Thanks For Sticking With Us

Lung disease is Canada's third largest killer. One in five Canadians has some sort of breathing problem. Every twenty minutes each day another Canadian dies from some form of respiratory disease. Every single month in Ontario, 1,100 people die from smoking-related illness and the incidence of asthma is on the rise.

During the Christmas season, Canadians have traditionally given of themselves with donations to Christmas Seals and the work of the Lung Association and we want to thank you for "sticking" with us.

Together we found a cure for Tuberculosis, once the number one killer of Canadians. Today we must work together to fight new strains of tuberculosis as well as find cures for all lung disease. Donations to this important campaign are used to support educational programs for adults and children right here in our community, who are suffering from lung disease. "It is our hope that through programs in "disease management" and prevention, we can help reduce or eliminate hospital visits and shorten hospital stays. Education is the key," said Sharon Smith, Executive Director of the local Lung Association.

The 1995 Christmas Seal was designed by Maria-Aline Oliver, who was born in Quebec and makes her home in Ottawa. It depicts a teddy bear on snowshoes, making his way through snow covered evergreens on a sunny day.

The Christmas Seal Campaign is the largest for the Lung Association and this year they celebrate 88 years of tradition and community service. The goal in the

Proud To Become Emerald School

Through hard work and a lot of 'ecological knowledge', Ecole Notre Dame has become an emerald school through the SEEDS Canada Foundation (Society Environment & Energy Development Studies), which helps promote ecological education and encourage students to take an active part in saving their environment. Grade 6 students Benoit Rivard, left, Catherine Gelinas, Sylvie Bissonette, Liane Secours, Josée Brault, former teacher Madeleine Lepage, Adele Lalonde, and Julie Pelletier (behind), planted three Emerald Queen Norwegian Maples to celebrate the halfway mark and becoming emerald by completing 500 environmental projects. Lepage was responsible for raising the money to purchase the trees through class activities. The school's goal ...to complete 1,000 projects and become an earth school by April 1996. Currently there are only 17 Earth Schools across Canada, with only four in Ontario, and so far Notre Dame is in ranks with only 20 Ontario schools reaching emerald.

Mayor Dumps Daily

by Chris Brown
staff reporter

The Mayor is fed up. He says he's tired of half the news being printed, only the half they choose to be released to the taxpayers. They, would be the Standard Freeholder, the city's daily paper, and Cornwall Mayor Ron Martelle says "let them keep calling. From now on they'll have to get their news from whatever because they won't be speaking to me. It's not the Daily Standard Freeholder" any more, I hear people calling it "the Daily Standard Martelle".

"I can handle it, I always have, but when it starts affecting your family," says an irritated Martelle, "it's gone beyond what it should have". The citizens should have the choice to hear the true facts, all the facts and not only what they choose to release. "That's their (Standard Freeholder) choice, my choice is to give citizens true facts."

Alderman Denis Carr believes "it's entirely up to him. He's a very strong individual. It doesn't bother me in the slightest!"

"It's a highly unusual situation," says Alderman Brian Lynch. And while he feels the same about it being "his business", he added "I'm not quite sure why" the mayor is being tight-lipped regarding the Freeholder. "Any information should be passed along to all media sources to be fair to the residents of the community. It's the only daily newspaper (around this area) and a number of people rely on (it) to get their news."

And for how long is Martelle going to maintain quietude? Words out ...probably till the end of his term!

OLIVER

Mr. Ray Lalonde, Campaign Chair, is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Mike Oliver as Special Advisor: Labour.

Mr. Oliver brings with him a great amount of experience being a member of: The Industrial Education Council; Regional Vice-President Ontario Public Service Employees Union; Vice-President Cornwall and District Labour Council; and various board and committee positions.

Mr. Oliver is employed at the Cornwall Jail as a Correctional Officer and is married with 2 children.

Eastern Counties Associate is to raise $70,000 through this years campaign. Seals will be delivered to 60,000 homes in the 5 counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell. Because we are not government funded or part of the United Way, we depend solely on the generosity of our communities to help offer educational programs and support to friends, neighbours and family members who are inflicted with lung disease. Living with lung disease is like trying to perform normal every day functions, while breathing through a straw. It isn't easy. It can also be very expensive. Our objective is to help people already suffering from lung disease and educate others.

For many years the community has supported this fund raising campaign and in these tough economic times, your support is even more important.

To those loyal contributors, "thanks for sticking with us." For those potentially new contributors, "thanks for thinking of us". No donation is too big or small. Everything helps. Christmas Seals work year round to give life and breath to millions of Canadians. What a precious gift. Remember, when you can't breathe, nothing else matters.

Did You Remember To Reset Your Clocks?

Team Searches For MDs

A five-city tour in search for medical doctors left Cornwall last week with hopes of finding five family physicians and six specialists. The tour is organized by Ontario's Health Ministry to help regions having difficulty attracting physicians and specialists.

Free Parking On Saturday

A new set of parking regulations were approved by City Council last week. As of January 1, 1996, parking at metered parking spots will be free on Saturdays. From Monday through Wednesday, from 9am-6pm, and Thursday and Friday from 9am-9pm, motorists will have to pay.

Leaf Disposal Made Easier

During the weeks of Nov. 6-10 and Nov. 20-24, the City of Cornwall will be collecting yard waste during its regular Blue Box pick-up or you can bring it to the city landfill site Mon. to Sat., between 8am and 5pm.

Once yard work is completed, the leaves can be put into the large biodegradable paper bags, clear garbage bags, or in steel or plastic reusable garbage cans.

Smuggling Issue Top Priority

RCMP officials indicated at a recent meeting that fighting the smuggling trade in the Cornwall area is top priority. Solicitor General Herb Gray will consider forming an RCMP marine patrol to fight smuggling along the St. Lawrence River.

Local Businesses Recognized by SD&G Board

Three Cornwall businesses were recognized recently by the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Public Board.

Maynard's Your Independent Grocer, Levi Strauss and Co. and Ridgewood Industries have all been in the forefront of co-operative ventures and have been instrumental in providing viable and valuable learning opportunities for students.

FALL BEHIND

It's that time of year once again to turn back our clocks one hour. So if you're running a little ahead of schedule, it's probably because you've forgotten.

A Perfect Fit

With thousands of costumes to choose from, Monique Lascelle, of Costumes by Monique, helps this customer search for the perfect Halloween costume. "We did extremely well this year," says Monique. "The Batman series was quite popular, as well as Pocahontas, Casper, Star Trek, and of course, the classic costumes" going back to Medieval Times such as this warlock costume.

Lions Celebrate 55 Years

The Cornwall Lions Club is pleased to announce that on Saturday, October 21, 1995 it celebrated its 55th Charter Night. The Club was mandated in April 1940.

In the past 55 years, the Cornwall Lions Club has contributed more than $2,000,000.00 to the community and continues to be an active supporter of the eyesight conservation, United Counties Basketball, The Snowsuit Fund, special projects such as the Cornwall Lions Club Bandshell, the Annual Sports Award Dinner, the eye room at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, used eyeglass collection, homes for the aged and individual requests from citizens of our community.

During the Charter Night celebrations, a financial donation was presented to Murray Halkett, "Chief Administrator of the Cornwall General Hospital, towards a "Video Laringoscope". This new equipment for the operating room will allow surgeons to proceed with the latest techniques in surgery that are often only available in teaching hospitals. This equipment is valued at approximately $90,000.

Also during the same evening, four new members were installed bringing the total active members in the Club to 35 people.

The Governor of District A-4 addressed Lions members on issues of recruitment and the work of Lions in the community.

ALL ABOUT SCOTCH

By Don MacDiarmid

Single Malt Scotch Tasting Comes To Cornwall

One of the biggest little societies serving SD&G residents is "An Quaich", Canada's only malt Scotch whisky tasting society. In addition to the tartan and the sword, a Highlander would also carry with him a quaich, Old Scots for the ancient, two-handled pewter vessel from which Scotch whisky was traditionally drunk. Five hundred Scotch aficionados meet once every second month in one of nine chapters stretching from Waterloo to Cornwall. An Quaich began in 1982 in Ottawa and has since expanded to include Guelph, Toronto, Kingston and other major centres.

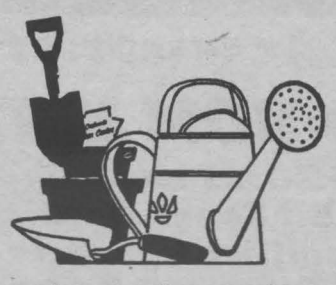
On November 10, 1995 the Cornwall Chapter celebrates its first anniversary. Meetings are held at Porto Bello Restaurant and each of the twenty-five members is provided with a fabulous meal and a tasting session which helps participants acquire knowledge and increased appreciation for the different single malts. The other portion of the meeting is a social one. Members of An Quaich may obtain single malts that cannot be found on the LCBO shelves. The society, as a group, orders through the Private Stock program of the LCBO. This provides each member the opportunity of appreciating all single malts available in Scotland.

Even though single malts have been produced in Scotland for over five hundred years, they have been available in Canada for only the last thirty-five years. Ask a bartender for a Scotch and you will be served an imposter, a blended whiskey. Ask for a single malt and you will experience the original Scotch, a more distinguished spirit - a bold and noble elixir, a treat for discriminating tastes.

Perhaps you would like to be part of the recent dramatic growth in interest of single malt whiskey. Just give Don MacDiarmid a call at 613-932-1383 about An Quaich, Cornwall's most unique society.

DIGGIN' WITH DIANE

by Diane Lunan, Marlin Orchards



Autumn often signals an end to the gardening season and many consider it a perfect time to "clean up". Annual plants are pulled up, many plants and bushes are cut and pruned and every bit of debris is scooped up.

Having a neat looking yard does make you feel good, but think of the little creatures that depend on your property for winter survival. Many perennials have wonderful finished flowers that remain at the top of the stems. Birds find these annual and perennial flower seeds to be an added source of food.

Some good perennial flower choices for next season, if you want to treat the birds in the fall, would be: Blanketflower (Gaillardia), Blazing Star (Liatris), Black Eyed Susan (Rudbeckia), Beardtongue (Penstemon) or Bee Balm (Monarda). Just let the last blooms of summer remain on the plants. The finished blooms turn brown and seeds are easy for the birds to retrieve. Many flowers, especially sedums, can also add an interesting winter look to the garden. The finished flowers can look quite pretty poking up through the snow.

Birds like brush piles to provide additional shelter in the winter. Piling any dead or broken branches that you have removed from your trees and shrubs in a corner of the yard would be appreciated by the birds! If you are a peat gardener this may hurt, but take heart, the birds will be happy with you.

Many of the garden leftovers are composted and cannot remain where they grew all season. We all like to have a jump on spring, but do think carefully before you strighten the yard too much. You may have one corner that could be left for the company of birds.

Contest Winner Beautifies Patio Tulip Garden

Barbara Ann Zummach, Reg. N. at the Cornwall General Hospital Palliative Care Unit, recently submitted an essay in the Canadian Living Magazine "Win A Dutch Garden" contest. An overwhelming number of entries were received by contests organizers, and to think everyone who entered did so because they wanted to give something to the neighbourhood in which they live is an outstanding commentary on the caring nature and boundless community spirit of the Canadian Citizen. Zummach, above, watches over Gerry Grant, Branch 297 of the Canadian Legion, as he plants the first bulb.

(Photo by Chris Brown)

by Barbara Ann Zummach,
Reg. N., Cornwall General Palliative Care Unit

Canadian troops liberated Holland 50 years ago. We celebrate the important contribution made by our military personnel during the Second World War. We celebrate life each day knowing the freedom we take for granted was once lost to the people of Holland.

One can draw an analogy between the freedom of life and the loss of independence as experienced by the terminally ill. In the early summer of 1993 we celebrated the opening of a Palliative Care Memorial Patio to be enjoyed by our patients of Cornwall General Hospital. It offers the opportunity to enjoy fresh air, radiant sunshine, and the growth, change and beauty of living plants. The gifts of nature are indeed nutrients for the soul.

Palliative Care is a service of tender loving care to help the dying person and his/her community of family and friends to live until they die. These individuals fight difficult battles and are most appreciative of all efforts to ease their physical and emotional stresses. Diversional thoughts, activities and pleasant visual fields are as helpful as medicine.

As the age of veterans creeps upward of 75 years, many of them are in need of palliative care. Through our interactions with these veterans we learn many valuable lessons. most importantly, they teach us to live as we walk with them to death.

Five Nuns Raising Friends

When friends are needed, five nuns haven't conceded and are off and running in the great comedy "Nunsense". Packed full on nonsense, with Pat Valiquete on the piano and Dorothy Forrester directing them in singing, Bernice Dickson putting them through their paces in dancing, you have a production that will keep you laughing for a long time. You will wonder how they can chase a bar around the stage, or a car, in their full habit (costume) designed and made by Margery McLaren, Marie Distefano and Eileen Gillette, or dance on a bed, peddle an exercise bike, or climb up on a piano without missing a "note" or a step in their dance routine. But we under estimate what a nun can do - big or small they do it all. Mother Superior, played by Sue Jesmer tries to keep their leader under control but gets caught up in their fun. Sister Mary Amnesia, Linda Villeneuve, thinks she can be Dolly Parton and portrays that role, while Sister Mary HuBert, Huguette Lapensee, does her best to make sure the "frig" is clean and well stocked. Sister Mary Robert Anne, Jane McLaren feels she has a role to play by doing a soft shoe act, while the Novice Nun played by Angela Youngs, Sister Mary Leo, has the answer for a successful variety show.

With 5 nuns, 5 different characters, and many ideas for a performance, the audience will wonder what is coming next. There are many surprises "in store" for you at the Glen on Nov. 2, 3, 4 at 8:15 pm. To make sure you have a seat call 937-GLEN, Mon.-Fri. 10 am - 6 pm.

"We are here to entertain you," said Ron Sullivan, publicity chairman, "and thirty years and your presence and support is the most rewarding satisfaction we can get. People say we are good for nothing and that is praise enough," said Sullivan. See you at Nunsense with all the nonsense.

Stay Safe On Halloween

When your little "monster" goes trick or treating on October 31, Stay Alert ... Stay Safe (SASS) would like to remind parents and kids to turn up their radar and heed the words of Bert and Gert, the Alert Twins, to always "stay alert ... and stay safe." Parents and kids should discuss these tips to ensure a safe and happy adventure on Halloween night.

- Wear make-up instead of a mask so you can see properly.
- Let people know your route.
- An adult should check the treats you collect before you eat them.
- Only go to homes with their lights on.
- Don't go anywhere with a stranger.
- If someone invites you alone into a house say "No Thanks".
- A flashlight will help light your way.
- You'll walk more easily in a short costume.
- Do you know where the Block Parent homes are in your area?
- Go trick or treating with family or friends.

After the Jack-O-Lantern.... what?

Pumpkin seeds make a terrific snack. And while pumpkins are such a good price, why not make pumpkin purée.

Roasted Pumpkin Seeds

- Rinse pumpkin seeds under cold running water, discarding strings. Spread 2 cups (500 mL) in single layer on two baking sheets. Let dry thoroughly, stirring once or twice to separate and turn.
- In small bowl, combine seeds with 2 tsp (10 mL) vegetable oil and 1/4 tsp (1 mL) salt, stirring to coat well; spread on baking sheets.
- Bake in 375°F (190°C) oven, stirring and spreading once, for 15 to 20 minutes or until deep golden brown. Let cool. Store in airtight container. Makes 2 cups (500 mL).

Fresh Pumpkin Purée

- One pound (500 g) raw pumpkin yields about 1 cup (250 mL) purée.
- Cut pumpkin in half. Remove seeds and stringy fibers. Cut pumpkin into large chunks. Steam until tender. Or, place pieces, skin side up, in jelly roll pan; pour in water to depth of 1/2 inch (1 cm). Bake in 350°F (180°C) oven for about 1 hour or until tender.
- Scrape pulp away from rind; drain pulp thoroughly. Purée pulp in food processor or pass through food mill; drain in sieve for 15 minutes.
- Cover and refrigerate purée for up to 1 week or freeze for up to 6 months.

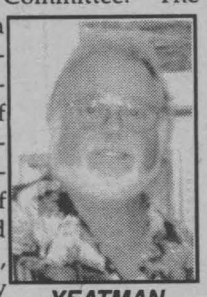
Heritage Mural Prints Now Available

The Heritage Murals of Cornwall Committee is pleased to announce that prints of Cornwall's third heritage mural are now available.

"Prints are now available directly through local galleries and print shops," said Brian Sylvester, Chair of the Heritage Murals of Cornwall Committee. "The prints are a high quality reproduction of the original artwork of David Yeatman, the highly respected Ottawa area artist who has now printed two Cornwall murals."

SYLVESTER



YEATMAN

"The third mural, like the first two, celebrates our community's heritage," noted Brian Sylvester. "The theme this year is very important, as the mural depicts Cornwall's contribution to Canada's defense and peacekeeping efforts over the last century. This theme is particularly appropriate given that 1995 is the 50th anniversary of the ending of the Second World War."

While the distribution of the prints remain the same, the Committee has made some changes this year. Only signed prints will be available, at the original 1993 cost of $30 per print. The prints are still printed on top quality paper, however a thicker paper is being used this year. And to keep up with the anticipated demand given this year's theme, 2000 prints have been produced.

"The Committee listened to suggestions and requests from people who are starting a collection of all of the mural prints," noted Sylvester. "We wanted to keep the costs of the prints at a level that everyone can afford, while at the same time ensuring that the prints are being produced using the highest quality standards. Many people have requested copies of the prints to send to relatives outside of Cornwall, in honour of the people who have and continue to serve our country."

The mural was painted this summer on the south facing wall of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 297, located at the corners of Second Street West and Cumberland, and is the third in a series of outdoor murals that is quickly becoming a tourist attraction.

Motorists' Rights
It's your car - It's your choice!

Choosing a Collision and Refinish Centre
Do not be intimidated by other people at the scene of the accident as to where your car should be taken to. As the owner of a motor vehicle damaged in an accident, you have the right to choose the shop where you wish to have your vehicle repaired. This is the law!

Notify your Insurance Company
Before authorizing any repairs, notify your insurance company or agent, and tell them where the damaged vehicle can be inspected.

Is the Work Guaranteed?
Most collision and repair centre guarantee their collision work to some degree, which may not include the paint job. Ask about guarantee and how long.

Know Your Shop
Make sure the shop you choose:
- Maintains a reliable, professional reputation.
- Is properly equipped and organized to meet today's more technical repairing needs.
- Maintains specialized equipment and systems at peak performance.
- Have technicians that are thoroughly trained and certified. Shop cleanliness can say a lot about the technicians' attitudes, so can friendliness and atmosphere. If you feel comfortable with the shop and it's people, chances are you'll be satisfied with their work.

Dear Potential Customer - If you would like us to repair your car please say so. We would be glad to call your agent or broker on your behalf.

November is Diabetes Month

The Bank of Montreal, by means of the national Volunteer Grants Program, recently donated $1,000 to the Cornwall & District Branch of the Canadian Diabetes Association to help kick-off the Annual Appeal Fundraising Campaign held in November, which is designated "Diabetes Month". Betty Burgess, a long-time branch volunteer and former employee of the Bank of Montreal, was directly responsible for this generous financial contribution. Above, Allan Smith and Betty Burgess present the cheque to Linda Rodgers, centre, Branch Co-ordinator for the Canadian Diabetes Association.

GARDENER'S ROW

By Lois Hole

Prepare Your Perennials for Winter

Most perennials have little trouble surviving winter where snow starts early and stays late, but why not give them a little help?

Even the hardiest perennials may have difficulty at time when wind and severe cold arrive while the ground is still bare or little snow has fallen, and when mid-winter thaws are followed by sudden hard freezes. Early warm periods before spring has arrived can also injure and kill poorly-protected plants. There are a few things that you can easily do to ensure your perennials are well prepared for winter.

Mulching, especially in exposed areas of the garden, helps, as does piling extra snow on plants, expecially on the bare beds close to the house and under the eaves. Before the ground freezes in fall, be sure to water plants well. Here are some other ideas.

What to do in Fall.

• Water frequently throughout the fall, especially during dry spells.

• In early fall, scatter a few handfuls of bone meal on soil around the plants. This helps to strengthen roots.

• In cold-winter areas like ours, perennials that are growing in patio containers should be transplanted into the garden. The volume of soil in most containers is not adequate to prevent roots from freezing and plants dying over the winter. Allow at least two to three weeks prior to freeze-up for roots to become established.

• Some gardeners cut back their perennials in the fall, but we have found over the years that leaving pruning until spring increases plants' survival rate over winter. Growth left standing traps snow, and snow is the best protection there is for plants and roots against cold. Bishop's hat, lilies and peonies are exceptions; these plants should be cut back in fall.

• Just before the ground freezes in late fall, water all plants heavily again to prevent roots from being damaged in cold, dry soil.

What to do in Winter.

• Remember that snow provides mositure and acts as an insulator to prevent damage or plant death that can be caused by freezing and thawing during and after winter warm spells.

• When clearing snow from walks and driveways over winter, pile some soft snow over tender plants and onto flowerbeds that are underneath house overhangs. During periods of thawings, pile additional snow around mulched plants for extra insulation. Do not do this if you use a lot of salt on your walkways.

• If there is an unusually warm, dry spell in late winter, water exposed flowerbeds, particularly those on the south- or west-side of the house.

What To Do in Spring.

• As soon as the garden is dry enough to walk on, clear away any debris left from fall. Cut back dead growth from perennials to about two inches (5 cm) high. Leave any new green growth intact.

• Don't cut back evergreen perennials or biennials at all. Honeysuckle, big petal clematis and golden clematis should be cut back only to where the vines begin to leaf out.

• Water sheltered plants and dry areas underneath house overhangs.

Remember that in extreme conditions, even the most carefully protected plants may occassionally suffer or die over winter. Plants are, after all, living things and will, like other living things, eventually die. Sometimes we forget this, and expect plants to perform like machines, remaining in exactly the same state year after year.

Mayor Just Doing His Duty

Just who on earth does Councillor Brian Lynch think he is when he asks his fellow members of City Council to stop Mayor Ron Martelle from conducting salary negotiations on behalf of the city?

It is bizarre.

By asking the mayor to step aside from the salary negotiations so that some professional bureaucrat - who has absolutely no accountability to the people - can take over, he is sabotaging democracy in its rawest form.

So what if Mr. Lynch thinks the mayor is going to be tougher than the paid civil servants in cutting a deal? So what if it's Mayor Martelle's belief that the ability to say "no" and act financially responsible on behalf of the people is something that's required? Isn't that his very role? Isn't that why the people elected him?

If any sort of accountability is going to be demanded of elected officials, then Mayor Martelle has a duty - no, a right - to step into the negotiations. He is, after all, the chief executive officer of the city and, as such, should act in that role.

Any action to stop the mayor from representing the city by a soft-headed member of council who's afraid to confront fiscal reality and play it tough with the unions, who by their very nature, exist to grab as much as they can for their members in contract negotiations - is wrong and probably illegal.

In normal times, both the mayor and council can delegate the process of salary negotiation to paid staff. After a deal is settled, council can vote on it. That is done because it best ensures the efficiency of government. After all, elected representatives don't have the time and energy to devote themselves to everything.

But these are not normal times.

The Harris government, which has inherited a fiscal mess of astounding proportions, has made it quite clear that it wants to put its own house in order so that some measure of financial sanity can be restored to the province. To do that, it has cut grants to municipalities considerably. Each town or city must do with less.

Mayor Martelle realized that. He knows that if there are not major cutbacks in city expenditures, there will be a massive tax increase. One of the areas that requires a cutback is salaries. The message is clear: if city employees in the union are given increases at a time when the cupboard is bare, the taxpayers of Cornwall will have to pay the piper. That means increased taxes.

But increases taxes, at the very time that every level of government is downsizing - are not the solution. People are fed up with taxation. They don't have the resources to pay more. Instead, they want accountability, responsible government and somebody who will take a strong stand and say "no" when it comes to giving away their money.

That burden falls squarely on the shoulders of Mayor Martelle.

He was elected to guide the city through the next three years. It is he, not the bureaucrats under his control, who is ultimately responsible to the people. If the people do not like what he does, he will feel the axe at the next municipal election; if they do, he will be re-elected.

But to deprive him of the right to negotiate on behalf of the city in extraordinary times of fiscal restraint, as Mr. Lynch is trying to do, is not only wrong but probably illegal: it contravenes the very provisions given to the executive office of mayor in the Municipal Act and it flies in the face of everything a democracy is supposed to stand for.

Can you imagine what would happen if the prime minister abrogated his negotiating power on behalf of the federal government because some back-bench MP thinks it would be better to have a bureaucrat do it? The cries of outrage would be everywhere and people would demand that, on an important issue, he put his face to the issue.

The same is true here. Courage demands action. It demands the ability to say "no" if that is the case. It demands that the democratically elected mayor, if he so chooses, confront the union in head-on negotiations, look its members in the eye and say: "I'm here on behalf of the people. I'm accountable to them and if they think I'm wrong, they can judge me at the ballot box."

Mr. Lynch is clearly wrong in this situation. He is taking a position that can only be characterized as vastly undemocratic and in contravention of the law.

Mr. Mayor, exercise your responsibility on behalf of the city. Your oath of office and your duty to the people require it.

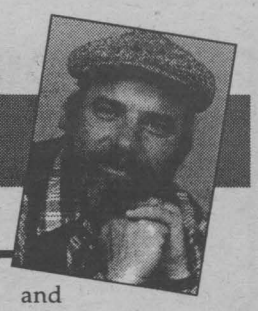
BASIC BLACK



By Arthur Black
SEAWAY NEWS

One of my favourite writers died not too long ago. British chap by the name of Anthony Burgess.

I admired Burgess for many of the books he wrote - "Enderby", "Malaysian Trilogy", "A Mouthful of Air" - but mostly I admire him for a book title he wrote.

Burgess is the guy who wrote a book called "The End of The World News". He lifted the phrase directly from the traditional BBC radio news signoff, where the announcer finishes reading his last news item and then intones "And that is the end ... of the world news."

Except when Burgess shanghaied the words, he twisted the emphasis so that it sounded like he was delivering news about the End of The World.

It wasn't a great book, but it was a powerful title. Powerful enough to make the BBC change the way they sign off their newscasts.

Me? I don't have any end of the world news for you today.

But I can bring you the latest in World Nudes.

Outbreaks of unbridled nudity have been running - make that "streaking" - around the globe of late, and I'm not the only one who's concerned about it. The Chinese government was so worried about the possibility of streakers at the recent UN World Conference on Women that authorities issued an official pamphlet for Beijing cab drivers on how to handle nude passengers.

"Stop your cab and put on the handbrake" it reads. "Then jump out and shout for a policeman."

A high school valedictorian in Liberty, New York made certain that nobody fell asleep during her address. After she got to the podium, and before she began her speech, Eva Noel Bevilacqua, casually slipped her graduation gown off her shoulders and down on the stage, leaving Ms. Bevilacqua dressed in mortar board, black leather boots and nothing in between.

But it is in Britain that folks have been doffing their duds with an enthusiasm seldom seen in that dank and inhibited land. Birdwatchers in Coleford, England have been reporting a rare species indeed. A jogger wearing only running shoes has been seen jogging (and jiggling) along the hedgerows five times. Police believe that he is "an eccentric trying to keep cool."

Meanwhile in Manchester, an even rarer breed of streaker has prompted a call for Parliament to intervene. These streakers appear exclusively during cricket games. During an England/West Indies match, streakers invaded the field seven times.

If you've ever endured a cricket match you'll appreciate the need for diversion.

But my favourite British UFO (stands for Unidentified Flopping Object) appeared on a British TV news show last spring. Apparently on this show, they have their weather guy stand on a floating map of Great Britain about 15 yards wide, which is moored at the Liverpool Docks. Last May, the regular weatherman was a tad nonplussed to see a naked man leaping onto his map, right in the middle of a live broadcast.

The weatherman valiantly attempted to carry on talking about low pressure troughs and high pressure ridges as the naked stranger cartwheeled from England to Wales, executing a pas de deux just south of Gretna Green.

But it was his attempted grande jete from Scotland to Norther Ireland that did the interloper in. He lost his footing and stumbled into the ocean - but not before he'd made the weather forecast one that millions of viewers would remember forever.

Not all British nudists get off that lightly. In Canberra, Australia, Liz and Phil were physically attacked by hostile crowds just because they happened to be hanging out in the buff.

Yes, I'm talking about Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip and yes, they were, as the British would say, absolutely starkers.

Actually, it was a sculpture entitled "Down By The Lake With Liz and Phil" - artist Greg Taylor's creation that showed the royal couple lounging naked on a park bench.

Apparently the sculpture enraged some Australian monarchists - so much so, that they trashed it three nights running. Park officials finally decided to remove what was left of the sculpture to defuse the controversy.

Well, you know what those Aussie monarchists say: no nudes is good nudes.

What The Mayor Isn't Telling You About the Health Unit

PERSPECTIVE

By Bob Roth
SEAWAY NEWS

Cornwall Mayor Ron Martelle had both six-guns blazing again earlier this month. This time he gunned down an innocent bystander - the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

Martelle emptied his revolvers of rage at the Health Unit after is appropriately removed two truant Cornwall reps from the board after they missed three meetings in a row. Specifically, the board removed city appointees Denis Carr and Susan Carter.

Martelle is also playing dumb - not admitting that he knew well in advance about the Health Unit policy. In fact, he had already gone through the same mess with former Cornwall rep board member, Ald. Terry Lalonde, who vanished more often than Harry Houdini.

The Health Unit is an independent board which oversees the provision of certain health services to Cornwall, Prescott-Russell and the United Counties of Glengarry.It spends millions of dollars of local and provincial funds. A long time ago, the Health Unit became disturbed at the poor attendance of some municipal officials.

There was concern on two fronts: firstly, if a quorum could not be reached at a given meeting, the Health Unit would grind to a halt because it could not legally conduct the public's business; secondly, thousands of citizens were not represented when these "representatives" failed to show. This undermined the very notion of the democratic process.

Consequently, the board passed a resolution that any board member missing three meetings in a row - without good reason - would automatically lose his or her seat.

That's what happened to both the Cornwall reps. Instead of blasting the Health Unit, the mayor and city council owe the unit a debt of gratitude for bringing the truancy of these two officials (who get paid their council pay whether they attend or not) to the city's attention. The city, to put it bluntly, had no representation. What would the mayor want? For the board to just continue making decisions without the city's input?

The mayor is criticizing the Health Unit when it was the Health unit that was looking out for the city's best interests.

In typical bull-in-the-china shop form, Martelle has upturned every piece of furniture in his fevered fit against the Health Unit, suggesting it look up the words "courtesy, protocol and dictatorship" (I can see why he asked them to look these words up; he obviously doesn't have a dictionary of his own containing the definitions).

In fact, what Martelle is not telling the public is that he knows the Health Unit policy perfectly well. He was in direct contact with the Health Unit when it had to remove former Ald. Terry Lalonde for the same reason. Martelle was made fully aware of the "protocol". At that time, he begged the Health Unit to take Lalonde back. It did - out of "courtesy" to the mayor and the city.

A reasoned mind, therefore, might have expected that the mayor would be more careful about who to appoint in the future - like maybe somebody who would attend meetings.

Let it also be known that the Aldermen Carr and Carter would have been able to keep their seats had they simply picked up the phone and notified the Health Unit of a reasonable reason for not being able to attend a specific meeting. That "courtesy" is also part of the "protocol".

It is precisely this type of cavalier attitude to attendance that we cannot afford in public agencies. The board's meet regularly once a month, so it's not as if the meetings piled up quickly within a short time span.

The Health Unit has done the people of Cornwall a service by removing these political deadbeats. Instead of behaving like a "dictator" and demanding that these layabouts be taken back, the mayor should be rapping their knuckles, not the Health Unit's.

(On an unrelated note, I'd like to correct an error in dates in last week's column. I indicated that Malcolm MacDonald was "knighted" in October 1995, when in fact it was 1993. The issue now becomes whether the "knighthood" will stand.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Harris Cutting Too Deep

Dear Editor:

I am writing on behalf of the "Harris Cuts".

Reading article after article it becomes more and more clear that social assistance didn't need to get such a drastic cut. We will soon see, in the next few months, many businesses suffer due to people spending much less. If Mr. Harris wanted to portray himself as Scrooge or the Grinch who Stole Christmas, he is surely succeeding.

Jobs need to be created, and should have been, before the cuts came. People need some kind of compensation to make up for these cuts in order to buy clothing for the children and for people looking for work. You cannot go for interviews in jeans and running shoes. Further expenses are going to be for gas and cars for expansion of job searches in the outskirts of Cornwall. There is surely not enough work here for everyone. Where was the common sense before these cuts were done?

He promised not to cut from the disabled people. Well what does he think people on WCB are? We are people who have been hurt and became disabled in the work force. We still pay taxes, and as for making an improvement in the budget, it is employers who pay these rates and may I remind everyone that it was employers who opted for WCB to come in effect because it was cheaper than having injured workers sue their companies. Injured workers already live in poverty, and most of them have to be compensated by family benefits disability as rehabilitation and re-employment fails in about 40% of claims. Stronger health and safety rules and enforcements must happen in order to prevent injuries, and this alone will lower WCB rates. Cut health and safety? No one wants to see their children or grand children work in sweat shops. Our fore-fathers have been through this era and fought and negotiated to get where we are today. Mr. Harris, move into the 90's. Would you like to see your children or grand children have to work under those conditions? Not everyone can become a premiere or minister of sort, you do need labourers. Only by having employers, employees and unions working together to make a safer working environment will this lower their rates and assure less injuries.

As a person with a disability and out of employment, I am angry. Rehabilitation consists of a 6 month job search for many and this is a laugh. If able bodied people can't find work while on unemployment and must fall onto the welfare system, where taxpayers now must pay for these people, how are we to find modified duties with a new company or modified hours to suit our disabilities? Every day becomes a struggle for people with disabilities and especially those on WCB benefits as they are very unstable, pressure is continuously being put on the injured worker and their families, our children suffer as they now must adjust to a different style of household, divorce rates are sky rocketing among our people, and many of us feel isolated and that our lives and dignity have been taken away from us.

People think that because we become disabled we are of no more use. Well, I will tell you that there is a lot of talent and abililties here in our community, if only others would open their eyes beyond a picture and look to see what we have to offer. Sure, we may be bent over, on canes, crutches, and God forbid, maybe even in a wheelchair, but we are not brain dead and we are not lazy. It is time for companies to start taking back injured workers and accommodating them so that they can continue to work instead of treating them as useless and outcasts. We were good enough to work for you before our injury, and we are still the same person but only now with a disability. Some business people seem to easily forget that if there are no workers, then there is no business. Let's put down the weapons and work together. Prevention is the key and it can work for all of us. Let's give it a try and say "No" to Harris and his fantasy world. Stop trying to put us back 50 years and into a depression. Cuts are not the answer. Jobs and health and safety on those jobs is the only way to go.

Defending A "Popular" Restaurant

Dear Editor:

Re: the item on Canadian customers being overcharged at a "Popular" restaurant in Moira. I wonder why it is "popular"? Could it be because the proprietor and staff lean over backwards to please Canadian guests? Perhaps it is the great quality and variety of food? Maybe the fact that you can get a five course meal with coffee included for about seven dollars upwards, is a factor. Minor contributing factors to its popularity may be the pleasant surroundings, the courteous and cheerful service and the fact that ordering wine with your meal will not break you, as in many Canadian restaurants. But perhaps for a Canadian, one of the greatest attractions is the fact that the exchange rate on Canadian money is a mere 25% rather than the 40% charged at banks and money exchanges. This means that your Canadian dollar bill is worth $16 U.S. there and not the $14 U.S. you would get anywhere else! Great value!

I can only assume that your contributor was subject to an honest mistake (one that has never happened to us during our 25 year patronage of this "popular" restaurant), but my wife and I will continue to enjoy our Sunday evenings of fine dining for as long as we are able.

Yours Sincerely,
David B. Evans

Dictators & Demagogues

Dear Editor:

Half a century past, Greece had its very own Dictator. So did Italy. The Italian went by the name of Benito Mussolini - nickname "Il Duce". The story goes that Benito Mussolini asked his Greek counterpart for permission to cross over Greece with his troops in order to conquer more lands eastward (Balkans). But, what foxy Mussolini really had in mind was to invade and conquer Greece. The Greeks were smart enough to see right through that ploy and said no to the Italians.

In 1995 there are very few Dictators left on planet Earth. However, we do have a few Demagogues, whose goal is to break up our Canadian Unity. We Canadians in nine provinces and territories simpy must forcefully oppose these formentors of trouble. Loud and clear we must say no. I think we're smart enough for that.

Yours truly in the NO

Council Takes A Stand...Maybe

Dear Editor:

Ald. Savard was very open about being closed, while Ald. Lynch's mind was completely closed because you must remain open. Ald. Aubry liked a closed meeting but threatened to leave (thus opening a door) if open subjects came up in closed meetings. Ald. Hollingsworth was both open and shut simultaneously. He prefers a swinging door which remains open to new ideas while closing off excess debate.

Ald. Sylvester's mind was merely open. Ald. Bhargava saw the matter as a revolving door where policy should be the key. Ald. Carr wanted a closed meeting so people could be open and thought "what if" questions might be the key to opening solutions on closed matters.

All agreed that this was a time to stand firm and be flexible, ensuring they are open to input while remaining closed to interference. This closes the case unless someone else opens this can of worms.

Open and shut case?

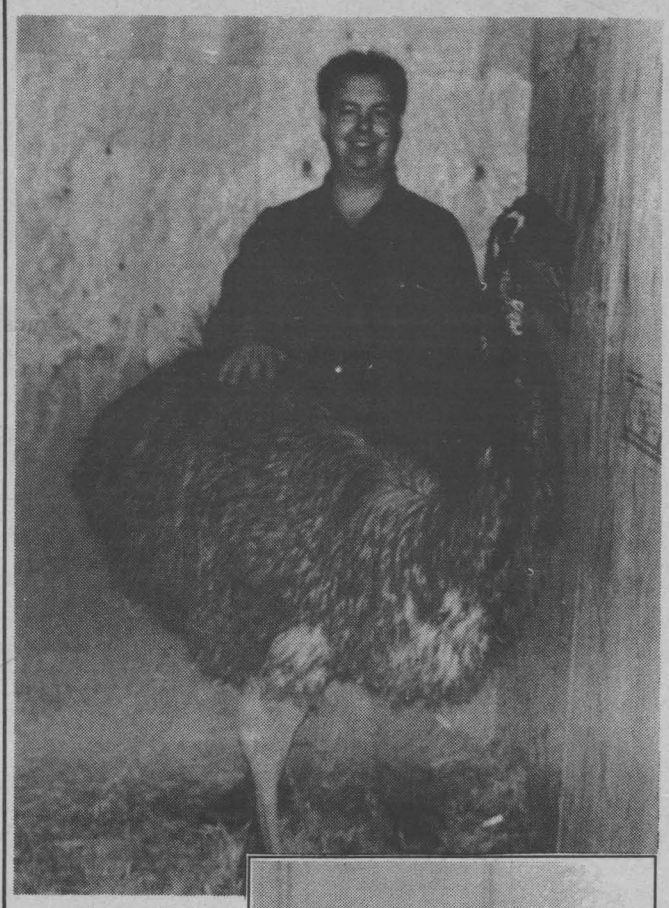
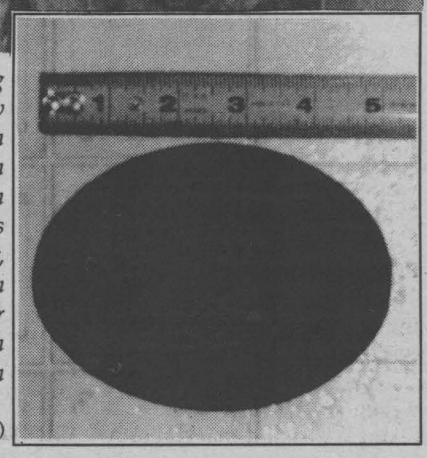
The Times, They're Changing!





Emu farming right now seems to be poised on the edge of becoming an intrical part of modern agriculture. This female emu, Thunder, is right at home with Randy Barrie. Thunder and her mate will soon produce the first egg on the Barrie's farm.
(Photos by Chris Brown)

by Chris Brown
staff reporter

Old MacDonald's Farm just ain't what it used to be!

Down at Randy and Melissa's Summerstown Emu Farm, on Kraft Road, you can't find chickens, turkeys or even cattle. What you can find are a dozen or so Emus.

Barrie, a Warehouse Co-ordinator for Harnischfeger on Rosemount Ave., became interested while watching a documentary a little over a year ago. And his dream of having his own emu flock, like hundreds across Canada and the U.S., went from there. A trip to a London, Ont. tobacco-turning emu farm helped make up his mind.

He tore down the old barn and built a completely new, modern one to house the emus, already ordered.

Emus, from the ratite family, are very large, flightless birds similar to ostriches found in Africa and kiwis from the Australian region.

Emus are very adaptable birds able to tolerate both the extreme heat and cold. They have a gentle docile nature and are completely non-aggressive towards man.

The breeding system of wild emus would be the envy of every woman. A female emu mates with a male and lays three or four eggs then leaves them in the nest that he builds. He then incubates the eggs and he rears the chicks while she goes off to find another mate. What a system! This must be the 90s.

Adults begin to breed around two to three years and start laying big, beautiful green eggs weighing between 400-600 grams. If the eggs are removed immediately and put in an incubator, the hens will keep laying. Typically 20 to 40 eggs in a season which runs from November to April.

Chicks grow at a phenomenal rate. Born around 12 inches high, they then grow a foot a month until they're six months, finishing their growing spurt by filling out. A mature bird weighs between 100-120 pounds.

And there's 100 per cent utilization to produce a variety of products. The meat is beef-like and apparently quite flavourful. As a bonus it's lower in fat and cholesterol and higher in protein and iron. The hide makes a thin workable leather. The large fat deposit on their back yield a fine quality oil with good penetrating property useful in cosmetics and pharmaceuticals. The feathers are used to produce elegant clothing accessories, and because they're anti-static, as dusters for computer companies and to prepare cars before painting.

And, even though Barrie's wife "wasn't really into it", she was very supportive and has warmed to the newest additions to their family. Within the next couple of years, he hopes to farm full-time, leaving the hustle and bustle of the city.

And if you want to try some and don't feel like driving to Toronto, there's a little place close by in Merickville that will gladly serve you this fabulous health food of the 90s. Or maybe you can do like the Barrie's and raise your own!

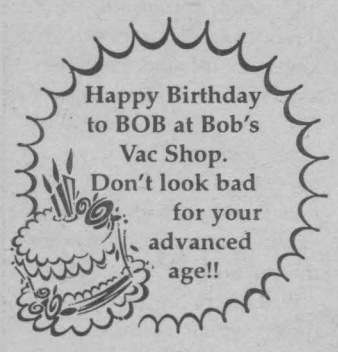
If it is all the same to you I won't be coming in to work. The voices told me to clean all the guns today.

When I got up this morning I took two Ex-Lax in addition to my Prozac. I can't get off the john, but I feel good about it.

Congratulations to Managers NORM ST. PIERRE and MARC BEGIN of Jiffy Muffler Brake and the Cornwall Olde Car Club for joining forces to donate $400. to the Canadian Cancer Society recently. Your support is greatly appreciated.



HERE WE GO AGAIN.

Car insurance rates will rise by 11% this year, according to the Ontario Insurance Commission. Why doesn't Mike Harris get rid of the no-fault insurance coverage and give people a break in insurance costs?

will soon be in order for the LEE FAMILY - celebrating their 26th Anniversary at NEW GARDEN Restaurant. How come Dave doesn't look any older?

We all know the old saying, "It's better to be thought of as a fool than to open your mouth and prove it." Seems Social Services Minister Dave Tsubouchi is a slow learner. He's not even familiar with Canada's Food Guide, yet he's telling Welfare recipients what to eat.

Congratulations to BOB MOKE, master fleet van operator with St. John's Transfer on being named a "Perfect Mover" by United Van Lines.

Caller says, "My fiancée and I were in the process of buying a condominium. After finding out how much our mortgage was going to be, my future father-in-law smiled broadly and remarked: "What a country! One day you have nothing, and the next day you have $80,000 less."

School bus driver on McConnell on Wednesday morning at 8:00 a.m. left motorists in a tizzy. Seems she was driving along with all lights flashing, leaving drivers not knowing whether to stop or not. The bus driver was alone at the time.

Well folks, this has been a very long and anxious weekend for all Canadians. Let's pray hard that we will still be one country on Tuesday, October 31st.

Instead of increasing bus fares, perhaps Cornwall Transit could look at running buses once an hour from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 12 p.m. It's a common practice in most smaller cities now.

Leaves and garden wastes are to be picked up by the City on certain weeks and in certain containers. Seems some taxpayers as well as City workers are not aware of these conditions. You can call 932-6252, Ext. 233 for more information.

Did you wonder why it costs from $800. and up for legal aid to defend persons charged with defrauding the welfare system? Take time to spend a day in Provincial Court and you will understand why, when you see the chaotic conditions that seem to exist. Recent decisions handed down in Cornwall and in other parts of this country reveals that justice dispensers bend over backwards for the accused and to H... with the victims. Isn't it time that we return to the court system that existed a few years ago when judges were on time, plea bargaining was almost unknown and legal aid had not yet been dreamed up by lawyers seeking additional income.

Is it true that Cornwall Colts management is about to hire a sign language specialist and discontinue the use of the present PA system in the Si Miller arena. Might be a good idea because the words coming from the present system are generally unintelligible except when used by the soloist singing the National Anthem.

Horace Greeley once said, "The darkest hour in any person's life is when he sits down to plan how to get money without earning it."

Did you know ... researchers tell us that when people who have undergone stressful events write about the experience, their immune cells increase.

Congratulations to Carl & Lisa Major and family who were recently presented with the Family of the Month Award by the Knights of Columbus Council 5068 in Glen Walter at its October 18th Supper Meeting. This award was presented to the Major family for their outstanding work as a family during family related activities.

Caller says City Council people should check Danis Avenue. The boulevard landscaping looks terrible. Residents are not very pleased. The City got a raw deal on that job.

Hats off to City workers on doing a great job in covering up the old railway tracks that crossed city streets. We appreciate it.

Caller wonders why we can't have the full story between Mayor Martelle and Chief Roundpoint. The Mayor should apologize to the Chief because it seems to be a personal matter between both of them, so don't smear the people of Cornwall. If the Mayor can't accept criticism, then MAYBE HE'S IN THE WRONG JOB.

Customer frustrated with store who advertised a product but didn't have it in stock. They told her to call to see if it would be in the next day. When it did arrive and customer went to the store to get it she was told that the people on the list had already picked up what was available. This lady wasn't told about a list, even though she was at the store twice and called in three times.

Doesn't the taxpayer have a right to know where the Mayor spent $2,460.77 of our money. It it's legit, why hide it??

Hats off to JOAN DELANEY for her comments in the local daily to the Mayor.

Interested in collectibles? Old Barbie or GI Joe dolls in good shape can be worth up to $400. a piece, even Lone Ranger or Star Trek memorabilia is collectible.

Did you know that St. Raphaels was the only Catholic congregation in Glengarry from 1786 to 1833 and that every Catholic Church in Glengarry traces its roots back to St. Raphaels.

Get ready hockey fans, the Greatest Hockey Legends on Ice will be in Cornwall on Friday, November 24th, featuring Maurice Richard, Bobby Hull, Marcel Dionne plus many more ... watch for details!!

Congratulations to BOB ROTH for his comments on various topics in his Perspective column. Your coverage of local happenings is appreciated and I look forward to your paper each weekend.

The only time of the year KAREN McLEAN keeps quiet, is just before her birthday which is always on November 3rd. Happy Birthday from all the usual gang of family & friends.

A friend of mine borrowed a video of The King and I from the library. The next day she returned it, huffily slammed it down and exclaimed, "There's nothing about Elvis in here!"

"Mr. Smith, I have reviewed this case very carefully," the divorce court judge said, "and I've decided to give your wife $275 a week."

"That's very fair, you honour," the husband said. "And every now and then I'll try to send her a few bucks.

A local paper recently reported that the Cornwall General Hospital would be laying off more nurses next spring. One wonders how many administrative staff have been laid off in recent years. It is a well known fact that at least one department has triple the number of administrative staff as compared to a few years back. It reminds one of the school boards.

It is interesting to note that a certain city department head is always able to come up with reasons why some programs could or should not be privatized. Some very interesting excuses but I suppose job security comes first and to H ... with the taxpayer.

Is it true that certain members of a local newspaper get down on bended knee each night to give thanks that Mayor Martelle was re-elected last fall? If he had lost they would have nothing to write about as evidenced by the almost daily articles concerning him.

You just have to love having big brothers ... "The Jersey Farmer" arrived early one morning last week, just in time to start his little sister's car ... sure was nice getting into a warm car!! Thanks!!

to JUDY & MURRAY FENTON celebrating their "16th" Anniversary on November 3rd. Time sure does fly when you're having fun ... chasing kids ... chasing the dog ... & chasing each other!! Congratulations and best wishes for another sixteen glorious years.

O.P.P. Tips For a Safe Halloween

The Morrisburg/ Winchester detachments of the Ontario Provincial Police want to help parents keep their children safe this Halloween.

If possible, substitute make-up for a mask, as masks tend to limit visibility. If a mask must be used, visibility should be improved by enlarging the eye openings.

Avoid wearing dark and hard-to-see clothing. Reflective tape is advised.

Travel in groups or with an adult, and cary a flashlight. This not only helps children to see but also to be seen.

Travel on one side of the street and then the other to avoid criss-crossing.

Do not eat any treats until you return home and they have been inspected by your parents.

Drivers are also reminded that Halloween brings with it certain undesirable activities and that obstacles and projectiles are possible. So an extra measure of caution is needed if it is necessary for you to travel during the evening. If you have no need to drive, then please don't.

Property owners may also reduce the risk of vandalism by seeing that any moveable articles are put away out of sight and that adequate lighting is provided, inside and out.

In cases of stores or buildings that would normally be unattended in the evening, it's a good idea to have someone remain on the premises during the peak hours of activity.

If it becomes necessary for you to contact the police, please call 1-800-267-2677.

Fun Activities Planned

CHESTERVILLE – Children looking for a safe alternative to door-to-door trick or treating can attend a Halloween party at the Chesterville Community Hall from 6:30-7:30pm on Tuesday. Apple bobbing, crafts, games, costume judging, and of course, candy, will be just part of the evening's activities.

FINCH – Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes at the Finch Community centre beginning at 7:30pm Halloween night.

Seat Belt Use Increasing

WINCHESTER – OPP has announced the use of seat belts is improving across the province. The announcement comes on the heels of Operation Impact, aimed at increasing seat belt compliance to 95 per cent.

Studio Art Tour

CHESTERVILLE – The third annual "On Common Ground" Studio Art Tour, an open house of artisans' and artists' studios is offering a weekend getaway this Saturday and Sunday.

The studios are located in the villages of Chesterville, Morewood, Winchester, Finch, Cannamore and Avonmore.

Visitors will be treated to the inspiration of local patrons, potters, a tinsmith, textile artists, weavers and craftsmen. Demonstrations will also be given on a variety of techniques and mediums.

Fall Colours Report

Travellers wishing to receive reports on where the best locations for viewing the changing colours of leaves this fall will be, can contact the Ministry of Economic Development, Trade and Tourism. The bi-weekly reports giving the fall colour progression can be obtained by calling 1-800-ONTARIO (668-2746).

Blood Donor Clinic

WINCHESTER – The Red Cross will be holding a Blood Donor Clinic on Wed., Nov. 1 from 2-4:30pm and 6-8pm at the Winchester Public School.

Town Dump Full

ALEXANDRIA – Alexandria's dump is on its last legs. A section of the dump has been filled 1.5 meters above the limit set by the Ontario Ministry of Environment and Energy. By cutting it down, it will reduce the lifespan of the site to just five years.

Smoking Issue Heating Up

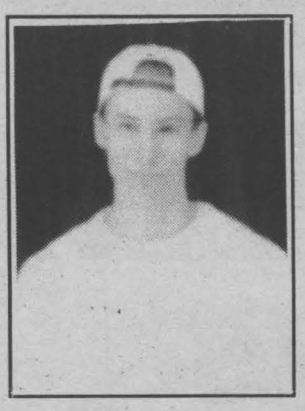
ALEXANDRIA – Counties council will not dictate a smoking policy to member municipalities and is not interested in passing a bylaw to regulate smoking in restaurants across SD&G.

STUDENT PROFILE

Eric Cardinal

By Lynette Elms

Eric Cardinal is a grade 11 honours student. He has been an honour student all through high school. At University, he plans on getting a bachelor of science degree and a bilingual diploma. Other than being a good student, he is involved in many organizations outside of school. He has been involved in JA (Junior Achievers) for the past three years. In grade nine he was vice-president of production and that year they won an ESSO Team Work Award. This year, they won Company of the Year Award.



Other than being involved in organizations, he also has a lot of interest in activities such as golf, which he plans on joining at school next year. He's also involved in water skiing and downhill skiing. There are many things that he likes doing on his own time such as watching TV, riding his bike, and listening to music. He also holds down a part-time job at Dairy Queen.

Eric would describe himself as being different, and very outgoing. The message that he would share with others is, to do what you like to do.

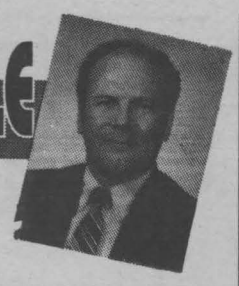
Co-Operative Nursery School Receives Donation

On July 11, 1995, Master of the Lodge Marvin Waldroff, representing the Avonmore Masonic Lodge Chapter 452 presented Nadine McRae, president of Playtime Pals Co-Operative Nursery School with a very kind donation that will be used to purchase new toys and equipment for the 24 children presently enrolled in the program. Also pictured above is Jim McKay, a member of the Lodge, along with grateful parents and children of Playtime Pals. All members of Playtime Pals wish to thank the members of the Lodge for their support in the community.

FROM THE BIBLE



By Bob Burgess, Pastor
New Life Covenant Church
(A Spirit-Filled New Testament Church)

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits."

Psalm 103:2

Many years ago a magazine related the story of a young man by the name of Ben who had a habit of grumbling. He complained about the weather, found fault with his family and friends, and allowed the smallest things to upset him.

Then one day he read this rhyme: "When you have truly thanked the Lord for every blessing sent, then you'll have very little time to murmur or lament." He realized that his spirit of discontent had made him overlook the gifts God was constantly showering on him.

Ben was determined that with God's help he would rid himself of this habit. So whenever he became irritated or began to complain, he would stop and thank God for the many good things he was enjoying. It worked. By centering his attention on praising rather than pouting, he found it much easier to avoid a grouchy mood.

As Christians, we have so much for which to praise the Lord. Thankfulness and an attitude of gratitude ought to be characteristic of every believer (Ps 34:1: Emp. 5:20)

All of life takes on a different hue when we spend our time counting our blessings rather than airing our complaints. Let's be grateful.

(reprinted by permission of Radio Bible Class Ministries)

Thought: Blessings hemmed with praise won't unravel!

As always, remember God loves you! He really, really does.

R.O. Celebrates United Nations Day

It couldn't have been a more appropriate time as Rothwell Osnabruck's elementary and secondary students rallied together to design a human Canadian flag in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the United Nations. Most of the 600 students wore red and white showing their true home colours. Even the Prime Minister Jean Chrétien, the "Honourable Bob Thompson" took time from his busy schedule and the opportunity to promote Canadian unity. Students also participated in a workshop on the Canadian Seaway Project, a songwriting workshop by Canadian singer/songwriter Robert Sprague, battled it out with the teachers against students in The Canadian Challenge, a Canadian Militia display, and even served red and white milkshakes and pea soup for lunch.

What To Look For In A Good Toy!

The Cornwall Public Library will be booking the Canadian Toy Testing Council just in time before you place that toy order with Santa.

The Council will be in Cornwall to give a lecture on "What To Look For In A Good Toy". The lecture will be held at the Knights of Columbus, 205 Amelia Street in the downstairs hall on Tuesday, November 7, 1995 from 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm. Twenty or so toys will be on display along with the new toy report. Admission is free and everyone is welcome.

HOROSCOPES

October 29-November 4

Aries – March 21/April 20
Something you would never expect to happen takes you by surprise early in the week, setting the stage for the week's remaining activities. You'll realize that the only thing you can count on is change. Selfish actions will only backfire this weekend. Sensitivity is necessary at home.

Taurus – April 21/May 21
When faced with a difficult situation this week, you may have to refer to the phrase, "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em." Remember, giving in doesn't necessarily mean giving up. Even the mighty Taurus has to put pride to the side once in a while. Learn from your mistakes.

Gemini – May 22/June 21
Weekend plans may be cancelled at the last minute. Think creatively, and you may find a more enjoyable alternative plan. It's time to bury the hatchet with a Scorpio. Let your emotional side take over in a romantic relationship. Be spontaneous when it comes to love.

Cancer – June 22/July 22
Get out of workaholic mode and enjoy yourself for a change. Remember, you only go around once, so you might as well have some fun! Use your intuition when it comes to risky financial investments. The sensitive Cancer's sixth sense is not to be underestimated.

Leo – July 23/August 23
Business and pleasure do not mix this week. Try to separate the two as much as possible. And watch what you say. Nosy coworkers may not have your best interests in mind. Looking for new romance? This could be the week to find lasting love. Dress your best on Friday.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22
A good time to make changes at home or work. A positive, can-do attitude is all you need to succeed. A Libra associate offers good advice to a troubling situation. A friend's good news will give you a reason to celebrate. A different friend, however, may need your shoulder to cry on.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23
Your sound judgment and logical approach may be the key to success this week. There could be a positive change in your financial situation, but you'll have to be patient. Remember, good things come to those who wait. An unusual amount of social invitations are on the way. Take advantage of free time.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22
Trying to manipulate others to get your way will only backfire. A better plan is to use honesty as your policy. A pessimistic attitude could get you into a great deal of trouble. Contemplate past mistakes and put things into perspective. Credit those who help you this week.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec21
Your yen for excitement and novelty will be satisfied this week — maybe even to an extreme. Be sure you know what you're getting into or you could regret it. Think of the consequence before you take the action. Patch up differences in a troubled friendship before it's too late.

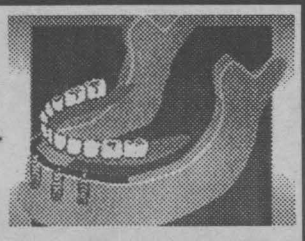
Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan20
Blaming others for your problems is no way to get ahead. Take responsibility for yourself and everything will fall into place. Blame others and you'll never grow. Step back to get a perspective on where you are and where you want to be. The future may be brighter than you think.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18
What seems like a good opportunity may end up to be a big disappointment. Best not to put all your eggs in one basket. A troubled romance will only get worse unless something changes. Talk things out before you get to the point of no return. Librans and Geminis play a role.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20
An unexpected happening may turn your routine upside-down, but it will be a welcomed change. Perhaps you take life a little too seriously at times. Don't refuse the help of a willing associate on a pet project. A fresh approach will only be of benefit. Be open to new ideas.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
The next 12 months:
A great year where many positive changes are possible. If you're career-oriented, this will be an especially successful time. Asserting yourself early in the year will help you along in a major way. Don't be afraid to ask for that raise or for more responsibility. Remember, others may not be aware of your goals and aspirations. The romance department has a lot to offer, too, especially if you're involved with a Taurus or Leo. This relationship could grow to strong commitment, (perhaps marriage or children). Those involved with Geminis or Librans may have a trickier time with love.

IMPLANTS
A Remarkable Evolution In The Field of Dentistry.
Surgical Procedures



The insertion of dental implants or permanent tooth replacement technique represents a conjunction of teamwork. The collaboration and cooperation of oral surgeon, dentist, denturist and dental technician is mandatory in order to successfully accomplish this complex procedure.

In fact it involves two distinct surgical interventions. The first step consists of the insertion in the bone mass, of the implant (peg or screw). We could also refer to this as the root or post that will retain both the bar and the denture itself. A healing period of three to six months is required to permit the integration to the bone mass. The second part of the surgery is necessary in order to expose the abutments (or anchors) and bind them to the implants. A waiting period of one month is required for the healing gum tissues surrounding the abutments. Once the healing is completed, the fabrication of the denture by the denturist can begin.

The word surgery may evoke fear in some people and be synonymous with pain. But rest assured, this type of surgical intervention causes a minimal amount of pain. In fact most people will describe the interventions as uncomfortable but less painful than having a tooth extracted.

Throughout the six month period of preparation, the patient will not be left without teeth except for a brief period following surgery. The existing dentures can be readjusted and worn as if nothing had changed.

For more information concerning dental implants, you may consult a denturist who is a member of a dental implant team. He will gladly answer all your questions.

Jiffy Muffler Doubles Winners

The 1st annual Jiffy Muffler & Brake Doubles Tournament was held last weekend at the Cornwall Tennis Club. Norm St. Pierre, Manager of Jiffy Muffler, presented the Men's A trophy to Pawel Kedziora and Roger Duplenté winning 6-7, 6-3, 6-3 against the Legault/Dallago team. Adèle Parkinson and Suzanne Legault beat the Kenneb/Sabourin team 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, earning the Women's A title. Delaney Bus Lines Midget "A" Aces

After a 6-1 season opener loss to the Gatineau Ambassadeurs, and a tough 6-5 loss to the Kingston Titans, the Delaney Bus Lines Midget "A" Aces kick started in Gloucester, defeating the Rangers 3-2.

In the season opener in Gatineau, the Aces were down 3-0 after the first period and 5-0 after the second. Each team scored in the third with Wayne Disotell putting the Aces on the board mid-way through the period, finally breaking the excellent goaltending by the Ambassadeurs.

On Friday night in Kingston, the Titans had a 4-2 lead after 15 minutes of play. Travis Young scored unassisted, while Jason Cholette setup Jason Leduc for the Aces second goals. The Titans added another in the second for a 5-2 lead after two periods. The Aces finally got it together in the third, scoring three unanswered goals. Peter Barnes notched two and Emanuele Leo got the other to tie the game with 4 minutes remaining. Despite several good scoring chances by the Aces to take the lead, Kingston scored on a power-play goal with one minute left in the game. Adam Vachon had three assists in the game.

In Gloucester, the Rangers were ahead by one after the first period. In the second, Jonathan Pitt put the Aces on the board. Jason Cholette put the Aces ahead by one. Pitt got his second of the night breaking a 2-2 tie with the game winner. Shawn Martelock played nets for the Aces.

The players, parents and coaching staff of the Midget "A" Aces extend a sincere thank you to Delaney Bus Lines Ltd. for their generous sponsorhip again this year, helping young men, through sports, to become responsible citizens in our community.

Hat Trick or Treat!

By Robert Gialloreto

It's Halloween! It's cold and rainy! You and your young ones are trudging around Cornwall in search of candy and treats. Why? Come to the Cornwall Civic Complex from 5:30 pm - 7:30 pm and walk around the concourse, where you'll find over 20 stations dolling out treats. It's a warm, safe environment for the whole family. While your little ghouls and goblins are scrounging the area for candy, parents can sit back and relax with a cup of coffee or hot chocolate - trick or treating has never been so easy.

Your Cornwall Aces hit the road for the semi-deep south as they venture into the confines of Greensboro Coliseum in North Carolina for two games. By now the boys in blue have already played one and will be meeting for the second of a two-game series this Saturday night. The Aces shuffle back to visit the Albany River Rats on November 1st and round up the voyage with a stop in fabulous Rochester, New York to say "Hi" to Messers Roberge, Pearson (who actually never played for the Cornwall Royals) and Frawley (who did). Don't forget, you can listen to your Aces on the road by tuning in to 1220 CJSS AM radio, or 100.5 FM Cable radio. No one brings the action to life quite like Fred Pletsch, so listen to the Aces goals come alive in your living room on CJSS! Those same Amerks, who the Aces beat 4-1 last weekend at the Complex, will be back on Saturday, November 4th for another kick at the can. You can get great seats by calling the Aces Ticket Hotline at 1-800-668-6162.

Finally, I'd like to take just a little space to talk about hockey. How many of us wake up every day and go through the same routine day after day. You take the garbage out the same time every week. Before you know it, years have gone by and you've done the same thing so many times, you don't know how to do anything else. Hockey is entertainment. It brings about emotion. It can make you excited on a breakaway, angry at a bad call, sad at a loss, laugh at a wacky play, and thrilled at victory. It wakes up your body, your mind and your spirit. Aces' hockey may just be a sport to some, but to many others it is an elixir that brings you to your feet and develops pride in your team and your city. Try it! Afterwards, start talking about Cornwall's only professional sports team ... your Cornwall Aces!

Colts Host Senators and Lasers This Week

by Ken McLaughlin
Director of Public Relations

Two big games headline the playing week of your defending CJHL champions. This Thursday, November 2 the team we battled in last year's CJHL final series, the Ottawa Jr. Senators, come to the Si Miller Arena for their first visit of the season. The Senators are making a move towards your Colts and the top of the Robinson Division. You've seen the exciting, hard hitting hockey these two teams have played in the past. This Thursday night, be prepared for more of the same. The puck drops at 7:30 pm.

The Kanata Valley Lasers, along with former Colts player Jason White, are in town on Sunday, November 5 at 7:30 pm. Kanata has had their troubles this season, winning three games in eleven tries. You know after last year's incredible battle in the CJHL semi-finals, veteran coach Archie Mulligan will have his troops fired-up and ready for this important game. Please note the Sunday night start time of 7:30 pm.

Tickets for both games are on sale this week at the Colts office, located in the Si Miller Arena. We're open Monday to Wednesday 10 am to 5 pm, Thursday 10 am to gametime, Friday 10 am to 5 pm, and Sunday, November 5 from 10 am until gametime. We are closed Saturday. Get your tickets early for these exciting games.

Your Cornwall Colts, along with Rogers Cable Systems, are proud to be combining forces to make this Halloween a safe and happy one for area youngsters. The Rogers Pumpkin Patrol will once again be on area streets, offering assistance and security to young ghosts and goblins. Look for the red Rogers Cable Systems vans, staffed by local Rogers employees and a Colts player, in your neighbourhood. The Cornwall Colts are proud to be associated with this community minded program.

Colts hockey at the Si Miller Arena ... this Thursday and Sunday, get closer to the exciting action.

Dave Stathos Named CJHL Player of the Week

Cornwall Colts first year goaltender, Dave Stathos was named Central Junior "A" Hockey League Player of the Week for October 17th to the 23rd.

The Longueuil, Quebec native allowed just four goals on seventy-one shots, over two games. Dave recorded victories against Gloucester (5-1) and Nepean (5-3). Dave joins Eric Meloche, as Colts players who have been named a 1995-96 CJHL Player Of The Week.

Jr. "B" Hockey Highlights

Once again, the cardiac kids from Char-Lan won in an overtime shoot-out in Kemptville, downing the home team 4-3. Kemptville held period leads of 2-0 after one and 3-2 after the second. The lone goal of the third was scored by Char-Lan to knot the contest at 3 apiece. After a scoreless 5 minute overtime period, the teams went to a shoot-out to determine the winner. After their initial 5 shooters they went to sudden death shooters, with Dave McNally winning it for the Rebels on the first shot.

Goal scorers in the game for Char-Lan were Marc Bellemare with a pair and Terry O'Farrell with a single. Derek Hutt, Shawn Forbes and Kelly Winsor handled the scoring for Kemptville. Char-Lan was outshot 35 to 27. Denis Villeneuve was once again sharp in the net for the Rebels with Dom Cuglietta handling the job for the 73's. There were a total of 20 penalties called with 12 going to Kemptville.

Saturday night at home, the Rebels hosted the Winchester Hawks and posted a 6-4 victory while connecting for 2 power play markers and one short handed effort. The Rebels held the lead after the first 1-0, after the second 4-1 and finally prevailed 6-4. Dave Campbell opened the scoring in the first for the Rebels and was assisted by Bellemare. The Hawks responded with one of their own at 4:34 of the second period and then on a power play, Kevin O'Farrell put the Rebels ahead to stay at the 8 minute mark of the second. The goal was set up by Campbell and Bellemare. At 11:17 of the same period, with the Rebels short handed, Terry O'Farrell potted one, set up by Bellemare and his younger brother Kevin. With just 3 minutes left in the period, Eric Fontaine connected for the Rebels fourth goal of the game with help from Terry O'Farrell and Mario Gibeault.

The Hawks came out gunning in the third, scoring 2 quick goals at the seventeen second mark and the 56 second mark to pull within one of the Rebels. Scoring for the visitors were Miguel Lefleshe and Rob Raistrict. The Rebels regained a 2 goal cushion at the 3:55 mark of the final frame with Fontaine scoring his second of the contest, with help from John Robertson. The Hawks then pulled to within one at the 16:16 mark of the third on a goal by Garth Byrne. Bellemare, of the Rebels, rounded out the scoring on a beautiful solo effort at the 18:20 mark of the third period. It was his fourth point of the evening. On Bellemare's last goal the assist went to Derek Gladding.

Denis Villeneuve was in nets for the Rebels and was called upon to make 37 saves, while Mark Kennedy stopped 40 shots for the Hawks. There were 15 penalty calls against the Rebels, with 13 going against Winchester.

St. Hubert players of the game were Marc Bellemare on offense and Kevin O'Farrell received the defensive award.

Sunday it was back on the bus to Kemptville and, you guessed it, another overtime shoot-out, but this time Kemptville picked up the extra point. All the goals of the game came in the first with Shawn Forbes of Kemptville opening the scoring at the 17:10 mark with Dave Campbell of Char-Lan netting the equalizer at 9:59 in the first. In regulation time, Kemptville outshot the Rebels 36 to 13 and had it not been for a golden performance from Denis Villeneuve between the pipes, the score could have been a lot worse. There were no goals in the 5 minute overtime, so it was onto another shoot-out with Kemptville outscoring Char-Lan 3 - 2 for the victory. The Rebels had a total of 8 penalties with 6 going to the 73's.

Char-Lan will have hosted the Athens Aeros in Williamstown Wednesday night, and are on the road for a Saturday night encounter with the South Grenville Rangers. Results were not available as of press time.

Char-Lan's next home game will be next week on Saturday, November 4th with the Morrisburg Lions visiting the Rebels. Game time is 7:45 pm.

MINOR HOCKEY SHOWCASE

Cornwall Tire Major Peewee AA Rapids

The Cornwall Tire Rapids ended a busy four game schedule with a 2-1-1 record. Against South Ottawa they had a 3-1 victory. Danny Lafave, Nicholas Dube and Graham Charbonneau scored. Jeremy Leroux collected an assist.

In Kingston, goaltender Greg Helmer faced 33 shots but despite his efforts, the Rapids lost 8-2. Nick Dube and Jeremy Leroux scored with helpers going to Stephane Mainville, Etienne Lemieux and Jason Vickers.

On Sunday against Nepean, the Rapids managed a 1-1 draw. Etienne Lemieux, from Graham Charbonneau and Jeremy Leroux, got the equalizer.

The Cornwall Tire squad rolled over Ottawa West 8-3. Mathieu Groulx with a hat trick, Lafave, Lemieux, Miguel Delisle, Adam Beehler and Eric Nielson scored. Assists went to Leroux, Charbonneau, Delisle and Jason Vickers.

The Rapids are presently tied for third place with the Ottawa Valley Titans who they will face off against on Saturday in Maxville.

Peewee "A" Aces

The Army, Navy, Air Force Peewee "A" Aces came away with only 1 point this weekend despite playing well in all 3 games. On the first bus trip of the season, the Aces got behind in the first period and just never caught up, suffering a 7-3 loss at the hands of the Cumberland Barons. Alain Leger, Ramsay Trew and Louis King turned the red light on for the Aces.

At home on Saturday at the Si Miller Arena, a late third period penalty to the Aces allowed the Kanata Blazers to even the score at 2 apiece. Shawn Chartrand and Andrew Banville were goal scorers.

In a hard fought penalty filled game in Alymer, Quebec, the A.N.A.F. squad were spooked in a close one. Josh Bulloch's shot from the point put the Aces on the board, but the Aces just couldn't put the puck behind Alymer's goalie. Alymer came away with the win, defeating the Army, Navy, Air Force squad 2-1.

Seaway Valley Major "AA" Bantam Rapids

The Major "AA" Bantam Rapids plated the Ottawa West Golden Knights at the Barbara Ann Scott Arena on October 18th, and came out with a 9-2 victory.

The Rapids scored 2 in the first period, 3 in the second and 4 in the third period.

Scoring singles for the Rapids were J.F. Lafrance, Christian Cadieux, Tim Vanoverbeek, Ryan Firlotte, and Jamie Laframboise. Nick Brunet and Eric Fontaine each scored two goals in the winning effort.

Assists went to Cameron Lajoie, Christian Cadieux (2), Tim Vanoverbeek, Ryan Firlotte (2), Jamie Laframboise, David Dumont, Nick Brunet (2) and Eric Fontaine.

In their next game on October 22nd against Rideau St. Lawrence Kings, the Rapids weren't quite as fortunate as they were defeated 4-0.

The Rapids gave up one goal in the first and second periods and 2 in the third.

Miller Hughes Rapids Split Pair

In a pair of O.D.M.H.A. league games, the Miller-Hughes Minor Peewee "AA" Rapids split with a win and a loss. Against a robust and aggressive Cumberland team the Rapids were dealt a 4-3 loss. Specialty teams played a major factor in the contest as Cumberland scored two short handed goals and added a single powerplay goal. The Seaway squad also countered with a short handed goal from Phillip Boots. Boots and B.J. Pelkey accounted for the balance of the scoring. Marc-Andre Richer added a pair of assists with single helpers from Marcel Booyink, Ryan Major, Pelkey and Patrick Turcotte. Greg Fargo turned away numerous Cumberland opportunities and continued to provide solid goaltending. Despite being outshot 22-12, the Ford boys managed a 3-2 win over South Ottawa. The Rapids trailed 2-0 late in the second period and recovered on awakening goals from Tim St. Jean, Mathew Verdone, and Turcotte. Suffering from the 417 flu, the Peewee Rapids displayed their capabilities by dominating the latter half of the game and securing the victory. Jeff McIntyre was called upon to make several game saving stops in goal maintaining his dependable netminding.

Seaway Valley Major "AA" Atoms

The Seaway Valley Atom Major "AA" team is off to a rough start this hockey season. They are winless in their first seven games, but the most recent games have been more productive offensively. After losing their first game against Nepean 8-0, Seaway lost to Ottawa West 6-2 with scoring from Alex Gray and Steve Stewart. Gloucester defeated Seaway 9-2 on October 1 with Steve Stewart and Peter Barnett scoring for Seaway. The last four games ocurred in the last ten days - a 9-2 loss to Nepean with goals from Peter Barnett and Tim Owens; a penalty filled 5-3 loss to Ottawa Valley with Dylan Gravely scoring twice and a single from Tim Owens; Seaway scored four against Gloucester but lost 8-4 with two goals from Alex Gray and singles from Johnny Blair and Tim Owens; and last Sunday's game was a 7-2 loss to Kanata with goals from Dylan Gravely and Nicholas Pomainville.

Johnson's Antiques Travel To Early Tournament

The Bantam "B" Aces got off to a rusty start for the season. In their first game of the season at the Si Miller Arena against Potsdam, they fell behind quickly, showing signs of tired legs from being off for a week. With Potsdam leading 3-0, the Aces started making a come back. By the middle of the third period their legs started to click in and brought the score up to 5-4 before a couple of defensive laps late in the game cost them a couple more. Scoring for Johnson's Antiques were Paul Comtois, Rodney Wilson, Joshua Labelle and Rob Ezard.

In their second game of the season they travelled to Prescott to take on the South Grenville Rangers. This time the Aces dominated play from the start of the game only to come up short once again. The boys outshot their opponents 33 to 22 but just couldn't finish, with numerous scoring chances squandered leaving them a little bit frustrated. Scoring for Cornwall were Robert Roy and Trevor Ashby. Patience and hard work ethics will eventually pay big dividends. Guys keep your heads high as the little mistakes will eventually turn into big plays that will turn frowns into smiles.

Ron's Scuba Shop Bantam "A" Aces

The Aces faced Aylmer at home and fell behind by two goals in the first, but before the period was over Patrick Johnson scored back to back goals and Joey Sullivan also scored. In the second, Jeff Legue scored after stealing an outlet pass and going in all alone. Aylmer put the pressure on and scored also, despite some great goaltending from Greg Hebert. Mike MacDonald was playing his first game back after an injury and along with Shawn Freeland, Ben Smith and Kerry McDonald, put on a very strong defensive show in the third. However, Aylmer tied it up with 1:55 left in the game. The Aces replied with some of their own pressure and Kris Longtin scored a goal that somehow went off a defenseman with 21 seconds left to win the game.

In Osgoode, the Aces fell behind and then tied it up on a goal by Stef Champagne, when he broke across the crease and reached around the goalie. Osgoode scored and again were answered, this time by Kris Longtin. Jamie Ross played well in goal facing three breakaways before two goals trickled in. Jeff Legue scored to bring the Aces within one goal and later had another golden opportunity but couldn't pull the trigger. Osgoode scored one more into the empty net to win by 5-3.

The Aces went to Cumberland a bit nervously to face the highly touted Barons. The Barons scored a power play goal that at first seemed to bounce out of the corner of the crossbar but was finally allowed. In the second, Mike MacDonald scored on a slapshot from the face off circle through a crowd in front of the net. Thirty seconds later the Barons scored again after a defensive mistake behind the Cornwall goal. The Aces outplayed the Barons for the rest of the period but couldn't score despite some great opportunities. In the third, the Aces power play failed to score on a 5 on 3, again with some great chances. Finally a break came as Champagne scored on a Dornin rebound to tie it up at 2. The Barons got a break also as they scored when a pass from behind the net went off an Aces' skate with five minutes left in the game. They later scored an empty net goal to win 4-2. The Aces came away feeling positive about the loss as they skated very well, played some very strong defense for most of the game and goalie Greg Hebert came up with another strong game.

It's A Ghostly Job

Spending the last 13 years in the costume business, Bev Coté of Cornwall Costume Shop knows her business. She has approximately 2,500 costumes and over 800 masks that have been fitted to just the right person to help celebrate this Halloween season. "It's been a busy year," says Coté, "It gets better and better every year." This year, everyone wants to go Western. Batman, and Fred & Barney are quite popular with the adults, and children are hoping to be either Batman, Robin or 'Two Face'.

LOOKING BACKWARD

By Stuart L. Manson

The Sinister Pool Tables of Mille Roches

Mille Roches, 1909. A crisis of gigantic proportions had enveloped that sleepy community. Over the last five years, a wave of evil debauchery had infiltrated the village. Its victim: the moral and material welfare of the people. It's form: two pool tables.

Back in November of 1904, 10 men signed a petition to prompt the Cornwall Township Council to grant a licence to Fred Ross for a pool hall. Probably due to the popularity of Mr. Ross' venue, another petition surfaced in January 1905. This time over 20 men signed the document in support of Isaac Ratelle's intention to operate a similar establishment.

Many men, young and old, must have spent their leisure hours enjoying the comraderie of their friends in the pool halls. It was a place in which they could get away from the stresses of life, leaving their troubles at the door.

Some saw things quite differently. Apparently, the Mille Roches pool halls were nothing more than bastions of immorality and lacking in Christian-like behaviour. Drinking, gambling and fighting were the norm and in 1909 a movement was formed to put this kind of activity to a stop.

Anti-pool hall forces distributed their own petition. It's preamble clearly voiced their intent: "We the citizens of the village of Mille Roches having reason to believe that the licensed pool-tables and the evils connected therewith have been the cause of a general injury to the moral and material welfare of the people..." They wanted the pool hall licenses revoked and had convinced 77 people to sign their petition.

A close examination of these petitions, both for and against, sheds some light on the issue. On the anti-pool hall petition were the signatures of a number of women and girls, showing where the support for the movement was based. In fact, several wives of the men who signed the original petitions were present on the anti-pool hall documents.

Interestingly enough, three men signed both sets of petitions (both for and against). It is unclear whether J.G. Fleming, John G. Manson and W. Manson had originally approved of the idea of pool halls in the village and later regretted their decision. Perhaps they simply forgot they had signed the first petitions 5 years earlier. I cannot speak for J.G. Flemming, but Mansons are occasionally known for their lapses in judgement.

With such masses of support, it seems likely that the anti-pool hall forces won, at least for the time being. Nonetheless, the community survived the crisis, its morality and material welfare relatively intact.

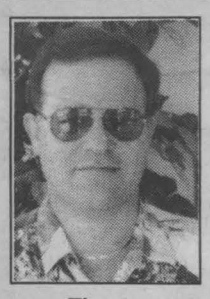
Let's Talk Automobile



by Jacques Yves Parisien

The importance of seat belts. A lot of people think like this:

1) I'm only driving in town at low speed for a short distance, so I don't need a seat belt.

2) My car is equipped with air bags, what's the use of seat belts?

3) My seat belt is not long enough so I can't wear it.

4) My friend had an accident and got thrown out of his vehicle; he would have died if he had worn his seat belt.

These four remarks are the most common thoughts in people's minds. If everyone could have a chance to work in a body shop making estimates on collision repairs like I did, there would be 100% of people wearing seat belts instead of 91% estimated recently in a local paper.

The majority of accidents are minor, what we call fender benders. I have seen more physical damages out of minor collisions where seat belts were not used than major collisions where seat belts were used.

Example: this summer in front of my house, a car, trying to enter the arena's parking lot and driving at 15 to 20 kilometers an hour, hit an electrical post. When the driver got out of the car he had a cut on his forehead, a minor concussion and a smashed windshield. If he had worn his seatbelt, the damages would have been on the car only, with no smashed windshield and most important no physical damages. Always wear your seat belt, even if it's only to cross the road.

If your car is equipped with air bags, it's an added protection when you have a collision, but your main protection is your seat belt. If you are sideswiped or you roll the car, your main protection will definitely be your seat belts.

If your seat belt is not long enough, you can go to your dealer and get an extension. At the dealer you have to see the Service Manager so he can measure how long of an extension you need, then a form has to be filled out and signed by the Service Manager and the person requiring the extension. This form has to be sent to the car manufacturer to be approved by the Zone Manager. It will take 3 to 6 weeks to get your extension, so no more excuses for not wearing your seat belt if it's too short.

For the person who said that he would have died if he had worn his seat belt:

1) he would have been 1 in a million to survive.

2) he still doesn't know if he would have died if he had been wearing a seat belt.

Surviving in a major collision without your seat belt is like winning a lottery.

If you get stopped for not wearing your seat belt, it costs you money, you lose points on your driver's license and you insurance will go up. So please folks, bring that 91% up to 100% by wearing seat belts. Buckle up.

PS. Hug your kids at home. Belt them in the car.

Expand Your Horizons Through Global Investing

By Blake Hambleton
Financial Advisor

Did you know that Canada accounts for only 3% of the world's equity market capitalization? Therefore, an investor who invests only in Canada is neglecting approximately 97% of existing investment opportunities. Investing globally translates into a broadening of horizons, and subsequently creates a richer set of invesment opportunities.

In today's investment environment, financial success often demands new strategies that explore opportunities outside of Canada. Global reach means global strength, and the ability to benefit from the world-wide economic dynamic. Democracy, deregulation, denationalization and decentralization are the watch words for the 1990s, and these trends have provided greater prospects for economic growth worldwide.

The discerning investor recognizes a number of motivational factors for international investing. These include expanded investment opportunities, portfolio risk reduction and overall superior portfolio performance.

The first principle of successful investing is to diversity. This means, quite simply, "don't keep all your eggs in one basket". After all, you don't put all your valuable assets in one stock or one industry, so why would you place all your assets in only one nation? By diversifying across countries, a global investor is not subject to the vagaries of market values that a single nation investor faces. Therefore, diversification is a powerful tool in reducing market risk.

While increasing portfolio returns and reducing risk are two of the key reasons to look beyond traditional markets and out into the rest of the world, investing globally also provides access to some of the world's most profitable industries. From Malaysia to Munich, global investing brings the world to your portfolio. Experience and facts indicate that investing internationally presents rich opportunities for portfolio diversification, risk reduction and superior returns. Please contact your Financial Advisor today, and bring the world of opportunity to your portfolio.

Can RRIF Be Moved Without Penalties?

By Patrick Fellows

Q. - I am a 73 year old widow and two years ago had to transfer my RRSP's (my late husband's) into a RRIF for a total of $119,000. I am not satisfied with the advice or the performance of the young man at the investment firm holding the plan.

For instance, he was putting most of my investments into monthly treasury bills. When I phoned to tell him I wanted three-months bills, it wasn't done.

He blamed his secretary, but there have been other things I object to.

What are the penalties for withdrawing from him or his firm? E.N.

A. - You appear to have a self-directed RRIF, which should be run according to your instructions as far as eligible investments go.

We can't say whether or not you are being reasonable, but if you are dissatisfied, you can have the RRIF transferred to another issuer without tax consequences.

There may, however, be institutional penalties. You'll have to ask.

The question of costs in the case of a possible transfer is an important one that should always be put to the issuer when a RRIF purchase is being negotiated.

If you see the way clear, you can have the new issuer provide the form to arrange the transfer. The financial industry loves to see new money come in.

Q. - I was wondering how the new Canada-U.S. estate tax agreement will affect an American who owns a cottage in Canada. My brother and I jointly own the property and have been coming to this lovely Port Elgin spot since 1925.

Our children - six between us - hope they can afford to keep the property in the family, but with taxes the picture is uncertain.

We have gone to several Canadian and U.S. lawyers and a Canadian chartered accountant for advice, but each seems unsure of the best plan for us.

Any information would be appreciated. R.E

A. - As far as you are concerned, the U.S. estate tax rules are unchanged. You live in Michigan and you have the $600,000 exemption applicable to a U.S. citizens.

Sale of the cottage would create Canadian capital gains tax, but for a U.S. resident, there should be a credit for Canadian tax paid.

If on death your estate exceeds $600,000 (U.S.) you could be subject to U.S. estate tax and Canadian capital gains tax. The new Canada-U.S. tax protocol, still to be ratified, will probably provide some relief for this type of situation.

As for giving advice, what chance have we against a gaggle of legal and financial experts? We'd suggest the simplest of all solutions: hang on to the property as long as possible, and sell it if a financial squeeze looms.

You might have some idea of what kind of capital gain you would incur if the cottage is bequeathed or sold in the not-too-distant-future.

Revenue Canada can give you information on what needs to be done when a Canadian property is disposed of by a non-resident?

Questions on money and investment matters may be sent to Your Money, The Toronto Star Syndicate, One Yonge St., Toronto, M5E 1E6. Not every question can be answered, but all will be considered for this column.

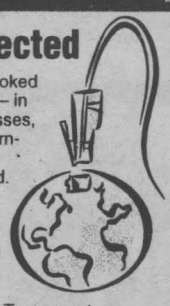
Get connected



It's easy to get hooked up to the Internet – in fact many businesses, schools and government offices are already connected. Ask the techies – you'll likely get a test drive on the Net and an e-mail address for free.

■ HOME HOOK UP: To connect from home, you'll need an Internet service provider. For less than $5 per month you can get e-mail and join discussion groups. Full access to the Net, including graphics and the World Wide Web, costs from $10-$20 a month. Ask at your computer store or check out the ads in your local newspaper or computer magazine.

■ WHAT YOU NEED: A modem and a basic computer (old 286 PC or MacPlus) will do. To enjoy graphics, you'll want a 486 PC or newer Mac with at least 8 megabytes of RAM.

■ ON THE ROAD: Once you're on the Net, there's plenty of help navigating its boundless resources. Try Roadmap to the Internet (gopher://lib-gopher.lib.indiana.edu/1m/pub-data/internet-room/roadmap) or Intro to the Internet (http://www.sils.umich.edu/~fprefect/inet/).

The Rankin Family Comes To Cornwall

The Rankin Family has taken its unique Celtic influenced music to the top of the Canadian charts and around the world in sold-out concerts. But while preparing to record their new album "Endless Seasons", they wouldn't rest on the winning formula that has already pushed combined record sales to well over one million copies in Canada.

"After the last album, we decided we really wanted to go for a change," says Raylene Rankin. "We put the feelers out for different producers, looking for someone who had an affinity for what we do."

Their search ended with John Jennings, the production whiz behind the chart-topping success of American singer/songwriter Mary Chapin-Carpenter. Jennings co-produced "Endless Seasons" with The Rankin Family.

"Mary Chapin also came from a folk background," notes Raylene, who was impressed by the flawless production and vitality on Carpenter's albums. "So we thought it might work for us."

With the release of "Endless Seasons", The Rankin Family continues to evolve from a fiddle-based traditional band that wore its Celtic roots firmly on its sleeve, to maturing artists whose appeal stepdances across musical borders. The self-titled The Rankin Family debut (1989) had just three original songs and the rest were traditional Scottish tunes. On "Endless Seasons", the tide has reversed.

From the heart-wrenching ballad "Your Boat's Lost at Sea" to the kick-up-your-heels revelry of "You Feel The Same Way Too", the album is a shimmering collection of Rankin Family originals and borrowed gems from the cream of Celtic songwriters.

The Rankins have had tremendous commercial and critical success in the five years since the group recorded its first independent album. That platinum-selling album put the band on the musical map, followed with the quadruple-platinum smach "Fare Thee Well Love". 1993's "North Country" has sold in excess of 350,000 copies. This year's limited edition "Grey Dusk of Eve" EP has been certified gold with sales of more than 50,000.

The group has won four Juno awards (Group of the Year, People's Choice Award for Canadian Entertainer of the Year, Single of the Year for "Fare Thee Well Love" and Country Group of the Year) and a dozen East Coast Music Awards. Already this year, The Rankin Family have played several high profile concert dates including headlining the Guinness Fest in Australia and New Zealand, and a U.S. tour with a SRO concert with Mary Black at the Town Hall in New York City. Still the relentless drive to refine their music sent the group in search of something fresh.

The Rankin Family will be appearing in Cornwall at the Civic Complex on Thursday, November 30th.

John McDermott In Concert!!

Tickets go on sale Monday, October 30th for a concert with John McDermott, performing at Cornwall's Aultsville Theatre on Sunday, December 3 at 8 pm. From the hugs and handshakes at the theatre entrance to the lengthy autograph session at the end of each performance, John McDermott enchants audiences as much with his geniality as with his beautiful tenor voice.

McDermott, whose 6 pc. band includes, among others, championship fiddler Natalie MacMaster, Tracey Dares on piano and guitarist Bill Bridges, will perform songs from his recordings "Danny Boy", "Old Friends", and "Christmas Memories" as well as from his just-released CD, "Love Is A Voyage".

Join The Celebration! Discover "The Power Of Music"

Two groups of local musicians will be presenting a special concert on November 11th, at 8 pm at Aultsville Theatre in Cornwall. "The Power Of Music: Bach to Broadway" will feature bass opera singer Freddryk Pytura with piano accompanist Renée Piché, and the piano team Vivianne Panizzon & Dr. Jeannine Roy-Poirier.

Pytura, who sings regularly with Opera Lyra at the National Arts Centre in Ottawa will be presenting selections from various operas and Broadway musicals including "Les Misérables" and "Showboat". He sang recently in the successful presentation of The Marriage of Figaro at the NAC. His rich, deep voice is sure to please. Panizzon and Roy-Poirier will present a Cornwall premiere performance of the piano four-hands major work (1894 edition) of Beethoven's powerful Symphony #5 along with other classics and "Pops" numbers. Also on the program is a dynamic demonstration by Panizzon and a group of students on how the Carl Orff music process is used as a pedagogy. The four organizers will incorporate some of the experience they acquired while performing at Roy Thompson Hall in Toronto at the Royal Bank Seniors Jubilee concerts. Local dentist Dr. Norman Roy, well known for his "show biz" talents with the Glen Productions, will join forces with Roy-Poirer and Panizzon to present a fun-filled live music therapy experience with full audience participation - a first for Cornwall. There will also be special guests who will be "honoured" for their numerous years of dedication to the music teaching profession. The evening will be a celebration for all, one which will highlight the power of music. It will offer something for everyone: adults, music students, music lovers young and old.

The concert will be a very different type of musical experience and first-class entertainment at affordable prices. Part of the proceeds will be going to the Coronary Health Improvement Project (Cornwall Alumni).

RECIPES

from your Kitchen ... to our Cookbook

We received such a great response to our call for recipes for Cooking Tymes this year that it seemed a shame not to be able to print them all. Therefore, we will try to feature some of the recipes that unfortunately, did not get printed in this years Cooking Tymes.

Meringue Angel Pie

Makes 8 slices (219 calories per slice)

3 egg whites
1/8 tsp. cream of tartar
10-1/3 cups granulated sugar or same amount of Splenda
2 tbsp. cornstarch
1-1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/3 cup fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup water
1 large egg lightly beaten
1 container light frozen whipped topping, thawed.

Preheat oven to 300°. Spray 9" pie pan with vegetable spray. Set aside.

In medium bowl, using electric beater set on high speed, beat egg whites and cream of tarta until foamy. Gradually beat in 2/3 cup of sugar until stiff peaks form.

Spread 1-1/3 cups of meringue in bottom and halfway up the sides of prepared pan. Using a pastry bag, pipe remaining meringue in a decorative border around the edges. Bake until lightly browned, about 40 mins. Cool on a wire rack.

In a small saucepan, combine remaining sugar, cornstarch, and lemon peel. Gradually stir in lemon juice and water. Mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Boil 1 minute.

Beat a small amount of the hot mixture into the beaten egg, then add that to the mixture in the saucepan. Cook, stirring, for 1 minute. Pour into a glass bowl. Cover and chill for 1 hour. Fold in the whipped topping. Spoon into the meringue shell. Chill 1 hour.

Vegetable Beef & Barley Soup

Bring to a boil:

3 soup bones
2 carrots, diced
1 cup shredded cabbage
48 oz. can tomato juice
1 med. onion, diced
2 celery stocks, diced
1/2 cup barley
28 oz. can tomatoes

Once it boils, lower heat to medium. Cool for about 1-1/2 hours. Cook 1/2 cup barley separately on low for 30 minutes then add to soup. After 1-1/2 hours, add 48 oz. can of tomato juice, 28 oz. can of tomatoes and cook on low heat for another 15 minutes.

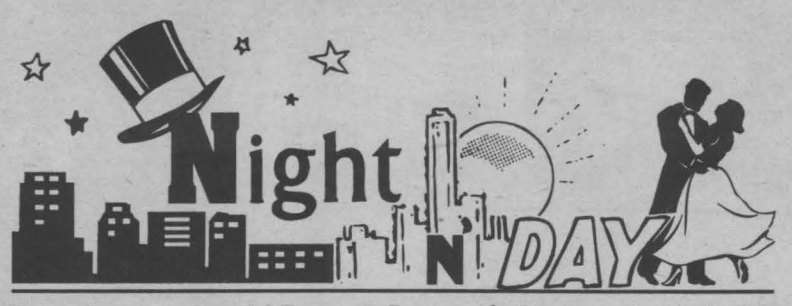
SEAWAY NEWS ENTERTAINMENT



Entertainment - Special Events & Restaurant Review - By Bill Gallant

Before starting to compile this week's column I was forced to refer to a calendar. It's at this time of year that I don't particularly like to be reminded about the time and date. The cold and white stuff will be here soon enough. But you can't hold back time and it was a nasty reminder that we will soon all be looking out at a blanket of white. So, here again is a gentle reminder to enjoy a leisurely trip through our countryside to breathe in the Autumnal splendor. You don't have to go far, as the majestic changing colours are all around us. I would suggest however that you visit a popular location these days where you can get out of the car and walk through the fallen leaves, then stop and enjoy a breakfast or brunch.

This is your last chance to enjoy some Halloween fun at the places offering masquerade dances and other special and spooky events. The folks at the MASONIC HALL on Second Street East still have a few tickets left for their "costume dance" on Saturday night. Good music, prizes for the best costumes and there will be "monster bites" at midnight.

There is a GREAT PUMPKIN HUNT planned for Tuesday, Oct. 31st at the BACKSTAGE RESTAURANT at the Civic Complex. Dress up in your chosen costume, bring along a flashlight to join the "hunt" and maybe win a prize.

Here's a line that everyone likes to see ...SOLD OUT, ADDING THREE MORE DAYS!! That's the story at the Glen Productions and their NUNSENSE cabaret style stage show. You now have until Nov. 9th to catch the fun at the Glen Building. Call 937-GLEN for ticket info.

The Singles Dance at PORTO BELLO RESTAURANT is staging a special Halloween Dance this Saturday. It's a combined Dine 'N Dance affair and offers fun and prizes.

It was bound to happen. THE CAPTAIN'S RESTAURANT has added an extra hour and a Sunday Breakfast Menu starting this Sunday, October 29th. At 10 am the Captain and his crew will serve up your choice of a hearty breakfast until 1 pm. They also offer free delivery on orders over $15.00, excluding taxes. Another reason to visit Captain's is the secret celebration going on with one of the "owners" as they reach the 50th this weekend. The grin on the face will be the telling feature as to which one is the birthday celebrant. Captain's also specialize in seafood, stirfrys, steaks and burgers and are located at Heritage Plaza on Pitt Street North.

Time to plan now for the next in the CONCERT SERIES at Aultsville Theatre at St. Lawrence College. The CCSA is presenting the Ottawa Symphony Orchestra on Saturday, November 18th. Reserve your seat now.

This is also the weekend to keep tuned with weekend news about the major decision that Quebecers will be making on Monday, October 30th. We can only hope that when they make that decision it will be with the head as well as the heart and that common sense will prevail. I can only suggest that if you know of someone heading to the polls in our neighbouring Province of Quebec, please call them up and tell them you want them to remain a part of Canada.

Daughters, Leigh-Ann and Rachelle attended a sleepover a few years ago, and this is how single fathers Chris Kirady and Brian Redmond met.

Chris, a former musician, and Brian, an active DJ expressed their concern as to where singles, and single parents go in this area, to meet people, and have fun at affordable prices during these economically difficult times.

They came to the conclusion that a SINGLES MIX dance, in a comfortable atmosphere, where the participants would have some input as to the type of music, and activity ambiance, would be the perfect answer.

SINGLES MIX '95 dances will be held on Friday nights, twice a month, and an effort is being made to attract an equal number of single men and women. Theme nights will be featured, some a little crazy, along with surprises and innovations, which are being planned. Tell you friends about SINGLES MIX '95 The "Encore" all request dance will be held on Friday, Nov. 3 and the "Rock Around The Clock" bash goes on Fri., Nov. 17 at the Chump's Restaurant Bar. Excellent floor facilities, super staff and ample parking. It will only cost you $6. For more info, call 937-3535.

Until next week, G'Day and G'Night.

Last Week:

- Solicitor General to study feasibility of marine patrol on St. Lawrence to combat smuggling.
- Convenience store closes shortly after being fined $1,100. for selling cigarettes to minor.
- Akwesasne Mohawk Police Const. Lazore suspended from force following careless use of a firearm.
- SD&G Catholic Board responds to Sweeney Report by stating they want no part of bigger board.
- Back-up for mayor's expenses not open for public scrutiny per city's finance manager.
- Rising sales has city retailers confident holiday season will be an excellent one.
- Recruitment team leaves on 5-city tour to search for 5 family physicians and 6 specialists for city.
- Quebecers flock to city to transfer accounts and RRSP's before Monday's referendum.
- Council votes to form a joint liaison committee with Akwesasne to improve relations.
- City's Victor Villeneuve, former superindent of the Rideau Correctional and Treatment Centre appointed part-time member of a beefed up parole board.
