Purchase Of Gardens To Be Decided Tuesday

The moment of decision on purchase of Glengarry Gardens comes next Tuesday for Town Council when the by-law comes up for third reading.

It is by no means a certainty that the by-law will be passed, for on third reading such a money by-law must be approved by 75 per cent of council.

On first and second reading the support was less than that, a 5-4 vote; and it would appear the purchase of the arena could be held up indefinitely unless at least two of those negative votes are switched to the affirmative.

From the viewpoint of economics it is surely a good investment for council. Last year it cost council some $4,000 to finance very limited winter recreation, without an arena. The Gardens can be purchased by the town at an annual cost of $1600 to the taxpayers, according to figures supplied us by Councillor Duncan A. Macdonell, chairman of the arena purchasing committee.

He notes that on an expenditure of $60,000 — of which $4,000 would be for repairs to the arena after its purchase at $56,000—only $20,000 would have to be borrowed. Sale of the Armouries provides $35,000 and there is a government grant of $5,000.

Yearly payments on debentures, covering both that $20,000 and the original purchase price of the Armouries $17,000 already debentured, would amount to $2,800. There are pledges of $1,200 yearly, according to Mr. Macdonell, which would reduce the cost to $1,600. That is much less than last year's outlay and the arena would be ours in which to foster community-wide recreation year-round.

That $1,600 outlay would amount to less than one-half mill on taxes, perhaps $2.00 for the average property-owner.

Councillors who vote against purchase of Glengarry Gardens certainly are not doing so to save money. They should be prepared to justify their stand.

Hay Crop Lost In Barn Fire

Fire, possibly caused by combustion, destroyed the barn of Willie Gaucher, west of Lancaster, Monday morning. The loss included 8,000 bales of hay, the entire crop which had been harvested just a few days earlier.

An 11-year-old son, Richard, was the first to notice the fire when he saw smoke coming out of the roof, while playing in the yard about 10 a.m.

As flames roared through the hay loft, the family was able to remove nine calves. a bull and purebred cow.

Lancaster and Williamstown volunteer fire department answered the call. When firefighters arrived, flames had engulfed the building. They concentrated their efforts on saving the house and other nearby structures.

"We have another farm a mile away which is stocked with hay," said Mrs. Gaucher. "We'll use it while a new barn is being built."

The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Rev. Norman F. Sharkey Died As Result Of Heart Attack

A widely known and popular minister in two Glengarry charges, Rev. Norman F. Sharkey of Timmins, died July 27th as the result of a heart attack. Mr. Sharkey had been treated at Timmins following an attack and was being transferred by train to a Toronto hospital when he succumbed to a second seizure. He was in his 61st year.

While serving at St. Columba Church, Kirk Hill, and later at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lancaster, over a period of some 13 years, Rev. Mr. Sharkey made many friends throughout Glengarry who will regret his passing. During that period of time he had served through World War II in the Chaplaincy Corps and again in 1951-52 he was overseas with the Canadian Army.

He was born at Montreal, a son of the late Andrew Sharkey and his wife, May Price. Following his ordination he served in several charges in Western Ontario before coming to Kirk Hill in 1937. He left Lancaster in 1955 for Timmins where he had since conducted his ministry.

Surviving are his wife, the former Laura McLean of Beachburg; two sons, James L. Sharkey of Ottawa, and Norman of Vancouver; a daughter, Marilyn of Anaheim, California, and a brother, Sydney in BC.

The funeral was held Monday to MacKay Presbyterian Church in Timmins.

FOR SERIVCES RENDERED—Nineteen years of service to Glengarry agriculture on the part of Jim Humphries, agricultural representative, were recognized Tuesday by a testimonial dinner attended by more than 400 of his friends. Stanley Wightman of Lancaster, right, is presenting a stereo-hi fi to Mr. and Mrs. Humphries while guest speaker C. Campbell Fraser looks on.

Former Glengarrians Already Here To Attend 20th Glengarry Highland Games

The 20th annual Glengarry Highland Games are set for Saturday at Maxville and former residents of this county have been arriving all week with plans to take in this biggest day on the Glengarry summer scene.

Maxville's streets and homes were dressed up early because of Old Home Week activities leading up to Saturday's Games.

All the top bands that have become favorites at the Glengarry Games are expected to be back seeking the North American pipe band championship. Games' Secretary John Jamieson expects between 25 and 30 bands and this year they will be competing in three classes. The last category will be for junior bands of which several are entered. They include the Kiwanis Boys Band of Vancouver, a new Hawkesbury Scout band and our own Glengarry Highlanders band.

The international flavor of the band competitions will reach a peak this year with eight U.S. bands expected.

Judging of the band competitions will be different this year. Judges of piping and drumming will be under canvas, unaware which band is competing as they evaluate the performance. Only the judge of deportment will be on the infield.

The first performance of the massed bands is set for no later than 1.30 p.m., immediately following the official opening ceremonies and the mass dancing of the Highland Fling by more than 100 dancers.

In the centennial theme, the 1967 Games will be opened by Maxville's centennial queen, Kathy MacEwen. assisted by her princesses, Beverley Coleman and Susan Haramis.

Dance entries are again heavy, with some from as far away as California.

Games' activity at Maxville starts Friday night when the Woodstock Highlanders Pipe Band provides music and entertainment for the outdoor show in front of the grandstand. Another entertainment is planned for Saturday night when Angus MacKinnon and his Scottish Country dance band will be featured at a dance in the Community Hall.

Scottish Horticulturist To Be Here For Games

Among Games-goers Saturday will be one of Scotland's most distinguished horticulturists, Alfred T. Harrison. On a world tour. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are visiting her sister, Miss Nancy MacCaskill in Montreal and Misses Evelyn and Ruth MacLeod of Montreal and Glen Nevis.

While on a tour of Scotland last year, Evelyn met the Harrisons and they will be her guests at the Games.

His ears attuned to the pipe music, no doubt Mr. Harrison will have an eye on Maxville's flower gardens. Until his retirement in February he was director of parks and recreation for the City of Edinburgh. A staff of 700 men worked under him to develop and maintain some 3,000 acres under his charge.

Reg. Gagne Charlottenburgh Clerk-Treasurer

Acting clerk-treasurer of Charlottenburgh Township since Feb. 1st, Reg. Gagne has been confirmed in that post, according to an announcement this week by Reeve Archibald MacDonell.

Mr. Gagne has a background of experience in this type of work, Reeve Archibald MacDonell reported in announcing the move. He has been welfare officer and building inspector as well as general office clerk for some time.

The council will seek applications for a new welfare officer, building inspector and general clerk. Mr. Gagne will also carry out bookkeeping duties for the township road department.

The councillors are also considering the addition of a copying machine to the municipal office equipment.

Graduated As Nurse

Mrs. Pat Plumador of Malartic, Que., was among the 26 nurses who graduated July 21st at the Ontario Hospital, Whitby. She is the former Frances McCormick. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Archie McCormick of Malartic, formerly of Alexandria.

Mrs. Plumador received a centennial spoon in addition to her pin and certificate, as well as a cheque from her parents.

Large Attendance At Glen Nevis Social

A crowd described as "larger than ever" assured the success of last night's Glen Nevis social.

The Pontiac Strato Chief drawn for was won by Jean N. Teset of Montreal. Rejean Seguin, Glen Nevis won the $25 money hat and Lawrence Landry of Cornwall the annual star quilt.

Nonagenarians Together In West

At Harwood Park, Alberta, on July 12th, a native of Glengarry, A. A. (Sandy) Macdonald marked his 91st birthday. Mr. Macdonald was born at 18-5th Kenyon and farmed there for many years before going West.

Many relatives and friends were with him that day including James Donovan who is in his 97th year and who was born in the 1st Kenyon.

Mr. Macdonald is now a wheelchair patient but enjoys comparatively good health and loves good company. His brother, Hugh Macdonald, was with him, with his daughter, Sister Germaine, who is attending university and comes to Ontario later this month to serve as principal at St. Mary's School in Combermere. Many other nieces and nephews joined in the reunion.

There was a birthday cake, a bouquet of roses and many other gifts, as well as messages from friends afar.

Mr. Donovan was raised in the Glen Roy area and last visited Glengarry in 1912. He spent many years in the Arctic Circle and at 96 requires no glasses to read or even a cane for walking.

BEATING THE HEAT, COUNTRY STYLE—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Whelan, Fourth Kenyon, is particularly popular this summer since completion of the swimming pool. Their daughter. Chantal, and a group of neighborhood children are seen having fun in the sun. Mr. Whelan did much of the installation himself and is now building a bathhouse to serve the backyard pool. The modern Whelan bungalow is in background.

Inquest To Be Held Into Death Toronto Man

Coroner Dr. A. B. Peachy has ordered an inquest into the death of a department of highways worker, Thursday of last week at a construction site near Lancaster.

Allistair Calder, 30, of Toronto, was pulled from a smoke-filled culvert at the site of the Fraser Road Overpass on Highway 401.

The man was rushed to Cornwall Hotel Dieu by ambulance but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Police said a shack at the entrance to the tunnel had caught fire while Mr. Calder was in the culvert.

Cpl. L. A. Miller and Const. Brian Cassidy of Lancaster provincial police, investigated. No date for the inquest has been set.

Board Honored Retired Principal

Retiring principal of Williamstown Public School, Allan Edward McDonell was recently guest of honor at a dinner tendered him by the board of trustees in the Torch Room at Cornwall.

Already the recipient of a number of gifts honoring the occasion, including a handsome leather chair. Mr. McDonell was presented with a smoking set and a step table, as well as a cheque indicating the appreciation of the board for his many years of service.

Board chairman George Irvine, Stuart Blackadder and Mr. McDonell were among those who spoke on the occasion. The board members complimented the retiring teacher in the warmest manner for his many years of devotion to the school and the community.

Except for a short time at No. 9 school in Lancaster, Mr. McDonell spent nearly all his career teaching at Williamstown, where he supervised the school during its growth from comparatively primitive conditions to a large, modern school facility.

He had been principal of Williamstown Public School for 37 years, and taught for a total of 44 years.

New Trailer Park Opened At Maxville With Old Home Week Parade

Official opening of Maxville's new centennial trailer park was a Monday night feature of Old Home Week in that village. An impressive parade preceded the opening ceremonies.

Speaking to the Old Home Week audience, Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP for Glengarry, reflected that many sacrifices were made by the pioneers in settling the area. They had to endure hardships and enjoyed few of the advantages available today.

Similarly, those present could be thankful that they live in an orderly society that was free of the race riots, hate and prejudice to be found currently in many American cities.

"We live in one of the freest, most liberal societies in the world. This land could be described also as one of the supply granaries of the world.

"When we think that two-thirds of the world's population cannot properly feed itself, then we must pause to be thankful and to take stock of our blessings," said Mr. Villeneuve.

Mr. Villeneuve commented the village park was modest in character but he was confident that the village would add to its recreation facilities in the years ahead.

Also speaking briefly were Reeve Hugh Smith, and Ben F. Villeneuve, chairman of the park committee.

Reeve Smith welcomed the crowd. noting a number were on hand who hadn't been to the village in quite some time. He welcomed visitors from Apple Hill, Monkland and other surrounding communities who were in Maxville for the occasion.

Mr. Villeneuve said although the project was a modest one. improvements such as outdoor fireplaces would be added at a later date. Cost to the village was $800, with a matching grant being made by federal and provincial centennial agencies.

Representing the Catholic faith was Rev. Lionel Bourque, while representing the Protestant faith was Rev. Iver D. MacIver of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Both offered prayers and their blessing as the new park was opened.

The trailer park, located in the north end of the village, is a shaded area made by thinning out land which was reforested some 30 years ago.

Park benches have been scattered about and a well drilled for the convenience of campers.

The parade began at the Community Hall and paused at the New park during ceremonies. It moved back to the hall before dispersal.

An Ontario Provincial Police cruiser led the way, followed by Centennial Queen Kathy MacEwen and centennial princesses, Beverley Coleman and Susan Haramis in an open car. Following the car was the color party and Glengarry Highlanders Pipe Band.

A succession of ponies and old fashioned buggies followed, along with vintage cars and a float featuring village men and women in authentic garb of 100 years ago.

The color party was made up of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides from the district.

Also featured in the parade were village municipal officials.

Although the sky was overcast and thunder rumbled periodically, rain held off until after the parade and ceremonies were over.

Young Farmers From Overseas Were Here

Farming Community Pays Warm Tribute To Jim Humphries At Testimonial Dinner

Nineteen years to the day following his arrival in Glengarry to take over the post of agricultural representative, James Y. Humphries was given warm evidence of the high regard in which he is held. More than 400 of his friends most of them from the rural areas of the county, crowded Green Valley Pavilion, Tuesday night, to honor Jim, his wife Jean and their four children.

Every section of the county and all area farm organizations were well represented and there were confreres in the ag. rep. service as well as neighbors and friends from Alexandria.

A highlight of the testimonial dinner saw the presentation to Jim and his family of a cabinet model stereo-hi-fi set.

Joint chairman Gerard Massie, president. and Mac MacRae, a director of the sponsoring Glengarry Crop and Soil Improvement Association set the pitch for a series of warm tributes to our agricultural representative in their opening remarks. We are showing our appreciation of 19 years of fine work among us, they noted. Jim has been an asset to the community and we hope to have him with us for many more years.

Those sentiments were echoed by several other speakers, notably by C. Campbell Fraser who gave the principal address. When Jim came to us on August 1st, 1948, he was our seventh ag. rep. in 55 years. That indicates, he suggested in light vein, that they are reasonably happy here, or that Glengarry's farmers are a long-suffering lot.

Mr. Fraser read the role of former agricultural representatives, Edgar McRae, F. C. McRae, Fred Forsyth, Vic Langton, John Dalrymple and Gordon Bennett and he noted with pleasure that the head table included Messrs. Dalrymple and Bennett.

Jim now belongs to the county of Glengarry, he warned them. "We would take a dim view of his transfer."

In addition to extolling the many fine personal qualties of Mr. Humphries and his contributions of time and effort to the Lions Club and his church, the speaker touched on Jim's work as ag. rep. over the past 19 years. He noted a great increase in activity of the programs involving junior farmers, 4-H and Homemaking clubs. The bursaries to KAS were on his initiative. A good deal of the vitality of the Crop Improvement Association results from his drive and among other farm activities he has encouraged are better drainage and the move to beef cattle.

Jim has given a great big push to every facet of farming, Mr. Fraser concluded, and in doing so he has infused into his activities a warm humanity which has transformed him from merely a government official to a trusted friend. The speaker also paid warm tribute to Mrs. Humphries, a very valuable partner in Jim's activities and to their four children.

Stanley Wightman, a past president of the Crop Improvement Association, made the presentation.

His predecessor here, R. Gordon Bennett is now assistant deputy minister of agriculture in Ontario, and he brought greetings from the minister and Jim's hundreds of colleagues. The appreciation you are showing your ag. rep., he told his hearers. is an honor reflecting on all members of the department. He noted the many changes in agriculture and suggested there would be many more in the years ahead.

Now associate director of Kemptville Agricultural School, John Dalrymple recalled Jim's activities on the Land Use Committee. A lot of the credit for

IT'S OUR OPINION

New By-Laws Needed

Visiting here with a young baby an acquaintance remarks on how noisy she finds our town. Perhaps particularly conscious of sounds calculated to wake a sleeping infant, she instances the screeching tires and noisy mufflers on so many cars, the bumps on Main Street which heavy truck traffic gets a bang out of.

Our ears no doubt have become accustomed to this constant din of traffic but the eardrums still flinch when car cowboys take a corner or a bevy of motorcycles snarl their way down street.

Town Council has enacted a by-law restricting unnecessary noise and it is now up to our four-man police force to make an example of some of the worst offenders. Other towns have rid themselves of car cowboys and there is no reason why Alexandria should have to suffer their antics.

Another new by-law is aimed at ridding our town of some of its worst eye-sores, derelict automobiles and such.

There is no doubt these new regulations were needed. Now let's see them enforced.

Twenty Years Of Success

A century of Canadian progress is not the only anniversary being celebrated in Glengarry this summer. Another success story is having its 20th birthday at Maxville, Saturday, when the Glengarry Highland Games are the big attraction.

And what a record of successes the men of Maxville have racked up year after year as the Games were built to their present magnificent proportions.

At Montreal, on this civic holiday weekend of centennial year, the World Fair will no doubt draw its daily throngs in the hundreds of thousands. Holidaying residents of Ontario will be flocking to Montreal for the long weekend; but Expo holds no threat for our Highland Games.

This is the day for Glengarrians to travel to Maxville in their thousands. Among the multitude of non-residents who will be joining them there will be hundreds of Hibernians from the Montreal area who make this annual pilgrimage to Glengarry on Games' day.

Expo is proving deservedly popular as probably the finest World Fair yet conceived. Its stadium is host to many of the world's most colorful attractions and yet Maxville is still the place to go if one wishes to absorb the sight and sound of thirty pipe bands marching and making music en masse.

Montrealers will be turning their backs on Expo for this one day to enjoy something that is unique to Maxville. The Highland Games, Glengarry's version, can compete with even a World Fair. This is the measure of the show Maxville has produced through these past two decades.

We look back to a night in February 1948 when first we heard the suggestion that the Caledonian Games of old should be revived. Key men of Maxville met in the High School here with a representative gathering of Glengarrians. The idea was enthusiastically taken up and those early committees had county-wide representation. It was to be a Glengarry event and in a major sense it still is, though organization has been largely left in Maxville hands. Maxville's fairground ideally lent itself to the event and residents of the village and area were willing to shoulder the increasing burdens of organization and financing.

So through twenty years this revival of the Caledonian Games has become a Maxville "do" that has given Glengarry a new prominence on the world map of piping. If all the world is not yet beating a path to Maxville on this Saturday of each summer, certainly every pipe band proud of its playing wants to prove itself worthy of the North American championship at stake at Maxville.

This 20th anniversary of the Glengarry Highland Games ranks as a success story with Canada's centenary. Maxville may well feel a sense of achievement as it welcomes homecoming former residents and thousands of strangers to yet another show that is ranked as the most colorful of its kind anywhere on earth.

More Inducement To Sloth

The long hot summer is taking its toll in the cities to the South as the American negro expresses his frustrations in rioting and looting.

Canada is fortunately free of this problem but we do have our frustrations, many of them government-induced. Like the latest emanation from Ottawa on plans to increase Unemployment Insurance benefits and widen the base for contributions to this slush fund.

This is probably kite-flying by the government to test the Canadian air. What better time for kite-flying than in summer, when most people are too immersed in the hectic present to worry about future demands for still higher tax payments.

So the bureaucrats have come up with another idea for as painlessly as possible increasing the tax take. They plan to more than double the payments to a maximum of $65 weekly from the present $36. To finance this over-generous inducement to sloth the government will gather in another 100 million dollars a year from those who still prefer to earn their bread, and from their employers.

The Unemployment Insurance scheme would be broadened at the base to cover all working Canadians, even those now classed as self-employed. The present limit on weekly contributions would be removed. The new coverage would add about 2,500,000 Canadians to the 5,300,000 now covered by this so-called insurance and there would be higher payments than at present based on the weekly income.

The report gives no indication of how these new contributors to the fund, the self-employed, professional people, etc., will ever be eligible to draw from the fund. Neither does it explain how workers are to be induced to stay on the production lines when they can be gathering in $65 a week for loafing.

With the present $36 maximum benefit many Canadians are already in the habit of working only sufficient days in any one year to qualify them for Unemployment Insurance. They seem content to relax for half the year on the present weekly payments plus a refund from the income tax department.

If benefits are more than doubled there will be still less incentive to work and many thousands more will be induced to join the ranks of the so-called unemployed.

This doesn't make sense. But then what better can we expect from the socialist planners of our welfare state?

Ascribe It To Senility

So much has already been written concerning the French President's visit to Quebec last week we would be tempted to ignore the subject of de Gaulle had we not opinionated on him in last issue. Before his advent onto the Canadian scene we suggested the childish infighting over protocol between Quebec City and federal bureaucrats should be called off. "General de Gaulle's intentions we can judge for ourselves as his visit progresses", we wrote.

He came, we saw clearly his intent and in the aftermath we can concur with Ottawa officialdom's preconceived worry over his coming. The diplomats apparently knew de Gaulle intended deliberately to fish in troubled waters and it might have been better if they had diplomatically suggested he stay home.

The visit of de Gaulle has served but to fan the flames of extremism. Separatist sentiment in Quebec has already been emboldened to the point of unearthing another bomb scare. English-speaking Canada has been swept by a feeling of revulsion that seems certain to wipe out many of the gains centennial year was evidently working toward the "bonne entente".

Perhaps this was the motive behind the de Gaulle visit to Quebec and his undiplomatic utterances. Premier Daniel Johnson finds no fault with the President of France whose itinerary and conduct appear to have been planned to rally support for Union Nationale henchmen. The success of Expo was perhaps working against separatist sentiment and so de Gaulle was induced to come and lend his support to the oppressed of New France who must be "free" to seek their own destiny under his august guidance.

Montreal's Mayor Jean Drapeau made it clear to de Gaulle that the vast majority of French-Canadians have no desire to return to a colonial status. They are primarily Canadians, Mayor Drapeau reminded the President of France, and they seek only to work out their destiny under a more acceptable Canadian constitution.

Such sentiments have since been expressed by other prominent leaders of Quebec thought, but debate on the de Gaulle visit is taking on political overtones. There is the prospect his call for a "Free Quebec" will be made full use of by Premier Johnson in a provincial election expected soon. No doubt this abbreviated visit of de Gaulle will have repercussions on the federal scene as well.

It would seem the aging President of France has been used by some of his Canadian cousins for purposes political. Misused might be a more appropriate word, for President de Gaulle did nothing to enhance his own reputation on his visit to Quebec. In the eyes of most Canadians he showed himself a boor and a meddler, so lacking in any sense of statesmanship it must be supposed senility has set in.

A lot of Canadians of French descent were left with that impression, we believe. It is to be hoped English-Canadians are making allowances too, and that there will be no lasting repercussions from this unfortunate episode.

Miss Gretta MacLeod, RN, of Dunvegan, was guest of honor at a gathering July 29th, prior to her departure the following day for Bombay, India, where she will marry Capt. R. Keith Muir, MD, of the Indian Medical Service. — Angus Gormley of Montreal, spent the weekend here prior to leaving on a trip to Vancouver. — Wind and hail did heavy damage in the Maxville district last Friday afternoon, the farms of Andrew Fisher and W. T. Arkinstall being especially hard hit.

FORTY YEARS AGO—

On Monday, six carloads of happy sanctuary boys, headed by the rector, Rev. J. J. Macdonell, and accompanied by Rev. D. A. McPhee, left Alexandria on their annual outing. The destination was Oka, and a big day was spent at the Experimental Farm, conducted by the Trappist Fathers. — On Friday evening the ladies of Alexandria United Church, with several friends, met at the home of Mrs. H. L. Cheney to bid farewell to Mrs. Edgar MacRae, who is leaving for Dryden, Ont. — While trolling in Lake St. Francis the early part of the week J. A. McRae, Registrar, landed a splendid specimen of lunge, which tipped the scales at 22½ lbs. — We congratulate Miss Violet Kelly and Master Basil Macdonell upon winning the prizes for Bible History, awarded by Rev. J. J. Macdonell to pupils of the Alexander Separate School.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ritchie were offically notified on Wednesday, that their son, Pte. Kenneth Ritchie, had been wounded on the 8th July. This is the second time this young Alexandria soldier has been hit. He went overseas two years ago with the 42nd Highlanders of Montreal. — Miss Robillard of Cornwall, will take over Mrs. B. O'Connor's extensive millinery on August 15th. — J. R. McLachlan, Lancaster's enterprising merchant, is installing an electric plant in his store there. Harry McLeod has the contract and when completed Mr. McLachlan will have one of the best lighted stores in the county. — Lieut. George D. Gillie, formerly of the 154th and now attached to the 21st, has been awarded the Military Cross. He was stationed at Maxville for several months.

La Salle On The Toronto Carrying-Place, Aug. 1681

Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de La Salle, was one of the greatest explorers of North America and is best remembered as explorer of the Mississippi Valley. This drawing shows La Salle at the beginning of his most successful expedition. He took the land route between Toronto and Lake Simcoe —known as the Toronto carrying place, a distance of between 50 and 60 miles — and one through the lakes to St. Joseph at the foot of Lake Michigan. During the winter of 1681-1682 he went down the Illinois, using his canoes as sleds on the river ice. He kept on down the Mississippi and formally took possession of the "country of Louisiana" for France.

La Salle was a cold, ambitious man with many enemies. Had he not been so restricted by the opposition of his enemies, he may well have carried out his grandiose plans for colonization of America. And if he had succeeded, it would have taken more than one seven years' war, no doubt, to shake the hold of France on the interior. But La Salle was murdered by one of his own men in 1687. France held Louisiana until 1762, when it was transferred to Spain and then returned to France in 1800. In 1803 Napoleon I sold it to the United States for $15 million.

The Editor,
The Glengarry News,
Alexandria, Ontario.
Dear Sir:

After reading your editorial last week inviting comments from your readers regarding your new set up for the paper, I couldn't resist writing.

I was just comparing your new release to one received here in Toronto a few weeks ago, and yes, there is quite a difference in style, size, and appearance. Personally, I prefer the old edition, but in this time of change, don't we all get used to something new, especially if it will benefit your ideals. One thing I was hoping for was to still see your little captions on the top corners of your front page. They were always so apropos.

Thanks to Mom and Dad I receive a copy of your paper every week here in Toronto. It has passed into other hands here, as there are several Glengarry Sisters representing different communities among the two hundred residing at St. Joseph's College for summer studies.

Your paper is thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. May we look forward to reading many more issues of The Glengarry News.

Yours sincerely,
Sister Jean Shago, csc

SCHOOL OFFERS REWARDS

Statistics suggest that high school graduates can expect to earn up to 50 per cent more than those who did not graduate. Those with a university degree may expect to at least triple the income of workers with only a basic education. Worry over employment decreases with every additional year of education. Statistics spell out that school is the place to stay if a young person is interested in greater opportunity and future rewards.

WORRIES WERE GROUNDLESS

When the Diefenbaker government of 1958 launched the South Saskatchewan river project, warnings were voiced the whole thing might turn out to be a white elephant. As the dedication ceremonies loom ahead to mark the project's completion it is apparent all these worries were groundless. The stored water will be used for many advantageous purposes.

WITH OUR

by Ed.

One of the worst forms of car sickness is the kind you get when the payments come due.

FOOTSTEPS IN THE SANDS TIME

I wandered today, to the hills, Maggie, to watch the scene below . . . Well, actually, it wasn't to the hills we rambled on Sunday. Rather did our ramble take us to the old DNO where once Alexandria's young sported in the waters of the Delisle.

The green grass is gone from the hills, Maggie; if ever there was green grass. And that's not the only change the years have wrought at the old swimming hole.

The riverbank isn't nearly as steep or high as it seemed to younger eyes. And nature has pushed in a stand of second growth that makes it difficult to pinpoint the exact spot where teenagers of an earlier era dove or jumped into the muddy waters below. That greasy, gooey mud must still be there, but the river water is high in this rainy summer and we weren't inclined to treat our feet to a mud bath.

Sunday's ramble to the DNO was actually something of a pilgrimage for a former resident recalling the days of her youth. Home from Tennessee, "Babes" Cowan wanted to see the DNO again and show daughter Pat where once she had sported.

The walk from the golf course was a short one but it carried Babes back to a different day. Perhaps she should never have retraced her steps, for those roseate dreams of young fun at the DNO will not be so nostalgic now that adult eyes have seen the actuality.

Teens of the 20's made the most of the swimming holes available and the DNO was a cooling haven on a hot summer day. We doubt Miss Pat Anderson of Donelson, Tennessee, was impressed with the ole swimmin' hole.

If you don't learn anything from your mistakes there's no sense making them.

SOMETHING IN THE SKY?

We seem to be having a summer holiday from uninvited visitors from Mars or wherever those Unidentified Flying Objects fly from. No flying saucers have been reported lately, perhaps because people are so busy trying to keep up with all the activties of centennial summer they haven't time to lift their eyes to the heavens.

A lot of people have been reported as seeing UFO's in recent years and though science has yet to admit the possibility of visitors from outer space there are those who doubt not we are under observation.

Flying saucers may not be something new under the sun. "The Spanner", house magazine of the CPR, tells of a mysterious sighting way back before the era of airplanes. A newspaper clipping, yellow with age, was discovered lately in his caboose by Conductor Daniel Bluecker, who works out of Moose Jaw. The Spanner story continues:

Printed in the Sept. 14, 1897 issue of The Hamilton Spectator, the article reported that C. W. Spencer, superintendent of the eastern division of the CPR, and his assistant, Thomas Hay, were "admiring the clear, starlit heavens" from the observation car, near Gravel River, Ont., when they saw "a something in the sky".

They gave details of a large white light, and above it a red and white light. When the airborne object turned, the red light became blue and "a row of four lights was seen terminated by a circle or ellipse of a dozen lights, in the midst of which was the dark body of the air ship."

All the elements of other-world mystery were there, but the observers were not sucked in by science fiction, then in its infancy in those happier, simpler days. The paper reported that the lights had the "steady clearness of acetylene or electric light" — no hanky-panky there—and Messrs. Spencer and Hay "could form no other opinion than that it was an air ship."

The writer concluded: "It is quite possible that some inventor has set to work quietly and unostentatiously and thus put his theories into practice in the world; and if he has not come to grief in the wilds of Lake Superior, we shall soon know that air navigation has been accomplished on Canadian territory."

Your Rambling Reporter has yet to see a flying saucer, but he's keeping an open mind and he wouldn't be too surprised if a bunch of little green men made a landing some day in Glengarry.

Actually if they're smart and they want to see the most colorful show on earth these strangers from space should zero in on Maxville, Saturday afternoon. Everybody else will be there to see and hear the massed bands.

SERVICE OPENED OLD HOME WEEK

A very highly impressive religious service was held in Maxville Community Hall on Sunday evening last when all branches of the Christian Church united for an interdenominational hour of worship as the official opening to the Old-Home Week being held here this week. All the village clergy participated. A joint choir with Mrs. MacIver at the console led in the service of praise.

The guest speaker was the Rev. Dr. D. N. MacMillan of the Presbyterian College, Montreal. Dr. MacMillan presented a fitting message basing his oration on Deuteronomy 1.25 "It is a good land which the Lord our God doth give us". He urged his hearers to look to the past, to take stock of the present, and to peer into the future. He stressed the great heritage handed down to us from our pioneer forefathers who by honest toil, sacrifice, prayer and faith, laid the foundation of this Dominion in the earlier days. He emphasized the deep debt of gratitude we owe to these early pioneers and the responsibility that is ours to pass on this heritage. To those who come after us, so that we, like them, will have God over all. The anthems by the choir were "O God our Heavenly Father, we lift our hearts to Thee" and "The Lord's My Shepherd".

Games' Day

This is the day
Which gladdens the heart,
Quickens the pulse,
Where the pipers'-art
Reigns supreme.

Sons of Gael
Gathering by clan or kin
Where old ties renew
And new ones begin;
At the Games.

The bonneted lads
Go trooping past
With flashing kilt-swirl
And reedy-sweet blast
To the field.

Hail Caledonia!
Her mist-girt shore
Myriad of plaids
The legend and lore,
Of her ancient-writ.

Come one, come all
To view the pageantry
Tradition-bound and rich
With its cling of Celtic mystery
Beyond minds' reach.

New Name For Well-Known Company

Something's been added to CIA, Co-operators Insurance Association — a G to represent Guelph, the location of the Association's head office. The Association's casualty and life insurance companies will continue to be known individually by their familiar names CIA and CIA LIFE. Collectively, they are now Co-operators Insurance Associations of Guelph or CIAG Insurance.

As the new name appears, it will be associated wherever possible in a design with the map of Ontario.

Changing the name on stationery, billing forms, advertising materials and office signs will take some time, of course. CIAG has a quarter of a million policies in force and 44 offices across the province. The Association is sponsored and controlled by democratic organizations which represent a million Ontario people: Ontario Credit Union League, Ontario Federation of Agriculture and United Co-operatives of Ontario.

McMillan, L. Kemp, Hugh A. Gauthier, R. Proctor, John McMillan, A. J. McDonell, Chas. Gauthier, Geo. McDonald, Gordon Macdonald and Dan McMillan. — Archie McPhee of the Thessalon Lumber Co., is in town engaging men for that well known company. — As was generally expected, John V. Irvine, VS, has secured from the Dominion Government the appointment of meat and fish inspector at Vankleek Hill. — When completed the new Fair ground building at Williamstown will be a fine one measuring 100 feet long and 30 feet wide.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO—

Friday, August 6th, 1897

Yesterday morning A. G. A. Robinson left for the Klondike regions, where he will represent a Montreal syndicate. He has had extensive experience in mining in South Africa. Prior to his departure a number of brethren of Alexandria Lodge, No. 439, AF & AM, met at the Commercial Hotel, Wednesday evening to give him a hearty send-off.—During the past week, Hugh and John Weir, after an absence of several years' duration, arrived home, the former from Ashland, the latter from Mellen in Wisconsin, on a visit to their father, James Weir, whose condition is reported critical. John Weir was last spring elected city marshal of the town in which he resides. — An epidemic of typhoid is now prevalent in the county and a number of cases seems to be of a particularly violent type, but as yet no deaths have resulted.

Glens To Meet Morrisburg In Play-Off Series Starting Monday

The Glens have been unsuccessful in their last two games, as they were beaten 15-7 by the Cornwall T-Birds and 13-9 by RCAF. In the T-Bird game, the Glens held their own for two periods but the third stanza was all Cornwall. Norman Menard came out with three goals while singles went to Burns and Glenn McPherson, Charlie O'Brien and Larry Harrison.

Don MacElaones, RCAF goal tender, had one of his hot nights and proved too much for the Glens. Local goals were credited to Mike Harrison and Charlie O'Brien, with two apiece, and Burns and Glenn McPherson, Allan O'Brien, Jim McDonald and Archie McPherson had one each.

Playoffs are to start next week with the Glens drawing Morrisburg Mets as their opponents in the quarter-finals. The first game is to be played in Morrisburg on Monday, the second in Alexandria on Wednesday. In this best of three series, the third game, if required, will be in Morrisburg on Friday.

GLENGARRY HISTORICAL NOTES

by HUGH MacMILLAN

North West Co Recruited Here

We have heard a great deal over the past year about the North West Company and there is much more of this interesting tale to tell. This column is intended to give a condensed history of the Nor'Westers' story. Succeeding columns will give short biographical sketches of some of the partners, mostly ones who came from Glengarry.

The North West Company was Canada's first joint stock company of English origin. It began as a loose partnership arrangement circa 1775. These Scots, French and American merchant-traders from Montreal organized in a more formal manner in 1784. The partners' names sounded like a roll call of Scottish clans. These shrewd, hardy men travelled incredible distances in frail birch bark canoes. Shooting rapids, dealing with savages, navigating unknown waters they braved fearful hardships in the quest for furs they explored half the continent and built an immense commercial empire.

Although the first navigators to reach the eastern shores of North America were looking for fish, the fur trade was by the early 17th century the dominant industry. The French expanded the trade almost across the continent but were succeeded after the conquest of Quebec by Scots from Montreal and Albany. These Scottish Canadians found the French voyageurs and traders had much to contribute to the new enterprise because of their success in dealing with the natives.

With the end of the American Revolution in 1783, Loyalists were soon streaming into Canada. The Treaty of Paris delineated the border between the two new countries. The astute Montreal traders could see two separate spheres of trade shaping up as a result of the new border — one to the Southwest of the border and the Great Lakes, the other to the North West of the border and the Great Lakes. Born from this loose arrangement of Scots traders, the North West Company soon lived up to the motto on their great seal "Fortitude in Distress", and concentrated their expanding trade operation in the Northwest. This region produced the richest and best furs. The McGill brothers took over the trade in the Southwest. Simon McTtavish from Albany along with the Frobisher brothers soon assumed control of the "Nor'Westers" through their Montreal supply house for trade goods. Adventurous and tough wintering partners with clerks and voyageurs had fur posts strung from Montreal to the Athabasca country by 1787. Peter Pond, a Yankee, was the first on Lake Athabasca. Pemmican was the staple food. It consisted of pounded buffalo meat mixed with fat and berries. Packed in 90-pound parfleche bags, and supplemented with dried corn, pemmican fed the hardy Canadian voyageurs and supplied the energy to drive their canoes across unexplored rivers to the west coast. Alexander Mackenzie was the first man, north of the Spanish-held lands, to reach the Pacific by land. He was knighted for this daring effort, made under extreme hardship in 1793.

Recruiting for clerks by the "Nor'Westers" was conducted among their own kind, Highland Scots, and in the closest Highland settlement, Glengarry. Here, seventy miles from the port of Montreal, were their kin, Loyalist Highlanders from the Mohawk Valley and others direct from Scotland. Soon the firm was studded with names like McGillivray, McLeod, McGillis, Fraser, Grant, McDonald, Cameron, Chisholm, McMillan, Campbell and a host of other names of similar origin. Interspersed were the old fur trade names such as Larocque, Cadotte, Quesnel, LaMothe.

Rivalry soon developed between opposing groups in Montreal and Sir Alexander MacKenzie founded the new North West company soon known as the XYCo. By 1804 they saw that such competition was costly, wasteful and senseless, so they amalgamated against the common rival, the Hudson's Bay Company, established on the shores of Hudson's Bay since 1670.

This older firm held a charter to all the lands draining into Hudson's Bay, with the stipulation that they were to explore these lands. The directors of the firms sat in London and the employees on the Bay had no monetary incentive to move inland. They let the natives come to them. Intrepid explorers such as Henry Kelsey, Samuel Hearne and Peter Fidler were notable exceptions to this general rule.

The "Nor'Westers" shared in the profits of the concern and so had the incentive to open up trade across the continent. The son's Bay Company was forced to battle was joined and the Hud- establish inland posts or lose all its trade to the "Nor'Westers" operating from the thriving port of Montreal.

Grand Portage, Minnesota, became the intermediate point where trade goods and furs were exchanged. The Montreal canoes returned east laden with furs. The North Country canoes returned to their out-posts in the North West. Grand Portage was situated on the shores of Lake Superior, fifty miles southwest of present day Fort William. When the Americans claimed this territory the post was moved to Fort William. The great explorer-geographer, David Thompson, started with the Hudson's Bay Company but was given little chance to explore. He joined the "Nor'Westers" and his famous map, now in the Ontario Archives, Toronto, was hung in the Great Hall at Fort William. It showed the vast extent of his explorations for the firm.

In 1821 the two opposing firms joined forces and the former "Nor'Westers" made up the large majority of the traders in the new organization.

Ron Macdonald Won Lions Club Trophy

Visiting Lions from Russell and Metcalfe joined local club members for the annual Lions Club golf day at the local club Wednesday afternoon. A steak dinner followed.

Low gross honors went to Ronald Macdonald who captured the Lions Club trophy. Sharing low net honors were Lloyd McHugh and Ron Masson.

Most honest score was turned in by Frank McLeister.

increased grants for drainage work is owed that committee and Jim, he remarked.

Others expressing appreciation of our ag. rep's long service included Osie Villeneuve, MPP, Viateur Ethier, MP and Warden Archibald MacDonell.

Over the past 19 years the people of Glengarry have been very kind and understanding and at times very tolerant of my actions, Mr. Humphries declared. If I have been of service it is due to the complete co-operation I have received from your organizations.

I hope all rural people are proud of their association with this great industry, he remarked. Agriculture and its related industry is actually life itself and we should be proud to call ourselves agriculturists. Greater challenges will come as the demand for food products increases, Mr. Humphries reminded and he noted his greatest satisfaction over the years has come from observing the progress and development of young people. With our expanded staff, I hope we can better serve the county.

Jim reminisced briefly on his early days here and the warm welcome he had received. You have been very kind to me, my wife and family; this was totally unexpected and it is very much appreciated.

Mrs. Humphries also expressed her pleasure in this recognition of her husband's work and her appreciation of the generous gift.

Soloists were Mrs. James Wightman who gave a Glengarry version of "This Land Is Our Land", and Frank Hamilton. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. D. E. MacPhee.

Among head table guests in addition to those who spoke were: Mrs. Archibald MacDonell. Mrs. Mac MacRae, Mrs. Osie Villeneuve, Mrs. Gordon Bennett, Mrs. John Dalrymple, Mrs. Gerard Massie, Rev. L. S. Woolfrey, who said the grace, and the fathers of Mr. and Mrs. Humphries, Lorne Campbell of Admaston and Carl Humphries of Renfrew.

Also present were the Humphries children, Ruth, Ian, Ralph and Cathy.

ST. GERMAIN—MENARD

The marriage of Pauline Marie Rose Menard of Alexandria, daughter of Mrs. Aurea Menard and the late Mr. Menard and Rene Steven St. Germain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolphus St. Germain of Green Valley, took place in St. Finnan's Cathedral, on June 17th. Msgr. D. A. Kerr officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her great-uncle, Felix Levert and wore a floor-length gown of white pure silk organdy fashioned on traditional lines. Hand-cut Spanish lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and white sequins were featured on the Watteau train which fell from two organdy bows on the shoulders. The bouffant skirt had two front panels matching the train, the second of which was picked up slightly in the centre by an organdy bow. A cluster of orange blossoms and seed pearls held her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion. The bride's bouquet was a semi cascade of yellow talisman roses.

Miss Colleen Levert of Montreal, was maid of honor and Miss Aline Levert of Cornwall, bridesmaid. Miss Jeanne Poirier, niece of the groom, was flower girl and Roger Carriere, nephew of the groom, ring bearer.

The ushers were Laurier Delorme and Larry Smith, both of Cornwall.

Following a reception at the Green Valley Pavilion, the bride and groom left on a trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Rochester and other points. They will reside in Alexandria.

Out of town guests attended from Cornwall, Montreal, Lachute, Varennes, Rochester, NY, Massena, NY, Rigaud, Que. and the local district.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

Call Monday night's football game in Ottawa a 1966 Grey Cup replay or a 1967 preview if you wish; however, the better than 19,000 fans who treked to Lansdowne Park will tell you that for 50 minutes all the two Roughie squads could post on the board was a 7-3 hockey score in a tussle that was as dull as the weather.

During the last 10 minutes Russ Jackson was cutting the corners of the plate, to use a baseball phrase, like Dizzy Dean of the old St. Louis gas-house gang. Ron Lancaster couldn't compete in this closing stage due to a rib bending belt and was relieved by Jesse Kay who fires a fast pass. However, Lancaster at times provided some sparkle as he can still ramble in the backfield on a broken play like a New York cab driver.

So the big attraction was the unveiling of the new stadium. What a posh football park! The setting is ideal. There is now the fashionable Bank Street entrance to the west. A semi-circular border of poplars to the south and east with the Driveway, Rideau Canal and Echo Drive forming a picturesque backdrop.

Increased floodlighting from the south stand matches the brilliant glow from the new north side section roof; thus every play is distinctly visible from any angle as there are no roof supporting posts. In fact the goal posts are cut to the minimum as the uprights are the Jim Trimble design suspended from a single goose neck padded steel base.

What a contrast to the old days of the Exhibition cattle sheds at the east end and Bank Street bridge on the west often called "Glasgow" as it supported quite a quota of fans on a sunny afternoon much to the dismay and disgust of executive members like the late Wes Brown, Dave McCann and Jim McCaffrey who were frequently co-signers of a note held by the CP-CN pool for player transportation to Toronto or Hamilton.

But this is another day in a fast moving era. The progress of the old Big Four coupled with similar efforts by the Western clubs have elevated Canadian football to Big League status and it is fitting that Canada's Capital should fall in line by providing one of the finest stadiums in North America and the logical choice for our Centennial Grey Cup game.

FRANK EXPLAINS

In the shade of the poplars at Highland Chief last Sunday, along with Vern (Gazette) DeGeer, we enjoyed an interesting and informative discussion with Frank Boucher as he outlined the prospects of Canadian junior hockey in general and particularly in Western Canada.

Frank Boucher, even in his youth, was a keen student of hockey and following his illustrious NHL career he continued to impart his knowledge and playing experience to up and coming youngsters by assuming the commissionership of junior hockey in the Prairie leagues.

During Frank Boucher's efforts recently to streamline and improve working agreements with the CAHA and the NHL some sharp differences of opinion arose among the CAHA officials even to the point of suspending the Hall of Fame Boucher and his clubs, however all has been ironed out smoothly and the commissioner expects the junior clubs, especially in the smaller centers, the CAHA, NHL and most important of all the young pro prospects will be much better off under the new financial and player pool system.

This break through is timely as it comes into effect with the NHL expansion.

PROMISING ROOKIE

This writer is far removed from the betting fraternity, in fact we only once placed a wager at a race track and that was at old Connaught when two bucks brought us a return of $2.60. This dividend we are willing to place on the line saying that the CFL rookie of this year, barring injuries, will be Rough Riders' Margene Adkins.

In the Roughriders-Riders game Monday night this 19 year old 190 pounder from Tyler, Texas. seemed to be all over the gridiron except in Russ Jackson's quarterback post.

As an end or flanker this boy, with his great speed and catching hands reminds you of Bob Simpson or "Red" O'Quinn, appears destined to become one of our greats.

Frank Clair is capitalizing on Adkins' speed by using him as a punt return player and here is where he could get banged up more than a little. However, if this Texas star is not brittle, by playing this added important role for Riders we honestly think that Adkins could be the find of this football season.

THE BIG WEEKEND

And now it's the big weekend again. Friday night there is double barrel entertainment with first the pre-Games concert in Maxville and then the crowd moves on to the Bonnie Glen where Glengarrians from Ottawa and Montreal clubs will stage a reunion party.

Saturday will be the climax day as the 20th anniversary of the Glengarry Highland Games is celebrated. The windup will be Monday afternoon, Civic Holiday, when Angus MacKinnon and his Scottish Country dance band provide the music in the picnic grove, Maxville Fair grounds, for Scottish country dancing.

HALF-PAST TEEN

W J McNaughton Died At 81

A well-known resident of Breadalbane, William J. McNaughton passed away on Saturday, July 15, 1967, in Smiths Clinic, Hawkesbury, after a lengthy illness.

Mr. McNaughton was born at Greenfield, August 17th, 1885, the only son of John McNaughton and his wife, Libbie McLaren. On Dec. 7th, 1910, he married Nettie McCallum who survives.

He was a member and past deacon of the Breadalbane Baptist Church, served on the local school board for many years and this fall would have marked his fiftieth year in the Orange Order. He was also a member of the Royal Black Preceptory. On Monday evening an Orange Memorial Service was conducted at his late residence.

Besides his wife he leaves five sons and three daughters, John W., Breadalbane; Lloyd, Vernon; Nina (Mrs. Russell Newton), Vankleek Hill; Clifford, Dalkeith; Elmer, Vankleek Hill; Leslie at home; Viola (Mrs. James Donaldson) Hawkesbury; and Della (Mrs. Leslie Forbes) Vankleek Hill. Also surviving are 27 grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday from his late residence to Breadalbane Baptist Church. His pastor Rev. O. E. Broughton conducted the service, assisted by Rev. J. A. McGowan of the Presbyterian Church. The hymns were favorites of the deceased, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Safe in The Arms of Jesus" also a solo "Good Night and Good Morning" by Mrs. Eric Mooney. His body was laid to rest in the Breadalbane Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Callum McNaughton. Larry Williams, Malcalm McRae, Callum McRae, John K. MacLeod and Arnold McRae.

Friends attending from a distance were from Cornwall, Montreal, Ottawa, Vernon, Maxville, Lancaster, Osgoode and Apple Hill.

DRIVERS IGNORE SIGNS

A light control system would work much better than ordinary signs. In the case of signs, it is up to the indivdual drivers to decide when to move on. There is often confusion as first one decides to go and then another. In the case of the light system, the light flashes its signal and all move as it indicates, or stop as required. Stop signs require watching by the police, for there are many drivers who simply ignore them.

—Huntingdon (Que.) Gleaner

FREEDOM IS PRECIOUS

There are countries where the police have the kind of power that is being requested by Canada's police chiefs. Protect us from the granting of any rights that would make Canada a police state . . . Freedom is a precious thing which should be guarded as much as our protection from fear of the criminal. —Humboldt (Sask.) Journal

Interfaith Service Held At Avonmore

Between three and four hundred people attended the great Interfaith Service at the Avonmore Fair Grounds Sunday evening, July 23rd. It was a part of Avonmore's Old Home Weekend activities.

Representatives of at least six churches and faiths participated in the impressive service which was under the direction of Rev. Donald W. Pipe, general chairman of the Avonmore and District Centennial Committee and minister of St. James United Church.

Particpating clergymen included Rev. Morris Mertchison, of the Ingleside Anglican Church; Rev. David Smith, the Osnabruck Baptist Church; Rev. Dr. Donald N. MacMillan, Professor of Systematic Theology, Presbyterian College, Montreal; Rev. Thomas Villeneuve, St. Anthony's Roman Catholic, Apple Hill; and Rev. Mr. Pipe.

Miss Sheila Goodman represented the Beth-el Congregation, Cornwall.

Intercessory prayers were offered, as follows: Christian Unity—Maldwyn Watkins; Canada—Basil Eamer; Commerce—Hubert Delaney; Youth—Miss Helen Kyle; the Needy—Mrs. Norma Forsythe; and Peace—M. F. McRae.

A joint choir, with Mrs. Neil Bush presiding at the console, led in the service of praise. A male trio, composed of Allen McIntyre. Burns McIntyre and John Miller, sang "On the Jericho Road".

Rev. Dr. MacMillan. a native son, based his remarks on the words of Holy Writ "Other men labored, and ye are entered into their labors". Dr. MacMillan in his address paid tribute to the early pioneers of Canada who in exercising their rights as citizens of the new land made a place for the worship of God. He said that now in an affluent society Canadians have a definite obligation to those who are underprivileged wherever they may be found. Canadians by seeking out the better way of life will be enabled to pass on to succeeding generations that which they themselves have so freely received.

Hymns sung were "Peaceful Dominion of the West", "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven", "O Canada" and "Lord of the Lands".

An offering, amounting to $140, was received for CARE of Canada.
