Lights of Hope Campaign

The Pediatric Group of the R.H.S.J. Health Centre (Hotel Dieu Hospital) is pleased to announce the launching of their 7th annual Lights of Hope Campaign. The goal this year is to raise $15,000 in hopes of purchasing a Transfer Monitor and Surgical Trays for Pediatric Care. In the past 6 years the group has raised $96,000 with every penny going to buy much needed medical equipment for the Pediatric Unit at the Hotel Dieu Hospital with our area children benefiting.

The Lights of Hope Campaign will be holding its official kick off ceremony on October 28th, 1995. A free concert will be performed by Ronald McDonald, everyone's favourite clown, at 1 pm in the auditorium of General Vanier. This is the fourth year that Ronald McDonald has come to Cornwall to show his support for this worthwhile cause. Everyone is welcome, young and old.

The Pediatric Group would like to thank the sponsors for this year's campaign. They are Maynard's Your Independent Grocer, CFLG 104.5 FM and CJSS 1220 AM, McDonald's, Ontario Electric League (OEL). The support from the sponsors has been tremendous. The Ontario Electric League has been with the campaign from the beginning. They make sure the lights are put up, maintained for the duration of the campaign, taken back down and stored for another year. This is McDonald's fourth year with the campaign as with both radio stations. Maynard's has come aboard for the first time, with promising results.

National Bus Safety Week

Last week was National School Bus Safety Week and Laidlaw Transit Ltd. did their part by performing safety demonstrations to area schools. Because "Practice Makes Perfect", the company teaches year after year safety procedures such as how to cross safely and proper evacuation procedures. And above all, be calm, quiet, and most important, walk don't run. Above, Grade 8 Notre Dame student Chantal Marchand gets a helping hand from bus driver Germain Denis and classmates Alain Laferriere, right, and Mathew Groulx, behind at left, during the rear exit evacuation procedure.

Take A Kid To Work Day

The Industry Education Council, in co-operation with the secondary schools of SD&G, would like to provide all Grade 9 students with the opportunity to participate in the "Take Your Kids To Work For A Day" program to be held Wednesday, November 8th.

Taking the student to work for a day will not only sensitize tomorrow's workforce to today's challenges, but also provide opportunities for them to live the experience.

Describing our role as an employee or employer to a 14-year-old who has no concept of the work we do, of the challenges we face on a daily basis, or of the complexity or the expectations of our daily work is next to impossible.

And organizing such a day can only be successfully accomplished through the co-operation of business and industry leaders, parents, teachers and students.

October: Breast Health Month

The theme this year is "Breast Health: Understanding your risk". And the key to survival is early detection.

In 1995 approximately 17,700 women in Canada will be diagnosed with breast cancer and about 5,400 will die from the disease.

Breast cancer tends to occur earlier in life than other cancers and earlier than other major causes of death such as heart attacks and strokes.

The Canadian Cancer Society would like women to be aware of the benefits of early detection. A woman's chance of surviving breast cancer can be improved by screening for the disease through mammography and physical examination.

City's Marina 200 Brings In First Profit In Decade

Marina 200, turning a profit for the first time after a decade of deficits, faces the possibility of being sold or sub-let to a private sector operator for the duration of the city's remainder four years of the five-year lease, in order to save in the face of impending funding cuts from Queen's Park.

The marina, which provides a great community service by drawing visitors to the area, still requires winter-storage facilities for boats and space to perform mechanical work to become equipped as a private marina.

The year's profit is mainly due because yard, carpentry and plumbing work was performed from city staff instead of contracting the work out, and through the five-per-cent fee increase. Cutting back on staff helped make a big difference.

One Large, Central Pool Could Help Solve City's Budget-Cut Problems

Back in the 50's Cornwall residents survived quite nicely with one pool. Can this 90's community pitch in to help cope with the Parks and Recreation and Convention Services projected 20-per-cent budget cuts? Operating costs would significantly be cut if one larger pool replaced a handful of smaller ones.

Another option would be for residents to do their part with the upkeep of their own neighborhood park such as cutting the grass and painting playground equipment.

Legal Aid To Handle Welfare Charges: At Taxpayers Expense

In an attempt for the city to regain over $300,000 which was defrauded from the Social Services Dept. and the Province's Ministry of Social Services Dept., taxpayers will have to foot the bill for those charged, at a cost of more than $100,000. Most of the 86 already charged will probably qualify for the service.

Branch 297 to Host Annual Fall Convention

Cornwall's Branch 297 will be playing host this weekend to the annual fall convention of District G of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Seventy-two branches make up this district, which consists of 24,500 members.

Deputy District Commanders Clive Moriss of Ottawa and Tony Jonston of Carleton Place will be attending, as well as District Commander Erl Kish of Kingston.

Student in the S.L.H.S. Spotlight

by Steve Dionne

A student's modesty should not rob her of the proper recognition that she deserves. Sarika Shah has to be the most charitable, humanistic, compassionate and gracious person that I have ever had the pleasure to know.

She devotes a great portion of her spare time (if not all of it) to helping those in need.

Sarika has had the opportunity to travel to India for one month during the summer to work with the Child Haven International Program. She works very hard in extreme temperatures to make the lives of abandoned and orphaned children a little more pleasurable in a "Recycled World" as she refers to it.

Family, education and the community are also areas to which Sarika gives her attention.

Sarika is an active and devoted member of her family church where she pleases the crowds with her beautiful singing abilities. Her brother Neil is a person for whom Sarika only wants the best and that is why she will be tutoring him in mathematics this summer to better prepare him for the future.

"Education is the key to success," says Sarika. This is clearly visible in her many interests and scholastic activities. Sarika holds the title of President of Junior Achievement which is a company run by teens who market, budget, administrate, produce and sell a product. The produce they produced which won them "Best Company of the Year" was called Friendly Fingers. Science is an area where Sarika shows great promise. Shad Valley British Columbia was the location of Sarika's first great success. She was one of out of 25 students chosen Canada wide to participate in a science and technology event. Sarika's group won gold with their prototype of an automatic sprinkler which was built to help with the problem of water conservation.

The Coronary Health Improvement Project (CHIP) and the Mount Carmel Home are two community based programs with which Sarika is involved. CHIP is a program that helps to prevent health disorders through seminars. The Mount Carmel Home is a program which helps recovering alcoholics. After going through an eighteen week course, Sarika was finally certified to work within the programs offered there.

Sarika's future looks very promising. Upon graduation in June of 1996, Sarika plans to take a year off school to travel abroad. Sarika's education prospects for the future are in the field of medicine where she plans to specialize in cardiology.

I wish you all the best of luck in the future, Sarika.

Take Care In Storing Pumpkins

As Hallowe'en nears, almost every home will soon own at least one pumpkin, whether store-bought or home-grown, for decorating or eating.

Baked in pie is the most common way of serving up pumpkin, but don't hesitate to try other ways of serving up this most-nutritious vegetable. Pumpkin is among the top ten vegetables for providing beta-carotene, an anti-oxidant that is reputed to ward off many health problems, including heart disease, cancer and cataracts. Delicious ways to add pumpkin to your diet include muffins, hearty soups, cookies and - my favourite - cheesecake.

Pumpkin seeds are also a rich source of vitamins. Don't toss out the pulp when carving jack o'lanterns. Place the whole sloppy mess into a bowl of warm water and leave it for a few minutes. The seeds will float to the top, and the remains can be put into the compost bin. Spread out seeds on a baking sheet and toast in your oven for a delicious and nutritious snack.

Before you get around to using your pumpkins however, be sure to store them properly or chances are you won't have pumpkins left by Hallowe'en. This summer's odd weather patterns caused havoc with pumpkin crops right across the country, and the result of this is the highest incidence of pumpkins rotting I have ever seen. Trust me, a rotten pumpkin is a sight (and smell) scarier than any goblin you'll see on your doorstep come October 31.

This year, we are finding that even pumpkins which look fine have a dismaying tendency to rot - it appears that we will lose about 25 to 30 percent of our stored crop. My advice is to store your pumpkins properly and check them regularly. Quickly dispose of any rotting ones to prevent spread.

Only pumpkins that are a deep, rich colour with skin that cannot easily be pierced by a fingernail are suitable for storage. Do not buy or pick ones that are still green, as they won't always completely ripen. Avoid any with cuts or bruises because they will not keep well.

When harvesting, cut stems with a sharp knife, taking enough stem for a good sized "handle" but don't use that to carry the pumpkin. If buying pumpkins, choose ones with the stems still attached. An intact stem reduces the chances of rot.

Store pumpkins until you are ready to use them in a cool, dry, well-ventilated area, such as a cold room or basement. Do not wash before storing. Never store pumpkins on a cement floor or in an unheated garage, because these conditions promote rot. (Winter squashes, by the way, should be stored in the same way).

An important safety tip: do not use a pumpkin for cooking after it has been used as a jack o'lantern. When you use a burning candle inside the pumpkin, carbon builds up inside and makes the flesh inedible. If you substitute a light bulb for the candle, the warmth from the bulb and the prolonged exposure of the pumpkin's flesh to air encourages bacteria and mould.

Play it safe and have fun this Hallowe'en; may you have more treats than tricks.

The campaign will come to a close on December 17th, 1995 with the annual tree lighting ceremony in front of the Hotel Dieu Hospital. Again everyone is welcome.

United Way Captain For Financial Services

HEARD

Mr. Ray Lalonde, Campaign Chair, is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Tom Heard as Captain for the Financial Services Division.

Mr. Heard is a Senior Assistant Manager, Personal Banking at the Royal Bank in Cornwall. He has lived in Cornwall his entire life and is married with two children.

A member of the Knights of Columbus Council 755 and the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 569, Mr. Heard brings with him a wealth of experience to the United Way Campaign.

Doctor Hunters Look To Repeat Success

The City's medical and health professional recruitment team plans a repeat of last year's success, according to city officials. As a result of the 1994 Tour, Cornwall attracted much needed medical practicioners to the area. Over the past year, a Pediatrician, a Urologist, a Psychiatrist, and a Family Practitioner have all set up practices in Cornwall.

The five city Medical Recruitment tour, organized by the Provincial Ministry of Health, is designed to assist regions of the province which traditionally have difficulty in attracting medical and other professionals. The City's team consists of local doctors and professionals along with officials from the Department of Economic Development.

"The results of last year's Tour have given Cornwall renewed optimism about its medical services," reports Paul Fitzpatrick, Manager of Economic Development. "Our recruitment team is confident the 1995 Tour will be just as successful."

Dr. Raymond Legault, Assistant Executive Director, Medical Services at Hotel Dieu Hospital and a driving force behind the Tour, is equally as optimistic. "When you see the efforts bear fruit such as they did last year, it gives the entire team a boost. We plan to continue that momentum for this year's Tour."

The Recruitment Tour follows a gruelling journey which will see the local team travel to Kingston, London, Toronto, Ottawa and Hamilton all in a five day period. Veteran Tour participants Legault, Nancy Loiselle, Manager of Rehabilitation Services and Pharmacy; and Dr. Kris Kiszkiel from Hotel Dieu Hospital will participate along with Dr. Joanne Toop from Cornwall General Hospital. Mike Metcalfe, from St. Lawrence College will be with the team and coordinated the Tour.

The Tour begins on Monday, October 23 and continues for the entire week.

250 Probation Officers Gather in Cornwall

The 41st Annual Conference of the Probation Officers Association of Ontario will be held in Cornwall for the first time, from November 5 to 8 of this year.

In announcing the conference, Conference Co-Chairperson Jackie Grenon explained this year's theme Bridging the Gap ... Over 40 Years of Professionalism," ... will focus on reinforcing links with the components of the criminal justice system which will assist Probation and Probation/Parole Officers to achieve their goals of ensuring public safety and effective rehabilitation of offenders..."

Between 200 and 250 Probation and Probation/Parole Officers from across Ontario will attend this conference. Speakers include Gary Carr, Parliamentary Assistant to the Solicitor General of Ontario; Judge Gilles Renaud; the Honourable Warren Allmand; motivational speaker, Dr. Lauren Woodhouse; and Leah Casselman, President of OPSEU. Association President Frank Cerilli stated, "... our members deal with difficult community safety issues on a daily basis and this conference will provide a forum to expand their skills and as well respond to upcoming changes..."

The four day conference will provide delegates with over 20 workshops. Such varied issues as working with victims of violence, smuggling, treatment of sex offenders, intervention for violent youth, native justice, gun control and military justice will be addressed. Workshops will update Probation and Probation/Parole Officers on current trends and their usefulness in overcoming the obstacles and increasing challenges of the 1990s.

Reform Party Making Its Mark

Why is it that the Reform party appears to be the only sensible political entity left in the federal House of Commons?

Consider the players. Start with the Bloc Quebecois. You can discard its role right away because its mission is different than all the others: it wishes to disband the country. You then have the federal Liberal party, a disappointment of enormous proportions. Other than bringing in a half-sensible budget, it has yet to do anything of note. Besides, its member looked incredibly hypocritical when they refused to give up their gold-plated MP's pension plan a few weeks back.

You also have the NDP. It was trounced in the last election and its philosophy was thrown straight out the window. Socialism in Canada was rejected as being out of step with the times. Right now, the NDP is a completely irrelevant entity.

And then we come to the Progressive Conservatives, Canada's ruling party for almost the last 10 years. It was reduced to rubble in the voting booth because it failed to keep its promises and kept sending us further and further down the road to debt despite its assurances to the contrary. It turned out to be just another spendthrift Liberal party in disguise and voters recognized it for what it was. Result? Absolute and utter defeat in the election.

Jean Charest has not lit any fires under the Canadian people. He is a middle-of-the-road politician who is anything but a conservative. Devoid of a clear ideology, he bends in whichever way the political wind is blowing. You might call him a Conservative party version of Ontario Liberal leader Lyn McLeod.

Which leaves you with the Reform party. It is the only group on the federal scene that seems to be offering any new or constructive ideas for the country. Consider: with the exception of one member, the entire caucus rejected the MPs pension plan which the Liberals so greedily gulped up. Reform leader Preston Manning has put the Prime Minister on the hot seat on the referendum debate because he wants some clear answers. On top of that, debt reduction is a major priority of the party.

Reform's ideas are catching. Just last week, prominent Toronto Tory Fredrik Eaton announced that he would be playing host to a fundraising dinner for Mr. Manning.

"What I believe is the Reform party is a conservative party, that it has strong support in Ontario already, and that it deserves support and therefore I am supporting him," said the department store tycoon. Asked why he is not giving a dinner for Mr. Charest, Mr. Eaton replied: "It's a very small party, isn't it?"

This is undoubtedly a significant move. It shows where people in the know are starting to place their chips in the betting for the next election. The Conservative party of Ontario - which isn't in any way, shape or form like its federal cousins, but far more like a Reform party in disguise - is popular. The same people who voted for it would vote Reform.

Further proof of this came last week as well, when the Progressive Conservative Club at the Erindale campus of the University of Toronto announced it was folding up its tent to take up a Reform party charter. "We don't see much of a future with the PCs", one student leader said.

No wonder. Anybody who thinks that last Liberal budget was too tough - as Mr. Charest was quoted as saying, although he now denies it - must be hopelessly out of step with the people in this country. Why would any student group even want to follow them?

If Reform plays its cards right, it might just have an ace up its sleeve to not only oust the federal Tories completely but also to do in the Liberals when people discover how little they're really doing.

BASIC BLACK

By Arthur Black
SEAWAY NEWS

Walt Whitman, the American poet, said one of the wisest things about animals I ever read.

I think I could turn and live with animals

They are so placid and self-contained.

I often think of Whitman's words when I'm lined-up like a sheep at a cash register getting ready to pay for something I don't really need, or when I find myself enmeshed like a maze rat in the twice-a-day March of Chrome that constitutes what we so laughably call "rush hour" traffic.

It doesn't rush and it's seldom over in an hour.

Animals don't have to worry about earthly stupidities like that. Deer browse. Robins look for nice fat earthworms. Rabbits nibble and crickets chirp. They did it when we pink and hairless interlopers hunched naked and shivering in caves and they do it today when we sit draped in polyester and hunched over computer terminals and steering wheels.

Animals just mind their own business. Except when we humans horn in.

Take the case of the Beast of Bodwin Moor.

For decades now, Britons living in the southwest corner of England have muttered about the strange goings on in the Moor, a desolate area not far from Cornwall.

People had "seen things". Strange things. Things not normally seen in the docile and bucolic environs of gentle England.

Farmers spoke of unearthly screeches in the night. Disappearing pets. Huge shadows flashing through the underbrush. Shadows that looked like, well ... cats.

But massive cats. Cats as big as mountain lions or panthers.

Finally, last spring - conclusive proof. A pair of hikers stumbled across a large feline skull with two prominent fangs in the mud of a river bank on the edge of Bodwin Moor.

At last something for the scientists to work with. Experts knew that DNA testing on the skull would identify The Beast of Bodwin Moor and pinpoint where the animal originated. The skull was shipped off to the National History Museum in London, where a team of entomologists and zoologists cranked up their microscopes and conducted a battery of tests.

In the end it wasn't DNA testing or any other newfangled forensic detective work that pinned down the Beast of Bodwin Moor.

It was a cockroach.

They identified the skull, all right. It belonged to a black leopard.

But it was the presence of a cockroach egg case inside the skull that revealed the Beast of Bodwin Moor to be a hoax. The egg case came from a tropical cockroach that does not and cannot exist in England. The microscopes also revealed fine cut marks on the skull made by a knife.

"The conclusion is that this particular leopard skull came to Cornwall only by human agency," said the official report.

If the sensational British tabloids were shaken by the revelation, it didn't show. But then, they had other things to worry about.

The croaking raven of London Tower, for instance.

That's croaking as in dead, defunct, bereft of life. Just like the Monty Python parrot. The raven, named Charlie, was k-o'ed by a hungry police sniffer dog. That's when the tabloids got hold of the story - and reminded their readers what Charlie's death meant.

Charlie, you see, was a member of the elite raven platoon that's been guarding London Tower for the past 335 years - by appointment of His Majesty King Charles II.

Legend has it that the monarchy will crumble if the ravens ever leave the tower.

And now there are only five left.

And the Queen is reduced to charging admission to tourists and Diana's running around with rock stars and Charles is caught in 8 bioglossies skinny dipping in Portugal...

And who knows what Princess Margaret is doing these days?

So is the monarchy safe?

Well, there's only one other world famous raven. The one invented by Edgar Allan Poe.

And you know what he was fond of saying.

Priest's Lawyer Pleads Guilty But Gets Off Scot-Free

PERSPECTIVE

By Bob Roth
SEAWAY NEWS

As incredible as it may sound, the lawyer of the priest involved in child sexual abuse allegations has pleaded guilty to obstruction of justice and been given an "absolute discharge".

For those of you unfamiliar with court lingo, an "absolute discharge" means no penalty whatsoever is levied against the guilty person. No fine, no jail, no community work service. Nothing. Even the criminal record one normally gets from a conviction is erased from the file.

The guy gets off Scot-free -- after pleading guilty.

Does this smell? Or does this smell?

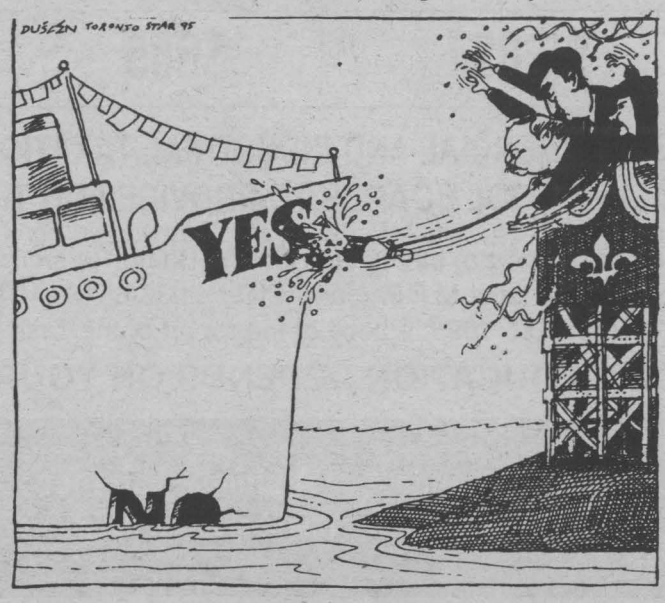
Meanwhile, the guy who exposed the sex abuse allegation pay-off by the Catholic Church - Const. Perry Dunlop - continues to be pursued in the courts by officialdom.

Is there any wonder people are losing faith in the justice system? What is going on here?

This case - and the massive cover up - gets more and more shocking with each passing day.

I have in my possession the official court decision on Malcolm MacDonald. MacDonald was the lawyer of the priest who, together with the Catholic Diocese of Alexandria - Cornwall, arranged a $32,000 pay-off to a former altar boy who had alleged sexual abuse at the hands of the priest. (A second man has now filed a complaint with police alleging that he, too, was abused by the same priest.)

The charge against lawyer MacDonald - to which he pleaded guilty - reads that he "did unlawfully attempt to obstruct or defeat the course of Justice by arranging for payment of a sum of money to (I'm withholding the name to protect the witnesses privacy), a witness in a criminal investigation, to dissuade the said (witness) from participating in the criminal investigation or any proposed judicial proceeding, contrary to Section 139 (2) of the Criminal Code of Canada."



The first legal manoeuvre was to have this case moved to Ottawa, where it would not be in the local limelight. As with the Karla Homolka case, we have to ask: What kind of a deal did the Crown make here? Did the Crown ask for and agree to an "absolute discharge"?

What ever happened to the notion of "zero tolerance" with regard to child abuse cases or investigations?

Why is the system appealing the innocence of Perry Dunlop while giving self-admitted guilty people a courtroom kiss and instant walking papers?

What kind of priorities do we have? What kind of message does this send out to abuse victims, good cops and others who try to do the right thing?

Also, if MacDonald is guilty of obstructing justice because of the pay-off, what about the morally challenged hierarchy that approved and paid out the money - the Catholic Church? Why is it immune from sanctions?

If you want some idea of how warped the church has become, refer to your Oct. 16 Freeholder. There you will see a story, complete with photograph of "Brother MacDonald" being "knighted into the Order of St. John" - about a month after his guilty plea, and four days after the guilt was written up in that same local paper.

The picture shows MacDonald kneeling before a priest (no doubt one of the many "good priests" we hear so much about). The story says he is receiving a "rare honour" and that this "Order" is "made up of an elite group of Christians whose inception dates back to 600 A.D."

The story continues that "persons invited to join the Order are recognized for their contributions to their community..."

This whole tragic farce says much about the sickness within the Catholic Church, the judicial system and the political structure. (And they wonder why young people lose faith).

Meanwhile, Const. Dunlop, the Catholic who exposed this evil and brought at least one man to justice, is still waiting for his "knighthood".

However, he won't have to wait long for the next act of persecution against him; his trial for refusing to participate in the cover-up is next month. This, you will recall, is actually his second hearing; he was found innocent but, in the twisted logic of our legal system, this man must be relentlessly pursued.

On a positive note, I'm pleased to hear that approximately 10,000 people have signed the petition in support of Const. Dunlop. The power structure may be inept or corrupt, but the hearts of the people are still pure and strong.

Let me once again reiterate the centuries old words of the British politician Edmund Burke: "The only thing needed for evil to succeed is for good men to do nothing."

To the thousands of good citizens and good Catholics who have signed the petition, I say: don't let evil win this one. Keep up the fight for justice.

Accountability Needed By City Officials

Dear Editor:

Again the Mayor has dropped "The Gauntlet". Again, for power and control. Again the Mayor has incited discomfort and community detachment through his inappropriate comments. When will someone or some group pick up the gauntlet and challenge the validity and reliability of this mayor? What is his motivation? The impacts of recession, social reform and the efforts of governments to manage them has hit each of us hard. Feelings of anxiety, helplessness, confusion and moral emptiness exists. The realizations of political crisis fuelled by unemployment and poverty are causing individuals to take drastic means to survive. Instead of tackling the above causes of law and order concerns through an open, cooperative , local, perspective, 'The Mayor and his Court' have chosen to:

1) engage in a sparring match with the Eastern Ontario Health Unit board of directors;

2) ride the Smugglers Alley highway;

3) surf the politically opportunistic wave of law and order;

4) defocus and deflect confronting the causes of this city's budget problems;

5) feed and incite further difficulties with our native friends through inappropriate language;

6) condemn the press out of one side of the mouth for reporting news while praising a nation where people can express their views freely, out of the other;

7) refuse to comment publicly on questions that present reasonable concern surrounding their behaviours as elected officials. The "Standard-Freeholder-slash-National Enquirer" is not creating negativity that would "lead to another era of negativity for the police services board and our citizens", as suggested on page 13 of the Oct. 7 issue. To the contrary, they are responsibly reporting the negative behaviours of an elected official that will undoubtedly lead to another era of negativity for the board and the citizens. I believe that the behaviours will intensify the longer "The Mayor and His Court" is left unchecked. Left unchecked will be interpreted as being acceptable and thus reinforced; especially if the behaviour is supported by people who share similar views as the Mayor or who remain silent because they are afraid of reprisals.

How can people make reasonable decisions when voting during elections if "censorship" and fear exists? I believe that Mayor Ron truly believes his claims of innocence when characterized as being prejudiced, anti-native, a big mouth, or a dictator. I see his belief evolving from the fact that he is obviously ignorant of the spoken and unspoken, indirect messages he conveys through his behaviours that cause these perceptions to be formed. Elected officials are a reflection of the community. In part, this city will be defined by the actions, characteristics and behaviours of its leaders. The majority of the electorate in Cornwall voted for candidates other than Ron Martelle. I have not heard of any coalition formed in opposition to the Mayor nor have I heard of any complaints filed with any Ombudsman or municipal/ provincial/ federal body capable of intervening if necessary. On the other hand; I have not heard of an official compliant filed with any regulatory body or licensing board about any perceived violations that the local newspaper may be engaged in. Is anyone going to take action or will we all just throw stones at each other? Change takes action!

Missed EOHU Meetings Justified

Dear Editor:

In response to the most recent edition of Mr. Roth's column in The Seaway News concerning my attendance at meetings of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, I would like to inform his readers of the following conflicts in meeting dates.

June 1st meeting of the EOHU. As an elected member of City Council my first responsibility is to attend to Council Business which meant on this occasion missing a committee meeting.

July 6th meeting of the EOHU. I have been a member of the Worldfest/Festimonde organizing committee for the past eleven years. Festival Week was held from July 4th to 9th. Many of the committee members, including myself, take vacation time so that we can meet the commitment to this very important community event.

August 3rd meeting of the EOHU. I have a wife and children who are very understanding and supportive of the demand on the time of an elected City Official. After vacationing and visiting family members in England and Scotland, we arrived back in Canada on the evening of August 3rd.

I do not take council representation on committee's lightly and out of courtesy, contact those committees if I am unable to attend a regular or special meeting. I had attended four of the five regular scheduled meetings of the EOHU prior to the June meeting.

It is the Eastern Ontario Health Unit Board's policy that members vacate his/her seat after missing three (3) regular scheduled meetings; no one was fired. City Council at their meeting of Monday, September 25th, re-affirmed my appointment as one of their representatives on the Board of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

I would suggest that if Mr. Roth decides to pursue a career as an investigative reporter, he would in fact investigate before he reports.

Yours truly,
Denis Carr
Alderman

Politicians Must Sacrifice Too

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to Fred Sagel's column of Oct. 2nd entitled "Sacrifices Must Be Made".

I agree, we must all make sacrifices, however, Fred Sagel does not say anything about our federal politicians cutting back on their perks or their more than generous pension plans.

It appears that our elected officials think that these cutbacks should apply to everyone but them. Sheila Copps was (according to CJOH News) heard to say "the Canadian people don't care about our pension plan". She might just as well have said "let them eat cake". This kind of attitude only adds to the discontent of the Canadian people and indicates that our elected officials are self serving and have no regard for the Canadian public or anything else as long as they have what they want.

When are we, as Canadians, going to wake up and show our leaders just what we think of them and their high handed, arrogant attitude? Once they have drained all our blood, sweat and tears maybe we will wake up and throw these people out of office and elect people who are interested in building a strong, self supporting country by working together and caring a little more about those who elected them.

Yours truly,
R.J. O'Collin

Lifestyle Contributes To Aids

Dear Editor:

I would like to respond to the article found in the Standard-Freeholder (Oct.2/95) "Homophobia Contributes to Aids". This is National Aids Awareness Week.

The Canadian Aids Society's communication manager Grant McNeil said, "A significant minority of the population won't like the campaign." He speaks against Roseanne Skoke, Liberal M.P. from Nova Scotia who earlier this year spoke out against homosexual practices. Roseanne Skoke did not create those views. The original are found in the Bible.

I happen to be of the same opinion as found in God's Word. One can have an opposite opinion to Grant McNeil and his Society without being labeled stupid or a promoter of hatred against gays.

Grant McNeil asks these questions "Why are children with HIV referred to as "innocent victims?" Is the message that gay men with HIV are responsible for the situation they're facing?

The AIDS virus is transmitted by three ways: sex, blood and birth. Homosexuals and bi-sexual men account for the majority of cases. Along with bi-sexuals, intravenous drug abusers are one of the main routes by which AIDS entered the heterosexual population. Many haemophiliacs have acquired AIDS through blood transfusions.

Children get AIDS by being born to a mother who is an AIDS carrier. Another way is to be infected through contaminated blood transfusions or blood products. I would call them "innocent victims". I would say gay men with HIV acquired it through behavioural practices.

Quoting from David Suzuki Talks About AIDS, "it is deceptive to speak about risk groups. Members of high-risk groups can easily become stigmatized, while others convinced they are not at risk have a false sense of security. It is not who people are, but what they do, that puts them at risk." Nevertheless it is important to educate risk groups to protect themselves and others from getting AIDS. It is a disease that is part of our whole society. The only hope of controlling its spread is through education and changing out behaviour, something that may prove more difficult than finding a scientific solution.

In Defence Of Priests

Dear Editor:

I do not read your paper on a regular basis but a friend suggested I should look at the column of Bob Roth, "Where Are All Of These Good Priests?", dated October 8th issue.

I have just finished reading it and would like Mr. Roth to know that many Roman Catholic church members care very deeply about their church. Some of us also believe in the democratic approach to the justice system which states that a person is said to be innocent until he or she is proven to be found guilty.

The accused priest deserves our prayerful support. It is unfortunate that he did not receive a fair hearing.

One could feel offended by Mr. Roth's "Catholic bashing" but believers of all denominations are aware of the evil of these darkened times.

There are many right living and dedicated priests living in the Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall. They do not need to defend themselves to Mr. Roth. We know who they are, and that is all that matters.

Yours Very Truly,
Joan Levy Earle

Charges Should Be Laid

Dear Editor:

This is in response to certain people who were not charged in the torturing and neglect of animals. It is unbelievable that no charges are being laid. No matter what age or position in society, everyone should be held responsible for their actions. The Humane Society, police and the Mayor should know better, letting this matter go is a shame. We teach our children right from wrong in school, what kind of example if being shown here? People who neglect and torture animals should be dealt with severely. Can you imagine 40 different animals living with disease and their own filth? These people should be at least made to pay to put these animals down and for the care of the rest of them who survived.

More Support For Const. Dunlop

Dear Editor:

The local issue of Constable Perry Dunlop has reached the shores of Lake Ontario. Like him, I am a police officer. I have served approximately 17 years with the Metropolitan Toronto Police Service. I am also a former resident and business proprietor in the City of Cornwall. I first met Constable Dunlop eight years ago. Based on my experiences, I strongly believe he is one of the "Top Cops" to have ever served your city.

It is beyond comprehension why this moral and conscientious officer is being persecuted by his own police service and those authorities who dictate their policies. The Child and Family Services Act of Ontario explicitly states a police officer's duty to report incidents of suspected child abuse, past or present. This Act requires anyone with such information to report the abuse to the appropriate Children's Aid Society, with no repercussions. This Act supersedes local police procedures, rules or regulations.

Dunlop has taken a stand in the defense of innocent children. By doing so, he has challenged the powers that be. For this heroic action, he has become a marked man.

It is disturbing to realize that Dunlop is flying solo in his search for justice. Are his fellow officers and the Cornwall Police Association supporting him or are they afraid to stand in his corner?

Dunlop has won round number one and I understand the citizens of Cornwall and surrounding area strongly support him. This deplorable situation has gone on for almost two years since initiated by former Acting Chief of Police Carl Johnston. Dunlop should be vindicated now.

It is public knowledge the Ministry of the Solicitor General investigated the Cornwall City Police Service in 1993. Stated were 50 recommendations. Perhaps the Solicitor General should take a good hard look at this situation and what is happening in Cornwall.

Thanks to Constable Dunlop's unselfish actions, victims of child abuse, the public and frustrated police officers across Canada will have hope for proper justice.

Perry, don't give up the fight. Keep your head up high and walk proud.

Sincerely,
Bill McCrimmon
A friend and fellow comrade.

Registered Retirement Income Funds

For anyone turning 71, it's time to ask an important question: How will you convert your Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP) to obtain the best income possible for the remainder of your life?

The options used to be fairly simple. You could withdraw the entirety of your RRSP in cash, buy an annuity or transfer the RRSP into a Registered Retirement Income Fund (RRIF).

The first choice is considered the most unattractive since cashing in an RRSP creates a heavy tax bill.

The second - buying an annuity - guarantees a regular income for the rest of the owner's life but doesn't guard against inflation.

The third, rolling your RRSP into an RRIF is now, more than ever, the most attractive option.

In a recent budget, the federal government dramatically altered the rules governing RRIFs, a tax-sheltered plan that provides periodic payments to the investor for the remainder of his/her life.

Under the old rules, an RRIF-owner's minimum payment formula was guided by a fractional system wherein payments were made in gradually increasing increments over 20 years. If opened at age 71, you would receive the first year 1/20th the value of the plan, the second 1/19th, and so on until the age of 90 when the remainder of the plan would have to be redeemed.

With changes in the budget, however, an RRIF may now last for the duration of the RRIF-owner's lifetime. Now the payments will increase gradually until the age of 94 when the minimum payment of 20 percent will continue for the remainder of the investor's life.

The new schedule will have increased minimum payments for people under 78. This may reduce the capital within the RRIF, causing the total amount of income over the life of the plan to decrease and raising the amount of taxable income.

The advantages of owning an RRIF are fairly evident. Yet there is more. When buying an annuity, payments are based on fixed-income returns. An RRIF, on the other hand, can be invested in a variety of growth or balanced investments, such as mutual funds.

With greater growth potential, tax advantages and flexibility, now is the time to consider an RRIF.

Talk to your financial advisor to discover how an RRIF can be tailored to fit your retirement income needs.

On the Money

with Gordon Pape

PAPE'S TIP: "Don't automatically choose the agent who quotes the highest asking price."

Selling your house

There's a lot of advice available on how to buy a home, but little on how to sell one, especially in a weak housing market. Here's some help if you're thinking of moving.

HIRING AN AGENT

- Interview at least three. Ask each what they'll do to market the house and what the asking price should be.
- An agent who quotes the highest asking price may be giving you an unrealistic number to get the listing.
- Ask if the agent will list your home on the Multiple Listing Service – that will bring in many more potential buyers.

NEGOTIATE THE FEE

Standard commission is 6%, but some agents take less to get a listing. Some real estate companies have reduced the standard commission to 3% or 3.5%.

SETTING THE PRICE

Before meeting the agent, research recent sale prices for similar homes in the area. Remember the market sets the price – not what you originally paid or the amount of work you've put into your house.

Tips for a fast sale

- Make sure house is sparkling clean.
- Tidy up messy closets – every buyer will be looking in them.
- Be out when buyers come – let the agent do the showing.
- Don't leave pets in the house.
- Be prepared to have the house shown on short notice.
- Leave your keys with your agent or in a lock box when you're away.

H.O.P.E. For A Safe Halloween

ALEXANDRIA – For all parents wishing to give their children the very best, H.O.P.E. (Helping Other People Everyday), offers a special children's activity to be held on October 31st. This event promises to be much more than a safe Halloween.

In biblical times, God had ordered that festivities be held at the time of the harvest in order to share the abundance and to rejoice. This celebration, contrary to Halloween which inspires fear and horror, promotes the joy of sharing the many favours of God.

"Feast At The Farm" will be held in the gymnasium of St. Joseph School in Alexandria from 4-7:30 pm. Children are invited to participate and come dressed as their favourite animal. We are offering a buffet, a puppet theatre, surprises, door prizes and games of all kinds. To register or for more information contact Céline Lefebvre at 525-0919 or Sylvie Labelle, 525-0830.

School Promotes Wonders Of Canada

INGLESIDE – The students and staff of Rothwell-Osnabruck JK to Grade 13 School will hold "Proud To Be Canadian Day" on Oct. 24th, in conjunction with United Nations Day.

Canadian songwriter Robert Sprague will be performing. He will also be holding a songwriting workshop for aspiring young writers and a History of the Seaway workshop.

Fran Laflamme will present Stories of Canada to the younger grades, depicting a wonderful view of Canada and what it means to be Canadian.

The entire school will participate in a Canadian Flag "Fly Bye", a very unique event not to be missed.

A Terrific Day

MORRISBURG – The Morrisburg Lions Club collected 150 bags of groceries during last weekend's Food Drive in aid of the House of Lazarus Matilda Resource Centre. At this great time of need when more and more people are turning for help, the groceries will help ease the load.

Clear Facts On Second-Hand Smoke

According to Health Canada, more than 300 non-smokers die each year in Canada from lung cancer caused by tobacco smoke.

The facts are clear! Allowing people to smoke in public places has detrimental effects on non-smokers.

– Restaurants that allow smoking can have six times the pollution of a busy highway.

– Second-hand smoke has many of the same poisons as the air around a toxic waste dump.

– Even restaurants that have separate smoking and non-smoking sections cannot eliminate exposure to the toxins from second-hand smoke.

1:13.9 Million Chance at $3,333,333.40

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Dominique and Sharon Barbe from South Mountain beat the odds when Sharon left the small town's Country Girl's General Store with her Quick Pick in hand.

Dominique, a "former" roofer, and Sharon, who works at Berry's Egg Farm, have two girls, 15 and 20 years old.

While everyone is making plans on how to spend the money, Sharon's dream will finally be fulfilled – she's off to Graceland, in Memphis, to visit the former home of Elvis Prestley.

National Occupational Therapy Week - Oct. 22 - 28

This week, Oct. 22 - 28, is National Occupational Therapy Week. The Occupational Therapists of the Cornwall area are celebrating this national event with a public information campaign.

An Occupational Therapist is a health professional who works with individuals whose ability to function in everyday living is disrupted by physical illness or injury, developmental problems, the aging process, mental illness or emotional problems. The goal of occupational therapy is to assist individuals in becoming as independent as possible so as to lead a productive and satisfying life. Occupational Therapists use adapted activities to increase people's functioning and productivity.

The following examples describe how an Occupational Therapist may be involved in various situations.

Mr. M. is a 66 year old man who suffered a stroke which left his right leg and arm paralysed. After the stroke, Mr. M. was unable to feed, bathe, or dress himself. Using various retraining techniques and adaptive equipment (i.e. reachers, bath seat, long-handled bath brush, etc.), the Occupational Therapist worked with Mr. M. to achieve his goal of increased independence in his self care.

Mrs. L. is a 36 year old woman with severe depression. She has been experiencing loss of appetite, poor sleep, low self-esteem and little interest in her daily routine. The Occupational Therapist helped Mrs. L. to once again participate in her previously enjoyed activities, and to develop effective coping skills.

Tim is an 8 year old boy with a learning disability. In class he is disorganized, easily distracted, clumsy, and has difficulty writing. Tim's Occupational Therapist assessed his problem areas as well as his strengths and developed a treatment program. The program included writing exercises, coordination and balancing exercises, as well as coping strategies.

The theme for National Occupational Week, 1995 is Independence in Daily Living. The above examples illustrate how an Occupational Therapist may help individuals of all ages to reach their highest level of independence within their limits.

If you wish to meet some of the Occupational Therapists in Cornwall, or want more information concerning the profession of Occupational Therapy, there will be a display at the Brookdale Mall on Saturday, October 28, 1995 from 10 am to 4 pm. Hope to see you there.

LOOKING BACKWARD

By Stuart L. Manson

Historic Site Ravaged

The Cornwall Township lime kiln, as it once stood. To simulate its present state, rip up this photograph and pile the pieces into a small mound.

Before cement was available in its ready-mix format, a white powdery substance called lime was a key ingredient in the mortar used to construct brick and stone buildings. In order to produce this commodity, limestone was burned in large ovens or kilns that were usually located near quarries. In the nineteenth century, these kilns had evolved from crude pits in the ground to towering chimney-like structures.

In about 1890, a large kiln was built north of the village of Mille Roches, near the quarries that were in operation closeby. In fact, the area is still used for this purpose and is owned by a construction material company that shall remain nameless - lest a ferocious argumentative reaction grimly erupt.

It has been four years since I visited the site. I was then instantly impressed by its magnitude. It can only be described as gargantuan. Lime kilns of this type were once a common feature in Eastern Canada, but now they are a rare commodity indeed. Here it stood for over a century, a monument to the industry of our forefathers.

I decided to once again visit the kiln, considering it my historical duty to verify the existence of the material resources of our community. My party and I followed the old railway bed from Mille Roches that had once serviced the quarry and kiln. Within 100 metres of the kiln, we branched off onto a second path. Curiously, a fresh road had been cut through this path, leading to our destination. As we got closer to where I thought the kiln was, I could not see its familiar silhouette on the horizon. I knew something was amiss. My paranoia proved to be justified when at last we arrived.

Lying before my feet was a flat pile of rubble and bricks. What was once a huge structure, several stories tall, was reduced to a random mound of stone. Maliciously destroyed for an unknown reason, the kiln is no more.

The origin of this angry condemnation is not simple nostalgia or sentimentalism. Rather, it is the result of frustration that such an important and unique historical structure was so easily and quickly destroyed, with little regard for its importance. This is one of the objectives of this column - not only to educate or to entertain, but also to broadcast the irreplaceable nature of the historic resources that remain in this , our Seaway Valley.

Recognition The 'Big' Way

The Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Cornwall and District recognized its volunteers during their 22nd annual Banquet and Awards Night held on Sat., Oct. 14 at the Porto Bello Restaurant. Above, 1995 Big Brother of the Year, Sylvain Girard, centre, with his Little, Robert Benedict, and Brian Lynch, Executive Director. (Photo by Chris Brown)

by Chris Brown
staff reporter

Big Brothers and Big Sisters have helped Little Brothers and Little Sisters more than can be imagined. Through sharing, understanding and patience, they have helped Littles gain self confidence and develop greater self esteem. They encourage their Littles to do their best in school and to continue their education. They're there when they're needed the most and have given guidance and examples to follow, hopefully to one day grow to be responsible adults.

At a time when more and more children come from single-parent families, and these children are referred to the "Big Brothers/Big Sisters program, the examples of present and past Bigs can inspire other caring, reliable adults in the community to come forward and share their time, interests and friendship.

Can you imagine for a moment two people alike, in personality and interests, but generations apart? Bonnie Duffy and Amanda St. Louis are such a match. Bonnie was chosen 1995 Big Sister of the Year. She has been a Big for four-and-a-half years and says her 'Little' "was the best behaved, cutest girl she's ever known". And of her 'Big Sister', she's "more than a Big Sister, she's my best friend, my teacher and close companion all in one. She has helped me in so many ways", says Amanda. The 1995 Big Brother of the Year is Sylvain Girard who has been matched with his Little Brother Robert Benedict for the past three years. Sylvain is the most important positive influence in his Little Brothers life. He enrolled his Little in minor hockey, ball hockey and soccer, even attending his games.

Big Brothers Denis Lacelle and Perry Lalonde received 10-year awards, and Ken Sliter was selected Honourary Big Brother/Big Sister of the Year.

CRIME STOPPERS

Cornwall

Crime Stoppers needs your held in solving the illegal activity of poaching.

Now that the fall season is approaching, the activities of poachers will increase and Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry residents should be on the lookout for these illegal activities. Hunting deer at night with the aid of powerful spotlights, commonly referred to as "jacklighting", is a common practice used by poachers to hunt. The lights shine across the fields, hypnotizing the animal, making it an easy target for the shooter.

If anyone you know is approached by persons seeking to buy or sell wildlife, you should immediately become suspicious. This activity is illegal.

Remember we do not have call display, we do not record conversations, you are always anonymous.

If you have any information on this or any other crime, you may be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000. Remember, we don't want your name but please give us your information. Call Crime Stoppers at 937-8477 and for long distance calls 1-800-265-8477.

Rudi Payer's Sports Blazers Soccer Team

The SD&G Rudi Payer Sports Blazers U11's Division 1 soccer team capped off a successful season by being finalists in the first SD&G Under 11's section of the Blazers tournament.

Aylmer Scorpions won the championship game 5-4, scoring on a penalty kick with less than 2 minutes remaining in extra time of the most exciting game of the tournament.

Rudi's Blazers hope to be travelling to the U.K. at the end of July 1996.

Colts Welcome Lumber Kings To Haunted House

by Ken McLaughlin
Director of Public Relations

This Thursday, October 26, the Pembroke Lumber Kings come to town for their first visit of the season. Your Colts are determined to make this game "A Nightmare On Water Street". With Halloween just around the corner, it's going to be an evening of spooky happenings at the Si Miller Arena. The war began last month as your Colts defeated Pembroke 5-4 in overtime. We've sharpened our axes for the chopping, which begins at 7:30 pm.

All fans in attendance at this fight filled game, will receive a Halloween Treat Bag, courtesy of Rogers Cablesystems. Look for the costumed Rogers employee at all arena entrances. The free gifts don't stop there. During the first intermission, the great pumpkin himself, Brian Ladas, will be distributing Halloween treats to all fans, courtesy of Lada's Your Independent Grocer in Cornwall Square. As well, you could get your hands on a free pack of sportscards from the Locker Room Sportscard Shop. Consider this your invitation to bring the whole family and experience the most exciting game in town, this Thursday.

We complete our playing week on Friday, October 27th with a trip to the Brockville Memorial Center, to clash with the Brockville Braves. The puck drops at 8 pm.

Be sure to look for your Colts at Brookdale Mall next Saturday, October 28 as we participate in the annual Jelly Jump festivities. Players will be on hand, along with Slapshot, from 12 noon until 2 pm. Autographs will be available and don't forget to bring your camera for a picture with your favourite player.

Edition #3 of Colts Talk, the news and information show of Cornwall's Jr. "A" Hockey Team, will air live on Rogers Community 11, this Wednesday, October 25, at 7 pm. Participate in this phone-in show and you could win two tickets to the Colts-Lumber Kings battle.

Good luck to Colts players Dave Stathos, Carmine Anoia, Mauro DiPaolo, and Pierre-Andre Arel, as they participate in a leadership seminar, sponsored by the Eastern Ontario Health Unit. This Friday, October 27, in Casselman, our players will be addressing the students on subjects such as staying in school and drug abuse.

Next week, I'll have information on how Rogers Community 11 and your Colts are teaming up to make this Halloween a safe and happy one for area youngsters.

We'll see you this Thursday, October 26th as your Colts plan to celebrate Halloween by scaring the pulp out of the Pembroke Lumber Kings at 7:30 pm. Get your tickets early.

Jr. "B" Hockey

The Char-Lan Junior "B" Rebels travelled to Morrisburg last Friday evening to take on the Lions. The scoring started quickly with Char-Lan scoring just 13 seconds into the first. The goal was scored by McNally and set up by Corput and O'Farrell. The play then settled down and the score remained the same throughout the remainder of the period.

In the second period, the Rebels took over the game, outscoring their opposition 4 to 2 to take a 5 to 2 lead into the third. Scoring for Char-Lan were Mario Gibeault, Tim Corput, Marc Bellemare and Terry O'Farrell. For Morrisburg Chad Duguay and Tim Waldroff turned on the red light.

The third period became long and drawn out as there were numerous penalties called by the referee. In all, the Rebels had 18 infractions called against them, with Morrisburg having 24.

The lone goal of the period was scored by Bellemare for his second of the night. The top point scorers for Char-Lan were Terry O'Farrell with a goal and three assists, while Tim Corput who just returned from a three game suspension, had a goal and two assists. Char-Lan won the contest 6 to 2. Denis Villeneuve handled the goaltending chores for the Rebels and had another strong showing between the pipes.

On Saturday evening at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Center the Rebels hosted the Alexandria Glens in a game sponsored by Rozon Feed and Seed. It was a much different result than the one in Alexandria for the first game of the season, in which the Rebels outscored their opposition 13 to 2. In the Saturday evening contest, Char-Lan took a 2 to 1 lead to the dressing room after the first. The score was 6 to 5 after 2 periods and ended with the Rebels on top 9 to 6.

Marc Bellemare had 3 goals and 2 assists for the Rebels as well as Eric Fontaine. Other goal scorers for the Rebels were Owen Swamp, Dave McNally and Rod Besner, each picking up a single. For the Glens, Luc Chaumont had 2 goals, with singles going to Daniel Methot, David Bruyere, Darcy MacDonell and Marc Menard.

There were a total of ten penalties called with each team receiving 5 apiece. Shots on goal were 40 to 36 in Char-Lan's favour. Chris Motard was between the pipes of the Glens while the goaltending chores were shared equally by Jason Pilon and Denis Villeneuve for Char-Lan.

Char-Lan's next home game is Saturday, October 21 in Williamstown, after which there will be a meet the Rebels dance upstairs. Admission is free with your game ticket and music is being supplied by Rodney Rivette Productions. Lunch will follow.

It's A Royal's Weekend

By Robert Gialloreto

There are some familiar faces returning to Cornwall this Sunday, October 22nd at 7:30 pm. Scott Pearson will be wearing #29 for the Rochester Americans. Scott, one of the participants in this past summer's Aces' Golf Fun Day, is well-known to area resident's for his days with the Cornwall Royals on his way to the N.H.L. Another Royal making a return appearance will be Dan Frawley. Frawley, a native of Sturgeon Falls, has come out of a two-year retirement to rejoin professional hockey after a solid N.H.L. career spent mostly in Pittsburgh.

Another familiar face will be former Cornwall Ace Serge Roberge. He will wear his familiar #24 with the unfamiliar Amerks logo. The "Sarge Watch" is still going as the hockey world waits for Roberge to score his first goal in over a season. The big difference this season being that Serge had a full training camp this year, so he should be poised and ready to burst that twine!

The Cornwall Aces play back to back home games this weekend, October 21st and 22nd, and there will be plenty of excitement. On Saturday, the expansion Baltimore Bandits are in town and it's a special night for the youth of Cornwall. The first 1,000 children (12 and under) will receive a special Pocahontas Collectors glass courtesy of Burger King on Burger King Pocahontas Night! Plus, all kids 12 and under get into the game for only $5.00!

On Sunday the Aces will be honouring Cornwall's seniors with a special night. All seniors will be able to get a game ticket to the Aces game for only $8.00 as Cornwall hosts the return of Serge Roberge and the Rochester Americans. All senior citizens will receive a special discount package full of valuable coupons and specials, as they enter the game. The Aces will provide special bus service to Seniors' Residences and Clubs. There will also be special hosts and hostesses to service and assist seniors during Sunday Night's hockey game. Whether you're young or young at heart, the Cornwall Aces have a great hockey value for you this weekend. It may not be snowing, but great pro hockey is here. Start talking about your Cornwall Aces today.

Cornwall Tire Major Peewee AA Rapids

Cornwall Tire, in association with Bridgestone Tire, are now the official sponsor of the Seaway Valley Major Peewee "AA" Rapids. The players, parents and coaching staff would like to extend an emphatic thank you to these two companies for the interest shown in the youth of our region.

The Cornwall Tire Rapids met the league leading Rideau St. Lawrence Kings in Maxville on Sunday. After taking a commanding 4-0 lead on goals by Jesse Thompson and a hat trick by Miguel Delisle, the Kings never let up and the game ended in a 5-5 draw. Delisle also had the other Rapids marker.

Assists went to Graham Charbonneau, Nick Dube, Stephane Mainville, Eric Neilson, Jason Vickers and Mathieu Groulx.

The Cornwall Tire Rapids are now preparing for a gruelling four games in five days schedule.

MINOR HOCKEY

S.S. Novice Selects

In pre-season play, the South Stormont Novice Selects got off to a great start with 4 wins and 1 tie. Brett Liscomb led the Selects with 13 goals and an assist in a 19-3 win over Morrisburg in their first game of the season. Brock McBride had 3 goals, Cory Gove had 2, and Addison Pelkey rounded out the scoring with 1. Assists went to Michael Crawford and Cameron McPherson with 3 each, while Todd Perry, Richard Boileau and Matthew Walsh set up the other goals.

In Cornwall, the Selects again came out on the top end of a 4-2 decision. Perry and Liscomb each scored twice. Assists were picked up by Boileau, McPherson and Liscomb.

Against Hawkesbury, the Selects managed a 3-3 tie. Liscomb netted 2 with Walsh scoring the other marker. Assists went to Liam Tyrell, Perry, McPherson and Liscomb.

Strong backchecking and good defensive play by Matthew Walsh enabled the Selects to continue their winning ways in a return engagement with Morrisburg. Winning 4-0, Liscomb had 3 goals and McBride had 1. Colin Mackler, McPherson and Boileau handled the assists. Stefan Guindon had his first shutout of the season for the Selects.

Guindon continued to be hot in nets in Alexandria on October 15 as the Selects beat the Glens 4-0. Liscomb scored twice and assisted on another while Boileau and Pekley netted the other two. McBride and Tyrell had the other assists.

Coach Harold McBride and Assistant Coach Ben Guindon are pleased with the efforts of all players and eagerly anticipate the beginning of regular season play.

Cornwall Peewee "B" Navy Vet Aces

In an exhibition game in Maxville on Oct. 5th against NGS, Cornwall was handed a 6-3 loss. Cornwall goals went to Chad Chenier, Todd Gerald and Ryan Matte.

Then it was off to Kingston to compete in the "Ambassador Cup Hockey Series" tournament on October 6th. Cornwall's first match up was against Belleville. With 9 penalties to kill, Cornwall was outshot 52 to 9 with a loss of 6-0.

On October 7th, they played Gananoque. Cornwall came up with a fantastic effort in a 2-2 tie, with Kevin Lauzon and Eric Lavictoire doing the scoring, while Devon Eveleigh had a strong game between the pipes.

In the final game on October 8th, Cornwall gave Brockville all they could handle. Although Brockville won the afternoon tilt 4-3, Cornwall pressured all game long. The shots were 22 to 19 in favour of Brockville with Alain Allaire, Eric Lavictoire and Mario Bissonette notching one apiece for Cornwall.

October 16th was the pre-season rematch with Maxville NGS travelling to the Akwesasne Arena. This time it was Cornwall doubling Maxville in a 10-5 contest where Cornwall outshot NGS 39-22. After taking a 2-0 lead on goals by Trevor Legue and Kevin Lauzon, Cornwall fell behind 5-2, however they stormed right back with 8 unanswered goals. With a pair from Alain Allaire and Mario Bissonette, singles went to Ryan Matte, Ryan Leroux, Dan Valiquet and Chris Vivarais.

Chad Chenier set up three of the goals, while Korey St. Louis had a strong game in nets. All in all it was a total team effort.

Ron's Scuba Shop Bantam "A" Aces

The Bantam "A" Aces travelled to Ottawa for an exhibition rematch with East Ottawa. Both teams played a strong first period, but Ottawa scored three times. Jeff Legue finally put the Aces on the board in the second on a nice goal crease feed from Kris Longtin. Ottawa came right back to score. Kris Longtin made a nice play going through the Ottawa team to score a shorthanded goal. Ottawa continued playing with great skill and scored the rest of the way for an 8-2 win.

Ron's Scuba Shop Bantam Aces played their first league game in Kingston. Missing two of their players, the Aces were flat and never seemed to get on track in the game. Kingston built a 5 goal lead before Stef Champagne scored near the end of the second period. The Aces had good scoring opportunities but couldn't finish the play and ended up losing by a score of 8-1.

Johnson's Antiques Travel To Early Tournament

After numerous scheduling changes which left the coaching staff scratching their heads as to why they even bothered to enter the tourney, things got off to a rocky start. After a 3 hour delay on Friday evening and being put in a higher caliber division than what they were supposed to be in, the boys came out flat in a 6-0 losing cause to Napanee.

In their second game on Saturday, it still took about a half a period to catch up to the speed and caliber of a higher level. Once on track our Antique boys looked like a brand new team. Making a game of it against the eventual tournament winner, they kept the score 3-2 until the last minute of play when a bad clearing pass was picked off by an Agincourt attacker. Scoring for the Aces was David Rice and Terry Tillaart on a beautiful end to end rush. Chris Lortie played extremely well in the contest keeping the Aces close.

In their 3rd game, playing with more confidence, the boys pulled off a 5-5 tie. Joshua Labelle scored 3 after a 2 game suspension. Terry Tillaart and Rodney Wilson each scored one. A lot of praise went out to both the parents and players for being patient in the tournament despite all the distractions and delays which occured.

Cornwall Atom "B" Aces

The Atom "B" Aces coach, Alain Savard has to love it when his plan comes together. His hard working "Blue Machine" turned in an evening of crisp, heads up hockey resulting in a 7-2 victory over the N.G.S. Braves on Thursday, October 12th at the Maxville Arena. Sharp shooter Mathieu Bergeron hit his mark 3 times and helped out on 1 more. Jason Leger handed in 2 goals and 2 assists while Jason Lepine scored 1 and assisted on 1 other. Dependable Oliver McTaggart accounted for the remaining goal, assisted by both Chris Roy and Terry Maloney. Goalies Sylvain Savard and Ryan Prevost, working behind a solid defensive unit, gave up only 2 goals from 18 shots on net. Victory was sweet after losing to the Char-Lan Rebels only the night before. In that game, Jason Leger sneaked in the lone goal of a 5-1 contest at the Williamstown arena.

Novice "B" Aces

During the weekend of October 14 - 15, the Novice Aces played another home and home exhibition series, this time against Morrisburg. The first game, held at the Civic Complex, received an unexpected guest. Wild Thing, the Cornwall Aces mascot, showed up to take the opening face off. The Aces went on to a 3-2 victory, with goals coming from Brent Lariviere, Christopher Matte and Ian Boots. Eric Gordon added a helper. Mathieu Bruyere had a strong two way performance.

The following day in Morrisburg, Chris Gadbois was sensational between the pipes, as he led his team to a 3-3 tie. Down 3-2 and playing a man short, Corey Bough fired in what proved to be the tying goal. Other goals came from Ian Boots and Martin Durivage on a break away. Assisting on those goals were Ian Boots, Mathieu Bruyere and Christopher Matte.

Miller Hughes Rapids Fall Short

The Miller Hughes Minor "AA" Peewee Rapids competed in a tournament in Alexandria. Matched against O.D.M.H.A. contending Cumberland and Kingston placed the host team in a difficult position. Rising to the challenge, the Rapids maintained a 2-1 lead over Cumberland until the final three minutes when penalties resulted in two power play goals. Cumberland added an empty net goal to clinch a 4-2 win. Phillip Boots and Mathew Verdone each contributed a goal and assist. Jesse Winchester also added a single assist.

In their second game, facing elimination, the Peewees carried a 1-1 score into the final minute of the game and surrendered the winning goal to Kingston with 23 seconds remaining. Patrick Turcotte netted the lone goal on a set up from Tim St. Jean. The two game effort re-inforced the Rapids confidence in being contenders for the league title.

In league play, the Seaway squad slipped out of Ottawa after stealing two points from Nepean in a 3-2 contest. Solid defensive play from Marc Lemire, Ryan Major, Marc Richer and Marcel Booyink complimented game saving goaltending by Greg Fargo. Jamie Smith scored a pair of goals while Greg Barnhart added a single marker.

Dube Is Newest Ace

The Cornwall Aces announced recently that they have added forward Yannick Dube to their roster. The Gaspe, Quebec native played 39 games last year with the Syracuse Crunch of the American Hockey League scoring 10 goals and adding 11 assists. Dube is a talented, speedy center who tallied 5 times on the power play and scored one unassisted marker in 1994-95.

Dube played his Junior hockey in Laval where in 1993-94 he was a QMJHL First Team All-Star, a Canadian Major Junior Second Team All-Star and voted the Most Sportsmanlike Player of the Year in both Canadian Major Junior and in the 1994 Memorial Cup. Dube also played for his country in 1993-94 in the World Junior Tournament, scoring 5 goals and 5 assists in 7 games.

SCUTTLEBUTT

HELLO ... IS THERE ANYONE OUT THERE? We want to remind everyone out there that this is your public forum ... we need to hear from you, so mail, fax or call in your little anecdote or gossip. At the end of each month we will have a draw for all entries received ... and you could win a limited edition "You Were Butted In Scuttlebutt" golf shirt.

329 2nd St. W., Cornwall, Ont., K6J 1G8. Ph: 933-0014 or Fax. 933-0024

Congratulations to FADY KAMEL and JASON CROWE of Cornwall on winning gold medals on Thanksgiving weekend at the Canadian National Club Finals. The West Island Lakers, defeated Ontario 1-0 in the final tournament of the national soccer championship.

A special thanks to the gentleman who stopped the woman from running into another vehicle in the Farm Boy parking lot on Saturday. Shame on the woman for not noticing the other car.

BERT WILLIAMS watching the game. Don't ask what the score is, or you'll break his concentration!

Caller says she's sure that ALVIN LAW, a sought after motivational speaker, born without arms, has left a tremendous impact on the people of Cornwall, especially the students who heard him speak last week. He has certainly proved that nothing is impossible if you really want to succeed. He makes us wonder what we have to whine about.

Lady says RON MARTELLE SHOULD APOLOGIZE to the Akwesasne people for his comments. City Council should have asked Mayor Martelle to send a letter of apology to Chief Roundpoint. The Mayor is over-stepping his bounds and someone has to make him accountable. Also, Aldermen involved in other organizations should be more conscious of their responsibilities to these organizations. After all, they represent the City and the people who put them there.

Congratulations to LEE BAKER on receiving the prestigious "Mel Osborne Fellow Award" from the Kiwanis Club. The award is presented to a member who's service and dedication is remembered and honoured by being named to this prestigious society. Lee has been a member of the Kiwanis Club for eighteen years .

A bouquet to Cornwall drivers for accepting responsibility for their own safety and the safety of others who drive with them by wearing their seat belts. Good show, folks.

Hats off the Constable Dan O'Reilly for his courage and integrity in solely speaking out against the Mayor's alleged attempt to control the selection of the next chief of police for our City.

Perhaps restaurants in the U.S. should make sure that their staff knows how to make correct change for their Canadian customers. Caller was overcharged twice in one evening at a popular restaurant in Moira last week. How many other Canadians are overcharged and don't realize it?

SPEAKING OF EDUCATION ...

When you educate a man you educate an individual, when you educate a woman, you educate a whole family.

Did you know By-Law enforcement officers don't work after 9 p.m., winter hours.

Man who stated in the local daily often about certain persons spending time state side (Claude). The bar stool at Trombinos on Sunday am and pm sure looked comfortable. The beer seemed to be going down just fine, hope your drive home wasn't' interrupted by a trooper, and, oh yah, by the way, hope you declared the pizza and wings you had in a doggy bag, about $12.00 worth.

Gotcha ... maybe it's payback time ... an old school friend!!

Did you know that the secret of education lies in respecting the pupil.

Emerson.

Be sure you don't believe the wrong half of a half-truth.

After a rather unpleasant visit to the Tim Hortons, Eastcourt branch, on Saturday, October 14th, I wrote a letter to the owners, explaining the embarrassment that was caused to me. Linda was very quick in responding to my complaint. She called me personally, thanked me for making her aware of the situation and apologized for how things were handled. Her concern and attention to this matter was very encouraging and appreciated.

Caller says, "as a taxpayer, I would like to know one good reason why the City wouldn't sell the Civic Complex and other services provided by the Parks and Recreation Department to a credible company such as Recreational Services International. We are doing with less and paying more so perhaps the taxpayers should have a say on this matter and perhaps get a tax break."

A big bouquet goes out to the Glen Walter Chamber of Commerce for recently donating $5,000 to the Special Olympics, Adopt-An-Athlete Program. A challenge goes out to other Seaway Valley Service Clubs and business to try and match it.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Cornwall and District recognized its Big Brothers/Big Sister Volunteers at its 22nd Annual Banquet and Awards Night recently. The 1995 Big Sister of the Year is BONNIE DUFFY, who has been a Big Sister for four and a half years. The 1995 Big Brother of the Year is SYLVAIN GIRARD, who has been a Big Brother for the past three years. The 1995 Honourary Big Brother/Big Sister of the Year is KEN SLITER, one of the founders of the local agency who served as executive director from 1974-85 and was a Big Brother for twelve years. Ten year awards were presented to DENIS LACELLE and PERRY LALONDE. Your help and dedication is greatly appreciated.

Licence #6-PAPPA ... Well, "Pappa," you came flying from Vincent Massey Drive onto Brookdale Avenue, by Brookshell Motors, on Tuesday night at approximately 8:30 p.m. You would have wiped us out if not for our quick response to your actions. You're not much of an example for younger drivers.

Congratulations to DOMINIQUE AND SHARON BARBE of South Mountain on winning $3.3 million dollars in Saturday, October 14th's Lotto 6-49 draw. The Barbe's arrived in Toronto to pick up their prize in a limousine. They intend to buy a home, two new cars and invest the rest.

A little "ditty" to those concerned about liquor smuggling ...

A bumper of good liquor
Will end a conquest quicker
Than justice, judge or vicar.

... Sheridan.

There's an old saying, "The wise person changes his/her habits with the times." It's too bad that so many of us can't accept change and as a result, we miss out on so many wonderful moments.

Art Linkletter said it all when he said "People are funny." Take for example, politicians. When they get elected and don't keep their promises the general public tears them apart and when they do keep their promises the public wants to lynch them. It's no wonder we have so many "middle-of-the-road" politicians.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Ontario Special Olympics Provincial Spring Games - Cornwall 1996 are in immediate need of volunteers to assist with the distribution of their Christmas CD featuring Doug Gilmour, Ray Sheppard, Crystal Gale and a host of local talent. This would be of special interest to retired people or someone who is interested in getting experience in the music promotion business.

If you would be interested in volunteering your time, please call the Games Office at 932-1996 and ask for Christiane.

We hate to tell you this ... but, only 63 more days until Christmas!!!

S.D. & G. Public School Board has recognized three local businesses for their outstanding support of the Board's various programs. Awards were presented to Maynard's Your Independent Grocer, Levi Strauss & Co. Inc. and Ridgewood Industries.

Congratulations to Cornwall's own "Barstool Prophets" on having their hit single "Paranoia" off their Crank CD featured in the big screen psychological thriller, "Never Talk To Strangers" to be released October 20th by Alliance Communication Films in the U.S. The song will also be included on the soundtrack to be released in the USA on the Scotty Brothers label.

Q & A

Q: How do I get started?
A: You are going to be recording your voice greeting, be prepared, speak to the listener, describe yourself in a positive way. Be honest, creative and specific about what you are looking for. Call 247-7144 Ext. 12, option 1, you will be prompted to answer some questions about yourself and the type of person you want to meet. Your voice greeting will be screened for proper content and put on line within 24 hours. An effective print ad will be transcribed from your voice greeting which will appear in the paper in 7-10 days. The system will match you with compatible singles in the database instantly, and allow you to pick up those matches TODAY.

Q: What is an ad number?
A: The 4 digit number at the end of your print ad that allows singles to call and respond to your mailbox.

Q: What is an access code?
A: A confidential 4 digit code that only you know, that allows only you to access your mailbox.

Q: What are messages?
A: Voice greetings from other singles who responded to your ad in the newspaper or through the browse. To listen to your messages for FREE, call 247-7144 Ext. 12 once every 7 days or 1-900-451-3959 Ext. 12 anytime, at a charge of $1.99 per minute.

Q: What are system matches?
A: Voice greetings from other advertisers whose matching criteria is the same or similar to yours. You can listen to your system matches instantly by calling 1-900-451-3959 Ext. 12, at a charge of $1.99 per minute.

Q: What is Smart Callback?
A: When creating your mailbox you will be given the option of entering your telephone number for a callback to your number when you have new messages. You decide when and where. Numbers are confidential.

Q: What is Smart Browse?
A: A special feature that allows you to listen and respond to other voice greetings that match the criteria you select. Call 1-900-451-3959 Ext. 12, at a charge of $1.99 per minute.

Q: What is Profile Match?
A: When you respond to an ad, we will search the voice message database for up to 3 additional voice greetings whose personality profiles are similar to the first ad you chose to respond to.

Q: How do I respond to an ad?
A: Call 1-900-451-3959 Ext. 12 option 1, at a charge of $1.99 per minute, the system will ask you to enter the 4 digit ad number at the end of the print ad. Press 1 to respond, press 2 to go on to the next ad.

Q: How do I cancel or renew an ad and ask any questions?
A: Call customer service at 1-800-647-3782.

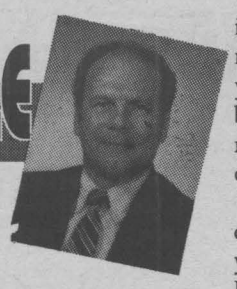
FROM THE BIBLE



By Bob Burgess, Pastor
New Life Covenant Church
(A Spirit-Filled New Testament Church)

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

(Acts 16:31)

Although today's text is familiar, someone reading it might ask, "What does it mean to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ?" An illustration may help answer this question. Suppose you are deathly sick and call for a doctor. After a thorough examination, he says you've contracted a fatal disease. But he also tells you medical science has discovered a cure. You may be convinced that he is the best physician available, that his diagnosis is accurate, and that the medication he prescribes is your only hope. But you must take the medicine. If you just lie there and claim to believe that it will work but refuse the remedy, you will die!

So it is with God's offer of salvation. You may say you're sure that the story of Jesus is true, but if you don't reach out the hand of faith you'll be lost for all eternity. You must personally receive the only remedy for your sins - the Lord Jesus Christ.

An elderly man in the hospital told a visitor how he chose his new doctor. He said "When I suddenly became ill, I was taken to the emergency room. A physician I had never seen examined me, I could tell that he really knew his business. I had so much confidence in him that I said, "I'll let your be my doctor". The old gentleman was saying in effect, "Because I believe in you, I'm putting my case in your hands. I entrust my life to you."

That's how we receive salvation! Hearing the Gospel message and being introduced to the Lord Jesus, we say, "I'll let you be my Saviour!"

Food For Thought:

Man's limitless potential points up God's limitless power.

As always, remember God loves you! He really, really does.

Buffy Sainte-Marie - Up Where She Belongs!!

Buffy Sainte-Marie is a truly remarkable woman whose list of accomplishments is certainly awe-inspiring. She is perhaps best known as a singer-song-writer; her tremulous voice is instantly recognizable, and many of her songs - "Until It's Time For Your To Go", "Universal Soldier", "Country Girl" and "Piney Wood Hills" to name a few - have been recorded by artists all over the world. But that's just the tip of the iceberg.

Born to Cree Indian parents on the Piapot Reserve in Saskatchewan, Buffy Sainte-Marie was orphaned when she was only a few months old. Her adoptive parents moved her to Massachusetts. Buffy began her career as a folksinger while attending the University of Massachusetts, where she earned degrees in Oriental Philosophy and teaching, as well as a Ph.D. in Fine Arts.

In 1964 she released her debut album and in '65 appeared at New York's Carnegie Hall, the Newport Folk Festival and the Royal Albert Hall in London. Buffy went on to release 14 albums, and in 1982 won an Oscar for the song from "An Officer And A Gentleman", "Love Lift Us Up Where We Belong". Buffy Sainte-Marie is the first Canadian and the first native person to receive such an honour.

Then Buffy stepped out of the spotlight for several years to raise her son, Dakota Wolfchild. Every teenager today will remember Buffy and Dakota from their appearances on "Sesame Street", where Buffy sang about native peoples' ways. "Now, that little boy is 19 and a music student," she laughs. "You look up one day and realize your son has a moustache and a Buick!"

And so, Buffy's back! She is currently in Canada for several speaking engagements, a limited number of concerts, and to finish up a video with Red Bull in support of her latest CD, scheduled for release in January 1996. Buffy Sainte-Marie will perform at Cornwall's Aultsville Theatre on Tuesday, October 24 at 8 pm, with reserved seating tickets available from Music World in Cornwall Square.

Buffy is bubbling over with enthusiasm about the relationship between her computer technology and art. She spoke to us from her Toronto hotel. "We are all multi-talented as children ... before we find out in Grade 2 that our ideas are "wrong". With the computer, it's feasible for people to reflect their ideas in different ways. The mind of the artist is finally able to be accurately portrayed."

Using her Macintosh computer, Buffy creates most of her own back-up material ... "except the bass" she hastens to add. "I'm a terr-r-r-ible bass player." And she brings these tapes to her live performances, as well as an accompanist - on this tour, Neil Chapman plays bass and guitar. Buffy is also a teacher of digital art (or electronic painting) as Artist in Residence at the Institute for American Indian Arts in Santa Fe; and as Adjunct Professor of Fine Arts at Regina's Saskatchewan Indian Federated College. Throughout Europe, Japan and North America, she is critically and publicly acclaimed for her digital art exhibits.

Buffy continues to be actively involved with the development of better conditions on Native reserves and reservations across North America: for example, in 1968 she founded the Nihewan Foundation for American Indian education, whose Cradleboard Teaching Project presently facilitates communication among thousands of First Nations children through the use of computer networking. Buffy's work with developing Native artists has grown dramatically since her contribution towards a new category of recognition for indigenous music and artists at the Juno Awards. Small wonder that Buffy Sainte-Mari was inducted into the Juno Hall of Fame this past March: it's a fitting tribute to her immense contribution to the music of Canada.

HOROSCOPES

October 22 - 28

Aries – March 21/April 20
A strange turn of events this week will make you believe in fate — even if you're the most cynical Arian. A health concern should be addressed before it becomes a real problem — no matter how minor it seems. The old saying "prevention is the best medicine" applies.

Taurus – April 21/May 21
A misunderstanding in the workplace could put a strain on a professional relationship. Clear things up before it's too late. A yen for excitement will be satisfied this weekend — especially if you pursue it. A Libran of the opposite sex could lead you to a golden opportunity.

Gemini – May 22/June 21
Not a good time for taking risks or gambling of any kind. This is a week for sticking with sure things. Use diplomacy when dealing with those who are hot tempered — especially Scorpions and Arians. A Leo will play an instrumental role towards the end of this week.

Cancer – June 22/July 22
Frustrations in the workplace will only get worse if you give in to them. Fight back and you will come out on top. A lucky break on Wednesday could lead you to unexpected income. Use that extra cash to treat a loved one to a special time. A younger family member may need your help.

Leo – July 23/August 23
A situation at home that doesn't seem right probably isn't. Look into it instead of overlooking it. Go the extra mile if you're working on an important project. Hard work now pays off later on. A change in weekend plans gives you the quiet time you've been craving.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22
Watch what you say to anyone you're introduced to this week. You can't assume that newcomers will understand your cutting sense of humor. Remember, first impressions are often lasting ones. A surprise phone call from an old friend could set the stage for a carefree weekend.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23
Single Librans may be in for a disappointment this week. Be on your guard. Don't wear your heart on your sleeve, especially if you're falling for a Capricorn. On the work front, there may be some good news. However, don't divulge any confidential information to coworkers — no matter who it is!

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22
A new project may seem overwhelming at first, but will turn out to be quite enjoyable. Overreacting to a difficult domestic situation will only make matters worse. Be patient when you are handling sensitive issues with those you love. Keep tabs on valuables this weekend.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec21
Innovative thinking will be essential if you want to get out of a bind early this week. Go beyond "business as usual" and you'll succeed in a big way. If you are a parent, this will be an extra-special week. Quality time together will be just what you need to lift your spirits.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan20
An innocent discussion with a friend could get out of hand and lead to a full-blown fight. Before this happens, you'd be better off changing the topic. Remember, everyone's entitled to their own opinion. At work, a new approach to an old problem will prove effective.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18
A strained relationship will weigh heavily on your mind. You may find that time heals all wounds in this sticky situation. A friend's surprise visit will lift your spirits this weekend. Sharing your problems with a good friend will help you see things in a different way.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20
Look before you leap when it comes to financial investments. Something that seems too good to be true probably is. Health-related concerns will prove to be unwarranted. A flirtatious episode in the workplace could put you in an unfavorable light. Resist that type of temptation.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
The next 12 months:
A year of change. A situation that's been stable for some time will finally come to an end. This will happen around December. But with one door closed, another will open, and you'll have something very exciting to look forward to in the coming year. Someone from your past will re-enter your life this year and you could form a much closer and more meaningful relationship. You'll see how time brings some closer and makes others drift apart. This coming spring will be a very lucky time for you. This is the time to take risks and make changes. Fitness will be more of a concern than before.

Women in Business

A Monthly Review of Entrepreneurial Women in Cornwall and Area

VICTORIAN and LACE

In the business world, one has to do her homework before even opening the doors. But a pair of Cornwall women have found that even after doing their homework, a year in business continues to be a growing experience.

Gail Moise and Rita St. Pierre are partners in owning and operating Victorian and Lace Lingerie at 100 Pitt Street at the corner of First. They are celebrating with an "Anniversary Tax Free Sale" during the week of October 23 to October 28. The two women have a total of 20 years of retail experience between them. "We were both working at a women's clothing store and found that a lot of people, including men, were looking for good quality lingerie", Gail says. That caused her and Rita to consider the options and the pair felt that a good, upscale lingerie shop would fill a definite need in the Cornwall and area market.

Both women did their homework, such as traffic and pedestrian surveys finding out the numbers of potential customers in the market, and even a telephone survey, to make sure their feelings were on target.

Then they had to get some financial help. Rita says both women put some of their own money into the operation, but money had to be found from other sources, so they looked to the Cornwall Business Self-Help Office and Mark Kulick for advice. Then there was the matter of converting the store into the facility it is today. The husbands, families and friends of the two women helped with a lot of the work to completely renovate the premises. The official grand opening finally came in September 1994.

Gail says owning your own business is a lot different than being an employee. "You are the one who makes the decisions about which brands to carry, and how to market them."

"There are as many hours spent in decision making and in bookwork as in helping your customers," says Rita. But the pressure is offset by the people of Cornwall and area who are the friendliest she has met.

"We feel there is a demand for good quality products and we offer personal service; there is always one of us in the store," says Gail.

Both women are proud of the lines offered in their store. Bras and panties are supplied by Warner's and Grenier. Lingerie lines include French Maid, Vanessa and Diamond Tea, which are exclusive to Victorian and Lace in Cornwall.

In store now is a full line of flannelette, cuddle satin and plaids along with satins and lace, and slippers to match.

But why lingerie?

"I love lingerie with high collars, lace and satin," Gail replies. "It was something that I wanted to do and Rita agreed it would be a good idea."

The store also carries some side specialty products, such as Goat Milk Soap, for people who want young-looking skin, or for those who may suffer from psoriasis or exzema. It is an all-natural, bio-degradable product which completes a hot bath.

Then there is the name of the store. Victorian and Lace Lingerie comes from Gail's family - her mother's name is Vesta Victoria.

"It has all lived up to our expectations so far," Rita says. "It's nice to be your own boss and be responsible for your own decisions. You know that what you put into the business is exactly what you will get out of it."

But now she says she and Gail want to give something back to their customers, in the form of a draw which will be taking place each day during the week of October 23 to October 28. Clip the ad on this page to receive your "Tax Free" purchase and enter our daily draw.

And if you prefer a private viewing of their new merchandise, that can be arranged by calling the store and talking to either Gail or Rita for an appointment.

"We want to thank everyone who has helped make our first year in business such a success," Rita says. Gail adds, "We have learned that in business you have to be prepared to give a lot, but you get a lot back in return."

BUFFY will be in town this Tuesday, October 24th. That's Buffy Sainte-Marie and her concert is at 8 pm at Aultsville Theatre. You may still be lucky enough to call and reserve a seat at 937-0424. Also appearing will be songwriter-musician James Keelaghan. The concert is co-sponsored by CKON 97.3 FM and Shantero Productions.

If the hustle of October is getting to you and you are looking for a break ... try some comedy. The opening of the Glen's production of NUNSENSE begins on October 26th and runs until November 4th at the Glen Building at the rear of the Si Miller Arena. A great cast has been assembled for this cabaret style comedy stage show. That group includes Sue Jesmer, Jane McLaren, Linda Villeneuve and Angela Youngs. Mary Sanborn is the Director, with Producer Andy Trasuk. Get tickets now at the Glen box office ...and get the habit. Tel: 937-GLEN.

Planning on creating and doning some "weird" costume this coming weekend? Here's where you can show it off and mebbe even win a prize. It's the HALLOWEEN DANCE at the Masonic Hall on Second Street East on Saturday, October 28th. There will be prizes and surprises at this event, including some "Monster Bites" at midnight. Count Drac will be there, as will some clowns, ugly and scary creatures, and many masked and merry Gals & Ghouls. Appropriately this dark night affair will feature the music of WILLIE AFTER DARK and his many moods in danceable and pranceable music. Be part of the fun and let's see your imaginative costumes. Call 933-1983 for tickets and information.

This weekend, October 21st to be exact, will feature THE ROBERT MINDEN ENSEMBLE at Aultsville Theatre. This concert offers a unique experience. Robert Minden who studied to be a concert pianist, and his family , perform on a surprising collection of acoustic items and instruments. They make music with vacuum cleaner hoses, saws, conch shells, jugs, bowls and duck callers. They also play trumpet, flute and french horn. The Ensemble is best described as a four-member environmental chamber orchestra.

This is also the last chance to catch a new comedy play by Lorne Elliot called FLOP SWEAT. It plays until Sunday, October 22nd at Upper Canada Playhouse in Morrisburg.

They are getting ready at the Dew Drop Inn at Bonville for a fun-filled and spooky night to celebrate Halloween. The band ALMOST COUNTRY will be there starting at 9 pm and there will be prizes for the best costume.

The PORTO BELLO RESTAURANT is continuing with the Singles Dine and Dance series with a special Halloween Dance. The event is on Saturday, October 28th with a great meal choice preceding the dancing.

LAKESIDE INN at Ingleside is holding a Halloween bash on October 28th. Live music by ILLEGAL LIMIT will begin at 9 pm and will be followed by some spooky specials on October 31st.

Wanna enjoy a nice relaxful jaunt in the countryside? On Sunday, October 22nd and on the 29th you can walk along and kick the leaves during the pumpkin carving days at SAND ROAD SUGAR CAMP, Pancake House and Gift Shop in Moose Creek. Pumpkins are on sale for a loonie, and there will be a full breakfast/ brunch available from 10 am - 3 pm.

Until next week, G'day and G'night.
