CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

One of the things that can be said about the Castle dwellers, they are generally law abiding. Either because of age or inclination, the denizens of the place rarely tangle with the law. Any modest rule bending and stretching is done deep in the cellars and hidden under the facade of benign good will.

Picture our outrage this past week when we let our lawlessness get the better of discretion. We ended up with a speeding ticket from the boys in blue. Seems there is a speed limit anymore on the King's Highways.

A sudden trip to Tarunna was undertaken over the last three days of last week. We made the up-trip faster than Doc Clayton used to do it in his Willys-Knight. He averaged 12 to 14 hours each way with a few sandwiches laid on in case he was held up. We rolled in via the M-C speedway in time to do a little business before the businessmen's lunch had been drained from their glasses.

The down trip was uneventful until we came into the tainted area of Prescott. For a number of months now, the word has been out to check the overpasses for radars lying in wait. So we forgot all about the warnings and loped joyfully into a speed trap with a heavy foot and both eyes closed. The first thing we saw was the nasty little square black box glaring in our direction out of the trunk of a police car. Suddenly we were in the clutches of the fuzz. A violent arm waver drew us off the pavement like a magnet and laid down the usual law. Seems 14 miles over the limit is wrong and who can argue with a computer.

We surrendered our various papers, remarked on the efficiency of the police force and how nice they looked in their winter uniforms. Might just as well have stayed buttoned up; they must brainwash the recruits at Police College. Nothing we said or implied changed the steady stroke of the officer's ball point. When he was done, we were aimed for a shortage of eating money and had learned another lesson in abiding by the speed laws.

Just to prove though, that we are not habitual criminals, let us hasten to outline our career in crime. This makes the second ticket in something over three and a half decades of driving. Back in 1930 we interupted the afternoon slumber of Napanee by travelling down main street too fast. The man on the motorcycle caught us on our motorcycle and decided we were in error. Since then, if readers can believe it, we have hardly ever travelled faster than the posted speed limit. Of course, there are times when one does not see the posted speed and then we just use a normal judgment as to how fast to travel.

We have every confidence in our police forces of this province. There is nothing particularly wrong in lurking a bit to catch critturs who use a heavy foot to get home fast. For every one caught twice in 30-odd years, many are picked up or warned every day. That is as it should be and we have sent away our abject plea of "guilty" to the magistrate. Next time we will know enough to slow up on the Prescott stretch.

Come the weekend, this Crumb will join his hunting compatriots and head for the hills. Annual deer hunting will begin next Monday and we hope to be right there using up adrenalin by the gallon. Sadly enough this year we will not be able to depend on Small Crumb to fill this column. She is aspiring to higher things and her new philosophy will not allow for a break into homely local print. Come next week, we will have to depend on some filler. No doubt something will come to mind.

Chesterville Chamber of Commerce held its monthly meeting recently with a good attendance.

President Jim Sullivan read letters from the Department of Highways in answer to the Chamber's inquiry about road signs at various locations for direction to Chesterville. The Department will make a survey in the near future.

The street sign question cropped up again without any answers. It was moved and passed that a general survey be made of the village and that approximate cost be submitted for next meeting.

New business included the Santa Claus parade. It is hoped that the parade will be larger and better this year. All places of business are requested to enter a float. George Laflamme will be "Candy King" and he will have plenty for everyone.

Portraits from the Past played to a small house at NDDHS on Hallowe'en. Unfortunately the only night the show could be fitten in was that night. Local ladies modelled the lovely period costumes and we caught several of the groups as they headed for the parade walkway. Here from the left is Mrs Wendall Harper, Mrs Jack Doering, Leslie Byers, Mrs Graham Johnston and Mrs Bert Gillard.—Record Staff Photo.

Area 4-H'ers win honors at Winter Fair

The big 4-H show at Ottawa Winter Fair resulted in some satisfactory victories for area members. Dale Miller, Stormont Agricultural Representative reports that corn club members Gwenyth Murray of Martintown and Hugh Carruthers of Finch placed fourth and fifth in a large class of exhibits of ten ears of corn.

The calf show was particularly large and impressive. Stormont showed specially well in Holsteins and Jerseys, with Glengarry making an excellent return in the Ayrshire groups.

Stormont had the grand champion Holstein, shown by Kenneth McLennan of Cornwall Centre. The county also had champion group of three, shown by Bert Donkers, Joyce Pollock and Glenda Shaver of Ingleside.

Among the Jerseys, Newington Senior Club had the reserve grand champion group, shown by Marilyn MacDonald, John MacIntyre and Cheryl MacKenzie of Finch.

Grand champion Ayrshire group was shown by Char-Lan Senior Calf Club, with Bruce Munroe of Lancaster, Edgar Fourney of Lancaster and William MacNaughton of Williamsburg at the halters. Bruce Munro had the grand champion animal.

In pigs, Brian Stobo of Winchester had the grand champion pair of gilts with Harold Dingwall of Berwick showing the reserve pair. Harold Dingwall and Harold and Brian McMahon of Crysler had the best group of three gilts in the show.

Early in the week the Stormont judging team placed third among a strong field in the livestock judging. Kenneth McLennan of Cornwall, Clarence McLean of Moose Creek, John McIntyre of Avonmore, Gordon Duvall of Newington and James Winters of Finch were only four points behind the champions to capture the third spot.

Burgess - Moran

St. Mary's Catholic Church, Chesterville, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on Saturday, October 22nd, when Rev. Father J. J. Collins united in marriage Carolyn Mary Moran and Edward Francis Burgess. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Francis J. Moran, Morewood. The groom's parents are Mr and Mrs Frank W. Burgess of Powassan, Ont.

Baskets of white gladioli and pink carnations adorned the altar for the eleven o'clock ceremony. Sister Mary Bryan was soloist and organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of peau de faille styled on Empire lines. The bodice and short sleeves were Guipure lace as was the edging on her chapel train. Her shoulder-length four-tier tulle illusion veil was scalloped and held in place by a white boudeau of Guipure lace trimmed with seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls a gift from the groom and carried a cascade of pink sensation roses. Intermixed in her bouquet was white heather, sent from Scotland by her aunt.

Miss Sheila Moran attended her sister as maid of honour. The bridesmaids were Mrs Peter Lightfoot, Morewood, and Miss Olga Nienhurgs, Ottawa.

The attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of delphinium blue sata peau styled on Empire lines and featuring a flowing back panel. They wore matchmatching shoes and carried bouquets of pink carnations and white mums.

Mickey McDougall, Powassan, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as best man. Ushering the guests were Allan Legault of Berwick, cousin of the bride and Tony Kacan, Clarkson, cousin of the groom.

The mother of the bride was attired in a two-piece ensemble of teal blue featuring a sheath dress with a three-quarter length coat. She wore a matching feather hat, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother wore a royal blue three-piece double-knit suit with a matching velvet hat, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Chesterville Legion Hall. For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride chose a jade green English tweed walking suit, black velvet hat, black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

On their return Mr and Mrs Burgess will take up residence in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia.

Out of town guests were from: Toronto, Port Credit, Clarkson, Cooksville, Willowdale, Cantley Powassan, Hazetan, P.A. and Ottawa.

Miss Susan Burgess, cousin of the groom, caught the bride's bouquet.

Hallowe'en pranks in Chesterville and district were within reason for a change. Very little damage was done but the village square got the usual treatment. In the process, a car owned by Pierre Deschamps of Green Valley, now employed at Abel's Cleaners, took a beating. The convertible lost its spare tire, had the soft top torn and broken and the tires flattened.—Record Staff Photo.

Retrieving graduate students from abroad complex problem

The problem of enticing Canadian professional men and women and students back to their homeland from the United States and elsewhere was discussed in these columns a few weeks ago, says the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder. For years the exodus of Canadian university graduates in various professions to the U.S. and Europe has been an increasing source of concern for this country.

The Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada has just submitted a report recommending that the federal Manpower and Immigration Department, in conjunction with the association and other interested agencies, should be encouraged to become the central agency for the "promotion of the retrieval of Canadian graduate students from abroad and should bear the costs."

This report is a consolidation of reports from teams made up mainly of academic members, but also including some federal government members. During the past two years, the teams made exploratory visits to universities in the U.S., Great Britain and Western Europe. Canadian graduate students can be found in considerable numbers in these countries, particularly the U.S.

Purpose of the visit was to acquaint these people with opportunities for careers in Canada and to try to discover the steps likely to be effective in expediting their return to Canada. The report estimates that in 1965-66 there were about 12,000 Canadian students in universities outside Canada — approximately 10,000 in the United States, 1,000 in the U.K. and 1,000 elsewhere, mainly in Westren Europe. Probably up to half (6,000) were graduate students, the report divulged.

A summary of the findings of the various teams said: "The students were grateful, if susprised, for the interest shown in them; they were out of touch with opportunities at home; they were discouraged by lack of response to letters they sent Canadian employers; they regretted the absence of industrial representation; they were being actively courted by American amployers. Most significantly, it was evident, they are prepared to return home, if given the opportunity.

Today, the reports of the recommendations of the various teams are being discussed in Ottawa. The Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada is holding a conference in the Capital. What the outcome of the discussions will be is problematical. However, the prospects of convincing a large number to return don't apear too bright in view of the opportunities available to graduate students in the countries in which they are currently residing. Competing with the United States and West Germany is a difficult task in these prosperous times. It follows it will take a lot of inducement ,if the association's plans are to be realized.

Action to cut accident toll

In recent days two important announcements relating to driving safety have come out of Queen's Park, reports the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder. Transport Minister Irwin Haskett has announced first that a refresher course in modern driving would be made available in communities throughout the province. Shortly after, Mr Haskett disclosed Ontario plans to retest all motorists.

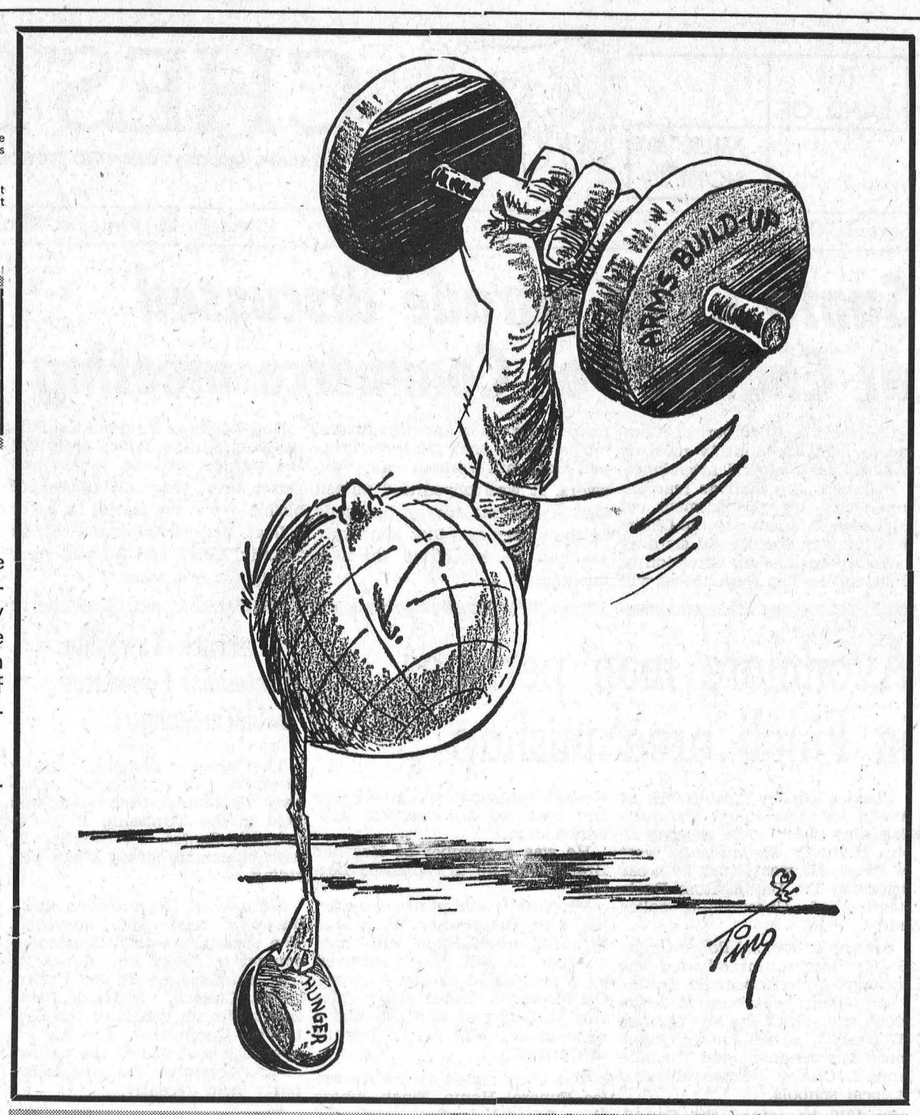
The latter is a gigantic task, one that will require from seven to 10 years to complete. However, it should be worthwhile and result in safer driving and removal from the streets and highways drivers who, for various reasons, aren't sufficiently competent to cope with modern traffic conditions.

The refresher course is linked in with the retesting program since it will give all car drivers a chance to sharpen their skill and motoring know-how. Says Mr Haskett: "Driving a car is becoming more complicated all the time. It is one of the most complex and difficult things we do, and the penalty for making a mistake can be a serious accident."

The retesting program involves certain common-sence priorities. In cases of a fatility, the drivers involved will be tested immediately. People with unsatisfactory driving records—those who have been convicted of various traffic offences —also will be among the first to be retested.

The Transport Department expects many motorists will fail the test. Accordingly, it will arrange to establish instructional centres for those who miss the retest first time out. The plan is a move in the right direction toward lower accidents. Mr Haskett doesn't claim it will prevent traffic accidents, but it should assist substantially in cutting the currently high and tragic accident rate.

The refresher courses also will play a vital part in the over-all attempt to reduce the highway toll that has been on the increase each year as more and more cars, as well as other motor vehicles, come onto our streets and roads. Both programs will be watched with interest.



ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My sister was seriously injured in an automobile accident a year ago this week. So why am I writing about the accident now? You will understand when I tell you the accident was caused by somebody's idea of a Hallowe'en prank. Three high schol kids thought it would be great fun to pull up a stop sign and see what happened.

The man who crashed into my sister was a violinist in a symphony orchestra. He spent five months in the hospital. The last I heard he was still unable to use the fingers on his left hand. This man is paying dearly for what was supposed to be a joke.

The boys who pulled up the sign were caught. They said they meant no harm, that they were just out to have some fun. One boy wept when he was questioned. He said he wished he could take the man's place. The boys all came from good families and had never been in any trouble before.

I hope you will print this letter, Ann Landers, because millions of teen-agers who read little else do read your column. And please add your own plea for sensible conduct on Hallowe'en. Many thanks.—A Faithful Reader.

Dear Faithful: Here's your letter and with it. my fervent appeal to all teenagers to use their heads when they are out for Hallowe'en fun.

Kids who get their kicks destroying property and endangering lives should take a good look at themselves. People who operate by such standards inevitably experience a lifetime of trouble.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: For four years my husband was sneaking around with another woman. They worked at the same plant (her husband worked there, too) and it's a mystery to me how they pulled it off right under his nose, but they did.

I caught my husband and this woman together when I returned from an out-of-town trip one day. It was a Sunday and all the evidence was there. They couldn't deny anything. He promised to stop seeing her if I would forgive him and never bring the matter up again. Like a fool I believed him.

Within three months my husband joined four clubs and the auxiliary fire department — anything to get out of the house. Weeks went by and I didn't see him. In the morning when I left for work he was asleep in another room. When I got home he had left for his job.

Yesterday my husband and this woman came to me with a suggestion. Her husband has seen me a couple of times and he thinks I am very attractive. They want to fix me up with him.

How do you like that for 20th century living? I told them both to get out of the house and stay out.

I am not writing to you for advice, Ann Landers. I don't need it. I just want the world to know that I used to think you made up letters because I refused to believe that people could be so nutty. Now I think that nothing is too crazy, or too fantastic to be true.—Former Skeptic.

Dear Former: If every person who reads this column would look into his own life he would find at least one piece of the past that would sound like a phony letter. Thanks for telling us yours.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35c in coin.

FINDS LAIR OF WORLD'S RAREST ANIMAL

Scientists in Hobart, Tasmania, have set a trap in what appears to be the lair of a Tasmanian tiger, one of the world's rarest animals, for years believed extinct.

A farmer found the lair. Hairs from it were put under the microscope and identified as those of the strange predator which once ravaged local flocks of sheep.

It has a brown coat striped with black like a tiger, it looks like a wolf with a large head, its tail is thick-based like a kangaroo and it is marsupial—the female carrying up to four young in a pouch opening toward the rear. It can measure eight feet from nose to tail.

The site of the lair is being kept secret to avoid attracting hunters and sightseers who might scare the beast away.

Your Federal Report

Mrs Jean Wadds, M.P.

It seems clear that this week's Dominion-Provincial conference is both timely and necessary.

There are many who believe in a permanent, almost continuous, meeting arrangement. Due to the increasing complexities of government at all levels this would make good sense. Certainly there is continuous study of Dominion-Provincial affairs anyway.

The free spending tendencies of the present Government in Ottawa already points to higher personal taxes as Mr Sharp has warned. Although he announced a 10% reduction in Federal Government spending in his last budget, this has not come about Far from any reduction, the original spending planned has been surpassed by the insidious method of piling up supplementary estimates. Each supplementary may not appear alarming, but when they are added together, the total is.

It is quite right for Premier John Robarts to warn against the trend of Ottawa having more and more to spend while provinces go further and further in the red. With education being given such priority and the well known costs of building bigger and better schools, provinces have long been worried on this one item alone. There is also the fantastic rise in cost of learning techniques, costly equipment, TV and highly trained advisory experts.

Most parents quite rightly want the best for their children. To keep up with the best demands constant research on education, not only techniques, but different types of education and

The School Bus Driver

By Stanley J. Mouser, School Bus Driver, Mid-Prairie Schools, Wellman, Iowa

In that big yellow bus sits a man of "steel"
With his foot on the throttle and his hand on the wheel.
His eyes, at all times, he must keep on the road
To see that no danger approaches his load.

His mind, from his driving, should have no detractions,
By unnecessary commotion, or student's rude actions.
He's your friend, dear students, so treat him as such
And I'm sure he'll appreciate it very much.

Your -'kids" are in school, while riding the bus
So teach them, dear parents, to not raise a fuss,
And if they will all be quietly seated
I'm sure that each morn, with a smile they'll be greeted.

We know they are young, full of zip, vim and vigor
Which makes driving problems so very much bigger.
In Spring, Fall and Winter, through rain, snow or hail,
We'll drive them to school and home without fail.

To those on the road, this bus is no stranger
So please, Mr Motorist, don't cause any danger
To the lives of those children, so young and so fine,
For some may be yours and some may be mine.

Our signals are given by flashing a light
An arrow means turn—to the left—or the right,
Two flashers and sign mean STOP—without doubt
While someone gets in, or someone gets out.

Don't pass when you see that bright yellow line
Or you may end up with a ticket and fine.
It's for your safety, too, these laws have been made
But, it's left up to you to see they're obeyed.

So pause in your haste, for a moment, or two
For some child's life may depend upon you
To stop, for an instant, till the road has been crossed
Then his name won't be found among those who've been lost.

When some careless driver disregards that sign
With naught but his own selfish thoughts in his mind
And drives right on by, giving no thought or care
To some Mother's children who were crossing there.

So think, Mr Driver, as you drive down the road
And see that bus driver with his priceless load
Of the times you have wondered just how you would feel
If you sat in that bus as the man at the wheel.

We love all those children and drive with great care;
We'll do all in our power, their young lives to spare.
Then, for safe keeping, give thanks to our God
That not one lay sleeping somewhere 'neath the sod.

Canada the Blest

By Mrs Ella York, Chesterville

How greatly blessed, we people are,
To have a land like our;
Its vast numbers of industry,
Its wonderful vines and flowers.

We thank Thee, Father, for freedom
Which we hold very dear;
We thank Thee for our Canada
That we love from year to year.

We than Thee for our maple trees
Where we get our emblem dear,
And all the other forests
Which supply our needs each year.

We thank Thee for the fisheries
The great waters of Canada supply;
There's many who make their living
And on this product rely.

Our oil wells are flowing ceaselessly
With fuel at our call;
Our many mines, of many kinds,
We thank Thee for them all.

We thank Thee for our wheat fields
With flour for to spare;
Help us, this country's plenty,
With other folk to share.

And now we thank Thee, Father,
That we have a small part,
To come to Thee and tell Thee
What pride is in each heart.

We thank Thee for the people,
The people of many a race;
Hely us, Dear Father, with Thy help
To make Canada a wonderful place.

their relationship to employment openings has to be made. There is also the frightening need for ever rising qualifications in teachers. It would seem that our teachers will need to be heavily endowed as well as highly educated to keep ahead of it all.

Premier Duff Roblin from Manitoba also stresses an important point when he requests that the Report of the Federal-Provincial Tax Structure Committee be made public. It is inconceivable that any Federal Minister of Finance would have the arrogance to think of keeping this Report secret.

This should not only be urged by Mr Roblin and supported by Mr Robarts, but should be demanded by all Provincial Premiers of whatever political colour. It seems obvious that this would tend to help the provinces in their very real financial needs, and protect them against extravagant Federal spending, often for reasons of political popularity.

Federal Conservative Members had an opportunity to express their opinions to three of the most active Premiers Wednesday night.

Wednesday night being the traditional night of the week when Parliament does not sit, the Premiers were asked up to Parliament Hill. It was a good idea because many Federal Members, particularly the younger, or the newer Members, had not even met Premiers outside of their own provinces.

The Hon John Robarts is always amiable and approachable. He has great ability in asking incisive questions and he listens carefully to the answers.

The Hon. Duff Roblin has a quick, alert intelligence accompanying an outgoing personality and an active, slightly restless manner. He chatted brightly with other Conservatives, equally at ease in English or French.

The Hon. Robert Stanfield is tall and thin and looks as if he might be related to Abraham Lincoln. He obviously has no preference for social chit-chat, but remembers names and who everyone is and what they do. His sincerity is unassailable and the twinkle in his eye heartwarming. It is said of him that if he personally ran in each riding in Nova Scotia he would win the whole Province.

They were welcome guests and it was an encouraging occasion for divided unhappy Federal Conservatives.

Born in Dixon, 77 years ago August 23, he was the son of the late John S. Moak and his wife, Alice Hawn.

He spent all his life farming in the district except a few of his earlier years which he spent homesteading in Western Canada. He retired five years ago.

Mr Moak is survived by his wife, the former Inez Winters of Grantley; a son, Clare Moak, of Oshawa; two daughters, Mrs Russell MacMillan (Gwendolyn, Mrs Edwin Montgomery (Doris), of Finch; eleven granddhildren and two great grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs Lowell MacGillivray (Gladys) predeceased him.

He also leaves to mourn a brother, Arnott Moak, of Northfield. Two brothers, George and William, and a sister, Effie, predeceased him.

The service was held at the Brownlee Funeral Home, Finch, on Wednesday, October 26, with Mr Dunn, pastor of Chalmer's United Church, conducting the service.

A solo, "Good Night Here and Good Morning Up There," was beautifully sung by Edwin Waldroff, Newington. He was accompanied by Mrs Jennie Bicks at the console.

Pall bearers were Riachrd Moak, Colonel Montgomery, Delbert MacMillan, Ian MacMillan, Kenneth Armstrong and Osborne Shaver.

Interment was in the family plot, Hillcrest Cemetery, Newington.

The frequency with which hunters are shooting themselves, getting lost, having heart attacks and drowning themselves suggests to the Ontario Safety League that the average man going into the marsh or the woodlands with a gun needs protection against himself. A reasonable knowledge of safe gun handling and safe hunting practices is necessary to enjoy this excellent outdoor recreation without getting into trouble. If you are not an experienced hunter, take a Hunter Safety Training Course before venturing out, and then watch and follow the exabple of experienced men in your group.

Over 150 relatives, friends and neighbours gathered in the IOOF Hall at Williamsburg to celebrate the occasion of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs Graham Hess. Upon entering the hall Mr and Mrs Hess were escorted to the front by Mr Carl Merkley, brother of the bride, and Mrs Weldon Hatfield, sister of the groom, their attendants of 25 years ago.

IN MEMORIAM

BARKLEY—In loving memory of my dear son, Harold D. Barkley, who passed away November 22, 1965.

We watched you suffer, we heard you sigh,
God saw you getting weary,
So He did what he thought best,
He came and stood beside you and whispered "Come and rest."
You wished no one a last farewell,
Nor even said Good-bye;
You had gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.

Sadly missed and always remembered by Mother, Brothers D'Arcy and Russell, Sisters Doreen and Lois. 7-1

NEWSPAPER UMBRELLA INVENTED

A Long Island printer offers a device by which a person caught out in the rain or snow can turn a newspaper into an umbrella.

Joseph Zweben of Bellmore has been granted a patent for a frame that can be carried in the pocket and unfold to hold the newsprint overhead.

Made of plastic, Zweben says his holder weighs less than three ounces and when collapsed is less than seven inches long. Extended, it reaches 23 inches.

Zweben points out that his device can be clipped to standard-sized or tabloid pages. His direct contact with newspapers has included working in the New York Times composing room.

IN MEMORIAM

BARKLEY—In loving memory of our Dad, Grant Barkley, who passed away November 13, 1953.

It's only a grave, but it still needs care,
For the one we love lies sleeping there.
Some may forget him now he is gone
But we'll never forget him no matter how long.

Sadly missed by the Family. 7-1

Find body of missing Williamsburg man Sun.

The body of an elderly Williamsburg man, missing from his home for more than a month, was found Sunday in a field one mile from his home.

George Frededick Babcock, 85, disappeared Sept. 28, while out walking with his dog. It sparked off a mammoth search by Ontario Provincial Police and civilians.

Babcock's small black dog returned home just over a week after the man disappeared. It was well groomed and healthy and renewed hope among searchers of finding the elderly man.

A spokesman for Morrisburg OPP said Babcock had been suffering from a heart condition. They suspect he died from a heart attack while out walking with his dog.

OLD FISH STORY IN COLD STORAGE

A fish story 70,000,000 years old is waiting to be told by a creature — in cold storage — at Yale University.

It's a coelacanth, an ugly ocean beast with a purple-pink hue, and fins that may have a relationship to animal's legs.

The fisherman hooked the coelacanth — pronounced see-luh-canth — at a depth of about 1,000 feet off the Comara Islands, a French possession near the coast of Africa.

Native fisherman have hauled in other coelacanths, but Yale's new acquisition was popped in a freezer shortly after it was caught in March. The other speciamens examined by scientists had been preserved in formalin or other chemicals.

Keith S. Thomson, assistant curator of ichthyology at Yale's Peabody Museum didn't hesitate at the chance to buy the best-preserved coelacanth in scientific history.

Since it is in virtually the same condition as when it was caught, Thomson said the scientists will be able to examine the fish to a degree never before possible.

The coelacanth was purchased for $,000, plus shipping costs. That would make the 60-pound fish worth about $67 a pound, which Thomson call "incredibly cheap." He considers his purchase the equivalent of picking up a Rembrandt at Woolworth prices.

The coelacanth species was in the sea during the same period as the pterodactyls and the dinosaurs, but those museum pieces died out.

Scientists had thought the coelacanth also was no more, until an east African fisherman hauled one in 28 years ago.

The fossils of the coelacanth that have been found differ "very, very little indeed" from the coelacanth not at Yale, Thomson said.

Carbon monoxide poisoning is the favourite method of suicide in the U.S.

... High School News ...

The gymnasium at the big school was alive with excitement last Saturday night as the alumni of North Dundas classes of 1965-66, impressively gowned for the occasion, returned to the old sod for graduation. The huge auditorium was bulging at its seams for the 4th annual commencement exercises, one of the highlights of the school year.

Guest speaker for the evening was District Inspector M. W. Lever, B.A., and the valedictorian was honour graduate Brian Docksteader of Queen's University. Over 150 graduation diplomas and certificates of training were presented as well as many other awards and special prizes.

Following the impressive ceremonies, a reception for prize winners, graduates and guests of graduates was held in the cafeteria. Dancing followed in the gym. with Dean Cross acting as master of ceremonies.

During the past week, eight students from Grades 12 and 13 took part in a set of contests as a preliminary for the C.B.C. program, "Reach for the Top," on which a team of four from North Dundas will appear in the near future. Enthusiasm ran high as the students were tested on their general knowledge. The results of these contests have yet to be announced.

Math students of Grades 12 and 13 are preparing for a mathematics weekend at Queen's University to be held Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29. Sixteen students will leave the school on Friday morning for what promises to be a most enjoyable trip.

For the most part, the October tests seem to be over, and it is expected that those nasty little reports will be handed out some dark dismal day within the next week. As we dismiss the thought of such results, it is hard to forget that exams for the first term begin in a little more than a month's time at the end of November.

Sports News

The Rams, our fast-moving soccer team, attended the Eastern Ontario Invitational Soccer Tournament last Saturday. The results were very commendable. They won their first two games 6-0 and 2-0 but were then beaten by Ottawa Technical School in the semi-finals.

The girls' softball team met first-place Osnabruck and managed to come up with a 4-4 tie.

Volleyball practice is underway in the gymnasium. Boys' intramural teams are playing off at lunch hours and during co-curriculars. The intramural schedule for girls starts in about two weeks.

Go, Hawks, go! And we sure hope they do go — right to the top, for the sudden-death semi-final game is to be played this Friday against Morrisburg. The football team is practising hard by perfecting an "Egan" play which worked for Queens last Saturday. Coaches Taylor and Risher are counting on North Dundas returning home victoriously, so go, Hawks, go

The Senior cheerleading squad is to be wished the best for they are off to Ottawa on Saturday to compete in the Campus Club cheerleading contest at Brookfield High School. The day should prove quite exciting for 21 Ottawa and district high schools will be represented, each trying to out-yell the other. Good luck, girls.

O.P.P. Report

With duck season now open and deer season fast aproaching, this may be an appropriate time to quote a section from the Game and Fish Act. Every hunter should be familiar with this section, it may cause him to pursue more careful and safer hunting habits.

Section 18 — Every person is guilty of the offence of hunting carelessly who, being in possession of a fire-arm for the purpose of hunting, discharges or causes to be discharged or handles such fire-arm without due care and attention or without reasonable consideration for persons or property and is liable to a fine of not more than $1000 or to imprisonement for a term of not more than one year, or to both. (For the purpose of this section a firearm includes — air gun, pellet gun, cross bow, and bow and arrow.

There were no thefts reported in the area this past week. An interesting fact to note here is that since mid-August, the number of thefts has declined each week. One case of break and enter was reported. It was found that the person responsible wanted a place to sleep for the night. One disturbance was reported, and officers answered 24 calls resulting from various circumstances.

Three liquor infractions were investigated resulting in three charges being laid under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

No criminal cases were in court this week, six Highway Traffic convictions were registered.

On the highways, nine property damage and three personal injury accidents were investigated. Two persons suffered minor injury, one person is presently hospitalized in serious condition. Officers patrolled 10,045 miles of highway and secondary roads in 664 duty hours. Fifty seven charges were laid under the Highway Traffic Act and 12 warnings issued.

In a rather spectacular hunting accident, an area youth escaped serious injury, and possibly death when a bullet passed clean through his body. The youth was treated and kept in hospital for observation.

Bert Stel speaks at recent R.N.A. meeting

Bert Stel, administrator, Winchester District Memorial Hospital, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of St. Lawrence Group, Registered Nursing Assistants. Subject for his address was "Accreditation" and just what that means to each one in the community.

Highest standards are set so that the hospital may provide the best possible patient care. It is the duty of administration to see that all departments are operating with qualified medical and nursing staff, that buildings present no fire hazard, and that hospital facilities are the best. He went on to say that "Accreditation brings out the best in the hospital; standards must be maintained and where any department does not qualify, ways and means must be found to bring it up to the required level and maintain it. We must never be satisfied but always strive for the best; less will not suffice."

Mr Stel welcomed the group on behalf of administration, as did Miss B. Legris, director of nursing, who was present for the meeting. Mrs Edith Whittaker introduced Mr Stel and he was thanked by Mrs Marjorie Alguire. Mrs Kay Barnes presented a gift in appreciation of the group.

Miss Dorothy Allen, president, conducted the meeting. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs Frank Stewart, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs John Urquhart.

Mrs Eileen MacTavish gave an interesting and informative report of the workship she attended at Don Mills. Highlight of the two-day seminar was the address given by Dr J. S. Bell, assistant medical officer of East York - Leaside Health Unit, on tuberculosis. Dr Bell stated that this disease causes three million deaths each year. Half the people of the world are or have been infected with TB, which is a communicable and long-term disease that requires constant surveillance. Mortality rate in 1900 was 200 per 100,000 persons, when fresh air and rest was the prescribed treatment. Today it is two persons per 100,000; with only 160 deaths in 1965 for Ontario because of the continual use of controlled methods.

The tuberculin test is for children from Grades One to high school age. B.C.G. is given to increase immunity and usually lasts from five to six years. Patients leaving sanatoria after treatment are not cured; their disease is controlled or inactive.

Miss E. Clark of Toronto TB Prevention Branch at Weston Sanatorium explained some of the work done there. Patients are taught proper use of paper wipes and disposal; covered sputum boxes are used. Nurses wear masks and gowns for their own protection. At Weston Sanatorium children attend classes four hours each day. High school students may continue their education to Grade 13. Craftworkers instruct all crafts to both up and bed patients.

Other delegates will cover the second day of the workshop at the next meeting. Mrs MacTavish was thanked for a comprehensive report, as was Mrs G. Miller who also covered this subject.

Delegates nominated to attend the annual meeting in Toronto November 3 and 4 are Miss D. Allen and Mrs J. Urquhart, with Mrs F. Stewart as alternate.

The next meeting will be held at Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall, November 22, at 8 p.m.

Mrs J. Urquhart expressed thanks to the ladies of Winchester Hospital for their hospitality. Refreshments were served by the local committees.

IF YOU MUST HAVE CAKE

EVERYONE WANTS TO EITHER STAY THIN or get thin these days so I don't believe as many rich cakes are made as formerly. Here are a few of my favourite cake recipes. And remember, it is more economical to make a cake from scratch than to use a cake mix.

Rochester Jelly Cake

1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
½ cup butter
¾ cup milk
2 cups flour
1 tsp. cream of tartar
½ tsp. soda
1 tsp. molasses
½ cup raisins or currants
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. allspice
Few grains nutmeg
1 egg
1 cup milk

Cream the butter. Add the sugar and blend well. Add eggs and mix well. Sift cream of tartar and soda with flour and add alternately with the milk. Mix well. Divide mixture in half and to one half add the molasses, fruit and spices. Bake in layer cake tins. When baked, put cakes together while warm with apple jelly between them. Ice with vanilla butter icing.

Put orange rind through chopper; add water and sugar. Boil until reduced one half in volume. Add shortening. Cool mixaure. Sift dry ingredients. Add egg, milk and orange mixture. Bake in a loaf tin 45 to 60 minutes at 300 degrees.

* * * *

An easy and accurate way to measure solid fat is by means of water. For instance, to measure one-third cup of solid shortening, fill a standard measuring cup two-thirds full of cold water, then drop in pieces of shortening, pushing them under the water until the water level reaches the one cupful mark. If one-half cup of shortening is called for in the recipe, fill the cup one-half full of water and so on for any quantity desired.

* * * *

For small amounts of shortening pack well into a standard measuring spoon and leve l off evenly with the straight edge of a knife.

Cinnamon Crumb Cake

2½ cups flour
½ cup soft butter
2 cups brown sugar

Mix well together. Save ¾ cup of this mixture for the top. To the remainder add the following.

¾ cup sour milk
1 egg
½ tsp. soda
1 tsp. cinnamon

Beat until smooth. Pour in pan and sprinkle crumb mixture over top. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes, then bake at 340 degrees for 20 minutes.

Dark Chocolate Cake

½ cup butter
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup cocoa
½ cup boiling water
½ cup sour milk
1½ cups flour
1 tsp. soda

Cream the butter. Add sugar gradually. Add beaten eggs. Dissolve cocoa in boiling water and add to the milk. Sift flour, soda and salt and add to the first mixture and beat. Bake one hour at 350 degrees. Frost with your favourite icing.

Orange Loaf

Rind of two oranges
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 tbsp. shortening
3 cups flour
3 tsps. baking powder

Nearly everyone carries, in pocket or purse, a useful tire guage, says the Ontario Safety League. It is an implement that will show you when your tire tread has worn too low for safety. It is a quarter: yes, a 25c piece! Insert the edge of the coin bearing the date in the tread, and if you can then see any part of the date, your tires need to be replaced. Use a U. S. quarter if you have one; the date shows more clearly.

14 horses killed in barn fire at Morrisburg

Fire destroped a large barn and 14 horses on a farm on old Highway 2 four miles west of Morrisburg early Tuesday.

The barn renovated for the purpose, housed pregnant mares whose urine was used in manufacturing a hormone. Also destroyed were two large haystacks.

The property was owned by Willard Alguire of Morrisburg. Total loss has not yet been determined.

Cause of the fire is not known. It was first noticed shortly after midnight by patrolling Ontario Provincial Police officers who called Iroquois fire fighters.

The Ontario fire marshal is to investigate the blaze.

Mrs Alguire said the 14 horses had been put inside the barn because of the cold weather. A cross dog was left at large in the area of the barn to frighten off any Hallowe'en vandals. The dog was not injured.
