IN THE SCOTTISH TRADITION—A record number of 52 pipe bands from across North America attended the 36th annual Glengarry Highland Games in Maxville on Saturday. Also on hand for the official opening were Governor General Ed Schreyer and his wife Lily (right) who were flocked by well-wishers seeking autographs.

52 pipe bands a new record

by Rod MacDonald

On Friday night, the weather outlook for Saturday's Glengarry Highland Games in Maxville didn't look too promising.

Lightning danced in threatening skies minutes before the clouds erupted into a steady downpour, forcing cancellation of the military tattoo more than midway through the program.

Some huddled under umbrellas or in small groups under the grandstand, but most retreated into the warm and cheery atmosphere of one of the two halls set up for the occasion, where at least the spirit of the Highland Games was in full swing.

Kilts awhirl, the noisy crowd danced and clapped to the sound of the popular Scottish music, while the liquid refreshment flowed, drowning out the steady drumming of the rain outside.

And then the lights flickered and went out.

Earlier, nearly 5,000 people turned up for the pre-games tattoo, which featured several pipe bands including the Regimental Band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society, the Rae MacCulloch Dancers and Royal Scottish Country Dancers, the ever-popular Morris Family and renowned vocalist Peter Glen.

The power blackout, which lasted nearly two hours, brought Friday's entertainment to an early end, but failed to dampen the enthusiasm of visitors to the annual event.

On Saturday, they came back in droves.

More than 20,000 jammed the viewing stands and surrounding fields for the official opening of the 36th Glengarry Highland Games, which attracted a record 52 pipe bands, the largest gathering of massed pipe bands ever in North America.

Dressed in full Scottish regalia, the pipers, drummers and dancers braved the 30-degree (86 Fahrenheit) temperatures to thrill spectators with the massed bands display and a mass Highland Fling, performed by as many as 100 Scottish dancers.

Governor General Ed Schreyer and his wife Lily were there to officially open the games, which Schreyer applauded for its historical and cultural tradition. The Schreyers later delayed their departure in order to watch the heavy events and dancing competition.

Other dignitaries at the games included Kingston MP Flora MacDonald and former NDP leader Tommy Douglas.

Despite the problems of the previous evening, Saturday's program proceeded without a hitch. And there was no shortage of things to watch.

While most remained in the grandstand to enjoy the spectacle of the heavy events and Highland cancing competition, others strolled through the fairway to visit the vendors' booths and shops selling everything from fudge to family crest jewellery and kilts.

And business, as usual, was booming. Most owners admitted that this one day is their biggest sales day of the year.

Often, crowds would gather to the strains of Bonnie Dundee or Scotland the Brave practised by one of the visiting bands in the shady refuge of a nearby tree prior to the piping competitions on the infield.

In addition to dancing competitions, the viewers reacted enthusiastically to the many track and field events and piping competitions carried on simultaneously on the field.

But it was the heavy events that sparked a frequent roar of approval from the audience for individual effort in the contest of strength, stamina and co-ordination.

Again this year, Canadian Champion Dave Harrington of Old Chelsea, Quebec, registered a sweeping victory of the heavy events competition, despite being hampered by an operation last January to repair a torn muscle in his left arm.

Harrington, who has competed world-wide, won the Challenge Caber Toss with a perfect 12 o'clock flip on his first throw.

Now in his sixth season of heavy events competition, Harrington said he would decide over the next couple of months whether to "go at it to make it big" in international competition.

Harrington picked up a total of 63 points to take top honors. Second and third spots went to Jim Sears and John Morse, both from Nova Scotia, with 39 and 30 points respectively. Third place was won by Boston native John Lunstrom with 26 points, while local competitor Ian Sandilands finished fifth with 25 points.

Top female athlete honors at the games went to Linda Vander Wielen of Maxville, while Dale Tuck of Martintown, earned the top male athlete award.

The open dancing, 10 years and under, was won by Margaret Jane Malcolm of Nepean; 12 and under, Andrea Harbour of Aurora; 14 and under, Mhairi MacIntosh of Ottawa; 16 and under was won jointly by Myrna MacMillan and Sarah Capes, both of Ottawa; 17 and over was won by Jennifer Patterson.

The Pipe Band Competition winners were: Grade 1, 78th Fraser Highlanders, Toronto; Grade 2, City of Oshawa Senior Pipe Band; Grade 3, Rob Roy Pipe Band of Kingston; Grade 4, Loch Treigh Pipe Band.

Individual Open Piping Awards included: March, Jim McGillivray, Toronto; Strathspey and Reel, Scott MacAuley, Hamilton; Jig, Bill Livingston, Toronto; Pibroch, Jim McGillivray; Piper of the Day, Jim McGillivray.

The Drum Major Competition was won by George Alderman.

No racing in Kenyon Twp.

Motorcycle racing will not be tolerated in Kenyon Township. Nor, for that matter, will any other kind of motorized racing, including snowmobiles and automobiles, be allowed.

During a special meeting called for other purposes early last week, township council was presented with a petition containing 73 names opposed to a rumored motorcycle race track.

Council responded by approving a bylaw amendment prohibiting all forms of motorized racing.

Clerk-treasurer James Steele told The News on Tuesday a gentleman dropped into the township office not long ago asking if there were any restrictions, particularly zoning regulations, which would disallow operation of a motorcycle race track.

The only answer at the time was no, said Mr. Steel. The township does not have a zoning bylaw. It is governed only by the Glengarry Official Plan, which is silent on the matter. And the township had no bylaw restricting such an operation.

The gentleman, whose name no one seems to remember, was not heard from again.

Meanwhile, rumors spread among residents that someone was planning to buy property on the north side of the Marcoux Road, belonging to Donald Menard, for the purpose of constructing a motorcycle race track.

Area resident Emil Kuhi told The News on Tuesday neighboring property owners opposed the race track because they feared excessive motorcycle noise and increased traffic would disrupt an otherwise quiet area. He also said he and his neighbors did not want "motorcycle types" in the community.

Mr. Kuhi said township councillors were not sure at first how to go about prohibiting the race track, but finally settled on an amendment to an existing bylaw restricting auto-wrecking yards.

There was a lot of discussion at the meeting, he said, with the property owners pointing out to council the fact they appreciated living in a quiet area and motorcycle racing would create so much noise it would become "impossible to live there."

Mr. Steel said the township still does not know if there were solid plans to construct a race track. There were only rumors.

Since no one knew the name of the rumored buyer, the township contacted the present owner to advise him of the new restriction.

The change does not stop construction of a race track on the property, said Mr. Steel, but it would prohibit operation of such a track, having essentially the same effect.

As far as Mr. Steel is concerned, the issue "should die."

Accident claims life

A tragic accident last Sunday night on County Road 10 claimed the life of a former Glen Robertson resident.

Mrs. Carmelle Veit, 45, of Gloucester, was killed when she was struck by a car driven by an Alexandria man.

The woman had been visiting the home of her father, Armand Lanthier, about two kilometres west of Glen Robertson, when her car stalled as she was backing out of the driveway onto the road.

She apparently got out of the car as another vehicle was approaching eastbound.

The second vehicle, driven by 25-year-old Roch Boisvenue of Alexandria, swerved to avoid the stalled car and struck the woman, who was pronounced dead at the scene.

OPP report there are no charges pending against the other driver.

Besides her father, Mrs. Veit is survived by her husband Gerry and four children, Gerry Junior, Peter, Richard and Kim.

The former resident was the sister of Maurice Lanthier of Glen Robertson, Guy of Bourget, Claude and Charles of Lachine, Madeleine Larose of Ottawa and Denise Tso of Orleans.

The funeral was held Wednesday at 11 a.m. in Glen Robertson.

St. Finnan's to celebrate 150th

The 150th anniversary of St. Finnan's Parish, Alexandria, will be observed this weekend and the rector, Monsignor Donald Bernard McDougald, has expressed the hope former parishioners and friends will join in the celebration.

An organ recital at 10 o'clock Saturday morning will feature the playing of Bengt Hambraeus of Glen Roy and Montreal. An accomplished musician, Mr. Hambraeus is associated with the music department of McGill University.

At 11 o'clock, a mass to commemorate deceased members of St. Finnan's parish will be held under the trees in the older part of the cemetery, immediately behind the church. If weather does not permit an outdoor ceremony, the memorial mass will be held in the cathedral.

A social evening will be held following the evening mass when a night of socializing, music and dance will be held in the Sports Palace.

His Excellency Bishop Eugene LaRocque will celebrate a Mass of Thanksgiving at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning and this will be followed by a picnic under the trees on the former St. Margaret's Convent grounds. Food and refreshments will be served free of charge.

To mark the sesquicentennial an historical booklet covering the first 150 years of the parish has been prepared. Also on sale will be commemorative coins featuring a likeness of the cathedral.

Fair starts Friday

Organizers are gearing up to welcome more than 12,000 visitors for the 171st annual Williamstown Fair, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Fair events are much the same as last year, with the addition of a barbershop quartet, Ruth Mowat, secretary-treasurer for the sponsoring St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society, said Tuesday.

Fair attendance has normally stood around the 4,000 figure for each of the fair's three days, said Mrs. Mowat, and organizers are looking for an increase in 1983.

The fair is packed with more than 30 events aimed at both adults and children, including horse and cattle shows, a variety of competitions and entertainment.

In addition, there will be a midway, concessions, a miniature animal petting zoo, a farm equipment show, antique machinery, antique cars and free rides on "Oliver's Wagon."

Activity begins at noon on Friday with a line and breeding horse show, the 4-H Achievement Day, 4-H calf show, bike rodeo, and Frisbee toss.

The exhibition hall opens at 4 p.m.

The evening games begin at 7 p.m. with the ladies' nail hammering contest, the bale toss, the chip toss and two bubble gum blowing contests—one for adults and one for children under 14.

Scottish music begins at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday's events begin at 9 a.m. with an English horse show, followed at 10 with a children's parade. A baby contest gets under way at 11 and at 12 a cattle show and a children's pet contest will compete for spectators.

The Glengarry Dairy Princess Competition will highlight Saturday afternoon, along with Sandy's Dance School and Jimmy Nixon at the organ.

A Highland Dancing competition opens Sunday's activities at 9 a.m., followed at 10 by the Raisin River Foot Race, an arts and crafts show and sale, a Jersey show, a 4-H swine show and a horse show.

Sunday afternoon includes a sheep show, the Cornwall Centennial Choir, a barbershop quartet, volunteer firemen's competitive games and Jimmy Nixon again on the organ.

Rain dampens Galarama

St. Raphael's Parish held its 1983 Galarama in the Ruins on Sunday.

Despite a steady drizzle during the afternoon, organizers said they weren't disappointed with the results.

The annual event, which is held to raise funds for the parish, attracted several hundred visitors throughout the day, highlighted by games, entertainment and a baseball and tug-of-war tournament.

And, of course, the usual appetizing treats.

"We sold all the chicken and homemade desserts," said Rae MacCulloch, who felt the event fared as well as last year in spite of poor weather.

For those who didn't find chicken to their fancy there was plenty of hot corn-on-the-cob and hot dogs for everyone.

The tug-of-war competition proved to be no surprise, especially to heavy-weight locals on the St. Raphael's team, who successfully retained the title for the seventh consecutive year.

Five area teams were on hand for the "pull," including Moose Creek, Apple Hill, Glen Nevis and two from St. Raphael's.

The Senior Mixed Softball Tournament attracted eight teams, with St. William's Parish in Martintown defeating Montreal's St. Thomas Parish in the finals.

St. Raphael's emerged the victors in the junior competition, beating out Glen Roy.

Entertainment throughout the day was provided by the Clansmen, the MacCulloch Dancers, violinist Darrel MacLeod, piper John MacKinnon, the Glengarry Scottish Country Dancers, singer Heather Thornton and The Court Musicians, an Ohio singing group.

A special treat was a performance by fiddler John MacLeod of Sudbury, formerly from Cape Breton.

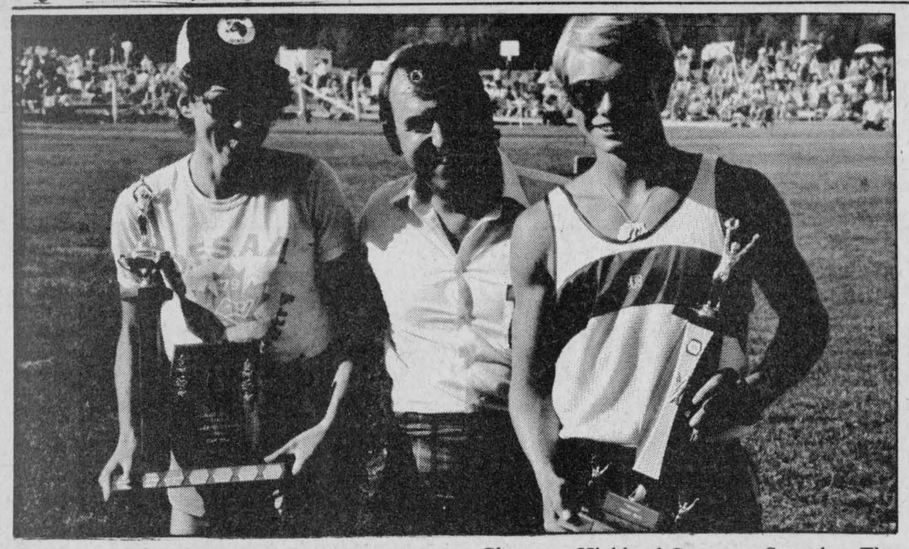
The kiddies got into the act during the Children's Talent Hour with songs and dances performed by youngsters aged five to eight, much to the delight of the audience.

All in all, it proved to be a pleasant afternoon, rain notwithstanding.

As one visitor remarked, "I brought my umbrella in case there was no room under a tree."

Lucky winners of various draws held during the day included: Winners of $2,500 draw, $50, Mrs. Jocelyne Nysten, RR2, Williamstown; A. J. Chisholm, St. Andrew's West; $100, Fr. Sylvester Theoret, Apple Hill; J. Anderson, Pelly Bay, NWT; Therese Charbonneau, Lancaster; Adele Lanthier, Alexandria; $1,000, Ewen Kennedy, RR1, Apple Hill; Madeleine Bryan, RR2, Williamstown.

RAIN DAMPENS ATTENDANCE—Hundreds of visitors ignored a steady drizzle to participate in the activities at the 1983 Galarama held in St. Raphael's on Sunday. The celebration included entertainment, games, sports events and lots to eat.



TOP ATHLETES—Sports organizer Don Gamble Jr. presented top athletic awards to Linda Vander Wielen, 18, of Maxville and Dale Tuck, 15, of Martintown, at the Glengarry Highland Games on Saturday. The pair were selected as the Top Female Athlete and Top Male Athlete respectively for their participation in the track and field events.

HIGHLAND DANCE WINNERS—Six young ladies received top awards from among dozens of competitors in the Open Dancing Competition at the Glengarry Highland Games on Saturday. From left are Jennifer Patterson, 17 and over; Myrna MacMillan, 16 and under; Sarah Capes, 16 and under; Mhairi MacIntosh, 14 and under; Andrea Harbour, 12 and under; and Margaret Jane Malcolm, 10 and under.

Injuries claim life

A 22-year-old Laggan woman died yesterday afternoon at the Ottawa General Hospital from injuries she received in a car accident nearly three weeks ago.

Ellen MacMaster, daughter of Keith and Marion MacMaster, was seriously injured July 14 when her car was in collision with a tractor.

The young woman had been returning home from a visit with her brother in St. Bernardin.

Following the accident, Miss MacMaster was transferred to the Ottawa General Hospital where she remained in intensive care.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the Morris Funeral Home in Alexandria and are as yet incomplete.

RECORD LILY—Mary Aalders of R. R. 2, Alexandria found this 23-blossom lily growing in her yard last week and knew right away that it was no ordinary flower. A lily with four or five blossoms is rare so this 23-flower plant must be a Glengarry County record.

NO INJURIES—Luckily no one was injured in this two-car accident which occurred in Alexandria on Thursday afternoon. The car driven by Eloi Vandette of Alexandria (shown) sustained $2,000 damage, while a second automobile driven by Roland Garreau received $700 damage, following an accident on the corner of Elgin and Main Streets.

Well agreement reached in Glen Robertson

Lochiel Township Council and Glen Robertson property owner Paul Lacombe have resolved their differences over a final settlement to purchase land on which a new communal well is situated.

The agreement was reached at a special council meeting held last Friday morning at the Glen Robertson Recreation Centre.

Clerk-treasurer Rheal Charbonneau and Lacombe confirmed that the dispute centred on the amount involved in the purchase of the land, which will shortly be deeded to the township.

The communal well was constructed under a program by the Ministry of the Environment to correct seepage from local septic systems into the ground water.

Most residents in the centre of the village had little available land for a well and septic tank and were affected by the pollution.

The Low Cost Alternative Plan also provided for upgrading of septic tanks with 75 per cent of the cost funded by the ministry.

Water from the communal well will now be supplied to most residents of Main Street in the village who opt into the program. Those wishing to take advantage of the available grant have one year in which to apply.

Williamstown Fair horse show

A "Reins for Life" command class, a "Prince Philip Cup Games" competition and a Welsh Pony Show will be three new activities at the Williamstown Fair Horse Show this year.

The three-day show will start Friday, August 5 and will comprise a total of 92 classes with participants expected from Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and even further afield.

The show will commence with the Breeder's Show and 4-H Line classes on the Friday. Animals, from stallions to small ponies, will be judged on conformation, behavior and turn-out.

Saturday will be devoted to the English Horse/Pony Show. There will be flat, jumper and hunter classes in two rings. In addition the "Reins for Life" and "Prince Philip Cup Games" competition will take place on the Saturday.

"Reins for Life" is a special national riding program for handicapped children and adults, for whom equestrian skills and discipline prove mentally and physically helpful. This year's class will be run with the assistance of the Montreal "Reins for Life" group. Anyone requiring more information about the class, or the program, should contact Robin Flockton, 525-2483 (home), 933-9000 (work).

The "Prince Philip Cup Games" will provide spectator entertainment at lunchtime on the Saturday. Each team will be comprised of five members, all under 15 years. They will show their ability to control and manouever their ponies in a variety of six "fun" games, such as "housewife's curry," egg and spoon and sack races. The Games are a popular draw at the CNE and the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. They are one of the programs of the Canadian Pony Club, and there will be teams from Montreal and Cornwall participating.

Two old favorites return on the Sunday—the Western Horse Show and the Driving Classes. Also on the Sunday, the Welsh Ponies will have their very own show for the first time at the Williamstown Fair.

Williamstown

has been operating at its present location since 1812 on land donated by Sir John Johnson.

Twelve years ago the fair organizers added horse shows, which have contributed to the annual event's strong popularity.

The Williamstown Fair also hosts the annual (closed) Glengarry Holstein and Ayrshire cattle shows, as well as open shows for beef and Jersey.

The 4-H competitions are "very keen" every year, said Mrs. Mowat.

More than 300 entries are usually on display in the exhibition hall.

Once again the weatherman smiled and sent along his special blessing for Saturday's annual Highland Games in Maxville. The skirl o' the pipes, the waggle o' the kilts to the beat o' the drums. Truly another memorable day to add to the history of "The Games."

A word of appreciation should go to the many and willing volunteers through the years who have helped make this a history of success.

Apple Hill

by Aline Gormley

On Monday, July 25, 42 members and three visitors of the "Happy Hour" Senior Citizens Club of Apple Hill enjoyed a bus trip to the Parc Safari near Hemingford, Quebec. The bus driver was Ken Deruchie of Delaney's Bus Lines.

After a two-hour drive they arrived at Parc Safari and without leaving the bus toured through the park viewing elephants, rhinoceros, giraffes, elands, ostriches, lions, hyenas, buffalo, deer and monkeys, along with other animals.

After lunch the seniors enjoyed seeing "Magic and Illusions," amazing things to appear and disappear before their very eyes.

There was also a walk through the enchanted forest where many of the smaller animals make their homes. Birds were decorating tree branches; among them the peacocks with their beautiful plumage. This stroll ended with a browse through the souvenir shops.

On their way home they made a brieft stop at the shopping centre in Valleyfield. Thus ended a very pleasant and enjoyable day.

There is a correction to be made as to names of supervisors already published concerning the children's summer activities at the park in Apple Hill.

The following are to be appreciated for the time they give towards a successful recreational program they have organized: Barrie MacDonald, Sandy Kirkey, Dwayne Benton and Lynne MacDonald.

When we spoke with Lynne who brought this correction to our attention, she was happy to report on behalf of her co-workers, how much they appreciate the interest of villagers who stop by to witness the program in action. They are also grateful to many of the parents that remain intending to lend a helping hand. This little success story is proving worthwhile where many enjoyable hours are spent.

WMS centennial meeting to be held at Maxville

Banners from the different Auxiliaries will be put on display again and special name-tags are to be worn by Auxiliary members.

It is hoped that there will be a good attendance of WMS members and friends from all parts of the Presbyterial.

An interview with founder of Garoloux Michel Lalonde

[Story by Jean Paquin—Le Point, translation by Norm Sauve]

"For my brother Marc and I, the Alexandria concert has a particular meaning in that it shows that the Francophone element is alive and well in the region and we're both anxious to go play back home."

This is what Michel Lalonde, one of the founders of the group Garolou, had to say during an interview last week to discuss the upcoming Alexandria concert, his debut in music and the group.

Michel feels that there has been an evolution of the French cultural scene in the area and stated that a concert of this kind would never have been possible when he was studying at Alexandria High School. He personally feels that since there are French concerts in the area it clearly shows how Francophones are more open and proud of their culture.

Marc and Michel Lalonde are natives of Glen Robertson and the latter remembers how his father always encouraged him in the work that he was doing.

It was his father who was the director of the Glen Robertson church choir and, on occasion, he would bring Marc and Michel to sing. "The Glen church was the first place," stated Lalonde, "where I sang in public."

Then, in 1964-65, it was the Beatles phenomenon for Michel who admits that he "fell in the wave."

"The Beatles were my idols so I started to play rock and roll music."

It was when he left high school at the age of 17, that Michel started to play music. This was when he taught at Glen Robertson's Laurier-Carriere school and played music on weekends.

At this time, he played with his brother Marc and Garolou's actual drummer, Michel Deguire.

For seven or eight years, before the birth of the group, Garolou, they played in "clubs" throughout the area, playing mostly rock.

Then, Michel left and went to Prince Edward Island to study theatre. It was at this time that he got the idea to start Garolou.

"I remember," he declared, "how my father sang folklore when I was younger. I got the idea to adapt folk with electric guitars. I telephoned Marc and Michel Deguire; they both came down to join me, we made a demo and we left for Montreal."

He tells how hard it was at the start since the band had not yet released any records and how difficult it was to get contracts.

"The first year we lived together with very little money."

The group had its share of difficulties in releasing its first album.

"We had many doors shut in our faces. So we decided to go and see Andre Perry at his studio in Morin Heights and have him listen to our demo. He found it very interesting and tried his best to find us a producer but he unfortunately got the same results. The group then decided to record at his studio whenever it wasn't being rented."

Six months after the album was completed under the name Lougarou and the rest is history.

Now after eight years together, the band has decided to separate and to start individual careers.

"When you've been in a band for eight years," explained Lalonde, "you have to ask yourself if you've gone as far as you can go. We came to the decision that it would be best if we went our separate ways."

He tells how life as a band can be very interesting but that it can become hard to handle. Be that as it may, Michel adds that the group does not leave on unfriendly terms.

"There aren't any misunderstandings between us and it doesn't necessarily mean that we won't find ourselves together again doing other things."

Lalonde explains that the members will now be able to do what they wish with more freedom.

"We didn't want to be Garolou only part of the time."

Last September, Garolou stopped touring but later recognized that it might be interesting to do a farewell tour before separating.

The tour started in Victoriaville, Que., June 22 and Lalonde explains that everything is going very well.

"The group's morale is high due to the excellent response we have been receiving."

After the August 7th concert in Alexandria, Garolou will continue the tour until its termination a few weeks later.

There are still plenty of tickets left to see this once in a lifetime final concert.

Medicare in danger

Despite its flaws, Canada's health care system is ranked among the best in the world. In the 17 years since its inception medicare has met its goal of providing medical and hospital care to all who need it, regardless of personal resources.

But that system is now under attack, threatened by user fees, doctors' extra billing and political opportunism.

Federal health minister Monique Begin has all but declared war on the provinces. Her proposed Canada Health Act would give the federal government the power to reduce its financial contributions towards health care costs in any province where extra billings or user fees exist.

Every dollar taken from individuals for medical or hospital care would result in Ottawa reducing it's contribution by one dollar.

She has strong support for her position, including the Canadian Nursing Association.

In a booklet apparently created as much to aid the Liberal government as to address the dangers facing medicare, Begin intensified her attack last week.

"The small direct charges of the past are now growing and spreading," says the position paper, entitled Preserving Universal Medicare. "Medicare as we know it is gradually eroding."

A study undertaken for a federal commission headed by Emmett Hall reported many poorer people had trouble finding doctors they could afford. For others, medical care created financial hardship.

According to Hall's conclusions, "extra-billing does deny access to many of the poorer elements of society and violates the essential principle of accessability to all.

"If extra billing is permitted... it will over the years destroy the medicare program."

Provincial governments are caught in a squeeze. Health care costs are rising dramatically, in spite of harsh measures to bring expenditures under control. But forcing a share of the costs on the individual is not the answer.

Firmly in place, user fees and extra billing can be expected to grow. Already, poorer families are hurt by the extra charges. In future still more Canadians would find adequate health care beyond their reach.

Society as a whole has a moral responsibility to care for the ill. It is unreasonalbe that society should be expected to pick up the full cost.

Though there may be political motives in Ottawa's medicare campaign, Begin is correct in her determination to see extra charges stopped. We can't afford to see her lose.

Fire at abortion clinic

A minor fire in Dr. Henry Morgentaler's Toronto abortion clinic has brought the renewed abortion debate into the gutter.

The Ontario Fire Marshal's Office has determined the fire, which caused about $500 damage to the downtown clinic on Friday, was deliberately set. The fire could have posed great danger to many people living in nearby buildings.

Norma Scarborough, president of the Canadian Abortion Rights Action League, told a news conference that graffiti on the doorway threatening Morgentaler's life clearly shows the fire was the result of the "lunatic fringe of the anti-choice movement."

"The fanatic fringe of the anti-choice movement has shown that for all its public talk about concern for life they have no concern for life," she said.

Laura MacArthur, president of Right to Life's Toronto branch, said she was greatly angered by the suggestion, insisting Scarborough should offer proof or "shut up and shut up fast."

"They know that we are totally and unequivocably against breaking the law," McArthur said. "That is why we oppose Morgentaler. He has broken the Criminal Code of Canada."

At last report, police and fire investigators had no solid leads as to who may have set the blaze. They don't know who is responsible, so it is premature to attach blame on any individual, much less on a popular movement that claims the support of millions of like-minded Canadians.

Was the fire set by an opponent of abortion on demand?

Was it set by a pro-choice supporter in an attempt to discredit the pro-life movement?

Or was it set by some misguided kook without formal allegiance to either side of the abortion debate?

Any one of a number of scenarios would be conceivable.

One thing is certain. The fire could not conceivably have been set by any responsible group or individual.

The arson was the act of a fool. Casting blame for it to the pro-life movement is simply more foolishness and does more to discredit the accuser thatn the accused.

Hopefully, the criminal or criminals involved will be apprehended and punished. Hopefully, the same fate will await all who resort to criminal acts throughout the abortion debate.

Up the creek

by Rod MacDonald

On Wednesday, we had an uninvited guest.

Or rather, my wife did.

It was no big deal, really, but the result was chaos!

I had just arrived home from the golf club, late as usual. The house was quiet and everyone was sleeping, or so I thought.

It didn't occur to me that anything was amiss, although nearly every light in the house was still on, until I tiptoed into the bedroom and found my wife with the bedcovers pulled over her head, wide awake.

"Thank God you're here," she exclaimed, her voice muffled through the blankets.

Now my wife, you understand, is occasionally given to erratic behavior, considering the strain of having three children at home and another on the way (not to mention the dog, which really drives her crazy).

But this time I sensed something was really the matter.

"What's wrong?" I inquired.

"There's a bat in the house."

"A what?"

"You heard me, kiddo. Where are you when I need you?" she said, and related what had happened.

It seems she had been awakened by a scratching noise in the bedroom. Thinking it was just another field mouse, a species that she's only recently learned to live with (spiders are an entirely different story), she reached over to turn on the bedside lamp.

Perched on the shade only inches from her hand was a real live bat.

Her reaction was predictable.

She screamed and fled.

The bat, no doubt equally startled, did likewise.

Unfortunately for my wife, they both fled in the same direction, there being really nowhere else to go.

She charged downstairs and the bat followed. So, she ran back upstairs, closed the doors to the kids' bedrooms, and retreated under the covers.

And that's when I arrived on the scene.

I tried to reassure her that bats were fairly common on farms and that she shouldn't be alarmed, they didn't grow very big anyway.

But she wasn't buying any of it.

"All right," I said. "I'll take care of it."

Armed with a rolled up newspaper, the great bat hunt began.

My wife, who was beginning to get her courage back, ventured downstairs.

"Use the broom," she suggested. "You'll never get him with that."

"Don't worry," I replied, not the least bit concerned myself, although my experience with bats is fairly limited, only having seen one once at a distance.

"Bats carry rabies," she countered.

"On second thought, I'll get the rifle."

My wife wanted to know who was overreacting now.

I grabbed the broom from the closet.

Second look

Fifty-two bands! Fifty-two pipe bands, they said, marching and playing in unison at Saturday's Glengarry Highland Games. It was a sight and sound to behold.

The largest massed band in the 36-year history of the Glengarry Games, I doubt if it has been equalled anywhere. If there is ever going to be a larger massed band, you can be assured it will be in Maxville, probably next year.

The mammoth size of the massed band was a testament to the quality of "our" games. And it was fantastic!

There must have been more than 20,000 people there again this year and they all know the feeling. But how do you put it into words?

It was more than the astounding numbers. More than the color and the music. More than the sheer volume. A spirit pervaded the games and engulfed everyone. There was a strong sense of pride, in both heritage and accomplishment.

It was a great day to be Scottish. And for those who weren't, it was still a great day to be Scottish, if only for a few hours. (And the Irish think they know how to have a good time!)

All around there was abundant evidence of the most detailed planning and hard work on the part of many devoted volunteers. The sheer detail is mind boggling, beyond the imagination of most of us not involved.

Many of the important details have been honed over many years of practice to near perfection. Organizers know how to do most things well because they have done them well before.

But they are not simply satisfied to repeat a proven recipe. Every year they look for ways to make North America's best Highland Games still better. And every year they succeed. That is why so many return to the games every year. That is why the massive crowds keep getting bigger.

You can always overhear a few in the audience, attending for the first time, already talking about coming back again.

It's addictive, but what an addiction!

I had been to the games before, as had my family. And we were all looking forward to this year's edition. For the first time, we also took in the Friday night concert, enjoying it immensely.

My wife's family, on the other hand, claim mostly English blood and had never attended the games before. They would never consider vacating their cottage on a beautiful summer weekend. They came this year and they, too, are vowing to return.

Even Friday night's downpour couldn't dampen the enthusiasm. Once you're wet, it doesn't matter anymore. Along with many others who didn't know enough to arrive in time to get grandstand seats, we sat out in the rain. And we stayed as long as the performers did.

Maxville and all of Glengarry can take tremendous pride in the annual Highland Games. We hope the show will still be getting better after 36 years.

And all of those selfless individuals who donate so much of their time to make sure the Highland Games come off ever better, deserve our gratitude and respect.

Without them it wouldn't be. And without the Highland Games Glengarry just wouldn't quite be Glengarry.

P.M. on the way out ?

There is considerable speculation that there will be changes in the Liberal party before long. A meeting of top level party brass last week, which was also attended by Senator Keith Davey, the Liberals' chief planner, has led to the rumor that Mr. Trudeau may be planning his own departure from office. One responsible journalist predicts that he will be gone by Christmas.

There are several reasons for such speculation. Number one is the results of recent popularity polls, in which the Progressive Conservatives have been rated considerably higher than the Liberals. A second thought is that Trudeau might have contemplated another term of office had Joe Clark continued as prime opponent. With the election of Brian Mulroney to the PC leadership the prime minister faces a situation which could be disastrous and at best is chancey, as far as winning an election is concerned.

All governments in power during tough economic times become the whipping boys for the complainers. Governments are blamed in large measure for whatever ills befall the nation, whether or not they are in fact responsible. The Liberals were unseated by Conservative R. B. Bennett in 1930 as the first effects of the Great Depression were felt. Even the great Winston Churchill was defeated at the polls after the second World War because wartime restraints could not be lifted quickly enough.

There may well be some truth to the rumor of Mr. Trudeau's stepping down. It is difficult to imagine how he would bear up under the strain if he found himself leader of the Opposition. He has been king too long. —Wingham Advance-Times

Genealogist needs help

6816 Altamira St.,
Coral Gables, Florida 33146

The editor:

I am writing you at the suggestion of Miss Glenna French, a retired public health nurse, who worked in Glengarry County at one time.

I am on a genealogy hunt. My ancestors came from Prescott County, Ontario, probably the West Hawkesbury, Vankleek Hill region. Here is what I know.

My grandfather, James G. Hoey was born March, 1848. I believe the farm where he was born is today part of the town of Vankleek Hill. He lived the first years of his life with an uncle and aunt, James and Mary Hoey. This we know from the 1851 census record.

My grandfather's mother, probably widowed, married a man by the name of French. They had at least two children, Hugh and Esther French. I place the birth of these children in the 1855 to 1860 time frame.

We are quite sure they lived to be adults and probably were alive after 1900. I am trying to locate any French family who might have knowledge of this relationship.

In addition, we are looking for connection to the Cassidy family. James Hoey who is buried in the cemetery on Cassburn Road outside L'Orignal, had a married sister, Bridget, who married in Ireland a man by the name of Edward Cassidy. They also immigrated to Prescott County with their large family, probably after 1851. They had five sons, James, John, William, Edward and Thomas and one daughter Mary.

Edward Cassidy married Marie Bulger, July 23, 1855 in L'Orignal. The daughter Mary married August 20, 1865 a man by the name John Frery (Ferrara). She, too, is buried in the Cassburn Road cemetery.

If you could run this maybe someone is still in the region who knows of these people. Miss Glenna French recommended your paper as one of the best town papers in the province and she said it has a wide circulation.

Thank you.

Reader challenges Pro-Choice ad

703 Sydney Street,
Cornwall, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Undoubtedly you will give equal time to the truth by permitting this writer to expose the ad of July 27th in your paper by the Pro-Choice Defence Fund for what it really is.

First, allow me to point out that the term "pro-choice" has absolutely no legal or social basis and can most easily be contested in a court of law. The term is merely another among a multiplicity of heinous euphemisms used by abortionists to mask their real objectives. Had the term any legalized or moral application, it would readily provide options both for the unborn child and its natural father. Make no mistakes about it, pro-choicers are nothing more and nothing less than pro-abortion (at least for the time being).

Statement: 72 per cent of the people of Canada believe that women have a right to choose abortion.

Reply: Another absolute fabrication. How could this be possible when a recent impartial poll stated that 63 per cent of the population of this nation was adamantly against abortion?

Statement: Canadian women have a right to accessable, safe, medically-insured abortions (in a free-standing clinic).

Reply: Safe? On January 22, 1976, the Disciplinary Committee of the Professional Corporation of Physicians of Quebec suspended the licence of Dr. Henry Morgentaler for one year. The Committee's report (No. 24-75-00011) described him as deserving to be reprimanded because of: a) His failure to meet the minimum of a competent professional. b) An attitude which is primarily directed toward protecting his fees. c) His failure to perform the necessary scientific tests before proceeding with the surgical act: pregnancy test; blood test. d) After performing his intervention, he does not concern himself with obtaining pathological examinations of the tissues he has

In case you think finding those little devils is easy, try looking for one in your house in the middle of the night.

After searching for a full half-hour, I finally discovered the intruder, hiding in a fold in the living room curtains.

I took aim and let fly with the business end of the broom.

What happened next is remarkable.

The whole curtain rod, curtains included, banged to the floor. At the same time, the huge potted plant in the wallhanging near the window popped out of the hook and crashed to the coffee table, spewing dirt everywhere.

The bat, only slightly dazed, fluttered near the couch. I took another swing, knocking over a table lamp in the process.

On my third try, the picture over the couch jumped off the wall and bounced to the floor, breaking the frame.

The situation was clearly getting out of hand.

After three or four more good swipes, the varmint lay dead on the floor.

The place looked like a war zone.

My children, who were all awakened by the din, demanded to know what was happening.

My wife explained that I was trying to find a bat.

"Why is Daddy playing baseball in the middle of the night?" my oldest inquired innocently.

Later, when things had returned to normal, my wife asked how my golf game had gone earlier in the day.

"Terrible," I replied, "Couldn't hit a straight shot all afternoon."

"I can see why," she retorted.

As far as I'm concerned, next time she handles her own problems—bats included.

it's so easy . . .

TURNBULL—MacDONALD

Couple united in Alexandria

St. Finnan's Cathedral, Alexandria, was the scene of a pretty wedding between Cathy MacDonald, daughter of Madeleine and Ranald MacDonald, Alexandria, and Robert Turnbull, son of Winnifred and Gordon Turnbull, Alexandria.

The marriage took place May 28 at 4 p.m.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony were Msgr. Donald B. McDougald, and Rev. Gordon Worden of St. John's, Lancaster. The cathedral was decorated with apple blossoms and standards of ferns.

The bride was lovely in a gown of silk sheer. The bodice was blouson with the round yoke, Chinese collar and long fitted sleeves edged in a delicate lace. The dress extended to a graceful train. Her picture hat was designed of sheer and lace from which fell an attached veil. She carried a white parasol decorated with ivy mauve baby orchids, pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Bernadine Duval, maid of honor, and Ms. Linda McDonald, Mrs. Sandra Tenger and Ms. Marilyn Aulenback were bridesmaids. The dresses were dusty rose crepe, fashioned with a high collar. The bodice had an overlay of white lace which formed a vee in front and a peplum over the gathered skirt. Mauve satin ribbon was entwined in the lace. Their bouquets were mauve orchids and stephanotis attached to white lace fans. Jennifer McDonald, Oshawa, niece of the bride, wore a long pale rose gown with a long white sheer pinafore handsmocked in deep rose. Ringbearer was Christopher Van den Oetelaar, nephew of the groom, who wore a white linen suit with an Eton jacket and pale rose shirt.

The groom's attendants were Christopher Cameron, Vankleek Hill, best man, and ushers were Randy MacDonald, Ken Turnbull and Jamie MacDonald, all of Alexandria.

Anne MacDonald, Brampton, Susan McDonald, Oshawa, sisters of the bride, and Sr. Kathryn Cameron were soloists. Christena MacDonald was at the organ.

The wedding reception was held at the Alexandria Curling Club.

The bride and groom travelled to England and Scotland for a two-week honeymoon. For travelling the bride wore a pale pink linen suit with a dark rose hat and white accessories.

They are presently living at RR#3, Alexandria.

Guests attending the wedding were from Borako, Papua, New Guinea, Stowell, Australia, Vancouver, BC, Winnipeg and Fort White, Manitoba, Toronto, Oshawa, Brampton, Ottawa and Montreal.

Following the mass a parish picnic will be held under the trees at the Old St. Margaret's Convent grounds. There is no charge for this picnic.

The parish council, under the direction of Raymond Charlebois, has Silver and Gold Commemorative Coins and an historical booklet of St. Finnan's Parish has been written by Eugene A. Macdonald.

St. Finnan's has had many societies down through the years —the League of the Sacred Heart, Legion of Mary, Children of Mary, Altar Society, Holy Name Society, CWL, K of C., parish council and hospitality committee. Some of these organizations have gone into the past, but a few are still active.

Down through the years the parish has had excellent organists, such as Mrs. Bob McLennan, a sister of Mother St. Antoninus of Holy Corss Order. Then came Annie O'Connor, whose husband Burns O'Connor was a vocalist, followed by Margaret Cuddon, who later entered the religious life of the Sisters of Precious Blood; Sister Mary St. Andrew CSC; Marie McLeister (Mrs. Alberic Julien); late Mrs. John McLeister; Susan McGillis, Susan Viau, late Sister Mary St. Rose CSC; Florence (Gormley) Villeneuve; Grace (Morris) Thompson; Sister Laurette CSC, and our present Christena (Campbell) MacDonald.

Choir directors were Burns O'Connor, Father Justine Fields, Sister Dorothy CSC, and Sister Kathryn Cameron CSC.

Soloists and singers included Burns O'Connor, Real Huot, Peter J. Morris, Michael J. Morris, Grace (McDougall) Morris, Donald. A. Macdonald K.C., Mrs. Fernande (Roy) Macdonald, Catherine (Sandfield) Macdonald, Hilda Macdonald Maclaren, Eugene A. Macdonald, Alma MacPhee Murray, Marie MacPhee Caven, Major Angus A. McDonald, Florence Fagan McDonald, Claire, Louise and Beatrice Macdonald, John O. and Howard Morris, Grace (Morris) Elliott, Ida (Morris) Mulcair and Howard Morris family—Jean, Grace, Ann, Mary, Maureen, Donnie, Billy, John, Cleary and Frankie.

The present choir includes Adele Collin, Michael Barbara, Hugh Allan McDonald, Harry Main, Marie and Hugh McDougald, Gella Vanstokkom, Gertrude Schreiner, Millie Reid, Marguerite Seger, Theresa Lemieux, Kaye Levert, Colbie MacDonell, John Wood Sr., Frank and Anne Marie Collard, Jean Shago, Sister Frances CSC, Bonnie Maclaren, Veronica McDougald, Madeleine and Ranald MacDonald, Gerald Dextras, Anne and Mary Elizabeth MacPhee, D. D. McPherson and Erin McPherson, Anna Koehler, Anna Cadieux, Margaret M. Bartnikas, Kathleen and Jennie Lowe, Sister Cecile CSC, Leopold Seguin, Dr. Nadeau and J. P. Touchette, along with the Youth Choir.

Chapel service at nursing home

The July 28th a.m. chapel service was held at the Community Nursing Home but without the services of a clergyman who unfortunately could not be present.

The service opened with a hymn-sing of familiar gospel hymns, following which, Marion MacLeod read the Scripture passage from the 89th psalm.

Campbell Fraser led the fellowship group in prayer. Hymn requests were again sung and the service of praise concluded with the Mizpah benediction.

Gratitude to the volunteer leaders was expressed by the friends in residence at the nursing home.

Clergy comments

by Father Gary Ostler

The diocesan retreat house, Maison Shalom House, will be eight years old this coming fall. It was established to fill an urgent need to allow groups from within the diocese to gather and pray together.

A board of directors was formed and a constitution was approved by the Bishop of the Diocese on June 21, 1978.

Since the retreat house wsa established under the direction of Father Donald Scott in 1975, Shalom House has distinguished itself in the area of spiritual renewal.

For the last four consecutive years, the total number of people who have participated in programs of renewal average 2,500 in number per year. Over 90 per cent of those coming to Shalom House are from the diocese itself.

Sister Jeannine Bissonette has served as associate director since the very beginning of the retreat house. Father Gary Ostler has been director since 1976.

The present board of directors is composed of three lay people from each of the two counties that make up the diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall. Representing Stormont County—Raymond Billard, chairman of the board; Sister Rosalie Cobey, RHSJ and Iola Parisien. Representing Glengarry County, Jane Smits, St. Joseph Parish, Lancaster; Maurice Gauthier, secretary of the board from Green Valley, and Fred Leroux, from Apple Hill.

In addition to the representation at large by county, there is a clergy representative from each of the five deaneries of the Didcese. They are: Fr. Denis Laurier, c.s.v., P.P., St. Felix de Valois Parish, Cornwall; Fr. Kelvin Maloney, P.P. St. Peter Parish, Cornwall; Fr. Gerald Poirier, P.P., Ste. Marie Parish in Green Valley; Fr. Rene Dube, P.P. Christ the King Parish, Cornwall; and Fr. Michael J. O'Brien, P.P., St. Bernard's Parish in Finch.

Representing St. Raphael's Parish community, the constitution provides for two members. They are: Gerrit Sturkenboom and Laurent Major.

The Knights of Columbus from each council within the diocese name a representative to the board of directors. At present, they are: Duncan Morris, Alfred Grignon, Wallace Morris, treasurer of the board, Leo Andre and Claude Bissonnette.

The board of directors meets four times annually. Committees of the board include the spiritual committee, the finance committee, the property and personnel committee and the public relations committee.

Last summer, a special project to erect a grotto on the property was underway. A federal grant was obtained to provide three students to work on the project. In addition, various donations were received to cover all other costs in the over-all project.

His Excellency, the Most Reverend Eugene LaRocque, D.D., our bishop, will preside a mass of Thanksgiving with the Blessing of the Altar on Saturday, September 10 at 5 p.m. All are invited to join together in this outdoor mass.

The landscaping of the property still remains an immediate concern. Donations will be gratefully accepted for this purpose.

The grotto is illuminated at night and is a design of Fr. Toby McGivern, constructed to add to the Ruins, the outstanding architectural feature of the hamlet at St. Raphael's West.

A Way of the Cross (outdoors) has been placed on trees around the property. This Way of the Cross was donated by the Sisters of the Holy Cross. Hopefully, benches will be provided to allow a proper setting for meditation.

The little bush located to the rear of Shalom House has been cleared with the help of the Department of Lands and Forests.

GAMES FOR THE YOUNGSTERS—It may look easy, but many youngsters soon discovered that tossing the ring around the neck of a large soft drink bottle was no mean feat. The game was one of several entertaining events organized for children at the 1983 Galarama held at St. Raphael's on the weekend.

Katimavik at day care

Glengarry Day Care Action has had the chance to welcome a participant from the Katimavik program. Her name is Louise Maltais. Louise had a three-week placement at 1, 2, 3 Go's Drop-in Centre.

Louise's contribution to the day care centre was beneficial. She participated with the development of nursery school activities and learned the daily routines as well as a variety of techniques that are used while working with the children in a day care setting.

Because the day care is a pilot project governed by the federal and provincial government it is difficult to hire someone because of limited funds.

This is where the volunteer's participation from the Katimavik program has helped out tremendously.

August 2, 1, 2, 3 Go will welcome a new participant, Debbie Shinkawa, who will volunteer her services for a placement of three weeks.

Debbie is finishing a billeting placement at the home day care of Mrs. Diane Massie. Therefore, she has already had the chance to be initiated into one type of day care program.

Glengarry Day Care Action appreciates and benefits from the Katimavik services. We sincerely hope that this special program will continue in our community.

The Wayne Lapierre Story

"I was born with a plastic counter in my hand."

"Yer out!" yells the umpire Wayne Lapierre.

What he gets in response to this call is enough to make your toes curl and your stomach muscles cringe. But this particular ump doesn't care. He knows he was right and he's got plenty of experience to back him up.

Nineteen-year-old Wayne Lapierre of Alexandria has, of course, had to take plenty of sarcasm since he first started "umping" little league softball over four years ago.

He's had to take insults of all kinds; jeers and boos from players and "fans" alike. But Wayne, and all the other umps, are of a special stock. A breed of dedicated men who can take all the insults with a grain of salt and a grin. He can of course throw you out of a game faster than you can say "but . . ."

But that's not what baseball is all about. Baseball is a great sport, perhaps the greatest ever invented as far as this 6' 1" veteran is concerned.

"I love the game. I wouldn't kill for it, but I am a fan. Expos, Blue Jays, you name it."

Wayne first started umpiring when he was about 16. He's done and participated in almost everything associated with baseball, including playing for a season.

He really started taking his umpiring seriously last year when he wrote his All-Ontario Umpiring Permit test.

When asked how he did on the test, he bashfully admits with his characteristic chuckle that he obtained a perfect mark.

With this permit, he can ump any game in Ontario and actually has been using it extensively "umping" five nights a week for the Alexandria Men's and Women's leagues and occasionally for the Cornwall Sportsman's League as well.

The job may seem uninteresting to fans and un-fans alike but he notes that there is money to be made and that he has saved up enough to pay for his college tuition fees this September.

The constantly grinning "Big guy" with the newly acquired baseball cap, only one of seven he buys every week, is seemingly full of quotes and when asked what is necessary to attain stardom as an umpire he stated: "You must know where your strike zone is."

Oh, really?

Sports quote of the week:

"When you start umpiring you must be perfect and then you must improve."

—"Dutch" Reinert, Major Baseball League Ump.

Three-way tie for third place

The Alexandria ladies softball league saw Glengarry Glass and Roy's Garage both win their games and suddenly enter into a three-way tie for third place with Ray's Sealtest.

In game one on Tuesday night, Bonnie Glen, under the supervision of Coach Donald Filion, extended its winning streak to 11 straight games by defeating second ranked Caisse Populaire by a score of 7-6.

The game was tied after one and a half innings of play before Bonnie Glen got on the score board thanks to a double by Kay Latreille and an RBI by Marilyn Sloan.

Marilyn came in later herself on a single by Jill Munroe making the score Bonnie Glen 2, Caisse Populaire 0, after two complete innings of play.

The third inning was much the same with Caisse Populaire and Coach Guillaume Decoste unable to score on the obviously determined Bonnie Glen.

The Bonnie Glen had two runs in its half of the third thanks to singles by Heather Fournier, Joan Filion and RBI's by Mary Lou Williams and Betty MacDonald.

In the fourth it was again all Bonnie Glen, who scored three more runs to the Caisse's none.

Vivian Van Putten came in after her single on a booming double by Heather Fournier. Fournier came in on singles by Mary Lou Williams and Betty MacDonald.

After four complete innings it was Bonnie Glen 7, and still Caisse Populaire 0.

In the fifth and final inning though, the girls from the Caisse stunned everyone scoring an unprecedented six consecutive runs.

Debbie MacDonald was the first to cross the plate after her single. Louise Secours, Suzanne Decoste, Denise Delorme, Elaine Oetelaar and Linda Oetelaar all came in the fifth to bring the scores within one point of each other before Bonnie Glen pitcher Joan Filion ended the Caisse's streak and the game.

In the second game, Glengarry Glass stunned GTL by a score of 9-3.

From the start of the first inning it was obvious that Glengarry Gardens would win this one as they scored an unmatched five runs to GTL's none.

Aline Gareau started the scoring for Glengarry Glass' half of the first with a hard single off pitcher Rita Levac.

Linda Gauvreau brought Gareau in with a booming triple and came in herself on Diane Chatelaine's single. Chatelaine along with teammates Jeanine Duperron and Suzie Gauvreau all came in to score, the latter on an RBI by Lise Duval.

In the second it was again all Glengarry Glass as they scored four more runs and prevented GTL from even coming close to scoring.

Jinny Lee, Diane Chatelaine, Jeanine Duperron, Suzie Gauvreau were the Glengarry Glass scorers.

GTL's only runs came in the third and fourth innings on runs by Melanie McMillan, Sue Duval and Alison Seguin respectively.

On Wednesday night, game one saw Roy's Garage defeat Ray's Sealtest by a score of 10-2.

Roy's won the game not only on hitting but also on walks as Ray's pitcher gave away nine bases, four of which eventually resulted in runs.

Mary Harrison, Donna Miller, Elaine MacDonald, Rena Seguin and Caroline St. Denis all scored for Kevin Masterson's Roy's Garage in the first inning alone.

Peggy Lajoie was the lone scorer for Ray's half of the first thanks to singles by teammates Karen MacDonald and Nana Tyo.

The second inning was scoreless thanks mostly to some fine examples of pitching and in-field play by both sides. After two full innings of play it was Roy's 5, Ray's 1.

The third inning was the decisive one as the girls from Roy's Garage scored another five runs to boost their lead up by nine.

Mary Harrison, Elaine MacDonald, Carol Deguire, Trudy Ladouceur and Mary Nixon were the scorers for the victorious Roy's.

Ray's Sealtest had one final run in the third after Karen MacDonald singled and had a little help from Janice MacLennan and Joanne Trudel.

The second game of the night saw RVA Steele totally annihilate the still winless but always ambitious girls from Sultan Drugs, 16-1.

Trish MacCulloch began the scoring for RVA with a double and crossed the plate thanks to a single by Rachel Viau and a double by Helene Seguin. Viau, Seguin, Cathy MacCulloch and Kellie MacCulloch all scored in RVA's half of the first.

Sultan Drugs scored its only run of the game in the first inning after Carole Campeau came in on her single and a double by Roxanne Menard.

Sultan Drugs added insult to injury throughout the duration of the game as they scored 11 more runs.

In the second, Helene Seguin and Cathy MacCulloch were the lone scorers for RVA.

In the third though, nine runs were scored as Trish MacCulloch, Rachel Viau, Patsy Chatelaine, Cathy MacCulloch, Gay Paralty, Kay MacCulloch, Geraldine Chatelaine, Viau and Chatelaine ended the game.

UPCOMING GAMES

August 2—RVA Steele vs Roy's Garage; Caisse Populaire vs Glengarry Glass.

August 3—GTL vs Sultan Drugs; Ray's Sealtest vs Bonnie Glen.

Playoffs in full swing

The men's fastball league playoffs were in full swing this past week with some interesting developments taking shape in both series.

In game one on Thursday night, ABS stunned Highland Motors by a score of 12-5. The win made the semi-final playoff between the two teams tied at one game apiece.

In game two, Giroux Sports edged Menard Farm Supplies 3-2. Giroux Sports now lead the best-of-five playoff series, two games to none.

In Monday's first game, MFS defeated Giroux Sports with an impressive 3-2 victory.

Andre Seguin started the scoring for MFS after receiving a base on balls of Giroux pitcher "Tom" Guindon. Seguin came in after a sacrifice fly by teammate Donald Menard, a wild pitch and a single by Norm Menard.

Menard later came in himself after a hard line-drive double from Gaetan Quesnel.

Giroux Sports was scoreless in the first.

MFS scored their third run in the second on a single by Norm Seguin, who later scored thanks to the game's only triple by Leonard Seguin.

The rest of the game saw MFS' pitcher Bob Latreille strike out three batters and the in-field play some impressive ball stopping the powerful team from Giroux Sports from scoring a single point until the sixth inning.

Giroux Sports waited until the sixth and then let loose an onslaught of hits which resulted in two runs being scored.

Michel Rozon, substituting for "Tom" Guindon, and Guy Quesnel scored for Giroux to cut the MFS lead down to a single point.

Relief pitcher, Paul Seguin played the rest of the game for MFS and prevented Giroux Sports from sweeping the playoff series three games to none with excellent examples of ball control.

Game two of the night saw Highland Motors win over Alexandria Builders' Supplies by a score of 5-2.

J. P. Claude started the scoring for Highland's half of the first inning thanks to a base on balls and singles by Yvan Desautels and Frank St. Pierre. Desautels and St. Pierre later scored giving Highland Motors a three-point lead after one inning of play.

The game was scoreless until the fourth when Highland added two more points to their existing lead thanks to runs by Robert Lajoie and Michel Vaillancourt.

ABS came on strong in the sixth on a two-run home run by Andre "Pappy" Cholette.

Highland Motors, though, prevented any more runs from being scored and now leads the series two games to one.

Game four of the playoff series will be played on Thursday night and will start at the usual 7 p.m. for game one.

Cummins at Gartree Park

Saturday, July 16th, saw a record turnout of riders at Gartree Park but fierce competition from determined challengers could not unseat the leaders in the High Points standings for Club events.

Mike Cummins, of Morrisburg, gave a superb display of riding skills to take the first moto of the Brookdale Mall Senior/Expert Class. Despite a highly polished team effort by Quebec riders Andy White and Jim Fekete to effectively block out Cummins in the second moto, the local rider still achieved an overall second place.

Troy Matheson placed a strong sixth in one of the largest turnouts in Montreal this year.

38th rowing event held

The 38th Canadian Scholastic Rowing Championships was held at the Royal Canadian Henley rowing course in St. Catharines, Ont., on May 27, 28, 29, 1983. The championship attracted over 1,000 competitors from 65 schools in Canada and the United States.

Matthew Scott McKay, 16, St. Catharines, Ontario, son of Shirley and Gordon McKay, grandson of Margaret Donohue (McCrimmon) was awarded a gold medal for first place in the Jr. Men's Heavy Eight Division and a bronze medal in the Jr. Men's Heavy Cox Four.

Alexandria Open attracts large field

The Glengarry Golf and Country Club held its annual Alexandria Open Golf Tournament with a total of 89 golfers from throughout Ontario competing in the 36-hole event, Sunday.

A total of 38 outside golfers from Cornwall, Comeau, Summer Heights, Rideau Glen in Kemptville, Hawkesbury and as far as Trenton competed.

Marc Baker, representing the Cornwall Golf and Country Club, won the low gross with a 73.

The Class "A" low gross winner was Rick Greer, also of Cornwall, with a 74.

Greer and Marc MacDonald of Cornwall competed in a playoff round before the victor was determined.

The Class "B" winner was Adrien Derochie with a low gross of 82.

The Class "C" winner was determined after a lengthy playoff round between Glengarry's own Ernie Fox, Wally Hope Jr. and Jacques Quenneville. Fox eventually won after four playoff holes had been played.

The "D" Class went to Dick Sauve of Glengarry with a low gross of 91.

The Class "A" low net victor was Rick Duscheneau of Hawkesbury with 67.

The Class "B" was won by Glengarry's Cliff Ray with 65.

Glengarrians also swept the "C" and "D" Classes with Andre Quesnel and Jacque Titley winning their categories with a 67 and a 69 respectively.

Playoffs start next week

The Alexandria women's ballhockey season ended on Thursday night with only one of the two scheduled games being played.

The Glengarry Feeds Limited vs Alexandria game was scratched so both teams retain their respective positions in the standings.

Game two was decisive in that first placed Chez Paul's defeated Bonnie Glen by a score of 2-0.

The game was important because of the fact that the two teams have been battling it out between each other throughout the season for the first place standings.

Paul's lead in the standings by only one point over second ranking Bonnie Glen and combined with their victory, received a bye for the playoffs, playing only in the final round.

The playoffs start August 4, with second ranked Bonnie Glen playing against third placed Alexandria.

The 9 a.m. playoff game will see fourth ranked Bob's Hotel up aginst last-placed Glengarry Feeds Limited.

Alexandria Police win two

The Alexandria Police team of the Squirts division in the Alexandria Minor Softball League won both of its games last week and is now way ahead in the standings.

In Monday night's first game, the Police defeated Le Point in a come-from-behind close victory.

Timmy Lampron, Roch Rochon and Richard Chevrier were the leading scorers for Daniel Brunet's Police with two points each.

In game two that same night, Roger's Texaco won by default over ASP.

On Wednesday night, the Police, under the supervision of coach Daniel Brunet, won its second game of the week by defeating Roger's Texaco, 14-11.

Timmy Lampron, Travis Giroux, Daniel Renaud, Marc Seguin, Daniel Brunet and Roch Rochon were the team leaders for the Police with two runs each.

Game two saw Le Point revenge their Monday night loss by stunning ASP 18-2. Eric Lewis led throughout the game with four points.

Sheep show is a fun show

Ever wondered what lamb tastes like; how to shear sheep; tan a hide; spin wool; or raise sheep? The answers to all these questions and more can be found at the third annual Williamstown Fair Sheep Show on Sunday, August 7 from 1 p.m. at the Williamstown Fairgrounds.

The Williamstown Fair Sheep Show is a "fun" show for competitors — both two-legged and four-legged. Sheep can be all shapes, sizes, colors, ages and mixtures of breeds. (It is not a purebred show.) Shepherds may have large or small flocks, years of experience or none at all. And best of all, no previous showing experience is necessary. So, why not bundle "Josephine" and her lambs into the back of the Honda and show in a few of the classes!

In addition to the 4-H classes, there is a special "Junior Showmanship" class for junior shepherds under 12, as well as classes for rams, ewes, lambs, colored fleeces and market lambs. There will be a special prize for the "breeder" with the highest number of points, and the exhibitor with the best "pen" display will go home with the "shepherd's crook."

As sheep are a tri-purpose animal, producing warm wool, delicious meat and beautiful sheepskins, the show will feature shearing demonstrations, spinning and weaving displays and, for the first time this year, sheepskin tanning. And last, but by no means least, there will be a delicious lamb barbecue sizzling away throughout the show.

Anyone requiring more information about the show, or competing, can call Michael Schach (528-4282) or Flip Flockton (525-2483).

removed, nor does he do any patient follow-up.

The Report continues: "These practices reveal a medical practice that this Committee cannot reconcile with the practice of good medicine. For all these reasons the Committee must reprimand the defendant." The Report further states: "The Committee also attaches to this decision a recommendation urging the Professional Corporation to oblige the defendant, who for several years has done nothing but abortions, to follow a course of further training." It is fairly obvious that so-called "safe" abortions (whatever they are) will scarcely be found in a Morgentaler clinic.

Statement: The ad carries a list of 100 or so hard-core abortionists in an effort to gain further credibility for their sinister aims and objectives.

Reply: These are the same names that are dragged out every time the so-called pro-choicers have a media blitz. The list never varies, never increases in names. Any one of us could obtain that many pro-life signatures in our own neighborhoods. The Defence Fund list is pure sham and could hardly be equated to the one million signatures as presented by the pro-life movement to Parliament in 1975.

Finally, the people of Alexandria and area must not allow themselves to be duped by the implications of this ad. It was placed by the Defence Fund in the Glengarry News solely in the interests of one Dr. Robert Scott.

Yours for Life,
John Sampson.

White Pine new symbol

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

The article on the White Pine in your paper of July 27 gave me the idea that the readers of The Glengarry News might like to know more about the White Pine, the proposed arboreal symbol of Ontario, and see what it looks like.

Perhaps The Glengarry News is the first in publishing the new symbol.

After publication I plan to send a print of the drawing to Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope. Once legislation is passed he might want to send copies around to schools and libraries to acquaint Ontarians with the new aboreal symbol.

FUN DAY AT ST. RAPHAEL'S—It may be difficult to tell from the faces of these tug-of-war competitors, but everyone was having a good time at the 1983 Galarama at St. Raphael's on the weekend. The Glen Nevis team (left) however, were no match for the heavyweights from St. Raphael's (right) who successfully defended their title for the seventh year in a row. The days activities also included a softball tournament, entertainment, games and a chicken dinner.

Reunion held here

by Marguerite Seger

On the evening of July 23, some 70 former students and staff of the Glengarry District High School and their spouses gathered at the Alexandria Curling Club to renew old acquaintances. Thirty of these were Grade 13 Graduation Class of 1962 and 1963.

Those who travelled from distances to attend were from Montreal, Hudson, Brockville, Ottawa, Kingston, Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie, Saskatoon and the Yukon.

Half a dozen of the teachers who live in the area attended. C. Campbell Fraser, principal of 20 years ago, was given a standing ovation. Mary Ellen (Donahue) Cavanaugh travelled down from Toronto for the reunion.

A very delicious buffet meal was served by Bert and Norma Watts.

Earlier in the day, a few couples met at the Golf Course to play 18 holes which was a most enjoyable outing. This same group had a get-together 10 years ago and the next one is planned for five years hence.

Remove lenses when welding

An incident recently reported shows there is extreme danger in wearing contact lenses when arc welding.

An arc welder flipped up his welding helmet to better position the welding rod. He accidentally struck the metal to be welded, producing an arc. Removing the contacts for the night, the corneas from both eyes were removed along with the lenses.

There was permanent blindness.

Here's what happened.

The electric arc generates microwaves that instantly dry up the fluid between the eye and the lens. This causes the cornea to be bonded to the lens. This trauma is painless and you don't know an injury has occurred until the contact is removed.

This phenomenon was unknown until now. Consequently, there are no safety standards covering the use of contacts when welding. But there are two options: First, don't weld while wearing contacts and prohibit all contact-wearing people from the area where welding is done. Second, always wear the welding helmet and keep it in place until welding is complete and the welder is turned off.

Here to research family

Dan and Ida MacDonald from Choiceland, Saskatchewan, visited Glengarry last week accompanied by their daughter Janet and husband Bob Marinier.

Both couples were holidaying in the area in order to do a little family research and attend a MacDonald clan reunion in Cornwall on Sunday.

While in Alexandria, they stopped in at The Glengarry News to research some back issues and were pleased to find an item announcing the marriage of Dan's parents, both of whom were born in Glengarry.

The couple were married at St. Finnan's on October 23, 1899.

Dan's father, John Angus MacDonald, was raised in the second of Kenyon and his bride, Isobel MacGregor, was from the third of Kenyon.

The couple moved to Ottawa for a brief time before moving to Saskatchewan, where Dan was born.

Man jailed for impaired

A 64-year-old Glen Robertson native now living in Lachute, Quebec, appeared in Alexandria Provincial Court on Thursday on two charges.

Nelson Gauthier was sentenced to three days in jail and lost his driver's permit for one and a half years after pleading guilty to charges of impaired driving and high blood/alcohol level following an incident which occurred on July 10 in Alexandria.

Rabies claims cattle

A Monkland area beef farmer has had his entire herd of more than 100 head of cattle placed under a 60 day quarantine after a pair of three-year-old Charolais died from rabies.

Peter Mesman, RR2 Monkland, said the first animal died on July 14 and the second died four days later.

"I didn't realize what they had," Mr. Mesman said. "The first sign was that they couldn't walk properly. They had lost control of their back legs. The vet wasn't sure what was wrong either. But when the first one died we sent the head to Kemptville and they confirmed it was rabies."

Mr. Mesman said he couldn't see any bite marks on either animal but, since rabies takes anywhere from two to six weeks to incubate, the bites could have had time to heal.

Under a program jointly funded by the federal and provincial ministries of agriculture, Mr. Mesman will receive $800 in compensation for each of the two animals he has lost. However, he said that amount doesn't come close to what the cattle were worth.

"You can't raise and feed a three-year-old for that," he said. "The replacement cost is closer to $1,150 or $1,200."

Mr. Leo Kennedy, the Agriculture Canada vet for Glengarry, Stormont and Prescott counties, said while he can't recall any cases in Stormont county this year of cattle getting rabies, it isn't that uncommon.

"We get cattle, pigs, sheep, goats, coming down with it," he said. "We haven't had that much as far as cattle are concerned. However rabies in large domestic animals is as common as rabies in dogs or cats."

Dr. Kennedy's counterpart for Dundas, Grenville and Leeds counties, Dr. J. McKenzie, said there have been a few cases of rabies in the past few months in the three counties, but none involving farm animals.

"We had two cases of rabies in April, two in June and one in July," Dr. McKenzie said. "Those were just three foxes, a skunk and a cat."

He said that while Mr. Mesman might not receive the full replacement cost of his lost animals, he is lucky to be receiving anything.

"I'm not sure how many do, but I know that in some provinces a farmer wouldn't receive anything," he said.

While some farmers vaccinate some of their more valuable cattle for rabies, Dr. McKenzie said a mass rabies vaccination campaign wouldn't be much good.

"I don't recommend it," he said. "It wouldn't pay to vaccinate 120,000 head to save two or three. We used to get more cases of rabies 20 years ago, but we don't get too much now."

VISITING GLENGARRY—Miss Roberta Larsen, 16, of Belfast, P.E.I., was in Maxville on the weekend for a visit with John Deere dealer Gary Smith (right). The student is one of 10 young people on a month-long 4-H summer work exchange program sponsored by the farm equipment company and is staying in Russell. She was accompanied by Territory Manager Phil Saunders.
