Villeneuve telling 'half truths', MP Lumley says

SD&G MLA Osie Villeneuve is only telling "half-truths" when he criticizes Canadian Dairy Commission quotas, Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley told a press conference yesterday.

The Liberal member and parliamentary secretary to Finance Minister Jean Chretien, made the comment in Cornwall while announcing he will seek re-election.

Villeneuve recently charged in the provincial legislature that the quota system needs revamping because Ontario producers are importing Quebec milk while many Ontario dairy farmers are out of quota.

The Conservative MLA suggested Ontario farmers should get a better share of the national quota.

Lumley acknowledged that about 40 million pounds of Quebec milk are imported but said Ontario farmers also export that much to Quebec.

"It's my understanding that it's almost an offsetting figure."

He rejected earlier claims by Villeneuve that the Canadian Dairy Commission cut back the Ontario quota a few years ago just because the province had a few bad seasons when weather harmed production.

"Ontario for many, many years didn't meet its quota," Lumley said.

He said the issue of cheese imports was also being blown out of proportion.

Although about 50 million pounds are imported, only a million pounds are cheddar and that is the variety that particularly concerns domestic producers, he argued.

"Our (cheese) exports have fallen dramatically because we have priced ourselves out of the market," the MP noted.

He said his government was interested in "encouraging more specialty cheese production".

He maintained that the national quota system was still the best system anywhere.

"I don't think it's perfect, but it's the best in the world. There's no question about it," Lumley said.

"Our dairy farmers are in better shape than dairy farmers anywhere in the world."

He said farmers he talks to urge him not to give additional quota to producers who exceed their limits.

"They say, 'Don't bail out the farmers who over-produce'. They're most emphatic about that."

Under redistribution, Lumley's riding expands to include Western Dundas County and Charlottenburgh Township. The MP said the city-rural split is now 51 per cent to 49 per cent. His old constituency had a 66-33 per cent split.

On previous occasions, Lumley has expressed his desire to spend more time with his wife and five children as well as pursue his career in the business world which he vacated to run for federal office in 1974.

"After serious deliberation and discussion with my family, friends and constituents, I had the feeling that a decision not to contest the federal election in this crucial time of our country's history, especially after only one term in office, was in a sense, running from one's responsibility and obligations," Lumley said.

"Further, I feel that with the retirement of such dedicated public spokesmen from the federal scene in Ontario such as the Hon. Donald Macdonald, Hon. Mitchell Sharp and the Hon. John Turner, it is imperative that the substantial contributions that these gentlemen have made in assisting our prime minister in governing this great country be carried on by others in our caucus."

Lumley defended Chretien's budget as the only sensible stance to take at this time.

He said more drastic measures, such as the personal income tax cuts proposed by the Conservatives and New Democrats, would only have weakened the Canadian dollar more.

The three per cent cut in provincial sales tax, which the federal government negotiated, will stimulate consumer spending and hasten economic recovery, he said.

Fund drive underway

The Glengarry District High School Committee will proceed with plans to establish a scholarship fund, it was decided at the April meeting held at the school last week.

As soon as a campaign can be organized, the committee will approach individuals, groups and organizations for contributions of one or more prizes annually. (Their names would be recognized at graduation as is presently done with existing award donors.) Requests will also go out for non-specific contributions to build up a fund.

It is the object of the Committee to collect sufficient funds initially to establish a trust fund, which, if invested, would produce enough interest income to finance the outlay of approximately $2,-100 in awards annually, thus making the fund self-supporting. This, the committee hopes, will eliminate the necessity of appealing to the public each year.

More than 1,000 protest rail cuts

Over 1,000 names have been gathered on a petition protesting VIA Rail's bid to reduce passenger rail service through the Town of Alexandria.

Bessie Clingen said petitions from other settlements such as Glen Robertson will be added to this total and the names will be sent to the Canadian Transport Commission.

The commission must rule on whether to accept VIA's proposal to cut the Montreal-Ottawa train service from three times a day each way to once a day each way.

Mrs. Clingen said Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Denis Ethier has offered to present the petition to the CTC.

Students win talk awards

Guy Levac, and Suzanne Massie of GDHS, walked off with the top prizes at the Lions Club public speaking competition in Perth.

The competition, held April 7, was the regional finals for Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec.

Suzanne won first prize in the girls French speaking division and was awarded a trophy for accumulating the highest score in the contest. Guy won first prize in the boys' French speaking division.

The two were sponsored by the Alexandria Lions Club. Their win allows them to enter the next level of competition to be held in Sudbury May 6 and 7.

Suzanne chose music as her topic and Guy spoke on bilingualism.

Guy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Levac of Dalkeith and Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Massie of Alexandria.

Frances Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Martin also entered the competition and according to her teacher, performed well but was unable to overcome the stiff competition.

There was no competition held in this area and GDHS English teacher Robert MacLeod asked for volunteers to attend the Perth competition. He accompanied the students to the contest.

Secrecy threatened

Council pay story ruffles feathers

If Charlottenburgh Township councillors don't start getting more favorable press coverage they should consider holding more meetings behind closed doors, Deputy Reeve Ewen MacDonald suggested at council last week.

MacDonald made the comment while blasting The Glengarry News, which he labelled "the Alexandria rag", for a story March 22 which showed Charlottenburgh councillors' salaries to be the highest in The News circulation area.

MacDonald and Reeve Adrian Gadbois said that while the salary figures for the township were accurate, the story had failed to emphasize how hard the councillors work.

MacDonald said that while the number of council meetings held by each council were listed, members sometimes attend meetings outside council, such as the hospital board, and these meetings were not noted.

Gadbois noted that councillors also have to attend special functions and carry out council business after meetings.

"A lot of work is not done here at the table," the reeve said. "A lot is done between meetings. A lot of leg work has to be done."

"I agree that we are paid the best," Gadbois said. "I feel I'm worth $20,000 a year and I'm only getting $5,000, so I'm underpaid."

The article listed the reeve's salary at $5,000, the deputy reeve's at $3,850 and councillors' at $3,600.

Comparative figures for other townships showed Charlottenburgh councillors to be the highest salaried in the area.

Doubt being cast on seniors housing

Lancaster Village is in danger of losing its proposed 16-unit senior citizens' apartment building unless more people submit applications for the geared-to-income housing.

Village Clerk Ian MacDonald said only 11 applications have been received and about five or six other people have said they intend to apply.

Because applicants sometimes withdraw their applications, the province wants at least 30 to 35 applications on file before it will proceed with the building, MacDonald said.

The building would serve senior citizens in the village as well as Lancaster and Charlottenburgh Townships.

MacDonald said some people may be confusing the proposed senior citizens building with a private nursing home being erected in the village.

MacDonald said a study done four years ago showed there were more than enough people to fill the proposed building.

Roxborough Township, meanwhile, is asking the province to erect a 16-unit senior citizens building in Moose Creek.

Clerk W. E. Wright said the project has been approved and was originally scheduled to be finished by 1977.

Although an original survey showed interest, another survey done last year failed to convince the province of the need, Wright said.

Residents in Moose Creek have now done their own survey which they say demonstrates that the building would be used.

Disney World awaits pupils

Thirty-five students from Lagan School leave Thursday on a 15-day tour of the Eastern States, including a visit to Disney World.

The trip is the culmination of two-and-a-half years of planning and saving by the Grade 7 and 8 pupils.

Initially, the children thought of such a trip as an opportunity to visit the south. But Principal Kent MacSweyn saw it as an opportunity to teach the children responsibility as well.

"The idea fit right in with the school philosophy," he said. Their idea was "to move out of the regular classroom for a two or three-week period during the 1977-78 school term and into a mobile classroom that would take them into areas of study that to this point were just pages in a textbook."

Several factors motivated their idea. One was the students' experience with previous overnight trips and the hosting of a group of students from B.C.

The idea presented the teaching staff with an opportunity to teach some very important values.

"There was a tremendous amount of saving and scrimping in order to accumulate the required funds," said the principal. The total cost of the trip is $6,500.

A group of 23 Grade 6 students presented the idea for approval. Twelve Grade 5 students were added on the basis of academic ability and maturity. This rounded the group out at 35 and the two-year plan was started.

The project was titled "Excursion 78". Each pupil was given a chance to take part in the decision-making of the project by becoming involved in one or more committees.

Committees were: transportation, itinerary, accommodations, food, camping, financial, personal belongings, conduct, first aid and emergency procedure, publicity, groupings, am-

Clark coming to riding

Opposition leader Joe Clark has confirmed he will attend the Glengarry-Prescott-Russell Progressive Conservative nomination in Embrun tonight.

The meeting starts at 8:15 with Clark expected to arrive around 10.

'Oscar' is here

The Academy award-winning film, "The Sand Castle", will be presented for viewing Saturday at the Alexandria Public Library at 2 p.m.

Dalhousie Mills resident Co Hoedeman will also be on hand with his Oscar and some of the equipment he used in making the film.

Of the many bronze statues presented last week by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, only two were for Canadian productions. Hoedeman, who works for the National Film Board, had one of four entries in the "short animated films" category.

This is not the first time the Academy has given recognition to Hoedeman's talents. In 1975 his film, "Mr. Pointu", was nominated for an Academy award. A nomination is considered to be a great honor in itself.

Previously he shared a "Golden Star Award" with Gene Kelly of song and dance fame, at the International Children's Film Festival in Hollywood. The prize was for their creative contributions to the world of children.

Born in Amsterdam, Holland, 37 years ago, Hoedeman studied at a school of fine arts and a school of photography in that country.

"Most of my knowledge was learned by working in the profession in Holland," he said.

Co, and his wife Dukke, moved to Montreal in 1965, took up residence in Hudson for a short time, and three-and-a-half years ago, purchased a farm east of Dalhousie Mills where they and their three children Nathan, Nienke and Anouk, enjoy country living.

"My wife was raised on a farm in Holland. We decided to move to the country so she could enjoy the lifestyle she loves."

Bikes must obey road laws—chief

Traffic infractions committed by bicycle riders will be treated on the same basis as infractions by automobile drivers, Alexandria Police Chief Sylvio Cleroux warned this week.

Although police officers often overlook infractions by bicyclists, they are governed by the Highway Traffic Act, Cleroux said, and this year police intend to clamp down on violators.

Last year, the chief complained that many young people were not obeying the rules of the road. Several, for instance, insisted on riding on the left side of the road.

Adult bicyclists can be fined $28 for breaking the law while juveniles face fines of $5.

Bicycle licenses for 1978 are now on sale at the police station for $1. Renewals can be obtained during office hours, but new licenses can only be purchased on Saturday mornings from 10 to 12.

Information required by police includes the owner's name and address, serial number and color of the bike, the manufacturer's name and the style of bicycle (e.g. ladies, men's, 10-speed, etc.).

Cleroux noted that licensing aids in recovering stolen bicycles because all the information is kept in an Ontario-wide registry.

Dart gun opposed

The Ontario Humane Society has told Cornwall Twp. not to use a tranquilizer gun on dogs running at large.

Animal control officer Ron Alguire possesses a special dart-shooting gun that can fire cartridges loaded with either nicotinic alkloids or succinylcholine chloride.

In practice the dosage is only intended to be sufficient to knock the animal out, but the Humane Society says the chemicals can be extremely dangerous to animals.

The society says the gun should only be used on large, potentially dangerous animals and only under the supervision of a veterinarian.

The society indicated it would prosecute if the gun is used more extensively.

Council is seeking legal advice.

LIQUIDATING—Betty Bread (Lanthier Bakery) is in the process of converting to liquid sugar storage as opposed to granular as shown in the foreground. To accommodate the new system this large storage tank will be installed and the liquid will be pumped into production. The liquid will be shipped by tanker truck and pumped into the 49,000 pound tank. Company President, Claude Lanthier is standing at right. (Staff photo—Sherratt)

Film-making has not been confined to animation for Hoedeman. He has also spent considerable time in Canada's Arctic filming Inuit art for the National Film Board.

The film "The Sand Castle" took Hoedeman 20 months to complete from its original idea to the final print. All the work, with the exception of editing and music, was done by him.

"Children inspire me. They have a considerable effect on what I film and how subjects are presented. My own children have taken a great deal of interest in my work and have been my prime source for suggestions. Young people see things in a much more simplified manner."

The Oscar-winning film runs 13 minutes and involves some figures that through mutual co-operation, build a sand castle. Included amongst the figures is their creator, that could be considered as God. He molds them out of sand and gives them life. All work together and construct a huge sand castle. However, nature prevails and eventually destroys all their work.

"I tried to depict all aspects of humanity in my figures. There are those who are constantly working, those who do much but accomplish little, and those who simply sit around and do nothing until the job is completed.

"I was trying to show nature against man," he said. "We all have to live together and we sometimes try to out-do nature. We have to find a way for all to live comfortably. Nature and its elements always win in the end."

Hoedeman is continuing his efforts to convey his emotions through the cinema. In the filming stages now is a production entitled "Grotoceans". It takes place on the bottom of the ocean floor, and once again employs make-believe figures in animation.

"Basically the film is about relativity. The figures discover articles lost in time," he explained.

"They find gold, a violin, a bed and a bottle, all of which they have never seen before and they can't relate to what their use may be. Gold for example, has no value, as there are vast quantities of it in the ocean. A violin becomes a weapon and a bed is a means of transportation. However, what we term an everyday bottle, becomes a thing of great beauty and value and is the point of considerable interest."

It will be some time before the new production is completed. But if past performances are any indication it most certainly will be a work of art.

Council pay story ruffles . . .

Township, for example, are $3,250, $2,550 and $2,250 and for Lochiel are $2,750, $2,150 and $1,850.

The News feature also pointed out that the big pay boosts—ranging from 20 to 28 per cent—in Charlottenburgh came in 1977 when a motion by Councillor Morgan Major and MacDonald was discussed and approved after the press had been asked to leave the council chambers.

MacDonald termed the feature "misleading" and suggested that council could start holding more of its discussions in "committee of the whole".

Under the Municipal Act, regular meetings of council must be held in public. However, a council can effectively circumvent this requirement by first moving into "committee of the whole", which can be closed to the press and public, and then reconvening the regular council meeting to simply ratify the decisions made in committee of the whole.

Therefore, while the actual decisions eventually become a matter of public record, all the discussion can be carried out secretly and it is impossible to know what each councillor said on a given issue.

MacDonald said if the press continued "doing a half job", council should consider going "into closed session" more often.

Gadbois said he was the highest paid head of council in the area because his township needs a lot of attention.

He noted that his closest financial rival, Alexandria Mayor Bruno Massie, who makes $4,235, lives in a municipality that is much smaller.

"Here we're looking after twice as many people in a much larger space and there are more problems," Gadbois said.

tee, which was established several months ago and which was subsequently doubled to include two parents, two students, two teachers, as well as the principal and vice-principal, has done an extensive study with the intention of establishing a permanent schedule of prizes, awards and scholarships for Grade XII and XIII graduates.

There are four ways, the sub-committee decided at a previous meeting, to solicit the money.

A) Individuals, groups and organizations could be asked to donate one or more prizes annually. Their names would be recognized at graduation and on the program.

B) A large scholarship fund could be set up, the interest of which could be divided evenly each year among the prize winners. 52 prizes of $40 each would require $2,080 each year.

C) Each year money could be solicited from the community. Those donating $10 or more could be recognized on the program. The money raised would be divided evenly among the winners.

D) A combination of the above methods could be established.

It was the feeling of the committee that prizes should be awarded to the top one or two students in all subjects in the graduating years. The amount for each subject could be $40; $25 for first prize and $15 for second.

There will be 22 subjects taught in French and English at the grade 13 (550) level and 30 subjects taught at the grade 12 (440 and 490) level in the near future.

Charitable homes for aged to receive funds

Community and Social Services Minister Keith Norton has announced rate changes for Homes for the Aged.

Daily rates for Extended Care Services in Charitable Homes for the Aged will increase by $2 from $23 to $25, effective April 1, 1978.

"The additional $2 per diem will cover anticipated cost increases in the 85 charitable homes with extended care services throughout the province," Norton stated.

The Charitable Institutions Act will cover the additional $2, increasing the government's portion from $14.70 to $16.70, while the resident's portion remains at $8.30.

It is planned to increase the resident's portion by 20 cents a day to $8.50 and reduce the government's portion by a like amount, with an effective date of May 1, 1978.

The new $25 per diem rate represents an 8.7 per cent increase over the present rate and means that it will have doubled since April 1, 1972 when it was $12.50 per day.

Municipal Homes for the Aged, which are on a different funding basis, will receive a six per cent overall increase in their subsidy allocations rather than the $2 per diem. This approach has already been discussed with representatives of the municipal homes and talks will continue with municipalities and the Ontario Association of Homes for the Aged and operating expenditures will be reviewed during the year.

Additionally announced, was a $1 per day, or 6.7 per cent increase to $17 a day in the residential rate for charitable homes for senior citizens.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

There is only one disadvantage to our winter sojourn down here in South Florida. Occasionally the Glengarry News informs us that a close friend of long standing has left us. The "Letters from home," arrived today as we are packing for the trek back to the Glens. We were saddened to read the front page obituary lead telling us that one more of the thinning old guard had answered the call of Divine Providence—Wilfred Menard. The disadvantage, obviously, is the regret of not being able to join the legion of relatives and friends paying our last respects.

Among the factors moulding our friendship was the closeness of our birthdays. After crossing the three score and ten marker, when we would meet, Wilfred would invariably quip, "Well Angus, we are still moving along."

Wilfred Menard's varied contributions to Glengarry in general and his beloved Green Valley in particular is widely known and greatly admired. However, there is one more trait, a characteristic of a true sportsman, that must not be overlooked but emphasized in the tributes to a great Glengarrian like Wilfred Menard.

This distinguished characteristic so essential of a successful life; we will review the true facts as related to this writer many, many years ago in the original office of Menard Construction. In addition to being an office, this was also Wilfred Menard's inner sanctum. No wall to wall carpeting, no mahogany desk, just a used one cluttered with business forms and a telephone. That long ago summer day was the era when "Michaud Town - 1st Kenyon" was a veritable gold mine of stone to be crushed. Menard Construction was on its way.

However, as we chatted, we were reminded by Wilfred that he didn't forget the days that would have killed the ambition of a young man with lesser courage. The days when Wilfred and his lovable wife, Irene along with infant Rae retreated back to Green Valley from their first home and business in Moose Creek that had been wiped out by fire. To add to the loss there was little or no insurance.

Then came the opportunity that lead to the founding of Menard Construction. Wilfred, continuing to tell us his early life story, recalled that the provincial government decided that a new bridge should be built over River Beaudette on the Military Road now 34, Green Valley. The name of the contractor now escapes our memory but they were likely "Tory" supporters and from the Toronto area.

All bridge supplies were to be shipped by rail to Green Valley. The problem the contractor had to solve was transporting the supplies from the siding to the river one mile south.

Wilfred Menard, with a glint that recalled a possible break in the doldrums of the "Hungry Thirties," told us how he picked up enough nerve to confer with the contractor stating that possibly he (Wilfred) could solve the transportation of supplies problem. He (Wilfred) knew where he could buy a suitable used truck in Dalhousie. The contractor was quite impressed and a hauling deal was completed with a handshake. "But," Wilfred grinned and shrugged his shoulders, a trademark habit, "the truck terms were cash. I had no money in such terms and neither did anyone else at that time."

After confessing this vital factor to the contractor, the deal was still in force. They, Wilfred and the contractor, drove to the Royal Bank in Alexandria. Both the bank manager and the contractor instinctively recognized that here was a young man possessing character, courage in abundance and not afraid to work. A factor in life that supersedes financial collateral at the bank or anywhere else. Wilfred's truck cheque was honored. He fulfilled his hauling deal.

That, folks, is the actual founding of Menard Construction. I recall the story as vividly as if it was told to me today.

In the sport realm that same characteristic was his in the forefront. In the Golden Twenties, the depression thirties and post World War Two sport rehabilitation eras there were no Wintario handouts as is the custom today. But there were always in every Glengarry community, two or three sportsmen pillars who would endorse a note at the bank to assist especially lacrosse and hockey. Wilfred Menard was such a pillar as evidenced by his keen enthusiasm in support of Green Valley activities, Glengarry Gardens and curling in Alexandria.

Among our fondest memories of life in and out of the Glens, was knowing a great guy like Wilfred Menard.

Atoms split away games

Guy Lanctot's Atom Glens defeated Cornwall B Thursday in Cornwall, 6-4, and lost in Massena 7-2 the previous Tuesday.

Cornwall held Alexandria 4-2 by the middle of the second period. But the Glens narrowed the gap to 4-3 before the period ended. Neither team scored any goals until only five minutes were left in the game. It was then that Alexandria took charge scoring three quick points to win the game.

Point getters for Alexandria were Francois Paquin with a hat trick and an assist, and single goals from Hubert Lebrun, Marc Theoret and Luc Cholette.

Scoring for Alexandria in their 7-2 loss were Marc Theoret assisted by Denis Nadeau and Francois Paquin assisted by Michel Sabourin.

Alexandria's Atom travelling team was defeated by Char-Lan 6-1, Monday. Andrew McCormick scored the lone goal.

Unfortunately for the Alexandria boys the puck wasn't rolling for them. So much so that they scored twice on their own net, once from a face-off when the puck deflected off one of their sticks, and a second time when a high puck was knocked down the wrong way.

On Saturday the Atom dads faced-off against their sons in a fun hockey game. Final score 6-6.

McKenzie reaches 100 as team wins final

Roddie McKenzie of the Char-Lan Atoms, scored his 100th goal Thursday to help his team defeat Massena 3-2 for the Can-Am league championship.

Char-Lan's goaltender, Dan Fourney, gave up two goals early in the first period. But they rallied back and Roddie McKenzie set up Blake Hambleton for one. Then McKenzie picked up a loose puck at centre ice and skated in all alone to beat the Massena netminder and score his 100th goal of the season.

Early in the second period Marc Cameron set up Hambleton for the game winning point and his second goal of the game.

The remainder of the competition was fast end to end play with the Char-Lan defence doing a fine job of clearing the puck.

The Char-Lan Atoms, coached by Stewart Fourney and managed by Brian McKenzie, played in 50 games this season. Won 34, tied two and lost 14. They finished in second place in the Can-Am league with 29 points. In both league and exhibition play the Atoms outscored their opposition 212 to 87, with 16 shutout games.

They entered five, were declared "A" champs once,

Oldtimers to hold tourney

The Williamstown oldtimers, known locally as the "Williamstown Wings", will be hosting an eight team hockey tournament at the Char-Lan arena Saturday.

Included in the competition are teams from Alexandria, Long Sault, two teams from Glen Walter, two from Cornwall and one from Summerstown.

A couple of changes have been made to the usual tournament format. In the hopes of minimizing delays on faceoffs, lines must change on the fly. And in an effort to make the competition a little more exciting, the first round winners will be allowed to choose their own divisions. Each game will consist of three 15 minute continuous time periods.

The tournament schedule is: Cornwall (M.S.T.) vs. Williamstown, 9 a.m.; Glen Walter vs Alexandria, 10 a.m.; Celanese vs Long Sault at 11 a.m. and Glen Walter vs Summerstown at noon.

The "A" division will hold semi-finals at two and 4 p.m. with the championship at 6 p.m. The "B" division semi-finals are scheduled for one and 3 p.m. with finals at 5 p.m.

This evening, Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m., Sealtest vs Starr Taxi; 8:30 p.m., Hope's Auto Parts vs Glen Robertson.

Boston Hawks defeated Glens 8-6

For the second year in a row the Boston Tomahawks defeated the Junior B Glens. Their most recent defeat came Friday night at the Sports Palace when the southern squad downed them 8-6 in exhibition play.

The Glens had only 12 players, and five of them were not team members.

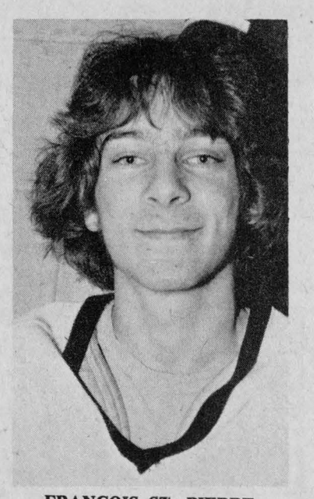
All things considered, Alexandria goaltenders, Peter Wensink and Chris Nichol did a fine job of netminding, considering they didn't have their usual defence in front of them.

Regular Glens players in the lineup were Wensink, Nichol, Luc Poirier, Leo Seguin, Yvan Desautels, Ray Bourdon, and Mike Beauclair. Additional players were Frank St. Pierre, Robert Boisvenue, Richard Cholette, Gilles Lauzon and Myles Gallant.

The Tomahawks moved into an early lead, finishing the first period 3-1, with the lone Alexandria goal coming from Boisvenue. The second period ended 4-2 with Gallant scoring for the Glens.

The host team gave it their best shot in the final 20 minutes and at one time tied the score 5-5.

Mike Beauclair tallied two and Desautels and St. Pierre each scored singles in the last period.



FRANCOIS ST. PIERRE

St. Pierre to play for U.S. university

According to Frank St. Pierre there are still a few details to iron out. But according to a spokesman at Colgate University in Hamilton, New York, Frank will be attending college this fall on an athletic (hockey) scholarship.

St. Pierre played with the Alexandria Junior B Glens and completed this past season with the Hawkesbury Junior A Hawks where he was voted "Rookie of the Year".

"I'm really pleased to add a player of Frank's caliber to our hockey program," commented Terry Slater, head coach of the University team. "I'm sure he will make a real contribution to Colgate hockey. He is the type of player who will fit right into our style of play."

The 5-foot-9, 160-pounder from Alexandria, Ontario scored 17 goals and 27 assists for 44 points this season.

The Hawks placed fourth in the Central League under coach Mac McClean before losing in the semi-finals of the play-offs in seven games.

"Frank plays his position extremely well," commented Slater. "He does his job and played well in the play-offs. His positional play (both offensively and defensively) is extraordinary for his age."

Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph St. Pierre of Kincardine Street, Alexandria.

Soft puck finals

Consolidated Textiles and CIP Foods are meeting in a best three out of five series final as a result of their semi-final victories in industrial soft puck action.

Consolidated Textiles had little trouble in their series, as they defeated IGA 6-0, 6-0 and 8-0.

The other series was much closer. Lanthier Bakery won the first two games, 6-2 and 1-0, but, CIP Foods refused to give up and bounced back to win the next three games 4-2, 3-2 (overtime) and 4-1.

The finals will be played on Mondays and Thursdays at 8 p.m. at the Sports Palace.

HAD BIG SEASON—Blair MacDonald was awarded two team trophies from the Edmonton Oilers last Friday night in Edmonton following the last game of the WHA schedule. He received the "Most Valuable Player" and "Player of the Year" awards as well as a trip for two to Las Vegas. Overall, the former Royal had 34 goals and 34 assists, but only seven minutes in penalties in 80 games, a factor that places him as a contender for the Most Gentlemanly Player in the league.

Bantams runners-up Can-Am championship

The Bantam Glens made it all the way to the final game of the Can-Am League championship Friday only to be defeated 4-3 by Cornwall B, at the Sports Palace.

Alexandria players had held a 3-1 lead before the first period was completed. However, they were unable to find the mark for the rest of the game and Cornwall gradually narrowed the gap, scoring the winning goal at 7:52 of the third period.

The competition was a one-game-winner-take-all championship. With the score tied 3-3 going into the third period both sides were out for the go-ahead goal. Gilles Parisien managed to pop it in for Cornwall.

Scoring for Alexandria were Joey McRae assisted by Darrell Hay; Kennedy MacDonald assisted by Frankie Morris, and Grant Crack assisted by Billy Allison and Andy McRae. All Alexandria goals were scored in the first seven minutes of the game.

Alexandria K C won trophy

The Alexandria K of C hockey team won the "B" series championship, Saturday, at the Casselman tournament, defeating Orleans 2-1 in the final game.

Gilles Lefebvre earned the honor of top scorer in the "B" series and Roch Lajoie was voted the MVP of the trophy winning game.

In making their way to the final game Alexandria defeated Hawkesbury 5-2, downed Rockland 8-7 and eliminated Embrun 8-2. Lajoie scored both goals in their 2-1 win over Orleans.

Jr. B League to increase by one

One team will be eliminated and two others added to Junior B north-east division before the start of next season.

Vanier, who last week won the division championship, will be moving up to Jr. A play and Morrisburg and Winchester will be added to increase the division from a six to a seven team schedule.

Some of the most productive Glens players who have played in the old division are:

Curator addresses Historical Society

The Glengarry Historical Society met recently in the hall of the Church on the Hill, Alexandria. A program of slides on the topic "Grist Milling in Pioneer Times" was ably presented by Christopher Porter, curator in charge of technology at Upper Canada Village. He contributed to the development of Upper Canada Village, his latest project being the setting up of the printing shop. Mr. Porter is keenly interested in pioneer history and shared his knowledge and expertise with the large audience present. He provided many details of the milling process and construction of the early grist mills which were such an important part of pioneer life.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Joan Johnson reporting for the Nor'Westers Museum, stated that donations from the Rhodes Grant Estate would be on display this summer. On June 14 Dialogue Theatre of Cornwall will present a play on Cariboo Cameron. There will be a 50 ticket limit for this event.

Major Grant MacGillivray proposed that a memorial to honor the memory of Mora MacLeod, be placed in the Dunvegan Museum. Mrs. MacLeod was an original member of the Historical Society and curator for several years of the Dunvegan Museum.

The president, Velma Franklin, announced that the conveners of the Antique Fair to be held in September will be Bruce Kennedy and Helen Kennedy.

The Historical Society is offering a scholarship of $200 to the Grade XII or XIII student in the Art Class who submits the best drawing in any medium of a Glengarry heritage subject. There is also a $200 scholarship for the GDHS student in the drafting class who submits the best re-designing of an old building. Dr. Russell Harper and G. E. Broomhall have been appointed judges.

Concert and dance held

by Eleanor MacMillan

The annual "Spring Concert" followed by a dance, Saturday, April 8 culminated in another successful evening for the Pipe Band.

It appeared that re-organization and filling of ranks within the participating groups did not distract from their fine performances, but rather, the newcomers with their special talents instilled new vigor and rejuvenated our favorite groups.

The Pipe Band was fortunate to have such fine contributions from the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society, the Trottier sisters and their mom and dad; the MacCulloch Dancers, Sharon Metcalfe at the organ and pianist Alana McPhail.

Sylvester MacDonald as "Master of Ceremonies" introduced the performers, while Pipe Major MacKenzie, behind the backdrop, organized the program.

Pipe Major David Danskin led the "Concert Party." This included a new member in the snare drumming section, Leanne MacDonald, and pipers from the Junior group. All gave a superb performance as they played medleys, and for the dancers, tunes so fast it was amazing their fingers could keep pace. There was also a very impressive arrangement for pipes by J. T. MacKenzie, the story of a church whose past has provided a future, "The Burning of St. Raphael's."

The "Junior Group" of pipers and drummers, in white shirts, a "Glengarry" or a "Balmoral" and dressed in available "kilts" —some acting more as "chest warmers" and others held up by a tight belt, made a very fine debut into public performance, led by Pipe Sergeant Roger Martin. The young pipers were Andrew Buchan, Dennis Beauchesne, Carey Cameron, Kim Daly, and Stuart Fiske. The accompanying snare drummers were Leeanne Christie, Janet Kennedy, Alan McMillan, Lori McRae and Danny O'Connor.

The "Thistle Quilt Draw" was held with Pipe Major of the Band David Danskin drawing the winning ticket, that of Mrs. Annabelle Hay of Alexandria. This fine handmade quilt was the work of Mrs. Donalda MacLennan.

The band executive had aid from Mrs. Joan Martin and Linden Kippen in the sale of door and bar tickets, Arnold Munro and his assistants in management of the bar, Mrs. Julia Danskin in displaying the quilt in her "Scottish Shop" and co-ordinating the sale of these tickets, Mrs. Agnes MacKenzie and her assistants for providing refreshments to the performers, Sylvester MacDonald and his Band, and all members of our own Glengarry Pipe Band. All added another feature to the "Hackle" with this fine evening.

The Bachus Mill is the oldest continually operating grist mill in Ontario, built in 1798 by John Backhouse.

The Bachus Conservation Area historic site of over 200 acres includes the grist mill, a saw mill, agricultural museum, and homestead, circa 1850. Camping, swimming and fishing (in the mill pond) and picnicing are available during the official season, May 15-Sept. 15.

Marilyn is now living in Vittoria, formerly the Norfolk County seat 1835-1875.

Naturalists seek water quality standards

The Federation of Ontario Naturalists has challenged the Ministry of the Environment to explain its refusal to establish water quality standards which have a legal meaning.

Such standards have been sought by the International Joint Commission, conservation organizations and recently the courts.

The request followed a lengthy meeting last week with Environment Minister George McCague and Deputy Minister Ken Sharpe.

The meeting had been promoted by a statement February 10 by Sharpe, who said that as long as he is deputy minister there will never be water quality standards in Ontario.

"Consistently," says FON President Matthew Gaasenbeek, "the ministry has maintained its claim that mere guidelines, which lack force of law, are the best approach. But officials have never been able to give satisfactory defense for that claim."

According to FON, water quality standards would:

—provide a guaranteed baseline below which water quality would not be permitted to fall

—still provide the ministry with the flexibility to insist upon a higher level of quality wherever desirable

—greatly simplify the ministry's enforcement task

—make it possible for citizens to initiate prosecutions when the ministry ignores even gross pollution

"At present," say the naturalists, "the guidelines are not legally binding so that prosecutions must be based upon the probable or demonstrated effect of the contaminants. This requires expert witnesses and judgment calls which may or may not be accepted by the courts. This puts the entire matter into a highly technical private realm of the ministry."

"We wonder," says Gaasenbeek, "why the ministry seems more interested in retaining its completely discretionary power than it is in avoiding the inevitable compromises in water quality which can with 'negotiating' control orders with polluters."

MUSEUM MEETING

There will be a meeting of the committee for the Glengarry Scottish Museum on Monday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. at Dunvegan, in the school house.

If you are interested in giving your support, please contact me, Marion Loewen. We will welcome your membership.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Evelyn MacQueen has been sick in bed for a few days. I understand she is starting to feel better, and hope she will be able to be out and around by the time you read this.

HOW YOUR DONATION IS SPENT

This month is Cancer Society campaign month. The money collected during this campaign will be divided five ways.

Research is largely supported by your donations and 57 cents of each dollar expended by the Canadian Cancer Society is given to research.

The Ontario Division Service to Patients Committee requires 14 cents of each dollar. This is used by them to give special help and support to patients.

There are patient lodges in Toronto, London, Hamilton, Thunder Bay, Ottawa and Kingston, for out-of-town ambulatory cancer patients undergoing treatment at nearby clinics. Six cents of each dollar has gone toward the provision of these facilities.

Twelve cents of each dollar goes to educate the people of Ontario about cancer and the manner in which each person can fight the disease.

Although 95% of the Society's work is carried out by tens of thousands of volunteers, about six cents of each dollar is used for administration. This pays the salaries of the small staff of permanent employees and provides the necessary business equipment.

Five cents of each dollar is spent to provide campaign posters, films, canvassers' kits and many other tools necessary for a successful campaign.

When the volunteer canvasser knocks on your door, please give generously.

Reminder of changes in April postal rates

The Canada Post Office reminds customers that since April 1, changes in postal rates affecting all classes of mail have come into effect. The rates were announced in November 1977.

As of April 1, postage for first class letters weighing up to one ounce are 14 cents. Greeting cards (five words or less) and other third class addressed mail (up to two ounces) increased from 10 cents to 12 cents.

Basic fee for registration is $1.25, while special delivery fee is 80 cents. Fee for C.O.D. remains at $1.

Most rates to U.S.A. are identical to those applicable within Canada. For countries excluding the U.S.A. the basic letter mail rate, including aerogrammes, will increase from 25 cents to 30 cents.

The Post Office advises customers to check with their local post office for further information on postal rates as well as any changes in regulations.

Through the rate increases, authorized under Section 13 of the Financial Administration Act, Postmaster General the Honorable J. Gilles Lamontagne hopes to reduce the annual deficit in the Post Office by $125 million.

Clean glasses are important

Cleaning the lenses of your safety glasses before you put them on could prevent an accident, says the Industrial Accident Prevention Association.

So check on some of the little things you do on and off the job, such as keeping your glasses clean.

Spotting hazards like that could prevent an accident.

Isabella Benton dies at 83

A highly respected resident of McCrimmon for sixty-five years, Isabella Benton, passed away Good Friday morning, March 24, 1978, in Glengarry Memorial. She was in Maxville Manor for the past two months, following hospitalization from October 1976, and in apparent good health and spirits so her sudden death came as a shock to relatives and friends.

Isabella was born at Laggan on July 25, 1895, daughter of the late Donald O. Urquhart and his wife Hattie McLeod. In 1913 she married the late John D. Benton, McCrimmon, where they farmed for over fifty years before moving to McCrimmon's corner in 1966. John died in 1968.

Mrs. Benton was an active member of Mons Lodge No. 348, LOBA, McCrimmon (from 1928) and McCrimmon Women's Institute.

She possessed a warm and personable nature, was a good neighbor and true friend to young and old. She had developed an artistic talent and had completed many fine paintings of different media. Proficient at craft work, quilting, rug-making and the like, she had taken great interest in competing at local fairs.

She is survived by four sisters: Hattie A. MacKinnon, Burnaby, B.C.; Eliza J. MacRae, Syracuse, NY; Christena A. Mickle, Toronto, and Marion D. Urquhart, Laggan. She was predeceased by a brother Angus, and two sisters, Mary and Sara.

The funeral was held in St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Kirk Hill, on March 27 at 11 o'clock; the Rev. Mr. J. Forbes conducting the service.

Pallbearers were three nephews, Alfred U. MacRae, Donald R. MacRae and Angus W. Mickle, and three of her former neighbors, Dougal MacGillivray, John H. Morrison and Keith MacDonald.

Interment will be in St. Columba Cemetery in the spring.

Shades of home at Bonnie Glen

The Bonnie Glen was the center of Scottish music Sunday, as 100 Scottish Country dancers, stepped their way through strathspeys, jigs and reels.

The dinner-dance party was hosted by the Martintown Scottish Country Dance class, under the direction of Rae MacCulloch, and included visiting dancers from Montreal, Hawkesbury and Ottawa.

The highlight of the day was the "Reel of the 51st" danced by 24 kilted gentlemen.

Don MacLeod, an 87 year old former Glengarrian, proved that this type of dancing has no age limit. He first took an active interest in it only one year ago.

Kenneth N. McDermid dies in 80th Year

A well known resident of the Martintown area, Kenneth Norman McDermid, died March 26, at Cornwall General. He was in his 80th year.

He is survived by his wife, Christena Dewar. He also leaves one son and two daughters: Keith of Martintown, Mrs. Norman (Kathryn) Alpharetta of Georgia and Mrs. Rod (Christina) Macdonell of Ottawa.

Mr. McDermid was born in Apple Hill, the son of the late Andrew McDermid and his late wife Katherine Helmer.

Service was held March 29 at St. Andrew's United Church, Martintown. Rev. Edwin MacDonald conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Ross MacDonald. Interment was in North Branch Cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were Findlay MacIntosh, Peter McCuaig, Ken Barton, Salem Thomson, Stewart Blackadder, Harvey McMillan, Clarence Bethune and Gordon Urquhart.

Mr. McDermid was an elder in Martintown United Church for many years and served as Clerk of Sessions. In 1975 he became a Life Member of the Martintown Masonic Lodge. In 1958 he was elected District Deputy Grand Master.

Art Buckland—528-4261

This Sunday the Great Raisin River White Water Canoe race takes place. Watch for the yellow canoe from Martintown; we will either be in first place or ....

Martintown Public School parents and students are trying to raise money for a school trip for Grade 8 students. They will be serving hot dogs, coffee, tea, hot chocolate and home baked goodies all day. The booth will be set up in the Raisin Region Conservation Authority's Building (Kenny Barton's old feed mill). Pleas support us.

The above two paragraphs may seem unrelated, but the only way I could avoid all the work involved in our booth was to go in the water.

After the races, saunter over to the St. Andrews United Church basement where the UCW will be serving a supper of ham and beans with maple syrup.

NEW ALBUM

Walter Stewart phoned to say that he had a complimentary album of Glengarry '77 for my small part in the show last September. Thank you very much for these musical memoirs and for an album of such a variety of the outstanding amateur talent in our area.

The album consists of two records of live concert performance at the Arts Centre. Included on the album are the excellent singing and perfect harmony of Jamie and Luane Wood, the melodic pipes and drums of the Glengarry Pipe Band, the songs of Robin Upton and Garry Matthews, introductions by the inimitable Max Keeping, fiddle music, song and music by Cobblers, and more; tap dancing by the MacCulloch dancers, jokes. Wow!

It's all there on Glengarry '77, cheap at twice the price.

Rae MacCulloch and John MacKenzie have albums for sale; me too. The Glengarry Club is sponsoring the record. Proceeds will aid culture in our area. I also hear that Wilf Gillis has a new record recently released.

SCOTLAND TRIP

Fly to Scotland this summer in August for two weeks. Sir Walter Stewart has about 25 seats left. About 85 are signed up now.

Allan MacPhail, Malcolm Dewar, Clif Britton and Alec Ross have formed a group to spread the music of the real old Scottish fiddling. Boy, what a bundle of talent is present in those great fiddlers!

Last Sunday Rae MacCulloch's Scottish Country Dance Group entertained dance groups from other areas at yon Bonnie Glen. About 100 dancers attended the 'do'. Marcel and Jeannine Lanthier put on their usual excellent repast for the dancers.

Rae MacCulloch has been asked to supply dancers for a travelling concert party which Grant MacGillivray (Dalkeith) is organizing. Sounds promising.

Always a note of sadness now as I drive through Martintown past the homes of friends recently passed away; names like Grant, Christie, MacDermid, Beaudette, Christie and Ross.

However, life goes on and as Rev. MacDonald pointed out, let us pattern our lives on the model of good living which these men leave with us now.

POT POURRI

Kay Conboy phoned and left a notepadful of newsy items from amongst her circle of friends. Thelma Scott held a tea to celebrate the 80th birthday of her mother, dear Annie DeCoteau.

Miss Emily MacInnes, one of those superb teachers who set high standards which students eagerly strive to meet, is now embarked on another career as a gentlelady farmer. The most recent news is that her goat Chloe has produced two kids.

Another convert—this time from pig farmer to poet—Ken Mitchell dropped by last week. This Canadian author from Saskatchewan is attempting to get more people into the theatre by turning country and western music into opera form; 'country opera'. His first attempt, "Cruel Tears" did a successful tour of Canada two years ago.

On a political note, Ken sees the west becoming part of the United States, if Quebec secedes. I agree. So, just as drama adjudicator Ron Hartman said in reference to the possible levelling of Cornwall's Capitol Theatre, "People, it would be a disgrace if you let it happen."

Reggie Kyte, Cornwall stationer celebrating the 89th year of his business. Just he and his father have been proprietors.

The first ship has arrived in Cornwall harbor. She's from Norway. Thus spring must be here.

OLD TALE

With the canoe race impending, I'm reminded of Stephen Leacock's short sea story. Stranded on a desert isle, the author eked out a miserable subsistence, feeding on sand and gravel (just the fine stuff) and dressing himself in cactus plants. Years passed and eating sand and mud led to depression and impercept ible undermining of his robust constitution. He fell ill; he died; he buried himself. The saga concludes with this thought. "Would that others who write sea stories would do the same." Such humor from a great Canadian.

Marion MacCuaig wife of beer baron Bruce, had her bags packed in anticipation and she even prepared to fly from Mirabel "to be in England now that April's here, and husband Bruce is there." All hopes were dashed, however, when Bruce came down with a bad cold, and flew home early.

What Glengarry pig farmer took his piggie to market, then elbowed up to the local draught trough himself, "spent all his money on whiskey and beer" and very nearly did not navigate home at all?

Martintown Mac says to look forward to a long, hot summer—Granny Cain has predicted such.

N.C. MacLeod dies at 57

Norman Callum MacLeod, a resident of Richmond, Ont. for the past nine years, died in Kemptville District Hospital, Kemptville, on February 28, 1978.

Born in Dalkeith, Ont. on October 15, 1920, he was the eldest son of the late Alex N. MacLeod, and his wife, the former Annie Margaret MacKenzie.

In December 1958 he married Marion Janet MacRae of the First of Lochiel who is left to mourn his loss. Two brothers also survive: Ferguson of Kemptville, and J.K. of Petawawa, and three nieces, Judy MacLeod of Kemptville, and Cathy and Tracy MacRae of Burlington, Ontario.

Many friends, relatives and neighbors paid their respects at the funeral homes in North Gower, and in Alexandria. Everyone remembered Callum for his cheerful, generous disposition and friendly personality. Callum most enjoyed helping others.

The funeral service was held in the Morris Funeral Home, Alexandria, on Friday, March 3, conducted by Rev. J. Forbes of St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Kirk Hill. Interment will follow in Kirk Hill in the spring.

Pallbearers were Ronald Branscombe, James Ballentine, Charles Weedmark, Ranald MacLeod, Angus MacLeod and Donnie MacLennan.

Hannam approves

Supply management has fulfilled its promise to both consumers and farmers, Peter Hannam, President of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency today.

Mr. Hannam explained that supply management has nearly stopped the boom and bust cycles which had reduced the poultry and dairy sectors to near chaos. Farmers in these commodities are now receiving a steadier income and consumers are receiving more stable supplies and prices.

This new stability had led to improved farm efficiency which, in turn, was being passed on to consumers.

Mr. Hannam explained that the best example of this was to be found in the recent Consumer Price Index figures.

"The total food component was up by 17 per cent, yet the prices the farmer received for those products under supply management were much more moderate," said Mr. Hannam. "In Ontario, the annual price change in milk was up 8.8%: poultry, up 4.2%: and eggs, down 3.4%."

When supply management was first introduced, it was believed to be in the long-term interest of the consumers. "These recent price changes have proved it," concluded Mr. Hannam.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Duplicate debate wastes time

With so much in The News over the past few weeks about council pay and how many councillors attend how many meetings, it might be worth noting that the number of meetings a particular council holds is no indication of how efficiently it operates. What counts is what gets done.

At Alexandria council last week, for example, council indulged in an almost carbon copy debate of an earlier discussion on whether or not to purchase a new emergency van for the fire department.

The new debate erupted during a discussion on tendering to sell the town's old pick-up truck. Although discussion of the emergency van was clearly out of order, the chairman allowed the discussion to ramble on and take up valuable council time.

Making matters worse, when it was all over, council still had not made a decision. The issue will be sent to finance committee where we can expect another debate and then it will go back to the full council where the whole question could very well be opened up for a fourth time.

Some members of council expressed a desire to consult with adjacent townships to see if they wished to help with the cost of a new van. But no motion was brought forward suggesting the townships' viewpoints be obtained.

Council also failed to pick up on a good point made by Mayor Massie. He suggested that the town might be held liable if it used the van as an ambulance (as proposed) and a patient died en route to hospital.

Again, there was no resolution to have this potential liability checked out. It should be pointed out that the St. John Ambulance Service has recently been warned against using its vehicles as ambulances.

We can sympathize with some informality at meetings, but it is disconcerting to watch councillors spend precious time on a subject that is out of order to begin with, only to decide that nothing can be decided.

Surely the rules of procedure can be tightened up a little.

Who's to blame for violence?

Now that Alexandria's hockey violence trial is over and we are free to comment on the case, we wish to echo Judge Patrick White's concern about violence in the sport and the need for officials to take sterner action.

White said he had recently witnessed a child's hockey game where "if it had been up to me to decide I would have stopped the game before it was over."

He said the game was spoiled by excessive physical contact.

"We can't blame the children for acting this way," he said. "It's the fault of the adults and conveners of the game."

He is right, of course. It's the parents in the audience who cheer when somebody is rammed savagely into the boards. It's the fans who scream for blood when two players start swinging at each other.

Although we pay lip-service to clean play, it seldom gets the cheers and hoots that a brawl does. As long as we continue to glorify violence by giving known tough-guys nick-names like "Tiger" Williams (instead of "Ape" or "Gorilla"), we will never convince youth that we care more about a good pass than a poke in the nose.

Violence is on the rise at all age levels and we would not even remotely suggest that we can cure all our social ills through our hockey organizations. But, because so many of our young people participate in the sport, it's as good a place as any to start.

One of the attitudes that needs changing is, "Fighting will always be a part of hockey." Those who have seen visiting European teams in action—particularly the Swedes—know that it is possible to play hockey that is almost penalty-free.

All we have to do is convince ourselves of that fact.

Ego comes high in government

Out of our bag of federal spending tricks comes yet another white elephant.

From the Canadian Employment and Immigration Commission we have the hair-raising tale of the senior bureaucrat who had 8,000 issues of an in-house magazine destroyed in December because the article he wrote for it was not displayed prominently enough.

Although the magazines cost $3,500 to print, they were all destroyed when a top commission official ordered changes because his Christmas message was buried at the bottom of a page. The boss also thought a picture of an employee was too large.

Another 8,000 issues were printed at an additional cost of $4,000.

To many people in this country, $4,000 is half a year's pay—maybe more. And that's the way civil servants should start looking at spending. In the total picture, $4,000 is not a large amount, but as the saying goes, "If you look after the cents, the dollars will take care of themselves."

It's quite an ego that has a $4,000 price-tag attached to it. Consequently, we would suggest members of the commission also digest another adage:

"The bigger a man's head, the easier it is to fill his shoes."

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

It had been a light-hearted weekend around our house as the festive spirit from our niece's wedding on Friday evening lingered on through Saturday.

No big party, but with extra family home for the occasion, we lingered longer over coffee, reviewed events and did not work too hard.

The wedding had brought special memories back for Judy and she had started thinking along the lines of a little celebration for an eighth anniversary on Monday. For herself and Ed.

Hint by hint, Ed started getting the treatment. The gradual process of being "worked on" is the pre-campaign strategy we women resort to before we start agreeing with our dear partners that, yes, we will go on that trip that they so innocently suggested.

The arrows were starting to point in the direction of Quebec City. After all, Blair was playing hockey there on Tuesday and Tuesday is close enough to Monday to be sufficiently acceptable for an anniversary trip.

Things were starting to look even better by Saturday night when a visit to Tony and Ruth took on an unexpected slant. They had not had a day off all winter and a little trip to the "Colisee" on Tuesday could be arranged. Possibilities of a foursome were shaping up.

Yessir, Ed was going to look like some spoilsport if he couldn't get Tuesday off . . .

The phone rang early Sunday morning. A voice choked with tears asked to speak to Judy or Ed. It was a former neighbor, calling from Ingleside. A mutual friend had died the day before. She and Judy were the same age.

It had been a freak accident, an unbelieveable tragedy. The young mother had tripped at the top of the stairs in her home and succumbed in hospital a few hours later, the result of head injuries.

Their young school teacher friend had been in perfect health, happy with her husband and baby, active in community events. That a fall in her own home could have had such an unbelieveable result was a terrible shock. Things like this happened on soap operas, not in real life.

It takes a while for news like this to become comprehensible. Suddenly all other plans become remote and inconsequential. Thoughts run a-jumble. Feelings are confused . . . Helplessness, in the realization that there seems so little one can do to console. Barrenness, in the knowledge that there will be no more sharing of pleasant hours. Guilt, in the very realization that a celebration had been planned while such heartbreak was shaping up in another home . . .

There is probably no news comparable to the death of a loved one to jolt a person into another realm.

Judy and Ed spent their anniversary paying their last respects to their friend and with her husband who would never again know the richness that was theirs in just being together.

As those who have experienced marriage know, there are many kinds of anniversaries.

Perspective

by Bob Roth

Deputy reeve overreacts

Ewen MacDonald's attack on the press last week can best be described as an exercise in overkill.

Because Charlottenburgh's deputy reeve didn't like what he read in the paper, he threatened that council should consider holding more of its deliberations behind closed doors. (As if they don't hold enough of them in secret already.)

MacDonald was upset at a News story showing Charlottenburgh Township councillors to be the highest paid in the area. The deputy reeve was particularly miffed because the article listed the approximate number of council meetings held each year, but did not make note of the fact that councillors often attend meetings other than council meetings—special boards, etc.

The News did not consider it particularly relevant to list these other activities for a number of reasons, not the least significant of which is that councils can appoint non-councillors to some of these bodies if they choose. It is not always necessary for a councillor to attend.

Granted, in some cases council representation is needed, but this simply puts Charlottenburgh councillors in the same boat as councillors from Cornwall, Lochiel and Roxborough Townships. They, too, attend meetings outside of council, but their salaries are much lower than those in Charlottenburgh.

County council committee meetings were noted because county council is an entirely different structure. The full council meets infrequently and, therefore, its committees perform functions that local councils can perform in full session.

We acknowledge the validity of Reeve Gadbois' assertion that councillors have various functions to perform other than attending meetings. We know that sometimes councillors have to deal with phone calls at home, have to visit constituents with problems, attend ribbon-cutting ceremonies, etc. But we gave the public credit for knowing this. If some members of council think it is necessary to state the obvious, then so be it.

The point of the article, however, was not so much to engage in a numbers game (councillors could always schedule more meetings to justify a raise in salary), but simply to let people know what various councils were paying their members.

All of the above notwithstanding, The News made it clear to MacDonald three days prior to the council meeting that the paper would be quite happy to add to the original story by printing a follow-up piece airing the deputy reeve's concerns if he felt that strongly about the issue.

In spite of this, we were treated to a resounding denunciation of the press, culminating in a threat to hold more council meetings in secret.

The deputy reeve's tangled logic defies rational explanation. Since the article in question was not obtained from a council meeting—but rather by phone from township staff—how would closing such meetings solve his "problem"?

And what about the public's right to information? Because a councillor doesn't like a particular newspaper article, should he suggest exclusion of all papers and all members of the public from the council chambers?

The salient point in this entire debate, however, is that MacDonald was promised access to our news columns to air his views. Due to our open letters to the editor policy, he could have also written a statement and had it published intact.

In other words, while Charlottenburgh's deputy reeve is quick to suggest slamming the council door in our face—and the general public's—we have assured him that our door is always open to him.

Seeking pen pals

CPO Box 3834,
Seoul, Korea
March 24, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Please forgive me for taking up your valuable time. I am a schoolteacher from Seoul, Korea. Many other Korean youth as well as the students at our school are very eager to find pen pals in Canada.

I am writing to you in the hope that you can help them get in touch with the youth in your country. They would like to exchange information about student life and various topics in everyday life and to discuss current international problems.

I think this kind of direct communication between pen pals of about the same age will help both to learn about each other's country. It will also help the Korean pen pals to improve upon their foreign language, especially English. I also think they might have fun swapping items in their hobby collections.

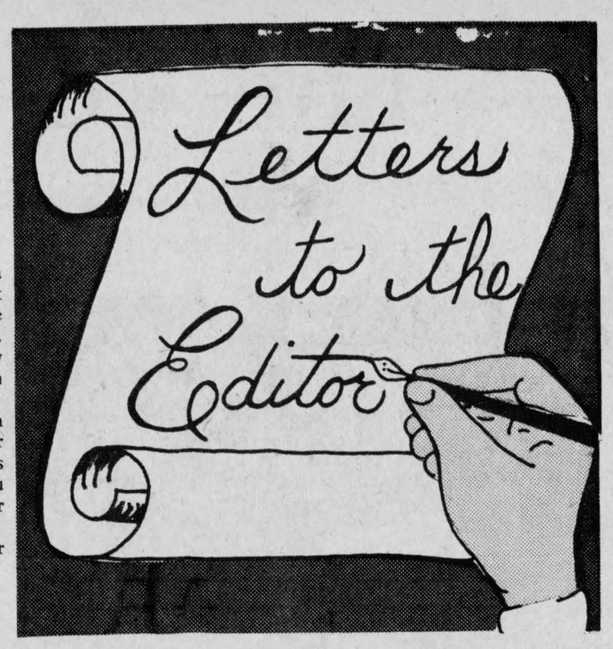
I am one of the English teachers in a school that has around 3,000 boy and girl students, with ages from 12-19. The students here have five English classes a week.

I am sure each of them will be a faithful friend and correspondent to anyone who wishes to write them, regardless of age and sex. It would be very nice if their new pen pal included a picture with the letter.

I hope you can perhaps publish my name and address in your esteemed paper to help on this project. If not, then may I ask you to pass this to some school or youth organizations of your area?

Thank you very much for your kind co-operation.

Sincerely yours,
Jin Moon Kang



Tribute to Mora MacLeod

Sudbury, Ont.
April 6, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

I was saddened as were her many friends, to learn of the passing from us of Mora MacLeod, a resident of your community.

I first came to know Mora when I was minister of the Hawkesbury Pastoral Charge and had the pleasure of serving with her on various committees of the Seaway Valley Presbytery, to which she was a delegate from Kirk Hill United Church.

Of all the people I have ever known, Mora is at the top of the list of individuals who have exemplified in their own daily lives what it is to be a Christian disciple. Her faith was unshakeable as a child's, yet her understanding was deep. Her heart was full of love and charity for all with whom she came in contact—so full of love that there was no room left for the spirit of self-righteousness or judgment toward others.

In spite of her own physical frailties and limitations, she was full of inner radiance and joy, always keeping a keen wit and sense of humor. She reflected all these Christian graces unconsciously, being as great in character as she was humble in spirit. Indeed her own mind was a reflection of the mind of Christ.

To sum it all up, she lived spontaneously the Great Commandment of our Lord, to love God and to love our neighbor, and this she did with all her heart and soul and mind.

Those whose lives were touched by hers must weep at her passing from us, but we weep for ourselves knowing that the sunshine of her presence has gone out of this world and we are deprived of that warmth.

But we must be happy for her. I have no doubt that she is now in that realm of glory toward which she was always looking; she is now finding out new and wondrous things as she travels towards the "Heavenly City" in that new adventure of the "beyond."

Very truly yours,
(Rev.) David S. Fearon

Wants information on Jack LaRose

Riviere Qui Barre, Alta.,
April 1, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

The people of Riviere Qui Barre, Alberta, are attempting to compile a history of our area. So far we have very little information about Jack LaRose who came from Alexandria about the turn of the century. Before our marriage he stayed with my husband in the village and was always a very colorful character. He remained a bachelor—farming in his younger days and after 1936 bartending at Mayerthorpe or Sangudo. He spent his final days in the Youville Home at St. Albert and was buried in the cemetery there.

If any of his relatives or friends read this, we would very much appreciate anything you can give regarding his parents, family, school and youth days.

Maybe your Historical Society would have something about Jack.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Myles Kerr

AUDITOR'S REPORT— VILLAGE OF LANCASTER

The Reeve, Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers, the Village of Lancaster, Lancaster, Ontario

We have examined the balance sheet of the Village of Lancaster as at December 31, 1977 and the statement of revenue and expenditure, capital fund operations and statement of continuity of reserve and reserve funds for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Village of Lancaster as at December 31, 1977 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario Municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

usements, and odds and ends.

Bank accounts were opened and each member of the project had the opportunity of acting as teller. They visited area banks, met with managers and then held meetings to decide which one would give them the best service and the highest rate of interest.

Each child was required to keep a record of how he earned his money. The pupils' share of the trip was $4,000 ($120 each). An additional $2.500 was earned through fund-raising projects such as a raffle and draw, car wash, car-a-thon and chocolate bar sale.

Each pupil participating in the project was required to adhere to a strict savings program. Each started by depositing $10 in an account. Then on birthdays over the next two years they were each required to deposit another $10. The same applied to Christmas. Every week the students deposited 75c each. However when they were out of school on vacation they were expected to deposit $2.50 per week due to the extra time they had to earn the additional money.

The children not only had to save the required amount of money to be included in the trip, they also had to maintain their school work, display proper manners, behaviour and attitude in school.

One of the school's prime objectives in attempting this venture was to develop within the pupil certain values and characteristics. The organizers asked that parents co-operate in seeing that their children did the required work towards the venture. An example they gave was that they didn't want parents handing over 75c each week. They wanted the children to earn their way to Florida.

Supervisors travelling with the children are school Principal Kent MacSweyn, Mrs. Keith MacMaster, a teacher at Laggan School, Mrs. Betty MacDonald, a former teacher and principal at Lancaster Township Area School and Hugh Allan MacMillan who will be sharing the driving with Mr. MacSweyn.

The students will spend their first night near Niagara Falls. April 14, then cross into the United States and head towards the industrial cities of Cleveland and Akron. April 15, they head for Lexington Kentucky and visit the Mammoth Caves near there. April 16, Church services and an afternoon tour of a bluegrass horse farm. April 17, through Knoxville and Chattanooga, site of a Civil War Battle, then on to Atlanta Georgia. April 18, an all-day drive south to Orlando Florida and Fort Wilderness where the group will camp and visit Disney World until April 23 when they will break camp, attend church and head north to visit St. Augustine.

Continuing north on April 25 they head for Richmond Virginia where they will spend the night in a school gym and unwind with a swim at the "Y". April 26 will consist of a day at Colonial Williamsburg. April 27 in Washington, D.C. in the morning and Gettysburg in the afternoon. The evening will be spent in the Pennsylvania Dutch countryside. April 28 and it's homeward bound with arrival here expected at 6:30 p.m.

They will be travelling in a 60-passenger bus which will be modified by the removal of seven seats in the rear to make space for luggage.

Seder Meal held in St. Raphaels

by Alphonse and Therese Gaudet

Six parishes of the Glengarry Deanery invited parishioners to follow Wednesday night sessions to study the Bible and the mass during the Lenten months. More than 150 followed the study with keen interest.

The first session was on expose of "sacrifices in the Old Testament" by Father Hamel. The second was the "Covenant" done by Father Theoret with readings by Therese Gaudet. Slides showed how the New Testament completes the Old and how the promises and covenants were realized in the Person of Christ. Adolphe Gaudet made the commentary on the slides. Both evenings were held in Williamstown.

At the third study held in Apple Hill, Father Charles MacDonald gave an overview of the changes in the mass since the beginning of Christianity. Mass was then concelebrated by Fathers Leo MacDonell, M. J. O'Brien, MacDonald, Sylester Theoret and Garry Ostle. It was a most vibrant and meaningful expression of faith.

To be bette prepared for the last session, te Seder Meal, we spent an evelng at the Synagogue in Corwall. Saul Schulman, a leaderof Beth-El Congregation, expined the highlights of his fai and dwelled for some time on th Passover which we were to re-eict the following week. We enjoid his talk very much and espially the part about the meaning of family life in Judaism.

The Seder Meal was held in St. Raphael's. Four women from each of the six parishes welcomed us into the hall. The service was prompt and gracious. The meal was complete with bitter herbs, unleavened bread and the traditional cups of wine. His Excellency Bishop LaRocque presided with Fathers Ostler and Rivet as commentators. The hostess for the evening was June MacDonald.

We are most thankful for having been given this religious experience and our hope is for another series this coming fall.

Area AA meeting scheduled

The Twelfth Annual Conference of the St. Lawrence District of Alcoholics Anonymous will be held at the South Grenville District High School in Prescott, Ontario, this coming Saturday, April 15, 1978.

With the Conference theme, 'Sharing and Caring', several hundred members of Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon, and Alateen will spend the day attending panel presentations, talk-a-thons, and fellowship activities designed to inform members and friends more about the programs of recovery from the disease of alcoholism.

Specifically designed to inform professionals in the community, as well as interested members of the public about the workings of the three programs, a special panel on Service and Awareness has been planned for 2:30 p.m. Anyone, including health care professionals, personnel managers, and members of the media might find this panel of particular interest, and would be welcome at any of the Conference events.

Held annually, the Conference attracts members from the St. Lawrence District which covers an area roughly bordered by Watertown, Brockville, Cornwall, and Lake Placid, as well as others from centres such as Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, and centres in Northern New York.

Anonymity of members is a characteristic of A.A., Al-Anon, and Alateen, and visitors are always asked to respect this important tradition.

Conference registration begins at 9 a.m., with a talk-a-thon starting at 10. Panel presentations are held at 12:45, 2:30, and 3:45 p.m., with a banquet at 5 p.m. Main speaker, Tom B., from Charlotte, North Carolina, follows the banquet, and a dance to the music of the Zodiacs begins at 9 p.m. The talk-a-thon continues during the evening.

Conference registration is $5 per adult and 50 cents per child. Light refreshments will be available during the day.

Anyone who is a membe of one of the three programs, or who has an interest in the field of recovery from the disease of alcoholism is welcome to attend.

Make sure your child is immunized against disease.

This is what Ontario is doing to help you.

Over 25% of our children have not been immunized by the time they enter school. That is not only surprising, it's dangerous — because there has been an increase of diphtheria, whooping cough and measles in recent months.

The Ontario Ministry of Health provides vaccine to immunize children against diphtheria, polio, whooping cough, tetanus, measles, mumps and rubella (German measles).

Your Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) pays a fee to the doctor for administering them.

Immunization can save lives and is quick and easy.

It's up to you — to make sure that your children are protected. Take them to your family physician now, or have them immunized by your local health unit.

A free pamphlet with a chart showing which diseases your child should be immunized against, and at what ages, is available now.

Conservation Club visits sugar bush

by Carole Ouimet

The Glengarry 4-H Conservation Club held its organizational meeting on Wed., March 22, in the OMAF boardroom. The club leader is Charlie Kinloch with the assistance of Gaetan Paquette, Ag. Rep.

Officers were elected as follows: Leslie Myers, president; Norma MacPherson, vice-president; Claire De Angelis, secretary; Carole Ouimet, news reporter.

We held our second meeting on April 1. It consisted of a ramble at Marcel Bourbonnais' sugar bush in North Lancaster. An interesting outline of the making of maple syrup was discussed. Mr. Bourbonnais showed us the procedure of boiling sap to make syrup and its cleaning. We were also treated to taffy on snow which was very good.

The club is now trying to raise money for a camping trip, by selling tickets. The prizes are two gallons of maple syrup. We would greatly appreciate your support.

Scouts to plant trees again

Mr. Gordon Fuller, president of Cornwall District Council Scouts Canada, announced today that Cornwall District Scouts will participate in the national "Trees for Canada" project.

He expects that the district Scouts will plant 16,000 trees. Nationally it is expected that almost three million trees will be planted this year. Mr. Fuller stated that the "Trees for Canada" project is designed to give all members of scouting the opportunity to demonstrate, through action, their concern for Canada.

The project will beautify Canada and provide a future resource for all Canadians. To ensure that the trees will be planted with a maximum chance for survival, Cornwall District Council has arranged for all participants to receive practical training in conservation and reforestation.

Mr. Fuller pointed out that "Trees for Canada" is also a fund-raising project for Cornwall District Council. The funds raised will be used to help further scouting in the community, to develop the planned "Outdoor Education Centre" at the District Scout Campsite at Apple Hill and meet other local needs. Some of the money raised will be used to support Operation Amigo—an international program of Canadian Scouting designed to help five South American countries adapt scouting to meet their needs.

Each boy participating in the program will be expected to plant 50 trees. Before the tree planting day, May 6, 1978, each Scout will seek pledges from the community. "Each household will be contacted only once by a Cub, Scout or Beaver" said Mr. Fuller. "We hope that people will remember this when they make their pledge."

In Memoriam

GAREAU—In memory of a dear mother, mother-in-law and grandmother, who passed away April 15, 1974.
Time surely passes slowly
When you lose somebody important,
Nobody could accomplish your duty
After all those years you had been through.
We were very fond of you, mother,
And still, He separated
The world from you.
We accepted his wish finally
But couldn't understand why.
Our wounds are not completely healed,
We will always have a tear in our heart,
Because we miss you, Mom.
—Sadly missed by son Robert and family. 15-1p

In Memoriam

GAREAU—In loving memory of our wonderful mother and mother-in-law, Mrs. Yollande Gareau, who passed away April 15, 1974.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—So very sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Emile and Denyse St. Denis and Madeleine Gareau. 15-1p

GAREAU—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Yollande Gareau, who passed away April 15, 1974.
Her loving face I hope to see again,
Though the days have passed away,
Sleep on dear wife, and take your rest,
The kids miss you most who loved you best.
—Very sadly missed and remembered by husband Royal Gareau and kids. 15-1p

GAREAU—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Oscar Gareau, who passed away April 11, 1948.
Thirty years have passed away
Since God has taken you his way
Often we think of you "dear Pa,"
And our hearts are filled with pain.
Oh! if this land would be Heaven
And we could hear your voice again,
We'd all join hands and kiss you
And then we'd say "Hi Dad,"
We miss you so.
—Sadly missed by daughter Evelyne, Isidore Secours and family. 15-1p

ROSS—In loving memory of a dear husband, David A. Ross of Moose Creek, who departed this life, April 12, 1968.
There is a road called Remembrance,
Where thoughts and wishes meet;
I take that road in thought today
For a dear one I cannot reach.
Although I miss you sadly,
Somehow I have a way
To be so close beside you
In memory every day.
I still can treasure every smile
Each tender word and look,
And keep them as a rose is pressed,
In memory's treasure book.
—Wife, Mary A. Ross,
Moose Creek, Ont. 15-1c

Lombardo's Royal Canadians to return

by Angus H. McDonell

"Your detailed verbal description of the Maxville and District Lions Club transforming the arena area of the new community centre into a mini Waldorf-Astoria ballroom for our Guy Lombardo band dance engagement on June 2, is both very interesting and appealing." That is a summary of our recent privileged interview at the Riverside Theatre, Vero Beach, with veteran band manager Don Byrnes. And supported by outright owner Lebert Lombardo and the director, the ever popular Kenny Gardner.

When we met with the leaders of this famed musical troupe, they were on their annual tour of Florida. Vero Beach, which like Maxville, is becoming a regular one-night engagement.

We were able to arrange our pre-concert interview complete with photo through the courtesy of Mrs. Arthur Unversaw, president of a local women's organization raising money for area university students in need of financial aid.

The Riverside Theatre is aptly named. This Vero Beach home of the performing arts nestles among stately palms in a picturesque park setting, on the east bank of the Indian River. An eye-catching view as you cross the bridge on your way to the beach.

The theatre entrance is Hollywood architecture in design. Cars are driven up a slight ramp under a concrete canopy extending over the steps to the foyer. Thus the ladies alighting from escort cars have no fear that their attractive hair-do of a few hours and fashionable evening attire will be ruffled by wind or rain.

Sharp at eight p.m., the blue trimmed pullman-cruiser with the red maple leaf below the windshield slowly stopped at the stage door entrance. Within minutes, instruments, music sheets and stands are in place on the split-level band stand. A place for everything and everything in its place ready for the program opening.

We are introduced to Lebert Lombardo who became the sole owner following the death of his famed brother Guy Lombardo. And to Kenny Gardner, vocalist and director. Mrs. Gardner was Elaine Lombardo, a sister of the noted brothers. Lebert Lombardo, after suppling his fingers in low key with his cherished trumpet, beckons to Kenny Gardner, sipping a coffee, that it is time to pose for press photos in the back stage lounge. This was congeniality at its best. Just like meeting Highland Games and Sportsmen's Dinner dignitaries.

Kenny Gardner checks the time. Walks on stage behind the drapes and picks up the portable mike, baton style. Lights are dimmed, the curtain drawn and upwards of 500 music fans roundly applaud the first strains of the sweetest music this side of heaven.

Now manager Don Byrnes has available interview time. So we sat at a coffee table in the shadows of the stage foot-lights.

"Don, how come Kenny Gardner is now directing the band instead of Victor Lombardo?" was our opening query. (We knew why. But we wanted the answer directly.) "Well, here is what happened, briefly and in sequence," Don answered and then continued. "Following Guy's death we felt the name Lombardo should be retained. Victor had been away from the band for three years. He agreed to return and direct the band. We started our 1978 itinerary, January 2, in Miami. Victor made it known that he keenly desired to inject some "rock 'n' roll" numbers. Change, to a degree, the traditional Guy Lombardo pattern. Promptly, the entire band refused to have any part of the suggested change. It would be a continuation of Guy's great musical arrangements or none at all. Lebert, as owner and without any hesitation, released Victor and appointed Kenny to lead. Look at them out there. One happy family, just the way Guy would want them to be," Don concluded.

"Now Don," we questioned further, "While we are on the subject of the Lombardo name, are there any Lombardo nephews to take over from Lebert?" "Don't you agree," we continued, "the Lombardo band is an entertainment dynasty like the great New York Yankees of baseball and our Montreal Canadiens in hockey?"

"There is a possibility," Don replied slowly. "Lebert has a son, a drummer, on the west coast. Only time will come up with the answer."

Then manager Don told us why young Lombardo was not with the band. A few years ago they were playing in Toronto. Guy Lombardo, as strict a disciplinarian as he was a renowned maestro, took exception to the behavior of his nephew. Guy fired him. Toronto papers reported the incident in the same way as if tough commander Conny Smythe of Leafs would fire one of his hockey players. We gathered that the Miami flare-up with Victor was Lombardo history repeating itself.

We further gleaned a few highlights of the Lombardo 50 years' legendary entertainment history. This is their Jubilee year touring United States and Canada.

WITH THE MUSIC MAESTROS—Sports columnist Angus H. McDonell, centre, is flanked by Lombardo band members Kenny Gardner, vocalist and director left, and Lebert Lombardo, owner of the band. Angus seized the opportunity to contact the band while it played in Vero Beach, his winter home. The Lombardo troupe return to Maxville on June 2.

As a teen-ager, Guy Lombardo, a violinist, led his four-piece orchestra. The violin bow was also his first baton. Carmen and Lebert played the flute and drums while Fred Kreitzer was the pianist. In reality, this was the birth of the Royal Canadians, in London, Ontario.

At age 21, Guy Lombardo led his still youthful group of musicians across Lake Erie to Cleveland, Ohio. Here they received their first bookings. They had to have a name to fill the marquee lights. It was the custom of flourishing dance bands back in that era of the "Golden Twenties" that their name would be their identity. (Remember, folks, the Cleveland Ambassadors playing at the Harvest Ball in our beloved Alexandria Armouries.) Obviously, Guy Lombardo's band must include a Canadian identification. After all they were Canadians. Ironically, at that time the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were regarded by our American neighbors as heros, in truth and fiction, because "they always got their man." (We guess that in those days they only opened their own mail.) It was decided that the prefix name of Canada's noted police force would be adopted. Hence, Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians.

Sudden popularity is heady wine for many young musicians and athletes. Not so with the Royal Canadians. Maestro Guy, despite his youth, laid down regulations that must be obeyed. Each band member had to look and act like a gentleman. Above all, there was to be no accepting drinks or cigarettes dangling from their mouths.

From Cleveland it was on to Chicago. And to insert a sport phrase "the band never looked back." It was during their amazing success in the Windy City that they earned the immortal sobriquet, "the sweetest music this side of heaven." Even a younger generation is familiar with their New York take-over in Times Square and the Waldorf Astoria ballroom on New Year's eve.

We concluded our interesting interview with manager Don Byrnes on a Maxville note. Don has been guiding the band on their road trips for the past 19 years. Right now they are heading west to Colorado and hit their Ontario swing in late May.

"What date do we play in Maxville?" Don asked as we ended our coffee break. "Friday, June 2," we answered. Don reminisced, "I remember Maxville quite vividly. The hall there is in the Fair Grounds. The first time we drove through the village of Maxville, at least 50 miles from Ottawa, I thought we had made a mistake. How wrong I was. What a great crowd. And the same the next year and the next year."

"You can add an even bigger crowd this year in the new complex," we predicted.

Don's parting shot, "Tell our legion of great friends we will be looking forward to greeting them in your new ballroom. And say hello for me to that co-operative gentleman (Morlin Campbell) who helped me fill the pay envelopes last year, on Thursday pay night or early Friday, with cash instead of our cheque."

While manager Don packed the record albums and tapes that had been on sale in the foyer, I tip-toed to the edge of the top row in the back of the theatre. What a concert setting to behold. Not a vacant seat. And what a colorful Canadian stage. Those "Mountie Red" blazers with the maple leaf crest worn by a group of the world's greatest musical entertainers. What a heritage a young Canadian christened Gaetano Lombardo, shortened to Guy by his school chums, has left the millions who maintain that the band, now without the great Guy, still plays "the sweetest music this side of heaven."

Management service now available locally

Low cost management consulting services for small business is being made available this year through the Small Business Assistance Program (SBAP) of the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism.

Minister of Industry and Tourism John R. Rhodes said the program will involve 120 university business administration students supplying counselling services to small businesses from May through August.

Counselling by the graduate students covers such areas as cash management and financial planning, bookkeeping systems, production scheduling and cost control, marketing and marketing research, distribution and promotion.

"The SBA Program offers business counselling at a low cost in areas essential for the success of small businesses," said Rhodes.

Last year, 838 consulting assignments were completed for 764 companies. Although the typical company that received assistance was small, the combined contribution to Ontario's economy is significant.

Business administration faculties of 12 Ontario educational institutions—Carleton University, Lakehead University, Laurentian University of Sudbury, McMaster University, University of Ottawa, Queen's University, Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, University of Toronto, University of Western Ontario, University of Windsor, Wilfrid Laurier University and York University—will be participating in the program.

Students' work is closely supervised by university faculty and is supported by services available from Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism specialists in technology, marketing and service industries.

As it is not intended this service compete with private consulting firms, businesses eligible for the service must not be in a position to engage professional consultants.

Cost of the service is borne by the ministry, although a nominal fee is charged to the businesses using it.

Companies wishing to learn more about the program should contact Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism officers in Ottawa, Thunder Bay, Sudbury, Kingston, St. Catharines, Kitchener, London, Toronto (Willowdale) and Windsor.

If more convenient, firms may contact the faculty of business administration at the university closest to them. The faculty member responsible for the program will be able to provide additional information.

Scottish and Irish music are enthusiastically revived

In November, 1977, Allan MacPhail invited a number of people interested in Scottish music to his home, to discuss the formation of a group dedicated to the revival of Scottish and Irish violin music in Glengarry.

The response was immediate and enthusiastic and resulted in the formation of the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society.

The Society has several purposes. For the members it becomes a means for learning more music, much of which is Scottish and Irish melodies.

Hopes are to establish liaison with similar societies in Cape Breton and Scotland. Special interest is given to music written in Glengarry.

Members hope to be able to make this music better known in Glengarry through concerts and other public appearances and by encouraging and assisting in the instruction of young violinists.

Recently the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society was invited to take part in two telecasts from CHRO in Pembroke. The schedule for airing these programs has not been announced as yet. Some of the members played at the Pipe Band Concert in Maxville on April 8 and at the Old Time Fiddlers Contest at the Bonnie Glen the same evening.

Anyone wishing more information about the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society may contact one of the members:

Allan MacPhail, Clifton Britton, Malcolm Dewar, Duncan MacDonald, Hugh Allan McMillan, Rev. Bruce Ross, Lucien Ranger, Donald Joseph MacPhee and Lorne Lawson. Pianists: Alana MacPhail and Catherine DeFreitas. Father John MacPhail, honorary member.

School cancels field trips

Chairman Sylvio Cleroux, introduced and welcomed Sheila Danaher at the April meeting of the GDHS School Committee. She will replace Karen MacDonald as a student representative. Sheila is a Grade XII student and presently serves on the executive of the Student Council.

Principal Phillip Lloyd, advised that 280 parents attended the parent-teacher interviews last Wednesday.

Education Week is to begin with opening ceremonies in Cornwall on Saturday, April 15. Included in the activities is a massed band concert in which GDHS Senior Band will be taking part. GDHS has decided against participating in any special functions to observe this week.

Mr. Lloyd announced that because of depleted school budget funds, the school finds it necessary to withdraw from financing any further field trips this year which would have cost an estimated $3,300. Any future trips will have to be paid for by students themselves.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to discussion of a scholarship fund for the school. The report is covered in a separate story in this issue.

Home renewal funds go fast in Lancaster

Lancaster Village has almost exhausted the $29,000 granted to it last summer under the Ontario Home Renewal Program.

The provincial funds are made available to needy people wishing to structurally improve their homes.

Five people have been awarded funds under the grant-loan scheme and the village has applied for additional funding.

Gadbois clarifies convention story

Charlottenburgh Township Reeve Adrian Gadbois said last week he doesn't want people getting the impression Councillor Bill Cooper is "more generous" than other members of council.

Gadbois was referring to a news report listing Cooper as the only Charlottenburgh councillor to pay his own way to the annual Good Roads Convention held in Toronto recently.

Each member of council is allowed to attend two conventions a year at the taxpayers' expense, Gadbois explained, and Cooper had already chosen two other conventions to attend. Therefore, the councillor had not choice but to pay his own way, the reeve said.

Legion holds reunion

The Alexandria branch of the Royal Canadian Legion is holding a members' reunion May 13 in the hope of bolstering interest in the organization.

Vic Dunbar, who heads the bar and finance committee for Colonel A.G.F. Macdonald Memorial Branch 423, said the local Legion has about 100 veterans on its membership list but only a handful are actively participating.

The Legion tries to fulfill a public service role in the community, Dunbar said. Donating scholarships and purchasing hospital equipment are only a couple of the services the organization tries to provide.

"But we can't get any projects going because of lack of member interest," he said.

Firefighting costs up

Roxborough Township's cost of purchasing firefighting services from St. Isidore De Prescott will jump 150 percent this year.

Township Clerk W. E. Wright explained that the old agreement, signed in May, 1975, has maintained the purchase rate at $200 an hour for three years.

Under the new agreement, in force until either party wishes to renegotiate, the township will pay $500 an hour.

The St. Isidore de Prescott Fire Department provides protection to Roxborough residents north of Highway 417.

AUDITOR'S REPORT—TOWNSHIP OF LOCHIEL

To: The Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Township of Lochiel,

We have examined the balance sheet of the Township of Lochiel and its local board as at December 31, 1977 and the supporting financial statements for the year then ended, as listed on the attached index. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Township of Lochiel and its local board as at December 31, 1977 and the results of their operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Sewer could cost $325,000

Cornwall Township's consulting engineer has put a $325,000 price-tag on a proposed new trunk sewer for the Village of Long Sault.

The sewer would run down the center of the village park at a depth of about 30 feet and is designed to eliminate the sewage pumping station on Saunders Avenue. This pumping station drains the north end of Long Sault and has been giving trouble.

The township will apply to Central Mortage and Housing Corporation for a grant.

Engineer Derek Wilson suggested the grant structure would help determine whether council should embark on the project.

The line will be 24 inches in diameter and will eventually serve up to 6,000 people. Only one industry, Sims Cabs Ltd., is in the area to be served and is not a heavy water user.

Phase one, to cost $260,000, would place a line from Highway 2 to Strachan Avenue which would alleviate flooding.

The project would have to be debentured over a number of years and Ontario Municipal Board approval would have to to obtained.

Char-Lan Crusades

by Greg Kalil

Hugh Fitzpatrick and John Kitchen have been trying to organize a variety performance for several weeks. Unfortunately for them, very few people have volunteered their talents. Anyone who has ever organized a party and had nobody show up must know exactly how they feel.

There have been several productions of this type in the Cornwall area; all of them have been apparently a great deal of fun. So much fun in fact that I intend to put together an act myself and steal the show! But acts are needed. If you have always wanted to display your talents—acting, singing, joking or whatever, now is your chance. All you have to do is contact Hugh at 347-3432 or John at 528-4240 and they will gladly accept your resume for . . . "The Gong Show."

Originally my act included orchestration from the senior band, but, as usual, they are too busy. Having just finished taping "New Faces" which will appear on TV sometime in August, they are now busy polishing their instruments and melodious talents for the Kinsmen and Ottawa Music Festivals. The band will play two pieces for each competition: Bach's "Prelude and Fugue" with "Toccata for Band" in the Kinsmen Festival and with "Puebla de Los Angeles" from "Viva Mexico" in the Ottawa competition. They have worked hard—good luck to them.
