Massive Challenges Ahead for School Boards

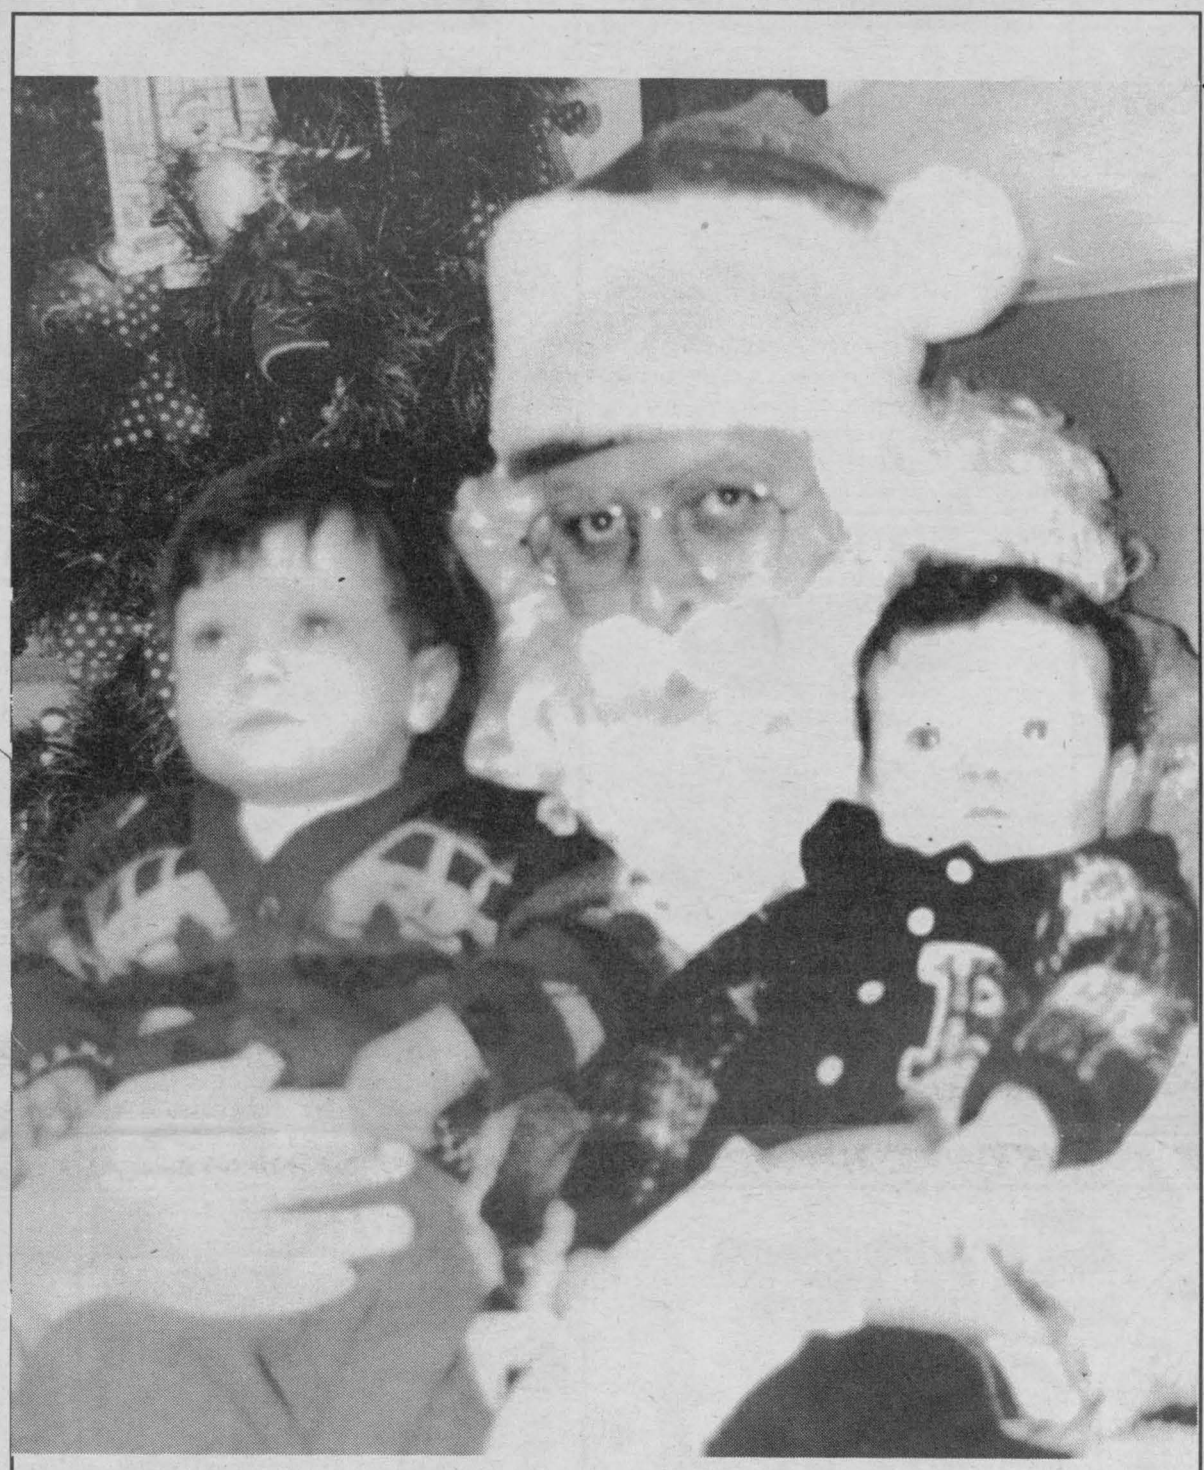
The Finance Minister's announcement of a $400 million reduction in grants to school boards for the 1996-97 school year was described as a "difficult measure" by Donna Cansfield, President of the Ontario Public School Boards' Association.

"Extracting $400 million dollars from the elementary and secondary education system is a formidable challenge, but school boards must meet that challenge and continue their work in providing quality programs for our children at the best price for the property taxpayer," Cansfield said.

"We have an obligation to our children to ensure the best quality education, but to also work responsibly with the provincial government to ensure they do not inherit an overwhelming debt," Cansfield said. "The Ontario Public School Boards' Association will continue to work in partnership with its partners and the government to find cost saving measures."

In its report "Removing the Barriers to Cost-Effective Education," released in September of this year, the Association examined a series of issues with a goal to provide the best education possible for the province's students in the most effective manner. As early as last week, the Ontario Public School Boards' Association provided the government with a series of workable suggestions toward their cost cutting goals.

The provincial government has agreed to work with the Association to provide the legislative tools necessary to meet these challenges. "We will continue our work and I look forward to finding the tools necessary to meet these challenges," Cansfield said.



In Good Hands

Getting in that last request is a pretty important task at this time, just two weeks before Santa arrives with his bundle. Little Jesse St. John, 4 months, and brother Jarret, 16 months, made a special trip to see the jolly old guy at the Brookdale Mall to get that last wish in. Jarret would really like some Lego's and Jesse isn't very fussy yet. Just about anything will do.

HAPPY ENDING For Teens

ALEXANDRIA – Jason Menard and Eric Labelle returned home safe and sound Saturday morning after going missing for over a week.

The 15-year-old Alexandria runaways met up with two others from the Quebec area and spent the week sleeping at various friends in the Lachute and St. Jerome area.

RIDE CHECKS Increase During Holiday Season

ALEXANDRIA – Police will be cracking down on impaired drivers this holiday season with more spot checks pin-pointing drunk drivers.

O.P.P. detachments in Lancaster and Maxville, along with Quebec, Cornwall and Alexandria Police, are all participating in the Festive RIDE Initiative.

Since the campaign started on November 28th, officers have been setting up at least one road block every night. The blitz will continue into the new year.

Police are hoping to raise awareness about the dangers of drinking and driving, especially with the increase in holiday events.

K of C Annual GUIGNOLEE

GLEN WALTER – The Glen Walter Knights of Columbus, Council 5068, will be holding their annual Guignolee this Sunday, December 10th. During this house-to-house collection, generous donations of canned goods or money are asked to help out those less fortunate.

Knights will be visiting area neighbourhoods during the afternoon and will gladly accept anything you wish to share.

DISNEY PRAISES MacCulloch Dancers

GLENGARRY – Disney officials praised the MacCulloch Dancers and musicians for their great performances during the group's recent tour to the Florida park, congratulating them on their presentation both on and back stage.

They credited the group for high capacity crowds. "The Scottish and Canadian Ambassadors of Epcot Center described the show as 'phenomenal' and 'brilliant', said group leader Rae MacCulloch. The ambassadors came to thank the troupe personally for promoting Canadian and Scottish cultures.

Disney World presented the group with a souvenir plaque and each performer received a Disney World pin.

The MacCulloch Dancers in turn presented a plaque to Disney World. The plaque, which sports the MacCulloch Dancers' logo, is now hanging in the archives of Walt Disney World.

Winter Driving TIPS

WINCHESTER – Winter driving places increased demands on the driver due to the ever-increasing changes in the weather and road conditions. Even small amounts of ice and snow can create hazardous conditions. The key to avoiding accidents in this weather is to drive according to the road conditions, even if this means driving slower than the posted speed limits.

The following are some tips that may be of use to drivers.

– Ice will often develop at intersections while other areas of the road will be dry. This is particularly true in the villages. Don't wait until the last minute to brake for these stops.

– Increase the distance between your vehicle and the other vehicle.

– Avoid quick accelerations, braking, or lane changes, as they may result in a loss of control.

– Read the road. Watch as far ahead as possible to try to predict problems before they arise.

– Use your headlights especially during bad weather, but it's a good idea to use them at all times to make your vehicle more visible to oncoming traffic.

– Allow yourself extra travel time and if the weather is bad, avoid making unnecessary trips.

BITE OUT OF CRIME

CHESTERVILLE – North Dundas District High School student Troy Acres, by taking part in a co-op program, has been manning the phones at Cornwall's Crime Stoppers office since September, answering calls and writing up press releases.

Acres plans to put this experience to good use in a police-work career, hoping to study law and security at college next year.

This co-op placement has certainly had a positive influence, reinforcing his interest in police work.

ANTIQUE CAR CLUB Donates To Worthy Causes

LANCASTER – The Lancaster Antique Car Club distributed $1,500 to three worthy causes in the area.

The money was raised during their very successful 1st annual LACC Car Show which was held last August 20th.

The Lancaster Recreation Association Building Fund received $1,000, and The Glengarry Seniors Outreach Center and the Lancaster Service Club Council each received $250.

MARTINTOWN SANTA CLAUS PARADE

MARTINTOWN – The annual Martintown Santa Claus Parade will take place Sunday, December 10th, beginning at 1pm from the Laidlaw parking lot.

Santa will once again be handing out candy, donated by the Martintown Masonic Lodge, at the fire hall after the parade, so you'll be able to pass on that special wish.

The Martintown firemen have built a skating rink at the fire hall and invite everyone to come out and enjoy themselves.

FROM THE BIBLE

By Bob Burgess, Pastor
New Life Covenant Church
(A Spirit-Filled New Testament Church)

"Those who seek the Lord shall not lack any good thing."

Psalm 34:10

Pathways that seem to be marked: This way to happiness ... are all over the landscape of our culture. Some people travel the money path. Others follow the way of entertainment. Still others head down the route of power of self-gratification.

The problem with those roads is that they are all dead ends and lead to frustration. The only way to happiness is the course God has clearly outlined in His Word.

God's route to joy is found in Psalm 34. In just 14 verses, David charts a course that, when followed, leads to all the advantages we need in this world - advantages that can be ours no matter if we are rich or poor, healthy or sick, famous or unknown.

The way to happiness is marked by these signs:

- Praising God: "My soul shall make its boast in the Lord" (v.2)
- Seeking God: "I sought the Lord, and He heard me" (v.4)
- Fearing God: "Oh, fear the Lord, you His saints!" (v.9)
- Living For God: "Depart from evil and do good" (v.14)

Happiness comes from going God's way. Travelling other paths will take you on a long journey to nowhere.

(reprinted by permission of Radio Bible Class Ministries)

Thought: to find true happiness, trust and obey God's directions.

As always, remember God loves you! He really, really does.

In and About Cornwall

OUT of BOUNDS

KIWANIS CLUB HUGE SUCCESS

A six-hour Kiwanis TV auction marathon on Rogers Community Cable 11 last week raised $17,710 to help physically-disabled children and other Kiwanis-sponsored community projects.

Over 350 items, with an estimated retail value of $36,000, were donated by local businesses, industries and individuals to raise the almost-record funds.

In 1985, $18,000, the highest amount ever, was raised.

SOME CITY WORKERS FEAR JOB LOSS

Municipal employees could face losing their jobs due to staffing reductions as a last effort of avoiding a tax increase.

Last Monday's council meeting was adjourned early allowing administration the time to meet with municipal unions to warn them of specific reductions recommended by administrators before a public meeting debate.

POINSETTIA DRIVE

For the 18th year the Kinette Cub of Cornwall will once again be out selling poinsettias to raise money for research into cystic fibrosis and various community projects. This year's goal of 2,500 is the same amount sold last year.

A GIFT OF TIME AND ENERGY

Are you looking for a way to give someone something special for Christmas?

Cornwall Meals on Wheels has just the idea for you. For just two hours a month of your time and energy, you could give and receive something special.

Beginning January 2nd, a new outlet for delivering meals is being opened. Due to possible government cutbacks in home services, more people are turning to Meals on Wheels to provide a hot meal for those in need.

The six outlets in operation are filled to capacity and there is still a waiting list. The challenge is there and Meals on Wheels needs volunteers to meet that challenge now.

Meals are prepared in the kitchens of Glen-Stor-Dun-Lodge each day from Monday to Friday and on special days like Christmas and New Year's Day. Volunteer drivers and helpers pick up the meals in insulated containers at approximately 10:45am. Each individual container of food is marked with the recipient's special number to avoid confusion, and a map of the route is given to each team of driver and helper. The route takes about two hours to cover and the insulated container is then returned to the Lodge.

A gift of time and energy benefits both the receiver and the giver, so give yourself a gift of satisfaction in a job well done! Help Meals on Wheels meet the challenge of starting a new route.

For more information call 932-4810.

TAX HIKE EXPECTED FOR USER FEES

While some user fees could be spared, others could see increases by more than the recommended amount.

Here are some recommendations:

– Tipping fees (landfill), industrial, commercial & institutional, from $42 to $45; wood waste, from $30 to $40; white goods collection, from $15 to $25.

– Transit Fares, adults, from $1.30 to $1.40; students, children and seniors, from $1.05 to $1.10; Handitransit, from $1.50 to $1.75.

– Zoning amendment application from $400 to $700.

– Arts & culture programs, from $5/hr to $6.

–Ball diamond rentals, $11 a game for adults w/lights, was $10; $9 without, was $8.

–Dog tags, up to $13 for spayed or neutered animals, from $12; and $25 for non, was $22.50.

–Fence permits, from $15 to $20.

–Outdoor pool rental to schools, with 125 or more participants, $47/hr., was $45; 60 or less people, $37, was $35; wading pool, 40 or less people, $27, was $25.

–Sewer lateral repair, from $1,500 to $2,000.

Wealth Management

by Tom Burnside Manager T.D. Bank, Cornwall

BURNSIDE

Some people think wealth management is for the rich. It isn't. It's for you and me, and everyone else who is serious about their financial security.

The first step in managing your wealth is to define your objectives. These might be ambitious or modest, but they are always personal. No two people have exactly the same circumstances and ambitions. Whatever your objectives, unless you define them, the chances are you won't achieve them.

Once you set your objectives, the next step is to get started. In fact, until you start saving you won't have any wealth to manage. As soon as you start, however, you unleash one of the real powers of wealth accumulation: compounding. One dollar compounded annually at 8% for thirty years becomes ten dollars. Clearly, the sooner you start the better.

The next secret is to get your money invested and keep it invested. One useful technique is to make regular contributions to your savings. Not only does the regularity make saving routine, it also lets you benefit from dollar-cost averaging. For example, let's say a major part of your plan is to invest $6,000 in a bond fund over the next year. If you wait until you have the $6,000 before making your investment, market conditions a year down the road, which can be pretty unpredictable, will determine how many units you acquire. On the other hand, if you make monthly contributions of $500 throughout the year, you will get the double advantage of getting more units during any market dip and of already owning units that will increase in value during any market rise.

Finally, a key element in successful wealth management is diversification. By diversifying you protect yourself from the cycles that continuously affect the different parts of the economy. The actual mix of your holdings will depend on such things as your objectives and your tolerance to risk. But whatever the mix, the fundamental is the same - don't put all your eggs in one basket.

So wealth management is as simple as ABC - and D. Aim. Begin. Compound (and Continue). Diversify.

For answers to these and other questions about wealth management, talk to an investment specialist at your bank, feel free to call the TD Green Infoline at 1-800-387-2092 or visit the TD's Internet site at http://www.tdbank.ca.

On the Money

with Gordon Pape

PAPE'S TIP: "If you tend to worry about your money, these funds are for you."

Funds for nervous investors

If you're the type of investor who has trouble sleeping at night because you're concerned about your money, here are five mutual funds that are perfect for you. They're not totally risk-free. Nothing is. But they're better than burying your money in the backyard. Pleasant dreams!

TIP: If you want something even safer, choose a money market fund. But the returns won't be as good.

Return
12.2%*	Phillips Hager & North Short Term Bond and Mortgage: Fund splits portfolio 75% Canadian government and corporate bonds, 25% mortgages. Safe haven when interest rates are on the rise.
11.3%	Trimark Canadian: Managed by committee with Robert Krembil at the helm. Results are among the best in the country. Fund has had only one losing year since its launch in 1981.
10.7%	Dynamic Income: One of the few bond funds to turn a profit in the tough markets of '94. Has never had a down year. Manager Norm Bengough takes a very conservative approach to fixed income investing.
10.1%	First Canadian Mortgage: 20 years with only one losing year (fractional 0.5% drop in 1994). Invests in mortgages insured under the National Housing Act and guaranteed by the Bank of Montreal. Rated AAA by the Canadian Bond Rating Service since 1986.
9.9%	Guardian Canadian Balanced: Well-diversified fund which hasn't suffered a loss in 10 years. Manager Larry Kennedy has more than 22 years of experience. Bonds and cash make up 40% of the portfolio.

10-year annual average return to Sept. 30,1995. *1-year return.

The mention of a fondness for Barney got me (posing as a 2-year-old) this:

Dear Marg: Congratulations for having been a good little girl. Dinosaurs are really popular here at the North Pole! ... In fact, Rudolph claims to be a personal friend of Barney, but we're not so sure. Still, you can never tell with those reindeer! They are a clever bunch.... Santa

STUDENT PROFILE

Jeff McGregor

By Alejandra Tagle

Have you ever met someone incredibly involved in school, yet he has time for his friends?

I had the incredible pleasure of getting to know a 15 year old young man that is full of school spirit - Jeff McGregor.

Jeff is very involved in school. In his second year of being in student council, he is already the Secretary. Last year he was part of OSAID, the ski club, and the outdoor club. He has attended Saintsational two years in a row so you can bet that he is full of ideas for the 95-96 school year.

Jeff also has many talents and qualities apart from being a great leader. He has musical talents. He plays the guitar, the piano, and he can play a little bit of trumpet and clarinet. Jeff is a good student with good marks and he is one of Mr. Decourcy's favourite students. Jeff's many qualities include being energetic, unbelievably friendly, charming, open minded, great sense of humour and he is always willing to try out new things.

These qualities are vital in a leader, so Jeff has what it takes to be an amazing leader. Though Jeff is a very busy person, it doesn't prevent him from having a social life.

Jeff enjoys spending time with his friends, but travelling is another one of his great pleasures in life. He plans to do a lot of travelling in the future because he likes learning and travelling is always an amazing learning experience. It's a good thing that Jeff is open-minded and willing to try out new things because there are many strange things out there in the world.

I asked Jeff to describe himself in one word, which is very hard to do for someone as out-going as he. It took him about ten minutes to come up with the perfect word - underwhelmed.

"Underwhelmed! That's it. I'm never overwhelmed and I always thing I can make things better; I think I can make a difference."

I talked to Jeff for a total of 45 minutes and I can assure you that Jeff can, and will make a difference in our school and our society with his positive attitude, his leadership skills, his perseverance and his charm.

Good luck to you in the future Jeff, and keep up the Saintsational spirit that you have because you'll be able to go far in life.

Looking after your hamster

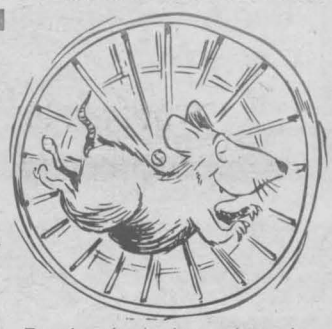
Hamsters are generally very clean, docile animals that live about 2-3 years. The most popular type of these small rodents is the Syrian or golden hamster.

Handling
- Children often drop them so proper instruction should be given.
- If handled frequently and gently from a young age, hamsters seldom bite.
- Pick up using both hands; hold in two hands or one hand against body.

ILLNESS
- Hamsters are prone to injury from being dropped, teeth problems, cancer, wet tail and some parasites.
- Symptoms often go unnoticed as hamsters are mainly active at night.
- See vet immediately if you notice: irritability, lethargy, eye discharge, loss of appetite, visible lumps.

Housing
- Space 2' x 2' x 6" high per hamster.
- Hamsters prefer deep bedding and lots of nesting material.
- Cage should have solid floor (not wire or mesh), and be free of sharp edges and small openings.
- Preferred temperature 65-75F.

FEEDING
1. Food and water must be available at all times.
2. Supplement commercially prepared mouse, rat or hamster foods with small amounts of fresh fruit and vegetables (wash thoroughly to remove pesticides and bacteria), whole wheat bread, cooked chicken, cheese, sugar-free cereals.
3. Provide fresh water daily in hanging bottle.



Exercise wheel, tubes and tunnels keep hamster fit and relieve boredom.

Myth Dispelled: Poinsettias Are Not Poisonous

Poinsettias are, without a doubt, the favourite Christmas plant, and have been for years despite an undeserved reputation for being poisonous.

The truth is that a child could eat all the leaves from an entire plant and show no ill effects, other than perhaps an upset stomach. This is according to the POISINDEX service, which is the primary source of information for the majority of American poison-control centres. Researchers at the Ohio State University support these findings, and just recently the American Medical Association issued a concurring statement.

So why do so many people believe the poinsettia to be toxic? As with most myths or rumours, the origin of this story is unknown. It is rather ironic, considering the plant's history. Ages ago, in their native Mexico, poinsettias were viewed by the ancient Aztecs as a symbol of purity, and their milky sap was used medicinally to counteract fever.

More recently, poinsettias have been scientifically acclaimed for their ability to purify the air. The U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) includes poinsettias on its list of houseplants that clean indoor air of potentially harmful pollutants such as formaldehyde.

Formaldehyde is found in virtually all indoor environments, and particularly in new homes. Sources include foam insulation, particle board, pressed wood products, furniture and carpeting. It can also be found in grocery bags, waxed paper, facial tissue and paper towels. Simply growing poinsettias or other common houseplants that are on NASA's list is an easy and effortless way to rid your home of these pollutants.

While its safety has been proven, the poinsettia, like other ornamental plants, is not intended for consumption by humans or pets. All plants should be placed out of the reach of small children.

Here's a tip on using poinsettias to decorate your home. Although a bright location is ideal, poinsettias will, for a fair while, do fine in an area with less light. I often place a pot in our bathroom, which has no windows, from about three weeks before Christmas until New Year's Day. The poinsettias look beautiful throughout the holiday season.

If you want to keep your plants after this point, they should be moved to a brighter location. Keep your poinsettias well watered and they will likely stay in full bloom until as late as Easter.

HOROSCOPES

December 10 - 16

Aries – March 21/April 20
Let your soft side show this week. A call from an old flame gives you food for thought. A close friend needs some unbiased advice. Don't turn him/her away. A favorite movie kicks off the weekend right. If you overindulge on snacks Friday, plan to put in extra time at the gym Saturday.

Taurus – April 21/May 21
Controlling your temper brings you power at work this week. Both co-workers and friends will take you more seriously. Tie up loose ends on Wednesday. A new extra-curricular project is just what the doctor ordered on Friday. But make sure you finish what you start.

Gemini – May 22/June 21
Love is in the air for you this week Gemini. Don't be afraid to take a chance. Doing away with stress plays a major role in romantic pursuits. Financial setbacks come to a close on Thursday. But don't get too comfortable. Going off the deep end could lead you into hot water.

Cancer – June 22/July 22
Let bygones be bygones this week. There's enough to focus on without the meaningless exchanges of days past. A Scorpio sends you flirtatious signals at work on Monday. Read them carefully. A trip to a museum proves adventurous on Saturday. Why not take a friend?

Leo – July 23/August 23
Staying on top of odds and ends Monday and Tuesday could lead to a three-day weekend. Use your keen eye for detail to stay abreast of small matters that will pose big problems if left unattended. A shopping spree on Saturday gives you a head start on holiday shopping.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22
As usual, work is not your source of trouble this week. But your personal life demands some direction. Think things through before answering questions on Thursday. And lose your cold shoulder in a romantic quarrel this weekend. Fight the urge to just walk away.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23
A fire sign appreciates your efforts to talk things out this week. Explaining your intentions instead of getting angry gets you out of a rough spot on the romantic front. Money is an issue midweek. Time with friends is a must on Thursday. A water sign needs some TLC. Curtail your flirtatious ways if only for the moment.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22
Jealousy could lead you to rash decisions on Sunday. Play it cool. Good news comes through the mail by Thursday. A new career door may open this week. Stay open to change. A Leo friend has some good advice as the week closes, but it might be hard to hear.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec 21
Have you been neglecting fitness lately? Exercise is key for you this week. Not only will it help you get into tip-top shape, but it will let you release the stress that has been building throughout the busy holiday season. A surprising piece of news comes from an unlikely source.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan 20
Ever heard of saying no, Capricorn? This week is a good time to exercise this right, because you're in danger of spreading yourself too thin. Take a load off. A quiet family weekend eases your tension. Pamper yourself with a special treat as the week closes. Get in touch with old friends.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18
Stop trying to prove yourself in personal relationships and people will be able to see you more clearly. Special efforts on a new job are greatly appreciated. Impress a Sagittarian boss with quick turnarounds on pressing assignments. Creative ideas come easily.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20
Your mood swings are driving your family crazy this week. Take control. Figure out what's bothering you and take advantage of the strengths that only water signs possess. Feeling artsy? Writing a poem or painting a picture can help you express what you may have trouble admitting.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
The next 12 months:
It's a great time to focus on love. Concentrating on what's familiar to you provides a strong center. Focus on the positive as the year opens, and those around you will catch on. An emotional tie to a Pisces might seem overbearing around February, but you'll learn to appreciate his/her honesty and depth by summer. Career might pose a point of change for you. Keep an open mind. Good things await behind closed doors. Also, an outdoors vacation in May strengthens old relationships while it introduces you to new friends that last a lifetime. Prepare for unexpected expenses by September.

Where Do PC's Go From Here?

It has been two decades since the global personal computer revolution was launched from a garage in California.

Today, 2 out of every 3 Canadian households with children and an income greater than $60,000 have a personal computer. Pentium chips and Windows 95 are as much a part of the consumer lexicon as Egg McMuffins and Levi's. And computer forecasters say PC sales worldwide will overtake sales of television sets before 2000.

But there are signs that things aren't looking so rosy in the future. A friend of mine from Waterloo, one of the Silicon Valleys of Canada, has just returned from the hoopla and glitz of the annual gathering of the computer industry known as COMDEX and he says there are hints that the traditional double-digit growth of personal computers may soon be slowing down.

That surprised me, but when I looked at the reasons why, it's not hard to understand what's happening.

The Internet is being flagged by some as a potential threat. Others say the dizzying pace of change is alienating some consumers. Even last month's CompuServe magazine contains hints. "I tend to buy the latest, fastest and greatest system and programs out there," writes David Smith. "And I am almost getting a little tired of the changeover and new learning required to keep up."

For the moment, though, business is booming for hardware and software companies alike. Many manufacturers expect a strong Christmas season.

But the rosy predictions begin to fade beyond Christmas. For example: the red-hot markets for home PCs is up an estimate 27 percent this year. Analysts warn it will slow down to 15 percent or less next year. Sales of drives for CD-ROMs will jump an estimated 62 percent this year but slow down to only 25 percent next year.

I was intrigued by these figures that came out of Las Vegas and I asked my friend, who makes his living producing software, what was happening. Are people losing interest in computers or is something else afoot?

My friend tells me that computer companies have targeted the home because that's where the opportunity lies. While most Canadian businesses that need a computer have a computer, only 1 in 3 Canadian homes has one. Trouble is, the easy sales have already been made. Only 5 percent of the homes without a computer said they were "extremely likely" to get one during the next six months, according to a survey released at the show.

Computer users do appear to be moving rapidly to Microsoft Corporation's new operating system, Windows 95. The company has sold more than 7 million copies of the software in its first two months. The shift is likely to spur upgrades of other software and hardware. But here's the problem: will users upgrade again when the 1996 versions come out? How much change can the market bear?

There's also another threat to the PC boom. It's the global computer network called the Internet. My friend tells me that it will take away market momentum from the PC because the network will have all the interesting information people want.

"Why would computer users keep buying the fastest, most powerful personal computers if all they want to do is get access to the Internet?" asks my friend. "This is bound to slow down sales of PCs next year."

Others in the industry, however, strongly oppose this view. The latest edition of Computer Life magazine says that while computer users want access to the Internet, they argue, they'll use a PC to do it and they'll take advantage of its processing power to manipulate the information.

So who knows? I don't have the faintest clue as to where this information age is racing to, but it sure is interesting to watch what's happening.

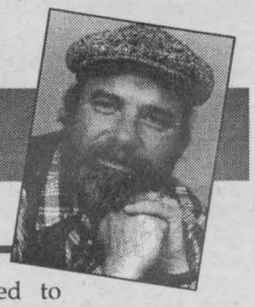
BASIC BLACK



By Arthur Black
SEAWAY NEWS

A body could get very depressed surveying the state of the world today, if a body had a mind to. There's AIDS. And Bosnia. And Newt Gingrich. And Jacques Parizeau.

Not to mention depletion of the ozone layer, the rape of the rain forests and jock itch.

But whenever things start to get me down, I have a fail-safe mantra that I chant to buck my spirits up. I simply repeat, in a low voice, ten times:

"At least we have no Vikings."

It's been close to a thousand years since anybody looked up from their sheep barn to see a swarm of wild-eyed marauders with swords in their hands and horns on their heads kicking in the front gate. I think they're gone for good.

But they had a pretty good run. Peasants first began whispering about the wicings (Old English: pirates, warriors) around 780 AD. For the next five centuries the Vikings raped and plundered the coasts of Eastern Europe, using their long, skinny dragon-prowed knarrs to unleash lighting raids. The Viking ships were long, skinny, swift and remarkably maneuverable. The Vikings themselves were rapacious, fierce and utterly merciless.

And they didn't confine their predations to coastal towns and villages. Danish Vikings invaded France and Germany. Swedish Vikings smashed deep into what we know as Russia. In fact, some people claim they created Russian. For sure they established the city of Novograd in 862.

The Vikings weren't just pirates of course, they used their knarrs to cross the Atlantic long before Columbus was born. Viking ruins have been authenticated at L'Anse Aux Meadows in Newfoundland. The experts best guess is that they date from at least 1,000 AD.

Even more intriguing is the near certainty that Vikings got right to the heart of North America. Nearly a hundred years ago, a Minnesota farmer found a huge rock ensnared in the roots of a tree on his farm. The rock bore Scandinavian runes chiseled into its face. Experts scoffed at the Minnesota stone and dismissed it as a hoax because the inscription was virtually unintelligible. Last year, a linguist at Cornell University declared the inscription is written in a dialect of ancient Norse that has only recently been authenticated. "There is no possibility of any faking. Nobody (in the 19th century) could have had the knowledge."

But the Vikings are remembered for their temperament, not their trekking. Almost everything about their culture was steeped in violence. To most of the world, the little mistletoe is a cheery plant associated with Yuletide festivities, friendship and smooching. To the Vikings it was evil. Viking legend has it that a mistletoe spear was used to slay one of their gods.

Most people who see the Aurora Borealis are enchanted. Robert Service writes of the Northern Lights "dancing heel to toe". The Vikings believed the Northern Lights were the flashing armour and spears of Odin's handmaidens, the Valkyries, galloping out to collect Viking warriors slain in battle.

It's funny how national characteristics change over the centuries. The tiny Netherlands once pretty well ruled the Maritime world as it was known. It's hard to imagine modern day Spain as an arrogant, continent-conquering world power. Watching Marcello Mastroianni on the screen does not bring images of flinty, fearless Roman Legionnaires to mind.

Similarly, you'd be hard pressed to recognize the Viking marauder in Scandinavians today. Twentieth century Danes and Swedes are more renowned for their civility and stolidness. Sawed-off pepperpot Don Cherry gets away with calling European hockey players "chicken Swedes". If he'd tried that with Lief Ericsson he'd have wound up carrying his brush-cut head under his arm.

Even the words the Vikings left us are, well, Viking-like. Anger comes from Old Norse. So does Ransack, and snare and enthrall.

And my favourite - the most Vikingish word in the English language. What do you call warriors who fight like rabid animals? Who turn into whirling, maniacal, howling, killing machines? Who get the killing frenzy so severely that they bite their shields, race blindly towards certain death, killing everyone and anyone in their path?

You call them the same thing terrified Europeans called them when they leapt from their knarrs onto the rocky beaches of Eastern Europe 1200 years ago.

You call them berserkers.

Christmas Special: CBC Exposes Church Cover Up; May Air This Tuesday

PERSPECTIVE

By Bob Roth
SEAWAY NEWS

The ball of yarn is unravelling fast.

A third alleged victim has now officially filed a complaint with police regarding the priest involved in the $32,000 hush money child sexual abuse allegation cover up; The Fifth Estate, CBC-TV's investigative journalism program, will soon be airing a piece on the affair, with emphasis on the persecution of Perry Dunlop (in fact, the program is tentatively scheduled for this Tuesday; tune in and check); and, lastly, the Catholic Church, the priest, and a pack of lawyers are now suing each other in connection with the scandal. The bishop, himself, could very well be subpoenaed to testify as to his role in this sad, sinful abomination of decency.

The Fifth Estate contacted me last week about the piece they are doing - due to the numerous columns I have written on the subject. Producer Julian Sher and I both concurred that what we are witnessing is a classic case of the establishment circling the wagons. The church, the politicians, the police, the crown, and even the local daily paper have been slow, or completely reluctant, to come to the defence of the one man whose sense of decency towers above all others in this sordid affair - Perry Dunlop.

Constable Dunlop has proven to all of us that one person can make a difference. Emulating Joshua, Dunlop blew the whistle and the corruption came tumbling down like the walls of Jericho. As a result of his actions, one guilty man has already been brought to court, other alleged victims have found the courage to come forward, and an illegal and immoral settlement has been exposed to the light of day. No wonder the police establishment continues to persecute him. He has just proven that they didn't push hard enough on this case, that they allowed it to be swept under the rug. Shame, shame, shame.

In what can only be seen as divine justice, the church's cover up has blown up into its own sinful face. We have a classic example of that old adage: "Oh, what a tangled web we weave when first we practise to deceive."

The Catholic Church and the local priest involved in the allegations are now thrice denying their own lawyers. They are suing the lawyers for their part in drafting up the hush money settlement.

Malcolm MacDonald represented the priest and Jacques Leduc represented the church. (When he's not practising law, Leduc contributes to teaching our children right from wrong as a Catholic school trustee.)

Both lawyers are named in the claims as is lawyer Sean Adams. Adams represented the former alter boy who made the original allegations.

Lawyer MacDonald, not so long ago "knighted" as a good Catholic, pleaded guilty in an Ottawa court recently to obstruction of justice charges in connection with the $32,000 payoff.

At issue is the so-called gag clause in the agreement which required the alleged victim not to pursue criminal charges against the priest. The Crown considered the clause illegal; hence, the obstruction of justice charges.

The former altar boy, known as D.S., has now sued the church, the priest and three lawyers for $2.7 million - arguing the deal was void and illegal and he is, therefore, entitled to make a civil claim for compensation.

As a result, the church, the priest and the lawyers are all scattering as if a live grenade has just been tossed into their fraternal foxhole. In the true spirit of Christian brotherhood, everybody is blaming everybody else for this shameful, contemptible cover-up.

In Leduc's statement of defence regarding the civil action, he says lawyer MacDonald inserted the clause without notifying Leduc.

Leduc admits he didn't notice that the final release "incorrectly included a reference to criminal proceedings" - a sobering thought for those of us who believe that checking such things is precisely why one hires a lawyer.

MacDonald, naturally, contends that Leduc knew what was in the agreement and the latter "approved as to its form and content".

The church is making a claim against Leduc asking him to cover any damages that might be awarded to D.S., as well as the church's legal bills.

The priest, in turn, is suing MacDonald and Adams over the same issue, arguing they didn't give proper legal advice.

We haven't seen this much hand-washing since the days of Pontius Pilate.

Not too much turning of the other cheek here, eh?

I can hardly wait to hear the bishop's Christmas message this year about truth, justice, brotherly love and family values.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Stats Can Sees It Different

Dear Editor:

In response to Fred Sagel's articles in the Seaway News in the December 1 edition, I would like to make this comment: "Are you blind as well as nuts" as to the cut in the provincial government deficit reduction plan? The Ontario deficit is caused by money sucking rich people and companies, the use the resources of a battalion of tax lawyers to rip off the taxpayers (of this great province or what used to be), by having them (tax lawyers) find any way possible to not pay their fair share of the tax that they owe the province for services like: police and fire protection, properly educated staff that has the knowledge of what they are doing to keep (their companies) running smoothly, producing profits. So I ask you this Fred, have you seen the report from Stats Canada that states "50% of the debt is caused by this gross indecent act done by the rich?

Stats Canada did a study of the deficit. Their finding concluded that the following caused the deficit: 50% federal deficit was the result of tax breaks (for the most part the rich individuals and the big multi-national corporations); 44% were direct results of high interest rates that the government owes because of a bad idea to lower the inflation rate. Which in turn raised the interest rates through the roof causing massive cuts to the budget to pay for this stupidity; 6% of the total debt is a direct cause of social program spending like welfare and education and health care.

So Fred, do you still think that the Mike Harris government is doing a good job? I don't.

Signed a hopelessly depressed Ontarian,
Marc Lanthier
Cornwall

Is Chretien's Letter Justified?

Dear Editor:

Through your paper, let me ask Canadians if they all received their red folder from the Prime Minister, first telling us all the good changes that have already been made to make Canada a better place for us.

Secondly, asking Canadians to send a cheque to the Liberal Party of Canada in whatever amount you wish. It will be almost all tax deductible.

And thirdly, a short questionnaire.

My first question is who paid for designing the pamphlet which is signed by the Prime Minister, the people of Canada or the Liberal Party?

It would seem to me that if the cost of this folder is paid for from government funds, then it could not be justified. On one hand telling us all the good things they've done, and then on the other asking for a donation in the name of the Liberal Party.

Let's Not Blame Charles & Diana

Dear Editor:

As we now pose standing agape once again as more infidelity in the Royal family is revealed, we wonder if perhaps they were too spoiled to ever bear the yoke of marriage.

Maybe we should go back a few years.

Remember how Prince Charles was described as "the world's most eligible bachelor"? How anxious Britain and most of the English speaking world was becoming as he passed his 35th birthday having not yet met a lady of his choice to say nothing of producing heirs.

It might be safe to say that they, after having been introduced, felt pressured by all who surrounded them into talking it to the altar.

We are to blame for their failure, as we are to blame for so many marriage failures among ourselves as commoners. Let us not interfere with the lives of those who are single and blame their mistakes, shortcomings and yes, if you please, even their ailments on the fact that they are not getting regular intercourse.

Let them conduct their lives in a way that pleases them and only them. Some may eventually truly fall in love and still others may not be meant for marriage at all. Though it may not suit us that they are not pairing, it is still better than having to wade through the debris of a broken home and mend the broken hearts of the children who often become unwanted.

Sincerely,
Garry Kingina

Co-operation Appreciated

Dear Editor:

The African proverb "It takes an entire village to educate a child" certainly describes the participation of this community in the Take a Kid to Work Day.

Even in times where many parents are unemployed, all Grade 9 students who wished to participate in the program spent the day at work with a parent, a friend, a relative or a mentor from business or industry. This was made possible through the cooperation of parents, friends and relatives, through the hard work and dedication of teachers and administrators, and through the interest and participation of small and large employers who welcomed sons, daughters, friends and strangers into their midst.

The beneficiaries of such a program are the grade nine students. Their one day experience has certainly opened their eyes to some of the realities of the workplace. Some are probably considering a career similar to the one they were exposed to; others want no part in that particular career; and still others are not yet ready to make a career decision. Fourteen years of age is young to commit to a career, but thinking ahead to the future is not. As time passes on, these students will be able to reflect on the Take a Kid To Work Day and appreciate the unique opportunity that was made available to them.

In closing I want to take this opportunity to thank all those who took time from their busy schedules to ensure that this opportunity was made available to the grade nine students of S.D. & G. Thank you for your support, your dedication and your commitment. You can be proud of your participation in the education process.

Sincerely,
Yvon Mayer

In Concert

Tickets go on sale Monday, Dec. 11 for Michael Burgess, performing in concert at Cornwall's Aultsville Theatre on Saturday, February 3rd. Although known primarily for his portrayal of male lead Jean Valjean in over 1000 performances of "Les Miserables", the talents of Michael Burgess by no means stop there. Whether starring in a mega-musical, performing live in concert or for a TV special, singing the national anthem at major sporting events, or simply narrating a children's story, this classically trained actor with a pure tenor voice touches the hearts and minds of appreciative listeners everywhere. For this series of more intimate performances, Michael Burgess will be accompanied by Doug Riley at the grand piano.

Worldfest

On Sunday, December 3, 1995 the Worldfest organization hosted a wine and cheese party between the hours of 2:00 pm and 5:00 pm at the Legion Hall in appreciation of all the host families and volunteers and supporters of the festival. Special guests included representatives of the Legion, the Kinsmen and the Rotary Clubs, all of which have provided consistent financial support to Worldfest.

KEUR

Past President of Worldfest, Alvain Graham, reported on the most recent financial success of the festival, which, through belt-tightening and down-sizing, was able to reverse the trend of deficits which had marked the festival in previous years. The main reason for Worldfest's financial success last year was stated to be the participation of all those families who opened up their homes to host the international performers. Only through the continued support of those host families can Worldfest continue to thrive in this, its 12th year of operation.

The new Board of Worldfest was presented at the meeting. They include Peter Keur, President; Alvin Graham, Past President; Alf Lee, Vice President; Denis Car, Vice President; Peter Morgan, Treasurer; Paul Lemieux, Secretary; Melissa Morgan and Marian Barnes, Directors.

It was announced by Peter Keur that the festival next year would run from July 3rd to July 7th. Worlfest will feature 5 folklore and dance groups from South America, Austria, Scotland, Israel and Ukraine.

It was further stated that the main components of last year's festival would be repeated including the Parade of Nations, the dinner cabaret, the Senior's Day and the grand finale. The popular street dance on Pitt Street may be replaced by performances under the tent at Lamoureux Park.

Glen Presents Holiday For Santa

Santa Claus needs a holiday and the Glen show, directed by Claire Lavallée will present good sacred reasons for Santa to go on a holiday in Florida. But Mrs. Claus will have nothing of his excuses. He says he has so many helpers, he would never be missed. But, says Mrs. Claus, they don't know how to go up and down chimneys.

"It's a nice Christmas play, written by Jessie Nicholson," said Claire Lavallée, "and a great play to get adults and children involved in the Christmas spirit. There are 2 scenes - the first in Santa's workshop, full of toys and workers, the second scene is on a beach in Florida, Santa seen bathing, Mrs. Claus sweeping up the sand. But Mrs. Claus convinces Santa to get in his sleigh and get busy delivering his toys all over the world - a happy ending," said Lavallée.

The cast is composed of: Dan Sabourin as Santa; Sahron Munro-Brown as Mrs. Claus; and Cathy Doyle-Parent as the Whole Wide World. Santa's helpers include Andréa Magee, Jessica Monch, Emily Hughes, Jimmy Seymour, Michael Lavallée, Jennifer Labelle, Erin Harpur, John Woloszyn and Sherry Rand. The Boys and Girls are Evette Yassa, Travis Taillon, Katie Lumley and Linzi Leclerc.

The show is produced by Cathy Doyle-Parent, set construction by Wally MacDonell, props and decorations by Ron Sullivan.

The play is being presented at the Glen Building on Saturday, December 16th at 1:30 pm and 3:30 pm. For tickets call 937-GLEN. Box office opens Wednesday, December 13 from 1 am to 2 pm.

The Glen wishes you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year in 1996.

Lawrence Gowan The Good Caught Up

Who would ever have guessed that Gowan, the purple haired technosynth king of the 80s would turn out to be the sensitive, articulate Lawrence Gowan of the 90s?

Earlier on, Gowan topped the Canadian charts with his highly produced, highly synthesized sound - churning out hits like "Criminal Mind", "Strange Animal", "Moonlight Desires" and "Guerilla Soldier". No sound was too weird, no stage effect was too dramatic, no leaps and kicks too excessive ... Gowan, the Glasgow-born, Toronto-raised rocker, was riding the crest of a wave of popularity.

But, after several years of touring, Gowan felt his life and musical career spiralling out of control, so he retreated from the spotlight and stuffed the synthesizer under his bed.

He spoke to me from his home in Toronto about the changes he underwent between 1990 and 93. "During the 80s, you had to do something spectacular to gain people's attention, beyond the music," he explains. "We were saturated with new found technology. But by the end of the decade, people suddenly said, Enough. Let's hear a simple song well-sung. For me, it was a period of struggle and I went through several upheavels, in the musical sense. One day, though, I picked up a guitar and rediscovered motivation."

"The type of lyrics the guitar evoked were much simpler and more direct. I couldn't rely on any musical sleight of hand to get around anything - the song had to stand on its own. And in many ways that reawakened a sense of childlike wonder and curiosity about making music." It also led to his recording "...but you can call me Larry", showing us just how sensitive and perceptive he can be, with songs like "Soul's Road", "Dancing On My Own Ground" and "When There's Time (For Love)."

Although the man and the music have changed, Gowan isn't embarrassed by his past excesses. "I do get a chuckle when I look at old videos," he laughs. "It reminds me of looking at your old pictures from high school where you suddenly realize, 'Wow, is that really me?' But in a musical sense, there's nothing I would take a step back from, because the music I was making at that time was very relevant to that day."

Currently, Gowan is in the midst of an extensive swing across Canada, promoting his latest release "The Good Catches Up", ("Guns and God", "I'll Be There In A Minute") and he'll be touching down to perform at Aultsville Theatre on Thursday, De. 14 at 8 pm. With this sixth release, Larry Gowan has, in a sense, come full circle musically.

He's playing much more piano again these days - and since he is after all a classically trained pianist, this is most welcome. Gowan's lyrics reflect the experience and maturity of his years, while the music retains that stand-alone quality he perfected while playing guitar. It's a dynamic and refreshing combination.

The live show satisfies both camps, by featuring the new album and rejuvenating Gowan's older songs with fresh arrangements.

ALL ABOUT SCOTCH

By Don MacDiarmid

A decade or two ago, common orders from the bar were such concoctions as a Caesar, Manhattan, Screwdriver, Sloe Gin Fizz, Singapore Sling, white rum and coke, rye and ginger, etc. At the same time light beers and wine coolers became popular to satisfy the need for health and nutrition consciousness. Those imbibers suffered from an affliction I'll call Fear of Flavour. They drank for the "effect" the alcohol produced. The popular spirits of vodka and gin have been distilled to a colourless, tasteless, characterless submission, fit only for drowning in juices.

The "in" trend of the nineties, is to move away from those timorous spirits towards the bold, proud, flavourful ones. Consider the recent dramatic rise in interest for the products of Ontario micro-breweries: amber ales, dark lagers and European style stouts. There is a definite movement toward "tasting more" and "drinking less".

The very noblest of all bold spirits are, by common consent, the single malt whiskies of Scotland. However, they are not suitable for people who are afraid of their own shadow. The discerning drinker does not saturate himself in tastelessness but increasingly reaches for something with a palate. The Cognac of France has upstaged this elixir of Scotland for most of the century but this is the fault of the Scots themselves who believed that foreigners could not handle such an assertive drink. Only in the 1980's did they finally come to accept that the rest of the world might be sufficiently discriminating to enjoy their single malts, currently the kings of nobility, profundity, bigness and complexity.

Are you still suffering from Fear of Flavour? Are you ready to challenge and educate the palate? "An Quaich" is the Single Malt Whisky Tasting Society in Canada. Through this organization members may obtain selected quality single malts. We are decicated to helping Canadians increase their knowledge, appreciation and enjoyment of Highland Park, Laphroaig, Glenfarclas, Auchentoshan, et al.

Our local chapter meets in Cornwall six times a year and provides a means for sharing and developing a common interest, both for the novice and the enthusiast, through regular nosings and tastings and exchange of news, views and ideas. Interested? Call 932-1383.

Partners in Education

Cornwall Collegiate and Vocational School students and coaching staff, along with the commitment and interest of community members, have held five Overnight Sports Camps within the last two years with over 300 elementary students attending. The camps provided a fun-filled weekend for boys and girls in Grades 4, 5 & 6, and an excellent leadership training experience for high-school students. At the same time, the 15 students from the athletic association who participated were able to raise money to purchase school team uniforms and cover some of their athletic expenses. CCVS students, right, front to back, Bryce Barker, Kim Youngs, Vicky Tyo, Arthur Welcher and Angie Tyrell presented a small token of appreciation to, left, Philip Brown, Cameron's Real Estate, Bruce Maynard, Maynard's Your Independent Grocer, Mary Smith, Glengarry Key Travel, Ray Coté, Ray-Co Team Sports, and Luke Bedard, Professional Investments, for their continued support to educational projects in the community.

Nomination Package

"The objective of the Business Excellence Awards is to recognize Cornwall area businesses and individuals who have demonstrated exemplary standards of business success and excellence over the past year."

Nomination packages are a guide to help you put forward the names of companies and people that are worthy of various awards. Nominations can be made by an individual, company or organization located in the Cornwall area, and will be judged according to the established criteria and upon review of the supporting information supplies. Nominations close on Friday, January 19th, 1996 and the winners will be announced at the Annual Business Excellence Awards dinner on Saturday, February 3, 1996.

1990 MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY & BUYER'S GUIDE

Each year the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce produces a Membership Directory and Buyer's Guide which is widely distributed throughout our membership and beyond. Last year, we were pleased to introduce to our membership our new layout, which was enhanced by improved editorial content, a listing of handy reference numbers of business related resources, key business contact names and a new "Fax Directory" of Chamber members. Our membership found this new directory to be a very useful tool for their business. The Chamber of Commerce is presently in the planning stages for the 1996 Membership Directory and Buyer's Guide. There is also limited advertising space available in the directory. If you are interested in showcasing your business in this year round publication you can call the Chamber office at 933-4004. It is with great anticipation that the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce looks forward to introducing our 1996 Membership Directory & Buyer's Guide to you. We trust that you will continue to find the directory a useful tool in referencing your fellow Chamber members.

Mrs. Claus and the elves made a surprise visit

LOOKING BACKWARD

By Stuart L. Manson

Mille Roches Lament

Five and a half miles west of the centre of Cornwall lies the village of Mille Roches. You will not find it on a map. It has a constant humidity of 100%. No mail is delivered there. It has a population of zero.

Mille Roches was a victim of progress. More specifically, it was the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project that ravaged, then drowned that village in the 1950's. By the end of that decade it was but a memory.

An old fellow I know was born in Mille Roches. He spent the prime years of his childhood there. Before he was old enough to drive a car his house was moved, his neighbours dispersed, his life forever changed.

He enjoys reminiscing about his younger days in the village. There is a gleam in his eye when he speaks of standing on the Mille Roches bridge as it rotated into position. A special quirkiness is present in his voice as he recalls how he slogged through John Atchison's farm on a moist morning. Stories of rowing on Lake Bergin and the canal on sunny afternoons are tinged with a dream-like aura.

Combined with these happy memories are more serious connotations. Unless he plans to take up SCUBA diving in his golden years, his memories will remain in his head and at the bottom of Lake St. Lawrence. He is an exiled refugee from his own childhood stomping ground. To him, "the other side of the dike" is not the water side, but the land side. His point of reference will always remain that of Mille Roches.

But what of his children, or others that were born in the post-Seaway generation? They can only ponder and dream of their ancestors' homeland, or look at historic photographs to unite themselves with their family's past.

History shows us that everything is in motion. Nothing remains the same. It is up to us to cherish the things that we have now, and make the strongest effort we can to preserve them before they are gone.

In A One Horse Open Sleigh

The Downtown BIA, with the help of Antoine's Percherons, will be sponsoring free horse and buggy rides on Friday evenings and Saturday afternoons until Christmas to raise funds through the Candlelighters Club. The money will be sent to the cancer ward at CHEO, in Ottawa. Ready to go are left, Joshua Logan, Nathan Adolphe with mom Kim, and Amy Seguin. The Candlelighters Club is a committee of parents, family and friends of children who have or have had cancer and were treated at CHEO. Maureen Ouimet whose son Tim was treated recently had family members by her side. "Without research, it just can't be done. Survival rates are super."

New Program:
The Gift That Keeps on Giving

Christmas came early for Sally: she recently gave birth to a healthy baby girl. There's also a "bonus": the gift of friendship and support ... thanks to the Birth Companion program. Introduced last year by the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, the Birth Companion program matches pregnant women with more experienced mothers, who encourage their "match" through the latter weeks or months of pregnancy and provide ongoing support for six months after the birth.

And Sally isn't the only one counting her blessings. "This is a really great program," says Jeannette Lavallee who volunteered her time and experience with one new mom and is looking forward to another match. Lavallee, who lives near Williamstown with her husband Pete, managed to juggle her part-time work and caring for her own three young children with the concerns of her "match". "This was something I wanted to do. And the training the volunteers receive is thorough and helpful. The health unit staff is always there if we need any answers or have any concerns along the way. I'd do it all over again," says Lavallee.

Birth companion Sandra Campeau echoes that enthusiasm, "It's a great experience to be able to give something back to the community and to someone who needs a hand," says Campeau, a mother of an 11 year old. "I've been there, done that, so I can understand where a new mom's coming from, and there are no judgements being made."

May Brown of the health unit says that the non-judgmental aspect of the program is much appreciated by all participants in the program.

"We can all use someone to listen to us and someone to offer support at different times in our lives. Being a new mother can be wonderful, but it can be very stressful too ... especially if you don't have someone you can turn to with those million and one questions most new moms have. The Birth Companion volunteer is trained and eager to help relieve some of that stress," says Brown.

Letters To Santa

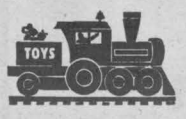
Dear Santa,

My name is Kevin Hope. This year I've been as good a boy as can be expected for someone who is almost 2 years old.

Thanks for last year's toys. This year I'd like a hockey puck and hockey helmet, a basketball and a skidoo so I can play with dad and the boys.

I will leave you some cookies and milk and for the reindeer I'll leave some hay and sugar on the porch.

Love,
Kevin
xxoo



Dear Santa,

I'm writing to Santa Claus to tell him what I would like for Christmas. I would like farm set colour book and if you can I'd like an electric train set and a Super Galaxy Power Ranger truck and anything else you want to give me, and candy orange. I'll leave you some milk and cookies and sugar for the reindeer.

Yours Truly
Josiah Reid

Dear Santa:

Hi! Thanks for the presents you gave me last Christmas.

Well ... Santa, you know I'm 4 years old now, and quite advanced (I hear mommy and daddy say that)! So ... I guess I'm ready for a little piano, if you could spare one for me. I'd also like a toy boat, skates and "Cinderella" and "Sleeping Beauty" movies.

I've been a good girl, most of the time. I help mommy and daddy with my little brother, Randy - he's quite a handful.

Please help yourself to the Christmas cookies I'm leaving for you. I helped mommy make them, so chew good.

Thanks again.

Your Friend,
Stephanie Massia

Dear Santa,

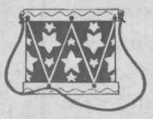
Good day! I'm too small to write this letter so Stephanie and mommy are writing for me.

This is my first Christmas. Stephanie says we ask for presents and you bring them to us - wow! How good do we have to be? Does keeping mommy and daddy awake all night counta against me? I hope not.

Anyway, if possible I'd like a toy box, phone and books. I'll leave some milk for you - you'll need it after eating Stephanie's cookies.

Thanks!

Your new friend
Randy Massia



Dear Santa:

My name is Dougle Reid and for Christmas I want a farm set, super galaxy colour book and a Power Ranger and truck and train set, and an apple and orange candy in my sock. I'll leave you milk and cookies and sugar for the deer.

Yours Truly,
Dougle Reid

Dear Santa,

My name is Jessica Reid. For Christmas I want a doll and some make up and a suit for Christmas. I'll leave milk, cookies and sugar for the reindeer.

Yours Truly,
Jessica Reid

Dear Santa:

Hi! My name is Shawn Kaddie and I am 2 years old. I've tried very hard to be a good boy for mommy and daddy this year. It was hard but I did good. That's what mommy says. Thank you for the gifts that you brought me last year. This year I would like a toy drum set and some Tonka trucks and lots of clothes since I'm growing so fast.

Can you also bring something for my big cousin Melissa Lavigne, she's 4 years old. I heard she was a good girl this year too. Don't forget my mommy and daddy too.

I will leave you a nice snack near the tree, so you're not hungry for your long trip.

Love, your friend
Shawn Kaddie
xoxo

P.S. Don't forget my cat Mikkie and my papa's dog Freckles

Dear Santa:

My name is Keegan Larose. I am almost 3 years old. I love trains. If you could please find one train for my stocking, I would be very happy.

This has been a difficult year for many people. My parents' wish is that we enjoy a simple Christmas of long ago holiday. Share a meal or something special with the people who mean the most to you. Lend a hand to those in need. Keep God in your hearts and a smile on your faces.

Best wishes to all.
Keegan and family

My Dear Santa:

My brother and I are doing what we should, keeping busy and doing our homework. Mom and Dad say we are growing up too fast, but we love you Santa and long to hear your sleigh bells. You must be sick of cookies and milk. We will leave you donuts and tea ... enjoy! We only want a game this year. There's lots of children with nothing. You light up our lives.

Hugs and Kisses,
Jeremy & Matthew V.
xxxxoooo

Dear Santa:

I have been thinking of you so much. I will be glad when Christmas comes. Bring me the toy you couldn't bring me last year, the rest can go to kids that don't have anything. I will make sure you get your treat of milk and cookies. I will help Mom make them. Daddy will shovel the snow so you can get in.

I love you
with hugs and kisses
Angela B.

Chère Père Noël:

Je veux plusieurs cadeaux ce Noël. Il y a beaucoup de choses que j'aime cette année.

J'aime des Barbies, des poupées, du papier, et beaucoup d'autre.

Je veux vraiment un dream phone ce Noël.

Merci!
Kristine Lalonde

Dear Santa:

Hi! My name is Emily Latour. I am 2-1/2 years old. Thank you for all the nice gifts that you left under my tree last Christmas. I'm still having lots of fun playing with them. This year I would like a Pocahontas doll because I really liked the movie. Please bring me some books because I like to look at them and my big sister Monika likes to read to me. Could you please bring Monika a "Dr. Dread Food Lab" and some computer games? I'll leave some treats for you on the kitchen table.

Love Emily

P.S. Please bring a little something for my dog "Penny".

Dear Santa:

I was a good girl since last Christmas. I started Kindergarten this year and really like all my friends.

I want a big doll that I can wear her dress; Cinderella movie (it's out now); clothes for school; Cinderella shirt; story books; skates and paper (I'm a good drawer).

I know you have glasses, so you can read my letter.

And you have magic when you touch your nose, so you can find my house in Martintown.

Thanks for everything you left last year.

Kallie Tyo

Dear Santa Claus:

I am going to be 3 years old just before you visit me. But those are birthday presents. I am a really good boy - except I pick at my sister too much.

Can you bring me a dinosaur, batman, a horse, and a Barney movie?

Most of all I want to see your reindeer fly.

My mommy will leave cookies for your reindeer.

I love you Santa.

William Tyo
Martintown

Dear Santa:

My name is Trent and I will be 5 years a week before Christmas. I have tried to be a good boy all year but it's hard because it's so many sleeps between Santa's. Thank you for all the presents you brought me last year, I'm still playing with them, especially my big 4x4 jeep.

For Christmas this year, can you find room in your magic sleigh to bring me a great big train set, a Little Tikes pick-up truck and a Little Tikes big car carrier truck with 2 cars. I also need some school clothes size 4 or 5 and anything else that you can bring me.

Oh yes, please don't foget my baby sister Liane, she'll be 1 year a week before Christmas. I think she would like you to bring her some dolls like Baby Tumbles and a Little Tikes soft rocking horse and anything she can chew on because she's finally getting some little teeth.

Mommy just knit us some new stockings with our names on them so that you can fill them with goodies as well. By the way, you'll have to go by the side door because we don't have a chimney. I will leave some milk and cookies for you and sugar for your reindeer.

Please don't forget to bring something for mom and dad because they've been so good to us and also don't foget to add to your list of good little girls my two new little nieces, Samantha and Melanie. But most of all Santa, please take my Aunt Shan and Uncle Dean from Manitoba and my Aunt Sherry and Uncle Bud and Tristan from Sault Ste-Marie home for Christmas because I really, really miss them.

Have a safe trip Santa. We love you very much.

Trent and Liane Gadbois

Dear Santa:

Hi there! My name is Jessica Lynn Fortier and I am almost 4 years old. I'm really excited about Christmas this year because I'm finally beginning to understand it all.

This year I would like some books, puzzles, a teddy bear and a Snow White nightgown. I like Barbie's too, so one of those would be nice.

I will leave you some apples and cheese and some sugar for Rudolph. I love you Santa.

Love your little friend,
Jessica

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa,

My name is Steven Beaudoin. I'm 2-1/2 years old and I live in Long Sault.

I'm really excited. This has been a legend year for me. I'm hoping to see how you sneak down the fireplace. I kind of tried it out (I tried going up). It didn't work out too well.

My mommy says that Santa has a bit of magic to do these things, and it's okay for Santa to do these things, but not okay for little boys and Santa doesn't even get dirty. I got real dirty.

Santa, for Christmas I would like a "Pounder" (hammer) and lots of tools so I can fix all the things that "may" or "may not" need fixing. I'm a real little handyman, so a work table to pound on would be great to have. I'd like to have a Little Tikes Big Black Pickup Truck to get around in and a gas pump to keep my truck filled up. I'd like a Jumping Spring Horse to giddy-up on, and a Fisher Price Remote Control Racing Car to play with. I'd also like to have a great big sleigh to slide down the big snow hill with my daddy. Thank you Santa, I love you.

Love,
Steven Beaudoin
xxoo

P.S. I will leave you glossette raisins (my favourite) and a juice box. I will leave apples and water for the reindeer.

Dear Santa,

My name is Joshua Hart. I'm 6 and I was good this year. I would like to have: a mechanical set, Sega Game Gear, Sega Ninja Turtles Game, Ninja Turtles Toy, Ninja Turtles Movie II and III, Street Sharks Toy, Street Sharks Movie, Casper Toy, Bat Boat, Dr. Dreadful Brain Juice Lab, Santa Claus movie.

Love,
Joshua Hart

P.S. I will leave you 2 chocolate cookies and a Root Beer. I'll leave carrots for the reindeer.

Dear Santa:

Hi Santa, My name is Kelly Hart. I'm 3 years old and I live in Long Sault. I'm a good girl lots of times. I would like to have: Baby Sip and Slurp, Easy Bake Microwave Oven, Pocahontas, Medicine Baby, Baby All Gone, Baby Tumbles, Flower Magic Mary, New Barbies and clothes, crayons, paints and paper, play make-up and jewellery, nail polish, guitar, Sailor Moon Doll, Dudley the Dragon Toy, Polkaroo.

Love,
Kelly Hart
xxxooo

P.S. Please bring a ball and a toy for my cat "Sassy" who was pretty good this year.
P.S.S. I will leave cookies and juice for you and carrots for the reindeer.
Santa, please drive careful 'cause the roofs are slippery.

Dear Santa:

My name is Travis Nutbrown. I'm 6 and I live in Long Sault. I was pretty good this year. I would like: Super Nintendo System, Super Nintendo Game, Street Sharks, Fozzie and Animal Muppets, Hockey Dinosaur, Batmobile, Batcave, Batcycle, Dr. Dreadful Drink Lab.

Love,
Travis Nutbrown
xxoo

P.S. I will leave you milk & cookies. I will leave sugar for your reindeer.

Dear Santa:

My name is Amanda Nutbrown. I'm 9 and I live in Long Sault. For Christmas I would like to have: My Secret Diary, Dream Phone, Surprise Hat Suzie Doll, Fantastic Fingernails Kit, Fortune Teller Computer Game, Markers, Ouija Board Game, Pet Bird, Pet Fish, New Hockey Stick, Doodle Bear, Walkman, Computer, Skydancer Doll.

Love,
Amanda Nutbrown
XXXOOO

P.S. I will leave you milk and cookies. I will leave sugar for the reindeer.

Dear Santa:

My name is Becky Froats. I am 7 years old. I am in Grade 2 at Long Sault Public School. I have been pretty good all year. For Christmas I would like: skates, Dance Moves Barbie, Surprise Hat Susie, Smart Start, Sky Dancers Dolls, and anything else you would like to bring me. Thank you.

Love,
Becky Froats

P.S. I will leave you a treat.

Dear Santa:

My name is Benjamin Froats. I am 8 years old. I go to Long Sault Public School. I've been a good boy most of the year. For Christmas I would like: skates, games, Spiderman, Dr. Dreadful Food Lab, robots and anything else you might like to bring me. Thank you.

Love,
Benjamin Froats

P.S. I will leave you a treat.

Dear Santa Claus:

My name is Brooke. I'm only 2 years old so my uncle Michel is writing this letter for me because I love him very much. This year I've been a sweet little angel. For Christmas I would like an all in one Fisher Price Kitchen Set, Baby Tumbles, Baby So Beautiful Doll, a Bear Lamp, Baby Sip 'n Slurp and also a Magna Doodle. Oh, one more thing, lots of clothes. By the way Santa, this Christmas is going to be very special to me. I'm going to have a baby cousin, but I don't know what it is yet. So could you bring a teddy bear please. Thank you so much.

Lots of Love
Brooke Lefebvre

P.S. I will leave you cookies and milk and sugar for all your reindeer. Merry Christmas.

Dear Santa:

My name is Chelsea and I'm 5 years old. I've been a very good girl this year and a great little helper to my mommy around the house. This year I would really like My Size Barbie, Baby Tumbles, Suzie Stretch and some diapers for all my babies. Please bring something nice for all my friends and relatives.

Love You With All My Heart
Chelsea Renaud
xo

Dear Santa:

My name is Casey and I'm 3 years old. My mommy says I have to tell the truth, so I haven't been the best little boy all year, but my mommy and daddy forgives me and still loves me. So I guess I couldn't have been that bad. This year I would like cars & trucks, Cool Tools and Fliptrack Mountain and a big monster truck. I love you Santa.

Casey Renaud
xo

Dear Santa:

Thank you for all the gifts that you brought me last year. I have been a very good boy this year. For Christmas could you please bring me a Choo Choo Train Set, a bike, some Batman stuff, and some Spiderman stuff to play with. I will leave some cookies and hot chocolate for you and sugar for Rudolph and the gang.

Thank you
Ty Kinstler
xoxo

Dear Santa:

Merry Christmas and thank you for my gifts from last year. I've been so good this year. For Christmas could you bring me a barbie and a trailer and a jeep (my brother Ty wants a jeep too). I would also like a bed for my Tattoodle Doll and a Tumble Baby. I will leave you a nutri-grain bar for your snack.

Thank you
Emily Kinstler
xoxo

Dear Santa:

My name is Joel Campeau and soon I will be 6 months old. I am having fun with mom and dad, we're practising sitting up. This year all I really need is a good teething ring (that first tooth really hurt), an activity centre, a tonka soft truck and a musical dreamscreen.

Please leave something special for mom (she's a little sad to be going back to work) and dad would like a circular saw. I will leave milk and cookies for you and sugar for your reindeer.

Love Joel
xo

Dear Santa:

My name is Adam Froats. I am 10 years old. I am in Grade 5 at Long Sault Public School. For Christmas I would like: skates, Guess Who game, Microscope, Watch, Dr. Dreadful Food Lab and anything else you might bring me. Thank you.

Love
Adam Froats

P.S. I will leave you a snack.

Dear Santa:

My name is Ashley Dawn Froats. I am 12 years old. I go to Long Sault Public School. I have been naughty most of the year. For Christmas I would like: clothes, Batman Forever Movie. I would also like Chris O'Donnell, so would my cousin Rachelle Vien, but I asked first.

Love,
Ashley Froats

P.S. I will leave you a snack.

Dear Santa:

How are you & Mrs. Claus? My name is Matthew Prunner. I live in Newington. i have tried to be a good boy. I am 5 yrs. old.

For Christmas I would like you to bring me a guitar, a new radio, a camper and a play gun that shoots out balls. Also a new wagon for my tractor. Please Santa, anything else you think I would like please bring to me.

Love Matthew
xxoo

P.S. Santa, I will leave you cookies and juice and some sugar for your reindeer. Bye.

Dear Santa:

I know you must be very busy, but I do hope you can come to my new apartment. My mom and daddy get me a lot of nice things all the time, they are real good to me, but I would still like a few wrestling figures, hockey sticks with team names and some more hockey key chains (you know the kind in my collection). I also like books of any kind. My mommy loves roses, so could you please bring her something with roses on it, a gift or two for my daddy because it is his birthday on Christmas day. I may be at my nammy's o if I'm not home you can leave my toys at her house. Thank you for last year's toys and have a Merry Christmas.

Love,
Nathan Lajoie

"SOLUTIONS Salutes"

SOLUTIONS TARGETING YOUR EMPLOYMENT NEEDS

NuMED Canada is celebrating its fifth birthday as a bio-medical company, and it recently capped off the celebrations with the completion of a major expansion to its Cornwall facility.

"The new expansion gives us the ability to continue our strong growth curve," notes Vice-President and General Manager Nick Gray. "Export markets remain the key growth sector for us, and we hope to grow to over fifty employees in the next few years or so." The expansion project saw the restructuring of the entire operation, and resulted in more office and administration areas, upgraded air and mechanical services and a much larger, state-of-the-art clean room.

NuMED Canada is a world leading designer and manufacturer of Angioplasty Catheters. It specializes in working with some of the world's top surgeons to develop quicker, safer and less invasive medical techniques. NuMED Canada was established in Cornwall in 1990 by NuMED Inc. of Hopkington, N.Y. with a mandate to look after the Canadian and international markets.

BRYAN MERKLEY of Solutions (rt.) presents NICK GRAY of NuMed with the Solutions Salutes Award for December, 1995

NuMED Canada experienced explosive growth in 1993 and 1994, largely due to a successful export development program. That growth saw the company more than double in size, and sales increased by more than 800%, achievements that were later recognized by the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce, as it named NuMED the 1994 Industry of the Year. "We have a lot of work ahead of us," says Gray. "In addition to doing business in over forty countries, we are currently preparing for ISO 9001 and other international registrations. The new expansion will form part of this process, as we continue to establish NuMED as a world leader in the bio-medical field." It is because of these reasons that "Solutions Salutes" NuMED Canada for December, 1995.

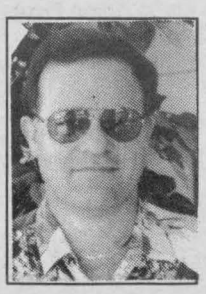
Let's Talk Automobile



by Jacques Yves Parisien

The evolution of the automobile market over the years has had an extremely positive impact on today's automobile dealer. He has had to become a well-versed business person heading a small to mid-size enterprise. He must be on the constant lookout for changes in the trends of the industry, and prepared to meet or exceed customers expectations at all times, in an extremely competitive market. A market that leaves very little room for errors. Combined, reported operating results of car dealerships today, reveal net profits of 1% to 1-1/2% as a percentage of total sales annually.

Not much, considering the huge investments in building, equipment, stocks of parts and vehicles and, last but not least, qualified well-trained personnel.

It has often been said that the automobile business is a major contributor to the state of the economy of the province and of the country. To illustrate this, let us take a look at one transaction, a car sale, where the selling price would be $10,000 with no trade-in.

In federal (GST) tax, the dealer will receive $700 and on the same transaction, will also collect more than $800 (PST) for the provincial government. Of course, these amounts will be remitted to both governments on a monthly basis. Unbelievable as it may seem, these two taxes represent much more than the gross profit realized by the dealership on that same deal.

There are still a number of consumers today who are under the impression that a dealer realizes huge profits on car deals when the reality is not so. This is probably what influences some people to shop a large number of dealers for the same make before buying, thinking that this strenuous exercise will make them save thousands of dollars. Since car dealers all pay the same price to the manufacturers for a specific make and model, whether they are a small or a large dealer, to shop at a number of dealerships for a given model may be a futile exercise.

Part of a 2000 Year Old Tradition

Q: I am a 40 year old woman who would like to take some self defense. What can you do for me?

A: From time to time we run small six week self defense courses. They are set up to teach very basic concepts of self defense and primarily teach common sense tactics. I always recommend taking full time training in some martial art and for these reasons. Self defense requires learned reflex reaction - something you can't learn in six weeks. Self defense requires a state of mind that must be developed over time through proper training methods. The ability for your body and mind to overcome the rush of adrenaline experienced by fear comes through fitness and training in a martial art environment. These and other reasons are why my Taekwondo program can help you.

Q: What are some of the advantages of concrete pavers?

A: A wide range of patterns & colours.

- The ability to handle subgrade movement without failure of the pavement surface.
- Ease of access to underground services.
- Immediate access to traffic on completion.
- Good resistance to freeze - thaw and road de-icing salts.
- A wearing surface that has good durability and skid resistance.

Women in Business

A Monthly Review of Entrepreneurial Women in Cornwall and Area

Mitsy's Pet Shop

"I have always had pets and I know how to care for them. Animals are a lot like people and you have to treat them well for them to survive and be happy."

When it came to naming her new shop she knew exactly where to look - her 10 year old cat named Mitsy.

She says that after opening her business there have been no really big surprises. Maxine says she has met many nice people in her day in business, with many of them sincerely concerned about the welfare of their animals.

"I think they come to me because they know that besides trying to do the right thing, I really do care about the animals and I want to make sure that the customer is completely satisfied," she says.

Mitsy's is one of the few pet shops in Cornwall that will take back a pet that perhaps will not meet the needs of the owner, although she says each case is based on its own merits and depends on the kind of pet involved.

Because of that attitude, business has been going well, especially in terms of sale of puppies. She says she deals only in quality and is determined to get what the customer wants.

Even so, she still has a wide selection of pets in the store, all of them small animals. One of the hottest sellers today is iguanas and she says that she can't keep them in the store long enough.

"I have found that people will go that extra mile for their animal," she says. "People do love animals and we respect that feeling."

Because she prides herself on what the store looks like, Maxine says she and her staff spend at least four and a half hours a day working on cleaning cages. She says a clean pet store sends a message to the customer who may be considering a pet.

Maxine Loyer feels that in business today the most important ingredients to success are honesty and knowledge of the product you are trying to sell.

The owner of Mitsy's Pet Shop at 319 Montreal Road says she has more than enough of both.

Maxine opened the store about two years ago after a 15 year career in the chronic care department of Macdonnell Memorial hospital. She says taking care of the elderly and their needs prepared her in many ways for her job as owner of a pet store.

"When you deal with older people you develop a lot of patience and you learn that the most important thing in all human relationships is honesty," she says. "But eventually I felt I needed a change and decided to open up my own business."

While working in the chronic care department of the hospital, Maxine started grooming pets as a sideline in order to make life just a little easier for seniors. She continues on with the grooming business from her pet store and it is an important part of the business.

However, she did not go into the pet store business blind. Maxine took a job with a pet store after leaving her job at the hospital and she also studied a lot before opening. She says she wanted to open a quality store that would meet a need in the community.

"There was no question what kind of store that I would open," Maxine says.

In The Christmas Spirit

Members of Woodland Villa Volunteers held a bake & craft sale on Thursday, November 30 to help purchase Christmas gifts for the residents. For the third consecutive year, the Bank of Montreal on Pitt Street provided the space to display the handiwork and delicious cakes and cookies donated by the volunteers and family members. At left, Doris Mullin, President, Dorothy Miller, and Vale Brownell, Vice-President and bank employee, entices Norm Quenneville, Villa Administrator, with the delectable pleasures.

Screening for prostate cancer

Prostate cancer is the most common cancer affecting men and occurs mainly in men over age 50. Many men with prostate cancer aren't aware they have it. The new PSA test may help detect the cancer early, but it is not a reliable screening test by itself.

What happens

Symptoms of enlarged prostate: Weak urine flow, dribbling, frequent urge to urinate.

- An enlarged prostate is normal in older men.
- Some 30% of men over 50 have prostate cancer, but many remain symptomless.
- The cancer can be serious if it spreads to bone and other tissue.
- Three in 10 diagnosed with prostate cancer will die from the disease.

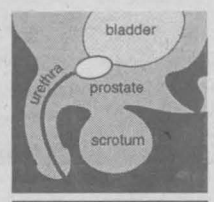
SCREENING

1. Digital rectal exam: Doctor assesses size and shape of the prostate. If a suspicious lump is detect -ed, further tests are done.

2. Prostate Specific Antigen (PSA) test: Measures PSA, a protein made by the gland. HIgh PSA may indicate a prostate problem, but not necessarily cancer.

3. Biopsy: Examination of a piece of prostate under microscope to check if it is cancerous.



WHAT TO DO

- If over 50 or have a family history of prostate cancer, see your doctor yearly for a rectal exam.
- If you have prostate problems, PSA is useful for screening or follow-up.
- If you are undergoing treatment for prostate cancer, PSA can help check for recurrence.

Can you blame the Reform Party for being "Up in Arms" over the fact that Canada's Coat of Arms was changed in July, 1994 without anyone knowing about it? The motto "From Sea to Sea" has been changed to "They Desire a Better Country" on a red ribbon encircling the centre.

What an incredibly misleading head line "RRSP's Offer Big Tax Dodge For Many" In fact RRSP's offer the only real way for Canadians to save for their old age. Certainly one can't expect, given what we see today, that the government will look after us when we retire.

Why don't we Canadians let our banks know that we won't accept them making massive profits with us still holding the bag with high interest rates on loans and mortgages and practically nothing being paid to us who want to save a few dollars. It's our money and it's time we fought to keep it.

Re budget cuts, this caller would like to know why the Police Department with the largest budget is hiring six more officers and promoting five or six more to management. Will they not get the axe? Secondly, thumbs up and Merry Christmas to Constable Dunlop, hang in there!!

Caller says that perhaps the sentence is not stiff enough for those who commit senseless vandalism. The courts should throw the book at those who drive through malls, public buildings, etc., and let others know that it's not funny and they'll pay dearly for their actions.

Once again Ontario schools have been hit with an $800 million cut in funding, but still no word of school board staff, college staff or university staff taking salary or benefit cuts. Just the poor old teachers and students as usual.

Do politicians really think that they can get away with misleading the people with their election promises? Thank God, that we, the taxpayers are hurting so much now that we won't forget their deceit when the next election comes along.

Bobby, a kindergarten student, arrives at school one day and tells his teacher that he has five new kittens and they are all Separatists.

Teacher: "Oh Bobby, how wonderful, Mr. Bouchard is visiting our class next week so bring in your kittens. He'll be pleased to see them."

The next week Bobby arrives with his kittens and his teacher is so pleased. "Let's show them to Mr. Bouchard," says the teacher. Mr. Bouchard looks at the kittens and says to Bobby, "The kittens are lovely, and they're Separatists too!"

"No sir," says Bobby, "They're Nationalists kittens."

His teacher, very embarrassed, reminds Bobby that he said they were Separatists kittens.

Bobby says, "Yes miss, but this week they opened their eyes!"

A big thank you to the gentleman walking his dog on Hamilton Crescent on Wednesday, December 6th. Thanks to you noticing that we left the lights on in the car, we were able to get to work on Thursday.

Perhaps our City councillors should talk to the Mayor of the City of Ajax about the tremendous ideas that City workers have come up with to cut $2,000,000 from the budget over the next two years without cutting jobs or services. If we, the citizens of Cornwall don't want jobs or services cut or tax increases, then let's call City Hall with our ideas on saving money no matter how small the amount. If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem.

SUGGESTIONS TO OUR CITY COUNCILLORS

... why not have the blue box collection every second week? Give an extra box to those that require it. Why do they clean the sidewalks on both sides of the street, since all of Riverdale has no sidewalks. I don't believe there are anymore accidents in that part of town.

Did you hear about the couple who thought they would spend the winter in Florida. They drove down and returned a week later after they found out there was no winter in Florida.

Caller is outraged at the nerve of the Liberal Party to mail out flyers, at our expense, no doubt, asking for donations to the Liberal party. Do they think we've all lost our minds? HOW DARE THEY ASK FOR MONEY when Federal jobs are being cut, UI benefits cut, health care cuts, etc. ...

Trudeau gave us metric. Mulroney ... Free Trade. Chretien ... Gun Control.

Now the punch line on gun control. People must remember when the FLQ raised their ugly heads in Quebec.

A whole shipment of high powered rifles were stolen off a ship, right in Montreal harbour.

Where are these rifles now? Right here amongst us, that's where they are and to top things off, these rifles have no registration numbers, because they were filed off. Some moose hunters have been hunting moose with these rifles for years.

Will these rifles be registered ... Naw!!

Exhibition '95

The Cornwall Regional Art Gallery has over 50 exhibits on display at the gallery from November 28 to December 30 during their annual juried exhibition. The public is invited to drop by throughout the month and vote for the "popular choice award" with results to be announced at the end of the exhibition. 'Reflection', a chalk on paper by Brenda Miller-Beaudette, above,was awarded 2nd place.

Seems to us the media generally did a good job on the Bernardo issue. However, that came to an abrupt halt last week when the TV networks featured their coverage of the "razing" of the Bernardo house. Their slant on this was ghoulish to say the least and certainly over done.

DIANE LEDUC sends out "Boos & Hisses" to CLAUDE McINTOSH. The Royals left Cornwall because of financial difficulties. The Aces may leave Cornwall because of financial difficulties. Now you are dumping on Don Derry. Well maybe Don can take the Colts out of Cornwall and there won't be any hockey in Cornwall.

Good work, Claude.

I you picked this week to break up the hectic holiday pace by taking in a movie, you couldn't have picked a better time. Three terrific movies this week at BROOKDALE CINEMAS at the Brookdale Mall. There's TOY STORY, a Disney Production and the first film with computerized animation. It's also appropriately the weekend matinee feature. POWDER is in Cinema 2, THE AMERICAN PRESIDENT and ACE VENTURA'S BACK TO NATURE are the 7 pm and 9 pm movies in Cinema 3.

When the end of the year draws close and you start thinking of how you plan to ring-in the New Year '96, you could contact any Masonic Member and get tickets for the MASONIC HALL NEW YEAR'S EVE DANCE. They feature a terrific food spread at midnight and Willie After Dark will keep you dancing the hours away with a wide choice of dance music, from the Big Bands, Country, R&R, and other favourites. There will be spot dances and noise makers and fun, fun, fun.

Here's a new feature from KENNY CHAN RESTAURANT. You can now enjoy their famous Chinese Buffet right in your own home. Kenny Chan is now offering delivery of the largest containers of delivered Chinese food in town. There is another bonus as you will also get a FREE dessert with every delivery.

The next scheduled stage show at AULTSVILLE THEATRE at St. Lawrence College will be the LAWRENCE GOWAN "The Good Catches Up" tour. The buzz surrounding his last tour was that it was the concert of 1994. Although Lawrence Gowan showed us a softer side - acoustic, reflective and more personal - he kept all the technical wizardry and showmanship that drew the original "Strange Animal" fans. Band members include Kenny Greer on guitar, and Jeff Jones on bass. The Gowan Tour will be at Aultsville for a December 14th concert.

You may wish to book seats now for the next GLEN PRODUCTION stage show. It will be a light hearted musical of SWEET CHARITY and the dates will be mid-February. It will be at the Aultsville Theatre and advance tickets are now available. If you read this early enough you can get tickets at the advance sale on Saturday (December 9) or contact David Barnes at 933-8995. The cast and crew for this production are already at work to make this the best musical yet. Glen Productions is an amateur theatre company and is dedicated to providing "quality family entertainment". Celebrating 30 years, it has presented such wonderful shows as Fiddler On The Roof, Music Man, Carousel and A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum (no not Patrick Roy's leaving). Seriously, we salute Glen Productions and wish them great success. "Break a leg".

Entertainment - Special Events & Restaurant Review - By Bill Gallant

You can hear The Ecumenical Choir in a presentation of Amahl and the Night Visitors and Christmas Carols at Knox St. Paul's Church this Sunday at 7:30 pm. Get tickets for this December 10th evening from choir members or at the door.

Ahoy me matey's ... didja see the newly renovated PIRATE'S COVE at Ingleside yet? They are located at the Treasure Island Inn and are open 7 days a week offering breakfast, lunch and dinner. They won't make you walk the plank, but just follow Highway 2 West to Ingleside. I was happy to see that SCUTTLEBUTT writers agreed that the city should embark on some sort of promotional campaign to herald the fact that we are NUMBER ONE IN CANADA with our transit service and have the awards to prove it. Now if we can just get a few dollars to put up some posters on the buses. I now wonder if the Scuttlebutt gang also support some kind of movement from the city to alleviate that terrible traffic situation as you exit Brookdale Mall and make an attempt to hang a left.

Until next week, G'Day and G'Night.

Last Week:

- Lunenberg family donates sleigh rides as fundraiser for Candlelighters.
- Changes to U.I. benefits may see hardship on city's 3,400 unemployed.
- Former parishioners of priest charged in sexual abuse show support with signed petition.
- Fate of Conservation Authority and its properties to be discussed at Board of Directors meeting Dec. 21.
- Report on towing controversy ends with 3 recommendations being made.
- Drive through at Brookdale Mall damage estimated at $50,000. with suspect(s) still at large.
- Runaway youths return after 9 day stay in St. Jerome area.
- 37% of Cornwall men between 20-64 labelled obese per 1990 Ontario Health Survey.
- First session on budget deliberations will see $20,000. in cuts to Council's expenses.
- Fate of Mayor Martelle's Jimmy to be determined by Council at next budget talks.
- SD&G County Library awarded a grant under CLASP program whereby every branch will have a computer or computer upgrade.
- Annual Kiwanis TV auction raises $17,710. for the physically disabled children.
- Council cuts $478,000. in second session of budget deliberations with 7.5 staff jobs being eliminated.
- Firefighters to seek ways to reduce their share of budget by $200,000.
- Anti-smuggling Task Force officer fined $90. and ordered to pay $500. to Children's Hospital for crashing into Mother & her sons.
- Third man launces $3.3 million lawsuit against priest, church and former bishop.
- Two Long Sault OPP officers cleared of any wrong doing in high speed chase which led to the death of Mikhail Litvin.

People Are Watching!!

By Robert Gialloreto

When the Aces first landed in Cornwall there was genuine excitement that the highest level of hockey that Cornwall could hope to have was here. Amid much political and budget related controvery that we are all familiar with, the actual sport, and the dedication of the players who play here, got left behind. Since the Aces landed in Cornwall, a good chunk of North America has begun to take notice of the Seaway Valley. What does that mean exactly? Well, it just may mean that an outsider may want to invest here. Maybe in hockey. It may mean that another NHL team would like the geographic proximity of having it's affiliate in Cornwall. It may mean that scouts, journalists and fans take notice of Cornwall as a place to see the best NHL prospects develop. It has meant that the city of Cornwall has received more exposure on television, through ESPN, TSN and CJOH than ever before. It means we are growing.

GIALLORETO

As we all know, the Cornwall Aces are in year one of a three year contract with the NHL's Colorado Avalanche; one of the best teams currently playing in the NHL. We also know that year's two and three of the contract are an option for both parties. At this time, it is difficult to say what the future holds. One thing is for sure though. It is important for our economy that the City of Cornwall be able to attract outside investment from the professional hockey community and private investors. In these difficult times, any city budget could use an infusion of outside money. Although the logistics of connecting taxpayers' dollars and professional hockey are certainly worth examining, hockey, in a different and solid ownership format, is good for the Seaway Valley.

Right now, people are watching. More than one National Hockey League team is watching. The American Hockey League is watching. Private investor groups and individuals are watching from inside and outside our community. They are all looking at the seats in the Ed Lumley Arena. They are looking to see if anyone is going to sit in them for AHL hockey. Many outsiders don't understand local politics, they simply understand supporting your local hockey team. The time is now to show all NHL neighbourhood teams and potential private investors that Cornwall is indeed a hockey town. That, under fair and economical ownership, this city would benefit and welcome a high-level hockey team for a long time.

The Cornwall Aces are again a solid hockey team looking to take a serious shot at the Calder Cup. With a number of different scenarios possible for next season, now is the most important time for the people of Cornwall to support this team. Not for just the Aces, but the future of hockey in Cornwall or any OHL or AHL level. Think about it. If you truly love hockey, I mean truly love the sport, there is no financial reason to not attend Aces' games. There are no taxpayers' saving money for every game they do not attend - in fact the opposite may be more valid. The seed of high-level hockey has been planted here, and it has been an adventurous journey, to say the least. It is important not to let the sacrifices and costs of the past be flitted away. Pro hockey, in the right form, will work here. That form will only have a chance to take place next season with your support.

There are many great promotions coming up in the Civic Complex, starting with Family Night on Decmeber 16th as the Aces host Serge Roberge, Scott Pearson, Dan Frawley and the Rochester Americans. We are in difficult economic times in Cornwall. Pointing fingers does not pay our bills. We should be planning for different ways of bringing money into our economy for everyone's benefit. It's easy to lay blame; it's harder to have vision. Let's show the people standing at our door step that they should come in and stay for a while.

CJHL Player of the Week

Eric Meloche

MELOCHE

For the second time during the 1995-96 season, Cornwall Colts Assistant Captain Eric Meloche was named Central Junior "A" Hockey League Player of the Week for November 27th to December 4th.

The Rosemere, Quebec native recorded a 5 goal, 8 point game in a 9-4 win over Ottawa. Eric finished the week with 7 goals and 3 assists in three games.

Eric leads the CJHL scoring race with 35 goals and 28 assists, good for 63 points in only 26 games.

Eric joins Hugo Boisvert and Dave Stathos as Colts players who have been named a 1995-96 CJHL Player of the Week.

MINOR HOCKEY SHOWCASE

Seaway Valley Major "AA" Bantam Rapids

The Major "AA" Bantam Rapids tied the Rideau St. Lawrence Kings 4-4 in their game on November 29th. Scoring for the Rapids were Ryan Firlotte, Jamie Laframboise, Lee Klazinga and Dean Fraser. Assists went to Christian Cadieux, Tim Vanoverbeek, Ryan Firlotte, David Dumont, Derek Wereley and Lee Klazinga.

The Rapids won both games this past weekend beating the Kanata Blazers 5-2 on Saturday and then defeating the Gloucester Rangers 4-2 on Sunday.

Scoring in the game against Kanata were: Cameron Lajoie, Tim Vanvoerbeek (2), David Dumont and Nick Brunet. Assists on these goals went to Daniel Lafrance, Cameron Lajoie, J.F. Lafrance (2), Ryan Firlotte, Derek Wereley and Adam Nelson (2).

In Sunday's game against Gloucester, Ryan Firlotte, Jamie Laframboise, Derek Wereley and Eric Fontaine took care of the goal scoring while Tim Vanoverbeek (2), Ryan Firlotte, David Dumont and Derek Wereley took care of the assists.

Minor AA Atom Rapids

The Seaway Valley Minor Atom Rapids lost to the Ottawa West Golden Knights 3-2 in Ottawa. Chris Laperle scored both Rapids goals. The next day in Maxville, the Rapids beat the Nepean Raiders 4-1. Timmy Owens led the squad with a pair, with Ryne Gove and Brennan Barker adding singles. The Rapids outshot the Raiders 41-11.

The Rapids lost to the South Ottawa Canadians 5-3 in Ottawa, despite outshooting the home team 24-15. Scoring for the Rapids was Devin Bancroft, Ryne Gove and Chris Laperle.

Cornwall Atom "B" Aces

Hoping to ad to a successful record on the road, the Aces travelled to Alexandria on Nov. 19 only to lose a 4-3 squeaker to the home team. Ryan Roy, Chris Roy and Mathieu Bergeron each scored once with Oliver McTaggart turning a strong performance.

The game finished just a little too late for the Long Sault Selects on Nov. 23rd. Although the Aces got behind early in the game, third period heroics pulled victory from the jaws of defeat and left the Selects stinging at the 2-1 outcome. Kyle Forrester's powerful shot from the point gave Mathieu Bergeron the chance he was waiting for to light up the Aces scoreboard. With only ten seconds left, Jason Lepine tipped in the winning goal off a great pass from Ryan Roy.

Ron's Scuba Shop Bantam "A" Aces

The Bantam "A" Aces won bronze in the tournament in Montreal recently. The Aces started out slowly against first opponent Port Credit as they fell behind early and never recovered. Officiating was extremely tight and this took away from the rough play of both teams. Port Credit showed some real finesse around the net scoring four power play goals and one shorthanded to hand the frustrated Aces an 8 to 1 loss. Stef Champagne scored the only goal.

In the second game against eventual champion Detroit Falcons, the Aces jumped out to a two goal lead on power play goals by Nolan Garrow and Jamie Plumadore. Detroit woke up and scored three goals in the last 4 minutes of the first period. The bigger Detroit team took advantage of the non-existent officiating and pulled out to a 9-2 lead before Jeff Legue scored in the third for a final score of 9-3.

Nolan Garrow started things off against St. Albans, Vt. but before the first period was over, St. Albans was up 2-1. Garrow again scored in the second to tie it up as both teams exchanged goals, one more by Shawn Freeland, for a 4-3 St. Albans lead after two periods. St. Albans showed some great passing in and around the crease as they scored twice more to win 6-3.

In the Consolation game, the Aces faced St. Albans and picked up the tempo as Joey Sullivan and Stef Champagne scored the only goals in the first period. St. Albans crept back into the game as they scored once in the second and then took advantage of a power play to tie it up. With 5 minutes remaining in the game, St. Albans scored what seemed to be the winner until the referee handed them a penalty with 2 minutes left. Jeff Legue took a slapshot from the point that tied the game and set up an overtime period with a 4 on 4 situation. No team could score so another overtime for a 3 on 3 was set up. The Aces put the pressure on until the puck popped loose and a St. Albans player had a breakaway. As he got ready to make his shot, goaltender Jamie Ross dove out at him with a suicidal poke check that cleared the puck back up the ice. Stef Champagne scooped it up at the blue line and he and linemate Kris Longtin circled like two vultures and led the final charge up the ice against the lone defenceman. After crossing the blueline, the defenceman leaned towards Champagne and he passed it over to Longtin. He came as far as the face off circle and, without hesitation, wound up with one of his spectacular slapshots and let it fly. The goaltender got a piece of it but the puck deflected up under the crossbar for the winning goal. Ross's fine play and assist on the winning goal was the highlight of the weekend as the Aces ended the tournament on a positive note winning Bronze medals.

Cornwall Peewee "B" Navy Vet Aces

The Cornwall Peewee "B" Aces travelled to Alexandria on Sunday, Dec. 3 to face the undefeated number one club in the league. It was a close contest, and with only 1:32 remaining, Alexandria had two men in the box when Yves Leger pulled Devon Eveleigh for the extra attacker giving Cornwall a 6 on 3 advantage. Unfortunately, Cornwall couldn't control the puck, as Alexandria fired an ice long shot into an empty net. It was none the less a fantastic effort as Cornwall goals came from Eric Lavictorie and Mario Bissonnette with assists coming from Ryan Leroux and Trevor Legue.

S.S. Novice Selects

The South Stormont Novice Selects proved this past weekend they are a team to be reckoned with. Their first road trip of the year sent them to Pembroke for the Regional Silver Stick Novice "B" Tournament. They left under snowy conditions and returned the same way, with one exception. The selects brough the Silver Stick Novice "B" Championship Banner home with them. The Selects went 5 and 0 in the tournament with the last 2 games decided in overtime. Under the capable direction of Coach Harold McBride and Assistant Coach Dr. Benoit Guindon, the Selects did what no team from South Stormont had ever done.

Game #1 saw the Selects trouncing the squad from Ernestown 7-0. Brett Liscomb led the scoring with 3 goals and 2 assists. Other goals went to Tyler Maxwell, Brock McBride, Michael Crawford and Addison Pelkey. Liam Tyrell assisted on 3, while Cameron McPherson, Matthew Walsh, Maxwell, Crawford and Pelkey assisted on one apiece. Stefan Guindon was superb in nets recording the shut out.

Against Kanata in the second game, Liscomb picked up the hat trick and an assist in a 6-2 win. Tyrell, McPherson and Walsh handled the other goals with assists going to McBride with two and Pelkey with one.

Even an early 7:00 am start couldn't deter the Selects for the third game, as they went on to win 6-3 agains the Pembroke Kings. Liscomb fired in 4 and an assist this time, while both Cory Gove and Walsh picked up a goal and an assist. McBride had another helper.

In the semi-final game against the Casselman Braves, Liscomb opened the scoring in the second period, assisted by Todd Perry and Maxwell. Casselman responded with 1 in the third. Overtime saw Cory Gove net the game winner, with an assist going to Liscomb. Final score - Selects 2, Casselman 1.

Stefan Guindon demonstrated once again his talent, sharp eye and quick reflexes, facing and stopping 15 shots in the championship game against the Clarence Creek Senators. The score at the end of regulation time was 0-0. Overtime saw the exciting end to end action continue and at 3:05, Todd Perry fired in a shot from the point to win the game and the tournament.

This championship sends the Selects to the North American Novice Finals in St. Clair Shores, Michigan in late January.

Congratulations boys on a job well done.

Minor Bantam "AA" Rapids

The Seaway Valley "AA" Minor Bantams have won 2 of the last 3 games played. It was a 4-3 win against South Ottawa. Brad McMillan opened the scoring on a breakaway pass from Travis Albers. Kyle McAllister scored as Derek Wagar and Kurt MacSweyn set him up. Nick Quenneville then made his way to the net and scored an unassisted goal. Nigel Newland scored the winning goal with assists going to McAllister and Wagar.

The next game was another close one with the Rapids coming out on top 5-4.

Kanata scored the first goal of the game but one minute later Rapids' Kurt MacSweyn tied the score with assists going to Derek Wagar and Nigel Newland. Only one more minute passed before Kanata took the lead again, 2-1. Albers tied the game with an unassisted goal before the end of the first period. Kanata came on strong with 2 quick goals but Seaway retaliated with Derek Wintle scoring and Albers tying the score; Richard Durocher assisted on both these goals. The Rapids got a break with a powerplay goal with 5 minutes left in the game. McAllister took possession of the puck, passed it to Jonah Leroux who quickly passed to Albers who scored the winner for a hat trick.

The next game was a penalty filled one (18 penalties, 4 G.M.). Rideau outscored Seaway 5-2. Kurt MacSweyn scored both goals for the Rapids. Albers assisted on the first one, MacMillan and Wintle set up the second.

CUPE, RCSS Board Midget "B" Aces

The CUPE, RCSS Board, Midget "B" Aces sandwiched two wins between losses in a jam-packed seven days. All the fire power came from the Nixon-Barribeau-Lavigne line when the team travelled to Kemptville on November 20. Chad Nixon had two goals and an assist. Barribeau added a third but the Aces fell short and were defeated 6 to 3.

The Midget "B" team came out guns blazing to defeat Vankleek Hill 9 to 4 on November 26. Dan Barribeau got the hat trick, Eric Yelle and Steve Giroux added doubles, while Chad Nixon and Phil Marleau added singles. Solid team action was the hallmark of this victory.

Team effort continued as the CUPE Aces defeated the Char Lan Rebels 6 to 4. Everyone took a turn lighting up the red light, with singles scored by Joel Lavigne, Eddy Flemming, Chad Nixon, Steve Giroux, Todd Duhaine and Matthew Bellsmith. Goaltender Steve Pare and the defensive unit shut down the opponent.

Luck ran out as the Midget "B" Aces travelled to Morrisburg on November 28. Play was much closer than the 5 to 2 score might indicate. Lee Wheeler got his first goal of the season, while Chad Nixon continued his four game scoring streak.

STRATEGIES

FOR SURVIVING THE '90s

Beyond strolling

- Measure your time. Start by timing how long it takes you to walk a mile comfortably, probably between 15 and 20 minutes.
- Measure several courses. Use your car's odometer or the rule of 10 city blocks to a mile to measure different routes. Two miles per course is enough for a start.
- Measure your intensity. Figure your maximum heart rate by subtracting your age from 220. Multiply the result by 0.6 and 0.9 to get your target zone.
- Set a goal of three to five times a week.
- Keep it up. Walk first thing in the morning before other commitments crop up.

SOURCE: Health Magazine; research by PAT CARR

Walking regularly is a very effective strategy for keeping fit and healthy. Here are Health Magazine's tips for starting a walking program:

For maximum benefit

- Posture: Lean slightly forward – from the ankles, not the waist.
- Arm swing: Keep your elbows bent at a 90-degree angle and swing from the shoulder, ending the forward swing with your hand at breastbone height.
- Stride: Long, smooth. Keep your supporting leg straight as your body passes over it, and let the hip rise and relax. Keep other foot on the ground for as long as possible before pushing off.

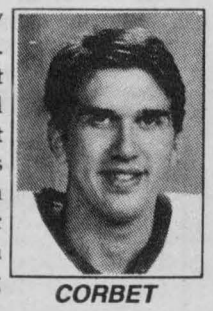
Corbet Breathing Thin Air!!



CORBET

The Colorado Avalanche announced recently that they have recalled left winger Rene Corbet. Corbet has played nine games with the Aces this season scoring 5 goals and 6 assists. Rene carries an even plus/minus and 10 minutes in penalties as well as tallying one power play, one short-handed and two unassisted goals.

Rene was originally drafted by the Quebec Nordiques as their second choice, 24th overall, in the 1991 Entry Draft. Corbet played eight games with Quebec last season amassing 3 assists. The Victoriaville native played his first NHL game on October 21st, 1993 versus Chicago and scored his first NHL goal on Dallas' Andy Moog on January 2, 1994.

THE CARD CORNER by CJ's Hobby Haven

Patrick Roy, one of the biggest controversial subjects in hockey, is one of the toughest questions to bring up in sports talk today. Patrick was just traded to Colorado for Jocelyn Thibeault who will have tough skates to fill, but has a great chance to make a big name for himself. Patrick has had a career which saw him take Montreal to the Stanley Cup and along the way win two Conn Smythe trophies. Is his career ending or does he do a shutout job in Colorado and achieve his milestone of 300 career wins and make Colorado a Stanley Cup contender their first year in the NHL? Mr. Roy's cards, above, is Upperdeck SP-42, valued at $5.00 and Jocelyn's Rookie Gold Rush Card, valued at $2.00.

Bear Hunting Thursday

by Ken McLaughlin
Director of Public Relations

To date, your Cornwall Colts have exhibited the skills, toughness and explosive goal scoring ability to defend our 1994-95 CJHL Championship. This season, there's only one team that has defeated us twice. They have the honour of being the only team to post a winning record against your Colts. Get ready, the season series is about to be evened up.

This Thursday, December 14 the Yzerman Division leading Smith Falls Bears visit the Si Miller Arena at 7:30 pm. The Bears captured the first two meetings of the season, winning by scores of 4-2 and 5-3. On November 10, your Colts rebounded with an impressive 10-3 victory at the Bear's den. Expect Thursdays game to be a spirited affair, with two teams that feature scoring firepower, tight defence, and strong goaltending.

On Sunday, December 17, we load "Colt 1" and travel to the Nepean Sportsplex to battle the Nepean Raiders. Your Colts are looking to raise their record to a perfect 3-0, against Nepean, this season. The puck drops at 7 pm.

A big thank you to the over 300 people who attended Skate With The Colts, Saturday, December 2 at the Si Miller Arena. Players were kept busy for an hour and a half, signing autographs and posing for pictures. Thanks to Serge and Annie, from the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, for their help in organizing this event, which was sponsored by the Cornwall Community Health Coalition and Ladas Your Independent Grocer, in Cornwall Square.

We hope you'll take some time from your busy schedule to join us this Thursday, December 14 as the Smiths Falls Bears come to town for what should be a great match up.

Colts hockey at the Si Miller Arena ... during the festive season, get closer to the exciting action.

Colorado Avalanche Acquire Patrick Roy and Mike Keane

Colorado Avalanche Executive Vice President of Hockey Operations and General Manager Pierre Lacroix announced the acquisition of goaltender Patrick Roy and right winger Mike Keane from the Montreal Canadiens.

The trade was officially made early this morning, just a few hours after Colorado's 12-2 win over the San Jose Sharks.

In exchange for Roy and Keane, the Avalance traded goaltender Jocelyn Thibault, left winger Martin Rucinsky and right winger Andrei Kovalenko.

Roy has played in 22 games with the Canadiens this season, earning a 2.95 goals against average and a record of 12-9-1. Roy, a two-time Stanley Cup Champion, was the NHL's Conn Smythe Trophy winner in 1986 and again in 1993. The 30 year old goaltender has won the Vezina Trophy as the NHL's top goaltender three times (1989, 1990, 1992). Roy, who is a three time NHL All-Star, was the Canadiens' fourth round draft choice in the 1984 draft.

Keane, who was named the Canadiens' captain in 1995, has recorded seven assists in 18 games this season. Keane was a Stanley Cup champion with the Canadiens in 1993. The 28 year old forward signed as a free agent with Montreal in September of 1985.

Motorists' Rights

It's your car - It's your choice!

Choosing a Collision and Refinish Centre
Do not be intimidated by other people at the scene of the accident as to where your car should be taken to. As the owner of a motor vehicle damaged in an accident, you have the right to choose the shop where you wish to have your vehicle repaired. This is the law!

Notify your Insurance Company
Before authorizing any repairs, notify your insurance company or agent, and tell them where the damaged vehicle can be inspected.

Is the Work Guaranteed?
Most collision and repair centre guarantee their collision work to some degree, which may not include the paint job. Ask about guarantee and how long.

Know Your Shop
Make sure the shop you choose:
- Maintains a reliable, professional reputation.
- Is properly equipped and organized to meet today's more technical repairing needs.
- Maintains specialized equipment and systems at peak performance.
- Have technicians that are thoroughly trained and certified. Shop cleanliness can say a lot about the technicians' attitudes, so can friendliness and atmosphere. If you feel comfortable with the shop and it's people, chances are you'll be satisfied with their work.

Dear Potential Customer - If you would like us to repair your car please say so. We would be glad to call your agent or broker on your behalf.

Christmas Gift Guide

Holiday Shopping for the Difficult Person Doesn't Have to Be a Chore

You know who they are — the names on your holiday gift list that never match up easily with a gift idea. Maybe it's a co-worker, a distant relative, a friend or even a spouse, but they all have one thing in common — you're absolutely stumped when it comes to choosing a present.

You can stop fretting and start shopping. Here are some pointers that can ease you through this holiday dilemma.

The first tip is to forget about buying something they need. That's probably what stumped you in the first place. Either you don't know what they need or you're shopping for someone who doesn't seem to need anything. Instead of looking for that desperately needed something, start looking at things that are useful — that have some purpose, but may not be particularly needed.

For example, someone doesn't have to be a dedicated bird watcher to hang up an attractive bird feeder. They don't need to be a famous author to appreciate a quality writing instrument, either. You get the idea. Something can have a use even if it's not absolutely necessary to have it.

Another hint for shopping for the hard-to-buy-for person is to look for value. A poorly made product at any price is not a bargain. Yet, keep in mind that you don't necessarily have to spend a lot for a quality item. Regardless of the price range you are shopping in, look for quality materials, construction and design. Giving someone a well-made gift shows that you care about them and demonstrates your thoughtfulness.

A final stress-reducing technique is to look for a little fun. Many gifts are meant to be romantic or sentimental, which is fine for some on your list, but in most other cases, you can't go wrong if you look for something that makes the recipient smile.

don't give up on those hard-to-buy-for people on your list. The Mickey & Co. Mickey and Minnie pens are high-quality, useful and, best of all, make people remember you with a smile. Call (800) 556-7354 for the name of a local retailer.

With all the nostalgic gifts for adults these days, it's easy to find something fun. For instance, the cartoon characters that everyone grew up with gain popularity each year. One of the most popular of these "character" gifts available tl is year is the new Mickey & Co. Mickey and Minnie pens. After all these years, they're still the two most recognized and most popular characters among all age groups.

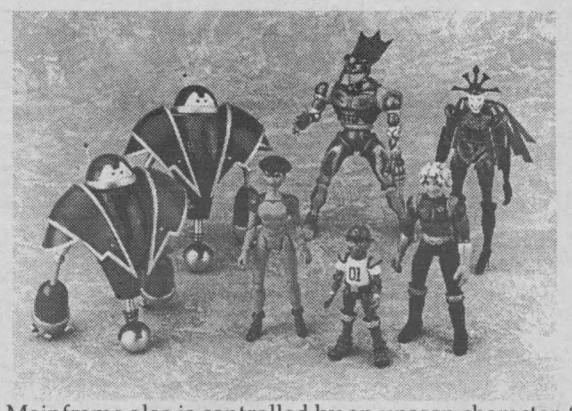
They also fit the qualities to look for. They're high-quality writing instruments, starting in price at less than $20. They're useful, and they generate smiles when they're taken out of wrapping paper and every time they leave a purse or pocket.

To save some running around, you can call (800) 556-7354 for the name of a local retailer who carries the Mickey and Minnie pens. A holiday gift like this is even appropriate for business contacts. After all, there's nothing better than a client or boss smiling every time he or she thinks about you (or your gift).

New Action Figures Top Holiday Gift Lists

Children will add a new cast of characters to their action-figure collections this holiday season with Irwin Toy's new action-figure and play-set line based on the television program, "ReBoot." "ReBoot" is the first fully computer-animated television series, and it has taken a "megabyte" out of the competitive Saturday-morning television lineup.

The series, targeted to children ages 4 and up, takes children inside a computer to the city of Mainframe, populated with sprites and binomes. The series' heroes, Bob, Dot, Enzo and his dog, Frisket, challenge two computer viruses that threaten Mainframe: the eloquently evil Megabyte, who is programmed to take over the computer, and Hexadecimal, a Medusa with mood-reflecting masks, programmed to create chaos.



Mainframe also is controlled by an unseen character, "the User." When "the User" decides to play a computer game, the game descends on random sectors of Mainframe, forcing the characters caught inside the game to compete with "the User." Should "the User" win the game, the entire sector goes off-line, destroying it and transforming the characters caught in the game into mindless, energy-eating Nulls. Bob, Dot, Enzo and Frisket have saved many a sector from ruin and its citizens from becoming nullified.

With this cast of characters, Irwin Toy has created a line of action figures, vehicles and micro play sets. These are fabulous-looking toys that accurately reflect the look of the "ReBoot" television program. The lineup includes 3-inch collectible figures, 5½-inch poseable action figures, three mini play sets and a vehicle — Bob's V262 Drophead car. As Enzo would say — they're alphanumeric!

Say It with Gemstones, Add Romance to a Holiday Gift

Colored gemstones have a long romantic history that can bring another level of meaning to a holiday gift. You can say it with flowers, but gemstones are a lot more persuasive.

Most people are familiar with the tradition of birthstones, but birthstones are a relatively recent expression of a much older tradition. In ancient times, gemstones were believed to be powerful talismans that could charm a lover or heal the sick. Although jewelry stores no longer act as hospitals, gemstones have a powerful symbolism that still can charm your loved ones and express how you feel about them.

"Colored gemstones add emotional expression to a gift of jewelry," says Cheryl Kremkow, director of the International Colored Gemstone Association's information service in New York. "They express love, passion, friendship, faithfulness. There is a gemstone that can symbolize any feeling you want to convey with your gift."

Throughout history, sapphires have symbolized sincerity, faithfulness and truth. In fact, the expression "true blue" comes from the symbolism of sapphire. Ruby expresses passion. Emerald represents love and fertility, making it a good gift for a woman who is expecting a baby. Opal represents hope, and topaz symbolizes the sun. Amethyst brings peace, tranquillity and sobriety. Aquamarine adds a soothing influence to marital discord and has the power to ensure a long and happy marriage.

You also can create your own symbolism. Since the first poet praised a woman's ruby lips, gemstones have spoken the language of love. Many couples have a color, place, song, special moment or private language that can be evoked through a gemstone. Adding a special poem or note that explains the significance of a gift makes it more memorable.

If you need some inspiration, the International Colored Gemstone Association offers a book of free gemstone poems. For your copy, call the association at (212) 688-8452, or send a self-addressed, stamped, large envelope to ICA, 609 Fifth Ave., #905, New York, NY 10017.

Although ruby, emerald and sapphire are the most popular gemstones, you also might want to consider unusual and exotic gems, like tourmaline, tanzanite, topaz, tsavorite garnet, amethyst, rhodolite garnet, malaya garnet, aquamarine, iolite, citrine, spinet and peridot. Many varieties are surprisingly affordable.

Within each gemstone variety, quality, of course, dramatically affects price. In general, smaller gemstones of higher quality appreciate more over time than larger stones of lower quality. Quality and value are evaluated according to the "four C's": color, clarity, cut and carat weight.

Color is the most important factor for determining quality. Within each variety, a clear, medium-tone, very intense and saturated primary color is usually the most preferred. Muted colors or colors between hues are generally less expensive.

The next most important factor affecting value is clarity, with clear, transparent gemstones with no visible flaws being the most valued.

A good cut is something that may not cost more, but may enhance a gemstone's beauty. A well-cut faceted gemstone reflects light back evenly across its surface area when held face up. If the stone is too deep and narrow, areas will be dark. If it is too shallow and wide, areas will be washed out and lifeless.

The carat weight also affects the price: Large gemstones are more rare, so the price per carat is higher.

In general, gemstone pricing within each variety follows common sense: The more beautiful the gemstone, with the final visual effect of all the quality factors, the more valuable it is. Trust your instincts, and choose the gemstone that speaks to you.

Wine Club Offers a Gift for All Seasons

If you have a friend or business client who loves excellent wine, here's a holiday gift to please like no other — a gift membership to the California Wine Club®.

Each month, the fortunate recipient of your gift will receive two bottles of wine from California's best small wineries — world-class wines that are sure to delight the palate, but are not generally available in retail wine shops.

All wines in the program are selected personally by the owners of the California Wine Club, who visit each winery they recommend to choose the best of the best. Included in the wine package is an informative and fun newsletter, "Uncorked®," that tells about the wines, as well as interesting wine features.

This year, there's also something new. It's an even more upscale wine program called the Connoisseurs' Series®. Wines in this program are only the highest-rated wines determined by the "Connoisseur's Guide To California Wines," the estimable publication written by wine experts Charles Olken and Earl Singer.

To place an order, call the 24-hour toll-free line — (800) 777-4443. Gifts can be charged to Visa, MasterCard or American Express. The price is only $30 per month, and you can send as many months as you choose. The Connoisseurs' Series price varies depending on the wines selected. The California Wine Club offers two-day service, volume discounts and deferred payments.

Christmas Traditions

Her Eyes How They Twinkle! Her Dimples How Merry!

"When I think of Christmas, I think of the white snow." Irene Pyke would like to be able to read the treasured novels once again, and she'd like to take a walk in the snow. (Photo by Chris Brown)

by Chris Brown
staff reporter

That little twinkle in Irene Pyke's eyes holds a lot of Christmas memories. "It was a sinful time," she tells. "There were no big gifts like there are now! In my stocking I always got a lump of coal, an orange, and a book – always a book." I guess that's where she gets her love of reading.

The 76-year-old Versa-Care Centre resident can no longer read the fictional mysteries she so loves, and television can't quite compare. "It's just not the same."

With the help of her sister, "we made decorations out of coloured tissue paper, made them in loops. It took many days until we got enough to decorate the whole house".

And she vividly remembers one year... "we had tangerines. We bought them by the box."

Just days before Christmas, her parents had gone out and she was skiing on the slope with friends. We went in to warm up and we found that box of tangerines. "Me and my friends destroyed it. I was always the one to get into trouble – my sister always wanted to play house ...I wanted to build things.

I got my ass licked. I can still remember that but the oranges were good!"

Boarding the train from Vancouver after her father lost his accounting position for Western King during the Depression, the four headed to Cornwall, "quite by accident".

And when her children were little, "we had some wonderful Christmases!"

Like the year she went shopping at the Beamish store in Cornwall's east end. "Me and my sister went shopping and bought felt cowboy hats for the children."

Christmas morning there they were, hung on the banister. The first thing the little ones could see were the stockings but David, the eldest son, "saw his stocking but he could also see his hat". All he could say was 'Santa, you fool you!'

Irene and husband Munroe didn't have much but they always tried to make Norma, David, Garfield and little Bruce as happy as possible.

"When I think of Christmas, I think of the white snow and the bread carts and the milk carts going down the road. When I was in Winnipeg, we used to ride on the ice cart from school.

I remember one Christmas as a teenager. We hadn't been down here (Cornwall) very long. There was a sleet storm and we had to slide most of the way to my aunts. We were very poor but we managed to get her kids games. And we walked all the way there and all the way back. My aunt, she had such a goop of them – there were lots of kids. I don't remember what I got that Christmas, I don't think I got anything."

Irene's most special Christmas was when her daughter Norma moved into her new house. "You could feel the warmth. I always feel secure there."

Christmas now just isn't the same. "Actually I don't care for Christmas ...I haven't since my husband died. He was a wonderful husband." Munroe left her much too soon at the young age of 52. "Nothing was ever the same after that."

But all in all it's been a good life for Irene, who has spent the last two years under the nursing home's care. "It's not the same as living at home. They do their best, but..."

Content and satisfied, there's really nothing she'd like for Christmas this year. "I told them last year (I didn't want anything) but I know they don't listen."

But if she had one wish, just one wish this Christmas, she'd wish for a new pair of legs. "...I like to walk in the snow."

AMELL
Charles Ray

Charles Ray Amell of 68 Maple Street, Ingleside, passed away suddenly on Saturday, November 18th, 1995 at the Ottawa Civic Hospital, Heart Institute.

Mr. Amell was born in Farren's Point on June 12th, 1929. Before retirement Mr. Amell operated shovel during the Seaway Days, working on the International Bridge and at Upper Canada Village.

Ray Amell is survived by his wife, Addie Pat Amell, whom he married on September 13th, 1948 in Farren's Point.

He is survived by his children, Mavis Beilby (Robert), Donald Amell (Shirley), Linda Markell (Ivan), Michael Amell (Helene); seven grandchildren, Patricia, Roland, Melissa, Natasha, Jessica, Rebecca and Chad.

Also survived by his brothers, Robert Amell and Morton Amell and sisters Madeline Malone and Betty Murphy.

Predeceased by his son, Gary Amell (1976), his parents, Frank Amell and Viva Donnelly, and his brother, Arnold Amell.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday, November 21st, 1995 from the Brownlee Funeral Home, Ingleside to St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church. Reverend Lloyd Smith officiated. Interment was at Pleasant Valley Cemetery, R.R. #3 Ingleside.

The pallbearers were Donald Malone, John Malone, Alfred Amell, Art Woods, Denzil Height and Colin Keicks.

Friends and relatives travelled from Acton, Toronto, Welland and surrounding areas to attend Mr. Amell's funeral.

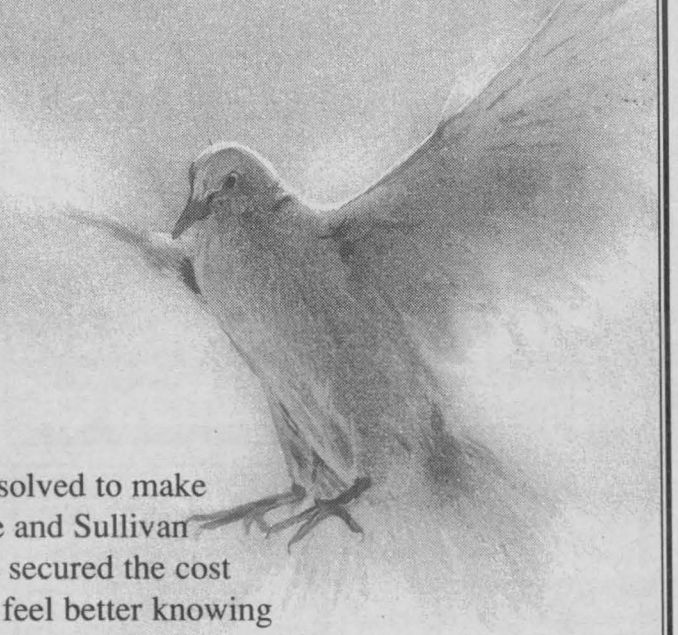
Life After Death



"Sam was only 62 when his heart gave out. His children lived away, and his wife was, of course, terribly upset. As close friends, my wife and I helped Mildred until the children could get here. I remember feeling as much despair for Sam's family as I felt for his passing. Mildred and the kids were overwhelmed with sadness, and things became even more difficult when no one knew what Sam wanted at his funeral.

After helping his family get through what seemed like endless details, my wife and I resolved to make advance funeral arrangements, and spare our children this heartache and frustration. Lahaie and Sullivan showed us how to plan every detail, even the music we each wanted. Our pre-arrangements secured the cost and provided us with a tax-sheltered investment (all interest earned is income tax free). We feel better knowing everything is taken care of so, no one will have to face the difficult decisions that Sam's family endured."

Pre-arrangements make life after death easier to bear for your loved ones. Don't hesitate, call Lahaie & Sullivan Cornwall Funeral Homes today to learn about freezing the costs to avoid inflation and easy installment plans.
