MORE CATS

Sylvia Hall recently wrote about the weird habits of the cat family ... along with some of their owners.

As an avid animal lover, I would like to address this to the readers who may claim to love their UN-NEUTERED male cats. In delving, over the years, into the habits and lifestyles of male cats, I have come up with somewhat uncomfortable facts.

It seems when the male cat feels amorous, he can most likely be found wherever there is a female in heat. It seems all the males from the area are gathered at this one place to try, over a period of about three days (and nights) to win 'Madam's' favours. Unlike the young males of the human race, they sport their great feats ... walking the fence, strutting and whatever other actions could possibly turn the female "on". At the same time, the males fight with each other, with the possible idea that by process of eliminating his rivals, he could come up the winner. Hence the chewed off ears and other scars often seen on the male species. When the showing off and the fighting come to a

COUNCIL CORNER

Sheila Tremblay
Trustee S.D.G.
County Roman Catholic Schools

What is a Catholic Trustee?

In my view, he or she is part of a team dedicated to the education of the children entrusted to the Board, in accordance with the teachings of the Catholic Church.

The Board has the responsibility of formulating and adopting policies as well as monitoring the implementation of those policies by the administration. As individuals, we have the responsibility and duty to inform ourselves thoroughly on all issues, to express our opinions and once the vote has been taken, to stand by the decision of the majority. We are also bound to always keep in mind the cost of education and our duty to our ratepayers.

Very simple isn't it? In reality it is much more complex.

Increasingly we are taking on more and more responsibility.

Teachers find that, for many children, they are the sole source of learning about the Catholic faith. Family life programs are now obligatory in this province because so many children are not given sex education at home. Studies show that children, primarily girls, choose the same careers that were chosen 20 years ago, despite the fact that many of these positions are dead-end or soon to be obsolete. Hence Affirmative Action programs are instituted. Increase in child abuse and child neglect — thus psychologists become part of the system in order to help these children cope with their problems. At the same time, trustees are aware that, because of an aging population, the burden falls more and more on ratepayers who do not even have children in school.

In this trend the wish of our supporters?

Do we even have a choice?

The Mechanic

QUALIFICATIONS FOR AN AUTO MECHANIC

A qualified Auto Mechanic must be a mechanic, electrician, machinist, carpenter, blacksmith, sheet metal worker, welder, painter, partsman, chemist and metallurgist. To get out of many situations he must be a boxer, wrestler, weight lifter, and an acrobat.

He must be a salesman, public relations man and mechanical engineer. He must be an expert on lawnmowers, washing machines, motorboats, horse trailers, dogs and by the way, cars too.

He must be able to receive orders from employers, service managers, service salesmen, partsmen, salesmen and customers. He must be able to withstand infinite amounts of abusive language. And he must be able to do all this without becoming irritated or confused.

He must be an expert at driving cars without brakes. He must have a way with children, dogs, irritable customers and old maids.

He must be able to read a service manual in any language, in any position and in any condition.

He must know how to maintain an up-to-date list of prospects.

He must be able to recall, without hesitation, what he was doing at any point during the last 4 years. He must know what tool to use, and where it went when he turned his back.

He must be able to work a 12 hour day in the winter with wet feet, thrive on two meals a day in busy season, and after all that, appear fresh the next morning.

He must be able to inhale infinite amounts of carbon monoxide, dust and a variety of other noxious fumes without sneezing or getting sick, and be able to work outside all day and half the night in 40 degree below or 100 degree above temperatures.

Where else could you find a job with so much challenge? Where else could life be so interesting? After all where could you possibly get such a wide education plus the chance to earn as you learn.

YOUR SUPPORT IS NEEDED

standstill, the feline will choose her mate and the affair is underway.

As the years go by, the adult male cat has more battle scars, and to the female, he is hardly the handsome "hunk" that she is likely to choose as her suitor. Now that our macho-buddy is being rejected, even though he still goes through the 3 day and nights of competing, it does not lessen his amorous intentions . . . thus he becomes frustrated and angry. This frustration and anger is taken out on any other male cat that he thinks might be his competition . . . or even responsible for his feeling so miserable.

There are cat owners who do not wish their male cat to go through this agony and have them neutered.

The sad part for both owner and the neutered male is that the animal can be ripped apart for just existing.

Pet owners are paying bills over and above the initial operation fee on their animals to doctor them up after they have been attacked.

If you have an UNNEUTERED male adult cat . . . please give some thought to the problems you are inflicting on "him", on me and on other people who love the "critters".

People with a hearing problem are missing a lot.

If you have a hearing loss, you're missing more than words and sounds . . . you're missing some of life itself.
And you probably don't have to. Up to 90% of all hearing problems can be corrected. But you should have professional advice.
If it's medical, we'll refer you to a qualified physician. If it can be corrected with a hearing aid, we offer a comprehensive range of services. Included are selecting and fitting an aid precisely suited to your needs . . . helping you become accustomed to using it . . . better listening techniques . . . and adjustments and maintenance . . . and our guarantee of absolute satisfaction.
Call for an appointment today.
We don't want you to miss out any more life.

"NOTES, QUOTES AND ANECDOTES"

NOTES: Word has it that the Rangers will receive Charlie Huddy late in February from the Oilers when Reijo Ruotsalainen returns from Switzerland and signs with Edmonton. The complicated Oilers-Rangers deal involving Don Jackson, Ruotsalainen, et. al. still has not been completed . . . Bruins players would not be unhappy if goalie Pat Riggin were traded tomorrow. The feeling inside Boston Garden is that Riggin is too much involved with himself and lacks team spirit. One Bruins source says that Steve Kasper came close to blows with Riggin last year "because of Riggin's attitude." Hartford hockey reporter Randy Smith is disgusted with his colleagues in Connecticut, as well as around the NHL, for their failure to give him support in his legal battle against Whalers coach Jack Evans. Smith was manhandled by Evans after a game late last season and won a "private" apology. Smith wants it to be public . . . The Chicago Blackhawks need a goaltender, but would they make a deal with fellow Norris Division g.m. Jimmy Devellano for Greg Stefan? Probably not.

RAY Stapley ON CARS

When the signal lights are engaged on my Mercury Monarch, the exterior lights and the pilot bulb on the dash glow, but they do not flash on and off every second or so. The signal lever engages and cancels smoothly. I installed a new flasher and cleaned the inside of the sockets and the metal part of the bulbs to provide a good ground. This was not the cure, so I replaced all the bulbs and checked to make sure that the sockets themselves were grounded. The battery is almost new, it is fully charged and the battery cables are clean and tight. What confuses me is the signals work fine when the headlights are turned off. Could you suggest a simple remedy for this trouble or should I look for an electrical specialist? - R. Little, Rexdale.

*A voltage drop in the wiring that supplies the current to the signal mechanism could be the cause.

Remove every wire and cable from the starting motor's solenoid switch (the other end of the battery's positive (+) cable is attached to this switch) and thoroughly clean away the corrosion that collects on these connections. This could be the cure, but, if not, have the signal system checked out by a qualified technician.

My 1975 Mercury has a 351 M engine. The car is a real gem except for rough idling which happens when stopped in traffic. When pulling away gently or vigorously, there is a good response and no hesitation. The problem persists after changing the spark plugs, plug wires, distributor cap, rotor, gas filter, PCV valve and the air cleaner element. I checked and there are no leaks in the vacuum hoses. I've read a lot of troubleshooting manuals that I got from the library, but they did not come up with a logical cause of this problem. May I have your advice? — T. Caruana, Weston

*Start with a compression test. If one or more cylinders are below the specified pressure, further probing could be a waste of time and money until this problem is correted.

If the compression is acceptable, a defective Exhaust Gas Recirculating (EGR) system can cause chronic rough idle and stalling. This vacuum-operated device is located at the base of the carburetor.

A maladjusted or otherwise faulty carburetor, loose or worn gasket at the base of the carburetor, or loose intake manifold are other possible causes.

Since checking through several manuals was not the answer, rather than replacing parts and hoping for the best, having the problem diagnosed and corrected by a tune-up specialist should correct the rough idle.

NORMAN WARNER REPORTS

During the past two weeks there has been ongoing debate in the House of Commons over the Bill introduced on November 7, 1986 regarding the Pharmaceutical Industry.

The Bill, in the form of amendments to the Patent Act has three principal objectives: to stimulate research and development in the pharmaceutical industry, to protect the interests of consumers, and to harmonize our patent regime with that of other industrialized countries.

Under the present law an innovative pharmaceutical company has no certainty about the period of protection it can expect for discovering or developing a new drug. Once an innovator has developed a successful product with a large market potential, it may see this product copied by a generic producer with no adequate compensation for the risk or magnitude of investment it has made to develop it.

The proposed Bill, by providing investors with patent protection for up to 10 years will result in a significant increase in research and development funding. It is estimated that there will be an additional 1.4 billion dollars spent by private industry on research over the next 10 years. More research will lead to new and better drugs, some 3,000 new job opportunities for our researchers and scientists, and ultimately better health for Canadians.

Our new Pharmaceutical Policy does not overlook the interests of consumers. This policy will not cause drug prices to rise. All generic drugs now on the market will remain on the market, with no price increase.

The introduction of generic drugs to the market tends to reduce over time, the cost of new drugs. Statistics show that generic drugs take an average of 11.5 years to be introduced in the absence of any patent protection. We will allow generic products to enter the market after 10 years or after 7 years if the generic product is manufactured in Canada.

The price for new drugs will continue to be determined by the same factors that presently control price in the market place. In addition, all existing and new innovative drugs will be subject to an immediate review by the Drug Price Review Board, to ensure fair priced drugs for Canadians. In cases of excessive prices the Board will have the power to revoke a patented products's period of protection.

The jobs and positive investment climate created as a result of this package will work for the benefit of all Canadians.

DROP-LEAF COMPUTER WORK TABLE PART II

By Larry Eisinger

Last week we cut out all the pieces necessary to build this drop-leaf computer desk from a single 4 x 8 foot sheet of APA grade trademarked plywood or Medium Density Overlay (MDO); this week we will assemble the pieces.

White glue and six penny nails driven through the plywood face and into the end grain of a connecting piece is the method used to assemble the desk. Note the six small blocks are nailed and glued to the lower corners of the sides A and B and the outer corner of pieces M and N. To do this job lay the panels flat on a bench or floor and then glue and nail the blocks in place.

After the project is completed, casters or furniture glides are screwed into these blocks. While the sides A and B are in the flat position, mark off the location of braces F and E and the shelf bottom D. With someone holding the lower brace F and the shelf D in the vertical position, glue and nail one side A in place; then turn the structure over and nail the other side B. From this point on it will be easy to add the brace E, the top shelf C and the shelf dividers H and G. The horizontal shelves, L, J and K can be nailed permanently in place but we suggest you make them adjustable with metal side rails and clips on which to rest each shelf. All hardware stores and home centers carry a few types of side mounted shelving rails.

The drop-leaf top O is attached to the bottom shelf D with three 3-inch butt hinges and the fold out doors M and N use two 3-inch butt hinges. With all the parts assembled you can finish the edges and flat surfaces to suit. Not a bad project for an investment of about $25!

As a reader service, Larry Eisinger has published a HARD-COVER book on CARPENTRY AND WOODWORKING. With hundreds of photos and drawings, this book will help you with every day carpentry techniques. If you are not completely satisfied, your money will be refunded! Cost is $3.95, plus 70 cents shipping. Send $4.65 to HOME WORKSHOP, care of your newspaper, Box 158, Staten Island, N.Y. 10314.

G F M F Z M Q H F Z D H F P Q L J

U T P G F P X M J X P X J F

L F F G F G X T M D - U D M Q H F .

Last week's Cryptoquip: THE BEAUTICIAN'S SUCCINT MOTTO: "REMEMBER THE MANE."

Today's Cryptoquip clue: J equals G

The Cryptoquip is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words, and words using an apostrophe can give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

PAY TV SHOWCASE

There'll be a spring wedding that may have a very large impact on pay television in Canada and the U.S.

In fact, the wedding has already occurred and, I suppose one could say it will be the offspring of that wedding we'll see when the red, red robin comes a 'bob-bin' along.

This romance is all about romance. Specifically, the immense success of romance novels like the Harlequin Books. And, while Harlequin, the Toronto Star-owned pulp romance company, moves into filming some of those romances for American pay TV, our own national pay TV network is now filming a series of made-for-pay-tv movies.

Astral Film Enterprises, a subsidiary of the company that owns majority interest in First Choice, is working with two American firms to film eight romance features under the umbrella title Shades of Love.

These are unpublished stories and they will air on First Choice next spring. These films will give the network much-needed Canadian content status. The leading man in each will be played by an American and Canadians will appear in all other roles.

Budgeted at about $1 million each, the 80-minute dramas revolve around a contemporary woman played by a new Quebec discovery. By casting Quebec performers in co-starring roles, Astral, which is Montreal-based, will qualify for the 150 per cent tax writeoff credit given moviemakers there by the Quebec government.

Harlequin meanwhile, are now filming several of their most popular novels in Europe with American headliners. They will be aired on American pay TV.

If you're a fan of international hockey, there is an excellent match this week on TSN. The network is carrying seven games this winter, five of them featuring Team Canada. The first of the Team Canada games is set for this week (Dec. 5) when the opposition is no less than the Moscow Selects.

Team Canada's roster features four highly-touted prospects for the NHL including goaltender Sean Burke, formerly with the Toronto Marlboros. The Soviet team is comprised of top players from the Soviet Elite Division including the Sprartak, Dynamo and Red Army teams.

There is also an NHL game on TSN this week. The Washington Capitals are at the Montreal Forum on December 1st to take on last year's Stanley Cup Champion Canadiens.

SCUTTLEBUTT

by 'Sammy Saver'

The intent of the column is to make our readers aware of the goings on of people, organizations, businesses . . . basically anything around us. If you want to spread a rumour, (Factual only) this is the place to do it. The contents herein are meant to be lighthearted and yet give everybody something to talk about. We received some pretty good comments on our first column last week and did get some good tid-bits I'm following up on now. Here goes for another week . . . City has come up with a commendable idea by way of a "Cornwall Tourism Seminar" on December 10th at the Civic Complex. Anybody in the hospitality industry should be there . . . Last column I asked if any bars out there had the guts to plug the no drinking/driving program to their patrons. Well, our hat is off to Roger Croxall at the Best Western Parkway Inn. Prominently displayed on the front door of the hotel is a sign informing customers that they are participants in the designated driver campaign. Also displayed is the no drinking/driving logo. Any other bars going to follow suit? . . . Lots of pain heard from Lionel Grant after the Laurencrest dinner. It wasn't his stomach nor head — his wallet took a beating though. The Christmas promotion in Le Village is still in swing. Try your luck at opening the treasure chest with the already distributed keys. . . . A good slate of candidates for the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce board of directors. Make sure you vote. While on the topic of the Chamber, the annual Citizen of the Year dinner and dance is January 24th. . . . Great P.R. and even better civic pride displayed by G.N.A.I. (Levi's) for the contribution of "Inspector Ident", a computerized robot that will help our cities finest out in schools, fairs, malls etc. But if I ever see it giving my car a ticket . . . We ran off the page last week while speaking on the $10,000 prize offered by Ed Hebert at Coco's for the Royals "Shoot Out". . . . New catering outfit in town by the name of Paul's Catering . . . owned by Paul Pomerleau . . . Seems that Rogers Cable are experimenting with the "B" channels already. If you are a cable subscriber, and have a converter of some sort, try channels 14 through 21 on the "A" side. They have put some of the channels normally found on the "B" channels also on the channels mentioned above. It's a temporary move for now as they experiment . . . In the December edition of Canadian Business magazine, some editorial content and listings dedicated to cities in Canada. They were all listed and included contact names of the likes of industrial development directors. Cornwall was mentioned but was noticeably absent from any paid for advertising. A good number of cities in the U.S. and the rest of Canada took display ads selling the virtues of their communities and why businesses should locate there. Provinces and cities are no longer content to use their advertising energies for the purpose of encouraging tourism alone. Tourist revenues are undoubtedly big business, but convincing business itself to move into your area, providing employment, boosting the economy and expanding the tax base, makes for a more permanent success. The November 3rd edition of Business Week contained no fewer than four full page ads aimed to encouraging business to move to California, New Jersey and Virginia. I'm not complaining, but we have seen some exciting growth this past year in Cornwall, we just want to see it continue . . . Tickets going well for the Rotary club car draw be a star. They will record your voice over a sound track so you can see for yourself why you really shouldn't consider singing as a career. It should be good for a laugh though. You can keep the cassette for a buck. From our who's moving dept. . . . Welcome to Richard Beriault new manager of Cornwall Square as Cadillac-Fairview takes over the centre . . . Soon on his way is Larry Wideman, manager of C.I.B.C. who leaves us mid-December to take over the reigns in Belleville. Joe Gunn called to tell us we erred last week in saying he passed his real estate agents course with 96 percent. He claims everybody passes with a 96 - he got 97 percent . . . Next week we will challenge our readers to commit their New Year's resolutions to paper. The writer of the most ingenious letter will win a dinner for two courtesy of Seaway Shopping News. More on that next week . . . Want to give us some scuttlebutt? Write us:

HEAT TALK . . .
Home heating has become such a major and ever-increasing expense that a home-owner can't afford to spend extra dollars on an inefficient heating system or on rapidly rising fuel oil costs. If you now heat with oil, or it your present heating system is beginning to show its age, the time has come to consider converting to another energy source or replacing your system with a more efficient one.
