter of Les Habs checking into their Oakland Hotel. This calls for two players to each room but coach Claude Ruel, for obvious reasons, has a suite (two rooms). This called for a final check by the coach: "Have all the players been taken care of with their room?" Ruel asked the desk clerk . . . "I believe so" . . . "Okay" said Ruel . . . "for me, I need a big daily double."

John Ferguson who was standing nearby said, "and I'll have an exacta."

Knights Of Altar Had Annual At Apple Hill

The Knights of the Altar of St. Anthony's Unit, Apple Hill, and St. Michael's Unit, Monkland, held their fourth annual banquet Sunday, January 26th, in the King George Hotel, in Maxville. The twenty-seven Knights enjoyed dinner again this year with their parents and guests.

Sunday morning during the Mass in Apple Hill, five were invested as Knights of the Altar; Norman Besner, Hector King, Dean Macdonell, Raymond Lalonde and Mark VanPutten.

Gary Rozon was master of ceremonies for the dinner. The toast to the Queen was proposed by Denis Besner and the prayer to the Pope was recited by all present. Words of welcome were expressed by Gary Rozon.

The guest speaker Adolphe Gaudet, a member of the Maxville High School teaching staff, was introduced by Denis Sabourin.

In his address to the Knights, Mr. Gaudet spoke on the problem of self-identity, as exemplified by his statements: Tell me where and how you get your feeling of importance, and I will tell you who and what you are," "Give your mind a chance to discover itself. Give yourself time to discover your potential."

Fern Marleau thanked Mr. Gaudet and presented him a gift from the Knights of the Altar.

Bernie Barker expressed the thanks of the parents for the enjoyable banquet and evening.

Guests present for the dinner were Rev. M. J. O'Brien, Rev. Leo MacDonell, Rev. Evariste Martin, and Rev. Claude Halle. The director, Rev. Thomas Villeneuve, closed the event by thanking the parents and guests for their presence. He presented the awards of "Knight of the Year" plaque for St. Anthony's Unit to Gary Rozon, and to Marc Sabourin from St. Michael's Unit. Attendance awards went to Gary Rozon, Denis Besner, Paul Sabourin, Larry Harrison, Marc Sabourin and Peter Bissonnette. Knight of Honor pins were presented to Ronnie Barker, Gabriel Levac and Alex Ratajczak. Gifts for fidelity to week-day serving were presented to Peter Bissonnette, Mark VanPutten, and Norman Besner. Pins and certificates were given to the new Knights by the director. The evening closed with all singing "Edelweisss."

A LOT OF TREES

According to UNESCO estimates there are 7,500 daily newspapers throughout the world, selling at least 217,000,000 copies every day. Add all the weeklies to that and it comes to a lot of trees. —Salmon Ame (B.C.) Observer.

USE SPARINGLY

Too often we see situations where people are encouraged to go on relief and stay on relief — in many instances when they faced no great hardship. And even where the need for help was genuine, the tendency was to overdose the patient. —Hay River (N.W.T.) Tapwe.

Maxville Highlanders Won Close One While Prepping For Play-Offs

Maxville clinched first place beyond any doubt and just about eliminated Metcalfe from the St. Lawrence Junior "B" hockey league playoffs by winning with a last-minute goal, 5-4, over Metcalfe in Maxville, Sunday afternoon.

The youngsters, several of midget age from the Indian Lands and the fringe, are the St. Louis Blues of this fine junior circuit — away out in front.

By losing on Sunday, Metcalfe have their backs to the wall and must win their three remaining games. Prescott, with games in hand, could finish just behind Maxville while Morrisburg, Cardinal and Metcalfe, clammer for third and fourth playoff position.

Sunday's game was chippy and dull at times but in the final period the Highlanders displayed to a fair crowd just why they are league leaders by whirling through the visitor's defense to score four unanswered goals. The game winner was tallied with five seconds to go.

Metcalfe opened the scoring at 5:25 of the first period when John Kelly set up Wayne Reid. Ten seconds later the visitors made it 2-0 on an unassisted effort by Denis Ouellette. Near the end of the period Don Blaney worked the puck out of his own end and passed to Mike Harmamis who relayed to Myles Harrigan and Harrigan made no mistake while putting the Highanders back in the game.

Near the close of the second canto Metcalfe scored two more quick goals. John Kelly again assisted with Wayne Reid as Gordon Reamey scored and a minute and 12 seconds later Peter Miller made it 4-1 for Metcalfe with help by Denis Ouellette and Carson Maley.

Mike Quart was at his best in holding the Highlander fort and made still another key save early in the final period and from here on Maxville hammered away, whittling down the lead. The Haramis brothers tallied at 2:35 as "Mike" set up "Nick" and two minutes later pint-size Bryce Benton finished off a rush with goal number three that was set up by Myles Harrigan and Dave Clarke. Then with another two minutes of play Don Blaney carried to the Metcalfe blue line and relayed to Mike Haramis who hit the hemp and tied the game 4-4.

Playing the last three minutes each a man short due to penalties there was a faceoff called near the visitors net. Dave Clarke dug the rubber out, slid it across to Mike Haramis who scored the winner and a hat trick effort with five seconds left to play.

There were a number of minor penalties handed out by Don and Bud Grant and on two other occasions they really earned their game stipend. In the first period shortly after Metcalfe went ahead 2-0, Mike Haramis was checked heavily near the boards by John Kelly. As Kelly skated back for the faceoff Nick Haramis belted Kelly sort of an even up punch for my brother and this turned out to be a fair bout. The scuffles on the edge by other players were overlooked but Haramis and Kelly were handed five minutes each for fighting and a 10 each misconduct. The second scrap was in the final minutes. Don Blaney had worked his way almost to the Metcalfe goal crease where he was roughed by Gordon Reamey. Blaney doffed his gloves and landed two quick blows, like John Ferguson of Les Habs. Reamey then blew his red thatch and it took two of his mates to bring him under control. In the meantime Blaney just rolled his sleeves a bit higher in case there was further action.

Maxville played without their St. Albert line and stout defensman Ron (Moose Creek) Beausoleil, but still won the game in convincing fashion despite the thin bench.

Here is one of Glengarry's top junior clubs in this or any other era and they are faced with two problems. First this comfortable lead could create overconfidence hitting into the playoffs — success is heady wine even to older players. Secondly, they require fan support not only at the gate but inside as there is nothing like the clamour of your supporters to fire up a team. Play-offs get under way the weekend of Feb. 22nd.

URQUHART—These lines are written as a tribute and memorial to our dear mother Mrs. John K. Urquhart who left us Feb. 14, 1964.
As one mother to many others
My days are days of small affairs,
Of trifling worries, little cares,
Lunches to pack, beds to make,
Rooms to sweep, pies to bake;
Hurts to kiss, tears to dry,
Heads to brush, laces to tie,
Faces to wash, toys to mend,
Meals to plan, fusses to end.
I, who had hoped some day to gain
Success, perhaps a bit of fame,
Must give my life to small affairs,
Of trifling worries, little cares.
But should tomorrow bring a change,
My little house grow still and strange,
Should all the cares I know today,
Be swept quite suddenly away;
Where now a hundred duties press
Be but an ache of loneliness;
No child's gay ribbon to be tied,
No wayward little feet to guide.
To Heaven then would rise my prayers
'Oh God, give back my little cares'
—By daughter Mae and family
Gerald, Elmer, Thelma and Margaret.

The Weeklies Say

SURVIVAL IS A RARITY

As knowledge accumulates at an ever increasing rate, it follows that movement, campaigns and crusades will come into being, flourish and fade more quickly than used to be the case. . .

Changes take place as new leaders appear, sometimes for the better and sometimes for the worse. No matter what the cause, inevitably they disappear from the scene. Just as the new-born baby is already slipping into old-age, the hippie movement was dying out with the first hippie. —West Vancouver (BC) Lions Gate Times
