CCVS RepCo Presents ...

CCVS Rep.Co., comprised of the Program of the Arts for Junior and Senior Drama Classes, will present Arnold Wengrow's "The Canterbury Tales", a contemporary adaption of the works of Geoffrey Chaucer. Rewritten for the stage, this highly physical and imaginative rendition of the classic work is presented in a medieval atmosphere. Actors use their bodies extensively to pantomime the scenery and the props, making for a highly theatrical production. The show runs from Jan. 14th to Jan. 17th at 7:00 pm with a special dinner theatre performance Thursday, January 16th at 6:00 pm. Pictured above are members of the cast.

1997 Easter Seal Snowarama

To get more information on participating in this event call the local Easter Seal Society or the "Snowarama Hot Line" at 1-800-461-3391 (toll free).

HOROSCOPES

January 12-18

Aries – March 21/April 20
A temporary change in routine gives you the diversion you've been craving. Take time to consider the changes you'd like to make in your life. A Pisces brings promising news on Thursday. A Leo's tale of woe provides food for thought. Soften your approach with Libra.

Taurus – April 21/May 21
Before you pass judgment on others, take a good look at yourself. Remember, everyone has his or her strengths and weaknesses — even you. And, everyone's are different. Think about it. Watch your mouth on Thursday, or something you say could offend a close friend.

Gemini – May 22/June 21
An unexpected turn of events early in the week disrupts long-standing plans. Although this may be frustrating, it will be what you have to do. Use exercise as a way to stave off frustrations. A Libra friend offers words of encouragement. Use any free time to promote self-awareness.

Cancer – June 22/July 22
Don't sell yourself short when it comes to business. Know your value, and be sure to present it in a beautifully wrapped package. You owe it to yourself. Discipline is the key to reaching fitness goals. A Leo has an unexpected surprise later in the week. A love relationship blossoms.

Leo – July 23/August 23
Leos tend to get what they want more easily than most other members of the zodiac. Your charms are usually hard to resist — usually, but not this week. Forget about using manipulative tricks, and try a down-to-earth approach — especially if you're dealing with Scorpio.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22
You may have to choose between helping a friend and helping yourself. Unless you're one of the more innovative Virgos out there, you probably won't find a reasonable compromise. At work, make use of downtime in a productive way. Plan for busier times ahead.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23
Tormented by yet another difficult decision, Libra? Instead of weighing the pros and cons over and over again, follow your heart. It's where you'll end up anyway, so why waste time? Just a few kind words will do wonders for a down-in-the-dumps friend. Make the effort. Be careful of what you say on Friday, or you could find your foot in your mouth.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22
Overstepping your bounds in a friendship could lead to hard feelings. Be aware of what you say and how you say it. An old friend comes to you for support on a personal matter. Try to put yourself in his or her place before offering advice. Health-related problems need to be addressed.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec 21
Quality time with your partner helps ease recent tensions. A special romantic effort goes a very long way. Young children play a big role later in the week. A little Leo may do something to win your heart. A Libra's good news gives you something to smile about.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan 20
Speak up, Capricorn, or you'll never get what you want. You can't expect others to read your mind. Be more assertive. On Thursday, an unpleasant reminder of your past makes you happy for what you have today. A Gemini friend helps put things into perspective.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18
Don't be afraid to swallow your pride if it means saving a valuable relationship. You'll be glad you did. Looking for a new job? If so, Tuesday could be an especially lucky day. Keep your eyes open for new opportunity. On Friday, remember, appearances can be deceiving.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20
Jumping to conclusions before you know all the facts will steer you in a totally wrong direction. Make an effort to look at the big picture. An old flame will be the focus of your thoughts midweek. Use past mistakes to create a brighter romantic future. A break comes Friday.

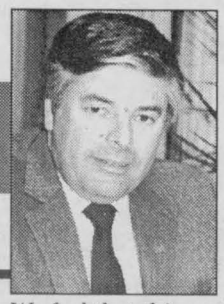
M.P.P. REPORTS



By Noble Villeneuve
MPP SD&G & East Grenville

Happy New Year from the Ontario Government! Instead of simply wishing Ontarians success and prosperity for 1997, we are trying to ensure that 1997 is a better year for everyone, by keeping our promise for further tax reductions for Ontario residents. The second phase in our government's Personal Income Tax Rate Cut took effect on January 1, 1997, a cut that delivers half of our promised 30 percent personal income tax rate cut. This allows all of us as Ontario citizens to keep more of our own money and gives us greater choice of whether to save or spend as we wish.

Businesses are also feeling the relief of tax cuts, as the new year brings with it the first reduction in the Employer Health payroll tax. By 1999, fully 88 percent of all private sector employers will no longer have to pay this tax or even file a return. We believe that such tax breaks will result in a stronger economy and greater job creation.

Other items on the government's record of tax reductions include a rebate of Retail Sales Tax on building materials for Ontario's farmers, and new incentives for first-time home buyers purchasing newly constructed homes in the form of a rebate of the Land Transfer Tax, through March 31, 1997. We have also parallelled a number of federal corporate tax budget changes that result in tax reductions.

So far, our plan to reduce the taxes seems to be paying off. Since the first phase of the tax cut in July 1996, sixty seven percent of the jobs created in Canada occurred in Ontario. We feel that this new tax cut is an excellent way of starting 1997 on a high note, with more money in everyone's pocket to save, spend or invest.

The Ontario Legislative Assembly will reconvene early this year on January 13, 1997 to get a head start on dealing with the many issues regarding the "Who Does What" commission and other important concerns.

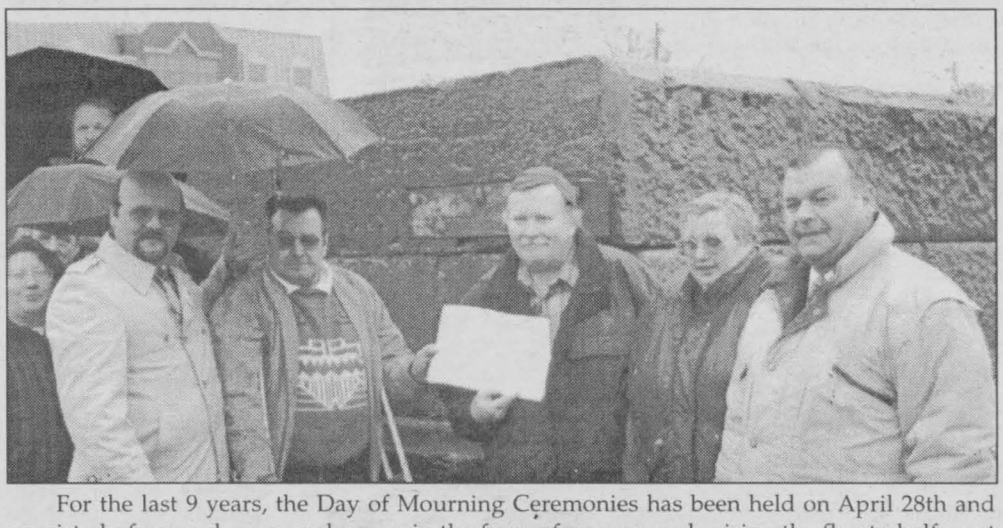
Permanent Memorial Considered



For the last 9 years, the Day of Mourning Ceremonies has been held on April 28th and consisted of a one day remembrance in the form of prayers and raising the flag to half mast in memory of workers who have lost their lives as a result of being injured in the workplace. A committee (pictured above) has been established to set up a permanent memorial and the site they have chosen is the Swing Bridge Site in Lamoureux Park. The proposal to city council is currently being reviewed. Meanwhile the committee will hold a Valentines Day Dance at the Ramada Inn to raise funds for the memorial when it is constructed.

It's Not Too Late!

If you are still undecided about where to send your charitable dollar, maybe this will help. In recent years, there has been a pronounced increase in respiratory disease in Canada. One in five Canadians suffers from some form of lung disease. Over 500 people die from asthma each year. Nearly 40,000 Canadians die each year from smoking related illnesses. Over 600,000 Canadians suffer from chronic obstructive lung disease such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis and lung cancer.

As a result, the demand for education and research has also increased dramatically. That's where the Lung Association comes in. Our aim is prevention where possible, and education where needed.

In the past year Christmas Seal dollars have supported Breathe Easy programs at hospitals, Senior Outreach Centres and retirement homes in the five United Counties, for adults with lung disease; The Lungs Are For Life School Program, reaching more than 4,000 school children yearly, teaching them the importance of respiratory health and smoking prevention. The Options Program, focussing on the importance of good decision making and a healthy lifestyle, delivered to grades 6, 7, & 8 by high school students; The Asthma Air Force Program, designed to help asthmatic children and their parents better understand, manage and cope with this debilitating disease; Asthma Management Program and Asthma Alert kit for educators; exercise equipment and a free swim program for families suffering from lung disease; C.A.N.D.O. Environmental Program; educational materials and smoking cessation information; educational workshops and seminars; The Better Breathers Club, a social time with guests speakers, activities, day trips and special lunches; health days; medical research ... and more.

If we can educate people with lung disease or help prevent the onset, we hope to reduce hospital visits and aid in providing a healthy lifestyle for all. The cost of living with lung disease can be very costly, so we currently offer these programs at no cost. We want to continue this practice and that's why the Christmas Seal Campaign, is more critical than ever.

The Lung Association depends solely on direct mail and supplementary fundraising. We do not receive government funding and we are not a member of the United Way. Funds raised are put to work in the Five United Counties to help friends, neighbours and possibly your family, and we need your continued support.

As reliable as a bowl of chicken soup.

Bombardier: On A Roll

One of Canada's great corporate success stories, Bombardier remains well positioned to extend its impressive growth record into the future. Near term earnings momentum will be driven by a strong backlog of profitable orders, while longer term growth will come from new product introductions and geographic expansion. Bombardier shares are reasonably valued in the stock market, especially in light of the company's impressive growth profile over the next few years. The shares are ideally suited to growth-oriented investors. Our one year target is $28, while our three year expectation calls for $40.

Bombardier operates in three key global business units: Transportation Equipment, Aerospace and Motorized Consumer Products. In addition to these three groups, Bombardier also operates Bombardier Capital Group, a financing arm that provides services for Bombardier's customers.

The Transportation Equipment group manufacturers mass transit products (subway cars, buses, commuter trains, etc.) while the Aerospace group produces a wide range of specialized aircraft such as the Learjet, Challenger and Global Express. The Motorized Consumer Products group manufactures popular items such as snowmobiles (Ski-Doo) and Personal Watercraft (Sea-Doo).

All three of Bombardier's divisions - Aerospace, Mass Transit and Consumer Products enjoy healthy order backlogs and are well positioned for future growth.

In Aerospace, momentum continues to build for the company's Regional Jet (RJ), as US airlines assess the strong market performance of the aircraft being used by regional carriers like Comair. We believe that several regional airlines are analyzing the benefits of adding jets to their fleets. Rumours of a large order from American Airlines have been persistent as the company works towards a labour agreement that would allow pilots at regional affiliate American Eagle to fly jets.

Increased deliveries from th RJ, Dash 8, Challenger 604 and Lear 45 programs should add significantly to the division's bottom line over the next two years. Longer term growth is secured by several new product initiatives designed to broaden and deepen the company's lineup of business and commuter aircraft and from increased penetration of new markets, particularly Asia.

Bombardier's Mass Transit division is in a strong position to benefit from a return to a robust market for new passenger cars. While near term earnings will be fueled by the division's current backlog of over $4 billion, long term growth should come from a projected increase in mass transit tenders in both North American and international markets through the end of the decade. Similar to Aerospace, the Mass Transit Division has a sharp focus on new products which are responsive to trends in the mass transit market.

The Consumer Products division has been the biggest area of concern for investors after a weaker-than-expected selling season in the personal watercraft industry. Bombardier's broad product offering and strong distribution system, however, has allowed the company to gain market share in both watercraft and snowmobiles. While management is approaching the current season with some caution, early snowmobile sales have been encouraging and several new product introductions should keep momentum going in the watercraft division.

Bombardier's intense growth orientation has manifested itself in a strong commitment to new product development in each of its divisions. In Aerospace, the company will make its first delivery of the new Lear 45 business jet in 1997 and the long-range Global Express offering from Canadair is in the certification phase with deliveries set to begin in 1998. The new 70 seat Dash 8-400 will ship in 1999 and a 70 seat version of the Regional Jet, dubbed the RJX, is expected to be launched in the near future with first deliveries in the year 2000.

Mass Transit is broadening its product offering through the adoption of new tilt technology for high speed trains and improving its capability to offer increasingly popular "turnkey" systems to buyers. Engineers in the Consumer Products division are busy introducing new models in the expanding Ski-Doo and Sea-Doo lines, broadening the company's offering in jet boats and recently launched the Neighbourhood Electric Vehicle, a small electric car aimed at "masterplan" retirement communities in the US.

The fourth quarter of the fiscal year is typically a strong one for Bombardier and fiscal 1997 should be no exception. Fourth quarter earnings should come in at $0.41/sh. - a strong comparison against fiscal 1996 fourth quarter results of $0.29/sh. In addition, there are a number of other developments expected over the next six weeks that should highlight the momentum that the company is gaining.

- The purchase of the Ontario Govt's 49% interest in De Havilland should be completed in January - significant first time profits should immediately follow.
- The 70 seat RJX is expected to be launched by year end, along with the announcement of a lead order customer.

Bombardier has an enviable record of earnings growth - the company recently announced its 29th consecutive quarter of positive year-over-year comparisons. A strong and increasingly profitable backlog, new product developments and geographic expansion have been the engine of this impressive performance and should fuel earnings growth for several years to come. Our earnings estimates imply ongoing growth of around 25% through the end of fiscal 1999.

In our view, Bombardier's visible growth potential is available for a reasonable price in the stock market, which values the shares at roughly 17X times forward 1998 earnings. Our one year target price is $28 and our three year expectation currently stands at $40.

Although Bombardier is in a number of relatively diverse businesses, they each have an element of cyclicality. Governments depend on available funding for mass transit projects and fleet upgrades, while airlines and corporations can go through periods where new aircraft orders turn down significantly. In addition, consumer spending patterns and weather conditions will impact the purchase of snowmobiles and personal watercraft. While Bombardier's diversity and new product development strategy position it well to ride through downturns, it's doubtful that the company's bottom line would be immune to a prolonged slump in one of its businesses.

The Canadian stock market is largely dominated by interest sensitive issues and cyclicals - growth-oriented companies are hard to come by. While Bombardier's business lines have an undeniable element of cyclicality, the company's impressive backlog and new product development program should ensure solid bottom line growth over the next few years. As such, Bombardier makes an excellent addition to a growth-oriented investor's portfolio.

Whatever His Political Shortcomings May Be, Martelle Is Honest

PERSPECTIVE

By Bob Roth
SEAWAY NEWS

We got a letter from Mayor Ron Martelle last week. His knickers are in a knot over my last column - or more particularly the headline over the column which read: "The Martelle Regime Legacy: Waste, Incompetence and Corruption".

The column went on to expound on several issues well within the domain of fair comment on matters of public interest, e.g. the Ace's fiasco, complete with "financial irregularities".

Unfortunately, the mayor has taken the reference to "corruption" too personally, suggesting that it was directed right at him as an individual.

"I have accepted criticism whether it was justified or otherwise during the past five years as I felt and still do that everyone is entitled to their opinion in a democratic society. However, I take tremendous pride in my principles, honesty and my integrity and for someone to even hint at corruption on my part infuriates me."

I have been accused of many things, but "hinting" isn't one of them. My position on issues is usually quite definitive. I am, therefore, genuinely sorry if the mayor has misinterpreted this headline. I have said before, and I will say it again, that I do not question Ron Martelle's personal honesty. Quite the contrary. I have complimented him more than once for his strong stand in favour of law and order issues. In fact, I have - as I am sure he will recall - even tackled Standard Freeholder articles on this matter when they were critical of the mayor for his tough stands.

The headline, it must be pointed out, refers to the Martelle "regime", not to Martelle personally. It is a historical time reference, much in the same way you would refer to the "Trudeau regime" or the "Trudeau years". If you were to say, for example, that the "Mackenzie King regime" was dominated by the depression and the Second World War, that wouldn't mean you were personally blaming King for the depression or the Second World War. It would mean that his "administration" was dominated by these occurrences. (You might, however, exercise your democratic right to question the way King handled or responded to such occurrences).

Let there be no mistake in the mayor's mind that I disagree profoundly with some of his approaches and political actions (although not all of them). I do not for a moment, however, question his personal integrity or honesty. Quite the contrary. I would not go to the mayor's defence editorially - as I have done from time to time - if I did not believe he was an honest person.

I think the mayor knows deep down that we do not carry on personal vendettas here. If he does something I believe is wrong, I'll say so. If he does something right, I'll say so. And if something along the way gets misinterpreted, I'll set the record straight - as I trust I've done today.

I will, of course, take the same position if the mayor wins the Conservative nomination. While, I don't agree with his over-all scatter-gun approach to politics and have suggested he is not the best man for the nomination, I will not allow that stand to get in the way of an objective evaluation of what he says during the campaign. I will watch what he does and call each issue as I see it. If I like what he says, I will not hesitate to say so - and vice-versa.

SEAWAY NEWS
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Seeing The Humour In The News

Dear Editor:

I normally wouldn't take the time to write letters to editors, but the December 22nd issue of the Seaway News (S.N.) made me do it. It was one of the funniest.

So what was funny about that issue of Seaway News? Well, let's start with the Mayor's seasonal salutation (p.g.). Come off it! Sincerity does not ooze, although the gesture is noted. Still on page 2, lower down, is a note on the "Image Enhancement Committee". While this Committee has correctly identified some of the attractive aspects of life in Cornwall, we all know too well that the Number 1 image problem for the city is the mill. The problem lies not so much in the look of the mill (it's fairly tidy in many aspects, and blends right in with the bridge), but the stink!!! Until the nauseating smell goes, our negative image won't. You want positive images? Look on page 3 ("Old Fashioned Buggy Ride"). Now there are some people with golden ideas. Worst (best?) part is, they're doing it for free.

Mr. Runion's "Letter To The Editor" (p. 11) made me smile. Unless he is talking about the Communist Party, Mr. Runion will be saddened to hear that all the big political groups are fed by the same financial institutions he detests. If you are leaving your money in the bank at 1/4%, look around - there are lots of ways to make a whole lot more, legally (pages 4, 5 and 24 have relevant advertisements). Similarly, Mr. Sagel's rants (p. 13) about "the big bad Liberal machine" are starting to get tedious. We get the message - he doesn't like them. Somebody change the record, please! Just one note though, Mr. Sagel. If you think Mayor Martelle is so good, then tell us something about him and not the opposition.

A personal commentary which made me smile because it was a well presented discussion was Mr. Roth's column (p. 12). I may not always agree with him, but at least he can surmount his fetishes. The last, but certainly not the only other laugh, went to the caller in "Scuttlebutt" (p.26) who ponders the ethics of licence suspensions for "irresponsible family members". I agree - a driving drunk, with a family, is a more thoughtful and responsible individual than a single drunk, and should be left on the road. My family would feel much safer.

In all sincerity, Seaway news, keep up the good work of letting people communicate.

Giovanni Belzoni

Apology To Mayor Ron Martelle

The January 5th, 1997 edition of the Seaway News published a column written by Bob Roth under the headline: "The Martelle Regime Legacy: Waste, Incompetence and Corruption".

The headline made an unfounded allegation about Mayor Ron Martelle's honesty and integrity by the use of the word corruption.

This allegation in the headline about Mayor Martelle is unsupported by anything in the column and is untrue and without factual foundation.

Seaway News sincerely regrets the misleading headline and apologize to Mayor Martelle for any embarrassment or inconvenience which this may have caused.

Defending His Term As Mayor ...

Dear Editor:

I wish to correct comments made by Gunther Paschek in his January 5, 1997 letter to the Seaway News to the effect that I was a "do nothing, part-time Mayor".

First of all, I was a full-time Mayor having taken a leave of absence from my position with the SD&G Public School Board.

As for being a do nothing Mayor, I wish to point out that the Council and administration which I headed from December 1985 to November 1988 accomplished a great deal in economic development and job creation, human resources, provision of affordable housing, mill rate stabilization, attraction of conventions, recreational, waterfront and cultural planning, support of our festivals, and beautification and enhancement of the city's entrances.

During my term of office as Mayor, 13 new industries located in Cornwall, 17 industries expanded, the City experienced record building activity, and our unemployment rate fell from 18% to 8.3%.

As Mayor in 1987, I helped secure provincial government funding for the expansion of the City's east end industrial park.

As Mayor in March 1987, I initiated discussions with the provincial government for a new provincial government building for Cornwall and a provincial government ministry.

In 1986, Council and I established the Cornwall Non Profit Housing Corporation which has built 170 housing units in the City.

The Lynch administration set up the waterfront development committee which completed the long-term plan for the continued development of Cornwall's waterfront.

The Lynch administration, with provincial government assistance, completed the bicycle path from the Civic Complex to the western boundaries of the City.

We also approved the human resources action plan to treat our employees as partners and the employee suggestion program.

As Mayor, I continually advocated and practised financial restraint. There were no free rides when I was Mayor.

I am proud of the accomplishments of my administration which were achieved by the hard work, dedication and co-operation of the Mayor, Council, Administration and Citizens of Cornwall working together for the betterment of the community.

Yours Truly,
Brian Lynch

Current Government Lacks Integrity

Mayor Ron Martelle has good reason to smile these days: his campaign to become the federal Progressive Conservative member of parliament has been strengthened once again by the bungling of the Liberal Party.

The way things are going, all the mayor has to do to win is just to sit back and watch the Liberals disintegrate bit by bit, a little piece at a time.

The latest shenanigans of the Liberal party came to light in wake of Brian Mulroney's successful libel case against the federal government after not one single minister accepted responsibility for the shameless smearing of the former prime minister.

This is a disgraceful act on the part of a government that is losing credibility day after day.

After lying to the people about the GST, the CBC's funding, child care support and the promise to reduce unemployment and create jobs, the Grits have just shelled out $1 million of taxpayers money to pay Mr. Mulroney's lawyers in a case that could have been settled by a simple apology over a year ago.

And do the Liberals care about that? No. What's worse, they treat Canadians like a bunch of simple-minded duds. Just listen to Justice Minister Allan Rock. He expressed sincere apologies for other people's confusion about the Mulroney case.

Like Prime Minister Chretien, who is sorry that Canadians misunderstood his language about the GST, Mr.. Rock is sorry that Canadians misunderstood the language in his department's letter to Switzerland which alleged that Mr. Mulroney has engaged in criminal acts. Can you believe it? It boggles the mind.

The whole thing is disorienting. Not one single minister, including Mr. Rock or Solicitor General Herb Gray have accepted responsibility for this sordid mess even after they issued an apology to Mr. Mulroney.

MEANWHILE...

Fred Sagel

None of the allegations relating to Mr. Mulroney contained a particle of truth and the Liberals' failure to accept responsibility is a shameful performance and a shameful evasion of responsibility for a baseless assault on the former prime minister.

For people who play fast and loose with the truth - as the Liberals are quite capable of doing - this is just another nail in their coffin.

While Mr. Mulroney and his family innocently suffered enormous stress from the baseless accusations, the Liberals highhandedly spent taxpayers' money to defend a case that was doomed from the very start without ever unequivocally apologized about lying to Canadians about the GST? Or about his promise to create jobs which he knew could never succeed? He treats Canadians like simple idiots who can be lied to relentlessly.

Just at the very time when an honest and healing display of lessons was called for, the Liberals displayed a mean streak that defies definition. They admit responsibility and deny accountability. They pretend to make amends and then try to save face by discounting their settlement.

How can anybody still have confidence in this crowd?

Which brings us back to Mayor Martelle who has bravely thrown his hat in the ring for the party of Brian Mulroney. His timing is impeccable. In order to succeed, he need not trot out his own courageous record in public life; all he needs to do is to sit back and watch his Liberal opponents hang themselves on their own petards.

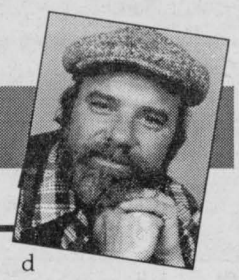
After all, there is not much good that can be said about this government. It does not have integrity; that much is clear. It also lacks guts. Compare that to a Brian Mulroney who brought in controversial, far-seeing changes that the Liberals haven't lifted a finger to change.

It was Brian Mulroney, not Jean Chretien, who brought in the GST. It was Brian Mulroney, not the Liberals, who signed the Free Trade Agreement. It was the Liberals who lied about what they were going to do about both and then turned around and wholeheartedly endorsed both. They are cowards who cannot stand up for their own beliefs.

Shame on the Liberals. They deserve to lose after showing such contempt for Canadians.

Ron Martelle would be a refreshing change. At least he speaks his mind in an honest and forthright manner.

BASIC BLACK



By Arthur Black
SEAWAY NEWS

I once had a teacher who told us, tongue wedged firmly in cheek, that "all generalizations are for idiots".

She was probably right, but I'm going to risk one anyway:

Anybody who hunts bears is a Dork.

I'm talking about those brave wilderness warriors who charcoal their cheekbones, don Desert Storm style camouflage fatigues, climb into their Jeeps and Jimmys and point the hood ornaments towards Bear Country. When they get there, they pick a likely looking spot, load their rifles and put out "the bait". The bait varies, but it's never anything you'd want to see on the breakfast table. Sometimes it's a pail of ripe fish heads or a bag of putrefying garbage. The Great White Hunters park their lard butts within easy firing range of "the bait" and wait for a bear to show up.

The bears often do. Bears aren't too bright, and they'll eat just about anything - the stinkier the better.

And since it presents the profile of an upholstered dumpster, the bear is pathetically easy to shoot. Especially when it's got its head stuffed into a garbage can. It's about as challenging as hunting garden slugs with a hammer or fishing with grenades.

The question is, what kind of spiritual bankrupt could possibly consider bear-baiting a sportsmanlike experience?

Answer: a Dork.

Or a poacher. Bear poachers make even the Dorks look good. Bear poachers kill bears any way they can - leg traps, poison, jack lighting - and then they cut off their paws, hack out their gall bladders and leave the carcass to rot where it fell. Poachers know that there are sickos in the Orient who will pony up more than $1,000 US for a single bear paw - five grand U.S. for the gall bladder - in order to concoct health potions. They also know their chances of getting caught by budget strapped government forestry agents are slim.

Poachers are undeniably scum-sucking vermin, but at least they have a reason for slaughtering bears - they do it for the money, just like sneak thieves and hookers.

But the Dorks? The so-called "sports" hunters? They do it for .. the thrill???

They must be beginning to feel a little lonely. British Columbia has more bears than any other province - so many that it's legal to kill 5,000 black bears alone each year. That probably means that British Columbia has more bear hunters as well. But that doesn't make it popular. An Angus Reid poll taken in October showed that nearly 80 percent of British Columbians are opposed to sport and trophy hunting of bears.

Not surprisingly, the Dorks are trying to change the public image of their grisly addiction. A spokesman for the U.S. National Rifle Association argued in a recent press release that setting out bait for the purpose of blowing bears' brains out is actually ... quite humane. The NRA reasoning (!) goes that baiting lets hunters get close enough to be sure that the bear they see in their crosshairs is not a sow with cubs.

Unless of course the sow has "stashed" her cubs in the bushes while she investigates - something sows with cubs usually do.

There is a simple way that all bear-hunting Dorks could avoid shooting mother bears and orphaning cubs. They could give up buying barrels of fish guts and rancid horsemeat. They could donate their fantasy-stud, pseudo-military hunting gear to the local theatre society or a costume shop. The could get smart, get serious, get on board, get with it.

They could get a life.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bilingual Library Sign

Dear Editor:

The editorial in the Standard Freeholder of December 30th, 1996 and some writers of letters to the editor, have ridiculed persons who have made objections to this question of bilingualism on the library sign.

However, those who sponsor and accept bilingualism so glibly, have lost track of, or have never even thought of, the cost attached. In Ontario alone, the cost of bilingualism has now risen to about five billion dollars each year. And this at a time when hospitals are being closed all over Ontario. Possibly here in Cornwall we may lose one of ours as well.

Much has been made in the media about Mr. Harris's great cuts in government staff, hospitals, education, etc., but one cut which is noticeably absent is any cut to the cost of bilingualism, and this in a province where 99% of the population speaks English.

Yours Truly,
John A. McDonald

Dave McEwen

by Serge Pelletier

One hot day in June, four friends were driving through Ottawa. Well that was the plan anyway, unfortunately they were stuck in traffic. The cars were crawling along at a sickeningly slow pace, and soon arguments and cursing erupted. Suddenly they realized they were in the wrong lane; they didn't want to go right, they wanted to go left. The driver signalled left and looked back to try and merge, but as far as his vision would allow, he only saw cars. They sat there for about ten minutes without a single, usually nice, Ottawa person letting them in. Finally, as patience was lost, again, arguing and cursing erupted. At this point, one of their number got a flash of insight. Smiling evilly, he stepped out of the halted car and stepped in front of a currently stopped yuppie. Casually standing in front of the car, the hero waited for enough room to open, so that the friends could merge. Cheers of happiness from the occupants were met by honks of selfrighteousness from the other drivers. Who was this intrepid hero? Why Dave McEwen, of course.

That's the kind of guy Dave is, a doer, not a watcher. In a recent conversation I had with him, I realized that he has a plan; it may not seem like he's got a plan, but he has one.

He plans on finishing his high school and going on to college to study media arts. He plans to study graphics and art, so he can move into advertising, as an artist and designer. That's not all though, he also plans to study drama, so he can pursue a second dream, which is acting.

His first love is still art though. He is a fan of surreal art, which is a style that explores the mind and provokes dream-like fantasies. He enjoys this abstract technique because it allows freedom of expression and stimulates the human mind and spirit. He also enjoys figure drawings, especially the human body because of its realism and its movement and beauty.

He is an accomplished artist in his own right already, considering he has already designed an album cover for Ritual and had art work shown at a local gallery.

Twenty years from now, he sees himself in B.C., working at home so he can be close to his family. He foresees a career in advertising, with some freelance acting and comedy on the side. If anyone can make it, he can, if we consider how he can already bend traffic to his will. So the next time somebody tells you that he "ran into a former girlfriend", and then backed up and did it again, look out, it's Dave McEwen.

St. Lawrence Centre To Undertake Major Transformation

St. Lawrence Centre, a 508,301 square foot regional mall, will be transformed with the addition of a 35,000 sq.ft. ice skating rink and a 29,000 sq.ft. family entertainment center (FEC), according to a recent announcement by Finard & Company, managers of the retail property. The skating rink is scheduled to be completed in the fall of 1997 and the FEC the following spring.

Finard & Company, one of the Northeast's largest commercial real estate companies, conducted an extensive study of this north country marketplace near the Canadian border, concluding that an ice skating rink and FEC would generate significant consumer appeal as well as mall traffic. St. Lawrence Centre is anchored by JC Penny, Sears, Hills, The Bon-Ton and TJ Maxx.

The ice rink at St. Lawrence Centre is expected to be used for public skating and will provide a modern skating facility for hockey and figure skating practice, regional try-outs, tournaments and special events. Additionally, the rink may be used for other functions such as graduation ceremonies, trade shows, fairs, indoor sports, community events and concerts. The FEC within the mall, one of the first of its kind in the north country, will include a variety of recreational and entertainment oriented elements designed to appeal to families.

According to Bruce Kaufman, a managing director for Finard, "This is a big step for St. Lawrence Centre and represents an enormous investment. The addition of the ice skating rink and FEC will have a substantive positive impact on retail sales. By repositioning St. Lawrence Centre as a retail and entertainment/ recreation destination, we are providing a unique shopping experience to our customers in upstate New York and Canada."

Ellen Lee, director of leasing for Finard, said "St. Lawrence Centre is committed to keeping its community abreast of all events surrounding the construction of these two facilities. We are excited about the new centre and look forward to bringing our shoppers and the community the opportunity to enjoy family entertainment and recreation here. We believe that designing a destination oriented center, unique to the region, will only further enhance St. Lawrence Centre's existing regional drawing power and tap into the expanding tourism market."

The rink and FEC will represent the largest recreational/ entertainment center within the greater northeast area. The project is estimated to generate additional mall-sales of more than $8 million the first year following completion.

What Are Dental Implants?

Dental implants have been around a long time, however, only in the last decade have they become popular. The reason for this is that titanium has proven itself as a metal which is incredibly biocompatible, meaning that the body doesn't reject it when implanted into bone. This metal has now been useful for many medical situations. In the case of dental implants, titanium fixtures are placed surgically into the jaw bone and left to integrate with the bone for several months. After full integration, the upper portion of the implant fixtures are exposed and porcelain teeth or dentures are attached with screws and other metal components. Implants can be used for replacing a simple tooth or a complete dentition.

Patients with loose lower dentures are great candidates, since as little as two implant fixtures can hold the denture so that it no longer "floats" around, causing soreness and difficulty with mastication. The patient has the choice of having a removable denture or an unremovable screw retained denture.

Since denture retention problems are more common with the lower jaw, dental implants are most commonly used in the mandible. Furthermore, the lower jaw has a denser bone composition, thereby making it a more attractive and successful option. Success rates are as high as 95-98%. The most attractive advantage of using implants for a single missing tooth is that the two adjacent teeth (teeth next to missing teeth) do not need to be involved. For example, when replacing a single missing tooth with a bridge, the two adjacent teeth need to be reduced in size (filed) to accommodate the bridge. There are numerous examples where implants can be used and I encourage you to discuss it with your dentist. Just remember that dental implants enable you to have teeth that are literally screwed into your jaw. Think of it as having bionic teeth.

Char-Lan Indoor Soccer

Monday, January 6/97 saw the resumption of the Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League after the Christmas break. It was business as usual for the top three teams as they all won their games handily. In the opener at 7:00 pm, Fillion turned up short to play against the Glengarry Stars, a difficult team to beat when you are at full strength, but impossible when you play short. Glengarry showed no mercy against their undermanned opposition, scoring with ease throughout this contest. At the half, they had opened up a 7-0 lead and added 9 more in the second half to run up a 16-0 hammering of Fillion. The Stars goal scorers were: Brian Cameron 3, Tim McCuaig 6, Jason Struthers 4, Craig McSweyn 1 and Allan Campbell 2. Tommy McKay recorded the shut out in goal.

In the first game of their double header, the Nomads took on the Towne Halle. This contest went as per the form book with the Towne Hall recording a 5-1 victory. The Nomads pressed hard throughout but Paul Gauthier in the Halle net made several good saves to deny the Nomads. At the half, the Towne Halle had built up a comfortable 3-0 lead and added to that lead shortly after the half. The Nomads pulled 1 back and looked like they may get back into the game, but another Halle goal quickly after the Nomads strike, sealed the victory. Gaby Gratton, Shawn Montroy, Andrew McAnny, Eric Vachon and Danny Menard all scored 1 goal apiece for the Towne Halle, while the Nomad goal came from Kris Wolochatiuk.

The last game of the night saw the league leading Rudi Payer Sports take on the Nomads in their 2nd game of the night. While the Nomads played well in spells at the beginning of each half, the skill of the Rudi team proved too much for the Nomads as they tired in the second half. Rudi's built up a 5-0 lead at the half and added 7 more in the second half to seal a resounding 12-0 win. The luckless Nomads missed a chance of scoring a consolation goal by firing a penalty shot wide that was awarded for a hand ball in the goal area. Keiran Kennedy 5, Ben Pye 2, Taffy Pye 1, Pat Clarke 1, Courtney Mason 2 and Richard Malo 1 were the Rudi goal scorers.

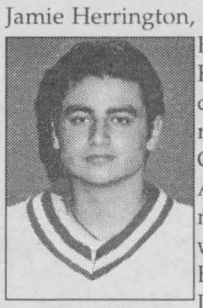
It's time for the stars to shine, as the CJHL All-Star Spectacular will take place this weekend in Pembroke. Your Colts have a solid history at this event and this year is no exception. Congratulations to goaltender Dave Stathos, centre Jamie Herrington, left winger Brendon Knight, defenceman Carmine Anoia and right winger Brent Lauzon. Colts players, representing the Robinson Division, will battle the very talented Yzerman Division team.



STATHOS

Five Colts players will also be involved in the Rookie Showcase Game. This game features the CJHL's top 15, 16, 17 year old players. Goaltender Jason Pilon, centre Kyle McAllister, left winger David McNally, centre J.F. Gamelin and defenceman Daniel Auger will proudly represent the back to back CJHL Champions.

To all our all-star players, good luck, we're all very proud of your accomplishments. We hope you make the most of this opportunity to impress college, OHL, and professional hockey scouts.

The CJHL's #1 team, the Smiths Falls Bears, come to Cornwall this Thursday, January 16 for a 7:30 pm start. The Bears are currently ranked #2 out of 120 Jr. "A" teams in Canada. Smiths Falls goaltender Dave Guerrera is ranked #1 in Canada, with a 22-2-2 record and a 2.57 G.A.A. Your Colts have played excellent hockey against the Bears this season. Expect playoff intensity and lots of hard hitting.

Eric Dunn Thanks Bowlers

At the holiday party hosted by Olympia Bowl, golden age secretary Eric Dunn thanked the bowlers for the gift and stressed how he appreciated the work done by the team captains and wife Betty. A secretary, not being part of the executive, is often the forgotten one, underpaid and overworked.

The golden age bowlers are thankful and truly appreciate the efforts and work of Eric and Betty Dunn. You are half way there then it's a done-done deal, excuse the pun, it's all in fun, thanks again.

It's very close, as of the 14th week, only eleven points separate first and last position. The points are listed per team captains instead of their animal names to further compliment Eric's remarks.

Roma Amelotte (27), Beatrice Fortier (26), Shirley Eastman (25.5), Gerrit Konynenberg (24), Thelma Goulet (23), Rose Martel (23), Veronica Boileau (22.5), Bill Owen (22), Roy Julien (22), George Belmore (22), Harold Purcell (21), Myrtle Tardiff (20.5), Shirley Mesman (20), Bill MacPherson (18.5), Betty Dunn (18), Rene Amelotte (18), Gerard Ouimet (17), Raymond Menard (17), Lucien Mayer (17), Simone Kearns (16).

Congratulations are in order to the 57 winners in the "I Beat My Average Tournament". Only one team, the Foxes, all six players were winners. They are George Belmore, Joy Konynenberg, Peter Mesman, John Tyo, Aline Givogue and Eric MacCartney.

CJHL Player of the Week

Cornwall Colts veteran centreman Jamie Herrington was named Central Junior "A" Hockey League Player of the Week for December 17th to 22nd.

The Cornwall native recorded back to back three goal games, in Colts victories over Cumberland and Nepean. Jamie added two assists and was named first star in both games.

Herrington has 20 goals and 21 assists in 31 games. He leads the Colts in team scoring and three star selection points.

HERRINGTON

Jamie joins Dave Stathos, as Colts players who have been selected CJHL Player of the Week this season.

Designers Choice Developments Atom "B" Royals

The Cornwall Designers Choice Developments Atom "B" Royals recently played 3 games in five days and came away with a single point. The Royals lost to Char-Lan and North Glen Stor, but earned a tie with the South Stormont Selects. The Royals have been much improved and have been playing inspiring hockey as of late and will not be taken so lightly by the opposition in their future games.

In their first game of the week, the Royals lost a heartbreaker to the Char-Lan Rebels by the score of 4-3 with less than 3 minutes to go in the game. Cornwall opened the scoring in the first on a goal by Patrick Sauve, but only :08 seconds later, the Rebels tallied one of their own to tie the score at 1-1 after one period. Joel Lalonde scored early in the second to give the Royals another short-lived lead at 2-1 before Char-Lan connected with two quick goals to take a 3-2 lead after two periods. The much improved Royals never gave up and notched the equalizer midway through the third on a goal by Joel Langlois. However, the Rebels scored the eventual winner shortly after and the running time ended before Cornwall could tie the game back up. Matthew Van Egmond played well in goal.

In the second game of the week, the Royals came out and played a very solid defensive game and only allowed 10 shots against to earn a 1-1 tie versus South Stormont. This game was very impressive as the previous two games versus the Selects, the Cornwall Royals were manhandled, but not this time. South Stormont scored in the first period to take a 1-0 lead and they kept it until late in the third period when Justin Guindon scored on a Royals powerplay to tied the game up at 1-1. Matthew Leroux made some key saves and preserved the tie with only :05 seconds left by stopping the South Stormont player who was on a breakaway.

In their third game of the week, the Royals once again held their opponents at bay for most of the game, but could not finish them off and fell apart at the very end. The North Glen Stor Braves managed to come from behind and steal the victory away from the Cornwall squad with less than a minute to go in the game. NGS scored first to take a 1-0 lead before Joel Langlois scored for the Royals before the end of the first period to tie the score at 1-1. Hard work by Joel Lalonde allowed him to give the Royals a 2-1 lead on a beautiful wraparound goal to head into the third period with the lead. However, things fell apart and the Royals could not hang on as they gave up a short-handed marker to allow the Braves to tie the game at 2-2 and then less than a minute later the Braves scored the winner to post a 3-2 win over Cornwall. Matthew Van Egmond made several superb saves in goal for the Royals.

South Stormont Novice Selects

On December 16th, the Selects played hosts to an exhibition game against Massena. The Selects overwhelmed the Massena squad by defeating them to a 14-0 win.

In Long Sault on December 20, the Selects fought a hard battle against the Novice Royals from Cornwall, managing a 1-1 tie. Scoring for the Selects was Tyler Maxwell with Andrew Beaulieu assisting. Max Millar played tough between the posts with 17-11 shots on net.

The Selects returned home from a tournament in Gananoque as "A" Champions. The team was up against some strong competition. Their first game was against Westport with a 5-0 win for the Selects. The second game was against the home town team from Gananoque, with the Selects winning 3-0. The final game of the tournament was a hard game against Stirling with the Selects coming out with the winning advantage of 3-1. Max and Andrew both played well in nets.

On December 30th in Cornwall, the Selects held tough against the Royals by keeping a 2-2 tie. Scoring for the Selects was Jordan Swerdfeger, assisted by Cory Gove. The other goal was scored by Cory Gove, assisted by Ian McKay.

In Athens on January 3rd for a tournament, the Selects were defeated in both games. The first game was against Osgoode Rideau with the Selects losing a close game in overtime, 5-4. The second game was against one of their own rivals, the Morrisburg Lions. The Selects were defeated 5-1. Andrew and Max did their best in nets.

Cornwall Tire Minor Bantam "AA" Rapids

The Cornwall Tire Minor Bantam "AA" Rapids tied the Gloucester team recently with a 4-4 score.

Goal scorers for Cornwall Tire were Graham Charbonneau, Derek Proulx, and Nicolas Dube (2). Assisting on goals were Marc Forget, Jonah Leroux and Graham Charbonneau.

In a game played in Maxville against District III, the Rapids put a stop to District III's 9 game undefeated streak by beating them 4-2.

Goal scorers for Cornwall Tire were Stephane Mainville, Jeremy Leroux, Jonah Leroux, and Nick Dube. Assisting on goals were Jonah Leroux, Adam Beehler (2), and Stephane Mainville (3).

Delaney Bus Lines Midget "A" Royals

On their return home from Pembroke, the Delaney Bus Lines Midgets faced Kingston City. Cornwall scored the only goal in the first period from Jason Cholette. Kingston came back with four goals to Delaney's one from Stefane Champagne. Kingston lit up the scoreboard one more time in the third as did Cornwall on a powerplay goal from Adam Vachon. The final for this one was in favour of Kingston at 5-3.

Another road trip saw the Delaney Midgets travel to Hawkesbury where they played to a 2-2 tie in a heated game filled with penalties. Goals for Delaney came from Jason Leduc and Chad Nixon. The game itself was suspended in the third period due to the nature of the game.

The next game was at home to Gloucester Rangers who took the lead in the first period by one goal. The second period belonged to the Delaney Bus Lines Midgets with goals from Terry Tillaart and Jason Cholette. It wasn't enough to hold the lead as Gloucester countered with three more goals in the third period, taking the win at 4-2.

Major Atom Rapids Undefeated in 3 Games

The Seaway Major Atom Rapids went into the Christmas break with 2 wins and a tie. Playing the first place District 3 Cobras in Embrun, they tied 1-1. Shane Perry scored the lone Rapids goal. The Road Warrior Rapids took their act to Osgoode to play the Ottawa Valley Titans and shut them out 3-0. Brennan Barker with two and Jason Lepine with one were the goal scorers. Goalie Jared Amyot made several outstanding saves for the shut out. In Maxville against the Kanata Blazers, goalie Shawn Pollard followed with an outstanding game of his own to shut the visitors out 2-0. Scott Bonneville and Ryne Gove connected for the home team.

Midget "AA" Rapids Win Bronze Medal

The Midget "AA" Rapids recently won a bronze medal at a tournament in Lake Placid.

In game 1, Seaway lost to Grosse Point Michigan 5-2. The first goal by Seaway was scored by Kristian Longtin, assisted by Derek Wereley and the second goal was scored by Tyson Matte, assisted by Jamie Laframboise. Seaway's player of the game was goaltender, Steven Pare.

Game 2 saw Oshawa defeat Seaway 5-3. Seaway's goals were scored by Ryan Firlotte (2) and James Rolland. Assisting on goals were Derek Wereley and James Rolland. Seaway's player of the game was right winger Ryan Firlotte.

In game 3, Seaway lost 6-0 to Windsor. Windsor scored 4 goals in the first period and 2 in the second. Seaway played a very good game but just could not put the puck past Windsor's goalie, John Malyneaux. Seaway's player of the game was defenceman Tyson Matte.

Seaway won the bronze medal in the fourth game by defeating Oshawa 3-0. The first goal for Seaway was scored by James Rolland, unassisted. The second goal was by Michael MacDonald, assisted by Kevin Amelotte, and the third goal was scored by James Rolland, unassisted. Seaway's player of the game was goaltender Jamie Ross.

A big thank you in 1996 going out to the volunteer seniors at the Villa St. Joseph for giving their time and efforts for those who need it. This reader would like to know how come snowmobilers insist on using the bike path between the migratory bird sanctuary and Cornwall. There are to be no motorized vehicles on this path. Are you too cheap to buy a pass and use the proper trails. You are definitely irresponsible. Your actions are doing considerable damage to the bike paths especially on the curves and where there is no snow cover. Have you no regard for the people who use this path for roller blading, etc. And what course of action will you take should you meet people walking on the paths now ... hope you don't expect us to move out of your way.

Doctor's Bloopers

Doctors are, for the most part, human. Which means they make blunders and bloopers just like anybody else. The current Journal of Polymorphous Perversity offers a collection of oddball medical reports-and as the introduction warns, "this varicose vein of anguished English has in no way been doctored." Some excerpts:

- The patient has been depressed ever since she began seeing me in 1983.
- Patient has chest pains if she lies on her left side for over a year.
- He had a left-toe amputation one month ago. He also had a left-knee amputation last year.
- Discharge status: Alive but without permission.
- By the time he was admitted, his rapid heart had stopped, and he was feeling much better.
- The patient is a 79-year-old widow who no longer lives with her husband.
- The patient refused an autopsy.
- The patient's medical history has been remarkably insignificant with only a 40-pound weight gain in the past 3 days.
- Many years ago the patient had frostbite of the right shoe.
- The patient left the hospital feeling much better except for her original complaints.

Have a Good Weekend!

Entertainment - Special Events & Restaurant Review - By Bill Gallant

Congrats to Marc Cloutier on organizing the upcoming ICE FISHING DERBY. Regular readers of this column know that, as an ardent angler, I am always happy to publicize our Cornwall and area fishing tournaments. It's one of our great resources along the St. Lawrence River and one we should all promote often. Through the ice tourneys are rare, so we hope all fishermen and ladies will participate in this one. The boundaries are from Cornwall Hydro Dam to Iroquois Dam. The date is Feb. 8 and there are some great prizes, including a payout of $200 every weigh-in for the largest walleye caught. An orientation night is scheduled for Friday, Febuary 7 at BEACHES PUB. Call Marc at 936-1157 for more info. on what we hope will become an annual event.

Hard to believe, but the CORNWALL COLTS have just eleven road games left in the regular CJHL season including a visit to Cumberland this Sunday night. The home games schedule will be down to only nine left following this Thursday's tilt at the "Si" against Brockville. Looks like another exciting playoff in Junior Hockey is shaping up.

The Cape Breton Barbarians are at the GLENGARRIAN PUB this coming Thursday and Friday nights (January 16 & 17) and then the Greenland Wailers appear on Saturday. The Glengarrian is located at 841 Sydney Street.

THE BIG BROTHERS/ BIG SISTERS OF CORNWALL & DISTRICT are busy organizing their annual Bowl for Millions event these days. Anyone wishing to enter a team can register at the Agency Office on Third Street West. This is a major fundraiser for Big Brothers/ Big Sisters.

I had the pleasure of dining at GUMBOLINI'S RESTAURANT recently and must report that the meal and service was excellent. Good to see such a unique eatery in the city. The seafood menu provides a good variety, including some very tasty appetizers. I tried a morsel of alligator for the first time ... it's different! Gumbolini's also serves some terrific cajun items like gumbo and catfish and also offer entertainment on Friday night.

Movies now played at Brookdale Cinemas include the new Disney production of 101 Dalmations, Beavis and Butthead and John Travolta in Michael.

BARB'S SINGLE DANCES start again this weekend Saturday January 11 at the Navy Club. Give Barb a call for more information 933-5903

VALENTINE'S DAY is only weeks away and surely there will be many special events planned for the occasion. If you are planning on something special like a dance or special menu, please let us know soon.

There will be a CASINO DAY, with food, on Saturday, January 18th at the R.C.A.F.A. Smoked meat or chili will be served starting at 2:00 pm and the Casino begins at 3:00 pm. Members and guests welcome.

The newest Glen Production is JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT and it's set to open at Aultsville Theatre on Febuary 14 for five days, including a Sunday matinee. It's directed by R. Forrester; musical director Luc Groulx and choroeographer Candy Pollard. Call 937-GLEN for tickets and information.

A reminder that PORTO BELLO is open for lunch and you are invited to drop by and enjoy some tasty items from the menu.

Is it my imagination or are they using more salt on city streets this winter? It seems that just a quick trip with the auto and you collect inches of the corroding menace. Good to see that our streets are made safer, but I did notice a truck spreading those salty crystals on a dry pavement. Anyway drive carefully everyone and enjoy a safe and happy 1997. G'Day and G'Night.

The 33 year old salesperson just finished the interview and is told the school principal is on the phone to report her daughter is sick and could need medical attention.

Francine Locey grabs her coat from her sales cubicle at Grant Dodge Crysler and leaves the building, telling the front desk receptionist to take her calls and she will reply to them as soon as possible.

For Francine, it's just another day balancing the demands of being a mother with the demands of a job she enjoys.

Francine has been a resident of Cornwall all her life and graduated from La Citadelle High School and then moved on to take courses in hairstyling and bartending, where she learned the people skills needed to be a top automotive car salesperson.

Her first job was in hairstyling, but after a couple of years she decided to marry and have a family. She has two children, a nine year old girl and a seven year old boy.

"I really believe that family is important to all of us, so when the children were young, I decided to stay at home for them," Francine says.

But when the children were both of school age, Francine opted to go back into the working world, because of the challenge that it could present.

"It wasn't a case of having to go to work, but I chose to go back to work in order to become a complete person," she says.

It was while taking care of the bar that Francine met many of the people from Grant Dodge and she realized that if given the chance she would like to join them. The opportunity presented itself three years ago and she hasn't looked back.

"I had a good idea of what to expect as a result of my talks with the salespeople here," she says. "But a lot of it was on the job training and the people here have been very patient with me."

That patience has translated into her becoming a registered professional member of the Chrysler Sales Guild, meaning that she has met certain professional and economic standards that put her slightly ahead of some others in the field.

She credits that success to people skills.

"I know that in my job I have to deal with people and I have to keep in mind that, instead of spending $20 at a bar, they are spending about $20,000 for a new car, so the approach has to be a lot different," Francine says.

She notes that for many, buying a car is an economic necessity rather than a luxury. That, she says, was the biggest challenge in her new job.

The other was an adjustment in the hours.

"Let's face it, when you are in sales you must be there when you say you will be there," she says. "But in my ways I am lucky because I can set many of my own hours, within the requirements of the dealership for staff."

Her final prescription for success is sincerity. She says that sales representatives have to sell themselves as well as the product and the greeting at the door sets the tone for the relationship well into the future.

As for the future, Francine admits to no plans right now other than to continue on with the business and family life she likes so much.

And right now that means dashing off to school.
