Santa Comes To Visit

Christmas is a time of fun and awe for kids of all ages. Santa was invited to a celebration on December 16th at the Friends Together Playgroup. Amid the squeals of delight from kids who met Santa, to the tears from those who weren't too sure about the Jolly Old Elf, everyone had a great time.

CORRECTION NOTICE

Due to an error, the advertisement "Make The Great Escape!" that appeared in the Seaway News (December 16th) for the Ontario Ford and Mercury Dealers' Assocation indicated that 3.9% 48 month financing was available on 1997 Ford Taurus and Mercury Sable, when in fact this offer is not available on these vehicles.

Therefore, the disclaimer in the advertisement should have read:

*2.9% financing on new in stock 1996 Ford and Mercury vehicles, for a maximum of 48 months on approved credit. E.g. $15,000 financed at 2.9% annual percentage rate for 48 months, monthly payment is $331.35, cost of borrowing is $904.91 and total to be repaid is $15,904.91. Financing not available with any other offer. With rebate (cashback) taken, the amount financed is $13,000 ($15,000 less cashback) at 8.5% (on December 4, 1996) equals $320.43 per month for 48 months and cost of borrowing is $2,380.54. Total amount to be repaid is $15,380.54.

3.9% financing on new in stock 1997 Aspire, Mustang, Probe, Contour/Mystique, Thunderbird/Cougar, Crown Victoria/Grand Marquis, Ranger, Villager, Aerostar and Windstar for a maximum of 48 months on approved credit. E.g. $15,000 financed at 3.9% annual percentage rate for 48 months, monthly payment is $338.02, cost of borrowing is $1,224.72 and total to be repaid is $16,224.72. Financing not available with any other offer. With rebate (cashback) taken, the amount financed is $13,250 ($15,000 less cashback) at 8.5% (on December 4, 1996) equals $326.59 per month for 48 months and cost of borrowing is $2,426.32. Total amount to be repaid is $15,676.32. GST is payable on full amount of purchase prices before cashback deducted. Offers do not apply to Lincoln, Heavy Trucks or Crewcab. Limited time offer. Limited quantities. See dealer for details.

The Ontario Ford and Mercury Dealers' Association regret any confusion this may have caused.

Break & Enter

On November 3, 1996 the Cornwall Police Service commenced an investigation into a Break, Enter and Theft as a result of a complaint by the Financial Department of the City of Cornwall, located on the second floor of the Justice Building at 340 Pitt Street. The investigation revealed that cheques from the Corporation of the City of Cornwall were stolen and the office was ransacked. The method of entry into the office has not be established at this time, but the Cornwall Police Service is treating this incident as a Break, Enter and Theft. No suspects have been identified to date and the Cornwall Police Service has concluded its investigation into this occurrence. Should new information come to light, the matter will be reactivated.

Sunrise Rotary Supports River Institute

On Wednesday, December 18, 1996 the Cornwall Sunrise Rotary Club presented a cheque to the St. Lawrence River Institute of Environmental Sciences for $5,000. Chris Griffin, President of the club stated "it is with enthusiasm we give this cheque to the Institute. Originally we had pledged this mount over several years, but we are pleased to honour our pledge with one cheque. This will allow the Institute to certify their laboratory and provide analytical testing services to the region." David Dick received the cheque on behalf of the Institute expressed his thanks by saying "again, this donation shows the unprecedented support of this community for the development of the Institute."

Levy For Kids

There will be a Levy For Kids sponsored by the Children's Christmas Fund and Willie-After-Dark at the R.C.A.F. building on Sunday, December 22nd from 1:00 pm to 7:00 pm. Cash donations will be accepted at the door. Put on your dancing shoes and drop in and say hello.

The True Meaning of the Season

The Holiday Inn Express in Cornwall will be providing free accommodations and free breakfast to all senior citizens, as well as to everyone from outside of the immediate Cornwall area, who will be visiting family, friends and loved ones in local hospitals, nursing homes and care centres during the holidays. In keeping with the spirit of the holiday season, Holiday Inn Express Cornwall will offer free rooms on Christmas Eve and serve a snack which will include sandwiches and other seasonal treats. The meal will be sponsored in part by the Kinsmen Club of Cornwall and Country Style Donuts on Sydney Street. Accommodations will also be made available at the hotel to those who wish to extend their stay at a 50% discount from the standard room rate.

Image Enhancement Committee

The City of Cornwall Image Enhancement Committee continues to monitor and coordinate the implementation of the action plan to improve the City's internal and external image. The action plan and its 75 recommendations approved by City Council on January 22, 1996 was sent to all City departments and community organizations identified as having a role in the implementation of the plan. Cornwall and Seaway Valley Tourism has produced a video highlighting the unique qualities of Cornwall and area, a visitor guide on attractions, festivals, special community events, accommodation, shopping, local history and recreational opportunities, and a group tour package. Some of the enhancement projects include the Ecology Park; the City's Arts In The Park Project; Operation Garbage Truck and the murals on them; and the Business Magazine.

Old Fashioned Buggy Ride

The Candlelighters Childhood Cancer Trust of Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec, in collaboration with Antoine's Percherons, invites the public to partake in the fun of seeing Cornwall by horse and buggy. Each Friday evening, for a small donation to the trust fund, people can enjoy the company of Santa and Mrs. Claus as they go for an old-fashioned buggy ride through the streets. Rides originate in front of Tunker's Cafe, 229 Pitt Street at 6:00 pm. Pictured above with Antoine's Percherons are Santa and Mrs. Claus, as well as Maureen Ouimet, Co-Chair for Candlelighters and volunteers.

The Basics of Life Insurance

by M.H. Parnu

Life insurance is one of the most important purchases you will make, in terms of peace of mind and the future security of those who depend on you.

Buying life insurance should be approached carefully, and with a clear understanding of your objectives, as well as the options available to you.

Buying Life Insurance for the first time?

• Shop around for a combination of good advice and good rates. Don't be embarrassed to tell an agent that you are shopping around. Ask that any recommendations be put in writing.

• Determine how much coverage is appropriate for your situation. A qualified agent can assist you with this by developing your own "financial needs analysis", which provides you with a picture of the capital your survivors would need when you die.

• Determine what your budget will allow to pay premiums.

• After determining your coverage and budget, ask the agent to make several recommendations that meet your needs and budget. Choose the one you are most comfortable with.

• Plan to have your insurance program reviewed on a regular basis, every two or three years - more often if necessary. This is important because as your situation changes, your insurance needs will probably change as well.

How much is enough?

"The answer is different for everyone as it's dependent on your individual situation. Life insurance is typically used to provide cash at death to pay for final expenses, pay off debts and provide income for survivors while they need it," says John Dark, a life insurance expert with The Co-operators.

Things to consider include:

- if you are married with children, does your spouse work? Would he/she continue to work if you died?

- for what period of time would income be required for the children? For your spouse?

- if your mortgage is not already life insured, whould you want it to be paid off in the event of your death?

- do you want to put aside money for your children's education?

- Are there any other family members or organizations who you would like to leave money through life insurance?

- If you are single, does anyone depend on you financially (perhaps a parent or younger sibling)?

- What current insurance do you have? Either personally owned or through work?

A financial capital needs analysis will help bring together these considerations to determine the amount of coverage appropriate to your situation.

What is mortgage insurance?

Mortgage insurance is term life insurance, to pay off your mortgage should you or your spouse die before your home is paid for.

Here are some major differences between mortgage insurance from an insurance company and from lending institutions:

Mortgage insurance through a life insurance company:

• upon your death, any proceeds go directly to your beneficiary who decides how to use the funds.

• as it is term insurance, the amount of coverage remains constant. It does not decrease over time, as your mortgage does, so extra funds would be available to your beneficiary should you die.

• once it's issued, only you can cancel it and it is guaranteed renewable to age 70.

Mortgage insurance through a lending institution:

• upon death, any proceeds go directly to the lender to pay off the mortgage and no additional funds are available.

• offers you only enough coverage to pay off the existing mortgage. Your coverage ceases when your mortgage is paid off.

• protection may not be guaranteed since it is group insurance and the group contract could be cancelled by the mortgage holder or group contract supplier at any time.

"No matter what type of insurance you end up getting, you have the right as a consumer to a 10 day free look at your policy once you receive it before you decide whether or not to keep it. If you are not satisfied, you may return the policy to the insurance company and have it cancelled and have your money returned," says John Dark.

A recent story in the Standard Freeholder announced the closing of Cornwall News Distributors. This is (was) a company that sells magazines to local corner stores.

Letterz to SANTA

Dear Santa,

I am six years old and have been a good boy. I am playing hockey.

I want to meet your reindeer. I am staying home for this Christmas year. I like you Santa Claus. Since everyone gives you white milk to drink, I am going to give you some cookies and some chocolate milk and a toothbrush. You are nice to every kid on Christmas Eve.

I would like a toy truck, a fertilizer spreader, a plow, a bailer and a toy wagon for the bailer. I want one box for all the tractor equipment. I want a remote control car with double tires, a remote control truck, and a remote control race car all with no wires. I want a game disc for the computer that I can play with.

I wish that there was snow every year. I love your reindeer. I wish that you had a computer.

Love,
Steven Johnston

Is There A Santa Claus?

Dear Sir,

I was told by an adult that Santa is not real. My mom says he is. Therefore I have a lot of questions I want answered about Santa and being that you are a Reporter/Detective I would like you to find me some answers.

1. How does Santa visit every home across the world in the same night?
2. How does he fit down the chimney hole?
3. Wouldn't he get sick eating all the cookies left at each home?
4. How come sometimes I ask for a certain present but don't get it?
5. How do reindeer fly?

If there is a Santa this is what I would like for Christmas: a Nintendo 64 and a remote control Tyco Race Car.

David Larocque
Alexandria

Dear David:

Just before the turn of the century a little girl wrote to the editor of the New York Sun, with a pertinent question that has been asked thousands of times since. We reprint it today for you as many have done in the past, because the question and the answer by Frank Church, the editor of the Sun represents such a significant part of Christmas. The little girl's letter read:

Dear Editor:

I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun, it's so". Please tell me the truth. Is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon

A few days later, back in 1897, Frank Church replied in an editorial.

Dear Virginia:

Your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas, how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies. You might get your papa to hire men to watch all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You may tear apart a baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is all that real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding. No Santa Claus? Thank God he lives and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Sincerely,
Frank Church

HOROSCOPES

December 23-30

Aries – March 21/April 20
A family disappointment may hurt, but will come as no surprise. Try to curb your cynical nature if others are involved. Not everyone has such a thick protective outer shield as you. If romance is the source of stress, it may be time to take a look at the big picture. What do you really want?

Taurus – April 21/May 21
While others may think of you as a rock, you know there's a very soft side that can be easily hurt. It's not so bad to show this part of you from time to time — especially to loved ones. Quiet times towards the end of the week give you a chance to clear your mind. Give meditation a try.

Gemini – May 22/June 21
If your budget crisis is getting close to the U.S. national debt, it may be time to reassess the situation. Go ahead, and make a new financial plan for 1997. You really don't have to skimp; you just have to be smarter with your spending. A family gathering goes more smoothly than expected.

Cancer – June 22/July 22
Change is on the way, and now's the time to start planning for the new. If there's a chance you could be moving, this would be a good time to start laying out the groundwork. Don't be afraid to share your feelings with your partner. An upcoming trip gives you a lot to look forward to.

Leo – July 23/August 23
A simple misunderstanding with a family member could turn out to be a full-fledged battle if you let your temper take hold early this week. Be patient. Try to talk things out. Explain your side, but listen to the other, too. A creative outlet, like writing or painting, helps you get through.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22
It will be an emotionally draining week. A love relationship in need of change will reach a turning point. Even if it hurts, you will feel the decision was the right one. Spending time with family helps ease pain. Kids are an especially good diversion. You'll realize what's really important this week.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23
Procrastination will work in your favor this week — so don't feel guilty if you want to indulge. A dream early in the week will provide clues into a current problem. Think about it. An upcoming social event will require some extra effort. Be sure to dress your best if you're looking for new romance. A family event offers more than you may have expected.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22
Although you usually thrive on pressure, leaving too much to the last minute could work against you. An organized approach is what you need. Children and younger family members play a big role this week — especially if you're a parent yourself. Patience will be needed on Thursday.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec 21
Teamwork will be much more effective than going solo this week. Don't be afraid to delegate responsibility and ask for a helping hand. A lucky break later in the week probably will have you counting your blessings. An event you were dreading turns out to be not so bad. Scorpio is involved.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan 20
Don't announce bold plans unless you're sure you definitely will pursue them. You're good at talking the talk, but when it comes to walking the walk, it's a whole other story. Think about it. Be prepared to help out a friend in need later in the week. New romance looks promising.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18
Saying exactly what's on your mind could prove offensive this week — especially to sensitive family members. Do yourself a favor: Think before you speak. A compromise will have to be made with your partner in order to solve an ongoing battle. Give without giving too much.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20
Avoid arguments and conflict early in the week, especially if you are feeling particularly edgy. A creative surge makes you the hit of the party later in the week. Single? You may not be for long. A sexy Scorpio has an eye on you. A package you've been waiting for finally arrives.

Let's Not Make The Banks Richer

Dear Editor:

For the past couple of weeks, backbench Liberal MP's have joined opposition Reform and Bloc MP's of the parliamentary banking committee in condemning the high interest rates charged on credit cards by Canada's major banks. While this may raise brownie points in backwoods Canada for these toothless lap dog Liberal MP's, power brokers in the federal cabinet have assured Bay Street Bankers that nothing is about to change. The Liberal establishment is not going to bite the hand that feeds them. The top five contributors to the Liberal Party of Canada in 1995 were all major banks. If you are happy with 1/4% return on the money in your savings account that helps the rich keep getting richer while more Canadians and businesses than ever are going bankrupt each year, then I suggest you vote in the upcoming federal election for the party that promised to not merge or hide, but abolish the G.S.T.

Tories Must Be Hard Up If They Want Martelle

PERSPECTIVE

By Bob Roth
SEAWAY NEWS

So, the man who helped drop millions of taxpayers' dollars on a hockey team, who compares himself to Custer when dealing with the native community, who is so deliberately antagonistic to his own employees that he has to be kept away from city labour negotiations and who has refused to talk to the local daily for more than a year, now wants to help run the country.

Cornwall Mayor Ron Martelle has finally - after weeks of speculation - decided to seek the Conservative nomination for the Federal riding of Stormont Dundas.

And PC national leader Jean Charest is jubilant.

"We are thrilled to have such a high-profile individual seeking the nomination," Charest told the media.

I guess they'll take just about anyone.

High profile, yes. But only because Martelle has run one of the goofiest administrations in the history of the city. In addition to his verbal and financial excesses, he now heads a city government that is the subject of no less than four separate police investigations.

There are countless sensible, well-respected Conservative intellects in this city. It would be a travesty for the party to be represented by Martelle. His antics have turned municipal politics in this city into a three ring circus - with himself as master of ceremonies in each ring.

Is this a sincere, principled attachment to a party based on deeply held thoughts and values? Or is it just another attempt to step into the limelight? What does the man stand for, other than administrative chaos and wasteful spending?

It is particularly noteworthy that Martelle broke his self-imposed silence with the Standard-Freeholder by granting an interview shortly after his announcement of seeking the nomination. Until that point, he had steadfastly refused to talk to the daily for more than a year. All that seems to have changed. Opportunity (or should we say, opportunism) has called.

I wonder if Mr. Charest is aware of this relationship between the candidate hopeful and the media.

It is, of course, typically presumptuousness of Mayor Martelle to take the position that the newspaper can be turned off and on at his personal bequest.

It would represent a kind of poetic justice, I would suggest, if the local daily now took the position that it is not a facuet of convenience for the mayor and imposed its own one year sentence of silence. No coverage. No interviews. No nothing. Wouldn't that make for an interesting campaign?

There is nothing in law that requires a newspaper to cover an event. Nor is there anything in law requiring a mayor or public official to be accountable to the public by responding to the legitimate queries of the fourth estate. The tradition of dialogue - and mutual respect/ suspicion - is just that, a tradition.

In my view, Martelle broke that tradition and went way over the line by simply refusing to talk to the daily - at any time, on any issue. He has established a horrible (non) working relationship with the paper (as he has with natives and unions) and now blithely feels he is deserving of coverage - on his terms, at his convenience.

This posture epitomizes the arrogance and demagoguery that has been so characteristic of his administration.

I wouldn't blame the Freeholder if it gave him a taste of his own medicine.

Commenting On Paul Martin

Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on Mr. Paul Martin's (the Finance Ministers) so called success in lowering the deficit and then asking the people what they would like Mr. Martin to do with the surplus of a few billion dollars.

Well, first of all, Mr. Martin does not have a few billion dollars in actual money left over. This is all on paper. He refinanced our debt at the lower interest rate which in turn was a saving on interest only on paper.

I say take this interest saving and lower the deficit by that amount instead of spending it on projects that certainly will be politically oriented.

Surely Mr. Martin does not need advice on how to apply this so called windfall. If he does then we better look for a new finance minister.

Wake Up Cat Owners ... This Means You!!

Dear Editor:

I am forced to write about an issue that seems to have been swept under the carpet by the Humane Society and is a huge problem in this city, not to mention the entire country. Actually it probably takes on global proportions and should be labelled "Cat Pollution". This widespread infestation of the domestic cat, which has been allowed to breed itself unchecked, is like the scourge of rats from the Middle Ages. They also multiplied because of the easy access to human garbage. The entirety of the east end of Cornwall comes alive with these vermin every night. If dogs were allowed to rampage the streets in packs, howling and fighting and ripping open garbage bags, I'm sure there would be a huge outcry from non-dog owners whose existence and right to sleep was being violated, not to mention the aggravation of wild animals sneaking around your home at night. Yes, your cat too becomes transformed when he is out there because that is the nature of the beast. The outside world to them is just one big jungle where they mark out their territories and fight over females and look for prey (i.e. garbage bags). Nobody raises the issue, but we are all supposed to put up with them because they do not bark or bite. What about the rights of non-cat owners? Why should we be forced to put up with other peoples animals whether we choose to or not? I for one am sick and tired of the weekly ritual of cleaning up my garbage when it is strewn all over the sidewalk, and running into little mounds of dirt in my yard and we all know what they conceal. These animals are allowed to breed indiscriminately and breed they do! Litters of kittens that are born outside also cruise the garbage to survive and eventually either succumb to a slow death from some disease or freeze to death in the winter, homeless and alone. What a dismal death sentence for any animal and the finger points at you - irresponsible cat owners - who are too cheap to neuter your cats, or too lazy, or just don't give a damn.

You allow your unneutered cat to cruise the streets at night. You are responsible for this infestation of vermin, because, they are not pet cats anymore when they are wild. They are everybody's problem then.

Shame on you cat owner, for you know who you are! This is nothing short of cruelty to animals in its highest form. "Oh well, nobody else has to do it!", will be the feeble excuse to yourself as you finish reading this letter. So typical of the apathy, that is the reason we have laws preventing you from throwing trash out of your car window on the highway. These laws are made because of ethically pathetic and morally void individuals like yourself.

Cat lovers and animal crusaders where are you? Band together for mandatory neutering of cats once and for all. Bring this issue out of the closet, where you all just sit and talk about it, but do nothing.

License Fee Increases

Dear Editor:

I was surprised to read that the owners of two of the biggest car dealerships in this city would be the people complaining about a $50 increase in their license.

Aren't they aware that such increases towards their businesses are tax deductible when they file their business income tax? (Check with your accountants before you get all worked up).

I'm surprised that the small used car dealers that barely make ends meet were not the ones complaining about such a horrible increase.

Would you sooner they raise your water and property taxes (private home) and that of the general public that cannot use the increase as a tax deductibility?

While I am on the subject of taxation, don't you use loopholes that are there for businesses, or companies that a worker on a regular payroll hasn't got? Like stopping at a restaurant in the morning on your way to work,order a coffee and ask for a receipt. I see it happen all the time and I keep wondering if the receipt is for the wife of husband or if it's for the accountant. Get real!

Martelle Could Win Riding

MEANWHILE...

Fred Sagel

Can Mayor Ron Martelle - the Conservative - beat Bob Kilger - the Liberal - in next year's federal election campaign?

You bet.

The mayor has thrown his hat into the federal election circus just at the right time and, if he plays his cards right, he could easily end up as the next MP for Stormont-Dundas.

Why? Mainly because the public has finally discovered that the Liberals are lying about most of the issues that got them elected in 1993 and they don't have the faintest clue about what they should do to fix the major problems facing the country. This does not bode well for Mr. Kilger who must live with this terrible record.

Start with the GST. The Liberals were bald-faced liars about that issue, originally leading many people to believe that they were actually going to do away with the tax. A majority of the voters believed the whopper and have since walked away in bitter disappointment about the issue, knowing that they've been duped.

The prime minister, who looked terrible in that CBC town-hall debacle a few weeks back, confirmed all the old suspicions about how sneaky politicians can really be and he's taking a terrible beating for it. The public is finally discovering how insincere he really is.

Then take the jobs issue. The Liberals lied about that as well, condemning the Conservatives for saying that unemployment wouldn't go below 10 percent in this century. The Grits haven't done much about unemployment because they can't. The public sector is simply unable to create employment.

Their lies about jobs will come home to roost in a riding like Stormont-Dundas where unemployment is especially high. Mr. Kilger will have to answer for that and he will have trouble finding an appropriate response.

Free trade is another issue the Liberals lied about. They vowed to fight the Free Trade Agreement as well as NAFTA and then turned around and did nothing except change a few commas in the whole document. In fact, they embraced it wholeheartedly once they got into power by extending the agreement to Chile. What will Mr. Kilger say about that?

And what about funding for the CBC? How will Mr. Kilger answer for all of the loss of jobs that the Liberals vowed to protect? During the election campaign, they said they'd save the CBC from any further cuts. Now, it's clear that their knives are out and they don't have the faintest idea of saving the public broadcaster.

These lies and others will come home to roost in the next year. Mr. Kilger is going to have to explain why he and his party so badly misled the electorate. They got away with their tricks the last time around, but they have a lot to answer for now.

While I would have preferred to see Mr. Martelle run for the Reform Party because it is more principled than the federal Conservatives, he has not made a bad choice.

His toughness, feistiness and stand-up-for-the-little-man style should help him a lot. He has been outspoken and courageous and doesn't back down easily from a fight. While he's made some enemies in the process, he's also made a lot of friends - people who know he will try to do what's right.

Mr. Kilger, in the meantime, has been swallowed up by the big bad Liberal machine which is anxious to whitewash all the important issues, sweep them under the carpet and make them go away. It won't work. People have finally caught on to the silly shenanigans that the Liberals are playing. They're not truthful and it's plain that they'll do almost anything or say almost anything to stay in power.

Both objective observers and Liberal insiders alike say that Mr. Martelle poses a threat to the Liberals. Even Claude McIntosh, the associate editor of the local daily, which has not exactly been a friend of the mayor, thinks that Mr. Martelle could win the riding.

Mr. Kilger will become a victim of the lies perpetrated by his Liberal bosses, especially the prime minister, and he will be hurt by them. By throwing him and lot of other Liberal MPs out of office, the voters will finally tell Mr. Chretien that the time for games is over. People want the truth.

That is where Mr. Martelle may be able to benefit and win.

And, on a completely different note, Merry Christmas.

BASIC BLACK

SEAWAY NEWS

You know what's the biggest heartbreak of middle age? It's the realization that you are probably not going to be a Human Phenomenon after all. When I was a kid, I took it for granted that I was going to become either

- the top goal scorer in the history of the NHL, or
- the first human being to set foot on Mars, or
- the folk singer who put Bob Dylan out to pasture, or
- the first Canadian to win the Nobel Prize for Literature AND Peace, or
- Elizabeth Taylor's eighteenth (and final) husband.

Well, I'm 53 years old and still waiting for the call from the Toronto Maple Leafs, NASA, Sweden, Hollywood and/or Liz's private secretary. Doesn't look like it's going to happen, unless ...

Unless I decide to make my name in less travelled areas of human endeavour.

I could, for instance, become the grape catching champion of the world. All I'd have to do is beat out Paul J. Tavilla of East Boston. He's the current grape catching champion, having snagged a grape thrown 327 feet, 6 inches back in 1991.

What makes Mister Tavilla's achievement especially memorable is the fact that he caught the grape in his mouth.

Oh, well ... I could always go for the world milk crate balancing record. In 1994, Terry Cole of Walthamstow, England managed to balance, 29 milk crates on his chin.

One thing I'm going to do for sure before I go setting any new records - I'm going to find out what Ashrita Furman is up to this month. Furman is an amiable maniac who works in a health food store in Jamaica, New York - when he's not out setting world records somewhere. He has made it into the Guinness World Book of Records a (record-breaking) 8 times. Among other accomplishments, Furman is the world champion pogo-sticker, milk bottle balancer, brick-carrier, long-distance somer-saulter, hop-scotcher and joggler.

Yes, joggler. Joggling is where you juggle balls while jogging at the same time. In 1988, Furman ran a regular marathon (26 miles, 385 yards) juggling three balls all the way.

And just to make sure it wasn't a fluke, Furman went out the next year and joggled for 8 hours, 52 minutes and 7 consecutive seconds, covering 50 miles in the process.

Pogo stick jumping? Furman set a distance record of just under 15 miles in 1991. In 1993 he walked 70.61 miles balancing a milk bottle on his head. It only took him a little under 19 hours to do it.

In 1994, Furman's attention turned to basketball. Specifically, the act of dribbling. That was the year he dribbled a basketball a distance of 83 miles in 24 hours.

It's clear that Ashrita Furman is a formidable impediment to my bid for offbeat immortality, but there are plenty of fields he hasn't yet conquered.

How, for instance, about the World Cherry Pit Spitting Record? The title is mine as soon as I beat out Horst Orttman of Germany. Horst horked a pit 85 feet, five and a half inches. Pitouey! I could spit a cherry pit that far standing on my hands.

Which would be better than walking on my hands. I don't want to mess with Austrian Johann Hurlinger's record. Back in 1900, Hurlinger walked all the way from Vienna to Paris.

On his hands.

Ah, but my all time favourite World Class Weirdness Achiever has to be a man with the World Class Weird Name of Plennie L. Wingo. Back in 1932, this Texan walked from Santa Monica, California across North America and Europe, all the way to Istanbul, Turkey - and he wore rear view mirrors all the way. Which isn't as nutty as it sounds. Wingo needed the mirrors because he walked the whole route backwards.

What's really ironic is that Plennie Wingo probably would have walked backwards even further, if it wasn't for government red tape. The Turkish government refused to give him a visa. So he returned to the U.S., got a lift to California, and then walked backwards all the way to his hometown in Texas.

I tell ya, folks ... there's enough bizarre talent out there to make a guy nervous.

I think I'll go lie down with a damp washcloth over my forehead.

And wait for the Maple Leafs scouts to call.

Holiday Dining

'Tis the season to be sharing! That's what this community annually does when the news reports indicate a need to help the less fortunate with donations of money, clothing or food. That need was made clear last week when we read the stories about how many Cornwall families will not have a happy Christmas unless we come forward and help out. Here's how you can assist with one of those associations trying to help the children in our city to at least enjoy a few gifts under the tree and food on the table. THE CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS FUND will benefit from a Sunday afternoon event at the R.C.A.F.A. on Water Street, starting at 1:00 pm. There will be music for listening and dancing provided by yours truly and the R.C.A.F. Association is providing the Hall and soup 'n sandwiches during the afternoon. Among the invited guests will be former and present politicians, representatives from Cornwall Service Clubs, and others. The general public is urged to drop by for a visit, stay for a dance or two, meet friends and please drop a few dollars into the box to help many enjoy a happier Christmas. It is our hope that this pre-Christmas "rally" will be an annual affair to not only help a good cause, but as a way of reducing the tension due to all the hustle and bustle of the busy holiday season. We hope to meet you this Sunday (Dec. 22) anytime after 1:00 pm and maybe we can even play a special song for you. Help us to help others. Look for the donation box at the doorway just past the big plane.

Some stores and businesses will be open on Boxing Day and that will certainly includes restaurants in our area. GEDORO'S is featuring a full dinner menu and will be open from 4:00 pm on Dec. 26.

Char-Lan Indoor Soccer

The first game of the night proved to be the most exciting as the Stars (3rd place) faced the Construction (2nd place). The game got off to an even start with both teams attacking and defending well for the first 15 minutes with neither team able to gain the advantage. In the space of 10 minutes, midway through the half, there was a flurry of goals as the Stars first took the lead, Construction tied it up, Stars took the lead again and hit a post before Construction tied it up once more. The Construction took the lead and the Stars rounded out the scoring in the first half to pull level. The second half saw a net full of goals again only this time the Construction went up by 2 goals early in the half and the Stars, playing catch up, were never able to even the score. As the Stars pressed late in the game for an equalizer, the Construction scored an insurance goal and ran out 7-5 winners. Stars goals came from Chancy Lajoie (3), Alan Campbell and Brian Cameron. The Construction got their goals from Danny Menard (4), Shawn Montroy (2) and Jeff Heard.

The second game of the night was a lot easier for the Construction in their double header as they took on the winless Nomads. The Nomads played spirited defence in front of Norm Decoste but the skill of the Construction up front, provied to be too much for the Nomads as they went in at the half down by 3 goals. The second half was much of the same as the Nomads lacked punch up front and the Construction defended at ease. It looked like a shutout was on the cards for goalkeeper Paul Gauthier, but the Nomads were able to score the 1 goal in a goal mouth scramble that Martin Stadleman tucked away. The Construction looked dangerous every time they attacked and scored 4 more goals in the second half to win easily 7-1. Scoring all the Construction goals was DannyMenard (5) and Shawn Montroy (3).

The night cap was the most lopsided game of the night as Fillion faced league leading Rudi's. For the second week in a row Rudi's goalkeeper John MacNaughton recorded a shutout and while he had little to do, he did make a couple of good saves to preserve the blank score sheet late in the second half. At the half, Rudi's had taken a 5-0 lead and added 7 more in the second to make the final 12-0. There was only one Rudi's player that failed to connect for a goal on this night as they got goals from Courtney Mason (3), Richard Malo (2), Keiran Kennedy (2), Pat Clarke and singles by Taffy Pye, Ben Pye and Gareth Pye.

Happy Holidays From Your Colts

by Ken McLaughlin
Director of Public Relations

'Twas just days before Christmas and seen at the "Si" the Colts are rebuilding, but always giving it their best try. Herrington and Anoia are showing the way, with Stathos and Pilon turing the shots away. The CJHL Championship banners are hung from the rafters with care, with hopes that another one soon will be there. From out of the rink arose such a noise, people from all over came to cheer on Cornwall's boys. Away to the game they flew like a flash, quicker than a Bennett slap-shot or an Iwachniuk body smash. The action is fast, the prizes are great, so get your tickets soon, at a price that's first rate. I heard the people exclaim as they drove out of sight "we had so much fun, we'll be back next Thursday night!"

After a four day holiday break, your Colts get their opportunity to work all the turkey and stuffing out of their system, with practices this Friday and Saturday at the "Si".

The Christmas spirit will be put on the backburner as the powerful Brockville Braves come to town next Sunday, December 29. Your Colts have yet to defeat the team that's hosting the Eastern Canada Championships in April. On Nov. 22 in Brockville, the Braves tied the game 1-1 with thirty-five seconds left in the third period. They collected the bonus point by winning the overtime shoot out. Expect another close & exciting game. Please note, this game starts at 7:30 pm. Our only Sunday night home game of the season.

The Colts ticket office, located in the Si Miller Arena, will be closed December 23 to 28. Sunday, December 29 tickets will be on sale from 10 am, for that night's game. Get your tickets early that day and avoid the game night line ups.

I'd like to take this opportunity to wish all my readers, our season ticket holdrs, corporate sponsors and all our supporters a happy and safe holiday season. A sincere thank you for your encouragement and belief of Jr. "A" Hockey in Cornwall. Colts fans have proven time after time, they're simply the best.

We'll see you next Sunday, December 29th as the Brockville Braves come to Cornwall. Don't forget, the puck drops at 7:30 pm.

Colts hockey at the Si Miller Arena ... even Santa is getting closer to the exciting action.

Golden Age Bowling

There were four upsets this week in Olympia Golden Age action. The most notable one was when the 1st place Zebra for the 3rd week failed to pick up a point, bye, bye, it was lonely at the top.

Shirley Eastman, captain of the Panthers with singles of 247, and 258, for a cross of 681, paced her club the Panthers for the 3-0 win. George Beaudette chipped in with a 222 single.

Our next in house tournament is the "I Beat My Average". An attractive crest will be awarded to each bowler who scored higher than his/her average for the first game bowled on the date of the tournament.

Highs rolled: Lawrence Markell 212, 207; Elmer Sauve 204, 200; Shirley Merpaw 247; Tony Wheeler 229; Joe Arseneault 229; Hector Dubeau 226; Rose Martel 223; Bill MacPherson 222; Rene Amelotte 220; Florian Martel 216; Eric MacCartney 216; Lee Froats 211; Jim Montroy 207; Eric Dunn 203; Lionel Boileau 201.

Weekly attendance winners were Leo Goulet, Hector Dubeau and Theresa Beaudette.

"SOLUTIONS "TARGETING YOUR EMPLOYMENT NEEDS"

Salutes"

During this Christmas Holiday Season, the staff at SOLUTIONS wish to take the opportunity to thank all of our clients throughout Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. We at SOLUTIONS firmly believe that we are accountable to two clients; the employers we work with and of course, those of you who have registered for employment opportunities through our office.

Since opening for business in 1991, SOLUTIONS Employment Services have continued to gain momentum and we now maintain a large industrial and commercial Employer base, as well as an active employee base of approximately 600 individuals. Many of these individuals have enjoyed frequent placements throughout the year and some have also gained permanent full time employment.

SOLUTIONS experienced a good year of business during 1996 and we anticipate that 1997 will be even better. In fact, SOLUTIONS plans on introducing some new services in the new year, in order to strengthen its' presence in the Employment Services Market. For example, Employee Leasing and Company Specific Pre-Trained Staffing Services are just two relatively new innovative services on the horizon.

SOLUTIONS continually looks at ways of improving the services we offer to our clients. We strive to provide prompt, courteous, quality customer service, geared at meeting an individual and/or company's specific needs.

Thanks to you, the Business Community and to all our Workforce throughout the Cornwall area, SOLUTIONS continues to maintain an image for quality Employment Services.

Merry Christmas and a very happy and prosperous New Year to all of you, from all of us at SOLUTIONS.

Now that the emperor(P.M. Chretien) is shown to be wearing no clothes, as revealed on his town hall meeting, and Debra Gray calls him L.....L.....your pants are on fire!!! I wonder if the press who referred to former P.M. as Lyin Brian will now give Mr Teflon equal billing.

The sheriff of a small town was also the veterinarian. Late one night the phone rang. An excited voice asked, "Is Lem there?"

"Yes," his wife replied. "Do you want him in his capacity as a vet or as a sheriff?"

"Both. We can't get our new bulldog to open his mouth and there's a burglar in it."

Hugh MacAlear is known around town for many things. You may however not know he's a CHEF...and a Pastry Chef at that. Seems he 'comandeered' several pumpkins and proceeded to bake 18 pumpkin pies. He never acknowledged that anyone helped him so we must assume it was a solo job. By the way he treated everyone at Cornwall Electric.

Arthur Flaro says hat's off to the Cornwall Electric crew which was working on Brookdale Avenue. on Dec. 12. "My uncle was buried yesterday. They were working on Brookdale Avenue and they all took their hats off as the funeral procession passed, even the guy working up on the pole. My family thought it was very nice of them, thoughtful."

Caller says he supports present efforts by police to stop drunk driving but isn't it carrying the law too far if a wife/husband and children could be deprived of the use of the family car because of an irresponsible family member. Such severe measures may be introduced in the spring according to Transportation Minister Al Palladini.

"A Little Something Special for your Loved One"

DON'T DRINK & DRIVE!

HAVE A VINTAGE YEAR...

A brand new year is something great, so go all out and celebrate.
But we want you all to stay alive, so whatever you do, don't drink & drive!

Tips For A Happy & Safe CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR

- Appoint a designated driver before the evening begins or make other transportation arrangements.
- Never drink on an empty stomach. Make sure you have something to eat before drinking.
- If you are hosting a party, offer your guests plenty of snacks and soft-drink alternatives.
- Offer a ride to, or call a cab for, any person who seems intoxicated. Don't let them drive.
- When on the road, look out for the other guy and report any suspicious driving at the nearest toll or exit.
- There are lots of ways to celebrate. Be creative! See how many alcohol-free activities you can come up with.
