Stormont Holstein Club holds annual meeting crops, stock discussed

Stormont Holstein Club members re-elected the club executive for the coming year at a well-attended annual meeting in the Presbyterian Church Sunday School Hall, Eamer's Corners. Harold Shaver of Ingleside resumed office of president; Donald Casselman of Finch, as vice-president; Gordon McRae of Avonmore, second vice-president; Stuart Clark of Cornwall, secretary - treasurer.

Serving on the board of directors are Mr Shaver, representing Osnabruck, along with Donald MacLean, Ellwood Thompson and Peter Zeran; Mr Casselman with Stuart Duff, Elburn Carr and Armand Cloutier for Finch; Mr McRae and Wesley Ferguson, Marcel Legault and Gerald Jans for Roxborough and Mr Clark with Arnold Scott, Newell Brown and Elwin McDonell for Cornwall.

Guest speaker for the all day meeting was Garnet Ralph of Richmond, Ont., who considered the matter of fertilization as his chief topic. Mr Ralph introduced several points of interest, notably a suggestion that fields be fertilized according to needs of the crops to be grown on them, rather than strictly by soil tests.

Mr Ralph, who manages a large farm, suggested that farmers take special note of possible deficiencies in potash among the elements even though soil tests do not show it, and the farmer should observe his crops to determine if potash is needed.

Mr Ralph also recommended a balanced approach to farming. "There isn't much use boosting fertility and crop production without expanding the herd through which the crop is marketed," he reminded the group.

"Your extra crop has to be fed before is is of much value to you," he said. That is the relationship between fertility, field crops and livestock farming.

Mr Ralph was introduced by Marland Murray, of Martintown, third vice-president of the Canadian Holstein Association and thanked by Roy Shaver of Finch. Chairman for the day was Harold Shaver.

Grant Smith of Brockville, field man for the Holstein Breed in Eastern Ontario, noted progress in most departments of the breeder's club work. Mr Smith warmly recommended an increase in record of performance testing and urged directors to take on a project next year of aproaching breeders not on ROP to get them to have their herds listed.

"It is a vital thing to get more people testing." Mr Smith said. "I would like to see 100 herds in Stormont on ROP instead of the present 35 or so."

In his comments Mr Murray observed that the breed is making considerable progress in Eastern Ontario, largely due to the efforts of the fieldman and a good 4-H program to interest young people.

Unveil plans at Avonmore for Centennial projects

At a spirited public meeting, held in Avonmore Public School, plans for an energetic local program for Centennial Year were unveiled.

Under the general chairmanship of Rev Donald W. Pipe, activities will be focused on the weekend of July 7, 8 and 9. That weekend, to be known as "Old Home Weekend," will feature a range of activities for local citizens and their guests of all ages.

While it will be several weeks before the details of the program will be revealed, there was no doubt in the minds of those who atended the meeting that the weekend's program will be the biggest single event ever staged in the Avonmore district.

Committee chairmen named included Clifford MacRae, program; Hubert Delaney, finance; James Tinkess, projects; Douglas Robertson, sports; Mrs Maldwyn Watkins, children's program, and Andrew Pipe, youth program.

All committees will meet within the next few days in preparation for the next public meeting on Wednesday night, January 4th.

Plans are underway for a community concert within the next few weeks which will feature the crowning of the Avonmore Centennial Queen.

Miss Bessie J. Banfill, Mrs John D. Ferguson and Mrs F. C. Eligh are setting about the task of writing a Centennial pageant on interesting items of local history.

To publicize the various activities a newsletter, to be known as the Avonmore Centennial Gleaner, will be widely distributed. The first issue will probably be ready before Christmas.

Local citizens, as they prepare their Christmas card lists, are being encouraged to make copies of names and addresses of former residents who will receive newsletters and invitations to join in the local festivities. These lists may be given to Mrs Catherine Morrison at the earliest possible date.

Committee chairmen were authorized to expand their committees as they deem necessary. Members of the various committees will be publicized after the next public meeting.

All local community and church organizations are being encouraged to plan their own Centennial programs and projects and dovetail these as far as possible into the over-all organization.

Trinity U.C.W. holds Christmas Party

The annual Christmas Party and pot-luck supper of the Chesterville U.C.W. was held last Thursday at 7 p.m. in the dining hall of the church with an attendance of nearly 60 members and guests.

After a bounteous supper, the president, Mrs Myles Merkley opened the meeting with a fitting poem "Faith". Mrs Hilda Belsher acted as secretary.

Reports were read by the secretaries of the various committees and indicated a successful year of work by the organiization.

Mrs Jack Smith, convener of the nominating committee, presented the new slate of officers for the coming year.

Mrs Duncan McElheran, assisted by Mrs Dudley Craig and Mrs Keith Graham conducted the worship service based on the Christmas story. Mrs Fred Cass gave a reading "No Room". Christmas Carols were sung with Mrs Allison Graham as accompanist.

Mrs Don Cross and Mrs Wm. Langabeer delighted the gathering with two accordian selections "the 23rd Psalm" and "O Holy Night."

An exchange of gifts brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

In closing Mrs Myles Merkley thanked each and every one for the co-operation shown her during the year. The meeting closed with the singing of "Till We Meet Again."

CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

We had an interesting conversation the other day regarding the state of Canadian television. Needless to say, the opinions of this ancient Castle dweller are to be regarded as biased and out of date. The above-mentioned conversation ended on that note.

The CBC seems to have the faculty of fitting exactly foot and mouth. The corporation made an unholy mess of the "Seven Days" affair and now it has opened the back door again with a production of "Sunday" that has raised a storm.

The president of the CBC, J. A. Ouimet, thinks too much is being made of the spicy spectaculars and not enough attention paid to the solid things the old lady turns out. He may be partly right.

We built the Castle on a stream to take care of the natural flow of garbage and other wastes, human and animal. Out behind was a small building that offered shelter from the wind and rain, when Nature and man needed to commune. All these things were actual physical items in everyday living. So was going to bed and shutting the door. One felt and still feels the human animal has progressed far enough from his tree-borne ancestors that certain natural functions and passions need no prying eyes or listening ears.

Yet every little while, one will find spread all over the living-room, arranged with directors' delight, crud. The flow of Ginsberg garbage, larded with four-letter words, does not make it poetry. The posturing in bed of pretty people helps very little to explain basic ethics. And what does a set of 14-year-olds have to offer in a two-minute interview on marriage and divorce?

Most families are a mixed bag of old and young, adult and teenagers. When the middle hours of the evening come around, by no means are only the adults glued to the one-eyed monster. The fantasy that later showings will protect the tender young is a joke in most lively homes. Whatever appears on the silver screen is viewed, unless it is so dull that even the dog goes to sleep.

The advent of television into the life of this old world has been a wonderful thing. A medium of entertainment has developed that has turned the whole field of commerce, exchange of ideas, into a new and meaningful vision. It has been likened on occasion to the invention of the printed page in its ability to send out ideas and get back well-rounded opinions.

The CBC and the private networks keep a reasonable control on their public images. But when somebody gets out behind in the little house and starts to broadcast from there, or sneaks in past the closed door of one's private sanctums, then we are disenchanted. Books are either read or not read, by choice, usually. A family television is watched with mixed emotions by all members of the family. A sudden splash from the sewer is not necessarily fertilizing in action. It can be nauseating.

Mr and Mrs Ernest Beckstead, Grantley, will be married 53 years this Saturday, December 17.

Nestle employees annual Christmas dinner party gala affair

The annual Nestlé party at Cornwall this year was a big success. On hand to receive their recognition for ten years service with the company were: front, left to right: Ewen McCadden, Roland Gibeault, Joseph Morris; back row: Rene Moss, Dwayne Hall, Emlyn Cole, Dalton Carr.—Photo by LaSalle.

A jolly good time was enjoyed by one and all at the Nestle Employees annual Christmas Dinner Party held Saturday, December 10th, 1966, at the Parkway Motor Hotel in Cornwall.

Cam Baker, who acted as M.C., called the group to their seats at 7.30 and all were treated to a fine dinner and good background music provided by Bob Eadie of Cornwall, at the organ.

A program of entertainment, sing songs, service pin presentations, retirement presentations, and gifts from Santa Claus followed the dinner.

The M.C. called on Mr Dalton Carr to propose Seasons Greetings on behalf of the Union; Mr Jim Moonie, Plant Manager, to propose Seasons Greetings on behalf of the Company; and Mr R. Richards, Company Vice-President, to bring the compliments of the season from Head Office.

Mr Richards also made the presentations, in conjunction with Santa Claus, to the long service and retiring employees. Many in the crowd dearly missed their President, Mr James Wolff, who is currently hospitalized. A recording of a Merry Christmas message he delivered from his bedside was played to the satisfaction of all in attendance.

The evening wound up with a lively dance period to the music of the Marleau Bros. Band.

Ten Year Pins were issued to: Emlyn Cole, Louis Dame, Rene Moss, Rolland Gibeault, Raymond LeClair, Douglas Black, Ewen McCadden, Joseph Morris, Dalton Carr and Dwayne Hall.

New Quarter Century Club Members are: Dalton Casselman, Floyd Edgerton, Ken Harper and Ray James.

Retired this year, 1966: Tom Fleming, Percy Hall, Pat Kelly and Garnet McLean.

An interesting sidelight to the retired group statistics was the point made by Roy Richards to the effect that the total time at work for Garnet McLean and Percy Hall is over 90 years — a truly marvellous achievement. Each of these men receive a Canada Savings Bond as special appreciation.

Special prize winners were as follows:—

Lucky seat spot prizes - Mrs Ross Casselman, Mr Rene Moss, Mr John Hehir, Mrs Henry Luberdink.

Toronto Hockey Game Draw - Mrs Doris Hitsman.

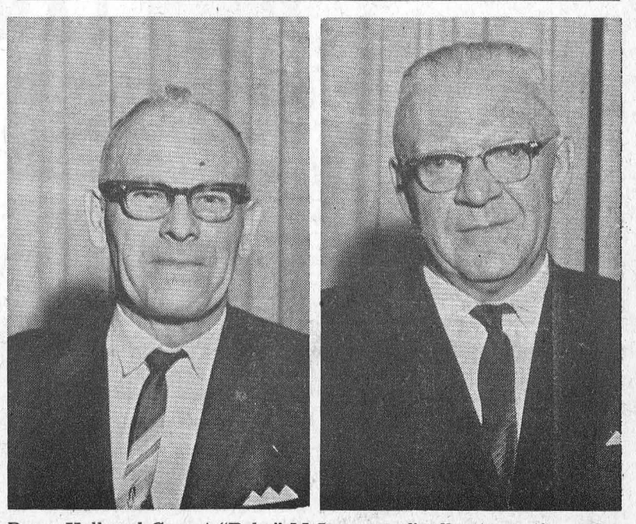
Christmas Turkey Draw - Ewen McCadden.

Door Prizes - Bob Miltimore, Alex McMillan, Garnet Cass and Bill Keilic.

Giant Stocking Draw - Wayne Jordan.

Spot Dance Winners - Mr and Mrs Burton Beckstead, Mr and Mrs Eldon York, Mr and Mrs Wayne Jordan.

The most Limboistic Nestle employee - Bert Droppo.



Percy Hall and Garnet "Babe" McLean are finally to retire after long years of service at the Nestlé plant. They were honoured at the annual Nestlé party Saturday night at Cornwall.—Photo by LaSalle.

OPINIONS . . .
OURS AND OTHERS

Proposal not likely to be adopted

A plan whereby Ontario's 14 provincially-supported universities would be amalgamated into one institution—the University of Ontario—has been received by university heads.

It was reported last week this would be one of the recommendations in a report to be submitted in a week or so to the provincial committee on university affairs. The report contains the findings of a three-man commission named in 1963 by the Ontario government to investigate graduate studies and research with a view to eliminating duplication among the provincially-supported universities.

Education Minister Davis has confirmed the report has been completed, but he would not comment on it until it was made public. This is proper. However, presidents and/or principals of the universities have been quite outspoken in their opposition to this particular suggestion.

Typical examples of attitudes came from President Claude Bissell, University of Toronto, and Principal J. A. Corry, of Queen's University, Kingston. Mr Bissell said, in part, "Our distinctive universities, some that go back more than 100 years, could not be amalgamated in this way without seriously impairing their operations." He added that implementation of such a program would "lead to further bureaucratization."

Principal Corry expressed the belief than an amalgamation may create more problems than it solves. He declared: "Such a superstructure built on to Ontario universities would be worthwhile only if the problems solved were monstrous. The problems exist, but they are not monstrous." He felt the better way to look on the new structure would be as a "super-co-ordinating agency."

Until the report is released, all that can be done is speculate. However, judging by the reaction of university officials to the amalgamation idea, this particular recommendation won't be approved. No doubt many of the report's suggestions will prove feasible: The University of Ontario idea, patterned after the University of California, a state-operated institution with campuses in major California centres, not likely will be adopted.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I was filled with sympathy for the woman who wrote about the speech habit of a relative. He got on her nerves by finishing every sentence with "Do you know what I mean?"

I, too, had a relative with the same habit and it irritated me beyond endurance. Finally I decided to break her of it or die in the attempt.

The next time she made a simple statement and tacked on the usual, "Do you know what I mean?" I replied, "No, I don't know what you mean. I am an idiot. You must speak to me in one-syllable words such as cat, rat and bat, if you expect me to follow your brilliant utterances."

The woman was dumbfounded. She asked what on earth I was talking about. I told her I was sick and tired of listening to her end every sentence with, "Do you know what I mean?" and I was letting her know it.

She said she was not aware of the habit and was glad I had told her. Believe it or not, she never again asked me if I knew what she meant.—Resultsgetter.

Dear Re.: Your solution might sound outrageous because few people have the nerve to deal with the problem as you did, but I applaud you.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in the letter from "Nothing Wife — The Woman Dho Is Living with a Drunk.

Please don't expect anyone who has not been married to a lush to understand what she is talking about. Judging from the number of alcoholics in this country, however, there are thousands of people who do understand — and I am among them.

My husband is still slopping it up — telling me he can take it or leave it alone—that liquor is no problem—that I am exaggerating and he doesn't drink half as much as I say he does. If he is sober three days in a row he expects me to kiss his feet.

I sent for your booklet "Alcoholism—Hope and Help" and it did me a lot of good, Ann. But it didn't do anything for my husband because he wouldn't read it. So what do I do now, Ann Landers—Hope Gone.

Dear Hope: So now you tell yourself that you cannot help someone who refuses to help himself.

Stop yelling, threatening, crying and agonizing. Write to A.A. Headquarters (look in the phone book) and ask for literature on Al-Anon. Some alcolholics continue to drink and act with hostility. When you understand the nature of alcoholism you might change your attitude toward your husband and this could motivate him to seek the help he needs.

* * * *

Dead Ann Landers: I am a bachelor, 42, who is going with a woman 31. She has been separated from her husband for several months.

Things were going along fine and we were talking about marriage, but now I'm not sure I want to marry her. The thing that bothers me is this. When I am in her apartment the phone rings constantly. She receives at least four telephone calls a night. All she says is, "Yes," "No," "Maybe" — and "I can't tell you right now."

When she comes back to the room where I am siting she says it was a girl friend or her mother or her sister.

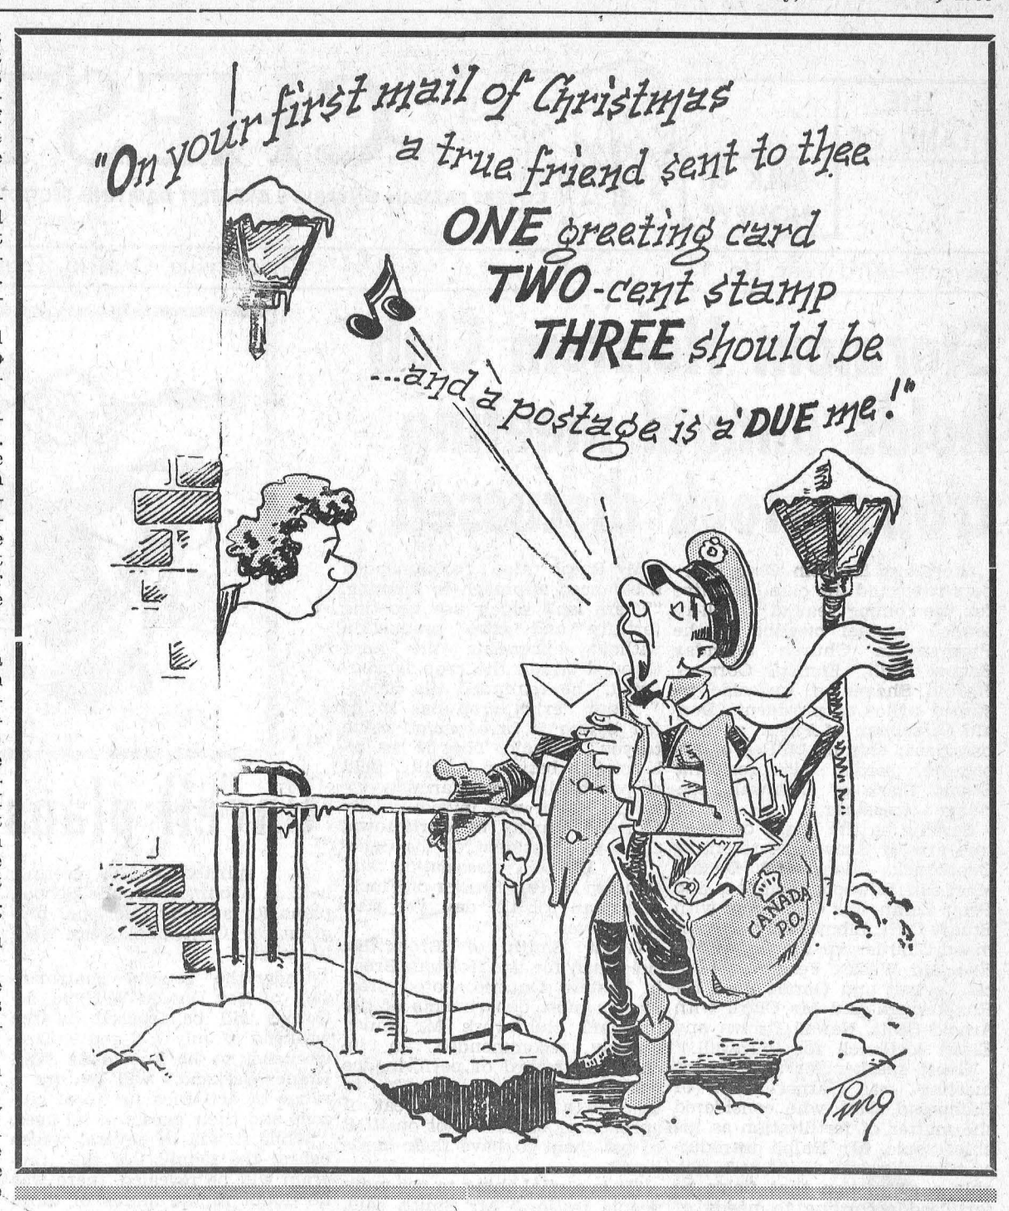
What do you think of this, Ann Landers?—Dumb Me.

Dear Dumb: I think the lady has alliances she'd just as soon you didn't know about. Be aware that a woman who lies a little during courtship will probably lie a lot after she is married.

* * * *

Too many starry-eyed lovers do not know the difference. Do you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is it Love or Sex" enclosing with your request 25c in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.



Getting Ready for Christmas

By Mrs Ella York, Chesterville

We're busy in the kitchen making cakes and mincemeat pies,
The puddings, too, are ready, and they are a good size;
The little fancy cookies, we look on them with pride,
And the cranberry sauce in little jars, is jelled and laid aside.
The Christmas cards are signed and mailed
And off to a good start,
And when we receive our share of cards
It really warms each heart.
Then there's the shopping to be done
With money we've saved all year;
We like to get some little gifts
For all those whom we love dear.
The presents are gaily wrapped and put away
In their secret hiding place, till that great day;
The purse is pretty well flattened now,
But then, there is always a way somehow,
To do the things that we want to do,
And Father got the turkey this morning, too.
The decorations are up and look so grand
And the Christmas tree is placed in its stand,
To trim with all the ornaments and lights,
The decorations at Christmas make some pretty sights.
The hours will soon pass, and would you believe
We are all ready for Christmas Eve.
We musn't forget it's a birthday we celebrate,
The day of our Dear Lord's birth.
God gave us the greatest Gift of all,
His Son, to help us on earth.
So this is why we celebrate Christmas,
Don't abuse it with lesser things,
But let us remember His Birthday,
Our Saviour, the King of Kings.

Mrs Lillie A. Miller

Mrs Lillie A. Miller, widow of the late Cecil Johnstone Miller, passed away on November 24, in the Royal Alexandria Hospital in Edmonton following a stroke. The former Lillie Almena Runions was born August 2, 1885, in Stormont County and she lived in Northfield until her marriage in 1905.

For several years her home was in Avonmore where her husband worked for his father, and in 1911 was taken into partnership with him under the firm name of A. O. Miller and Son, General Merchants and Lumbermen. They moved to Edmonton in 1912 and Mr Miller was employed by the Canadian National Railway in the express department until his retirement in 1948.

Mrs Miller is survived by one daughter, Mrs Ronald S. Rust (Velma), of Ottawa, and one son, G. A. Miller (Bert) of Edmonton. Her son, Vernon, died when he was only five years old. Her only sister, Mrs Gertie Wert of Newington, also survives as well as two grandchildren, Lamont and Gregory Miller. Her two brothers, Wilson Runions and Cecil Runions, predeceased her.

Mrs Miller was a member of McDougall United Church and a Past Noble Grand of Jewel Rebekah Lodge.

A family memorial service was held Saturday, November 26, at Howard and McBride's Funeral Chapel in Edmonton. The Rev Douglas Pratt of Robertson United Church conducted the service.

The body was forwarded to the Brownlee Funeral Home in Finch. Many friends and relatives called, expressing their sympathy.

Rev Wm. Baugh of Newington United Church officiated at the service. Pall bearers were Donald Runions, Cecil Wert, James Hesson, William Maginnis, Duncan Bethune and George Baker. Burial was in the Martin Cemetery.

USE TILES ON SILLS

Unless you live in an air conditioned home, the chances are you spend a lot of time opening and closing windows. Rain, sun, dirt and sand can give your window sills a terrific beating.

One way to avoid this damage is to surface the window sills with ceramic tile. It serves another functional purpose also, if you line your window with flower pots or plants. The tile doesn't scratch and a light once-over with a damp rag keeps it clean.

Biggest irrigation reservoir using Rio Grande River water is at Elephant Butte in New Mexico.

Your Federal Report

Mrs Jean Wadds, M.P.

Over the last several years there have been occasions when Members of Parliament and citizens in the Gallery would like to have seen the Rules of the House of Commons changed. There is much talk of this, but it is much easier said than done. We are presently testing some changes as to sitting hours and it is difficult to determine whether or not sitting through the dinner hour, for example, has been very productive. The attendance in the House is very light. Those who do not understand this are bewildered, and it seems to me that the whole evening lags thereafter.

There is, however, one situation which does not seem to entirely reasonable, that one Member can obstruct the workings of the House against the unanimous wish af all other 264.

The Hon. George McIlraith, Ottawa West, was first elected to the House of Commons in 1940, which gives him over a quarter of a century of experience. It was distressing to see him as House Leader having to give in to one Member who has developed a reputation for stopping the House of Commons whenever he finds it personally advantageous to do so. The highly respected Mr McIlraith ended the discussion with "I tremendously regret what has happened this afternoon. I do not believe any Canadian parliamentarian can afford to have Parliament as a whole blackmailed by any one hon. member."

This was at the closing of Wednesday's deliberations. At the beginning of the Session that afternoon, Hon. J. R. Nicholson, Minister of Labour, had asked that the House of Commons give consent to an early sitting the next morning in order to bring forth legislation which would bring about the resumption of work in the docks at the West Coast.

Due to the seriousness of the West Coast work stoppage, consent was to be expected, but the Member for Lapointe, Mr Gilles Gregoire, is a most unusual Member, all the more dangerous because he is clever and shrewd. He knew full well that he could obstruct the House if he held out in his refusal to give personal consent, and this he did.

Powerful appeals were made to Mr Gregoire. Labour Minister Nicholson reminded him that over 2,000 individuals were out of work and that further layoffs wolud result unless immediate action was taken. He also mentioned that one importer alone had two million dollars worth of perishable fruit that must be unloaded immediately.

Mr Tommy Douglas spoke well on the need to recognize the problems of all parts of Canada and to behave in a reasonably generous manner towards a solution. Mr Douglas pointed out that he was sure Mr Gregoire

Wilfred McIntosh honored for herd improvement

Wilfred McIntosh, of Williamsburg, was honoured as owner of the high testing herd in the membership of the Dundas Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Winner of the Royal Bank of Canada silver tray, Mr McIntosh's herd averaged 114 per cent B.C.A. for milk and 112 per cent B.C.A. for fat, with 19 out of 20 cows qualifying for production certification.

John Hatcher, manager of the Royal Bank, Winchester, presented the award at the annual banquet of the group in the Country Kitchen Restaurant.

Futhre changes in the D.H.I.A. were outlined by Bill Clarkson of Toronto, in charge of the particular program under the livestock branch. Stressing that less than 10 per cent of the Ontario dairymen are participating in any form of production testing, Harold Clapp, dairy specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, addressed the banquet. A former herdsman and farm manager with the Fraserdale Farms, Toronto, the speaker is a native of the Manotick area.

He pointed out the advantage of grain feeding dairy heifers early, suggesting in most cases these heifers would come into production earlier and would develop into larger cows. Experimental work and practical tests indicate that many dairymen underfed their cows in the early part of lactation and overfed in the latter stages. Far too many cows go to bed hungry and as a solution he indicated that "lead feeding" has proven successful with many producers. In lead feeding the cow is placed on a high grain ration at least two weeks before calving and then as she comes into production the ration is increased to encourage peak production at an early stage.

When the peak is reached the grai nfeeding is cut back according to production. Reiterating the importance of information supplied through D.H.I.A. testing to improve the herd, he emphasized the importance of selecting best heifers and breeding to best bulls available.

Chairfan of the Dundas Milk Committee, Malcolm MacGregor, told the meeting of the activity of the O.M.M.B. during the year. He pointed out that very soon a licence application form will be coming to all producers. It should be filled out and returned promptly.

Members of the Association, Douglas Durant, Ken Carkner, Gerald Adams, Art Vandekempt, Gerry Van Vliet and Ralph McIntosh, were appointed to the Advisory Committee. Tentative plans for a dairy feeding workshop in 1967 were discussed. Chairman of the meeting was Dundas Agricultural Representative Doug Keyes. The program was arranged by Dundas D.H.I.A. supervisor Reg. Strader.

Finch Library seeks public library status

At a meeting of the Finch Community Library on Wednesday, November 30, a resolution was pased by the Board members asking that the Finch Township council pass a by-law to form a "Public" library which would then be under municipal and Regional Library Board jurisdiction.

This move has been necessary due to the new Libraries Act, which states that "Association" libraries are no longer eligible for Provincial Government grants after December 31, 1966, and, therefore, "Association" libraries are financially unable to carry on, as in the past.

Under this new arrangement, it is anticipated that there will be a bright future for good library service throughout the area.

When the library eventually is moved into new quarters in the new municipal buildinb going up in Finch Village as a Centennial project, it is hoped that the people of the entire area will take the opportunity to browse around and avail themselves of good reading materials.

The public will be informed when this move takes place.

Junior Farmer from New Zealand tours Dundas County

In land area, Canada ranks with the major countries of the world and dwarfs tiny New Zealand. The shoe was on the other foot, however, when Junior Farmer Sam Inden, of Ranfurley, Otago, New Zealand, compared the sheep farms of his land with Dundas County cattle and crop land areas. The 23-year-old son of a New Zealand sheep farmer, Sam represented his country as one of two delegates to Canada in the International Farm Youth Exchange Program.

The trip to North America was sponsored by the New Zealand Young Farmer's Club and the New Zealand Producer Board—meat, wool and dairy. Returning to the sheep farm, it is 2,000 acres with 1,000 of the acres tillable, 750 irrigated. Crops are turnips for feeding to the sheep, general pasture and alfalfa.

Why all the land? Easily answered: 2,000 cross bred ewes, 800 hoggets, one-year-old sheep, and 80 shorthorn cattle take a lot of room and a lot to eat. The delegate, who impressed all with whom he talked or visited while on the tour, was educated in primary and secondary schools, is a member and vice chairman of the Ranfurley Young Farmers' Club and takes a special interest in sheep farming, feeding beef cattle, irrigation and dry land farming, and high altitude grazing, over 4,000 feet, for sheep grazing.

Arriving in Dundas County, Sam was greeted by his hosts, Bruce Garlough of Williamsburg and Doug Keyes, both of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Guests with the Garlough family in Williamsburg, a hot bed of ideas and comparisons passed between Canada and New Zealand. One contrast of interest was about Christmas. In New Zealand snows come in August and Christmas is in the summer. Second New Zealand delegate was Derek Glass, who visited with Ian Catey of Grenville County. Sam and Derek have uppermost in their minds with the visit to establish a regular exchange between Canadian and New Zealand Young and Junior Farmers and promote a closer relationship between these similar organizations in sister countries. The trip for Sam will end in April 1967 when he returns home via the Suez Canal and the Indian Ocean.

Starting the trip in April, 1966, he travelled to Hawaii and Vancouver and then to the State of Washington. A six month sojourn in the U.S.A. was mainly spent in the states of Montana and Iowa, guests of the National 4-H Club Foundation.

In the Western states he observed farming methods and techniques, many which may apply to his New Zealand homeland. Visits to 4-H conferences and camps preceded a country-wide trip to New York and thence to Ontario for the month of November.

He now goes to London as a delegate to the Junior Ambassadors' banquet sponsored for young men and women such as by the British Young Farmers.

First stop in Sam's Dundas sojourn was the Department of Agriculture office where ag. rep. Doug Keyes and Bruce Garlough met the guest and made him welcome.

The Christmas meeting of the U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs Glenn McMillan, assisted by her daughter, Mrs Robert Merkley.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs W. Robinson. The hymn "As with Gladness, Men of Old" was sung with Mrs Mason Robinson as pianist.

Mrs Clifton Merlkey and Mrs Glenn McMillan conducted the worship service. The minutes were read by Mrs Earle McMillan. Nine members answered roll call with a Christmas message.

A travelling apron, which was donated to the U.C.W. by Mrs E. Beckstead in the Spring, was returned to the treasurer, Mrs Dunbar, who reported that everyone had given generously. A vote of thanks was moved to the non-members who contributed to the coin cards.

A contest of jumbled Christmas words was won by Mrs Dunn after which all enjoyed the exchange of Christmas gifts.

Mrs Dunn moved a vote of thanks to Mrs McMillan for the use of her home and also to those who assisted with the lunch, Mrs D. Tupper, Mrs W. Robinson and Mrs E. McMillan.

Mrs Dunn invited the U.C.W. to her home in Finch for the January meeting. Roll call will be "A Thought for the New Year."

Mrs Arthur McMillan formerly of Newington marks 91st birthday

Vivid meories of the old "Sugar Stick" school near Newington and a rural way of life that is now a thing of the past helped to make Mrs Arthur MacMillan's 91st birthday a memorable occasion. She was hostess to her neighbours and friends who called at her home, 11 Eleventh St. W., Cornwall, on Thursday.

Before her marriage, Mrs MacMillan was Miss Lillian Grace Fickes of Newington, a daughter of Mr and Mrs Gordon Fickes. She was born and brought up in the Newington area and lived there until her marriage in 1904.

Mrs MacMillan had two sisters and a brother. Her sister Mabel and brother Arthur are now dead. Her sister Mrs Lena McConnell of Athens, Ont., is now visiting her as part of the birthday observance.

Most of her married life, Mrs MacMillan lived on a farm about two miles south of Finch. She and her late husband had three children, a daughter Grace, now Mrs Lyman Ault of Osnabruck Centre, and two sons Eldred and Basil. She has four grandchildren.

Mrs MacMillan remains remarkably active for her years. She not only looks after her own house, but never misses a service at Calvary Baptist Church. At this time of year friends take her to the services, but in summer she sometimes walks the slightly more than a mile to the church on Brookdale Avenue. She also goes downtown on the bus by herself occasionally.

Although she says her memory for details is not quite what it was, most of her friends consider it quite remarkable. She enters her 92nd year with excellent health and looks forward to a worthwhile future.

Former Counties warden John M. Fader dies at 68

The death of John M. Fader, Winchester, a former warden of the United Counties and for many years reeve and councillor in Winchester, occurred Sunday, at his home. He was in his 69th year.

Mr Fader was long a prominent businessman prior to his retirement. Although not in good health for more than a year his death came suddenly from a heart attack.

His funeral was held at Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Winchester, on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Rev. D. L. Gordon, of Williamsburg United Church, and Rev. Angus McDonald of Winchester United Church, of which Mr Fader was a prominent member, officiated.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs Gordon Holmes (Beatrice) of Inkerman, and two sons, John Philip of Winchester and Gordon Lyle of Ottawa. There are 13 grandchildren. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs Henry Lennox (Louise) and Mrs Richard Lennox (Gwen) of Winchester. A brother, Philip died in 1949.

Mr Fader was a native of Winchester, a son of Mr and Mrs Martin Fader. He engaged in the plumbing and heating business for many years, and was active in local affairs. He became a member of the village council for the first time in 1943, and reeve in 1948. He became reeve once again in 1954 and held the office until his retirement from municipal politics in 1962.

He was warden of the United Counties in 1960, and served with distinction on a number of committees and boards. At the time of his retirement he was chairman of the Glen - Stor - Dun Lodge Committee.

Trinity U.C.W. afternoon unit holds meeting

The Afternoon Unit of the U. C.W. of Trinity United Church met Thursday, Dec. 1st in the dining hall of the church.

The meeting opened with hymn 637 then the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Mrs Duncan McElheran welcomed everyone with a special welcome extended to Mrs Ferguson.

Mrs D. McElheran read an appropriate piece of prose "Snowflake." Thirty-one members responded to the roll call. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs Gerald Kittle. It was announced that the general meeting would be held on Thursday, Dec. 8 in the form of a pot-luck supper.

Two cards were passed around for signatures, these were for two sick members. A letter from the adopted child, in Korea, was read by Mrs Dalton Docksteader. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs Graham Smith. Collection was taken by Mrs Gordon Lannin and dedicated by Mrs D. McElheran in words to the effect that the Kings in olden times brought gifts to the baby Jesus.

The devotions and worship service was under the convenorship of Mrs Earl Merkley. Mrs Gerald Kittle gave a prayer. Mrs E. Merkley gave some bible read- from the Book of Luke on the birth of Jesus. At intervals hymns were sung. Mrs Gordon Lannin gave a prayer and closed the meeting with benediction.

Mrs Earl Merkley thanked her committee. Lunch was served by the committee and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Osnabruck Centre W.I. meets at Flegg home

Osnabruck Centre Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs Jennie Flegg for their December meting and Christmas party with 21 members and 4 guests present. The president, Mrs Jake Grandaw assisted by the secretary, Mrs Jennie Flegg, conducted the meeting which was opened by singing the Institute Ode and repeating the Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The rollcallwasanswered by donations of crayons and colouring books for the children in Smiths Falls Hospital. Mrs May contributed the monthly 'Smile' and the Christmas boxes for the shut-ins were given to various members to distribute in their localities. Two thank-you notes were read and four get-well and sympathy cards were signed by all present to be sent to the sick and bereaved. It was decided to send the $60 to the Canadian Save the Children Fund to sponsor a girl in the Far East, preferably India; the report of the November euchre-bazaar-bingo was encouraging and tentative plans for a euchre party on the 1st Friday in January were made.

Recipes are to be handed in at the January meeting for the Ottawa Area Women's Institute Centennial cookbook; Mrs Annie Ferguson volunteered to look after the collection and Mrs Geo. Ware to type the recipes. Mrs D. Flintoff suggested that the Osnabruck Centre suggestion for the cover design of the cookbooks, should be a display of articles used in an 1867 kitchen plus the Centennial symbol.

Members were asked to remember the 4-H Club Achievement Day at Ingleside on Saturday, a Christmas readinn- ogdayaei c January 7. Mrs Glenn Hollister gave a Christmas reading and a Christmas carol was sung before the members exchanged Christmas gifts.

When the meeting was closed by singing 'God Save the Queen', Mrs Flegg, assisted by Mrs Jake Grandaw and Mrs John Grandaw served a delicious lunch for which Mrs George Ware expressed the thanks of Institute members.

TheJanuarymeeting is to be an all-day quilting bee with a pot-luck dinner at the home of Mrs Delbert Flintoff.

To save closet space, put a towel rack on the back of the door and use it to hold trousers or slacks.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr and Mrs William Oakes of Toronto announce the engagement of their daughter, Grace Margaret, to William Arthur Hewitt, son of Mr and Mrs Arthur Hewitt, Bancroft, Ontario. The wedding to take place January 21, 1967, in Toronto.

Farm profit theme at SCIA annual held at Berwick

James Begg of Monkland became president of Stormont Soil and Crop Improvement Association last week as the farm group held its all-day annual meeting in Berwick Community Hall.

With Mr Begg on the executive are vice presidents from each township: Lorne Alguire from Cornwall, Harry Pollock from Osnabruck and Clare Nugent from Finch. Mr Begg represents Roxborough. Past president is Barry Armstrong from Crysler.

Directors from each of the townships include Alderic Bray, Arnold Scott, Sesel Wert and Mr Begg from Roxborough, Harry Pollock, Bruce Stuart, Morris Shaver and Donald McLean from Osnabruck; Floyd Dunbar, Clare Nugent, Nick Dirven and Delbert Carruthers from Finch; Alfred Beaudette, Lorne Alguire, Kenneth MacDonald and Stuart Clark from Cornwall.

The report of the nominating commitee was presented by Ivan Eaman.

One of the key proposals of the meeting was submited by Murray Manley of Berwick, who suggested there should be either an afternoon or evening short course for farmers, to be held, preferably, in the rural area. This would correspond to a winter night school program.

A considerable portion of the SCIA members indicated interest in such a program and Dale Miller, agricultural representative, offered to investigate the possibilities to see if such a course could be organized.

A resolution by Nick Dirven that fertility levels of agricultural land be improved by a subsidy on fertilizer was rejected, most of those opposed basing their attitude on the contention that more remains to be done on drainage and field enlargement before a subsidized fertility program will get results.

Arden Baker of Brockville addressed the meeting and chose the topic "More Profit from the Same Resources." He said the farmer's chief resource is himself, his mental resources which include his ability to gather information, think about his problems and decide how to deal with them. He also has physical resources, the ability to do manual labour.

The second great resource of the farmer is land, which has several limiting factors holding back the advance of agriculture. Locally, Mr Baker said, much land needs better drainage. It also needs more fertility, and better farming practices in general.

The third great resource is capital, and the farmer should be aware of its value and use his capital wisely.

Mr Baker continued to point out that there is a sudden renewal of interest in agriculture on the part of governments and the consuming public, partly because long standing surpluses of farm products have disappeared. Now people are aware that something will have to be done for the farmer, but the most important thing is to assure that there is still a profit in farming. Without profits the industry cannot long exist.

Mr Baker was introduced by Alfred Beaudette, a director of the Ontario SCIA, and thanked by Floyd Dunbar.

Other speakers were Ross Dulmage of Kemptville Agricultural School, who dealt with soil needs and the influence of fertility and density of planting on the corn crop. Grover Smith, weeds and seeds specialist for Eastern Ontario, discussed weed control and recent crop developments.

Donald Knapp, Rural Development Officer for the Agricultural and Rural Development Act administration, reported that ARDA could apply to villages as well as farms. Mr Knapp described progress in projects which are expected to be taken up locally. One of the most important is the improvement of the South Nation River. Many farmers are taking advantage of a field enlargement program which pays 40 per cent of the cost of fence row removal for burial.

Osborne Shaver of Finch reported on a crops tour to Guelph and central Ontario he had taken this fall, and selection of Clare Nugent of Finch as Stormont's farmer of the year was announced.

Rev W. W. Craig heads Bible Society at Finch

The annual meeting of the Finch Branch of the Canadian Bible Society was held recently in Chalmer's United Church.

Mr Douglas Dunn presided at a short worship service. St. Luke's C.G.I.T. girls were in the choir, accompanied by Mrs Murray Doyle at the organ. The girls sang "How Great Thou Art."

Rev Dr R. Stuart Johnston, District Secretary, Montreal, spoke briefly on the work of the Bible Society and showed an interesting and informative coloured film, outlining progress in the work of the Bible Society, entitled "This is the Vision."

Dr Johnston presided for the election of officers: Rev W. W. Craig, president; Mrs Duart A. MacLean, secretary, and Mrs Murray Doyle, treasurer.

Rev Mr Craig expressed appreciation and thanks to Mr Dunn and the Board of Stewards of Chalmer's Church for use of the church and to Dr Johnston for his splendid addresses during the day and film viewing in the evening.

Dr Johnston assisted in services of worship at Knox Presbyterian, Crysler; St. Paul's Uniter, Berwick; St. Luke's Presbyterian and Chalmer's United Church, Finch, for the annual visitation of the Bible Society.

Colquhoun U.C.W. meets at Gallinger home

The U. C. W. of Colquhoun United Church met at the home of Mrs Lloyd Gallinger on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs Dennison opened the meeting with a poem "Unto Us". Several bible readings were given by Mesdames K. Hummel, G. Wells and M. Gow, also several Christmas Carols were sung.

Meditation and prayer was conducted by the president followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

The roll call was answered by 14 members. The offering was received and dedicated.

A thank-you note was read by the secretary from Mrs Dafoe for the plant received while she was in the hospital. Plans were made for the bale and donation for supply work.

The treasurer's report was given and the allocation of $265.00 will be sent. As this was the annual meeting, all officers were asked to remain another year. An exchange of Christmas gifts followed.

BELL LINES

by Richard R. Pearson
your telephone manager

Canada's annual Safe-Driving Week is over for another year. By stressing defensive driving techniques during this week, the Canadian Highway Safety Council hoped to make motorists aware of every known safe driving procedure so that they will better remember and practise them for the other 51 weeks of year. We at Bell Canada — at least all of us who drive our own cars on business or the familiar green vehicles — well know the importance of driving defensively. All of us who do any driving as part of our work at Bell Canada must take and pass a pretty rugged Company course even though we have provincial driving permits. And, in recent years this course has stressed defensive driving. Really, defensive driving is little more than common sense. It means learning how to recognize potentially dangerous situations, learning how to avoid them, then putting this knowledge to use. Since 42 percent of the people surveyed in connection with The Canadian Drivers Test television program some time back failed the test, it seems that few people know where danger lurks. With winter setting in with snowstorms, sleet, ice and sub-zero temperatures, defensive driving becomes more important than ever. Driver Improvement courses have been held in many parts of the country this year and more are planned for the months to come. Driving conditions have changed drastically since many of us received our first permits, and a fresh look at our driving habits could make motoring safer and more enjoyable on our crowded streets and highways. And, it could make for a happier holiday season, when so many people will be travelling to join families and friends for Christmas and New Years celebrations.

Did you happen to see the item in newspapers not too long ago about the man in California who has collected 20,000 telephone books from all over the world? Actually, what appears to be just an unusual hobby is really a tool of this man's profession. He's a tracer of lost persons, and his library of telephone directories often helps him to track down missing persons for his clients. You can use your telephone book to track down things too. Things like Area Codes, emergency numbers, instructions for making all kinds of phone calls, and in the Yellow Pages, lists of dealers, products or services that you may be looking for.

On Christmas day, 35 years ago, telephone lines carried the first radio broadcast of a complete opera — Hansel and Gretel. It was transmitted coast-to-coast from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Best wishes for a very Merry Christmas followed by a Happy New Year.

Dr. W. L. MacLellan, guest speaker at Stormont Ayrshire Club dinner

"There are some things we can count on as steadfast, even in a changing world in which the agricultural industry seems to change more rapidly than any other," Dr W. L. MacLellan of Cornwall told members of Stormont Ayrshire Club last week. He was addressing the club's annual dinner at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Finch.

The hills, the oceans, the land the farmer deals with remains essentially the same, Dr MacLellan remarked. So does man's need for friendship, encouragement, love.

Strength and stability of character, a sense of direction in life, remain as important to mankind as they were to the people among whom Dr MacLellan farmed as a young man in Nova Scotia. Similarly, the burden of man's mistakes and bad habits remains essentially the same throughout the generations. Sin and folly carry just about the same penalty now as they always have.

Dr MacLellan, minister at St. John's Presbyterian Church in Cornwall, was for some years a farmer and Jersey breeder on a farm near his original church at Scotsburn, N.S. He was introduced by past president of the Canadian Ayrshire Association, Donald MacIntyre, and thanked by Wilbert Paul.

Emery Dingwall, secretary of the Stormont Club, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening in the absence of club president George Hehir due to illness. Head table guests were introduced by Roy Simmons.

Among those who brought greetings to the county Ayrshire men were Harold Shaver of Ingleside, president of the Stormont Holstein Club; Neil Sangster of Bainsville, president of Glengarry Ayrshire Club; John Seguin of Chesterville, president of Dundas-Grenville Ayrshire Club, and Mr MacIntyre.

Dale Miller, agricultural representative for Stormont, complimented the Ayrshire Club for its support of 4-H work. He also referred to the good showing by the Newington Calf Club which showed the reserve county group at Ottawa Winter Fair.

Mr Miller urged the Ayrshire breeders to make more use of Record of Performance and other testing programs, since although "there are a lot of good cattle here, only about 10 per cent of the breeders are using a testing program." He stressed the importance of Record of Performance figures to serious breeders.

A certificate honouring the highest producing herd in the county was presented to Donald MacIntyre in recognition of a herd with 146 per cent of breed class average for production and 147 per cent for fat.

The ladies of St. Luke's Church were thanked by Ronald Beaudette. Mrs Gordon MacIntyre replied on behalf of the church group.

Mrs Clair Robertson heads U. C. W.

Mrs Clair Robertson was hostess for St. Paul's United Church Women's recent meeting. Mrs Mills Foster and Mrs Adam Anderson were in charge of the worship service which took the form of a candle-lighting and a "Canadian Friendship" carol service, with various members taking part. Selections from the Hymnary were read in unison, with Mrs Douglas Dunn leading. The worship service closed with prayer led by Mrs Anderson.

The president, Mrs Clair Robertson, was in charge of business. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs Eldon Ouderkirk.

Roll call was answered by 13 members and one visitor. Correspondence was given, which included a request for reports to be mailed before January 10. Mrs Mac Foster, treasurer, reported a bank balance of $149.84, and also read the bill from the Manse.

It was reported that a bale of good used clothing amounting to 201 pounds had been shipped to Toronto.

A list of names for Christmas cards was made, including shutins and friends.

The new slate of officers for 1967-1968 is as follows:

President, Mrs Clair Robertson; vice-president, Mrs Johnson Ouderkirk; secretary, Mrs Eldon Ouderkirk; treasurer, Mrs Mac Foster; pianists, Mrs Orville Nugent and Mrs Adam Anderson.

Sick and Flower, Mrs Adam Anderson; Christian Citizenship, Social Assistance and Supply, Christian and Missionary Education, Mrs Mills Foster; Literature and Communications, Mrs Adam Anderson; Membership, Community Friendship and Visiting, Mrs Toni Sanders, Mrs Alex Rutley; Press and Publicity, Mrs Eldon Ouderkirk; Program and Social Functions, Mrs Clair Robertson, Mrs Douglass Dunn; Stewardship and Recruiting, Mrs Mac Foster, Mrs Mills Foster; Finance Committee, Mrs Clair Robertson, Mrs Eldon Ouderkirk, Mrs Mac Foster; representatives on the Official Board, Mrs Orville Nugent, Mrs Adam Anderson.

The January meeting of St. Paul's U.C.W. will be held at the home of Mr and Mrs Carmel Smirle, with Mrs Floyd Dingwall and Mrs Eldon Ouderkirk in charge of the worship service and refreshments. Mr Douglas Dunn closed the meeting with prayer.

would feel strongly if a strike was tying up St. Lawrence River ports and a solution was obstructed by Members of Parliament from British Columbia.

This was a timely appeal against the dangerous regionalism which is always close to the surface in Federal politics and must be considered by all intelligent persons involved.

Other Members spoke on a personal basis. Senior Conservative Member and former Minister, Gordon Churchill, appealed to Mr Gregoire as a friend whose interests he respected. Highly respected Jed Baldwin from the Peace River suggested that possibly the rules of the proposed deabte could be elastic enough to allow Mr Gregoire to register his opinions.

Maurice Allard, Member for Sherbrooke, pointed out that however important Mr Gregoire's comments, that a deficiency is not corrected by extending a disaster.

Unfortunately, the rules of any game, business, or profession, cannot cover every possible emergency, and every type of personality. Fair play and commonsense must exist. There seems to be no excuse for Mr Gregoire's constant abuse of the Rules of the House of Commons. If, like many others, he thinks some changes should be made, surely it would be better to work towards these in a proper manner rather than taking advantage of any such weaknesses.

Avonmore children hear travelogue

At a social gathering in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Hall, Avonmore, sponsored by the members of the Explorers and Children of the Church groups, Howard MacMillan gave an interesting travelogue on the trip which he and his wife made to Florida last winter.

Mr MacMillan's travelogue was illustrated by a series of beautiful colour slides.

Miss Bonnie Henderson, president of the Explorers, introduced Mr MacMillan. He was thanked on behalf of the large gathering, including many parents and friends, by Mrs James Tinkess.

The early part of the meeting took the form of a typical meeting with the boys and girls featured in a series of recitations, prayers, songs and musical numbers. Those taking part were Susan MacMillan, Brenda McIntyre, Mavis MacRae, Linda Rainey, Helen Kyle, Linda Kyle, Joan Kyle, Audrey Kyle, Heather MacRae, Maureen Bush, Muriel MacRae, Melanie McIntyre, Byron Henderson, Wendy Lang, Debbie Robertson and Brenda Henderson.

At the close of an interesting and enjoyable evening, the groups' leaders, assisted by some of the mothers, served lunch.

TRY A FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

TRY A FROZEN fruit salad for Christmas dinner. Besides tasting delicious with your Christmas bird it has the added advantage that it can be made ahead of time. If you have a freezer you can make it a week ahead and provided it is well covered it will be as tasty Christmas day as when you made it.

Did you ever serve sherbert with the meat course? Try a small side dish of orange sherbert instead of a salad the next time you have a dinner party.

SEPARATE FIBREGLASS

If you use a washing machine, keep fibreglass articles separate from other laundry such as clothing, towels and bedlinens. Then, rinse the tub thoroughly afterward. The reason: tiny glass fibres may break off, cling to other fabrics, and then be transferred to the skin.

Similarly, when sewing glass fabrics, or handling fibreglass insulation, protect the hands and arms and keep your hands away from face and eyes.

St. Francis of Assisi is said to have made the first "creche" or crib now found during the Christmas season in hundreds of churches and as a domestic shrine in many homes.

O.P.P. Report

The Festive Season is here again. The time of year for parties and fun. The time of year when we lay our troubles aside and join our families to celebrate a wonderful occasion.. But one thing we can't lay aside, that's our responsibility, both to your family and mine. We are all well aware that a lot of good cheer is spread around during this season, good cheer of various kinds. The problem is that after consuming this "cheer", you get into the family car and head for home. Where is that responsibility then? That's right, it's gone. But who needs it, you're as "cheery" as can be, not a worry in the world, in a few minutes you'll be sitting beside the Christmas Tree with your family. I do hope you make it friend. A veteran police officer has said, "One of the hardest tasks I've had to carry out during my whole career was to go to a home on Christmas Eve and report the death of a loved one," in this case a husband and father. Whose home will it be this year? I sincerely hope not yours. PLEASE, if you must DRINK, don't DRIVE.

OPP officers last week patrolled 9549 miles of highway and secondary roads in a total of 674 duty hours. During this patrol 43 highway traffic charges were laid and 29 warnings issued. Six property damage accidents were reported and investigated. No one suffered personal injury. Dundas County drivers, after getting off to a bad start, finished up Safe Driving Week reasonably well. Three accidents occured during the last four days of that week.

Charges of assualting a police officer and escaping lawful custody were laid against an area man after a disturbance in one of the local dance halls. This man is presently in County Jail awaiting trial. Four other charges under provisions of the Criminal Code of Canada and the Liquor Control Act of Ontario arose out of this same accident.

Two thefts were reported and are presently being investigated. Officers answered 12 other calls including disturbances, property damage and assistance to other police departments.

Thirty-three hours were spent in the courts with 149 convictions being registered.

Pallbearers were Clinton McLaughlin, Thomas Maloney, Jay Barker, Jack Barker, Myles Denny and Kenneth McGillis.

Burial was in St. Andrew's parish cemetery, St. Andrew's West. Msgr. Wylie recited graveside prayers.

The body rested at Miller's Funeral Home.
