CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

Strange smells are wafting away from the Castle this week. It is the time for brewing and fermenting and the mead house is in full operation. Last year we brought our thousands of fans up to date on an ancient's foray into the grape fermenting business. We are back at the old stand and things are bubbling and muttering in a yeasty fashion.

We are indebted again to the Experimental Farm, Grape Research, at Vineland for the basic materials. The director there was generous in his selection of grapes and we arrived back to these hallowed walls with a bursting load of luscious fruit. By Saturday night the grapes were crushed and the stage set for the annual bubble and smell.

Last year's vintage has proved better than expected; so much so that very little remains to be fully aged. We have innumerable friends who will have nothing to do with liquor but do savour a bit of homemade wine. This year, we plan a program of restraint. Unless the juice turns to vinegar, it will last longer and taste better as a result.

This business of homemade wine is more widespread than one would believe. Just mention that you have a bit working in the cellar, and suddenly one hears all about mother's dandelion delight, father's special potato and raisin dynamite or the imported hired hand's recipe that called for a bit of sleight of hand with frosted pumpkins and plums. It would appear that all the old country skills have not been lost in three generations.

Up at Winchester the folks are getting ready for a big rousing evangelical crusade. This is the modern phrase. When we used to follow the crowds to the Hornerite Grove where the village dump now flavours the atmosphere, it was a camp meeting. Somehow or other we must have been badly influenced by the affairs. To this day, we refuse to get hot and bothered about the state of the community's collective soul. We would rather examine our religious linen in private than wave it in a crowd.

We remember a vivid scene. The Summer night was hot, the preacher was a spell binder and the singer was a loud one. Suddenly a lady at the aisle took a little too much of the sermon for her peace of mind and she whipped into a scream and tumbled into the sawdust just a row ahead of this exceedingly frightened small boy. But things were under iron control. When a neighbour offered to help, the preacher roared his command: "Leave her lay where Jesus flang her!" And there she lay, without doubt, for the good of her spiritual wellbeing.

Shopping centre projected for town cost could be over $150,000 McElheran property site proposed

An interesting project was made public this week by a representative of National Grocers Ltd of Toronto and Ottawa. He asked council for consent to exercise an option to buy enough acres of land from Ethan McElheran to erect a shopping centre. The land surrounds and extends south of the LCBO outlet on Queen Street west. The consent asked for was granted by village council.

Mr V. Maisonneuve of Red and White Stores and National Grocers explained he had been hoping to get the village consent from early Summer. Council noted that this was the first occasion the matter had been presented with an explanation of land use as well as the names of the principles involved. Maisonneuve was hopeful the necessary outlets to the highway could be arranged with Mr McElheran and the Department of Highways. He was confident the area could afford and even expand the type of centre the company would erect. A survey had been made in the district and it was his feeling this was the best location or at least at the edge of the corporation in the township if consents were not available.

$1,000 to Pool

A donation of $1,000 in the form of a certified cheque was received with gratitude towards the construction of the centennial pool. The donation came from the district division of the Canadian Order of Foresters through its local officers. This district order is to amalgamate with Williamsburg and Morrisburg and some funds were available. The pool contract itself was let on Monday night. A. Bruce Benson Ltd., Ottawa, presented the only tender. His price of $11,025 was accepted and Mr Benson notified. Construction will be completed in the park before Winter, according to the tender conditions.

Council ordered the maintenance crew to hire a backhoe and clear a drain that had been plugged on Mill Street. A load of rubble was spilled there without supervision by a local contractor, and the resulting blockage has caused some distress to tenants. The bill for the clearing will be sent to the contractors.

This week the hydro commission is notifying all home owners of some of the advantages of electric appliance and water heater use. This is being done by a personal letter from the chairman, Carl Merkley.

Constable Shane was asked to hire extra police for Hallowe'en night. It was suggested that as much loose litter as possible be set away out of reach of prankster's hands on that night.

"Portraits from the Past" to be staged at NDDHS hall on October 3rd

A big stage production of 39 lovely fashions from the period of 1840 on will be featured at NDDHS. It is called "Portraits of the Past' 'and will be a joint production of Chesterville and Winchester Centennial Committees. Chairman Emerson Johnston and Reg. Workman are sparkplugging the show. They have willing committees and everything is shaping up to a fine affair on Hallowe'en in the school auditorium.

The collection of beautiful, colourful and in many cases dramatic costumes will be modelled by local people. The Ontario Centennial Planning Branch of Tourism and Information has assembled the show costumes and will assist the production. Professional stage directors and dressers will accompany the costumes and scenery.

Tickets are available from the young people of Chesterville and Winchester. When they offer the ducats, part with a dollar for a fine show and a good centennial cause.

Trinity Messengers hold October meeting

The October meeting of the United Church Messengers was held on Monday, October 3, with 17 members present.

The meeting opened with the Messenger motto, prayer and hymn, followed by a story "Thanksgiving Around the World." The offering was received and dedicated.

The election of officers for 1966-67 resulted as follows: president, Pauline Morrison; vice-president, Marlene Morrison; secretary, Kris Feeley and treasurer, Cathy Smith.

The meeting closed by repeating the benediction:

World Friends was distributed.

Northfield 4-H Club holds second meeting

The second meeting of the Northfield "Wooley Lampkins" was held at the home of Sandra LeBlanc, on Sat., Sept. 24th.

The meeting was opened by the president, Laura Cameron, by repeating the 4-H Peldge. The minutes were read by Judy Bilmer and approved. Joyce Bilmer gave the treasurer's report.

The roll call was answered by ten girls displaying a sample of wool material and an explanation of their own results of the test which was their home assignment. The girls also brought a sample of invisible mending which had been the demonstration at the last meeting.

The afternoon was spent in laying out patterns and cutting. Demonstrations were given by the leaders Mrs LeBlanc and Mrs Rupert on tailors tacks and the dart.

Centennial chairmen meet at Morewood

Several citizens from all parts of Winchester Township representing the different committees of the Cenetennial Planning program met in the Morewood Public School Monday evening to get things rolling.

The co-ordinator, Gerald Holmes, was in charge of the meeting and each chairman reported their plans for the fall and decided upon several different items.

The Community Improvement Committee requested all rural residents to have their mail boxes painted up and labelled by spring of 1967. Breed signs would add a great deal to each farm.

The finance committee are planning different means for raising money. So be ready with your purse a little later when their plans go into force.

The dates, June 23-24-25 were chosen for the special events week-end, so circle your calendar and look forward for big things to happen.

St. Bernard's CWL holds regular meet

The monthly meeting of the St. Bernard's sub-division of the C.W.L. was held at the home of the president, Mrs B. Foley.

The guest speaker, Mrs D. Donihee, National President of the C.W.L. was itnroduced by Mrs L. Swain. Mrs Donihee told of interesting events from the National Convention and gave several suggestions about the work in the parish. Mrs W. Beehler thanked Mrs Donihee and presented her with a gift.

Mrs W. MacNaughton told the members of new methods of teaching Grades 1 and 2 their religion. Mrs MacNaughton also encouraged the women to attend a day of recollection at Alexandria on Oct 1.

The C.W.L. is planning a donation to the Finch Library.

Mrs Wm. Beehler and Mrs A. Lebrun have donated prizes on which tickets are being sold. The drawing will take place on Oct. 22nd at the rummage sale.

The director Fr. Francis spoke briefly asking the women to encourage all the women of the parish to take part in the league work.

Mrs Foley and her daughters Elaine and Marion served a delicous lunch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs W. MacNaughton.

BOOSTER CAMPAIGN

Winning numbers this week in the Golden Triangle Booster Campaign were: 10139, 2466, 10707, 9004 and 11028. Last week's unclaimed numbers were: 5681, 9751, 3072, 8050 and 31051.

Lane Adams Winchester Crusade begins this Friday

Lane G. Adams

George Beverly Shea

Months of planning and preparation will be climaxed next Friday night, Oct. 7th, with the opening at the Winchester Memorial Centre of the Lane Adams Crusade, sponsored by the Winchester and District Crusade Committee, in co-operation with the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association.

Services will continue nightly at 7.45 o'clock with the final rally slated for Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16th at 3 p.m.. It is anticipated that during the Crusade the Memorial Centre's seating capacity of 3500 persons will be taxed to the limit. Early indications point to congregations, representative of dozens of communities and many more churches, participating.

Services especially streamlined for youth, will be held Tuesdays and Saturday nights with Friday nights designated as Family Nights.

In the final days prior to the opening of the Crusade, the first of its kind ever held in Eastern Ontario the tempo of activities has been greatly accelerated with special committee meetings and prayer services daily occurrenences. Indeed for the past three weeks hundreds of cottage prayer meetings have been held in homes throughout the district.

On Wednesday night of this week special review classes for counselors and advisors are being held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Winchester. Thursday night there will be an usher and choir rehersal, followed by a service of dedication, in the Winchester Community Centre.

With the opening of the Crusade Friday night, the moment so long anticipated will have arrived. In addition to the ministry of Rev. Lane Adams, recently returned to America from the London Crusade and related meetings in various parts of Great Britain, there will be the added thrill of hearing the voice of America's beloved Gospel singer, George Beverly Shea, who has thrilled millions on every continent by his rendition of the hymns of the church including those of his own composition.

It will be a wonderful home coming for Mr Shea, who was born in Winchester on Feb. 1, 1909, the son of Rev. and Mrs A. J. Shea, who at that time were ministering in the Winchester Wesleyan Methodist Church. Mr Shea, who makes his home in Western Springs, Illinois, is heard weekly on "The Hour of Decision". More than 24 long play records have been released by RCA Victor.

Other members of the team include Rev. H. Norman Pell, Crusade Director, who is a native of Brisbane, Australia; Stan J. Izon, executive associate who hails from St. Catherines, Ont., and who joined the Crusade team a year ago; William Irvine (Irv) Chambers, Music Director; whose hobby is magic; and John Innes, of Bradford, England, team musician.

Directing behind-the-scenes activities in the Crusade office on St. Lawrence Street in Winchester since last May has been Miss Inga Fiuk.

Chairman of the local Crusade Committee has been Rev. George Cawfield, of the Winchester Baptist Church, ably assisted by Rev. John Anderson, Kemptville Presbyterian Church, as secretary. Executive committee members represent many different denominations working together in this great joint evangelistic effort.

Friends throughout the entire district have been encouraged to bring their neighbours to this great Crusade which promises to be a never-to-be-forgotten experience for many.

At Crysler-

Mr and Mrs Wm. Servage celebrate golden anniversary

Mr and Mrs Wm. Servage, Crysler, were "At Home" on Tuesday to welcome guests who came to convey best wishes on the occasion of their fiftieth anniversary.

Mrs Servage is the former Lola Young, daughter of the late Mr and Mrs James Young of Goldfield. Mr Servage is the son of the late Mr and Mrs Wm. Servage of Crysler.

They were united in marriage Sept. 27th, 1916, at the home of the bride's parents with Rev. Puttingham officiating. To this union were born two children, Erma and Dwight, both deceased There are four grand children, who were all present for this happy occasion.

The bride and bridegroom received a number of gifts including money, flowers, many beautiful cards and a gift from the Ladies Aid of Knox Church of which Mrs Servage is a member.

Relatives and friends were present from Dunbar, Elma, Goldfield, Chesterville, Berwick, Cannamore and the surrounding district.

Dainty refreshments were served including the bride's cake by several of the neighbouring ladies.

OPINIONS . . .
OURS AND OTHERS

Why don't they both quit now?

There are rumblings of discontent in both of Canada's major political parties on the question of leadership. They are long overdue, observes the Glengarry News.

Members of the Liberal cabinet and other hopefuls are almost openly jockeying for position, eyeing the Prime Minister's job in hopes Mr Pearson will take a powder some day soon. Mr Diefenbaker has successfully coped with rebellion among his followers in the past but he faces a new challenge when his party holds its annual meeting in November.

The national president of the Progressive Conservative Association, Dalton Camp, has embarked on a cross-country campaign the purpose of which is to point up the need for a new leadership convention of his party. He is not anti-Diefenbaker, he says, but he does feel his party has reached a point where it should have a fresh assessment of its leadership.

Mr Camp argues that the role of party leader should not be a mandate for life, that the incumbent should periodically have to win the endorsation of a national convention. Few would say him nay on that, no matter their political stripe, but it seems Diefenbaker is different.

When he celebrated his 71st birthday a fortnight ago, he referred to Sir John A. Macdonald's success at the polls at the age of 76 and made it clear he had no plans for early retirement. Since then his party has lost a by-election in Nicolet-Yamaska despite his energetic campaigning in Quebec. The Spence report on the Munsinger affair has also caustically criticized his conduct while Prime Minister, but Mr Diefenbaker typically reacts by terming the official inquiry nothing but a political smear.

Quite obviously Honest John has no intention of removing himself from the limelight and it is left to the party faithful to force him out i fthere is to be any hope of a revival of the two-party system in Canada. This will be a sorry climax to a political career that has seen Mr Diefenbaker at his best on the hustings; and in a sorry light in the Commons where he has demonstrated more interest in his own political future than in the best interests of Canada.

Both Opposition Leader Diefenbaker and Prime Minister Pearson have had their chances to demonstrate qualities of leadership and both have sadly flunked. The result is apparent to any fair-minded follower of the Ottawa scene—the House of Commons has degenerated into a house divided by petty squabbling and dirty infighting. If the nation is threatened with inflation and recession much of the blame can be attributed to a decade of Diefenbaker-Pearson personal animosity at the expense of good House keeping.

Both must go and it would be much more in the gentlemanly tradition if they should choose to retire voluntarily, with heads held high, rather than wait to be thrown out by the seat of their pants.

Human result of Fair important

The Bank of Commerce reports that estimates of the business that may result from Expo '67 (Montreal world's fair) range up to $2 billion.

In its monthly Commercial Letter, the bank says this six-month centennial event in Montreal is expected to produce savings in Canadian spending abroad as well as generating business in construction, the tourist trade and other fields.

Like many other communities within easy driving range of Montreal, says the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder, Cornwall expects to get its share of visitors for the world's fair. No doubt it will, since it is estimated some 30,000,000 or more persons are expected to attend what has been aptly termed Canada's "Universal and International Exhibition." It will be the largest of its type ever held.

The business generated by the fair is all to the good. However, perhaps too much emphasis is being placed on this phase and not enough on the goodwill and friendship such an event should engender. Unless Canada and Canadians can succeed in winning new friends and create an influence for good on them, the fair, whatever its financial outcome, will have served only material purposes.

Naturally, it is to be hoped the exhibition will be a smash success and that Canada's name will be spread far and wide as a nation whose people are warmhearted, friendly and anxious to get along with those from other countries. The money outcome must be a major factor. But the other side of the picture must rate high in priority, too.

Putting a Tiger in the Tank

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Please warn other girls before it's too late. I thought it was fun to tease and flirt with married men. Well, I carried my little flirtation too far and it turned into the cheapest, dirtiest mess anybody ever heard of.

I broke up a lovely home. Whenever I run into that poor woman my heart pounds like a triphammer. She looks so miserable and lost I just want to go some place and die.

The man wanted to marry me but now I wouldn't have him. It may sound crazy but I have lost all respect for him because of the way he has treated his family. I realize I am the one who caused him to do it, but if he were the right kind of person he wouldn't have listened to me.

So here I am—23 years old and my reputation is mud. A fine woman is divorcing her husband. The man goes around like he's in a daze, and three nice kids are going to be raised without a father. Lovely picture, isn't it?—Guilty as Charged.

Dear Guilty: Yes. Beautiful. And I can't do a thing about it except put it on exhibition for millions of people to see—and hope they learn from it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 35, pleasant looking (I hope) but I'm no beauty and I haven't the money to be among the best-dressed.

A woman in this city bears a remarkable physical resemblance to me. The first week I moved here at least ten people told me about my "double." That was five years ago.

When I met her I was immensely flattered. She is exquisite, has a divine figure, elegant taste, and can afford stuning clothes. When people tell me I resemble this woman I thank them for the compliment.

I've heard, however, that when my "double" is told she resembles me, she becomes indignant and sometimes downright nasty. Should I mention the "problem" when we next meet?—Look Alike.

Dear Look: You have no problem. She has. Furthermore, the woman must be an ungracious clod to react so childishly. Don't dignify her boorishness with a comment.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married to a good man for 12 years — a second marriage for both. I'm in my 50's and he's in his 60's.

Here is my problem. My daughter has two children, 4 and 6. My husband hates these children and they know it. When they come to see us he never speaks a word to them unless it's "Don't slam the door," "Don't pet the dog." They look at him and keep their distance.

About once a week my daughter leaves the youngsters with me when she goes shopping or to a meeting. When my husband comes home from work and sees the children he always makes some mean remark about how my daughter imposes on me.

I have told him that I don't consider it an imposition and that I enjoy having them. Can you explain why this man has such terrible feelings about the children.—Baffled Gram.

Dear Gram: Your husband is so self-centred and immature that he resents the attention you give the youngsters. You'll never get him to understand his feelings, so keep still, Honey. Show him this column and let me take the rap.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rombough - Geggie

The wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Winchester, of Judith Arlene Geggie, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Geggie, to James Walter Rombough, son of Mrs Hugh Rombough and the late Mr Rombough, Finch.

Rev. William Reid, of Renfrew, officiated and the organist was Marion Rombough, sister of the groom. The congregation sang "The Lord's Prayer" prior to the ceremony. White gladioli and green fernery were used to decorate the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional full length gown of white silk organza over silk taffeta, fashioned with a square cut neckline. full-length lily point sleeves, and an A-line skirt featuring appliques of lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls. A chapel train extended from her shoulders. Her bouffant veil of tulle fell from a coronet of seed pearls fashioned into lacy petals. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, swansonia, and stephanotis with long trailing ivy. Her only jewelry was a cultured pearl and diamond pendant gift of the groom.

The matron of honor, Mrs Marion McMillan, of Chesterville wore a full-length gown of jade green heather faille with long matching duster. Her headpiece and accessories were the same color. She carried a cascade of shaded yellow bronze chrysanthemums.

Beryl Dingwall, of Ottawa, was best man and the ushers were Lynn Rombough of Finch, brother of the groom, and Gary Roberts of Brockville, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held in the church hall following the ceremony.

The bride's mother chose a dusty rose ensemble with winesap colored accessories and corsage of white carnations with a touch of winesap.

The bridegroom's mother chose a forest green suit dress with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow Talisman roses.

For her honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the bride donned an eggshell blue wool boucle suit and matching taupe accessories, lizgator shoes and bag and a corsage of bronze and yellow Talisman roses. Upon their return the couple will live in Ottawa.

The bride is a graduate of Ottawa Civic Hospital, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Bonde Barber Schools.

Out of town guests were from Cornwall, Brockville, U.S.A., Ottawa, Finch, Hamilton, South Mountain, Morrisburg, Kingston and Williamsburg.

THE BIBLE TODAY..

One thousand Gospels are being supplied free by the Bible Society each week in Saigon for free distribution in a new program called "New Life Hamlets." Each week, relief food is supplied to two different hamlets, and a Scripture portion is given with each bag of food.

The Bible Society Secretary, the Rev. Edward Cline, a Canadian, accompanies the official in charge of the programs and writes "I have an opportunity to explain to the crowd of several hundred people that the book is part of the Bible, and briefly introduce the book. Later, as small groups are gathered around gossiping, I take the opportunity to open the Gospels and briefly explain the message."

The demand for Scriptures in Vietnam continues to increase. Distribution in the last quarter of 1965 totaled more than that of the previous months of the year. Circulation for the first six months of 1966 shows consistent increases.

Despite all the difficulties, the colporteurs are continuing faithfully in their work. Because of the tension under which the people are living, there is reported to be a greater openness to the Gospel than ever before.

Wililam A. Carr

William A. Carr died on Sunday, Sept. 18, 1966 in his 86th year.

Born in Grantley, Ontario, the son of Alexander Carr and his wife Eliza McMartin. On Feb. 5, 1908 he married Carrie B. Merkley of Williamsburg. Left to mourn his loss are his wife, 3 sons and 1 daughter, Dwain of Brantford, Emerson of Williamsburg, Francis of Ottawa and Audrey (Mrs J. W. Moke) of Iroquois. One son Ralph died in 1922.

The body rested at Fairburn Funeral Home, Williamsburg. Funeral services were conducted in Williamsburg United Church on Wednesday, Sept. 21 at 2 p.m. by his pastor Rev. D. L. Gordon, assisted by Rev. J. J Hibbs of Iroquois Burial was at Grantley Cemetery. Pall bearers were all neighbours, Aden Casselman, C. Casselman, Fernely Johnstone, Roy Cassel, Ben Bowman and George Babcock.

Floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Friends and relatives attended from New York City, Ithica, N.Y., Ottawa. Brockville, Cornwall and surrounding district.

The Grumbler

E. B. McMillan, of Chesterville, has a word of encouragement for young wives:

He sat at the dinner table
With a discontented frown,
The potatoes and steak were underdone,
The buns were baked too brown.

The pie too sour, the pudding too sweet,
The roast was much too fat;
The soup so greasy, and salt—
It's hardly fit for a cat!

I wish I could get the pies and cakes
I've seen my mother make;
It would do you good
Just to look at her cake.

Said the smiling wife "I'll improve with age,
Just now I'm but a beginner,
But your mother has come to visit us
And today she cooked the dinner!"

TIP OFF FARMERS

Alberta farmers are now getting advice on how to use and improve their land from the Soils Division of the provincial Agriculture Department. After a few years the soil-testing service expects to have an inventory of some of the province's soil problems.

Avonmore Women's Institute hold meeting at McElheran home

Mrs Clifford McElheran was hostess for the September meeting of Avonmore Women's Institute, attended by 13 members and four visitors. Mrs Alex Armour, the president, was in the chair, assisted by Mrs Maurice Martell, secretary.

Members accepted an invitation to attend a Grandmother's Day meeting, sponsored by the Newington Branch, on Thursday, September 29th.

Members answered roll call in a novel fashion by displaying hats of their own design fashioned out of kitchen utensils.

Mrs Alex Armour reviewed a book, "Discovery of the Northwest Territories," published recently by the Federation of Women's Institutes of Ontario. The story in part is that of the organization of Women's Institutes in the remote areas of Northern Canada.

Mrs E. L. Filion was appointed voting delegate to the Ottawa Area Convention to be held in the Chateau Laurier Hotel, Ottawa, October 19 and 20. The local branch is donating an article which will be sold at a bazaar being held as part of the Ottawa convention.

Members agreed to cater to a 50th wedding anniversary dinner in early November.

The president read an interesting letter from ister Georgette Theoret, a district native, now serving as a nnursing sister in Basutoland, in Southern Africa. In the letter Sister Theoret gave a graphic picture of living conditions in that part of the world. The members felt that living standards there are on a very low level.

Mrs Stanley Wert conducted an interesting contest, the winner of which was Mrs Alex Armour.

To very special presentations highlighted the meeting. The first was the gift of a corsage and a potted chrysanthemum to Mrs Grant Tinkess who recently observed her 50th wedding anniversary. The presentation of a beautiful cup and saucer, bearing the W.I. crest, was made to Mrs D. P. Shaw on the occasion of her 64th wedding anniversary.

Mrs Tinkess and Mrs Shaw have been active in the local branch for many years.

Assisting in the presentations were Mrs Armour and Mrs Clifford McElheran. The ladies were greeted with "For They are Jolly Good Fellows."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Isaac Goodman on Thursday evening, October 20. Guest speaker will be Mrs Lawrence Steele, Newington, district president. Mrs E. L. Filion will be social convener. Hostesses will include Mrs Filion, Mrs D. P. Shaw, Mrs Stanley Wert and Miss Jean MacMillan.

EVERGREENS DROP NEEDLES

The needles on your evergreens will show a small degre of brown discoloration on the inner branches during the fall months. A dropping of some needles will also occur. Horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food advise that this is a natural process, and that there is no cause for alarm.

Evergreen (coniferous) plants produce new needles annually, but unlike desiduous plants, do not shed all the foliage in the fall. Only a small number of the needles will drop and these will be the older needles of the plant.

The fallen needles should be raked off lawns and flowerbeds. The needles are acidic and their presence will be a deterrent to the growth of grass and many flowers. Some plants, such as rhodendrons, blueberries and azaleas do prefer an acid soil. Needles can be used beneficially as a mulch on these plants.

DEORATING TIPS FOR THE SMALL BUDGET

If you want to decorate that bedroom and still keep within a limited budget, here are a few suggestions:

Select the bedspread first—and get something bright, brave and colourful. If you get one full-size spread and one twin-size spread in the same pattern, you will have ample material for two matching cafe curtains and decorating accessories.

Convert that innocuous lampshade into a matching accessory by covering it with a piece of the same bedspread material. Cut to size and staple on.

Make a slip-cover for your headboard — if your bed has an old-fashioned square type. It's smart to use either the same fabric as your bedspread or a contrasting colour.

Use a stapler to cover that battered old wastebasket—with fabric left over from your headboard.

You will have enough bedspread material left to put a scarf on the dresser top. Then you can straighten up the pillow and stow away your belongings.

Clean leather belts by washing with mild suds and rinsing with a wet cloth. Dry well and rub lightly with wax polish.

The longer stains stay in fabircs, the harder they are to remove.

Henderson - Barkley

On Saturday, September 17th, 1966, a pretty wedding took place in Dunbar Presbyterian Church when Betty Mildred Barkley, daughter of Mr and Mrs Willis Barkley, RR 2, Williamsburg, became the bride of Thomas Frederick Henderson, son of Mr and Mrs Fred Henderson, Chesterville. Rev. A. D. Sutherland performed the ceremony. The church was decorated for the occasion with bouquets of white mums and yellow gladiolis.

The wedding music was played by Mrs Arthur Thom and the soloist was Miss Josie Dikschei.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's gown was embossed white peau de soie, floor length, empire waist line and lace top, floor length train of wihte lace and a shoulder length veil. Her carried a bouquet of white mums and red roses.

Miss Muriel Barkley was maid of honor. She was gowned in pink embossed peau de soie with empire waist line. She carried a star of baby mums and shasta daies. The bridesmaids, Miss Gloria Henderson and Miss Elaine Barkley wore gowns of blue embossed peau de soie with matching flowers.

Mr James Hess of Chesterville, acted as best man. The ushers were Mr Ray Barkley, Williamsburg and Mr Kenneth Henderson of Port Hope.

The bride's mother's gown was of blue flowered arnel with black accessories with a corsage of white mums.

The groom's mother wore blue wool with beige and brown accessories. Her flowers were yellow mums.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Pioneer Hotel in Williamsburg.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls the bride chose a pink eyelet lace shift with pink linen coat and wore black accessories.

Out-of-town guests were from: Morrisburg, Ottawa, Cornwall Port Hope, London, Oakville, Ingleside, Brockville, Rockton, and surrounding district.

Mr and Mrs Henderson on their return will reside in Dunbar.

Mountain family declared winners in Centennial competition

Mr and Mrs Hugh Blaine and family, R.R. 2, Mountain, have been declared winners of the Dundas County Farmstead Improvement Centennial project.

The objective of this competition was to provide a Centennial project in which rural people would pernsonally become involved and to encourage a clean-up dress-up and paint-up campaign in preparation for Canada's Centennial.

Forty-two entrants in Dundas County completed the requirements of the competition which was started in the Fall of 1965.

The official judge visited the farms in October of 1965 and again in September of 1966.

On the basis of these two visits, each farmstead was scored and awarded points for improvements made over the one year period.

The County winner will now compete in the Provincial contest with other County winners and eventually a Provincial Champion will be declared.

The Dundas contest was organized under the sponsorship of the Dundas District Women's Institute and a special evening to honour all participants will be held in November.

Mrs Gauthier leaves her husband and three daughters: Mrs Victor Moss (Rose), Chesterville; Mrs Armand Patenaude (Irene), Winchester; Mrs Andre Bedard (Florence), Montreal. Alice, Mrs Emmanuel Cayer, of Winchester, predeceased her.

One sister, Mrs Rose Paquette, Embrun, and three brothers, Camille Briere, of Cheneville, Alexandre Briere of Cornwall and Emilien Briere of Crysler also survive. She is survived by 13 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Mr and Mrs Gauthier have lived on a farm in Crysler and Winchester, and about a year ago they moved to the village.

Requiem mass was celebrated in Holy Rosary Church at Crysler at 10 a.m. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

LOADS OF CARDS

A British greeting card firm has received an order for 22,000 cards from Ascension Island in the South Atlantic. The island has a permanent population of 50 and a temporary crew at the radio station.

Loss $1,300 in collision

A Northfield Station woman escaped serious injury in a two-car collision on Brookdale Avenue, Cornwall, which caused over $1,3000 damage to the cars and a roadside safety fence, recently.

Mrs Eileen Arbuthnot was the driver of a car which collided with a car driven by Jacqueline Servais of 114 Alice St., as Miss Servais backed onto the highway from a restaurant, police said.

Mrs Arbuthnot lost control of her car in the collision and swerved across the pavement colliding with guard rails on the west side of Brookdale Avenue, police said.

Mrs Arbuthnot travelling south at the time, received slight injuries to her face and knees but did not require medical attention. Miss Servais, 17, was uninjured in the collision.

The accident which occurred about 3:15 p.m. near the intersection of Brookdale and Eleventh Street, caused an estimated $800 damage to the Arbuthnot auto and $500 to the Servais car.

Mrs A. Gauthier

Mrs Arsene Gauthier, 65, born Delvina Briere, died at her home, Crysler, after a long illness, on September 27.

Century farm signs now being delivered

Junior Farmers across Ontario are starting to deliver Century Farm signs this week to people whose farm has been owned by the same family for the past 100 years or more.

A total of 5,139 farmers in 44 counties and districts are receiving this special recognition through a Centennial Project conducted by the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario. These signs were distributed to the Provincial Directors from the respective counties and districts at a meeting of the Association in Listowel on September 24th. The signs are now being distributed to local Junior Farmer Clubs for delivery to the Century Farm owners in their area who applied for this recognition.

The project to encourage recognition of Century Farms has been tremendously successful but there is ttill time to take part in it. Owners of posibble Century Farms who have not yet applied for a sign may still do so by contacting the Provincial Junior Farmer Director for their county or district. However, due to the cost involved in preparing extra signs at this point, it will be necessary to charge the applicant the full purchase price of $5 each.

PROTECTION FOR ROSES DURING WINTER MONTHS

The crisp days of autumn indicate to home gardeners that it's time again to begin preparations for winter rose protection. Horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food offer several suggestions on the best means of providing the necessary protection for the cold months ahead.

In nearly all sections of Ontario, some type of rose protection is necessary to prevent loss during winter. The degree of protection required will vary in different localities, depending on temperature extremes, wind intensity and snowfall. Even within the individual garden, some roses may require more protection than others if they are situated in an exposed location.

One common method is "banking" the rose bushes. Draw the soil around the bases of the plants to a height of several inches. It is advisiable to acquire extra soil for this procedure, as drawing soil from the area around the plants may leave exposed roots. After the ground is frozen, is is beneficial to add a covering layer of strawy manure or leaves. Evergreen boughs placed over the covering will help to trap snow which gives excellent natural protection.

Climbing roses need winter protection. A suggested method is to remove the climbers from the supports and tie the canes together. Lay them on the grounl and attach the end to a stake. Cover the plants entirely with soil and add evergreen boughs As an alternative, the canes may be left attached to the supports, and wrapped in burlap and straw or waterproof paper.

For additional information on rose care, Publication 328, Hints on Rose Growing, may be obtained upon request from the Information Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 2, Ontario.

FIND ROMAN AMPHITHEATRE

A Roman amphitheatre 213 feet across has been discovered at Sebaste.

Fawzy Zayyadin, expert at the Jordanian Antiquities Department, said a large section of the Sebaste walls, built during the second iron age in the ninth century B.C., have also been unearthed.

Excavations in the city led to the discovery of a road just over a half-mile long and 46 feet wide flanked by columns 14 feet high and two-storey stores.

Other finds included gold pieces, Roman pottery, and the grave of a child lined with lead.

There are three main types of cultivated barley.

Mr, Mrs Medi Godard honoured on Silver Anniversary

A large crowd of relatives and friends gathered at the Legion Hall, Chesterville, to honour Mr and Mrs Medi Godard on the occasion of their 25th Wedding Anniversary.

They were married in Our Lady of the Holy Rosary Church at Crysler, on Saturday, September 27, 1941, by Rev. J. H. Bougie. Mrs Godard is the former Zeta McMahon of Crysler. They have five children, Robert, Windsor; Leonard, Rockcliffe, Carol Ann, Cornwall and Judy and Cheryl at home. They also have three grandchildren Kevin, Kirk and Kimberly Ann of Windsor.

The evening was enjoyed by dancing to the Starlight Orchestra of Ottawa. At midnight, Mr and Mrs Godard were called to the platform and an address was read by Jack Doering.

A well filled purse and many beautiful gifts were presented to the couple.

Mrs Godard thanked everyone for the lovely evening, gifts and purse. Mr Godard also thanked everyone. A delicious lunch was served by family and friends.

Relatives and friends were present from Detroit, Windsor, Timmins, Aylmer, Ottawa, Montreal, Cornwall, Finch, Newington, Crysler and Morewood.

Upon returning home a lovely corner chesterfield and coffee table were presetned to them from their children.

Release new book by Avonmore author

Miss B. J. Banfill, a local resident for a number of years, has just received word that her third literary production, entitled "With the Indians of the Pacific", has been released. It is being published by William Kimber Ltd. of London, England, and will be distributed in Canada by Ryerson Press.

Just one year ago at this time Miss Banfill's second book, Nurse of the Islands, came off the presses. In 1952 her popular Labrador Nurse, which has been published in a number of editions and languages was published.

Miss Banfill's latest venture relates her experiences as she went to work on an Indian reserve in far Western Canada. She wanted to see for herself how these original inhabitants of Canada were living. For the government these proud legendary warriors of old have become enormous economic and social problem but to Nurse Banfill they became friends and counselors. Appointed to a residential school she had to nurse and tend not only the papooses but also the sick and aged on the whole reservation.

Disease was rampant; hygiene was almost non-existent and the difficulties placed in her path almost innumerable. She was to the indians, nurse, comforter, advisor, policeman and pupil. For she came to learn to understand and greatly admire the Indian way of life and to sit in silence to listen to the words of their chieftians. Gruelling as her task was in so many ways she was rewarded by the love of the children and the appreciation and friendship given to her by their parents. She took part in their social life and learned much of their history and culture, coming to understand why they were so reluctant to see their own heritage swamped and forgotten by integration into white society.

Miss Manfill's latest book promises to be received with the same enthusiasm that greeted her earlier books.

Miss Banfill has indicated that the book will be readily available at local outlets within a very few weeks.

Mrs Arnott Conley and Darlene, Brockville, were Sunday visitors at the Lattimore home.

Mrs Gracie Humphrey, Kemptville, spent a couple of days last week visiting her sister Mrs G. Norton.

Mr and Mrs Hubert Beach and family, Oxford Mills, were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr and Mrs Hubert Robinson.

Montreal artist Louis Muhlstock says he has become "father" of a duckling because of its ducklike psychology. After helping the duckling out of its egg his presence became imprinted on its brain and the tiny bird now follows him everywhere.

O.P.P. Report

O.P.P. officers in Dun. County last week patrolled 9389 miles of highway and secondary roads in a total of 632 duty hours. As a result 34 traffic charges were laid and 17 warnings issued. Six property damage and 1 personal injury accidents were reported and investigated. Minor injuries were suffered by 3 persons.

O.P.P. personnel were called in from Ottawa, Rockland and Long Sault detachments to assist in the search for George Frederick Babcock, age 85, who is missing from his home near Boucks Hill. Also used in this search was the O.P.P. aircraft and the police dog Mr Babcock to this date has not been found. At the time of his disappearance, Mr Babcock was accompanied by a small black dog, which resembles a spaniel Anyone in this area who should see a dog fitting that description is asked to call your nearest O.P.P. detachment.

Five thefts which were reported last week are presently under investigation. Officers also answered calls to one disturbance and 24 others arising from different circumstances. Fourteen hours spent in the courts with 110 convictions registered.

One residence was searched for liquor kept for illegal sale and 1 charge was preferred under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

A tip for the Parent and Teenager — Did you know that the law requires all persons carrying a firearm to be the holder of a valid gun licence. The minimum age to obtain a licence is 15 years. A firearm includes — air rifle, pellet gun, bow and arrow and crossbow.

Tips for the Driver — The Highway Traffic Act states — When on a highway at any time when lighted lamps are required to be displayed on vehicles, the driver of a motor vehicle equipped with multiple beam headlamps shall use the lower or passing beam when —

(a) approaching an uncoming vehicle within 500 feet; or

(b) following another vehicle within 200 feet, except in the act of overtaking or passing.

Con. Luty addresses local W.I.

After a recess of two months, the Chesterville W. I. resumed it's meetings on Monday evening with a delicious pot-luck supper in the community hall. About thirty members and friends were present.

Mrs A. Jarvis, vice-president, presided for the business portion of the meeting, assisted by Mrs D. McElharan. A parting gift is to be sent to Mrs G. Gilbert, who has left for her new home in Toronto.

During the month of Sept., a Training School for leaders was held in Winchester. The topic "Vegetables with a Flair." Mrs A. Jarvis and Mrs D. McElheran were the representatives from the local branch.

The National Convention of the Women's Institute will be held in Guelph in June of Centennial Year. The Area Convention is to be held in Ottawa, Oct 19 and 20. Delegates to attend were appointed. It was announced there will be a Tea and Sale at Glen-Stor-Dun Home on October 12th.

The treasurer's report was given, as was the card secretary's.

Mrs Harold W. Merkley, as convenor of Public Relations, had as her guest Mr Con. Luty of CN-CP telecommunications sales department. The very first telegram was transmitted in 1846 from Toronto to London. Mr Luty explained what happens when we send a telegram and the number of people involved.

The CP-CN operates almost three million circuit miles, exclusive of its new Trans-Continental Microwave System.

Mrs Allison Graham thanked Mr Luty for his most informative address.

The October meeting will be held in the Institute room with Mrs Edwin Forward and Mrs G. Smith as convenors.

Carrie D. Barkley

Mrs Carrie D. Barkley, of RR2, Chesterville, passed away September 27. In poor health for the past two years, she had been a patient in hospital for a short time. She was 93 years of age.

Born at Stittsville, Ont., September 6, 1873, she was the daughter of the late Robert Johnston and his wife, Elizabeth Estey. She married Wesley G. Barkley at Richmond on May 27, 1891. Her husband predeceased her.

Surviving relatives include two sons, Harvey E., with whom she resided, and Colborne, North Syracuse; three daughters, Mrs Arnott Johnston (Ida) Cazenovia, N.Y.; Mrs Frank Nesbitt (Luella), Winchester Springs, and Mrs Donald Cross (Helen), of Chesterval; several grandchildren, great grandchildren and great great grandchildren. Two daughters and one son predeceased her.

Mrs Barkley was a member of the United Church.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev D. L. Gordon at Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville, on September 29, at 2 p.m. Interment followed in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Lloyd Merkley, Gerald Styles, Lyle Munro, Harold Munro, Carl Merkley and Edwin Munro.

Thomas Cooke, 59, claimed a Chichester, Eng., with 1,007 lbs. world potato growing record at weight from six plants. George Brooke set the previous record last week by taking 758 lbs. from six seed potatoes.

Osnabruck Twp. Citizen's Centennial Committee hold sixth meeting

On Sept. 30 at 8.30 p.m., 1966, the sixth meeting of the Township of Osnabruck Citizen's Centennial Committee was held in the Township Hall, Osnabruck, Centre, with co-chairman, Miss F. Laflamme, presiding.

The following members were present: Mrs F. Laflamme, Mrs H. Murdock, Mrs F. Grant, Mrs J. Shultz, Mrs D. Flintoff and J. O. Nugent.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted on a motion by Miss F. Laflamme and Mrs D. Flintoff.

Co-chairman, Miss F. Laflamme and her chosen committee reported having sold 1000 Centennial Pins and she turned over to the treasurer $46.65 as returns or remainder after deducting $58.57 to purchase a second thousand lot.

Mrs D. Flintoff reported a successful euchre party held on Sept. 29th, 1966 at Ingleside and she turned into the treasurer $31.75 as net proceeds. She also turned in $6.34 as net proceeds from the Copper Carnival held at the same time.

On a motion by Mrs F. Grant and Mrs H. Murdock it was decided that a committee from Ingleside be set up to begin planning for Old Home Week in July. Each member of this committee for planning would be asked to name, if possible, five people to invite to a special meeting in Ingleside on Friday, Oct. 14, 1966.

On a motion by Mrs J. Shultz and Mrs D. Flintoff the existing Committe was authorized to organize another euchre party to be held on Wednesday evening, October 19, 1966 in the Anglican Church hall at Ingleside.

The secretary-treasurer was instructed to contact Rev. H. LaPierre of Ingleside and thank him for his generosity and benevolence in granting the use of his church hall to the Centennial Committee for the purpose of holding a Euchre party and Copper Carnival.

It was decided to hold the next Centennial Committee meeting on Oct. 21, 1966. The meeting adjourned on a motion of Mrs D. Flintoff.

Mrs Mary Servage

Mrs Mary Servage, wife of the late Morris Servage, was laid to rest in the Catholic Cemetery last week. She was 92. Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Church by her nephew, the Rev. Father Rushman, of Guelph. Pall bearers were four nephews and two grandchildren: Vincent Moriarty, Syracuse, N.Y., Louis Moriarty, Chesterville, Albert Norton, Potsdam, N.Y., Bernard Beehler, Walter Beehler, Crysler and Thomas McCadden, Chesterville.

Mrs Servage is survived by one son, William at home and three daughters. They are Mrs Wm. Moriarty (Nellie), Chesterville; Mrs L. Lisson (Teresa), Syracuse N.Y. and Mrs Leonard Curran (Annie), Ottawa.

The esteem in which the late Mrs Servage was held was demonstrated by the large number of mass cards, floral offerings and cards received. Friends from a distance included those from Kingston, Canton, N.Y., Syracuse, N.Y., Merrickville, Potsdam, N.Y., Cornwall, Lemieux, Ottawa and Ingleside

High School news

Activities are well under way at the big school. On Friday, September 23, the first dance of the new school year was held in the auditorium, the music being provided by "The 5th Dimension." Part way through the evening, the new executive of the Student's Council was introduced. They are: President, Dean Cross; 1st vice president, Elaine Clarke; 2nd vice president, Susan Boyd; secretary, Bonnie Boyd; treasurer, Betty Hutt.

On Wednesday, September 28, a meeting of mathematics teachers of the area was held at N.D.D.H.S. Speaker for the occasion was Dr Bush of Queen's University who spoke on logic in Grade 13 mathematics. A discussion period was conducted later, with 37 teachers participating.

Baseballs flew last Saturday as N.D.D.H.S. teams played in a tournament at Kemptville. Both the girls' and boys' teams won their first games but lost by a small margin in their next attempts.

Football fever swept through North Dundas this past week as the fabulous Hawks prepared for their first home game of the season against the squad from Osgoode Township High School. On Wednesday, a pep rally conducted by members of the Athletic Association, was held in the gymnasium Friday was the day of the game, and this year's Football Queen, Janie Casselman of Chesterville, was crowned and started things off with the kick-off. After a touchdown by quarterback Bill das emerged with a 6-0 victory on a touchdown by suarterback Bill Gloss. Following the game, a sock hop was held in the gym. Records provided the music, and a swinging time was had by everyone.

The wheels of industry are already in motion for the production of this year's year-book — Unitas '67. Subscriptions were taken last week by the class representatives for the Centennial edition which promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Top athletes trained for the N.D.D.H.S. track meet held Wednesday, October 5. The big E.O.S.S.A. meet will follow in one week.

Almost every day now, students are hitting the books in preparation for the October tests, the results of which will be sent home to Mother and Father and which will comprise a large part of the student's term mark for the first semester. Happy studying!

PROTECT YOUR JUNIPERS FROM WEBWORM DAMAGE

The juniper webworm is a damaging pest to many ornamental junipers in Ontario. Entomologists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food advise gardeners to inspect their plants carefully for infestation during the fall months. Chemical control measures should be taken if the pest is present.

The webworm is in the larva stage during the fall and is recognized by the brown body (one-half inch in length) with longitudinal, reddish-brown stripes. While the pest feeds on juniper foliage it forms a web on the surrounding needles and twigs. The attacked areas of the plants will often become discolored and die.

Fall treatment with preparations containing DDT or lead arsenate should provide satisfactory control of the insect. Mixtures of malathion and methoxychlor are also effective. Malathion should be aplied when temperatures are high. Do not use malathion on the juniper variety "canaerti". If a spray is used, apply directly into the webed areas. A heavy dusting with 5% DDT has provided satisfactory results. Read and follow the manufacturer's directions on the label carefully for rates of application to ensure that the best results are obtained.

PIGS BENEFIT BY TRACE MINERALS

Trace minerals, whether fed by way of a special premix or trace mineral salt, again proved definitely profitable in a swine feeding experiment at the University of Nebraska.

Using 160 growing-finishing pigs on pasture and fed with and without trace minerals, these pigs made larger and cheaper gains on trace minerals.

Trace minerals increased the cost of the ration mixture by 10c per thousand pounds, but considering the performance of the pigs, each 10c invested returned $3.50 — a handsome profit indeed, comparing favourably with the finest feed additives in use.

Dr E. R. Peo, swine nutritionist of the University, suggested amounts of trace mineral elements as guides in the evaluation of trace mineral salt for swine as follows:

	Per cent in salt
Iodine	0.004
Manganese	0.8
Copper	0.2
Iron	2.0
Zinc	2.0

Salt with such amounts of trace minerals should be mixed in the amount of ten pounds per ton of complete hog feed, which therefore is the approved one-half per cent salt. A special trace mineral premix according to Dr Peo would have ten times the amount of each of the elements and would be mixed with the feed at the rate of only one pound per ton of complete hog feed, therefore in the amount of one-tenth the amount of TM salt, to supply the same amount of the respective trace elements, with salt on the side.

WHY LEAVES TURN COLOR

The landscape of Ontario will soon display the beauty of autumn as the leaves of deciduous trees take on the brilliant hues only nature can provide. Have you ever wondered how and why fall leaf coloration occurs?

Horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food explain that chlorphyll is present in the leaves as part of the plant food production process. The chlorphyll pigment is dominant over others present in the leaves and imparts the green color to the foliage. As the days cool and shorten, food production slows down and the amount of chlorphyll diminishes. The yellow pigments, carotene and xanthophyll, now become apparent and the leaves turn yellow. Another pigment, anthocyanin, imparts the reds and scarlets to the leaves. An accumulation of sugars and tannins in the leaf is required to activate this pigment. As a result, many of the maples and oaks of Ontario turn red.

Weather plays an important part in the production of red coloring. Warm sunny days followed by cool nights are needed to produce the most brilliant color display. Since fall coloring is dependent on weather conditions, and fall temperatures vary from year to year, the autumn spectacle will be more brilliant in some years than others.

Few drivers realize it, but liability insurance policies have a clause prohibiting use of the vehicle while the driver is impaired by drugs or alcohol. The Ontario Safety League points out that a car owner, even though he carries full insurance, may become personally liable for damages awarded as a result of an accident while the driver was intoxicated.

1967 BEAUMONT

Styling changes emphasize the lean, clean contemporary lines of popular Beaumont for 1967 exemplified by the Custom sport coupe (above). Fresly-styled features include new hood and fenders, rear panels, and new grille and headlights exclusive to Beaumont. Front and rear bumpers have also undergone styling changes. Available in two series—Beaumont and Custom—and in nine models, Meaumont is available with many options and accessories.

Dixon W.I. entertains neighbouring W.I.'s

The Dixon W. I. entertained members of Osnabrcck Centre and Avonmore branches at their grandmother's meeting held at North Lunenburg hall.

Mrs Donald Sanderson, vice-president, opened the meeting by singing the Ode and repeating the Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer.

Roll call was answered by "My grandmother's maiden name."

The minutes were read by the secretary-treasurer. Mrs Leo LeBlanc is a delegate to the area convention, alternate delegate is Mrs Arthur Shaver.

It was reported a successful bake sale had been held at Long Sault recently.

A short course on leather will be held at the home of Mrs Fred Rupert in November.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Leo LeBlanc with Mrs J. Hume as convenor.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs Donald Sanderson.

Convenors of the meeting were Mrs Thorold Shaver and Mrs Stella Warner. A reading "Her hat was the costliest roof over grandma's head" was given by Mrs Howard Loynachan. A needle threading contest was won by Mrs Clarence Countryman.

Mrs Fred Rupert read "Grandma's Reminiscence." Mrs Stella Warner received a prize for the grandmother with the most sisters and brother. Mrs Arthur Shaver read "Heed if you're growing Old" and "Code for Retirement."

Mrs Ken Raymond was winner of a contest. Reading "Oud Pioneers" was given by Mrs George Shaver. A poem "The Old Wooden Rocker" was read by Mrs Vera Armstrong. A jumbled contest was won by Mrs Bruce Stuart. Miss Ruth McGill was winner of the door prize.

Mrs Sanderson thanked the convenors for their program.

The meeting closed by singing "God Save The Queen."

Mrs Filion of Avonmore W. I. on behalf of all present thanked the Dixon W. I. for their hospitality.

CLEANING ALUMINUM

Wash with soap or detergent suds to clean aluminum window frames and other home surfaces. It is best to rub in the direction of the finished grain, and to take special care with matte-finished aluminum which has no grain.

Use a bristle brush to apply the suds on patterned surfaces. After rinsing, wipe dry with a clean cloth.

EVERYBODY EATS

TRY THESE . . . .

By Helen Graham

START WITH CORNED BEEF

A FEW CANS OF CORNED BEEF on your emergency shelf can get you out of a tight conrer when unexpected company arrives.

Creamed Corned Beef

2 tbsps. butter
2 tbsps. flour
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 large can evaporated milk
1 can (12 oz.) corned beef, diced
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup diced green pepper
2 tbsps. chopped pimiento (optional)
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Melt butter in top of double boiler over low heat. Add flour, salt and pepper. Stir until smooth. Slowly add milk. Place over boiling water. Cook until thickened and smooth (about 10 minutes), stirring constantly. Add corned beef, celery, green pepper, pimiento and hard-cooked eggs. Mix well. Continue cooking over hot water about 3 minutes longer. Serve at once over toast or cooked rice or in patty shells.

Corned Beef Pie

1 can corned beef hash
½ c. catsup
1 egg
1 can of lima beans or one pkg. of frozen lima beans

Combine corned beef hash, catsup and slightly beaten egg. Press onto bottom and sides of pie plate. Bake in moderate oven 30 minutes. Add cooked or heated lima beans. Top with cheese sauce.

Cheese Sauce

1 c. milk
2 tbsps. flour
2 tbsps. butter
1 c. grated cheese
½ tsp. salt

Melt butter in top of double boiler; blend in flour and salt. Slowly add milk. Cook, stirring to prevent lumping, until thick. Add cheese.

Grilled Corned-Beef Sandwiches

Serve with small fruit salad for a complete luncheon or supper dish. This recipe makes six sandwiches.

12 slices brown or white bread
½ c. mayonnaise
6 slices Swiss cheese
6 tbsps. drained sauerkraut
1 can sliced corned-beef

Spread 6 slices bread with mayonnaise. Top each slice with cheese, 1 tbsp. sauerkraut, corned-beef and second slice of bread. Butter top and bottom of sandwich and grill on both sides under broiler in oven or on sandwich maker till cheese is melted.

Corned-Beef Roll

Serve with mustard and horseradish.

1 12-oz. can corned-beef, broken up
2 cups diced cooked potatoes
1 slightly beaten egg
¼ cup milk
2 tbsps. chopped onion
2 cups pkgd. biscuit mix
2/3 cup milk
½ cup dairy sour cream
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Combine corned-beef, potatoes, egg, the ¼ cup milk, and the chopped onion. Combine biscuit mix and the 2/3 cup milk; knead 5 to 10 strokes on lightly floured surface. Roll out to a 12-inch square. Spread corned-beef mixture on dough, to within ½ inch of edges. Starting at one side, roll up jellyroll fashion, sealing edges together. Place, seam side down, on greased baking sheet. Cut slits in top of the roll for steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for about 25 minutes. Cover lightly with foil for last few minutes if crust browns too quickly.

Kenneth E. Merkley

A rural mail driver for the past 16 years, Kenneth Eugene Merkley passed away suddenly on September 19. He was 61.

Born in Chesterville on July 10, 1905, he was the son of the late Angus Merkley and his wife, Chris Sorrel. He married Anne Windsor at Iroquois in 1943.

Mr Merkley was a Veteran.

Left to mourn are his wife, one son, Ronald; two brothers, Cecil, Massena, N.Y., and Alfred, Bowmanville; four sisters, Mrs Gordon Senn (Velma), Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Miss Beatrice Merkley, Cardinal; Mrs Chester Riddell (Margerite), Cardinal, and Mrs Arthur Strader (Min), Cardinal, as well as a number of nephews and nieces.

The funeral service was held at Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville, on Wednesday, September 21, conducted by Rev D. L. Gordon. Interment followed in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Don Servage, Arthur Ringrow, Graham Smith, Dwayne Munro, Ken Merkley and Stuart Allan.

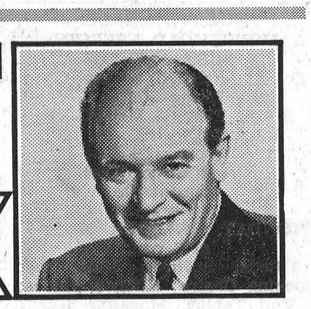
Centennial Report



1867 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

For a long time I have been making casual use of the term "birthday party" when talking about our Centennial of Confederation in 1967. Let me warn you: one must be careful!

I haven't heard from the Vikings of course but at least one member of every other race or cultural group which has had pre-Confederation roots in Canada has bent my ear on the subject of the true birth date of Canada. They include English, Scottish, Jewish, Irish, French and American Canadians. They were all here before 1867.

There was a Canada, the argument goes, before Confederation. The fact is there was more than one.

When in Newfoundland one also contends that John Cabot discovered Canada. In Quebec the view that Jacques Cartier did, draws considerable support. Nova Scotians and New Brunswickers remind us that Champlain came here before he visited Quebec. Canadian Indians, of course, can discount the first two claims.

Most disputes I have heard are good-natured ones, I am happy to say. It is only to a few that I need explain that the "birthday" celebrations next year are to mark the 100th anniversary of the Confederation that made Canada a federal state. (The period in history when Canada actually was "born" perhaps can only be discussed with any valid logic by geologists and archaeologists — separately of course.)

When that step was taken in 1867 to make Canada a single federal state one of the Fathers of Confederation said, "We are striving to do peacefully what Holland and Belgium, Austria and Hungary, Denmark and Germany, Russia and Poland, could only accomplish by armed force. Have we not great cause of thankfulness that we have found a better way? Can the pages of history find a parallel?"

In this world there have been a few other federal states formed, without war, since our Confederation of 1867. Some of the modern examples unfortunately have come apart again.

The birth of our Confederation was an event like no other in history. Confederation has continued successfully for 100 years and the "birthday" is worth celebrating, I'm sure.

the trees, but may be dangerous on the ground, says the Ontario Safety League. Bad skids can occur on curves made treacherous by wet leaves. Another danger exists in built-up areas where leaves are raked into mounds by the roadside. Playing children sometimes bury themselves in the heaps, not realizing that sometimes cars being parked, and backing delivery trucks, run their wheels over the mounds.

IN MEMORIAM

EZARD — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Charles Wesley Ezard, wno passed away October 3, 1956.
Ten years have passed so quickly,
Though still we cannot forget,
For in the hearts that loved him
His memory lingers yet.
Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife Maude, daughter and son-in-law Fern and Morley Warner. 3

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD—In loving memory of a dear aunt, Sara Beckstead, who passed away October 8, 1965.
God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.
Lloyd and Della.

In good weather, worn tires do not effect stopping ability as much as one might think. Smooth treads grip dry pavement nearly as well as good tires. But stopping ability with worn tires falls off badly on wet or icy surfaces. And the possibility of a dangerous blow-out becomes serious after tires are worn smooth. Give yourself the protection and ease of mind that come with good-condition tires. Good tires are good sense.
