City Achieves Goal

AUBRY

Mayor Dick Aubry announced Nov. 19th that a delegation from the City of Cornwall has met with the Hon. Al Leach, Minister of Municipal Affairs & Housing, to discuss how the proceeds to be realized as a result of the pending sale of Cornwall Electric will be viewed by the provincial government in relation to the provincial/municipal restructuring exercise. On October 14th, City Council approved a motion requesting that such a meeting take place. The meeting was held at Queen's Park on November 18th with Richard Allaire and Paul Fitzpatrick accompanying Mayor Aubry.

Mr. Leach has assured City officials that the sale of Cornwall Electric and the subsequent financial considerations will not impact the City's position to apply for assistance from the programs established by the provincial government to assist municipalities who are adversely affected by the 'Who Does What' initiative.

Mayor Aubry said: "The position the Minister has taken on the sale of Cornwall Electric is extremely favourable for our municipality and ensures that we will be treated on an equal basis with all other municipalities in Ontario. We also used this opportunity with the Minister to highlight the significant and difficult budget decisions the City has undertaken over the past few years. Specifically, we outlined that since 1994, the City has reduced its gross expenditures by almost $10 million and reduced the City's workforce by 54 full-time positions. These actions were necessary in order to deal with the decrease in provincial funding and the commitment by Council to not impose a municipal tax increase on the ratepayers of Cornwall. It was important to demonstrate to Mr. Leach that we have been fiscally responsible and capable of adapting to the changing financial relationship developing between municipalities and the Government of Ontario.

In addition, it was equally important for the Minister to understand that the sale of Cornwall Electric is not being undertaken in order to cope with the ongoing provincial/municipal restructuring initiative. This transaction is the result of a thorough examination by City Council of the future of its utility given the changes taken place in the electric utility industry. Accordingly, the City has been provided with a unique opportunity that will substantially assist the City in the future and I am delighted with the positive manner in which the Minister has received and responded to our representation."

People's Treaty to Be Signed

Thousands of citizens across Canada will gather on December 3rd and 4th to sign the "People's Treaty" banning anti-personnel landmines. These treaty signing events will take place at the same time as the ministerial conference in Ottawa where more than 100 nations are expected to sign the Convention on the Prohibition of the use, stockpiling, production and transfer of anti-personnel mines and on their destruction.

From coast to coast Canadians will endorse the convention through the People's Treaty. The treaty signifies citizens support for the convention and shows the continued commitment of individuals to ensure governments adhere to the convention obligations.

"The People's Treaty is largely symbolic, it is an opportunity for us to continue to show the strong grassroots support for the convention and a total ban of anti-personnel (AP) landmines," says Valerie Warmington, Chair of Mines Action Canada.

"By signing the convention, governments indicate their intention to ratify it and to comply with all of its conditions. These include provision of international assistance for global mine clearance and assistance to victims. As individuals we are committed to ensuring governments comply with convention obligations."

The People's Treaty, named after the ground-swell of citizen support for a total ban on anti-personnel mines which has steadily grown throughout the 1990's, invites citizens to monitor government progress in the areas of ratification, compliance, clearance and victim assistance. Signatories to the People's Treaty are encouraged to take part in advocacy campaigns directed at governments who have not signed or are slow to ratify.

"The continued involvement of civil society on the landmines issue is critical to our work," said Warmington. "The convention sets a standard for the world, a standard which says we will no longer accept the use of anti-personnel mines. As more states sign and ratify, the pressure on non-signatories and non-state actors increases. They are outside an accepted social and international norm and continued public support for a ban will move them in the right direction."

The convention will be signed in Ottawa by State representatives over December 3rd and 4th. The convention enters into force after 40 states have ratified.

Q My first baby is due in six months and I am worried about how it will affect my eight year old Golden Retriever. He's been our "baby" until now, so I'm concerned he could be jealous. Is there something I can do now to prepare him for the baby?

A Every set of new parents worries about their pet and because every pet is different, there's no single answer. Dogs are creatures of habit and a baby can cause a dramatic change in lifestyle that alters your pet's schedule and environment. Keeping your dog's schedule as close to normal after the baby is born is the best way to prevent problems. However, if this isn't realistic, now is the time to start chnnging his routine.

If you are the dog walker, switch to your husband now and let the dog acclimatize. If your dog needs to change his sleeping area after the baby is home, move him now and reward the behavior. Introduce your dog to babies so he is not surprised by the sudden arrival. Get a tape of baby noises and play it around the house. Prepare the dog with baby scents, towels and blankets. When the day arrives, let someone other than a family member introduce the baby to the dog. If there is any chance that your dog could bite when allowed to sniff the baby, a muzzle should be used.

Never leave the baby unsupervised with your dog. Always praise your dog for a good behavior around the baby and discourage negative behaviors such as jumping on furniture and aggressive play. Dogs are pack animals. They consider the family to be the pack. Eventually, with most pets, the new baby will become a member of the pack and a new routine will take hold.

Tips Changing a pet's food should be done gradually. Sudden changes in diet can result in diarrhea.

A big thank you to everyone who took part in organizing, volunteering their time, and of course donating food items.

Friends of the Ingleside Library

During the winter of '96-97 a group of local individuals got together to organize the "Friends of the Ingleside Library". The purpose of the group is to make the community more aware of what the local library has to offer. In this era of government cutbacks we never know when or what might be affected. The non-profit group hopes to raise money to help in the upkeep of our local library when the extra-funding from the government is not there. In July 1997 a combined yard, book and bake sale was held with help and support from the local community. It was a great success!

On November the 2nd, the Friends held a successful stencilling class at the library with 10 people in attendance.

On Remembrance Day there were 3 Veterans; Art Ostrander, Mary Hanniman and Myrtle Brenen, from the Long Sault Branch of the Legion Branch - local 569, and they shared some of their war experiences with the children and adults. Cookies and lemonade was also served.

Christmas crafts, starting: November 20th.

We are asking that the children pre-register for these activities (at no charge) so that we can have enough supplies on hand.

The Friends of the Ingleside Library also have used books for sale, during library hours. If you would like to become a Friend of the Library, please call any of the above numbers. There is a membership fee of $5.00 per family for a year.

Annual Fall Fest

The Annual Fall Fest, hosted by the Iroquois Playground Committed raised approximately $1,000 this year. The total was a little lower than last year's total, but organizers were still happy with the turnout. There were 20 vendors on site at the Civic Centre in Iroquois. A total of 40 draws for gifts offered in the popular "loonie draws". Everything from ceramics, toys, crafts, clothing, quilts, baked goods, and books were offered for sale. The Playground Committe is currently selling tickets on a coloured television. Tickets can be purchased through committee members or some local stores. The draw takes place December 19th. The Committee will be holding an April Fest in the spring.

PR Workshop

Franktown Centennial hall was the site of a public relations officers workshop on November 6th.

Approximately 46 people turned out for the workshop. Guest speaker was Dianne Pinder-Moss, reporter with the E.M.C., Smiths Falls and she talked about writing effective editorials for the press.

Public Relations Officers manuals were handed out and guidelines for Public Relations were reviewed. They also touched on ways to get more members and more volunteer hours.

Winter Parking Regulations

The City of Cornwall and the Cornwall Police are advising motorists that winter parking restrictions are in effect as of November 15th. There is no parking on the streets between 1 am and 8 am and drivers may face a $25 fine and have their car towed away if they are in violation of the by-law. The parking restrictions are in place to ease the cleanup of the streets after a snowstorm. The snow can be cleaned up and removed much easier if there are no cars on the street that the plows have to manouever around.

My sincere thanks to all those who voted for me and supported me. Good luck and good skill to the new Council.

New Grocery Store Set To Open Soon

LADAS

A new grocery store will be opening in the east end of Cornwall in the old Loblaws location in the Eastcourt Mall. Brian Ladas, formerly of Ladas Your Independent Grocers in the Cornwall Square, will be opening the East Court Market on Dec 6th with his wife and his partner Louis and Christine Jasmin. Ladas has 28 years of experience in the grocery business and is looking forward to the challenge of a new store and new location. Jasmin has 26 years experience in the food business, a long time resident of Cornwall and was formerly the assistant manager at Ladas YIG.

"The East Court Market will be a community store where we care about the customers needs and wants," said Ladas. "We are trying to create a friendly atmosphere with helpful and courteous staff. If you feel comfortable and welcome in the store, you will want to shop there all the time."

Ladas, Jasmin and their wives will be running the store as a family operation and they are trying to create a family atmosphere which will carry through to their employees and on to their future customers.

Keeping with the community spirit, local contractors are being used to refurbish the store.

"The store is being completely renovated from top to bottom and brand new, state of the art equipment is being installed to make the shopping experience more enjoyable and more efficient," states Ladas.

Along with using local contractors, Ladas is also planning to purchase the food items from local farms and businesses in the area, when he is able to.

"Keeping everything local and from within the community creates a good environment and why bring in items from somewhere else in Ontario when there is so much available right here. For example, there are people on every corner selling corn and vegetables in the summertime. Why not give the local farmers the opportunity to supply our store with their fresh produce," says Ladas. "That way they are helping us and we are helping them."

The store will feature a full deli complete with full service. The deli will specialize in imported meats and cheeses along with usual deli items.

Ladas' new store will also accept Visa and Interac.

The meat department will also carry everything you could want. There will be a gourmet counter for those special items and hot chickens available for purchase, as well as numerous other items. Also featured will be special freezer orders which can be cut and wrapped as you request. Orders will be taken and filled to your specifications.

"We are trying to offer an old fashioned style of operation by ordering in sides and hinds for better flavour. The meat will be fresher and not cryovac sealed," states Ladas. "We want to go back to the old fashioned butcher shops where the butcher knew what certain customers liked and wanted, special ways the customer wanted meat cut and packaged. Special orders for special cuts of meat will be taken and cut and wrapped to ensure freshness and quality."

Ladas and Jasmin plan on keeping their prices competitive with the other grocery stores in the area. They will be offering full service from the employees, which includes bagging your groceries for you and helping you to the car and unloading those groceries if you need the assistance. There will be no charge for bags or for having your groceries loaded in your car for you. You can also have your groceries delivered 6 days a week if you want. The new store will be creating 75 new jobs in the community.

"We are very happy that Brian has decided to invest in Cornwall and especially at Eastcourt Mall," says Dominic Vincenti, property manager for Iberville. "We are pleased that he and Louis have joined our community mall, which holds more locally owned stores than any other mall in Cornwall."

The opening date for the store is set for December 6th and everyone is invited to down to the East Court Market in the Eastcourt Mall to compare prices and services with other grocery stores in the area. An old fashioned, family operated food market.

Would You Like To Pay Less Tax Next Year?

(NC)—Now that tax season has come and gone for another year, don't put off thinking about taxes again until next February (annual RRSP contribution deadline), or worse, next April (filing deadline). Now is the time to think about minimizing your tax payments and increasing your net income for 1997.

Pick up a copy of the 1996/97 edition of Personal Tax Planning, published by The Certified General Accountants Association of Ontario. This free booklet describes the taxation of basic types of income, outlines tax planning strategies for various situations, and contains a series of tax tips to help you keep more of the money you earn. Tax tables and major income tax changes round out the informative guide, which is available at participating public libraries and Business Depot stores across Ontario.

Investment Facts Financial Planning

As part of a series designed to help people become better informed about investing, this article suggests a practical approach to planning for your financial future.

Having a financial plan is one of the most important keys to managing and creating wealth. You have to know where you want go, what obstacles stand in your way, and how you're going to get there. To help you, here are six questions that you need to consider:

Financially, where are you?

Take a hard look at your current financial situation so you know what resources you have to start moving towards your goals. Compile a list of all your assets including bank accounts, real estate, life insurance, RRSPs and other investments, and then draw up a similar list of all your liabilities such as your mortgage, credit card debts and consumer loans. Next, calculate your total income and expenses – the difference is the money you have left to invest.

What are your financial goals?

Identify what you want to achieve. It may be that you want to retire comfortably at age 60, take a year off from work to travel the world, or pay for your children's university education. You may also have short-term goals such as paying off credit cards.

Are there any obstacles in your way?

At this point, you will start to see things that you could be doing differently. Maybe you're leaving too much of your money in a low-interest chequing account. Perhaps your investments are not earning enough income to keep up with inflation. Maybe you haven't taken full advantage of RRSPs to reduce your income taxes.

What are your investment objectives?

Decide on your investment priorities. For some investors, safety of principal is most important. For some, the priority may be regular income. Others may be seeking growth or capital gains. And still others may want to ensure liquidity, meaning that they can easily sell their investments at any time without having to take a loss.

One of the most misunderstood elements of personal investing is the concept of risk. In general, the greater the potential return, the greater the risk involved. It's helpful to use a scale to visualize the return an investor should earn for taking on investments with increasing levels of risk. This scale moves from very safe or low risk types of investments (on the bottom) to very risky types (on the top).

RISK

Common Stock
Blue Chip Common Stock
Preferred Stock
Corporate Bonds
Government Bonds
T-Bills

SAFETY

What is your investment strategy?

Now you can begin selecting the investment products that most closely match your objectives. By this time, you should also have a clearer picture of how much money you can invest and how frequently you are going to invest.

Have you reviewed your financial plan lately?

Once you have decided on your financial goals and have a plan in place, you cannot simply forget about it. You should be adjusting your investments as your financial requirements and tolerance for risk continually change throughout your life. This may mean taking more risk when you are young, ensuring liquidity when you begin a family, and focusing on more conservative investments as you approach retirement.

On the Money
with Gordon Pape

PAPE'S TIP: "If you expect to receive some windfall money, choose an open mortgage."

Managing your mortgage effectively

Don't let your mortgage run your life. There are a number of strategies you can use to manage your housing loan more effectively and save thousands of dollars in the process.

- Make the mortgage tax-deductible: If you have a non-registered investment portfolio, consider selling it and using the money to pay off the mortgage. Then use your home equity to obtain a personal line of credit and rebuild your investment portfolio.
- Think ahead when deciding on the type of mortgage: If you expect to receive a lot of cash soon, choose an open mortgage. You'll pay a higher interest rate, but you will then be in a position to pay down part or all of the loan principal.
- Use a two-pronged RRSP/ mortgage strategy: Make your maximum RRSP contribution, then use your refund to reduce your mortgage principal. That way you build two financial assets: your home equity and your retirement plan.
- Use a RRIF to take advantage of the Home Buyers' Plan: Older people who have an RRSP and qualify for the Home Buyers' Plan should make full use of a unique opportunity to buy their own place. Get money out of your registered plan tax-free to build your home equity. When you move into a registered retirement income fund, you won't have to repay the loan since no contributions can be made to a RRIF. Instead, the amount due will be included in your taxable income each year when your marginal rate is likely lower than when you were working.
- Generate tax-free income from your home: Seniors who need more income but don't want to sell their home should consider a reverse mortgage. Proceeds are used to buy an annuity – structured in such a way so the cheques are received on a tax-free basis. The older you are, the better this strategy works.

$ FINANCIAL MATTERS $

Your Money Personality Matters

(NC)-Psychologists who study financial behavior talk about a money personality or "money self" that's as much a part of everyone as their physical, social or emotional selves. Think of it this way: Maintain a good diet, exercise and sleep enough, and you'll likely feel good and maintain reasonable health. Understand your money self and balance your spending, saving and investing habits, and you're on your way to achieving satisfying financial health.

Psychotherapists and financial consultant Olivia Mellan says most people exhibit a mix of money behaviors. Some typical types identified by Mellan include hoarder, spender, money monk, avoider, amasser and worrier. Mellan says there's no "right" type, and that "if your money type doesn't bother you or others around you, you don't have problems."

Mellan's insights into financial behavior-along with some exercises to try in "balancing" your money personality-are available in You and Your Family...Talking About Money, a free new booklet from Trimark Mutual Funds.

Plans Being Made for the 1998 Big Brothers and Big Sisters Bowl for Millions

Plans are now being made for the 1998 Big Brothers and Big Sisters Bowl for Millions.

Hermann Rogalsky, President of the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Cornwall and District is pleased to announce that Ingrid Hughes is returning for a second year as the chairperson of the 1998 Bowl for Millions. Hughes has been on the board of directors of the local Big Brothers/Big Sisters agency since March 20, 1997. She has also been an active member of the Bowl for Millions Committee and the Promotion and Recruitment Committee for the past three years.

Rogalsky explains: "Bowl for Millions has been a major fundraising activity of the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Cornwall and District since 1979".

The 1998 Big Brothers and Big Sisters Bowl for Millions in the City of Cornwall will take place on Saturday February 7 at Olympia Bowl and Nativity Lanes.

The 1998 Glengarry Challenge Cup will take place at the Alexandria Lanes on Saturday February 14 with Joanne Nadeau serving as co-ordinator.

The 1998 Counties Challenge Cup will take place at the Chesterville Bowling Lanes on Sunday February 15 with Dave Bird acting as co-ordinator.

Hughes is challenging residents of Cornwall and the Three United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry to take part in Bowl for Millions on a team of five or six co-workers, friends, fellow students, committee, club, or family members.

Hughes says that a variety of prizes has been lined up for the 1998 Bowl for Millions with the grand prize being $500 donated by the Rotary Club of Cornwall. The Bowl for Millions Committee is also instituting a special draw for a CD stereo system for bowlers having pledges totalling $100 or more.

Executive director, Brian Lynch, states that the public's continued participation in Bowl for Millions will be greatly appreciated by the local agency and the children it serves.

Lynch says: "Funds raised through Bowl for Millions will enable our agency to continue the work of matching children in need with caring, responsible adult volunteers who serve as a friend and role model."

More information on the 1998 Bowl for Millions can be obtained by contacting the agency office at 933-8035 or by dropping by the office at 101 Third St. West, Cornwall.

Hockey is God, Teachers are Dirt

It's amazing the degree to which hockey has become a "god" in Cornwall (not to mention the whole country).

I couldn't help but lift an eyebrow over the strong editorial support the Standard-Freeholder have to the bankrupt Colts recently. The supportive editorial utterings for a handful of players and fans stood in marked contrast to the denunciation a few weeks ago of Ontario's 126,000 teachers.

Recently, the scribes at the editorial desk expressed how "glad" they were with community support for the Colts. Somebody had donated a few hockey sticks and this was greeted as the philanthropic occasion of the year.

The "city has rallied to help" the team which has a "throng of support," the editorial suggests.

Further down in the story we learn that average attendance at the games is 1,200 (out of a population of 45,000 or more).

This is support? This is a "throng."

As with the Aces, we are ever being told by hockey addicts that it is society's sacred duty to come to aid of the sport. Every time the heartbeat of hockey is stilled by lack of interest, we are urged to put the financial resuscitation paddles to the corpse. If social or cultural organizations are in financial difficulty they do not get the kind of front-page and editorial-page coverage that seems to be devoted to the great god hockey.

If people want to play and watch hockey, more power to them. But why does this somehow get transformed into a social need bolstered by editorial addicts for community support?

PERSPECTIVE

By Bob Roth
SEAWAY NEWS

Hockey is a recreational game. If there are not enough people to support a club, then so be it. It is not a social essential, such as education or health care, both of which are on the verge of serious deterioration.

The "throng" of 1,200 Colts fans pales in comparison to the tens of thousands of our children whose school system is now bracing for millions of dollars in cuts. And where was the Standard-Freeholder on this issue when a "throng" of 126,000 teachers launched a political protest to protect funding for education? Well, they were denouncing the teachers and praising the government.

Those who read my earlier column know that I share some of the same concerns as most parents. I'm not convinced the school system is doing the job it should be doing, but I do not believe this shortcoming should be laid solely at the feet of teachers.

Many newspapers came out against the teachers' walk-out, the Freeholder being only one of them. On October 27th, the paper insisted that "the teachers have seriously misjudged the public's mood. In an era of change teachers are perceived as a monolithic block opposing moves to improve the quality of education for Ontario's children."

Really?

That's not what the polls showed. In fact public opinion seemed to be fairly evenly split on whether to support the teachers or the Harris government.

As for this constant reference to an "illegal" strike, the teachers contended that their walkout was a legitimate political protest guaranteed by the Canadian constitution – and that interpretation was never struck down in a court of law. In fact, the government failed in its attempt to have the court impose an injunction on the teachers. In other words, the question of "illegality" was never really settled.

At a time when soup kitchens are running at full blast, nurses are being run off their feet and teachers are being faced with a unilateral abrogation of traditional collective bargaining rights, I think we have much more important causes worthy of public support than a hockey team.

Let's start supporting the people who really make a difference in our community – our health care and education professionals.

Municipal Election "Computer Style"

Dear Editor:

Elections on the municipal level are now a thing of the past. Cornwall had a new style of evaluating an election issue called a Computer System. With no computers the disagreement I had with poll clerks, was that I wanted to put my ballot in the ballot box because I had the feeling that the clerk wanted to check for example who I had voted for , (Mayor, Councillors, Trustees etc.) who I thought was my confidential information and it means nobody else's business. Enumerators could add additional information when they would check everyone's house. Now they (clerks) went with the federal election list in 95 and everybody had to supply additional information to the poll clerks which held people in the lineup for up to 3/4 of an hour instead of the usual five minutes in their voting poll.

In my voting poll (now called "Poll Subdivision") my wife and I waited and waited one hour before our time came to vote which in my estimation was a reason why the voting percentage was down by 5,000 votes. Many persons just left because they just got tired of waiting. We had one lady who voted three times before she got the voting way accurate by adding a circle inside of an X as originally done. During the night, city hall was all messed up with the candidates showing or ranking – apparently the lack of ballots in Toronto fouled up the Cornwall Computer System. It was a fiasco, computer wise which shows a computer is not infallible.

The elections were terminated at a faster pace compared to the surrounding areas who voted the old way.

As John Divinski of C.J.S.S. added: "Everyone should vote and those who didn't vote shouldn't squawk and should not ask any favours because they did not practice democracy by not voting". I agree with Mr. Divinski but I work nights and if I have to wait longer than necessary, it will discourage me from voting and I will not be the only one.

Yours Truly,
Roger Gauthier

Fundraiser for Canadian Cancer Society was a Success

Dear Editor;

The S.D.G. and Prescott-Russell Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society is proud to announce that our fundraising effort for the past year has been successful in achieving its goal and exceeding it by $9,000.

I wish to extend a sincere thank you to each volunteer who dedicated so many hours to this worthwhile cause. We also thank the public for their contributions, without which we could not support cancer research and community programs.

The Canadian Cancer Society is the largest funder of cancer research in Canada. Almost half the money raised by the Society in Ontario goes to the most promising research projects across Canada, and the balance for community programs.

May we continue in our efforts, with the hope of someday eradicating this disease. Thank you all for making a difference in the fight against cancer as we look forward to your support again next year... cancer must be beaten!

Yours truly,

Former MPs Providing Comic Relief In Iraq Crisis

by: Dalton Camp

We are having more trouble with Iraq whose leader, Saddam Hussein, is acting up again. The world's principal minor-league thug-in-office seems determined to defy the United Nations by restricting the movements of U.N. inspection teams whose members are mandated to look for weapons of mass destruction within the borders of Iraq. The confrontation, as was expected by Saddam, has attracted world attention and invited the prospect of American military retaliation.

To enforce Iraq's compliance with the U.N. mandate, severe trade sanctions have been invoked. Members of the U.N. agree to have no truck or trade with Iraq and its present regime. So while the U.N. has a policy of containment, in the form of sanctions, it now has a challenge to its authority. The challenge is from Iraq's murderous and demented head of state, merely another among many in the long parade of unconscionably vile men who have come to rule over unhappy people they hold in thrall.

In the midst of this sombre confrontation, a little levity could be welcome for its comic relief. This has been provided by Ottawa's newest comedy team of Young and Zed who are, for postprandial entertainments, what Abbot and Costello were to black-and-white movies and the Smothers Brothers to prime-time television.

Young and Zed, readers will surely recall, were most recently members of Parliament, on the Liberal side - Doug Young a bruising, rambunctious all-sorts cabinet minister; Paul Zed an ambitious MP with an attitude. At the most recent national assize, both lost their seats. Immediately after, both joined their ambitions, interests, and connections to form Summa Strategies, Inc. a firm devoted to the practice of consulting, located in Ottawa.

Summa opened for business to the dismay of some and the merriment of others but with the endorsement and approval of the Liberal government's ethics czar who opined, to an inquiring press, that the firm of Young and Zed, with its vast experience in the arts of governance, would be of estimable value to the great unwashed and uninformed seeking an improved understanding of the way things worked in the great confluence of events and decision-makings in the national capital.

Summa was next sighted in Charlotte County, N.B.. not far from Zed's former parliamentary riding. Summa was representing a nondescript company with one known shareholder - a former Liberal provincial minister who had also been given early retirement by voters - which in turn represented the interests of a New Jersey sand, gravel and dredging outfit which aspired to the ownership of a local port in aid of a quarrying operation. In the plot so far, the New Jersey outfit did not get the port, and the quarrying operation, at last word, had become the object of an environmental impact study.

That was then: what could be next with the Summa strategists Young and Zed. Well, how about Baghdad?

According to my morning provincial paper, Paul Zed has been to Baghdad for a secret meeting with Iraqi officials, among them the deputy prime minister, Tariq Aziz himself. Proof of this secret meeting is confirmed by a photo of the meeting in Baghdad, with Zed one of a group of five including Tariq Aziz. My morning paper reports that Zed earlier introduced an Iraqi ``top official'' to the port of Saint John, N.B. during ``a recent hush-hush visit.'' The official was ``impressed,'' Zed said.

The result, according to Zed, is that the port at Saint John ``will become the main North American gateway for billions of dollars in humanitarian aid to Iraq.'' Better still, said Zed, there's more where that came from. The Zed mission to Baghdad ended with the ``initiating of the $1 billion deal.''

The Ottawa Citizen, whose man Michael Woloschuk accompanied Zed to Baghdad, reported that Summa's super strategist handed Iraq's deputy prime minister a letter from New Brunswick's lame duck premier, Ray Frenette, containing a personal invitation to visit the province any time he could persuade the government of Canada to let him in the country.

Frenette was later quoted as saying,``I take exception to the suggestion by Paul Zed that the letter was an invitation to the deputy prime minister to visit our province.'' Of course not. A spokesperson in the premier's office read, as proof, parts of the letter. But not all of it. Woloschuk is sticking to his story.

In this highly publicized secret meeting with Aziz, a butcher's apprentice, it is hard to find any intelligible trace of Canadian foreign policy. Zed, who has apparently been everywhere and seen everyone, claims his secret mission had the blessings of the minister for foreign affairs, and has a letter to prove it.

Serving as ``strategic political adviser'' to the Canadian company anxious to close the deal, Zed has been at least useful to Baghdad in serving its purpose of demonstrating to its wretchedly treated people and to others that if still enjoys some status in the world.

It could also be that the butcher's apprentice really does believe he would be welcome in New Brunswick. Perhaps for a little salmon fishing? And the premier of New Brunswick may indeed be naive enough to believe his invitation would have anymore currency than - say - the word of Saddam Hussein.

In the notorious photo, Tariq Aziz is smiling. No wonder. By initialing a worthless document, a bankrupt country and a corrupt leadership have reaped a modest coup in international public relations just when they most desperately needed it.

All day I face
The barren waste
And crave the taste
Of water.
Coooooooooooool
Water.
Old song lyric

Some day, thousands of years from now, anthropologists from a distant galaxy will come to Earth to study the fossilized traces of the human population that once thrived here.

And they're going to be mystified.

Not by the hulking relics of our skyscrapers. Not by what's left of our libraries or our computers or our cracked and crumbling superhighway systems.

No...it's the water bottle empties that will drive them nuts. They're made of plastic, for starters. That means they'll probably still be around thousands of years from now. Our garbage dumps and landfill sites ('middens' the archeologists will call them) will be raddled and infested with empty water containers — Evian, Perrier, Canada Glacier, Pelligrino and several dozen other brand names. And the alien archeologists won't be able to figure out why.

Religious artifact? Fetish symbol? Primitive form of currency? Advanced chemical analysis will reveal that all the bottles ever contained was water. Why would a civilization (even one as barbarous as the human one) carry around containers full of the cheapest, most plentiful substance on the planet? A substance that was readily available from lakes, rivers, wells, fire hydrants — even hot and cold running faucets in each and every domestic household?

It's not hard to figure out why folks in Beirut or Acapulco or even Paris buy bottled water. The stuff that comes out of their taps is undrinkable. I even understand why people in Toronto drink bottled water. (The stuff that comes out of Toronto taps is safe to drink — but it tastes like it was piped in from the shallow end of the swimming pool).

Similarly I can understand why folks in Winnipeg were snapping up cases of bottled water during and after the horrible spring floods they lived through last spring.

What I don't fully understand is how companies like Evian, Perrier and Canada Glacier can make a living selling water to the other 95 percent of Canadians, the vast majority of whom have perfectly good drinking water in their kitchens, their bathrooms — hell, even in their washing machines.

Is spring water better than tap water? There's no guarantee. Springs can be as easily contaminated as any other ground water. Besides, who says the stuff you paid a couple of bucks a pop for ever saw a spring? It wasn't until last year that US authorities got around to regulating the term "spring water". Until then, any entrepreneur could drain dump truck radiators into bottle and sell it legally over the counter as Honest Fred's Pure Spring Water. Since 1996, anything labelled "spring water" must actually come from a spring.

One giant step for mankind.

No, the truth is Designer Water is selling like hotcakes because a handful of Hollywood types like Pamela Lee Anderson, Tom Cruise and Melanie Griffiths have appeared in public clutching their Designer Water bottles the way Linus clutches his security blanket. This has made it chic and trendy to be seen in public sucking on a bottle of water. Indeed some Yupoid types won't leave home without it.

I hate to be the one to tell them they've been had....so I'll let the New York Times do it. A couple of months ago, The Times ran an expose that showed more than a third of all bottled water sold in the US is merely filtered tap water. In other words some Yankee hustlers are selling water for a dollar a quart that costs them 1/10th of a cent to draw from their tap.

Even P.T. Barnum never figured out a scam that brazen.

The Times further reports that several American cities, including Houston, Texas, are finalizing plans to put their municipal water in plastic bottles and sell it up on the shelves right alongside the expensive, exotic brands.

They figure if people are dumb enough to pay for a substance they can get for free, then the municipal coffers might as well see some of the action too.

After all, it doesn't take a genius to figure out what Evian spells backwards.

How to Choose the Right Faucet

(NC)-With the wide range of choice in faucet styles available today, it's a good idea to do some research before you buy. Here are some key steps to ensure that the purchase you make will be the right one, provided by Moen Inc. Canada.

Think carefully about your family needs

Before visiting your local plumbing contractor or visiting your local plumbing retailer, building centre or hardware store to look at faucet styles, think about your requirements. For example, small children and special-needs persons in your household may have difficulty with two-handle faucets. A single-handle design may be easier for them to manage.

Is the faucet in a high-traffic area, such as a kitchen or main bathroom? Durability should be a primary concern.

Where should you go to buy a faucet?

Faucets are sold in many locations, including hardware stores, building supply stores, plumbing retailers and specialty bath and kitchen stores. You can also obtain a faucet through your plumbing professional or contractor.

Don't forget that a professional contractor offers a warranty covering the product and the installation. If your do-it-yourself skills are lacking think seriously about employing a professional.

If you choose to buy at retail, choose a store with a good selection. Staff should be knowledgeable and take the time to clearly explain product features. Ask for their recommendation on the right style and features to meet your needs. Ask about warranties and whether the store stocks replacement parts and plumbing accessories.

How much should you spend on a faucet?

Bathroom and kitchen renovations can be pricey. But you don't want to scrimp on the faucet, as it's one of the most-used fixtures in the room.

Faucets come in a range of prices to suit every taste. Buy the best quality you can afford, focusing your choice on reputable, brand-name faucets with lifetime warranties. Ask about the quality of engineering and the availability of replacement parts and accessories. Ask the advice of professionals such as plumbers and contractors.

What kind of finish should you choose?

The choice of finish is usually made based on the style of your kitchen or bath. If you are involved in a complete renovation, you may wish to buy matching shower, tub and lavatory faucets in the same style and finish.

If you love the look of polished brass but want the durability of chrome, you have a new option today. Moen's polished brass finish faucets are protected with LifeShine, a finish that bonds some of the hardest, naturally occurring molecules to the surface. This means the faucet won't scratch, tarnish or corrode.

What kind of upkeep is required?

Today, all finishes are durable if you buy high-quality products, and with proper care should last a lifetime. Never use abrasive cleansers, harsh chemicals such as bleach, or alcohol on your faucet. Clean with a soft cloth and water. For tough dirt, use a non-abrasive, non-chemical cleanser.

If you live in an area with hard water or higher levels of sediment in the water, you should periodically take apart the faucet to clean out the aerator screen. If it has corroded, brush with toothbrush and vinegar-and-water solution.

Many of today's faucets are washerless. Look for a design a cartridge that is easily lifted out and replaced when necessary.

How knowledgeable are you about faucet installation?

A handy person can install simple-design faucets while others should be installed by a professional, such as a plumber or contractor. Be sure to ask your retailer about the level of expertise required for the model you choose.

If you are making any changes to your plumbing, it's a good idea to have the work done by or at least checked by a professional.

Tips To Promote Halogen Lamp Safety

The Canadian Standards Association (CSA) reminds consumers that free-standing halogen lamps featuring tubular halogen bulbs are different from lamps with regular incandescent bulbs, and must be operated with greater care.

In addition to following the manufacturer's operating and maintenance instructions, CSA suggests consumers review the following tips for the safer use of halogen lamps:

- Look to ensure the lamp is CSA-certified and refer to the manufacturer's instructions regarding proper use and operation.
- Place halogen lamps in locations where they cannot be tipped by children, pets or strong drafts from an open window.
- Position halogen lamps away from combustible materials such as drapes, fabrics or bedding. And, do not place combustible materials near the lamp dish or shade.
- Only use light bulbs that are properly rated for your lamp, as indicated in the manufacturer's instructions.
- Never leave the halogen lamp on when you leave the room or are not home.
- Be sure to turn off and unplug your lamp when replacing the bulb. Tungsten-halogen bulbs can get hot. Never attempt to replace or discard a hot halogen bulb.

CSA is an independent, not-for-profit organization supported by more than 8,000 members and has a network of offices in Canada, the U.S., and around the world. Established in 1919, it is a leader in the field of standards development and the application of these standards through product certification, management systems registration, and information products.

Should I Choose a Heat Pump? What is the Best Option?

(NC)—If you are exploring the heating and cooling options for a new or existing house, or if you are looking for ways to reduce your energy cost, consider purchasing an energy-efficient heat pump. A heat pump can provide year-round climate control for your home by supplying heat to it in the winter and cooling in the summer. Some types can also provide supplementary hot water heating. A heat pump works just like an air conditioner with a reversing valve. In its reverse mode of operation, the heat pump is best used in conjunction with your central furnace to provide the required space heating more economically.

Therefore, choosing a heat pump not only provides desired space cooling, it is also an effective way to reduce heating energy costs. In addition, choosing a high-efficiency heat pump over a lower efficiency heat pump can save you even more money and energy.Selecting a energy-efficient heat pump is now made easy.

EnerGuide has developed a label for heating and cooling equipment called the EnerGuide Rating System. This label, found on the back of manufacturers' brochures, is designed to help you make an informed choice when buying a heat pump.

Bolton's TV

We all spend a lot of time in front of the television these days. Even though the product is made to a higher performance level than in the past, the television set of today is still subject to repair.

That is where Gordon Bolton, of Bolton's TV Sales and Service in Eamer's Corners shines because he is committed to quality service at affordable prices. He promises some kind of solution to your problem within a day if possible.

Gordon has been in the television repair business for the last 34 years, most of them running this shop in the Eamer's Corner's area. He is always going for new training on the new sets in his efforts to better meet the needs of his growing customer base.

"There have been drastic changes in technology over the years," he says. "I remember when I started that we used to have tubes in the set and you would take the tubes out and have to test each one separately. Now everything is module and circuit repair and that means learning new things all the time."

Gordon says he doesn't mind because it gives him the chance to better serve his customers. He is one of the few dealers in Cornwall that will provide in home service if requested by the customer.

"I will go out to the customer's place and check the TV. If it has to be repaired I will arrange to bring it back to the shop, fix it and then bring it back to the customer. This will be done within the 24 hour period if at all possible," he says.

But he warns 'in home' repair does not mean that he will fix the TV in your home while you watch. He says today's sets have become so intricate that only through sophisticated equipment found in his shop can he figure out what is wrong.

He says the only thing he can change in the home is the fuse and if the fuse went, he would likely still have to take the TV because the logical next question would be why did the fuse go?

Gordon says many people like the in-home service but there is a fee which many avoid by bringing the TV in themselves. In fact about 80 per cent of his customers do just that.

The service industry continues to get bigger too. About 60 per cent of Gordon's business is related to servicing TV's while the rest of his business centers on sales of quality RCA products.

"We continue to build up our clientele one customer at a time," he says. "Everyone who comes through that door is important to me but at this time it's hard to say how fast my business is growing because TV's don't have to be repaired as often as they used to."

Thirty years ago, he says, TV's usually needed service every three months, now the average TV goes about four years between servicings. But even so, the average bill for solving a problem usually ranges about $100.

While service is a big part of his business, Gordon is still very committed to sales as well.

Right now the bigger sellers are large screen TV's which can usually be found in the living room or den of the average home. In the bedroom, the norm seems to be the 13 inch set. He says large or small, Bolton's TV has a set that will meet your needs along with a complete line of quality accessories.

And of course, Bolton's also sells satellite dishes and programming for those interested in an alternative to cable or who live in the country where cable may not be available.

Gordon is proud that he has the Dish Network available for his customers. He says the service is more family oriented than many other satellite services and the sale of dishes and the services they provide is catching on in a big way.

So from service to sales to programming, Bolton's TV Sales and Service is the best place to invest your entertainment dollar.

CORNWALL BRIDGE

By Bert Mosher

One advantage of bad bidding is that you get practice at playing atrocious contracts.
Alfred Sheinwold

Those of us who open 1 NT with 16-18 sometimes have a dilema when we have a five card major. In this case, most authorities recommend opening with the major. When your partner responds you can now bid 2 NT and your partner should now know what your hand looks like. With this method openers can fully describe their hand and the partnership can land in the correct contract.

Remember the opener is the describer. It is the opener's job to describe their hand as fully as they can. It is up to the responder to decide on the level and denomination of the contract.

When the bidding is opened, using STANDARD, the partnership is looking for a fit, eight or more cards, in a major suit. If a fit is found that is where the contract should be played. If no fit is found, playing in no trump is indicated.

Enjoy your game – Be ethical so that others can enjoy their game.

Your comments, suggestions, or questions are always welcome. Please call me at 932-1700 if you wish.

The annual club championships for men and women was held by the Thursday club this week. The women's pair event was won by Dora Barrington and Terry Forsythe. The men's pair event was won by Richard Baird and Brian McCartney. Congratulations to all four champs.

Diane McCauly lost her home to a bad fire last week. We commiserate with Diane and her spouse over the loss of all those little things that are irreplaceable.

Next week – Regular Games at all clubs.

Coming Events – Mon. 24 Nov. ACBL wide charity game. Cost is $5.00 with the extra going to the Cdn Bridge Federation's charity of the year.

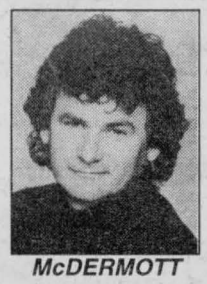
Christmas Comes Early This Year with Celtic Crooner John McDermott in Concert!

John McDermott is bringing his Christmas show to Cornwall's Aultsville Theatre on Friday, Nov. 28th at 8:00 p.m. He performs with long-time musical friends Bill Bridges on guitar and Brigham Phillips on keyboards, as well as "the youngest and nicest member of the group" Angela Pickett on vocals and violin, "the tallest member" Jonathan Moorman on bouzouki and fiddle, and "the phenomenal" Ray Legere on mandolin and fiddle.

McDermott's rise to notoriety has been told and re-told. The short version is: he's the ninth of 12 immigrant kids whose parents came to Toronto from Scotland; he developed his talent at St. Michael's Choir School in Toronto; ended up working as circulation manager with a Toronto newspaper; and was befriended by Conrad Black, who in 1993 helped finance his debut recording Danny Boy, initially a 50th anniversary gift for his parents.

Over the past four years, McDermott has toured extensively across Canada, the U.S. and the U.K. He's released five hugely successful albums, including Old Friends, Christmas Memories, Love is a Voyage, and most recently, when I grow Too Old to Dream. He's hosted and appeared on numerous television shows and specials, but wherever he goes, whatever he does, critics and audiences alike unanimously agree McDermott puts on "a show that's truly overwhelming in its intoxicating effect... he's a poised prankster with a velvet voice and charisma that warms fans from 20 through to 100."



McDERMOTT

Speaking from his home in Toronto while enjoying a two-day holiday, McDermott talked about his new release, When I Grow Too Old to Dream, "The thing about all these songs – among them Wild Mountain Thyme, Galway Bay, My Bonnie, Scotland the Brave – is that they all fit together so nicely. They push you, to some degree, to memories of the past, some fond, some not so fond. But these are romantic songs, and this is a romantic album. And I'm a romantic, sentimental man, and I'm proud of that."

Violi's Restaurant Celebrates 50-Year Tradition in Massena

Dinner at Violi's Restaurant is like no other fine dining experience in the north country. World class wines, amazing pasta and veal, and the warm hospitality of the Violi family are all part of what make it so special.

But to truly understand how unique the restaurant is, you must know about the 50 years of hard work, dedication and love this Italian family has put behind every dish that is placed on the table.

In 1897, Dominic Rocco Violi left Italy and came to the United States. He worked in Massena digging the canal from the St. Lawrence River to the Grasse River which brought power to Alcoa. When he had earned enough money he returned to Italy and brought his family back to the U.S. His son, Rosario Violi, was just 14 years old.

As he grew older, Rosario took on various jobs including coal mining in Pennsylvania, shoe repair and even a stint in the soda business. But he had always wanted to open his own restaurant. In 1933 he returned to Italy to be married. He was soon back in Massena and worked at Alcoa until 1945, when he opened a small restaurant in a leased building across from Fay Motors on Willow Street. Rosario and his wife Maria made spaghetti and cabbage rolls their speciality.

In 1947, Rosario purchased the former Olde Pittsburgh House, a rooming house and restaurant located at 209 Center Street, where Violi's Restaurant remains today. For the next 15 years, the Violi family rented rooms to Seaway and Alcoa workers and operated a small restaurant which mainly served these working men. Spaghetti and cabbage rolls remained their most popular dishes and in the late 1950's Violi's introduced pizza to the residents of Massena.

Everyone in the family had a hand in the business, including Rosario's four sons, Dominic, Frank, Ross and Joseph. It was Dominic and Ross who would stay in Massena to take over the family business in 1961 and that is when Violi's began to evolve.

For Dom and Ross this was no light task. They maintained and still maintain today, their mother's recipes. But Dominic also dedicated nine years of his life to travelling Italy in search of authentic dishes. The menu expanded greatly with the addition of veal, a wide selection of homemade pasta and other international dishes.

Over the years Violi's has become a pinnacle of fine dining in the north country. Whether or not Dom and Ross ever intended it, achieving such heights was inevitable considering the pride and dedication they have poured into the restaurant. Their commitment to the highest quality continues even today. Dominic is in charge of the kitchen and he continues to travel to Italy every year to search out new dishes. In the winter he travels to Montreal to get fresh vegetables, basil and other products which aren't available locally.

"Quality is our biggest concern," Ross explained. "We haven't deviated from that and we won't deviate from that." Only prime veal cuts are selected for the dishes at Violi's. Tomatoes and other ingredients are purchased from producers which serve some of the best restaurants in the country.

A third generation of the Violi family has already had a hand in the business. All of Dom and Ross' children, worked at the restaurant at one time or another and they have all inherited a love of the restaurant business. They are now spread across the country and many operate exclusive restaurants of their own.

Here in Massena, Violi's has continued to add specialities to its menu. For the past couple years Violi's has offered specially-planned evenings featuring gourmet dining and wine tasting. Dominic serves and offers commentary on a multi-course meal, while representatives from various wineries also take about their products.

Such a dinner was held on November 19th as part of Violi's month-long 50th anniversary celebrations. The menu that night was derived from the movie "The Big Night", a film which tells of the trials experienced by two Italian brothers who come to America to open a restaurant. The final scene of the movie is the preparation of a huge Italian spread, which Violi's duplicated.

The anniversary celebration kicked off with twosold outperformances by Montreal tenor Perry Canestrari. Other anniversary events include a complimentary glass of wine and anniversary cake with every dinner and various dinner specials throughout November. Pianist Mary Amarel, who recently returned to Massena, will play in the lounge on Friday and Saturday nights in November.

HOROSCOPES

November 23-29

Aries – March 21/April 20
Don't keep your feelings bottled up early in the week, Aries. Let others know what you're thinking. You'll be surprised at how many people actually feel the same way you do. A close friend asks a huge favor. Think about the consequences before making a decision.

Taurus – April 21/May 21
You need to let off some steam this week. Even the littlest of things sets you off. Before you say something that you regret, spend some time by yourself clearing your mind. If you don't, you're going to be miserable. A loved one introduces you to an intriguing person. Get to know him or her better. Leo plays a key role.

Gemini – May 22/June 21
Don't be a stick in the mud this week, Gemini. Friends and relatives are concerned about you. Try to get out more, and have a good time. That breakup that you're brooding over isn't worth it. Mr. or Miss Right is right under your nose. Don't let him or her get away.

Cancer – June 22/July 22
Your sense of humor brightens a loved one's day and makes you feel better too. There are too many things to be happy about to fret over a minor setback. A close friend asks your opinion about a romantic relationship. Be honest with him or her, even though he or she may not want to hear the truth. Aquarius plays a role.

Leo – July 23/August 23
Your outgoing nature serves you well early in the week, Leo, when you meet an influential person. You make a good impression, which is going to have a positive impact on your career. He or she has connections. That special someone has an important question to ask you. Give an honest answer to save the relationship.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22
You're on the edge of your seat all week, Virgo. You feel like something exciting is going to happen, but you just don't know what. Don't let this anticipation distract you from your work. You've got a lot to do. Scorpio plays a key role on Friday.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23
You're very indecisive this week. So many people are turning to you for answers, but you just don't know what to tell them. You better get your act together before the end of the week, or a lot of people will begin to doubt your abilities. An intriguing stranger enters your life on Saturday.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22
Stand your ground when a business associate questions your decision later in the week, Scorpio. You know you did the right thing, so explain your actions to him or her. He or she is sure to understand. A loved one gets into trouble and needs your help. Don't let him or her down.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec 21
Stay focused early in the week, Sagittarius. You have a lot to do, so there's no time to go off on tangents. A close friend invites you to a work function. Don't say no; very influential people will be there. You're sure to make a good impression. Taurus and Cancer play important roles late in the week.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan 20
Now's your chance to get ahead in the workplace, Capricorn. An important project is offered to you. Run with it; you can make it a success. A loved one brings his or her significant other home to meet the family. Try to make it a comfortable evening for everyone — including yourself.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18
That special someone you've been seeing makes you feel trapped. You feel like he or she is always watching you. Instead of abruptly ending the relationship, talk to him or her about it. He or she really doesn't realize how you feel. A family member needs your help planning a social outing. Give your input. Leo plays a key role.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20
While you're generally relaxed and laid-back, a family argument upsets you. Don't hold your feelings inside. Tell people how angry you really are. It will make them realize how silly the disagreement is. That special someone finally calls. Say yes!

Entertainment - Special Events & Restaurant Review - By Bill Gallant

"HEAR YE, HEAR YE," the news is good. Tell everyone that YE OLD ENGLISH FISH 'N' CHIP SHOP is now open. They are serving up fish & chips, shrimp, seafood, steak & kidney pie and you can eat-in or take-out. You can also enjoy many lunch specials. They are located at 9, First Street East.

The news was not good in last week's column, as in my haste in thanking folks I erred in not mentioning all the great support I got from daughter Patty. It was my stupid mistake and thanks also to Kevin.

Some terrific craft shows this weekend and next in our area. The MONKLAND CHRISTMAS CRAFT SHOW is on Saturday & Sunday, November 22 & 23 between 10a.m.-5p.m. at the Monkland & District Community Centre. There will be a bake sale during Sunday's show. The admission is free and proceeds to Monkland & District Recreation Association.

Its also free admission this Sunday at MOOSE LODGE 1367, at 443 Eleventh Street West and you can browse & shop between 2p.m-9p.m. for lots of Christmas decorations, stocking stuffers, baskets, toys and many brand name products.

Next weekend, November 28, 29 & 30, its the TRI-COUNTY CHRISTMAS CRAFT SALE at the Civic Complex and the admission is free. This is Cornwall's largest juried craft show.

Still time to get tickets for the JOHN MCDERMOTT CHRISTMAS CONCERT coming on Friday, November 28th at Aultsville Theatre. Tickets are available at the Cornwall Civic Complex Box office. There will be the usual mix of Scottish & Irish songs and Christmas favourites.

SOMETHING TO THINKABOUT: There is a FIRST impression, SECOND chance, THIRD degree, FOURTH estate, FIFTH column, SIXTH sense, SEVENTH heaven, EIGHT ball, NINTH cloud, TENTH frame, ELEVENTH hour, TWELFTH night, but..no THIRTEENTH floor in hotels !!

Things are starting to rev-up for the annual OLDE CAR CLUB CHRISTMAS DANCE this Saturday at the K of C Hall, upstairs, and all members are urged to attend both the meal and dance. There is plenty of good food ,car tunes, and dancing until closing time. So put it in gear gang and cruise on down!

This is also the weekend when the members & guests assemble at the R.C.A.F.A. on Water Street West for the monthly Birthday celebrating. There will be a very special entertainment segment this Sunday with a very loveable ensemble visiting from the Cornwall Legion. They are promising some memorable antics. The fun starts at 2pm with music, followed by "showtime" and cake & sandwiches.

The Cornwall Colts will be back on the ice at the Civic Complex this Sunday (November 23) when they host Kanata in a 2pm encounter. Things are warming up in the CJHL and the Colt's are providing much of the heat as they continue their winning ways. Your support in the arena will be appreciated.

Folks are still talking about the great Lunch & Dinner specials available each day at BOB AULINE'S Restaurant on Pitt Street. The specials include their famous all-you-can-eat Chicken & Ribs meal and Sunday's kids-eat-free special. Enjoy lunch between 11am-2pm and the dinner specials from 4pm-8pm.

For Pete, Dwayne, Ray and all the local and area deer hunters.....a deer running out of the bush was overheard to say, "Whew...that's the last time I'll do that for two bucks!"

Good Luck and Welcome to Cornwall to all the Optimist delegates spending a couple days in our town. The event is an Optimist International, Central Ontario District training session this Friday and Saturday. Over 200 delegates, representing Optimist Clubs will gather at the Best Western Parkway Inn for a board meeting and training session. Also planned is a gala dinner and dance in honor of Sheril Thompson, the first female governor in the Central Ontario District in her first official visit to Cornwall. Cornwall's Optimist President, Norm St.Pierre, and all Club members will host the visitors at the Gala event at the Optimist Clubhouse on Sunnyside Avenue. Welcome to all.....and please enjoy your brief stay in Cornwall.

Movies this week at Brookdale Cinemas at the Brookdale Mall: Anastasia, The Rainmaker, and The Jackal. The Port Theatre on Montreal Road is showing I Know What You Did Last Summer in its second week.

The GLENGARRIAN PUB & RESTAURANT is offering their 2 for 1 Steak Special this Sunday night between 5pm-9pm. If you read this in time you can also join the gang for the music and fun of The Cape Breton Barbarians on Saturday.

Something new, and long overdue, is in the making and expected to begin in early January. Plans call for a once-a-month gathering of folks who enjoy good music in a quiet setting with candlelight and a chance to dance to all the great old music standards with the songs of Miller, Nat Cole, Eckstine, Stafford, Mills Brothers, Martino, and many other favourites. This is to be a member & guests' affair and we will keep you informed here with details as the "make believe ballroom" idea takes shape!!!!!!

Until next week, G'Day and G'Night.

S.L.H.S. Student in the Spotlight

Paula Tchen

by Rosalinda Yee

Paula is just one of the busy Saints that are always running errands and attending meetings. She is a grade 12 student who is involved in many different clubs. She is co-editor of this year's yearbook and has been devoted to the yearbook committee since her grade 9 year. She enjoys playing clarinet and is attempting to play the oboe. She is also a member of the band executive as the publicity officer. Paula is the VP of the Interact Club and is part of Junior Achievements. She likes to run track and field and cross country. In fact, she participated in last year's OSSAA and was the only junior that attended it!

How does Paula deal with all this and school? Well, she enjoys running and weight training. It gives her energy and strength. Paula says, "It's much more than exercise, it gives me more stamina and is a definite confidence booster."

Outside of school, she has a part-time job at a clothing store, Aube Frere. She only works one day a week, so it gives her plenty of time for her homework.

Paula likes to spend her spare time with her friends. They go to the movies and shopping. She rarely watches television but can talk many hours on the telephone.

Paula likes to shop, exercise and vent her feelings to relieve all the stress from school. She is a very organized and independent teenager. Being organized definitely helps her busy schedule.

Does Paula have any goals? One of her biggest goals is to be a professional. She wants to attend university and pursue a career in life sciences or the medical field. Paula wants to keep many doors open so that she won't miss any good opportunities.

Well, with her positive attitude and great personality, she is sure to accomplish great things in her bright future!

LOOKING BACKWARD

By Stuart L. Manson

Another Long Sault Rapids Experience

Like many in the Seaway Valley, I have an insatiable appetite for the lore of the Long Sault Rapids. Here is yet another traveler's account of the mighty, but now extinct rapids, this time from the pen of an American officer who traveled down the St. Lawrence in the autumn in 1813.

Our American friend has a certain flair for writing. His extravagant description and flowery style of writing may not be of interest to everyone, but I have a certain affection for it. In this particular case, the level of detail is notable and adds to our overall understanding of that natural wonder – especially for those of us who were born after the 1950's. What follows is a mere snippet of his experience with rapids:

"Every eye was fixed on the leading boat, to see how it began the start, when it was observed gradually to move more and more rapidly, until at last it disappeared below our horizon with a suddenness and velocity that seemed to mock the sight. Each one in due succession was thus ravished from view and launched into a dread ordeal below. It was not long before our Druham began to show symptoms of accelerating movement, which bid us brace up for the trial.

The course of the rapids is rather serpentine, and of a nearly uniform slope, excepting in one or two places, where the bed of the river becomes more horizontal. At these palaces the rushing current, overtaking and overrunning itself, is thrown into a thousand short and sharp waves, singularly contrasting with the unbroken and mirror-like surface of the other parts. The extreme velocity of the descending mass is confined to the more central parts of the channel, while a broad margin of nearly dead water is thrown by the eddies on each side.

When we found our Durham fairly in the drift of the rapids, and that we were shooting like a rocket down the slope, not a word was spoken; everyone stood at his appointed place like a statue, watching the deep and almost breathless anxiety the patroon stationed at the bow, who handled his long-oared rudder with an intense care and energy.

Many persons were collected on the high banks of the American side to witness the spectacle of our descent; but both they and the trees among which they stood seemed to move by the vision as in a magic dance. Nothing was seen with distinctness, and, if we had trusted the eye the mind might well have doubted whether we were going down or the banks were going up, the latter appearing to share in the general movement, if not to be alone in motion. And we reached the foot of the rapids without having had leisure for any other feeling, than that of a vague apprehension of the risks which came and vanished like sprites of an instant.

Each one, however, notwithstanding this absorbing feeling, no doubt had occasionally cast a transient glance ahead and astern, in order to catch glimpses of the animated and beautiful scene. The blood ran swiftly through our veins, giving imagination its highest excitement, and fitting it to see every object as if touched by the wand of an enchanter. All things had an undefined and bewildering novelty, shifting and passing away, before the mind embraced any image which had either form or pressure. We were afloat again on calm and comparatively sluggish waters, below the rapids, in an unthought of and unmeasured lapse of time; and probably among the thousands who made the descent, there are few who have any other than a shadowy, dreamy reminiscence of the event."

Major Appliances and the Environment

APPLIANCES

(NC)—Few people make a connection between their major household appliances and the environment, but the amount of energy an appliance consumes and the way you use it does have an impact on the earth's atmosphere. Why? Because the less energy you use at home, the less energy has to be generated and distributed by the power plant.

In Canada, most electricity is generated through the burning of fossil fuels, such as coal, natural gas and oil. Combustion of these fuels produces emissions of carbon dioxide and other gases that trap heat radiated from the earth's surface into the atmosphere. This creates a greenhouse effect, which contributes to global warming.

The federal government's EnerGuide Program helps Canadians tackle the environmental threat of global warming. While manufacturers of major appliances have dramatically improved the energy efficiency of their products over the past two decades, the fact remains that electrical appliances continue to account for 14 percent of the energy used in a modern home. By actively seeking out the most energy-efficient appliances on the market, you can reduce electricity consumption and help protect the environment.

The EnerGuide label, seen on major electrical household appliances displays the estimated annual energy use in kilowatt-hours (kWh) of the specific appliance to which it is attached. The lower the rating, the more efficient the appliance. There is also an EnerGuide label for room air conditioners that gives the energy-efficiency ratio (EER).

This rating system makes it easy for you to make an informed, responsible choice that will be good for the environment and good for your household budget.

Don't Miss "The Christmas You've Always Longed For"

First Baptist Church is extending an invitation for you to join them in making this the Christmas you've always longed for. From Sunday November 30 through Christmas, churchgoers will be taking part in an exciting new Advent Celebration called, "The Christmas You've Always Longed For" which includes special worship services, family centered activities and numerous Christmas events.

At First Baptist Church the Seasonal Advent Celebration is planned to help individuals and families prepare for a more meaningful Christmas. Through the four weekly worship services leading up to Christmas, people will be encouraged to slow down for reflection, keep a Christ-centered focus, adhere to priorities they've set for the season and truly celebrate the birth of Christ, no matter what personal circumstances they face. This Advent Celebration will conclude with a traditional Christmas Eve family service on December 24 at 7pm.

The word advent means "Coming." At Christmas, Advent refers to the four-week period that prepares people to welcome the birth of Christ. Advent is observed by millions of Christians around the world. In fact in some liturgical settings, Advent is actually the beginning of the church calendar.

Christmas always evokes feelings of longing. In spite of ourselves, at this time of year we begin to expect remarkable things to happen as the season unfolds. We yearn for family gatherings where everyone is happy, for time to get together with friends in meaningful ways, for creative celebrations filled with joy and deep feelings and for observance of enriching traditions. Unfortunately, for many of us, these longings are never completely fulfilled. Fatigue, crankiness, stress, overindulgence and consumerism seem to crowd out our "holy hopes!"

First Baptist welcomes visitors during its Advent Celebrations. Pastor Gordon Finlay says, "This should be a wonderful time, helping people evaluate, make choices, and carry through on a plan to make this Christmas the best ever – a Christmas that satisfies the true longings for the season. Those longings will never be met through excessive materialism or "busyness" but through a realization that Christmas is a gift of life from God, Himself, and He is worthy of our thanks and praise."

Pastor Finlay encourages anyone who would like to be a part of this Seasonal Advent Celebration, "The Christmas You've Always Longed For," to visit First Baptist or call 936-6643 for more information. Perhaps you have no church affiliation or have never attended church on a regular basis – our doors are open for you and we'd love to help you celebrate a real Christmas.

Worship services during December will be held every Sunday morning beginning at 10:50am. Sunday, December 7 at 3:30pm we have special Sunday School Christmas program with the Wallaces – children's ministry specialists. The senior choir presents an exciting hour of music and readings on December 14 at 7pm when they present the cantata, "Night of Miracles." The Church family Christmas dinner is being planned for Friday, December 19, a meal prepared and served by our Baptist Men. On Sunday, December 21 at 7pm clergy, choirs and congregations from many local churches come together for the tenth annual Community Carol Service at First Baptist with much singing and readings and refreshments following.

These events are planned to help you, this year, experience "The Christmas You've Always Longed For," – won't you let us help you along the way as we approach Bethlehem?

Old-World Traditions

At Christmastime, little ones around the world eagerly await a visit from Santa Claus, hoping he'll bring them wonderful presents. In the Netherlands, Santa is known as Sinterklaas. Dutch children, anticipating this jolly fellow's arrival on Dec. 6, his feast day, traditionally fill their shoes with hay and sugar for his horse before they go to sleep. When they awake, they find their shoes filled with gifts. These traditions live on in Dutch communities everywhere. In Pella, Iowa, the annual Christmas festivities include a visit from Sinterklaas and his piets (helpers). The event is celebrated with a parade, program, and party for children and the young at heart. Holiday events take place in Pella throughout December.

(NC)-Every winter millions of drivers drive blind, spraying washer fluid that just freezes, icing-up the windshield.

Experts warn that poor quality washer fluid can make winter driving even more hazardous. To keep your windshield free of ice, experts recommend Prestone Products' special windshield De-Icer Washer Fluid. Unlike regular washer fluids, it won't freeze on the windshield, which is especially important for cars that are parked outside. In addition, special cleaning agents quickly remove slush and road grime.

"We've all been annoyed by frozen windshields and continuing icy build-up while driving in winter weather," said Gord Robertson, Vice-President & General Manager for Prestone Products (Canada) Limited. "We've solved this problem with products that keep on working-and keep drivers safer-even in sub-zero temperatures."

For those cold winter mornings when the car windshield resembles an Arctic floe, try these simple steps:

1. Start the car and turn on the defroster.
2. Spray Prestone De-Froster on the frosted or icy area. Combining specially formulated ice melting and antifreeze ingredients, and a powerful spray, (and a scraper top with ice-cutting teeth on the aerosol version), the product melts windshield frost and light ice in a hurry. Wait a few seconds. Turn on windshield wipers and use windshield De-Icer Washer Fluid to clear the windshield.
3. For heavy ice, score surface (with scraper cap teeth), spray on De-Froster and clear with scraper blade.
4. Use Prestone Windshield De-Icer Washer Fluid to keep windows clear and clean while driving.

Prestone products are available at mass merchandisers and other retail outlets.

THE CAR DOCTOR

Peter Millard

Irrational idle

(NC)—I own a 1989 Chrysler LeBaron convertible that I purchased in Florida about 3 years ago. It's a 2.5L, V4.

Recently, the computer went on the car and I had it replaced, but I have a very peculiar problem now. When the car is started and in park, the idle is fine at about 750-800 rpm. However when the car is in drive, the idle will fluctuate between 500-800 rpm, but it does not stall. This problem does not happen when you are driving the car, only when you come up to a stop. At the stop, the idle drops and goes back up which causes the car to shudder.

I have had all of the vacuum lines checked for leaks and proper connections but everything seems okay. I am at a loss to what is causing this problem. Can you help me?

Barrie, Ontario.

If this fluctuating idle started when the computer was replaced on your car, then bring this problem to the technician's attention who did the work. Sensors controlling your idle speed have certain built in limits. It is possible that your new computer is not an exact match for your idle speed sensors. Discuss this with your technician. Some oxygen sensors can cause the fluctuation you describe. Suggest that your oxygen sensor may need replacing to your technician and see what he thinks.

Creative Wrappings Give Presents a Special Touch

Exchanging presents is a highlight of the Christmas season. From writing a wish list to picking out the perfect gift for that special someone, there is a feeling of anticipation throughout the holidays.

However, after selecting just the right presents, people can add the perfect finishing touch with personalized wrappings. This little extra can show how much they truly care.

If someone enjoys working in the yard, people can wrap his or her gift with a gardening theme. The present, whether it relates to the outdoors or not, can be put in a strawberry basket or bushel basket that's been painted and decorated with pictures from the front of seed packets. Or, as a special touch, people actually can attach packages of seeds to the basket, so the person receiving the gift can save the seeds to plant in the spring. It's a Christmas present that will last the whole year.

For the world traveler on their gift list, people can wrap a present with a map, instead of using wrapping paper. They can choose a map of the person's favorite getaway spot or someplace he or she hopes to visit soon. This just may be the motivation he or she needs to plan the trip.

Wrapping a gift for the home in linens tied with a bow can be beautiful — and practical. A small appliance can be wrapped in a kitchen towel, or a print for the bedroom wall can be wrapped in sheets. It's a great way to make functional gifts fun, and people actually are giving two gifts in one. That is sure to be appreciated.

Another way people can add a special touch to presents is by decorating their own wrapping paper. Whether using paints, markers or crayons, they can create their own designs that relate to a person's particular interests. If people have saved beautiful Christmas cards from past years, they may even want to cut out scenes from them and glue the cutouts to white paper to make a pretty wrapping. This really can show how much people care.

When it comes to gift tags, people also can be creative. They may want to cut a doily into the shape of a snowflake and write on that. If they know someone likes balloons, for example, they can cut construction paper into the shape of balloons and use that as the tag. This little touch can mean a lot.

However they decide to wrap their presents, people can add some warmth to gift-giving this Christmas. A little attention can go a long way to spreading the joy of the season.

Char-Lan Indoor Soccer

The first game in this weeks loop pitted the Stars and the Nomads. The Nomads drew first blood with Jason Varrin scoring from a good passing play that involved the youngest of the Nomad players Neil Thomson. The Stars were not long in equalizing through Toni Boos. A Tim McCuaig strike saw the Stars take the lead but a Willie Larkin shot saw the Nomads on level terms. The Stars proved too strong after this first 15 minute challenge by the Nomads. By half time the Stars had run up a 2 goal lead with goals by Tim McCuaig and Matt Mader. The second half the Stars doubled their score by adding 4 more goals without reply despite some good efforts on the Nomads front line.

Hat tricks by Toni Boos and Matt Mader led the Stars scoring. Tim McCuaig added a pair. Jason Varrin and Willie Larkin scored for the Nomads.

In the second game of the night the leagues two undefeated teams faced each other, the Zone and Rudi's. Despite a good defensive effort from Rudi's and some solid goalkeeping from Mark Novosad they could not keep the Zone at bay. The Zone don't stop running and are always looking for space in which to receive the pass. On this night they were kept to only a 5 - 0 win. Goals from Chad Beauregard, Shawn Montroy, Scott DeBellefeuille and leading scorer Ben Pregent (2) sealed the victory. Tom MacKay recorded the shutout, his third of the season.

Rudi's faced the Hellfish in the closer at 9:00 p.m. The game threatened to become "ugly" as both teams played with intensity normally seen in more meaningful games. After a goaless first half the deadlock was broken midway through the second half with a stunning goal from Charlene Willard.

After a goalmouth scramble that saw Rudi's fortunate to hold on to the lead Derek Wereley added an insurance marker 5 minutes from time. The Hellfish pressed hard but could not find a way pass Mark Novosad. Next week the Stars play the Hellfish at 7:00 p.m., 8:00 p.m. sees the Zone face Rudi's and the 9:00 p.m. game is the Zone vs. Nomads.

Cornwall Sports Hall of Fame has launched its search for inductees.

Every two years the Hall honours Cornwall citizens who have, by their superior ability, effort and achievement, brought fame to Cornwall in the field of sports.

CORNWALL MINOR HOCKEY update

Cornwall Tire Bantam "B" Royals

The weekend of Nov. 1st and 2nd saw the Royals enter into a tournament sponsored by the Brockville Bantam team in Alexandria Bay and come home with having some success in achieving the finals in the "B" division.

Their first game was against the Lysander Lightnings and the Cornwall team shelled their goaltender with 39 shots which ended in a 6-0 win for the Royals. The second game for the Cornwall Tire squad was against the Kemptville 73's which had previously defeated Cornwall just prior to this tournament. This rivalry proved to be very interesting during the contest with both teams not wanting to make any errors, but the final buzzer saw the Kemptville team edge the Royals by a score of 2-1.

On Sunday the Cornwall Tire team faced the South Grenville Rangers who came into the game very confident that they could easily handle this Cornwall team. The coaching staff had a very inspirational pre-game talk because the Royals came out loaded for bear and from the opening face off until the final buzzer the team never let up and hit anything that was moving and in a Ranger jersey. Cornwall handed them their first loss of the tournament and with this win ended up in the "B" finals. The final was played against a bantam "A" team from Stitsville. The Cornwall Royals gave it their best but the legs just weren't there and the Stitsville team out skated them to a 5-2 loss.

In speaking with the coaching staff after the last game of the tournament, they were very happy with the performance of their "B" team, especially seeing that they were in a Bantam "A" calibre tournament.

Good Weekend for Lally Blanchard Peewees

On Saturday, the peewees played against St. Lawrence Kings coming out on top with a score of 3-2. Nathan Beausoleil scored twice with Mike Lauzon getting the winning goal. An assist went to Patrick Turcotte. The next day, Patrick Turcotte scored a pair while singles went to Alex Gray, Peter Barnett and Nathan Beausoleil. Helpers were Dylan Graveley with two, while Peter Barnett and Steven Owens earned single assists. Harold McRae's team keeps on getting good goal keeping from Maxime Marion and Bryan O'Shaughnessy. Keep up the heat boys.

Cornwall Tire Novice Continue Strong Play

The Cornwall Novice team played two exhibition games splitting both games by dropping an 8-5 contest to the strong Embrun team and then posting a 4-0 victory against Hawkesbury. Scoring in both contests were Eric Lemire (3), Corey Thomas (3), Brook DiGiosia and with their first goals of the year Devin Brunet and Jarret Racine. Assisting on the goals were Lemire, Thomas (3), Mario Bissonette, Danik Poirier, Nick Gaudet, Cory Piché, Christopher Ayotte (2), Jesse Corriveau and Scott Gallant.

The Cornwall team also played two league games during the period. They were able to tie Alexandria 1-1 on strong goaltending effort from Nicholas Filion. The only goal was scored with less than one minute to play in the game by Eric Lemire with assists going to Jesse Corriveau and Mario Bissonette.

The team then travelled to Akwasasne and defeated them 4-0 with the shutout going to Pat Quenneville. Scoring for Cornwall were Eric Lemire (2), Christopher Ayotte and Vincent Quesnel with assists going to Ayotte, Brook DiGiosia, Corey Thomas, Pat Quenneville, Danik Poirier.

South Stormont Atom Selects II

Travelling to Kemptville to take on the Panthers the Selects played some offensive hockey and came away with a 2-2 tie. The Panthers led the scoring with 2 quick goals in the first period. Max Millar in nets for the first half was able to keep the rubber out of our net. Taking over for the goaltending Matthew Leroux continued to stop the Panthers. Scoring in the 2nd period was Alex Briere on a three way play from Tyler Galindo and Troy Cryderman. Cryderman scored the tying goal in the third unassisted.

At home on Saturday November 8th the Selects hosted the South Grenville Rangers. The Rangers opened the scoring just minutes into the first period. After a number of penalties and a hard fought battle the selects came up short and took a 2-0 loss to the Rangers.

Heading west on Hwy 2 the Selects arrived in Morrisburg for a game against the Roaring Lions. For the Selects, giving it their all just wouldn't be enough as the Lions downed them 7-0. After holding them off, the Selects lost some of their steam and couldn't light up the visitors side of the scoreboard. Keep working and playing together boys and that win will be yours.

Shalteck Construction Atom "A" Royals

Shalteck suffered a 4-2 loss Nov. 1 in exhibition play against the Brockville Warriors. Both teams were evenly matched in the first, without any goals being scored. The "Glengarry Connection" working together managed the 2 Shalteck goals.

Scott Cameron scoring both goals with assist going to Sebastian Chollette (2) and Pierre Luc Marleau (2).

Shalteck were unable to take advantage of 3 consecutive penalties in the third. Sharing duties in the Shalteck net were Chris Gadbois and Joshua Ingram. Shots on goal were Shelteck 12, Brockville 19.

South Stormont Novice Selects

The South Stormont Novice Selects only had one game over the weekend. They lost an exciting 2-1 game to Cornwall on Friday night in Long Sault. Anthony MacDonald picked up the lone goal for the Selects with Adam Jodoin assisting. This Friday, at 6:30, the Selects host Char-Lan and then play an exhibition game in Prescott on Sunday afternoon.

South Stormont Atom Selects

After five games into league play the Selects record stands at 2 wins 2 ties, and 1 loss. The season opened with a 3-0 win over Char-Lan. Jonathan Presley scored two goals with Richard Boileau picking up the single and Marc Geneau assisting on all three goals. In game two the boys came from behind to nip Potsdam 2-1. The goals went to Addison Pelkey and Chris Sommers with assists to Sommers and Tim Hebert. North Dundas handed the Selects their first loss jumping out to an early 2-0 lead and hanging on to preserve the win. Games four and five against Potsdam and Char-Lan ended up in 1-1 ties, Sommers and Pelkey picking up the points. With a 1.00 GAA Andrew Cameron is rock solid between the pipes. The coaching staff credit the early season success to a great effort and total team commitment by the players. Keep up the good work. Also a note of thanks to the Laming family for organizing our float entry in the recent Santa Claus Parade. A great time was had by one and all.

Cornwall Tire Bantam "B" Royals

Saturday Nov. 15th, 1997, the Royals played a home game at the Akwasasne arena against the visiting Gananoque Islanders. The first period was very entertaining for the Cornwall fans as they saw their team take a 3-0 lead on some very fine playing of hockey. Their lead increased to 5-0 after two periods, but that's where it stopped and went downhill. As the Royals got into some penalty trouble which continued into the third period, but still maintained a win of 5 to 4. Scoring for Cornwall was Lance Nakic - 2, Alain Allaire - 2 and Tim St-Jean with the single. Marc Banville, Tim St-Jean and Stephen Bernier each has 2 assist. Total penalty minutes was 40 for Cornwall and 30 for Gananoque.

On Sunday Nov 16th, 1997, the Cornwall Tire Royals hosted the South stormont Selects at the Si-Miller arena where they took it on the chin with a 4 to 1 lost. Scoring for Cornwall was Mario Bissonnette. Although out shooting the Selects by 40 shots, they just couldn't buy a goal, even if it was on sale. After the game the players were informed by the coaching staff that in order to score goals, you can't be shooting at the netminder, you have to miss him to put it by on the other side of the goal line.

The Royals next games are Nov. 22/97 at 10:30 am - Akwesasne arena against Kingston Township and on Sunday Nov. 23/97 they play host to the Ernestown bantams at the Si-Miller arena, game time 8:00 pm.

Cornwall Auto Stop Minor PeeWee AA Rapids

Nov 15th, the Rapids travelled to Spencerville to the Rideau St. Lawrence Kings. Delio Rossi, the Rapids net minder kept us in the game, coming up with some huge saves to keep the Rapids tied going into the third period. With a few minutes left in the third period, the Kings managed to steal two goals on the Rapids. After three very physical periods of hockey, the Kings came up the winners with a 5-3 victory. Goals were scored by Mathieu Bergeron, Ryne Gove and Brenan Barker, assists went to Jason Lepine, Neil Werely, Doug Dewar, Brenan Barker and Ryne Gove.

Nov. 16th saw the Rapids playing the Cumberland Barons on Rapids home ice. After the last meeting with the Barons and suffering an 8-3 loss the big white machine was tuned up, geared to take 2 points from the Barons. In the first period of action, the Barons scored first. The Rapids knew they had to take charge and rush to the net. Before the end of the first period, Jason Leger wheeled up the ice to sail one past the Baron's goalie unassisted, to tie up the game. Next goal came from Mathieu Bergeron with assistance from Chris Laperle. This was the Rapids go ahead goal. The Rapids managed to hold the lead until the end of the second period when the Barons tied it up. Goalie Chris Decoste was determined not to let any rubber past him, and came up with some huge saves to keep the game tied at 2-2.

Sweet Smell of Victory

Well hockey fans its been 7 years since a Cornwall team has won the Peewee Tournament. The wait was over with this year's 1997 bunch of warriors. The Cornwall A Royals captured the cup in a very exciting 2-1 overtime victory, over the Dollard Quebec team. The excitement came to a head with Troy Sinfield scoring the winning goal.

It was a hard working bunch of hockey players that took the bull by the horns and won all 5 games; the last two requiring the win in overtime.

Starting with game #1 the Osgoode-Rideau team for some strange reason, showed up with only 10 skaters and tried to outskate the Cornwall team (sorry). The game was 2-1 going into the 3rd period; on goals by Jeff Laframboise and Sinfield. Mike Belmore opened the flood gates in the 3rd period scoring the go ahead goal setup by Luc Langlois; Ryan Roy and Laframboise closed the doors on Osgoode-Rideau to post a 5-2 win. Pete Larin, Sean Plumondon and Cory Hamilton chipped in the assists to bury the game.

Game #2 was one of those early morning Saturday games. This time the opponents were the Black and Gold team from Smith Falls. Let us just say thanks to the fine saves from Shawn Pollard, Cornwall pulled out a narrow 3-2 win. Scoring for the Royals were Ryan Freeland, Sinfield and Roy. Brant Garrow picked up 2 assists for the win.

Game #3 brought on the flag waving match, when Cornwall hosted the Massena team. Not even the chant USA, could stop the high flying Cornwall team. The Royals came out of the blocks fast and built up a 5-0 lead, then coasted to a 5-2 win. This game produced one of the best demonstration of sportsmanship with both teams talking and shaking hands after a hard fought battle. Scoring for Cornwall was newcomer Ryan Kuhn-Lalonde, Laframboise, Freeland, Langlois and Belmore. Assisting the win were defencemen Shawn Mainville and Chris Hart.

It was onto the Semi-finals, where the Cardiac Kids took the excited Cornwall Fans to overtime winning 3-2. Cornwall opened the scoring early with a three way passing play Roy, Belmore to Langlois. This was short lived as Ottawa West came back with 2 quick goals to take the lead. Ottawa from that point used every delay tactic in the book to waste the running time. Cornwall were able to tie it up on a power play goal from Freeland, assisted by Langlois winning the match just 2:03 into the extra frame.

Then came the finals just one hour later as the Royals jumped from the Bob Turner to the Si Miller. Hats off to Dave McCourt, Cornwall's goalie, who made the big saves when it counted, helping a very tired Cornwall group. McCourt kept the game close 1-0 for Dollard until Laframboise's easy shot from far out beat the Dollard goalie. Once again the Royals were in an overtime situation in less than 3 hours. In overtime, Cornwall appeared to be the more tired team and were taking shots from far out. Mr. McCourt made some fine saves in overtime to keep the Royals alive until Troy Sinfield's waist shot from outside beat the small Dollard goalie, having been placed up high in the net by Sinfield. The Old Water Street Arena went nuts, just like the days of 1965, when Ward and Snelgrove skated this sheet of ice. All in all we must congratulate every player and coaching staff, for winning the 1997, 12th Annual Peewee A Cornwall Tournament.

South Stormont Peewee Selects

The South Stormont Peewee Selects traveled to Alexandria to take on the Glens and came out of the game with a 4-3 loss. The Selects came out flying and jumped out to a 3-1 lead before the Glens battled back to score three unanswered goals in the latter stages of the third period. Chris Hebert, Robert Boileau, and Josh Bouchard handled the scoring for the Selects, with assists going to Leo Booyink (2), Jordan Walker, and Codey Losey.

Their next contest had the Selects at home playing the Char-Lan Rebels. The lopsided affair had the Selects on the losing side of the 9-3 score. Missing two key players in their attack and losing three more players to injury during the game hurt any chances of a comeback.

Goaltender Ryan Prevost was a bright spot in the game, stopping the Rebels from reaching double figures. Scoring for the Selects were Matt Veenstra (2), and Phil Fougere. Assists went to Chris Hebert (2), Jean Clement, and Codey Losey.

Delaney Bus Lines Midget "A" Royals

On Friday night, the Delaney Bus Lines Midget "A" Royals faced the Nepean Raiders at the Sportsplex and came away with a well deserved win. Greg Hebert played a strong game between the pipes and was working on a shutout but in the final minute of the game, Nepean scored their only goal. The final for this one was 3-1. Scoring for Delaney were Martin Hebert with a pair and a single from Eric Leroux.

Sunday afternoon at the Civic Complex, the Delaney Midgets met up with the Gloucester Rangers and went down in defeat by a final tally of 7-5. Goals for the Royals came from Carson Runions, Justin O'Shaughnessy, Dean Chatterton, Martin Hebert and Rodney Wilson.

Shalteck Construction Atom "A" Royals

The Shalteck squad welcomed the visiting Osgoode team on Thursday evening, November 6th, at the Si Miller Arena. A hard fought match ended with Shalteck suffering a 3-1 loss.

The lone Shalteck marker came in the first from Captain Ian Boots being assisted by wingers Brad Crepeau and Corey Gove. The lead was maintained throughout the first with a 1-0 score by strong forechecking provided by Janick Lalonde, Chris Matte, Corey Bough, Pierre Luc Marleau, Scotty Cameron and Sebastien Chollete. The Osgoode team returned in the second period retaliating with three goals giving the visitors a 3-1 lead while keeping the talented Shalteck squad with their one goal.

Both teams jostled back and forth in the third without exchanging any more scoring. Suffering the loss in net was Joshua Ingram facing 22 tough shots while the Royals scrambled with 17.

On Sunday, November 9th, Shalteck found themselves on home ice at the Civic Complex against the powerful Kanata team. Entertaining the visitors was the last thing in mind for Shalteck. The game ended in a more favourable position as planned by coach Ron Belmore with a 5-4 win.

Brad Crepeau's pass through the Kanta's goal crease produced a fine tip-in by right winger Corey Gove opening up the scoring. Now with the Shalteck fired up, it gave reason for more scoring. Ian Boots racked up two more goals. Crepeau (2) earning the assist on Ian's first goal and Janick Lalonde and Chris Matte assisting on his second marker. Kanata managed to scratch one for the visitors ending the period with a proud Royal lead 3-1.

Ian Boots third and unassisted goal opened the second period. Kanata, considered down but not out, pumped in 3 fine goals surprising goaltender Chris Gadbois, ending the second with a 4-4 tie.

The up and down play in the third and sound goaltending at both ends of the rink finally gave way. Left winger Sebastien Chollette took advantage of a rebound left behind by centre Scotty Cameron after receiving a pass from Pierre Luc Marleau. The strong defensive play being offered by Glen Belmore, Josh Brownlee, Joel Langlois and Cody Legue helped manage the win along with the face-off abilities provided by Corey Bough. Chollette was awarded the winning goal and Chris Gadbois sharing the win in net. Shots on goal, Shalteck, 16 and Kanata, 22.

Busy Weekend for the Cornwall Tire Bantam "A" Royals

The first weekend of November was extremely busy for the Cornwall Tire Bantam "A" Royals playing five games in two days. On Saturday November 1st, the Royals were attending against the Cumberland team, and was totally dominated by the Royals. The Cornwall team easily walked away with a 3 to 1 victory with goals scored by Nick Dube (2) and Dale Ferguson. Unfortunately the Royals lost Dave Carry to an ankle injury for the rest of the weekend.

The second game was a totally different story. The Royals ended up being overpowered by the Nepean team. Nothing was going the Royals way, and as a result the Cornwall team suffered a surprising 6 to 2 loss. The Royals goals were scored by Shawn Chartrand and Alain Leger.

But the Royals were not done yet, as they had to drive to Kanata for a regular league game. After the loss against Nepean and considering that this was going to be their third game in one day, no one knew what to expect, except for coach "Red" Dupuis Troops. They came out strong and didn't let up the whole game! They rebounded from the previous game and skated to a 6 to 2 win. Scott Champagne had two goals with the other ones scored by Shawn Chartrand, Dale Ferguson, Andrew Banville and Matt McBean.

The next day the Royals were up early with a 8:30 am game. They had to win that game to go to the semi-finals. The Cornwall players didn't want to go home early! They played hard, skated hard and out muscled the Blackburn Stingers to win the game by a score of 6 to 4. Nick Dube had two goals and one assist, Scott Champagne one goal and three assists, Alain Leger one goal and two assists, Stephane St-Denis and Andrew Banville one goal each.

The semi-final game was the game everyone waited for! The league's first place Royals against the second place Ottawa East; and what a game it was! The Ottawa East goaltender at one end and Marc Lapointe between the pipes for the Royals at the other end kept their respective teams in the running the whole game. With less than one minute to play the Royals were trailing 4 to 3 but with 11 seconds left in the game Shawn Chartrand scored to tie the game and bring it to overtime. Unfortunately Cornwall's dream to go to the final was ended by Ottawa East who scored three minutes into the overtime. The Cornwall team displayed a lot of heart and everybody who was at the game was very proud of their effort. Other Cornwall goals went to Nick Dube, Jamie Leger, and Pat Smith.

On Friday night, the Delaney Bus Lines Midget "A" Royals faced the Nepean Raiders at the Sportsplex and came away with a well deserved win. Cornwall Senior Women's Hockey

Cornwall Senior Women's Hockey team, the Rayco Sharks lost 2-1 against Vanier on Nov. 12th at the Vanier Arena. Vanier jumped out to a 2-0 lead with goals by M. Seaman at 6:25 of the 1st period and Nancy Plamondon at 7:43 of the 2nd. Rayco added a goal at 1:36 of the 2nd by Dominique Laroche assisted by Dawn Smoke and Michelle D'Amours. Rayco pulled their goalie with a 1:30 remaining to try and tie the game. They had numerous chances but time ran out on Rayco. Rayco's goalie Lisa Cook played an outstanding game to keep her team in the game all the way.

Seaway Valley Major Bantam AA Hockey Results

The Cornwall Tire Seaway Valley AA major bantams travelled to Kingston on Saturday, November 8th. After falling behind 2-0 after the first two periods of play, Seaway began a comeback with goals from Graham Charbonneau, Luc Lanthier and Danny Lafave to make the score Kingston 4, Seaway 3. However, an empty net goal in the dying seconds proved too much for the Rapids. The final score was Kingston 5, Seaway 3.

On November 15th, Seaway hosted the Gloucester Rangers. The Rangers opened the scoring at 7:11 of the first period on a power play goal. Seaway had a chance to tie the score when a defensive breakdown by Gloucester resulted in a 2 on 0 breakaway, but the shot went wide. Gloucester's aggressive play gave them the edge in this period.

In the second period, Seaway came storming back but in spite of holding an edge in scoring chances, was unable to put the puck past the hot Ranger goalie. Both teams failed to capitalize on multiple power play opportunities.

The third period began with the score still at 1-0 in favour of the Rangers. Gloucester pulled ahead, however, on another power play goal, this time a blast from the slot from about ten feet out. Again Seaway had a chance to score when they were handed a five on three power play for 46 seconds and subsequently a five on four for 1:11, but were unable to score. The Rangers closed out the scoring with their third goal late in the period. Gloucester played with a man short for the final three periods but Seaway was unable to score. The game ended with the Rapids on the short end of the 3-0 final score.

On November 16th, the Cornwall Tire Rapids were again on home ice to meet the Ottawa Ice, one of the top teams in the league. This time, Seaway gave the Ice something to think about by playing a hard hitting game that kept the Ice off balance for most of the game.

The Ice opened the scoring in the first period with both teams playing a man short at 11:35. However, the Rapids evened the score in the last two minutes of the period by scoring on a scramble in from of the Ottawa goal just as an Ottawa penalty expired. Mike King got the goal with assists by Stephane Mainville and Matthew Verdone. At the end of the first period, the score was tied at 1-1.

Ottawa pulled ahead in the second period at 8:02. One minute later, the Ice were penalized and Seaway scored the equalizer on a shot from the point by Mainville. The puck got tangled up in the goalie's feet and slid into the goal. The assist went to Adam Beehler. Ottawa took the lead, 3-2, about ten seconds later when Eric Larocque took the puck down deep into the corner and centered a quick pass across the crease to a waiting Adam Beehler who snapped a quick one-timer cleanly into the back of the net. Unfortunately, Seaway's lead would not stand for long as the Ice evened the score at 3 all on a power play goal.

The third period was a see-saw battle with both teams taking multiple penalties and failing to capitalize. Ottawa pulled ahead at 5:25, 4-3, with both teams playing a man short. In the waning moments of the period, Seaway took a penalty and was forced to press for a tying goal while playing a man short. A resulting breakaway by the Ice resulted in a score with 38 seconds remaining to end the scoring. Although coming up short at the end, the sparkling play of Seaway goalie, Jessie Kirady, and the hard hitting of the forwards prevented the 9-4 embarrassment when these teams first met this season. Seaway continues to improve and show that the boys can play with the best in this league.

HELLO ... IS THERE ANYONE OUT THERE?

We want to remind everyone out there that this is your public forum ... we need to hear from you, so mail, fax or drop off your little anecdote or gossip to:

So the Prime Minister is boycotting his CBC "Town Hall Meeting" with the public, which proves if you can't stand the heat get out of the "Town Hall".

First annual Turkey Shoot for Worldfest at the Legion on Friday, November 28th from 7:30 to 12:00 ... over 75 turkeys and numerous door prizes.

The next general meeting of Team Cornwall is Thursday, December 11th when Mayor-elect Brian Sylvester will address the gathering. For further information contact John Divinski at 932-5180 or Diane Wallace at 933-4004.

To the local store and the radio station that supplies it's music. We the people should be up in arms for example, when shopping we have to listen to words like "defecate on your mic" over their P.A. system. I for one am tired of the excuse, this is the '90s ... look around folks, our society needs as much help as it can get from decent people. So stand up and be counted.

In the 1996-97 "Deans List" of Carleton University in Ottawa, with those of "A" ratings is a former Cornwall resident, Chad Paulin. Chad is the grandson of Cy and Anne Paulin and Leonard and Doris Hart of Cornwall.

To our favourite city bus driver Gilles. Heard you celebrated another birthday recently. What's a few extra grey hairs when you're young at heart. Keep smiling!

Mr. Harris and his cabinet colleagues may not always be right but they are doing what they said they would do and that is a rare happening in this day and age. Remember the Red Book?

We really thought that "Taurus" Blanchard would be able to skate around "Old House" Eric. Seems that old Real Estate salesman can stop these new models every time. On the Bob Kennedy update file it is understood that Bob has proof positive, a study is being done in Italy (where pizzas are made) that shows that when one exercises very diligently, then they will put on weight not lose weight at the end of the exercise. Good luck Bob.

At Grumpy's Sports Bar in Long Sault, you never run out of fun. Last Sunday the bar was full and everyone was playing "Wheel of Fortune" ... that's right, big wheel, huge puzzle board (Vanna looked better though) and by the way, all the things happening at Grumpy's come with lots of good prizes... Grumpy shirts, hats, bags ...Molson's sweatshirts, bags, T's. How come my Labatt's company never has prizes there? I guess it's like the sign on their wall says. Us Labatt's supporters don't consume enough of Mike's product to justify Labatt's prizes. I drink Blue and lots of it but ... I advertise with Molson's shirts and hats, and lots of them. Thanks Grumpy and Molsons.

Politicians will do almost anything for a vote and this was clearly demonstrated recently when the Provincial Liberal leader was out in support of the illegal strike by teachers. Wasn't this the same individual who, not long ago, introduced a private members bill to ban strikes by teachers? Anything for a vote they say.

The OSPCA would like to thank everyone who donated and bought baked goods at their October 25th bake sale. Special thanks to Jean, Doris and Louise for their advice and help. Everyone's support helped make this a great success. Thank you.

Gladstone Public School Parade Committee would like to thank Theresa of Loonie's and Balloonies for her extra help. To Art McElheran for his time and "steering" us the right way. To Mary-Lou Leroux for going above and beyond helping us prepare. To Sue Holland-Lalonde for lifting our spirits with music and to all the volunteer parents/grandparents who pitched in. Thank you.

It's nice to finally start hearing Christmas music on the local radio stations. Puts everyone in the Christmas mood. Hopefully lots more to come in the next month.

Caught in passing: librarian to patron - "Books on claustrophobia? They're in that little room around the corner."

For our penny-pinchers: Did you know that brown sugar is nothing more than white sugar and molasses? To make your own (for about half the cost of store-bought), mix two tablespoons of molasses into one cup of white sugar.

A huge thank you to Bonnie Fitzpatrick for donating her van and her time and to all the students and parents for their school support and spirit at the Santa Claus parade.

Who says it is necessary to have a proliferation of "Vote For Me" signs during the weeks leading up to elections? Our Mayor Elect is to be congratulated for his decision not to use outdoor signs and who can argue with success. Perhaps in coming elections other aspirants may take heed and if they do we will not have to witness a display such as we witnessed this year on Sydney Street.

The local daily recently ran an article with a heading "Learning Circus Is In Town", but actually the circus started during the 1970's with the advent of the Hall - Dennis report and education has been going downhill ever since. Would anyone expect Mr. Dennis to agree with the Provincial Government and its decisions to bring education back to reality. The article refers to clowns and ringmasters and we have seen and heard enough of these in the past few weeks.

I always ask my beauty-shop customers how short they want their hair. They give me a variety of responses such as "trim the ends" or "don't take too much off". But I wasn't quite sure what to do when one woman requested "just cut the long off".

IT'S A CLASSIC..... (I've heard this many times before... but it still works!)

MOMMA LOVES YOU!

Dear Billy Bob,

I am writing to you slow because I know you can't read fast.

We don't live where we did when you left home. Your Dad read in the paper that most accidents happen within twenty miles from home, so we moved. I won't be able to send you the address, as the last family that lived here took the house numbers when they left so that they wouldn't have to change their address.

This place is real nice. It even has a washing machine. I'm not sure it works well. Last week I put a load of clothes in, pulled the chain and haven't seen them since.

The weather isn't too bad. It only rained twice last week. The first time it rained for three days and the second time it rained for four days.

The coat you wanted me to send to you, your aunt said that it would be a little too heavy to send in the mail with the buttons on, so we cut them off and put them in your pockets.

We got another bill from the funeral home. They said if we don't make the last payment on Granpa's funeral, up he comes.

Your Uncle Stan locked his keys in his brand new Buick yesterday. We were worried because it was a hot day and it took him two hours to get Aunt Anna and the kids out.

Your sister had a baby this morning. I haven't found out yet what it is so I don't know if you are an Aunt or an Uncle.

Your Uncle John fell in a whiskey vat. Some men tried to pull him out but he fought them off and drowned. We had him cremated and he burned for three days.

Three of your friends went off a bridge in a pick-up truck. One was driving and the other two were riding in the back. The driver got out. He rolled down the window and swam to safety. The other two drowned because they couldn't get the tail gate down.

There isn't much more news at this time, nothing much has happened.

Love,
Mom

PS. I was going to send you some money but the envelope was already sealed.

The O.S.P.C.A., SD&G branch will be holding Pet Pics with Santa on November 27th and 28th from 2:00 - 8:00 pm at Pet Value on Vincent Massey Drive and on November 29th from 9:00 - 2:00 pm at Tender Loving Dogs Grooming, 9th and Sydney (in back of Berry's Pet Food Store). Get a memorable photo taken of your special friend with Santa. Don't forget, all proceeds go to the SD&G Branch of the O.S.P.C.A. "All for the Animals".

There is a house on Vimy Street that has a guest the lady does not want to meet ... so here's hoping it doesn't surprise her, otherwise I will surmise as to who will be the fastest sprinter.

Great round of applause to the organizers of the Santa Claus parade and special hand to Diane Wallace and her helper Kim. It was a great parade and even greater to find Santa Claus had found his reindeer. Congratulations.

In the candy store where I work, we also have beautiful china dolls on display. A customer showed interest in one and approached the counter. "What a gorgeous blonde," he remarked.

"Thank you," replied my blonde co-worker, beaming.

"You're welcome," said the startled gentleman.

Price and Prejudiced. Our local curling club burned down and was rebuilt a year later. At the opening ceremony, the mayor was invited to cut the ribbon. After his congratulatory speech there was a prolonged pause before he proclaimed. "And now, let he among you who is without sin cast the first stone." He then stepped onto the ice and gently slid a curling rock to the other end.

When did it become a good idea to pass two cars going up the side of an overpass? Let's use our heads when driving and not do something stupid. Remember ... it's not just you who gets in the accident, it's also those around you. Don't take us with you!!

How To Choose The Right DTH System

Buy Canadian

Make sure you only consider a Canadian DTH service. A federal court judge recently ruled that selling, distributing and installing equipment to receive programming from U.S. DBS providers is illegal in Canada. Not only should you question the legality of these "grey market" dishes, but you should also consider the hassle of setting up a phony U.S. address to obtain U.S. programming.

The more programming the better

Will the DTH service you're looking at offer you the maximum amount of programming available? More programming is always better. Don't only consider what the company is offering today, but also what they will be able to provide in the future.

Advanced technology for competitive prices

Are you getting the most advanced technology for reasonable costs? Make sure the set-top box technology you're considering is competitively priced and compliant to the world standard in digital video broadcasting — MPEG-2/DVB.

Dish size

One of the most convenient aspects of DTH satellite television is the small dish antenna you need to receive programming. Choose the company which offers the smallest dish size for your geographical area.

Choice, choice and more choice

How much choice is the DTH company offering you in terms of programming packages and technology? You should be able to choose from a selection of set-top boxes and programming packages that suit you and your family's needs.

Availability

Make sure the DTH system you choose is readily available, that you don't have to wait for the equipment to be ordered or travel across the country to get it. You should be able to purchase and subscribe to a DTH service from any major consumer retailer across Canada.

Easy to install

Ask about installation of the DTH service. Is the product easy to install and does the retailer suggest an authorized installation service?

Since introducing the first compact pickup to North America, Nissan has been fuelling the love affair between Canadians and their trucks. Frontier, the latest version of the Nissan pickup and the seventh generation overall, shows that the new kid on the block can also be a chip off the old one. After all, this truck still shines in areas like towing capacity and bed depth. But we definitely have our reasons for giving this truck a brand-new name. Frontier's new 2.4 litre DOHC engine produces 143 horsepower, more than any other standard engine in its class. For 1998, its exterior is longer and wider and has been redesigned to set a tone of overall toughness with its solid curves and brawny front end. Inside, Frontier is useful and well thought out, making your work easier and your drive more comfortable. The ride quality is noticeably smoother and quieter than before. And for your peace of mind, Frontier offers the safety of dual airbags, including a key-type shut-off switch for the passenger airbag. Ultimately, Frontier is everything you expect from a legendary Nissan truck; it is powerful, comfortable, useful and safe. But most important, Frontier is the right tool, job after job, again and again, year after year.

Enjoy Yourself! Let Holidays Make You Feel Like a Kid Again

Think back to when you were a child. The holidays were great. You got a lot of gifts, you were allowed to stay up late, and you could eat lots of cookies and candy. It definitely was something to look forward to.

Now, as an adult, you have to buy lots of gifts (usually going beyond your budget), you stay up too late because you hardly have the time to do it all (leading to stress and fatigue), and if you eat lots of cookies and candy, you gain weight. It becomes a time of year that many adults dread. After all, who wants to be broke, stressed-out and fat?

The holidays may be more fun for children than adults, but it doesn't have to be that way. It can be a time of year that adults look forward to with as much enthusiasm — or even more — as little ones. How can this be? It's easy; it just takes advance planning. The old saying is really true: A little planning goes a long way.

Gift-giving, an integral part of the holiday season, tends to be a major cause of aggravation and stress. It doesn't have to be. You may feel that you have to spend a lot of money on a gift for it to be appreciated. That's simply not true. A really meaningful gift is one that comes from the heart, not the wallet.

Some of the most appreciated gifts don't cost much at all. They usually require more thought than cash. How about a poem, story or play written especially for or about the recipient? You can't find that at a department store. And, it's definitely something he or she won't have already. Or, how about making something on your own, like a poster or collage of photographs. You even can make your own Christmas card or design the wrapping paper. The possibilities for creative gift-giving are endless. The only requirements are imagination and effort.

However, if you choose the more conventional approach to gift-giving — shopping in stores — you still can avoid overspending. Just start early, and finish early. Think about what you want to get the recipient first, and then go out to look for it.

Often, you end up spending too much money because you wait until the last possible moment to buy gifts. You wander aimlessly around crowded malls, bumping into other aggravated holiday shoppers, and when you're totally disgusted, you grab the first overpriced thing that you see and give it as a gift — whether it's appropriate for the recipient or not. Is there anything joyous about that?

Taking care of gifts early will cut your potential for stress greatly. The extra time you have can be focused on other holiday necessities: making arrangements with relatives, writing out cards, baking, cooking, decorating and so on. Do all of this with a smile on your face. It's supposed to be fun, and it can be — if you adopt that joyous attitude you had when you were younger.

Of course, you had no responsibilities when you were little. Stress was not in your vocabulary. However, for adults, stressful situations are sometimes unavoidable. When they are, don't give in. Meditation is an excellent form of relaxation, as is exercise. You can get rid of a lot of aggression with a 20-minute run around the neighborhood. You also can get rid of a lot of calories, which will solve the problem of putting on those extra "holiday" pounds.

If you're someone who gets stressed out during the holidays, why not try a different approach? Start preparing early, pace yourself, laugh, smile, sing and simply enjoy yourself as you go along. Yo never know — Christma could take on a whole ne meaning for you!
