FEBRUARY 2, 1997 VOLUME 11, ISSUE 5 SERVING CORNWALL AND AREA

Dave Ezard Memorial Walk For Liver Foundation

Public and corporate response to the first annual Dave Ezard Memorial Walk for liver disease research has been fantastic, a testimonial to this community's high regard and esteem for the former Royals hockey star.

The walk under the patronage of the Honourable Ed Lumley and Mrs. Pat Lumley and with the support of the Ezard family is being held in the concourse of the Ed Lumley Arena at the Cornwall Civic Complex on Sunday, March 16, 1997 and will feature various celebrities who will lead hourly walks from 10:00 am to 1:00 pm. Participants may walk around the concourse for as little or as long as they wish.

A family fun day is being planned by the Cornwall Chapter of the Canadian Liver Foundation with the participation of Slap Shot, the Cornwall Colts mascot, Sparky from the Cornwall Fire Department and a special appearance by Big Blue, the Cornwall Royals mascot. A supervised play area will be available for children aged two to six while their parents are participating in the walk. Refreshments will also be provided to the walkers.

Some lucky person will win air fare for two to any Air Canada destination in North America. Every $25 in pledges turned in will give the participants a chance to win this grand prize.

The male and female with the largest amount of pledges will each win a weekend in Ottawa which will include a two night stay at the Capital Hill Hotel and Suites plus two Gold Circle tickets for the Senators-Canadiens hockey game of March 29, 1997.

All participants will have a chance to win one of many fabulous prizes that are being donated by the generous business community and hockey enthusiasts.

All participants with $50 or more in pledges will receive a free Dave Ezard Memorial T-Shirt.

Pledge sheets may be obtained at all McDonald Family Restaurants and branches of the Bank of Montreal in Cornwall and in many industries and work places in the city as well as the Canadian Liver Foundation office at 216 Montreal Road, between 10:00 am and 4:00 pm Monday to Friday. In places of employment, posters on staff bulletin boards will indicate the contact person from whom pledge sheets can be obtained or anyone may call the CLF office at 938-1781 for more information.

Some interesting facts:

1) Liver disease is the fourth leading cause of death by disease in Canada.

2) There are over 100 diseases of the liver, only one of which is directly related to alcohol.

3) Hepatitis B is 100 times more contagious than the HIV virus, both sexually transmittable diseases.

4) One in 12 Canadians will be affected by a liver or a biliary tract disease in their lifetime.

HELLO ... IS THERE ANYONE OUT THERE?

We want to remind everyone out there that this is your public forum ... we need to hear from you, so mail, fax or drop off your little anecdote or gossip to

So long Fred ... good luck in the 'Windy City' ... your wit and sense of humour will be missed by all. Maybe the station will host a "Last Hurrah" talk show where the Fred Pletsch listeners can call in and get all the scoops and secrets you have collected over the past fourteen years. If not, see ya later!!

Where's the Sheriff with all these bank robberies going on ... I thought we just opened community police store fronts throughout the town.

Caller wishes to express her concern in regards to a computer disk with the title "AOL" '50 hours of free internet time' that was received in the mail. Seems a friend of hers used the disk for 15 hours and was charged $217.00. Also, when you call the 1-800 telephone number, you are charged. It is not a "free" call. Please beware of this - it may save you a headache!

Just a reminder that a new regulation that goes into effect March 1st, 1997, is that you will require a passport to get in and out of the Dominican Republic.

If the woman who works in a financial institution knew that hardly anyone carries $1,000. bills, why didn't she take smaller bills or use her Interac instead of causing such a big fuss over a store's right to refuse her $1,000. bill. In today's society many more small independent businesses will turn away such bills because of counterfeiting and not all stores can afford machines to check currency.

Would the person who informed Scuttlebutt about the book entitled "Classroom Clangers" be in a position to tell me where I could obtain this book or would they be able to lend me the book? Your help would be greatly appreciated.

We might want to use some of the material in our May 24th show 1997, entitled "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Rumour has it that BARRY LAFRAMBOISE of Munro Avenue will be celebrating another birthday soon ... his 71st!! Good luck and best wishes for the coming year Barry.

Helpful hints: Scented packages: Use potpourri (instead of styrofoam peanuts) when mailing something fragile. The recipient will enjoy the aroma and be able to reuse it.

Caller wonders when the City Traffic Department will install traffic lights at the corner of Hwy. 138 and Cornwall Centre Road. During peak hours, it is almost impossible to make a left turn from Hwy. 138 onto Cornwall Centre Road. They should also consider making a right hand lane, so traffic doesn't back up.

Hello, is anyone out there? I've mentioned this a few times already. I'm talking to you guys, you know, the ones that refuse to remove their baseball caps at the dinner table in the restaurants. You're not at a baseball game! Don't you know that a real gentleman removes his hat before sitting down to eat.

Ever notice how many people bring shopping carts to their car to unload parcels and groceries and leave the carts in the parking lot instead of bringing them back to the store or in the shopping cart shelters. Don't they realize how expensive it is to replace these carts if they are damaged. The stores are nice enough to let us take the carts out to our cars, we should be nice enough to return them to the proper place. A little exercise never hurt anyone!

Caller wishes to express a sincere thank you to Constable DeGray for his assistance on January 27th at 1:00 a.m. Seems the caller had a flat tire in front of the Esso Station on Marleau Avenue and Constable DeGray offered to help and see if things were fine. A sincere thank-you!!

Pet Peeve of the week: No price tags on items I want to purchase and no salesperson available to find out for me.

A young mother said that after putting her two children to bed one night, she changed into a droopy blouse and an old pair of slacks and proceeded to wash her hair.

While shampooing her hair, she could hear the children growing wilder and noisier. Finishing as hurriedly as possible, she wrapped a large towel around her head, stormed into their room and put them back to bed with a stern warning to stay there.

As she left, her two-year old said in a trembling voice to his sister, "Who was that?"

LABEL US FRIENDS

Two good friends were on their way back from a day of golf when they decided to stop and pick up a few six packs. Back on the highway they started to enjoy their "travellers" and after four or five apiece, the driver spotted a provincial police cruiser following fairly closely. Slyly he said to his buddy "Quick, open the cooler and get two loose beer labels floating in the water".

Obediently, the action was swift, and the two pasted the beer labels on their foreheads, Sure enough, the police pulled them over, looked at them with a frown and said, "you old boys wouldn't be drinking alcohol in a moving vehicle would you. The driver politely replied, "Oh, no officer, we're on the patch!"

T.R. Leger Offers New Program

The T.R. Leger School in cooperation with CCVS is offering adults in the community an opportunity to learn the basics about car care maintenance in a new evening course beginning the week of February 10th. The course will give adults a hands or opportunity to raise the hoods of their own cars and diagnose routine maintenance problems. Topics in the course will include: tune-up, cooling system, brakes, electrical systems, wheel balancing and alignment, shocks and struts and much more. Students in the course will be able to bring their cars into the shop and work on them as part of a small group. Another purpose of the course is to help educate adults to learn more about their vehicle, eliminate needless maintenance and save money. No experience is required, only a $25 consumable fee. For information call the school at 937-0120.

It's Red Nose Day

In the middle of the snow, wind, cold and rain, M&M Meat Shops is out to make you smile with Red Nose Day. On Monday, February 3, 1997 all the employees at M&M Meat Shops across Canada will sport red clown noses solely to make people laugh. So put away that grinch frown and crack a smile instead. This is the sixth year for the Red Nose Day and president and founder of M&M, Mac Voisin says that "people get grouchy in February and tired of the winters cold. Everyone needs a good laugh at this time of year. You can't help but crack a smile at the silly people behind our counters. And that's what it's for: good fun and good cheer."

Busing To Be Restructured

The S.D.& G. Public School Board has decided to restructure their busing policy following cut backs and a lack of funds. Beginning in September 1997 children in Jr. Kindergarten to Grade 3 must live more than 0.8 km from the school to qualify for busing, while the children in Grades 4 to O.A.C. must live 1.6 km from the school to qualify. The Board feels this will eliminate unnecessary busing for some students capable of walking to school, therefore saving taxpayers dollars. The Board will notify all parents of the new procedures in a letter to be sent out before the next school year.

Another Bank Robbery

The Bank of Montreal at 159 Pitt Street was the victim of a robbery last week. A lone unmasked man walked into the bank and demanded cash from a teller. After being handed an undisclosed amount of money, he left and headed towards the Cornwall Square parking lot. This is the second bank robbery for the local Bank of Montreal in three weeks. On January 9th, the branch at Pitt and Fourteenth Streets was robbed by two men.

Cleary Demands Government Open Parks

CLEARY

MPP John Cleary tables a Resolution in the Legislature recently demanding that the government finalize deals to re-open Charlottenburgh and Raisin River Parks for the upcoming camping season.

Cleary said "Refusing to have the parks run by the government and also refusing to allow a partner to take them over, the Government of Ontario is knowingly and intentionally preventing job creation in Eastern Ontario."

He added "Charlottenburgh Park has already lost 6 years and Raisin River has lost 3 years of tourists, park revenues, summer jobs and spin-off economic activity for local businesses. The blame for these years of dormancy hangs on the government."

The government closed five parks in 1990 and another two in 1993, tossing approximately 60 people out of work. Parks closed included Charlottenburgh, Grenville, Morrison/Nairne, Farran, Brown's Bay, Adolphustown and Raisin River.

Since then, deals have been signed allowing partners to run some of the parks. For example, Farran Park has been licensed to Osnabruck Township, Grenville Park is being operated by an independent individual and Adolphustown has been revived by a branch of the United Empire Loyalists.

"Charlottenburgh and Raisin River remain closed, though. Unless action is taken by the government, unless this resolution is passed, another camping season may come and go without Eastern Ontario having the benefit of these parks open," said Cleary.

"There is no good reason why the parks should remain closed! We have a government supposedly in favour of partnerships, a line-up of potential investors, though that may be shrinking due to government stalling, and we have the support of local unions. And perhaps most importantly, we have people needing the jobs that stand to be created."

"There isn't a hindering block anywhere, except the government's go-ahead. The potential for jobs and tourism is going to waste because of dithering. Surely one of the proposals sitting on Tourism Minister Bill Saunderson's desk must meet the government's criteria."

"Keeping the parks closed makes no sense, especially since leasing them out wouldn't cost the government a dime and may even prove a source of revenue. Establishing a partnership is better than allowing them to stagnate and fall into further disrepair, while tossing opportunities for tourism and jobs out the window."

After an hour long debate by all three parties, the Speaker of the House declared Mr. Cleary's resolution as "carried".

Cleary enthused, "My resolution received the support of all three parties, so that should put extra pressure on Minister Saunderson to sign deals to open the parks for this summer."

PAPE'S TIP: "Your RRSP's performance makes a big difference in your retirement lifestyle."

How to be an RRSP winner

Unfortunately, most RRSPs don't perform at anything like their maximum potential, which means they won't produce as much retirement income as they should. Here are tips to help your plan work at top efficiency.

10 WINNING RRSP TIPS

1. Know what you're getting. There are several types of RRSPs. Get a plan that fits your needs.
2. Make the maximum possible contribution. The more money you put into your plan, the more tax-sheltered growth you'll enjoy over the years.
3. Choose your investments wisely. Give some careful thought to the securities you want to put into it.
4. Use asset mix principles. Ideally a blend of cash, fixed-income securities (e.g. bond funds) and growth securities (e.g. stocks or equity mutual funds).
5. Be aware of risk. Don't take chances with your retirement money. Choose relatively low-risk securities for your plan.
6. Get help. If you've never done any investing before, read some books and/or get professional advice.
7. Watch your plan. Review your statements when they come in. See how your investments are performing. Decide if it's time to make some changes.
8. Take nothing for granted. Be sure there aren't any reporting mistakes in the statements. Assets have been known to mysteriously disappear.
9. Set up a spousal plan. If your spouse has the lower income, reduce your combined retirement tax bill by shifting some income through a spousal RRSP.
10. Get started. If you've been putting off opening an RRSP, stop making excuses. Do it now.

Once again, Ontario students have walked off with most of the top scores in Canada's Uniform Final Examination, the qualifying exam for becoming a chartered accountant. Two of the three Canadian medalists - gold and bronze - were from Ontario and altogether 10 of Ontario's best and brightest finished up in Canada's top 20.

Grant Kernaghan, an auditor with Deloitte & Touche in Toronto, receives not only the gold medal from the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, but also one of two Governor General's Gold Medals from the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and a cash prize, for having the highest UFE score in Canada this year.

Helena Chu, with Deloitte & Touche in Mississauga, is Ontario's silver medalist and has also won the national bronze medal. Suzanne Edney, with Ernst & Young in Toronto, wins Ontario bronze and has placed fifth in the country. All three - and seven others who made the Canadian honour roll this year - have also won the opportunity to do just about anything they might want do in business, industry, government, education and the arts. The CA designation, they say, is that versatile.

Although united in their success, the 10 top CA students are a varied group. Besides diverse family and ethnic backgrounds, they have wide-ranging extracurricular interests, ranging from indoor rock climbing, to collecting old LPs, to horseback riding, to sewing. One has a degree in marketing, another was a model before she entered university. But they also share some common characteristics. Seven graduated from the University of Waterloo, with five having Master of Accounting degrees from Waterloo's School of Accountancy. And all 10 share a keen drive to succeed.

The students spent up to a year preparing for the UFE, which is very different from other professional exams. This national, four day examination tests professional judgement as well as technical knowledge, ethics and the ability to communicate. "It's a tough exam, but it really tests your abilities to work in the profession," says Wendy Arteaga, with Doane Raymond in Markham who was 5th in Ontario and 12th in the country.

In return for their outstanding results, Ontario's best and brightest are now being offered outstanding career opportunities. Greg McIntosh, with KPMG in Toronto, says his firm has raised the possibility of an international transfer. He scored the 4th highest mark in Ontario and placed 10th in Canada. "They also told me that whatever I want to do and wherever I want to go, they would do their best to facilitate it."

Ajay Junnarkar, tied for 7th spot in Ontario and 14th in Canada, has just landed a job with Lindquist Avey Macdonald Baskerville & Company, arguably Canada's premier forensic accounting firm. Already he's done a little financial sleuthing and is inspired by the breadth of skills and knowledge found within the firm. "These diverse backgrounds give you different perspectives than just accounting," he says.

"There are lots of opportunities and jobs available to CA's. The CA opens a lot of doors," explains Suzanne Edney, who chose the profession for precisely that reason.

M.P. Bob Kilger Supports Work Program

KILGER

Recently, Marcel Massé, the Minister responsible for Infrastructure, sent a letter to the provinces and territories offering to extend the Canada Infrastructure Works (CIW) program for another year. The provinces are now considering the offer.

"The federal government made an offer so that we could go ahead with projects this year. If the province agrees, we will be able to have work underway for the 1997 construction season," said Bob Kilger, M.P. Stormont-Dundas.

The federal government's offer adds $425 million to the $175 million to be spent to support additional infrastructure projects in the 1997 construction season. Under this tri-partite program, matching contributions by the provinces and municipalities would mean the federal offer could create infrastructure investments of about $1.8 billion across Canada in 1997.

The proposal could support about 2,500 projects across the country and create between 15,000 and 20,000 jobs in the still fragile construction sector and construction-related industries.

"The CIW program is an excellent initiative, creating jobs and renewing our infrastructure. This partnership between the three levels of government has brought long-lasting public benefits to our community." The current program brought $22,206,200 of federal funding to Stormont-Dundas riding and created 311.9 local jobs," added Mr. Kilger.

Start Your RRSP Contribution Catch Up Plan Today

Toronto Dominion Bank

By encouraging most Canadians to deduct up to 18% of their annual earned income from taxable income and permitting this contribution eligibility to be carried forward to future tax years, the government of Canada is stressing the importance of retirement savings. Population models project that this level of savings is the minimum level needed to provide a secure comfortable income in retirement. Your personal savings programs must start early in life if you hope to fulfill all of your expectations realistically.

The maximum RRSP potential contribution eligibility now carried forward by an individual taxpayer based on "earned income" has already reached $93,500 in 1997. Under the regulations currently proposed, this amount will reach a substantial individual maximum of $120,500 at the beginning of 1999.

Even if you don't earn a very large income, with the majority of Canadians you will experience great difficulty trying to make up accumulated RRSP contributions. That could be over your full year's income if you defer your RRSP contributions for several years. Remember, an important part of each year's income need not be taxable. To catch up you will have to find an awful lot of money in your income after all of your living expenses have been paid. And don't forget, each future year in which you receive qualifying "earned income" will add to your "stored" RRSP contribution eligibility. Don't let contributing get too difficult. Your contribution eligibility is an immensely valuable resource ... much too valuable to ignore. Remember too, every day delayed undermines the benefits of having the money compound tax sheltered. Time is a very powerful component in the growth of your savings ... and there is simply no way to recoup the value of lost time. Look at your income and expenditure today and decide to get an affordable savings program underway.

Financial institutions are very willing to make RRSP loans at preferred rates. Let's look at $3,000 repayable over one year.

If you are single and your taxable income for 1996 exceeds $33,000, over $3,000 of your income will be taxed at more than 40%. If you make a deductible RRSP contribution of $3,000 your tax will be reduced by over $1,200. If you have borrowed $3,000 and use your tax refund to pay down your loan, that leaves a net loan of less than $1,800. Regular loan payments of about $160 per month will be enough to pay off your RRSP debt within one year.

BCE Inc.
Free Cashflow Calling

BCE Inc.'s share price has performed well over the past six months, as investors embraced a long awaited earnings and cashflow recovery at BCE's principal asset, Bell Canada. Solid performance at BCE's non-regulated assets such as Northern Telecom and BCE Mobile as well as continued growth at Bell Canada International have also contributed to BCE's revival. With earnings forecasted to increase annually by almost 30% over the next three years, an attractive valuation and a safe dividend yield of slightly more than 4%, we believe that BCE Inc. represents an excellent core portfolio position for investors looking for high current income and long-term growth with modest levels of risk.

BCE's diverse organizational structure is best viewed according to the following five asset categories: Bell Canada, Northern Telecom, BCE Mobile Communications, Other Canadian Telecom and Bell Canada International.

Bell Canada is Canada's largest wireline telephone company that serves over 10 million subscribers in the two most populous provinces, Ontario and Quebec. Northern Telecom, 51% owned by BCE Inc., is the world's sixth largest manufacturer of wireline and wireless telecommunications equipment. BCE Mobile Communications, 65% owned by BCE Inc., provides wireless services such as cellular and paging throughout most of Ontario and Quebec. BCE's investments in Other Canadian Telecom consists primarily of its interests in the eastern Canadian telephone companies such as Bruncor and Maritime Telegraph & Telephone as well as its 24% interest in Teleglobe, Canada's international traffic carrier. Finally, Bell Canada International holds BCE's overseas telecom investments in mature markets such as the United States, United Kingdom and emerging countries such as Colommbia, China, India and Brazil.

During the previous three years, long distance market share losses and tariff reductions led to a deterioration of Bell Canada's performance as evidenced by its 1995 ROE of 6.7%. Over the next few years, we believe that there is reason for optimism. Local rate increases of $2 per month per residential line in each of 1996 and 1997, a decline in the rate of long distance market share loss and a $1 billion cost reduction program should generate above average earnings growth. This should cause Bell Canada's net earnings to rise by almost 28% per annum from $502 million in 1995 to $1.04 billion in 1998 and increase the firm's ROE from 6.7% to 14% in 1998. Finally, Bell's free cashflow is expected to increase from $267 million in 1995 to +$900 million in calendar 1998.

BCE's non-regulated assets, pirncipally Northern Telecom and BCE Mobile, represent about 63% of BCE's market capitalization and have been benefiting from the global trend towards deregulation. Northern telecom is experiencing strong operating results as it continues to expand its international and wireless businesses. By the year 2000, management's goal is to derive 25% of its revenues from wireless and enterprise networks and 50% of its total revenues from non-North American sources. BCE Mobile also continues to generate solid operating results. With ongoing cost reductions and solid subscriber growth over the next few years, we forecast that BCE Mobile's cashflow will increase by 33% per annum between now and 1998 and that it will be virtually debt-free by the year 2000. Overall, our positive forecasts for both Northern Telecom and BCE Mobile augur well for the future performance of BCE Inc.

Since 1994, BCE's average Net Asset Value (NAV) has widened from 20% to 25% due to investor concern over long distance competition and the impact of pricing reductions on Bell Canada's financial performance. Over the next year, we believe that the following two catalysts will narrow the NAV discount, returning it to the 20% range:

1) Bell Canada's financial performance is in the middle of a major sustainable recovery which will ultimately restore investor confidence. As noted above, between now and the end of 1998, we are forecasting that both Bell's net earnings and free cashflow will experience dramatic growth.

2) As a result of a recently announced restructuring of its UK based telecommunication assets, BCE will convert its 20% equity interest in Mercury Communications (a private asset) into a publicly quoted investment valued at $1.3 billion or $4.10 per BCE share. BCE will receive a combination of $330 million cash and 14.2% in a publicly-listed company, Cable & Wireless Communication (planned NYSE and London listing in April 1997).

Despite the recent share price improvement, we believe that BCE continues to offer excellent value. First BCE's dividend yield of roughly 4% equates to about 5.5% interest equivalent yield which is attractive in the current interest rate environment. Second, the Company's earnings are forecast to increase by almost 30% per annum to $4.85 by 1998. Third, Bell Canada is just starting to reap the benefits of its restructuring and the implied value of Bell Canada (derived by deducting all non-wireline assets from BCE's market capitalization) is only 3.1x1997 debt-adjusted cashflow, making Bell Canada one of the cheapest wireline telcos worldwide. Finally, with forecast earnings growth at both BCE's non-regulated and international assets, we believe that BCE is inexpensively priced and represents a prudent core investment for long-term investors seeking steady growth in earnings and a high level of current income.

During the next 12 months, the CRTC will establish the terms for introducing local competition as well as the telephone companies' tariff-setting formula for 1998 and beyond. While these factors will have a direct impact upon Bell Canada, the federal Cabinet has instructed the regulator to ensure its future decisions are in the interest of the "long term health of the telecommunications industry". As a result, we believe forthcoming decisions will promote competition but in a balanced manner.

Bell Canada is currently implementing a major business transformation program aimed at cost reduction, service improvement and new revenue generation. The success of this program is an integral component in the Company's financial recovery. Thus far, performance has been in line with expectations.

We believe that BCE Inc., with its attractive valuation, high dividend yield and potential for double digit cashflow growth over the next few years, is an excellent investment for clients who require high current income and long term growth while accepting only modest levels of risk. Our one and three year target for the shares are $75 and $100, respectively.

Where Are Those NDP Principles?

PERSPECTIVE

By Bob Roth
SEAWAY NEWS

It looks like one flew over the cuckoo's nest again.

Or is it INTO the cuckoo's nest? Depends on your perspective, I guess.

One thing for sure, when Windsor MPP Dave Cook jumped across the floor last week to work for the Harris government, he had to leave a lot of NDP ideological tail feathers behind.

His party is understandably shaken.

What ever happened to the Tommy Douglas types - people you couldn't shift from their principles with a crowbar or a drum of grease. These days, it seems, you can't tell the good guys from the bad guys.

Accused by his cohorts of selling out to the enemy, Cooke last week accepted an appointment with the Harris government. And not just any appointment. He is resigning his Windsor-Riverside seat to oversee the Conservative plan to amalgamate Ontario's school boards.

The NDP is on record as fundamentally opposing the Harris approach.

Is it possible he has made a mammoth ideological change of faith after 20 years of representing his constituents as a New Democrat? Or, on the other hand, does the $80,000 to $90,000 salary he will receive in his new position become a factor? He only makes $78,000 as an MPP.

It was, of course, decent of the Ontario New Democratic Party to outfit Cooke for the job. He was the education minister in the former NDP government, so he will have no problem finding the place. Mind you, he'll have to throw out the old hymn book, but if the new pew is more comfortable, so what?

This is just the latest example of the party of principle deteriorating right before our very eyes.

During the Rae administration we faced a host of conflict-of-interest or related issues.

But one of the more bizarre admissions of falling from NDP grace came about a month ago when the former NDP MP for Sault Ste. Marie, Steve Butland, confessed on community cable television that he had "ripped off" the Canadian taxpayers during his term of office by taking expense money to which he says he was not entitled.

Butland, who is now the mayor of the Sault, said it made him feel "good" at first to take the money. But later he said he felt badly. However, he never felt quite badly enough to return the money. And on a later cable telecast, he made it clear he has absolutely no intention of returning the dough.

Mind you, it was only $52.

There was a time, however, when this would have been a matter of principle, not money, for a New Democrat. But today?

I fear things will be getting worse for the Canadian left before they get any better. The party has lost its vision. Perhaps the worst thing that could have happened to the NDP was getting elected in Ontario. As a party of conscience, it was able to achieve a great deal. As a party of power, it merely collapsed into disillusionment.

The latest stunts by MPP Dave Cooke and former MP Steve Butland do nothing to engender hope.

SEAWAY NEWS LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New Cornwall Library Sign is Ugly

Dear Editor:

The first word Bibliotheque sounds like "Bible of the Que". The second word Publique sounds like "Pub Like Que". The letters Que are used twice and in front of the English description of Cornwall Public Library.

The sign's designer has overtly and subtly used "Que" twice. The sign therefore could read "Que, Que, Cornwall Public Library". Since Ontario is our province, why not use "Ont, Ont, Cornwall Public Library" instead?

The Standard Freeholder on January 4, 1997 included a front page headline wherein new library sign stays because an autocratic board approves of the sign as is. Simply awful. Too many "Que's". An all English only sign should appear on Second Street reading Cornwall Public Library.

A Francophone sign would look okay on Sydney Street side. Sign changes implemented before February, 1997.

Conserving Tax Dollars Through Hospitals

Dear Editor:

I have been reading with real concern, articles about our two hospitals and the necessity to conserve valuable tax dollars for needed patient care as demanded by the government. Quite rightly so, we must conserve but not at the cost of freedom of choice or necessity.

Both hospitals have been operating as public hospitals and using government money. However, with a very real possibility of only one hospital being left - patients may not obtain some procedures they require. If a public hospital takes government money but will not allow some procedures or interferes with doctors assessments and procedures, we are left with the option of sending these patients out of town, at more cost. No one religion should impose their views on the people who must use their services as a public hospital. There are many other religious beliefs besides the one whose nuns run the Hotel Dieu. Make no mistake here, I admire the nuns and respect their beliefs, but please respect mine also. (I was taught by nuns in another area for four years). I should also note that we now have a large ethnic community of different religious beliefs and customs.

Should one board be imposed on the two hospitals will they be appointed or elected? If they are appointed - who picks them? If there are elections this could be of serious concern after seeing some B.C. hospitals loaded with people of one radical view or another causing horrendous in-fighting and dividing towns. A board must truly represent the whole community in a public hospital.

If we are to have one hospital - only one - then that hospital must allow all procedures medically indicated. This should be written in stone before the government imposes its will on any more communities. Any decision which permits otherwise would make me question the integrity and democratic will of that government in power and question the motives of all involved.

Yours Truly,
Jean Halliwell

Lynch Claims Credit For The Work of Others

Dear Editor:

On one point I must disagree with Ms. Sharon Villeneuve in her letter to the editor on Jan. 24/97. It is not the Enhancement Committee as a whole which claims credit for erecting the billboard, but Brian Lynch who tries to grab the attention to get another laurel on his head. In his reply to my letter on January 7/97, Mr. Brian Lynch tried to personally take credit for numerous achievements during his term of office as Mayor. It is regrettable that B. Lynch suffers on memory losses, otherwise he would remember that those laurels he claims after ten years, rightfully belong to Mr. Ed Lumley, Mr. Fern Guindon and Mr. Gerry Parisien. It was the initiative of Mr. Parisien who took the appropriate steps which came to fruition during Mr. Lynch's term. Mr. Ed Lumley and Mr. Fern Guindon took a bipartisan course at the political field for the benefit of the city. Among those was the Canadian Industrial Renewal Program also known as CIRP which helped arouse the interest of quite a few investors to locate their business in Cornwall, since their move into the city was enticed with conditional grants and last but not least, it was the separation "angst" after the 1986 Quebec referendum; it started an exodus of well to do individuals out of the Province of Quebec and into border towns and cities such as Cornwall. During those years three Kudos should go to the three aforementioned gentlemen among others. As for Brian Lynch, he was there at the right place at the right time, and being Brian he went along for the ride.

If I would be Brian Lynch, I would not dare to claim the city employees as partners remembering that under my "leadership" these so called partners had been locked out to force their hand in contract negotiations.

Oh yes, one more laurel to shoot down; it is the bicycle path. How can Mr. Brian Lynch without shame, claim credit for initiating the bicycle path extensions when as recently as six or seven months ago he had the nerve of voting against such extension on City Council.

It is without prejudice if I quote an old folklore that says: "To be a good politician you have to be a good liar."

P.S. If Mr. Lynch professes to have the community at heart, why doesn't he get off his ego trip and start to work and co-operate with the present mayor for the betterment of our city.

To be where little cable cars
Climb halfway to the stars ...
Famous song lyric

There is only one town in the world where you can truly savour those lyrics. That town is San Francisco, California. I made my first visit just a couple of weeks ago. And I brought back a ton of souvenirs, none of which I mentioned when I crossed the border into Canada.

No need to. The souvenirs were all in my head. I'd like to declare them now.

San Francisco is one of the newest old cities in the world. That's because they had to build it again from scratch just ninety years ago, after a devastating earthquake and fire reduced the town to little more than rubble and snuffed out 3,000 citizens. But San Francisco rose again. And it stands today a remarkable city, quite unlike any other metropolis I've ever seen.

For one thing it has Alcatraz, a menacing knob of rock and scrub that looms in the mist just a little over a mile from your cafe table on Fisherman's Wharf. Like Fisherman's Wharf, Alcatraz is just a tourist stop now, but in its day, it was one of the most famous and feared prisons on the continent. Just a mile from downtown San Francisco, but bone-chilling water, murderous tides and the threat of sharks kept the populations of the city and Rock from mingling.

Fisherman's Wharf? Niagara Falls without the waterworks. Fisherman's Wharf is gaudy and flashy and glitzy and trashy. Great place to go if your idea of traveling is shopping for dopey T-shirts and munching on foot long hot dogs of dubious ancestry.

My advice? Buy the T-shirts if you must, but pass on the red hots. There are so many great restaurants in San Francisco it would be a criminal offense worthy of incarceration in Alcatraz to waste any appetite on a lowly red hot.

And then there are the Cable Cars. They are tiny - about one-third the size of a city bus. They are old - antique, even. They rattle and they're drafty and they're slow and often so packed you can't find a space on the hard wooden benches that pass for seating.

But oh, they are magical. And at one time crucial for any kind of mass transportation in San Francisco.

It's the streets, you see. Imagine a series of towering lodgepole pines, all of different heights, growing in a field, say ten miles square. Imagine throwing a 20 square mile shower curtain over those poky trees. Now imagine taking a paint brush and painting black lines from one side of the shower curtain to the other, up peak and down valley, east to west and north to south.

Those black lines would be the streets of San Francisco. You might think you've seen steep hills in St. Johns, Montreal or Vancouver. No. You go to San Francisco to see steep hills. The hills are so steep that early horse and wagon combinations couldn't climb them safely.

Then an English inventor by the name of Andrew Hallidie came along. He invented a system of steel cables that ran under the city streets. The cables were guided by a system of grooved pulleys, so that they were constantly in motion. The way a cable car works is that the car operator activates a grip handle on board the car, which runs through a slot in the street and pinches the moving cable below. The cable car is then pulled along until the gripman releases the handle.

Cable car operation is a little more complicated than that, but not much. The beauty of the system is its simplicity. The cable care are - oh, Joy - uncomputerized. They have no engines to break down or hydraulic systems to go AWOL. They are really like big fishing lures being hauled through the streets on a large wire cable fishing line. They troll for passengers. And the passengers bite with enthusiasm. Cable cars started hauling San Franciscans up and down the hills of their hometown a century and a quarter ago, and the same cars are doing the same job today.

Oh, the Progress-At-Any-Pricers tried to get rid of them once. Back in 1947 they claimed cable cars were obsolete and old-fashioned and the city would be better served by gas-guzzling, fume-farting buses, but the cable-car-loving public raised such a hue and cry that the internal combustion fans backed off and haven't uttered a peep since.

And a good thing too. Not only is the rackety, clackety cable car San Francisco's entree as an international city, it's a hit at home as well. Everybody loves the cable car, tourist and city denizen alike. The toughest thing about them is trying to get aboard. There's no room! You wait at the stop and hear the familiar conductor's bell, but all you can see is a slowly moving wad of humanity coming at you along the track. On a cable car you can sit inside and outside and you can stand inside and outside. But really outside - hanging onto a strap and hanging out into the traffic and hoping other drivers are paying attention.

They usually are. Those drivers have had plenty of time to practice after all. Cable cars have been rolling up and down the hills of San Francisco since 1873.

Looks like they won't disappear any time soon. Ten years ago each and every cable car was taken out of service, one at a time, and completely refitted.

And, say the experts, "the system should work safely for the next 100 years."

BULLETIN

from the City of Cornwall

Snow Emergency What To Do?

Blizzards, heavy snowstorms or ice storms can isolate us from the rest of the community, leave us without power, or even cause us to get lost.

On December 30, 1942, a major ice storm knocked down power lines throughout Cornwall and left many residents without electricity. An evacuation centre was opened for those who needed food and warmth.

Follow these tips to be prepared for any snow emergency.

1. Listen to CJSS 1220 AM, CFLG 104.5 FM or CHOD 92.1 FM radio for blizzard, heavy snow, or freezing rain warnings. In the event that CJSS or CFLG cannot broadcast, listen to 1050 YBG (Massena) or 97.3 CKON (Akwesasne). Both stations have agreed to be our community alert. Also, you could be contacted by telephone through "Community Alert Network", the city's automatic calling system.
2. If you have a fireplace, keep a good supply of fuel on hand.
3. Keep an emergency kit handy. Include:
   - any prescription medication family members may need
   - first air kit
   - battery powered radio with batteries (in case power goes out)
   - flashlight with extra batteries
   - candles and matches
   - toiletries
4. Keep fresh water in a container and change it every two weeks.
5. Keep one week's food supply on hand at all times in your home.
6. Always keep the car gas tank half full.
7. Keep a survival kit in your car. Include:
   - a blanket or sleeping bag
   - a change of clothing with extra socks, caps, mittens, boots and raincoat
   - a battery-powered radio with extra batteries
   - a shovel and small sack of sand
   - a box of facial tissues
   - some high-calorie, non-perishable food, such as nuts & raisins
   - a first aid kit
   - candles and matches

IF THE POWER GOES OUT:

1. Check to see if your building is the only one affected on your street; if yes, telephone Cornwall Electric at 932-0123
2. Turn on your battery powered radio and listen to our local radio stations for emergency information.
3. Remember that even in the coldest weather a building will not become cold for several hours.
4. If you have a fireplace, use it.

IF YOU ARE IN A CAR:

1. Don't press on. If the going gets tough, turn back or seek refuge.
2. Keep to main roads.
3. Tune your car radio to the local station for information.
4. If you get trapped:
   - stay in your car - this way you won't get lost and you'll have shelter
   - keep fresh air in your car by opening a window.
   - run your motor sparingly. Beware of exhaust fumes and ensure the exhaust pipe is not blocked by snow
   - set out warning lights or flares
   - exercise your lets, feet and hands
   - keep moving and don't fall asleep
   - watch for traffic or searchers

DID YOU KNOW

That the City of Cornwall has an Emergency Plan, and Municipal and Evacuation and Communications Plan?

That the City of Cornwall has an automatic calling system "Community Alert Network". The network can call 6,000 phones per hour, as long as your telephone number is listed.

Should you wish further information on natural and man-made disasters or "Community Alert Network", please call Suzanne Carriere - Armstrong, Emergency Planning Services at 932-6252, ext. 372.

Char-Lan Indoor Soccer

This week there were no surprises in the Char-Lan soccer loop. Filion had the honour of playing the double header and they faced first the Glengarry Stars and immediately afterwards squared up against the Towne Hall.

The first game was all one team in the first half as the Stars built a 7-1 lead. The second half Filion managed to keep the game a lot tighter and only conceded 2 more goals while scoring 1. That left the Stars with a 9-2 victory against Filion. The big goal scorer on this night for the Stars was Tim McCuaig with 5. Steven St. Denis (2), John Hamelin (1) and Chancy Lajoie (1) rounded out the Stars scoring. Jean Bergeron scored both Filion's goals.

Filion fared no better in their second game as they lost 11-0 to the Towne Hall. The game was even through the first 15 minutes of play and it took a flash of inspiration from Shawn Montroy to open the scoring. He weaved his way past two defenders before unleashing a fierce shot from the right of the Filion goal that went in just under the crossbar. At the half, Filion had managed to keep the score within reach and were down by only 3 goals. The flood gates opened in the second half as Filion tired. The Towne Hall opened the Filion defence on every attack and seemed to score at will as they added 8 more goals. Filion had chances to open their account, but Paul Gauthier in the Towne Hall goal was not to be beaten on this night. The best of Filion's chances fell to Jean Bergeron as he had two cracks at the ball only to see his efforts turned aside. Gaby Gratton (6), Shawn Montroy (3), Eric Vachon (1), and Steve Proctor (1) were the Towne Hall goal scorers.

Attendance Challenge Thursday

by Ken McLaughlin
Director of Public Relations

The Fifth Annual Great Attendance Challenge takes place this Thursday, February 6 when the Brockville Braves visit the Si Miller Arena. In previous years, the Attendance Challenge has benefitted the Snowsuit Fund, Special Olympics, Big Brothers & Big Sisters, and Sparky's Toy Drive. This year, proceeds from this event will go to the local Snowarama for Easter Seals. Snowmobilers' from S.D.&G. collect pledges and then hold a rally to earn the money they've collected. All money raised benefit physically challenged children in our area. Adult tickets for this game are on sale now at the Eastcourt Mall location (only) of Tim Horton's. Every adult ticket purchased from Eastcourt Tim Horton's will see $2 donated directly to Snowarama.

Snowmobilers will also be on hand at this game to collect your donation to Snowarama. The Colts will also make a contribution based on crowd size. Let's pack the Si Miller Arena and help some very special children.

As mentioned, a team we've build a heated rivalry with, the Brockville Braves, come to town this Thursday, February 6 for a 7:30 pm start. Last time in Cornwall, your Colts defeated the Braves 6-3, turning in a total team effort. It's time to do it again. Get your tickets early.

We conclude our playing week with a trip to Pembroke, next Sunday, February 9th. The Lumber Kings are the only team we haven't defeated this season. It's time to enter the win column. Hometown radio CJSS brings home all the action, beginning at 6:50 pm.

The Colts Booster Club will hold a bake sale next Saturday, February 8 at Brookdale Mall. Come out and support the CJHL's hardest working Booster Club and take home some delicious treats. Colts players will be on hand and everyone's favourite mascot, Slapshot, will also be there. The event runs from 10 am.

We'll see you this Thursday, as the powerful Brockville Braves battle your Colts. We're hoping for 1,704 fans to fill the Si Miller Arena to capacity, as the Fifth Annual Great Attendance Challenge supports children with physical disabilities, through the local Snowarama for Easter Seals.

Colts hockey at the Si Miller Arena .. so much more than just a game.

Designers Choice Atom "B" Royals

The Cornwall Designer's Choice Development Atom "B" Royals played through a busy schedule of 5 games within 8 days recently and unfortunately did not come away victorious despite some great efforts. The Royals played three regular season games and two tournament games in Char-Lan.

In the first regular season game, the Cornwall squad was facing the second place team from Potsdam and were pounded by the score of 8-0. Potsdam held period leads of 2-0 after one, 5-0 after two and the final 8-0 after three periods of hockey.

In the second regular season game, the Royals met up with the South Grenville Rangers and suffered a disappointing 6-4 loss. The Royals played a strong, disciplined game with two new call-ups in Matthew Sauve and Mathieu Tremblay. Cornwall came out strong and scored two early goals by both Patrick Sauve to take a 2-0 lead. However, the Rangers managed to tie the score up at 2-2 after one period of play with two late goals of their own. South Grenville scored 4 minutes into the second period to hold the lead at 3-2 before the Royals came right back on a goal by newcomer Mathieu Tremblay (his first goal with the Royals) to tie the score at 3-3. The two teams once again traded goals to end the second period tied up at 4-4. The Royals marker was once again scored by Mathieu Tremblay (his second). Unfortunately, the Rangers scored the only two goals of the third period to pull out the victory.

In the third regular season game, Cornwall once again met up with Potsdam who had just recently beat them pretty bad, but not this time as the Royals came out and played a very strong game and only allowed two first period goals and lost by the final score of 2-0. Despite the loss, the Cornwall team played much improved hockey and they did not allow the other team many opportunities to capitalize. Matthew Van Egmond played well in goal.

On Monday, December 23rd, the Cornwall Atom "B" Royals attended the Char-Lan Tournament being held in Williamstown and were knocked out early as they suffered two defeats.

The first tournament game was versus the hosts Char-Lan Rebels who came out and beat up on the Royals by the final score of 8-2. The scoring started early as the Rebels staked themselves to a 2-0 lead only 2 and 1/2 minutes into the game. The Royals came back and scored the next two goals by Andre Bellemare and newcomer Matthew Sauve (his first goal with the Atom "B" Royals), to tie the score up at 2-2. However, from that point of time on, it was all Rebels as they scored once more before the first period was over to lead by the score of 3-2. They scored two more goals in the second and capitalized three more times in the third period to round out the scoring.

The second tournament game was versus the South Grenville Rangers. The Royals always seem to be ready to face them as this game was a typical tight-checking, close and rough match. The first period seemed destined to be scoreless, until the Rangers scored with only 10 seconds to go to take the 1-0 lead. Cornwall scored midway through the second period on a goal by Brandon Benedict to even the score up at 1-1 and head into the final frame all tied. But, once again the Cornwall team was disappointed as the Rangers scored the only goal of the third period to steal victory away from the Royals by the final score of 2-1. The Royals could not score the equalizer, but came very close despite being down by two players and having their net empty.

Seaway Valley Midget "AA" Rapids

This week saw the Seaway Valley Midget "AA" Rapids go 2-1-1 in regular season play for 5 out of a possible 8 points.

In the first of the 4 games played, the Rapids downed the Kanata Blazers 4-1 on goals by Greg Rombough, James Rolland, Markin Dornan and Kris Longtin. Steve Paré earned the goaltending victory.

A second win 2-1 was recorded against the Rideau Kings when with the game tied 1-1, Derek Wereley scored on the power play with assists to Markin Dornan and Ryan Firlotte. The other Rapids goal was scored by Kris Longtin assisted by James Rolland. Jamie Ross played a strong game in net to earn the win.

After skating hard in a game against Ottawa West, the Rapids ended with a 6-2 loss. The two Rapids goals were scored by Kris Longtin and Ryan Trew. Assists went to Ryan Firlotte and Tyson Matte.

Sunday night's matchup with the league leading Kingston team which has only 2 losses all season, was one of the most exciting games of the year.

Down 3-1 entering the third period, the entire Rapid team came back very strong to tie the game at 3-3, and may have won on a goal scored by Markin Dornan also in the third period, but the goal was disallowed because the referee ruled the pass through to Dornan was the result of a high stick. "It hit my knee not my stick, but you can't argue with the ref.," said Derek Wereley. James Rolland registered a hat trick scoring all three goals in the game with assists to Derek Wereley, Tyson Matte (2) and Mike MacDonald (2). Steve Paré played well in goal, stopping 30 shots to earn the tie with Kingston.

Miller Hughes Rapids

The Miller-Hughes Major Peewee "AA" Rapids were matched against strong opposition in a series of O.D.M.H.A. league games. Despite outshooting the Ottawa South Canadians, the Rapids had to settle with a 1-1 tie. Scott Champagne scored for Seaway with passes from Troy Darnell and B.J. Pelkey. Visiting first place Greater Kingston Frontenacs, the Rapids received stellar goaltending from Jeff McIntyre, who faced 42 shots. Although unable to net numerous scoring opportunities, the Ford squad carried a 2-2 tie into the third period. Kingston raised their play in the final frame and took a 5-2 win. Pelkey scored both goals for the Rapids, with assists from Matthew Verdone (2) and Jamie Smith.

In Lanark the Rapids visited a hot Ottawa Valley Titan club. Rebounding from a 3-0 deficit entering the third period, Miller Hughes scored twice to close the gap to 3-2. With an extra attacker on the ice, Valley scored an open net goal to defeat the Rapids 4-2. Philip Boots and Greg Barnhart had the Seaway goals with Ryan Redmond, Pelkey and Champagne adding assists. Netminder Daniel Desnoyers was called upon on numerous occasions to make key saves. Hosting Outaouais, the Rapids were held scoreless in a 2-0 loss.

Peewee "B" Navy Veterans Royals

The Cornwall Peewee "B" Navy Veterans Royals are experiencing a great measure of success in just about every tournament they participate in. During the Christmas break the Royals participated in the South End Ottawa Christmas Stick Tournament Dec. 27 - 31 and advancing to the semi finals in the Peewee "B" Major Division.

The Royals started with a pair of ties 2-2 against Stittsville, followed by a 1-1 draw with Nepean. On Dec. 29/96, the Royals' opponents were the Orleans Blues. The Royals knew they had to take 4 out of 5 possible points to have a chance to advance. The Royals came out flying and by the midway point it was clear Cornwall was the better team, winning 6-2 and taking 4-1/2 points to advance. Against a big and hard hitting Gloucester team, the Royals flew short, losing 1-0 in the semi-finals.

Scoring for Cornwall over this fine display of hockey were: Dale Ferguson, Ryan Freeland, and Andrew Fisk each with 2. Singles went to Micheil Belmore, Chris Kennedy and Jeff Laframboise. Assists went to Fisk, Laframboise, Freeland, Ferguson, Belmore, Brant Garrow, Matt O'Shaughnessy and Ranald Pecore. Goalies Ryan Prevost and Devon Eveleigh came up with key saves throughout the tournament.

Berry Leads Peewee "A" In Lindsay Tourney

Jason Berry scored five goals in three games at the Lindsay tournament to lead his team to 2 wins and a loss.

Cornwall's first game against Scarborough looked like it would be a cake walk after the Royals jumped into a 3-0 lead. Steve Bernier opened the scoring, assisted by Jordon Wheeler. Twenty-five seconds later Marcel Booyink made it 2-0, assisted by Matthew McNally and Nicholas Dasneves. Less than a minute later, they had Scarborough on the ropes when Berry scored his first goal from Andrew Banville and Trevor Legue to make it 3-0. But the Royals lacked the killer instinct. This, probably due to the flue to some key players. Goalie Marc Lapointe came on the trip but wasn't healthy enough to dress for any games. Morgan Jackson stayed home on doctor's orders. Dasneves sat out half the tournament. McNally played with a damaged shoulder, and other members of the team lacked their usual enthusiasm.

Scarborough picked away at the lead, scoring two goals. With 12 seconds left in the third and Cornwall nursing a one goal lead, Scarborough won a crucial face-off in the Royals zone. The puck went to their extra attacker and he shot through a maze of legs to tie the game. Scarborough won 4-3 in overtime.

The Royals won their second game 2-0 over Ennismore. The defensive foursome of Legue, Joshua Bulloch, Marc Lemire and Jamie Patenaude, helped Cale Mulligan earn his 5th shutout in his last 10 games. Tim St. Jean also played a strong defensive game. Jason Berry scored both goals. The first one was assisted by Andrew Banville. Berry's second goal was a beautiful individual effort. Berry rushed the net from the blue line, with a defender draped all over him, and still managed to put it in the top corner.

The third and final game was a barn burner against the host Lindsay team. Cornwall went ahead 1-0 on a super "one-timer" by Ryan Matte from a Berry pass. Lindsay tied it with less than a minute left in the first and then dominated the second period, outshooting Cornwall 11-2 and scoring with seven seconds left to lead 2-1 into the third.

Berry tied it 2-2 in the third and we were into overtime again. Up to this point, Lindsay had outshot Cornwall 29-13 with Cale Mulligan keeping very busy in nets.

The overtime was sensational to watch as the coaches used different strategies and as time ticked away, the amount of players on the ice was subtracted.

It was down to a goalie and one skater for each team. Berry, for Cornwall, won the face off and headed for Lindsay's goalie, who made a spectacular save and the Lindsay forward headed back with the puck, with Berry in hot pursuit. Berry caught him, controlled the puck and after some cat and mouse tactics, broke for the Lindsay goalie again.

This time he deked the goalie, slipping the puck in the net, and then collapsing in complete exhaustion. What a finish.

Cornwall was eliminated from advancing to the semi finals on a plus-minus system.

In Ottawa league standings, Cornwall Royals are in second place with 17 wins, 6 losses and 4 ties.

Assists in the tournament were as follows: Justin Lalonde, Jordan Reasbeck, Leo Dignard and Matt Sarda with two assists each and single assists went to Phillip Touchette, Eric Larocque, Michael O'Farrell, Robbie Kinlock, Brian Danaher and Robb Schaefer.

SEAWAY NEWS ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainment - Special Events & Restaurant Review - By Bill Gallant

IT'S CARNIVAL TIME!! The winter carnival in Quebec City started this week and there's plenty of the usually cold weather and wintry events planned. The annual event will last until mid-February. Closer to us is the OTTAWA WINTERLUDE that is enjoying excellent weather for their busy event. One of the popular attractions is the country's longest skating rink as the canal continues to attract large numbers of skaters.

Winter carnival's are also underway in GLEN WALTER, ALEXANDRIA and WINCHESTER. Visitors are taking advantage to enjoy the tobogan competitions, snow and ice sculptures and mainly just getting outside for some fresh air fun.

There is another cold weather event this coming weekend, out on the ice as the first annual Long Sault WALLEYE FISHING TOURNAMENT. The one day tourney is on Saturday, February 8th and all entrants and spectators are reminded to dress warm and use care when venturing out on the frozen St. Lawrence River fishing areas. Good luck to all.

This Sunday is an important day for all who are awaiting the warmer season ahead. February 2nd is GROUNDHOG DAY and here's hoping our furry friend will make his appearance and indicate an early spring.

This week on the frozen ice indoor at the Si Miller Arena, the CORNWALL COLTS will be making their appearance. They should be in high gear for the Thursday, February 6 meeting with Brockville. The regular season schedule is in the homestretch with only 11 games left after Thursday. Go get 'em and ride 'em high Colts!

This coming Friday, Feb. 7, Mike McAnany will be appearing at the GLENGARRIAN PUB, followed on Saturday by Glengarry's favourite Hadrian's Wall.

VALENTINE'S DAY is just days away and you can add another Sweetheart Dance to the list of local and area events. The MARDI GRAS ROOM is planning a combined dinner/dance for Feb. 15. Dinner will start at 7:30 pm and live entertainment by AM/FM will follow.

Gordie at the MASONIC LODGE reports that the "Love Bug" has obviously hit the area with a full house expected at their VALENTINE DANCE at HERITAGE HALL on Friday, February 14th. Good music, good fun and plenty of heart-warming wishes will greet all comers.

February 14th is also the starting date for GLEN PRODUCTIONS' Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat at Aultsville Theatre. Performances are scheduled for Feb. 14, 15, 20, 21, and 22.

Star Wars is back on the big screen at the BROOKDALE CINEMAS this week. The other attractions are Daylight and Metro.

Good luck to all teams participating in the BANTAM HOCKEY TOURNAMENT this weekend. The finals are to be played at the Si Miller Arena and at the Complex on Sunday, starting at 2:00 pm. The "A" Championship game is due to start at 5:00 pm. This is the 35th Edition of the tournament and 58 teams are competing. Hats off to the organizers.

There will be a Winter Carnival Dance at LAKESIDE INN on Feb. 8, sponsored by Osnabruck Little League Association. Music by O.C. Central, a new country band. Sunday, Feb. 9 they are having a breakfast at the R.C.A.F.A. on Water Street West. The food will be ready starting at 9 am until 12 noon.

Enjoy the breakfast served at THE SPOT but enjoy it Monday to Friday only until 11 am.

Until next week G'Day and G'Night.

HOROSCOPES

February 2-8

Aries – March 21/April 20
It's an ideal week to ask for a salary increase or promotion. Don't be afraid to be your own cheerleader. You know your strengths; so should others. Social activities abound later in the week. Last-minute invitations prove to be the most enjoyable offerings. Hold your sarcastic tongue.

Taurus – April 21/May 21
An organized approach in business is the best way to stay ahead. You may have to put in a few extra hours this week. You may be asked to attend a seminar of some sort. Be sure you know what you're getting yourself into before you commit to anything. A friend's odd behavior will surprise you.

Gemini – May 22/June 21
Feeling under the weather, Gemini? A few days in bed may be in order. Don't ignore symptoms — they'll only worsen. If an unexpected change occurs in well-thought-out plans, don't panic. With a cool head, you'll be able to work things out. Romantic happiness is assured this weekend.

Cancer – June 22/July 22
Your busy schedule gets even more demanding this week. Even if this puts you in a bad mood, don't take stress out on loved ones. Keep priorities in order to keep on an even keel. A person you considered unreliable will surprise you and come through when you need help.

Leo – July 23/August 23
A creative project will consume much of your time this week. Try not to overlook more mundane — but equally important — responsibilities. A stubborn attitude could be the final straw in a rocky relationship. If it's valuable to you, you're going to have to keep an open mind.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22
Congratulations, Virgo! In a long-term battle of the wits, you'll come out the winner. What could possibly be better for Virgo than to be proven right? Later in the week, watch what you say in mixed company. Your sarcastic tongue could prove offensive. Use the weekend to catch up on chores.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23
Unrealistic expectations of a loved one is not fair to either party. Until you learn to accept people for who they are, you will always be in for disappointment. Resist the urge to spend money on unnecessary items. A bargain isn't really a bargain if it's something you don't really need. A new approach to an old problem is what you should seek in business.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22
Go with your gut feelings when faced with an important decision. Everyone is willing to offer advice, but you're the only one who knows what's right for you. This weekend, your good time may be spoiled because of a friend's grumpy mood. Try to ignore it and enjoy yourself anyway.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec 21
A spell of moodiness may hit you midweek. Combat it by using exercise as a weapon. Sweat out your aggressions on a treadmill, or exhaust your moodiness by pumping some iron. It will make a world of difference. Financial investments will be an issue later in the week.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan 20
Don't accuse anyone of wrongdoing until you know all the facts. Things aren't always as they seem. Social obligations will keep you busy throughout the week and weekend. Be sure to check your bank account before committing to expensive social propositions.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18
A last-minute offer to take a trip may come your way. Don't think you can do it? Be creative. With an organized approach, you'll be able to go away and fulfill your work obligations, too. A love relationship could be entering a new phase. Get in touch with your feelings on this matter.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20
Don't rush into new agreements. Examine the fine print, and only sign contracts after careful consideration. At work, you'll have to rock the boat a little if you want things to go your way. Don't be afraid to show your assertive side. You'll find an object — or money — you lost some time ago.

Romance Your Valentine With Dishes Made From the Heart

Romance your valentine this year with a delicious, home-cooked meal that is made with love.

Millions of women, as well as men and children, spend their days and nights watching daytime and nighttime soap operas. Amid all the crying, scandal and gossip that can be found on these serials, there is also a lot of love.

"Love and Dishes" (Hearst), edited by Irene Krause Keene, offers scene-stealing, delicious recipes from some of the country's favorite soap-opera stars.

A select group of actors have offered their favorite recipes for everything from appetizers, soups and salads to "romantic meals" like chicken, fish, pasta and vegetarian main dishes to comfort foods for all occasions to desserts.

This Valentine's Day, tell the person you love how much he or she means to you by cooking a loving meal using the following romantic dishes.

grandma sadie stone cook's west texas

sweetheart salad
Makes 6 to 8 servings

By Linda Cook, formerly Egypt Masters on "Loving"

- 1 package (8 ounces) cream - cheese, softened
- 1 jar (8 to 10 ounces) maraschino cherries, chopped (retain juice and save 1 cherry for garnish)
- 1 package (6 ounces) lemon gelatin
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 can (8 1/4 ounces) crushed pineapple
- 1 pint heavy cream Sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

1. In a large bowl, mash the cream cheese with a fork until smooth.

2. Pour the cherry juice into a 2-cup measuring cup. Add ice water until you have a total of 1 1/4 cups liquid. Add to the cream cheese.

3. Put the gelatin in a small bowl; add boiling water, and stir until dissolved. Add the hot mixture to the cream cheese and stir with a fork until the lumps are small.

4. Stir in the pineapple and chopped cherries.

5. Transfer the bowl to the refrigerator and cool until partly set, 4 to 5 hours.

6. Remove the bowl from the refrigerator. Whip cream until stiff, then add sugar to taste and vanilla. Fold cream into gelatin mixture until blended.

7. Pour into a large crystal serving dish. Refrigerate until set, about 1 hour. Add cherry garnish before serving.
