Pay T.V. Blake Fowler

Statistics, they say, can sometimes be misleading.

A case in point is the recently-published survey on pay tv subscribers from Mediastats. It seems to indicate that the main reason folks in Canada subscribe to pay tv is for sports programming and rock music.

But wait a minute, you say, I thought the big seller in pay tv was movies? Well, stats aside, movies are still number one.

The survey shows that there are 804,178 subscribers to The Sports Network, 788,923 to MuchMusic and, in third place, First Choice-Superchannel the movie service, with 620,395. But one must look behind the figures to get a more accurate reading.

TSN and MuchMusic figures are misleading because those channels are part of a package on most cable systems. One subscribes to the movie service, the most-wanted service, and one can have TSN and MuchMusic for only a few dollars more.

It is true that one can, if one decides subscribe to TSN and/or MuchMusic on a stand-alone basis at a much lower monthly rate than FC-S. But how many people do?

I think I'm safe in saying that you could use the numbers of subscribers over and above the 620,395 that FC-S has as a good rating of the stand-alone popularity of those two specialty channels. In TSN's case that means 183,775 and for MuchMusic 168,528.

But wait! Isn't it likely that the first choice of some of those people was TSN but they opted to take the music sevice as part of a package without the movie service. Or vice-versa for Much Music? Yes it is. And it is also likely that many people wanted the movie service and TSN equally. The Mediastats survey doesn't break those figures down.

You see what I mean about misleading statistics. Anyway, one needs no slide rule to interpret the next stats. Of Canada's 5 million cable tv homes, about 16 percent subscribe to some form of pay tv. So there you are.

This week's big movie highlight is, or course, Ghostbusters. The box-office smash of 1984 is not only hilarious, it is required watching here in the Great White North because of the strong Canadian contingent.

Dan Aykroyd and Rick Moranis are two of the featured actors and Aykroyd is also co-author. Producer/director is Ivan Reitman, another Canuck, while Harold Ramis and Bill Murray, two more stars, are no strangers to working in Canada. It runs May 11, 16, 22, 24 and 28 on FC-S.

GARAGE SALE

TEN TIPS TO A SUCCESSFUL GARAGE SALE

1. Get your family and friends involved. It helps to have the extra people for question answering, selling items and collecting money.

2. Set up Display Tables by arranging merchandise to attract the buyers attention.

3. All items should be cleaned and presentable to potential buyers. Items should also be in a good state of repair.

4. Adequate change will make sales more enjoyable.

5. Always know what goods you have on hand, perhaps by keeping an up to date list by crossing out each item as it sells.

6. Make Prices on each item clean and readable to your customers.

7. Advertise by word of mouth, or a few posters.

8. By listing a few specific items in your ad will draw the attention of various potential buyers.

9. Last minute inventory of all items, cash on hand, exact time and date will help to make your sale more profitable.

10. Advertise in the Seaway Shopping News. A convenient means of notifying your public well in advance of your sale of all items.

THE COMPAQ PORTABLE II

The COMPAQ PORTABLE II™ is the new standard in full-function portable computing. Not only is it smaller, it's also 17% lighter than the original COMPAQ® Portable. Like the original, it's rugged, reliable, expandable, and compatible with hardware made for IBM® Personal Computers. Plus, it's 3 to 5 times faster than its namesake. And it runs all the popular business software written for IBM Personal Computers.

Never before has a computer this small been capable of so much. The advanced 80286 chip provides the COMPAQ PORTABLE II with tremendous speed. Innovative design provides for your present and future needs. Exchange data stored on diskettes with other compatible computers. Add an optional 10-Megabyte fixed disk drive system and up to a remarkable 4.1 Megabytes of RAM.

Because the most popular interfaces are built in, there's also room for adding up to two expansion boards for more advanced needs.

As the new standard in advanced-technology portable computers, the COMPAQ PORTABLE II deserves the highest standard of service and support. And as your Authorized COMPAQ Computer Dealer, we'll give you 100 percent. We're as uncompromising as the COMPAQ Computers we sell. Which is one more reason why people who know personal computers know they can rely on COMPAQ.
